

BLACK FLAGGED? -- The Thunder Road Speedway, renamed Cass City Raceway Park last year, may have seen its last race, unless a buyer is found for the track. The first races were held there in 1966.

Two killed as vehicles hit telephone pole, locomotive

After more than two months without a traffic fatality in Tuscola county, two persons were killed on county roads in separate accidents within the past week.

Both victims lived in and both accidents were in the Reese area. Killed early Friday was Michael A. Zimmerman, 20. The victim Tuesday was Russell Markhart, 24.

Zimmerman was a passenger in a car driven by Mark T. Otto, 18, of Reese. According to the sheriff's department, their vehicle was northbound at a high rate of speed on Van Buren Road, north of Reinbold Road, at 1:45 a.m. when Otto lost control.

The auto went off the west side of the road, struck a telephone pole, and rolled over apparently three times. Both occupants, neither of whom was wearing a safety belt, were ejected.

Otto was reported in serious condition Tuesday afternoon at St. Luke's Hospital in Saginaw, where Zimmerman had been reported dead on arrival.

The prosecutor's office is now reviewing the accident investigation reports to determine whether any criminal charges might be brought against Otto in connection with the accident.

Markhart, according to deputies, was southbound on Bradleyville Road, south of M-46, and his vehicle collided with the locomotive of a Tuscola and Saginaw Bay Railway train headed northwest. The accident took place at 10:09 a.m.

He was thrown from the vehicle. He was taken to Caro Community Hospital, where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

His vehicle caught fire on impact. The flames were extinguished by the Vassar and Richville Fire Departments.

As of this time a year ago, three persons had died in county traffic accidents. Prior to Zimmerman's death, the last fatality had been Dec. 15.

INJURY ACCIDENTS

Two persons were taken to Hills and Dales General Hospital following a 5:55 p.m. accident last Thursday.

Helen A. Rayl, 51, of 7884 E. Deckerville Road, Deford, was treated and released. Charles F. Roemer, 25, of Fremont, Ind., was discharged the following day.

Deputies reported she was eastbound on Deckerville Road, stopped at Crawford Road, then pulled into the intersection, where the collision occurred.

Deputies reported he was southbound on Crawford Road, stopped at the stop sign at Deckerville Road, then pulled into the intersection and collided with the Rayl auto.

She told officers she saw him stop, but then pulled into the roadway. He told them he had stopped, but didn't see any vehicles approaching.

Keith J. Kundering of 4680 W. State Street, Gagetown, sought his own treatment after an accident at 12:05 a.m. Feb. 24.

According to deputies, he was one of two passengers in a car driven by David W. Burrows, 20, of 4760 Center Street, Gagetown, which was northbound on Cedar Run Road, south of Hoppe Road.

The car crossed the centerline, went out of control, hit the shoulder, and went off the west side of the road at the curve. The vehicle rolled over and landed upside down.

OTHER ACCIDENTS

At 8:30 p.m. Feb. 24, according to deputies, David R. Vargo, 20, of 6166 Greenland Road, Cass City, was eastbound on M-81, near Cedar Run Road, when his car hit an icy spot and he lost control.

The vehicle went off the south side of the road and hit several trees.

At 11:55 a.m. on the 24th, Cass City police reported, Please turn to page 5

Cleanup continues at site of massive derailment

The last of about 200 persons evacuated after 37 cars of a Chessie System train jumped the tracks at Silverwood Friday were allowed to return home Sunday.

Cleanup operations continued this week at the site of the massive derailment, which took place shortly before 4 p.m. The cost of removing the cars and repairing the track has been estimated at about $1 million.

No one was injured in the massive mishap.

Owendale, Kingston vote Monday

Polls in the municipal buildings in Kingston and Owendale will be open from 7 a.m.-8 p.m. Monday for the annual village elections.

No one running in either village has any opposition. Candidates for the three seats open on the Kingston Village Council are Marlene Powell, Jane Anne Lalke and Robert Miller, all Democratic incumbents.

In Owendale, one council member will be elected by write-in vote as only two candidates, both Republican incumbents, are running for the three seats open. They are Willis Farnum and Jim Wissner.

The derailment of the westbound train, headed from Port Huron to Saginaw, occurred when the engineer attempted to stop the 84-car train after spotting a "split (protruding) rail" ahead. The train was going 40 miles per hour.

Twenty-three cars immediately behind the locomotive jumped the tracks. The next 19 stayed on, but the 14 after that also derailed.

Ten of the cars in the second group contained 30,000 pounds each of liquid propane gas and one car carried hydrochloric acid.

The impact put a 3-by-4 foot hole in the car containing the acid, spilling 10,000 gallons of the highly toxic and corrosive liquid on the ground. The double-wall cars containing the natural gas remained intact.

Immediately after the derailment, police authorities evacuated all persons living within a one-mile radius of the derailment, which was about a half-mile west of Silverwood, a short distance north of the Tuscola-Lapeer county line.

About 200 persons had to leave their homes and stores.

The fear, according to Tuscola Undersheriff Paul Megge, was that the cars containing the natural gas might explode. The fumes from the hydrochloric acid dissipated relatively quickly.

After experts arrived and advised there was no danger of explosion, the evacuation area was reduced to a half-mile radius, which reduced the number who had to stay away to about 100.

That took place about 11 p.m. Friday, at which time the emergency shelter at Mayville Elementary School was closed as those who still had to stay away had made other arrangements for accommodations.

All except the three families living closest to the derailment were allowed to go home about 10 p.m. Saturday.

Novesta rejects trash planning

The Novesta Township Board voted Monday evening not to sign the letter of intent to participate in preparation of a countywide solid waste disposal plan.

The board voted the way it did, according to Clerk Nurse Kloc, because it feels it already has enough problems with the Cass City landfill, which is in the township.

Supervisor Bill O'Dell was to have explained the reasons more fully at a meeting Wednesday in Caro of municipal and township officials with representatives of the Department of Natural Resources. The letter of intent from local governmental units must be filed with the DNR by April 22.

The board completed work on the annual budget, for the fiscal year starting April 1. It will be presented at the annual meeting at 1 p.m. Saturday, March 28, in the township hall.

The settlement meeting will be March 23. It was not held Monday, which had incorrectly been advertised as the date.

It was reported 87 percent of taxes have been collected so far.

Promoter to

End of the road for Cass City speedway?

The checkered flag may have fallen for the last time at the Thunder Road Speedway.

The half-mile oval on M-53 is back in the hands of the first owner, who has it for sale; the second owner is still hiding from the law, and the third operator and would-be owner is trying to recover from losing approximately $35,000 on the venture.

Tom Kostanko of Cass City regained custody of the track around Jan. 1, he said, the person he sold it to in the fall of 1974, Florence Duncan, having defaulted on her payments.

Mrs. Duncan and her husband, David, have been hiding from the law since last May. She is wanted on two counts of welfare fraud and one of disposal of mortgaged property.

Her husband is charged with a total of 18 counts of possession of stolen property, misrepresenting identity of a mechanical device (altering vehicle registration numbers) and embezzlement of mortgaged property.

Kostanko built the track in 1965-66, the first race there having been held July 31, 1966 in front of 1,500 spectators.

Now that it is back in his possession, he said, two things can happen if he doesn't find a buyer. He may lease it to someone who wants to run races there or it may stay closed. Thirty-five acres, including the track, are for sale.

With the start of the racing season still a few months away -- if there is one -- he said it is hard to say what will take place. "Nobody knows what's going to happen."

THE PERSON WHO RAN races at the track last year was John R. Williams, who in February of last year, entered in a land contract with Mrs. Duncan to purchase all but 9.46 acres from her, including the track.

In March, law enforcement authorities conducted the first of three raids on property Mrs. Duncan still owned, including a large metal building, to seize stolen trucks, trailer and truck parts, which led to the bringing of criminal charges against David Duncan. (The charges against his wife were not related.)

Shortly before arrest warrants were issued in May for the Duncans, the couple fled.

They were found by law enforcement authorities last fall in Kentucky. They fled again, just prior to that state's issuing extradition warrants Jan. 15. It is believed they are now in a foreign country, according to Detective Sgt. Donald Trowhill of the Sanilac County Sheriff's Department.

Prior to that, on Jan. 1, Mrs. Duncan was caught when she was in Detroit. She was arraigned in Sanilac county, was released on bond and returned to Kentucky. She failed to appear for her Jan. 20 preliminary examination and forfeited bond.

WILLIAMS, WHO RE- named the track Cass City Raceway Park, said the bad publicity concerning the Duncans was only one of the problems he had to overcome in running the track.

Worse was the economy. "I think the economy was the main thing," he commented.

Persons out of work couldn't afford to pay $3.50 for a ticket. Williams even lowered the price to $2.50 for a time, but that didn't increase attendance, so he raised it back to the original amount.

The biggest crowd he got was 400 once "and most of the time, a whole lot smaller."

The third strike against him was the weather. It rained a lot.

In hopes of getting more persons through the gates the first time, he heavily promoted a race June 1, accompanied by lots of advertising and the $2.50 ticket price. It rained that day.

It also rained the day of the last scheduled race of the season, which had to be postponed a week.

WILLIAMS AND HIS family stayed until October, in the mobile home on the race track grounds he rented from the Duncans, before going back to their home in Hazel Park, near Detroit. He and his wife Coralee have two daughters.

He got a job in an auto parts plant, but said in his telephone conversation with the Chronicle last Thursday, he was scheduled to be laid off in a week.

Williams, 35, said he had lost about $35,000 in his venture, in his down payment to Mrs. Duncan that he didn't get back, improvements he had to make before the track could open and in running the races.

HE HAD THE MONEY from the earlier sale of his insurance business. His

Planning underway for Artrain visit May 5-9

The Michigan Artrain is gathering steam for its May 5-9 visit to Cass City.

Planned in conjunction with the visit are a local folk art display, at least one music event, student art exhibit and other events.

