

PROVES GREAT POWER

When Regular Medical Treatment Failed, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Cured Her Rheumatism.

Hundreds of people afflicted with rheumatism have spent years under the care of excellent physicians in vain. Then they have settled down to the conviction that it is fastened on them for life. Mrs. Dismore was not willing to join the ranks of the hopeless merely because her doctor did not know how to help her. Here is her story:

"Four years ago I suffered greatly with rheumatism in my hands and knees. After I had been sitting a while my limbs seemed so heavy I could hardly walk on the first attempt. So long as I kept moving I was all right, but just as soon as I stopped, something seemed to settle in my knees and make them ache. My hands were so bad I couldn't touch the palms of them on a flat surface; they were swollen and pained so."

"Did you call in a physician?"
"I doctored steadily for over a year; then one doctor said: 'You have taken medicine strong enough to kill almost anything.' Still, it did not kill me nor the rheumatism."

"How, then, did you get rid of it?"
"At different times I had read in various publications about Dr. Williams' wonderful Pink Pills for Pale People, and I finally decided to try them. I took them steadily for four months in accordance with the directions. By that time I was completely cured."

"Have you been free from it ever since?"
"Since then I have had but one slight return of my trouble, and a box or two of the same pills made me all right again."

Mrs. F. A. Dismore lives in hearty enjoyment of her recovered health at Woburn, Mass., entirely freed from the grave anxieties that rheumatism always brings. When it appears in but a single joint it shows that the blood is in a faulty state in the whole body. It may at any moment break out elsewhere and one of the dangers is that it may break out in the heart and then the result must be fatal. The only security is to keep the blood all the time in a perfectly sound condition.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills make healthy blood. All other relief is superficial. This is thorough. These pills are sold by all druggists.

Easy Road to Beauty.

A celebrated and charming actress, whose age it would be rude to chronicle, but who still looks quite young, although she is a grandmother, gives the following prescription for the preservation of youth and beauty: "You must work till you are tired, sleep till you are rested, have plenty of fresh air, live in cool rooms, take a daily sponge bath and eat the simplest food."

DISFIGURING ULCER

People Looked at Her in Amazement—Pronounced Incurable—Face Now Clear as Ever—Thanks God for Cuticura.

Mrs. P. Hackett, of 400 Van Buren St., Brooklyn, N. Y., says: "I wish to give thanks for the marvelous cure of my mother by Cuticura. She had a severe ulcer, which physicians had pronounced incurable. It was a terrible disfigurement, and people would stand in amazement and look after her. After there was no hope from doctors she began using Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills, and now, thank God, she is completely cured, and her face is as smooth and clear as ever."

Machine to Catch Salmon.
A curious plan for catching fish is used on the River Columbia. A number of wheels are set up in the middle of the stream, which as they turn round catch up the fish and cast them into troughs by the river banks. As much as five tons weight of fish a day has thus been taken.

Serious Heart Disease Is Curable.

The Eminent Specialist, Dr. Franklin Miles, Succeeds After 5 to 30 Physicians Failed.

$2.50 WORTH OF TREATMENT FREE.

Heart diseases which a few years ago were incurable now readily yield to treatment. Short breath, pain in the side, oppression in the chest, palpitation, smothering spells, weak or irregular pulse, puffing of the ankles or dropsy, whether complicated with stomach, liver and nervous troubles or not, can be speedily relieved and soon cured. Dr. Miles gives $2.50 worth of treatment free to prove its wonderful powers. His treatments are specially prepared to suit each patient. They relieve the worst cases in a day and quickly cure.

These treatments are the result of 25 years of close study, careful research and extraordinary success. They are far in advance of the remedies used by the ordinary doctor and few show such faith in their cures. Every sufferer should take advantage of this opportunity before it is too late.

A thousand references to and testimonials from bishops, clergymen, bankers, farmers and their wives will be sent free on request. Send at once for Chart, Pamphlet, Opinion and Free Treatment to Franklin Miles, M. D., 111 E. Dupont St., Grand Dispensary, 73 to 83 Main St., Elkhardt, Ind.

SQUIRE JOHN A TALE OF THE CUBAN WAR

Jack steps upon the platform of the car adjoining that which constitutes the rear of the train. He is bent upon finding out just how matters stand, so that should the expedition proceed, giving evidence that no suspicion of the danger ahead has entered into the calculations of the soldiers, he may be able to carry out a bright thought which has entered his head.

"I believe it can be done without a doubt," Jack mutters, after bending down and making a hasty examination of the connection between the two coaches.

"The same thing has been accomplished on numerous occasions. Run road men in your country call it 'making a flying switch,'" says Smithers, almost in his ear—Smithers who seems to have intuitively guessed what Jack's bright thought has been, and indeed must have been figuring himself on the same thing.

"See, there is room enough for all of us to cling to the end of the other coach at the time we separate. The only danger will be the chance of discovery on the part of the soldiers."
"Well, sir, in that we are lucky. Note the fact that tents and a certain amount of luggage have been piled up at this end of the car."
"Yes, you are right."

"It not only serves to darken the platform in a degree, but will, I believe, prevent any of the men from noticing that the last coach is cut off."

