

CASS CITY ENTERPRISE.

VOL. XXV. NO. 37.

CASS CITY, MICH., MARCH 22, 1906.

BY A. A. P. M'DOWELL

CASH BRINGS PRICES DOWN

Beginning March 10th, until further notice, we offer goods as follows:

|  |                       |
|--|-----------------------|
| 50c. Tea.....for 40c.                      | 40c. Tea.....for 30c. |
| 30c. Tea.....for 25c.                      | Cheese.....12c. a lb  |
| Johnson's Naphtha Soap.....7 bars for 25c. |                       |
| P. G. Naphtha Soap.....7 bars for 25c.     |                       |
| Oxford Soap.....12 bars for 25c.           |                       |
| Polo and Arc Soap.....15 bars for 25c.     |                       |
| Queen Anne Soap.....8 bars for 25c.        |                       |
| Jaxon Soap.....8 bars for 25c.             |                       |
| Lenox Soap.....8 bars for 25c.             |                       |
| Acme Soap.....8 bars for 25c.              |                       |
| 12 five cent boxes Matches.....10c. a can  |                       |
| Red Alaska Salmon.....10c. a can           |                       |

ALL CANNED GOODS REDUCED

|   |                                |
|---|--------------------------------|
| 10c. bottle of Catsup.....8c.                 |                                |
| 35c. Coffee in cans, sealed.....for 28c.      |                                |
| 30c. Coffee in cans, sealed.....for 25c.      |                                |
| 25c. Coffee in cans, sealed.....for 20c.      |                                |
| 20c. Coffee in cans, sealed.....for 16c.      |                                |
| Corn Starch.....1 lb. package.....5c.         |                                |
| Elastic Starch.....1 lb. package.....5c.      |                                |
| I. X. L.....1 lb. package.....8c.             |                                |
| Kingsford's Silver Gloss Starch.....8c.       |                                |
| 7 lbs. Bulk Starch for 25c.                   | Saleratus 4c. per lb. package. |
| 3 pkgs. Currants for 25c.                     | 3 pkgs. Raisins for 25c.       |
| Lamps at Cost. All Dry Goods at Cost.         |                                |
| Sugar, 20 lbs. for $1. Produce same as cash. |                                |

All fresh goods—nothing bought from north end grocery.

J. CORNELIUS.

Furniture and Carpets

Spring Stock on Hand. Call and Examine.

H. P. Lee

THE PEOPLE'S UNDERTAKER

Come in early . . . . .

And Select your Wall Paper. Our stock is larger and more complete than ever.

Window Shades, Moulding and Curtain Poles.

L. I. WOOD & CO., DRUGGISTS

Advertised Letters

Unclaimed letters in the Cass City Postoffice for the week ending 3-17-06: Mrs. C. A. J. 267. C. A. J. 267 (2). When calling for the above please mention advertised.

H. S. WICKWARE, P. M.

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought. Signature of J. C. Watson.

Low Settlers' Rates.

To points in Minnesota, North Dakota and the Canadian Northwest during March and April. For rates and particulars write H. W. STEINHOFF, Travelling Agent, Wisconsin Central R'y, Saginaw, W. S., Mich. 3-22-5

Notice to Creditors.

Notice is hereby given that all accounts due the estate of the late T. H. Fritz, must be settled on or before the 1st day of April. Call on Mrs. T. H. Fritz, Seeger Street.

GRANT L. FRITZ, Administrator. 3-1-5

Cass City Markets.

|  |  |
|--|--|
| Wheat No. 1 white.....77               |  |
| Wheat No. 2 red.....77                 |  |
| Oats No. 3 white new.....80            |  |
| Rye.....88                             |  |
| Barley.....80                          |  |
| Timothy Seed.....1 80                  |  |
| Beans, Hand picked.....1 15            |  |
| Fesa.....80                            |  |
| Clover seed.....7 00                   |  |
| Corn.....74                            |  |
| Hay, pressed, per ton.....6 00         |  |
| Butter.....17                          |  |
| Hogs, dressed per cwt.....6 50         |  |
| Live Hogs, per cwt.....5 50            |  |
| Beef, dressed per cwt.....6 00         |  |
| Sausage, live weight, per cwt.....3 00 |  |
| Lamb, per cwt.....6 00                 |  |
| Chickens, per lb.....8                 |  |
| Turkeys, per lb.....10                 |  |
| Ducks.....6                            |  |
| Geese, per lb.....6                    |  |
| Potatoes per bu.....40                 |  |
| Hides.....15                           |  |

|                                  |  |
|----------------------------------|--|
| White Lily, per cwt.....2 25     |  |
| Granular Flour, per cwt.....2 25 |  |
| Corn Meal, per cwt.....2 80      |  |
| Boiled Meal, per cwt.....2 00    |  |
| Feed, per cwt.....1 20           |  |
| Meal, per cwt.....1 30           |  |
| Bran, per cwt.....1 10           |  |
| Midlings, per cwt.....1 20       |  |
| Oil Meal, per cwt.....1 75       |  |

THEY DON'T BELIEVE IT

Bay City Operators Skeptical About Tuscola Coal.

Free Press. Bay City, Mich., March 14th.—Local coal operators are expressing themselves as amused at the stories emanating from Caro to the effect that an eleven-foot vein of coal exists in Tuscola county.

Handy Bros. and E. B. Foss & Co. have tested over Tuscola county for over two years and members of both firms, while refusing to say just what they found, state that if even a six or eight-foot vein had been found, operations for mining would have been begun long ago.

If an eleven-foot vein is found in Michigan, they say, it will be because the testing drill struck an upturned seam. The edge of the Michigan coal field runs in practically a straight line drawn from Sebawaing, on the bay shore, through Tuscola county to Jackson, and the heaviest veins thus far found, seven and seven and a half feet, lie in the western portion of Bay county, swinging toward the bay shore at the mouth of the Saginaw river, where an eight-foot vein has been found.

Handy Bros. deny that they will sink a shaft in Tuscola county within a few months. Their contemplated shaft will be sunk in Portsmouth township, east of the Bay City limits.

WANTED—An apprentice to learn the millinery trade. Mrs. M. J. McGillivray.

Saves $275,000.

Detroit Journal. In addition to demonstrating the superiority of American over German sugar making machinery the Peninsular Sugar Refining Co. of Detroit and Caro, Mich., is ahead $275,000 in cash and releases from claims involved in its suit against the A. Wernicke Machinery Co. of Germany, for damages.

Attorney Charles B. Warren, of Detroit, representing the Peninsular Sugar Refining Co., and Henry W. Taft, of New York, brother of Secretary of War Taft, representing the German company, made the settlement in New York late last week.

The A. Wernicke Co. built the Caro plant, which was found unsatisfactory, and was partially rebuilt by the Oxford Construction Co. of New York. The Peninsular company withheld $100,000 on the Wernicke contracts and $25,000 on extras, and demanded damages in addition. Under the settlement the Wernicke company will pay the Peninsular people $150,000 in cash and released claims $125,000. The case has been in the courts three years.

For any pain, from top to toe, from any cause, apply Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Pain can't stay where it is used.

APPLES wanted by—3-8. McCALLUM & Co.

Successful Convention.

The missionary convention and echo meeting held at the M. E. Church on Tuesday evening and yesterday, proved to be quite successful notwithstanding the severe and disagreeable weather which those who attended had to encounter. Dr. C. B. Steele, the presiding elder, attended the earlier sessions but was obliged to proceed to Bad Axe before the close of the convention. Among the visitors present were: Rev. and Mrs. W. T. Wallace, of Kingston; Rev. G. A. P. Grant, of Saginaw; Rev. A. Bryans, of Grant; Rev. Robt. Stephenson, of Shabbona; Rev. J. P. Cooper, of Caseville; Rev. O. J. Blackford, of St. Clair; Rev. and Mrs. Harding, of Deford; and Evangelist Moorehouse. Besides these was a goodly number of lay representatives from the various churches in the sub-district, and the sessions were full of interest to all.

Don's Regulets cure constipation without griping, nausea, nor any weakening effect. Ask your druggist for them. 25 cents per box.

SCHOOL NOTES.

It is rumored that three High School boys saved a penny.

I. B. is a little uncertain about the birth and death of Lincoln.

The third and fourth grades are longing for vacation to come.

Miss Leota Grigware has moved to Oxford. Our loss is her gain.

Chas. Schwaderer entertained the "It" club last Friday evening.

Miss Brooker was a visitor of the Kindergarten Wednesday morning.

Ask H. K. the difference between respiration and perspiration. This is not a conundrum.

Little Irma and Eva Johnson have moved to Dakota where they can enjoy several blizzards.

The fifth grade has been studying Hiawatha this term and are now able to recite nearly all of it.

F. S. Goodrich, M. A., will lecture at the M. E. Church, on Friday evening, March 30th. Everybody be sure and come. Price, 15 cents for children under 12 years; over 12 years, 25 cents.

As ye board of editors sit wearily working beneath the rays of a feeble kerosene lamp, while Old Boreas is trying to postpone the coming of the violets, the information reaches us that Supt. Sinclair and his unlucky class of thirteen have been manufacturing cyclonic weather during a recent test. The professor was even more successful than he knew. Wonder if his class were!

Monday, the jingle of many pennies was heard in the school building. Seventy four pupils made a total deposit of $32.78, fourteen pupils in the first and second grades having saved $10.88, or an average of $0.77 5-77 per pupil. The third and fourth grades were not to be outdone and also presented $10.88. A lively interest has sprung up among the pupils, and we think that the Savings Bank will encourage thrift and the saving of pennies.

Hear Prof. Goodrich on "A Living or a Life," at M. E. Church, Friday evening, March 30th. You can't afford to miss it. He comes to us most highly recommended both by those who have heard him and the press of the state. From Holly: "The attentive and appreciative audience can never forget his happy way of making and sustaining strong arguments by the use of illustrations chosen from history and his own observations in every day life. The community will hear with delight of the return of Prof. Goodrich to lecture on any subject at any future date."

Those having the art exhibit from the Michigan State Library in charge are very anxious to make it a success, both educationally and financially. We ask your patronage. All the gain will be turned into a fund to purchase pictures for the school. Representations of some of the world's masterpieces put one into sympathy with the great thoughts of the master hand. The committee will endeavor to intersperse an impromptu program sufficient to give rest and avoid weariness. The pictures are to be on exhibit from 1:30 to 5 p. m. each afternoon. Tickets may be purchased from any of the pupils.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Tuckey, east and north of town, entertained a company of their friends and neighbors on Tuesday evening of last week.

Mr. J. T. Wilson and children, of Wickware, left yesterday morning to visit relatives at Forest, Ont., before leaving for the northwest.

The Presbyterian Ladies Aid Society will serve tea next Wednesday evening in the Gillies building. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Lee and Mr. and Mrs. Seward Cooley, of Owendale, attended the missionary convention at the M. E. Church here yesterday.

Miss Mary Zinnecker returned on Tuesday from near Shabbona, where she has been engaged as nurse, and is now caring for Mrs. R. N. Mulholland.

A. D. Mead, who was called to Auburn, N. Y., to attend the funeral of an aunt, has returned home after a brief visit at Rochester, Albion and Niagara Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Wallace have moved to town and occupy a part of the residence of Mrs. Alex. Gillies, Mrs. Wallace's mother, on Leach Street north.

D. G. Schneider, the smithy at J. A. Renshler's shop, has been confined to his home, through illness. Emil Floto and Malcolm Baxter are assisting Mr. Renshler.

The Royal Neighbors gave a count-down box social at Forester Hall last Friday evening, and were favored with a good attendance. All had a good time and the proceeds amounted to about $14.

A farewell party was given on Tuesday evening to Mr. and Mrs. Chas. S. Bixby, northwest of town, previous to their moving to town. They will occupy the F. A. Ellis residence, Oak Street north.

A quite wedding took place last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. F. Scuphohn, two miles south and a half mile east of town, last evening, when their daughter, M. Jennie Scuphohn, was united in marriage to Henry Becker, Jr. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. W. Fenn, in the presence of the immediate relatives. Mr. Becker will leave for the Canadian west next week, on a prospecting tour, and expects to locate there.

Local Happenings.

Mrs. C. W. Heller was taken quite seriously ill last week.

Paul Deford, of Caseville, did business here on Saturday.

The township board has been in session a part of this week.

Mrs. C. W. Hulbert, of Leonard, has been visiting friends here.

Miss Hazel Lee, of Gageton, visited relatives here on Saturday.

Miss Elsie Murphy has returned to Vassar for the millinery season.

I. B. Auten and O. K. James made a business trip to Caro on Friday.

The Model has a new advertisement in this issue. Note its contents.

N. Gable left on Monday for prospecting tour through Oklahoma.

F. E. Manley, of Ellington, was a pleasant caller in town on Friday.

M. A. Parent has been entertaining a brother and sister from Bad Axe.

Moses Karr, of Gageton, spent Sunday evening with friends in town.

Chas. Brink, of Lake Osego, spent a part of the week as the guest of H. P. Lee.

Mrs. Alex. Gillies left for Detroit on Tuesday to visit her daughter, Mrs. F. H. Newberry.

W. H. Ruhl, the tailor, spent Sunday as the guest of Miss Addie Murdock, at Minden City.

Mrs. Ruth Gamble, of Marinette, Wis., is spending a few days with old-time friends here.

Thos. H. Boyd left last Friday for Glencoe, Ont., to visit a sister, who contemplated removing to Manitoba.

A Republican caucus for the township of Elkland will be held at the Town Hall on Monday, March 26th, at two o'clock.

Mrs. M. Metcalf will move to the Boulton residence, corner of Houghton and Leach Streets, just vacated by C. S. Bixby.

Jos. Grigware, late station agent at Gageton, has been changed to Oxford. Elmer E. Lee, of Caro, is the new agent at Gageton.

Mrs. M. J. McGillivray returned on Tuesday from Detroit, and Miss McNall, her millinery trimmer, arrived the same evening.

Mrs. R. N. Mulholland's illness, previously mentioned, has proven to be an attack of typhoid fever, and she has been quite critically ill.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Tuckey, east and north of town, entertained a company of their friends and neighbors on Tuesday evening of last week.

Mr. J. T. Wilson and children, of Wickware, left yesterday morning to visit relatives at Forest, Ont., before leaving for the northwest.

The Presbyterian Ladies Aid Society will serve tea next Wednesday evening in the Gillies building. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Lee and Mr. and Mrs. Seward Cooley, of Owendale, attended the missionary convention at the M. E. Church here yesterday.

Miss Mary Zinnecker returned on Tuesday from near Shabbona, where she has been engaged as nurse, and is now caring for Mrs. R. N. Mulholland.

A. D. Mead, who was called to Auburn, N. Y., to attend the funeral of an aunt, has returned home after a brief visit at Rochester, Albion and Niagara Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Wallace have moved to town and occupy a part of the residence of Mrs. Alex. Gillies, Mrs. Wallace's mother, on Leach Street north.

D. G. Schneider, the smithy at J. A. Renshler's shop, has been confined to his home, through illness. Emil Floto and Malcolm Baxter are assisting Mr. Renshler.

Next Sunday will be missionary Sunday at the Presbyterian Church. The topic for the morning service will be: "The Christian a foreign missionary." The evening subject will be: "China as a mission field."

John Vance and John Kirkpatrick and their families, from south of town, leave this afternoon for the Canadian west, going by the way of Bay City and Sault Ste. Marie. They will stop first at Portage la Prairie.

Mr. and Mrs. Rich. Parr, Main Street east, entertained a merry gathering last Thursday evening, in honor of their son, Jonathan, who left for Calgary, Canada, on Tuesday of this week, after spending several weeks here.

Rev. O. Y. Schneider, who has been pastor of the Evangelical Church at Snover, for some time, has been obliged to resign on account of poor health and will move to Cass City, having leased the M. G. Flynn residence, corner of Third and Ale Streets.

A company of Foresters and Companions turned out last Thursday evening and gave a very pleasant surprise to Mr. and Mrs. I. K. Reid, northwest of town. They have each been very efficient officers and were given substantial recognition for their faithful services.

On Friday, Dr. A. McLean, of Detroit, performed two delicate surgical operations in Elmwood township, for local physicians. Mrs. John Leishman, who has been under the care of Dr. M. M. Wickware, of this place, for some time, and Mrs. Thos. Jackson, who has been treated by Dr. Wm. Morris, of Gageton, each had tumors removed. Both operations were quite successful and speedy recovery is expected.

While visiting in New York State recently, A. D. Mead came into possession of two very old newspapers—one a copy of the Chenango Weekly Advertiser, dated at Norwich, Feb. 27, 1812, and the other a copy of The Volunteer, Norwich, Dec. 20, 1814. In both papers appeared very strong political productions, as those were troublesome times, and as the old style is used, resembling f, they cannot be read at a glance.

There will be a Township Caucus at the Town Hall, Cass City, on Saturday, March 24th, at two o'clock, for the purpose of placing in nomination candidates for the several township offices and the transaction of such other business as may lawfully come before said meeting. The committee, believing that Republican and Democratic politics have nothing to do with township affairs, request all citizens interested in the welfare of this township, to turn out to this caucus and give it their support.

Torture by Savages. "Speaking of the torture to which some of the savage tribes in the Philippines subject their captives, reminds me of the intense suffering I endured for three months from inflammation of the Kidneys," says W. M. Sherman, of Onshing, Me. "Nothing helped me until I tried Electric Bitters, three bottles of which completely cured me." Cures Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Blood Disorders and Malaria; and restores the weak and nervous to robust health. Guaranteed by E. Ryan, Cass City; F. A. Francis, Kingston. Price 50c.

LOST—On Monday, March 19th, on Main Street, Cass City, a pair of gold-bowed glasses. Please leave at this office or with A. E. Boulton. 3-22-1*

WOOL AND COTTON.

Tests and Suggestions to Remember When Buying Goods.

The difference between wool and cotton is very great and in the case of separate threads of each is plainly apparent, yet when these same threads are closely interwoven some good judges are mistaken and buy a mixed cotton and wool goods, firmly convinced that there is not a thread of cotton in the cloth. It is the custom of all mills that manufacture cotton and wool mixtures to run the cotton crosswise in the looms, thus leaving the wool to run lengthwise. This is done for two purposes—first, to impart the glossy appearance which the longer stretch of wool gives when run in the length of the goods, and, second, because the proportion of cotton is necessarily less and more difficult to detect. The cotton thread, of course, is much smaller and very difficult to distinguish in a closely woven fabric. There is one infallible test, however.

Take the bolt of goods at the cut end and examine closely the crosswise thread, slowly pulling it apart. If it breaks almost evenly and comes apart slowly, then one is safe in judging it to be all wool. If, on the contrary, it breaks in short, uneven strands and falls apart easily, refuse to accept the goods, for they are undeniably cotton and will not give satisfaction. It were far better to get all cotton or all wool.—Men and Women Magazine.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS.

Council Rooms, Cass City, Mich., March 15, 1906.

Special meeting of the council called to order by the president. The following trustees were present: Striffler, McKenzie, Campbell and Hall.

The purpose of the meeting being to declare the result of the village election held in the council room on Monday, March 12, 1906, the clerk read the following report of the board of election inspectors.

Total number of persons having voted, 60.

Total number of votes given for president, 55, of which John C. Corkins received 51 and J. I. Striffler 4.

Total number of votes given for treasurer, 56, of which Charles L. Robinson received 56.

Total number of votes given for trustees, 170, of which William J. Campbell received 57, James W. Heller 55, and Richard Clarke 58.

Total number of votes given for assessor, 56, of which Egbert B. Landon received 56.

Moved by Campbell supported by Striffler that as John C. Corkins had received a majority of all the votes given for president he be declared elected to the office of president. Carried.

Moved by McKenzie supported by Hall that as Herbert F. Lenzner had received a majority of all the votes given for clerk he be declared elected to the office of clerk. Carried.

Moved by Striffler supported by McKenzie that as Charles L. Robinson had received a majority of all the votes given for treasurer he be declared elected to the office of treasurer. Carried.

Moved by Striffler supported by Hall that as William J. Campbell, James W. Heller and Richard Clarke had received the three highest numbers of votes given for the office of trustee they each be declared elected to the office of trustee for two years. Carried.

Moved by Campbell supported by McKenzie that as Egbert B. Landon had received a majority of all the votes given for assessor he be declared elected to the office of assessor. Carried.

On motion of Striffler supported by Campbell council adjourned.

C. G. MATZEN, Clerk.

Go to J. N. Dorman's Southside Grocery for Fresh Groceries and Home-made Baking.

An apprentice girl wanted at Mrs. J. Tennant's, to learn Dressmaking.

Water color paper and mounting board for sale at this office.

Election Notice. To the Electors of the Township of Elkland, County of Tuscola, State of Michigan: Notice is hereby given that the next ensuing general election will be held at the Town Hall, Cass City, within said township on Monday, April 2, 1906, at which election the following officers are to be chosen, viz: One supervisor; one clerk; one treasurer; one highway commissioner; one justice of the peace full term; one school inspector. Full term, one school inspector to fill vacancy; one member of the board of review, full term; four constables.

SPECIAL ELECTION NOTICE. Notice is further hereby given that in pursuance of resolution of the Board of Supervisors of the County of Tuscola, passed at the October session, 1905, whereby said Board of Supervisors determined it necessary to raise by loan the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars for the purpose of repairing, rebuilding, improving and enlarging the court house of said county, there will be submitted to the electors, at the time and place aforesaid, the question of raising by loan the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars for repairing, rebuilding and enlarging the court house of said county.

SPECIAL ELECTION NOTICE. Notice is further hereby given that at the time and place aforesaid a special election will be held for the purpose of voting upon the question of holding a convention for the purpose of making a general revision of the constitution of the State of Michigan. Ballots separate and distinct from any and all ballots containing the names of nominees for public offices and relating to amendments to the constitution will be provided after the following form in part: Shall a convention for the purpose of a general revision of the constitution be held? (Yes.)

