FIELD DAY.

Friday a Day of Fine Sports at Cass City.

The Field Day meet of the Thumb High School Athletic Association took place here last Friday, five schools being represented. The weather was rather threatening but only a brief shower of rain fell in the afternoon, and the delay was not serious. The attendance was fair and the interest keen in all the events, but the best of feeling prevailed. The following are the events and the winners:

Stand broad jump—1st, T. Atkins, Vassar, 9ft. 3/4 in.; 2nd, Harrison, Bad Axe; 3rd, Binder, Sebawaing.

Hurdle Race—1st, Atkins, Vassar; 2nd, Maxwell, Cass City (Goodwin, of Caro, came in second, but ran under protest); 3rd, Harrison, Bad Axe.

Run, broad jump—1st, Gale, Cass City, 17ft. 6 1/2 in.; 2nd, Scully, Bad Axe; 3rd, Binder, Sebawaing.

Relay race—1st, Vassar team; 2nd, Bad Axe team; 3rd, Sebawaing team.

Run, hop, step and jump—1st, Harrison, Bad Axe, 38ft. 6 1/4 in.; 2nd, Gale, Cass City; 3rd, Atkins, Vassar.

Pole vault—1st, Gale, Cass City, 9 ft.; 2nd, Scott, Bad Axe; 3rd, Loss, Vassar.

Run, high jump—1st, Ranke, Sebawaing, 5 ft. 3 in.; 2nd, Loss, Vassar; 3rd, Kewley, Bad Axe.

100 yard dash—1st, Atkins, Vassar; 2nd, Maxwell, Cass City; 3rd, Harrison, Bad Axe.

Shot put—1st, McLean, Bad Axe, 32 ft. 11 1/2 in.; 2nd, Stark, Vassar; 3rd, Clement, Cass City.

220 yard run—1st, Atkins, Vassar; 2nd, Dafeo, Bad Axe; 3rd, Maxwell, Cass City.

Run, high kick—1st, Binder, Sebawaing, 8 ft. 7 in.; 2nd, Willet, Bad Axe; 3rd, Loss, Vassar.

Half-mile bicycle race—1st, Robertson, Caro; 2nd, Muntz, Cass City; 3rd, DeCoe, Vassar.

Vassar won 24 points; Bad Axe, 21; Cass City, 14; Sebawaing, 9; Caro, 3.

A game of base ball was then called between the Vassar nine and a picked up nine, made up mostly of Cass City men. Three innings only were played, the score standing 8 to 0 in favor of Cass City. A heavy fall of rain in the evening prevented many of the visitors from starting home as soon as they wished. Taken all in all the day passed off very pleasantly, and the honors were quite equally divided.

Trains to Owendale.

Caro Advertiser:—A new time card is booked to go into effect on the Michigan Central on the 15th, which will probably be the most important as affecting changes here, of any that has ever been put into effect in that it will inaugurate the opening for traffic of the Owendale extension. Of course no official information has been given out as yet, but it is understood that the morning train arriving here at 7:30 will not stop here as heretofore, but proceed to Owendale making a stop at Colling. It will return here at 10:40 continuing on to Vassar. The noon train arriving at this station at 12:50 will remain here until 3:10, leaving on the old schedule, but on its return from Vassar at 4:40 it will continue on to Owendale, returning here in time to leave at 6 p. m., as now; returning at 7:35 it will remain here until morning. Thus it will be seen that the only real change will be the running through of the morning and afternoon train to Owendale, giving that division the benefit of two trains per day.

Re-established.

The Cass City-Caro stage began its daily trips once more on Monday. All along the route the people gave evidence of pleasure at the re-establishment of the route. Flags were unfurled and guns were fired at different points, and the prompt delivery of mail at this point from the westward is already appreciated. Carrier Hobart leaves Cass City at 7:30 a. m. local time, and returning leaves Caro at two p. m. local time. The same passenger fare as formerly will prevail—single trip, $1.00; round trip, $1.50. Parcels carried at reasonable rates.

A Narrow Escape.

Neil McGillivray, a brother of Dan and Angus McGillivray, of this place, was one of the crew of the freight boat Thos. Wilson, which sank in a collision off Duluth on Saturday morning, but his friends were much gratified to receive word from him on Sunday that he was saved, though having a very narrow escape. John Campbell, of Greenleaf, who was lookout, was drowned. See Greenleaf correspondence.

Orion Bible Conference.

The Orion Bible Conference will take place July 18 to 29, 1902, on the grounds of the Lake Orion Resort Association at Lake Orion, Mich. Sessions are all free and offer exceptional opportunity to combine a vacation trip with one of helpfulness in the Christian life.

The speakers for the various occasions are men well known as leading Christian workers throughout the country, among whom are: Rev. J. F. Carson, D. D., Brooklyn; Rev. Wayland Hoyt, D. D., Philadelphia; Rev. W. F. McDowell, N. Y. City; Rev. Ford C. Ottman, Newark, N. J.; Prof. Geo. E. Coe, Ph. D., Evanston, Ill.; Rev. Charles Edwin Bradt, Ph. D., Wichita, Kas.; Rev. W. J. Doherty, Toronto, Ont.; Mr. W. C. Pearce, Chicago, Ill.; Melvin E. Trotter, Grand Rapids; Major James H. Cole.

The program of each morning will consist of four sessions of one hour each beginning at 8 o'clock. During this time conferences relating to Sunday School work, to Pastoral problems, to the deepening of spiritual life and to the study of the Word of God will be conducted under capable leadership. The afternoons of the conference will be given up largely to rest and recreation such as boating, bathing, fishing, etc., for which the lake affords excellent opportunity. The evening program will be made up of two addresses, one an out door service on the hill top, being a devotional service conducted by Major Cole, and the second one an address in the auditorium at 8 o'clock on some theme of general interest to every one present. This plan of program will be carried out for ten days of the conference and will prove of great stimulus and helpfulness to Christians and Christian workers.

Accommodations may be secured either at the hotels or in private cottages on the island, or in homes of the citizens of the village of Orion at such rates as may be desired. Tenting privileges may be arranged for. All information pertaining to the entertainment during the conference may be secured by addressing Rev. F. B. Cutler, of Oxford, Mich. All other information concerning the conference will be gladly given by addressing Orion Bible Conference, room 1201 Chamber of Commerce, Detroit.

A Former Citizen Honored

From the Financial Review, published in New York, we quote the following regarding one of our former citizens:

"The board of trade just organized in Findlay, Ohio, has the many advantages of such organizations, and it will doubtless play an important role in the future development of that already active and progressive city. Dr. N. L. McLachlan, a director of the Commercial Bank and Savings Company, was chosen a trustee and his selection has been favorably commented upon by the business world of Findlay, because it is recognized that such men as he are needed by the organization at all times, and more especially in the earlier period. Dr. McLachlan is a man of forceful character, having many friends and enjoying wide esteem. In Findlay he has always been an advocate of anything which seemed to him calculated to advance the general good, as a broad of trade certainly does, and his selection was therefore logical."

Roberts' Lecture.

The attendance was small at the lecture of Rev. J. A. Roberts, at the M. E. Church on Tuesday evening, but the lecture was intensely interesting, the subject matter being principally taken from the actual experiences and observations of the speaker, in his trip from Amsterdam, Holland, along the coast of France and Spain, southward to the Cape of Good Hope, several months stay amongst the Boers, going thence to the Islands of Java and Borneo, the Philippines, and along the south coast of China. The lecture furnished a great deal of information and it is to be regretted that more were not present.

Dragged to Death.

A very sad accident occurred a mile west of Peck Tuesday afternoon of last week. While Jesse Ferguson was going home from town his horse became frightened and threw him back his feet catching in the cart in which he was riding and dragging him for some distance on the ground. As soon as possible he was released from his terrible position and both doctors were immediately summoned, but before they arrived he had passed away. He leaves a wife, one son and two daughters, all grown up, besides brothers and other relatives to mourn his sad demise.

CONSUMPTION

The Most Dangerous Communicable Disease.

At the meeting of the National Conference of Charities and Correction in Detroit, June 2, 1902, Dr. Baker, Secretary of the Michigan State Board of Health said: "Not one of the common, so-called 'contagious' diseases is usually contracted by simple contact of the unbroken surface of a human body with the surface of an infected human body. Therefore the term 'contagious,' implying as it does the spread of disease by contact, should be obsolete. A much better term is the single word, 'communicable.'"

"Of all communicable diseases consumption (pulmonary tuberculosis) is now the most dangerous. More people contract that disease than any other. Therefore anything, any statement, or any influence which belittles the importance of restricting the spread of consumption, does damage in the most vital point to the interests of the public health and safety."

"Improper housing and improper feeding of the poor are important evils to be done away with, because they lead to discomfort and lowered vitality, and tend to spread disease. But if the germs of tuberculosis were generally restricted, any amount of lowered vitality, because of improper housing and improper food, would not cause a single case of consumption."

"The essentials for the restriction of consumption are: First, the general recognition of the truth that consumption is the most dangerous communicable disease. Knowledge of that fact is the power without which consumption cannot be restricted. It is lack of action because of ignorance of this great truth—that consumption is spread from infected persons—that kills off the improperly housed and improperly fed poor. It is ignorance of that great truth that kills off the rich by tubercular disease, in spite of proper housing and proper feeding."

"It is the slow but gradual gaining of that precious knowledge by the common people, and action governed by that knowledge, that is reducing the mortality from consumption, as it is being reduced in Michigan."

"In order to be most useful to the public, it is essential that this important knowledge shall be gained by and shall govern the action of every coughing consumptive who otherwise is a constant source of danger. Therefore the consumptive should be promptly put in possession of that knowledge. The first essential cannot be fulfilled by the public unless every case of well-developed consumption shall be reported to the health officer. Every case reported should be promptly informed how to avoid reinfection of the patient and spreading the disease."

PURE FOOD LAWS ENFORCED
More Grocers Fined for Selling Alum Baking Powder.

The St. Louis papers report several more grocers brought to trial upon the charge of selling baking powder containing alum in violation of the law. The parties were all convicted and each fined $100.