"Then let us pray that luck will follow us. If it wasn't for that promise—"

"Ah, sir, if I hadn't the utmost faith in your word of honor, I never would have betrayed their secret—no, not even to save the ladies. But no more on that subject, please. We are here, and our work is cut out for us. It remains to be seen what Anglo-Saxon wit can accomplish against the minions of Spanish tyranny."

Bold words these to be uttered, even in a whisper, within sight of several hundred Spanish soldiers, who would tear the speaker limb from limb did they but overhear.

"Look, the conference is over." Travers has kept one eye upon the group of officers all the while, and when he sees them separate he knows the subject that has been debated between them is settled.

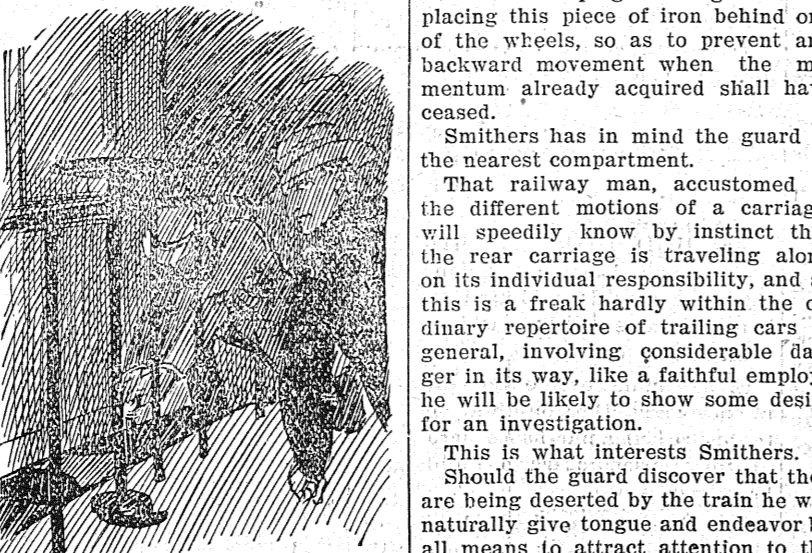

Ah, the officers hasten to the train. Will they order the men to turn out, or make themselves comfortable for the night, since further progress has been abandoned?

Alas! this is just what they do not carry out. Instead, loud orders in Spanish of "All aboard!" are heard, and the soldiers can be seen scrambling to enter the cars.

Thus the station platform, which but a minute before bustled with life, appears empty and almost forsaken. The man in charge of the train glances up and down, and seeing everything in readiness, waves his arms.

An immediate response comes from the engine in the way of a shrill shriek—then is heard a puffing sound, the long train begins to move—they are off!

And the bridge at which the fearful disaster is planned to take place lies just eight miles beyond.

"Now!" he cries hoarsely.

Jack knows they are now reduced to this drier resort. Should it fail, in all probability they will be in at the death, if they can find any satisfaction in that thought.

Smithers has learned one thing that may have a bearing on the question. This refers to the train guard who answered the questions of Don Robledo.

This Spaniard has leaped into a compartment of the rear coach while the train was in motion—the section nearest the platform upon which stand, or rather, crouch, the three friends. Thus it is settled that they have someone to look after, and who must not be forgotten in the grand climax, lest he be the means of overwhelming them with disaster.

The speed increases. At this rate they will not be more than half an hour, perhaps only twenty minutes, in reaching the fatal spot.

Jack and Smithers talk it over in quick sentences, while Ah Sin stands ready to do just whatever he is bidden. No danger of their being overheard out there, with the rattle of the cars and the clang of the wheels over the rails.

One thing favors their plans—the night has swooped down upon them with black pinions, and so intense has the gloom become in this mountainous region that but for the lights streaming from the car windows it would be impossible to see the length of half the train.

Jack points to the horizon, where some low-lying clouds are tinged with a glow.
"Possibly we are near the camp fires along the trocha," he remarks, at which the other says, with grim sarcasm:
"I would be more inclined to believe that is the handwriting of Maceo on the sky."

MONUMENT TO ETHAN ALLEN.

To Be Erected by Vermont Sons of American Revolution.
William J. Van Patten of Burlington, Vt., has given the Vermont Sons of the American Revolution a part of the old Ethan Allen farm, known as Indian Rock, in that city, for the purpose of the erection of a memorial tower to Ethan Allen.

It is estimated that the tower will cost about $3,000. Plans have been prepared under the direction of Mr. Van Patten. The design will be of a bold military order and will be fitting and appropriate for the purpose. The tower will be 40 feet high and 24 feet square at the base, the battlements being wide enough so that the top will correspond with the base. It will be built of marble, to be quarried near the spot. The tower will be erected on a spot, the elevation of which is 200 feet, affording an extensive view of the surrounding country.

The history of Ethan Allen farm is of much interest. Before the revolution it was owned by a Tory, who, on account of his loyalty to Great Britain, was forced to leave the country. His estate was subsequently confiscated by the state of Vermont and the property turned over to the land commissioner of Vermont. By him, it was sold to Gen. Ethan Allen, and he was living upon it at the time of his death in 1789. The farm then became the property of Gov. Van Ness, and was known for half a century as the Gov. Van Ness farm.

