

Village dips into surplus, financial statement shows

Cass City spent more money than it took in last year, but less than planned, and emerged with a financial clean bill of health. The village council, in addition to receiving the annual audit Tuesday evening, approved the bid documents for the new tennis courts. If all goes well, the first balls could be served on the four courts this summer.

The audit was presented by Robert Gentner and Gary Kellar of the certified public accounting firm of Yeo and Yeo of Saginaw and Marlette.

Of the numerous financial accounts, the major one is the general fund.

Revenue in 1980 totaled $415,252, while expenditures totaled $421,661. That meant the village had to dip into its fund balance to the tune of $6,409; however, the original plan had been to deplete the savings account by $30,000.

Cass City ended 1980 with a balance of $133,661 remaining in its general fund.

Revenues for all funds in 1980 totaled $3.06 million, of which $1.96 million was for the wastewater treatment plant project (mostly federal funds).

Total expenditures were $3.01 million, of which $1.93 million was for the treatment plant.

The cash balance remaining at the end of the year totaled $97,653 for all regular village funds, $84,921 in the debt service fund and $140,783 in the capital project fund for the treatment plant.

Gentner expressed a note of caution concerning the major and local street funds, which had a fund balance of only $619 and $532 respectively at the end of the year.

Declining gasoline and weight tax revenues from the state, the major revenue source for work on village streets, he said, could mean problems in the future.

The accountant had high praise for the Cass City officials' securing of federal funds for various projects, including the sewage treatment plant project now underway and the Doerr Road-Garfield Street reconstruction project done last year.

The village isn't accumulating healthy surpluses, he observed, but, "overall is not in bad financial shape," and is going through the same financial crunch as are other municipalities and school districts.

"All in all, I think the village has done a very good job over a number of years," he commented.

TENNIS COURTS

The council approved the blueprints and bid package for the new tennis courts, prepared by the engineering firm of Tosach and Sobczak Associates of Saginaw. They now must be approved by the Department of Natural Resources. Federal funds, funneled through the DNR, are paying half of the projected $60,000 cost of the project. Village and locally donated funds will pay the rest.

The most optimistic forecast presented at the meeting, which no one thought will happen, calls for the DNR to give their approval in time for the council at its March 23 meeting to authorize advertising for bids. Bids could be opened a month later and construction could start soon afterward.

Although that timetable probably won't be met -- the delay is expected at the DNR -- it is hoped the new courts will be ready for use before summer is over.

PARKING LOTS

The council approved a new three-year lease agreement with the owners of property on which the village maintains three parking lots. The fee paid had stayed the same for the past five years.

The increase the first year under the new lease will be 18.2 percent, 7.7 percent the second year, and 7.1 percent the third.

The owner of the Jackson parking lot property behind the Gamble's store, who had been receiving $3,300 annually, will get $4,500 the third year. Gross parking lot behind Sommers' Bakery, from $810 now to $1,105 the last year, and the Fort parking lot, behind the Federated store, from $195 to $266.

OTHER ITEMS

The council committed the village to participate in preparation of a countywide solid waste management plan. That means a local contribution to pay for it, but probably not over $100. (See story elsewhere on this page.)

Solicitation of bids for the village's property and liability insurance was approved, due May 15. They will be awarded no later than June 29. Present policies expire June 30.

A request from Keith Goslin of Gagetown to empty a drain from a 50-acre tiled field at the northwest corner of Milligan and Cemetery Roads into the village storm sewer was denied. Council members feared such a drain might someday overload the storm sewer system.

An annexation request from Harris-Hampshire Insurance for its property on E. Cass City Road, was approved along with water and sewer service. The annexation to the village must now be approved by the Tuscola County Board of Commissioners.

Area governments plan little change in trash disposal system

Representatives of most of the townships and villages in Tuscola county voted last Thursday to prepare a county trash disposal plan.

The representatives of the 17 units present at the meeting at the Caro Municipal Building, plus two voting absentee, voted unanimously in favor.

The plan will emphasize continuing present methods of trash collection and disposal.

Tuscola county, as are all counties in the state, is facing a July 11, 1982, deadline to prepare a plan to submit to the state Department of Natural Resources (DNR) detailing how solid waste will be disposed of over the next 20 years. The plan must be updated each five years.

The county plan prepared a few years ago by the health department dealt primarily with landfills and the present means of trash disposal (primarily done by private contractors).

The more involved plan required by the newer state law approved in 1978 is designed to ensure that solid waste is collected and disposed of in facilities which comply with state law. It must also address the feasibility of resource recovery (recycling) in connection with landfill operations and the present method of disposal in each township.

The county Board of Commissioners could have undertaken preparation of the plan, but declined to do so by the December deadline.

THE REPRESENTATIVES of the local governmental units who met in Caro voted to proceed with preparation of the plan. The alternative would have been to let the East Central Michigan Planning and Development Region prepare the plan and if it declined, then the DNR would do it.

From the standpoint of preparing a plan best suited to local needs, neither of the two alternatives was felt desirable.

The resolution called for the group to file a letter of intent with the DNR by the April 22 deadline stating it will prepare the solid waste plan and that the plan will indicate a desire to continue with present methods of waste disposal.

Cass City and Caro operate the only two landfills in Tuscola county. Most trash hauling, to those landfills or to privately owned ones in other counties is done by private contractors.

THERE ARE 34 TOWNSHIPS and villages in the county. According to Cass City village Superintendent Lou LaPonsie, all will be asked to individually approve a resolution as close to March 4 as possible stating official willingness to participate in preparation of the plan.

The significance of Wednesday, March 4, is that another meeting will be held then, at which DNR representatives will be told what has been decided. The meeting will be at 7 p.m. in the Caro Municipal Building.

THE OTHER DECISION reached last Thursday, according to LaPonsie, who represented Cass City along with Village President Lambert Althaver, was that a delegation will be sent to the county board, asking it to designate the county Planning Commission as the agency to be in charge of preparing the disposal plan.

If the county commissioners agree, the Planning Commission could hire a consulting firm to perform the task.

The DNR can provide about $6,000 to pay for preparation of the plan, he provided the local units can come up with a total of $1,200 as a local match.

It wasn't decided at the meeting whether each unit will provide an equal share of the money ($1,200 divided by 34 equals $35.29) or whether it would be apportioned on basis of population.

Since it might cost more than $7,200, units may have to contribute more than $35 each.

VILLAGES REPRESENTED at the meeting, in addition to Cass City, were Caro, Millington, and Akron.

Townships represented were Elkland, by Supervisor Jack Gallagher, Novesta, by Supervisor Bill O'Dell, Elmwood, by Supervisor Roy Messer, and Ellington, Dayton, Arbela, Kingston, Akron, Watertown, Juniata, Columbia, Gilford and Indianfields.

Voting absentee were Mayville and Fremont township.

FORTY-TWO YEARS -- John Glaza starts to turn on one of the mammoth diesel engines at the Thumb Electric Co-operative power plant in Ubyly, which drives a generator. He retired Friday after 42 years on the job.

Glaza produces last watts for Thumb Electric

John Glaza began working at Thumb Electric Co-operative the day it generated its first watt of electricity.

That was June 18, 1938. After more than 42 years on the job, he finally decided it was time to retire. Friday, Feb. 20, was his last day. He was the last of the original employees to retire.

Saturday, he was guest of honor at a retirement dinner at the Ubyly Heights Country Club.

Glaza, who celebrated his 64th birthday his last day at work, held only two jobs during his 42 plus years. He was a power plant operator until 1967 and chief engineer at the Ubyly plant after that, which still involved some operator's duties.

He had a role in bringing electricity to the rural areas of the three upper Thumb counties even before Thumb Electric started generating power.

Glaza grew up on a farm a couple of miles northwest of Ubyly.

In 1937, when the cooperative was in the planning stages, he got a job with the federal Rural Electrification Administration surveying homes to determine who wanted electricity installed, how many outlets they desired, etc. Until then, he was working on the family farm.

He then got a job with a private contractor installing utility poles, on which a crew that followed strung the wires.

Construction of the generating plant building on M-19, about a half mile north of Ubyly, began early in 1938 and Glaza got a job with Weber Construction Co. of Bay City, the contractor building the building.

When the building was done, he was hired by Fairbanks-Morse, the manufacturer of the three locomotive size diesel engines that powered the generators, to help install them.

When everything was ready to go, Thumb Electric put him on its payroll as an operator at the plant.

HIS FIRST DAY ON THE job, as mentioned, was the first day the powerplant began generating electricity.

That was quite a day in Ubyly, Glaza remembered. There was a big parade to celebrate the occasion and the governor of Michigan, Frank Murphy, was present. (See sidebar story.)

Thumb Electric began with three diesel engines inside its powerhouse which generated all the power it needed in the three counties. In fact, with its original 900 member customers, only one was needed. (It now has more than 9,000.)

"When we were putting the engines in," he recalled, "the engineers said we would never use (all of) them. They couldn't see why we were putting them in." The engineers, of course, were wrong. A fourth engine was installed in 1947. Fortunately, the building had been constructed with room for another engine should it ever be needed.

The increasing demand for power led to construction of the Caro power station with three diesel engines. Please turn to page 16.