Several baking powders which have been found by analysis to contain alum have been offered in this market. They are called

In many places similar powders, under these or other names, are offered for sale at from ten to twenty cents a pound.

Good baking powder is one of the most useful things in a kitchen. There are several good powders on the market; housekeepers will help the authorities in their efforts to promote the sale of pure and wholesome food, if when buying baking powder they will insist on having one of the well known brands of cream of tartar powders, which are pure and healthful beyond a doubt.

Moss Poisoned.

A few of our youthful maidens, while at Elkland cemetery a few days since, thought to improve their complexions by the liberal application of the juices of the moss which is there abundant, believing it to be milk-weed. The next morning they were much annoyed to find their faces considerably swollen and they have hardly recovered from the effects of it yet. They will doubtless be content hereafter to leave their complexions as Nature intended them.

Last week's Sanilac Republican says:—F. E. Montney, of Yale, Lovejoy's first lieutenant, came to Sanilac Centre Tuesday morning for the purpose of raising the bonus for the south railroad and says he is going to stay until he gets every dollar of it. On Tuesday afternoon he and E. Brown secured $700 of notes in Watertown. The first man to give a note was E. E. Walker and he started the list with $200.

THE NEWS OF MICHIGAN.

The Military Scandal.

The filling of complaints against Col. Eli R. Sutton of Detroit, one of the regents of the Michigan University; President John R. Hunter, Treasurer J. W. Woodworth, Director H. P. Kauffman and Salesman S. N. Bickerstaff of the Henderson-Tuttle company of Kalamazoo, has been expected by those on the inside ever since former Quartermaster-General W. L. White testified in the disbarment proceedings against E. S. Roos of Kalamazoo in the Supreme Court Tuesday, and implicated all of the persons named in the military clothing fraud, which created such a sensation when it was exposed by the grand jury eighteen months ago.

The complaints have been under preparation ever since that testimony was given. The one against Sutton was given by Attorney-General Owen, the others being sworn to by Prosecuting Attorney Tuttle. It is alleged that Sutton swore falsely when on the stand in his own defense during the trial which one year ago resulted in his acquittal in the military fraud case. He testified that he had nothing to do with it, and accounted in other ways for the money which White says he paid Sutton as the latter's share of the profits of the deal. Sutton at that time admitted that he took the grand jury an entirely different story about three items in his bank account, but said he was excited when before the grand jury.

A Tax Case and Arrest.

The culmination of the deadlock between the tax commission and J. L. Board of Port Huron, came to a shabby end Friday. Mr. Board was arrested, charged with the misdemeanor of refusing to appear before the commission and testify as to his property holdings. Board appeared in Police Court and refused to plead, the court entering a plea of not guilty. He was allowed to go on his own recognizance, to appear for examination June 17. The arrest of Mr. Board has caused a sensation, as it was not thought the commission would go that far.

The arrest was made under a statute which aids the board of tax commissioners to carry out their duties, and makes it a misdemeanor for any citizen who, when subpoenaed to appear before the board to testify as to property, refuses to do so. Board will fight the case.

The commission will have the auditor-general begin mandamus proceedings against the Commercial bank to have it disclose Board's deposits. They claim the bank should disclose the same as they would do in a garnishee case.

The Locusts Have Come.

Millions of what are reported as the 17-year locusts were found on the Towan farm just north of Ann Arbor Tuesday night. They swarmed in a large orchard and made a peculiar noise that was heard for about half a mile. Dispatches from Toledo state that the swarm is also appearing in that locality, and advices from Illinois to the same effect. The mere fact that they are in the neighborhood is enough to cause the greatest alarm and the most serious speculation. No greater devastation of all that is green in vegetation is known. They are said to appear once in 17 years, and there are many authentic stories of the destruction they have brought to various parts of the country. Michigan, however, has escaped in a very large measure.

The Bennett Trial.

The attendance of spectators on the Bennett trial in Bay City is not nearly so large as was expected, the people relying upon the newspapers for a resume of the testimony. Women shun the trial. The sensational feature of the trial Wednesday morning was the testimony of Mrs. McEwan, the nurse who attended Miss Elmer during the last days of her life. Witness made frequent sensational declarations, which were stricken out by order of the court. She suffered from hysteria, and wept all through her testimony.

Road to His Death.

Charles Starr, W. A. Kline and M. J. Huss, of Three Rivers, went for a ride on a Shellford electric motor car. When they reached the station they saw a special train coming toward them at great speed. Huss, who was running the car, got it under control so as to have all get off, but Starr got excited and jumped. He fell senseless on the track and the train passed over him, mauling his body frightfully. He was a prominent dry goods merchant, and was well liked by his fellow-citizens. The jury attached no blame to trainmen.

Paroled Prisoner Is Bad.

Another convict paroled by the late Gov. Pingree during the closing days of his administration will be returned to the state prison. The convict is James Williams and he was serving a twenty-year sentence imposed at Ionia in May, 1896, for a murderous assault on his keeper while serving a three years' sentence from Montcalm county for a minor offense. Williams was paroled by Gov. Pingree December 18, 1900. He is now wanted in Jackson for alleged robbery, and if he can be found will be returned to prison to serve the remainder of his twenty-year sentence.

Body Found.

The body of Fred Wenzburg, a cigarmaker, was found in Grand river at Grand Haven Wednesday morning. Wenzburg had been missing since Saturday night. No money was found in his clothing, and as he had been paid $14 in wages that night, Sheriff Dykhus is working on the matter there. However, there is nothing to indicate foul play, and various people saw him late Saturday night intoxicated.

Gov. Bliss has paroled Frank Warner, who was sent from Kent county to Ionia for five years for burglary.

The completed roll of the assessors of the village of Red Jacket shows that the valuation of real estate in that village is $2,100,000; personal property, $566,600; bank stock, $46,102; an increase over last year's roll of $445,245, caused in part of the entrance into the village of the Houghton County Street Railway Co.

A widow and two daughters living in the first ward of West Bay City made a sensational discovery in their neighborhood and were told to move out on 3 o'clock in the morning. Their house was bombarded by unknown parties, the doors and windows being stoned. The occupants have taken the hint and moved to Bay City for safety.

Gaston Melyssa, 55 years of age, who came to Detroit from Chicago to take a position as freight agent for the Grand Rapids Grand Haven & Muskegon Interurban Railway, died suddenly while at supper at the Plaza hotel Sunday night. Elias Joseph, an Assyrian peddler, was arrested in Bay City Tuesday night, on suspicion of being the man who committed a criminal assault on Louise Swartz, the adopted daughter of Orson Cady, who lives near Midland. Joseph Rejch, 39, teacher and organizer in the Catholic church at Fishersville, committed suicide Saturday night by saturating his clothing with kerosene and setting it on fire. His charred remains were discovered in front of the altar of the church, where the deed was done. He was buried in the fishersville cemetery. Rejch came from Detroit a year ago. It is supposed he was temporarily insane. He leaves a large family.

State Senator George E. Nichols, of Ionia, attorney for ex-City Attorney Lutz K. Salsbury, in the Grand Rapids water supply bribery case, Monday afternoon examined in the Public Court on the charge of subornation of perjury, alleged to have been attempted in connection with the Salsbury case, and was held to the present term of the Superior Court.

Witness said that she, Bennett and her husband had the girl not do anything rash or of criminal nature, but to let nature take its course and she finally agreed. She said that she would see that Bennett provided for the girl.

THE NEWS OF THE WORLD.

Lodge Philippine Bill Passed.

The senate on Tuesday afternoon brought to an end the long discussion and passed the Lodge Philippine bill by 48 yeas to 3 nays. Three Republicans, Messrs. Hoar, of Massachusetts; Mason, of Illinois; and Wellington, of Maryland, voted against the measure, and one Democrat, Mr. McLaurin, of South Carolina, voted for it. Amendments offered by the minority were rejected.

The bill as passed approves the action of the president in creating the Philippine commission and the offices of civil governor and vice-governor of the islands, and authorizes the governor or vice-governor to exercise the powers of government as directed by executive order. Future appointments of the governor or vice-governor shall be made by the president with the advice and consent of the senate.

The "bill of rights" of the United States constitution are applied to the Philippine islands, with the exception of the right to bear arms and the right to a trial by jury.

It is also provided for taxation, improvement of harbors, classes the inhabitants of the Philippine islands as citizens of the United States and provides that when the islands shall take place, and after such census the governor of the islands shall make a full report to the president and make recommendations as to future government.

Rathbone Wants a Trial.

The bill granting amnesty to all Americans now in jail or awaiting trial in Cuba was Saturday passed unanimously by the senate. President Palma says he will sign the bill as soon as it is presented to him. In the course of an interview had with him Estes G. Rathbone said:

"While I appreciate the kindly motives which prompted the representatives of the Cuban people to pass an act of general amnesty to all Americans who have been charged in the postal cases, I am greatly disappointed for I wanted a new trial before an unimpeached court.

"Now that a new trial is impossible in Cuba I ask the operation of all my rights in the United States to try to get me a trial there. I will present myself to answer any charges that may be brought against me through any legal constituted authority, growing out of the postal cases. If a new trial is not possible, I shall insist upon a congressional investigation into all my acts in Cuba and request the assistance of all my friends to that end."

Nine Lives Lost.

The whaleback steamer Thomas Wilson, of the Pittsburg Steamship Co. fleet, loaded with ore and bound down, was struck by the steamer George G. Hadley on a short passage from the piers at Duluth harbor Saturday morning and sent to the bottom before nine members of the crew had time to get out of their bunks to save themselves.

The Thomas Wilson sank within a minute after being struck, and it was only by the smallest chance that the Hadley, bound up, and loaded with coal, did not also find a berth on the bottom of Lake Superior and carry with her many members of her crew.

When the Wilson passed out of the pier fifteen minutes before the collision she took a direct course down the lake. According to the story of the survivors of the Wilson the Hadley took a sheer without any warning directly into the whaleback steamer. She struck the Wilson just a trifle back of the amidships and her bow must have come half way through the Wilson. The Hadley reeled from the shock, her bow stove in.