The land fronts on the beautiful Winoski river. The name Indian Rock was given to the spot by reason of the legend that it was an outlook for the Indians for long ages before the white man came to this country. The Indians of the Connecticut valley were wont to make long pilgrimages to this beautiful valley to forage, and when near this spot would disembark and send their scouts to the top of Indian Rock to keep an outlook for enemies. It is believed that the very old grove of chestnut trees on the Ethan Allen farm sprang from the seed sown by the natives when they brought nuts to eat from the Connecticut valley into Vermont.

The daughters of the Revolution have placed a bronze tablet on the rock, marking the site upon the roadside, as being the residence of Ethan Allen at the time of his death, which came from a fall as he was driving a load of hay.

Historic Inn Sold.

At this famous coaching house, the Burford Bridge hotel, which has just been acquired by the Surrey Trust Company, Nelson was staying when he received his last Admiralty sailing orders that sent him to sea and to Trafalgar.

The total production of sugar throughout the world is about 2,000,000 tons per annum. Of this quantity nine-tenths are afforded by the sugar cane, 25,000,000 tons of which are required to produce the above quantity of cane sugar. The total value of the sugar in the cane, if it could be extracted, would be about $200,000,000, but one-half is lost in the process of manufacture.

Mink Caught With His Dinner.
While out looking over his traps one day recently Uranus Stacy of Saco, Me., found two victims in one of them. They were a fair-sized mink, who had in his mouth an eel which he had just captured. The mink evidently got caught while trying to find a suitable location to eat his catch.

Ice Buried for Centuries.
Railroad men while digging gravel in Black Butte mountain, near Lisson, Siskiyou county, Cal., came recently upon an immense buried mass of ice, believed to have been there from time immemorial.

ANDREW JACKSON'S BIG ESTATE.

How He Gained 50,000 Acres as Fees in Law Cases He Tried.

There are two ways of reaching the Hermitage from Nashville—either by carriage the entire distance, or by train to the little station called Hermitage, thence by conveyance or foot the remaining three miles. In either case, says a writer in Four-Track News, the way leads among the rugged hills of "sunny Tennessee," through native forests which we may easily imagine look just as they did in the latter part of the eighteenth century, when Andrew Jackson, a young man who had just completed a brief and very unsystematic course of "reading law" placed all his worldly goods and himself on the back of his one horse and turned his face from the Carolinas to the then wilderness of eastern Tennessee to make his fortune.

The land records of 1794-7 show that it was during those years that Jackson laid the foundation for the large estate he afterward owned. He was the only lawyer in that region in the early days—days when money was scarce and land was cheap and a lawyer's fee for conducting a case of no very great importance might easily be a "640," a square mile of land. In a few years he was the owner of over 50,000 acres, which he acquired while cheap and held it advanced in value, when he sold part of it to enable him to cultivate and improve the remainder.

CAUSE AND CURE OF RHEUMATISM.
Shown by numerous cures made by Dodd's Kidney Pills. They cure the Kidneys and the Rheumatism cures itself—Remarkable case of Maggie E. Decker.

Eagle River, Wis., Jan. 16.—(Special)—That rheumatism is caused by disordered kidneys is proved by the cures Dodd's Kidney Pills are making in every state in the Union. They cure the Kidneys and the Rheumatism cures itself. A case that has caused deep interest in this neighborhood is that of Maggie E. Decker. In speaking of it she says:
"I had kidney trouble and rheumatism and was so lame I could not walk. I could not sleep for I ached all over. I was in a terrible state and firmly believe that if I had not used Dodd's Kidney Pills I would be dead. I took nine boxes of them and they have done me more good than all the other medicines I used. Now my aches are all gone, I can eat and sleep and I am feeling good. I want all the world to know that Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me."

Polite to the End.
One of the most famous criminals the old Tombs has held in many years has just been placed in his cell. The delinquent in this case has always been friendly with the newspaper men, and when he was arrested several of the reporters who had known him hatched to the Tombs, confident of obtaining an interview. He refused to be seen, and his message to them, which is a tradition of the Tombs, was eminently characteristic: "Tell them," he said to the warden, "that I am not in."

Makes Him Tired.
"A man who tells me how his wife wants me to cut his hair makes me tired," said the barber, after the customer had departed. "I want a man to tell me how he wants his hair cut, not his impressions of his wife's views." "It can't be helped," replied his companion. "Once when I went to a house to cut a man's hair he called his wife into the room to tell me how to do it."

Energy of Radium.
The quantity of energy put forth by radium is very large. Expressed as heat, it is sufficient to raise its weight of water to boiling point in an hour. Expressed as power, the energy of a saltspoonful would lift 500 tons a mile high—power 30,000 to 1,000,000 times as great as that developed by the most powerful chemical energy hitherto known.

MIGHT HAVE SAVED IT
A Lot of Trouble from Too Much Starchy Food.
A little boy of eight years whose parents did not feed him on the right kind of food, was always nervous and suffered from a weak condition of the stomach and bowels. Finally he was taken down with appendicitis and after the operation the doctor, knowing that his intestinal digestion was very weak, put him on Grape-Nuts twice a day.

