

State auditors question O-G expenditures

The Owendale-Gagetown School District may have to take about $160,000 from its general fund to reimburse its 1977 building and site fund for discrepancies found by state auditors.

The district did get a clean bill of health concerning the allegations that led to the audit being conducted by the Local Government Audit Division, following an inquiry from State Sen. Alvin DeGrow (R-Pigeon).

The fund was established to finance the cost of building and equipping the high school addition and remodeling project, completed in early 1979 "and for site development in said school district."

The rumors were that some of the money was spent on new football and band uniforms.

The auditors found the football uniforms were paid for out of the general fund and the band uniforms were paid for by the Band Boosters. "The allegations DeGrow made are false. That's the point," Owen-Gage Supt. Ronald Erickson responded. He had yet to receive a copy of the audit when contacted by the Chronicle.

THE BIG PROBLEM facing Owen-Gage is that the auditors recommend it reimburse the building and site fund from the general fund for the money paid from building and site to Construction Coordinators, Inc. (CCI) for overseeing the high school construction project.

The district was to originally pay the firm $108,000, of which it paid all but $2,730 when the case went to arbitration over CCI's claim it was owed additional money because of extra work done and time spent on the job. The arbitrators ruled Owen-Gage owed CCI $41,283 additional.

The Municipal Finance Commission (MFC), which approves all bonding issues in the state, "has a policy for approving construction management fees payable from bond proceeds," according to the audit.

The problem is, "It is apparent from reviewing records of the Owendale-Gagetown Area Schools that the school district never secured approval from the MFC to expend bond proceeds for construction management fees."

Accordingly, it recommends reimbursement, though no specific amount is stated.

Erickson contends, however, that CCI's fee was included in the construction costs approved by the MFC in its okaying of the 1977 bonding proposal. "It has to be. We're not building the building ourselves."

THE AUDITORS ALSO recommended the building and site fund be reimbursed a total of $10,341 for the following: purchase of trailer and improvements, $992; repair of elementary school roof, $8,878; carpeting of home owned by school district, $308, and advertising of tax anticipation notes, $163.

The trailer was purchased for use as a home economics room while the high school construction project was underway, but instead was used by coaches and for storage of athletic equipment. The home is used by the superintendent and his family.

Accidents injure several

Crash kills Gagetown man, Caseville woman critical

A Caseville woman remained in critical condition at St. Mary's Hospital in Saginaw Wednesday morning, where she has been since a Tuesday, March 24, accident which claimed the life of Jeffrey M. Davidson of Gagetown.

Davidson, 31, of Williamson Road, was pronounced dead on arrival at Scheurer Hospital in Pigeon.

The driver of the auto in which he was riding, Michael M. Particka, 30, of Third Street, Owendale, was discharged from Scheurer the day after the approximately 7 p.m. accident.

The other driver, Helen Kraft, 68, of Caseville, was transferred from there to St. Mary's.

According to Huron county deputies, Mrs. Kraft was southbound on Case-ville Road, about 2½ miles south of Pigeon, when her auto crossed the centerline into the path of the northbound Particka car.

He veered into the southbound lane in an attempt to miss her. Her car went back into that lane and the vehicles collided. Davidson was seated in the front passenger seat, closest to the impact.

The accident remains under investigation.

Davidson was born Oct. 24, 1949, in Pigeon, the son of Bobby and the late Joyce (Thornton) Davidson.

He married Carol Seley Dec. 3, 1968, in Elkton.

A self-employed mason, he served with the U.S. Navy Seabees in Vietnam, was a member of the Pigeon Veterans of Foreign Wars post and the Owendale United Methodist church.

He is survived by his wife; one daughter, Sarah Ann, at home; his father and step-mother, Catherine Davidson, of Owendale; one sister, Cordelia Louis, Unionville; two brothers, Charles Davidson, Reese, and Bryon Davidson, North Branch; step-grandmother, Mrs. Prudence Quinn, Gagetown; one step-sister, Mrs. Pete (Arlene) Thomas, Essexville, and one step-brother, Milton Mellendorf, Cass City.

Davidson was the first person to die in a Huron county traffic accident this year.

INJURY ACCIDENTS

A 2:55 a.m. accident Saturday sent two persons to Hills and Dales General Hospital.

Treated and released was Bradley G. Groth, 26, of 4540 Elmwood Road, Cass City, the driver. His wife, Gloria, 25, was admitted, but was discharged later that day.

According to Caro state police, their vehicle was southbound on Dodge Road, south of M-81, at about 35 miles per hour when he lost control due to bumps in the road. The vehicle went off the east side of the road and rolled over, landing upside down.

Groth was ticketed on a charge of failure to use due care and caution.

David C. Allen, 16, of 5960 Main Street, Deford, was discharged from Caro Community Hospital Monday, where he had been since a motorcycle accident March 22.

Sheriff's deputies reported he was operating his cycle on Deford State Game Area land near the railroad tracks south of Deford and fell off for undescribed reasons. The mishap took place at 2:20 p.m.

Clayton L. Harmer Jr., 18, of 1935 N. Dodge Road, Deford, was released from Hills and Dales Friday, where he was taken after a 3:45 a.m. accident last Wednesday.

Cass City police reported he was northbound on Cemetery Road, south of Huron Line Road, when his vehicle crossed the centerline, then skidded back into the northbound lane, went off the right side of the road and down a steep embankment.

He was ticketed on a charge of reckless driving.

Carol Ann Stec, 22, of 4060 Mushroom Road, Deford, was treated and released from Caro Community Hospital after an accident at 10:20 p.m. Friday.

Deputies said she was eastbound on Deckerville Road, near Plain Road, swerved to avoid three deer and her car went off the north side of the road.

Money flows like oil

Oilmen scramble to buy drilling rights

By Mike Eliasohn

Suppose a stranger came knocking on your door and offered to help pay your property taxes?

In essence, that is what has been happening for some as agents from numerous companies have been scrambling to buy oil and gas leasing rights in Tuscola, Huron and Sanilac counties.

The amount of money floating around is substantial. Sanilac County Register of Deeds Maurice Turnbull said a potential 550,000 acres in his county, including state owned land, could be leased. Property owners have been offered up to $35 per acre the first year for leasing rights and $25 per acre is common.

If the actual average were $15, the total paid out the first year for leasing rights would be $8.25 million. Of course, not all 550,000 acres will come under lease.

The owner of a 160-acre farm in Greenleaf township, who didn't want his name used, said he signed with Robinson Energy Co. of East Lansing for $25 per acre for the first year, which will give him $4,000.

For the next four years, he will receive $2 per acre per year. His agreement gives the firm the right to renew for the 6th through tenth year for a total of $35 per acre.

Not everyone is benefiting as well.

A Grant township landowner told the Chronicle she signed March 10 for $5 an acre the first year and $1 an acre after that. She owns 80 acres.

She said a woman who lives about three-quarters of a mile away signed the next week for $10 an acre the first year and since then has heard of someone in the area who got $15.

Oil was recently found in the western end of Grant township.

HOW MUCH ONE GETS for giving a company the right to drill on his or her property depends on location and competition.

At one time it didn't matter. According to Tuscola County Register of Deeds John Marshall, it wasn't too many years ago that $1 an acre was standard and a few months ago, $3.

From March 1 through Friday, his office recorded 271 oil and gas leases, compared to only 79 in February and 63 in January.

He said the going rate in Tuscola as of late appears to be $15 the first year.

As mentioned, Turnbull said $25 in Sanilac is common.

Hunt Energy Corp. of Dallas, Texas, set up shop

Thursday and Friday at the Colony House on M-53 to buy leasing rights in Grant, Brookfield, Sebawaing, Oliver, Windsor and McKinley townships of Huron county.

The firm's representative, before deciding he shouldn't be talking to the press, said payments being offered were based on what preliminary investigation indicated were the best potential areas for drilling. He also said the firm was seeking to sign up all possible land in the townships.

An owner of 120 acres in Brookfield township, who responded to Hunt's full-page newspaper ad, said offers in his township from what he could see, were either $15 or $20 per acre the first year, depending on location, $1 per year for the next four years.

Although most of his neighbors have signed up, he hadn't.

COMPETITION HAS been the other factor. Jimmy Starr, representing Lewis Energy Corp. of Denver, Colo., was at the Austin Center Inn on M-19 Saturday, buying leases in Austin, Argyle, Evergreen and Greenleaf townships.

Unlike Hunt, his firm was paying $20 per acre wherever it was buying leases. Competition forced his firm to start paying $25, then went back and paid an additional $5 to those who originally signed for $20.

Turnbull said there are at least eight companies buying leases in Sanilac. Huron County Register of Deeds Frances Holdwick said she has counted eight different lessees so far, but seven of those are Hunt Energy or connected with Hunt.

Marshall said probably 10-12 leasing companies are operating in Tuscola, but some serve as representatives of several other companies, making it almost impossible to keep an exact count.

Two types of companies are buying leases, ones that do the drilling themselves, though they may sell the rights to someone else, and others that serve as brokers, apparently either acting for someone else or selling them to another firm at a profit.

If drilling is done and oil or gas found, the apparent standard arrangement is the landowner receives the proceeds from one-eighth of the oil or gas pumped from the ground.

An Evergreen township resident who sold drilling rights for his 20 acres, said a driller he had talked to commented the price of oil is now high enough to make it profitable to drill for a well that only yields 8-10 barrels a day. At a mentioned price of $40 per barrel, if a well yielded 9 barrels, that means the property owner would receive $45 per day.

ALTHOUGH NOT every farm is going to have a drilling rig on the back 40, it seems apparent there will be some drilling done in this area.

Starr, who works under contract for Lewis Energy, said that with oil companies having to pay so much for leases, "I don't feel they will sit without doing some exploring."

Tom Whittaker, a Hunt Energy vice-president, speaking with the Chronicle by phone from Dallas, said although his company hasn't drilled yet in the upper Thumb, it has elsewhere in Michigan, which was a factor in its getting involved in this area. "What we're trying to do is get enough acreage leased to go ahead and evaluate for drilling."

The firm's geologists have examined seismological data and run tests, which indicate the area is promising, but the only way to find out for sure is to drill.

Landowners contacted by the Chronicle have been told the drilling will be very deep, 10,000-12,000 feet.

As for why the sudden interest by so many companies, the Greenleaf township owner of 160 acres mentioned previously speculated that once one company gets interested, others jump in out of a feeling the first company must know something they don't.

Oil man Whittaker agreed, that often several companies get involved after one does.

According to the three registers of deeds, leasing in Tuscola and Sanilac counties is taking place all over, while in Huron, it's confined basically to the southern townships from Sheridan

Two still alive as refrigerator becomes tomb

Two Caro area youngsters remained in critical condition Wednesday morning in Saginaw hospitals, having clung to life since they were found inside a refrigerator Saturday evening.