Chicago Strike Over.

The packing teamsters' strike, which has disturbed the peace of Chicago for nearly two weeks, and which Wednesday caused the most serious rioting that has occurred since the American Railway Union strike in 1894, came to an end at 4:15 o'clock Thursday morning by an agreement, as a result of a secret conference between representatives of the packers and the teamsters at the Grand Pacific hotel, which had been in session since 8 o'clock Wednesday night.

The agreement reached at the conference is a partial victory for the teamsters, in that the packers have declared that they will not discriminate against members of the union. The scale agreed upon is 2 cents lower than that demanded by the men. The men are to be paid full time from time of leaving home until hour for lunch. They will not be required to work on Labor Day.

Three animal trailers attached to an animal show had thrilling experiences in Cleveland Saturday with their savage pets, and as result one man, the lion tamer, Joseph McPhee, is fatally injured with great holes in his abdomen made by the teeth of a lion. The others injured are Herman Wedder, whose right leg was badly crushed by a bear, and Madame Morelli, whose right arm and side were lacerated by a leopard. The animals had been shipped from Boston and were surly and nervous, and were being transferred from the railroad cars to their cages when the casualties happened.

Prospects are excellent for a heavy fruit crop in Dryden and vicinity. Apple, peach, pear and plum trees are full of fruit, and if the rest of the country is similarly situated there is likely to be an overproduction in this line.

Mont Pelee Uncharized.

Prof. Angelo Heilprin, president of the Philadelphia Geographical Society, who made explorations of the crater of the summit of Mont Pelee, says: The location of the new crater has been accurately determined; it is positively known that there has been no overflow of molten matter from the lip of the crater; there has been no subsidence of the mountain, and the height of Mont Pelee is unaltered; the crater did not contain a choker-cone; there has been no catclay and no topographical alteration of the country. The period of violent eruptions has probably ended, although the volcano may continue to be quietly active for a long time to come.

A conference has been arranged to take place, it is said, in a few days at Senator Hanna's home in Washington between George W. Perkins, partner of J. Pierpont Morgan, Senator Hanna and W. K. Vanderbilt.

A mob of 50 whites has driven out all the negroes at Decatur, Ind.

In a heavy wind and thunderstorm which passed over Columbus, Ga., J. J. Willis and Louis McClain were killed by lightning and M. C. Cochran was seriously injured.

Religious Notes

In Everything Give Thanks.
There was never a day so misty and gray
That the blue was not somewhere above
It.
There is never a mountain top ever so bleak
That some little flower does not love it.
There was never a night so dreary and dark
That the stars were not somewhere shining;
There is never a cloud so heavy and black
That it has not a silver lining.
There is never a waiting time weary and long
That will not some time have an ending.
The most beautiful part of the landscape is where
The sunshine and shadows are blending.

Into every life some shadows will fall,
But heaven sends the sunshine of love;
Through the rifts in the clouds we may,
If we will,
See the beautiful blue above.

Then let us give thanks, though the way may seem long,
And the darkness be gathering fast;
For the turn in the road is a little way on,
Where the home lights will greet us at last.

In the Time of Testing.
"It is wonderful how much of our goodness is due to the lack of temptation," said a wise woman recently.

"We plant our little virtues in some warm, soft soil, some atmosphere of comfort where they are sheltered from storm and stress, and they grow into hothouse luxuriance and beauty. We never doubt their vigor or genuineness until something deprives them of their shelter and leaves them where the blasts of trial beat upon them.

"I thought myself a strong, reasonable, self-controlled woman, just and tolerant toward others, sweet-tempered and unselfish. Oh, no, I never said so, of course, but that was the estimate of my friends, and I secretly accepted it. There was little trouble in living up to it in the dear home atmosphere of love and appreciation.

"But when a sudden change came to my life, when I was where half-veiled distrust took the place of the old, tender loyalty, where petty jealousies and clashing interests made themselves felt, and many things that had long been considered mine of right were called in question, then—ah, well! I discovered that there was a deal of bitterness, morbid weakness, anger and selfishness in my composition. I was weak in ways I had not deemed possible, and scarcely less bitter than the change in outward circumstances was the revelation of myself."

Presbyterian Jubilee.
The Presbyterian jubilee celebration of the conclusion of 100 years of home mission effort was attended by President Roosevelt.

The celebration was the culmination of the Presbyterian General Assembly, which met in New York, May 15. During these 100 years the Board of Home Missions has received and expended $23,000,000, has helped to build 5,600 churches, and has issued 74,000 commissions to missionaries. Its income in the year 1902 was $2,500, and it has just closed its year 1903, showing an income of $901,400. Practically all Presbyterian churches west of the Alleghenies were assisted by this board at some time. One of them, the Westminster of Minneapolis, was a missionary church half a century ago. Last year its gifts to benevolence were $39,000. President Roosevelt's greetings from the national government were in recognition of the fact that the principles, the institutions and the men of the Presbyterian church have borne large parts in the establishment, and the extension of this republic.

Last Sabbath Will Bring Rest.
When that last Sabbath comes—the Sabbath of all creation—the heart, wearied with its tumultuous beatings, shall have rest; the soul, fevered with its anxieties, shall enjoy peace. The sun of the Sabbath will never set, or hide his splendors in a cloud. The flowers that grow in its light will never fade. Our earthly Sabbaths are but dim reflections of the heavenly Sabbath, cast down upon the earth, dimmed by the transit of their rays from so great a height and so distant a world. The fairest landscapes, or combinations of scenery upon earth, are but the outskirts of the paradise of God, fore-arrests and intimations of that which lies beyond them; and the happiest Sabbath heart, whose very pulse is a Sabbath bell, hears but a very inadequate echo of the chimes and harmonies of that Sabbath, that rest, where we "rest not day and night," in which the song is never new, and yet ever sung.—Cumming.

The Conflict of Inaction.
Endurance often shows greater heroism than action. We are often impressed with the active side of a soldier's life—his marchings and his fightings. But the hardest to bear in that life are the long watches, the sentry duty, the strain of expectancy in the presence of the enemy.

In the Christian warfare it is often harder to stand on guard than to march or to fight. Just to keep watch against the approach of temptation, to guard the weak places, to be on the outlook against the "well-placed sins," is not a very exciting and triumphant kind of work; but it is a very large part of a Christian's duty—of a Christian's soldiership even. When the apostle bids the Ephesians take to themselves the whole armour of God, we expect him to lead them into conflict at once. But his exhortation is to "stand"—not to fight. And this standing on guard is the hardest and the most useful thing for us in most situations of life.—Great Thoughts.

The Ideal Life.
After all, that life is the more sanely ordered in which an opportunity is left for revision of the original draft.

"High Heaven rejects the lore Of nicely calculated less or more."

And we may be sure that High Heaven will make us pay for it if we attempt to mortgage our brains or our time, and leave no room for Providence to work in. There is a spirit that blows where it listeth. We cannot afford to distrust ourselves of those breathing spaces which are often more truly productive than hours when the machine is toiling at full pressure. It will have a clear aim, and to pursue it by means judiciously contrived to fit the end; to labor with regularity and perseverance, independent of casual moods and impulses. It is better still, amid our shrewdest schemes, to allow place for interlunations by a wiser hand.—Rev. H. W. Horwill, M. A.

How Character Is Ripened.
Not all Christian people bear loss, sorrow and sickness in a victorious way. Too often do we see men yielding to trouble, not growing more beautiful in soul, but losing their spiritual beauty in life's trials. This is not the way it should be, however. Our character should ripen in life's weather, whatever the weather may be. "Tribulation worketh patience."

The object of life is to learn to live. We are at school here, and shall always be at school until we are dismissed from earth's classes to be promoted into heaven. It is a pity if we do not learn our lessons. It is a pity if we grow no gentler, no kinder, no more thoughtful, no more unselfish, no more unworldly, as the years pass over us.—Christian Intelligencer.

Working Out.
Working out spiritual problems is one thing; the deepening of spiritual life is another thing. It is very likely we know in regard to anything save such things as our hands can handle, but there is not a soul here so utterly involved in spiritual midnight as not to detect the glimmer of a world that such things as hands, rocks and dollars form no part of. The world may have been a great while in coming to it. Physical eyes are very slow in becoming organs of spiritual vision; but to you and me there is a glimmer in the air that does not come from the sun.—Rev. Dr. Parkhurst, Presbyterian, New York.

Tests of Manhood.
Consider the standards and tests of manhood. Many men misjudge themselves, because they use false tests. The warning is, let no man think himself more highly than he ought to think. This does not mean that men are to depreciate themselves. Humility is one thing; self-depreciation is another. Power begins with self-reliance; conscience is one of God's under-agents, and an honest, just pride is another. In measuring our manhood we must balance the evil over against the good. We are what we are on the average; if we are God's children we shall be what we are at our best, only more.—Rev. Dr. Hillis, Congregationalist, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Innovation in Church Work.
Rev. C. H. Elder of Trenton, N. J., according to press reports, is a strictly up-to-date minister. He is called the ravedeville pastor, for having introduced illustrated hymns as a feature of his Sunday evening services. Rev. Elders holds that a church must make its services attractive if its pastor is to have an opportunity to talk to non-members. It is his custom to go into the street before the hour of services and invite passers-by to attend his church, promising that they will be entertained if not converted. These novel methods may be effective, though they are not in line with the established ways of carrying the gospel to all hearts.

Useful Life Work Ended.
Rev. Nicholas Van Sant, a prominent Methodist clergyman, died in Madison, N. J., recently of pneumonia after a brief illness. He was born in Absecon, N. J., on December 7, 1823. He became a preacher in 1846 and was presiding elder of the Paterson district from 1864 to 1868. Mr. Van Sant was a writer of note and published a resume of his life work in his "Sunset Memories" in 1896. At the General Conference in 1864 he was appointed chairman of the Committee on Slavery, and under him the committee did such active work during the war that President Lincoln sent them a letter of thanks.

Real Reason.
Commit your all to Christ. By His divine power He will hold you. You say the church is full of hypocrites but forget that you must stand or fall by your record. The real reason for rejecting Christianity is that men love sin and will not abandon it.—Rev. D. D. Hull, Methodist, Chicago, Ill.