The Artrain's community coordinator, Michael Savoia, was in Cass City last Wednesday to inspect the site where the train will be located and meet with committee chairmen and members to review plans for the event, many of which are still tentative.

The five-car train will be parked on the Grand Trunk siding at Garfield and Vulcan Streets, where the old grain elevators were until torn down last year.

Theme of the traveling art museum, which changes for each annual or semi-annual tour, will be "Traditions: The Region-The World."

It will deal with artwork in the figurative tradition from the 1850s to the present, Savoia explained. "Figurative" deals with the human figure and landscapes and their relationship.

The three families went home Sunday. The rear of the home closest to the derailment is only about 50 feet from the tracks, Megge said. The careening cars missed the house but did demolish a small shed.

The car containing the hydrochloric acid is owned by Dow Chemical Co. Employees of the company spread 20 tons of powdered lime on the spill to neutralize the acid.

Test wells will be drilled in Please turn to page 15.

Featured will be works from America, Europe, the Orient and Africa. There will be pieces on display from museums and artists in the Artrain's touring region of Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Indiana and Missouri.

In the first car, visitors will see an audio-visual presentation about the history of Artrain and the history of art from prehistoric times to the present.

Also in that car will be a sculpture display, including folk art, and a transparency section (like large color slides) depicting folk art and culture in the five state region.

The second and third cars will contain regional and world examples of the art tradition from the 1850s to the present.

The fourth car is the studio car and present at all times will be artists at work, both local ones and ones who travel with the Artrain.

The fifth car is a caboose, used as a meeting place and hospitality area.

It takes about 35 minutes to go through the train and view everything without rushing.

The train will be open to student tours from 9-2 each day and to the public from 5-8 p.m.

Student tours will be for youngsters in grades 4-8, of an age where it is hoped they will be most likely to develop an interest in art, and high school art students. The students will be from the Cass City schools, with the number able to attend from other districts depending on the total number that can be accommodated in the four days.

LOCAL ACTIVITIES

In conjunction with the Artrain's appearance here, numerous local activities are planned, some of them still tentative, according to Holly Althaver, co-chairman of the local organizing effort. Cass City High School art teacher Karen Wallace is the other co-chairman.

Mary Lou Erla is chairman of the festival committee. Among its planned activities are a show of local folk art, location to be decided, and a performance by the Cass City First Presbyterian church choir of Vivaldi's "Gloria Mass," which it first performed at a church service Feb. 1. Other musical programs are a possibility.

In addition to the folk art presentation, there may also be a show of different type works by local artists.

There will be a showing of art by local students. Displays in downtown store windows is also being considered.

VOLUNTEERS

Hosting the Artrain and conducting the many varied events requires the efforts of many volunteers and more are still needed.

In addition to those chairmen already mentioned, others are: Ken Jensen, fund raising; Barbara Tuckey, protocol; George Clara, facilities; Linda Edwards and Trudy Muszynski, education (student tours and

Marlette Homes to be sold

Coachmen Industries, Inc. of Middlebury, Ind., has announced that a letter of intent with an exclusive option to purchase, at an undisclosed price, has been signed with Marlette Homes, Inc., of Marlette.

Marlette has manufactured housing plants in Marlette, Lewiston, Penn., both presently closed, Great Bend, Kansas, and Hermiston, Ore. The company's sales for the twelve months ended December, 1980 were $26.2 million.

Coachmen, the nation's largest full-line manufacturer of recreational vehicles, is also a major producer of pleasure boats and has important interests in recreation vehicle parts and accessories distribution.

Final closing is expected in about five weeks, if the purchase takes place.

Aliens can still register

Aliens who had difficulty obtaining an Alien Address Registration Form are advised to provide the information required by law in a personal letter to the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS), the agency has announced.

Federal law requires all aliens in the United States to report their addresses during January. However, because of distribution problems, some post offices where the forms for reporting the information are usually available did not have adequate supplies. Because of the problem, the agency will look with leniency upon late reporting.

Persons who cannot obtain a form are requested to write a personal letter to U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service, Attn: I-53 Facility, Arlington, Virginia 22218. The letter should contain the full name of the alien, complete address, alien registration number (if any), month, date, year and country of birth.

Big Brothers/Big Sisters

This seven-year-old from Mayville is very interested in the "male" role in life. Being without his father he has a definite need for male companionship. He enjoys fishing, playing with cars and electrical trains.

Fishing, camping and sports are a few of this boy's interests. He is 12 years old and from the Vassar area. Why not offer some guidance and companionship?

This 10-year-old boy from Caro is in need of a good male companion, a one-to-one relationship with someone who is willing to give the time and the care that he needs.

This 9-year-old from Caro has many interests. She's a lot of fun to be around and enjoys swimming, roller skating, ice skating and crafts.

Cancer film to be shown

"World Without Cancer," a color film describing alternative treatments for cancer, will be shown in Cass City and other locations.

It will be shown at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Cultural Center in Cass City; Wednesday, March 11, at 7 p.m. in the Indianfields Township Library, Caro; Friday, March 13, at 7:30 p.m. in the Kingston Wesleyan church, and Tuesday, March 17, at 7:30 p.m. at Marlette Middle School.

The film is being shown by Ken and Kathy Hampshire of Kingston. Admission is free. According to Mrs. Hampshire, she and her husband are not selling anything. They are showing it, she said, because, "We think it would be of great interest to the public."

Square dance Saturday in Caro

The Rocking Eights Square Dance Club of Caro will hold a dance Saturday at the Sacred Heart School on Frank Street in Caro from 8-11 p.m.

It will be "crazy hat" night. Those wearing the craziest hats will win a prize.

Another club is coming on its "mystery trip," so members should bring extra food. All square dancers and anyone who would like to watch are welcome.

Business women hold meeting

Nineteen members of the Cass City Business and Professional Women's Club attended the Feb. 18 meeting.

In the absence of the president, Martha Putnam presided over the business session.

Appointed to the nominating committee were Leota Anthes, Beverly Perry and Nina Davis. Chairman of the senior scholarship project will be Lorraine O'Dell.

The meeting closed following a white elephant sale. Pictures of the Holy Land will be the entertainment at the March 18 meeting.

Rabbit tracks

By John Haire

(And anyone else he can get to help)

Ribbing a friend in print on a birthday is nothing new. It was done last week in the Chronicle. But nothing like the effort and money used in Oxford to commemorate the birthday of a resident there.

Friends purchased a quarter page in the Oxford Leader and hired a plane to drag a sign around the area announcing the 50th birthday of a resident.

The kicker in this whole affair is that after all that money the sign behind the plane misspelled the victim's name.

For the benefit of the Church League, school coaches will meet a Detroit Lions football team March 24.

If one of your favorites happens to be Gary Danielson you probably are out of luck. Chances are he won't be there. He sprained an ankle the other day . . . playing basketball.

Idle thought: I'd be much more concerned than I am if that gloom and doom survey about the next 10 years in the auto industry was sponsored by a joint labor-management committee rather than the Michigan Association of Manufacturers.

Idle thought two: It grinds a little when an executive for Gulf Oil says that part of the recent increase in fuel prices came because a couple of pass-through raises were not assessed because of the competitive situation.

The inference is that the company had the raises coming. No mention, of course, of the already record profits registered at our expense by Big Oil.

Cass City basketball fans have become jaded with success. Monday there wasn't much excitement as the Hawks won the opening round of the district tournament.

Veteran fans can remember the euphoria that followed Cass City's first tourney victory in about 10 years. Winning five times in eight years has made it commonplace.

Now the excitement doesn't really begin until the regional start.

Ubly H.S. names top senior students

Karen Ann O'Parka

Ubly High School has announced its honor students from the class of 1981.

Karen Ann O'Parka, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester O'Parka Jr., Parisville, is valedictorian.

Dawn Marie Pulcer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Pulcer, of rural Ubly, is salutatorian.

Miss O'Parka earned a 3.91 grade point average out of a possible 4. Miss Pulcer earned a 3.82 grade point average.

Miss O'Parka attended St. Mary's School for her elementary and junior high education. She has been active in many clubs and organizations throughout high school, including the senior band for four years and the National Honor Society for three years.

She was a member of the junior and senior play committees and has been a member of the Ubly Literary Magazine staff for two years, holding positions of typographical editor, co-editor and presently editor.

Miss O'Parka was named an outstanding sophomore in 1978 in a competition sponsored by the Hugh O'Brien Youth Foundation. She is a semi-finalist in the State of Michigan Competitive Scholarship Program and has won numerous class awards throughout high school.

Miss O'Parka is presently employed as a secretary at Thumb Electric Cooperative in Ubly through the high school cooperative training program. She is a member of St. Mary's Catholic church in Parisville, where she also serves as a part-time CCD teacher.

She has been accepted by Delta College, where she plans to pursue a secretarial curriculum.

Miss Pulcer attended the Ubly Community Schools for her elementary, junior high and high school education.

She has also been active in many clubs and organizations throughout high school, including the senior band for four years and the National Honor Society for three years.

Miss Pulcer was a member of the junior and senior play casts. She is presently on the yearbook staff and is a member of the Senior Trip Club. She was a student secretary for two years.

Miss Pulcer is a semi-finalist in the State of Michigan Competitive Scholarship Program and has won class awards in typing, business, geometry, band, algebra and English.

She is a member of Holy Trinity Catholic church of Smith Corners and plans to pursue an accounting curriculum at Central Michigan University or Northwood Institute this fall.

Dawn Marie Pulcer

Other honor students from the Class of 1981 are:

Sandra Vogel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Vogel. Alger Lemke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Lemke.

Joanne Block, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Block. Loretta Kubacki, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Kubacki.

Susan Rutkowski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Rutkowski.

Kathy Longuski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Longuski.

Pauline Spaetz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Spaetz.

Christine Klee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Klee Jr.

Other seniors who have maintained a B average are:

Christine Glaza, Pamela Ackerman, Catherine Glaza, Barbara Particka, Nanette Kolar, Jane Kubacki, Marcy Hill, Yvonne Pionk, Leslie Hagen, Mette Aaby, Linda Schmidt, Mary Romzek, Colleen Schefka, Rodney Walsh, Ricardo Cantu, Rebecca Ruthko, Carol Peter, Barbara Messing and Kenny Nowak.