Milliken fete stirs controversy

Gov. William G. Milliken's public appearances usually aren't controversial, but his appearance last Wednesday at the Thumb Area Republican Caucus (TARC) reception at the Ubyly Heights Country Club was full of behind the scenes fireworks.

Also present was state Republican Party Chairman Mel Larsen.

The controversy centers around State Sen. Alvin DeGrow's attempt to defeat unsuccessful Congressional candidate Norman Hughes' bid for another term as 8th Congressional District Republican chairman.

It might also be considered a struggle between the "old guard," represented by DeGrow versus the conservative "new guard," represented by Hughes.

Adding to the controversy was that the Milliken reception was held the same evening as the regular monthly 8th district meeting, which was in Bad Axe.

In the election last November, Milliken refused to support Hughes' candidacy for Congress because of the latter's frequent criticism of the governor's moderate political philosophy. The Metamora Republican is considered very conservative.

THE GOVERNOR spoke briefly to the approximately 300 persons who paid $10 each to see him and eat the refreshments.

Milliken praised DeGrow, who had introduced him, but made no mention of the senator's candidacy for the 8th district chairmanship.

"He is an extremely well informed man who has the courage of his convictions, even when they may not do what is politically expedient at the time," the governor commented.

Most of his remarks were devoted to the "tough economic times Michigan now faces" and the need to turn things around.

He commented that President Reagan's proposals for deregulation of business and industry may help stimulate jobs.

The president's proposed measures are necessary, he said, even though they may hurt.

"I predict tonight that one year from today, the state that you and I are viewing will be quite different than the one we see tonight with all its problems," he said optimistically.

DEGROW, IN HIS REMARKS prior to those of the governor, praised Milliken and mentioned their many years of service together. He made no mention of his running for 8th district chairman.

Others on the platform during the approximately half-hour program were State Rep. Keith Muxlow, R-Brown City, TARC Chairman Bill Mayes of Port Austin, and state party chairman Larsen.

The reception ran from 5:30-8 p.m. The governor arrived about 5:40 and left by 7. Reportedly, he left earlier than planned because he had flown to Bad Axe and wanted to leave quickly because of the heavy fog. He did not go to the 8th district meeting.

MAYES, IN COMMENTS to the Chronicle prior to the reception, denied it was scheduled the same day as the district meeting in order to upstage the latter event.

When the group was formed, he said, a request was made to the governor to attend a reception and Feb. 18 was the day the governor had available.

The date was confirmed, according to Mayes, prior to when notice was received of the district meeting.

The purpose of the caucus, he explained, is to coordinate Republican efforts in the upper Thumb. "I really believe we can have more impact."

LARSEN, PRIOR TO leaving the TARC reception for the 8th district meeting, said he thought any wounds because of the conflicting events were in the process of being healed.

"You're always going to have different ideas how to accomplish things."

At the meeting, Larsen did receive criticism concerning the governor's visit, which bypassed the regular Republican party organization.

His basic response was that it was the governor's decision to attend and that it

No debaters

Contrary to what was reported last week, Malcolm House and Kevin Hobart did not compete in the state debate tournament. The error was due to incorrect information being submitted to the Chronicle, unbeknownst to the debate coach. As was correctly reported, Crystal Galloway and Michelle Particka finished fifth.

John McMaster of Canton Center, Greg and Brian Wilhelm of Westland and James Hunt of Livonia spent from Thursday through Monday with Mrs. Lilah Wilhelm.

Bruce A. Little of San Francisco, Cal., flew into Detroit Saturday and was met by his brother-in-law, Donald Roberts, and son Kevin of Center Line and came to Cass City to spend a few days with his mother, Mrs. Reva M. Little. Mrs. Roberts, who had been here since Feb. 17, took him back to Detroit Tuesday to return to San Francisco Wednesday.

The Art Club met Wednesday, Feb. 18, at the home of Hazel Seeley after having dinner at the Charmont. The next meeting will be at the home of Laura Maier.

Mr. and Mrs. Stan Guinther spent Thursday through Saturday in Grand Rapids and attended the annual Bible conference at Grand Rapids Baptist College.

A father-child banquet will be held Saturday, March 7, in Good Shepherd Lutheran fellowship hall, starting at 6:30. The theme is "By Gosh and By Golly."

The March meeting of Good Shepherd Lutheran Ladies Aid is Monday, March 2, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Hi Gates, camp manager of Rock Lake Christian Assembly, will be guest speaker at the Novesta Church of Christ Sunday, March 1. He will be at the Sunday School hour, 10 a.m.-11 a.m., and the worship service at 11:00. A carry-in dinner will be held in the fellowship hall.

Mrs. David Henke of Pontiac visited friends and relatives in Cass City Friday and was an overnight guest of Mrs. Russell Cook. She returned home Saturday.

Funeral Thursday for Wallace Laurie

William Wallace Laurie, 94, of Gagetown died Monday at the Tuscola County Medical Care Facility in Caro. He was born Aug. 24, 1886, in Elmer township, Sanilac county, the son of William and Catherine (Clokey) Laurie. Laurie married Marion Gill June 1, 1909, in Caro. They came to Elmwood township in 1914. He was the oldest member of the Gagetown United Methodist church; a life member of Tyler Lodge No. 317, F and AM, Cass City; past master of Acme Lodge No. 446, F and AM, Gagetown, and a life member of Echo Chapter No. 337, Order of the Eastern Star, Cass City. Laurie is survived by his wife, Marion; two sons, Grover Laurie and Thomas Laurie, both of rural Gagetown; one daughter, Mrs. Donald J. (Janet) Martin of Gagetown; one sister, Mrs. Hazel Melick of Bad Axe; one sister-in-law, Mrs. Louise Laurie of Mainlands, Fla.; four grandchildren, and 10 great-grandchildren. One daughter, Christina, one brother and one sister preceded him in death. He will be taken from Little's Funeral Home, Cass City, at 11 a.m. Thursday to the Gagetown United Methodist church to lie in state until the 1 p.m. funeral service. Rev. Myra Sparks will officiate. Burial will be in Elmwood cemetery, Gagetown.

Berry says 'Buckle up' for safety

"Your sheriff wants you to buckle up and live," is the slogan adopted by the Michigan Sheriffs' Association in a statewide campaign to promote seatbelt usage. Tuscola County Sheriff Paul Berry said the slogan will soon be seen on billboards, decals and posters and heard on radio and television public service announcements across the state. According to Berry, the Tuscola County Sheriff's Department has given its support to the campaign by adopting a policy requiring the use of seatbelts by department employees while on official business. He said that statistics compiled by the state show that only 11 percent of the almost 900,000 persons involved in automobile accidents in Michigan in 1979 were wearing seatbelts. Only three percent of persons who died in traffic mishaps were using seatbelts. "Many of the deaths and serious injuries occurring in this county could be prevented if people would just buckle up," he commented.

Consumers taxes total

Consumers Power Co. paid winter property taxes for 1980 in Tuscola county amounting to $290,754, according to James A. Albertson, Bay City district manager. The payments represent the taxes Consumers paid on its buildings, land, pole, electric lines, gas pipeline, and other equipment in the county. As an investor-owned utility, Consumers pays property taxes on all taxable real and personal property. In Tuscola, payments included: Columbia township, $2,731; Elkland, $7; Ellington, $17, and Elmwood, $1,522. Arbel township, in the southwest corner, received the most, $50,314.

Regular readers will remember that Citibank Visa goofed when we paid the monthly bill, and failed to find one of the checks enclosed.

Consequently we were charged interest of $5.91 and I reported that I would pay rather than fight.

Not my wife. She's fighting. She fired a letter off to Visa and was rewarded with a form letter.

This one says that they are investigating the claim and continues with computerized la-de-da thanking us for our inquiry, appreciate your patience, etc.

Tom Skladany, punter for the Detroit Lions, answered questions before the Cass City Rotary Tuesday. Here is the inside information as he sees it.

Woody Hayes - Skladany played four years for him. Says that he is one of the finest men he ever met. All out for his players outside of football as well as in it.

Billy Sims - Every bit as good as the media pictures him. Professional football - not as nerve-racking as college. Biggest pressure comes from other players when there's a chance to make play-offs which means more money which is the name of the game.

Russ Thomas - if Skladany had William Ford's (Lions owner) money he'd want Thomas to handle the purse strings.

Gary Danielson - a top leader, fine quarterback but with a little less powerful arm than some of the big throwers in the league.

Incidentally, it's possible that Skladany will make more money after his grid career ends than he does with it.

He's engaging, articulate and appears to be carving a niche for himself in the advertising agency field.

Brickley at Red Cross centennial celebration Sunday at Ubyly Heights

Creation of the American Red Cross Disaster Services as the result of work the organization did in the aftermath of the great fire of 1881, which devastated most of the upper Thumb, will be observed in Ubyly Sunday.

The Huron county chapter will be paying tribute to those who died in that fire, the disaster that created the legacy of the American Red Cross.

The chapter will also be honoring the spirit of those who survived and those relief workers who helped the survivors return to a normal way of life.

Red Cross National Vice-President Ervin Oberschmidt of Washington, D.C., will be the keynote speaker at the 4 p.m. dinner at the Ubyly Heights Country Club. The banquet will be preceded by a social hour that begins at 3.