Without faith a man can do nothing, but faith can stifle all science.

HOME AND FASHIONS.

THINGS OF INTEREST TO THE WOMEN OF THE HOUSEHOLD.

Parasols of the Season Are Elaborate Affairs—Two Handsome Costumes—Mrs. Roosevelt Wearing "The Latest Thing in Coats"—Some Little Tips.

Chic Strapping.
Instead of going out of fashion, strapping is more in vogue than ever. On the winter materials, it was attractive and useful—and on summer fabrics it is pleasing and is a means of holding seams in shape, as well as being an ornament.

A new satin foulard gown, tailor-made, is strapped with broadcloth—and the effect is stunning! The silk has a blue background strewn with white spots, and the strappings are of blue cloth.

Shirt-waists show strappings applied in various ways. They are put on seams and applied in designs. The stitching is exquisite—when it isn't, the waist is dowdy as dowdy can be.

The Latest Thing in Coats.
The newest modification of the Eton or bolero jacket is a jaunty little affair termed the "coffee coat" or "Monte Carlo coat," the attractive features of which have already won the favor of the "First Lady of the Land," Mrs. Roosevelt, who has appeared on several occasions wearing a wrap of this type. Taffeta silk is best adapted to the garment, though it is also made up in moire, soft woolsens, etc.

Latest in Parasols.
If there is a thing dear to a woman's heart and enhancing to her beauty it is a lovely parasol. This season the designers seem to have tried themselves in bringing this artistic creation up to the requirements of feminine taste.

There is a parasol for every style of woman from the one who buys a Duchesse lace affair handled with ivory and snugly cased in a long pale green straw box adorned with lilies of the valley and "cheux" of white ribbon, to the one who buys a simple linen sunshade. For the conservative woman it is a joy to find the color and form she likes the best—the quiet fawn-colored parasol. For the pretty, fresh girl, or her more witted sister in a soft linen gown, this modish parasol is the thing par excellence. It has a silk spun lining in pink or blue, or any preferred color, and a lace insertion on the outside, showing the colored lining.

Then there are the exquisitely fine embroidered grass linens, with ruffles sheer and shimmering. "Persian" fawn silks come next; these are nothing more than "chene" silks on which blurred roses and poppies of various colors are designed.

Pretty Cloth Gown.
Dark red cloth gown. Waist small, pointed cape of red silk edged with red and white striped silk. Lace jabot and white front. Pointed bands of red and white striped silk down front; also dart seams bottom of tabs edged with same silk. Belt of red silk. Skirt, bias ruffle trimmed with band of red and white silk.

Childless Mothers.
The wife who has passed her many years of married life in childless motherhood, has lost from out that life a greatness and pleasure that she may not have realized at first, but that is brought home to her with redoubled force and meaning when she has passed the zenith and is coming to understand that life is not perpetual youth.

Keen anxiety and sorrow she may have missed also. Yet it is also true that "it were better to have loved and lost than never to have loved at all."

The childless mother has not known the depths of degradation to which a child can bring its parents, nor yet has she known the fulfillment of greatest love and bliss. Neither has she known the anguish of the sting of death, when her fondest hopes have been laid low. She has escaped great care and responsibility, but she has lost from her life in unalloyed joy more than she has escaped of sorrow.—The American Mother.

Handsome Neckwear.
Sheer white linen stocks, curved out under the chin and brought down in front in a rounded or pointed effect, frequently have scroll patterns inverted in this space. These are held together with fine lace stitches or perhaps braids. Many others are ornamented with fine lace or embroidery designs put on in applique, while those which are handsomely embroidered with white or colored cotton represent one of the smartest conceits.

Blouse of Crepe de Chine.

Pretty blouse of dull green crepe de chine, trimmed with fagoting done with silk of the same shade. The plastron and close-fitting undersleeves are of white huxell lace, and over the former is a pretty draped fichu of mousseline de soie, which passes through eyelet holes in the fronts of the blouse, and is knotted on the bust. The girle is of the crepe de chine fastened in front with an old gold buckle.—Wiener Chic.

The Fashionable Blouse.
Nearly all the newest corsages have a tiny basque in the back; sometimes it is formed by the ribbons of the corsage, but it is always a basque, nondescript as it may be.

For the street during shopping hours a great many blouses will be worn, much trimmed with the fashionable English embroideries, lace and tuckings. The marked change in their cut is noticeable in the sleeve, which is more ample than last season, and in the shoulders, which show less inclination to sloping.

Easy to Get.
Have you a real smart all-over lace jacket?

If you haven't, and want one, and cannot pay the price in the shops—make one for yourself.

Get an eton pattern and cut and fit it. Finish with a lace or ribboned edge. Use your skill with the needle and your good taste and—presto! you become the possessor of about the same thing on exhibit in the shops.

You see, time and art and needlecraft and design must be counted in the price of the garment you admire in the shop.

Little Tips.
The juice of a lemon taken in hot water on awakening in the morning is an excellent liver corrective and is better than any anti-fat medicine invented.

The finest of manicure acids is made by putting a teaspoonful of lemon juice in a cupful of warm water. This removes most stains from the fingers and nails.

To prevent a mustard plaster injuring the skin mix the mustard with the white of an egg.

Newest in Stocks.
Ribbons for neckwear, unless made up into fancy knotted stocks, are evidently passe. One might say that at present nothing is considered quite so chic as the separate stock, which is merely a shaped collar. By no means, however, is this a simple affair—quite the contrary. If a stock happens to be made with a drooping point in front then the space so secured usually exhibits an elaborate trimming of drawn work of pretty applique.

When a man orders spring lamb in a cheap restaurant he begins to realize how tough it is to die young.

WORK OF INVENTORS.

NEW IDEAS AND DISCOVERIES OF VALUE TO THE WORLD.

Simple Device Which Will Add Materially to the Life of a Typewriter Machine—Simplicity in Wall Paper Hanging—About Bronze.

Keep Dirt Out of Machines.
If you will take a glance at almost any typewriter you will be sure to find down in the bed and coating most of the working parts of the machine an accumulation of dirt, which has come from nothing else but the erasings which are blown or brushed from the paper after removing a letter or word in correcting an error. In spite of the utmost care a portion of the dirt from each erasure falls into the machine, not only causing it to have an untidy appearance, but, worse still, tending to greatly increase the natural wear of the mechanism. To get rid of this dirt, it is customary to have the machine cleaned at intervals at considerable expense, and it is a question then if the machine is in proper shape, as it would have to be taken almost entirely to pieces to get out all the fine particles. There is no doubt the better plan would be to utilize the neat little device shown in our illustration, consisting of a pocket formed at the lower edge of a slotted metal plate to catch the erasings as they are brushed from the paper. The upper portion of the plate is curved to fit against the roller, and the slot is so shaped that the eraser can be moved vertically or horizontally. The slotted plate pressed against the paper holds it perfectly rigid under the friction of the roller, and, as the plate is of thin sheet metal, it is an easy task to brush the dirt into the pocket. The device will fit any machine, and is easily adjusted against the platen over the error. This is the invention of N. J. Smith, Philadelphia, Pa.

Drives Clothes Indoors.
When clothes are hung up to dry in a kitchen or laundry they not only occupy a good deal of room, but they are an impediment to the free circulation of air, and for this reason a novel device, which is intended to do away with these undesirable features is meeting favor among housewives of Europe.

It consists of a small wooden box, to which are attached several cords. When clothes are to be dried this box can be raised to any desired height, and the cords can be stretched and fastened in the most appropriate places. In this way wet clothes can be removed in an instant to the warmest part of the room, where they will be dried in a few minutes.

Machine for Hanging Paper.
Below we illustrate the latest thing in the way of automatic machinery, the paper-hanger, invented by Julius M. Glickman of Cleveland, O. According to the inventor, about all the operator of this apparatus has to do is to turn the crank and place the machine in a new position after each piece of paper is attached to the wall. The paper is placed in the machine in a single roll and is automatically cut to the proper length, paste applied and the paper put on the walls while the operator is doing nothing but revolving the wheels by means of the crank. The invention consists of a carriage arranged to travel on a vertical track and carrying a roll of paper, a paste-holder, a rotary pastebush, pressure brushes and a knife for severing the paper at the proper moment. The roll of paper in unwinding is made to come in contact with the paste-carrying brush, passing thence to the wall. The turning of the crank causes the supporting carriage to rise in its toothed guides, carrying the pressure brushes across the paper as fast as it is put in position. When the top of the room is reached the stoppage of the carriage is utilized to throw the long knife blade into a slot and sever the paper. The carriage is then pulled down by means of the chains and the supporting frame moved along to the next position on the floor.

Proposed New Names for the Months.
Not long ago M. Camille Flammarion proposed a new calendar with a new division of the year and new names for the months. His proposal has evidently borne fruit, for a little almanac has just been issued at Madrid in which the year is divided into four periods of three months each, all equal and all of ninety-one days. The new style of year begins March 21 and has an extra holiday to make up the 365 days which nature invented. The months are named in order: Truth, Science, Wisdom, Justice, Honor, Goodness, Love, Beauty, Humanity, Happiness, Progress, Immortality. It gives a vivid idea of the leisure at the command of certain of our fellow beings to read solemn pseudo-scientific fooling of the sort. The western continent is too busy to be much affected by it.

Inventor of the Calliops.
Joshua C. Stoddard, who died the other day at Springfield, Mass., at 57 years of age, was said to be the inventor of the steam calliops, the patent of which, it is claimed, was stolen from him by another man. The instrument which was made by him over forty years ago was much like the ones now used. Mr. Stoddard was always unfortunate with his inventions financially. His latest device was a fire escape, but it never became practical. His chief labor for many years was the care of his hives of bees and the production of honey, in which he was an expert. Mr. Stoddard was somewhat eccentric and religiously inclined, having contributed to religious newspapers. In appearance he was a striking patriarchal figure, with his long white beard and visionary eyes, which betokened the enthusiast.