He rapidly recovered and about two months thereafter, his father states, "He has grown to be strong, muscular, and sleeps soundly, weighs 62 pounds, and his whole system is in a fine condition of health." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

It is plain that if he had been put on Grape-Nuts at an earlier period in his life, and kept from the use of foods that he could not digest, he never would have had appendicitis. That disease is caused by indigestible food decaying in the stomach and bowels, causing irritation and making for the growth of all kinds of microbes, setting up a diseased condition which is the active cause of appendicitis, and this is more marked with people who do not properly digest white bread.

Grape-Nuts is made of the selected parts of wheat and barley and by the postum processes of the cooking at the factory, all of the starch is turned into sugar ready for immediate digestion and the more perfect nourishment of all parts of the body, particularly the brain and nerve centers.

LASTING RELIEF.

J. W. Walls, Superintendent of Streets of Lebanon, Ky., says:

"My nightly rest was broken, owing to irregularities of the kidneys. I suffered intensely from severe pains in the small of my back and through the kidneys and was annoyed by painful passages of abnormal secretions. Doctors failed to relieve me. I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills and I experienced quick and lasting relief. Doan's Kidney Pills will prove a blessing to all sufferers from kidney disorders who will give them a fair trial."

ALL CROPS GOOD IN WESTERN CANADA.
"Potatoes the Finest I Ever Saw."

Owing to the great amount of interest that is being taken in Western Canada, it is well to be informed of some of the facts that are bringing about the great emigration from portions of the United States.

The Canadian government has authorized agents at different points, and the facts related in the following may be corroborated on application. At the same time they will be able to quote you rates, and give you certificates entitling you to low rates on the different lines of railway. The following letter copied from the North Bend (Neb.) Eagle is an unsolicited testimonial, and the experience of Mr. Auten is that of hundreds of other Americans who have made Canada their home during the past seven or eight years:

"I presume some may be interested to know how we have progressed this year in the Canadian Northwest. We have no complaint to offer. We have had a good year, crops were good and we have had a delightful season. I threshed from my place 3,650 bushels of grain. My oats made 65 bushels per acre and weighed 42½ pounds per bushel. My wheat made 31½ bushels per acre and is No. 1 quality. My barley made about 30 bushels of good quality. My crop is a fair average of the crops in the Edmonton district.

"All crops were good here this season. Potatoes the finest I ever saw, and all vegetables adapted to the climate. We have had a very fine fall, but no exception to the rule, as the fall season is, I think, the most pleasant of the year. We have had no snow yet (Nov. 9), and have been plowing and working the land preparing for an early seeding next spring. Last night the mercury dropped lower than any previous night this fall, and this morning there is a crust of frost on the fields sufficient to prevent field work. No doubt many would imagine that Alberta had put on her winter overcoat before this and that the people were wrapped in furs, but it is only a question of time when this country will not be looked upon as an iceberg, but a country fit for the best of mankind to live in.

"We are now assured of a trans-continental railway, which is to be built to the Pacific during the next five years. The Canadian Northern road is graded to within seventy-five miles of Edmonton. It comes from Winnipeg, and will reach us next summer, so with one railroad ahead at hand, the second to reach us in less than a year, and the third to penetrate our city and open up this country to the west across the Rockies to the coast within five years, we surely have reason to believe that the country is progressing.

"Very respectfully, J. J. AUTEN."

There isn't anything in the world that creates so much surprise and panic as when mother scolds.

The U. S. Dept. of Agriculture gives to Salzer's Oats its highest endorsement. Salzer's National Oats yielded in 1904 from 150 to 300 bu. per acre in 30 different States, and you, Mr. Farmer, can beat this in 1905, if you will.

Speltz or Emmer, above illustrated, gives 80 bushels grain and four tons hay besides per acre. It's wonderful. Salzer's seeds are pedigree seeds, bred up through careful selection to big yields.

Per Acre.
Salzer's Barley yielded..... 32 bu.
Salzer's Home Builder Corn..... 300 bu.
Salzer and Macaroni Wheat..... 80 bu.
Salzer's Victoria Rape..... 60,000 lbs.
Salzer's Tessinte Fodder..... 60,000 lbs.
Salzer's Billion Dollar Grass..... 50,000 lbs.
Salzer's Pedigree Potatoes..... 1,000 bu.

Now such yields pay and you can have them, Mr. Farmer, in 1905.

SEND 10c IN STAMPS and this notice to the John A. Salzer Seed Co., La Crosse, Wis., and you'll get their big catalog and lots of farm seed samples free. [W. N. U.]

The action of Scott's Emulsion is no more of a secret than the composition of the Emulsion itself. ## A Grim Tragedy is daily enacted, in thousands of homes, as death claims, in each one, another victim of Consumption or Pneumonia. But when Coughs and Colds are properly treated, the tragedy is averted. F. C. Finally she took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, which cured her, and to-day she is well and strong." It kills the germs of all diseases. One dose relieves. A preacher voted that the saloon should be given license to ply its trade. Saloon did its legalized work, sold distilled death. Wendell Hauspenger, of Millington, came to Caro, entered saloon, drank, stupified followed, fell, blood congealed, died. How much of this unfortunate man's death is chargeable to the priest? Editor please answer. [That is a question to be answered only by the preacher to his maker.—Ed]

We save "Highland Genealogy" published in last issue of ENTERPRISE for our scrap-book. The author's name is not attached but we credit it to one born with the gift that he can knit together his thought in rhythmic sound never tintured with doggerel. We care not whether the poem is intended as a take off on Highland boast or no. Highlanders can speak of their land with pardonable pride for, it has stood the invasion of barbaric age, warlike Denmark and blood stained Albion, and yet its chivalrous sons may proclaim a truth, "The Highlands never were conquered."