Shall a convention for the purpose of a general revision of the constitution be held? (No.) It shall be the duty of the election inspectors to see that each elector before entering the booth is furnished with a ballot relative to the calling of such convention and that such electors are informed of the nature and purpose of said ballot and each elector shall be required on coming out of the booth to produce and hand such inspectors the ballot relating to such revision who shall place the same in the ballot-box prepared for that purpose.

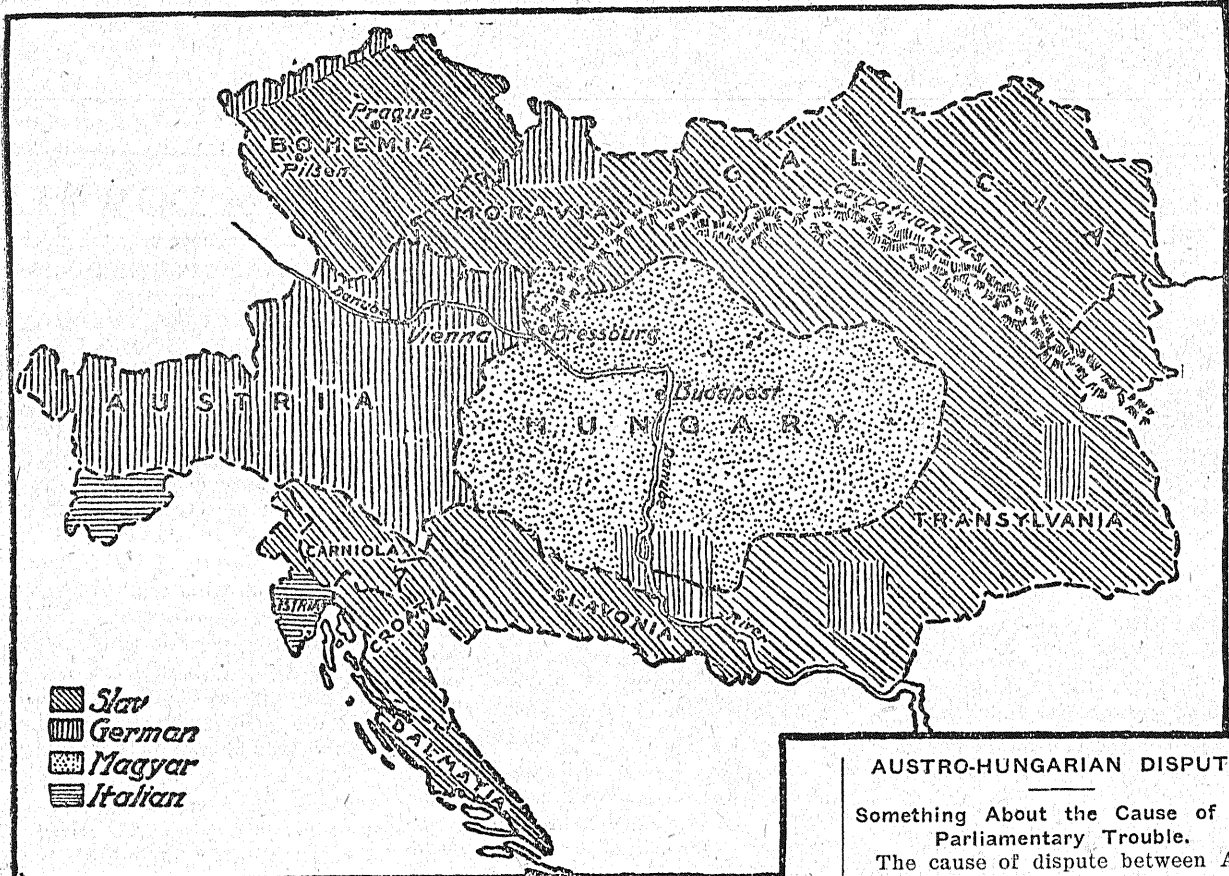

NOTICE OF PARTY ENROLLMENT. Notice is further hereby given that at the time and place above designated, the board of election inspectors will make an enrollment of persons voting at said election who apply for enrollment as members of any political party under the provisions of Act No. 181, Public Acts of Michigan for 1905, and no person shall vote at the primary election to be held on the second Tuesday of June, A. D. 1906, unless he be so enrolled, except as otherwise provided in said Act No. 181.

The polls of said election will open at 7 o'clock in the forenoon and will remain open until 9 o'clock p. m. of said day of election, unless the board of election inspectors shall adjourn the polls at 12 o'clock, noon, for one hour.

By order of the board of election inspectors. Dated this 15th day of March, A. D. 1906. H. F. LENZNER, H. F. LENZNER, Clerk of Said Township.

3-23-2

In Franz Josef's Troubled Land

MAP OF AUSTRIA-HUNGARY.

Distribution of the different races is shown by the lines and dots. Four languages are spoken in the territory covered by the dual government, and the key illustrates where each preponderates.

Susan B. Anthony and Her Work for Equal Suffrage

Susan B. Anthony was one of America's famous women. She was known in every state in the Union, and her fame reached to all the great capitals of Europe as the most able leader in the woman suffrage movement in the world. She was known for her earnestness, her singleness of purpose, her courage, and her cheerfulness under defeat. She gave woman a place in the United States that woman did not occupy in 1853, when she scandalized a whole community by daring to speak in public of the wrongs of her sex.

Today American women are envied by those of all other nations, and stand comparatively free individuals, with the exception of political disabilities. During the fifty years which have wrought this revolution, just one woman in all the world (Susan B. Anthony) gave every day of her time, every dollar of her money, every power of her being to secure this result. She was impelled to this work by no personal grievance, but solely through a deep sense of the injustice which, on every side, she saw perpetuated against her sex, and which she determined to combat. Never for one short hour was the cause of woman forgotten or put aside for any other object. Never a single tie was formed, either of affection or business, which would interfere with this supreme purpose. Never a speech was given, a trip taken, a visit made, a letter written in all this half century, but that was done directly in the interest of this one object. There was no thought of personal comfort, advancement, or glory; the self-abnegation, the self-sacrifice, was absolute and unparalleled.

Many Chances to Wed.
Next to woman's suffrage, if there was one live question in the world upon which Miss Anthony had decided opinions it was upon matrimony. She had so many chances to wed that she didn't remember all who asked her.

Miss Anthony had one beau who wore a green waistcoat, but that is about all she does remember of him. Once, in telling of other chances to marry, she said:

"Oh, they'd come shining around. It was the thing to go to meeting with them, and to all the socials and spelling bees, and sleigh riding and buggy riding, and the girls counted how many horses and buggies were hitched in front of another girl's house at one time. What do you call them now? Oh, yes—scamps. In those days men in general were afraid of a woman who wrote a book, and one who taught school was only a little better off. If a woman got the reputation of having brains it was bad for her matrimonial chances. The men were afraid of petticoat government, and it took a good many smiles and bright colors and curls to overcome this.

"Still, I had my share. I'll tell you, I've always been busy, and men were always secondary.

"They are all dead now, so none of them can feel hurt. I would have been a widow, no matter which I had married."

Her First Convention.
Miss Anthony attended her first woman's rights convention in Syracuse, N. Y., in 1852. At that meeting she displayed the tendency to speak out her exact thoughts, which have Kaiser's Daughter a Favorite.

The only daughter of the German emperor is the youngest of seven children. She is 13 years of age and is "tall, angular and pale." This young lady is called affectionately Princesschen by the people, and is said to be the only one of the kaiser's children who ever dares to take any liberties with the august head of the family. It is said that on one occasion the emperor said: "My daughter often forgets that I am German emperor, but she never forgets that she is princess royal."

furnished entertaining stories for fifty years.
Mrs. Oakes Smith, a fashionable Boston woman of the day, was named for president. Mrs. Smith appeared at the convention in a low-necked, short-sleeved white dress with a fancy saque of pink tulle.

Quaker James Mott nominated her for the office, and this was more than Quaker Susan B. Anthony could stand. She rose in her place and said boldly that no woman dressed in the frivolous fashion of Mrs. Smith could represent the earnest, hard-working women of the country, who, Miss Anthony believed, were asking the ballot. She carried the day, and Mrs. Lucretia Mott was elected president of the association.

Not long after that Miss Anthony attended a second woman's meeting, at which the speakers had such weak, piping voices that they did not reach beyond a few front seats. Miss Anthony got up and said: "Mrs. President, I move that hereafter the papers shall be given to someone to read who can be heard."

Squelches Horace Greeley.
From the beginning of her work Miss Anthony had the friendship and support of Horace Greeley. He enjoyed, however, an occasional controversial tilt with her, and in one notable instance she had much the best of it. "Miss Anthony," said Greeley, in his drawing monotone, "you know the ballot and the bullet go together. If you vote, are you ready to fight?" "Yes, Mr. Greeley," Miss Anthony retorted instantly. "Just as you fought in the late war at the point of a goose quill."

At the Empress' Reception.
When Miss Anthony was in Berlin several years ago she attended a reception given by the empress of Germany. Miss Anthony insisted on standing. The empress was standing. Why shouldn't she stand? Everybody else sat down, but she stood up under her 84 years and said she intended standing until the empress took her seat. A moment later a court functionary, splashed from head to foot with brass and gold bread, came up to the suffragist and said:

"Her majesty requests that you will be seated."

Miss Anthony sat down, but presently bobbed up again, and explained to the others present that maybe it wasn't respectful to sit in the presence of royalty.

But no sooner had the kind old "Aunt Susan" arisen than the "major domo," as she called him, came bowing back, and in the choicest German, said:

"Her majesty says she will be much distressed if you do not sit."
Miss Anthony sat down and remained sitting until the empress came up to her, and bidding her good-by, wished her a pleasant stay in Berlin. After Miss Anthony had "escaped" from the place and had returned to her friends at the hotel, they, having never seen an empress outside a picture book, began asking what she looked like. One said, "Did you kiss her hand?"

"Kiss her hand?" asked Miss Anthony. "No. Should I have done it? I just bowed my head and told her I was a Quaker, and didn't know much about court etiquette, and she gently told me to follow my own customs."

Two Clever Retorts.
Archbishop Temple had a ready wit. A fussy curate once asked him if an accident which prevented the curate's aunt from taking a ship, which afterward sank, was an instance of providential interference. Here's the retort: "Can't tell; didn't know your aunt." More unkind is the reply which Talleyrand is reported to have made to a friend who was lying on a sick bed. "I am suffering the tortures of the damned," said the afflicted man. "What, already?" said Talleyrand, with polite incredulity.

AUSTRO-HUNGARIAN DISPUTE.

Something About the Cause of the Parliamentary Trouble.

The cause of dispute between Austria and Hungary is of long standing and must be settled by complete surrender on one side or the other, says the New Orleans Times-Democrat. It was brought about by opportunists, who, after the manner of that school of politicians, in reaching the compact in 1867, left disputes which they had not the courage to settle to the settlement of posterity. When the compact was formed in 1867 there were several points of disagreement, the chief of which referred to the military prerogatives of the crown. In the drawing up of that compact, from which was born the dual monarchy, Koloman Tisza, father of the present Count Tisza, one of the Hungarian leaders, insisted on the introduction of the Hungarian language of command in the army and the development of a separate Hungarian army. But the king was unalterably opposed to this and Deak and Andrássy the elder, great men of Hungary at that time, saw that the compact was about to be wrecked, and they made a bridge of the word "constitutional," which was meant to be ambiguous. Ambiguity has always been the mother of strife and it has proved to be so in this case. Hungarians were to understand that the royal prerogatives in respect of the army were to be exercised under "constitutional" that is to say, parliamentary control, while the king was expected to believe that these military prerogatives in respect of the Hungarian part of the army were constitutional in the sense of being recognized by Hungarian constitutional law, but not essentially different from the military prerogatives of the emperor of Austria. This is a statement of the case recently made by M. Kossuth, according to the London Times. The Hungarian leader admits that the phrase was intentionally made ambiguous, and he added that Hungary had since been living in a constitutional fool's paradise and now she saw the constitution tumbling about her ears.

It seems a small thing to demand that the words of command in an army shall be in one's own language, but it is to be remembered that the Magyar language is not the language of Hungary, though it is the dominant one, as the Magyar is the dominant race. There are Czech, Polish and other races who constitute about one-half of the population to whom the Magyar language is anathema, and who would much prefer that the German words of command should be used in the army. The Magyars and the Jews of Hungary are in close combination and stand firmly together on all political questions. Together they elect a majority of the members of the diet, because they possess more generally the privilege of the franchise. When the parliament meets its temper will be such that it will probably be dissolved by royal command, or at least by order of Premier Fejervary, who has already received authority from the emperor-king to that end. Then is expected to come a revolution.

This is one of the sticks of dynamite which have been lying around loose in Europe for a long time, awaiting the spark which is to set it off. The aged emperor, while naturally conciliatory, has fully made up his mind on this subject, and it appears that the Magyars have as fully made up theirs. Should revolution result, the trouble would not be confined to the limits of the dual kingdom in all probability, for the neighboring nations have long since had an eye on the prospective carcass of the empire, upon the death of aged Franz Josef, and Russia, Germany, Italy and perhaps other states, would demand a hand in whatever settlement is to be reached.

Saved Life by Strategy.
Sir Harry Johnston, the famous explorer, once escaped from a very tight corner in Africa by a queer stratagem. A score or two of murderous natives had surrounded his tent, into which, before rushing it, they sent an envoy. The envoy was told the simplest was in the camp and a wretched Albino was sent out as the awful example. In five minutes the scared tribesmen had vanished. As Sir Harry well knew, they feared the "white disease" more than all the inventions of Max-

He Was Not a College Boy.
Representative Fitzgerald of Brooklyn overheard an amusing dialogue on his way home from the House of Representatives the other evening. He boarded a Georgetown car, the conductor of which was about 50 years old and anything but an Adonis. When the car reached Fourteenth street, within a stone's throw of the Eagle Bureau, an elderly woman ran up and shouted: "Conductor, oh, conductor, do you (meaning the car) go to Georgetown College?"

The collector of nickels looked at her a few seconds and then gave two bells. As the car started, leaving the woman in the middle of the street, the conductor turned and asked: "Madam, do I look like a student?"—Washington Star.

Woman Wear Imitation Jewels.
"Never have I known such a craze for imitation jewelry as now," was the remark of the manager of one of the big city department stores, and it only needs a glance to see that in a store where the crowds are greatest the imitation jewelry lies.

"We can't supply the demand," went on the manager, "and I know it is the case not alone with us, but even more so with those firms who make a specialty of selling it alone. Jewelers who have for years been in the business have told me that their trade has suffered greatly from this cause. Such art and skill have entered into its manufacture that in many cases it can't be told from the real."

Expert Liars.
Mme. Isabelle Massieu, an explorer, who has just returned to Europe from a journey in Annam, in Indo China, says she has met the most accomplished liars in the world. One chief told her that he had seen an English vessel so large that his father, who was a young man when he started to walk down the deck, had white hair before he reached the mainmast. Thereupon another chief remarked that there were trees in France so tall that a bird took ten years to reach the top.

ROUTED THE TIGER WITH MAP.

Presence of Mind Saved Life of English Surveyor.

How an English surveyor routed a Malay tiger, with no other weapon than a rolled-up map, is told by the Straits Times of Singapore: "While a well-known local surveyor, who had been kept out late at work on Saturday night, was driving in a rikisha along Tampenis road, about 7:30 o'clock, his rikisha coolie suddenly dropped the shafts and ran for his life into the edge of the jungle. On peering into the darkness—the vehicle was not carrying a light—the gentleman saw a large creature standing in the middle of the road. He got out of the rikisha and went towards the beast, thinking it some large dog that had frightened the coolie. When within six or seven yards he perceived that the brute was a large tiger.

"He had no weapon except a large district survey map rolled up. He saw the futility of attempting to disable the tiger with the rolled-up map, but the thought struck him that he might manage to frighten it by means of his roll. Suddenly he unrolled it with a quick flip, spreading it to its full area of four or five feet square. With a single bound the tiger cleared off into the jungle.

"The next thing was to find the coolie, who eventually was discovered in a state of collapse in the ditch. He was unable to pull his fare back and it was not until three or four miles had been traversed with both men on foot that he recovered sufficiently to pull the European home."

Beginning Right.
"I hope," said the serious looking man in the street car, as he turned to his fellow passenger on the left—"I hope you resolved to begin the new year right?"

"I did, sir," was the reply.
"That is well. That is what I like to hear. You got up on the morning of the first feeling that a new year had dawned—that there was a new era in your life?"
"That was it, sir."
"You girded on your armor, so to speak, reared aloft the banner of reform, and began the year 1906 by resolving to lead a different life?"
"Well, yes, it amounted to that."
"But you resolved?"
"O, certainly. Yes, sir. I resolved that my old woman had got to stop nagging and sniveling about my running out nights or there would be a row, and I told her in plain English, and now I can stay out until 2 in the morning, and all she says when I come in is to want to know if I made a miss of it and didn't get my usual jag on. It's a great thing, sir, having a new year come around once in a while.—Baltimore American.

His Labor Over.
"The civil service," said Senator Knox, "is not what it used to be. Merit counts in it as in business now and industry and intelligence are the qualities that bring success."

"It was not always so. I remember meeting a man on Pennsylvania avenue one morning many years ago. It was late. He was all dressed up. Plainly he was taking a day off.
"Well," he said, as we conversed, "I worked mighty hard during the last three months trying to get a civil service appointment, but I'm going to take it easy now."
"Failed through lack of influence, I suppose?" said I.
"No, no," said he, "I've got the appointment."
"And he resumed his pleasant stroll."

He Was Not a College Boy.
Representative Fitzgerald of Brooklyn overheard an amusing dialogue on his way home from the House of Representatives the other evening. He boarded a Georgetown car, the conductor of which was about 50 years old and anything but an Adonis. When the car reached Fourteenth street, within a stone's throw of the Eagle Bureau, an elderly woman ran up and shouted: "Conductor, oh, conductor, do you (meaning the car) go to Georgetown College?"

The collector of nickels looked at her a few seconds and then gave two bells. As the car started, leaving the woman in the middle of the street, the conductor turned and asked: "Madam, do I look like a student?"—Washington Star.

Woman Wear Imitation Jewels.
"Never have I known such a craze for imitation jewelry as now," was the remark of the manager of one of the big city department stores, and it only needs a glance to see that in a store where the crowds are greatest the imitation jewelry lies.

"We can't supply the demand," went on the manager, "and I know it is the case not alone with us, but even more so with those firms who make a specialty of selling it alone. Jewelers who have for years been in the business have told me that their trade has suffered greatly from this cause. Such art and skill have entered into its manufacture that in many cases it can't be told from the real."

Expert Liars.
Mme. Isabelle Massieu, an explorer, who has just returned to Europe from a journey in Annam, in Indo China, says she has met the most accomplished liars in the world. One chief told her that he had seen an English vessel so large that his father, who was a young man when he started to walk down the deck, had white hair before he reached the mainmast. Thereupon another chief remarked that there were trees in France so tall that a bird took ten years to reach the top.

HORTICULTURE

What to Plant.

At this time of year a great many are looking over the catalogues and wondering what grape vines and other small fruits to plant. Every variety is highly recommended, and the amateur is likely to want a few of each variety. Here is where he makes his mistake. Had I planted fewer varieties and tested one, I might have been better situated. Out of 75 varieties of grapes that I am fruiting, I would not recommend more than six for commercial purposes. The others are only good for exhibition or for experiment stations. This will hold good in nearly all kinds of small fruits. Strawberries are about the same. Of the several varieties I have growing, five comprise the really good ones. Soil and conditions of culture must be taken into consideration, for every one growing strawberries will find out that they are very greatly influenced by the locality in which they grow. The strawberry that does well on light soils may not thrive on the heavy soils. The grower must study his soil as well as his varieties. The best strawberry I ever grew would not sell on account of a white tip. I have now discarded it. People buy fruit by the eye and not by quality. As to gooseberries and currants, there is no use in planting the small kinds, as the public is demanding the larger varieties regardless of quality. Of grapes I would plant the following: Moore's Early, Worden, Concord, Niagara, Woodruff Red. Of strawberries I would recommend Warfield, Senator Dunlap and Aroma. Of gooseberries I would plant Downing. The best currants for this part of Illinois are Pomona and Cherry.—J. W. Cogdall, Sangamon Co., Ill.

Trees on Unprepared Land.
I think just as good results can be secured on unprepared land as in any ground, providing the trees are properly set out and the grass and soil kept away from around the roots and the tree. The ground about the tree must be properly hoed or cultivated during the following summer or a heavy mulch placed around it. The proper way, and in fact the only way, for such ground is to use a tamping bar to firm the soil around the roots when setting the tree. The dirt cannot be tramped firm enough with the feet. Of course care must be used to have plenty of fine dirt around the roots, so that the tamping bar does not bruise or skin them. In setting a tree, especially in the spring, too much care cannot be used to get the soil firm around the roots. It should be as solid as a gate post, with the soil loose at the top of the ground.—A. N. Draper, Madison Co., Ill.

Spring Setting.
Any fruit trees or vines and shrubbery may be set out in the spring of the year after the frost is out of the ground, providing the ground is not too wet up to May 15th. All stock should be healed in or planted immediately after receiving the same. No small nursery stock should be planted when the ground puddles.—F. D. Clavey, Lake Co., Ill.

Horticultural Notes.
The orchard on the loamy hill-top cannot be cultivated often or the soil will wash.

The farmer's garden is one of the most profitable spots on the farm. Some one says that horticulture is the poetry of agriculture. Farmers are becoming more interested in horticulture.

Dehorning.
As a rule we do not dehorn our mature cows here. Practically all of them are pure-bred animals of the beef breeds, and we do not consider it desirable to dehorn them. We do not have a strictly dairy herd here, although we are building one up from the native stock. We shall expect to dehorn dairy cows when the occasion arises. Experiments conducted at the Pennsylvania Experiment Station several years ago showed that there was practically no loss occasioned by dehorning a herd of Guernseys. I have had no experience with Arreshores. Farmers generally here do not dehorn their cows, but steers are usually dehorned, either when they are calves by the use of potash or when mature by sawing off the horns or using clippers. The use of potash is more humane than cutting off the horns and much to be preferred.—John Fields, Director Oklahoma Experiment Station.