Expected Comets of 1902.
Two periodic comets are expected to return during the present year. The first was originally discovered by Tempule at Marseilles in 1869 and revolves about the sun every five and a half years. It was independently discovered by Swift in California in 1880 and was again found by Barnard at the Lick Observatory in 1891. It was not seen in 1886 and in 1897, nor between 1869 and 1880. It is expected to return early in December, 1902. The second comet was discovered by Swift in California in 1895, and its period is about seven years. It is not probably identical with the comet discovered by Messier at Marseilles in 1770. It was expected to return in 1775, but in passing close to Jupiter its orbit was greatly altered. It will return toward the end of November, 1902.

Want Depew Jokes.
Prominent men receive all sorts of things by mail, but a letter found in Senator Depew's mail last week will match the most of them. It is from a small town in southern Indiana. "Dear Mr. Depew," it said, "we are getting up a negro minstrel show for the purpose of buying a set of colored dishes for our church. We are to have four end men, and one interloper—you know who I mean (I can't spell it), who sits in the middle. We need a lot of new and decent jokes, so as not to shock. There are lots of old women in our church. Won't you sit down and write us about fifty good new jokes; some things that have never been used before? Make them 'splitters,' as this show is for a new set of dishes for the church. Please grind them out as soon as possible, and send them to me. We will put on the program, 'All these original jokes were made up by Chauncey Depew.' That will pay you for the work."

Will Keep His Old Cabinet.
Premier of Ontario Finds All His Ministers Re-Elected.
George W. Ross, premier of Ontario, whose liberal government was returned to power in the recent election, will be surrounded by his old cabinet during the new term. All the ministers were re-elected.

The liberal victory is regarded as a vindication. The liberals have been in power for thirty years and the conservatives declared the government was corrupt and one of their election cries was: "It is time for a change."

The liberals were led by Premier Ross and the conservative leader was James P. Whitney.

Fine Clothes His Hoodoo.
Among the possessions of Senator Dietrich of Nebraska are a silk hat and a frock suit. The other day he put the outfit away, he thinks, for good. The senator, who usually dresses much like a farmer, first wore the regalia named on the day he was inaugurated governor of Nebraska. It rained and snowed that day. He wore them a second time when President McKinley was sworn in a second time. It rained heavily. On the day the Rochambeau statue was unveiled he once more tempted fate and got the full benefit of a shower that interrupted the exercises. The following Sunday he again arrayed himself, only to be caught in a heavy thunderstorm. Now he has laid away his suit and hat, convinced that they act as a hoodoo.

Emperor William's Joke.
Chancellor von Bulow of Germany, who is a great favorite with Emperor William, expressed to the latter on Bulow's appointment to office fears as to his wife's objection to the time it would take to clean the chancellor's palace. William interrupted him with the remark that he would contribute his part to the cleaning. Count von Bulow took this to mean that the emperor would have the palace cleaned for him. However, William merely saw an opportunity for a joke and so there arrived at the Bulow household a few days afterward a large parcel addressed to the countess and containing 100 pounds of soap.

Sir F. C. Lascelles Mentioned as Probable British Ambassador.

Sir Frank Cavendish Lascelles, who, it is said, may succeed Lord Pouncefote as British ambassador to the United States, is at present head of the British embassy to Berlin and a favorite with the kaiser. He is 61 years old, and for more than forty years has been a member of the diplomatic service. The principal posts he has filled are those of minister to Roumania and Persia and ambassador to Russia and Germany. He has occupied his present position since 1895.

Robt. Agar and Samuel Gowen are partners in canvassing for ironing boards in Lapeer county. They returned home Saturday evening to spend Sunday with their families.

Wm. Crawford had his bank-barn raised last Saturday. In the race the west side beat. Mrs. Clark, who lives south of here, also had a barn raised last Tuesday. During the past three years more new barns have been erected in this vicinity than there ever were before. All will soon have barns here.

A Real Friend.

"I suffered from dyspepsia and indigestion for fifteen years," says W. T. Sturdevant of Merry Oaks, N. C. "After I had tried many doctors and medicines to no avail one of my friends persuaded me to try Kodol. It gave immediate relief. I can eat almost anything I want now and my digestion is good. I cheerfully recommend Kodol." Don't try to cure stomach trouble by dieting. That only further weakens the system. You need wholesome, strengthening food. Kodol enables you to assimilate what you eat by digesting it without the stomach's aid. A. Bond, Cass City; F. A. Francis, Kingston.

The M. P. Ladies' Aid will meet at Smith Hutchenson's, June 11th. A good attendance is desired.

James Binzham, aged 14 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bingham, died June 4th at the home of his uncle, Amasa Coon, where he was taken ill one week before his death. He was a bright boy and an only son. The affliction seems doubly sad as the father has been very ill some time and was not able to attend the funeral, which was held at the residence of Mr. Coon Friday. The bereaved family have the sympathy of a large circle of friends.

Read It in his Newspaper.

George Schaub, a well known German citizen of New Lebanon, Ohio, is a constant reader of the Dayton Volkszeitung. He knows that this paper aims to advertise only the best in its columns, and when he saw Chamberlain's Pain Balm advertised therein for lame back, he did not hesitate in buying a bottle of it for his wife, who for eight weeks had suffered with the most terrible pains in her back and could get no relief. He says: "After using Pain Balm for a few days my wife said to me, 'I feel as though born anew,' and before using the entire contents of the bottle the unbearable pains had entirely vanished and she could again take up her household duties." He is very thankful and hopes that all suffering likewise will hear of her wonderful recovery. This valuable liniment is for sale at Bond's Drug Store, Cass City; F. A. Francis, Kingston.

Ira Harris, aged 9, of Postoria, with several other small boys, was playing in a poplar tree Tuesday. The Harris boy had climbed to a height of 50 feet, from where he fell on a picket fence. The pickets penetrated his side and he sustained several broken ribs and other serious injuries. His recovery is considered very doubtful.—Millington Gazette.

Was Wasting Away.

The following letter from Robert R. Watts, of Salem, Mo., is instructive. "I have been troubled with kidney disease for the last five years. I lost flesh and never felt well and doctored with leading physicians and tried all remedies suggested without relief. Finally I tried Foley's Kidney Cure and less than two bottles completely cured me and I am now sound and well. T. H. Fritz, Cass City; F. A. Francis, Kingston.

Claud Burrows killed a large snake at the Pointe last week that experts say was a bell rattler. His snakeship was 4 foot and 4 inches long and measured 6 inches around, about the middle. The snake was marked similar to a rattler but instead of having rattles made a bell like sound with his tail when coiled.—Pt. Austin News.

During the severe electrical storm Monday about 6 o'clock, the fine bank barn of Joseph Reist, of Mud Creek, was struck by lightning and completely demolished. Just before the barn was struck Ernest Paul, of this place, had put his horse in and started for the house. If he had been in the building two minutes later it might have cost him his life. The loss to Mr. Reist besides the barn was a valuable bull, a cow and two calves. Insurance $800 on barn, $500 on stock. Mr. Paul's horse was pinned under some timbers but came out without a scratch. His buggy was destroyed.—Pigeon Progress

Rescue.

Francis Burnham is quite poorly at present. Did anybody see such a lack of dust, and such royal weather for weeks? Geo. Finkle is able to sit up for a short time and if he has no bad luck he bids fair to soon be able to be out. Riley McAlpine has turned painter and is painting the barn on the Purdy farm, at present. Both painter and barn are the same color. Last Sunday was Children's Day and everybody was at church. More rigs on the road enroute to church than there has been for a long time. By this time the wise man who was cute enough to bid his dog, can let the animal loose. From present indications we scribble will be obliged to part with one hard dollar this fall. The dog refused to stay hid.

James Hartsell's family, of Kingston, spent Sunday with East Grant friends. Miss Mary Allen is visiting her sister, Mrs. Archie McAlpin, at present. Mrs. C. Williamson visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. Thompson, on Sunday. Miss A. Durfey was visiting with friends in Caseville and Elkton this last week. Between wet weather and l crows the cornfields are in a poor condition in this burg. Miss Anna Wheeler, of Gagtown, has come to spend her holidays with Mrs. Joe Doer. Mr. and Mrs. Ashmore visited F. Burcham, who still continues sick on Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. T. Wallace visited with their daughter, Mrs. C. Hartsell, Saturday and Sunday. Misses Lucy and Lilly Tompson, of Traverse City, are home on a visit with relatives and friends. There was a change made in the M. P. aid last week. It was called to Mrs. O. Dunlap's instead of Mrs. W. McCantley, but will meet there this week instead. The heavy thunder storm which passed through here last Monday did considerable damage. A. Martin's house was struck, passing down the chimney, tearing the tin up under the stove, then passing down cellar and breaking two cans of fruit. No serious damage was done but a terrible fright to the family.

"One Minute Cough Cure beats all other medicines I ever tried for coughs, colds, croup and throat and lung troubles," says D. Scott Currie, of Logozon, Pa. One Minute Cough Cure is the only absolutely safe cough remedy which acts immediately. Mothers everywhere testify to the good it has done their little ones. Croup is so sudden in its attack that the doctor often arrives too late. It yields at once to One Minute Cough Cure. Pleasant to take. Children like it. Sore cure for grip, bronchitis, coughs. A. Bond, Cass City; F. A. Francis, Kingston.

One hundred and ten men are employed in the Bay Port stone quarries. About 100 boys and girls from Saginaw and Bay City arrived at Sebawaing Monday evening and were taken to Owendale where they will be employed in the beet fields.—Sebawaing Review.

My little son had an attack of whooping cough and was threatened with pneumonia; but for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy we would have had a serious time of it. It has saved him from several severe attacks of croup.—H. J. Smitok-Faden, editor World Herald, Fair Haven, Wash. For sale at Bond's Drug Store, Cass City; F. A. Francis, Kingston.

Along among the June magazines the Review of Reviews gives a graphic and comprehensive account of the Martinique catastrophe, illustrated from the most recent photographs taken on the ill fated island. Mont Pelee's eruptions are described from the scientist's point of view by Dr. W. J. McGee, of the Bureau of Ethnology at Washington. The Review has again obtained all its contemporaries, as it did during the Spanish War, in the journalistic treatment of historic events.

