Tax reform proposal may handicap village

Passage of the property tax relief proposal on the May 19 Michigan ballot may have severe repercussions for Cass City finances, the village council was told Monday evening.

The legislature last week approved the constitutional amendment that will be voted on.

Provisions of the act, if passed, are retroactive to Jan. 1. The council normally sets the millage rate in April, tax bills are mailed in June and property tax revenue starts coming in in July.

With such revenue making up about half of the village's general fund revenue, delay in receiving it could hamper village operations, Village President Lambert Althaver said.

Passage of the property tax proposal will invalidate the millage levy approved by the council and tax bills prepared for June mailing, thus delaying receipt of village taxes.

Until tax money starts coming in, Cass City must get by on savings, state revenues and minor miscellaneous revenue.

The proposed amendment, according to the Michigan Municipal League bulletin, made available at the meeting, says that 1981 operating tax revenues of villages and townships "derived from any class of property will be limited to 6 percent above the revenue derived from that class from the 1980 tax levy . . . on existing property, excluding new construction and improvements." Property tax revenue increases in future years will also be limited to 6 percent annually.

The council last year levied 14 mills for operations and presumably will do so again in April. However, should valuations rise more than 6 percent and the tax amendment be approved, presumably the council will have to reduce the millage so that the revenue gain is no more than 6 percent.

It may not be able to do that until the state government first clarifies procedures necessary to comply with the new tax amendment.

If that all happens, Althaver commented, "It's my gut feeling . . . it's going to be awfully tough for this to be done by July or August."

The other problem, he pointed out, is a likely delay in reimbursement from the state, until the state works out the proper procedures.

The ballot proposal requires property tax bills to be cut in half, and then requires the state to reimburse local units of government and school districts 100 percent of the amount they lost the first year in property tax revenue.

Not only will passage of the proposal delay collection of local taxes, the village may be kept waiting until late in the year before it receives its reimbursement from the state.

The long-term effect of the proposed amendment, Althaver said after the meeting, is that by limiting growth in operating revenues from property taxes to 6 percent a year, that wouldn't keep up with inflation.

REZONING

The council scheduled a public hearing at its April 27 meeting on the village Planning Commission's recommendation to create a new RA-1B zoning designation in the northeast corner of the Northwood Village subdivision.

Developer Tom Herron sought to rezone the area from RA-1, which requires minimum 1,200 square foot houses on 12,000 square foot lots, to RA-2. That would have allowed 850 square foot homes on 8,500 square foot lots. He had sought the change, the council was told, to try to keep a lid on increased building costs.

The Planning Commission's recommendation is for a new RA-1B designation, which will allow 1,000 square foot homes on minimum 12,000 square foot lots to avoid crowding.

Thursday blaze leaves family of four homeless

A fire last Thursday morning left a family of four homeless.

Destroyed was the mobile home of Lee and Shirley Soldan and their two children on Kelly Road, about 1½ miles east of Cemetery Road.

Mrs. Soldan said she first noticed her curtains were in flames, pulled them down and then discovered the wall was on fire.

She escaped with her daughter LeAnne, 3, and went next door to her in-laws', Mr. and Mrs. Milton Soldan, to call the fire department. Her husband was at work and daughter Kelly, 5, was in school.

By the time Elkland township firemen arrived, it was too late to save the home. The fire was reported at 9:44 a.m.

Firemen said the cause was faulty electrical wiring.

The Elmwood Township-Gagetown Fire Department brought its tanker to the scene. One of its firemen, William Fischer, was on top of the Elkland tanker, tried to hold down a hose when water pressure built up, but it knocked him off.

He was admitted to Hills and Dales General Hospital. He was discharged Friday.

Mrs. Soldan suffered some minor burns and blisters on her hands, but didn't need hospital treatment.

Firemen were at the scene one hour and used about 4,100 gallons of water in fighting the blaze.

They estimated the loss at $12,000-14,000.

Mrs. Soldan said all that was salvaged from the burned out hulk was a jewelry box made of stone and its contents.

The loss wasn't totally covered by insurance, "but it's a start," Mrs. Soldan said of the settlement.

The family is temporarily living with the Milton Soldans and is looking for a used mobile home to install on the site of their old one.

Since the fire, the Soldans have been given enough clothes by donors to meet their needs. "There's been so much," she commented.

The family is in need of furniture and appliances. Persons who can help are asked to call the Milton Soldan residence, 872-2216, or Mrs. Soldan's sister-in-law, Ilene Soldan, at 673-2552.

Road board seeks tax hike for roads, bridges

Tuscola county voters will have three choices facing them when they go to the polls May 19.

One will be the proposed amendment to the state constitution, which will cut property taxes in half and replace most of the lost revenue by a 1½ cent increase in the state sales tax, now 4 cents per dollar. The measure was approved for placing on the ballot by the legislature last week.

The county Board of Commissioners Tuesday approved the request of the county Road Commission to put two measures on the ballot.

One will be a half-mill for bridges. The other will be a half-mill for road maintenance.

The request was presented by Road Commission Engineer Robert Wellington.

Both levies, if approved, will be for five years, starting with December, 1981 tax bills.

A question was raised whether issues other than the state proposal can be placed on the May 19 ballot. County Clerk Elsie Hicks checked with the election bureau in Lansing and was told the other proposals would be permitted.

Last year, Tuscola county voters twice rejected 1-mill proposals, of which a half-mill would have gone for bridges and the other half-mill would have helped fund county government operations.

Caro Village Manager Don Duggar met with the board to discuss designation of the county Planning Commission as the planning agency for the countywide solid waste disposal plan.

The county commissioners previously voted not to have the county prepare the plan, which meant the local governmental units must undertake the state-

Two die on Tuscola county roads when vehicles hit trees

Kenneth W. Sahr of Vassar became Tuscola county's fourth traffic fatality of the year when he was killed Tuesday night southwest of Vassar.

His death followed that of a Unionville woman, Laurel C. Miller, killed Sunday afternoon east of that community.

Sheriff's deputies report that Sahr, 36, was eastbound on Murphy Lake Road, west of Bray Road, when he lost control of his pickup. It went off the north side of the road and crashed head-on into a tree.

The passenger, the victim's brother, Gerald Sahr, 37, of Millington, pulled Kenneth Sahr from the vehicle. He was taken to Caro Community Hospital, where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

Gerald Sahr was taken to St. Mary's Hospital in Saginaw, where he was reported in fair condition Wednesday morning.

The vehicle caught fire on impact or shortly thereafter. The Millington-Arbela Fire Department was called to extinguish the flames.

The 10:05 accident remains under investigation.

SUNDAY FATALITY

State police are continuing investigation of a Sunday afternoon accident that took the life of a Unionville mother of three and sent four others to the hospital.

Dead at the scene was Laurel C. Miller, 36.

One of four passengers in her car was her son David, 5, who was reported in fair to poor condition Tuesday afternoon at Hills and Dales General Hospital. Darrell Myers, 14, was treated and released.

The other two passengers were Robert Myers, 8, reported in critical condition Wednesday morning at St. Mary's Hospital in Saginaw and Leisha Myers, 13, reported in serious condition there.

The other vehicle involved was driven by Richard K. Duke, 37, of Akron. The passengers in his pickup were Scott Miller, 14, a son of the victim, and Michael Myers, 14, the brother of the other three Myers children. No one in the vehicle was injured.

According to Caro state police, both vehicles were eastbound on Bay City-Forestville Road, about four miles east of Unionville.

Mrs. Miller started to pass the Duke truck, which suddenly moved over into the westbound lane.

The two vehicles touched and Mrs. Miller lost control. Her car traveled 292 feet along the north side shoulder before slamming head-on into a tree. The accident took place at 3:10 p.m.

No one involved in the accident was wearing a safety belt.

Mrs. Miller is the third person killed in a Tuscola county traffic accident this year. That compares to four killed as of the same time a year ago.

Ironically, the fourth person to die in 1980 was Darrell Myers of Unionville, the father of the three Myers children injured Sunday. He was killed March 13, when his car slammed into a tree on McEldowney Road, about 6½ miles east of the accident in which his children were injured.

Mrs. Miller, who was divorced, was born Dec. 7, 1944, in Cass City.

She lived in the Unionville area most of her life and was a member of the Moravian church, Unionville.

She is survived by a daughter, Pamela Sue, at home; two sons, Scott and David, at home; her parents, Merle and Florence McCollum, Unionville, and two brothers, Richard McCollum, Unionville, and Glenn McCollum, Mount Clemens.

Funeral services will be at 1 p.m. Thursday at Deisler Brothers Funeral Home in Unionville, Rev. Richard E. Michel of the Moravian church officiating.

Burial will be in the Almer township cemetery, Caro.

OTHER ACCIDENTS

At 5:45 a.m. Sunday, according to sheriff's deputies, L.J. Francis Dillon, 53, of 2010 Dickerson Road, Unionville, was westbound on Dickerson, east of Colwood Road, when a deer ran in front of his vehicle.

He braked, lost control, and his truck hit a mailbox before going off the road into the south side ditch, where it

Annual meetings Saturday

Township annual meetings take place Saturday, the date mandated by state law.

The powers of electors at annual meetings has been narrowed by the legislature over the years.

The two major powers remaining are the authority to accept or reject the salary recommendations of the township board and to grant authority to the board to purchase or sell real estate, equipment and buildings.

All area township boards use the opportunity to present their proposed budgets for the fiscal year that starts April 1.

Most also use the opportunity to conduct a public hearing or to discuss proposed use of federal revenue sharing funds.