Board ponders revenue sharing

The Tuscola County Board of Commissioners last Wednesday considered how to split up their $370,000 federal revenue sharing pie for 1981.

Several suggestions were made at the public hearing conducted on the subject.

The biggest single request came from Jim Miklovic, representing the county Road Commission, which is seeking $150,000, versus $135,000 last year, for snow plowing and maintenance.

John Niederhauser of the county Health Department requested $75,000, the same as last year, and Martha Thurston requested $14,752 for county libraries, about the same as last year.

Spike Johnson requested $10,000 for the Health Department alcohol abuse counseling program and Dennis Johnson requested $1,000 for the Community

Mental Health Services drug abuse program.

The requests total $250,752.

However, the county has labor contracts with sheriff's department employees expiring at the end of June and with courthouse employees at the end of this year, so money will be needed to pay negotiated pay increases. Some revenue sharing money must go for general operations.

The board must therefore decide whether to allocate all of the amounts requested in revenue sharing funds or trim some requests. A decision will be made at a future meeting.

In other action, the board accepted the resignation of Dr. Herbert L. Nigg from the county Board of Health. Appointed in his place was Dorothy Mantey of Fairgrove Road, Caro.

The Haire Net

Did you catch the announcement last week that Ronald Reagan is appointing John Gavin ambassador to Mexico?

That could herald an all new approach to diplomacy and make available to this country a previously untapped source of talent. It's another step in the new direction the administration is taking.

Gavin could be only the beginning. Other ideal candidates pop immediately to mind. In England we'll have Bob Hope, who else? In Italy our spokesman will be Frank Sinatra. Who would fit better?

In any country in Africa a natural is Sammy Davis Jr., and Ricardo Montalban would fit right in with the Spanish scene. Maybe he could sell cars on the side and help our balance of payments.

Our president would have to be a little cautious about appointing all these men and forgetting about the women.

An actress scorned is a dangerous thing.

But there's an easy out. Let Anita Ekberg represent us in Sweden and Brigitte Bardot handle the chores in France. I'm tempted to say that these ladies would really put up a good front, but let's not be facetious.

These ladies may not be American citizens, but do not let details stand in the way of progress. After all, the old way isn't working and we ARE going in a new direction. Yes, we are.

What you have to do is free up your thinking.

The new wave in politics these days is to attract into government persons who do it for love of country. What the president is looking for are volunteers who will take a cut in pay to work for the good of the nation.

Now everyone of these actor ambassadors would qualify. Top notch performers like these work for a couple of hundred thousand dollars a week or so. Gavin probably doesn't make that, but why quibble.

Their training would also be invaluable. They could get before the camera and explain with sincerity how advisors to El Salvador differ from military experts sent by Cuba or Russia.

Any of them would be great if a segment is needed telling why it's more important to send guns to El Salvador than money to our schools.

Kemp done good!

By Jim Fitzgerald

Steve Kemp and Pat Ewing done well for themselves. There is not a grammatical error in that sentence. I recently learned there is no such thing as a grammatical error.

Kemp will be paid $600,000 to play baseball for the Detroit Tigers this year. Many people think it's ridiculous, and a damning indictment of our value system, to pay a man so much money to play a game. Certainly.

But Kemp is a professional, selling his services for a price that ticket buyers are willing to pay. When fans quit buying, Kemp's salary will go down. Until then, he is not sappy enough to refuse $600,000 for fear of appearing greedy. The only saps are the fans paying the $600,000.

There is much ridiculousness in professional sports. Take the Detroit Pistons basketball team, for example. Late every season, it becomes apparent that the Pistons are better off losing than winning. If they finish last in their league, they get first grab at eight-foot college players looking for $600,000 jobs. If the Pistons win too many games, and finish above last place, they blow their chance to hire good players. So losing is really winning, and failure is rewarded. That is not only ridiculous, it is also outrageous. But the fans buy it, so why not sell it? All hail the saps.

Ironically, it is at jock universities, where the professional athletes are still called amateurs, that the salaries and fringes paid sports stars have reached really awesome heights of ridiculousness in the never-ending quest for sappiness, or vice versa. For conclusive evidence, look at the aforementioned Pat Ewing, a seven-foot basketball player recently signed by Georgetown University in Washington, D.C.

While he was still in high school, Ewing's services were much sought after by universities, and his high school coach sent letters to 150 of them, outlining what Ewing wanted in return for making field goals. Most of the demands were for ordinary rewards, such as thousands of dollars' worth of room, board and tuition. But Ewing also asked for unlimited time to take academic tests.

"Pat's slowness in writing does not give him ample opportunity to express himself," his coach explained.

Think about that. Even the jockiest colleges require some semblance of scholarship from jocks. To stay in school, they don't have to speak and write correctly, but they must pass a few written tests in Jump Roping II or The Appreciation of Pocket Pool. But if an athlete couldn't pass such tests, he could still play ball if his teachers never found out he'd flunked. And they'd never find out if he didn't complete the tests and hand them in until after he'd used up all four years of his sports eligibility.

This brilliant bit of ridiculousness, practiced on a university level, is reminiscent of my recent criticism of Michigan State University. An MSU athlete said, "We was a good football team" on TV, and I said it was disgraceful that a university senior, with almost 16 years of schooling behind him, would make such an obvious "grammatical error." Wrong.

Reader George B. Sherman of Detroit wrote: "There is no such thing as a 'grammatical error.' If it's grammatical, it can't be an error. One can make an error in grammar, however."

That will teach me not to be so smart. According to a newspaper report, MSU football Coach Muddy Waters had took a private jet to get to a high school senior before another college could sign him, and that's not a grammatical error. It is also not the way high school seniors who speak correct grammar, but don't play football, are recruited by universities.

When a university professor charts a jet to enroll a promising poet, that will be the day Steve Kemp signs for 60 cents and the Pistons refuse to sign a 10-foot center because he wants unlimited time to spell his name.

People who are too proud to ask for favors don't get many.

Stick and stone break windows

Cass City police were called to investigate two incidents of broken windows last week.

Clarence (Bud) Schneberger reported Friday morning that there was a hole in a 5-by-7 foot store window, apparently made with a stone. The window was valued at $400-500. The damage was done sometime since 6 p.m. the previous day.

Kathleen Cummins of 6644 Third Street called police at 8:36 p.m. Thursday, moments after someone had broken a hole in a storm window, apparently by throwing a stick at it. The window was worth $12.

At the annual meeting of the shareholders of Thumb National Bank & Trust Co., held Tuesday, February 10, President James Schumacher reported a record gain in total assets for 1980.

The size of the bank increased from $36,131,767 for year-end 1979 to $42,439,798 for 1980, a gain of $6,308,031 or 17 percent. Schumacher pointed to the exceptional year enjoyed by many of the bank's farm customers as well as the continued growth of the Cass City Branch as the primary reason for this growth. Schumacher stated, "Thumb National's growth record for 1980 equaled the growth of the bank for its first 70 years and was larger in both real terms as well as percentage of gain for banks in the area."

Net income also reached an all time high. Earnings totaled $317,643.00 after taxes and adjustments which represents $13.27 per share. This earnings record was achieved despite the bank's policy of pricing loans at rates well below the prime rate.

Chairman of the Board, E.J. Clabuesch also announced the following promotions. Jay Dubey and Curt Strickland were promoted from assistant vice-president to vice-president. Dale McIntosh was named an assistant vice-president, and Jill Terrian and Cynthia Kruse were named assistant cashiers. Mr. Clabuesch singled out these individuals for their contributions to the growth and stability of the bank.

Reelected as members of the Board of Directors for 1981 were: Clifton Bailey, Adolph Buchholz, David Clabuesch, E.J. Clabuesch, Paul Clabuesch, Loren Gettel, Lowell Kraft, Arthur Luedtke, James Schumacher and Robert Webber Sr.

Letter to the Editor

Why does gasoline cost less in Caro than in Cass City?

Dear Editor,

I've got a question for the gas station owners here in Cass City.

When going to Caro, I usually put enough gas to get me there because I know gas there is about 5-7 cents cheaper. It has been upsetting, but today was the last of my being quiet. I just got back from Caro only to find gas 10 cents cheaper than here in my home town.

Why does 13 miles make such a difference in the prices of gas? Are we, the people, being cheated or what? I like many others are struggling to make ends meet and when I see things like this, you have to wonder what's going on. I know there is a minimum and maximum amount to be charged but what it looks like is one owner is trying to get rich faster.

Same with my groceries. I no longer shop here because for $70 I brought home eight sacks of food from Bad Axe. For the same money here, I may have brought home four sacks.

Before questioning my waste of gas to shop in Bad Axe or Saginaw, a friend and I share the ride and gas for our shopping and we find we still save money. I just question why my home town stores do not think of my needs as a consumer and put their prices to a level where I can do my shopping here instead of in other towns.

Barbara Shagena
Cass City

Editor's note: Cass City gasoline dealers also wish there were less of a price difference between here and Caro, so that they wouldn't lose so many customers to Caro stations.

Reasons for the big price differential are many, but the major one is that stations in Caro are distributor or refinery owned, thus eliminating one level of profit margin over Cass City stations, which have to buy their gas from distributors.

Most Caro stations do not offer repair service so, with fewer employees, have less overhead.

There are more stations in Caro, so there is more competition.

The Chronicle contacted two local dealers, but presumably the situation is the same for all four. The two said they have been passing on the price increases they receive from the oil companies. Their profit margin per gallon has decreased from what it once was.

President Reagan removed all gasoline price controls a few weeks ago.

One dealer buys his gasoline from a distributor who owns two stations in Caro (under two different brand names), which sell the same gasoline for 7 and 10 cents less a gallon than what he can sell it for.

The dealer suspects, but can't prove it, that at least some distributors charge a higher than necessary price to dealers in Cass City and elsewhere in order to subsidize lower prices in Caro.