Their brother, Shannon Mazzola, 5, also found inside, was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Luke's Hospital in Saginaw.

James Mazzola, 6, was in critical condition at St. Luke's and sister Kelly, 3, was in critical condition at St. Mary's Hospital in Saginaw.

The three were found inside a space about 3-by-3 feet.

The Tuscola county prosecutor's office is now reviewing the Caro state police investigation report, to determine whether any charges might be filed, according to Assistant Prosecutor Scott Stermer.

Under Michigan law, it is a misdemeanor to abandon a refrigerator without first removing the locking device or the door. The maximum penalty for violation is 90 days in jail and/or a $100 fine.

The children's mother, Paula Mazzola of Fairgrove Road, north of Caro, called state police at 7:10 p.m. to report her children were missing.

She said she had last seen them at 5:10 p.m., playing in the back yard. When she looked again at 5:30, they were gone and she started searching, beginning at a neighbor's house.

Troopers Mark Strange and Luanne Schreck arrived at 7:17. It was 7:30 when Strange found the children inside the lower compartment of the refrigerator, which was at the rear of the home.

He ran to the patrol car to tell his partner to radio for help, then began cardiopulmonary resuscitation on Kelly, while Schreck did the same on James.

About 10 minutes later, Caro police officers Duane Sprague and Fred Galsterer and Colton Ambulance attendants Keith Lawrence and John Riley arrived.

Galsterer and Lawrence started using CPR on Shannon, while Sprague helped Strange and Riley helped Schreck.

All except Shannon showed signs of life by the time the three youngsters were taken to Caro Community Hospital, where Shannon started to revive.

Each was taken in a separate ambulance to St. Luke's, accompanied by a doctor, nurse and respirator therapist, according to the state police report, but it was too late for Shannon. Kelly was later transferred to St. Mary's.

Elkland spending shows little change

Elkland township electors at the annual meeting Saturday afternoon approved a 1981-82 budget that shows little change from the fiscal year now ending.

General fund expenditures are projected at $121,618 for the fiscal year that starts this Wednesday, compared to $146,618 last year.

During 1980-81, however, the township had to pay the last installment for the fire truck purchased in 1978, which was $25,000, plus interest. Minus that, expenses will be about the same.

Estimated revenue is the same as expenditures, $121,515, with the largest sources being property taxes already collected, $52,800 (plus $2,408 delinquent) and $40,000 as the township's share of the state single business income and sales taxes, and revenue sharing.

Salaries of township officials will remain the same as last year: Supervisor, $2,000, plus $4,500 for assessing; clerk and treasurer, $5,000 each, and for the two trustees, $720 each.

The largest projected general fund expense is for road construction and maintenance, $65,900, compared to $40,538 spent last year.

The board is considering having work done on Elizabeth and West Streets, outside the Cass City village limits, and on Milligan Road.

In addition, of $15,530 expected in federal revenue sharing funds in 1981-82 and the current balance of $9,870, there is $15,900 budgeted for roads, $5,000 to Cass City to enable township residents to use the village landfill and $4,500 for Rawson Memorial Library.

The other large budget item is a $7,500 subsidy to the Cass City Area Ambulance Service, $500 less than last year due to the ambulance service collecting more in fees.

The meeting attracted only six persons in addition to township board members, according to Clerk Carol Ware.

Questions asked included federal revenue sharing, the balance of funds on hand and whether the board has considered lowering the millage.

The township has about $80,000 in savings. The answer to the question about reducing millage, she said, was that the board hasn't considered reducing it, because of the possibility of federal revenue sharing being ended and now, because of the effect of the May 19 statewide property tax proposal, which if approved,

Of money raised by the ACS, 34 percent goes to research; public education, 16 percent; fund raising, 13 percent; patient services, 12 percent; professional education, 9 percent; administration, 9 percent, and community services, 7 percent.

Principle is an opinion that has withstood the test of time.

Rabbit tracks

By John Haire

(And anyone else he can get to help)

The good news is that on a six-day vacation in Tucson the planes made it there and back safely.

The bad news is that three of the four planes I boarded were held up for up to 40 minutes for mechanical malfunctions.

Two of the planes were DC-10's. That didn't do anything to make the wait more enjoyable.

*****

From what I read one day the temperature in Michigan was about the same as it was in Arizona. Why is it that when you go south for the sun you always feel better if it's 10 below and snowing at home?

*****

I missed it because of vacation but from what I can learn from folks attending, including Joann Asher who helped judge the graphic arts exhibits, Dave Hoard and company are to be congratulated for a super regional Industrial Arts show in Cass City over the week end.

You just can't believe how good some of those students are, says Mrs. Asher.

FFA at convention

The Cass City High School Future Farmers of America chapter sent four members to the 53rd annual state convention Wednesday through Friday at Michigan State University. The convention is part of Farmers' Week.

The two delegates sent were Brian Moore and Terry Sweeney. Their duties consisted of electing new state officers, voting on state FFA constitutional changes and to participate in the general business of the state FFA. Brian is the son of Janice and Duane Moore and Terry is the son of Ed and Janet Sweeney.

Ed Zimba was Cass City's only state FFA degree recipient. This is the highest honor a member can receive in the state. He farms in partnership with his father and brother on their dairy farm on Mushroom Road, Deford, Ed is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Zimba.

Scott Hobart represented Cass City and Region 7 in the state extemporaneous speaking contest. Scott's topic was, "What one factor will affect farmers most in the future." He received fourth place. He qualified for the state competition by winning the Region 7 contest at St. Louis High School earlier in March. Scott is the son of Benson and Jeannine Hobart, Gagetown.

Agriculture teacher Lytle Clarke went with the group to the convention.

Owen-Gage names top two graduates

Owendale-Gagetown High School has announced that Cheryl Mandich and Juana Flores are valedictorian and salutatorian respectively of the Class of 1981.

Miss Mandich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Mandich of Owendale, will graduate with a 4.0 grade point average.

She plans to attend Michigan State University and enter the pre-veterinary medicine program. She has been given an academic excellence award from MSU.

Miss Mandich has been a member of the volleyball and track teams, Future Homemakers of America and president of it in her junior year, and a member of the National Honor Society since her sophomore year.

A recent Owen-Gage student of the month, salutatorian Juana Flores is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Flores of Owendale.

Miss Flores, who will

graduate with a 3.9 grade point average, plans to attend Grand Valley State College, where she has been given a cash award for academic excellence in high school.

She is president of the National Honor Society and is secretary of the senior class. She has also held offices in her freshman and sophomore classes.

Miss Flores has been involved in band, dramatic productions, basketball, softball, and recently completed her tenure as year-book editor.

Activities planned for Library Week

Rawson Memorial Library has scheduled several activities during National Library Week, which runs Monday through Saturday.

Activities will include the Battle of the Books, films for families and senior citizens and a program for mothers.

All activities will be free. In addition, no fines will be levied for overdue books and other materials turned in that week. Previous fines that are unpaid may be settled for half the amount due.

The Battle of the Books will take place Monday, Tuesday and Thursday, with rounds at 3:30, 4:15 and 5 p.m.

A total of 11 six-member teams in grades 3-4 and nine in grades 5-6 will take part. Teams began preparing in January, reading the 30 books from which questions will be asked.

In the competition, teams competing two at a time, will have 20 seconds to confer and decide on their answer.

Right answers earn five points, plus an extra point for knowing the name of the author. If the team is wrong or does not know the answer, its opponent gets a chance at the same question, with three points for getting it right and an extra point for the name of the author. The first team to score 20 points wins.

First round winners will meet each other Saturday, starting at 10 a.m. The third and then final fourth rounds will be held the following week, with the ribbons being awarded to the first and second place teams.

At 7:30 p.m. Monday, the Disney film "Little Dog Lost" will be shown. It is the story of a dog with a unique phobia, who after a long search for an understanding master, is helped by a kindly rancher. Popcorn will be served.

Tuesday will be retiree day, with three films shown, starting at 1 p.m.

"The Golden Age of the Automobile" presents the people, places, and ideas that put the world on wheels. "Stained Glass - Painting With Light" shows master craftsmen designing and constructing glass windows and lamp shades. "Sun Country" shows the stretch of land and water from Miami Beach to Bermuda and the out islands. Refreshments will be served.

The pre-school story hour takes place each Thursday in April at 10:30 a.m. for children ages 3-4 and 5-year-olds who do not go to school. During library week only, there will also be a coffee hour and program for mothers at 10:30, while their children are in the story hour.

During library hours Friday, 10 a.m.-5:30 p.m. and 7-9 p.m., it will be open house, with coffee and cookies being served.

Legally blind

Legal blindness is determined by a central visual acuity for distance of 20/200 or poorer in the better eye with correction, or a field of vision no greater than 20 degrees in its widest diameter. An estimated 47,000—one person every 11 minutes—become blind each year.

"If It Fitz. . ."

Torture by telephone

By Jim Fitzgerald

Dr. Conrad Pearl, a family physician practicing in Garden City, examined a patient complaining of severe headaches and dizziness. He decided there was an "urgent" need for a "specialty consultation," so he immediately phoned the neurology department at the University of Michigan Medical Center. He might as well have phoned the moon.

The line was busy all morning and into the early afternoon. Dr. Pearl's nurse also phoned the Medical Center's central switchboard and the Internal Medicine Department, searching for the clout or expertise to get through to the neurology department. No use. She was instructed to keep trying the neurology number.

Finally, a voice answered, saying: "This is neurology, please hold on for 10 minutes."

"We didn't even get a chance to tell them that this was a physician's office calling, as if that would have made any difference," Dr. Pearl said. "Well, my nurse waited for exactly 27 minutes, and no one came back on the line. Finally, I told her to hang up, as I could see she was beginning to develop a twitch, as well as a migraine, and I don't think I could have gone through trying for two appointments in neurology on the same day."

For several days after hearing from Dr. Pearl, I dialed the neurology number in vain. So I asked the university's public information department for an explanation. A spokesman, after investigating, said the neurology department was aware of the phone problem, caused by understaffing, and would correct it by 1 p.m. Thursday. I phoned at 1:15, and the line was busy.

Of course, it isn't only medical departments that use phones as instruments of torture. Many large institutions, public and private—even some newspapers—use phones to drive people loony. Dr. Pearl wrote me because I recently sobbed that Detroit Edison put me on hold for 30 minutes, and I also heard from several other frustrated phoners. . .