Area townships whose meetings will start at 1 p.m. are Austin, Columbia, Brookfield, Ellington, Evergreen, Greenleaf, Kingston, Moore, Novesta and Wells.

Others are Elmwood, 10 a.m.; Elkland, Grant and Sheridan, 1:30 p.m.; Bingham and Argyle, 2, and Lamotte, 7:30.

A township resident does not have to be a registered voter to participate, but must meet the eligibility criteria for registering to vote.

End of CETA job program may swell welfare rolls in Thumb

BULLETIN

Apparent reshuffling of some Comprehensive Employment and Training Act funds may mean not as many persons will lose their jobs immediately, as indicated in the following story.

Thumb Area Consortium Executive Director Frank Lenard met in Lansing Tuesday with state Bureau of Employment and Training officials to learn the latest revision in the CETA program, but was ill Wednesday and not in his Cass City office, so wasn't available to explain what transpired at the Lansing meeting.

The employment part of the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) is coming to a screeching halt.

It will mean almost 700 persons in the upper Thumb will lose their jobs as of March 31, which were funded by the federal government.

They will be eligible for unemployment compensation for a maximum of 26 weeks, if they were employed at least 35 weeks, plus an additional 13 weeks of benefits if they are still unemployed after the initial period.

After that runs out, probably most will go on welfare, where they will receive less money, but won't have to work.

The maximum CETA workers are paid is $7,841 annually ($3.77 per hour for a 40-hour week).

The CETA program in the three upper Thumb counties is administered by the Thumb Area Consortium. Its executive director, Frank Lenard, told the administrative board last Thursday the ax fell Monday, March 16.

Notification was received that day from the state Bureau of Employment and Training that persons enrolled in the CETA Title II-D and VI programs would have to be let go.

The reason was that the Reagan administration in Washington impounded the funds that had been appropriated by Congress for the two programs.

Only two weeks earlier, the new administration had ordered a freeze on placing new persons in CETA positions, which presumably would have meant a gradual phase-out with the employment programs to end at the end of the federal fiscal year, Sept. 30.

The termination does not mean an end to the CETA program. There are still job training programs and the Summer Youth Employment Program (SYEP) will be continued this summer.

The board voted to award the contract for running the summer program to the Huron Intermediate School District (ISD), choosing it over the Human Development Commission (HDC), which ran it the past five years.

The end of the jobs program will mean the end of the non-profit Tri-County Public Service Agency, headquartered in Sandusky, which ran the Title VI emergency jobs programs in the three counties. As of Feb. 28, there were 250 employed in the program.

The agency's administrator and bookkeeper will be put on the consortium payroll for no more than 90 days to close out the financial and participant records.

HUMAN DEVELOPMENT

The program halt will have a severe effect on the HDC in Caro, which ran the Title II-D work experience program under contract with the consortium and also utilized CETA paid workers in other programs.

The HDC had 97 persons employed in the work experience program in schools, Caro Regional Center, etc., who will lose their jobs, according to the agency's director, Mary Ann Vandemark.

Rabbit tracks

By John Haire

(And anyone else he can get to help)

Twenty-five years ago, when Bill Myers talked newspaper people listened. The smart ones still do.

You can do a bit of listening, too, starting with this issue when the former editor and co-publisher of the Lapeer County Press will be talking in the columns of the Chronicle.

You'll find his views on the back page in a new column, "Taking Stock," that starts this week. Myers draws on his experience as a money manager for the column.

He is retired now and lives in Boca Raton, Fla., and Lapeer. His column appears in the Boca Raton News, Oxford Leader and Presque Isle County Advance.

That the Chronicle can offer "Taking Stock" to you, I suspect, is because Myers just can't shake the ink out of his blood.

Whatever the reason, we feel you'll be pleased that he's consented to let us present him to you weekly.

Enjoy.

The Ervin "Magic" Johnson influence is alive and well in Michigan high schools. It used to be that the big scorers and the dunkers drew the oohs and ahs from the crowd.

Now it's the blocked shots on defense, the dunk from an alley-oop pass and the pinpoint blind passes setting up the scores that turn on the players and the spectators.

Case in point. At Crisler Arena in the Michigan High School Athletic Association finals Saturday, Mark Harris scored 44 points, a new record. Eric Turner, his teammate, scored 12 points. The fans appreciated Harris, but not nearly as much as they did Turner, who, like Johnson before him, would rather pass than shoot.

Incidentally, that final class A game between Flint Central and Detroit Murray-Wright was as fine a game as any I've seen in 31 straight years.

It also impressed Don Stamats of Caro and Rep. Loren Armbruster, whom I ran into at the games. I mention them because I suspect that Stamats is one of the few that have been watching the games longer than I.

My wife beat the machine. The computer is down for the 10 count. Regular readers of this trivia will recall that Visa charged us interest of $5.91 because one of the checks was not credited to our account.

I felt there were two chances to get that money back . . . slim and none. I was wrong. After a couple of letters the $5.91 was erased from the bill.

Score one for the little guys.

State tax proposal may hurt village

OTHER ITEMS

Alan Klco was given permission to form a committee to plan some type of memorial to commemorate, in his words, "the good things that happened to us in Cass City." It would be funded by contributions.

Klco's suggestion was to put a memorial in the village park, perhaps similar to the large 20-30 foot high cross erected in Frankenmuth, which has a plaque stating "from a grateful community."

"I think it's a nice gesture," Councilman Elwyn Helwig commented.

Klco now hopes to form a committee with a representative from each church in the community, to develop ideas for the memorial, get bids, etc.

It was announced that construction bids for the new tennis courts are now being solicited. They will be opened April 14 and the council will probably award a bid April 27.

Pinney State Bank has donated $1,000 for the courts, in memory of the late Horace Bulen. Private contributions now total $5,100.

Completion of the wastewater treatment plant, village Superintendent Lou LaPonsie said, will probably be delayed a few months because of delays in receipt of equipment from manufacturers. Some parts may be in operation early, with the target date for complete operation being March or April of next year.

The annexation request of Mr. and Mrs. Kim Glaspie on E. Cass City Road, on the west side of Harris-Hampshire Agency, was accepted and must now be approved by the county Board of Commissioners. The insurance agency applied for annexation last month.

Twenty-three of 34 governmental units in Tuscola county have now agreed to participate in preparation of a countywide solid waste disposal plan, more than the simple majority required.

The certified public accounting firm of Yeo and Yeo was retained to perform the 1981 village audit, at a cost of $5,400-5,900 for the basic audit, about $100 more than the 1980 audit.

The total audit for last year cost about $7,600, but that included auditing of the funds for the wastewater treatment plant and Garfield Street-Doerr Road construction projects.

Improper decibels

By Jim Fitzgerald

After the wife crawled out from behind the tea cart, chortling, the husband accused her of giving too much decibel to her delight at proving he was a dumbo.

To impress her, the husband has recently started talking like Secretary of State Alexander Haig, who talks like he's reading a federal income tax form aloud. Recently Haig said European foreign ministers "were concerned that we did not give proper decibel in our explanations of our approach to the arms control track."

The wife didn't deny that her laugh track was overamplified. "I can't help it," she said. "I've been waiting over a week to show you how dumb you are."

The over-decibelization of the husband's momentary lapse in undumbness was caused by TV which he, as an intellectual, certainly doesn't watch for entertainment. He watches it as part of his job, which is to make wry comments on the sad state of the human condition.

For instance, he was watching when a 90-year-old woman was declared the most interesting person embarrassed on a Candid Camera show. She was awarded a free rent-a-car for a week end, five gallons of motor oil, and a complete set of encyclopedias.

"It is a sad commentary on the state of the human condition when a 90-year-old woman is expected to change her own oil," the husband said wryly. "If she were 70 years younger, she would have won an afghan and an abridged novel."

The husband was trying to study a Mary Tyler Moore rerun the day the wife chortled from behind the tea cart. Late every afternoon, Channel 9 beams Mary out of Canada, which is directly across the river from the husband's home. Often the picture won't stop flipping and he must be content with merely listening to the dialog while looking out the window angrily at Canada, the same way he looks at the projectionist's booth when the screen goes blank in a movie theater. He knows it isn't intellectual to blame Pierre Trudeau for the lousy picture, but he hopes it's wry.

It is a new TV set and, as previously reported, it is located on the bottom shelf of a tea cart which has two hinged leaves on the top. The leaf on the screen side is lowered for visitors, so they won't see the TV and will think the people who live there know how to read. The leaf on the back side is always down.

Recently, while the husband was listening to Mary Tyler Moore and watching Canada, the wife asked why he didn't adjust the picture. "The new TV doesn't have a vertical control knob, and when a good picture doesn't lock in automatically it isn't the fault of your television set," he explained patiently. "The fault probably lies in Pierre Trudeau's unhappy marriage."

The wife didn't say anything at that time. But it was only a few days later, when Mary suddenly stopped flipping, that the over-decibeled chortling was heard from behind the tea cart.

"How is the picture now?" the wife asked between amplifications. She knew it was good. While he'd been out earning a living, she'd searched and searched until she'd found a dinky little vertical control knob in the back of the set behind the stupid tea-cart leaf. And then she'd waited in ambush, until he'd switched to Channel 9 and begun shaking his fist at Canada, for the most dramatic moment to demonstrate that she married a man so dumb he can't find the vertical knob on a TV set with both hands.

"You could have just quietly told me you'd located the vertical knob," he said loudly, if not wryly. "I don't mind admitting my mistake. In fact, I'm glad to let Trudeau off the hook. However, it does seem fair to point out that the only thing dumber than putting a vertical control knob on the BACK of a TV set is hiding that set between the lowered leaves of a STUPID tea cart."