Bro. of Reason, the only panacea for the condition you speak of is that much despised doctrine—Socialism Paul declared it two thousand years ago, that the love of money prompted all evil. The Catholic version reads, "for the desire of money is the root of all evils." The incentive must be destroyed or no power among men can make us honest. My neighbors with their definition of honesty may term me honest, but I am far from it at heart. I have a piece of swamp land, indications show there may be coal oil under the surface. Should it prove true I would engage the labor of a hundred men. If I made twenty-five cents per day on each man's toil and yet paid my men what they were willing to work for in a few years I would be rich, the men would be financially where they commenced. They had wrought, I had idled; they had remained poor, I had grown rich; my wife and children had revelled in wealth, theirs had seen want. By the surface minded I would be termed the Hon.—the man who brought the wealth into existence would be termed the common brood. Perhaps to gain a great name I would endow libraries, erect a great monument in a popular cemetery and have it chiseled over with lies to deceive the coming generations. But by what course of ethics have I a moral right to these laborer's earnings? To educate that one man has a right to another man's earnings is as false as Judge Taney's decision that one man was good enough to be the owner of another man. The above is but a mild picture of what is going on on a gigantic scale in this nation yearly. Individual ownership must cease or selfishness will banish honesty from among the people. Socialism must be established before the millennium will dawn upon us.

The institute was conducted by H. B. The farmers took a lively interest in discussing the topics and all went home feeling that it was a day profitably spent.

BILIOUSNESS AND CONSTIPATION CURED BY THE DRAUGHT

Because the liver is neglected people suffer with constipation, biliousness, headaches and fevers. Colds attack the lungs and contagious diseases take hold of the system. It is safe to say that if the liver were always kept in proper working order, illness would be almost unknown.

The Draught's Black-Draught is so successful in curing such sickness because it is without a rival as a liver regulator. This great family medicine is not a strong and drastic drug, but a mild and healthful laxative that cures constipation and may be taken by a mere child without possible harm.

The healthful action on the liver cures biliousness. It has an invigorating effect on the kidneys. Because the liver and kidneys do not work regularly, the poisonous acids along with the waste from the bowels get back into the blood and virulent contagion results.

Timely treatment with The Draught's Black-Draught removes the dangers which lurk in constipation, liver and kidney troubles, and will positively forestall the milder forms of Bright's disease, for which disease in advanced stages there is no cure. Ask your dealer for a 25c. package of The Draught's Black-Draught.

AFFECTION IN JAPAN.

It is Deep and Lasting, but, as a Rule, Not Outspoken.

Public demonstration of affection is most repugnant to the good taste of the Japanese, and it is the absence of this which is so generally mistaken for a lack of genuine feeling. I recall one man who was so devoted to his mother (though I doubt whether he could ever have been said to have "talked about" her) that when she died, while he was abroad, his depression was so profound that his husband watched him with anxiety lest he should commit suicide. The stoical training may render more unsympathetic a coarse nature, but expression to the refined soul brings an exquisite capacity for pain scarcely conceivable by those who are free to give utterance to every emotion.

Another man said to me, "I rarely speak of my mother, for a foreigner does not understand that a Japanese mother may be just as dear to her son as his to him and by the Japanese it is not expected that one should utter one's deepest feeling." That same son fainted with grief when his mother died and when consciousness returned rose to make light of a "little dizziness," without reference to its cause. To this day, whenever he goes from home, he carries with him his mother's letters, mounted on a beautiful roll of ivory and brocade, and on the anniversary of her passing beyond his mortal ken quietly devotes a portion of the day to meditation and special thought of her. Even to his wife, despite the closest bond of love, he says not, "This is the day of my mother's death."—Outlook.

Tired of Being Fired.

Peter was a good workman, but he would go on sprees. His employer was lenient, but when Peter turned up after having been absent for a couple of days without leave he discharged him. But Peter did not take his discharge seriously and went back to work as usual. Again he went on a spree, and again he was discharged and taken back. These little escapades had been repeated four or five times within a couple of years, when Peter walked into the shop one morning looking much the worse for his celebration. "See here," said the employer, "you are discharged." "Look here," said Peter, "I am tired of this. If I am fired again I'll quit the job." And he went on about his work and has not been "fired" since.—Philadelphia Record.

Some London Streets.

In some of the older and narrower streets and alleys of London may be seen at each end two upright posts. At first it might be supposed that they served no more useful purpose than affording material for children to swing on. But they are used to indicate that the streets which are guarded by the posts are closed to wheeled traffic. Some of the thoroughfares in the poorer parts of London are so narrow that a large vehicle would do serious damage if it were driven along them, and as they are generally short cuts would be much used were they not protected.

Doing One's Duty.

Let us do our duty in our shop or our kitchen, the market, the street, the office, the school, the home, just as faithfully as if we stood in the front rank of some great battle and we know that victory for mankind depended on our bravery, strength and skill. When we do that the humblest of us will be serving in that great army which achieves the welfare of the world.—Theodore Parker.