C. Castleman of Temperance had a problem with his Ford, so he dialed the number that Ford Motor Co. tells customers to use when they need "service assistance." The line was busy for 45 minutes before a recording answered. I talked to the same recording. It says all of Ford's "owner relations analysts" are too busy to talk and gives Ford's mailing address, suggesting the caller might prefer writing to waiting on hold. However, if the caller insists upon waiting, the recording promises the call will be "prioritized." Meanwhile, "Enjoy our music. . ."

Ford played "Auld Lang Syne" for Castleman. I got "Dream." Neither one of us wanted to live long enough to get off hold. And I didn't write a letter, either. No matter what song Ford plays, I would never correspond with someone who says "prioritized."

Moving right along, Ida Cohen of Detroit received a notice saying her water would be shut off in 24 hours. She had paid the bill two weeks earlier, so she dialed the Detroit Water & Sewerage Department's "account & billing information" number. She has phoned that number before, so she knew what must be done to get an answer.

You must phone at 7:30 a.m., 30 minutes before the switchboard opens, and let it ring. Don't hang up, because the line is always busy from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. when everyone goes home. When the switchboard opens, you will be put on hold for up to an hour. This is agonizing, but if you hang up, you are dead until 7:30 the next morning.

In this case, Ida Cohen is finally told her payment hasn't been recorded yet because there is a four-week backlog. She could keep her water on by proving payment with her canceled check. But her bank statement isn't due for two weeks, and the shut-off deadline is in 12 hours! For an answer to this problem, her call is transferred to a service supervisor, except—click—she is cut off, and there is no way to call back until tomorrow.

Have a good day.

PASTORAL VISIT -- Bishop Kenneth E. Untener of the Catholic Diocese of Saginaw was a week-end visitor to the St. Agatha's and St. Pancratius parishes in Gagetown and Cass City respectively. Here, he visits with, from left, Dick and Norma Szarapski and Lois Sugden during the Saturday evening reception at St. Pancratius.

240 CETA jobs saved temporarily

Tuesday was the last day of work for approximately 410 persons employed in Tuscola, Huron and Sanilac counties under the federal-funded Comprehensive Employment and Training Act Program (CETA).

That is less than the 650 who it was originally thought would lose their jobs, but the rest will be out of work by Sept. 30.

It was reported at the March 19 Thumb Area Consortium meeting that close to 700 CETA workers in CETA Title II-D and VI programs would lose their jobs as of March 31, because the Reagan administration had drastically cut the money available for the rest of the fiscal year, which ends Sept. 30. The number was actually closer to 650, according to consortium Executive Director Frank Lenard.

Shortly after the meeting, however, he was notified by the state Bureau of Employment and Training in Lansing that more money was available than was originally thought.

The BET, he said, was originally notified by Washington of the CETA funding cutbacks by telephone, at which point it notified the various CETA coordinating agencies in the state, such as the consortium.

When official notice came from Washington in writing, however, there was more money than was originally reported in the notice by telephone. The result is that the Title VI and Title II-D work experience programs ended March 31, but there is enough money left, about $550,000, to keep the Title II-D public service employment program going until Sept. 30.

That means about 240 jobs are saved temporarily, however, there is only enough money to keep the program going provided vacancies aren't filled and that some persons leave the program prior to Sept. 30. That is sure to happen, as the maximum a person can be in the program is 18 months, so some will be losing their eligibility before then.

The public service program placed persons in jobs with various government and non-profit agencies.

They have to receive the same fringe benefits and work the same hours as regular government employees.

The work experience program, now ended, was similar, however, the persons in it could work a maximum of 32 hours per week and a maximum of 1,000 hours before termination, or about 32 weeks, and they were paid either the entry level or minimum wage.

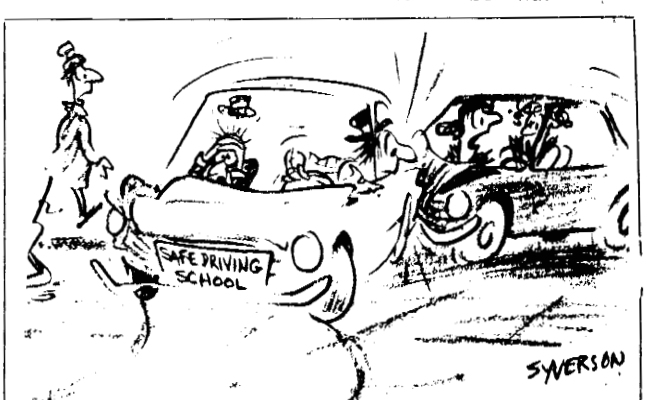

The Title VI program was considered an emergency jobs program, with most workers engaged in such projects as cutting brush, park maintenance and painting.

It was reported in last week's Chronicle that the maximum CETA workers could be paid was $7,841 annually for a 40-hour week. That was actually the average for the public service employment and Title VI programs, so some could be paid more as long as others were paid less. As of Feb. 18, however, the allowable average was boosted to $8,712 annually.

Although Title VI workers could be paid that under the regulations, in the upper Thumb, they were receiving $3.50-4 an hour, Lenard said.

The executive director was in Lansing Tuesday of last week to discuss the phase-out of the program and to see if he could obtain some unspent Title VI funds from elsewhere, but there was none to be had.

PEDALING AROUND

Shop worn

By Mike Eliasohn

As a person whose big goal in life is to someday own a good drill press (and the shop to put it in), I had more than a journalistic interest in the Michigan Industrial Education Society regional student project fair that took place at Cass City High School over the week end.

The items on display produced by the students were very impressive. Hopefully, when they get out in the world, they won't all have to move to Texas to put their skills to work.

I always liked industrial arts classes when I was in school.

Unfortunately, I got short-changed in high school. I was in the "college prep" program, which meant my schedule was too filled with classes intended to prepare me for college to enable me to take "fun" classes like woodshop.

I did squeeze in a year of drafting in my senior year, as I had naive intentions at that time of pursuing an engineering curriculum in college.

One semester in college of calculus and chemistry, both total wipeouts, ended that idea.

A lot of kids in my high school drafting class took it because they figured it would be easy. It wasn't. The instructor, a tough old buzzard, required his students (if they wanted to pass) to memorize the many rules of drafting, in addition to doing the drawings. The only rule I still remember is, "Circles are designated by an 'O'."

My year of drafting was enough to get me a summer job after I graduated with a steel supply company, drawing patterns followed by its steel cutting machine.

During my ill-fated first semester of college, I had a drafting class. Having to draw a water faucet with all the threads was almost enough to drive me to drink.

I still use my drafting equipment occasionally to design and draw bicycles to scale -- no threads and I don't draw the sprocket teeth.

In junior high, grades 7-9, I took every industrial arts class offered, two semesters of wood shop, two (I think) of metal shop, one of graphic arts and one of drafting.

I think the only "souvenir" I still have from those days is the laminated plastic letter opener I made, finished except for the final buffing.

I never did use it. A small jackknife works much better.

I don't remember all the projects I made in shop classes, only that some of them weren't very practical.

One metal class project was a soldered together (poorly) holder for kitchen matches. It never was of much use around the Eliasohn household, since we had an electric stove.

My one claim to fame in my shop classes was my woodshop teacher, George Griffiths, many years later became mayor of East Lansing. I always have wondered whether he used a hammer when presiding at council meetings instead of a gavel.

I attended Walter French Junior High School, which may soon fall victim to another type of hammer, a sledgehammer.

After having stood at the corner of Cedar and Mt. Hope for more than 50 years, this year will be its last. The Lansing Board of Education has decided there no longer are enough students in the area to make it economically practical to continue its operation.

The building will be put up for sale, but who's going to buy a three-story old school building?

Novesta township session a quiet one

In contrast to the 1980 Novesta township annual meeting, when the issue of possible purchase of the old Novesta Church of Christ building for a new township hall brought a large turnout, the 1981 session Saturday was a quiet affair.

Most of the discussion concerned the solid waste disposal, roads and finances. Thirteen persons were present, plus board members.

A motion was approved at the 1980 meeting directing the board to explore alternatives to paying Cass City for the right for township residents to use the village-owned landfill, which is located in Novesta township.

The answer, the board found, is that there apparently isn't an alternative.

Clerk Nurse Kloc reported an Almont trash hauler told the board he would take refuse collected in the township to the Cass City landfill and the cost wouldn't be any less than it is paying now.

A Kingston trash hauler also told the board he would haul the refuse to the Cass City landfill.

A major reason for the high cost and desire to use the closest landfill is the high cost of fuel.

The township paid $4,455 to Cass City for use of the landfill during the 1980-81 fiscal year and has budgeted $5,000 for the purpose for the fiscal year that starts this Wednesday.

Supervisor Bill O'Dell explained why the board voted not to participate in preparation of the state-mandated countywide solid waste disposal plan.

Participation, it felt, would mean sanctioning not only the plan, but also the Cass City landfill, which might be designated in the plan as the landfill for a large area. "We don't want our township to be a receptacle for a large area," he commented.

The proposed 1981-82 budget approved by electors projects revenue at $49,651, (including $5,000 federal sharing funds), which combined with $17,179 in carryover, totals $66,830.

With the aim of reducing the fund balance, total expenditures are projected at $60,907.

There is $23,000 budgeted for roads, including the $5,000 federal revenue sharing. Of that, $17,000 is owed to the Tuscola County Road Commission for paving two miles of Severance Road between Englehart and Lamton Roads last year.

That leaves $5,000 for this year. The board would like to have grading and graveling done on two miles of Phillips Road between Shabbona and DeLong Roads and one mile of Severance between Phillips and Dodge.

However, the Road Commission is asking $1,000 per mile to survey the road in order to determine what work needs to be done. O'Dell said he would negotiate to get the price down.

He added after the meeting, how much the township would spend on roads is still uncertain. Having to spend $3,000 to get the roads surveyed wouldn't leave enough to get the work done on them.

A question was asked why it was necessary with the relatively large surplus for the township to seek a 1½-mill increase in August and November of last year. Both proposals were defeated.

O'Dell responded they were felt necessary because of the possibility of the Tish tax cutting proposal passing last year and the same would hold true now if the May 19 property tax proposal is approved by voters.

Salaries contained in the new budget are the same as last year: Supervisor, $3,500; clerk and treasurer, $2,000 each; trustees, $490 each, and deputy clerk and treasurer, total of $333.

Township annual meetings

Grant sets road levy vote, Lamotte has booze issue

Residents of one township will be voting May 19 on a millage increase for roads and one won't. Those were among decisions reached at township annual meetings Saturday.

Grant township residents will vote on one mill for five years. Those present at the Elmwood township meeting decided there wasn't any point in trying again for such a millage increase.

Lamotte township residents will be voting then whether to allow drinking of alcoholic beverages in the township hall.

May 19 is the date of the statewide election on the proposal to cut property taxes in half, with most of the lost revenue made up by an increase of 1½ cents in the state sales tax.