"You're beautiful when you decibel, Dumbo," she said.

FIRST GRASS FIRE of the year extinguished by Elkland township firemen was on the Lawrence Moore farm on Bach Road, east of Elkton Road in Grant township, late Monday morning. The wind blew burning trash out of a barrel onto the ground. About two acres burned. Burning permits, available from fire departments, are required for outdoor burning this time of year.

Caro man charged in crash

A Caro man has been charged witn felonious driving, the result of his car having run into a Tuscola county sheriff's patrol car early Sunday, resulting in injuries to him and three other persons.

Alan L. Wisenbach, 21, of 2322 Remington Road, appeared Monday before District Judge Richard F. Kern. Pre-preliminary examination was scheduled March 30 and preliminary examination, April 10. Bond was set at $5,000 cash or surety, which has since been posted.

Treated and released from Caro Community Hospital following the 1:56 a.m. crash were Wisenbach and the three occupants of the patrol car, Deputy Arthur Adam, 30, of Millington, Deputy Phillip E. Malloy, 35, of Caro, and police cadet Jeffery J. Rose, 18, of Mayville.

Caro state police who investigated, reported Wisenbach was eastbound on Darbee Road, north of Caro, and crashed head-on into the patrol car, which was parked along the north edge of the road. Neither vehicle had its lights on.

According to troopers, the deputies had contact a short time earlier with Wisenbach at a private residence. He was told not to drive a car because of his condition. They then left, but were waiting to see if he ignored them and was driving his car.

The Haire Net

Sometimes a cartoon can catch the beat of the people better than anything. Like the odor wafting from a bakery tells you better than anything what's waiting inside.

One that did just that pictured two researchers in their lab and one says to the other, "I don't care how much proof you have, Burns, the American public isn't ready for the announcement that living causes cancer."

That sums it up. We've been over exposed. Nearly everything in our diet has been suspect. Accused of causing life-shortening illness of one type or another.

Meat, fat, red pop, saccharin, sugar, milk and now coffee will do it to you in the end, the researchers claim.

What's left is a matter of choices. If you believe what the scientists are telling you, you balance the risk against the rewards.

If you look around, it's apparent that the vast majority feel that the scientists have cried "wolf" too many times and people no longer are paying attention.

They eat what they want, drink what they want and ask each other what the nuts in the white coats will come up with next.

Everyone has a theory.

Most of them are like mine. Based on no facts at all.

In my mind, the most important factors are good genes. Healthy long-lived parents tend to produce healthy long-lived kids.

The second is moderation. Guys that don't do anything to excess and sort of go with the flow, never eat too much or drink too much, never get too excited about things are the long lasters.

Right now I can hear you saying, what about John Doe. He drank a case of beer a day until he was 70 and lived to be 92½.

My factless theory is that if he didn't have that flaw he might have lived to be 108. If you are saying, why would he want to?, forget it. That's another story.

A common thread that links the principals in periodic stories about persons that reach 100 is usually that they were moderates in what they did all their lives. Check it out the next time one appears.

My theory leaves me out in the cold. My genes say that I may live to an average old age. My temperament is zilch.

It's total involvement or nothing. That makes life interesting for me, but it may make it shorter.

I rush head-long into what occupies my attention at the moment and probably will until I die. Truthfully, like most of us, I doubt if I would change if I could.

Literature better late than never

Dear Mr. Haire,

I recently sent a note to the Arizona Dept. of Tourism and requested that they send you some free literature about Arizona.

I hope you will share it with my old friends in Cass City who wrote to the Tucson Chamber of Commerce and never received an answer. Shame on Tucson! It will probably be too late for this year, but there is always 1982.

In case anyone is interested, it is 81 degrees today (March 20).

Questions for school board

Mr. Haire,

I would like to pose a question or two to our school board concerning the recent actions I read in the paper.

First of all, I would like to know why the board even bothered to evaluate the superintendent after giving the o.k. to a contract extension?

Board members, must you be reminded that this is a business and like most businesses you first evaluate the employee then decide whether to reward or reprimand. Unless, of course, you have forgotten that the superintendent works for the school board and not the other way around.

Secondly, it appears there is a deficiency within the superintendent's personality. If this is also true, then why did the board wait until this "evaluation" to bring it to his attention?

Please keep in mind that although one may "keep a tight ship," no one is indispensable. There are other people in this world who can keep our financial status intact and yet be very personable.

This criticism is not fully intended for the board members who have shown considerable backbone during their three years on the school board.

Judy Tyrrell off to Montana

Judy Tyrrell, a Michigan State University junior majoring in animal husbandry, in April will begin a six-month internship at a 40,000 acre cattle ranch in Montana.

She is the daughter of John and Kathryn Tyrrell of Huron Line Road, Ubly, and a 1978 graduate of Ubly High School.

She will be working at the ranch as part of MSU's "13th term" internship program, for which she will receive academic credit.

She will live and work with the John Schwartz family, the owners of the ranch. The ranch is located 60 miles from Havre, Mont.

Her first job will be helping to deliver calves, which will take 3-4 weeks. After that, for the rest of the summer, will come baling hay and general ranch maintenance, including mending fences and riding the range. She will be paid $15 per day.

Judy Tyrrell

She was told to bring warm clothing, good riding boots and good work shoes. The "cowgirl" to be faces long days in the saddle.

PEDALING AROUND

Apart at the seams

By Mike Eliasohn

I am not advocating sin, but I have decided there is an advantage to nudity.

And if I don't get around to doing some sewing soon, the only thing that will keep me from being naked is my underwear.

Fortunately, it will soon be spring in fact as well as in name, so at least I won't freeze to death if I don't pick up a needle and thread soon.

I am writing this on Thursday evening. Spring officially begins tomorrow, but with a light covering of snow on the ground, it certainly doesn't look like spring – or feel like it.

Fortunately, my two winter coats aren't falling apart, though after having been worn several months, are in desperate need of cleaning.

Back to my lack of attire. The problem is that my clothes seem to be coming apart faster than I can get around to repairing them.

I haven't worn my dark brown corduroy pants all winter because they came apart at the seams last fall and I haven't gotten around to finding someone in town who will sew for pay. I think such women are out there, they just don't advertise.

Those pants are one sewing job I won't tackle myself.

I could wear my dark green pants that haven't been in style in years, but the only shirt I own that looks good with them, the light green one with the small dark green spots needs sewing. One of the cuffs is starting to come off.

Then there are my dark brown pants, which I wear a lot, even though they are too short by a half-inch or so. The problem there is that the stitching holding the pockets to the rest of the pants is coming out.

I did find time a month or so ago to fix my solid blue shirt, but now I have to fix my blue shirt with the fine white stripes because the thread holding the cuffs to the sleeves is coming out.

Even if I do get it fixed, I won't be able to wear it until I fix my blue pants. Earlier tonight, I noticed they are coming apart in an embarrassing place.

I almost forgot to mention my solid blue shirt isn't completely fixed. I sewed the cuff back on where it was coming off, but that was only one of the problems.

The other is that the buttonholes on the cuffs are worn. Not only do I have to find a lady who can sew, I have to find one who has a sewing machine with a button holer or whatever one of those attachments is called. Not all ladies who have sewing machines who sew for pay have button holers, I have found.

What disturbs me, in addition to the fact that my life seems to be coming apart at the seams, is that it is unnecessary.

I believe it is possible to make clothes that don't come apart at the seams. Other than to sew buttons back on, I don't ever recall having to take needle and thread to my Army clothes, some of which I still wear on occasion. They wore out, but never at the seams.

One of the first pair of pants I bought when I got out of the Army had brown and white vertical stripes of varying shades. I got them cheap because they were out of style then, so I'm sure they are even more out of style now.

Not being one to stop wearing something simply because it is out of style, I still wear them during my non-(official) working hours.

I still wear them because they are comfortable and haven't worn out. Not only have they not worn out, I cannot remember ever having had to do any sewing on them.

Is it possible to make clothes that don't come apart at the seams? The answer is yes.

The reason manufacturers don't make such clothes is because they can sell more by making clothes that do come apart at the seams.

A threadbare reason, in my opinion.

At Land Bank meeting

Economist predicts high inflation rate to continue

Double digit inflation will remain through 1981. The annual increase in the cost of living likely won't fall below the 8-9 percent mark until the mid-1980s.

That is the prediction of Larry D. Hauschen, director of research at the Federal Land Bank of St. Paul, Minn.

He presented his economic forecast last Thursday at the annual stockholders' meeting of the Federal Land Bank Association of Caro. The meeting was held in the Cass City High School cafeteria, with about 60 persons in attendance.

The good news in Hauschen's not too rosy forecast was that 1981 and beyond looks good for cash crop farmers. The picture isn't as bright for livestock feeders.

He expects the increase in the cost of living this year will be in the double digit range. Although it may fall below 10 percent in 1982, he doesn't see it declining below the 8-9 percent range, if it does, for several years yet.

The Reagan Administration is predicting an 8.7 percent inflation rate for the fiscal year that starts Oct. 1, but Hauschen predicted the decline "won't be as great as the Reagan camp would have you believe." The Congressional Budget Office is predicting 9.4 percent during that period.

Although interest rates are presently on the decline, he said the "likelihood is very strong" they will increase again late this year.

"We have some problems and they have been years in the making," he explained, and "they won't be solved overnight."

THE PAST YEAR IN agriculture, he continued, included grain surpluses that became shortages by the end of the year, record high interest rates and embargoes.