Lastly, transportation charges should add a penny here over the price charged to haul gasoline to Caro.

As for grocery prices, the two Cass City supermarket owners said that although large stores elsewhere may charge less for certain items, they believe that when the total grocery bill is added up, their prices are competitive, especially when the price of gasoline to drive elsewhere is considered.

They also advised careful shopping. A can of peaches, for example, may appear to be cheaper in another store, but is actually a little smaller than the slightly more expensive can in a local store.

Norm Hughes reelected GOP chairman

Norman Hughes of Metamora was reelected eighth district Republican chairman in voting Friday by delegates to the state Republican convention in Detroit.

Hughes defeated State Sen. Alvin DeGrow, R-Pigeon, 79-42.

Other eighth district officers elected were June Summerfeld, Saginaw, vice-chairman; Mary Mauntler, Reese, secretary, and Ed Good Jr., Gagetown, treasurer. All three ran unopposed.

Notice Of Date Change

The regular March meeting of the Cass City Village council will be held Monday, March 23, 1981, at 7:00 P.M. at the municipal building, 6737 Church Street; Cass City, MI 48726.

PEDALING AROUND

Reach out
and write

By Mike Eliasohn

I sometimes wonder how reporters managed before the telephone was invented. Contrary to what one may believe from watching the Lou Grant television program, reporters don't spend most of their time chasing after stories.

They spend most of their time seated at their desks, getting information over the telephone and typing stories. Sore bottoms are an occupational hazard.

The disadvantage of the telephone is that we become slaves to it. If, for instance, I happen to be the only one in the office and a customer comes in, I wait on the customer. If the telephone rings, the customer has to wait while I answer the phone.

The telephone companies should come up with a gadget to tell the caller, in a polite way, "Sorry, you will have to wait. There is a customer in the office who has priority."

I recall reading about a sports reporter who was in then Michigan State University football coach Duffy Daugherty's office.

Whenever the reporter opened his mouth to ask a question, the telephone rang and Daugherty would answer it.

Finally, the exasperated reporter left the office, went down the hall to a pay telephone, called the coach and got the answers he needed.

On a personal level, I have mixed emotions about telephone calls. I don't question the across town calls -- "Hey, let's get together tonight."

I do question the ones the phone companies want you to make to "reach out and touch someone," instead of writing a letter.

Unfortunately, as a nation, we have become somewhat lazy. The vast majority of mail today is business-related. Personal letters are becoming less and less common.

I am no exception. Starting when I went off to college I wrote my parents once a week. In the Army and in civilian life, I continued that, but somewhere along the line, it became easier to call, and that ended the letter writing.

I still write letters. As I've mentioned before, I correspond with several persons on the subject of bicycles.

The nice thing about letters, unlike telephone calls, is that they can be saved and read again.

Letters can also contain surprises.

They are not always pleasant surprises, of course. "Dear John" letters are in the unpleasant category.

A pleasant letter to me would be a heavily perfumed one from a past passion, stating that she should have chosen me in the first place and now that she is divorced (without any kids), she would like to start over -- at her place for dinner.

I've never gotten one of those.

Receiving letters -- "Dear Johns" and bills excluded -- is nice but I will never discourage anyone from making a telephone call.

I own stock in American Telephone and Telegraph.

Program to expand

Commission on Aging takes over meals-on-wheels

The Thumb Area Commission on Aging (TACA) has taken over and will be expanding the Cass City Meals-on-Wheels program.

The program was started several years ago by the Human Development Commission in Caro, which originally used federal funds to pay for it. It had been funded by contributions for about the past 2½ years and for about two years, had been entirely run by volunteers.

TACA was first approached by the volunteers to take over the program, according to the agency's director, Ron Cassie, because its sources of contributions were drying up. "When the millage passed, we were in a position to help out."

The Meals-on-Wheels program will be funded out of the .2 mill for senior citizen activities approved by Tuscola county voters in August. With payment of property tax bills, the money is now becoming available.

The program is open to persons 60 and over, Cassie explained, who are not able to cook a nutritionally balanced meal on a continuing basis and not have anyone who can do it for them.

The hot meals are free, although the recipients can make a contribution.

The meals are prepared by Hills and Dales General Hospital, which has been charging the program $2.15 per meal, but that is scheduled to increase.

One advantage of having the hospital prepare the meals is that they can be tailored for special diets.

Some recipients are persons released from the hospital who only need them until they are able to prepare their own meals again.

The meals are delivered Monday through Friday, although some recipients don't need and thus don't receive them every day.

Presently, about 8-10 persons are receiving the meals.

TACA has appropriated $8,900 through the end of its fiscal year, Sept. 30, to pay for the meals, Cassie said, which works out to an average of 24 meals per day, plus $1,800 to reimburse volunteer drivers.

Because of the limited funds available in the past, the service area for the program had been confined pretty much to Cass City.

With the money now available, the boundaries are being expanded to the Huron county line on the north, Sanilac county line on the east, Deckerville Road on the south and about halfway between Cass City and Caro on the west.

The program presently has four volunteer drivers, who remained with the program when it was taken over by TACA. Bruce Thompson delivers meals two days a week and Ron Keegan, Marge Langmaid and Pat Mills, one day each.

However, because of the increasing number of persons being served over a wider area, more volunteers are needed.

Delivering the meals takes less than two hours a day and drivers receive reimbursement of 25 cents per mile. They will not have to drive every day.

Persons interested in volunteering, plus those who would like to receive the meals, or those who know of someone who should receive the meals can call TACA at 872-4361 and ask for Kris McCoy.

Would-be recipients will be visited by a staff member, who will determine eligibility.

The takeover of the program by TACA took effect Feb. 16, when approved by its board of directors.

"I think the people who have held the program together really need some credit," Cassie said of the volunteers who ran it.

He singled out Mrs. Langmaid, who served as coordinator, and Keegan, treasurer and fund raiser, both of whom also served as drivers.

HOT LUNCH -- Meals-on-Wheels volunteer driver Bruce Thompson gets ready to deliver two hot meals to an address on Huron Street.

More police wanted in Gagetown

The Gagetown Village Council Monday evening heard a request from three persons seeking more police protection in the village.

Two are owners of the Beagio's Pizza restaurant and the third, not a village resident, is the daughter of a service station owner in Gagetown.

The two village police officers, James Compo and Michael Pine, presently work a total of 20 hours a week, to go up to 30 hours starting April 1. The 30 hours has been standard the last few years during warmer weather.

Pine announced he is resigning as of April 1, as he has been hired as the full-time police officer in Kingston.

Council members made no commitment, according to Clerk Elery Sontag, but it's doubtful they can do anything to increase police protection because of Gagetown's limited financial resources.

The council worked until 1 a.m. on its new budget, for the fiscal year starting April 1.

A public hearing on the budget will be held at 7:30 p.m. Monday, March 30, to be preceded by a hearing on the federal revenue sharing budget at 7.

No one showed up Monday at the scheduled hearing to discuss proposed possible uses for the revenue sharing money.

The council passed a resolution committing the village to participate in preparation of a countywide solid waste disposal plan. A letter of intent stating that municipalities and townships will participate must be filed with the state Department of Natural Resources by April 22.

Your Independent Auto-Owners Agent... For Insurance That's Right For You
It's not easy finding the insurance policy that will fit you best. Because when you go to an insurance agent who represents only one company, he only has one company's policies to offer you.

But your independent Auto-Owner's agent represents several companies. So if one's insurance isn't right in price or coverage, he'll tell you. He knows another one of his companies is.

In fact, he'll go to just about any lengths to suit your needs.

Juana Flores O-G student of month

Juana Flores, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Flores of Owendale, was recently chosen as student of the month for January at Owendale-Gagetown High School.

Miss Flores, a senior at the school, is currently serving as president of National Honor Society and will graduate in the top ten of her class. She is secretary of the senior class, was president of her freshman and sophomore classes and secretary of her junior class.

Miss Flores was in the band in two of her high school years, has been in dramatics her freshman, junior, and senior years, and participated in the softball and basketball programs in her freshman year. She recently completed her term as editor of the Bulldog school annual.

Miss Flores plans to attend Grand Valley State College next year.

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

FIVE YEARS AGO

A 90th birthday celebration in honor of Mrs. Fred Palmateer of Rochester was held recently at her home by family members. The former Amy Wentworth is a native of Cass City.

Cass Cityans should be swimming in their own municipal swimming pool for the first time in nearly five years this spring.

Mrs. Phyllis Root of Gagetown and Mrs. Liz Taylor of Kingston have been honored by the Michigan Cystic Fibrosis chapter for their efforts in behalf of lung-damaged children.

Relatives of Leo and Rose Patnaude of Gagetown helped the couple celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday. Dinner was served at their daughter's home, Mrs. Shirley Ross, in Reese.

The controversial marquee over Chappel's Men's Shop has been rebuilt, apparently at no cost to village taxpayers. The original violated village building codes, but was constructed after a building permit was granted.

TEN YEARS AGO

High winds Saturday afternoon caused thousands of dollars of damage in the Cass City area. Among the hardest hit was the Walbro Corp. engineering building, where the wind literally lifted the roof from the building. Some of the pieces landed 300 yards away.

Cass City's seventh grade basketball team capped an undefeated season Saturday with a 45-30 victory over Sandusky in the finals of the tournament held in Cass City.

The Cass City Board of Education has appointed an eight-man team to serve as an advisory committee in the drive to establish a vocational-technical school in Tuscola county. Members include Lloyd Severance, Stan Guinther, Lambert Althaver, William Ruhl, Arthur Holmberg, Wayne Dillon, Geraldine Prieskorn and Mike Weaver. Alternates are Dr. Ed Scollon, and Sue Hoag.

25 YEARS AGO

Mrs. Martha Osburn,

formerly of Kingston township, a patient for several years in the Stevens Nursing Home in Cass City, will mark her 100th birthday March 5.