The primary action at most area township meetings Saturday was presentation of annual budgets.

TUSCOLA COUNTY

ELMWOOD -- In August, 1980, township residents defeated a 3-mill tax increase for five years for roads and in November, 1½ mills for five years for roads.

Discussed Saturday, according to Clerk Joanne Sattelberg, was scheduling another millage vote for roads. It was decided, given the feelings expressed by voters last year, there was "apparently not any use in running it (another election)." Revenue for 1981-82 is projected at $78,463, with expenditures of $65,350.

The board plans to spend $10,000 for graveling of roads, with a projected $6,000 of that coming in federal revenue sharing funds, although it isn't known yet if that is the amount Elmwood will receive from Washington.

The largest single expenditure will be $19,000 for drains at large, down from $25,000 spent last year.

Salaries remain the same as last year: Supervisor, $1,500, plus $3,500 for assessing; clerk and treasurer, $2,500 each; trustees, $30 per meeting, and board of review, $35 a day.

Other anticipated expenditures include the fire department, $3,500, and contract for use of Cass City landfill, $3,500.

Participation in the countywide solid waste disposal planning was approved.

Township board meetings will continue to be on the third Wednesday of every other month, with the next meeting April 15. Meeting time is 8 p.m., except in December and February, when it's 7 p.m.

Three persons attended, in addition to board members.

ELLINGTON -- When township residents go to the polls May 19, they will be voting only on the single statewide issue, but for the first time, they should be voting on punch cards instead of paper ballots.

The township is spending $4,300 for purchase of the punch card equipment, which should arrive from the manufacturer in time for the election, according to Clerk Clayton Turner. The punch cards are counted by a small computer.

Ellington is the last township in Tuscola county to abandon use of paper ballots.

The 1981-82 budget anticipates spending $128,964 for roads: $54,000 from the general fund; $60,223 from the last of the road millage (renewal was defeated last year), and $14,741 in federal revenue sharing funds.

The board has submitted several proposed road projects to the Road Commission for estimates.

The supervisor, clerk and treasurer each received a 10 percent pay increase, boosting their annual salaries to $5,058, $2,795, and $3,061 respectively. Trustees' pay was increased from $24 per meeting to $50.

Township board meetings will remain at 7:30 p.m. on the second and fourth Tuesday of each month.

Nine electors plus board members attended.

KINGSTON -- Most of the discussion by the 12 persons present, including board members, concerned roads and solid waste planning.

The 1981-82 budget anticipates revenue of about $60,000 and expenditures of $75,000, which will mean dipping into the balance on hand at the start of the new fiscal year of $35,000.

Of the total, $30,000 is budgeted for roads, plus $8,300 in federal revenue sharing funds, all of which will be spent for general maintenance.

Township officials will receive 10 percent pay increases, electors decided.

The new annual salary for the supervisor will be $4,752; clerk and treasurer, $2,733, and trustees, $29.70 per meeting.

Other expenses include fire department, $7,000, and drains, $7,000.

HURON COUNTY

GRANT -- The board members and three other persons present decided to try again to get a road millage approved.

Township residents rejected such a tax increase in 1976, 1978 and twice last year. The 1980 proposals were for one mill for five years.

The identical proposal will appear on the May 19 ballot. If approved, according to Clerk Donald Reid, the levy should bring in about $15,000 the first year.

The budget adopted Saturday allocates $15,000 from the general fund and $4,000 in federal revenue sharing for roads, to be spent for such purposes as graveling.

Salaries will remain the same: Supervisor, $2,500 annually; clerk, $2,000; treasurer, $2,300, and trustees, $22.50 per meeting.

The total budget anticipates $36,000 in income and $37,750 in expenses, which will require using some money from savings.

BROOKFIELD -- Income and expenses for the fiscal year that starts Wednesday are both projected at $139,000.

Of that, $78,000 is budgeted for general repair of roads. The township board will decide at its April meeting on which roads it will have work done this year, according to Supervisor Walton Brown.

Salaries remain the same as last year: Supervisor, $5,000 annually; treasurer and clerk, $2,500 each, and trustees, $30 per meeting.

Discussion by the 19 persons present, including board members, concerned roads.

SANILAC

EVERGREEN -- Township officials received their first pay raise since 1974. The supervisor's annual salary was increased from $2,000 to $2,500; clerk and treasurer, from $1,000 to $1,300 each, and trustees, deputy clerk and deputy treasurer, from $20 per meeting to $40.

The budget anticipates revenue and expenditures of $56,318, including revenue from the 1-mill approved by voters in August of last year for improvement of the one mile of Decker Road running north from Shabbona.

There is $33,948 budgeted for roads, including $9,000 from the special millage for work to be done this year on Decker Road. There is $10,148 owed to the Road Commission for construction of the Leslie Road bridge last year and $10,000 set aside for the paving of the one mile of Germania Road south of Deckerville Road, in case that is done this year.

Federal revenue sharing funds are projected at $4,022, plus there is a current balance in the fund of $1,869. The money will be spent for roads and/or fire protection.

There is $2,415 budgeted for drains at large.

Fourteen persons, including board members, attended.

GREENLEAF -- Anticipated 1981-82 expenditures are $60,235, which will come from revenue of $48,205 and a present balance on hand of $35,633.

There is $40,000 budgeted for roads, including an anticipated $5,900 in federal revenue sharing, of which the majority will go for rebuilding one mile of Seeger Road between Hadley and Gilbert Roads.

The township will continue its policy of brining roads for dust control.

An anticipated $5,900 in federal revenue sharing will also go for roads.

Salaries will remain the same: Supervisor, $2,100 annually; clerk, $1,500; treasurer, $1,800, and trustees, $25 per meeting.

Other expenses include fire protection, $6,000; refuse disposal, $2,000; Rawson Memorial Library, $233, and Cass City recreation, $100.

Twelve persons attended, including board members.

LAMOTTE -- It was decided to ask township residents May 19 to approve serving of alcoholic beverages in the township hall. The measure was on the ballot a few years ago, but was defeated.

The reason for seeking removal of the present ban, according to Clerk Wayne Adam, is that it might increase rentals of the hall for receptions and parties, plus alcohol is often drunk now at such affairs, even though it is against the rules.

Budget income and expenditures are both projected at $57,840.

Of that, $12,000, plus $1,700 in federal revenue sharing money, is budgeted for road patching, brining and spraying brush.

Of the remaining revenue sharing, $1,800 will be spent for the fire department and $209 for recreation.

From the general fund, $12,000 is budgeted for drains and $3,000 for the fire department.

Salaries will remain the same: Supervisor, $1,400, plus $1,800 for assessing; clerk and treasurer, $2,000 each; deputy clerk and treasurer, $420 each, and trustees, $420 plus $7 per meeting.

Board meetings will remain on the third Thursday of each month at 8 p.m.

Thirty persons attended, including board members.

Money talks -- and today it's always in a hurry to say goodbye.

TOP SELLERS of Girl Scout cookies were, from left, Wendy Romain, 408 boxes, Amy Francis (wearing glasses), 333, Tammy Hurley, 257, and Stephanie Spencer, top Brownie with 164. A total of 5,460 boxes were sold, compared to 4,644 last year. Delivery starts April 27.

Prostate trouble common in men over 50

Frank Chappell
Science News Editor
AMA

After age 50, approximately one in three men will have prostate trouble.

The principal manifestation is difficulty in urination. Medical management will help about half of these men. The others can be helped only by surgery.

The problem is an enlargement of glands surrounding the urethra, the tube through which urine passes. This constricts the tube and interferes with flow of urine. What causes this enlargement is not known. We do know that enlarged prostates are not caused by sexual excesses, masturbation or gonorrhea, as is popularly believed, the American Medical Association says.

As the gland slowly enlarges, urination becomes more and more difficult. The stream of urine lacks force and becomes weak and dribbly.

There may be a feeling of inability to empty the bladder.

This may cause pain or blood in the urine, and an urgent need to urinate frequently.

There is no medicine that will "dissolve" or materially help an enlarged prostate. Infections can be treated, and in the early stages massage of the prostate may be useful. But if sufficient obstruction to the passage of urine creates complications, surgery becomes necessary.

The operation through the urethra is now the most widely used of all prostate operations. A lighted tube is passed through the urethra and through this appropriate instruments can be passed which the surgeon will use to cut or cauterize or perform other procedures needed to remove enlarged parts of the glands.

Prostate trouble can be real trouble, but it need not be if it is discovered early, its development is observed and surgery is performed before future health is damaged or frequency and urgency of urination interfere with a man's normal life.

Every man over 50 should ask his doctor to check the prostate as part of every health examination.

Farmland meeting set

The Sanilac County Cooperative Extension Service, in conjunction with the Sanilac County Farm Bureau Young Farmers, is planning an educational meeting on Public Act 116 Wednesday, April 15, at 7:30 p.m. in the county conference room, adjacent to the extension office in Sandusky.

Brenda Brouillet of the Department of Natural Resources in Lansing will discuss the Farmland and Open Space Preservation Act (PA 116) and answer questions.

People may refuse to face the facts, but that doesn't change them even a little bit.

Down Memory Lane

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

FIVE YEARS AGO

Bill Kritzman was elected president of the Cass City Chamber of Commerce during a board meeting Tuesday at Hills and Dales General Hospital. Kritzman will succeed Harry Little next month.

Michael Klinkman of 6316 Church Street, has been named a James B. Angell scholar at the University of Michigan. Klinkman is a student in the College of Literature, Science and the Arts.

A false alarm bomb scare at General Cable disrupted work schedules and resulted in an intensive search of the large plant.

Cass City residents will face an increase in the cost of government this year, after a study is completed by the village council to determine how much water and sewer rates should be increased to meet expenses.

25 YEARS AGO

Mrs. Philip Koepfgen of Midland celebrated her 100th birthday Monday. She is the oldest member of the Presbyterian church of Cass City.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald

She is planning to attend Anderson College in Anderson, Ind.

New books at the library

END OF THE RAINBOW by Mary Ann Crenshaw (non-fiction). This is the true, harrowing story of a successful fashion reporter for the New York Times whose fast-paced, high-pressure life led her into a nightmare of alcoholism and drug dependency. Mary Ann lands in the hospital and the processes of withdrawal and recovery were agonizingly slow, an uphill struggle with a 50 percent chance of relapse. A combination of sheer willpower and the fear of reliving the nightmarish past kept Mary Ann - and still keeps her - from giving up the effort to live a normal life.

M.D. by Neil Ravin (fiction). Bill Ryan is a brilliant, sensitive, quickwitted intern who spends every day testing, prescribing and diagnosing at Manhattan Hospital, the city's most prestigious teaching institution. It is also the story of Ryan's trial by fire in the world of love, death, medical politics, romance and the go-for-broke life of the hospital.