"The world demand for food is rapidly exceeding the world's capacity to produce it," Hauschen noted, and for that reason, "causes the (long range) outlook for agriculture to be very bright."

There were some sore spots in that overall rosy forecast, however.

Increasing dependence on foreign markets carries big risks for American farmers. Such markets are susceptible to embargoes and the vagaries of the weather worldwide.

Reduced production worldwide raised expectations 1981 would be a much better year than 1980, he said, but the signs so far haven't matched expectations.

Feed grains show the best prospects, with wheat exports in January and February up 50 percent over the same months last year. Wheat is expected to average over $4 a bushel this year.

In contrast, soybean exports have been weak and prices way below what was expected.

ALTHOUGH THE HIGH feed grain prices are good news for the farmers who grow the crops, it's "bad news for the livestock industry . . . and these guys are already in a bad position."

"Positive margins" in the livestock industry won't appear before summer but all that will do, he indicated, is offset previous losses.

The dairy industry faces a possible drastic decline in federal government price supports.

The economist projected a big jump in land prices, 12-15 percent in 1981 and a doubling over the next five years.

That will especially hurt young farmers, he said, and the Federal Land Bank is exploring how the financial burden for them imposed by escalating land prices can be eased.

As he neared the end of his formal remarks, he repeated his prediction that the long-term outlook for agriculture is good, but there would be more ups and downs and situations where the "corn farmer is doing great and the cattle farmer is going out of business."

HEALTH TIPS

Childproof containers prevent poisonings

Use of childproof containers since the Poison Prevention Packaging Act of 1970 went into effect has contributed substantially to reducing the number of illnesses and fatalities due to accidental poisonings, according to Gerald Bodendistel, president of the Michigan Pharmacists Association.

For example, in the first six years alone after the law was enacted, poisoning reports for aspirin went down by 43.5 percent!

Other substances which may be found in child-resistant containers include prescription tablets, capsules and liquids; most aspirin products; other over-the-counter products (medication which may be bought without a prescription); methyl salicylate (oil of wintergreen); certain furniture polishes; oven and drain cleaners; turpentine; lighter fluid; antifreeze, and windshield washer solution.

Bodendistel offers a few valuable tips that may help save a life:

--Keep all medications, prescription and over-the-counter, out of reach of children. This includes not leaving the child "just for a second" within reach of a potential poison (i.e., cleaners, handbags containing medication bottles, perfumes or cosmetics).

--In poison proofing your home, if it means getting down on your hands and knees to see things the way a child does, then do it. You might be amazed to see what falls within your reach that way.

--Keep medications, cleaners and the like in original containers. That way, if the child does swallow a substance, you will know what it is.

--Keep a supply at home of syrup of ipecac, an antidote available from your pharmacist. This antidote, which induces vomiting, should be given only under the supervision of your physician or a poison control center.

--Keep the telephone number for the poison control center in your area handy. Make sure all family members who are old enough to understand and babysitters know the location of the number and the syrup of ipecac.

If you have extreme difficulty in opening child resistant containers and if you do not have any children in the household or grandchildr who visit, Bodendistel urg that you talk to your pharmacist about obtaining non-child-resistant caps for your prescription medications.

However, the pharmacist cannot take legal responsibility in case of a poisoning. It is customary for the pharmacist to require the patient to sign and date request for a non-child-resistant container for that reason.

February milk output down 3%

Michigan's February milk production of 376 million pounds was down 3 percent from a year ago, according to the Michigan Agricultural Reporting Service. Last year's production was higher because of the 29-day month.

During the past month, the state's 390,000 cows each averaged 965 pounds of milk. Cow numbers were down 2 percent from a year ago.

Producers received $14.20 per hundredweight (cwt.) for their milk this February, $1.20 above the previous year's price. Replacement milk cows cost an average of $1,290, compared to $1,180 a year ago. Slaughter cow prices, at $42.40 per cwt. were down 18 percent from a year earlier.

Nationally, February milk production totaled 10.1 billion pounds, 1 percent more than a year earlier. Production per cow averaged 928 pounds during the past month. Milk cow numbers averaged 10.9 million, 1 percent above last year.

Wasted oil

By Don Kebler

I surely was stunned last week when I learned it is estimated that between 10 and 20 million gallons of used motor oil is dumped into our environment annually in Michigan.

Who is dumping this oil into ditches, roads, driveways, sewers, landfills and on the land? It is practically every person who changes their own automobile, truck, tractor, lawnmower, etc., motor oil at home.

Each time a gallon of used oil is disposed of in this way, our soil, water supplies, wildlife, fish, trees, vegetation and environment, as a whole, is slowly destroyed.

Oil is a contaminant any way you look at it. If it is dumped on an unpaved driveway or road, all but about two percent is flushed by water or carried off by vehicles to wind up along the edge. Only a small amount in a sewage disposal system will completely disrupt the system.

Normal bacteria that digest dead plant and animal remains and wastes do not digest lubricating oils. A special oil digesting bacteria is needed to digest oil and the two types cannot survive in a like environment. Oil does not disintegrate fast. If it did, we wouldn't have underground oil supplies today.

Not only is oil a contaminant in its own right, the toxic materials used in motor oil add to the contamination. To name a few, they are zinc, lead, chrome, barium, cadmium and boron.

Let's see how much land surface the minimum 10 million gallons of oil disposed of annually in Michigan could cover if spread one inch deep. One acre would have between 15 and 20 thousand gallons 1-inch deep all over. Thus, the 10 million gallon minimal estimate would cover 500 acres annually.

If this were not enough reason to stop this hazardous used oil dumping, let's look at recycling this oil. Used motor oil can be re-refined into identically the same quality of oil now made from crude oil.

It also can be used as heating oil. It's the same as No. 6 fuel oil. It can be made in fine lubricating oils. It can be re-cycled over and over again thus reducing our oil consumption and eventual demise of the crude oil supply.

How are we going to stop this dumping of used oil? By the joint effort of businesses which will provide collection facilities and John Q. Public disposing their used oil at these sites.

Right now, the Caro Chamber of Commerce is planning to contact businesses in Caro to enlist them to set up collecting stations at their respective locations. As these collection points are established, their locations will be publicized and an identifying sign displayed.

Let's all get behind this one. If not, we are the only ones that are going to lose, along with our future generations.

Caro Drive-in opens Friday

The Caro Drive-in Theatre will open for the 1981 season Friday.

Rick Ashmun will return as manager and the L & L Concession Co. of Troy will operate the concession stand.

The box office will open at 7, with the first show starting at dusk. Two features will be shown on every program.

Some of the films booked for showing this year are Goldie Hawn in "Lovers and Liars," "Friday the 13th Part 2," "Clash of the Titans" and "Horror Hotel." The reopening ad appears on page 5.

The Strand Theatre in Caro will remain open seven days a week all summer.

STATE OF MICHIGAN

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR THE COUNTY OF TUSCOLA
Order for Hearing No. 81-003766

In the Matter of the Complaint of the State Treasurer of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed thereon.

On reading and filing the complaint of the State Treasurer of the State of Michigan praying for a judgement in favor of the State of Michigan against each parcel of land therein described, for the amounts therein specified, claimed to be due for taxes, interest and charges on each such parcel of land, and that such lands be sold for the amounts so claimed by the State of Michigan.

It is ordered that said complaint will be brought on for hearing and judgement at the April term of this Court, to be held at Caro in the County of Tuscola, State of Michigan, on the 6th day of April A.D. 1981, at the opening of the Court on that day, and that all persons interested in such lands or any part thereof, desiring to contest the lien claimed thereon by the State of Michigan, for such taxes, interest and charges, or any part thereof, shall appear in said Court, and file with the clerk thereof their objections thereto on or before the first day of the term of this Court above mentioned, and that in default thereof the same will be taken as confessed and a judgement will be taken and entered as prayed for in said complaint. And it is further ordered that in pursuance of said judgement the lands described in said complaint for which a judgement of sale shall be made, will be sold for the several taxes, interest and charges thereon as determined by such judgement on the first Tuesday in May thereafter, beginning at 10 o'clock a.m. on said day, or on the day or days subsequent thereto as may be necessary to complete the sale of said lands and of each and every parcel thereof, at the office of the County Treasurer, or at such convenient place as shall be selected by him at the county seat of the county of Tuscola, State of Michigan, and that the sale then and there made will be a public sale, and each parcel described in the judgement shall be separately exposed for sale for the total taxes, interest and charges, and the sale shall be made to the person paying the full amount charged against such parcel, and accepting a conveyance of the smallest undivided fee simple interest therein, or, if no person will pay the taxes and charges and take a conveyance of less than the entire thereof, then the whole parcel shall be offered and sold. If any parcel of land cannot be sold for taxes, interest and charges, such parcel shall be passed over for the time being and shall, on the succeeding day, or before the close of the sale, be reoffered, and if on such second offer, or during such sale, the same cannot be sold for the amount aforesaid, the County Treasurer shall bid off the same in the name of the State.

STATE OF MICHIGAN
IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR THE COUNTY OF TUSCOLA

In the Matter of the Complaint of the State Treasurer of the State of Michigan, for and in behalf of said State, for the sale of certain lands for taxes assessed thereon.

To the Circuit Court for the County of Tuscola.

Loren E. Monroe, State Treasurer of the State of Michigan, respectfully shows unto the Court:

1. That he is the State Treasurer of the State of Michigan and makes and files this complaint under, by virtue of and pursuant to the provisions of Act No. 206 of the Public Acts of 1893, as amended, and Act No. 380 of P.A. 1965, as amended.