Pekin Ducks.
There is nothing that I have ever raised on the farm that requires so little change of diet and general care as a Pekin duck. Bran and shorts, mixed in equal parts, make the best feed I can get. To this I add a good handful of sand to a gallon of feed. I find that it pays to mix in a good sprinkling of meat scraps every few days for the breeders. Turnips cooked tender make a good change. I always give the breeders plenty of room in which to exercise, and this I count of very great importance. I have never been able to see that the meat feed was of any particular advantage to growing ducks, but I believe that it is important in the feed of the breeders.—J. J. Burnside, Parke County, Ind.

Fence the fowls against all marauding animals.

AMERICAN SPEECH IS UNIFORM.

Many Different Languages and Striking Dialects in Great Britain.

It has been observed that the language spoken in the United States is remarkably uniform. True, there are many dialects, but Great Britain, less in area than any of half a dozen states, contains such very different languages as English, Welsh and the Gaelic of the Scottish highlands, to say nothing of the provincial dialects of Cornwall and Yorkshire and the unique speech of the London cockney, while in this country, its settlement by Spanish, French, Dutch and Swedish colonists and its millions of immigrants drawn from nearly every country, large and small, all over the world, there is far greater uniformity of speech than in any other land of equal area and population.

The causes can be readily seen. The public schools have made this a nation of readers and the press has supplied books and papers without limit. Press associations have done their part toward giving a uniform and fairly good tone to the newspaper language of the day. The telegraph, the telephone and cheap postage have brought distant parts of the country into quick and easy communication and so have aided in teaching a common language.

The railroad has penetrated every corner of the land and made a nation of travelers. Countless human shuttles thus are thrown daily across the land in every direction, carrying with them the threads of thought and speech and doing their part to make one pattern of the whole.

WHERE DEEPEST LOVE ABIDES.

God's Goodness Chiefly Felt by Those in Tribulation.

Where is it that God, in His searching of the hearts of His children, hears the tones of the deepest love, and sees on the uplifted face the light of the most heartfelt gratitude? Not where His gifts are most profuse, but where they seem most meager; not where the suppliant's worship glides forth from the cushion of luxury rounded by health; not within the halls of successful ambition, or even the dwellings of unbroken domestic peace; but where the outcast, flying from persecution, kneels in the evening on the rock whereon he sleeps; by the fresh grave, where, as the earth is opened, heaven in answer opens too; by the pillow of the wasted sufferer, where the sunken eye, denied sleep, converses with a silent star, and the hollow voice enumerates in low prayer the list of comforts and the shortened tale of hopes.—Martineau.

Brazilian Pebbles.
Brazilian pebble is a name given to large masses of particularly transparent quartz or rock crystal, which is most abundantly found in Brazil, although material quite as good occurs somewhat sparingly in Switzerland and Madagascar. As regards transparency and hardness the Brazilian pebble was far superior to the best product of the old glass melter, but the modern glass is quite as good as the crystal. In fact the mineral is now little used, and the name persists mainly as a trade epithet intended to express superior quality. Good glass for lenticular purposes is now made in the United States; but the best, such as would be employed in astronomical and microscopic work, still comes from France and Germany.

First Known Use of Paper.
There is no country which has not had its learned and elaborate inquiries as to the means through which Europe became acquainted some time about the eleventh century with the article of paper. Casiri, however, while employed in translating Arabic writers, has discovered the real place from which paper came. It has been known in China, where its constituent part is silk, from time immemorial in the thirtieth year of the Hegira (in the middle of the seventh century) a manufactory of similar paper was established at Samarqand, and in 706, fifty-eight years afterward, one Youzef Amru of Mecca discovered the art of making it with cotton, an article more commonly used in Arabia than silk.

Other Uses for Teeth.
The teeth, says the Medical Fortnightly, are said to have a higher office than that commonly assigned to them—namely, that of merely crushing or masticating the food. They are to be regarded as endowed with a tactile sense, a discriminating faculty corresponding to that possessed by the muscles and nerves of the eye and ear.

Sized Up by "Tom" Pool.
Throughout the village of Annisquam, Mass., no greater joker can be found than Thomas S. Pool, an old-time fisherman and a veteran of the civil war. On being told of the intended entrance into the fishing industry of a firm composed of two young fellows, neither of whom had much money to start with, "Tom" remarked: "I've hearn tell of people standin' on nothin' an' pickin' holes in the wind, and b'gosh, I guess taem fellers will come putty near doin' it."

COULD NOT KEEP UP.

Broken Down, Like Many Another Woman, with Exhausting Kidney Troubles.

Mrs. A. Taylor, of Wharton, N. J., says: "I had kidney trouble in its most painful and severe form, and the most painful torture I went through now seems to have been almost unbearable. I had backaches, pains in the side and loins, dizzy spells and hot, feverish headaches. There were bearing-down pains, and the kidney secretions passed too frequently and with a burning sensation. They showed sediment. I became discouraged, weak, languid and depressed, so sick and weak that I could not keep up. As doctors did not cure me I decided to try Doan's Kidney Pills, and with such success that my troubles were all gone after using eight boxes, and my strength, ambition and general health is fine."

Sold by all dealers. 50 cents a box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Peanut a Root Plant.
The peanut is a root plant; that is, the buds, after blossoming, bend down, enter the earth and become the nuts. The nuts, therefore, are dug out of the earth like potatoes.

Spring!
Time to cleanse the system and purify the blood. Take Garfield Tea, Nature's perfect laxative. It is the best blood purifier known. It cures sick headache, regulates the liver, cleans the bowels, and builds up the system. Trial package FREE. Send for sample. Garfield Tea Co., Brooklyn, N. Y.

You will in vain search history for a great man who has not been influenced by a great woman.

Shake Into Your Shoes
Allen's Foot-Ease, a powder. It cures painful, smarting, nervous feet and ingrowing nails. It's the greatest comfort discovery of the age. Makes new shoes easy. A certain cure for sweating feet. Sold by all Druggists, 25c. Trial package FREE. Address A. S. Onsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

When a woman marries she slacks off, but when a man marries he tightens up.

USE THE FAMOUS
Red Cross Ball Blue. Large 2-oz. package 50 cents. The Russ Company, South Bend, Ind.

Patriotism and Matrimony.
A French professor in Algiers who recently married a German lady, applied for a divorce the other day on the ground that his wife was suffering from an acute attack of patriotism. The honeymoon was scarcely over before she manifested virulent anti-French tendencies. A valuable French clock was removed to make room for a bust of Bismarck. The husband patiently bore these slights on his national honor, but when his wife persisted in playing a noisy piano composition entitled "The Siege of Paris," he applied to the court for redress without avail.

A Brutalizing Influence.
The telephone is having a brutalizing influence. The sensitive-minded man, who would shrink from saying a disagreeable thing in ordinary conversation, when talking through the telephone will speak his mind as bluntly and argue as roughly, as does an ordinary business man, and, finding the path of brutality less painful than he imagined, becomes as truculent when not talking on the telephone.—The Graphic.

Letters in Alphabets Vary.
The letters in the alphabets of the different nations vary in number. The Sandwich Islanders have twelve; the Burmese, eighteen; the Italian, twenty; the Bengali, twenty-one; German, Dutch and English, twenty-six each; Arabic, twenty-eight; Persian, thirty-two; Armenian, thirty-eight, and Russian, forty-one.

GRAND TO LIVE.
And the Last Laugh is Always the Best.

"Six months ago I would have laughed at the idea that there could be anything better for a table beverage than coffee," writes an Ohio woman—"now I laugh to know there is."

"Since childhood I drank coffee as freely as any other member of the family. The result was a puny, sickly girl, and as I grew into womanhood I did not gain in health, but was afflicted with heart trouble, a weak and disordered stomach, wrecked nerves and a general breaking down, till last winter, at the age of 38 I seemed to be on the verge of consumption. My friends greeted me with 'How bad you look! What a terrible color!' and this was not very comforting.

"The doctors and patent medicines did me absolutely no good. I was thoroughly discouraged. Then I gave up coffee and commenced Postum Food Coffee. At first I didn't like it, but after a few trials and following the directions exactly, it was grand. It was refreshing and satisfying. In a couple of weeks I noticed a great change. I became stronger, my brain grew clearer, I was not troubled with forgetfulness as in coffee times, my power of endurance was more than doubled. The heart trouble and indigestion disappeared and my nerves became steady and strong.

"I began to take an interest in things about me. Housework and home-making became a pleasure. My friends have marveled at the change and when they inquire what brought it about, I answer 'Postum Food Coffee, and nothing else in the world.'" Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellivity," in pkgs.

HOSPITALS CROWDED

MAJORITY OF PATIENTS WOMEN

Mrs. Pinkham's Advice Saves Many From this Sad and Costly Experience.

It is a sad but certain fact that every year brings an increase in the number of operations performed upon women in our hospitals. More than three-fourths of the patients lying on those snow-white beds are women and girls who are awaiting or recovering from operations made necessary by neglect.

Every one of these patients had plenty of warning in that bearing down feeling, pain at the left or right of the abdomen, nervous exhaustion, pain in the small of the back, pelvic catarrh, dizziness, flatulency, displacements or irregularities. All of these symptoms are indications of an unhealthy condition of the female organs, and if not heeded the trouble may make headway until the penalty has to be paid by a dangerous operation, and a lifetime of impaired usefulness at best, while in many cases the results are fatal.

Miss Lucia Adams, of Seattle, Wash., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham—
"About two years ago I was a great sufferer from a severe female trouble, pains and headaches. The doctor prescribed for me and finally told me that I had a tumor and must undergo an operation if I wanted to get well. I felt that this was my death warrant, but I spent hundreds of dollars for medical help, but the tumor kept growing. Fortunately I corresponded with an aunt in the New England States, and she advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it was said to cure tumors. I did so immediately, and to my surprise, the tumor disappeared entirely, without operation. I wish every suffering woman would try this great preparation."

Just as surely as Miss Adams was cured of the troubles enumerated in her letter, just so surely will Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cure other women who suffer from female troubles, inflammation, kidney trouble, nervous excitability or nervous prostration.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all young women who are ill to write her for free advice. She is daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and for twenty years has been advising sick women free of charge. Address, Lynn, Mass.

A Thing of Beauty Is a—Drain!

At a dinner of the Sanitary Inspectors' association at Holborn restaurant, Sir Wyke Bayliss confessed that art and sanitation seemed far apart. "Would you compare art," some would say, "with a drain running down a street?" "Yet one of the loveliest things in the world was a drain (sanitary)—when it was consecrated by art in the form of a gargoyle on the roof of a cathedral. The two were not so far apart. Art was the science of beauty; sanitation was the science of health; and what were beauty and health if they were not the same thing?"—London Telegraph.

Many Children are Sickly. Mother Gray's Sweet Powders for Children, used by Mother Gray, a nurse in Children's Home, New York, cure Feverishness, Headache, Stomach Troubles, Teething Disorders, Break up Colds and Destroy Worms. At All Drugists. 25c. Sample mailed FREE. Address Allen S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

Customers Shave Themselves. London barber shops now provide accommodations for and welcome the many men who prefer to shave themselves, among other things, keeping their shaving utensils in order. They also teach the inexperienced who want to learn how to shave themselves properly.

Luckily some men cannot waste their all on wild oats, as they have to spend considerable for headache powders. A cow seldom kicks when you are carrying her clover.

When you buy WET WEATHER CLOTHING you want complete protection and long service. These and many other good points are combined in TOWER'S OILED CLOTHING. You can't afford to buy any other.

AT TOWER CO. BOSTON U.S.A. TOWER CLOTHING CO. LTD. TORONTO, CANADA

Your Opportunity Southwest

along the knocks at the door

This said Opportunity knocks only once. When it comes—as it does today—and says, "go Southwest and get a farm of your own," don't shut the door. Open it!

The open door leads to our office. Information free for the asking. Geo. Colonization Assn., 21 E. S. F. Ry., Chicago.

THE GREAT K & A TRAIN ROBBERY

BY PAUL LEICESTER FORD, Author of "The Plan Peter Stirling," etc.

Copyright, 1916, by J. P. Lippincott Company

CHAPTER XVII.—Continued.
When I turned about to go into my car, I found Madge standing on the platform of 18 waving a handkerchief. I paid no attention to her and started up my steps.
"Mr. Gordon," she said—and when I looked at her I saw that she was flushing—"what is the matter?"
I suppose most fellows would have found some excuse, but for the life of me I couldn't. All I was able to say was:
"I would rather not say, Miss Cullen."

"How unfair you are!" she cried. "You—without the slightest reason you suddenly go out of your way to ill-treat—insult me, and yet will not tell me the cause."
That made me angry. "Cause?" I cried. "As if you didn't know of a cause! What you don't know is that I overheard your conversation with Lord Ralles night before last."
"My conversation with Lord Ralles?" exclaimed Madge, in a bewildered way.
"Yes," I said bitterly. "keep up the acting. The practice is good, even if it deceives no one."

"I don't understand a word you are saying," she retorted, getting angry in turn. "You speak as if I had done wrong—as if—I don't know what, and I have a right to know to what you allude."
"I don't see how I can be any clearer," I muttered. "I was under the station platform, hiding from the cowboys, while you and Lord Ralles were walking. I didn't want to be a listener, but I heard a good deal of what you said."

"But I didn't walk with Lord Ralles," she cried. "The only person I walked with was Captain Ackland."
That took me very much aback, for I had never questioned in my mind that it wasn't Lord Ralles. Yet the moment she spoke, I realized how much alike the two brothers' voices were, and how easily the blurring of distance and planking might have misled me. For a moment I was speechless. Then I replied coldly:

"It makes no difference with whom you were. What you said was the essential part."
"But how could you for an instant suppose that I could say what I did to Lord Ralles?" she demanded.
"I naturally thought he would be the one to whom you would appeal concerning my 'insulting' conduct."

Madge looked at me for a moment as if transfixed. Then she laughed, and cried:
"Oh, you idiot!"
While I still looked at her in equal amazement, she went on, "I beg your pardon, but you are so ridiculous that if I were only your brother." For the moment I really meant it.

"I haven't dared to tell any of them," she explained, "because I knew they would resent it and make Lord Ralles angry, and then he would tell, and so ruin papa. It seemed such a little thing to bear for his sake, but, oh, it's been—I suppose you despise me!"
"I never dreamed of despising you," I said. "I only thought, of course—seeing what I did—and that you were fond—No—that is—I mean—well—The beast!" I couldn't help exclaiming.
"Oh," said Madge, blushing, and stammering breathlessly, "you must not think—there was really—you happened to—usually I managed to keep with papa or my brothers, or else run away, as I did when he interrupted my letter-writing—when you thought we had—but it was nothing of the—I kept away just—but the night of the robbery I forgot, and on the trail his mule blocked the path. He never—there really wasn't—you saved me the only time he—he—that he was really ruder, and I am so grateful for it, Mr. Gordon."

I wasn't in a mood to enjoy even Miss Cullen's gratitude. Without stopping for words, I dashed into 218, and going straight to Albert Cullen, I shook him out of a sound sleep, and before he could well understand me I was alternately swearing at him and raging at Lord Ralles. Finally he got the truth through his head, and it was nuts to me, even in my rage, to see how his English drawl disappeared, and how quick he could be when he really became excited.

I left him hurrying into his clothes, and went to my car, for I didn't dare to see the exodus of Lord Ralles, through fear that I couldn't behave myself. Albert came into 97 in a few moments to see that the Englishmen were going to the hotel as soon as dressed, the captain having elected to stay by his brother.

"I wouldn't have believed it of Ralles. I feel jolly cut up, you know," he drawled.
I had been so enraged over Lord Ralles that I hadn't stopped to reckon on what position I stood myself toward Miss Cullen, but I didn't have to do much thinking to know that I had behaved about as badly as was possible for me. And the worst of it was that she could not know that right through the whole I had never quite been able to think badly of her. I went out on the platform of the station and was lucky enough to find her there alone.

"Miss Cullen," I said, "I've been ungentlemanly and suspicious, and I'm about as ashamed of myself as a man can be and not jump into the Grand Canyon. I've not come to you to ask your forgiveness, for I can't forgive myself, much less expect it of you. But I want you to know how I feel, and if there's any reparation, apology, anything, that you'd like, I'll—"
Madge interrupted my speech there by holding out her hand.

"You don't suppose," she said, "that after all you have done for us, I could be angry over what was merely a mistake?"
That's what I call a trump of a girl, worth loving for a lifetime.

Well, we coupled on to No. 2 that morning and started East, this time Mr. Cullen's car was the "ender." All on 18 were wildly jubilant, as was natural, but I kept growing bluer and bluer. I took a farewell dinner on their car the night we were due in Albuquerque, and afterward Miss Cullen and I went out and sat on the back platform.

"I've had enough adventures to talk about for a year," Madge said, as we chatted the whole thing over, "and you can no longer brag that the K. & A. has never had a robbery, even if you didn't lose anything."
"I have lost something," I sighed sadly.
Madge looked at me quickly, started to speak, hesitated, and then said, "Oh, Mr. Gordon, if you only could know how badly I have felt about that, and how I appreciate the sacrifice."
I had only meant that I had lost my heart, and for that matter, probably my head, for it would have been ungenerous even to hint to Miss Cullen that I had made any sacrifice of conscience for her sake, and I would as soon have asked her to pay for it in money as have told her.

"You mustn't think—" I began.
"I have felt," she continued, "that your wish to serve us made you do something you never would have otherwise done, for—well you—any one can see how truthful and honest—and it has made me feel so badly that we—Oh, Mr. Gordon, no one has a right to do wrong in this world, for it brings such sadness and danger to innocent—And you have been so generous—"
I couldn't let this go on. "What I did," I told her, "was to fight fire with fire, and no one is responsible for it but myself."
"I should like to think that, but I can't," she said. "I know we all tried to do something dishonest, and while you didn't do any real wrong, yet I don't think you would have acted as you did except for our sake. And I'm afraid you may have done regret—"
"I shan't," I cried. "and, so far from meaning that I had lost my self-respect, I was alluding to quite another thing."

"Time?" she asked.
"No."
"What?"
"Something else you have stolen."
"I haven't," she denied.
"You have," I affirmed.
"You mean the novel?" she asked; "because I sent it in 97 to-night."
"I don't mean the novel."

"I can't think of anything more but those pieces of petrified wood, and those you gave me," she said demurely. "I am sure that whatever else I have of yours you have given me without even my asking, and if you want it back you've only got to say so."
"I suppose that would be my very best course," I groaned.

"I hat people who force a present on one," she continued, "and then, just as one begins to like it, want it back."
Before I could speak, she asked hurriedly: "How often do you come to Chicago?"

I took that to be a sort of command that I was to wait, and though longing to have it settled then and there, I braced myself up and answered her question. Now I see what a duffer I was—Madge told me afterward that she asked only because she was so "I don't understand a word you are saying," she retorted.

Frightened and confused that she felt she must stop my speaking for a moment.

I did my best till I heard the whistle of the locomotive gives as it runs into yard limits, and then rose. "Good-by, Miss Cullen," I said, properly enough, though no death-bed farewell ever more gloomily spoken; and she responded, "Good-by, Mr. Gordon," with equal propriety.

I held her hand, hating to let her go, and the first thing I knew I blurted out, "I wish I had the brass of Lord Ralles!"
"I don't," she laughed, "because, if you had, I shouldn't be willing to let you."

And what she was going to say, and why she didn't say it, is the concern of no one but Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gordon.
(The End.)

Another Version.
Mrs. Lee was spending the afternoon with Mrs. Washington on that bright and balmy day early in the eighteenth century, when little Georgie cut down the cherry tree. Looking from the window into the orchard, Mrs. Lee saw a boy hacking away at the tree, and said:
"Mrs. Washington, I do believe that is one of those Carroll boys out there cutting your cherry tree."

"The young rascal!" declared Mrs. Washington. "I'll have Mr. Washington have him thrown into goal as an example to other boys. He is the worst harum-scarum thing in the colony, and—"
"Wait a moment," interposed Mrs. Lee, trying a second pair of spectacles. "I was mistaken. It isn't the Carroll boy. It's your Georgie."

"O, so it is! Now, isn't he just the cunningest thing! He is always imitating the things he sees the grown up men do. I shall tell his father of this and he will think it is by far the cutest thing Georgie has done since the day he shot the best cow for a deer."

Ashes Were What He Wanted.
Near Hilliard's soap factory, in Georgetown, Mass., there lived an individual who had been unfortunate enough to come under the supervision of the overseers of the poor. This board came to the conclusion that the unfortunate was burning too much wood, and remonstrated with him on the subject.

He was silent for a few moments, and then said, very slowly and distinctly, as if amazed at their complaint:
"Burnin' too much wood! And that when Joe Hilliard pays 25 cents a bushel for ashes!"

An Evil of the Age.
"The scenery is too big for the stage. What shall we do?"
"Don't know. Looks like a bad case of overproduction."

IN ALABAMA

THE LAND OF SUNSHINE AND PLENTY—OWN A FARM AND BE INDEPENDENT.

We Have a Tract of the Finest Land in Southern Alabama to Be Sold in 40 to 160 Acre Tracts—Cash or Easy Payments—Located in Washington County—Most Healthful Spot in the South.

No cold weather, no coal to buy, less clothing, and, in fact, living is one-half the cost as in the north. A man with very little capital can own a forty-acre tract and become independent in a few short years by raising vegetables and fruits for the northern and eastern markets. We have the best shipping facilities, both by water and rail, making our lands the best garden spot in the country. This section offers more advantages for the wage-earner or the man with a small capital than any spot on this green earth. This land will yield larger profits than you can realize out of northern land worth $150 per acre. The land is a rich sandy loam, with a clay subsoil, and grows peaches, pears, grapes, figs and all kinds of small fruits and vegetables in great abundance. Also corn, oats, sweet and Irish potatoes and cotton.