Michigan Lieutenant Governor James Brickley, U.S. Rep. Bob Traxler, D-Bay City, and local political dignitaries and divisional and regional Red Cross officials will also take part in the event.

Tickets are available by contacting Lois Everingham at Community Bank, Bad Axe, or from any county chapter board member.

Huron County Chairman June Bowerbank said the celebration is being sponsored in conjunction with the national Red Cross centennial celebration starting the same day across the nation. The celebration will end in the nation's capital in May with the Red Cross national convention.

A plaque marking the centennial will be presented to Huron county officials for display in the County Building. Red Cross officials from Detroit, Flint and area chapters will also attend. Mrs. Bowerbank said.

A brief history of the 1881 fire will be presented during the program.

The fire began Sept. 5, 1881.

When the three day disaster ended, about 280 people were dead, 15,000 were homeless and a million acres of prime land had burned.

Relief organizations brought in food and clothing to meet immediate needs,

Names known

Some of the names listed under the photo of the Cass City High School baseball team of 1907 or '08 which appeared in last week's Chronicle were incorrect, according to Edith Hoffman.

The two persons not identified were "Hub" Lee, to the left of Alex Miller, and to the right of Miller, she believes, Howard McRae.

Corrected names are George Vader, who was her brother, not Ivan Vader, and Stanley Wickware, not Ray Wickware. She also believes it was Harry Strifler, not his brother, Fred.

Perhaps he wasn't close enough to be called a real buddy. He was an associate, one of the guys.

That probably describes Jim Champion, too. One of the guys. With the faults and the strengths that afflict us all.

Some guys you can set your watch by. Jim, you couldn't set your calendar by. That's not a knock, just the way he was.

Jim was a member of our poker club in years gone by. You never knew whether he was going to be there until he showed up.

It probably was to the advantage of the rest of us when he failed to show. We all called him the "luckiest" poker player around. Now that I'm older and maybe a shade wiser I conclude that perhaps it wasn't luck at all.

Since he died, I've been trying to figure out what it was about Jim that made it seem important to me to tell you about him.

It's hard to pinpoint. He wasn't anything special in the sense that he was a merchant prince, an outstanding athlete or a scholar.

After he left Cass City, he moved to Grayling and purchased a bar. A good many

"If It Fitz..."

My name is Jim...

By Jim Fitzgerald

At the Detroit Press Club, there is a friendly waitress who always greets me the same way: "Hi, Jim, how's Terrible Jean?" I won't reveal her name for fear she'll lose her job. Club management recently decreed that the hired help must not call customers by their first names without prior permission from the customers. There have been complaints from members who don't like to be reminded who they really are.

This first-name ban is obviously an effort to fatten the club treasury by relaxing the historically strict qualifications for membership. Previously, the only people allowed to join the private club were those with connections to the communication industry — newspaper, radio, TV, public relations and so on — plus a few lawyers and public employees who managed to qualify for membership by buying a newspaper from a vending machine at the club entrance. Now membership is also open to all people who don't want bartenders and waitpersons (OK?) calling them by their first names. It is expected there will be several defections from the Detroit Athletic Club, Pete's Taxidermy Shop and Mt. Elliott cemetery.

I don't know why some people don't want their first names used by other people who sell them service or products. Patrons usually address bartenders and waitpersons by their first names. In fact, it is common for waitpersons to introduce themselves to customers: "Good evening, my name is Patty, and I will be your waitress tonight." Patty never gives her last name.

Because I think I'm funny, I usually reciprocate: "Good evening, my name is Jim, and I will be your customer tonight." I never give my last name although, since I became a famous columnist, I do have my full name lettered on a sign which hangs from my nose. The sign also includes my club affiliations, including the Detroit Press Club, so Patty is usually so overcome with awe she can barely make it to the phone to double-check my Visa card.

Springer given prison term for child abuse

John M. Springer, found guilty by a jury Jan. 16 of child abuse, was sentenced Monday by Circuit Judge Patrick R. Joslyn to 18 months to six years in the State Prison of Southern Michigan at Jackson.

Springer, 27, of Otisville, was credited with 44 days served. Psychological counseling and psychiatric treatment were recommended.

The basic sentence was a maximum of four years, but following his conviction, he had pleaded guilty to supplemental information, of being an habitual offender. For that, Joslyn increased the maximum two years.

Springer was found guilty of having abused a 2-year-old boy in Caro Jan. 4, 1980.

Also Monday, Marcus E. Bradley, 26, of Phillips Road, Cass City, pleaded guilty to delivery of marijuana. His plea was accepted and bond continued until sentencing.

He is charged with sale of the controlled substance to an undercover police officer Sept. 4 in Novesta township.

Howard Palmerton, 22, of 5679 Jacob Drive, Vassar, stood mute to a charge of malicious destruction of an automobile over $100. A plea of innocent was entered and pretrial hearing scheduled

He is charged with damaging a 1981 model car Dec. 27 in Vassar.

A motion was granted for setting of bond for Alvin Thrasher, 22, of Millington, pending appeal of his Sept. 12, 1980, conviction by a jury of criminal sexual conduct (1st degree).

Bond was set at $35,000, cash or surety.

DISTRICT COURT

Daniel Spencer, 21, of 7633 Mushroom Road, Deford, pleaded guilty Monday to a charge of driving with license suspended or revoked (subsequent offense).

District Judge Richard F. Kern accepted his plea and sentenced him to five days in the county jail, probation, a $47 fine and $53 court costs.

He was cited on the charge Feb. 11 in Caro.

Jack W. Stahlbaum, 47, of 6293 W. Main Street, Cass City, pleaded guilty Feb. 3 to a charge of impaired driving.

His plea was accepted and he was fined $100, assessed $150 court costs and placed on probation.

He was taken into custody on the charge by deputies Jan. 29 in Elkland township.

Walbro producing new auto fuel pump

A new, high performance roller vane rotary fuel pump suitable for advanced types of electronic fuel injection systems has been developed by Walbro Corporation.

"The Series 7000 roller vane pump combines exceptional performance with a high degree of design flexibility, making it a real problem solver for designers working on state-of-the-art fuel injection systems," according to Victor M. Guernsey, senior vice-president in charge of Walbro's Automotive Products Group.

He announced development of the new product at a Feb. 18 meeting of the Detroit Auto Writers Group in Detroit. The pump is being highlighted at this week's Society of Automotive Engineers exposition in Detroit.

Production of the new pump, intended for both the original equipment and replacement markets, has begun at the Caro plant.

Guernsey said gasoline fuel injection systems are expected to proliferate in the coming years as automakers search for the most effective ways to improve fuel economy while satisfying pollution standards.

"This trend is facilitated by the growing use of sophisticated electronic systems to monitor key engine parameters and control various engine functions. These electronic systems can be teamed up with fuel injection to ensure accurate and reliable fuel management," he explained.

"We feel that the potential for various types of electronic fuel injection is great, and we developed the Series 7000 rotary pump to meet the stringent performance requirements of designers working on these advanced systems."

The Walbro Series 7000 roller vane rotary fuel pump is a compact, high performance unit suitable for either in-tank or in-line mounting. It utilizes an efficient roller vane pumping system. The pump's flow and pressure characteristics can be tailored to meet the needs of the fuel system designer.

Made of high quality materials, it can pump most liquid fuels, and is unaffected by gasohol.

Several accidents reported in area

Dry roads meant a reduction in traffic accidents during the past week, with several "victims" being deer and parked cars.

In an accident before roads were dry, at 2:40 p.m. Feb. 16, according to sheriff's deputies, Betty L. Alexander, 50, of 4675 Shabbona Road, Cass City, was northbound on Church, failed to stop at Oak Street and ran into a northbound car.

She pulled over and stopped because of an oncoming Road Commission snow plow, but the at least 10-foot wide V-blade on the front of the truck caught the left front corner of her car.

Jim Kelly wins $100 in drawing

Jim Kelly of Kingston is $100 richer this week because he shopped in Cass City last week end.

Kelly was the winner of the Washington's Birthday Sale promotion sponsored by the Cass City retail committee.

Kelly wasn't the only winner. Second and third prizes of $50 each went to Ruth Ball of Cass City and Gail Miracle of Cass City.

There were five $25 prizes won by Alton Hartell, Esther Buehrly, Mary Kirtton, Dorothy Grammatico and Donna Spencer, all of Cass City.

Ten prizes of $10 each were awarded to S. Coston, Mollie Hartel, June Lapp, George Czekai, Delores Tuckey, and L. Palmer, all of Cass City; Dorothy Phillips, Deford; Vi Vining, Decker, and Margaret Timmons and Charlotte Cooley, both of Owendale.

Her vehicle was pushed off the east side of the road backwards.

Driver of the snow plow was Earl H. Wilhans, 58, of Caro.

At 8:20 a.m. Wednesday, Feb. 18, Cass City police reported Elaine M. Kico, 29, of 4439 Seeger Street, westbound on Church, failed to stop at Oak Street and ran into a northbound car.

Driver of the other auto was Freda B. Parrish, 54, of 4381 Brooker Street.

Sherri Ann Kozan, 18, of Caro, was ticketed by sheriff's deputies on a charge of failure to yield after an accident at 3:40 p.m. last Wednesday.