2. That Schedule A annexed hereto is the tax record required by the act first above mentioned and contains the description of all lands in the aforesaid county upon which taxes, which were assessed for the years mentioned therein, have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent, the description of all lands in said county heretofore bid off in the name of the State and thus held and upon which taxes which were assessed subsequent to the tax for which such lands were sold to the State have remained unpaid for more than one year after they were returned as delinquent.

3. That extended separately in said schedule against each description of said lands therein contained are (a) the total amount of delinquent taxes upon said description for the non-payment of which the same may lawfully be sold at the next annual tax sale, (b) interest computed thereon as provided by law to the first day of May, next ensuing, (c) a collection fee of four per cent which shall be a minimum of $1.00 as provided by Section 211.59. C.L. 1970, as amended, and (d) $5.50 for expenses, all in accordance with the provisions of the act first above mentioned.

4. That all of the aforesaid taxes, interest and charges are valid, delinquent and unpaid, and have remained delinquent and unpaid for sufficient time to authorize and require, as provided by the foregoing acts, the sale of the aforesaid parcels of land against which they were assessed and are extended in said schedule at the next annual tax sale for the non-payment thereof, and that the said taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses so extended in said schedule against each parcel of land therein described constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein and against which extended in favor of the people of the State of Michigan, the payment of which lien this court may enforce as a preferred or first claim upon such lands by the sale thereof.

Wherefore your plaintiff prays:

a. That within the time provided by law this court may determine and adjudge that the aforesaid taxes, interest, collection fee and charges are valid and constitute a valid lien upon each of the said several parcels of land described in said schedule as therein extended:

b. That within the time provided by law this court make a final judgement in favor of the State of Michigan against each parcel of said lands for the payment of the several amounts of taxes, interest, collection fee and expenses as computed and extended in said schedule against the several parcels of land therein contained, and the amounts listed in the column headed "aggregate" shall constitute the amounts adjudged against the said several parcels, unless so amended by this court:

c. That said judgement provide that in default of the payment so ordered of the said several sums computed and extended against said lands in said schedule, the said several parcels of land, or such interest therein as may be necessary to satisfy the amount adjudged against the same, shall severally be sold as the law provides:

d. That your plaintiff may have such other and further relief in the premises as to this court may seem just and equitable.

And your plaintiff will ever pray, etc.

Cass City, Gagetown to host bishop

Bishop Kenneth E. Untener of the Catholic Diocese of Saginaw will be visiting St. Agatha's and St. Pancratius parishes in Gagetown and Cass City respectively this week end.

It will be his first visit to the churches since being ordained bishop in November.

According to Father Joseph Morales, pastor of the two churches, the bishop will perform the 4 p.m. mass Saturday at St. Agatha's, followed by a short reception.

He will then perform the 6:30 mass at St. Pancratius. Following that, he will be meeting with the parish council commissions (committees) for finance, liturgy, education, etc. Anyone interested in any of those subject areas can attend.

There will be a reception at 8.

Bishop Untener will also celebrate the 9 a.m. mass at St. Pancratius Sunday, to be followed by another reception. Parents are being requested to bring their children to meet the bishop at the reception, Father Morales said.

The bishop also was to have spoken this Wednesday at Sacred Heart Parish in Bad Axe at one of the four dinner meetings to be held in the 11-county diocese to kick off the 1981 Catholic Services Appeal.

The appeal is the only diocese-wide effort to fund the projects, offices and programs which serve the people of the diocese.

Exhibits needed for Artrain displays

In conjunction with Artrain's stay in Cass City, May 5-9, there will be a number of community exhibits displaying original artistic work, antique toys and miniatures, and folk art and crafts.

Exhibitors are invited to contact the chairmen responsible for each display in order to participate. All items will be covered by insurance.

Linda Eisinger, chairman of the unjuried art show, would like a variety of art works submitted (a minimum of three per person) in the following categories: oil, water color, acrylics, pen and ink, charcoal, mixed media, collage, ceramics, weaving, batik, stained glass, blown glass, soft sculpture, original design needlework, sculpture, jewelry.

The items are to be brought to the Cultural Center May 2 between 10 a.m.-4 p.m. and picked up Sunday, May 10, between noon - 7 p.m. Artists should contact Ms. Eisinger by April 17 at 872-3158 or LaDonna Bliss, 872-2608, to indicate what pieces they would like to submit. The committee will have the right of final selection to assure a broad variety of works which can be displayed to the best advantage.

A selection of miniature items, antique toys, and handcrafted dolls are to be set up in Rawson Memorial Library, according to Iris Tuckey. Anyone wishing to have items included may call her by April 17 at 872-2948.

Dorothy Stahlbaum will be responsible for local store window displays featuring primitive original arts and crafts such as tatting, weaving, lace making, tole painting, furniture making, spinning, needlework, etc. Individual or dealers willing to display their collections, should contact her at 872-3930 by April 17.

Many artists from surrounding communities have already agreed to demonstrate their works on the train, so it is hoped that entries for the local displays will also come from the Thumb area.

Forty-one Cass City High School students were inducted into the National Honor Society in ceremonies Monday evening in the high school gym.

To be eligible for membership consideration, sophomore students must have a cumulative grade point average of 3.2; juniors, 3.1, and seniors, 3.0. They must also meet high standards in leadership, service and character.

Leadership is based on participation in two or more community or school activities or election to an office. To meet the service requirement, a student must be active in three or more service projects to the school or community. Character is measured in terms of integrity, behavior, ethics and cooperation with faculty and fellow students.

Additions to the society's membership are made each spring by a faculty council from a list of students who meet the scholarship requirements.

Bands receive better ratings

"It just shows the band is going nowhere but up," was band director Thomas Clair's reaction after the Cass City High School Symphony and concert bands received second and first division rankings respectively Saturday.

The bands participated in the District 3 band and orchestra festival.

It was the first first division rating for a Red Hawk band since 1975, when the high school had only one band. This is the second year there have been two bands.

The 40-member symphony band competed at Millington High School in Class B and received a second division rating.

As the second band, the 41-member concert band competed in Class D at Mayville High School.

It received a first division rating, thus qualifying to compete in the state band and orchestra festival April 25 in the Lansing area.

Judging for all bands is based on performance before three judges of three pieces practiced previously and sight reading, performance of two pieces not performed previously, for which the band has only seven minutes to prepare.

In Clair's first year at Cass City, the last year for one band, it received a "3" rating. Last year, both bands were rated second division. The worst possible rating is a fifth division.

The public will have an opportunity to hear both bands at the May 4 Evening with the Arts.

Particka, Sullivan district winners

Mechelle Particka and Michael Sullivan, from Cass City and Owendale-Gagetown High Schools respectively, are the district winners of the Elks Lodge National Foundation Scholarships.

They were honored at a banquet at the Bay City Elks Lodge March 17, where past Exalted Ruler John Hurley presented each with a $75 savings bond.

Selection was based on grades, extracurricular activities, financial need and letters of recommendation. The same criteria will be used in selecting state scholarship winners, with the top award, according to Miss Particka, being $10,000 over four years.

Mechelle, the daughter of Melvin and Charlotte Particka of Cumber Road, Ubly, will be co-valedictorian of her senior class with a 4.0 average.

She plans to attend the University of Michigan or Albion College, majoring in pre-law or communications.

Mike is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sullivan of South Street, Gagetown. He has been active in band, student council, newspaper and athletics in high school and plans to attend Delta College to study respiratory therapy.

Mechelle was selected from a field of 14 girls who applied for the district scholarship, while Mike was one of only two boys to apply.

Retirement workshop Tuesday

The Caro Community Schools Community Services Department, in cooperation with the Michigan Association of Retired School Personnel, is sponsoring a pre-retirement workshop.

It will be held at Caro High School Tuesday beginning at 4:30 p.m. The fee includes dinner and an information packet.

The resource person is Charles Sheltema, a retired school administrator, who also has extensive experience as a banker.

Some of the topics to be presented are preparing a will, determination of net worth, Social Security benefits, Medicare, benefits provided by the Michigan Public School Employees Retirement System, dealing with the psychological aspects of retirement and dealing with widowhood and-or divorce.

Reservations are being accepted until Friday at the Community Services office at the high school, 301 Hooper Street, Caro 48723.

$500 winner

Jeff Raatz of Gagetown is $500 richer, thanks to the lucky soft drink bottle he opened.

The inner seal of the cola bottle he purchased March 5 said "instant winner," designating him a winner of the prize in the bottler's gold cap promotion.

He went to the bottling plant in Bay City Tuesday to verify that he had won his prize and receive the check for $500.

A senior at Cass City High School, Jeff is using his prize money to buy two suits and a moped.

Corrections

The preschool story hour at Rawson Memorial Library for 3-5 year olds will be each Thursday in April, not each Tuesday as was reported last week.

Wayne Fleming had not completed sale of his farm to Donald Martin when the article appeared last week about six Mennonite families moving to the Cass City area. The article incorrectly said the purchase had been completed.