Spring Fever.

Spring fever is another name for biliousness. It is more serious than most people think. A torpid liver and inactive bowels mean a poisoned system. If neglected, serious illness may follow such symptoms. DeWitt's Little Early Risers removes all danger by stimulating the liver, opening the bowels and cleansing the system of impurities. Safe pills. Never gripe. "I have taken DeWitt's Little Early Risers for torpid liver every spring for years," writes R. M. Eversly, Mountsville, W. Va. "They do me more good than anything I have ever tried." A. Bond, Cass City; F. A. Francis, Kingston.

Communion services at the Presbyterian Church next Sunday. All are invited. Miss Hannah Gillies left Saturday for an extended visit with friends in Detroit. Mrs. M. Keenoy and grandchild will spend several weeks with friends in Detroit. They departed Friday. Miss Dolly Cowling closed a very successful term of school Friday, this being the third year she has taught here.

Hardly any corn or beans planted in this section as yet, and unless the rain "lets up" pretty soon, we will be compelled as the Rescue scribe remarked several weeks ago to live on "hay and oats."

Saturday, Archie Campbell received the sad intelligence of the death, by drowning, of his son, Johnnie. The accident occurred at Duluth in a collision and at this writing the body has not been recovered. He was a young man of exemplary habits and had a host of friends who will greatly miss him. His family has the sympathy of all in their bereavement.

An entertainment was given by Miss Dolly Cowling and pupils of school Dist. No. 2 Saturday evening that was greatly appreciated and employed by all fortunate enough to attend. The program consisted of opening and closing addresses, recitations, dialogues, tableaux and music. At the close Miss Cowling was presented with a jewel tray from her pupils as a token of their love and esteem. She thanked them kindly and assured them it would always be a reminder of their kindness to her.

Virulent Cancer Cured.

Startling proof of a wonderful advance in medicine is given by druggist G. W. Roberts, of Elizabeth, W. Va. An old man there had long suffered with what good doctors pronounced incurable cancer. They believed his case hopeless till he used Electric Bitters and applied Buckner's Arnica Salve, which treatment completely cured him. When Electric Bitters are used to expel bilious, kidney and microbe poisons at the same time this salve exerts its matchless healing power, blood diseases, skin eruptions, ulcers and sores vanish. Bitters 50c, Salve 25c at T. H. Fritz, Cass City; F. A. Francis, Kingston.

Grant Bean, of Kilmarnagh, recently lost his house by fire. A special train passed over the P. O. & N. R. last Thursday with the officials of the company aboard.

During the summer kidney irregularities are often caused by excessive drinking or being overheated. Attend to the kidneys at once by using Foley's Kidney Cure. T. H. Fritz, Cass City; F. A. Francis, Kingston.

Walter Smith, of Elkton, is a candidate for the Republican nomination for sheriff of Huron County. The men on the new telephone line between here and Greenleaf and Popple have commenced to stretch the wire. It is expected the line will be completed next week.—Ugly Courier.

No good health unless the kidneys are sound. Foley's Kidney Cure makes the kidneys right. T. H. Fritz, Cass City; F. A. Francis, Kingston.

John Link, formerly of Linkville, son of Christian Link, of that place, was drowned at Sault Ste. Marie on Monday of last week. The remains were brought back to Sebawaing for interment.

If you have kidney or bladder trouble and do not use Foley's Kidney Cure, you will have only yourself to blame for results, as it positively cures all forms of kidney and bladder diseases. T. H. Fritz, Cass City; F. A. Francis, Kingston.

While Wm. Rogers, of Caro, was in one of the stores of that town a few days ago, his pocket was cut and his small change fell on the floor. The rascal who did the cutting was caught, but owing to his respectable connection was not prosecuted. He agreed to buy a new pair of trousers for Mr. Rogers.

On the first indication of kidney trouble, stop it by taking Foley's Kidney Cure. T. H. Fritz, Cass City; F. A. Francis, Kingston.

In the Review of Reviews for June, Mr. Conde Hamlin, of the St. Paul Pioneer Press, describes "The New Tide of Northwestern Migration," while Mr. Charles M. Harger writes on "A New Era in the Southwest." Both articles are timely, and give the very latest information regarding the respective sections treated.

Ten Years in bed.

R. A. Gray, J. P. Oakville, Ind., writes, "For ten years I was confined to my bed with disease of my kidneys. It was so severe that I could not move part of the time. I consulted the very best medical skill available, but could get no relief until Foley's Kidney Cure was recommended to me. It has been a God send to me." T. H. Fritz, Cass City; F. A. Francis, Kingston.

A young man who knows how to lay off corn and potato rows, and to regulate the distance of the same so as to get the greatest crops, is worth a cow pen full of kid-gloved fellows who lead the fashion in dress. Setting a plow just right and adjusting the gear so that the harness will not injure the horses is worth a thousand fold more to the country than knowing how to pose in the parlor. Yes, a girl who can bake a loaf of bread and the meat and potatoes right is worth a whole seminary of those soft-headed, silly-headed angels who sit in the "pallah" and let "Mamah" do the work in the kitchen.—Exchange.

FACTS FOR SICK PEOPLE.

MAY 11, 1901.

I was suffering from general paralysis as a result of diphtheria. I had treated with the best physicians of Tuscola Co., with no benefit; in fact I grew worse under their treatment. I was entirely incapacitated for work, when I consulted the Detroit Clinic at Vassar, on March 13th; two months' treatment has completely cured me, and I am able to do my work. I advise any one suffering from chronic diseases to consult this clinic.

(Signed) JOHN F. ALLEN, Vassar, Mich.

Mrs. Grant McConnell, of Cass City, Mich., had a large growth of a cancerous nature growing on the inside of the mouth. It had been removed several times, but always returned. She had it removed by the surgeon of the Detroit Clinic, and without the use of a knife and with no pain, it was permanently removed in less than 30 days.

I have been growing deaf in both ears for the past six years as a result of La Grippe. I consulted the Detroit Clinic during my monthly visit to Cass City in January, and one month's treatment restored my hearing so that I could hear a watch tick five inches from my ear.

(Signed) JOHN HORNBER, Novesta, Mich.

For 10 years I was a terrible sufferer from chronic rheumatism. I did everything possible, but found no relief, until I commenced treatment with the Detroit Clinic. Three months of their treatment cured me.

(Signed) C. C. JONES, Rochester, Mich.

Mrs. L. C. Smith, of Detroit, was cured of Epilepsy (or fits) after having had this terrible disease for seven years.

The great success with which the Clinic treats all kinds of diseases is the wonder and admiration of all scientific men. The specialist in charge is noted for his skill, and the care with which every case is treated. No case that is not curable will be treated, but curable cases are treated with the latest scientific methods, and in no case does it interfere with the work of the patient.

Remember, it costs you nothing to consult this specialist, such an opportunity does not offer itself very often to people outside of large cities, and our citizens will certainly do well to take advantage of this one. SOME WONDERFUL SOAP-BUBBLES AND HOW TO MAKE THEM

Here are some wonderful soap-bubbles which every boy and girl can make easily. They are none of the little, old-fashioned clay-pipe bubbles which our great-grandparents and great-grandchildren used to blow, but immense great spheres, some of which measure nine feet around! Indeed, what would our quaint ancestors have thought of such giant bubbles? What would they have thought of a soap film so tall that a little boy placed inside of it reaches to only half way up its shining sides? Then, too, just think of the fun they missed in not knowing how to blow a pin-wheel around inside of a bubble, or of blowing a great bubble through the hands, as the girl in the picture is doing; or of performing that pretty trick where a rose is shown inside of a bubble—a trick so easy of accomplishment that any boy or girl can do it at the first attempt. Why, here are lots of fun for you boys and girls—an almost endless amount of fun, for the tricks here pictured are only a few—but very few—of the marvelous things which may be done with soap and water.

Of course, the first question you will all ask is how to make the solution, and I will tell you just here how to go about it in such a way that none of you can possibly go astray if you will but carefully follow the directions given:

Rub some soap—castile soap preferred—into a bowl of water until a heavy froth has formed on the surface. Then remove all froth, even every little bubble, and proceed to test the solution as follows: Dip an ordinary clay pipe into the mixture and blow a bubble four to five inches in diameter. While this bubble is still suspended from the pipe, quickly dip your forefinger well into the solution and then try to thrust it through into the hanging bubble. If you can push your finger right into the middle of the bubble, the solution is in good condition. If, however, the bubble breaks when you attempt to thrust your finger into it, the solution is not in proper condition, and more soap must be added to the mixture until bubbles can be made which will stand this test. Do not forget, it is of the placed in the center and upon this the kitten was set. Afterwards a child's wooden hoop was lowered into the solution, and when this was well wet with the mixture it was lifted up, with fair quickness, high over the kitten, when the film dropped from the hoop with the result as shown in the accompanying photograph.

The boy standing inside of the soap-film house was stood upon the block of wood in the center of pan, and the hoop was lifted with a quick, swish-ing movement high above his head, as also shown in the photograph.

To blow a great bubble through the hands, first place the points of both forefingers and thumbs together, and then, with the hands flattened out, dip them into a pan of the mixture. On withdrawing your hands carefully, you will notice that the space between the forefingers and thumbs is crossed over with a soap film. Now slowly raise your hands, so as to bring them opposite to your mouth, and gently blow. The result will be that as shown in the picture. It may require two or three trials before success is attained. In blowing soap bubbles even, practice makes perfect.

Funny Fishermen.

In England the boys—and sometimes grown men—have a very funny way of catching fish.

You would never guess what it is, so I might just as well tell you right off.

It was an English boy who told me about it.

"You must catch a goose," he said, "and that is the hardest part. Then you tie a line which has a baited hook on one end to the goose's leg."

"Then let her go. She'll make for the water every shot, and as she swims about she, of course, draws hook and line after her."

"Pretty soon a fish bites and maybe gets hooked."

