E. H. PINNEY, Proprietor,
H. L. PINNEY, Cashier.

Paris Green

Good For Bugs.

T. H. Fritz, - Pharmacist.

ICE-CREAM SODA.

Smith's ice-cream soda is delicious. He has a new way making it which equals Saunderson's of Detroit. It is "out of sight," and tastes like—more. Those who have tried it say the only trouble is that they find the bottom of it too soon.

Phosphates

are healthy, nerve-strengthening drinks as well as quenching to the thirst. We pride ourselves on our Lemonade. Egg Phosphate is the most refreshing drink of the season. Port Huron ice cream is a dandy.

Smith's Ice Cream Parlors
Open after 9 a. m. all day.

CITY BAKERY.

Lunches Served at all hours.

FRESH BREAD, BUNS,

PIES, CAKES, ETC.

H. A. PIERCE, REG. SECRETARY.

Shiloh's Cure, the great Cough and Croup Cure is in great demand. Pocket size contains twenty-five doses only 25c. Children love it. Sold by A. W. Seed, druggist.

Karl's Clover Root will purify your blood, clear your complexion, regulate your bowels and make your head clear as a bell. 25c., 50c., and $1.00 by A. W. Seed.

CASS CITY
Real Estate Exchange

C. W. McPHAIL, Prop.

IN THE FUTURE I shall make the purchase and sale of real estate a specialty. The real estate situation in the Thumb of Michigan is summed up about as follows:

The land is on an average good, strong, productive land, capable of producing all varieties of grains, fruits and vegetables, and any candid observer who will look over the country will admit that with ordinary push, ability and capital farming can be made as profitable here as in any section of the United States.

We have no floods, tornadoes, sand storms, grasshoppers, strikes, tramps, beggars, thieves, chinamen or niggers. We have free schools, good churches, a hospitable friendly class of people, a good market, a good town of 1,200 inhabitants and a class of business men who will pay you a fair price for what you have to sell and sell you goods as cheap as you can buy them in any town in Michigan.

You will make no mistake in locating at or near Cass City.

This is the Time to Buy a Home

Land never was so cheap and in the opinion of those who have made a study of the situation we have reached bed rock and prices of farm property will advance.

I am ready to buy your property for cash if you will make the price such that it can be bought and sold on the present low range of prices. If you hold your property at a figure that I cannot pay, I will list it, advertise it, and try and effect a sale. No sale, no expense to you.

To Sum Up--

Do you wish to borrow? I can furnish the needful.
Do you wish to lend? I am ready to borrow.
Do you wish to buy? I can furnish you $20,000 of choice securities to select from.
Do you wish to sell? I can give you a bargain.
Do you wish to sell? You are invited to call.
Do you wish to transact financial business of any kind? Call at Cass City Bank.
If you have any thing to sell come at once, have it advertised with-out cost to you, and get our prices for selling property on commission, and remember—
NO SALE NO CHARGE TO YOU.
C. W. McPHAIL.

Caught On The Fly.

Landlord Farrar now drives a fine colt purchased from Thos. Marks.

Mrs. George Rodgers, of Reese, is visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Youm.

Edward Hill, formerly of this place but late of Toledo, Ohio, is in town at present.

A. A. Hitchcock and Miss Donovan were in attendance at the Caro races Thursday.

"Square men are generally round when the time comes for them to pay their bills."

Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Janes and Mr. and Mrs. Ardell witnessed the races at Caro yesterday.

Miss Addie Karr has returned from Vassar, and will spend the summer at her parental home in this place.

Quite a number from here attended the meeting of the Baptist Ladies' Aid at Mrs. Ware's, in Elmwood, Wednesday afternoon and evening.

A fine bouquet of flowers presented by Mrs. S. A. Marshall added fragrance and cheerfulness to the ENTERPRISE banquet Wednesday. Mrs. Marshall is one of our most successful flower culturists.

Clinton Boone and daughter, Daisy, of Wilkesbarre, Pa., and Mrs. W. S. Thompson and son, William, of Saginaw, visited Dr. and Mrs. McLean the fore part of the week. Miss Boone intends returning to Cass City again next week for a few weeks' visit.

A. J. Knapp, the captain of our baseball team, was heard to mournfully hum the following, shortly after his return from Caro last week:

"Of all sad words of tongue or pen,
The saddest known to mortal men—
Is that explosive 'Orr!'"

A "grand balloon ascension" will take place Saturday evening at 7:30, in front of L. C. Smith's ice cream parlors. All are invited to come and witness the ascension. A freezer of ice cream will be given to the small boy going up the loudest when the balloon goes up.

Mrs. S. M. Wells, of West Elkland, is visiting her son, Meritt, at Pontiac.

E. A. McGeorge and wife are among those from here in attendance at the Caro races this week.

"There are some men in every town who would be too lazy to shake with a bad case of chills or ague."

F. J. Nash, of West Elkland, is having a stone wall laid under his house. J. H. Wooley is the mason.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McPhail have been in attendance at the Orion camp meeting the past two weeks.

The state prohibition convention will be held at Kalamazoo, August 8. Tuscola county will be entitled to eight representatives.

A full attendance is desired at the next meeting of Court Elkland, June 26. Business of especial importance is to be transacted.

Chas. Dickensheets, of Caro, accompanied Miss Anderson on her return from that place Saturday, and remained over Sunday for a visit.

R. Honingbaum, cigar-maker, reports business on the increase. He has received orders for his goods from Bad Axe and Gagetown this week.

E. Rushbrook's subject for Sunday, June 17, at 3 p. m., will be, "The Difference Between the Coming of the Lord for His Saints and the Coming of the Son of Man."

M. M. Wickware has purchased the house and lot of Geo. Killins, west end of Pine Street. By the transaction Mr. Killins comes into possession of Mr. Wickware's horse and carriage.

Business at the creamery is constantly on the increase. Over 2,000 pounds of butter was manufactured last week. Our farmers are finding Mr. Albertson a pleasant and fair man to deal with.

J. H. Winegar has been in Sanilac Center a few days this week on business. Mrs. Winegar accompanied him as far as Cumber, remaining there for a visit with her daughter, Mrs. Randolph.

R. G. Orr and wife are visiting the latter's sister in Genesee county. They made the trip there with horse and carriage. They were accompanied as far as Rodgersville by Mrs. C. D. Striffler who visits her parents Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Emmons.

A German tailor has invented a "bullet proof" cloth. The cloth is very flexible and can be worn without inconvenience. Nations can now go to war, or individuals to shooting matches, with safety. We prophesy that the pastime of dueling, which was once so popular, will be revived.

Theo. Ahr, once a Cass City boy, but now of Decatur, Ind., in remitting subscription to the ENTERPRISE to Jan. 1, '96, says: "Have been in the grocery business just one month. Have splendid prospects for the future, considering these 'dollar and a quarter' for wheat and 'down with the robber tariff' times."

The way to build up a town is for each and every man in the town not to strive to rend and tear down. When over a man in the town engaged in a worthy business is doing well, do not try to tear him down. All the residents of a town are partners, not opponents. Every business man who always treats his customers honestly, courteously and fairly, will get his share, and the more business that can be secured by united effort, the better it will be for all. When a town ceases to grow, it commences to die, and the more the people try to kill off each other in their business and good name the more rapidly will utter ruin come to all. Stand together for the advancement of every citizen. If a man shows ability to prosper do not pull him back through jealousy, or weigh him down with cold indifference.

A. G. Berney, proprietor of the Cass City elevators, has long since been a benefactor of our farmers by furnishing them a good market for their grains, and he now proposes to be a benefactor in another way as well. He has arranged with several of the best nurseries in the country to get stock from them at wholesale prices, and he will furnish the same to farmers, or others, who purchase season tickets to the S. T. & H. Fair, at just what it costs him delivered in Cass City. Mr. Berney asks nothing for his time or trouble, doing this as a special inducement to farmers to attend our fair and as an encouragement in fruit raising. Fruit tree agents usually get from 40 to 50 per cent. commission, thus it will be readily seen that farmers are offered a good opportunity to get first-class nursery stock at a considerably less price than they usually pay. Mr. Berney says those intending purchasing a season ticket can leave their order for stock at any time.

"Every mortal has a right to his own jaw; but he has no right to give it to other people."

Jos. and John McBerney were called to Canada last Saturday by the serious illness of a brother.

D. Freeman's trotting mare, "Maggie F." is entered in the three-year-old race at Caro this week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Schooley were among those from here who witnessed the races at Caro yesterday.

Dr. J. M. Truscott preached at the Hubble school, house eight miles north east of town, on Sunday last.

Dr. McLean has purchased a fine black driving horse from an Oxford party. The horse was sired by Wm. Lewis' "Elector H."

Dentist Fritz, who makes a professional visit to North Branch on the first and third Tuesdays of each month, reports being favored with a liberal patronage.

J. F. Hendrick will leave to-day for Shearer, Mich., for several days visit with W. Weydemeyer and family. Watch out for some big fish stories when Frank returns.