The doctor looks at your tongue, gives you a laxative medicine, and charges you well for it. You can judge by your tongue yourself when you need a laxative medicine, and for 25 cents you can get the best laxative known, which is Goldsmith's an "Irish black-guard."

Even the writers of editorials in the press were saluted with this hard saying: "What are these fellows doing? They only serve to cancel one another." A characteristic anecdote illustrates his cruel disposition, which provoked him to inflict pain even on a friend.

An artist who frequented Carlyle's house painted a picture of him in his dressing gown smoking a pipe by the fireside and Mrs. Carlyle, in an armchair sitting opposite him. The picture was hung at one of the Royal Academy's exhibitions and, though not a striking work of art, was purchased by Lord Ashburton, Carlyle's friend, for £500.

The delighted artist hurried off to the Carlyles, expecting congratulations on the sale and some manifestation of pleasure on their part at having such a value set on a picture of themselves and their domestic interior. He delivered his glad tidings, but all the response he received from Carlyle was: "Well, in my opinion, £500 was just £495 too much."

When to Exercise.

When to exercise is an important consideration. If the morning only is available the exercise should be light. Particularly is this the case if one is engaged in any work. The supply of energy must not be drawn from at the beginning of the day. The afternoon is perhaps the best time for exercise, when one has gained strength from the absorption of the morning and noon meals. Those who exercise rigorously at night should eat a midday dinner. Exercise should always precede bathing and not, as a rule, follow it. In this respect the ancient Greeks showed great wisdom. Exercise and bathing they called the two pillars of strength. Exercise was Hercules and bathing Apollo. Both were regarded with equal importance, and neither was complete without the other.

It's an outrage to put such nonsensical questions to children what's there to learn something useful. I'll look into that and let yer teacher know I ain't been elected on the school board for nothing!"—London Globe.

More to Come.

Bride—I feel awfully nervous. Mother—Pshaw! Don't take your first marriage so seriously. It doesn't have to last forever.—Town Topics.

THE BRIDE'S PORTION.

At One Time It Was Stated in the Wedding Announcement.

It was a common custom in the eighteenth century, especially during the reign of George II., to insert notices of marriage stating the bride's portion in contemporary periodicals and newspapers both in England and Scotland.

Almost every number of the Gentleman's Magazine at that time contained several of these records, of which the following, in 1731, is a specimen: "Married, the Revd. Mr. Roger Walna, of York, about twenty-six year of age, to a Lincolnshire lady, upwards of eighty, with whom he is to have £8,000 in money, £300 per annum, and a coach and four, during life only."

Sometimes the notice merely describes the bride as a lady with a "good portion" or a "gentle fortune." One of the latest notices was in Aris' Birmingham Gazette, July 14, 1800, which recorded the marriage of Mr. Canning, undersecretary of state, to Miss Scott, "with £100,000 fortune."—London Telegraph.

Butterflies and Moths.

Though butterflies and moths are found widely distributed all over the globe they are by far most abundant in the tropics. For instance, Brazil can show to the collector not less than 700 different species within an hour's walk of Para. There are not half as many in all Europe. In Britain there are 67 species, and in all Europe there are 300 different kinds. They are found as far north as Spitzbergen, on the Alps to a height of 9,000 feet and on the Andes up to 18,000 feet. As there are some 200,000 species it is easy to see why butterfly hunters are great travelers.

An Incident of History.

"Well Lizzie," she asked when she had finished, "what do you think of it?"

No Need to Speak to Him.

"Now, dear," said Mr. Polkley, who had just been accepted, "when shall I speak to your father?"

"You needn't bother," replied the dear girl. "Pa said he'd speak to me tomorrow if you didn't speak to me to-night."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Our brands are all ideal blendings of the purest coffees, selected carefully with reference to their drinking qualities, and each produces a pure, wholesome and delicious beverage.

CRUSTY CARLYLE.

An Anecdote Which Illustrates His Disagreeable Disposition.

Carlyle suffered from dyspepsia and disappointment. He was therefore neither oversympathetic in intercourse with his friends nor fair in his estimates of other writers.

Though he personally liked Tennyson, he spoke with impatience of his "cobbling his odes," dismissed Jane Austen's novels as "dish washings," Hallam, the historian, as "dry as dust," and Goldsmith as an "Irish black-guard."

Even the writers of editorials in the press were saluted with this hard saying: "What are these fellows doing? They only serve to cancel one another." A characteristic anecdote illustrates his cruel disposition, which provoked him to inflict pain even on a friend.

"Cause I couldn't find Moscow on the map."

"Couldn't find Moscow? And I'd like to know who could, then! Why, I remember hearing tell of Moscow being burned when I was a boy! It's an outrage to put such nonsensical questions to children what's there to learn something useful. I'll look into that and let yer teacher know I ain't been elected on the school board for nothing!"—London Globe.

TRUTH TRIUMPHS.

Life is a Conflict, and Error Dies in the Struggle.

Life is a struggle. Wars end, but the war of the race—the antagonism of thought, the strife between man, between man and the forces external to him, within the soul of the individual—ends not save it be with extinction.

Error gains many a temporary triumph, but the final victory is with truth. There is substance in truth that in the last balance outweighs error.