"Then the goose feels something tugging at her leg, and she swims along about as hard as she can, but this only makes the tugging worse. The only way to get away from that awful something, she thinks, is to get out of the water."

"So, with wildly beating wings, she makes for the shore at a rattling pace."

A Versatile Lad.

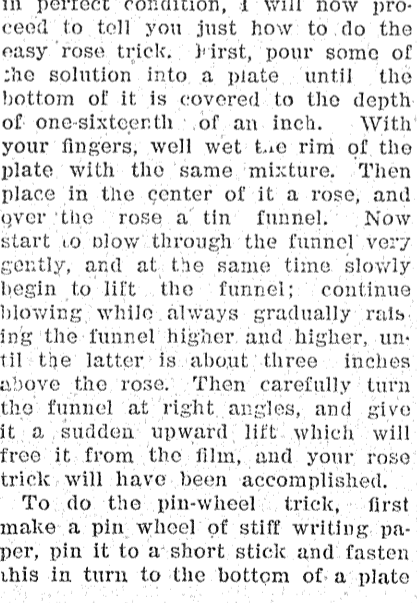

A New York paper tells of a boy 11 years of age who has traveled 63,000 miles. The boy was born in Shanghai, and has crossed the Pacific ocean and the American continent seven times. He spent last summer with his uncle in Syracuse, and entered a school at Arden City, L. I., writes Chinese, French and English, and his knowledge of geography and history is remarkable. One day last summer he visited a man 90 years of age who had lived in one town for 83 years, and whose travels had been limited to the neighboring villages. The old man and the boy had their photographs taken together.—Puck.

Instinct of Horses in War.

Arabian horses manifest remarkable courage in battle. It is said that when a horse of this breed finds himself wounded, and perceives that he will not be able to bear his rider much longer, he quickly retires from the conflict, bearing his master to a place of safety while he has still sufficient strength. But if, on the other hand, the rider is wounded and falls to the ground, the faithful animal remains beside him, unmindful of danger, neighing until assistance is brought.

You may not be able to learn anything new, but there are people in the world who can teach you something old.

Woman never allows her opinions to spoil for want of being aired.

THE VOLCANOS OF KAMCHATKA

Lava Flows and Earthquakes Disturb I. and So.

Kamchatka has many volcanoes, the only ones in Russian territory that are still active. They are unusually impressive. Their summits are always smoking and often glow with molten lava, though they are clad in eternal snow and are covered with glaciers.

The volcanic eruptions are very grand, but being witnessed only by a few natives or Russian officials they attract but little attention in the west. About forty of the mountains are of volcanic origin, but of these not more than twelve are still active.

One of these remarkable eruptions occurred last fall at the Avacha volcano, 8,210 feet high, on the southeast coast of Kamchatka. The eruptions were accompanied by subterranean rumblings that were audible for sixty miles. These phenomena are often attended by violent earthquakes which sometimes raise the waves to a great height, flooding the coast and sweeping away the tents of the natives. This was the case during the recent eruption.

The accounts that have been sent to St. Petersburg of this eruption say that a more magnificent and awful spectacle was probably never presented. Lava flowed in deep streams down the sides of the mountains. The streams looked like wide, molten rivers. From fissures in the earth noxious gases escaped, destroying animal and vegetable life near the mountain. Even fish were killed by thousands in the neighboring streams.

The volcanic eruptions in Kamchatka probably surpass those of any other part of the world in violence and duration. An eruption mentioned by Krashenninikov lasted four years, from 1727 to 1731, and that of 1737, which was far more violent, discharged vast lava streams, melting the glaciers and sweeping avalanches of ice and water into the surrounding valleys.

TEARS OF BENEFIT TO THE EYES

One's Sight Is Clearer After a Copious Flow of the Salty Liquid.

Tears do not weaken the sight, but improve it. They act as a tonic on the muscular vision, keeping the eye soft and limpid, and it will be noticed that women in whose eyes sympathetic tears gather quickly have brighter, tenderer orbs than others. When the pupils are hard and cold the world attributes it to one disposition, which is a mere figure of speech, implying the lack of balm tears that are to the eyes what olive oil is to the skin or nourishment to the blood.

The reason some women weep more easily than others, and still more readily than the sterner sex, has not its difference in the strength of the tear gland, but in the possession of a more delicate nerve system. The nerve fibers about the glands vibrate more easily, causing a downpour from the watery sac. Men are not nearly so sensitive to emotion; their sympathetic nature—the term is used in a medical sense—is less developed, and the eye is therefore protected from shocks. Consequently a man should thank the formation of his nerve nature when he contemptuously scorns tears as a woman's practice.

Their Co-solation.

They were tossing about on the wild and restless ocean in a small, open boat, at least 100 feet from the beach. He was struggling manfully to battle with the surging waves and to pull for the shore; she was sitting in a heap in the stern of the frail barque, holding on like grim death, and mentally vowing that she would never again be tempted by her lover's daring spirit to venture so far from land.

"If I know you shall go over," she shrieked, as the boat gave another lurch. "Oh, George, try and manage it!"

"I will," replied he, firmly. "I could get along splendidly if the waves did not make it go all ways at once. Don't be afraid, Sarah. We're getting nearer, aren't we?"

"A little. Oh, George, what shall we do if the boat is lost?"

"Don't you worry yourself about that, my dear," said George, soothingly. "You mustn't worry yourself about other people's business. It isn't our boat."

And he continued his fight with the cruel, remorseless waves.

Precedent Established.

A beginner in newspaper work in a southern town who occasionally "sent stuff" to one of the New York dailies picked up last summer what seemed to him a "big story." Hurrying to the telegraph office he "queried" the telegraph editor: "Column story so and so. Shall I send?" The reply was brief and prompt but to the enthusiast unsatisfactory. "Send 600 words was all it said. 'Can't be told in less than 1,200," he wired back. Before long the reply came: "Story of creation of world told in 600. Try it."—New York Post.

Americans in Burke's Peerage.

The names of five American naval officers appear in the 1902 edition of Burke's peerage. Admiral Schley's daughter married a brother of the present earl of Wharfedale, the daughter of Commodore Price and Magruder became respectively duchess of Marlborough and Lady Abinger; Lieutenant H. T. Stockton married a daughter of Sir Matthew Onslow, and Paymaster Rodney married his cousin, a granddaughter of Sir Hugh Owen. Of the naval officers named only Schley and Rodney survive.

Ancient Pottery of Crete

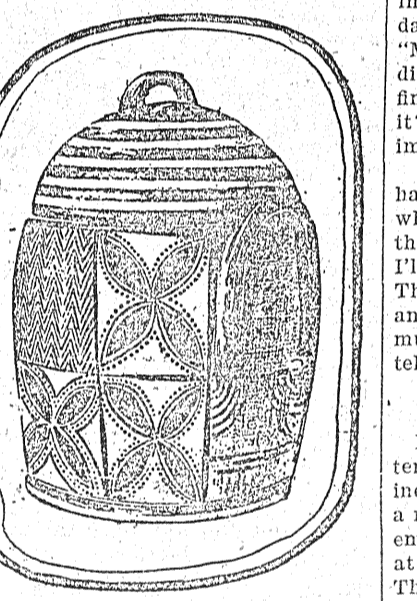

(Special Letter.)

UNTIL now no step has been made toward the systematic exploration of a necropolis or a prehistoric cemetery in Crete. Every attempt at a regular excavation has been frustrated by political causes. In Crete the exact form of a single tomb has not been known nor the rite of a sepulture explained. All that we know was limited to the scanty information gathered by us about ten years ago. On account of this state of things the investigation of the Mycenaean strata seemed to be a duty.

News reached us that in the vicinity of the southeastern corner of the Province of Pediada some tombs had been discovered by the peasants. We hastened to the place and found a vast necropolis of the geometric period, which was evidently still full of Mycenaean reminiscences. It is situated on the hill of Erganos. We immediately began to explore the ground and to prepare plans for excavations. Another site which we have also excavated is that of Gortyna. This is in another province of the island, in the region of the southeast slopes of Mount Ida, within a complex knot of hills, not far from the city of Gortyna. Researches in these two localities have given us absolute knowledge as to the form of the tomb and the mode of interment practised in the early Mycenaean age.

The vases recovered form the first large group of Cretan pottery, which will be published with certain knowledge and statements about its discovery.

The tombs uncovered on the heights of Erganos were found still intact, the skeletons still there, with all the objects that had been buried with them 2,000 B. C. The Necropolis of Erganos consists of a knot of four irregular hills, which, after the fashion of the great wall, suddenly barricade the valley and divide it from the higher table land or plain. Here we have the necropolis of a community of men who in the early Cretan days occupied this eagle's nest.

Before beginning to excavate in the city of the dead we climbed the precipitous hills to discover whether time had left any traces of the home of the living. Scrambling up to the summit we set foot upon a limited tract of ground with some scanty remains of material apparently belonging to an ancient wall. Here it was evident, once rose a building, as the remains are visible of masonry walls which caused us to surmise that these are the remains of the palace or large house of the chief of the settlement.

The place of the tombs was for the most part easy to recognize from the little heaps of stones which were visible on the surface of the ground. We could not say whether these heaps are intentional and in accordance with custom or whether they were derived from the repeated opening and closing of the various tombs during the time they were in use. The pick-axe came into contact with the top of these subterranean tombs at a very slight depth below the ground. They were grouped one quite close to the other, but without any established direction.

The ornamentation of one burial vase found is partly preserved. It consists of two series, one upper and one lower, of squares or checkers, filled with a four-petaled rose, also with a number of broken or zig-zag lines. The whole was painted in dull pink brown. The two decorative sides were divided from each other by the two bands corresponding with the arching of the handles, in which we recognize ornaments in curved concentric lines. The lid is painted in simple concentric circles.

The most noteworthy outcome of these researches are the fresh revelations of the various types of splendid vases in which survive decorative elements of the Mycenaean style. The ornamentation of the vases is decidedly of geometric character. A detailed description of each separate piece cannot be given. Attention is drawn to a few of the most remarkable and characteristic of the types here illustrated. The painting of most of the vases is opaque, in some of the larger ones there are signs that they were painted and varnished. Especially interesting above all is the false neck amphora.