WHEREAS, the Board of Commissioners of the County has heretofore adopted a resolution establishing the Tuscola County Delinquent Tax Revolving Fund, pursuant to Section 87b of Act No. 206 of the Public Acts of 1893, as amended; and

WHEREAS, this Fund has been designated as the 100% Tax Payment Fund by the Tuscola County Treasurer, and it appears desirable to borrow to provide money for part or all of said fund for the 1980 delinquent real property taxes; and

WHEREAS, the purpose of said fund is to allow the Tuscola County Treasurer (hereinafter sometimes referred to as the "County Treasurer" or the "Treasurer") to pay from the fund any or all delinquent real property taxes which are due the County; and school district; intermediate school district; community college district; city, township, special assessment or drainage district; or any other political unit or county agency for which delinquent tax payments are due on settlement day with the County, City or Township Treasurer and has been heretofore directed to do so by the Board of Commissioners of this County; and

WHEREAS, it is hereby determined that it is necessary that the County of Tuscola (hereinafter sometimes referred to as the "County") borrow a sum not to exceed (a) the amount of the 1980 delinquent real property taxes (hereinafter sometimes referred to as the "delinquent taxes") which become delinquent on or before March 1, 1981, and which are still unpaid on March 1, 1981, and (b) a reserve to assure prompt payment of the notes, and deposit the proceeds thereof in the Fund (as defined hereinafter) and the 1981 Note Reserve Fund (established hereinafter) respectively; and

WHEREAS, such borrowing is authorized by Sections 87c and 87d of Act No. 206 of the Public Acts of 1893, as amended, (hereinafter referred to as "Act 206"); and

WHEREAS, the total amount of unpaid delinquent taxes which will be outstanding on March 1, 1981 is estimated to be in excess of $2,525,000, exclusive of interest, fees and penalties.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS OF THE COUNTY OF TUSCOLA AS FOLLOWS:

1. The County shall borrow 2,800,000 Dollars or such part thereof as will represent an amount not to exceed (a) the exact amount of the delinquent taxes outstanding on March 1, 1981, exclusive of interest, fees and penalties, and (b) an amount not to exceed fifteen percent (15%) of the amount of the delinquent taxes, in order to constitute a reserve (hereinafter referred to as the "1981 Note Reserve Fund"), and, as the Municipal Finance Commission may authorize, issue its "General Obligation Limited Tax Notes, Series 1981," payable from the delinquent taxes outstanding on March 1, 1981 and the other sources specified below, the proceeds of which notes shall be placed in and used as the whole or part of the Fund Account No. 3 of the County (the "1981 Account") and the 1981 Note Reserve Fund, to be used as provided in Act 206. The exact borrowing amount will be designated by the County Treasurer after the amount of the 1980 delinquent taxes are determined, which designation will specify the amount to be allocated to the 1981 Note Reserve Fund.

2. The said notes shall bear interest payable November 1, 1981, May 1, 1982, and each November 1 and May 1 thereafter, until maturity, which interest is not to exceed the maximum rate of interest as may be permitted by law on the date the notes are offered for sale. Said notes shall be coupon notes issued in denominations of $5,000, each, or such other denominations as the Treasurer shall authorize, and shall be numbered from 1 upwards, beginning with their earliest maturities in the direct order of their maturities. The notes shall be dated March 1, 1981 and shall be due and payable as follows: $1,300,000 on May 1, 1982; $400,000 on May 1, 1983 $100,000 on May 1, 1984, and not to exceed $1,000,000 on May 1985.

3. There is hereby established the 1981 100% Tax Payment Fund (hereinafter referred to as the "Fund") and the Fund Collection Account No. 3 of the County (hereinafter referred to as the "Collection Account"), effective as of March 1, 1981, into which account the County Treasurer is hereby directed to place on the books and records all of the following payments received on account of the delinquent taxes:

a. All of the delinquent taxes collected on and after March 1, 1981 and all interest thereon;

b. All of the collection fees on the delinquent taxes once the expenses of this borrowing have been paid, and

c. Any amounts which are received by the Treasurer from the taxing units within the County because of the uncollectability of the delinquent taxes.

The amounts specified in this paragraph are hereby designated as the "Funds Pledged to Note Repayment."

4. There is hereby established the "1981 Note Reserve Fund," into which fund the Treasurer shall deposit all of the proceeds of the sale which are borrowed for the purpose of establishing the 1981 Note Reserve Fund.

5. All money in the 1981 Note Reserve Fund, except as hereinafter provided, shall be added to the Funds Pledged to Note Repayment and shall be used solely for payment of principal and interest on the notes for which the Fund was established. Money in the 1981 Note Reserve Fund shall be withdrawn first for payment of principal and interest on notes before other County general funds are used to make the payments. All income or interest earned by, or increment to, the 1981 Note Reserve Fund, due to its investment or reinvestment, shall be deposited in such fund, when the notes for which such fund was established are retired. When the 1981 Note Reserve Fund is sufficient to retire the notes and accrued interest thereon, it may be used to purchase the notes on the market, or, if notes are not available, to retire the notes when due.

6. The following are hereby pledged to the repayment of the notes and shall be used solely for repayment of the notes until the notes and all interest thereon are paid in full:

a. All of the Funds Pledged to Note Repayment;

b. All of the 1981 Note Reserve Fund, and

c. Any interest earned on any money from either the Funds Pledged to Note Repayment or the 1981 Note Reserve Fund.

7. In addition, this note issue shall be a general obligation of the County of Tuscola, secured by its full faith and credit, which shall include the limited tax obligation of the County within applicable constitutional and statutory limits, and its general funds. The County budget shall provide that if the pledged delinquent taxes and any other pledged amounts are not collected in sufficient amounts to meet the payments of the principal and interest due on these notes, the County, before paying any other budgeted amounts, will promptly advance from its general funds sufficient money to pay that principal and interest.

If the proceeds of the delinquent taxes, pledged interest and collection fees or the 1981 Note Reserve Fund are not sufficient to pay the principal and interest when due, the County shall pay the same, as provided in this paragraph, and may thereafter reimburse itself from the delinquent taxes collected.

8. The County shall not have the power to levy any tax for the payment of the notes in excess of its constitutional or statutory limits.

9. The County Treasurer, pursuant to Section 87c, Subsection 3, of Act 206, is hereby designated as Agent for the County, and the County Treasurer and the Treasurer's office shall receive such sums as are therein provided for the services as Agent for the County and to cover administrative expenses.

10. The County Treasurer shall use the proceeds of the borrowing (except that part to be used for the 1981 Note Reserve Fund) to establish the Fund of the County and shall pay therefrom the full amount of the delinquent taxes on the roll delivered as uncollected by any tax collector in the County which is outstanding and unpaid on or after March 1, 1981, as required by Act 206.

11. The expenses of borrowing in connection with this issuance of notes shall be paid from the collection fees collected on the 1980 delinquent taxes, from any funds in the Fund not pledged to the repayment of these notes or from any funds in the 100% Tax Payment Fund not pledged to the repayment of any other notes.

12. After a sufficient sum has been set aside for the purposes set forth above, including the repayment of the aforesaid notes and the interest thereon: (a) any further collection of the aforesaid delinquent taxes may be used to pay any or all delinquent taxes which are due and payable to the County; any school district; intermediate school district; community college district; city, township, special assessment or drainage district; or any other political unit for which delinquent tax payments are due other than for the year 1980 on settlement day with the County, City or Township Treasurers, and (b) all income or interest earned by, or increment to, the 1981 Note Reserve Fund due to its investment or reinvestment shall be deposited in the Fund.

13. The notes of each maturity shall be payable to the bearer in lawful money of the United States of America at such bank or trust company in the State of Michigan as shall be designated either prior to sale by the Treasurer (or, if the Treasurer so permits, by the original purchaser or purchasers), and the notes and coupons shall be substantially in the form attached hereto and hereby approved and adopted. Co-paying agents located either in Michigan or elsewhere in the United States of America may also be designated. The Treasurer shall have the right to approve or name such paying agent or agents.

14. Notes maturing in the years 1982 through 1984, inclusive, shall not be subject to redemption. The notes maturing on May 1, 1985 shall be subject to redemption at any time on or after May 1, 1984, in any order at the option of the County Treasurer and must be redeemed on any interest payment date or any other date on and after May 1, 1984, as follows:

a. To the extent that there are sufficient moneys on hand from any of the sources specified in paragraph 6 above, after payment of the notes maturing on or before May 1, 1984, all notes maturing May 1, 1985 must be called for payment on May 1, 1984, or at any time thereafter at such time as there are sufficient funds available to redeem notes in a minimum amount of $50,000 or such other minimum as shall be established in the Notice of Sale by the Treasurer, and

b. Notice of Redemption shall be given as provided in the Official Notice of Sale attached hereto.

15. The County Treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to execute the notes for the County. The Treasurer is thereafter authorized and directed to deliver the notes to the purchaser upon receipt of the purchase price, which delivery may be made in the discretion of the Treasurer at one time or in parts at various times, provided that all of the notes with the earliest maturities shall be delivered prior to any notes with later maturities, and provided further that all deliveries shall be completed by October 15, 1981. The coupons affixed to the notes shall be executed with the facsimile signature of the County Treasurer; the notes shall be sealed with the County seal, and the coupons shall contain the following notation: "This coupon is payable only from the following sources: certain delinquent real property taxes, the interest thereon, a part of the collection fees thereon, moneys on deposit in a certain 1981 Note Reserve Fund and other amounts, all as described in the note to which this coupon pertains."

16. The County Treasurer is hereby authorized to make application to the Municipal Finance Commission on behalf of the County for an Order permitting this County to make this borrowing and issue its General Obligation Limited Tax Notes, Series 1981. The Notice of Sale shall not be approved by the Municipal Finance Commission unless the Treasurer so requests in the application.

17. The County Treasurer shall conduct a public sale of the notes (after insertion of Notice of Sale attached to this resolution and as provided in paragraph 18 hereof), provided such notes shall not be sold at a discount, after which sale the Treasurer shall award the notes to the lowest bidder. The conditions of sale shall be as specified in the Notice of Sale and the Treasurer shall be empowered to make any change in such Notice of Sale as may in the Treasurer's discretion be necessary.