Nature's process is by test and trial, by unfolding, changing, ripping up, and redoing. By contrast and conflict she tries sincerity and treachery, honor and dishonor, fitness and unfitness, courage and cowardice, truth and error. The conflict of ideas between social and political systems and between creeds and philosophies is as rude as the conflict between the sea and land. Error dies in the struggle. From "Balance: The Fundamental Verity," by Orlando J. Smith.

Fatal Applause.

An English lady snake charmer named Leyton was performing at a village called Vaelhinger, in Rhenish Prussia, in a menagerie with a boa constrictor. This she permitted to coil round her neck and breast. Her courage met with thunders of applause from the spectators, who little dreamed that by their signs of approval they had sealed the poor charmer's death warrant. Such, however, proved to be the case, for, apparently infuriated at their demonstrations, the reptile tightened its coils and amid the shrieks of the public strangled the lady on the platform before anything could be done to assist her. The snake was immediately killed.

THE NEWS OF MICHIGAN.

EASY MONEY.

How Michigan Teachers Made a Bad Investment.

The failure of the Teachers' Library union of Chicago, which mulcted the teachers of many districts, proves to have been much more serious, as the fact is becoming known that the concern worked several counties with almost equal success and the loss to Michigan district and village school teachers may figure over $25,000.

The scheme, as represented to the teachers, was to give them an up-to-date course of reading, including history, sociology, science, literature and pedagogy, and reading circle books, which would ordinarily cost the teachers from $5 to $7 per year.

All this would be supplied in the local library to be furnished by the Chicago concern. The membership was placed at $17, $12 cash and $1.50 annually for three years. Certificates would be given the teachers after they had completed the course of reading, which would bring their credits at examinations, and besides it was said the membership would be transferable from one state to another as the organization would eventually become one of the greatest educational institutions in the country.

The Sealed Package. In the investigation of the death of N. S. Phelps, the Battle Creek financier, a package of papers labeled "To be opened after my death" was expected to enlighten the coroner's jury. Mrs. Phelps testified:

"My attention was first called to the package of papers when I found them the next morning after my husband's disappearance, when I found them among his papers.

"The package contained mostly insurance papers and receipts. It contained no personal communications to me or to any members of the family. The insurance policies were made to me. They were straight life insurance. I opened the package Friday evening, on my return from New York, where a telegram apprised me of the finding of the body. When I returned I quietly opened the package.

"There was nothing in the package that would throw any light upon or clear up the mystery of his death. I have received no personal letters addressed to him since his disappearance, and none of any importance. The accident policy for $10,000 was taken out Aug. 30, 1904, on the Employers' Liability Association of London, Eng. The premium was paid up for one year."

THE LEGISLATURE.

Work of the Session Now On

That struggles are coming on the subjects of taxation, primary reform, or, latterly, and so-called home rule are evident, though the primary matter is not clearly definite at the present time. Economy is a watchword and all seem to be imbued with it. If the members of the two houses do business promptly and are economical without parsimony, the record will be novel as well as satisfactory. The question is: Will it be a short and economical session?

Something will be done to abolish junkets, as they have been made heretofore. It is talked that the committees for various institutions can inspect them—each committee going to only the institution whose affairs it has in charge and pass directly on its needs, the cutting to be done before the ways and means committee. But there is the lobby which is sure to be large, aggressive and insistent. Yet it may be set back and there is no reason to believe that the members are going to yield to the lobbyist.

THE NEWS OF THE WORLD

LYING SPIES.

Deceived Stoesse, Which Hastened His Surrender.

Capt. Tsunoda, the Japanese staff officer who was sent to Port Arthur to inform Gen. Stoesse of the contents of the message of the emperor of Japan, saying that the garrison should be treated with the greatest consideration, says:

"Gen. Stoesse's first inquiry was about the whereabouts of Gen. Kuropatkin. I said I did not know exactly, but understood he was somewhere about Mukden.

"Gen. Stoesse remarked that he had heard from Gen. Kuropatkin October 6, saying he would come to relieve Port Arthur soon. Gen. Stoesse added that he had sent out Chinese spies, who returned and reported that Gen. Kuropatkin with a relieving army was at Kinchow, 20 miles north of Port Arthur. Gen. Stoesse was plainly incredulous at my statement that Gen. Kuropatkin had been defeated and driven back towards Mukden, so I produced maps, showed him the position of the two armies near the Shakkie river and gave Stoesse details of Kuropatkin's loss of 50,000 to 60,000 men, at which the Russian general expressed amazement and quickly remarked that he had been misled."

Deal With Freight Rates. President Roosevelt continued his conference with members of congress on the subject of tariff revision and of the powers of the interstate commerce commission. One statement which stands out almost with the pre-eminence of an official announcement, is that unless congress, at the present session, should enact legislation looking to a regulation of railroad freight rates, an extraordinary session of the fifty-ninth congress will be called by the president to deal with that problem.

The president regards the interstate commerce question as the paramount issue now before the American people. At the conference last Saturday he informed those whom he had summoned into consultation that, in his judgment, the question of railroad freight rates was far more important than that of the tariff, and that while he desired a readjustment of the existing customs duties, he would not permit any radical differences in the Republican party on that question.

He said definitely that he would call an extraordinary session of congress to consider interstate commerce legislation, unless definite action were taken by congress on the subject at the present session. At that session he hoped, tariff revision also might be accomplished.