Officers reported she was eastbound on Deckerville Road, stopped at the stop sign, but then pulled into the path of and collided with a car headed northeast on M-81.

Driver of the other auto was Charmaine H. Fahrner, 40, of 5645 N. Cemetery Road, Cass City.

Cass City police reported that at 10:52 p.m. Saturday, an unidentified motorist was pulling out of a parking place at the Charmont, started turning too soon, and hit the left side of the car parked alongside. The driver then left.

Owner of the parked car was Suzanne Chappel of Cass City.

At 2:50 a.m. Sunday, according to deputies, Bernard J. Dillon, 29, of 5686 Ritter Road, Cass City, struck a parked car in the Walnut Trailer Park on S. Seeger Street. He is a temporary resident of the park.

Owner of the parked car, parked in front of her mobile home, was Mable Slater.

Omnia L. Elenbaum, 39, of 6359 Robinson Road, Cass City, was westbound on M-81, near Crawford Road, at 7:03 p.m. Feb. 17 when her car struck a deer.

At 6:15 a.m. last Thursday, Tiena June Britton, 49, of 3833 S. Plain Road, Kingston, was northbound on Mushroom Road, south of Mushroom Road, when her auto collided with a deer.

Deputies investigated both car-deer mishaps.

Shoplifters caught at local pharmacy

Four shoplifters were apprehended by employees at Coach Light Pharmacy between Feb. 13 and 23 (Monday), according to Cass City Police Chief Gene Wilson.

One, who was 18, was released, he said, because there was lack of proof the item in question had been taken.

The other three were juveniles, ages 10, 13 and 15, who were turned over to their parents. One or two of them may be petitioned into probate court, the chief said.

The items shoplifted were pens, cosmetics and sunglasses.

B.A. Calka of 6306 W. Main Street, reported to village police Saturday morning that during the night, the large sign in front of his home and office had been pushed over.

Eugene E. Rushlow Jr. reported to sheriff's deputies Feb. 13 that the Wilmot Building Center, 5498 E. Sanilac Road, Kingston, had been entered since 1 p.m. the previous day.

A 5-by-6-foot window, worth $100, and two 1-foot square windows, $3 each, were broken, plus a large hole punched through a panel of an overhead door. All that was discovered missing was an intercom radio speaker worth $20.

5328 Main Street for the village to install a drain in the south side Main Street alley between West and Brooker Streets will be studied. His yard has been flooded recently, a problem which would be solved with the drain. Neighbor B.A. Calka supported his request.

Next negotiating session with the Fraternal Order of Police, which represents the three village officers, will be March 24.

Approximately 120 tons of salt have been spread on village streets this winter. Most of the originally budgeted amount for snow removal for all of 1981 has already been spent, village Superintendent Lou LaPonzie told the council.

Funeral held for Bruce Ricker, 53

Donald B. (Bruce) Ricker, 53, of Owendale, died Sunday at Huron Memorial Hospital, Bad Axe, following a short illness.

He was born Sept. 30, 1927, in Cass City, the son of John and Elizabeth (Ballantine) Ricker.

He and Imogene Wales were married Oct. 5, 1946, in Saginaw.

Ricker was a member of the Owendale United Methodist church and had been a Grant township trustee until November of last year.

Surviving are his wife; three sons, John Ricker, Bridgeport, Kip Ricker, Gageton, and Matthew Ricker, Owendale; eight grandchildren; four sisters, Mrs. Archibald (Gretchen) Walters, Bartlesville, Okla., Mrs. George (Maxine) Clara, Cass City, Mrs. Jim (Joyce) Horowitz, Long Branch, N.J., and Mrs. Maxwell (Lorraine) Huff, Jackson, Miss.

One sister, one brother and two sons preceded him in death.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at the Owendale United Methodist church, Rev. Myra L. Sparks officiating.

Burial was in the Grant township cemetery. The Shetler-Bussema Funeral Home, Pigeon, handled arrangements.

PEDALING AROUND

Over taxed

By Mike Eliasohn

I am half through my annual torture. Another wasted evening and I will be done.

Despite Henry Block's 15 reasons, none of them has ever been good enough for me to pay someone to do my income tax.

Besides being cheap — time is cheaper than money, as far as I am concerned — I figure by the time I get all my records together and assembled in an understandable order, I might as well do the work myself.

Saturday evening was devoted to figuring out my taxes in pencil. Another evening of double checking everything and doing the final copy in ink and I should be done.

In my many years of doing my own taxes, I have never been audited by the Internal Revenue Service or Michigan Department of Treasury. I like to think that is because I have never made a mistake, but perhaps they or their computer don't figure my income is worth the trouble to audit.

There are, of course, two types of mistakes to be made in figuring income taxes. Those in your favor and those in the government's favor. I wonder if the IRS and treasury department are conscientious about catching both kinds.

It may be that I pay more taxes than I need to, that perhaps a tax expert could find some loophole for me to squeeze through.

I have, for instance, never bothered to itemize my deductions to see if that would save me money over using a standard deduction. The reason I haven't is because I don't have the patience.

I almost missed a big deduction once. It was the first time I did my taxes after moving to Monroe. In fact, I had all my taxes figured but hadn't sent them in yet.

I was engaged in a conversation with a woman whose husband was a certified public accountant and the subject got around to my tax returns. "Did you deduct your moving expenses?" she asked.

Until then, I didn't know that expenses for moving to a new job and also travel expenses for going to and from job interviews were deductible.

I, of course, refigured my taxes and also took the deduction when I moved to Cass City.

Still, that strikes me as a deduction that should be eliminated. Presumably, one takes a new job for reasons of advancement, be it to a better job or from "no job" to "a job." Why should the government provide a subsidy for persons to improve their station in life? Obviously, they would move, tax deduction or not.

What has made doing one's taxes much easier was the invention of the cheap hand-held calculator.

Before they came along, doing my taxes meant a couple of evenings of doing laborious calculations, which covered about three pages.

Now, assuming I start early enough and don't have any questions for which I must wait to call the IRS, I can do it all in one evening and I only need one page for calculations.

The calculator is especially nice in doing the Michigan return, which requires figures at various stages to be multiplied by .046, .17 and .035. What used to take minutes now takes seconds and without the drudgery.

Isn't science wonderful? Now if it could only figure out a way to make paying taxes less painful.

REAL MILK -- Michigan Milk Producers Association Deford local officers, from left, are Gerald Hicks, vice-president; Maynard Stine, secretary-treasurer, holding the outstanding member recognition award he received; Les Severance, president, and MMPA President Glenn Lake. The latter two hold the new symbol placed on real dairy products, to distinguish them from imitations.

Lake: Future good, retiring MMPA prexy tells local

"The future is pretty good," Michigan Milk Producers Association President Glenn Lake told members of the MMPA Deford local Saturday.

It was Lake's farewell. He is retiring after 25 years as president of the state's largest dairy cooperative. After having attended an estimated 500 local meetings statewide, it was the last local meeting he attended as president.

At the March 21 MMPA annual meeting, he won't be running again for election to the board of directors and therefore will be ineligible to be elected president.

When he first became president, he told the approximately 50 persons present, the MMPA had 18,000 members and their cows produced just over 1 billion pounds of milk in a year.

In 1980, there were 6,049 members, whose cows produced 3 1/2 billion pounds of milk.

The North Branch dairy farmer served as a member of President-elect Reagan's transition team on agriculture.

"I think it's fair to say, there's going to be a fair number of changes proposed in programs we are familiar with," he said.

"We need to face the fact there may be some changes in the price support system." Whatever changes the Reagan administration does make, he predicted, won't be anything to panic about, however. Accordingly, he feels the future of the dairy business "is pretty good."

As for the organization he has headed so long, he predicted, "The future will be alright for MMPA." He closed by saying, "Thanks for all these years of cooperation," and promised that if invited, he would come back to another Deford local meeting, though not as president.

AFTER THE MEETING, held at the Shabbona United Methodist church, Lake, 65, said of his decision to retire, "I just think it is the right thing to do for MMPA to select a new president."

He does not feel the Reagan administration will recommend elimination of dairy price supports, which by law requires a minimum support price for manufactured grade milk of 80 percent of parity.

He predicted the Reagan administration will recommend to Congress a return to the old law requiring the secretary of agriculture to set the support price at between 75 and 90 percent of parity.

If that is approved, he feels it likely the agriculture secretary will set the price at 75 percent.

As for the current problem of an oversupply of milk, he feels that the supply of milk being cyclical, sometimes high and sometimes low, the problem will correct itself by the end of this year.

Lake and his wife Anne have one married daughter. He and his brother, Clare, partners for 40 years, milk 105 cows.

The last several years, Lake said, being MMPA president has been a full-time job. What will he do with all his extra time after he retires? On a dairy farm, he responded, finding things to do is never a problem.

Les Severance as president; Gerald Hicks, vice-president, and Maynard Stine, secretary-treasurer.

Stine was presented with the local's outstanding member recognition award.

Elected delegates to the state convention were Severance, Stine, Mike Satchell, Ron Hampshire and Leland Hirsch, with Robert DeLong, Don DeLong and Hesse, Venema as alternates.

Members voted for the local to pay $150 for Hampshire to attend a MMPA legislative trip to Washington in April. The MMPA will pay an equal amount.