THE LAST MAFIOSO - by Ovid Demaris (non-fiction). The story of Jimmy ("the Weasel") Fratianno, who has more than earned his nickname as the Mafia insider who turned informer on the mob to become the government's best witness in federal investigations of organized crime. Recounting Fratianno's varied career as enforcer, hit man, schemer, and womanizer, Demaris tells how the Weasel entered his life of crime, rose through the ranks to become the Cosa Nostra's Los Angeles boss, and was "persuaded" to turn state's evidence via a witness protection plan. Demaris' story highlights all the juicy details about Frank Sinatra, Jimmy Hoffa, and the Castro assassination plot that readers will expect from the book's extensive publicity.

AAUW celebrates centennial

The Cass City Branch of the American Association of University Women met Tuesday, March 24, in the High School library.

Special attention was given to the centennial year celebration of the association, founded in Boston in 1881. The AAUW in Michigan has 8,000 members in 75 communities.

President Barbara Tuckey read a proclamation from Gov. William Milliken in honor of 100 years of contributions. He proclaimed the week of March 15-21 as American Association of University Women Centennial Celebration Week.

Special recognition was given in the proclamation of the AAUW Fellowship Program, which awards more than $1 million each year in fellowships, research and project grants.

The goals of the Cass City branch, established in 1964, have been continuing intellectual growth, advancement of women and responsibility to society. The branch presently has 36 members.

Emma Wallis, member from Caro, won the door prize which was a centennial AAUW license plate and a floral arrangement.

The members voted to give $25 to support the Artrain.

A note from Jackie Freiburger, Campbell Elementary School principal, was read, thanking the group for sponsoring the appearance of the Detroit Youththeatre for the enjoyment of the students.

Recognition was given Ann Craig and Doty Scollon, who have spent many hours in the preparation and presentation of RIF (Reading is Fundamental). The program is one of the special educational projects of the local group.

Marlene Erla, vice-president in charge of programs, introduced the speaker, Richard E. Sheehy, who talked about "Energy 2000" and showed a film. Sheehy is a representative of the customer and marketing services division of Detroit Edison in Caro.

Hostesses were Helen Baker, Mary Brown, and Marlene Erla.

Your Neighbor says Death Penalty should be allowed

The recent execution in Indiana of Steven T. Judy, the convicted murderer of a young mother and her three children, has focused attention anew on the rightness or wrongness of the death penalty.

"I am sort of for it, if they can really prove they were the ones who committed the crime," is Joyce Cameron's opinion about capital punishment.

"I think it would be a deterrent," she continued. "but I'd hate to see the wrong man executed."

She feels that the intentional, premeditated taking of a life should be punishable by death, although she has reservations about doing so if the person is mentally ill.

She also doesn't feel that imposition of the death sentence should be automatic in the above instance, but should be decided by the judge and jury.

"Yes, I do," Mrs. Cameron responded when asked whether Michigan should allow capital punishment for premeditated murder. "What's the difference between death instantly and rotting in prison for years and dying eventually?"

She and her husband, Russell, have two children, Ken, 15, and Bob, 17. The family dairy farm is on Mushroom Road, Decker. They milk 63 cows.

Food cooperative meetings Friday

Residents of Sanilac and Tuscola counties may be able to save on household food costs by forming a local food cooperative.

Guidelines for organizing and operating a food cooperative will be offered Friday at 10 a.m. at the Tuscola County Extension office, basement of the county jail in Caro, and 1:30 p.m. in the Sanilac county conference room, 37 Austin Street, Sandusky. The programs, sponsored by the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service in Tuscola and Sanilac counties, are open to the public.

The workshops, directed by Elizabeth Scott, MSU food cooperative project coordinator, will show participants how to establish and operate their own food co-operatives.

Included in the programs will be guidelines for membership recruitment, food co-op purchasing and distribution methods, and how and where to obtain outside assistance.

"A large segment of this training will entail business management and the principles of cooperatives," Ms. Scott said. Various technical issues will also be discussed.

Training followup will be provided by county extension staff members and Ms. Scott. Normally, consumers who form cooperatives will be able to begin their purchasing within a few weeks of organization. There are presently more than 400 food cooperatives operating as food buying clubs or store fronts in Michigan.

This education on food cooperatives is part of a statewide program based at MSU.

Cost of the effort is supported by federal and state funds, including a grant from Title I of the higher education act. Co-sponsors include the Michigan Office of Services to the Aging, Michigan Department of Labor, Michigan Federation of Food Cooperatives, and Michigan Department of Public Health.

"The primary purpose of the project is to offer an alternative to current buying practices through which Michigan residents may obtain quality food for less money by working a few hours a month," Scott explained.

What is IGA?

TIPS TO CLIP

Do you know what the letters IGA stand for? Literally, they mean Independent Grocer's Alliance but to thousands of people they mean much more. They mean the continuance of the friendly locally owned grocery store where the owners know and support the community and its people.

Back in 1926 a group of independent retail grocers and their wholesalers decided that they should band together for centralized volume buying from food companies so that they could get better prices. This would enable them to effectively compete with the retail prices of the large national chains. That was the beginning of the IGA. Today there are about 3400 IGA retailers over 46 states. They are supplied through some 30 wholesale companies which provide not only merchandise but services such as advertising, training, accounting and engineering. Each retailer, however, remains independent and makes his own decisions. Coordinating all of this is the IGA staff office in Chicago, where product procurement is handled, with quality assurance the primary goal. Your IGA retailer is an independent with the support of a national organization.

Special speakers at Cass City church

Baptists celebrating 100 years

The week-long centennial conference, which was to end this Wednesday, marked the beginning of activities this year to celebrate the 100th anniversary of the First Baptist church of Cass City.

Two former pastors, Rev. Arnold P. Olson, 1944-52, and Rev. Lloyd Streeter, 1970-77, Dr. Paul Tassell, national representative of the General Association of Regular Baptist churches, and Rev. J.R. Wood, state representative of the GARBC, all spoke at least once during the special programs.

The church on Houghton Street traces its beginnings back to January, 1880, when a small group of Christians met for worship and fellowship under the leadership of Rev. James McArthur.

The church was formally organized in the spring of the following year with the election of officers and the calling of Rev. McArthur as pastor.

He was the first of 25 pastors to serve the church over the 100 years.

Rev. Richard Canfield served the longest, from 1960-70. He will speak at the Sunday, June 21, service. The present pastor, Rev. Timothy W. Teall, arrived in 1977.

One church member who has seen many pastors come and go is Pauline McArthur, who has been playing piano at the church on Sundays for more than 53 years.

The years of 1882-83 were marked by organization and the start of construction of the church building. It was dedicated Jan. 24, 1884, having been constructed at a cost of about $1,500. The building is still used today as the educational wing.

Other milestones in the church's history include organization of Sunday school in 1884 and raising of the building in 1915 for the addition of a basement underneath. In 1920, member Harry Lang left for the Moody Bible Institute and then to China as a missionary. A total of 25 members of the church have joined the ministry.

In 1947, under the leadership of Rev. Olson, the church left the Northern Baptist Convention and associated itself with the General Association of Regular Baptist churches. A new church constitution was also adopted at that time.

In 1953, an addition was built onto the original church, at which time the cornerstone laid in 1915 was reopened and some items added. The cornerstone was again opened recently and the items found inside put on display.

Items inside include church membership lists, coins from the turn of the century, church bulletins and newspaper articles.

Building of the new auditorium began in 1973, at which time the original building was converted into the education wing. Remodeling began last year to update the old building.

Current membership of the First Baptist church is 215. Persons must have been baptized to be members. Sunday attendance averages 230-250, according to Rev. Teall.

The church supports 15 missionaries and 10 Regular Baptist agencies worldwide. The total monthly missions commitment presently is $1,285.

Like the prices for anything, church finances have changed drastically over the years. In 1909, the total church offering per week was 50 cents and the total church budget for the year was $391.50. The pastor, H.W. Clough, was still owed $69 when the year ended.

In 1980, the church spent $101,322 and had an average offering per week of $1,900.

In addition to the centennial conference, several other activities are planned this year to celebrate the church's 100th birthday, according to Rev. Teall, especially during the summer and the Fourth of July festival.

THIS VIEW of the First Baptist church was apparently taken before 1915, when the building was raised to build a basement underneath.

Police investigate 2 assault cases

The Tuscola County Sheriff's Department investigated two reports of assault during the past week, one in which the victim required hospital treatment and the other involving the principal of Akron-Fairgrove High School.

Treated and released from Caro Community Hospital after an incident late Sunday night was Kenneth A. Simpson of Caro.

He told deputies he was returning home on M-81, near Dutcher Road in Elington township, when a vehicle pulled alongside. He thought there were friends inside, so he pulled over.

Two persons got out and one opened Simpson's door, grabbed him by the shirt near his throat and tried to pull him out. In the process, the victim was hit once in the upper chest and kidneys.

Simpson still had his hand on the wheel, so shifted into "drive" and managed to drive away from his attacker. His father later took him to the hospital.

The attacker was described as about 6-2 in height, fat, with frizzed blonde hair down to his shoulders, wearing blue jeans and a dark T-shirt. He was the passenger.

The driver was described as 5-10 and wearing a suede shirt and jeans. The pair were riding in a rusty blue Mustang with a dented rear fender.

Simpson said they sounded drunk. The incident was reported at 11:07 p.m.

The incident at Akron-Fairgrove High School occurred at 12:17 p.m. last Thursday.

Principal Dale Cutler informed deputies, the 17-year-old subject came up to him in the hallway. Three days earlier, he had dropped the boy from the attendance roll because of absenteeism. They talked and then the youth hit the principal in the face. Cutler did not require hospitalization.

The incident remains under investigation.

Cass City High School Principal Russell Richards reported to village police at 9:45 p.m. March 23 that while his pickup was parked in the high school lot that evening, someone cut one of the heavy-duty tires on his pickup. The tire was valued at $100.

Ricky Lee Hartwick of 7621 Bay City-Forestville Road reported to Cass City police March 24 that while his pickup was parked at a home on Elmwood Road the afternoon of March 22, someone poured what was apparently sugar in the gas tank.

Cost to repair the engine, damaged from the sugar, was put at $700.

Karen Hildinger, director of nursing at Provincial House, told Cass City police March 25 that while she was working there the previous day, someone stole $45 from her purse, which was in her office.

Shabbona

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Burk II, and daughter and son of Miami, Fla., will be visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Burk I of Decker, Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Alvin II and family moved to Miami last July from California. He is a mechanic for Eastern Airlines at Miami International Airport. Friends of the family are invited to visit them during their stay.