Gen. Stoesse at Nagasaki. A dispatch from Nagasaki, Japan, says: The Japanese transport Kamakura has arrived from Port Dalry, Jan. 11, with Gen. Stoesse and Mme. Stoesse, two of the Russian commander's personal staff, seven others, two ladies and six orphan children were landed in three steam launches at the wharf, where they were received by a guard of 50 police and several officers of gen-darmes.

The Russian general was attired in a gray traveling overcoat and wore his sword. He looked well and walked with a steady step.

Some dozens of Russian officers, finding that their late chief was arriving, ran up from all directions and saluted in respectful silence. The party then entered the house. The closing act of the great drama, caused a feeling of sadness which was not dispelled by the glorious weather, beautiful surroundings and kind reception accorded to the Russians by the Japanese.

Outrage Failed. An unsuccessful attempt was made Tuesday by one or more criminals, to blow up the statue of Frederick the Great, recently presented to this government by the emperor of Germany, and now standing in the war college grounds, Washington.

A charge of explosives with lighted fuse was attached to the fence surrounding the statue, but was removed by an employe before it exploded. No damage resulted to the statue or to property or persons.

Prompt measures were taken to detain the perpetrators of the crime before they left the grounds, but they did not succeed.

The Spoil in Port Arthur. The Japanese legation has received a cablegram from Tokyo saying that Gen. Nogi reports that the delivery at Port Arthur has been completed. It includes the following:

Permanent forts, 50; guns, 546, of which 54 are of large caliber, 149 of med., 300 of small; 343 of small caliber; cannon balls, 82,670; ammunition, 30,000 kilos; rifles, 35,252; horses, 1,920; battleships, four, except Sevastopol, which is entirely sunk; cruisers, two; gunboats and destroyers, 14; steamers, 10, etc., besides small steamers, 35 of which will be serviceable after little repairs.

Winslow's Escape. Winslow was scorched Tuesday noon by the worst fire in her history, and one that had ever chance of spreading over a wide area, had it not been for the assistance given by the Detroit fireboat James Battle, which ran up alongside the coal dock and pumped whole drenching floods on the fire, bringing it under control about 12:30 o'clock, at a loss of about $80,000.

The Grand Rapids association of retail butchers propose to build a large packing house that will provide a market for all the live stock of northern Michigan.

Practically all large dry docks on the great lakes will be occupied this winter by vessels which are to be lengthened, and lengthening of steamers will be a continuous performance from now on.

The board of supervisors of Ingham has instructed Sheriff Steele to build a pen in the jail yard, where tramps will be required to break stone, with the alternative of eating bread and water.

NATIONAL CAPITAL NOTES.

Breeze in the House.

The impeachment charges against Judge Charles Swayne, of Florida, caused a dramatic scene in the house Thursday, Mr. Littlefield, of Maine, called on Mr. Lamar, of Florida, who filed the charges against the judge, to admit or repudiate an alleged interview which the former claimed tended to incite the people to commit an act of violence against Judge Swayne.

Lamar admitted giving an interview, but emphatically denied any suggestion from him that could be construed into advising assassination or murder. He said that although Judge Swayne was known to be the most lawless man in Florida, he had remained secure from bodily harm.

Lamar declared he stated in the interview "that if nothing appealed to Judge Swayne, neither law nor humanity, in his own lawless career, then I would point out to him the fact that his arbitrary and tyrannical act might result in some ill-ordered brain of some revengeful brain that suffered at his hands inflicting violence upon him."

Littlefield said it grieved him profoundly that a member of the house had preached "incitement to assassination and murder."

"I deny any suggestion of violence to Judge Swayne," exclaimed Lamar, who further said that if anyone used his language in the interview to impute that he suggested violence to Judge Swayne he would denounce it as a malicious falsehood.

Pension legislation at the rate of 450 bills in 108 minutes was introduced in the house Saturday, the result being the smashing of all previous records of the house as to legislative nimbleness. The beneficiaries of five of the bills have died since their relief measures have been on the house calendar. A widow of the war of 1812, Mrs. Rachel H.

Gorgeous Japanese Robes.
In number the diaphanous robes worn by a Japanese woman of high rank of the eleventh or twelfth century were seldom less than twenty, while on great occasions even more might be necessary. Thus at a great palace fete it is said that "some wore as many as twenty-five suits, showing glimpses of purple, of crimson, of grass green, of wild rose yellow and of sapphire brown, their sleeves and skirts decorated with golden designs, while others, by subtle commingling of willow sprays and cherry blossoms and by embroidered patterns picked out with gems, represented the poem of the jewels and the flowers."

Fathers and Sons.
Observers are struck with the camaraderie carried to the verge of equality which obtains between fathers and their schoolboy sons, so that their mutual companionship is a source of unfeigned pleasure to both and should prove a safeguard against many evils in the future. This is essentially a modern development and stands to the credit of the fathers of the present day.—London Spectator.

Shams and Realities.
The good man quietly discharges his duty and shuns ostentation; the vain man considers every deed lost that is not publicly displayed. The one is intent upon realities, the other upon semblance; the one aims to be good, the other to appear so.—Robert Hall.

To equal a predecessor one must have twice his worth.—Balthasar Gracian.