Dr. H.T. Donahue of Cass City and Herman Kern of Reese are the owners of registered Holstein cows tying for first place in the 50 pound fat or more class for the month of January.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Lagorce of Washington, D.C., who had spent two weeks with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Paul and children, returned home this week.

The Cass City demonstration team of Bob Langmaid and Jim Johnson won second place for their demonstration of construction of a pole-type barn. The boys were competing in the Future Farmers of America contest at Mayville.

35 YEARS AGO

The Gorden Hotel was sold March 5 by Ann and Elizabeth Kleinschmidt to Kenneth Cumper of Sandusky.

Harry L. Little of Detroit this week purchased the funeral home of Hugh Munro on W. Main Street and its equipment to which he has added a new Henney-Olds ambulance.

R.M. Hunter of Detroit has leased the business block of John Doerr on E. Main Street now occupied by the C.E. Patterson grocery and expects to open an automobile accessories business.

A dinner meeting March 4 in Caro was held by the Tuscola County 4-H Council. Officers elected were: chairman, Reid Kirk, Fairgrove, vice-president, Keith Crawford, Caro; recording secretary, Mrs. Irma Hicks, Deford, and secretary-treasurer, William Newland.

Soil, pest service organized

A non-profit corporation of area farmers is offering a soil testing and pest monitoring service to Tuscola county farmers.

Corporate directors are Mike Findlay, Caro; Bill Kirk, Fairgrove; Dennis Monte, Fairgrove, and Dave Milligan, Cass City.

Soil samples will be taken between mid-April and June 1 of the 1981 production season. Test results can be utilized by producers to determine fertilizer application rates for three years after samples are taken.

Insect and disease monitoring will also be available. A pest scout will monitor signed-up fields once a week if weather conditions allow. Spray recommendations will be made for damaging insects in corn, soybeans, dry beans, alfalfa, small grains and sugar beets along with recommendations for selected crop diseases where recommendations are available.

Farmers utilizing the service will be members of the non-profit corporation after paying a membership fee to help establish it. The cost of each service will be $1.50 per acre. Each farmer participating in the program must sign up a minimum of 50 acres for each service utilized.

Farmers must register for services by sending a check to cover membership and service costs for all acreages signed up for either service. Farmers should indicate the number of acres to be signed up in each program at the time of registration. The registration deadline is March 13 to obtain services this year.

For further information, contact a corporate director or phone the Tuscola County Cooperative Extension Service in Caro at 673-3161.

HEALTH TIPS

Laxatives not always needed for constipation

Frank Chappell
Science News Editor

Ever been constipated? Sure. Hasn't almost everyone?

There is probably more fretting and worrying over constipation than any other single health aspect of the American scene.

Most of it is unnecessary worry. The worry stems from the persistent American myth that demands a bowel movement every day.

The American public constantly seeks ways to prevent "irregularity," the American Medical Association points out. The most abused organ in the body is the lower bowel, dosed with laxatives that aren't needed and may even be dangerous.

A bowel movement every day is not essential. For some, twice daily may be the normal pattern. For others as infrequently as once every three days is often enough.

A major cause of constipation is failure to heed the urge at the right time. It often isn't possible to go at the exact moment that nature calls. This causes increased pressure in the rectum.

When nature's signal is neglected, the feces become dehydrated. Bowel movement becomes difficult. Nature's built-in signaling device grows careless when its signals are constantly ignored.

Don't hesitate to excuse yourself for a trip to the rest room, whatever the occasion.

Poor eating habits may contribute to constipation. Hurrying through meals hinders digestion. Selection of improper foods, particularly shunning fibrous or rough foods, is a factor.

Tensions caused by pressures at work and the hurried pace of life disrupt the normal course of digestion. Lack of exercise makes it harder for the body's functions to perform.

Laxatives should not be self-prescribed. Used for a brief interval on a doctor's prescription, they may serve a useful function. But regular use brings dependency.

The doctor may suggest changes in daily living habits to combat constipation. Only if you are willing to cooperate and observe these changes will treatment be successful.

Beutler rites held Saturday

Alfred Conrad Beutler, 75, of E. Miller Road, Sandusky, died Feb. 23 at his home.

He was born July 26, 1905, in Ellington township, the son of Anthony and Etta (Hall) Beutler.

Beutler, a farmer all his life, moved from Ellington township to Sandusky 1½ years ago.

He is survived by two nieces, Mrs. Leatrice Roy of Pinconning and Mrs. Martin (Joan) Jacques of Oscoda, and one nephew, Raymond Beutler of Burton. One brother, Earl, and one sister, Jennie, preceded him in death.

Funeral services were conducted Saturday afternoon at Little's Funeral Home, Cass City, with Rev. Harry Capps of the First Presbyterian church of Cass City officiating.

Burial was in Almer cemetery, Caro.

ASSIGNMENT: LIFE

New Liberty Films brings you this true life drama. Hard-driving editor Ben Reddick assigns aggressive journalist Ann Summers to get both sides of the abortion controversy. Digging out the truth becomes a personal Odyssey into Life and Death.

On film: Illinois Congressman Henry Hyde; noted author Dr. Jack Willke; evangelical leader Dr. James Dobson, Cardinal Timothy Manning; ex-abortionist Dr. Bernard Nathanson; many, many others. Plus actual abortions and an actual life birth.

What They're Saying About "Assignment: Life"

"Every person in America should see this film..." - Dr. Bill Bright, Founder and President, Campus Crusade for Christ

"I enthusiastically recommend... 'Assignment: Life'..." - Dr. James Dobson, Noted author

AROUND THE FARM

Spin disc nozzles

By William Bortel

Spinning disc nozzles, sold as the Micromax, (also called rotary nozzles and controlled-droplet applicators) were developed to produce uniformly sized droplets while greatly reducing the volume of water applied. The water volume ranges from one to three gallons per acre.

Water volume for soil applied herbicides is related to herbicide performance only as it may affect the uniformity of the application. That is, usually we can get more uniform applications with 15 to 25 gallons of water per acre than with lower volumes for flood jet and flat fan tips. Perhaps rotary nozzles give uniform coverage, but we have not seen hard data on distribution patterns for several units on a boom.

Another concern on uniformity of distribution for soil-applied treatments relates to wind patterns. The droplets are spun from the disc horizontal to the ground and gravity must pull the droplet back to earth. How does wind affect the uniformity of the pattern on a boom? Again data is lacking.

A January Successful Farming article claims the rate of postemergence herbicides such as Basagran and Blazer can be reduced when rotary nozzles are used. The manufacturers of both products have emphatically stated that a minimum of 20 gallons of water per acre and 30 pounds pressure be used to produce fine droplets for thorough coverage of the weed foliage. Thus, it is difficult to expect superior results at such low water volumes and even more difficult to believe rates can be reduced simply because a uniformly sized droplet is produced.

Wisconsin research has shown some postemergence herbicides to be more effective when applied with spinning disc nozzles, but this happened in 1979 with Roundup (a systemic herbicide) for quackgrass control. A similar trial in 1980 failed to show any advantage for the rotary nozzle for quackgrass control. The results with Basagran on yellow nutsedge and Canada thistle show that the rotary nozzle was generally inferior to flat fan nozzles.

In summary, we feel that several years of in-depth research and field testing are needed before we will have a clear understanding of where rotary nozzles can be used.

Certainly the attraction of greatly reduced water volumes for soil applied herbicides merits consideration. But to claim better results from postemergence treatments applied with rotary nozzles is definitely premature and is probably not the case for most herbicides.

Protective services available

As part of a total protective services policy, the Tuscola County Department of Social Services maintains procedures for handling inquiries or reports of neglect, exploitation, abuse or cruelty to adults living in nursing homes, homes for the aged, and adult foster care homes.

All inquiries are logged in order to assure prompt action and an inquiry form is used to record the report and results of the investigation.

Any individual, group or agency that wishes to make a report or inquiry may telephone one of the adult services workers, at the Department of Social Services at 673-4144 or write or visit the department office at 1900 W. Caro Road, (M-81), Caro

New books at the library

COMSTOCK LODGE by Louis L'Amour (fiction). This is the tale of the Trevallion family, who travel from their native Cornwall, England, to seek their fortune in the California gold fields. When they reach Missouri, Mother is gunned down by a gang of drifters and Father joins her soon after, leaving young son Val to track down their killers. Along his road to revenge, Val falls in love with a beautiful actress, makes a few friends and unmakes a few enemies, and becomes embroiled in a gold-mine claim.

PRIMA DONNA by Nancy M. Freedman, (fiction). A Freudian soap opera in which a beautiful soprano rises from the ashes of an emotionally impoverished childhood to blaze a remarkable career across the great stages of the world and the headlines of tomorrow's tabloids. But at the pinnacle of the singer's huge success, her voice fails, her love affair with the world's richest man goes sour, and her life begins to come apart in tragedy after agonizing tragedy.

MORE MAKE-A-MIX COOKERY by Karine Eliason, (non-fiction). Make-a-Mix Cookery was published in 1978 with 58 mixes. This new edition has been published with 67 new mixes (no repeats). Based on letters to the author, the scope has widened to include more mixes for the refrigerator and freezer. All courses are competently presented for all sizes of groups, from a single person to a large family.

Movies at Rawson Memorial Library at 7:30 p.m. Monday are: "Follow The North Star" - Young Benji resolves to be an active partner in assisting Harriet Tubman in the Underground Railway that helps runaway slaves find freedom in pre-Civil War days. "Kangaroo Island" - Delightful trip to a south Australian island, filled with exotic animals.

Tyrrell given certificate by meat board

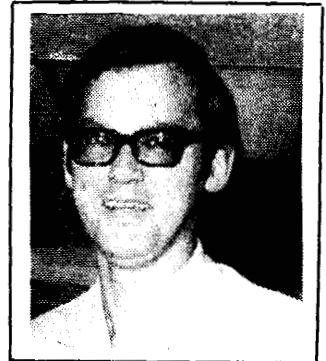

Judy Tyrrell was recipient of a certificate awarded by the National Livestock and Meat Board Feb. 24 at the annual awards banquet of the Michigan State University College of Agriculture and Natural Resources.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Tyrrell of Huron Line Road, Uby, majoring in animal science. She and the other seven members of the MSU meat judging team received the certificates for their fine performance in meat judging contests. The banquet was held at the Kellogg Center for Continuing Education.