The races at Caro have attracted quite a number of our citizens to that place this week. There is a large list of entries and with the favorable weather the races have been very interesting thus far.

The excursions to Bay Port summer resort, run by the P. O. & N. Ry. last season, and which were so well patronized, will be commenced again on Sunday, June 24. The rates of fare will be the same as last year.

Their will be quarterly meeting at the Evangelical Church on Sunday, June 17. Rev. Frye, now the presiding Elder, will officiate. At 2:30 p. m. there will be English services conducted by the Presiding Elder. Everybody come.

Dr. H. C. Edwards was called to Columbia one day last week to examine the case of a cancer-afflicted person. He found the patient beyond his aid. The Dr. is becoming somewhat distinguished as a cancer specialist, having cured several difficult cases.

At a recent teachers' examination in the highly cultured county of Williams, state of Ohio, nine applicants for certificates spelled the word "kerosene" correctly; four spelled it kero-sine; three, carosine; one, karosine; one, carosine; one, scerocine; one, carocine; one, carosine; one, carocine; one, kerocene.

Don't allow children to eat raw corn in the kernel. A two-year-old child of Wm. Leibler, living two miles south of here, became sick one day last week and vomited up several whole kernels of corn. On one kernel was sprout 1 1/2 inches long which had grown while in the child's stomach. This is the second instance of this kind we have recorded.—Brown City Banner.

The free lecture delivered by Col. Samuel Harris, of Chicago, at the M. E. Church, Wednesday evening, on the subject, "The Possibilities of this Life," was of a high character. The discourse was "packed full" of truths and good advice. His lecture was directed particularly to young people, and it is to be regretted that a larger number was not in attendance. Had we the space, it would, with Mr. Harris' permission, give us great pleasure to publish the lecture in full.

An exchange says: "The person who stands on the street corner looking around for something to gossip about or to find some fault with can always find what he is looking for. But what a life he lives! His soul withers and shrivels until it is shown in his manner and looks. For such a person's life has lost its savor. He becomes sour, misanthropic, and whining. He passes from bad to worse and sees no good in anybody. His taxes are too high, no matter how low they may be, and he curses his neighbor because his neighbor is prosperous and enjoys life. In fact he hates himself; is a menace to a town's prosperity, a foe to God, and no good to the devil."

Farmers are warned to beware of a couple of swindlers who are selling what they call the "Ohio butter compound." The first one comes along and appoints a farmer an agent, and gets the appointee to sign a contract to buy of the company, sell the compound, retain his commission of $10 a bottle and forward the balance of the price, said to be $30 a bottle, to the company. The confederate in the swindle next puts in an appearance with the farmer agent's signature to an agreement to buy a number of bottles of the compound and give his note for the payment. Farmers will keep free of all trouble by refusing to put their name to any paper for a stranger.

Jos. Reuter, Jr., has returned from Sand Beach.

C. L. Morford and wife, of Caro, were in town Tuesday.

Geo. Killins, of Kingston, transacted business in town Wednesday.

James Tennant has purchased the driving horse of John Zinnecker.

Mrs. F. F. Barbour, of Caséville, has been visiting friends in town this week.

"Don't judge a man by the coat he wears," nor our council room by its exterior.

Miss Kit Clark returned from Elkton on Monday, where she has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Whalen, for several weeks past.

Children's Day exercises will be held at the Baptist Church next Sunday morning. In the evening a Baccalaureate sermon will be preached. Services at Elmwood at 3 o'clock p. m.

Principal Smith wishes us to state that the commencement exercises to be held at the Presbyterian Church next Friday evening will be public, and that all are invited to be present.

We are a few hours late in going to press to-day, but think we are quite excusable considering the fact that the temperature has averaged 90° in the shade this week.

George Seed contemplates building a house on his lot at the north end of Oak Street this fall. George has not informed us whether he intends to rent the house when completed or not.

J. A. McDougall was in Caro Wednesday, as superintendent of the races to be held at this place next fall, distributed a large number of speed premium cards to the horsemen there. He was accompanied as far as Ellington by Mrs. McDougall, who remained there for a visit with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Kenyon.

Neil Munroe, who has been an efficient and trusted clerk in Messrs. 2 Mack's store for the past six years or more, has now decided to engage in business for himself and will open a general store in the R. S. Brown building at Gagetown. If strict attention to business and courteous and fair treatment of customers will bring success, the success of Neil's mercantile venture is assured. The ENTERPRISE heartily recommends him to the people of Gagetown and vicinity.

Probably the largest load of wool ever brought to Cass City was sold to Lamb & Fairweather this week by A. A. Wheeler, of Argyle. The load amounted to 3,000 pounds, and part of it was last year's clip, on which Mr. Wheeler, by holding it until this season, lost about one hundred dollars. Messrs. Lamb & Fairweather have purchased 48,000 pounds of wool thus far this season. The season's clip has about been marketed, and they do not expect to buy after this week.

It is said that a country school teacher, who looks after the interests of a school near Cadillac, has invented a novel method of making the boys in her school good spellers. When one of the girls misses a word the next boy below her spelling it correctly is permitted to kiss the girl who missed the word. Of course the boys are rapidly becoming good spellers, while on the other hand the girls are becoming backward, many of them being unable to spell their own name correctly it is said.

The Sixteenth Re-union of Co. A., 5th Michigan Cavalry, held in this place on Wednesday, brought quite a large number of the "Vets" to town, but only about fifteen of the foregoing company were present. The exercises were held in the M. E. Church, commencing at 2 o'clock. Samuel Harris, of Chicago, the first lieutenant of the company, gave an interesting talk on the subject, "What I saw at Gettysburg." His address was followed by extemporaneous speeches from the other members of the company present and a visit such as only old comrades of the war can indulge in. The regiment of which Company A. was a part participated in the famous charge at the battle of Gettysburg, and out of twelve hundred men, of which this regiment was composed, about 450 were killed. The percent of men killed in this regiment during the war was about twice as large as the average percent killed out of regiments sent from Michigan. It was decided to hold the next reunion at Metamora, June 11, 1895, and the following officers were elected: President, Samuel Harris; Vice-Pres., L. Y. Struble; Sec., Treas. and Historian, B. F. Johnson.

Ask your grocer for Cass City flour. If he don't keep it, tell him to order from Heller Bros. There is nothing like it!

A Happy Affair.

Married, at "Burnsdale Farm," two miles east of Winterbourne, Waterloo County, Ontario, on Wednesday, June 6th, by Rev. R. H. Hall, pastor of the Methodist Church of Elmira, assisted by Rev. A. M. Hamilton, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of Winterbourne, Miss Jennie T. Burnett to A. A. P. McDowell.

The ceremony was performed at five o'clock p. m., in the presence of about one hundred and fifty of the relatives and friends of the contracting parties. Immediately after the ceremony the large assembly present did ample justice to an excellent wedding supper.

After spending several days with relatives and friends in different parts of Ontario, Mr. and Mrs. McDowell arrived in Cass City Tuesday night last, and were met at the depot by a goodly number of the groom's most intimate friends.

The bride is the eldest daughter of George Burnett, a well-to-do farmer, living near Winterbourne. She has been an active and ardent worker in the Methodist Church and is held in high esteem by her acquaintances.

The groom is well known to our readers as one of the proprietors of the ENTERPRISE. Since taking up his residence in Cass City, less than two years ago, he has proven himself an upright, industrious man and a good citizen. He is also an active worker in the M. E. Church, being at present president of the Epworth League at this place, chorister of the church choir and a teacher in the Sunday school.

The bride and groom were the recipients of a large array of beautiful and valuable presents.

The junior half of the ENTERPRISE joins, with many others, in extending hearty congratulations and best wishes to the senior half and his "better half." May their voyage down Life's Stream be attended with just enough "rough seas" to enable them to fully appreciate fair winds and smooth sailing.

Some Reasons for Existence of Hard Times.

A farmer contributes the following to the American Times on the subject of "hard times." The clipping was handed us by L. A. Dewitt, who is of the opinion that it contains many "hard facts." The farmer says: "There is being so much said in the country about the times and scarcity of money, and as everybody has a cause and know a remedy, I thought I would write to tell your readers what I think is the cause.

We buy more than we produce. There is too much flour and bacon shipped here every year. The things we ought to make at home we are buying.

We let our timber rot and buy our plough stocks, singletrees, axe handles, hoe handles, and fencing.

We throw away our ashes and buy soap and axle grease.

We give away our beef hides and buy hamestrings and shoe strings.

We waste our manure and buy guano.

We buy our garden seed in the spring and cabbage in the winter.

We let our lands grow up in weeds and buy our brooms.

We waste the wax of our pine and gum trees and buy chewing gum for our children.

We build school-houses and hire teachers and send our children off to be educated.

We land a five cent fish with a four dollar fishing-rod.

We send a fifteen-cent boy out with a twenty dollar gun and a four dollar dog to kill birds.

We raise dogs and buy wool.

And about the only things in this country that there is overproduction of are politics and dog-ties.

Communication.