18. Sealed proposals for the purchase of the notes shall be received up to such time as shall later be determined by the Treasurer and notice thereof shall be published in accordance with law, once in at least one of, the Bond Buyer, Michigan Investor, or Detroit Legal News, each of which are hereby designated as being publications printed in the English language and circulated in this State, which carries as a part of its regular service, notices of sale of municipal bonds. The notice (sometimes referred to in this resolution as the "Notice of Sale" shall be in substantially the form in the attachment to this resolution with such changes as are approved by the Treasurer.

19. The notes shall be delivered with the unqualified opinion of bond counsel chosen by the Treasurer, approving the legality of the notes, which selection may, at the option of the Treasurer, be for one or more years and the cost of said legal opinion and the printing of the notes will be at the expense of the County, but the expenses will be paid, as provided in this resolution, from the County's 100% Tax Payment Fund. The notes will be delivered at the expense of the County in such city or cities designated by the Treasurer in the Notice of Sale.

20. Notwithstanding any other provision of this resolution or other resolutions adopted heretofore, the County hereby covenants with the purchaser (within the meaning of Sections 1.103-13, 1.103-14 and 1.103-15 of the Income Tax Regulations prescribed by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue) of the General Obligation Limited Tax Notes, Series 1981, that the County will make no use of the proceeds of the notes, which if such use had been reasonably expected on the date of issuance of the notes, would have caused the notes to be "arbitrage bonds," as defined in Section 103(c) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended, and all rules and regulations relating thereto.

21. The County further covenants that it will not permit at any time any of the proceeds of the General Obligation Limited Tax Notes, Series 1981, or any other funds of the County to be used directly or indirectly in a manner which would result in the exclusion of any of said notes from the treatment afforded by Section 103(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended, by reason of the classification of the notes as "Industrial Development Bonds" within the meaning of Section 103(b) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended, and all rules and regulations relating thereto.

22. The County shall keep full and complete records of all deposits to and withdrawals from each of the following funds and accounts: (a) all of the accounts into which are deposited any Funds Pledged to Note Repayment; (b) the 1981 Note Reserve Fund, and (c) the Fund, and of all other transactions relating to such funds and of all investments of moneys in such accounts and the interest and gain derived therefrom.

Your Neighbor says

Too much violence on television

There is too much violence on television, Gloria Hicks feels.

"Most of the things they're showing aren't good for our kids."

An an example of the bad influence TV can have, she cited the recent incident where a 9-year-old boy robbed a New York City bank, having reportedly conceived the idea from watching television.

She expressed concern about modern cartoon shows for kids, which instead of being funny, show violence. "We've got violence on our news. We've got violence on our movies and we've got violence on our cartoons," she commented.

Mrs. Hicks confessed she watched "The Gambler" movie on television last week, even though "that was violent, too."

She also watched "The End" Sunday night, which she felt was very funny, "but it had a lot of scenes in there that could give kids the wrong idea." Most objectionable scenes were of a sexual nature, not violence.

As for her favorite television shows, "I like anything that's on wildlife, nature, and I think the kids enjoy that, too."

She watches the news sometimes, "but that gets depressing, too." The weather I like, she added with a smile.

Mrs. Hicks and her husband, Bob, have four children. The two still at home are Randy and Steve. The family lives on Lamton Road, Deford.

THE WOMAN DOCTOR'S DIET FOR TEENAGE GIRLS by Barbara Edelstein, (non-fiction). Edelstein provides teenage girls with a responsible, sensible, resource on dieting that takes into account nutritional requirements and physical differences as well as the demands of teenage lifestyles and emotional needs. She considers pros and cons of a number of pertinent aspects including the use of diet pills, other drugs, and standard weight loss plans. Alternative diet menus and a selection of recipes are included, as is down-to-earth information on what to expect from a diet and what difficulties dieters face.

THE MIDWIFE by Gay Courter, (fiction). Hannah Blau was the only Jewish midwife trainee in the Russian Imperial College of Medicine in 1903. Fleeing pogroms and personal problems, Hannah arrives in America with her extended family but fails to find professional acceptance while practicing her profession in New York's Lower East Side ghetto. Her struggle to gain a foothold is a saga of wavering courage. In colorful vignettes of emerging lifestyles among the immigrants, Courter gives freshness to traditional characteristics of the Jewish temperament. Among them familial cohesiveness, endurance and a recognition of opportunity even in adversity.

CHEZ CORDELIA by Kitty Florey, (fiction). Nineteen-year-old Cordelia, a direct opposite of everyone else in her family, seeks escape by marrying Danny. Life is idylic until Danny, distraught at losing his inheritance, disappears. Cordelia goes to work in a hardware store where she is forced to take part in some unsavory sex-by-blackmail when her employer's son catches her shoplifting. She drifts through several jobs, survives an unhappy love affair, but her life climaxes when Danny is accused of murder. Cordelia at last realizes that not only is home where the heart is, it's where she needs to be also.

Saturday bowl-a-thon to raise funds

Members of the Saturday Teens and Saturday Spinners bowling leagues will be conducting a bowl-a-thon Saturday at the Charmont to raise funds for the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

The 66 youngsters in the leagues will be accepting pledges for each pin they knock down in their three games or outright donations.

Persons who haven't been contacted beforehand by one of the bowlers but who would like to contribute are invited to drop by the Charmont while the leagues are bowling, according to Bev Loucks, the organizer of the leagues.

The Teens, for youngsters 12-16, starts bowling at 11 a.m., followed by the Spinners, ages 7-13, who start at 1 p.m.

A representative of the Muscular Dystrophy Association will be present April 4 to present a trophy to the youngster in each league who raises the most money.

Tourney still open

There is still more room for teams, doubles and singles in the 33rd championship tournament at Bad Axe Lanes for members of the Bad Axe Women's Bowling Association, according to association secretary Connie Swartzentruber.

The deadline for entering is April 8.

Recreational League basketball

Shetler's takes easy win for league championship

As expected, Shetler's walked off with the regular season championship of the Cass City Recreational League with an easy victory over McMahan's Thursday, 82-40.

Actually the game was decided in the first quarter when Shetler's raced to a 20-12 lead. At the half it was 41-19 and the Plumbers had the title safely locked away.

Shetler's used its usual balanced scoring to post the victory. Paul Beachy netted 15. Others in double figures were Kent Shetler, 13; Bill McLellan, 10, and Tom Mattison, 10. No McMahan player reached double figures.

The real battle in the league was for second place last Wednesday when Stevenson's battled People's State Bank. The Insurance five registered a 78-64 decision.

Stevenson's moved out to an early lead in the first quarter, 14-11. The winners widened the margin by halftime to 39-29.

People's bounced back to close the gap to 58-52 only to fall back again as Stevenson's powered its way to a 20-12 last period margin.

Mark Green poured in 26 points to lead the winners. Tom McIntyre netted 14, Bill Stevenson, 12, and Rick Knowlton, 11. Norm Stephens led the losers with 17 points and Dirk Sutherland scored 12.

In other games Charmont topped Erla's, 85-34, and Hillaker's Auctioneers topped Caro Plumbing, 72-54.

Charmont made it an all-losing season for Erla's with its easy win. The winners bounced out to a 17-4 first quarter lead and was in front 36-11 at the half.

The first half surge was led by Dave Doerr and Scott Hartel who scored 21 of the 36 points.

Doerr finished with 23 points and Hartel netted 20. Tim Severance with 17 points and Mark Dost with 12 helped in the winning effort. Chuck Hendrick led the losers with 16.

Roy Calahan broke the single game scoring record for the league with 39 points to pace Hillaker's past Caro Plumbing.

Hillaker's led all the way after taking a 19-12 first quarter lead.

Besides Calahan, Joe Hillaker with 11 points helped with the Auctioneer's attack. Jay Owens led the Plumbers with 24, followed by Gary Zellar with 10 points.

Final Standings:

	W	L
Shetler's P & H	13	1
Stevenson's Ins.	12	2
People's State Bank	11	3
Hillaker's Auction	6	8
Charmont Lanes	6	8
McMahan's Auto	4	10
Caro Plumbing	4	10
Erla's Food Center	0	14

Playoffs underway

Besides winning the regular season championship, Shetler's drew the bottom bracket in the league playoff while the next two top seeded teams are in the top bracket. The champions will not face either of the challengers until the finals, providing there are no great upsets.

Play-offs were to start Wednesday, March 25, in the Intermediate gym at Cass City.

At 8:20, Stevenson's faces McMahan and in the nightcap People's faces Erla's. Stevenson's and People's finished second and third in the regular season.

Thursday night Shetler's faces Caro Plumbing in the early game while Charmont faces Hillaker's Auctioneers in the nightcap.

The semi-finals will be played Wednesday, April 1, with the first game at 8:20 p.m.

For the finals the teams will switch to the high school gym for a game starting at 2:30 p.m. Saturday, April 4.

CETA cuts may swell welfare rolls

In 1980, a total of 222 persons had such jobs, of whom 103 previously received public assistance or were still receiving partial welfare aid . Based on that experience, she said, many of the people now losing their jobs will go back on welfare.

In addition, the HDC had 26 persons being paid with Title II-D public service employment funds who were working in its weatherization program or in the office.

Basic funding for the weatherization comes from another federal source, but the loss of the 26 workers will slow the pace of weatherizing homes of low-income persons, in order to reduce their heating bills.

Elimination of the above programs and the loss of the SYEP will mean some staff reductions, but as of the end of last week, Mrs. Vandemark was still analyzing the impact of the cuts.

A total of about 445 persons in the Title II-D work experience (not entirely run by the HDC) and public service employment programs will lose their jobs.