Powerful North Huron ends Bulldog cage year

North Huron exploded for 30 points in the first quarter Monday night and easily cruised to a 69-45 win over Owen-Gage in the opening game of the Class D district basketball tournament at Deckerville.

The loss ends a disappointing season for coach Phil Gray's Bulldogs, who managed only four wins this season, versus 17 defeats.

In the 1981-82 season, the team has no place to go but up, and Gray finds cause for hope in that more players will be returning next year and some of those returnees, such as Terry Muntz and Dan Glidden, got lots of experience this season.

The tournament game was the last one for seniors Jim Glidden, the team's leading scorer, Jim Kuhr, Scott Gaeth and Scott Howard.

Muntz was the Bulldogs' top scorer Monday with 14 points, followed by Jim Glidden with 12.

The team connected on 20 of 48 field goal shots, 42 percent, and five of 10 from the free throw line.

Kevin Kennedy led the Warriors with 25 points, better than his season average of about 20 points per game. Chris Roth added 12 points.

North Huron shot 29 of 69 from the floor, 42 percent, and 11 of 16 from the charity line, 69 percent.

The Warriors, the North Central D League champions with a 14-0 mark and the favorites to win the district trophy title, were to have faced Caseville Wednesday evening, which drew a first round bye.

PORT HOPE

The dismal regular season for Owen-Gage came to an end at home Friday with a 61-48 loss to Port Hope.

The Bulldogs finish the season at 3-11 in the North Central D League, seventh of eight teams, and 4-16 overall.

The Blue Stars won the game at the charity line. Bulldog fouls gave them more chances and they made better use of them. The teams connected on 21 of 27 free throws, 78 percent, and shot 20 of 54 from the floor, 37 percent.

Top scorers were Neal Emerick with 22 points, Ray Finkel, 12, and Greg Schave, 10.

Owen-Gage pumped in 21 of 62 field goal attempts, 34 percent, and six of 15 from the charity line, 40 percent.

In double figures were Terry Muntz with 18 and Dan Glidden with 10. Glidden grabbed nine of his team's 29 rebounds.

Port Hope had a total of 44 rebounds.

The Bulldog junior varsity lost, 50-46, and finished with a league and overall record identical to that of the varsity.

O-G spikers undefeated league champions again

Owen-Gage finished in second place Saturday in the 12-team volleyball tournament at Caseville.

It was the third year in a row coach Judy Campbell's team finished in the runner-up spot, after winning it three years prior to that.

Thursday, the Bulldogs captured their sixth North Central D League title in a row by defeating Port Hope.

Owen-Gage defeated Harbor Beach in the opening game Saturday, 10-5, 10-0, then downed Deckerville, 10-4, 10-3. Next to fall was Kingston, 10-2, 10-7.

The Bulldogs then lost to Lakers, 10-5, 10-5.

They rebounded in the semi-finals, losing the first game to Kingston but winning the next two. Scores were 4-15, 15-5, 15-9.

In the finals, Owen-Gage again opposed Lakers, which won, 15-4, 15-5. The champions were undefeated in the tournament.

Peg Berube scored a total of 33 points for the Bulldogs;

Julie Andrakowicz, 30 points, three ace spikes and 18 good spikes; Becky Howard, 19 points, 34 ace spikes and 29 good spikes, and Kris Erickson, 13 points.

PORT HOPE

Port Hope's hopes of bumping Owen-Gage from the top spot in the North Central D League volleyball standings were dashed by the Bulldogs Thursday night.

Owen-Gage won the first match, 15-13, 15-10, and the second, 15-9, 15-6. The win clinched the league title for coach Judy Campbell's squad.

Julie Andrakowicz scored 17 points and had nine kills and 15 good spikes; Bonnie Wynn, 10 points, and Becky Howard, 13 kills and 25 good spikes.

The host Blue Stars won the junior varsity match, 15-5, 15-10, 15-0.

UBLY

Non-league Uibly proved no match for the host Bulldogs last Wednesday night.

Owen-Gage won the first match, 15-13, 15-5, and the second, 15-3, 15-2.

Julie Andrakowicz collected 20 points, nine good spikes and three kills; Becky Howard, 15 points, 16 good spikes and nine kills, and Peggy Berube, 13 service points.

The Bearcats won the junior varsity contest, 15-9, 15-10, 7-15.

Cass City takes pre-district with decision over Sandusky

Cass City defeated Sandusky Monday afternoon in the pre-district of the State volleyball tournament.

The win in straight games over the Redskins moved the Hawks into the district tournament at Laker High School where they will meet Reese Saturday at 10:15 a.m.

The Hawks will be favored to beat Reese and move into the semi-finals. Tournament favorite is Bad Axe that finished the Thumb B Association season undefeated.

Against Sandusky the Hawks were paced by the serves of Kris Proctor and Lori Gohsman in the first game won by the Hawks, the schedule is in their favor. They've already played the two contending teams.

One of the two teams with an outside chance of catching the league leaders won a tight game last Wednesday. Stevenson's topped Hillaker's Auctioneers, 71-64.

Behind the scoring of Roy Calahan, Hillaker's jumped out to an early lead and stayed in front, 30-28, at the half.

The insurance team righted itself in the second half to post a 21-15 third quarter and 22-19 last period advantage to take the game.

Topping the winners were Mark Green, 24 points, Bill Stevenson, 20, and Rick Tuckey, 10. For Hillaker's, Roy Calahan netted 25 and Dave Zawilinski added 12.

In the nightcap, Shetler's jumped off to an early lead, 16-8, and then held off determined attempts by Charmont to post a 57-49 decision.

The lead was only a point with three minutes left, but Kent Shetler hit six for six from the foul line to ice the contest.

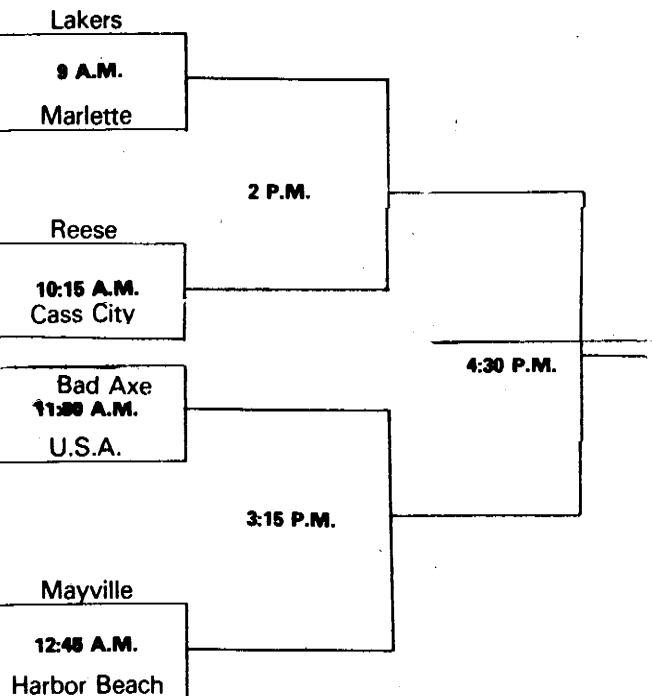

Paul Beachy scored 14 points and Tom Matteson, 11, for the winners while Dave Doerr led all scorers with 18 points followed by Clyde Weir with 16.

Baptist women plan toy shower

Twenty-two women attended the meeting of the Baptist Missionary Society at the church Monday evening.

Members met at six-thirty for an hour's work period. Mrs. Clyde Wells presided over the business meeting. Plans were made for a toy shower for the nursery, to be held in August. A full church calendar in May forces postponement of the mother-daughter banquet.

Devotions were led by Mrs. Jerry Langmaid and prayer-time for missionaries was led by Mrs. Richard Shaw. "Informations" was given by Mrs. Vera Bearss on the Middle East.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by Mrs. Charles Hartwick and Miss Mary Hanby.

Good intentions need careful nurturing to keep 'em healthy.

ROCKING AWAY — Cass City Girl Scouts and Provincial House residents conducted their fourth annual rock-a-thon Feb. 21. Three-fourths of the proceeds went to the scouts and the remainder to the residents to buy materials for their July 4th parade float. From left are Matilda Werschky, Janet Koch and Darlene Monroe, both from Junior Troop 856, and Edith Scott. The scouts received pledges for each hour they rocked and raised $313.

Two appear in court on sexual conduct charges

One person stood mute and another attempted to plead guilty to criminal sexual conduct charges in circuit court Monday before Judge Patrick R. Joslyn.

Lloyd Putnam, 51, of 723 N. Water Street, Vassar, stood mute to criminal sexual conduct (1st degree).

A plea of innocent was entered, with pretrial hearing scheduled March 16. Bond was continued.

He is charged in connection with a reported incident Sept. 29 in Vassar involving a girl under age 13.

The guilty plea of Buddy G. Miller, 36, of 3429 S. School Street, Akron, to criminal sexual conduct (2nd degree) was refused. He will stand trial on the charge starting March 10.

He is charged in connection with a reported incident Oct. 3 in Akron involving a 15-year-old girl.

Also Monday, Anthony Buchinger, 19, of 3099 S. Quancassee Road, Reese, pleaded guilty to attempted delivery of marijuana, in connection with sale of the controlled substance Oct. 16 to an undercover police officer in Reese.

His plea was accepted and a sentencing date is to be set.

William J. Bennett Jr., 17, of Ryan Road, Caro, was placed on three years' probation for delivery of marijuana, to which he pleaded guilty Jan. 5. He was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail, with credit given for two days served, fined $1,000 and assessed $200 costs.

He sold the marijuana to an undercover police officer Aug. 28 in Caro.