Tree sale continues

The Tuscola Soil Conservation District is still taking orders for seedling trees that will be arriving the middle of April.

The following may still be ordered: white pine, red pine, white spruce, black walnut, Austrian pine and autumn olive shrubs.

Trees may be used for reforestation, Christmas trees, windbreak, erosion control, restocking woodlots, wildlife cover and beautification.

Orders may be placed at the Tuscola SCD office, 852 S. Hooper Street, Caro, telephone 673-8174.

Pair plead guilty

Two persons scheduled to stand trial in Tuscola County Circuit Court pleaded guilty to reduced charges at what was to have been the start of their trials.

Timothy R. Wilczak, 22, of Brown City, pleaded guilty March 24 to attempted malicious destruction of property over $100 in a plea bargain with the prosecution.

Judge Patrick R. Joslyn accepted his plea. A sentencing date will be set.

He had been charged with malicious destruction of property over $100 in connection with damaging of a truck Aug. 25 in Koylton township.

Rodney R. Sarles, 20, of 4261 Hurds Corner Road, Mayville, pleaded guilty Monday to larceny in a building, in connection with his breaking into Mayville Elementary School April 18, 1980.

His plea was accepted and sentencing date will be set.

In a plea bargain with the prosecution, two charges of malicious destruction of property over $100 in connection with damaging of two Mayville schools driver education cars on the same date will be dismissed.

DISTRICT COURT

Charles E. Mester, 18, of 5270 Shabbona Road, Deford, pleaded guilty Monday to a charge of driving under the influence of intoxicants.

Judge Richard F. Kern accepted his plea and placed him on one year probation, ordered him to attend alcohol education classes, fined him $98 and assessed $152 court costs.

Mester was arrested on the charge March 22 in Kingston.

THE NEW SHERATON HOTEL opened in Cass City in 1900. The coach in front transported hotel patrons to and from the railroad station. The hotel was put out of business by the automobile, which made overnight stays by salesmen and others unnecessary. The building is now Old Wood Drugs. The tower was removed in 1961. ### OTHER ACCIDENTS

Allen L. Popp, 32, of Caro, was cited by Caro State Police on a charge of careless driving following an 8:45 p.m. accident Friday in Ellington township.

Troopers reported he was northbound on Murray Road, north of Deckerville Road, when he lost control of his car, which went into the east side ditch.

At 11:45 a.m. Saturday, according to deputies, Teri L. Nicholas, 21, of 6328 Main Street, Cass City, backed out of a driveway onto Lakeside Drive in Huntsville Trailer Park.

She looked down to put her vehicle into "drive," didn't realize there was a car in front of her, which had stalled, and drove into it. Driver of the other car was Kevin R. Nicholas, 17, Owendale.

At 1:50 p.m. Saturday, deputies said, Gordon J. Roy, 18, of Cass City Road, Unionville, was westbound on that road, east of Colwood Road, when he lost control of his car.

It went onto the south side shoulder, back on the road, then off the south side into the ditch.

Kenneth R. Hampshire,

24, of 7300 Legg Road, Kingston, was eastbound on Bevens Road, west of Froede Road, at 8:30 p.m. Saturday, according to deputies, when his car struck a deer.

UPDATE

One of four persons injured in the March 22 accident that claimed the life of Laurel C. Miller of Unionville, Robert Myers, 8, was reported in serious condition Wednesday morning at St. Mary's Hospital in Saginaw.

His sister, Leisha, 13, was in fair condition.

The other passengers were David Miller, 5, son of the victim, discharged from St. Mary's Friday, and Darrell Myers, 14, who was treated and released.

Gerald Sahr, injured in the March 24 accident that claimed the life of Kenneth Sahr of Vassar was reported in fair condition Wednesday morning at St. Mary's.

west and the western townships south of Caseville.

In Huron county, as of Monday, 650 leases had been registered since January. In Sanilac, the number was 250, but Turnbull expects the figure will reach 4,000.

IN ADDITION TO PRICE, landowners need to look at other considerations before they sign.

The Greenleaf man, for instance, mentioned his agreement requires that he and the drilling company agree on a site before drilling can commence. He must be reimbursed for any damage done to his land or crops, and the land must be returned to original condition when the drilling rig is removed.

Another common provision allows the property owner to tap in if natural gas is discovered.

The man was happy he had signed. "It will be very helpful to defray expenses," he commented. "It will make it easier to operate this year."

Oil info meeting slated

Tuscola county landowners are invited to attend an oil leasing information meeting Friday.

The meeting will be from 1:30-3:30 p.m. at the Caro United Methodist church on Gilford Road, on the north edge of Caro.

Duane Cayhoun of the Michigan Farm Bureau will talk about his oil leasing experiences in the Petroleum Division of the Farm Bureau.

Caro attorney Forrest Walpole will talk about lease interpretations and important landowner considerations.

Also present will be local landowners who will talk about their oil leasing experiences.

Effective April 1

New law hits drinking drivers

Stiff drinks meant stiffer penalties for drinking drivers when several new laws took effect April 1, according to the Automobile Club of Michigan.

Other new laws will give speeders more penalty points and reduce the required number of license plates on a vehicle from two to one.

The 1980 Michigan Legislature approved several bills designed to make drunk driving arrests easier and increase fines upon conviction.

Prior laws provided that "warrantless arrests" by police officers only could be made if accidents occurred on a public highway. As of April 1, officers can make such arrests involving accidents on any public road or parking lot if they believe a driver has been drinking.

The new laws expand the principle of "implied consent," meaning that upon receipt of a driver's license, a motorist agrees to take a chemical test if suspected of drinking in "any area open to the general public." The alternative is loss of license.

Also new is a provision which prohibits a person from driving a snowmobile or off-the-road vehicle while under the influence of liquor or drugs.

For the first time in 63 years, lawmakers increased the penalty for drunk driving to a minimum $100 and maximum $500 fine, and-or a maximum jail term of 90 days for first offenders. The new fines will replace the current minimum-maximum range of $50 to $100.

In a move to conserve gasoline and tighten enforcement of the present 55 mile per hour speed limit, the legislature approved a law that as of April 1 will assess one penalty point on a motorist's driver's license if convicted of driving between 60 and 69 mph.

Penalty points rise to two for driving 70-79 mph, three for 80-85 mph and four for over 85. The law also permits the governor to adjust the points if he declares a state of emergency and sets a lower speed limit for the state.

In a move to save the Secretary of State's office $7 million over the next three years, the legislature eliminated the requirement that motor vehicles carry two license plates. Beginning March 31, passenger cars need only be equipped with one plate on the rear while truck-tractors must have one on the front.

Motoring laws passed by the 1980 Legislature which already have gone into effect are:

-Motorists with six or more parking tickets must pay the fines or face loss of their driver's license or car registration. Local courts will submit records of unpaid fines to the Secretary of State, who in turn will withhold the permits.

-Vehicle owners have the option to register their vehicles for two years instead of one.

-Gasohol is taxed 6 cents per gallon to make it more competitive with unleaded and regular gas which is taxed 11 cents. The rate will jump to 8 cents in 1983, 9 cents in 1984 and 11 cents in 1985.

-Higher interest ceilings on car loans offered by financial institutions were approved but the law expires June 1 unless reinstated by the legislature.

-Students enrolled in an approved driver education course can drive with a licensed parent or guardian for the purpose of additional instruction.

-Road tests were eliminated for driver's license applicants who have passed a driver education course and examination within the prior 12 months.

Restrict use of glass in cars

Effective March 31, owners and operators of motor vehicles registered and used in Michigan are advised by the State Police that it is unlawful to have certain glass areas on vehicles which have been treated so that they dangerously limit or restrict passage of light or cause potential hazard by reducing visibility of persons within or outside of the vehicles.

This amendment to the Michigan Vehicle Code prohibits operation on highways of vehicles whose windshield, rear window or side windows are covered with reflective transparent material which affects the color of or reduces the transmission of light through those windows. Violation is a civil infraction punishable by a civil fine up to $100.

Exception provides for use of tinted film up to four inches from the window top. For rear or rear side windows behind the driver, the law prohibits use of material which reflects more than 35 percent of the sun's visible light, including silver or gold reflective film.

The reflective transparent materials are objectionable because they dangerously reduce visibility of drivers, especially at night; cause reflective glare from sunlight or headlights which may temporarily blind approaching motorists, and limit ability of law enforcement personnel to identify persons within such vehicles.

The law does not apply to otherwise lawful use of draperies, louvers, nonreflective tinting materials, necessary window stickers or certificates, or special glass treatment required in some medical need cases.

O-G may dip into general revenues for site money

According to Erickson, the bond issue approved by voters provided for site development within the entire school district, therefore expenditures for the elementary school roof and carpeting in the district-owned house were proper, as was the expenditure for the trailer. He did agree the advertising of the tax anticipation notes should not have been paid for out of the building and site fund.

Lastly, the audit says $3,513 in interest is owed to the debt retirement fund.

WHAT HAPPENS NEXT is a matter of conjecture.

MFC Administrator Donald Fichter said the commission, composed of the attorney general, state treasurer, and superintendent of public instruction, will review the Owen-Gage audit probably this week or next.

It could order Owen-Gage to repay the building and site fund, apparently by referring the matter to the attorney general for action.

Asked if the MFC could decide to leave matters as is, he responded, "I suppose that's one option."

Since the money originally in the fund has already been used to pay the contractors, money placed now in the debt retirement fund would be used to pay off the bonded indebtedness. In other words, the school board wouldn't have to levy as much millage each year to pay off the bonds sold to finance the school project.

The problem for Owen-Gage is presumably the only way it could manage to find money in its general fund to transfer to the building and site fund would be to seek a millage increase.

According to the audit, building and site fund revenues totaled $1,818,606, while $1,818,315 was spent, leaving a balance of $291. The bonding proposal was for $1.675 million, but interest collected increased the amount of money available beyond that figure.

ERICKSON SAID HIS first response after he gets a copy of the audit probably will be to have it reviewed by the district's certified public accountants, Laine, Appold, & Co., of Bay City, who perform the annual audit.

"These other things are questions," he said of the recommendations made by the state auditors. "Just because they say it's one way, doesn't say it's so."

He pointed out that because all of the money from the building and site fund was spent, the district had to spend about $25,000 from its general fund to complete the building.

Paid for from the general fund were such items as paving of the bus drive in front of the school, fixtures, terrazzo tile and typewriters, items that could have been paid for from the debt retirement fund had money been available.

The questionable expenses from the building and site fund may not have been uncovered by Laine, Appold, according to George R. Archer, CPA, administrator of the Local Government Audit Division, because the firm wasn't required to test every expenditure from it.