EMBARRASSED THE CLERGYMAN

Minister's Makeshift All Right Until the Maid Appeared.

A distinguished Episcopal clergyman was once called on to officiate at a fashionable summer resort church, and, finding only a short surplice and no cassock in the vestry, was very much disturbed in a vesture that to the frivolous would look like a white shirt and trousers. But a happy inspiration came to him. Why not wear one of his wife's black petticoats? The portion that would show below the surplice would look exactly like the regulation cassock, and no one would ever be the wiser. So he hurriedly sent one of the ushers with an explanatory note to his wife in the hotel, and in the nick of time the petticoat arrived. The makeshift turned out to be a perfect success, and no one at a distance could tell that he was not wearing a cassock. After the close of the service he decided to go out to the body of the church without taking off his robes, in order to greet some friends. And he was soon the center of a group of fashionable women when a green Irish maid from the hotel came up, and in a loud voice said to him: "Yer Reverence, the missus sint me after her petticoat that ye do wearin', an' I wuz to wait till ye take it off."—New York Tribune.

Curious Trade Discovered by the Police of France.

The Paris police have recently been informed by one of the fraternity of whip-crackers that such a calling exists and claims recognition as one of the "professions" by the exercise of which men earn their livelihood in France.

Whip-crackers, it appears, are men who possess strong wrists and are willing to crack whips all day long, if required, on receipt of a suitable fee. At the commencement of the shooting season, when the proprietors of neighboring demesnes are not good friends, the one who bears ill-will to the other engages a whip cracker, whose duty it is to crack a whip so as to frighten away all the birds at the approach of the disliked sportsman and his friends.

The whipcrackers are also found useful by farmers afflicted with diseased cattle which they cannot sell. Having engaged a whipcracker, they turn out the sick beasts on the most frequented highway they can find. The cracker follows with his whip, ostensibly to guide the cattle, really to drive them under the wheels of a carriage, a motor car or a tram. This he does by cracking his whip at the critical moment so as to frighten the beasts and drive them to destruction.

Her Lovel Head.

"Of course," he said in an offhand way, "it goes without saying that a beautiful girl like you must have had many offers of marriage."

She blushed prettily, and her eyes seemed to say "Of course," but she did not answer otherwise.

"And, of course," he went on, "I wouldn't think of asking you any of the men were or anything about them, but I am interested in knowing how they do it."

Then she roused herself.

"Look here," she said. "Are you trying to get him to propose to me or to some other girl?"

Thus it was that she pinned him down, as it were, and brought him to the point.

Russia's Execution in Siberia.

It would appear that Russia is determined to run every profitable business by the state. The government has a monopoly of transportation, has preempted the spirit of industry and may at any time seize the tobacco trade. The state regulates wages, grants or refuses rights to work for precious and base minerals and to obtain fuel, the cultivation of the soil and the raising of stock. The cry is "Siberia is rich and Siberia is for us Russians alone," and the state answers, not in words, but in deeds, "Siberia is for the Russian, and shall be rich by administrative order." The pioneer finds gold or strikes oil, then the pioneer is ousted and his field of operations reserved exclusively for exploitation by the state, when and as the state may deem it expedient to act. No one questions the right; many criticize the policy.

Very Easy to Talk Chinese.

It has long been the popular impression that the Chinese language, like the Chinese people themselves, was a curious compound and almost beyond the comprehension of an occidentalist. But it is a matter of interest to know what some of its peculiar difficulties are; as they were stated by Prof. Herbert Allen Giles, the English orientalist, in a recent lecture before Columbia University. It seems, according to this authority, that there are really two distinct Chinese languages, the spoken and the written. The former may be easily acquired, but the latter, the "book language," is a study of a lifetime. Few people can read a Chinese book or write a Chinese letter, and women in particular seem to fail in this. The Chinese never possessed a grammar.—Leslie's Weekly.

Senator Pettus' Mode of Life.

"Keep working and you will keep alive," is the advice of Senator Pettus, who carries his eighty-one years with surprising ease. One morning recently he was found hard at work at 7 o'clock, sleeves rolled up, chewing tobacco and grinding out letters. To the surprised remark of a friend he said: "I rise early every morning at 5 unless I have been kept up late the night before. The secret of living long is to work hard. I notice that all of my friends who get rich and then retired are dead. I never got rich and I never got tired. The most deadly disease I know is to quit work."

Women of Note

FRANCE HONORS BRAVE WOMAN.

Miss Sickness of Chicago Rewarded for Exceptional Courage.

The French Society Le Sevateur has just conferred its medal—for a display of exceptional courage—upon Miss Emma Sickness of Chicago.

When the outbreak among the Sioux Indians came during the winter of 1889-90 Miss Sickness was principal of a school near the Pine Ridge agency.

At the critical moment, however, she happened to be absent on a visit in an eastern state.

At the urgent request of the war department, whose desire was voiced by a personal letter of the secretary, Miss Sickness brought her visit to a close and came home.

After a consultation she went at once to the camp of two of the leading chiefs of the hostiles determined to see for herself what the exact situation was.

It was an undertaking which required the highest courage, but Miss Sickness was successful. She explained to the Indians the mistake which had led up to the Wounded Knee fight. Within an hour the chiefs were coming into the post to declare their peaceable intentions and the great danger was over.

No British Banners Wave in Battle.

Some people may not know that the colors are not, now taken into action. Before a corps proceeds on service they are placed in safe custody as suits such honorable insignia, and "when Johnny comes marching home again" they will be all the fresher for not being carried through dusty lands and trying rivers. The men whose duty it would have been to carry them and stand by them to the last are nowadays employed in less sentimental if more useful duties.

Got Rid of Loaded Shell.

A week or so ago a farmer whose farm is near Stevensville, Va., plowed up an old shell. His discovery made him nervous. He piled a head of combustibles around and over it, scratched and applied a match and then made off with his mule; to a safe distance. The explosion was rather slow in coming, but a local newspaper man reports that when it came it was heard for five miles around.

Roads Made of Gold.

The people of the two counties south of Lacrosse, Wis., especially near Prairie du Chien, have been years using gold-bearing quartz for road making and house building, thinking it was common stone. The finding of a heavy, paying vein of gold on a farm of Mrs. N. S. Dousman set them right. By following up the vein it was traced for many miles around, touching, in some places, quarries where rock has been taken for years.

Lightning striking in the same place during successive storms led Miss Violet Dousman to think that metal in some form existed there. Her investigations led to the discovery of the gold.

For the Rich Only.

Uncle and Aunt Melcher went to town to buy a new clock. "Now," said the dealer, "here is something very attractive in the way of clocks. When the hour begins, a bird comes out of the top and sings 'Cuckoo!' For instance, I turn this hand to 3 o'clock, and the bird comes out and sings 'Cuckoo!' three times."

"Don't that beat all?" cried Uncle Melcher, enthusiastically. "Mother, let's have one."

"No, no!" said his wife hastily. "That sort of a clock might do for folks that have got lots of time, but it'd take me half the forenoon every day to take care of that bird."

No more entertaining reading has ever appeared in that magazine. The undertaking is exciting wide interest in every part of the country. ENTERPRISE News Stand.

Suffered for 11 Years.

Mr. L. A. Smith, of Shabbona, had suffered for eleven years with Asthma. Had used every known remedy and consulted many physicians without relief. Was relieved of suffering within three days by Dr. Morrison, and by two months' treatment was cured, so he has had no return of the disease. Other chronic diseases are cured as quickly. Children's Day will be observed at the Presbyterian Church next Sunday. In the morning Rev. Torbet will speak on the subject of "pleasures." In the evening there will be some recitations, and Lewis Seeley, of Caro, will give an address.

The baccalaureate sermon for the graduating class of 1902 was delivered Sunday evening by Rev. L. Brumm, of the Evangelical Church, in the M. E. Church, the spacious audience room being completely filled by an attentive audience. The sermon was based upon two Scriptural passages, the one found in John xv. 5, "I am the vine, ye are the branches," and Col. ii. 7, "rooted and built up in him." The speaker demonstrated clearly that nothing in this life satisfies, and showed the necessity of attaining to the spiritual life which alone fully satisfies. The sermon was a splendid effort and well received.

The advertising merchant is the one who does the business in these days of push and enterprise. There are more newspaper readers today than ever before in the history of the world. The newspaper places your business under the eye of the buyer. He sees what he wants, and knowing where to find it, looks up the wide-awake merchant who asks him to come in and see him. Success in these days of sharp competition calls for eternal vigilance. You cannot keep a hustler down.

It delights all who use it for Cuts, Corns, Burns, Bruises, Blisters, Ulcers, Eruptions, Inflammation for Piles. Only 25c at T. H. Fritz's Drug Store, Cass City; F. A. Francis, Kingston.

A gang of burglars made an unsuccessful attempt to rob the Forestville bank, Wednesday night. The safe was drilled into just below the knob of the door, but the lock was not broken. A drawer in the cashier's desk was opened but nothing was disturbed, and it is believed from this fact that the burglars were scared away. The people of Forestville do not think it is the work of professional crooks as a blacksmith shop was opened and some of the smith's tools were used in the work.—Minden City Herald.

TESTIMONIAL

To the Editor.

Dear Sir: For several years I have been troubled with deafness, roaring in my head and all the symptoms of Chronic Catarrh. I believed that my case was incurable, but upon the urgent request of a friend I consulted Dr. Morrison of the Detroit Clinic.

After a careful examination he said he could cure me in two months. I commenced treatment and in two months I was cured; could hear as well as ever; no more pain or roaring in the head. I was afraid it would return but I have had a severe cold since I was cured and there has been no return of the trouble so I know I am cured. I want all your readers to know of my wonderful cure.

In Java
Natives do not glaze coffee with a cheap and impure coating. They have too high a regard for health as well as for the naturally delicious flavor of their popular berry. The very American roasters who glaze their package coffees do not dare to touch or glaze their high priced Mochas and Javas. Why? is never glazed or adulterated. It is JUST PURE COFFEE.
The sealed package insures uniform quality and freshness.
