

More money needed

School girds for massive campaign

The first steps in the campaign to keep Cass City schools financially afloat were taken at a special meeting of the Cass City School Board Monday evening.

The board received an outline from Dotty Scollon, campaign chairman, outlining campaign procedures that will start in January.

The early start in preparation for a special election tentatively scheduled for the last week in April is deemed essential because of the money that is needed.

District residents will probably be asked for 12.9 mills renewal and an additional 5 mills for operation.

Supt. Donald Crouse pointed out that the extra 5 mills is needed just to maintain the present tightened down curriculum.

Because of the variables in enrollment and state aid the amount needed is an estimation. Our best projection now indicates that the district will be $500,000 short of needed operating funds if the additional millage is not authorized, Crouse said.

This year the school is operating in the red but balanced the books by using reserve funds that were available.

The deficit and the built-in inflation caused in part by a 10 percent raise in teachers' salaries negotiated in the last year of a three-year contract ending next year are prime cause of the increase in operating funds needed.

Cass City has habitually been among the top four or five schools in the State with the lowest costs per pupil for operation.

If the voters approve the five mills, Crouse was asked, will that enable the school to offer all extra-curricular activities?

The superintendent wasn't able to give a definite answer but did point out that current projections show that $550,000 would be needed to operate in the black.

Five mills raises about $500,000 so the school still could be short even with the passage of the extra millage.

To get the campaign started, Mrs. Scollon presented outlines for various board members with duties to help pass the millage.

The campaign includes everything from house-to-house calls and a publicity blitz to work by boosters on election day.

HIRE LOVEJOY

The board accepted the resignation of Community

Education Director Kathleen O'Donnell who has accepted a similar position in Clarkston.

Replacing her will be Dave Lovejoy. Lovejoy is a former teacher in Cass City and principal at Deford and Caro.

Lovejoy said this week that he really enjoys working with people and can't wait to get started.

He will officially begin his new duties Jan. 3 but will spend time between now and then familiarizing himself with the new job, according to Crouse.

NEW POLICIES

A new policy concerning attendance and discipline edged closer to passage after discussion that carried over from a previous meeting.

The sticker for attendance is the board's reluctance to authorize a comprehensive test for students who miss 10 or more days of school per semester.