Local dues will remain at $3.

Also addressing the group was district Director Mike Renn of Elkton, who discussed quality problems, the political fund, advertising and the new "real" symbol for dairy products.

Spring comes early

Spring came early for roads.

The Tuscola County Road Commission put spring weight restrictions in effect Monday morning. They went into effect in Huron and Sanilac counties Saturday morning.

Last year in Tuscola, they went into effect March 15.

Feb. 23 is earlier than normal, according to Jim Miklovic, clerk of the Tuscola Road Commission, but he recalled there have been other years when the restrictions began in February.

Under the limits, the maximum permitted on Class B restricted roads is 11,700 pounds on a single axle, compared to the normal 18,000 pounds. The limit is reduced from the normal 13,000 pounds on tandem axles to 8,450 pounds per axle.

On steering axles, the load maximum is 450 pounds per inch of wheel width instead of the normal 700 pounds.

was necessary for Republicans to work together.

HURON COUNTY Republican Chairman Jerry Stirrett of Owendale, a severe critic of the TARC organization and the reception, said of the latter, "I wouldn't rule out the possibility it was a coincidence," but added, "I have my doubts."

He accused DeGrow of being the organizer of the reception, that TARC members are the senator's supporters, some of whom previously held office in the Huron County Republican Party but were defeated for reelection by Hughes supporters.

"I really believe all Al DeGrow did was insult the intelligence of delegates who will be voting Feb. 27," Stirrett commented.

The 122 delegates to the state Republican convention in Detroit this week end from the seven counties that are all or partially within the 8th district will elect a chairman Friday.

Hughes has support, Stirrett said, because since he became district chairman, the number of Republican precinct delegates has more than doubled and the mailing list has increased from less than 100 to more than 600. "Norm created interest and got a lot of new blood in."

If DeGrow wins the chairmanship, he told the Chronicle, Hughes supporters will have to make concessions and if Hughes wins, then TARC will have to make concessions.

Stirrett greeted the governor at Uby Heights before leaving for the 8th district meeting in Bad Axe.

DeGrow did not attend the meeting to defend himself.

In announcing his candidacy, he had expressed concern over the "growing split" among 8th Congressional District Republicans.

He said he was running "because of a very real commitment to do everything in my power to try and bring the people of the district together again..."

"... it's time we put a Republican back in Washington as our congressman. Under my chairmanship, the district will put forward a strong candidate to accomplish this goal."

Working mothers' newsletter

"Employed Mothers - Family and Change" is the title of a letter that will help a working mother cope and adjust to employment, family, spouse and her own personal needs that will face her every day once she brings home a paycheck.
The six in a series newsletter will cover child care needs, home management, guilt feelings resulting from working, sharing family roles and responsibilities and keeping the family communication lines open when she goes to work. The newsletters will be available for a small fee through the Co-operative Extension Service, according to Peg Houck, extension home economist. To receive it, call the Extension Service at 648-2515 in Sandusky or 673-3161 in Caro.

Milk output continues to increase

Michigan's January milk production totaled 413 million pounds, up 1 percent from the same month last year, according to the Michigan Agricultural Reporting Service.

Production per cow averaged 1,060 pounds, up 35 pounds from a year ago. Cow numbers at 390,000 head were down 2 percent from January, 1980. Producers received $14.20 per hundredweight (cwt.) for their milk this January, $1.20 above the previous year's price.

Replacement milk cows cost an average of $1,270, compared to $1,175 a year ago. Slaughter cow prices fell to $42. per cwt., 15 percent below the January, 1980 price.

Nationally, January milk production totaled 10.7 billion pounds, 4 percent more than January, 1980. Production per cow averaged 988 pounds, 3 percent above a year earlier. Milk cow numbers averaged 10.9 million, 1 percent above last year.

Zonta picks committee

Lorene Rienstra hosted the Cass City Zonta Club meeting Feb. 17.

Elected to serve on the nominating committee were Helen Baker, Beverly Little and Edith Little. They will report their nominations for officers for the new year at the March 17 meeting.

The meeting will be at the home of Dorothy Ballard, with Colleen Krueger and Janice Chippi as co-hostesses.

Down Memory Lane

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

FIVE YEARS AGO

Construction of a temporary shelter at the Sanilac Petroglyphs in Greenleaf township should begin soon, according to State Rep. Quincy Hoffman. The carvings are believed to be over 500 years old. The Great Fire of 1881 wiped out pine forests, which sheltered the carvings.

Vandals did $300 damage to the concession stand in the village park Monday. Damaged were a refrigerator and popcorn machine.

The Cass City Village Council Tuesday evening increased the flat rate water fee by 16 percent and three categories by 20 cents per thousand gallons. Minimum rate (0-5,000 gallons) will be $14 per quarter.

Airman Kenneth Marker was to arrive Feb. 25 from Italy with his wife, Karla, and daughter, Stacie, on their way to Wurtsmith Air Force Base, Oscoda.

Cass City High School band members came away with two top finishes, nine seconds and one third at the District 3 solo and ensemble festival at Flint.

TEN YEARS AGO

Village employees have been taken off an hourly wage scale and granted wage boosts of about 7 percent by the Cass City Village Council. The increases will boost the cost of wages to the village about $6,500 per year.

In spite of adoption of a record $329,165 budget for 1971, Village President Lambert Althaver says no new village taxes will be levied.

Sally Whittaker of Cass City was crowned Tuscola Campus Life Sweetheart, Feb. 20 at the third annual pageant at Mayville High School.

Contract talks between the UAW-CIO and Walbro Corp. have reached an impasse as workers at the Cass City based company voted 163-13 to reject a company offer.

25 YEARS AGO

An estimated 90 persons, members of the Rotary, Lions and Gavel Clubs of Cass City and their wives, heard Vincent Syracuse from the Leader Dog training school at Rochester tell what it takes to produce a guide dog for the blind.

Harry Little and Joe Riley were reelected to the board of directors of the Cass City Development Corp.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dillman celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at their farm home west of Cass City.

Cass City's music students won nine No. 1 ratings at the district solo and ensemble festival at Flint Central High School.

Ben Kirton, who had owned a Cass City area milk route for 29 years, recently sold it to Richard McClorey. The Ubyl plant receives the milk.

35 YEARS AGO

A.J. Murray, 4-H member of Cass City, was a guest at a banquet held at Lansing by the Michigan Livestock Producers Association. A.J. Murray was chosen as the number one Tuscola county 4-H'er in meat animal raising.

Because of the heavy snow fall, no school busses have operated out of Cass City since Monday. Milk haulers for the Nestle's Milk Products condensary here were able to make only 40-50 percent of their regular runs on Tuesday and Wednesday.

The Gageton caucus for the nomination of village officers was held last week. Wesley Downing, who was president, refused to accept the nomination. James Dunn was nominated to succeed him. Edith Miller was nominated for treasurer; Conrad Mosack, assessor; Frank Rocheleau, clerk, and Leslie Munro, George Hendershot and Richard Downing, trustees.

Cass City police made three arrests in January, two for traffic offenses and one for vandalism; Kingston police, one for a liquor violation, and Gageton police, one for a traffic violation.

Caro state police arrested seven persons for traffic violations, three for armed robbery and one each for fraud and contempt of court.

The number of complaints received from and accidents in area townships respectively in January were: Columbia, 4 and 1; Elkland, 14 and 2; Cass City, 71 and accidents not recorded; Ellington, 11 and 2; Elmwood, 17 and 5; Kingston township, 14 and 1; Kingston village, 1 and 0 or not recorded, and Novesta, 18 and 5.

Criminal complaints total 531

The Tuscola County Sheriff's Department recorded 531 criminal complaints in January.

The greatest number, 228, regarded traffic (reports of accidents, etc.) followed by larcenies, 57, domestic matters, 41, and vandalism, 36.

Deputies made 51 arrests during the month, of which 22 were for traffic violations and 12 for violation of the controlled substance act (narcotics).

There were 140 traffic tickets issued, including 43 for speeding, 16 for stop sign violations, 15 for defective equipment and 11 for driving under the influence of liquor.

Seventeen appearance tickets were issued, including eight for purchase, possession or transporting of alcoholic beverages by a minor and three for transporting open intoxicants in a motor vehicle.

Patrol cars were driven 36,551 miles in January and consumed 3,564.2 gallons of gasoline (10.2 miles per gallon).

The county jail received 141 inmates, of whom eight were female, and released 127.

Cass City police made three arrests in January, two for traffic offenses and one for vandalism; Kingston police, one for a liquor violation, and Gageton police, one for a traffic violation.

Caro state police arrested seven persons for traffic violations, three for armed robbery and one each for fraud and contempt of court.

Your Neighbor says Reagan is facing up to nation's problems

"I liked it," was Donovan Schell's assessment of President Reagan's speech last Wednesday announcing a proposed $41.4 billion reduction in federal spending and 30 percent cut in income taxes.

The president didn't beat around the bush, he felt. "We've got problems we've got to face up and solve somehow," was how he summarized Reagan's approach.

Schell feels that is a big improvement over President Carter. "Carter said in the morning, 'Here's what we're going to do,' and in the afternoon said, 'What did I say?'"