This location is famous for its sublimous climate and curative powers. Plenty of creeks and pure spring drinking water. We are erecting a hotel, church, schoolhouse and store building in our new town.

FIGDALE, ALABAMA.
The Company's excursion will leave Chicago on April 3. Very low rate for the round trip, furnishing a delightful excursion to the south. No expense to the purchaser.

LIVE AGENTS WANTED IN EVERY TOWN.
Write for full particulars and illustrated booklet. Address TOMBIGBEE VALLEY LAND CO., Dept. D, Suite 829-831, 110 La Salle St., Chicago, Ill. Branch Office: Suite 610 City Bank & Trust Co. Bldg., Mobile, Ala.

Modesty and Greatness.
He only is great who has the habits of greatness; who, after performing what none in ten thousand could accomplish, passes on like Samson, and "tells neither father nor mother of it."
—Lavater.

NO REST NIGHT OR DAY.
With Irritating Skin Humor—Hair Begins to Fall Out—Wonderful Relief from Cuticura Remedies.
"About the latter part of July my whole body began to itch. I did not take much notice of it at first, but it began to get worse all the time, and then I began to get uneasy and tried all kinds of baths and other remedies that were recommended for skin humors; but I became worse all the time. My hair began to fall out and my scalp itched all the time. Especially at night, just as soon as I would get in bed and get warm, my whole body would begin to itch and my finger nails would keep it irritated, and it was not long before I could not rest night or day. A friend asked me to try the Cuticura Remedies, and I did, and the first application helped me wonderfully. For about four weeks I would take a hot bath every night and then apply the Cuticura Ointment to my whole body; and I kept getting better, and by the time I used four boxes of Cuticura I was entirely cured, and my hair stopped falling out. D. E. Blankenship, 319 N. Del. St., Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 27, 1906."

All genuine Maltese lace is handmade, and the inhabitants of the islands are strongly opposed to any form of labor-saving machinery. The industry is almost exclusively confined to women and girls, and many families have special designs that are handed down from one generation to another. Two or three firms practically control the output of the islands. Most of the lace exported is made on the island of Gozo. Silk and cotton are the materials used. The demand in America for this work is becoming greater every year.

Legislators TooVerbose.
It is the rule in the Australian parliament that the speeches of every member must be reported verbatim. As a result of this perpetual note-taking, the printed record for one ran to twenty-six volumes of 7,052 pages, or about 6,000,000 words. One of the leading Australian dailies describes them as dreary pages and ponderous tomes—"an unceasing stream of unnecessary repetition and wearisome speech; talkativeness is veritably the curse of the commonwealth parliament."

Nothing knocks out and disables like Lumbago and Sciatica. Nothing reaches the trouble as quickly as St. Jacobs Oil. Known the world over as The Master Cure for Pains and Aches. Price, 25c. and 50c.

Nothing reaches the trouble as quickly as St. Jacobs Oil. Known the world over as The Master Cure for Pains and Aches. Price, 25c. and 50c.

Nothing reaches the trouble as quickly as St. Jacobs Oil. Known the world over as The Master Cure for Pains and Aches. Price, 25c. and 50c.

Nothing reaches the trouble as quickly as St. Jacobs Oil. Known the world over as The Master Cure for Pains and Aches. Price, 25c. and 50c.

Nothing reaches the trouble as quickly as St. Jacobs Oil. Known the world over as The Master Cure for Pains and Aches. Price, 25c. and 50c.

Nothing reaches the trouble as quickly as St. Jacobs Oil. Known the world over as The Master Cure for Pains and Aches. Price, 25c. and 50c.

Nothing reaches the trouble as quickly as St. Jacobs Oil. Known the world over as The Master Cure for Pains and Aches. Price, 25c. and 50c.

Nothing reaches the trouble as quickly as St. Jacobs Oil. Known the world over as The Master Cure for Pains and Aches. Price, 25c. and 50c.

Nothing reaches the trouble as quickly as St. Jacobs Oil. Known the world over as The Master Cure for Pains and Aches. Price, 25c. and 50c.

Nothing reaches the trouble as quickly as St. Jacobs Oil. Known the world over as The Master Cure for Pains and Aches. Price, 25c. and 50c.

DUNCE WAS MAN OF LEARNING.

Nickname of Dunscotus, Learned Man 600 Years Ago.
"Dunce" is generally applied to dull, stupid, unteachable boys. The person from whose name the word is supposed to have been derived was quite a different character.

It was used as a term of reproach by the Thomists to the followers of Dunscotus, who was their antagonist in a religious controversy. This "Johannes Dunscotus" was a very learned man, who lived about the end of the thirteenth and beginning of the fourteenth century. The English say he was born in Northumberland; the Scotch allege he was born at Duns, in the Mers, the neighboring county to Northumberland, and hence he was called Dunscotus.

He died at Cologne, Nov. 8, 1308. His fame was so great that when at Oxford, 30,000 scholars attended to hear his lectures.

The Thomists were the followers of Thomas Aquinas, a Dominican friar, celebrated for his learning.—Stray Stories.

Fish Story Hard to Beat.
Here is a fish story told by a British nobleman: An Irishman had caught a big pike. Noting a lump in its stomach, he cut it open. "As I cut it open there was a mighty rush and a flapping of wings, and away flew a wild duck; and when I looked inside, there was a nest with four eggs, and she had been after sitting on the nest."

Children Should Be Sociable.
Hospitality should be encouraged in children as far as it is within the means of the parents to do so. Let them have their little teas and anniversary parties. It will help them to develop this trait, and will give them an opportunity to put into practice amenities of social life which they are expected to observe in later life.

How's This?
We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. P. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O. We, the undersigned, have known P. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by him. Wm. A. Rowland, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent free. Price 75 cents per bottle. Sold by all Druggists. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

One Compensation.
Some men above you may have five times your salary, but in all probability you beat him home to dinner every night in the week.—John A. Howland Important to Mothers.

Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA, a safe and sure remedy for infants and children, and see that it bears the Signature of Charles H. Peck. In Use For Over 30 Years. The Kind You Have Always Bought.

The best social refinement is to be reformed of self.

Don't Forget.
A large box, package Red Cross Ball Blue, only 5 cents. The Russ Company, South Bend, Ind.

Wine's Soothing Syrup.
For children teething, soothes the gums, reduces inflammation, always cures wind colic. 25c. bottle.

Truth is without value until it is revitalized.

Nothing reaches the trouble as quickly as St. Jacobs Oil. Known the world over as The Master Cure for Pains and Aches. Price, 25c. and 50c.

Nothing reaches the trouble as quickly as St. Jacobs Oil. Known the world over as The Master Cure for Pains and Aches. Price, 25c. and 50c.

Nothing reaches the trouble as quickly as St. Jacobs Oil. Known the world over as The Master Cure for Pains and Aches. Price, 25c. and 50c.

Nothing reaches the trouble as quickly as St. Jacobs Oil. Known the world over as The Master Cure for Pains and Aches. Price, 25c. and 50c.

Nothing reaches the trouble as quickly as St. Jacobs Oil. Known the world over as The Master Cure for Pains and Aches. Price, 25c. and 50c.

Nothing reaches the trouble as quickly as St. Jacobs Oil. Known the world over as The Master Cure for Pains and Aches. Price, 25c. and 50c.

Nothing reaches the trouble as quickly as St. Jacobs Oil. Known the world over as The Master Cure for Pains and Aches. Price, 25c. and 50c.

HAD HEART PAINS

A Critical Case of Rheumatism Cured By Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

While Mr. W. S. Geisel, of No. 125 East Coates street, Moberly, Mo., was steadily working at his trade in a foundry at that place, he became the victim of an attack of rheumatism, and his experience is that of thousands who are compelled to work in similar surroundings. He describes his situation as follows:

"I had been at work for a long time in a foundry where I was exposed to dampness. First my feet began to hurt and to swell, then my knees and my shoulder joints began to be affected in the same way. Finally I could not walk without great difficulty and suffering and had to stop work altogether. My appetite was feeble and I grew very pale and weak. I began to have pains about my heart and it fluttered at great intervals. I became greatly alarmed about my condition. My mother knew about the virtues of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, as they had given her back her health when she was nearly wasting to death, and when she found that they were good for rheumatism too, she began to give them to me about a month after I was attacked. That was in the early part of March, 1903, and by June they had driven away the pains and swelling and had restored my appetite and energy. Then I felt strong enough to take up a line of outdoor work and now, in October, I regard myself as entirely well and I am about to go into a foundry again at St. Louis."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills also cure other diseases springing from impoverished blood or disordered nerves, such as sciatica, locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis and all forms of weakness in male or female. They may be had at druggists or directly from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

In America the woman governs the man absolutely. In a certain sense the last man that came to America was Christopher Columbus.

In America the woman governs the man absolutely. In a certain sense the last man that came to America was Christopher Columbus.

In America the woman governs the man absolutely. In a certain sense the last man that came to America was Christopher Columbus.

In America the woman governs the man absolutely. In a certain sense the last man that came to America was Christopher Columbus.

In America the woman governs the man absolutely. In a certain sense the last man that came to America was Christopher Columbus.

In America the woman governs the man absolutely. In a certain sense the last man that came to America was Christopher Columbus.

In America the woman governs the man absolutely. In a certain sense the last man that came to America was Christopher Columbus.

In America the woman governs the man absolutely. In a certain sense the last man that came to America was Christopher Columbus.

In America the woman governs the man absolutely. In a certain sense the last man that came to America was Christopher Columbus.

In America the woman governs the man absolutely. In a certain sense the last man that came to America was Christopher Columbus.

In America the woman governs the man absolutely. In a certain sense the last man that came to America was Christopher Columbus.

In America the woman governs the man absolutely. In a certain sense the last man that came to America was Christopher Columbus.

In America the woman governs the man absolutely. In a certain sense the last man that came to America was Christopher Columbus.

In America the woman governs the man absolutely. In a certain sense the last man that came to America was Christopher Columbus.

In America the woman governs the man absolutely. In a certain sense the last man that came to America was Christopher Columbus.

In America the woman governs the man absolutely. In a certain sense the last man that came to America was Christopher Columbus.

In America the woman governs the man absolutely. In a certain sense the last man that came to America was Christopher Columbus.

Cass City Enterprise

Independent newspaper. Published every Thursday by A. A. McDowell, Seeger Street Cass City, Tuscola Co., Mich.

Advertisements.

All changes of advertisements must be sent to this office no later than Wednesday noon of each week, else they can not be inserted in that week's issue.

A. A. P. McDOWELL, Proprietor.

Professional Cards.

Brooker & Corkins,

ATTORNEYS AT LAW, Solicitor in Chancery, Reference: Exchange Bank and Cass City Bank. Office in Second story of City block, Cass City, Mich.

HENRY BUTLER,

ATTORNEY AT LAW, Solicitor in Chancery and a Notary Public. Office at residence, 1 1/2 miles west of Cass City. 6-2-04

Dr. J. H. Hays

Physician and Surgeon. Special attention given to the Eyes. Offices and residence, west side Seeger St., Phone 23.

Dr. M. M. Wickware,

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON. Office over Auten & Seelye's Bank; residence one block north of Opera House. Office hours 10 a. m. to 12 m.; 1 to 5:30 p. m.; 7 to 9 p. m. Home in house and office. Special attention given to midwifery and diseases of women.

Dr. A. N. Treadgold.

Offices above P. O. Residence Seeger St. Special attention given to diseases of children and old age. Special office hours, 1:30 to 4:30 p. m. General office hours, 10:30 a. m. to 12 m.; 7 to 9:30 p. m. Phone in house and office, calls promptly attended.

A. W. Truesdell, M. D.

Physician and Surgeon, Shabbona, Mich. Special attention to surgery. 6-12-02.

DR. A. N. JOHNSON

Formerly of Minden, but lately of Detroit, has resumed the practice of medicine at Cumber, Mich. Chronic cases a specialty. 7-20-05

DENTISTRY.

I. A. FRITZ, DENTIST. Office over Fritz's drug store, City Block Cass City. Out of town Tuesdays.

P. A. SCHENCK, D. D. S.

DENTIST—Graduate of University of Michigan. Office in new Fritz block, Cass City, Mich. 12-11-01.

GEO. KELLEY & SON.

DRAYMEN. Phone 51. Residence and Barns Main Street west. Draying of all kinds and goods handled with care. 5-25-13

A. A. MCKENZIE

ACTIONARY. All sales attended promptly. Phone 70, Cass City. Residence on Seeger Street. Also dealer in Real Estate. 11-16-05-13

Societies.

I. O. F.

COURT ELKLAND, No. 826, I. O. F., meets on 2nd and 3rd Fridays of each month, at 7:30 in their hall in the Lee block, at 7:30 p. m. Visiting brethren and companions are cordially invited.

A. E. BOUTLON, C. L.

A. A. P. McDowell Rec. Sec. 3-11-97

I. O. O. F.

CLASS CITY LODGE, No. 233, meets every Wednesday evening at 7:30. Visiting brethren cordially invited.

A. E. BOUTLON, Secretary.

K. O. T. M. M. CLASS CITY TENT, No. 74, meets the first and third Friday evening of each month, at 7:30. Visiting Sir Knights cordially invited.

A. D. MEAD, Commander.

A. A. P. McDowell, Record Keeper.

Elkland Arbor, No. 31, A. O. O. G. meets the second and fourth Thursdays each month, in Oddfellow Hall. Visiting companions always welcome.

JAS. REAGH, Sec.-Treas.

1-29-03

Church Directory.

BAPTIST—Preaching services at 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. on Sunday. Sunday school at 12 m. Young people's meeting Sunday evening at 8:30. Prayer meeting on Thursday evening.

WANGELICAL—Services begin with Sunday school at 9:30 a. m. Preaching services 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Y. P. A. meeting 6:30 p. m. English services every Sunday evening. Prayer meeting on Wednesday evening. All are invited.

REV. W. BEHGE, Pastor.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL—Preaching services at 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sunday. Class meetings follow morning service. Sunday school at 12 m. Junior League at 3:30 p. m. Epworth League at 6:30 p. m. Prayer-meeting at 7:30 on Thursday evening. REV. R. N. McCULLOUGH, Pastor.

PRESBYTERIAN—Sunday preaching services, 10:30 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Sunday school at 12 m. Prayer meeting on Thursday evening at 7:30.

ST. PANCRATIUS R. C. CHURCH—Services on the second Sunday of each month at 10:30 a. m. Standard Time on the fourth Sunday of each month at 8:30 a. m. Standard Time.

REV. FR. DWAN, Parish Priest.

FORECLOSURE SALE.

Default having been made in the payment of money due on and secured by a certain mortgage made and executed by Thomas Kirkpatrick and John Kirkpatrick to James C. Wilson, bearing date the 5th day of May A. D. 1883 and recorded in the Office of Register of Deeds for the county of Tuscola, Michigan, in Liber 82 of Mortgages, on page 21, upon which mortgage there is claimed to be due One Hundred and Thirty-one Dollars and Four Cents.

Now THEREFORE, notice is hereby given that said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the mortgage premises at public vendue to the highest bidder at the front door of the Court House in the Village of Caro, County of Tuscola and State of Michigan, (that being the place where the Circuit Court for the county of Tuscola is held), on the 9th day of April A. D. 1906

at 10 o'clock in the forenoon.

The said mortgage premises are described in said mortgage substantially as follows: The North-east One-quarter (1/4) of the south-east One-quarter (1/4) of Section Two (2), Township Thirteen (13) North of Range Eleven (11) East, being in the township of Novesta, county of Tuscola, Michigan.

The said premises will be sold as aforesaid to satisfy the amount due on said mortgage and the costs of foreclosure.

Dated January 11th, 1906.

JAMES C. WILSON, Mortgagee.

BROOKER & CORKINS, Attorneys for Mortgagee. Business Address, Cass City, Mich. 1-12-13.

DeWitt's Witch Salve For Piles, Burns, Sores.

THE above picture of the man and fish is the trademark of Scott's Emulsion, and is the synonym for strength and purity.

If the cod fish became extinct it would be a world-wide calamity, because the oil that comes from its liver surpasses all other fats in nourishing and life-giving properties.

Thirty years ago the proprietors of Scott's Emulsion found a way of preparing cod liver oil so that everyone can take it and get the full value of the oil without the objectionable taste.

Scott's Emulsion is the best thing in the world for weak, backward children, thin, delicate people, and all conditions of wasting and lost strength.

Send for free sample. SCOTT & BOWNE, CHEMISTS 400-412 PEARL STREET, NEW YORK

Do. and $1.00. All druggists.

Correspondence.

Deford R. F. D. No. 3

Mrs. Wm. VanHorn and Bell VanHorn, her husband's sister, of Wells, came here Sunday to see her grandmother, Mrs. E. C. Clay.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wilber, of Fairgrove, came up to Ellington Sunday and visited with us Sunday. Mr. Wilber is a nephew of Amzy Clay.

Wm. Houghton is getting ready to build a house on his farm in place of the one he lost by fire some time ago. We sincerely hope he will succeed and once more get moved upon his farm to live.

Dyspepsia is America's cure. Burdock Blood Purifiers conquers dyspepsia every time. It drives out impurities, tones the stomach, restores perfect digestion, normal weight, and good health.

Pigeon.

Jos. and H. Frutcher, of Cass City, were in town one day the last of last week.

Gov. F. M. Warner gave a talk on the dairy business at the K. O. T. M. Hall on Tuesday afternoon.

C. A. Shoemaker, of Elkton, is the new P. M. R. R. agent at this place. He occupies the P. L. Fritz residence on Main Street.

D. C. McDonald was called to Superior, Wis., last week, owing to the severe illness of his son, George. Mr. McDonald reached his bedside a few hours before he passed away. He returned with the body and the funeral was held on Tuesday, from the Presbyterian Church.

Itching, Bleeding, protruding or blind piles yield to Doan's Ointment. Chronic cases soon relieved finally cured. All druggists sell it.

Cumber

Alton Baker was a caller in Freiburger last Sunday.

Mrs. Ludington, of Yale, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Herb. Clarke.

Ed. Steinhorst, has gone to Port Hope, to see his father, who is again very sick.

Dr. A. N. Johnson, who was called to Detroit Friday on professional business returned last Monday.

D. A. Graham, of Vassar, preached twice on Sunday in the church and is holding meetings this week in and around Cumber.

John McEachin, who was lately a resident of Cumber, has gone to the Canadian N. W., where he intends to make his home for the future.

A Scientific Wonder.

The cures that stand to its credit make Bucklen's Arnica Salve a scientific wonder. It cured E. R. Mulford, lecturer for the Patrons of Husbandry, Waynesboro, Pa., of a distressing case of Piles. It heals the worst Burns, Sores, Boils, Ulcers, Cuts, Wounds, Chillsblains and Salt Rheum. Only 25c. of E. Ryan, Cass City; F. A. Francis, Kingston.

West Greenleaf

Miss Mamie McClorey is on the sick list.

A. B. Wright and family called on Sim Bardwell's Sunday.

Alice Wright, of Cass City, spent Sunday with friends here.

Frank Bond wears a broad smile now-a-days. A daughter.

Indian Dave and son, John, called on Dan McClorey Friday evening.

F. Wright has employed Robbie Lazenby, of Cass City, for the coming season.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Watson called on their daughter, Mrs. Neil McCallum, last week.

Mrs. Fred Bardwell and daughter, Edna, of Cass City, spent Sunday at Frank Bond's.

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought Bears the Signature of Cedar Run.

Real March weather at present. Miss May Crane has a bad attack of quinsy at present.

E. F. Stone visited at H. Becker's, in Novesta, on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith, of Canboro, visited at R. Webster's on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Belknap are visiting with relatives in Dayton this week.

Thos. Butchers, of Akron, visited part of the week at Robt. Spavin's and T. D. Leach's.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Hargrave, of Seney, Mich., visited a few days last week with W. W. Hargrave.

Miss B. E. Lockwood has returned home from Saginaw, where she has been learning the dressmaking trade.

Mrs. J. Leishman and Mrs. Thos. Jackson each had a tumor removed on Friday by Dr. McLean, of Detroit, assisted by Drs. M. M. Wickware and Wm. Morris both are getting along nicely at present.

The best safeguard against headache, constipation and liver troubles is DeWitt's Little Early Risers. Keep a vial of these famous little pills in the house and take a dose at bed time when you feel that the stomach and bowels need cleansing. They don't gripe. Sold by L. I. Wood & Co.; Cass City; and F. A. Francis, Kingston.

Beauley.

We are having a little winter at present.

Gorden Anderson is busy hauling logs to McAlpin's yard.

John Dickhout and George Young were business callers in Cass City Monday.

George Young is thinking hard of taking a trip along with James Dando and family to Seattle, Wash.

We expect a goodly number from here will attend the missionary convention at Cass City, this week.

Ogle Blare occupied the M. E. pulpit here last Sunday and John Moore the Owendale pulpit on account of Rev. Bryant being at the state convention at Flint.

Many of Alvia A. McDonald's schoolmates and old acquaintances will be pleased to hear that he now is secretary of the firm of Young Bros., in Seattle, Wash.

If the school officers of District No. 7, Grant, will find out who the parties are that smashed twenty-one lights out of the school windows they will in all probability go behind the iron gate in Bad Axe and no doubt they richly deserve it. That is the out come of one drinker, given to them by some one not a hundred miles away.

DEATH RATE—NEW YORK AND CHICAGO During November and December, 1905, one-fifth of the deaths in New York and Chicago were from pneumonia. Foley's Honey and Tar will cure you quickly and prevent serious results. All druggists in Cass City.

Karr's Corners.

Lizzie Butler is among the sick. Elmer Butler is now employed by Chas. Beach.

Mrs. Jas. McDonald was a caller at Mrs. M. C. Tanner's Friday.