The People's Party caucus held at the Hubble school house last Friday, looked as if said party had lost their "grip," being represented solely by the County secretary and one of the pillars of the Township Committee. After much persuasion the worthy couple induced a good staunch Republican to witness the funeral or dying struggle of the renowned and loud-mouthed Populists.

Laundry Work.
I wish to announce that I am now ready to do all kinds of common wash laundry. Good work and reasonable prices. Work delivered to all parts of town.
G-15-2 Mrs. J. W. HEFFELDOWER,
Cor. Third and Sherman Streets.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS.

Caro will celebrate July 4, and active preparations have been commenced.

James Rumelets, aged 18, of Otter Lake, is wanted on the charge of attempting to rape the eight-year-old daughter of his employer, Allen Shingles.

The work of raising a $30,000 bonus for the Pt. Huron-Lexington electric railway is being pushed at Lexington. Ten thousand dollars have already been raised.

Editor Mason, of the Otter Lake Prohibition News, and the saloonist at that place met in a fistie encounter. The saloonist was worsted, but the editor proposes to give him a dose of law also.

The Excelsion roller mill and oat meal mill and an Elevator, at Marlette burned to the ground last Monday night. Loss, $35,000, with no insurance. The fire originated in a boiler room.

Tainted meat is supposed to have caused the sudden sickness of two families at Sebawing Tuesday night. Dr. J. W. Campbell and his family of three, and Mr. and Mrs. Pumphrey and their three children were all affected. Prompt medical aid saved their lives.

Vassar Pioneer: The promising young trotting mare, "Lady Decider," owned by Mrs. Orville Bennett of this place, died on Tuesday. While being exercised last Saturday on the race track, the mare ruptured the peritoneum, which was the cause of death. "Lady Decider" was fashionably bred and a very promising 4-year-old, having shown a mile very close to 2:30 this spring. She was entered for the Lapeer races this week.

Council Proceedings.

COMMON COUNCIL ROOMS,
Cass City, June 5.
Regular meeting of the Common Council of the village of Cass City.
Meeting called to order by President Wickware.

Roll call. Present—President Wickware and Trustees Brotherton, Bently, Hebblewhite, McDougall and Striffler. Minutes of last meeting read and approved.

Several communications, with reference to free vaccination, as to township vs. village, were then read and placed on file.

The committee to whom was referred the matter of free vaccination submitted the following report:
We do not consider it necessary to recommend vaccination, as all the children have recently been vaccinated without cost to the village.

J. A. McDougall,
WM. HEBBLEWHITE,
Committee.

Report accepted and placed on file. The committee on ways and means submitted the following report:
We would recommend that a tax of 3 1/2 mills upon the dollar be levied upon the taxable property of the village, which will make a reduction of one mill upon the dollar on the rate levied last year.

SCOTT BROTHERTON,
J. A. McDougall,
WM. BENTLEY,
Committee.

Report was accepted by a vote of yeas and nays as follows:
Yeas—Bentley, Brotherton, Hebblewhite, McDougall and Striffler.

Nays—None.
Committee on streets and sidewalks submitted a verbal report with reference to grading sixth street, to the effect that they recommend the same to be graded its entire length, which report was accepted and adopted.

The general improvement committee submitted the following report:
We have inspected the work of repairing the council room and find it done in a satisfactory manner and have accepted the same.

J. A. McDougall,
WM. HEBBLEWHITE,
Committee.

On motion of Trustee Striffler said report was accepted.

The following bills were then read and referred to the finance committee:
T. H. Fritz, curtains ..... $ 2.00
J. A. McDougall, cleaning stove, etc. .... 1.50
John Hawkins, pulling stumps ..... 15.00
Henry Stewart, salary and sunds ..... 13.15
Peter Burg, labor ..... 1.25
Ed. Brotherton, team work and salary ..... 6.00
James Armstrong, contract ..... 25.00
London, Eng. & testing contract ..... 33.00

The committee recommended all accounts allowed as read, and on motion of Trustee Bently they were so allowed and the recorder instructed to draw orders for the several amounts.

Trustee Hebblewhite moved that the street commissioner be instructed to take up the gutter on north side of Main Street, crossing Segar Street, and put in same kind of a gutter as on south side same street. Motion carried.

On motion of Trustee McDougall the street commissioner was instructed to purchase 8 M feet of Oak lumber at $12 per M.

On motion council adjourned.
HENRY STEWART, Recorder.

AN unscrupulous American redskin is representing himself as Sitting Bull at the Antwerp fair, the visitors to which are not yet aware that Sitting Bull has sat.

AN English clergyman lost his sight through a fit of sensibility while crossing the channel recently. Other sufferers from sensibleness have given up everything else.

A horse trotted into a billiard-room in New York the other day, but was captured before he did any damage. The chances are that he never got beyond the balk line.

PARISIAN critics often play the part of the corpse of Prince Vladimir, which Sarah Bernhardt weeps over in "Fadon." Many other actresses would like the privilege of weeping over the corpse of a critic.

A CHICAGO tailor sued both husband and wife for amount due for trousers, coats and other male garments. Fact is, present fashions are so confusing that it is difficult to tell men's garments from women's.

WHEN bullet proof clothing comes into general use, the noble art of dueling can be practiced without any danger of those unfortunate accidents which now occasionally mar the pleasures of chivalrous meetings of this sort. The code of honor may look forward to a boom.

France is in a tumult of alarm because M. Turpin of Melinthe fame is said to have sold an annihilator of armies to Germany. As a matter of fact, however, France should not be excited, for if there is anything in the annihilator, it will mean the end of war, and if there is not, a hated foe will have been "played for a sucker."

It is claimed by the mother of Mrs. Maybrick, now undergoing life imprisonment in England for poisoning her husband, that she has now and then positive evidence of the fact that Mr. Maybrick was a confirmed arsenic eater, and had frequently purchased the drug, both in London and Paris. This evidence is apparently conclusive of the fact that Maybrick's death was due to an overdose of the drug taken by himself to cure a skin eruption. The grave doubt as to Mrs. Maybrick's guilt should lead to a further investigation as the cause, for there is little doubt but a grave injustice has been perpetrated upon her.

TIME was when grown up boys and their sweethearts thought they had to go to a circus and sit on the backless seats in order to eat peanuts, much as the Chinese once thought that they had to put a pig in a house and burn the house down in order to enjoy roast pig. The chef is suggesting different ways of making the nitrogenous gopher palatable and the captious epicure follows him reluctantly and suspiciously at first, but finally ends with "Gimme some more." The desired peanut, like the one rejected leavie apple, has made its way into the commercial world until even the green grocer has been compelled to quote its prevailing price and keep it in stock. Like tubers, gobbers are now a staple.

A CONTEMPORARY expresses the opinion that Mark Twain may have crippled his publishing firm by having out more money than the business could spare. We believe that this is an error. There is good ground for the statement that Mr. Clemens has put more money into his publishing business than he has taken out. Whatever profits he has made have been the legitimate returns of his own brain work as an author. Mark Twain has been uncharitably criticised as a biased capitalist, but if he had half the ready money now that he has honestly earned by his own mental toil and spent in lifting other men from distress to independence he would not need to ask indulgence from his creditors.

SINCE the individual wine cup has been introduced into the communion service at Rochester, N. Y., as a precaution against the spread of tuberculosis and other germ diseases, another reform, even more important, has been urged as a precaution against the spread of disease, a reform of that school-room custom which provides for daily gathering up the pencils of the pupils into one common receptacle and daily distributing them miscellaneously. The habit of wetting the pencil in the mouth is almost universal among school children, the danger of the spread of disease from this miscellaneous mingling of pencils is, therefore, much greater than is the danger the promoters of the Rochester innovation seek to avoid, because there are many more school children than there are communicants.

EXCITED GOVERNOR.

SUBJECT OF DR. TALMAGE'S TALK THROUGH THE PRESS.

Acts 24: xxv—Felix Trembled and Answered: "Go Thy Way for This Time, When I Have a Convenient Season I Will Call for You."