He has doubts about the effectiveness of the proposed Reagan tax cut which would reduce personal income taxes 5 percent in the last half of this year and 10 percent the next two years.

"I'll be paying $2.28 less in taxes per week," he has already computed. With, he said, at least 25 percent of his wages now going for federal and state income taxes and for Social Security, he doesn't think Reagan's proposed tax cut will make much difference.

As for proposed reductions in federal programs, he observed, "There's things you have to have and things you can't get out of."

Reducing federal programs, he suggested, won't be easy, and is up to the president and Congress. "I can't do anything about it."

His summation of Reagan was, "He's trying."

Schell is a shear and press brake operator at Evans Products in Gageton, where he has worked 16 years. He and his wife, Doris, live at 4179 S. Brown Road, Owendale.

Around the Farm New tillage systems

By Mike Score
Tuscola County
Extension Agricultural Agent

Many farmers in the cost-share project area are trying to implement new tillage systems this year in their crop production systems.

The success of a production system depends on two things in our area. The first is the weather. Outside of a few costly practices which are available to farmers, the climate is something we can do very little about.

The second factor is the producers' understanding of the fundamentals of his management system and his determination to make it work.

To gain a better understanding of a conservation tillage system, producers will have to research new techniques just as they would any other major investment and should consider contacting their extension office.

By doing so, many management problems such as poor weed control, insect and disease damage and yield reductions can be avoided.

Producers who have reported negative experiences under conservation management generally lacked an understanding of the "do's" and don'ts" of their particular system.

Questions about conservation tillage should be directed to me at 673-3161. New management challenges should be discussed before the 1981 production season begins.

Walbro employees take class

Two employees of Walbro Corp., Cass City, completed Unit I of Wittenberg University's management development program Feb. 13.

They are Steve Fobear, 6627 Pine Street, industrial engineer, and Charles Gunther, 6633 Voss Road, plant superintendent.

The series of five-day on-campus courses are designed to strengthen the management competency and provide new insights into the management functions of supervisory personnel in industry.

The courses concentrate in four areas — behavioral studies and motivation, communications and leadership, management functions and methods, and economics and personnel relations.

Lutheran prayer day March 3

"Share His Love" is the theme of the 1981 Lutheran Women's Missionary League Day of Prayer that will be observed Tuesday, March 3, with services at three locations.

A prayer service, "God In Me, Through Me, To Others," written by the Rev. and Mrs. Howard Kramin of Chanhassen, Minn., for the LWML will be used at the three locations.

It will be followed by a Bible study entitled "God's Plan of Salvation," prepared by Mrs. Gerald Mammel, Christian growth chairman.

Members of the 17 societies that comprise the Thumb Zone LWML are being invited to worship at St. Matthews Lutheran church, Lexington, at 1 p.m.; at St. Peter's Lutheran church, Kinde, at 1:30 p.m.; or at Immanuel Lutheran church, Sebawaing, at 6:30 p.m.

A fellowship hour is included in the Day of Prayer observance.

only if you make more than $30,000 a year.

True  False

What you don't know about income averaging could cost you money.

H&R Block knows that no matter how much you make, if your income went up substantially last year you may be able to income average. We'll take advantage of this if it's to your benefit. The answer is FALSE, since there is no minimum amount of income required to qualify.

HEALTH TIPS

Doctors specialize in many fields

Frank Chappell
Science News Editor

All physicians get the same M.D. degree, so all doctors are alike, right? Absolutely not.

Granted, the four-year medical course is the same all over the United States and Canada. But the graduates fan out into a wide range of divisions within medicine during their post-graduate training years — the residency.

Any physician who is likely to be the first one a patient seeks out and who maintains overall responsibility for his care is a primary care physician. He is usually a specialist in family practice, pediatrics, internal medicine, or obstetrics and gynecology, the American Medical Association points out.

There are more than 20 major specialty areas a physician may choose. Sometimes there is some overlap.

The anesthesiologist uses a variety of gases and drugs to keep the patient as comfortable as possible during surgery or other procedures.

Surgery is one of the best known branches of medical practice. Within surgery are sub-specialties such as orthopedic surgery, involving bones and joints; the thoracic surgeon who deals with heart and lung problems, colon and rectal surgery, and plastic surgery, dealing with repairs of defects.

The otolaryngologist deals with ills of the ear, nose and throat, including surgery. The ophthalmologist concentrates on the eye. The urologist treats the urinary systems of both men and women and the reproductive organs of men. The gynecologist treats the organs of women.

Neurological surgery deals with the brain and nerve structure. Neurology approaches these areas medically rather than surgically.

The dermatologist is concerned with diseases of the skin, the pathologist performs and evaluates various laboratory tests and may be involved in blood banking.

Physical medicine helps injured and deformed patients back to normal function. Psychiatrists treat emotional ills such as anxiety and depression, as well as more serious mental disorders.

Radiologists are experts in interpreting X-ray film, and some treat illness with radioactive substances.

And there are medical fields such as preventive medicine, aerospace medicine, occupational medicine and public health.

This is not a complete list of specialties. And as medical advances continue, still other specialty areas may evolve. A recent new one is emergency medicine.

O-G loses pair of loop tilts

A dismal third quarter for Owen-Gage spelled the difference as it fell to Akron-Fairgrove Tuesday night, 63-53.

Coach Phil Gray's Bulldogs led at the half, 32-27, but in the third stanza could only manage 10 points while the host Vikings poured in 23.

Jim Glidden scored 17 points and collected 19 of his team's 37 rebounds. Owen-Gage shot 20 of 61 from the floor, 33 percent, and 13 of 24 from the free throw line, 54 percent.

Vikings in double figures were Todd Cramer with 19, Brian Rayl, 13, and Chip Aymer and Mike Volk, with 10 each.

Akron-Fairgrove connected on 25 of 58 field goal attempts, 43 percent, and 13 of 23 from the charity line, 59 percent. The team collected 34 rebounds.

The Vikings won the junior varsity game, 55-34.

Owen-Gage ends the regular season Friday at home against Port Hope.

CASEVILLE

Caseville gained revenge for an earlier season loss to Owen-Gage with a 57-47 win Friday night over the Bulldogs.

It was only the Eagles' second win of the season.

The Bulldogs didn't get their act together until the fourth quarter, at the start of which they were trailing by 20 points, 43-23. They got to within five points in the final stanza, but the Eagles' margin was too much to overcome.

Terry Muntz led the Bulldogs with 20 points. Jim Glidden contributed 14. The team connected on only 21 of 67 shots from the floor, 31 percent, and five of 17 free throws, 29 percent.

Caseville was led by 6-5 sophomore Dan Simet, who pumped in 21 points, followed by Brian Siegfried with 11. The team made 23 of 61 field goal attempts, 38 percent, and 11 of 22 from the charity line.

The Eagles pulled down 40 rebounds, two more than Owen-Gage. Glidden grabbed 16 rebounds and Muntz, 10.

The Bulldogs won the Jan. 20 encounter with Caseville, 48-41.

Owen-Gage won the junior varsity encounter Friday, 39-32.

At 12:15, Caseville plays the Akron-Fairgrove - Port Hope winner. The winner of the Owen-Gage - North Huron match plays the Kingston-Deckerville winner at 1.

The championship game will be at 1:45, with the winner advancing to the regionals.

The drawing to determine

POINT WINNERS in the recent Thumb B Association league meet from Cass City. A second in the meet coupled with an undefeated league dual meet record enabled the Hawks to share the league championship with Caro.

From left, front row, the wrestlers, together with their finish in the league, are: Jeff Papp, 3rd; Phil Harmer, 1st; Paul Brown, 3rd.

Shetler's takes rec loop lead

It looks as if Shetler's will coast in to the regular season championship after they won a big battle with People's State Bank Monday to take undisputed possession of first place. The score was 58-47.

The win was decisive because Shetler's doesn't have to face another contending team this season and will be odds-on favorites to win their remaining games.

The game was decided in the first quarter when Shetler's roared to a 20-2 lead. People's battled back in the next three quarters, but it was too late. The Plumbers used board strength and balanced scoring to post the key victory.

Paul Beachy, 15 points, and Bill McLellan, 12, paced the winners while Norm Stephens, 13, and Tim Bates, 11, were in double figures for the losers.

In the nightcap McMahan's defeated Hillaker's Auctioneers, 68-54. McMahan's led all the way in the winning effort.

For the winners Gary Bruce scored 21 while Leon Kanieczwski and Dave Heacock each netted 17. For Hillaker's Roy Calahan scored 18 and Dave Zawilinski added 10.

Shetler's started their big week off on the right foot with a come from behind win last Wednesday over Stevenson's, the third team tied for the league lead. It was a narrow one-point, 85-84, decision paced by Bill McLellan with 18 points and Randy Damm with 12 points in the decisive last quarter.

Stevenson's got off to a quick start with a 16-10 lead at the quarter and a 41-34 lead at the half. Shetler's shifted to a man-to-man defense to check Bill Stevenson and that was the key to the win.

McLellan, 28 points, Damm, 23, and Jack Paul, 17, led Shetler's while Rick Tuckey, 31, led all scorers with Stevenson, 18, and Mark Green, 13, in double figures for the losers.