Glenn Karr, of Gagetown, visited Lloyd Karr Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Mabel Wickware was the guest of Mrs. Frank Laforte Saturday.

Moss Karr spent Sunday as the guest of Miss Mae McEachin, of Cass City.

Alfred Karr expects to move to Lawrence McDonald's farm the first of April.

John McGrath and sister, Clara, visited with Stanley and Vicie Karr Thursday.

Mayne Marshall entertained Wallace Purdy and Florence Tanner Sunday evening.

Mrs. M. C. Tanner was the guest of her cousin, Mrs. Jno. King, of Brookfield, Thursday.

Mr. McMicken, who has been visiting his sister, Mrs. Ward, started for Freiburgers.

Louis Peter was in Uby Wednesday. Chas. Meddaugh had a chopping bee Monday.

Johnston Hunt did business in Tyre Thursday last.

D. A. Graham, of Vassar, was a pleasant caller in town Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Graham visited relatives in Cumber Sunday.

There seems to be quite an attraction in town for a young man in Cumber.

Miss Mina Hunt, from near Uby, is visiting relatives and friends in town.

A number from here attended the McPhail Bros. sale, near Argyle, Monday.

A. Hunt, of Tyre, formerly of this place, was smiling on old faces in town Saturday.

Henry Kehil has sold his large team of horses to Detroit parties. Consideration, $350.

A union township caucus was held in the town hall Wednesday afternoon. The following were nominated: Supervisor, S. W. Soule; clerk, Will Robinson; treas., A. McPhail; Highway Com., Mike Plannery.

THE Cow For the Farmer. While pure breeds are to be advocated, as a general principle, yet it is a fact that the intelligent farmer of today can make very rapid progress by selecting cows according to what they can do.

Some of our best dairymen, who milk over 100 cows each, do not confine themselves to any particular breed, but buy cows absolutely on their merits.

The result is that they have obtained many long and deep milkers which give milk producing a large percentage of butter fat.

These very good cows can frequently be picked up at $40 or $50 per head, while a pure bred cow of the same capacity would cost from $100 to $200.—National Farmer and Stock Grower.

WOMEN'S KIDNEYS Women are more often afflicted with kidney disorders than men, but attribute the symptoms to diseases peculiar to their sex, while in reality the kidneys are deranged. Nervousness, headache, puffiness or dark circles under the eyes, pain in the back, are signs of kidney trouble that must not be ignored, or a serious malady will result. Foley's Kidney Cure has restored the health of thousands of weak, nervous, broken down women. It stops irregularities and strengthens the urinary organs. It purifies the blood and benefits the whole system. Sold by all druggists at Cass City.

Quite a number from here attended the crystal wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kitchin held at their home last Saturday. About fifty relatives were present and all report a very pleasant time.

A Lively Tussle with that old enemy of the race, Constipation, often ends in Appendicitis. To avoid all serious trouble with Stomach, Liver and Bowels, take Dr. King's New Life Pills. They perfectly regulate these organs, without pain or discomfort. 25c. of E. Ryan, Cass City; F. A. Francis, Kingston.

Wickware.

Mrs. Jas. Watson is on the sick list. Mrs. R. Ervin had a quilting on Tuesday.

Mr. Bennett is numbered with the sick this week.

Mrs. H. Bigelow is nursing Mrs. Frank Bond this week.

Geo. Burt buzzed wood for A. Marshall, of Hay Creek, Monday.

Miss Dora Krapf was the guest of Mrs. Martis on Sunday afternoon.

Revival meetings will commence in the M. E. Church of this place April 1st.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bond, on the morning of the 16th, a daughter.

Wm. Carson, of Cass City, was the guest of H. Bigelow on Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Banks, of Shabbona, called at Geo. Burt's on Thursday of last week.

Mrs. James Watson started for Sandusky Saturday to receive medical treatment.

Mrs. Geo. Burt was called to the home of her mother, Mrs. Marshall, of Hay Creek, Monday.

We are pleased to hear that Mrs. E. Fisher is able to walk about the house by the aid of a cane.

Mrs. Wright, who has been visiting her mother for the past six weeks, returned to Detroit on Friday.

Mrs. D. Harriman, who has been visiting her brother-in-law in Clare, Mich., returned home Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Rapusow, of Virginia, are visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Hartwick, this week.

Mrs. C. Sackett returned home from Jackson on Wednesday of last week and reports her mother much better.

Mrs. J. T. Wilson and family started for Ontario Wednesday morning to visit her father and mother before they go west.

Mr. and Mrs. John Blades and daughter, Irene, will start for California on Thursday where they intend to stay for two years.

There was a surprise party at Ed. Hartwick's on Tuesday night in honor of their daughter, Mina. Everyone reported a good time.

Mrs. T. Nicols, who has been visiting her mother and other relatives in California for the past two months, returned home last Friday.

Joe Simmons, of Hay Creek, and Mrs. Chambers, of Marlette, were the guests of Mrs. Geo. Brown Saturday.

Mrs. John McPhail and Mrs. James Fisher were the guests of the latter's daughter, Mrs. John Krapf, northwest of Cass City, Saturday and Sunday.

Freiburgers.

Louis Peter was in Uby Wednesday. Chas. Meddaugh had a chopping bee Monday.

Johnston Hunt did business in Tyre Thursday last.

D. A. Graham, of Vassar, was a pleasant caller in town Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Graham visited relatives in Cumber Sunday.

There seems to be quite an attraction in town for a young man in Cumber.

Miss Mina Hunt, from near Uby, is visiting relatives and friends in town.

A number from here attended the McPhail Bros. sale, near Argyle, Monday.

A. Hunt, of Tyre, formerly of this place, was smiling on old faces in town Saturday.

Henry Kehil has sold his large team of horses to Detroit parties. Consideration, $350.

A union township caucus was held in the town hall Wednesday afternoon. The following were nominated: Supervisor, S. W. Soule; clerk, Will Robinson; treas., A. McPhail; Highway Com., Mike Plannery.

THE Cow For the Farmer. While pure breeds are to be advocated, as a general principle, yet it is a fact that the intelligent farmer of today can make very rapid progress by selecting cows according to what they can do.

Some of our best dairymen, who milk over 100 cows each, do not confine themselves to any particular breed, but buy cows absolutely on their merits.

The result is that they have obtained many long and deep milkers which give milk producing a large percentage of butter fat.

These very good cows can frequently be picked up at $40 or $50 per head, while a pure bred cow of the same capacity would cost from $100 to $200.—National Farmer and Stock Grower.

WOMEN'S KIDNEYS Women are more often afflicted with kidney disorders than men, but attribute the symptoms to diseases peculiar to their sex, while in reality the kidneys are deranged. Nervousness, headache, puffiness or dark circles under the eyes, pain in the back, are signs of kidney trouble that must not be ignored, or a serious malady will result. Foley's Kidney Cure has restored the health of thousands of weak, nervous, broken down women. It stops irregularities and strengthens the urinary organs. It purifies the blood and benefits the whole system. Sold by all druggists at Cass City.

Quite a number from here attended the crystal wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kitchin held at their home last Saturday. About fifty relatives were present and all report a very pleasant time.

A Lively Tussle with that old enemy of the race, Constipation, often ends in Appendicitis. To avoid all serious trouble with Stomach, Liver and Bowels, take Dr. King's New Life Pills. They perfectly regulate these organs, without pain or discomfort. 25c. of E. Ryan, Cass City; F. A. Francis, Kingston.

Wickware.

Mrs. Jas. Watson is on the sick list. Mrs. R. Ervin had a quilting on Tuesday.

Mr. Bennett is numbered with the sick this week.

Mrs. H. Bigelow is nursing Mrs. Frank Bond this week.

Geo. Burt buzzed wood for A. Marshall, of Hay Creek, Monday.

Miss Dora Krapf was the guest of Mrs. Martis on Sunday afternoon.

Revival meetings will commence in the M. E. Church of this place April 1st.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bond, on the morning of the 16th, a daughter.

Wm. Carson, of Cass City, was the guest of H. Bigelow on Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Banks, of Shabbona, called at Geo. Burt's on Thursday of last week.

Mrs. James Watson started for Sandusky Saturday to receive medical treatment.

Mrs. Geo. Burt was called to the home of her mother, Mrs. Marshall, of Hay Creek, Monday.

We are pleased to hear that Mrs. E. Fisher is able to walk about the house by the aid of a cane.

Mrs. Wright, who has been visiting her mother for the past six weeks, returned to Detroit on Friday.

Mrs. D. Harriman, who has been visiting her brother-in-law in Clare, Mich., returned home Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Rapusow, of Virginia, are visiting the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Hartwick, this week.

Mrs. C. Sackett returned home from Jackson on Wednesday of last week and reports her mother much better.

Mrs. J. T. Wilson and family started

Sheet Music at this Office

We name a few of the new and popular pieces

| VOCAL   | Instrumental.                       |
|---|-------------------------------------|
| I'm Feelin' Fine.                               | Paul Bevere's Ride.                 |
| When Rose Petals Cover the Ground.              | Capitol's Lones.                    |
| Symphony.                                       | The Whistler and His Dog.           |
| Everybody works but Father.                     | College Life Two Step.              |
| In After Years When I am Old.                   | The Simple Life March and Two Step. |
| You're as Welcome as the Flowers in May.        | Peter Piper Two Step.               |
| When the Sunset Turns the Ocean's Blue to Gold. | American Spirit Two Step.           |
| My Mama's Waiting There.                        | Sunny Susan Two Step.               |
| Mary's a Grand Old Name.                        | None But the Brave Two Step.        |
| In the Valley Where the Blue Birds Sing.        | Sweeney Echoes.                     |
|   | Tootsy Wootsy Dance.                |

A. A. P. McDOWELL

J. F. HENDRICK

The Cass City Jeweler and Optician.

A more fascinating array of Jewellery was never made than is now on display at my store.

Style and price to suit everyone.
Optical Work Given Special Attention.

BLACKSMITHING

Of all kinds done with neatness and dispatch...
Repair Work is a Hobby with us.

Especially care with Horseshoeing
Have made special study of the Horse's Foot and our patrons get the benefit.

J. A. RENSHLER.

"White Lily"

Flour is Pure, is made right, and COSTS NO MORE

Than other flour that is not as good. Ask for it.

For Blending...
Try White Lily and Fanchon, and you will be more than pleased with results.

Cass City Roller Mills
HELLER BROS., Props.

"Twentieth Century" Graphophone

16 TIMES LOUDER THAN ALL OTHER TALKING MACHINES
The Most Marvelous Talking Machine Ever Constructed Absolutely New Principles
The Latest Invention
Wonderful Sensational Epoch Making
STYLE PREMIER $100
OUR GUARANTEE "It reproduces the human voice with all the volume of the original."
Patented in all Civilized Countries
REPRODUCES COLUMBIA AND ALL OTHER CYLINDER RECORDS
NEW TWENTIETH CENTURY CYLINDER RECORDS
Half Foot Long
Splendid for Dancing Parties
Astonishing Results
A Perfect Substitute for the Orchestra
Must be heard to be appreciated
For Sale by Dealers Everywhere and at all the Stores of the Columbia Phonograph Company, General
Creators of the Talking Machine Industry
Owners of the Fundamental Patents Largest Manufacturers in the World
GRAND PRIZE, PARIS, 1900
DOUBLE GRAND PRIZE, ST. LOUIS, 1904
A. A. P. McDOWELL, CASS CITY, MICH.

Large Shipment new Records for March and April
Just Received. Hear them!

Socialism and the "Class Spirit."

Editor of ENTERPRISE:
In the columns of a recent issue I notice an article by Chas. Stelzle clipped from the Michigan Presbyterian entitled "Class Spirit in America" and relative to which I would ask a little space for review.

In the opposition to the oncoming tide of Socialist thought in this and other countries there are three distinct elements, "Self interest, unreasoning antagonism and gross ignorance." Just which element the article in question is born of I will let the various readers judge for themselves. The point I wish to make is that the sentiment contained therein is a misrepresentation, is unfounded and untrue. And the fact that it comes as the echo from an organ of a subsidized church does not give it any more claim to authenticity or respect.

In order to be brief and concise as possible I will treat this article by paragraph. In the first paragraph the first statement is true. The second statement is true. The third is meaningless, being a contradiction of terms. In the second paragraph the first statement is true, and as a Socialist agitator I respectfully ask just what "service" the owning class in this or any country renders when it is absolutely inactive in either of the useful functions of industry,—production or distribution,—but takes in its millions by simply owning the resources and machinery with which the workers produce the necessities and luxuries of life? I would also ask this versatile gentleman just how "love prevails" in a state of society where we are told by the best of authorities that 80,000 babies of the working class die annually of starvation? The next statement in this paragraph is not true. In the past year there have been three recognized Socialist agitators speak in Cass City Town Hall,—my brother, A. M. Stirtion, (then a Presbyterian minister), John M. Work, and C. J. Lamb. Not one word in the remarks of either of these gentlemen could be construed to inspire class hatred. For the past year the Socialist Club of Cass City has edited a half column in the ENTERPRISE, yet such was never done. For the past few months I have personally been engaged with a resident of Cass City in a friendly controversy on the subject, and in which the entire ground of Socialist agitation was covered, yet not one line of class hatred was used. "Class consciousness" is one thing and "Class hatred" another. A man may be conscious of being red-headed and yet not hate everybody who isn't.

In the third paragraph the first statement is true in essence, yet as for being a "stock argument" it isn't an argument at all but merely an assertion of the fact. If any one doesn't think so let him consult the Eighteenth Annual Report of the United States Commissioner of Labor. The second statement is true. I really believe the third is also. The fourth statement is questionable, there is no question but that it ought to be at this age of the world after all the introduction of labor saving machinery. To-day when the members of the working class are producing twenty times as much wealth as did their forefathers it is with shame that a comparison of "conditions" should be alluded to at all. In the fourth paragraph the first statement is true. The second is likewise true. The third is false as every recognized Socialist agitator is an evolutionist. In the fifth paragraph the first statement is not only false but silly as an investigation of Socialist propaganda matter will disclose. And so is the second. And so is the third. And so is the fourth. The main characteristics of the Socialist agitator is his insistence upon facts, yet such wholesale accusations of cynicism are groundless. In the sixth paragraph the first statement is untrue. The Socialist agitator is not a "forgetter." Yet he not only realizes that "a few centuries ago half the world lived in (nominal) slavery" but perceives that to-day a much larger per cent are in ACTUAL slavery to unfair economic conditions. The second statement is also false and a little investigation among the sweatshops, coal mines, manufacturing industries, and yes, even throughout the farms and small towns of this country makes it look like a huge joke. I have a mental picture of the typical farmer and all his family working like pack-horses and getting paid for "over time" (the Board of Trade and Stock Gamblers in Wall Street fixing the rate).

The seventh paragraph is taken up with an announcement of what the Socialist agitator is supposed to have "forgotten." Again we protest against this accusation of an extreme loss of memory and as an assurance that the agitator's memory is working at normal would call up the existence of what is known as "Ricardo's Law of Wages," (and no political economist of any school whether Socialist or non-Socialist, disputes it), which shows that wages always hover about the cost of subsistence. In other words that in all ages the working people as a class receive in wages in accordance with what they will be content to live and produce more wealth and workers. No, if it comes to a memory test we think possibly the Socialist agitator can take a hand at that too.

The eighth paragraph is practically a continuation of the thought expressed in the seventh. The argument in this was used prior to the Civil War in defense of chattel slavery, yet that did not prove the principle to be right. And let the reader not be at all surprised when the same old arguments used in behalf of chattel slavery are dug up, re-polished, and used in behalf of capitalistic wage slavery. To-day anybody at all conversant with the situations at both times will agree that the condition of the Negroes of the South relative to bodily comforts, etc., were superior to what they are now. Does that mean that we should annul the Emancipation Proclamation?

In the ninth paragraph the first statement is unquestionably true. The working class is honey combed with an intellectual awakening, while the "privileged" parasitic class is rapidly becoming degenerate both in morals and intellect. Yet they are on our backs. This, if nothing else, would prove the error of a social system that produces such results. And in this very fact lies the hope of the immediate Socialist movement. We bank on the sanity of the workingman. If the second statement is true why wouldn't more of the same thing be equally advantageous? I believe it would and consequently am a Socialist for this is the principle for which the movement stands, and which would be the result of the establishing of the Co-operative Commonwealth.

In the tenth paragraph the first statement is, of course, true. So is the second, and the third. As for the fourth, it is hard for anyone to prophesy what the oppression of the workers by the capitalist class may result in. At this very moment there is being enacted in the states of Colorado and Idaho a tragedy that Deity alone can perceive the outcome of. I refer to the illegal arrest and kidnapping of Moyer, Haywood, Pettibone and St. John on a charge of murdering ex Governor Steunenburg, of Idaho. These men are the leaders of the Western Federation of Miners and if disposed of the prospect is that their union could be disintegrated as was the American Railway Union when Eugene V. Debs was its president. Debs was arrested and imprisoned without a trial and when let out the union was in fragments. As I said, it is hard to say to what extent the paid thugs of capitalism will proceed in their endeavors to crush out all opposition to its plutocratic rule, and, on the other hand, it is equally difficult to say just how much of this enlightened American workingman will stand without revolt. Yet this is not Socialism nor socialist agitation. It is but the result of the conflict as it becomes more and more acute between these two classes. Socialism is but the assumption that there should be but one class,—the working class,—and that this working class should collectively own and operate the resources and machinery with which it works, and thus own fully the product of its labors, rather than permit, as now, the bulk of this to go into the pockets of those who privately own these resources and tools, and who, in turn, give out nice liberal sops to the puppets who will, in the press and on the platform, spout for the system that makes this possible. The Socialist is not endeavoring to create classes. He perceives that two classes already exist, and that these two classes have absolutely nothing in common. A gain to one is a corresponding loss to the other, no matter how the hired diplomat tries to hide this fact in fog. A realization of this fact is what is termed "class consciousness," and the work of the socialist agitator is to awaken the working people to the fact. He, as such, hates no one, but simply sees that his personal rights are being overlapped by an obsolete and degenerate system. The fifth statement is true and this, if it mean anything, refers to the socialist agitator. The sixth statement is also true. As for the seventh, we hope and expect so. The eighth everyone knows is a fact. As for the ninth and tenth, I would merely re-iterate that every recognized socialist agitator is an evolutionist. The law of "Economic Determinism"—the foundation stone of Socialism—is evolutionary to the last degree. "Capital," by Karl Marx, tho' written many years ago, outlines the necessary evolution of Capitalism and points out its inevitable outcome. "The Struggle for Existence," by Walter Thomas Mills, is considered the leading text book on Socialism in America. The only criticism I ever heard on this book was that it was "founded on the theory of evolution." When A. M. Stirtion spoke in the Town Hall, he used these words: "If every socialist agitator would shut his mouth and say nothing more on the subject the only result would be that the inevitable outcome would be delayed for a time. The necessity which rests on dominant capital to re-invest its dividends is bringing this about with mathematical accuracy. Our hope as agitators is that the transition may be in peace and for this do we work." John M. Work said: "Socialism is the fruition of the ages." C. J. Lamb said: "Capitalism carries within itself the seeds of its own destruction."

In the eleventh paragraph, the first statement has been already treated upon. We are not dividing men into classes. Classes already exist. The next statement is a prophecy. I am not a prophet nor the son of a prophet, and so don't know.

In the twelfth paragraph, as to the first statement I cannot say. I never heard the capitalist class accused by a socialist of fostering a class spirit. The socialist agitator finds his most stubborn opposition in the fact that the capitalist class is doing all in its power to convince the working man that between these two classes exists a community of interests. The second statement is a continuation of the first. The remainder of the paragraph is, in the main, true, but is unrelated to the principles of Socialism.

In the last paragraph, the first statement is another Utopian prophecy. Speaking about brotherhood, though, I, for my part, fail to see where this exists between two men or two classes, when one is forever appropriating the fruits of the other's toil. The second statement is true and a better characterization of those active in the socialist movement could not very well be given. The last statement, we are sorry to relate, is an endeavor to picture the socialist agitator in an entirely false light. I have come in personal contact with the leading agitators of Chicago and the west and have read almost everything in the way of agitation literature published by the various socialist publishing houses in America and know that this is not so.

In conclusion, let me say in all kindness that Chas. Stelzle, whoever he is, or wherever he may be, can consider himself challenged to publicly debate this question, on any platform in America, where an audience can be obtained, at any convenient time he may desire, with a representative Socialist speaker. What we want is the truth and nothing else can stand the test of time or the searchlight of investigation. "Truth crushed to earth will rise again. The eternal years of God are hers. But error groans and writhes in pain. And dies among her worshippers." Yours truly,
J. W. STIRTION.

Doctors are Puzzled.

The remarkable recovery of Kenneth McIvor, of Vancouver, B. C., is the subject of much interest to the medical fraternity and a wide circle of friends. He says of his case: "Owing to severe inflammation of the throat and congestion of the lungs, three doctors gave me up to die, when, as a last resort, I was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery and I am happy to say, it saved my life." Cures the worst Coughs and Colds, Bronchitis, Tonillitis, Weak Lungs, Hoarseness and La Grippe. Guaranteed by E. Ryan, Cass City, P. A. Franco, Kingston, 50c. and $1. Trial bottle free.

HEARING OF CLAIMS

State of Michigan, the Probate Court for County of Tuscola, ss.
In the matter of the estate of Theodore H. Fritz, deceased
Notice is hereby given that six months from the 27th day of February, A. D., 1906, have been allowed for creditors to present their claims against said deceased to said Court for examination and adjustment, and that all creditors of said deceased are required to present their claims to said court, at the Probate Office, in the Village of Caro in said county, on or before the 28th day of August, A. D., 1906, and that said claims will be heard by said court on Tuesday, the 28th day of August, A. D., 1906, at ten o'clock in the forenoon.
Dated March 20th, A. D., 1906.
JOHN M. SMITH,
Judge of Probate.
[Probate Seal] 3-224

HEARING OF CLAIMS.