A city of marble was Caesarea—wharves of marble, houses of marble, temples of marble. This being the ordinary architecture of the place, you may imagine something of the splendor of Gov. Felix's residence. In a room of that palace, floor tessellated, windows curtained, ceiling fretted, the whole scene affluent with Tyrian purple, and statues, and pictures, and carvings, sat a very dark-complexioned man by the name of Felix, and beside him a woman of extraordinary beauty, whom he had stolen by breaking up another domestic circle. She was only 18 years of age, a princess by birth, and unwittingly waiting for her doom—that of being buried alive in the ashes and scoria of Mount Vesuvius, which in sudden eruption, one day, put an end to her abominations. Well, one afternoon Drusilla, seated in the palace, weary with the magnificent staidities of the place, says to Felix: "You have a very distinguished prisoner, I believe, by the name of Paul. Do you know he is one of my countrymen? I should very much like to see him, and I should very much like to hear him speak, for I have heard so much about his eloquence. Besides that, the other day, when he was being tried in another room of this palace, and the windows were open, I heard the applause that greeted the speech of Lawyer Tertullus, as he denounced Paul. Now, I very much wish I could hear Paul speak. Won't you let me hear him speak?" "Yes," said Felix, "I will. I will order him up now from the guard-room." Clank, clank, comes a chain up the marble staircase and there is a shuffle at the door, and in comes Paul, a little old man, prematurely old through exposure—only 60 years of age, but looking as though he were 80. He bows very courteously before the governor and the beautiful woman by his side. They say: "Paul, we have heard a great deal about your speaking; give us now a specimen of your eloquence." Oh! if there ever was a chance for a man to show off, Paul had a chance there. He might have harangued them about Grecian art, about the wonderful water works he had seen at Corinth, about the Acropolis by moonlight, about prison life in Philippi, about "what I saw in Thessalonica," about the old mythologies; but "No!" Paul said to himself: "I am now on the way to martyrdom, and this man and woman will soon be dead, and this is my only opportunity to talk to them about the things of eternity." And just there and then, there broke in upon the scene a peal of thunder. "It was the voice of a judgment day speaking through the words of the despotic apostle. As that grand old missionary proceeded with his remarks, the stoop begins to go out of his shoulders, and he rises up, and his countenance is illumined with the glories of a future life, and his shackles rattle and grind as he lifts his fettered arm, and with it hurls upon his abashed auditors the bolts of God's indignation. Felix grew very white about the lips. His heart beat unevenly. He put his hand to his brow, as though to stop the quickness and violence of his thoughts. He drew his robe tighter about him, as under a sudden chill. His eyes glare and his knees shake, and, as he clutches the side of his chair in a very paroxysm of terror, he orders the sheriff to take Paul back to the guard-room. "Felix trembled, and said, Go thy way for this time; when I have a convenient season, I will call for thee." A young man came one night to our services, with pencil in hand, to caricature the whole scene, and make mirth of those who should express any anxiety about their souls; but I met him at the door, his face very white, tears running down his cheek, as he said, "Do you think there is any chance for me?" Felix trembled, and so may God grant it may be so with others.

I propose to give you two or three reasons why I think Felix sent Paul back to the guard-room and adjourned this whole subject of religion. The first reason was, he did not want to give up his sins. He looked around; there was Drusilla. He knew that when he became a Christian, he must send her back to Azizus, her lawful husband, and he said to himself, "I will risk the destruction of my immortal soul, sooner than I will do that." How many there are now who can not get to be Christians, because they will not abandon their sins! In vain all their prayers and all their church-going. You can not keep these darling sins and win heaven; and now some of you will have to decide between the wine cup, and unlawful amusements, and lascivious gratifications on one hand and eternal salvation on the other. Delilah sheared the locks of Samson; Salome danced Herod into the pit; Drusilla blocked up the way to heaven for Felix. Yet when I present the subject now, I fear that some of you will say, "Not quite yet. Don't be so precipitate in your demands. I have a few tickets yet that I have to use. I have a few engagements that I must keep. I want to stay a little longer in the whirl of conviviality—a few more guffaws of unclean laughter, and then, sir, I will listen to what you say." "Go thy way for this time; when I have a convenient season, I will call for thee."

Another reason why Felix sent Paul back to the guard-room and adjourned this subject was, he was so very busy. In ordinary times he found the affairs of state absorbing, but those were extraordinary times. The whole land was ripe for insurrection. The Sicarii, a band of assassins, were already prowling around the palace, and I suppose he thought, "I can't attend to religion while I am so pressed by affairs of state." It was business, among other things, that ruined his soul, and I suppose there are thousands of people who are not children of God because they have much business. It is business in the store—business, gains unfaithful employes. It is business in your law office—subpoenas, writs you have to write out, papers you have to file, arguments you have to make. It is your medical profession, with its broken nights, and the exhausted anxieties of life hanging upon your treatment. It is your real estate office, your business with landlords and tenants, and the failure of men to meet their obligations with you. Ay, with some of those who are here, it is the annoyance of the kitchen, and the sitting-room, and the parlor—the wearing economy of trying to meet large expenses with a small income. Ten thousand voices of "business, business, business," drown the voice of the Eternal Spirit, silencing the voice of the advancing judgment day, over-coming the voice of eternity; and you can not hear, they can not listen. They say, "Go thy way for this time." Some of you look upon your goods, look upon your profession, you look upon your memorandum-books, and you see the demands that are made this very week upon your time and your patience and your money; and while I am entreating you about your soul and the danger of procrastination you say, "Go thy way for this time; when I have a convenient season, I will call for thee." Oh, Felix, why he bothered about the affairs of this world so much more than about the affairs of eternity? Do you not know that when death comes you will have to stop business, though it be in the most exacting period of its payment of the money and the taking of the receipt? The moment he comes you will have to go. Death waits for no man, however high, however low. Will you put your office, will you put your shop in comparison with the affairs of an eternal world? Affairs that involve thrones, palaces, dominions eternal? Will you put 200 acres of ground against immensity? Will you put forty or fifty years of your life against millions of years? Oh, Felix, you might better postpone everything else for do you not know that the upholding of Tyrian purple in your palace will fade, and the marble blocks of Caesarea will crumble and the breakwater at the beach, made of great blocks of stone sixty feet long, must give way before the perpetual wash of the sea; but the redemption that Paul offers you will be forever?

And yet, and yet, and yet you wave him back to the guard-room, saying, "Go thy way for this time; when I have a convenient season I will call for thee." Again, Felix adjourned this subject of religion and put off Paul's argument, because he could not give up the honors of the world. He was afraid somehow he would be compromised himself in this matter. Remarks he made afterwards showed him to be intensely ambitious. Oh, how he hugged the favor of men! I never saw the honors of this world in their hollowness and hypocrisy so much as in the life and death of that wonderful man, Charles Sumner. As he went toward the place of burial, even Independence Hall, in Philadelphia, asked that his remains stop there on their way to Boston. The flags were at half-mast, and the minutemen on Boston Common throbbed after his heart had ceased to beat. Was it always so? While he lived, how censured of legislative resolutions, how charged with every motive mean and ridiculous; how all the urns of scorn and hatred and billings-gate emptied upon his head; how, when struck down in senate chamber, there were hundreds of thousands of people who said, "Good by, my hero, my right!" how he had to put the ocean between him and his maligners, that he might have a little peace, and how, when he went off sick, they said he was broken-hearted because he could not get to be President or secretary of state. Oh Commonwealth of Massachusetts! who is that man who sleeps in your public hall, covered with garlands and wrapped in the stars and stripes? Is that the man who, only a few months before, you denounced as the foe of republican and democratic institutions? Is that the same man? Ye American people, ye could not by one week of funeral eulogium and newspaper leaders, which the dead senator could neither read nor hear, atone for twenty-five years of maltreatment and caricature. When I see a man like that, pursued by all the hounds of the political kennel so long as he lives, and then buried under a great pile of garlands, and amidst the lamentations of a whole nation, I say to myself: What an unutterably hypocritical thing is all human applause and all human favor! You took twenty-five years in trying to pull down his fame, and then take twenty-five years in trying to build his monument. My friends, was there ever a better commentary on the hollowness of all earthly favor? If there are young men here who read this who are postponing religion in order that they may have the favors of this world, let me persuade them of their complete folly. If you are looking forward to gubernatorial, senatorial or Presidential chair, let me show you your great mistake. Can it be that there is now any young man saying, "Let me have political office, let me have some of the high positions of trust and power, and then I will attend to religion; but not now." "Go thy way for this time; when I have a convenient season, I will call for thee!"

And now my subject takes a deeper tone, and it shows what a dangerous thing is this deterring of religion. When Paul's chain rattled down the marble stairs of Felix, that was Felix's last chance for heaven. Judging from his character afterward, he was reprobate and abandoned. And so was Drusilla.

One day in southern Italy there was a trembling of the earth, and the air got black with smoke intershot with liquid rocks, and Vesuvius rained upon Drusilla and upon her son a horrible tempest of ashes and fire. They did not reject religion; they only put it off. They did not understand that that day, that that hour when Paul stood before them, was the pivotal hour upon which everything was poised, and that it tipped the wrong way. Their convenient season came when Paul and his guardsman entered the palace; it went away when Paul and his guardsman left. Have you never seen men waiting for a convenient season? There is such a great fascination about it, that though you may have great respect to the truth of Christ, yet somehow there is in your soul the thought, "Not quite yet. It is not time for me to become a Christian." I say to a boy, "Seek Christ." He says, "No; wait until I get to be a young man." I say to the young man, "Seek Christ." He says, "Wait until I come to mid-life." I meet the same person in mid-life, and I say, "Seek Christ." He says, "Wait until I get old." I meet the same person in old age, and I say to him, "Seek Christ." He says, "Wait until I am on my dying bed." I am called to his dying couch. His last moments have come. I bend over the couch and listen for his last words. I have partially to guess what they are by the motion of his lips, he is so feeble; but rallying himself, he whispers, until I can hear him say, "I am—waiting—for—a—more—convenient—season"—and he is gone!