In essence, the accountants only had to select a few expenditures as samples and then determine if they were proper, he explained. In contrast, his division, because it was performing an audit specifically of the fund, had to check every expenditure.

Awards night honors athletes

Athletes in winter sports were feted at the annual awards night Tuesday night at Cass City High School.

Under the direction of Athletic Director Roland Pakonen coaches for the various sports introduced teams, told a little about the season and announced special awards.

Coach Ron Nurnberger announced that Jim Mastie, JV coach, will give up basketball in Cass City after 12 years in the system.

Mastie's charges suffered through a 1-19 season this year, but it was the only losing season that he had in his coaching tenure.

Presenting the awards to the wrestling team was Russ Bieffer. Gymnastics was handled by Sue Cali. Polly Bashore introduced the JV volleyball players and Michelle Anscomb reviewed the varsity sports since the girls.

Pakonen substituted for Linda Eisinger and introduced the cheerleading teams.

Freshman basketball was handled by Craig Weaver. Mastie told about the JV season and Nurnberger reviewed the basketball year.

Nurnberger said that Cass City has not swept titles in four "major" boys' sports since the 50's.

With titles safely tucked away in football, basketball and wrestling, the school has a chance to win five titles this season with the baseball and track season approaching.

Ubly sets annual fete

The annual all-sports athletic banquet of the Ubly Community Schools, sponsored by the Ubly Community Club and the High School Athletic Department, will be conducted Tuesday, April 7, at 7:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

Athletic director Richard Holdship will serve as toastmaster and will give a brief talk.

The banquet is open to the public and tickets may be obtained at the high school office or from Community Club members. Francis Hund and E. Alfred Lowell.

Mark Tenbusch will deliver the invocation and benediction. Holdship is in charge of arrangements.

Francis Hund, president of the Community Club, will give the welcome address. August Recker will present awards in football and Fred Ligrow will give the same awards in basketball. Ron Iwankovitch will give awards to players of the girls' basketball team and Lynn Keber will present awards to the cheerleaders.

Patricia Bolda will give awards in girls' volleyball. Recognition will be given to the 1980 baseball team and girls' and boys' track as well as the girls' softball team.

Elkland meeting

will cut property taxes in half. Should those two circumstances occur, the millage and the large amount of savings would be needed.

The financial statement presented for the fiscal year that ends Wednesday shows 1980-81 general fund expenditures of $116,964, which was $2,529 more than was taken in, which meant a slight reduction in savings.

The 1980-81 fire fund showed revenue of $48,940 (including $30,400 transferred from the general fund, primarily to pay for the fire truck) and expenditures of $47,638.

The 1981-82 fire budget anticipates expenditures of $30,700, which will include a pay increase for firemen.

The Elkland Township Board is considering raising the standby fee paid by townships that contract with it for fire protection. They now pay $150 per section, which the board is thinking of raising to $175.

Elkland Fire Department looking for volunteers

Suppose there was a fire and nobody came.

The situation isn't quite that grim, but the Elkland Township Fire Department could use some volunteers, especially ones available during daytime.

Ideally, according to Fire Chief Dave McNaughton, a minimum of eight firemen should respond initially to fires. For a couple of recent daytime ones, however, only four were available.

When the Lee Soldan mobile home on Kelly Road burned March 19, for instance, only four men were available at first.

They had the hoses in place by the time another three or four firemen were contacted at work and managed to get away.

The fire department is looking for men who work other than day shifts, business persons or business persons willing to let their employees leave to fight a fire.

McNaughton, an executive at Walbro, fits into the latter category.

The 23 firemen presently receive $3 per hour and $20 when fighting fires, plus $20 (every three months) for attending meetings and taking care of equipment, but are scheduled to be receiving an increase from the township board.

Persons interested can contact any fireman.

Firemen quell 2 grass fires

Elkland township firemen responded to two grass fires last week.

At 2:15 p.m. Wednesday, they were called to a grass and brush fire on M-81, 3½ miles west of town, reported by a passing motorist.

About two acres were burning, however, the person doing the burning had a permit to do so, so no action was needed.

Firemen noted, however, the person was in technical violation of his permit because he wasn't close by and too big an area was burning for him to keep under control.

Permits are presently required for all outdoor burning, except that done inside a barrel or other container with a top on it.

Persons living within the area served by the Elkland department can obtain permits from Fire Chief Dave McNaughton and firemen Don Finkbeiner, Jim Jezewski and Jack Hartwick.

The second fire was at 5:10 p.m. Friday, extinguished by two firemen using the four-wheel-drive grass fire truck.

About five acres burned behind the home of Harry Walters on Dodge Road, near Kelly Road. The property is owned by an out-of-town resident.

Cause was unknown.

The fire siren sounded at 9:15 p.m. Monday in Cass City as part of a disaster simulation at Hills and Dales General Hospital.

Elmwood Township-Gage-town firemen extinguished a burning tree, reported at 12:15 a.m. Sunday, at Cedar Run and Elmwood Roads.

Cause of the fire was a ditchbank fire someone started earlier in the day and then left unattended, which spread to the tree.

Defending league champions

Hawks seek new pitchers to replace departed aces

Defending champion Cass City Red Hawks face plenty of problems this spring in defense of their Thumb B Association crown won last year.

Coach Don Schelke will have to find replacements for several stalwarts who anchored the team for three years.

If pitching is 80 percent of the game, Cass City lost a bundle when Earney Stout-enburg, with a 1.29 earned run average, graduated. The other half of the one-two mound punch, Ken Martin, is also gone. He boasted a 1.47 ERA. When not pitching he was catching. Strong defensively he also hit with power for a .362 average and 12 runs batted in.

Others to be replaced include Mike Stec whose .391 batting average led the team and Tim Johnson, second baseman with the good hands and the picture swing, that landed him on the varsity as a sophomore. Also missed will be Randy Ferris, an outfield fixture.

The Hawks will be hard pressed to equal last year's 10-4 TBA and 14-8 over-all record but Coach Don Schelke, now in his fifth year, has some bright spots.

They include letter winners Todd Comment, Brad Hartel, Scott Murphy, Randy Severance, Craig Tonti and Jim Atkins.

There will be experience in the infield and a quicker team than last year. Lack of power can be one problem.

An even greater problem promises to be finding pitchers. Only Comment is back from the stellar mound crew that paced Cass City to the championship last season.

Schelke says that much of the chance for success will depend on the development of young pitchers. We'll be forced to play for a run at a time instead of the big inning this season, he points out.

The coach sees Caro, North Branch, Lakers and Marlette as teams to beat this spring in the TBA.

Cass City fans will have a chance to get a line on the team before it swings into conference competition. The first scheduled game is with Frankenmuth next Tuesday and there are two more non-conference clashes before league action starts.

The schedule:
April 7 Frankenmuth, home
April 13 Mayville, home
April 14 USA, away
April 28 Bad Axe, home
April 30 North Branch, home

May 5 Sandusky, away

Play-off finals Saturday

Favorites survive in first round in Recreation loop

The favorites all survived the opening round of the play-offs in the Cass City Recreational League last week to set the stage for the semi-finals that were to have been played Wednesday.

Top match-up will pit Stevenson Insurance against People's State Bank. The Bankers were third in the league and the Insurance five runners-up.

In the other match of the double header, Shetler's (14-1), regular season champions, will be favored over Hillaker's Auctioneers (7-8).

Hillaker's made it to the semi-finals with a 74-63 decision over Charmont Thursday. The two teams tied for fourth during the regular season. Hillaker's jumped off to a 19-16 lead in the first quarter.

Behind Dave Doerr's 10 points, Charmont rallied to take the lead at the half, 36-33.

Dave Zawilinski took charge in the third quarter, hitting for 14 points as Hillaker's went back in front, 56-50.

In the final quarter the Auctioneers added to the lead to move into the semi-finals.

Roy Calahan led all scorers with 31 points. Zawilinski added 20 and Joe Hillaker, 14. Clyde Weir led the losers with 21 while Dave Doerr had 15 points.

In the opening game Wednesday Stevenson's Insurance rallied from a half-time deficit to top McMahan's, 61-48. It might have been a different story if Leon Kanieczwski hadn't suffered a back injury and been forced to leave the game. He was sweeping the boards for McMahan's and when he left at the end of the first half, McMahan's was in front, 37-29.

Stevenson's bounced back in the third period to overcome the deficit and then went on to cement the win in the final period.

Mark Green scored 20, Rick Tuckey, 14, and Bill Stevenson, 12, for Stevenson's, while Curt Copeland netted 17 for McMahan's.

In the nightcap, People's

State Bank overcame a slow start to roll past winless Erla's, 94-31. At the end of the first period, the Bankers led, 17-14. But at the end of the half it was 40-22 and the winners went on from there.

Five players were in double figures for the winners: Tim Bates, 29, Chuck Smith, 20, Norm Stephens, 14, Chuck Peterson, 13, and Dirk Sutherland, 11. Jim Nicol scored 10 for the losers.

Shetler's advanced to the semis with a forfeit win over Caro Plumbing.

The finals are scheduled for Saturday afternoon at 2:30 at Cass City High School gym.

New season, new coaches at O-G

Track teams have big shoes to fill in '81

The Owen-Gage track team will have a new look in more ways than one.

For starters, there are two new coaches, Richard Glidden in charge of the boys and Cindy Smigill in charge of the girls. Glidden isn't completely new, having handled the girls' team last year.

Among those gone from last year's boys' team that won the North Central D League title are super sprinter and long jumper Jeff Hallock, a guaranteed first place, speedy sprinter and hurdler Brad Erickson and shot putter and discus thrower Pete Klemkowsky.

All one has to do, however, is look up to see that all is not gloom this year. There is pole vaulter Jim Pathaude, tops in the upper Thumb last year at 13'3". The junior has already topped 13'9" in an indoor meet earlier this year.

Also expected to add to Bulldog point totals this year, according to Glidden, are son Jim in the dashes, 880 relay and long jump; Lenny Hallock, back for the fourth year in the 220 dash; Scott Gaeth in the shotput and the hurdles, and Robert LaFave in shotput and discus.

One area where the Bulldogs have been lacking the last few years is in the long distances. The coach is hoping freshman Frank Abfalter can remedy that in the mile and possibly in the two-mile.

Glidden, school maintenance man and bus driver, is hoping for good things from Gary Erickson in the 440-yard dash and Alan LeValley in the 220 dash, high jump and maybe the relays.

He expects the toughest competition to come from North Huron and Akron-Fairgrove. "We should be a contender," he said.

The girls' team, which finished sixth in the league meeting last year, is still a question mark this year, according to coach Smigill. There hasn't been enough practice time outdoors to do much evaluation.

The special education teacher plans to have her small squad concentrate on the longer events "because we don't have anybody speedy."