Kurt A. Urban, 19, of 200 Gamble Street, Caro, was placed on five years' probation for delivery of marijuana. He was sentenced to four months in the county jail, with credit given for three days served, fined $2,000, and assessed $250 costs.

He pleaded guilty to the charge Jan. 26, to having sold the narcotic to an undercover police officer Oct. 9 in Indianfields township.

Lester B. Bowman, 49, of Mt. Morris or Vassar, was found incompetent to stand trial.

He was committed to the Center for Forensic Psychiatry at Ypsilanti State Hospital for a minimum of 90 days. If he is cured, he will exhibition); Marilyn Bieffer and Jeanne Ellinger, recruiting local artists for studio car and guides, and Mary Brown and Lynda McIntosh, promotion.

Among volunteers still needed are a chairman for the folk art show, guides and helpers in general.

The greatest need is for guides, as one will have to be there each hour the Artrain is open. They need at least an interest in art, as their job will be to explain to the persons boarding the train what they will be seeing.

Savoia, who met with the various chairmen last Wednesday to discuss what has been done so far and what needs to be done, will return in mid-April to train the guides, then hopes to return May 5 for the opening.

FUNDING

The Artrain, which made its first tour in 1971 — it was in Cass City in July, 1972 — is funded by the state, plus donations from various sources.

There is a need to raise about $1,500 locally, to pay various local expenses.

Admission to the Artrain is free, though persons may make donations.

The traveling art museum will begin its 1981 tour in Indiana. Its last stop before coming to Cass City will be Jasper, Ind. From Cass City, it will go to Detroit, Traverse City, Ypsilanti, then Ohio and Missouri before returning to Michigan.

Each community which hosts the Artrain conducts local exhibits and activities, such as is being done in Cass City.

NOTICE

As required by General Revenue Sharing Regulations, a copy of the annual fiscal local unit report for the Village of Cass City, which includes federal revenue sharing distribution, year ending 1980, is available for public inspection at the municipal building, 6737 Church Street, Cass City, MI. during regular office hours.

stand trial.

He was to have stood trial March 30 on charges of larceny over $100, in connection with the March 1, 1980, theft of a tractor in Millington township, and assault with a dangerous weapon and possession of a firearm in commission of a felony. The latter two charges are in connection with an alleged assault with a revolver on a man in Arbela township March 18, 1980.

DISTRICT COURT

Michael A. Lasiewicki, 24, of 5823 Bruce Street, Deford, pleaded guilty Monday to impaired driving (subsequent offense).

Judge Richard F. Kern accepted his plea and sentenced him to four days in the county jail, probation, a $100 fine and $150 costs.

He was arrested by sheriff's deputies on the charge Dec. 6 in Vassar township.

Richard E. Johnston, 18, of 4362 Deckerville Road, Snover, pleaded guilty Monday to throwing an object at a motor vehicle.

His plea was accepted and he was fined $22 and assessed $28 court costs.

He was cited by Cass City police Feb. 18 after throwing snowballs at vehicles on Seeger Street, near Mai Street.

Regular meeting Cass City Village Council

The regular meeting of the Cass City Village Council was held February 24, 1981 at 7:00 p.m. at the Municipal Building. All Trustees were present with the exception of Trustee Ware.

Robert Gentner and Gary Keller of Yeo and Yeo, Certified Public Accountants, presented the 1980 annual financial report to the Council.

Donald Ball, B.A. Calka and Roger Little were present concerning the alley, south of Main Street between West and Brook.

Being that the alley will not be paved this year they requested that a storm sewer be installed to eliminate the water problem. They also requested that more stringent dust control be used on the alley this summer.

The minutes for the regular January meeting were approved as presented.

The Streets and Parking committee presented a proposed Three Year Lease Agreement for the Village Parking Lots (attached). A motion was made by Trustee Stahlbaum and supported by Trustee Rawson to accept the Street and Parking committee's recommendation for the three year lease agreement. Motion carried 5 years, 0 days.

The Parks and Recreation committee presented a preliminary bid package for the tennis court project. A motion was made by Trustee Stahlbaum and supported by Trustee Rawson to accept the preliminary bid package and submit such to the State for approval. Motion carried 5 years, 0 days.

It was reported that the next negotiation meeting with the F.O.P. will be held March 24, 1981. Representing the Village will be Village Attorney Clinton House and Village Superintendent, Lou LaPonsie.

The Village Insurance bid package was presented to the council. A motion was made by Trustee Rawson and supported by Trustee Stahlbaum to advertise for bids. Bids are to be received by May 15, 1981 and to be awarded at the regular June meeting. Motion carried 5 years, 0 days.

The Solid Waste Management Plan for Tuscola county was reviewed. A motion was made by Trustee Helwig and supported by Trustee Hampshire to adopt the following resolution:

By action of the council of the Village of Cass City it is hereby resolved that we are in favor of the municipalities of Tuscola county filing a letter of intent, with the Michigan Department of Natural Resources indicating their willingness to formulate a solid waste management plan for Tuscola county, as required by Act 641.

Roll Call Vote: McIntosh - yea, Helwig - yea, Stahlbaum - yea, Hampshire - yea, Rawson - yea. Motion carried 5 years, 0 days.

A letter was read from Keith Goslin requesting permission to drain an 8" farm tile to the Village Sewer System. A motion was made by Trustee Hampshire and supported by Trustee Rawson to deny this request. Motion carried 5 years, 0 days.

The annual Library Final report is available at the Village Office for review.

A letter was read from Harris-Hampshire Insurance Co. requesting annexation of their property at 6815 E. Cass City Rd. to the Village of Cass City. The letter also included a request for a water and sewer tap. A motion was made by Trustee McIntosh and supported by Trustee Rawson to accept the request and petition the county for approval. Motion carried 5 years, 0 days.

A motion was made by Trustee Stahlbaum and supported by Trustee Rawson that the regular bills be approved for payment. Motion carried 5 years, 0 days.

A motion was made by Trustee Rawson and supported by Trustee Stahlbaum that the bills in the amounts of $308,348.00 to H.C. Weber Construction Co. and $16,034.31 to Hubbell, Roth and Clark be approved for payment. Motion carried 5 years, 0 days.

A motion was made by Trustee Helwig and supported by Trustee McIntosh that the meeting be adjourned. Motion carried 5 years, 0 days.

Farmers' Week at MSU March 23-27

Michigan State University's Farmers' Week takes place March 23-27.

The 66-year-old program embraces 140 educational sessions, all free, on topics ranging from making urban homes more energy efficient to international farm markets.

"One of the unique aspects of Farmers' Week is its in-depth diversity," says Thomas L. Thorburn, Farmers' Week program coordinator. "Each of the sessions offered will provide answers for direction. In this sense, Farmers' Week is a problem solver, whether it is teaching a dairy farmer how to improve his herd management or showing the home gardener how to get higher vegetable yields."

Workshops set aside for the professional farmer include welding clinics, sessions on international grain trade, trends in Michigan farmland use, using the programmable calculator for farm management, and issues affecting the 1981 farm bill. There are also special sessions on dairy management and poultry production.

Scheduled for part-time farmers are programs on beef, sheep and swine production and horse and dairy goat care. There are also several sessions on fruit production, vegetable gardening, landscaping and beekeeping.

There will be special programs on alternative fuels, organic farming and world hunger.

Among the non-farm programs are sessions on how energy and economics are forcing changes in today's family and a detailed look at the effects of dietary sugar, sodium and chloride on human health.

A special segment of Farmers' Week is Natural Resources Days, Tuesday through Saturday. Among the topics included are management of private forests for timber, wildlife habitat and recreation; fly tying, rod making and fly casting; backyard environmental activities; aquaculture; orienteering and wilderness survival, and community forests and parks.

Other programs include a management session for professional campground owners and a workshop on grants and planning for local parks and recreation staff persons.

There will be scores of other attractions and exhibits, including a display of farm equipment, buildings and supplies worth more than $4 million.

Farmers' Week details are listed in the free guidebook available at county Cooperative Extension Service offices and from the MSU Bulletin Office, Box 231, Michigan State University, East Lansing 48824.

savings are now exhausted. He purchased the track after seeing it advertised for sale in a Detroit newspaper. He had raced at the track a few years earlier.

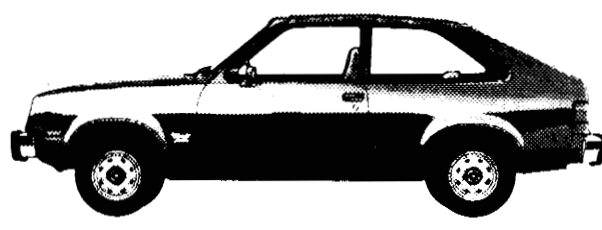

Williams said he still owes a few bills from his speedway venture, but none for a major amount.

He had high praise for the persons who helped him during his stay here such as the drivers, who raced for less than the usual amount of prize money, and they and others, who worked without pay to get the track ready to open. "I never met so many nice people in my life."

As for the future of the track, he said, "I think the potential is still there," but only if the owner has "lots of money and doesn't expect to do it all in one year."

Jean Miscisin also a student

Ubly mother of 10 has job, writes book

Can a mother of 10 children find time to raise her family, hold a job, earn her master's degree in college and write a book?

Jean Lukasavitz Miscisin can and does.

The self-published book is one that is a natural for her. It concerns raising children prior to when they start school. Its title is, "Your Home, Your Child's First School."

Mrs. Miscisin, 44, her husband Ronald, and their six children still at home live on S. Bad Axe Road, southwest of Ubly.

At home are Michael, 7, Matthew, 10, Karen, 12, Michelle, 13, John, 15, and Martin, 17.

Mary, 20, and Therese, 18, attend Mott Community College in Flint. David, 19, is enrolled at Data Control Institute in Detroit, and Evelyn, 21, attends Northern Michigan University.

It would be understandable if their mother were content to stay home and take care of her house and family, but she doesn't see it that way, especially now that all of her children are in school.