May God Almighty forbid that any of you, my brethren or sisters, act the part of Felix and Drusilla, and put away this great subject. If you are going to be saved ever, why not begin to-night? Throw down your sins and take the Lord's yoke. Christ has been tramping after you many a day. An Indian and a white man became Christians. The Indian, almost as soon as he heard the gospel, believed and was saved; but the white man struggled on in darkness for a long while before he found light. After their peace in Christ, the white man said to the Indian, "Why was it that I was kept so long in the darkness, and you immediately found peace?" The Indian replied, "I will tell you. A prince comes along, and he offers you a coat. You look at your coat, and you say, 'My coat is good enough, and you refuse his offer; but the prince comes along and he offers me the coat, and I look at my old blanket and I throw that away, and take his offer. You, sir," continued the Indian, "are clinging to your own righteousness, you think you are good enough, and you refuse your righteousness; but I have nothing, nothing, and so when Jesus offers me pardon and peace, I simply take it." My reader, why not now throw away the worn-out blanket of your sin and take the robe of a Saviour's righteousness—a robe so white, so fair, so lustrous, that no fuller [on earth] can whiten it? O, shepherd, to-night bring home the lost sheep! O, father, to-night give a welcoming kiss to the wayward prodigal! O, friend of Lazarus, to-night break down the door of the sepulchre, and say to all these dead souls as by irresistible fiat, "Live! Live!"

LEO'S COSTLY VASE.

Presented by Monaco and Cost About $300,000.

The principal city of Monaco has presented the pope, as a jubilee gift, with what is undoubtedly the costliest vase ever made. It will stand by the main altar in the church of St. Joachim. It cost $30,000 to manufacture this vase. It has the shape of a church cup, such as those used on the altars of the Catholic church, and is made of majolica, enameled in white and gold. It is about nine feet high. On the top of the lid is Christ, with the world in one hand and the keys of heaven in the other. In the border of the lid, which is thirty-two inches in diameter, are six angels disposed in groups of threes, which represent the handles of the vase. The angels hold religious attributes such as the palm, the cross, the pastoral mace, the holy water cup and the incense burner. The body of the vase is carved with allegorical ornaments and has two medallions. One of these represents the pope when made a priest in 1837 celebrating his first mass, surrounded with angels in the act of praying. This is bis-relief or medallion is headed by two angels holding the coat of arms of Count Pecci, the pope's name before he was ordained a priest. The other medallion on the opposite side represents the pope sitting on the Pontifical throne in the act of being congratulated on the occasion of his justified by priests and friars of every order, with two angels on each side one holding the holy sacrament, the other in the act of offering a book. This medallion is headed by two more angels holding the Pontifical coat of arms. Just under the heads of the three angels on the lid are several heads of cherubs, surrounded by heads of four saints, which are made to represent four doctors of the church from whom Leo takes his daily inspirations. On one side of the foot of the vase there is a coat of arms of Monaco, and on the other side the coat of arms of Bishop Tevet of Monaco, who was the interpreter of the sentiments of the inhabitants and parishioners of the principality of Monaco in ordering the vase to be made. The pedestal of this magnificent vase is of various turquoise colors in enamel. The prevailing color is white. The larger panels on the bowl are of pale yellow and much of the raised ornamentation is in dull gold. Bands of gold encircle the bowl and stand, and the inscription on the cup is in gold letters on a white ground.

PICTURE OF GEORGE ELIOT.

Madam Beloe, who, when young, was one of George Eliot's most intimate friends, has written some recollections of the great novelist in an English review. She says that she was "the living incarnation of English dissent." The pen picture she draws goes on to say: "She had 'chapel' written in every line of the thoughtful, somewhat severe face; not the flourishing dissent of Spurgeon or Parker or the florid boldness of Henry Ward Beecher or the culture of Stopford Brooke, but the dissent of Jonathan Edwards, of Philip Henry, of John Wesley, as he was ultimately forced to be. Her horror of a lie, her unflinching industry and sedulous use of all her talents, her extraordinary courage, even her dress, which, spend as she might and ultimately did, could never be lifted into fashion, and retained a certain solemnity of art and gesture like an eighteenth-century edition applied to clothes—everything about her, to me, suggested Bunyan in his Bedford prison or Mary Bosaquet watched by Fletcher of Madeley as she bore the peltting of the stones in the streets of Northampton."

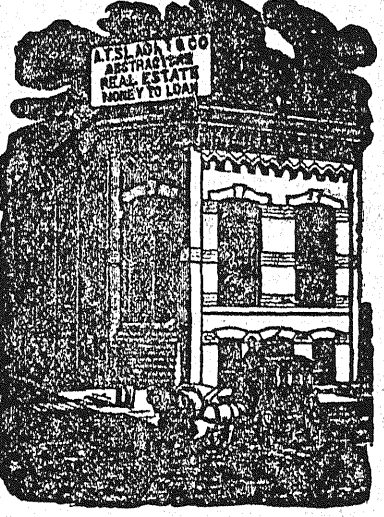

Bermuda Governmental Arrangements.

The governmental arrangements of Bermuda ought to possess considerable interest for the Hawaiian islands in view of Hawaii's constitutional convention, with its task of providing for a stable representative system. Although the civil government of Bermuda is in fact the executive headship of the British military commandant, the colony is, in fact, self-governing as regards all its local affairs. The franchise is restricted to those possessing certain property qualifications; and at the last enumeration there were 1,100 qualified voters out of a total population of some 12,000. Of the 1,100 voters there were 763 white men and 404 colored. Each of the nine parishes is entitled to four representatives in the legislative assembly and the tenure of their office is seven years.

CHAPTER I. The Two Sphinxes.

In the year 1641, when France was menaced by leagues of all its neighbors and those undying enemies, England, Austria, Italy and Spain...

The table that the two thoughtful men shared between them was covered with papers and charts, vials of chemicals necessary to revise secret writing keys...

But that heavy falchion was no longer a feather in the tremulous, slender and bloodless hands of that silent man...

Everybody hated him, and everybody had their reasons; the king because he felt his inferiority beside him, the nobles because he had struck off the highest of their heads...

Do You Wish the Finest Bread and Cake?

It is conceded that the Royal Baking Powder is the purest and strongest of all the baking powders. The purest baking powder makes the finest, sweetest, most delicious food.

Avoid all baking powders sold with a gift or prize, or at a lower price than the Royal, as they invariably contain alum, lime or sulphuric acid, and render the food unwholesome.

Certain protection from alum baking powders can be had by declining to accept any substitute for the Royal, which is absolutely pure.

W. L. DOUGLAS Shoes are stylish, easy fitting, and give better satisfaction at the prices advertised than any other make. Try one pair and be convinced. The stamping of W. L. Douglas's name and price on the bottom, which guarantees their value, saves thousands of dollars annually to those who wear them. Dealers who push the sale of W. L. Douglas Shoes gain customers, which helps to increase the sales on their full line of goods. They can afford to sell at a less profit, and we believe you can save money by buying all your footwear of the dealer advertised below. Catalogue free upon application. W. L. ## Too Pedantic.

President G. Stanley Hall of Johns Hopkins university has only one fault in the world, but that is a very bad one. He does not know how to write English. That is to say, perhaps he knows how, but seems to do it. In a paper in The Forum on the training of young people he meanders into the by paths of many languages—Greek, Latin, French and German—occasionally forgetting himself and dipping into English, as Mr. Wegg dropped into poetry. If President G. Stanley Hall were writing for a Sanskrit, Greek or Latin magazine, it would be quite proper for him to write in these tongues, but he professes to be instructing plain American people on how to deal with their children in the perilous years from 15 to 25, when the youth are passing through what Mr. Hall calls their "ephebic" stage.

His essay is a plea for the slow and careful development of the young at this age. They should be trained to active athletic exercise and outdoor life, above all not letting them be hurried, but encouraging them to unfold naturally, innocently and healthfully, as a flower unfolds. Even religious experiences of the violent sort should be avoided. "To prescribe a strong set of feelings at this age may introvert attention on physical states, increase passion activities, issue in a sort of self flirtation or abnormal self consciousness or lapse to the supreme selfishness of incipient and often unsuspected hysteria."

Then President Hall quotes something from the Aristotelian katharsis. We are sure the katharsis is all right. Mr. Hall does not believe in making a tabula rasa of all settled consensus; neither does he want young men led toward paranoias, and he says they should not be made solipsistic. With all our heart, Mr. Hall. It's the worst thing in the world to make a young man solipsistic and lead him toward paranoias. There is only one thing worse than that, and it is to pretend to write a paper for a popular magazine that is intended to instruct the people and then insult the people by filling the paper with obscure and foreign words, some of which not even Webster's Dictionary gives the meaning of. You ought to be ashamed of yourself, G. Stanley Hall. You ought for a fact. If you cannot write English, it were better not to write at all.

Conching Parties.