Running the 440 relay will be Joan Mosack, Jean Zimmer, Carol Zimmer and Dawn Mitchell.

Boni Wells will be in the 880 relay and 440 dash, Heidi Rockefeller and Marschelle Levine are shot putters and Leeann Ellicott will run the 880.

Usual starting time for meets is 4 p.m. The schedule:

April 14 at Kingston, with CPS
April 21 Caseville
April 24 CMU relays (boys)
April 25 SVSC relays (boys)
April 28 at A-F, with Port Hope
May 1 CMU relays (girls)

Green pitching staff problem facing O-G coach Phil Gray

Pitching is the big question mark as Owen-Gage nears the start of the baseball season.

After four years of relying on the right arm of Pete Klemkowsky, coach Phil Gray must rely this year on a relatively untested staff.

Senior Jim Kuhr, the No. 2 man on the mound last season, is expected to see most of the hurling duties.

The other pitchers are junior Randy Radabaugh, the sole lefthander, and freshman Alan LeValley, the hardest thrower of the trio.

In addition to the loss of Klemkowsky, an all-state second-team pitcher, now throwing for the University of Tulsa on an athletic scholarship, also gone from last year's team are all-conference shortstop Kirk Carolan, all-conference centerfielder Jeff Hallock, and Alan Haag, all-conference honorable mention infielder. The four were the team's leading hitters.

The 1980 squad finished 10-11 overall and 9-5 in the North Central D League, tied for second place.

Expected big gun this year is first baseman Terry Muntz, who batted .333 last season.

In addition to Muntz, other starters back from last year are Vince Salcido at third base, doubtful for early season because of a hand injury suffered in shop class; Radabaugh, in left field when he isn't pitching; centerfielder Scott Gaeth, who batted .300 in 1980, and catcher Jim Glidden, all-conference honorable mention at the position last season.

Other positions will be filled on a regular basis by Kuhr when not pitching or sophomore Paul Lopez, second base; Mark Furness or Kuhr or LeValley at shortstop, and Dan Glidden, right field.

Team members not previously mentioned are George Vargo and Jason Reinhardt, both outfielders. That illustrates one of Gray's problems, lack of depth.

The other big problem is lack of experience. Gaeth, Kuhr and Glidden are the only seniors.

The coach, who will be assisted by John Osterland, predicts the teams to beat in the league will be North Huron, which has all its pitchers back from last season, defending champion Carsonville-Port Sanilac and Kingston. "We'll try to sneak in there somewhere," said Gray, starting his sixth season at the helm.

League games start at 4 p.m. The schedule:

April 9 Deckerville (non-league)
April 27 at Carsonville-PS
April 30 at Peck
May 2 tourney at Ubyly (1 p.m.)
May 4 Akron-Fairgrove
May 7 Port Hope
May 9 at Ubyly (if win May 2)
May 11 North Huron
May 13 at Ubyly (non-league)
May 14 Kingston
May 19 at Caseville

Award Jim Kuhr $300 grant

Jim Kuhr, a senior at Owendale-Gagetown High School, is one of four recipients of Michigan High School Football Coaches Association scholarships.

Each year, the association awards four $300 scholarships to high school football players, based on scholarship and testing, leadership and character, and financial need. The money is sent to the college of their choice to be used in their freshman year of enrollment.

Kuhr is the son of Deacon and Mrs. Lambert (Bud) Kuhr of Gagetown.

The other winners are Michael Houghton, Warren Woods High School; Greg Nowall, Lincoln Consolidated High School, and Scott Syme, Richmond High School.

Owen-Gage football coach Arnie Besonen is the association's scholarship chairman.

O-G champs set to defend title

Owen-Gage starts the 1981 softball season in its usual position as defending North Central D League champions.

Under coach Judy Campbell, the girl Bulldogs have taken the title five years in a row, though they had to share it one year. Last year's squad finished 14-0 in the league and 18-2 overall and advanced to the regionals before losing.

The big advantage this year's team has is experience. "Even the bench has lots of experience," Miss Campbell said.

Owen-Gage is renowned for stealing bases, and that should continue. "We've got some quick people. We should have some speed back this year," she said.

Two of last year's three players to make the all-conference first team, Becky Howard and Julie Andrakowicz, are back.

The team does have some weak spots, however. For starters, Miss Campbell is still experimenting to determine who will fill the starting lineup spots vacated by graduates Carol Goslin at first (the other first teamer); Robin Sullivan at third and outfield; Tammy Kain, third and relief pitcher, and centerfielder Deb Gettel.

All were good batters, as well as good defensively, the coach pointed out.

Miss Campbell's other problem is pitching. "That's always a problem."

Handling the starting mound duties, as they did last year, will probably be Howard and Dana Laurie, with possibly Heidi Rockefeller as backup.

The coach looks for the toughest competition to come from Caseville, which has Michelle McCormick back pitching for the fourth year, and Kingston.

Normal game time is 4 p.m., with home games at the Gagetown village park field. The schedule:

April 9 Deckerville (non-league)
April 13 at Harbor Beach (scrimmage)
April 20 Unionville-Seb. (JV)
April 27 at Carsonville-PS
April 30 at Peck
May 4 Akron-Fairgrove
May 7 Port Hope
May 11 North Huron
May 14 Kingston
May 19 at Caseville
May 22 or 23 pre-districts
May 29 or 30 districts
June 6 regionals

Owen-Gage Honor Society

The Owendale-Gagetown High School cafeteria was the site of the induction of five members of the National Honor Society Tuesday, March 24.

After an invocation by Kristine Erickson and a welcome by Principal James Barr, Rev. Myra Sparks of the Gagetown and Owendale United Methodist churches gave some words of inspiration.

Following the lighting of candles ceremony, Honor Society President Juana Flores introduced the new members:

Seniors -- Loretta Hahn, Annette Rockefeller and Deirdra Thiek.

Juniors -- Karen Pritch and Jennifer Wood.

Science teacher Manuel Thies was awarded honorary membership.

Each new member was presented with the collar, pin and certificate of membership, plus flowers as an additional welcome from old members.

After closing remarks from Supt. Ronald Erickson, benediction was given by Tina Mandich. The evening ended with serving of refreshments.

Taking Stock

Notes From All Over — by a reporter who can't seem to stay home:

Anchorage, Alaska: Curator Van Horn of the Anchorage Museum is a dues-paying member of the Teamsters, possibly the only one of his breed in this union.

Nome, Alaska: Beer at a street bar, $2 a glass.

Savoonga, St. Lawrence Island, Bering Sea: Chester Noongwook, who now tends the radio for the Munz Airline plane that drops in twice a day from Nome, was the last dog-sled driver of the U.S. Postal Service. They replaced his team in 1963 with plane service and with snowmobiles. He used to make the 70-mile run, Savoonga to Gambell, in nine hours, which is speedy mushing.

Phoenix, Arizona: Buses built for the city by Greyhound, and recently delivered, all stopped one day last summer. A computer in each bus is set up to stop the engine when the temperature hits 110. That day it was 115 in Phoenix. The fellow who figured out that setting had apparently never lived there.

Phoenix, Arizona: Pharmacist at the county hospital recently quit in disgust over doctors over-prescribing for welfare patients, just to avoid the patients coming back for refills. One doctor ordered a gallon and a half of cough syrup for a patient.

Alpena, Michigan: Jean Reynolds is just crazy about alfalfa shoots as a salad. Her husband Bob says after a meal she looks like a white-whiskered cat.

Lansing, Mich.: H.C. Barton, former state trooper and ex-arson squad member, estimates 20 percent of fires of unknown origin are set, and most by the owner. There are few convictions for arson, because first of all, the state has to prove the crime has been committed, then that Joe Blow did it. Police hate to be stuck on arson duty, because they accomplish so little.

Alpena, Mich.: New Holiday Inn, plug-casting distance from Lake Huron, had no fresh fish on menu, only frozen.

Old Mission, Mich.: In this heart of cherry-land, there are no cherry pickers. Just shakers — contraptions that grip the base of the tree, shake cherries off in three minutes. (To be precise, 19 out of 20 of the old crew of pickers are no longer employed. The few who still have jobs to work on the unshakeable trees make $50.00 a day, if they're good.)

Growers say ridiculous federal regulations for migrant workers forced the mechanization. "A Holiday Inn couldn't qualify — honest-to-God — under the housing rules," one grower told us. "Schooling regulations were much stricter than those of Michigan, too. Buses had to make stops at every house, so no migrant had to walk further than his door to the road."

Anywhere in Michigan: State rules governing toilets in hospitals specify seat height shall be 19 inches. Federal rules say 17½ inches. Hospitals being built with federal funds somehow have to meet both standards, but it ain't easy. Some build to 17½ inches, pass the federal inspection, then add a 1½ inch layer to make the state happy.

Delray Beach, Fla.: A periodontist prescribes Phos-Flur (a fluoride compound) for which you pay $7. A Traverse City, Mich., dentist says to get Fluor-guard in the supermarket, same thing at $1.15. We checked labels on both, saw no difference in ingredients.

The ninth grader at South Intermediate School in Saginaw started the project two weeks after school started last fall and finished the chessmen at right only three days before the awards fair began.

SPECTATING — Looking at these two entries in the industrial arts fair are Kim Barnes, 3, and brother Brian, 6.

VIEWING the many entries on display Saturday and Sunday were hundreds of persons, both children and adults.

MOVING IN — Moving the 885 entries into the high school gym and setting them up for display took the efforts of some of the entrants and lots of volunteers.

More corn, dry beans, soybeans

The March prospective planting survey shows Michigan growers intend to plant more corn, soybeans and dry beans this year, according to the Michigan Agricultural Reporting Service.

Current indications are that 3 million acres of corn will be planted, up 2 percent from a year ago.

If realized, soybean planted acreage will set a new state record totaling 1.05 million acres, 9 percent more than last season.

Dry bean acreage, spurred by promising export markets will likely be up 5 percent, totaling 610,000 acres.

Otherwise, acreage for oats, sugarbeets, barley and all hay is currently intended for no change from last year's acreage. There should be 355,000 acres of oats planted; sugarbeets, 99,000 acres, and barley, 23,000 acres. All hay cut would total 1.3 million acres.

Nationally, corn plantings are expected to total 84 million acres, fractionally less than last year's planted acreage of 84.1 million acres. Soybean acreage of 69.8 million acres is down less than 1 percent from 1980. Dry bean acreage will increase 6 percent to 2 million acres, while oats will be up 1 percent to 13.5 million acres.

Intended acreage for barley climbs 10 percent to 9.1 million acres. Sugarbeet acreage is up 2 percent to 1.25 million acres, while all hay acreage to be cut, at 61 million acres, is up 3 percent from a year ago.