"I love being a wife and mother," she explained. "I don't like being a housekeeper."

The then Jean Lukasavitz earned her bachelor's degree from the University of Michigan-Flint in 1958. On the day she was to attend her graduation ceremony, she got married instead.

A year later, when it was Ron Miscisin's turn to get his diploma at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor, he had to skip his graduation ceremony because his wife gave birth to their first child the day before.

The Miscisins are both natives of Flint. They lived in that community after being married, then in California for five years before moving back to Flint.

They moved to their present home in August, 1979. Miscisin is director of the Huron County Sheltered Workshop in Bad Axe.

His wife is activities director at Sunny Acres Nursing Center in Bad Axe.

PRESENTLY, MRS. MISCISIN is at her job Mondays and Fridays, plus week ends if need be. On Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays, she attends classes at the U-M in Flint to earn her master's degree in liberal studies in American culture.

Her master's degree program is emphasizing the study of aging in America. After she gets her diploma, she plans to work part-time as an activities director consultant for other nursing homes, in addition to resuming her job full-time at Sunny Acres.

She began her master's program last September and is taking a heavier than normal load of classes in order to be finished by August.

She describes her husband as very supportive in her efforts. He got his master's degree when the couple had eight children. "He says it's my turn."

Everyone in the family has a job to do, cooking (done by her husband and two daughters in her absence), cleaning, laundry, etc.

"We manage," she said. "I wouldn't want to do this forever. I miss my husband and children (while) in Flint."

THE GOOD BOOK -- Jean Miscisin chose to raise her 10 children to at least school age before writing her book about getting children ready for school. Gathered around are, clockwise from left, Matt, 10, Karen, 12, Michelle, 13, and Michael, 7. Her children made the illustrations and one typed the final copy for the book.

GK Technologies has record profits

GK Technologies, Inc., parent company of General Cable, has reported record sales and earnings for the year ended Dec. 31.

Sales rose to $1.19 million, up 4 percent from $1.14 million in 1979.

Net earnings for the year were $70.2 million, 15 percent over the $60.8 million reported in 1979. Operating income was up 23 percent to $132 million from $107 million in 1979.

Primary earnings per share were $5.33, based on the average of 12.2 million common shares during the year. That compares to $4.75 per share reported in 1979, based on the average of 11.5 million common shares. Fully diluted earnings per share were $4.77 versus $4.18 in 1979.

Robert P. Jensen, chairman and chief executive officer, commenting on the year's results said, "Increased revenues and operating earnings in major market areas for Sprague Electric and Automation Industries were the primary factors contributing to GK Technologies' record results for 1980.

"General Cable's performance was adversely affected in the latter part of the year by the dampening effects of high interest rates on new construction and housing starts."

Derailment cleanup continues at Silverwood

the area to determine if ground water supplies have been contaminated by the acid. Megge quoted experts at the scene as saying if any acid reaches the water table, and no toxic effects are expected, it will take about two weeks to do so.

Emergency personnel at the scene at various times were from the Tuscola, Lapeer and Sanilac county sheriff's departments, including Sheriff Paul Berry, Michigan State Police and fire marshal's office, Tuscola County Emergency Services Director Frank Krowek, fire departments from Mayville, Clifford and Deerfield township, state Department of Natural Resources, Chessie System plus a national railroad task force that specializes in handling such disasters, and Dow Chemical.

A command post was set up in the Silverwood United Methodist church. Women of the church prepared meals.

Megge had high praise for everyone involved. "We didn't have one bit of a problem."

Fair sponsors centennial cover contest

The Tuscola County Fair Association has announced sponsorship of a centennial fair book cover contest to help commemorate the 100th year of the fair, Aug. 2-8.

Fair Board President Walter Jackson said the contest is open to all artists desiring to work in any media. Artists should design their entries to accommodate proportions of vertical 5-by-8 to 10-by-16 inches. Black and white entries will be accepted but full color is preferred.

Entries can consist of any appropriate idea, but must incorporate a pine tree, walking plow and smoke stacks which depict the county's lumbering era, the importance of agriculture and its industrial growth. Space should be allowed to accommodate printed matter.

The contest winner will receive a $50 cash prize and all entries deemed worthy by judges will receive free season tickets to the fair and special centennial fair ribbons.

Entries must be postmarked no later than 4 p.m. April 10 to qualify. The artist's full name, complete address and telephone number should be affixed to the reverse side of each entry. Entries should be submitted to: Walter Jackson, 3212 W. Dixon Road, Caro 48723.

Further belt tightening ordered by Gov. Milliken

By Warren M. Hoyt
Mich. Press Association

The state's economy is not rebounding as was originally hoped and in hopes of avoiding a budget-cutting executive order to balance the current year's budget, Governor William G. Milliken is asking department directors to tighten their belts further and possibly make further layoffs.

In letters recently sent to all 19 agency heads, Milliken asked for a report on their new economy moves by March 2.

He did not give each department a target amount of savings it was expected to produce but simply asked each director to "redouble your efforts to reduce spending so as to maximize lapses."

Budget lapses are unsent appropriations returned to the general fund at the end of each fiscal year.

The governor sent the letters following a memo from Management and Budget Director Gerald Miller asking for an estimate of money that would be lapsed by each department at current levels of operation.

Milliken said the collective response of those estimates fell short of what is needed to balance the budget.

A spokesman for the Office of the Budget said the responses were so minimal, they weren't even totaled.

TOM CLAY, DIRECTOR of the office, said current estimates (aside from new adjustments that might be required because of errant welfare projections) indicate general fund spending will exceed revenues by $80 million.

Budget officials were hoping the lapse estimates would total about $60 million, leaving a more manageable $20 million deficit.

Clay said over the past decade lapses have always been at least $60 million, but noted current conditions aren't historical.

He said the department director's estimates may have fallen so far short because it has been such a tight year already that they see few areas where money will be left over at the end of the year.

THE GOVERNOR'S LETTER, which he said was an approach not taken before, is to make a more urgent appeal to the directors to re-look at their budgets and identify actions to cut spending.

In each letter, the governor suggested the additional budget cuts before any additional layoffs.

Milliken suggested the voluntary cuts would give the directors discretion and not cause the disruption of an executive order budget cut and "the sometimes arbitrary impacts that would be imposed."

"I recognize that this request imposes a frustrating restraint on your efforts to carry out what we both understand to be the mission of your department, but I know you understand that if we do not take decisive action now, the alternative will be much more painful."

The governor will order the reductions following a review of the March 2 responses.

ANOTHER BAD SIGN OF the time and things to come became evident when preliminary figures on the welfare caseloads for January show significant gains in both general assistance and aid to families with dependent children.

Figures for ADC show a tentative increase of 1,591 cases over December to a total of 242,700 and an increase of 2,572 cases in general assistance to a total of 103,000.

Social Services Director John Dempsey recently estimated the caseload bulge could add about $10 million to the department's spending levels. As an alternative, he suggested some cuts in grants.

Earlier, she helped set up a program for the Flint schools for parents of impaired children, to help such parents work with their children.

Both programs continue, with the reading program now in seven schools.

IN ADDITION TO THOSE two programs, she also was a Brownie and Junior Scout leader in Flint for eight years.

In California before then, Mrs. Miscisin taught religion classes and -- of all things -- babysat.

She and her husband developed and then taught for three years a family enrichment religion program at their church in Flint.

She stresses that all of her jobs and activities before all her children were in school were part-time ones, some of them in the evening.

She sometimes gets asked why she didn't wait until Michael, her youngest child, graduates from high school until she started a career, "but if I waited until then, I'd be 54."

She explained that with her children in school and having each other, she doesn't feel they are neglected if she is not always home.

And, she adds, if she were left alone in the house while her husband is at work and her children in school, "I would go crazy."

Your Neighbor says Recognition day for Vietnam vets a good idea

U.S. Senator Donald Riegle, D-Michigan, has introduced legislation that would mark April 26 of this year as "National Recognition Day for Veterans of the Vietnam Era."

In contrast with the reception for the Americans held hostage in Iran upon their return, Riegle commented "... thousands of U.S. veterans who served and died there, or were crippled and blinded, or held prisoner -- the thousands who had their lives permanently altered by their service in Vietnam, have never received appropriate recognition."

Tom McComb, though not a veteran, feels such a recognition day is a good idea. "I think they should be recognized for what they did," he said of the Vietnam veterans.

"They haven't got any recognition, I suppose, because they didn't win the war. Everybody would like to push it under the table."

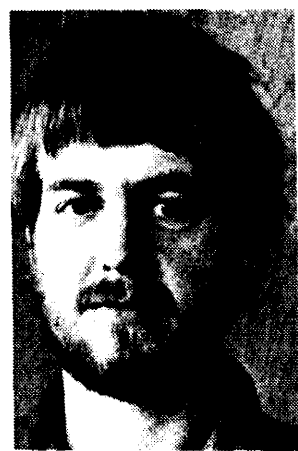

"They went to fight for what this country believes in, so why shouldn't they be recognized for it?"

McComb said a lot of the Vietnam veterans he knows feel that they haven't received proper recognition. According to Riegle, more than 480,000 Vietnam veterans are out of work and because of the 10-year limit on GI bill benefits, 60 percent of Vietnam veterans are no longer eligible for educational benefits.

McComb feels that the time limit on using education benefits should be removed. "As for finding a job, it's pretty hard for anyone to find a job right now."

McComb is single and lives at 4829 N. Seeger Street. He is a long distance truck driver for Richard Joos of Cass City.

Walbro declares dividend

The Board of Directors of Walbro Corp. Feb. 19, declared a first quarter dividend of 10 cents per share payable April 30, to stockholders of record March 13.

President Lambert Alt-haver noted that the first quarter dividend is a continuation of a four-year trend of 10-cent quarterly dividends.

"The outlook for the coming year, calls for a very gradual return to higher sales levels as economic conditions improve," Alt-haver said.

At the same meeting, the board set April 27 as the date of the company's annual stockholders meeting.