The Suburban Coaching club of New York city has revived a delightful reminiscence of one kind of really good old time—the time of stage coaching. If one wants to go to another city, 50 to 100 miles away, of business, he jumps upon a flying trail and is at his destination quickly. He transacts his business and is at home in time for dinner. But when people are not in a hurry, when they want a day's rest and would scent the odor of orchards and meadows and breathe ozone untainted with dust and coal smoke, then they would enjoy above all things the ride in the stagecoach. There is the stop for relays of horses, the few minutes' rest to look at objects of interest—historic and otherwise—the grand halt for dinner at a country inn, with fresh milk, eggs, poultry, berries and vegetables.

Recreation of this kind the inhabitants of cities need. Life to most of them is one prolonged hustle, and when they go away for a little recreation it is still hustle and nothing else to catch trains, to be on time at meals and to secure rooms at hotels. But the old fashioned stagecoach, with its horn and spanking horses, gliding gently through green lanes under skies unobscured by coal smoke, stopping when its occupants will and never hurrying—above all, never hurrying! There are sweet rest and health in the thought. The Suburban Coaching club of New York has established a regular stage line to Philadelphia for just such recreation. The distance is 90 miles, and it is covered in 12 hours. Let us have excursion stage lines in all our cities.

Greece has been severely shaken by an earthquake. This, together with the memory of our own seismic convulsion at Charleston and the present alarming volcanic activity of Mt. Calbuco in Chili, tends to shake one's faith in the solidity of the earth. They tend to show that an earthquake or a volcano may break loose anywhere at any time. Calbuco had never been known to have an eruption, and it was not till its sudden outburst in February, 1893, that any suspicion was aroused that it ever had been a volcano. Since that date, however, it has exhibited incessant activity and destroyed miles of the most fertile lands in Chili. Farmers living around the mountain's base have been compelled to abandon their homes.

If this country had as many railroads in proportion to area as Great Britain, we should have 492,129 miles, whereas at present we have only 177,850. Therefore, The Railway Age thinks, we have not too much railway mileage at present; that on the contrary we have not nearly enough. But it will be a good plan to let a few of our roads get out of the hands of receivers before urging that proposition too strongly on the American people.

One thousand unemployed men in Gogebic county, Mich., settled the question of state aid for the needy themselves. They waited on the county supervisors and requested an immediate appropriation of $75,000 for road improvements so that they could get work and food. The supervisors granted the demand without any unnecessary delay.

GREENLEAF.

M. McEachin spent Sunday at home. Miss Flora McPhee, of Detroit, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Neil McEachin. Mr. Webster has the wall completed for his house which he will build at once.

John McIsaac arrived home from Grand Rapids the fore part of the week. Angus says the next time he wishes a tooth extracted he will try a competent dentist as he thinks the one at Grassmere out of sight.

Malcolm McEachin has let a contract of cleaning 32 acres of land to McLehlan's, of Cass City. They have already begun brushing.

Mr. Ross informs us that he will wind up lumbering operations for the summer and will put those of his men who are willing to ditch at work at a small cut on wages, as he has quite a large contract to complete by Oct. 1st. All who stay with him until done will be assured of a winter's job in the woods again.

Some of our youths seem to forget that this is not a leap year and instead of playing their part as usual rather wait for an approach from the opposite sex. This may work in rare cases but as a rule would prove a failure. So be sure and have your pocket book along when out hereafter, or you are liable to be in the soup.

Neil McEachin, of this place, and Mary A. McDonald, of Sheridan, were united in marriage by the Sheridan Catholic Church by the Rev. C. T. B. Krebs Thursday, June 6, Miss Maggie McDonald acting as brides-maid and Malcolm McEachin best man. After the ceremony the party followed by a number of relatives and friends inure to the home of the bride's parents where dinner and supper were served. After supper dancing continued till sunrise. The happy couple were the recipients of many useful and costly presents. They have commenced house keeping, attended by the best wishes of all who knew them.

Business-Like.
 Uncle Sam has caused to be posted up in the postoffice a card telling writers to have their names printed on the corner of their envelopes, thus insuring its return to you providing it does not reach its intended destination. This is good advice and should be heeded, not only by the business men but by every farmer. We can sell you envelopes with your name printed thereon nearly, if not quite, as cheap as you can buy the plain envelope at other places. We quote the following prices for good quality, No. 6 1/2 envelopes, white or colored, with name, address and business neatly printed thereon:

50	.....	$0.25
100	.....	0.45
250	.....	1.00
500	.....	1.50
1000	.....	2.50

KARIE'S CORNERS.

Nice warm weather. Walter Marks has built some more new fence.

Geo. Gray and Willie Muma each hived a swarm of bees on Monday. Solomon Karr and son Archie are grading for Dr. Lyman at Gagetown.

Jasper Darling has the sluice finished in good shape in the road near Charles Karr's.

John Muma went to Kinde Wednesday after his son who has been teaching at that place.

John Profit, Jr., moved from his father's farm into the house with his father-in-law on Saturday.

Warren Harrison held the number which drew the gold watch at the raffle at Gagetown on Saturday night.

James Muma returned home from Home township on Friday night. He closed his year's work with a picnic which took place on Thursday. Jim will learn the boys how to farm now.

Miss Mary Muma met with a very severe and painful accident on Friday. While washing a glass dish, it broke and cut her wrist so badly as to sever one artery. Dr. Morris dressed the wound and it is healing nicely now.

An excellent job of work has been done on the road for a half mile south of the Bird school house. The overseer and the men deserve credit. If all road districts would fix up the roads as good, we would have better roads.

ELLINGTON.

Very warm for several days past. Welcome summer; that art needed. Wheat is beginning to show its heads.

A number are engaged in cultivating their corn.

A number from Ellington visited Caro Saturday night.

Walter Johnson, wife and children, of Almer, were at Charles J. King's on Sunday.

Sheriff Jarvis and John A. Hubinger were riding through here one day last week on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Stills, of Cass City, daughter and son-in-law of Mrs. Russell, visited here Sunday.

Mrs. Esther Brumley's mother is reported as getting better and Mrs. Brumley will return home soon.

Several persons living in Ellington who believe in Spiritualism are going this week to Lake Orion to attend the spiritual camping meeting to be held there commencing the 10th inst.

Julius Osterle and son Frank have been hard at work the past week upon the north wing of their new house. They have got it sided up and the first coat of paint on. This week they will have it worked upon the inside and will have it finished before long.

It sometimes takes J. D. Fowler a long while to go to Caro and back, especially at pension time. He went to Caro Monday and Saturday Silas Brumley fearing for John's safety went to Caro to look him up. Don't know whether he was successful or not.

Charles J. King had the pleasure one day last week of meeting a gentleman by the name of Lamb, living some two miles east from Caro. They were acquainted before the war, both living near Tecumseh and not met since the war and knew nothing of either's existence or whereabouts.

John Hartley and Bert Evans went to J. Pury's, near Lapeer, last week. Bert went there to work for Pury when he moved, but owing to some difficulty Bert quit work and John refused to let him have his clothes, hence the trip. They returned Sunday night. We do not know what success they had.

In answer to my brother of Deford in regard to Decoration Day, I would say the day should be one of solemnity in which all should show their love and respect for all those who lost their lives in the great struggle, or having gone through the strife returned home covered with scars, or having lost limbs, or health in the mighty strife for the perpetuity of the union and have since died and been buried in our cemeteries. Their graves should be decorated and marked in such a way as to show what they had done for their country and for their posterity. I do not believe in it as a day of dancing and other amusements. There are many, however, who would rather observe it as a day of dancing and feasting, of laughter and mirth. It is pleasure that they want and will have, thinking it better to laugh for joy than to weep for sorrow for the loss of those who fell a sacrifice for their country so many years ago, and therefore they launch forth into such amusement as pleases them best. Well so mote it be.

Of Interest to Farmers

and former patrons of the Cass City Flouring Mills. We are now running every day. We have remodeled our mill and are now making a 1 flour, second to none made in this part of the state and will give as much for good wheat in exchange. # A CIRCUS ON THE BILL-BOARDS and a circus on circus day are two kinds of a thing. The greatest circus is usually on the Bill-boards, and the circus on Circus Day is consequently a disappointment. There is, of course, the occasional exception which proves the rule. McCormick Binders and Mowers are an exception. Their promise on the "Bill-boards" is always fulfilled on "Circus Day." For years the makers of McCormick Grain and Grass Harvesters have been telling the World that they could and would at any time demonstrate the superiority of their machines in the actual competitive field test. The "Bill-boards" of other manufacturers have glaringly proclaimed that their machines are the best. But "Circus Day" came at length. The World's Fair urged all these manufacturers to take their machines into the field that the results might be compared. The McCormick was there; its show went on. It's promises to the World were carried out. But how about the other "great and only's"? They stayed at home consoling themselves with the reflection that "the people like to be humbugged," and their artists got up new pictures for the "Bill-boards." Before deciding about going into these field trials, the competitors of the McCormick went and examined the crops to be cut, and realizing the severity of the conditions, they said to themselves: "We don't propose to come here and compete with the McCormick." "A live coward is better than a dead hero."—a sucker is born every minute, and we'll catch some of 'em anyway." That policy may answer for the "Bill-board" sort of circus; it will not do for the McCormick. Promises must not be broken. If McCormick machines are not better than all others, they must not be so advertised. If they are so advertised, every Binder, every Reaper and every Mower must be ready at a moment's notice to go out into the field and show up. That's business. Write to the McCormick Harvesting Machine Co., Chicago;—or, better yet, call at once on your nearest McCormick agent.