About 72 persons in various II-D job training programs will be transferred to other CETA classroom and on-the-job training programs.

The consortium will probably cut two staff members at the end of the fiscal year, Lenard indicated.

OTHER CUTS

The Owendale-Gagetown Schools stand to lose eight CETA employees, two janitors, an aide and athletic assistant at the high school and an aide, two janitors and a combination aide and janitor at the elementary school.

The Cass City schools do not have any CETA employees.

A CETA-paid helper at the Cass City wastewater treatment plant will lose his job.

Tuscola county does not have any CETA employees in the courthouse or sheriff's department.

Tuscola County Community Mental Health Services has a total of eight aides and aide-drivers employed in its adult activity and work activity programs. Some will be paid with regular mental health funds, so not all will lose their jobs, according to agency Director Dennis Johnson.

The Thumb Area Commission on Aging has seven CETA employees, but will probably put five of them on its regular payroll, according to Director Ron Cassie. Two outreach workers will lose their jobs.

As indicated by the total numbers of persons losing their jobs, the above examples are only a sampling.

SUMMER YOUTH

Lenard asked both the HDC and Huron ISD to submit bid proposals to operate the CETA-funded Summer Youth Employment Program.

HDC has operated various CETA programs for 7½ years and the summer program for five under contract with the consortium. The Huron ISD has operated the year-round CETA Youth Employment Training Program for 1½ years.

The board ultimately voted to award the contract to operate the summer program to the Huron ISD.

The determining factor appeared to be that of the total of $474,000 allocated this summer, the HDC budgeted $46,837 for administration and $45,003 for staff, which the corresponding ISD figures were $17,250 and $34,000.

The ISD proposal calls for an average of 323 youths to work 35 hours per week for a total of 10 weeks.

'Workfare' plan comes to end

The immediate impact of the end of the CETA jobs program at the Tuscola County Department of Social Services will be in the loss of 16 clerical aides and drivers, who were paid with Title II-D funds.

"It will mean our services will slow up considerably," said DSS Director Onalee Detwiler. DSS offices in Sanilac and Huron counties face similar cutbacks.

The service aides and drivers started at the minimum wage of $3.35 an hour and could receive a maximum of $3.69.

"I think you could make that generalization," Mrs. Detwiler replied when asked whether most of those losing their jobs will end up on welfare once their unemployment compensation runs out. "It doesn't make any sense at all." They will make less on welfare than they made on CETA.

More serious to taxpayers' pocketbooks is that the demise of the Tri-County Public Service Agency will mean the end of the general assistance workfare plan.

Since last July, the agency had supervised able bodied general assistance recipients, who were required to work off payments at the rate of $3.35 per hour.

Tri-County's primary purpose was to run the CETA Title VI program, including supervision of those employed in it (plus those in the workfare program) as they performed such tasks as cutting brush, park maintenance and painting public buildings.

General assistance recipients who refused to work were cut off from receiving benefits for three months before they became eligible again.

According to DSS Assistance Payments Supervisor Tom Dillon, since last July, 308 persons had their general assistance payments cut off due to "non-compliance," at a savings to taxpayers through January of $156,620.

The 434 who worked during that period "earned" $77,878. Also during that time, 97 cases were closed at a savings of $13,937, presumably because they found employment due to the work experience they gained in the workfare program.

About 140 persons are working now, Dillon said, who after March 31 won't have to work to receive their general assistance payments, because the means will no longer exist to supervise them at work.

General assistance is a state supported funded program. Unless Lansing appropriates them, the funds don't exist, Dillon said, for the three upper Thumb social service departments to set up their own program with on-site supervisors.

There are only enough funds for one half-time program supervisor in each county.

Sun may power toys of future

They talk, they walk, they listen. They respond to touch and sound and continue to delight children of all ages everywhere. Happily, toys are as affected by technology as your new car or dishwasher.

According to the Toy Manufacturers of America, the introduction of electronics is only the beginning of many far-reaching changes that will affect the toy industry in the years ahead. Replacing the use of batteries in many toys will be solar power, using energy cells that never wear out.

Millage vote set for roads mandated effort.

However, a single agency must be designated to receive the $5,916 in state funds to do the planning and to coordinate the overall effort.

Several commissioners were reluctant to have the Planning Commission take on that role, because of their previous decision, so Duggar agreed to explore another option. The option is to see if the Human Development Commission will take on the task.

If that isn't possible, the board will probably okay letting the Planning Commission do the job.

The 1981 revenue sharing budget was approved, with only one change.

Librarians from libraries in the county protested the board's slashing their request for $14,730 in federal revenue sharing funds in half.

They proposed an allocation based on 30 cents per resident.

The board finally approved 20 cents per capita, for a total of $9,835.

As of Jan. 1, the revenue sharing account had $304,619 in it, to which $371,045 should be added this year, for a total of $675,664.

The allocations approved by the board Tuesday were: Health Department, $75,000; libraries, $9,835; roads, $75,000; public safety, $322,142, and general government, $193,686, which ideally will be left at the end of this year for carryover into 1982.

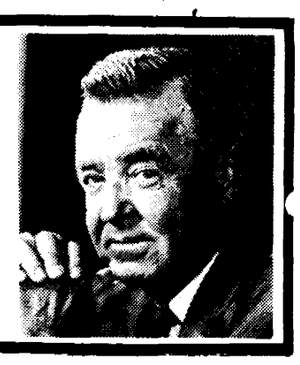
Taking Stock



The caller was worried and fearful. As a retiree he hadn't worked for several years, and now his income was less than his expenses.

He wanted to know if I could help him figure out something.

In cash and stocks and bonds the man, whom we'll call Al, had $350,000. His house was valued at $300,000. He and his wife lived alone. Children, all grown and out of school, were self-supporting.

We went over his income:

$100,000 in stocks, yielding $5,000.

$50,000 in taxable bonds, yielding $5,000.

$75,000 in U.S. Savings bonds, H bonds yielding about $6,000.

$75,000 in CD's, short maturities, yielding $9,000.

$50,000 in tax-exempt bonds, yielding $4,000.

Social security, annual benefits, $6,000.

Total value: $350,000.

Total income: $40,000.

In addition there was a company pension of about $15,000 a year, but because of withdrawals, this had only a couple of years to go. So we left it out of considerations.

There you have it. A family without dependents, worth two-thirds of a million, with a fancy house, an income of $39,000 a year. And no expensive hobbies; Al had sold his boat. Considering everything, he was truly a desperate man.

I was pretty blunt.

"Al, as a money manager, you're batting .142. Out of seven things you should have done — you've done only one."

"What one was that?"

"You sold your boat."

"O.k. — so tell me where you think I went wrong."

Stand by for the litany of errors — or at least what this simple country boy thinks were errors.

1. If you need current income, (I said to Al) you don't need stocks, yielding about 5 percent. Oh, I know they're supposed to grow. That's what the salesmen have been saying since 1967, when the market was at the same level as it is today.

2. You don't need U.S. Savings bonds. They pay a measly 8 percent. If you insist on holding government bonds, get some of the regular ones at 12 percent. Cashable anytime, no penalty for early sales.

3. You don't need H-bonds, now paying 7½ percent — even worse than the E bonds, (U.S. Savings). You have deferred interest payments which will be due on cash-in, but you'll make back your tax in extra income within a year.

4. Get out of CD's. Oh, yes, they're insured, but if you want safety, a money market fund invests in even safer stuff than a bank does. You're not locked in for a definite period and the yield will be better than CD's, over a span of a year or two.

5. You do need some more tax-exempt bonds, since you're in a 34 percent bracket. Easy to get 11 percent on some AA-rated municipals now.

6. You ought to sell your house, you can't afford a $300,000 house. Take a 14 percent mortgage on it if you have to. For simplicity, that's $42,000 in interest you'd get. You'd save another $8,000 in taxes, maintenance and insurance.

Then rent a nice 3-bed room apartment for $12,000 a year. You've come down a bit in the world, but you're ahead $38,000 on your cost of shelter.

Shifting money out of U.S. Savings and H bonds, and out of stocks into 11 percent tax exempts will double your after-tax income from these investments. That's right, double it. They're now bringing you $13,200 after tax. They could bring you in $27,500 in tax-free income.

Instead of $40,000 gross you get today and which you can't stretch far enough, you'll have over $90,000 a year. If that won't do you, spend some of your capital. Let your heirs do the worrying.

Al is thinking it over.

rolled over, landing on its wheels.

At 10:30 a.m. that day, deputies said, Eugene H. Hergenreder, 57, of 3386 Washington Street, Kingston, was westbound on Bevens Road, east of Hurds Corner Road, when his car collided with a deer.

MISCELLANEOUS

Don DeLong of 3447 Englehart Road, injured in a March 10 traffic accident in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, improved a little during the past week, according to his daughter-in-law, Denice (Mrs. Duane) DeLong.

He is still in Mercy Hospital in Cedar Rapids and may undergo surgery there this week, It is still unknown when he will be coming home, she said, but it could be a couple of weeks after the surgery.

It was incorrectly reported last week that Ronald VanAllen backed into the car of Craig Kelley. The car that was backed into belonged to Joann M. Peters. Kelley was a witness.

Freezing ground pork

When freezing ground pork for serving on a bun, shape it first into patties, then separat each with a double thickness of wrap and stack before wrapping, suggests the National Live Stock and Meat Board. Or if loaves and other dishes will be planned for the future, package in portions of suitable size. Frozen ground pork should not be seasoned before freezing since the flavor of most seasonings intensifies during freezer storage.