In the nightcap Charmont rallied to top Hillaker's Auctioneers, 57-51. As usual Charmont started slowly, trailing 12-6 after the first quarter.

The winners picked up steam as the game progressed. They were behind 26-21 at the intermission, but some excellent foul shooting enabled Charmont to overhaul Hillaker's in the last half.

Key was Dave Doerr's foul shooting. He hit 14 of 14 and paced his team with 20 points. Scott Hartel and Clyde Weir netted 12 each while Roy Calahan paced the losers with 25.

In a battle of also-rans Thursday, Caro Plumbing & Heating whipped Erla's, 61-52.

Caro jumped off to a 20-13 lead behind Gary Zellar and coasted to victory. At the half it was 43-21. Caro. The Foodmen outscored the winners in the last half, but it was too little, too late.

Four Plumbers were in double figures, Zellar, 21, Kevin Bitzer, 12, Mark Schubel, 12, and Pat Hagan, 10. Chuck Hendrick with 25 for Erla's led all scorers.

People's State Bank had little trouble topping McMahan's in the nightcap, 85-65. The winners posted an advantage in every quarter with balanced scoring. Five players were in double figures. They were: Dirk Sutherland, 17, Chuck Smith, 12, Chuck Peterson, 11, Norm Stephens, 11, and Dave Holder, 10. For the losers Mark Baston, 23, and John Rayl, 10, showed the way.

Monday, make-up games were played as Stevenson's rolled past Erla's, 65-42, and Charmont upended Caro Plumbing, 64-57.

Erla's outscored Stevenson's, 15-14, in the first quarter, but a dismal second quarter cost them a chance for an upset. Erla's failed to score a point in the second period and trailed at the half, 28-15.

For Stevenson's Jeff McKensie, 26, Bill Stevenson, 21, and Rick Tuckey, 14, led the way while Chuck Hendrick netted 18 for Erla's.

Charmont took control of its game with Caro Plumbing in the second period after trailing 17-16 after the first eight minutes.

In the second quarter Charmont posted a 16-8 margin and was in front the rest of the way.

For the winners Clyde Weir, 24, Dave Doerr, 10, and Al Romig, 10, were in double figures while Kevin Bitzer, 20, Gary Zellar, 17, and Pat Hagen, 10, paced the losers.

Hawk spikers top Marlette

Cass City rolled past Marlette Wednesday night in straight games to up its Thumb B Conference record to 10-2 for second place in the league.

The Hawks' regular season will be concluded Thursday when the girls play at Bad Axe against the undefeated Hatchets.

In the tune-up, Cass City won the first match with 15-12 decisions in both games. In the second match, the Hawks were even better, winning 15-7 and 15-10.

Coach Michelle Anscorb reported that Julie Carpenter was 16 for 16 with good serves while Padgett Randall was 24 of 28 from the serving line. Lori Gohsman was credited with good sets while Krys Meeker and Kris Proctor were singled out for good spikes.

Cass City's over-all record is 26-8.

GOOD SETS AND good spikes helped the Hawks to victory in straight games against Marlette.

O-G closes in on volleyball title

The Owen-Gage volleyball team kept its North Central D League streak intact Monday night at home with a win over North Huron.

Coach Judy Campbell's spikers won the first match, 15-1, 15-2, and the second, 15-8, 15-0.

The team is now 10-0 in the league and 15-4 overall.

Julie Andrakowicz, who served all 15 points in the final game, scored 25 points. Peg Berube scored 13 points, Kris Erickson, 10, and Becky Howard had eight ace spikes and 21 good spikes.

The Bulldog JVs lost their first league match of the season, 7-15, 9-15, 15-9. The team is now 4-3 overall and 4-1 in the league.

KINGSTON

Owen-Gage stayed undefeated last Thursday as it bounced Kingston from second place in the North Central D League volleyball standings.

The visiting Bulldogs won the first match, 15-9, 15-13.

In the second, Owen-Gage lost the first game, 11-15, but came back to win the next two, 15-11, 15-9. It was the first time the Bulldogs have lost a game in a league match this season.

Kris Erickson scored 15 points; Becky Howard, 14 points, 21 ace spikes and 34 good spikes; Bonnie Wynn, 14 points, and Julie Andrakowicz, seven ace spikes, 15 good spikes, six ace dinks and seven good dinks.

Owen-Gage coach Judy Campbell had high praise for the Kingston team, which she predicted will finish in second place in the league. "They're doing an excellent job this year." The Bulldog JVs also won, 12-15, 15-8, 15-11.

Cass City tops Vassar, USA

Hawks heavy favorite for title share

Cass City hasn't lost a game at home for three years and some hot first quarter shooting, by Todd Comment, kept the streak alive Tuesday night.

In a non-conference tussle with USA the Hawks avenged an earlier defeat while posting a 68-54 decision.

The Hawks did it for the second game in a row with an early spurt. The Hawks jumped out to a six-point lead in the opening minute while the Patriots were missing good shots.

The Hawks maintained the lead until midway in the first quarter. Leading 10-4 Cass City then staged the rally that won the game.

The Hawks ripped off 16 points while USA was held to a single basket. With a minute gone in the second quarter the Hawks were in front 26-12.

During the splurge Comment ripped in two buckets, Craig Tonti added another and Ray Ferris chipped in a couple of set shots in his best offensive performance of the year. In the first quarter Comment hit five of six from the field from 15-18 feet as he appears to have regained his outstanding shooting touch following a mid-season injury slump.

USA tried to get back in the game in the second half as Tonti went to the bench for much of the time with foul trouble.

In the third period the visitors closed the gap to 50-39.

USA made several mini runs at the Hawks in the final two periods. But each time Cass City was equal to the threat.

In the last quarter the Patriots went into a press that bothered Cass City. Two turnovers resulted in baskets and narrowed the gap to nine points.

That was as close as the visitors came to cracking Cass City's home win streak.

Controlling the ball and cashing in on short shots and foul opportunities Cass City steadily widened the gap until the final whistle.

Tim Sontag carried the scoring load in the final period. He scored eight of his 16 points in the final 8 minutes. Comment led all scorers with 23 points while Tonti chipped in 14 while playing a little over half the game.

For USA, Dave Simmet, 16, and Mark Zimmer, 12, were the top scorers.

The game was played before the largest Tuesday night crowd and one of the largest crowds for any night of the season.

The crowd may be larger than the one that travels to Bad Axe Friday to see the final regular season game of the year.

The Thumb B Association conference clash is important for the Hawks but Bad Axe is a tail-ender this year and a loss by Cass City would be a giant upset.

Much of the interest Friday will center around the Laker-Caro clash where the Tigers need a win to assure at least a tie for the championship.

VASSAR GAME

Cass City became an odds-on favorite to win at least a share of the Thumb B Association championship Friday night with a 61-50 victory at Vassar while league leading Caro was falling to North Branch.

It will be the third straight title for the Hawks and the fourth in the last five years for Coach Ron Nurnberger's charges.

It's possible that the Hawks could win it all alone again this season. Caro plays Lakers, a team that when it's cold is easy to whip and when it's hot can give any team in the league trouble. Cass City plays Bad Axe, a tail-ender, and a loss to the Hatchets would be a giant upset.

It wasn't an artistic victory, as both teams were guilty of sloppy ball handling and shoddy defense.

After the first few minutes when the Vulcans went in front by four points, the Hawks led all the way but it was a far closer game than the final score indicated.

Todd Comment tucked in three quick hoops in the first quarter to pace the Hawks to a four-point lead, but the Vulcans charged back to close within a point with 1:15 left in the period.

The two teams traded baskets for much of the second quarter. With just a minute left before the half, the Hawks suddenly strung together seven unanswered points, sparked by two baskets by Tim Sontag, to lead 32-23 at the intermission.

The Vulcans came storming back in the third quarter and early moments of the final period to place the outcome very much in doubt.

The Hawks' lead saw-sawed back and forth through the third period, ranging from three to seven points.

At the end of three quarters, Cass City was in front, 42-37. That lead melted in a hurry in the first minute of the final period. Two quick Vulcan hoops closed the score to 42-41, with seven minutes left in the game.

That was as close as Vassar was to get. Sontag scored a key jumper. Craig Tonti made a drive, and was fouled for a three-point play. Comment hit a couple from under the hoop and the Hawks were home free with a 55-46 lead and 2:28 left in the game.

As usual, it was Cass City's ability at the free throw line that was the difference. The Vulcans outscored the Hawks from the field with a 20-19 edge in field goals. The Hawks converted 23 of 29 free throws while Vassar made 10 of 15.

Comment led all scorers with 25 points. Tim Sontag chipped in 18 and Tonti netted 16. For the Vulcans Tim Harper, 19, and Greg Birk, 15, showed the way.

In the JV game, the Hawks lost, 57-35.

TIM SONTAG pitched in some very crucial baskets for the Hawks at Vassar. Number 42 is Vassar's Tim Harper who led the losers in scoring.

Tourney pairings

Hawks face Mayville and O-G draws North Huron Monday

Tournament Director Roland Pakonen announced that tickets for Monday's Cass City-Mayville game will go on sale at 9 a.m. Monday at the high school.

AT DECKERVILLE

Owen-Gage had the misfortune of drawing North Huron in the opening round of the district Class D basketball tournament at Deckerville Monday.