THAT WISE WOMAN.

It was a wintry evening about fifty years ago. The snow had ceased for a little while, but there was evidently plenty more to come in the dull gray clouds that hung low over the moor.

"John be gone on nicely," she said, going to the outer room, where several of the neighbors were still waiting; "and I shall bide the night, so there's no occasion for you to stop."

"How long will he be laid up, really?" asked Mrs. Long. "Well, I'm afraid he won't work again for some time, but he's sprained his wrist pretty tightish."

"Well, then, you take this," said Mrs. Long, turning out the contents of her purse. "That's much, but it'll help you on for a bit."

"'Twas because I be so poor, I can't afford nare bit o' 'oww."

"Poor! wi' all that money put away," said Mrs. Warno contemptuously. "No, Samuel, don't you get zammoneed now. Do you think I can't tell when you've spoken truth or no? I tell you what 'tis, unless you gives me £5 I'll go over to Bill's this very night and tell him."

"Well, Mrs. Warno, you're a wicked old woman! You mean to call me a wicked old woman! You mean to call me a wicked old woman!"

"I'll warrant it never will," said Mrs. Warno, remembering her treatment of Samuel. "I'm feared I be a terrible crafty old woman!"

"I shouldn't wonder at all, Jim, if it weren't a warning to ye not to stray so long at the 'Horseshoe' evenings; and if you takes my advice ye'll never be home later than 9 o'clock again," said Mrs. Warno, remembering that Mrs. March had been to her a little time back to complain that Jim was "too fond of his glass of an evening."

HOPE OF AMERICA.

THE NICARAGUAN CANAL OUR OWN GIBRALTAR.

Gives America the Shortest Sea Route to India and the Wealth of Eastern Asia - England's Jealous Eye is Open.

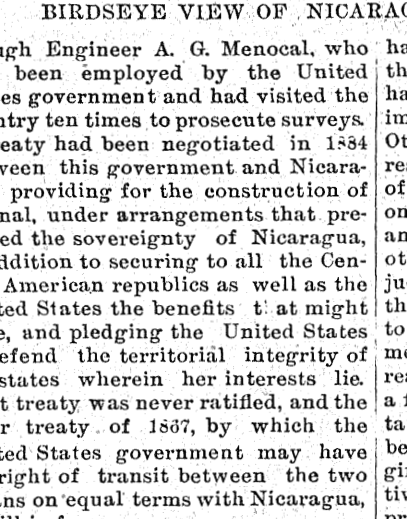

THE PROJECT FOR the construction of the Nicaragua ship canal is one which has interested capitalists in the United States for a quarter of a century. More recently the utter collapse of the Panama scheme has served to emphasize the necessity of some other maritime canal across the central isthmus.

considered, but all the others have been abandoned except the route via Lake Nicaragua. The advocates of this route claim for it that its position is unique, exceeding Gibraltar in strategic value; that the way lies through a country for the most part salubrious and rich in natural resources, and that the possession of an interoceanic canal there by the United States government would constitute a perpetual assertion of the Monroe doctrine.

1000 Meals for Five Cents

Each person eats on the average over 1000 meals per year. To properly flavor these would require 17 cents worth of Diamond Crystal Salt. This is a trifle greater quantity than the other kinds were used, but 5 cents would more than cover the difference, and pay for the luxury of having

Diamond Crystal Salt

Instead of the other kinds. But the important thing about it is the finer flavor your food will have and the greater protection your health will receive when you use the salt that is all salt. Ask your Grocer for DIAMOND CRYSTAL. If he has it not got it, write to us. If you make matters investigate our "Baby Salt," there's money in it. Address: Diamond Crystal Salt Co., ST. CLAIR, ILL.

TWO SINNERS.

There was a man, it was said one time,
Who went astray in his youthful prime.
Can the brain keep cool and the heart keep quiet,
When the blood is a river that's running riot?
And boys will be boys, the old folks say,
And a man is the better who's had his day.
The sinner reformed, and the preacher told
Of the prodigal son who came back to the fold.
And Christian people threw open the door,
With a warmer welcome than ever before.
Wealth and honor were his to command,
And a spotless woman gave him her hand.
And the world strewed their pathway
With blossoms a bloom,
Crying "God bless lady, and God bless groom!"

There was a maiden who went astray
In the golden dawn of her life's young day.
She had more passion and heart than head,
And she followed blindly where fond love led.
And love unchecked is a dangerous guide
To wander at will by a fair girl's side.
The woman repented and turned from sin,
But no door opened to let her in;
The preacher prayed that she might be forgiven,
But told her to look for mercy in heaven.
For this is the law of the earth, we know
That the woman is stoned, while the man may go.
A brave man wedded her after all,
But the world said, frowning, "We shall not call."

ELLA WHEELER WILCOX.

CASEVILLE.

Road work is the order of the day.
A heavy thunder storm visited this place Monday afternoon, but not much rain.
Martin Conant and wife of Bad Axe, attended the K. O. T. M. anniversary on Monday evening.
W. Anderson is home for a short time, from Brown City, where he has been canvassing for fruit trees.
Thomas Luxton and wife spent Sunday and Monday in Sebawaing with friends, returning Tuesday.
Children's Day was observed here last Sunday, at the M. E. Church in the forenoon and at the Presbyterian Church in the evening, with a large turnout at both places and large collections.
A large number of Masons went to Bay Port last Sunday to attend the funeral of Charles Andrews, of that place. Mr. Andrews belonged to the order and the interment was conducted by that body.
The K. O. T. M.'s and L. O. T. M.'s of this place celebrated the thirteenth anniversary of the order last Monday evening. The hall was nicely decorated. A very interesting address was delivered on the ancient order by Rev. Challis, as well as a splendid address on the good of the order at the present time. There was excellent singing by the choir and several very nice pieces by the children, after which ice cream and cake were passed around to over two hundred. All seemed to enjoy themselves.

KINGSTON

Pearl Lee went to Uby on his wheel Saturday.
G. T. Soper made a business trip to Port Huron Tuesday.
N. H. Burns and M. R. King attended the Caro races Wednesday.
Edgar Pelton has a new Duke bicycle, purchased of M. R. King.
Several from here attended the K. O. T. M. picnic at Caro last week.
Mrs. L. A. Maynard started for Elsie Tuesday morning to visit friends and relatives.
The L. O. T. M. met Sunday afternoon and went to the cemetery and decorated the graves of their departed members.
Dr. Geo. Simenton, of Marlette, was in town on Friday. He thinks the hills around Kingston are not just the thing for cyclists.

On Saturday last M. M. Trenaman started for Pt. Huron, taking his family with him. Mr. Trenaman intends opening a meat market there.
The carpenters are at work on N. H. Burns' new house on Ross Street and Wm. Milliken has commenced work on a new dwelling on Pine Street.
G. E. Hopps has bought the lot across the street from his shop, of E. H. King, and has moved the carpenter's shop to the lot back of the shop. Consideration, $175, we are told.

On Monday evening Kingston came very near being visited by a fire. L. E. Warner had just lit the large lamps which were hanging from the ceiling of a room in the building, when one of the lamps fell and broke but was promptly kicked into the street, so saving the store.

Monday, Phil Usher and Frank Saigoon exchanged horses. Rev. Eastman sold his horse and Asa Durkee, our surprising general merchant, traded his horse, buggy and harness to J. Ryckman for his house and lots at the corner of River Street and Kingsberry Alley, and gave $325 to boot. If we are any judge of property in Kingston, Mr. Durkee got this very cheap.

Some people seem to have an idea that there is not much business going on in Kingston, but we venture to say there is not a town in the Thumb of its size that is doing more. A. Saigoon, the enterprising proprietor of the elevator, is buying over $1,500 worth of wool each week, and paying as much as any of the surrounding towns are, and some outsiders even say one and two cents more a pound.

On Friday evening a surprise party was given Miss Eva VanSicklen at Mr. Randall's. While ice-cream was being served the freezer was left standing at the door and was not invited, appropriated ice-cream and freezer much to the disappointment of those present. The freezer was found the next morning on the horse-block, but the ice-cream, oh! where was that? Miss VanSicklen, however, was home near Marlette Saturday morning.

Sunday morning, Children's Day was observed at the M. E. Church as announced. There was a large congregation and the exercises passed off very pleasantly. A collection of $12.36 was taken. The following was the program as rendered:

Song, "On to Victory"..... By School.
Prayer..... Pastor.
Song, "Who is Ready?"..... School.
Opening Address..... Pastor.