State of Michigan, the Probate Court for the county of Tuscola.
In the matter of the Estate of Isabelle Hata's, Deceased.
Notice is hereby given that 6 months from the 10th day of February, A. D., 1906, have been allowed for creditors to present their claims against said deceased to said court for examination and adjustment, and that all creditors of said deceased are required to present their claims to said court, at the Probate Office, in the Village of Caro in said county, on or before the 28th day of August, A. D., 1906, and that said claims will be heard by said court on Monday, the 28th day of August, A. D., 1906, at ten o'clock in the forenoon.
JOHN M. SMITH,
Judge of Probate.
[Probate Seal] 3-24
Dated March 6 A. D., 1906.

Weak Hearts

Are due to indigestion. Ninety-nine of every one hundred people who have heart trouble can remember when it was simple indigestion. It is a scientific fact that all cases of heart disease, not organic, are not only traceable to, but are the direct result of indigestion. All food taken into the stomach which fails of perfect digestion ferments and swells the stomach, puffing it up against the heart. This interferes with the action of the heart, and in the course of time that delicate but vital organ becomes diseased. Mr. D. Kenble, of Nevada, O., says: "I had stomach trouble and was in a bad state as I had heart trouble with it. I took Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for about four months and it cured me."
Kodol Digests What You Eat and relieves the stomach of all nervous strain and the heart of all pressure. Bottles only $1.00 Size holding 2 1/2 times the trial size, which sells for 50c.
Prepared by E. O. DeWITT & CO., OHIOGAO.
Sold by L. I. Wood & Co., Cass City.

CURES COUGHS and COLDS

Clothes ..that fit.

Prices to suit your pocket.
See our...
NEW LINE
for Men, Boys and Children.
New Spring Hats and Caps Just In.
The finest line ever, in the latest novelties...
Shoes and Southern Ties. Our goods are from the best factories. Our prices are right. See for yourself....
The MODEL
.....CASS CITY

We can sell you WALL PAPER RIGHT

We can prove it if you will see our samples. The Patterns are all new and fresh. Why not dress up your home? : : : : :
Jas. W. Armstrong.

BIGGLE BOOKS

Handsome Printed and Beautifully Illustrated. BY JACOB BIGGLE

- No. 1—BIGGLE HORSE BOOK
All about Horses—Common-sense Treatise, with more than 74 illustrations; a standard work. Price, 50 Cents.
- No. 2—BIGGLE BERRY BOOK
All about growing Small Fruits—read and learn how. Beautiful colored plates. Price, 50 Cents.
- No. 3—BIGGLE POULTRY BOOK
All about Poultry; the best Poultry Book in existence; tells everything. Profusely illustrated. Price, 50 Cents.
- No. 4—BIGGLE COW BOOK
All about Cows and the Dairy Business; new edition. Colored plates. Sound Common-sense. Price, 50 Cents.
- No. 5—BIGGLE SWINE BOOK
All about Hogs—Breeding, Feeding, Butchery, Diseases, etc. Covers the whole ground. Price, 50 Cents.
- No. 6—BIGGLE HEALTH BOOK
Gives remedies and up-to-date information. A household necessity. Extremely practical. Price, 50 Cents.
- No. 7—BIGGLE PET BOOK
For the boys and girls particularly. Pets of all kinds and how to care for them. Price, 50 Cents.
- No. 8—BIGGLE SHEEP BOOK
Covers the whole ground. Every page full of good advice. Sheep men praise it. Price, 50 Cents.

Farm Journal

is your paper, made for you and not a misfit. It is 29 years old; it is the great booted-down, bit-the-nail-on-the-head, quit-after-you-said-it Farm and Household paper in the world—the biggest paper of its size in the United States of America—having more than Three Million regular readers. ANY ONE OF THE BIGGLE BOOKS, and the FARM JOURNAL 5 YEARS (remainder of 1906, and all of 1907, 1908, 1909 and 1910), sent by mail to any address for A DOLLAR BILL. Sample of FARM JOURNAL and circular describing BIGGLE BOOKS, free.
WILMER ATKINSON CO., PUBLISHERS OF FARM JOURNAL, PHILADELPHIA.

OUR SKILL IS AT YOUR SERVICE

We not only carry a complete line of Watches, Clocks, Jewellery and Notions, but pride ourselves in being qualified to do all kinds of Repair Work and Engraving.
T. L. TIBBALS.
JUST EAST OF TENNANT'S.

HEVE-O HEVE-O

THE NEW DISCOVERY FOR Heaves, Coughs, Distemper and Kidney Troubles
Every grain in Heve-O is medicine. There is not one grain of dope. If you are in need of anything get Heve-O. If your horse has a cough it is one of the most unpleasant troubles, and if it is let run will depreciate the value more than any other ailment, there is no reason that it should have a cough or heaves if taken in time as Heve-O will certainly cure it. Distemper at this season of the year is very prevalent but can easily be checked and cured by using Heve-O, a few doses is very noticeable, the best horsemen everywhere use it. Kidney troubles cause puffed legs and a weakness that should be avoided. Heve-O is for nothing else than Coughs, Distemper, Heaves and Kidney Troubles and for these ailments there certainly is nothing better. If any dealer tries to sell you something just as good or does not have Heve-O in stock we shall be pleased to send it to you with out any extra charge, address T. F. Holden and Co., Imlay City, Mich. Sold in Cass City by L. I. Wood and Co. and R. E. Ryan and Son; Gageton, Mrs. E. V. Maynard.

FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR

The genuine is in a Yellow package Refuse substitutes
All Druggists, Cass City.

THE RED BARN DOOR.

BY ALICE CHITTENDEN DEBET.

Glass cracked down in furry robes, mid soapstone's kindly heat,
We clung the dory to grandpa's house, our mother's kind to greet.
All day our jingling sleigh-bells' tune smote keenly on the air,
But long ere noon some small voice piped, "Pa, aren't we almost there?"
Then to beguile our restlessness our father told once more
How we should know the place afar, the sign, a red barn door.
O'er hill and dale we gaily sped, past farmsteads dull and gray,
And hailed each spiny hamlet as a milestone upon our way.
No homely roadside object but our eyes were quick to see,
And muffled voices chattered fast in childish jubilee.
We vied in sighting landmarks which familiar aspect bore,
And longingly we looked ahead for grandpa's red barn door.
Our mother, from the seat in front, held us in heedful thought,
And stayed our rising hunger with the cookies she had brought.
'Twas she who chose the friendly house where we should stop to rest,
And saw us tucked, all warm again, within our sleigh-box nest.
She talked of names once common in her girlhood's rustic lore,
And knew each twist and turn that came before the red barn door.
The reins held laxly in his hand, our father sat serene
And hummed quaint melodies that kept his old world memories green.
The long miles stretched away, and when the lengthened shadows fell
No thought of cold or damp or weary limbs our eagerness could quell.
We scanned each distant looming crest that reared its head above,
Till all at once somebody cried, "I see the red barn door!"
Now sometimes when the sleigh-bells ring and roadways gleam with snow
I feel that flooding joyousness that thrilled me long ago,
I see the shining faces in the paling winter light,
The arms that wait in welcome there, to clasp and hold me tight,
And then I pray that heaven's gate such gladness may restore,
As when we came to grandpa's house, beside the red barn door.
—Youth's Companion.

Hemmen began to take on the cravings of a maniac. He accused his dory-mate of having food and water hidden from him. At times his mind wandered to his seaside home at Shel-bourne, and he talked affectionately of his father and mother. He pleaded with them to take him from the clutches of the man who would not give him food or drink. He snatched up the pitchfork and made a savage lunge at Matheson. Twice he came near striking the man who twice had rescued him from drowning. The dory swayed and came near swamping as Matheson grasped the fork and got it away from his wild dory-mate.
"You can't keep me here. I'm going home," yelled Hemmen, and with wild leap he cleared the dory a second time.
Fortune seemed to play with the youth, for he came to the surface close by the dory. Matheson was barely able to grab the boy by the hair and pull him aboard as he was losing his strength. Hemmen lay unconscious in the bottom of the dory.
This exciting episode had just been completed when Matheson made out the lights of a steamer, which appeared to be not more than a quarter of a mile away. With all the strength of his parched and aching throat he yelled for help. His shouts were apparently heard, for the steamer slowed down.
For fifteen minutes he yelled. The perched throat and unquenchable system could muster but a faint sound, which, as the minutes of desperation wore on, grew fainter and fainter.
Then the lights of the steamer began to grow dim and it passed out of sight.
During the night Hemmen, whom his companion had given up for dead, again revived, and with brief moments of consciousness, sang and talked with his parents, who appeared in his delirium. Saturday morning came clear and fair. The sea had moderated to a regular swell. During the forenoon three sailing vessels and two steamers were sighted, and to each Matheson rose in his dory and waved with all his strength his oilskin perched on the top of the fork. Sometimes it seemed that his signal had been seen and that rescue was at hand, but each time the craft kept on their way.
Matheson had high hopes of rescue, for he knew that he was still in the course of ocean traffic. It was at 2:20 o'clock Saturday afternoon that Matheson sighted a sail directly to leeward, and in the course in which he was drifting. After half an hour he was able to make out the forms of dory-men, and he knew that his signal of distress had been seen at last. With joy he tried to stir his unconscious companion, but without success. It was 3:15 o'clock, when Captain Gedro Nickerson of the schooner Flora S. Nickerson drew his craft alongside the dory.
Matheson, who tipped the scales at 200 pounds when he left on the fishing trip, was still game. When he got aboard, he asked for water, and without stopping drank one and a half glasses. Later, he joined in the best spread the fishing schooner afforded, eating his first morsel in 102 hours.
After a long sleep, Hemmen was revived, and given a little Jamaica ginger. He was still delirious, and said he would not haul another trawl and was going home. Even in the cabin of the schooner, on his way to port, he fought feebly with the sea, saying they had hitested him. Saturday night the Flora Nickerson set all sail and started for port.
So near as Matheson can figure, he was driven 200 miles by the gale of Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday.
The Brown's fishing banks are off the Nova Scotia coast, and the men were picked up on the southwest part of Georges banks, 150 miles southeast of Cape Cod.
Though Hemmen is but eighteen years old, he has been a fisherman for three years. He comes from Shel-bourne, N. S., where his parents, brothers, and sisters live.
Matheson was born in Sweden, and came to this country when ten years old. He has been a fisherman most of his life, and for many years sailed out of Gloucester on Grand Bankers.
He said this morning: "It was certainly a tough experience. Yes, I have got a good constitution, but that does little good when a fellow is without money. I probably have lost thirty pounds during the last five days. It is the first time I was ever lost from a vessel any length of time, and I hope it is the last."
Matheson is a very modest fellow, and his experience appears to him to be only one of the many things through which a fisherman must pass in his dangerous work. He lives at No. 522
Hanover street, and is unmarried.—
Boston Herald.

THE NEW NILE AND RED SEA RAILROAD

1. Covered Freight Car, All Steel, Twenty-Five Tons Capacity.
2. A Cutting in Khor Kamobsana.
3. Hadendaa Arabs Helping to Erect a Bridge.
4. One of the Railway Bridges.
5. Map Showing the Connections of the New Line With the Egyptian State Railways and the Sudan Government Railways.

The new line between Albara Junction and Port Sudan was opened by Lord Cromer Jan. 27. The work has been directed by Col. Macaulay, R. E., and has been in progress since August, 1904. The line, which is 307 miles long, runs from Albara Junction to Port Sudan. This is a better harbor than Suakin, but Suakin was used as the eastern base for the construction, owing to the greater facilities there existing when the line was begun. The highest point of the railway is 3,010 feet above the Red sea.
PROTEST BY JAPANESE BARON.
Distinguished Party of Easterners Snubbed, He Asserts.
Baron Suyenatsu, son of Marquis Ito, and an official representative of the Russian mikado in Europe during the war with Russia, has written to the Paris Matin to object to the treatment which he says he and some fellow Japanese received on the German steamer Zieten of the Norddeutscher Lloyd. The baron got on board at Genoa and found several compatriots, likewise on their way home. "My letter," he remarks, "may perhaps prove to the western public the kind of treatment to which orientals are often exposed by certain nations of western Europe. One of my compatriots on this occasion was a captain in the Japanese navy, who had honorably filled the post of naval attaché in London; another was a professor in the Imperial University of Tokyo and had gained his doctorate both at Leipzig and Oxford; the third was a state engineer who occupies a lofty position in the ministry of public works of Japan. All three had taken the boat at Southampton.
"At the latter part all three of these gentlemen found themselves relegated to the foot on the table in the dining room; in other words, the captain had given them the worst places that were at his disposition. At Gibraltar several passengers left the vessel, but their places were given to newcomers. When I got aboard at Genoa I was given the place which was incontestably the last. My closest neighbor was a Chinese student. At Naples, no change being made, I thought it my duty to demand that we be given a table apart and we, therefore, ceased to eat at a common table. Indeed, I could not reconcile myself to the idea that a baron, a naval captain and a university professor should be treated as the last of individuals simply because they were Japanese.
"For more than two years past we have done everything which depended upon us to conduct ourselves like civilized western people, and for my part I have exerted every effort more than once to smooth away all difficulties that might arise between east and west, but the result has not been transcendent. Whatever may be our good will, we cannot refrain from acquainting our compatriots with the humiliating circumstances which we have been called upon to traverse, nor can we prevent ourselves from urging them to try to equal in every way, more and more, your occidental civilization. Perhaps finally one day we thus may be treated with appropriate civility."

SOUNDS MANKIND CANNOT HEAR
Many Voices of Nature Inaudible to Humanity.
A careful observer writes: "The range of the human ear is only supposed to be some nine octaves—two octaves more than the ordinary parlor piano, which, of course, is a ridiculously small section of the actual range of sound. It is only necessary to watch a cat out on the grass on a summer day to become convinced that it hears many things that we do not, and numbers of insects, we know, make noises which are far outside the compass of the human ear. We can see certain insects possessed of certain stridulating organs, going through certain motions, and we hear the sound which they produce. We can also observe the effect which that sound has on others of the same kind of insect that are within earshot. Then there are smaller insects allied to them generically, with the same organs which we can see going through the same motions. Again we see precisely the same effect on other insects of the same kind that happen to be near; but no human being has ever heard the noise they make, nor probably could any microphone make it audible—at all events, experiments have failed. The air around us must be full of noises which we do not suspect."
"One of the Norse gods, so the sagas say, could hear the hair growing on a mouse's back. I know one little girl who, if she cannot quite do that, has, if not some octaves, at least a tone or two outside the normal range. 'What a noise the mice are making!' she will say as all others are silent at midnight—and that, we may be sure, if we could hear, is far from silent. Again and again I have known her when walking along a lane or across a field suddenly to stand still and listen and then to flop down on all fours, plunging her hands into a tuft of grass, from which they emerge with a struggling mole in the fingers."
"In the middle of a game of croquet she will drop her mallet and disappear into the shrubbery, to come back later with the information that 'it is only the young willow wrens, and there is difficulty in convincing her that not her father or mother, nor any of the elders present, young or old, can hear the sounds which she declares are 'as loud as anything.' Most of us drop a tone or so for every decade we leave behind us."

Test Mal-de-Mer Remedies.
On the occasion of a medical congress to be held at Lisbon in April, the League Against Sea-sickness will charter a steamship, which will start from Hamburg and call at Antwerp, Dover, Cherbourg and Pauillac, on her way to Portugal for the purpose of testing the hundred odd methods of overcoming sea-sickness which have been submitted to the notice of the league.

Perfume 3,000 Years Old.
The curator of the museum uncovered an ancient alabaster vase.
"Smell this," he said.
The odor was delicious. From the vase emanated an odor sweeter than violets, roses or lilies of the valley.
"You are now smelling," said the curator, "an Egyptian perfume 3,000 years old. This perfume was made in Egypt before Christ's birth, and it was buried with an Egyptian princess—there she lies, over there."
"How well it must have been made to keep strong and sweet for over thirty centuries! It is only rarely that we find perfumes in mummy cases, but when we do they are always delicate and pure."
"Marvelous perfumers the Egyptians must have been! Beat us all hollow!"

An Incredible Fact.
In a frenzy, the astronomer ran his long, white fingers through his gray hair.
"How can I explain to you," he cried "the immensity of the universe, and, by contrast, the littleness of the earth, the petty futility of man?"
"Light travels at the rate of 186,000 miles a second. The inhabitants of Sirius, if they are looking at us now through their telescopes, are beholding the destruction of Jerusalem, which took place over 1,800 years ago. So far away is Sirius that the light of the world, with what this light illuminates, traveling 186,000 miles a second, takes nearly 2,000 years to reach Sirius."

Had No Fears.
At the height of Washington's fame there were those who carp and criticized to some extent, warning him that being a celebrity was a precarious thing and that he should be most careful, lest he do or say something that would turn the tide of popular favor against him. To these admonitions Washington merely smiled.
"There is just one thing that might be done," he said, "and that is something that will not be done until long after I am dead. By that time my fame will be so solidified that nothing can shake it. If we were sufficiently advanced in commerce for this one thing to happen, then, indeed, I should be careful."
"What is that one thing?" inquire the others. "Put you in a historical novel."
"No; name a five cent cigar for me."

Even Beggars!
Jacob Riis, at a convention of school teachers at Atlantic City, decried contentment.
"There is too much contentment," he said. "Contentment is often a euphemism for conceit. It is through dissatisfaction and not through contentment with ourselves that we improve."
"Every man is too apt to be contented—that is, to be conceited—to think himself about as fine, and strong, and good, and wise, as any one in the world."
"Even beggars! Why, I know a gentleman who, on being accosted by a beggar, said:
"Why don't you go to work? Why do you waste your time begging?"
"The beggar drew himself up.
"Did you ever beg?" he said.
"No, of course not," said the man.
"Then," said the beggar, "you don't know what work is."

Senatorial Etiquette.
Senator Hemenway of Indiana is new to the ways of the Senate, but very familiar with the ways of the house, where he served for many years before he went into the Senate. One day in debate on the pure food bill he referred many times to Senator Heyburn, who was in charge of the bill, as "the gentleman from Idaho," which is the custom of the House. In the Senate they always say "the senator from Idaho." After Hemenway had called Heyburn "the gentleman from Idaho" several times he realized he had made a mistake. "I hope," he said apologetically, "that the senator from Idaho will pardon me for calling him a gentleman." A little later Hemenway had occasion to refer to Senator Gallinger. He said: "The senator from New Hampshire, the most eminent physician in the Senate." "Thank you for nothing," snapped Gallinger, "inasmuch as I am the only physician in the Senate."

Tale of the Transformation of the English Butler's Fat Calves.
This is the tale she brought home of the haunted chamber of the English country house:
"It was late in November," she said, "when I went to stop for a few days with Lady G., in Kent. The Pines was a renowned old place for hospitality and picturesqueness.
"The house, a two story rambling structure which stood in among the great pine trees and was almost covered with ivy, was haunted, so every one said. Two little girls had been brutally murdered some hundred years before; their cries could be heard at twilight, and sometimes the little figures were seen in the library, also hurrying through the corridors.
"The servants were afraid to pass the library at that hour. As I am not a nervous person, I had no fear, although Esther had told some thrilling tales as she combed my hair in the morning.
"It happened on this particular afternoon of which I am writing that Lady G. took her guests out riding. I pleaded headache—I do not ride—as I had some important letters to write, and it seemed the only opportunity. The letters written, I sank into one of those great-grandfather chairs to doze.
"A splendid log fire burned on the hearth, and the crackling sparks chased each other up the wide old chimney. The weather was quite chilly, and the evenings closed in early at this time of year. I lost myself in slumberland.
"Presently, for it seemed only a moment since I sat down, I awoke with the terrible feeling of some unknown presence being near. The room was almost dark. A few embers still glowed on the hearth and shed a faint light.
"I plucked my eyes open, for my half closed lids, for really, I was afraid to open my eyes, truly afraid—of what? I knew not. Esther's stories seemed to burn themselves into my brain in an instant.
"At this moment I discerned two little figures dressed in white flitting across the room. 'The spirits!' I thought. Unable to bear the agony any longer, I screamed.
"Pardon, mum," said Simmonds, the butler, "I am just going to light the lamps. I have brought the afternoon tea."
"Now I understand the situation perfectly. Simmonds' white silk stockings and the figures I had seen moving about as he put the tea things down, and thus ends my belief in the tales of the haunted houses."

THE INVISIBLES
...By Edgar Earl Christopher...
will be our new serial, commencing next week. The scenes are laid in the mountains of Tennessee and the plot deals with the efforts of a powerful society, organized to overthrow existing conditions in Russia. A strong strain of the supernatural runs through its pages. Well illustrated.
BEGINS NEXT WEEK

ANIMAL MISSED HIS FRIENDS.

Elephant Lonely for Sight of Some One He Knew.
Gunda, the big Indian elephant at the New York Zoological park, has been yearning for his friends. For two weeks he has eaten less than usual and has been so surly that no one has dared to go near him. Day before yesterday a little brown-skinned man with big oriental eyes stopped in front of the elephant's stall and spoke a word in some foreign tongue. Gunda pricked up his ears, stuck out his trunk and felt for the little man's hand. His expression softened and the oriental spoke more words in his quaint language. Then he turned to a keeper and said:
"The elephant is sick. It is loneliness. He misses something or somebody. I have seen it in Bengal a thousand times. Are you his keeper?"
"No, his keeper is on a vacation."
"Ah, now I see! He wants his keeper. What is the name that the keeper bears?"
"Gleason!"
At the spoken name the great bulk of Gunda swayed a full step forward and his ears pricked up. The Hindoo smiled.
"He will be better when the Sahib Gleason returns. Will it be long? Has he no other friends?"
"Gleason will be back in a week," the keeper said. "There is no one else except a very old lady, a Mrs. Hawes of West Farms, who sometimes brings him bread crusts. He likes her."
"Then she should visit him with her bread crusts. It will save him from a very bad spell, perhaps. The elephant lives in his friends, and I have known them to remember them twenty, thirty and forty years and recognize them."
Mrs. Hawes, who lives at the Peabody home, West Farms, got word from the park and yesterday went to the zoo with a bag of dry bread crusts. She fed them to Gunda through the bars and now he is in his usual good spirits again.