The drawing to determine tournament pairings was held Monday.

Through Friday, the Bulldogs had only won three games in the North Central D League while the Warriors had overpowered everyone. The game starts at 7 p.m.

The 8:30 contest will feature Carsonville-Port Sanilac and Deckerville.

Wednesday, March 4, Caseville will play the winner of the Owen-Gage-North Huron game. At 8:30, Port Hope takes on the winner of the Carsonville-Deckerville game.

The championship game will be at 7:30 Friday, with the winner advancing to the Frankenmuth regional.

Cass City will play Mayville in the opening round of the district tournament Monday at Cass City. The drawings were held in Cass City Monday for the five teams entered in district 83.

The Hawks will reign as favorites to win the district for the second time in a row and the third time in the last four years.

Judging by pre-season records the second seeded team will be Brown City.

Marlette will play Brown City Tuesday, Mar. 3. The winner of the Cass City-Mayville game will meet Sandusky Wednesday, Mar. 4.

Finals are Friday, Mar. 6. All games start at 7:30 p.m.

The winner will play the winner of the Goodrich district in Caro Tuesday.

Scoliosis tests

Cass City Schools program aims at early detection

Screening of Cass City School District 4th-8th graders for scoliosis, a spinal disorder, began Monday.

The screening is being done by school nurses Janet Bryant and Lynn Babich and should be completed by mid-March.

Scoliosis, not a disease, is a lateral or sideways curvature of the spine, believed to be genetic in nature, although it can also be caused by nerve and muscular diseases, abnormalities in the development of the vertebrae and such diseases as polio.

Failure to treat the condition can result in permanent deformity and possible other medical complications, according to the nurses.

Of 515 students screened a year ago, the first time it was done, they referred 71 to private physicians.

Of the 71, some did not have the condition. Others who did, did not need treatment but must return on a regular basis to their doctor for examination to determine whether the condition has worsened. Two needed to be fitted with a back brace. One, an eighth grade boy, is waiting for his brace to be completed.

The other, seventh grader Tammy Iseler, is now wearing a brace, which extends from her hips to under her armpits.

After the possibility of scoliosis was detected in the screening last year, she went to a physician in Saginaw who advised future checkups but that no immediate treatment was needed.

Her parents, Dale and Kathy Iseler, wanted a second opinion, so took her to the Henry Ford Hospital clinic in Detroit, which deals extensively with scoliosis. A doctor determined she should be wearing a brace. Measurements were taken and she later returned for the fitting. Each brace must be custom made. She has been wearing the brace several months.

Tammy, 13, must wear the brace 23 hours a day, until the end of her growth spurt, at about age 18.

The one hour a day she takes it off is for strenuous activities, such as basketball and cheerleading.

She must do exercises, half situps, for three minutes a day.

In addition to her and the eighth grade boy who will be wearing a brace, a then fourth grade girl was referred to a physician because of a non-scoliosis back condition noticed during the screening last year. She will be undergoing corrective surgery soon.

Annual screening is necessary because scoliosis can develop as a child grows, thus may not exist one year but will be detected the next.

The screening requires visual examination of each student from two positions -- in a standing position with their back to the nurse and bent forward from the waist. Boys must remove their shirts, girls are asked to wear a halter top or bathing suit under their blouse.

When leaning forward, a sign of scoliosis is that one shoulder is higher than the other, which clothes may cover, hence the need to be relatively "topless" during the screening.

Wearing of the brace, such as Tammy does, won't completely straighten her spine, according to Mrs. Bryant and Mrs. Babich, but the curvature will be much less when she stops growing than if she didn't wear it.

The undesirable alternative to wearing a brace is corrective surgery after the child's growth spurt is over, but that can require wearing a body cast for six months to a year after the surgery.

Parents can sign a form if they do not want their children to be screened by the nurses.

Prior to the screening, usually being done during physical education classes, children will be shown a film explaining scoliosis.

The film and explanatory pamphlet each child will receive are furnished by Easter Seals.

Student of the week

Jeanne Marshall is student of the week for the week of Feb. 16 at Cass City Intermediate School.

An eighth grader, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Marshall of Milligan Road.

Funds thin for CETA jobs

The Thumb Area Consortium is skating on thin ice through the 1980-81 fiscal year.

With a third of the fiscal year over as of Jan. 31, it had spent more than a third of its federal Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) funds, it was reported at last Thursday's administrative board meeting in Cass City.

Based on the current congressional resolution authorizing spending through June 5, the consortium will have $8.15 million to spend this year. As of the end of last month, it had spent 36.3 percent of it, $2.96 million. Congress has yet to approve a final appropriation for the present fiscal year, even though it ends Sept. 30.

The reason for the over-expenditure, consortium Executive Director Frank Lenard explained after the meeting, is that in planning 1980-81 spending, he was told by the state and federal CETA agencies to expect the same amount of money as was received last year. Accordingly, placement of persons in CETA jobs and job training programs was based on that amount. Instead, the consortium will receive far less.

The result is that no new persons are being placed in CETA programs and openings created by persons who leave remain unfilled.

Also, Lenard is working with the state Department of Labor to obtain money that was unspent by other consortiums because they did not fill all the positions they had authorized.

He already obtained $25,000 additional for the Title VII on-the-job training program with private employers, which is in the greatest need of additional funds. As of Jan. 31, $120,723 of the $163,440 authorized (not including the additional $25,000) had been spent.

Concerning the future of the CETA program, Lenard said all that President Reagan's budget speech last Wednesday had revealed was that Title IV Summer Youth Employment Program will be continued.

The consortium has been phasing out the Title VI jobs program because the assumption is the Reagan administration won't renew it once it expires Sept. 30. As of Jan. 31, there were 392 persons employed in the program, with the number gradually declining.

Now, the only time the four engines run for extended periods of time are on hot summer days when Edison needs all the help it can get to keep air conditioners humming.

But for most of the year, Glaza said, the only regular time engines run is from 4:30-7:30 p.m., when farmers milking cows and housewives preparing dinner increase the load. Other than that, the engines are turned on only occasionally as needed.

In addition to turning the engines on and off, if working the afternoon shift, Glaza also answers the telephone for emergency service calls from when the office closes until he goes home at 10 p.m.

Among other duties, he and the two operators at the Ubyly plant do all the overhauling and repair work on the four engines and generators.

He adds with noticeable pride that in the 42 plus years the engines have been there, there have never been any major breakdowns nor any serious injuries.

GLAZA AND HIS WIFE, Doris, will be celebrating their 40th anniversary in July. They live at 4363 N. Washington Street, Ubyly, the same road the power plant is on.

The couple has five children, Gerald Glaza, Canton township (near Detroit); Joan Smith, Lansing; Janet Williams, Southfield; Michael Glaza, Ann Arbor, and Diane Glaza, Lansing, and four grandchildren.

Mrs. Glaza is a quality control inspector at the Hamill Manufacturing plant on M-19, Ubyly, north of where her husband worked. She is not retiring yet.

In 1938, when John Glaza first went to work for Thumb Electric, he didn't think he would be spending the rest of his working days there. "But I got into this and stuck with it. It was a good place to work, so I stuck to it."

His retirement plans include hunting and fishing, traveling with his wife, working on his yard and garden and maybe taking up golf.

He is in good health. In 42 years, he missed only 63 days of work.

"It was a good job," he concluded, "but I'm ready to quit and do something else."

The consortium has been given $41,000 in leftover Michigan Employment Program (MEP) funds -- a non-CETA program -- by the state labor department. The program was supposed to have ended Sept. 30 of last year.

The money, Lenard told board members, will allow placement of 30 persons ages 16-24 in on-the-job training programs with private employers, with the intent, though not required, that the jobs will become permanent after the funds run out Sept. 30.

The MEP funds pay half the salary during the training period, with the employer paying the other half.

Students earn top ratings

Six Cass City High School band students received first division ratings at the solo and ensemble festival Saturday at North Branch.

They were Suzy Scollon and Kay Loomis, both piano solos; Marek Kocan and Dave Wright, alto sax duet; Chris Langenburg, tenor sax solo, and Jill Hutchinson, cornet solo.

They received blue medals and qualified to enter the state solo and ensemble which began operation in 1949.

THE BIG CHANGE DURING his 42 years, Glaza said, came in 1957 when Thumb Electric began buying power from Detroit Edison and the two power plants began being used to generate electricity at peak periods only.

"It got so our demand grew faster than our capacity to generate," he explained, and it was deemed cheaper to buy power than to increase generating capacity.

Now, the only time the four engines run for extended periods of time are on hot summer days when Edison needs all the help it can get to keep air conditioners humming.

But for most of the year, Glaza said, the only regular time engines run is from 4:30-7:30 p.m., when farmers milking cows and housewives preparing dinner increase the load. Other than that, the engines are turned on only occasionally as needed.

In 1938, when John Glaza first went to work for Thumb Electric, he didn't think he would be spending the rest of his working days there. "But I got into this and stuck with it. It was a good place to work, so I stuck to it."

His retirement plans include hunting and fishing, traveling with his wife, working on his yard and garden and maybe taking up golf.

He is in good health. In 42 years, he missed only 63 days of work.

"It was a good job," he concluded, "but I'm ready to quit and do something else."