Song, "Little Flowers"..... Ina and Millie Colston.
Class Exercise..... Buy bees.
Recitation, "Our Father"..... Buy bees.
Recitation, "I Will Lead You"..... Alice Reed.
Recitation, "Scatter Bright Sunbeams"..... Will Workers.
Recitation, "Children's Day"..... Mabel Elliott.
Recitation, "The Children's Plea"..... Olga Yarrington.
Address..... A. E. Wilson.
Class Exercise, "How the Church Helps to Educate Her Youth"..... Earnest Advocates.
Address..... A. E. Wilson.
Song, "I Will be a Worker"..... School.

State of Michigan, County of Tuscola, ss. In the matter of the estate of Claude D. Ellison, minor. Notice is hereby given, that in pursuance and by virtue of an order granted to the undersigned, as Guardian of the estate of said Claude D. Ellison, by the Hon. John C. Laing, Judge of Probate in and for said county, on the 29th day of May, A. D. 1894, there will be sold at public vendue, to the highest bidder, at the premises to be sold, to-wit: the village of Caro, in said county, on Tuesday, the 17th day of July, A. D. 1894, at one o'clock in the afternoon of said day, all the real estate and interest of said Claude D. Ellison in and to the following described lands and premises, situated in the village of Caro, County of Tuscola, and State of Michigan, to-wit: Lot one (1), block five (5) in Fox's addition to the village of Caro, according to the plat of said addition as recorded in the Register's office for the county of Tuscola.

WILLIAM ELLISON,
Guardian of the estate of Claude D. Ellison,
Dated May 29th, A. D. 1894.

Order of Hearing.

State of Michigan, County of Tuscola, ss. At a session of the Probate Court for said county, held at the Probate Office, in the village of Caro, on the 27th day of May, in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-four. Present, John C. Laing, Judge of Probate. In the matter of the estate of William Cole, deceased. On reading and filing the petition, duly verified, of Hopey C. Cole, widow and executrix of said deceased, praying that a certain instrument now on file in this court, purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased, may be admitted to probate, and that administration of said estate may be granted to her or some other suitable person. Thereupon it is ordered, that Wednesday, the 25th day of July next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, be assigned for the hearing of said petition, and that the heirs at law of said deceased, are required to appear at a session of said court, then to be held at the Probate Office in the village of Caro, and show cause, if any there be, why the prayer of the petitioner should not be granted. And it is further ordered, that said petitioner give notice to the persons interested in said estate, of the pendency of said petition, and the hearing thereof, by causing a copy of this order to be published in the Cass City Enterprise, a newspaper printed and circulated in said county, three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing.

JOHN C. LAING,
Judge of Probate.

MORTGAGE SALE.—Notice is hereby given that default has been made in the payment of money due for interest on a mortgage bearing date the 25th day of May, A. D. 1894, made and executed by Milo Ware and Flora J. Ware his wife to Ella P. Hatch, and recorded in the Register of Deeds' office for the County of Tuscola, Michigan, on the 29th day of May, A. D. 1890, in liber 55 of mortgages on page 426; and by said Ella P. Hatch and Milo Ware to E. A. Healy, by a written assignment dated the 2nd day of June, A. D. 1890, and recorded on the 14th day of March, A. D. 1892, in the Register of Deeds' office aforesaid, in liber 73 of mortgages on page 228; and by said E. A. Healy, heretofore assigned to Sarah Poppleton by a written assignment bearing date the 1st day of June, A. D. 1892, and on the 10th day of September, A. D. 1892, in the said Register of Deeds' office, in liber 72 of mortgages, on page 528; and by said Sarah Poppleton, duly assigned to the undersigned, by a written assignment bearing date the 6th day of January, A. D. 1893, in liber 73 of mortgages, on page 570; that by reason of said default the whole sum secured by said mortgage has become due and payable and is hereby declared due and payable according to the conditions of said mortgage; that there is claimed to be due on said mortgage, at the date of this notice, the sum of seven hundred and six dollars and eighty-nine cents ($766.89). Now therefore by reason of said default said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the mortgaged premises at public vendue to the highest bidder, on Monday, the 2nd day of July, A. D. 1894, at one o'clock in the afternoon, at the eastern front door of the Court House, in the village of Caro, Tuscola County, Michigan, (that being the place wherein the circuit court for Tuscola County is held), and the said mortgaged premises are described in said mortgage substantially as follows: All that certain piece or parcel of land situated in the Township of Ellington, County of Tuscola and State of Michigan, to-wit: The north half (1/2) of the southwest quarter (1/4) of section twenty-three (23), township north thirteen (13), north range ten (10) east. Said premises will be sold at public vendue at the Probate Office in the village of Caro, Michigan, at one o'clock in the afternoon, on the day of this notice, and the date of sale above mentioned.

LEGAL NOTICES.

Order of Hearing.

State of Michigan, County of Tuscola, ss. In the matter of the estate of Claude D. Ellison, minor. Notice is hereby given, that in pursuance and by virtue of an order granted to the undersigned, as Guardian of the estate of said Claude D. Ellison, by the Hon. John C. Laing, Judge of Probate in and for said county, on the 29th day of May, A. D. 1894, there will be sold at public vendue, to the highest bidder, at the premises to be sold, to-wit: the village of Caro, in said county, on Tuesday, the 17th day of July, A. D. 1894, at one o'clock in the afternoon of said day, all the real estate and interest of said Claude D. Ellison in and to the following described lands and premises, situated in the village of Caro, County of Tuscola, and State of Michigan, to-wit: Lot one (1), block five (5) in Fox's addition to the village of Caro, according to the plat of said addition as recorded in the Register's office for the county of Tuscola.

WILLIAM ELLISON,
Guardian of the estate of Claude D. Ellison,
Dated May 29th, A. D. 1894.

Order of Hearing.

State of Michigan, County of Tuscola, ss. At a session of the Probate Court for said county, held at the Probate Office, in the village of Caro, on the 27th day of May, in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-four. Present, John C. Laing, Judge of Probate. In the matter of the estate of William Cole, deceased. On reading and filing the petition, duly verified, of Hopey C. Cole, widow and executrix of said deceased, praying that a certain instrument now on file in this court, purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased, may be admitted to probate, and that administration of said estate may be granted to her or some other suitable person. Thereupon it is ordered, that Wednesday, the 25th day of July next, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, be assigned for the hearing of said petition, and that the heirs at law of said deceased, are required to appear at a session of said court, then to be held at the Probate Office in the village of Caro, and show cause, if any there be, why the prayer of the petitioner should not be granted. And it is further ordered, that said petitioner give notice to the persons interested in said estate, of the pendency of said petition, and the hearing thereof, by causing a copy of this order to be published in the Cass City Enterprise, a newspaper printed and circulated in said county, three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing.

JOHN C. LAING,
Judge of Probate.

MORTGAGE SALE.—Notice is hereby given that default has been made in the payment of money due for interest on a mortgage bearing date the 25th day of May, A. D. 1894, made and executed by Milo Ware and Flora J. Ware his wife to Ella P. Hatch, and recorded in the Register of Deeds' office for the County of Tuscola, Michigan, on the 29th day of May, A. D. 1890, in liber 55 of mortgages on page 426; and by said Ella P. Hatch and Milo Ware to E. A. Healy, by a written assignment dated the 2nd day of June, A. D. 1890, and recorded on the 14th day of March, A. D. 1892, in the Register of Deeds' office aforesaid, in liber 73 of mortgages on page 228; and by said E. A. Healy, heretofore assigned to Sarah Poppleton by a written assignment bearing date the 1st day of June, A. D. 1892, and on the 10th day of September, A. D. 1892, in the said Register of Deeds' office, in liber 72 of mortgages, on page 528; and by said Sarah Poppleton, duly assigned to the undersigned, by a written assignment bearing date the 6th day of January, A. D. 1893, in liber 73 of mortgages, on page 570; that by reason of said default the whole sum secured by said mortgage has become due and payable and is hereby declared due and payable according to the conditions of said mortgage; that there is claimed to be due on said mortgage, at the date of this notice, the sum of seven hundred and six dollars and eighty-nine cents ($766.89). Now therefore by reason of said default said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the mortgaged premises at public vendue to the highest bidder, on Monday, the 2nd day of July, A. D. 1894, at one o'clock in the afternoon, at the eastern front door of the Court House, in the village of Caro, Tuscola County, Michigan, (that being the place wherein the circuit court for Tuscola County is held), and the said mortgaged premises are described in said mortgage substantially as follows: All that certain piece or parcel of land situated in the Township of Ellington, County of Tuscola and State of Michigan, to-wit: The north half (1/2) of the southwest quarter (1/4) of section twenty-three (23), township north thirteen (13), north range ten (10) east. Said premises will be sold at public vendue at the Probate Office in the village of Caro, Michigan, at one o'clock in the afternoon, on the day of this notice, and the date of sale above mentioned.

Dated April 5th, 1894.
E. A. POPPLETON,
Assignee of Mortgage.