IN AN OPEN BOAT
.....A STORY FROM REAL LIFE.....
F OUR days and a half in an open dory without food or water, for two days driven by a terrific gale that threatened to send the frail craft to the bottom, and with a half-crazy companion who, in wild delirium from lack of food and drink and terrible exposure, twice attempted suicide by jumping out of the little craft into the sea, is the horrible story brought in recently by Charles Matheson, forty years old, who, with his dory-mate, Fred Hemmen, eighteen years old, was picked up by the fishing schooner Flora S. Nickerson Saturday afternoon, off the southwest George's banks, and landed in the Port of Boston.
Lying in a little bunk, his mind still filled with strange scenes, his face and body emaciated from lack of nourishment, young Hemmen showed pitiful evidence of the tortuous experience through which his usually robust young constitution had passed. With large, shiny blue eyes one minute looking peacefully comprehensive and pitiful and a minute later shining in the fever of delirium, he tossed and talked on his bunk while a Hebrew man rapped the sturdy Matheson, who had come through the awful experience with mind and body intact, but with great blisters and swollen hands showing evidence of the racking his body had received.
"Charley, why don't you give me that water you have hidden away?" pleadingly asked Hemmen in his delirious moments; his mind still blurred with the agonizing battle he had made when his cravings for food and drink drove him crazy. As the fishing vessel rose even with the deck on the rising tide, Hemmen was removed on a stretcher and taken to the City Hospital. It is believed that he will recover.
Matheson and Hemmen are the last of the crew of the schooner Quonnapowitt, which had an ill-fated experience off Brown's Bank on Tuesday, when her outfit crew of fishermen, eighteen men, went astray in a fog, and Captain Elbridge Nickerson was left at sea during a severe northeaster with only his cook and a spare hand to run the vessel. They started for port, and on the way four men from another schooner were taken aboard, and brought the vessel safely into port, where they were warmly welcomed by sixteen men of the crew, who had been picked up by the schooner Ellen W. Burke and landed in this port Wednesday morning. This left Matheson and Hemmen to be accounted for, and their terrible experience brought tears to the eyes of their mates. The sight of Hemmen's emaciated and delirious face caused Captain Nickerson to shudder, for he well knew the terrible suffering through which the men had passed.
It was nine o'clock Tuesday morning when the doryman of the Quonnapowitt rowed away from their craft and started out to haul their trawls. A heavy fog was hanging over the water. After the men had hauled their trawls they waited for the fog horn of their vessel. No sound was heard. Matheson and Hemmen were to the windward of the schooner. They set their trawls again and waited. Night set down over the fishing grounds, but still there was no sound of fear in the heart of Matheson, who, born and bred to the sea, had fished in gales and fog on all the fishing banks of the Atlantic coast for thirty years.
When no sound of a fog horn was heard the anchor was kept overboard, and the men lay down to sleep, confident that the morning would find them on board their vessel for breakfast. Daylight came, with the fog still dense, and no sound of a fog horn. Matheson determined that they were lost, and, giving encouragement to his eighteen-year-old dory-mate, they hauled in their anchor and started to row in the direction of the wind.
Matheson was confident that by following the direction of the wind they could make shore, as it was blowing from the northwest when the fog shut down. After six hours' rowing the men began to suffer from lack of food and water. They had 500 pounds of fish on board and this was pitched overboard.

Senatorial Etiquette.
Senator Hemenway of Indiana is new to the ways of the Senate, but very familiar with the ways of the house, where he served for many years before he went into the Senate. One day in debate on the pure food bill he referred many times to Senator Heyburn, who was in charge of the bill, as "the gentleman from Idaho," which is the custom of the House. In the Senate they always say "the senator from Idaho." After Hemenway had called Heyburn "the gentleman from Idaho" several times he realized he had made a mistake. "I hope," he said apologetically, "that the senator from Idaho will pardon me for calling him a gentleman." A little later Hemenway had occasion to refer to Senator Gallinger. He said: "The senator from New Hampshire, the most eminent physician in the Senate." "Thank you for nothing," snapped Gallinger, "inasmuch as I am the only physician in the Senate."

Even Beggars!
Jacob Riis, at a convention of school teachers at Atlantic City, decried contentment.
"There is too much contentment," he said. "Contentment is often a euphemism for conceit. It is through dissatisfaction and not through contentment with ourselves that we improve."
"Every man is too apt to be contented—that is, to be conceited—to think himself about as fine, and strong, and good, and wise, as any one in the world."
"Even beggars! Why, I know a gentleman who, on being accosted by a beggar, said:
"Why don't you go to work? Why do you waste your time begging?"
"The beggar drew himself up.
"Did you ever beg?" he said.
"No, of course not," said the man.
"Then," said the beggar, "you don't know what work is."

Senatorial Etiquette.
Senator Hemenway of Indiana is new to the ways of the Senate, but very familiar with the ways of the house, where he served for many years before he went into the Senate. One day in debate on the pure food bill he referred many times to Senator Heyburn, who was in charge of the bill, as "the gentleman from Idaho," which is the custom of the House. In the Senate they always say "the senator from Idaho." After Hemenway had called Heyburn "the gentleman from Idaho" several times he realized he had made a mistake. "I hope," he said apologetically, "that the senator from Idaho will pardon me for calling him a gentleman." A little later Hemenway had occasion to refer to Senator Gallinger. He said: "The senator from New Hampshire, the most eminent physician in the Senate." "Thank you for nothing," snapped Gallinger, "inasmuch as I am the only physician in the Senate."

Tale of the Transformation of the English Butler's Fat Calves.
This is the tale she brought home of the haunted chamber of the English country house:
"It was late in November," she said, "when I went to stop for a few days with Lady G., in Kent. The Pines was a renowned old place for hospitality and picturesqueness.
"The house, a two story rambling structure which stood in among the great pine trees and was almost covered with ivy, was haunted, so every one said. Two little girls had been brutally murdered some hundred years before; their cries could be heard at twilight, and sometimes the little figures were seen in the library, also hurrying through the corridors.
"The servants were afraid to pass the library at that hour. As I am not a nervous person, I had no fear, although Esther had told some thrilling tales as she combed my hair in the morning.
"It happened on this particular afternoon of which I am writing that Lady G. took her guests out riding. I pleaded headache—I do not ride—as I had some important letters to write, and it seemed the only opportunity. The letters written, I sank into one of those great-grandfather chairs to doze.
"A splendid log fire burned on the hearth, and the crackling sparks chased each other up the wide old chimney. The weather was quite chilly, and the evenings closed in early at this time of year. I lost myself in slumberland.
"Presently, for it seemed only a moment since I sat down, I awoke with the terrible feeling of some unknown presence being near. The room was almost dark. A few embers still glowed on the hearth and shed a faint light.
"I plucked my eyes open, for my half closed lids, for really, I was afraid to open my eyes, truly afraid—of what? I knew not. Esther's stories seemed to burn themselves into my brain in an instant.
"At this moment I discerned two little figures dressed in white flitting across the room. 'The spirits!' I thought. Unable to bear the agony any longer, I screamed.
"Pardon, mum," said Simmonds, the butler, "I am just going to light the lamps. I have brought the afternoon tea."
"Now I understand the situation perfectly. Simmonds' white silk stockings and the figures I had seen moving about as he put the tea things down, and thus ends my belief in the tales of the haunted houses."

THE INVISIBLES
...By Edgar Earl Christopher...
will be our new serial, commencing next week. The scenes are laid in the mountains of Tennessee and the plot deals with the efforts of a powerful society, organized to overthrow existing conditions in Russia. A strong strain of the supernatural runs through its pages. Well illustrated.
BEGINS NEXT WEEK

Had No Fears.
At the height of Washington's fame there were those who carp and criticized to some extent, warning him that being a celebrity was a precarious thing and that he should be most careful, lest he do or say something that would turn the tide of popular favor against him. To these admonitions Washington merely smiled.
"There is just one thing that might be done," he said, "and that is something that will not be done until long after I am dead. By that time my fame will be so solidified that nothing can shake it. If we were sufficiently advanced in commerce for this one thing to happen, then, indeed, I should be careful."
"What is that one thing?" inquire the others. "Put you in a historical novel."
"No; name a five cent cigar for me."

Even Beggars!
Jacob Riis, at a convention of school teachers at Atlantic City, decried contentment.
"There is too much contentment," he said. "Contentment is often a euphemism for conceit. It is through dissatisfaction and not through contentment with ourselves that we improve."
"Every man is too apt to be contented—that is, to be conceited—to think himself about as fine, and strong, and good, and wise, as any one in the world."
"Even beggars! Why, I know a gentleman who, on being accosted by a beggar, said:
"Why don't you go to work? Why do you waste your time begging?"
"The beggar drew himself up.
"Did you ever beg?" he said.
"No, of course not," said the man.
"Then," said the beggar, "you don't know what work is."

Senatorial Etiquette.
Senator Hemenway of Indiana is new to the ways of the Senate, but very familiar with the ways of the house, where he served for many years before he went into the Senate. One day in debate on the pure food bill he referred many times to Senator Heyburn, who was in charge of the bill, as "the gentleman from Idaho," which is the custom of the House. In the Senate they always say "the senator from Idaho." After Hemenway had called Heyburn "the gentleman from Idaho" several times he realized he had made a mistake. "I hope," he said apologetically, "that the senator from Idaho will pardon me for calling him a gentleman." A little later Hemenway had occasion to refer to Senator Gallinger. He said: "The senator from New Hampshire, the most eminent physician in the Senate." "Thank you for nothing," snapped Gallinger, "inasmuch as I am the only physician in the Senate."

Tale of the Transformation of the English Butler's Fat Calves.
This is the tale she brought home of the haunted chamber of the English country house:
"It was late in November," she said, "when I went to stop for a few days with Lady G., in Kent. The Pines was a renowned old place for hospitality and picturesqueness.
"The house, a two story rambling structure which stood in among the great pine trees and was almost covered with ivy, was haunted, so every one said. Two little girls had been brutally murdered some hundred years before; their cries could be heard at twilight, and sometimes the little figures were seen in the library, also hurrying through the corridors.
"The servants were afraid to pass the library at that hour. As I am not a nervous person, I had no fear, although Esther had told some thrilling tales as she combed my hair in the morning.
"It happened on this particular afternoon of which I am writing that Lady G. took her guests out riding. I pleaded headache—I do not ride—as I had some important letters to write, and it seemed the only opportunity. The letters written, I sank into one of those great-grandfather chairs to doze.
"A splendid log fire burned on the hearth, and the crackling sparks chased each other up the wide old chimney. The weather was quite chilly, and the evenings closed in early at this time of year. I lost myself in slumberland.
"Presently, for it seemed only a moment since I sat down, I awoke with the terrible feeling of some unknown presence being near. The room was almost dark. A few embers still glowed on the hearth and shed a faint light.
"I plucked my eyes open, for my half closed lids, for really, I was afraid to open my eyes, truly afraid—of what? I knew not. Esther's stories seemed to burn themselves into my brain in an instant.
"At this moment I discerned two little figures dressed in white flitting across the room. 'The spirits!' I thought. Unable to bear the agony any longer, I screamed.
"Pardon, mum," said Simmonds, the butler, "I am just going to light the lamps. I have brought the afternoon tea."
"Now I understand the situation perfectly. Simmonds' white silk stockings and the figures I had seen moving about as he put the tea things down, and thus ends my belief in the tales of the haunted houses."

THE INVISIBLES
...By Edgar Earl Christopher...
will be our new serial, commencing next week. The scenes are laid in the mountains of Tennessee and the plot deals with the efforts of a powerful society, organized to overthrow existing conditions in Russia. A strong strain of the supernatural runs through its pages. Well illustrated.
BEGINS NEXT WEEK

Had No Fears.
At the height of Washington's fame there were those who carp and criticized to some extent, warning him that being a celebrity was a precarious thing and that he should be most careful, lest he do or say something that would turn the tide of popular favor against him. To these admonitions Washington merely smiled.
"There is just one thing that might be done," he said, "and that is something that will not be done until long after I am dead. By that time my fame will be so solidified that nothing can shake it. If we were sufficiently advanced in commerce for this one thing to happen, then, indeed, I should be careful."
"What is that one thing?" inquire the others. "Put you in a historical novel."
"No; name a five cent cigar for me."

Even Beggars!
Jacob Riis, at a convention of school teachers at Atlantic City, decried contentment.
"There is too much contentment," he said. "Contentment is often a euphemism for conceit. It is through dissatisfaction and not through contentment with ourselves that we improve."
"Every man is too apt to be contented—that is, to be conceited—to think himself about as fine, and strong, and good, and wise, as any one in the world."
"Even beggars! Why, I know a gentleman who, on being accosted by a beggar, said:
"Why don't you go to work? Why do you waste your time begging?"
"The beggar drew himself up.
"Did you ever beg?" he said.
"No, of course not," said the man.
"Then," said the beggar, "you don't know what work is."

Senatorial Etiquette.
Senator Hemenway of Indiana is new to the ways of the Senate, but very familiar with the ways of the house, where he served for many years before he went into the Senate. One day in debate on the pure food bill he referred many times to Senator Heyburn, who was in charge of the bill, as "the gentleman from Idaho," which is the custom of the House. In the Senate they always say "the senator from Idaho." After Hemenway had called Heyburn "the gentleman from Idaho" several times he realized he had made a mistake. "I hope," he said apologetically, "that the senator from Idaho will pardon me for calling him a gentleman." A little later Hemenway had occasion to refer to Senator Gallinger. He said: "The senator from New Hampshire, the most eminent physician in the Senate." "Thank you for nothing," snapped Gallinger, "inasmuch as I am the only physician in the Senate."

Tale of the Transformation of the English Butler's Fat Calves.
This is the tale she brought home of the haunted chamber of the English country house:
"It was late in November," she said, "when I went to stop for a few days with Lady G., in Kent. The Pines was a renowned old place for hospitality and picturesqueness.
"The house, a two story rambling structure which stood in among the great pine trees and was almost covered with ivy, was haunted, so every one said. Two little girls had been brutally murdered some hundred years before; their cries could be heard at twilight, and sometimes the little figures were seen in the library, also hurrying through the corridors.
"The servants were afraid to pass the library at that hour. As I am not a nervous person, I had no fear, although Esther had told some thrilling tales as she combed my hair in the morning.
"It happened on this particular afternoon of which I am writing that Lady G. took her guests out riding. I pleaded headache—I do not ride—as I had some important letters to write, and it seemed the only opportunity. The letters written, I sank into one of those great-grandfather chairs to doze.
"A splendid log fire burned on the hearth, and the crackling sparks chased each other up the wide old chimney. The weather was quite chilly, and the evenings closed in early at this time of year. I lost myself in slumberland.
"Presently, for it seemed only a moment since I sat down, I awoke with the terrible feeling of some unknown presence being near. The room was almost dark. A few embers still glowed on the hearth and shed a faint light.
"I plucked my eyes open, for my half closed lids, for really, I was afraid to open my eyes, truly afraid—of what? I knew not. Esther's stories seemed to burn themselves into my brain in an instant.
"At this moment I discerned two little figures dressed in white flitting across the room. 'The spirits!' I thought. Unable to bear the agony any longer, I screamed.
"Pardon, mum," said Simmonds, the butler, "I am just going to light the lamps. I have brought the afternoon tea."
"Now I understand the situation perfectly. Simmonds' white silk stockings and the figures I had seen moving about as he put the tea things down, and thus ends my belief in the tales of the haunted houses."

THE INVISIBLES
...By Edgar Earl Christopher...
will be our new serial, commencing next week. The scenes are laid in the mountains of Tennessee and the plot deals with the efforts of a powerful society, organized to overthrow existing conditions in Russia. A strong strain of the supernatural runs through its pages. Well illustrated.
BEGINS NEXT WEEK

Had No Fears.
At the height of Washington's fame there were those who carp and criticized to some extent, warning him that being a celebrity was a precarious thing and that he should be most careful, lest he do or say something that would turn the tide of popular favor against him. To these admonitions Washington merely smiled.
"There is just one thing that might be done," he said, "and that is something that will not be done until long after I am dead. By that time my fame will be so solidified that nothing can shake it. If we were sufficiently advanced in commerce for this one thing to happen, then, indeed, I should be careful."
"What is that one thing?" inquire the others. "Put you in a historical novel."
"No; name a five cent cigar for me."

Even Beggars!
Jacob Riis, at a convention of school teachers at Atlantic City, decried contentment.
"There is too much contentment," he said. "Contentment is often a euphemism for conceit. It is through dissatisfaction and not through contentment with ourselves that we improve."
"Every man is too apt to be contented—that is, to be conceited—to think himself about as fine, and strong, and good, and wise, as any one in the world."
"Even beggars! Why, I know a gentleman who, on being accosted by a beggar, said:
"Why don't you go to work? Why do you waste your time begging?"
"The beggar drew himself up.
"Did you ever beg?" he said.
"No, of course not," said the man.
"Then," said the beggar, "you don't know what work is."

Senatorial Etiquette.
Senator Hemenway of Indiana is new to the ways of the Senate, but very familiar with the ways of the house, where he served for many years before he went into the Senate. One day in debate on the pure food bill he referred many times to Senator Heyburn, who was in charge of the bill, as "the gentleman from Idaho," which is the custom of the House. In the Senate they always say "the senator from Idaho." After Hemenway had called Heyburn "the gentleman from Idaho" several times he realized he had made a mistake. "I hope," he said apologetically, "that the senator from Idaho will pardon me for calling him a gentleman." A little later Hemenway had occasion to refer to Senator Gallinger. He said: "The senator from New Hampshire, the most eminent physician in the Senate." "Thank you for nothing," snapped Gallinger, "inasmuch as I am the only physician in the Senate."

Tale of the Transformation of the English Butler's Fat Calves.
This is the tale she brought home of the haunted chamber of the English country house:
"It was late in November," she said, "when I went to stop for a few days with Lady G., in Kent. The Pines was a renowned old place for hospitality and picturesqueness.
"The house, a two story rambling structure which stood in among the great pine trees and was almost covered with ivy, was haunted, so every one said. Two little girls had been brutally murdered some hundred years before; their cries could be heard at twilight, and sometimes the little figures were seen in the library, also hurrying through the corridors.
"The servants were afraid to pass the library at that hour. As I am not a nervous person, I had no fear, although Esther had told some thrilling tales as she combed my hair in the morning.
"It happened on this particular afternoon of which I am writing that Lady G. took her guests out riding. I pleaded headache—I do not ride—as I had some important letters to write, and it seemed the only opportunity. The letters written, I sank into one of those great-grandfather chairs to doze.
"A splendid log fire burned on the hearth, and the crackling sparks chased each other up the wide old chimney. The weather was quite chilly, and the evenings closed in early at this time of year. I lost myself in slumberland.
"Presently, for it seemed only a moment since I sat down, I awoke with the terrible feeling of some unknown presence being near. The room was almost dark. A few embers still glowed on the hearth and shed a faint light.
"I plucked my eyes open, for my half closed lids, for really, I was afraid to open my eyes, truly afraid—of what? I knew not. Esther's stories seemed to burn themselves into my brain in an instant.
"At this moment I discerned two little figures dressed in white flitting across the

March Bargains

From March 1st to April 1st.

Soap Snaps.

Naphthalene soap 7 bars for..... 25c
 Bora Naphtha soap, 6 bars for..... 25c
 Silver soap, 8 bars for..... 25c
 Polo soap, 12 bars for..... 25c

Matches—Nine 5c boxes for..... 25c
 Our best 35c tea—this month only—per pound..... 25c
 One pound package Smoking tobacco for..... 15c
 Four 10c cuts U. & L. tobacco for..... 25c

3 cans pie Peaches for..... 25c
 3 cans Tomatoes for..... 25c
 3 cans Corn for..... 25c
 3 cans Peas for..... 25c
 2 cans best 15c Salmon for..... 25c

Dishes.

Eight inch Dinner plates, white, per set..... 40c
 Six inch Tea plates, white, per set..... 30c
 Soup plates, white, per set..... 35c
 Eight inch covered Dureens, white, each..... 40c
 Gravy boats, white, each..... 15c
 Covered Sugar bowls, white, each..... 22c
 Covered Butter dishes, white, each..... 30c
 Bone dishes (worth 50c a set) per set..... 25c
 Glass Lamps (No. 1s) complete, each..... 20c
 Two quart glass Pitchers, each..... 10c

Highest market price paid for Butter and Eggs. Prompt delivery.

Phone 8.

H. L. HUNT.

In an address before the Minnesota Dairy association I. A. Sweet gave his methods for making his dairy cows average him $68 per head per year. Summarizing Mr. Sweet's address, we have the following central thoughts:

Breed or buy a good class of dairy cows.
 Provide good, warm, well ventilated stables for winter, with plenty of the right kind of feed.
 Feed regularly and abundantly, but not more than necessary.
 Milk speedily, but gently, never maltreating or exciting the cow in any way.

Make pets of your cows, and treat them gently and kindly at all times.
 Never expose them to cold in winter—don't let them run in the yard any day that is so cold you cannot work out with bare hands.

Warm their water in winter.
 Provide plenty of good bedding, with a drop behind the cows to hold the animal refuse, so the cow will be kept absolutely clean at all times.

Never let the cow out around the strawstack and in the cornfield to fill up on an article of food that will not produce milk. Let the dry cow and the young cattle pick on this.

Give her uniform feed and care—don't turn out one day, keep in the next, turn into the field the next, and so on. That will make her uneasy and will dry her off—she dislikes changes.

A Foolish Prejudice.
 The average dairy farmer has his share of unfounded prejudices, and if they are unfounded then they are foolish, says Hoard's Dairyman. One of these prejudices, which stands like a veil between his eyes and the truth, is that which relates to pure bred dairy cattle. A great many farmers are breeding their herds down instead of up because of this prejudice. Any man who uses a grade bull shows that prejudice, and is breeding his heifers and future cows down.

If these men would study this breeding question, if they would obtain by reading the ideas and opinions of the best posted breeders, if they would reflect for a moment how all development in an upward direction has been obtained, they would cast this prejudice aside and use only pure bred males.

Don't Get the Habit.
 Indigestion is much of a habit. Don't get the habit. Take a little Kodol Dyspepsia Cure after eating and you will quit belching, puffing, palpitating and frowning. Kodol Digests what you eat and makes the stomach sweet. Kodol is a thorough digester and will afford relief from any disorder due to imperfect digestion or mal-assimilation of food. Sold by L. L. Wood & Co., Cass City and E. A. Francis, Kingston.

A Great Butter Producer.
 The fine Guernsey cow Dairymaid of Elm Place, whose portrait is here reproduced from American Cattle-Raiser, is owned by Mrs. E. W. Strawbridge, Moorestown, N. J. Dairymaid of Elm Place has proved herself a wonderful producer. She entered the Advanced Register as a three-year-old, with a record of 9,045.8 pounds of milk and 473.47 pounds of butter fat. Later she was re-entered and made the record of 12,174.9 pounds of milk and 668.36 pounds of fat. This latter is the fourth largest record on the Advanced Register list.

CASTORIA
 For Infants and Children.
 The Kind You Have Always Bought
 Bears the Signature of W. D. Hoagland
 CURED HEMORRHAGES OF THE LUNGS
 "Several years since my lungs were so badly affected that I had many hemorrhages," writes A. M. Ake, of Wood, Ind. "I took treatment with several physicians without any benefit. I then started to take Foley's Honey and Tar and my lungs are now as sound as a bell. I recommend it in advanced stages of lung trouble." Foley's Honey and Tar stops the cough and heals the lungs, and prevents serious results from a cold. Refuse substitutes. All Cass City druggists.

FEEDING DAIRY COWS

I am asked the feeding value of apple pomace, says L. W. Lighty in National Stockman. The querist says he can get all he wants for nothing. From the cow's standpoint that is just about what it is worth. If she has any other decent cow feed she will walk over the pomace and not look at it. It has some feeding value, but apparently not enough to pay for the trouble of getting it out.

Keep Up the Milk Flow.
 As the dry season approaches the cows naturally tend to fall off in milk flow. Hold them to it by strenuous effort. Feed them more freely on grains and see to it that some green stuff finds its way into the copious paunches of the cow, that is supposed to use 85 per cent water in elaborating the fluid we know as milk.—Farmers Advocate.

Foley's Honey and Tar
 heals lungs and stops the cough.

Feeding Heifers.
 Heifers require a larger amount of feed for the production of a certain amount of milk than do older cows.

No Milk in Frosted Feed.
 It is a positive fact that if you feed a cow a certain amount of hay and grain from the barn and let her out in the middle of the day into a field where there is a lot of frozen grass she will like it and will fill up on it just as full as she can get, but will give less milk than she would on just the same amount of feed from the barn without going out and filling up with this "old fog" as we call it. It is a positive injury to them. So I say just as soon as your feed is killed by the frost, and it doesn't make any difference what time of year or what season it is, you had better put your cows in the barn and keep them there and feed them from the barn.—Maine Cor. American Cultivator.

Flaxseed For Milk Cows.
 Whenever flaxseed is fed it must be used in small quantities because of the cathartic effect that it will have upon the animals, says Hoard's Dairyman. It should be fed in very small amounts to begin with, say a tablespoonful twice a day. The amount can be gradually increased until the animal is receiving a pound a day, or to the point where it begins to show a loosening effect upon the animal's digestive organs, but we do not think it is advisable to feed over a pound of it a day.

Get the Right Kind.
 If you are troubled with piles and can't find a cure, try Witch Hazel Salve, but be sure you get that made by E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago. It is the Original. If you have used Witch Hazel salve without being relieved it is probable that you got hold of one of the many worthless counterfeits that are sold on the reputation of the genuine DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. L. L. Wood & Co., Cass City; P. A. Francis, Kingston.

A Dairyman's Silo.
 Last year I built a round silo sixteen feet four inches in diameter and thirty feet high and placed in it about seven acres of dried corn, well cured, and three acres of hill corn from the stock, cut and blown into the silo, mixed as it went in and wet down well. This made 125 tons of the best winter feed for dairy cows that I ever saw.

We started feeding it to fifty cows and ten head of young stock on Dec. 1, and it was sufficient to last them until March 10. The corn put in in this way furnished not only the roughage, but concentrates, and all that was needed to balance the ration were four pounds of gluten meal and four pounds of wheat bran per day for each cow.—Joseph Newman, President Illinois Dairyman's Association.

THE ORIGINAL
 Foley & Co., Chicago, originated Honey and Tar as a throat and lung remedy, and on account of the great merit and popularity of Foley's Honey and Tar many imitations are offered for the genuine. Ask for Foley's Honey and Tar and refuse any substitute offered as no other preparation will give the same satisfaction. It is mildly laxative. It contains no opiates and is safest for children and delicate persons. All druggists at Cass City.

Corn In Silo or Shock.
 A question as to the relative feeding values of corn silage and dry corn fodder (unhusked corn) was once put to Professor Henry at a Wisconsin dairyman's convention, and he answered by saying that the difference between corn forage in the silo and corn forage in the shock is from 5 to 25 per cent in favor of the silage directly and possibly more than that in its continued effect.

At a succeeding convention C. P. Godrich, in explaining why certain dairymen who have silos received larger returns per cow from the creamery than their neighbors who did not have silos, quoted Professor Voorhees, director of the New Jersey experiment station, as having "found that ensilage increased the amount of milk 12 per cent over dry feed of the same kind when everything else was equal.—Hoard's Dairyman."

Greenleaf.
 A lot of sickness is reported.
 K. McRae had a wood bee Friday.
 Neil Sinclair visited Kinde the last of the week.
 A. Powell visited Gageton the last of the week.
 Miss Mary Paul made a trip to Sandusky Monday.
 John and C. Patrick were Cass City visitors Saturday.
 John Tanner transacted business in Cass City Monday.
 Spring was ushered in with an old fashioned blizzard.
 Dougald Sinclair has gone to Detroit for the summer.
 Mr. Jordan of Grant, was a business caller in town Monday.

Thos. Codling and Jas. Robinson were Sandusky visitors the first of the week.
 Mr. and Mrs. Lemuel McConnell, of Cass City, have returned to their farm, east of town.
 John Patrick has a new gasoline engine and is busy sawing wood for the farmers.

Surprise parties were enjoyed recently by Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Morrish, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mathews and Mr. and Mrs. Hill.
 Wm. Wilkinson and sister, Mrs. McMann, treated their friends to an oyster supper and graphophone entertainment Thursday evening.

DANGER IN DELAY.
 Kidney Diseases Are Too Dangerous for People to Neglect.

The great danger of kidney troubles is that they get a firm hold before the sufferer recognizes them. Health is gradually undermined. Backache, headache, nervousness, lameness, soreness, lumbago, urinary troubles, dropsy, diabetes and Bright's disease follow in merciless succession. Don't neglect your kidneys. Cure the kidneys with the certain and safe remedy, Doan's Kidney Pills.
 E. W. Garrison, of 1121 Shawansee street, Owosso, Mich., retired farmer, says: "For many years I suffered severely with my kidneys, the pains at times being frequently so severe I could scarcely get up or down from a chair. The kidney secretions were irregular, distressing and annoying. I had also spells of dizziness and had to hold on to something to keep from falling. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and procuring a box I used it. I felt benefited after a few doses. My wife was relieved of similar trouble by their use and we cannot speak in too high praise of this valuable preparation."
 For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.
 Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

ADVERTISEMENTS will be inserted under this heading at the rate of one-half cent per word for each insertion; no charge less than 10c.
 FOR SALE—One full-blooded coal black Cocker Spaniel dog—female. Enquire of J. S. Birk, Route 1, Cass City.
 FOR SALE—A good mare colt 2 years and 6 mos old, or will exchange for a good farm horse.
 FOR SALE—Good large half grade Jersey cow. 2 1/2 miles west, 3/4 south of Cass City.
 FOR SALE—50 in of horses; 10 cows, springers; 120 acre farm and 40 acre farm.
 FOR SALE—2 acres east fractional half of north-east fractional quarter of town 13 north of range twelve east, Sanilac County, Mich. Well drained, best of soil. For particulars apply to J. H. WOOD, Fairplay, Essex Co., Ont.
 MONEY TO LOAN—On real estate security, without any bonus. Will receive partial payment at the end of any year.
 SEVERAL desirable residence properties for sale cheap. Inquire of Geo. E. Perkins.
 WE will undertake to furnish you any piece of Popular Music you want, at the right price. If we haven't it in stock we will get it here quick.
 HOUSES for sale. Call at my home, Seeger Street south. MRS. L. E. MCDOWELL.
 DeWitt's Early Risers
 The famous little pills.

Kennedy's Laxative Honey and Tar cures all Coughs, and expels Colds from the system by gently moving the bowels.

Look at the spacing! Don't you think it would keep anything out? We do. Fully warranted.

STRIFFLER & McDERMOTT
 ALL KINDS OF FARM IMPLEMENTS

Holdings All the Good
 Shuts Out All the Bad

The sealed cans in which Bancroft House Mocha and Java Coffee is put up, insure strength, purity, aroma and cleanliness to all lovers of the beverage. This coffee, selected from the highest grades obtainable, carefully cleaned and roasted, is again cleaned, and is then blended "just right." It holds its strength, flavor and aroma, and every package is good to the end. Put up only in 1 lb. and 2 lb. sealed cans; 40c and 70c. Sold by all leading grocers.

ASK FOR
Bancroft House Coffee
 Absolutely the Best Coffee Made

Auction Sale!
 I will sell the following described property at my farm, 1/2 mile south of Beaulieu, Grant Township, Huron Co., on Monday, March 26th,
 at 12 o'clock sharp, the following:

One gelding, 7 years old;
 One mare, 7 years old;
 One Iron Grey, 4 years old;
 One Bay Mare, 9 years old;
 Five cows, 3, 6 and 7 years old;
 Cow, 6 years old, new milch;
 Two Cows, 6 years old, springers;
 Cow, 7 years old, to calve in May;
 3 Young Cows, 3 and 4 years old;
 Eight two-year-old Steers,
 Two two-year-old heifers,
 Three Steer Calves,
 Polled Durham Bull Calf,
 One Gang Plow,
 Bay City Hill Plow,
 One Fairfield Plow,
 One set Smoothing Harrows,
 One Superior Disc Drill,
 New Steel Roller,

Two-horse Cultivator,
 Combination Stock and Hay Rack,
 Champion Binder,
 Champion Mower, draw out;
 American Disc Harrow,
 American 2 horse Cultivator,
 Miller Bean Harvester,
 Studebaker Wagon, box and rack;
 Good Chain-truck Harness,
 Double Harness, nearly new;
 Two Corn Shellers,
 New Bob-sleighs,
 Spring-tooth Harrow,
 Oliver Plow, No. 50
 About 5 tons nice Timothy Hay; Corn in bundle; about 10 tons Alsike clover, threshed. Other articles too numerous to mention.

TERMS OF SALE:
 $5 and under, Cash; over that amount 7 months' time on good approved endorsed notes with interest at 7 per cent.
J. W. DICKHOUT, Prop.
 J. H. STRIFFLER, Auctioneer.

We have now Ready
 For your inspection a fine new line of Lace Curtains, Bed Spreads, Curtain Materials, Silkalines and General Drapery Cloths, giving a general idea of the new things in demand. Along with these come the new Flexible Metallic Curtain Rod. Can be used for beds, comodes, doors and windows. Ask to see it.

In Rain Coats and Short Jackets we have a fine showing.
 Below is a small list of the New Wool and Wash Goods to be found with us all in the new shades and patterns:
 Printed Wash Goods—Henley Serge, Mohair Luster, Alsace Taffeta, Dotted Swiss Muslin, Fine Dimities, Luverne Checked Organdie.
 Colored and Black Dress Fabrics—Wool Batiste, Wool Serge, Wool Taffeta, Wool Poplin, Tropical Panama, Grey Mixed over plaids, Grey mixed Suitings, Empress Gloria, a new creation for shirt waist suits, plain cream and colors in Mohair and Ceceliano.
New Button and Lace Oxfords in Black and White for Ladies, Misses and Children. Also fine line of Men's Heavy and Dress Shoes.
 Phone No. 77 Promptly answered and goods delivered.
 100 Cords Green Poplar Wood Wanted.
 Produce taken same as cash.

A. A. HITCHCOCK
 Opera House Block.
 Complete McKinley Edition 10c. Sheet Music; also newest Popular Music at 25c.
A. A. P. McDOWELL
 At the ENTERPRISE Office, Seeger Street.

SHEET MUSIC
 Complete McKinley Edition 10c. Sheet Music; also newest Popular Music at 25c.
A. A. P. McDOWELL
 At the ENTERPRISE Office, Seeger Street.

Kokomo Farm Fence
 Notice the LOCK in the accompanying cut. It can't slip. You can't make it slip. This fence is made of High Carbon Steel.
Best Galvanized Fence on the market.

Look at the spacing! Don't you think it would keep anything out? We do. Fully warranted.
STRIFFLER & McDERMOTT
 ALL KINDS OF FARM IMPLEMENTS

Holdings All the Good
 Shuts Out All the Bad

The sealed cans in which Bancroft House Mocha and Java Coffee is put up, insure strength, purity, aroma and cleanliness to all lovers of the beverage. This coffee, selected from the highest grades obtainable, carefully cleaned and roasted, is again cleaned, and is then blended "just right." It holds its strength, flavor and aroma, and every package is good to the end. Put up only in 1 lb. and 2 lb. sealed cans; 40c and 70c. Sold by all leading grocers.

ASK FOR
Bancroft House Coffee
 Absolutely the Best Coffee Made

Auction Sale!
 I will sell the following described property at my farm, 1/2 mile south of Beaulieu, Grant Township, Huron Co., on Monday, March 26th,
 at 12 o'clock sharp, the following:

One gelding, 7 years old;
 One mare, 7 years old;
 One Iron Grey, 4 years old;
 One Bay Mare, 9 years old;
 Five cows, 3, 6 and 7 years old;
 Cow, 6 years old, new milch;
 Two Cows, 6 years old, springers;
 Cow, 7 years old, to calve in May;
 3 Young Cows, 3 and 4 years old;
 Eight two-year-old Steers,
 Two two-year-old heifers,
 Three Steer Calves,
 Polled Durham Bull Calf,
 One Gang Plow,
 Bay City Hill Plow,
 One Fairfield Plow,
 One set Smoothing Harrows,
 One Superior Disc Drill,
 New Steel Roller,

Two-horse Cultivator,
 Combination Stock and Hay Rack,
 Champion Binder,
 Champion Mower, draw out;
 American Disc Harrow,
 American 2 horse Cultivator,
 Miller Bean Harvester,
 Studebaker Wagon, box and rack;
 Good Chain-truck Harness,
 Double Harness, nearly new;
 Two Corn Shellers,
 New Bob-sleighs,
 Spring-tooth Harrow,
 Oliver Plow, No. 50
 About 5 tons nice Timothy Hay; Corn in bundle; about 10 tons Alsike clover, threshed. Other articles too numerous to mention.

TERMS OF SALE:
 $5 and under, Cash; over that amount 7 months' time on good approved endorsed notes with interest at 7 per cent.
J. W. DICKHOUT, Prop.
 J. H. STRIFFLER, Auctioneer.

We have now Ready
 For your inspection a fine new line of Lace Curtains, Bed Spreads, Curtain Materials, Silkalines and General Drapery Cloths, giving a general idea of the new things in demand. Along with these come the new Flexible Metallic Curtain Rod. Can be used for beds, comodes, doors and windows. Ask to see it.

In Rain Coats and Short Jackets we have a fine showing.
 Below is a small list of the New Wool and Wash Goods to be found with us all in the new shades and patterns:
 Printed Wash Goods—Henley Serge, Mohair Luster, Alsace Taffeta, Dotted Swiss Muslin, Fine Dimities, Luverne Checked Organdie.
 Colored and Black Dress Fabrics—Wool Batiste, Wool Serge, Wool Taffeta, Wool Poplin, Tropical Panama, Grey Mixed over plaids, Grey mixed Suitings, Empress Gloria, a new creation for shirt waist suits, plain cream and colors in Mohair and Ceceliano.
New Button and Lace Oxfords in Black and White for Ladies, Misses and Children. Also fine line of Men's Heavy and Dress Shoes.
 Phone No. 77 Promptly answered and goods delivered.
 100 Cords Green Poplar Wood Wanted.
 Produce taken same as cash.

A. A. HITCHCOCK
 Opera House Block.
 Complete McKinley Edition 10c. Sheet Music; also newest Popular Music at 25c.
A. A. P. McDOWELL
 At the ENTERPRISE Office, Seeger Street.

SHEET MUSIC
 Complete McKinley Edition 10c. Sheet Music; also newest Popular Music at 25c.
A. A. P. McDOWELL
 At the ENTERPRISE Office, Seeger Street.

Kokomo Farm Fence
 Notice the LOCK in the accompanying cut. It can't slip. You can't make it slip. This fence is made of High Carbon Steel.
Best Galvanized Fence on the market.

Look at the spacing! Don't you think it would keep anything out? We do. Fully warranted.
STRIFFLER & McDERMOTT
 ALL KINDS OF FARM IMPLEMENTS

Edward Pinney, Cashier.
 C. G. Matzen, Assistant Cashier.
The Exchange Bank
 Established 1886.
 Pays 4 per cent on time Certificates of Deposit.
 Loans money on Real Estate mortgages and approved notes.
E. H. PINNEY, Banker.

Cedar Posts Fence Stakes
 Telephone Poles, etc.,
 FOR SALE
 Good green Cedar Posts from 5c to 9c each.
 Enquire of
L. E. KARR.

NEW BLACKSMITH SHOP
 In the Old McKim Stand.
 Having had years of experience I am prepared to give satisfaction in Horseshoeing and Repair Work of all kinds.

A. T. CRAFTS
Cass City Bank
 Established 1882
I. B. Auten, Prop.
 A GENERAL BANKING BUSINESS TRANSACTED.
 Money to Loan on Real Estate. Mortgages.
 Drafts issued payable in any country in the world. Collections a specialty.
C. W. McKENZIE, Cashier.
 Young Man...
 Get one of our Savings Banks and save your nickels and pennies.

O. A. STOLL
Wholesale and Retail Florist
 OXFORD, MICH.
 All Cut Flowers and Potted Plants in season. Funeral designs artistically made and shipped to any part of the state.
 Telephone, telegraph and mail orders promptly attended to.

A Friend That was a Friend.
 Don't frown—look pleasant. If you are suffering from indigestion or sour stomach, take Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. Hon. Jake Moore, of Atlanta, Ga., says: "I suffered more than 20 years with indigestion. A friend recommended Kodol. It relieved me in one day and I now enjoy better health than for many years." Kodol digests what you eat, relieves sour stomach, gas on stomach, belching, etc. Sold by L. L. Wood & Co., Cass City; E. A. Francis, Kingston.

DR. ANDREW B. SPINNEY
 Formerly of Detroit.
 Proprietor of
REED CITY SANITARIUM
 THE OLD RELIABLE SPECIALIST
DO YOU WANT FREE CONSULTATION AND CORRECT OPINION OF YOUR CASE.
 If you are poor your treatment is free. If you are discouraged and we can cure you, we will wait for our pay until you are well. Come and see us; this is your last chance.
 We live to do good, are honest with all. Forty-five years' experience free. This trip and today only.

The above is the picture of the only Dr. A. B. Spinney in this state. His history is as follows: Fifteen years in private practice, twelve of these in East Saginaw, Mich., with large a practice as any physician then had. Two years professor in Detroit Homoeopathic College and twenty-two years in Detroit. Held charge of Alma Sanitarium eighteen months; Assistant one year, and for the past seven years in the state. Have been here forty-five years, so do not make a mistake and consult or write the wrong firm if you wish to see me. I am at the Sanitarium every Sunday except one in a month. Will be at the place and date below as follows:
 We are coming to your town on date and at place mentioned and are willing to give you our time and the benefit of our forty-four years' experience, free.
 It matters not how long you have been sick, or what your suffering is; if you are afflicted with any of the following diseases, we will cure you, if you will let us. How you have been sick for years and are you discouraged? Come to us and we will cure you. Our prices are the lowest of any chronic disease specialists in the state. Charges at the sanitarium only actual cost. We treat all forms of chronic diseases, but special attention is given to the treatment of the following long standing diseases, viz.: Nasal Catarrh, Polypus, Mucous and Tertiary Diseases of the Throat, Foreign Growths in the Larynx, Laryngitis, Bronchitis, Bronchial Consumption, Piles, Puncture, Fistula, Irregular and Indolent Ulcers, Hip Diseases, Scrofula, Blood and Skin Diseases, Surgical Diseases of all forms, the Eye, Ear, Face and Internal Organs, including Deformities, Club Feet, Cross-Eyes, Tumors, Hare Lips, etc., also Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Diarrhoea, and all forms of Liver, Stomach and Bowel Diseases.
Remarkable Cures Perfected in old cases which have been neglected or unsatisfactorily treated. No experiments or failures. Parties treated by mail or express, but personal consultation is preferred.
Remember Date of visit. Come early as parlor is always crowded. A friendly call may save you future suffering; it has made life anew to thousands who have been pronounced beyond hope. Bring sample of your urine, for examination.
REED CITY SANITARIUM
 Reed City, Michigan
 Dr. A. B. Spinney will be at Cass City, New Sheridan, Tuesday, March 27th From 11 a. m. to 9 p. m. Consultation free.

Foley's Honey and Tar
 heals lungs and stops the cough.