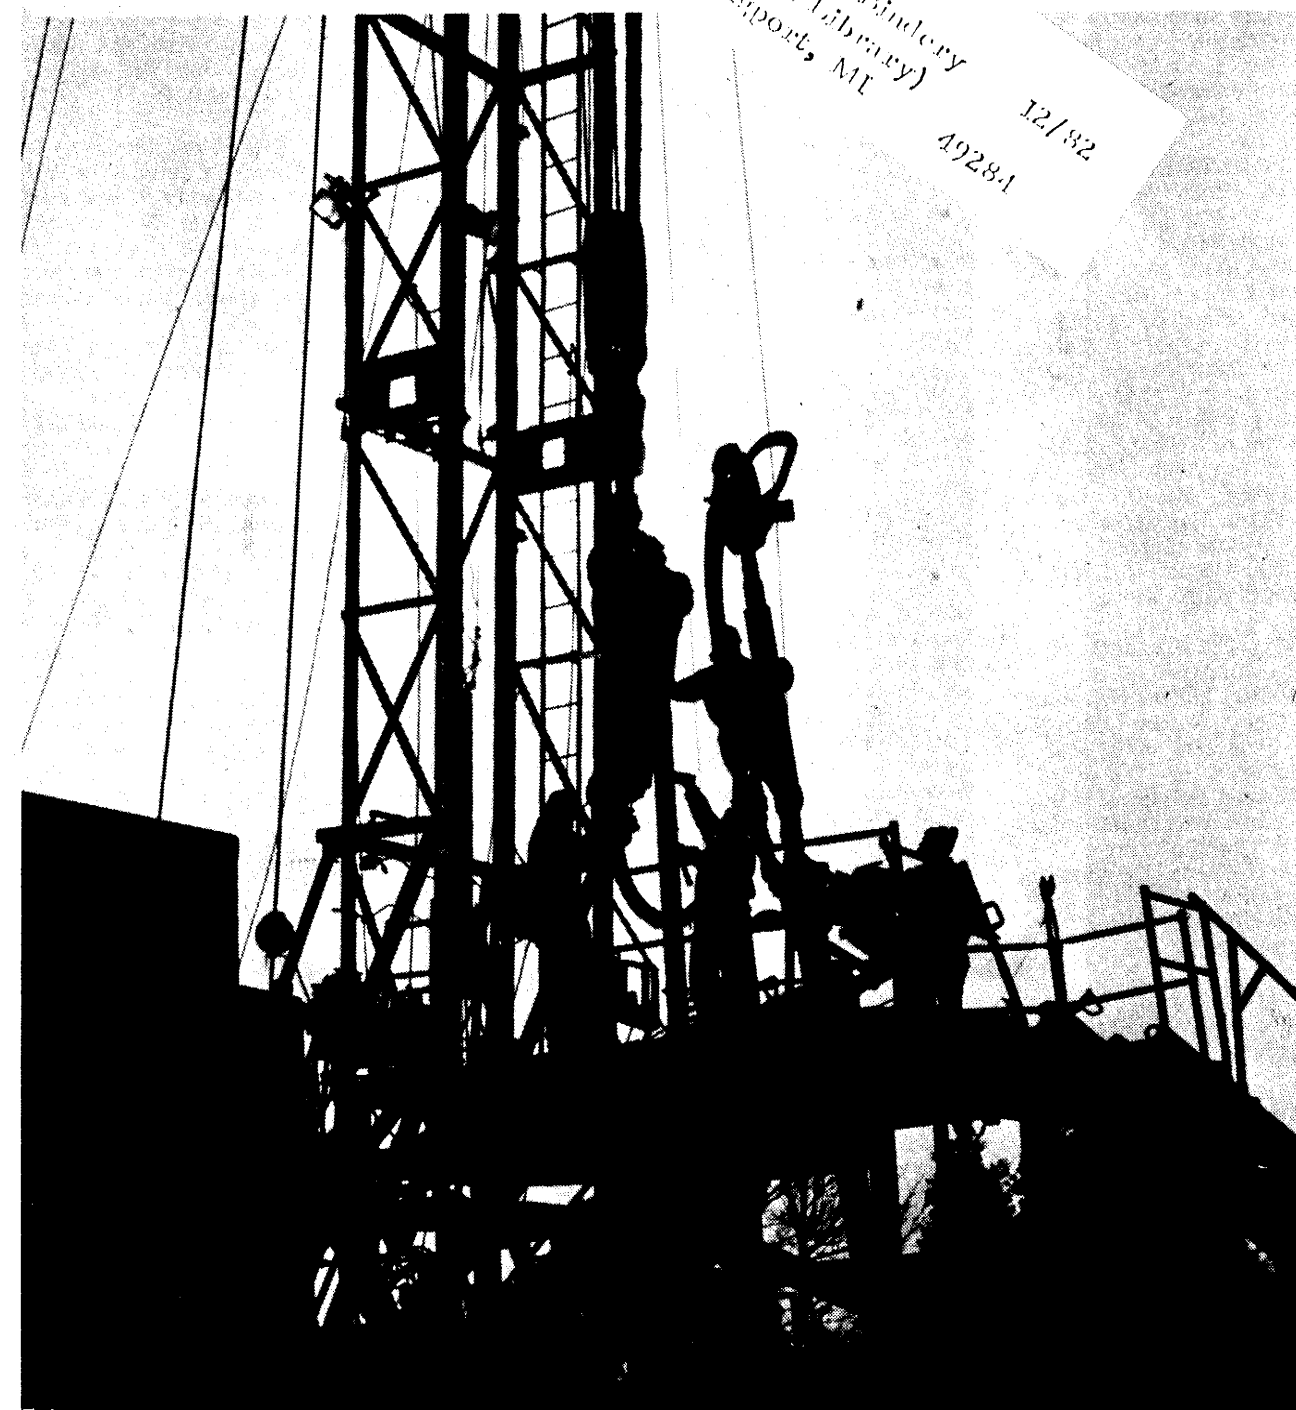

Students with excused absences shouldn't be required to take the test, Dick Albee said, unless all students took it.

A point system for various offenses will be established if the discipline code under discussion is adopted.

Following this discussion the board talked about discipline in the elementary schools after facts were presented by Principal Jackie Freiburger.

COMING APART -- Workmen for Freedom Drilling Co. started taking apart their drilling rig in Novesta township Thursday to move it to another site, after drilling to 3,623 feet. By Friday, it was gone.

Oil, gas or nothing for 3,600-foot Novesta well

A 3,623 foot well drilled in Novesta township may eventually produce oil or gas or it may not.

"At this point we don't honestly know what we have down there," said Tim Downing, geologist for Reef Petroleum of Traverse City, which is conducting the exploration.

The well was drilled on property owned by William Krawczyk of Imlay City, off Warner Road, south of De-

Long Road.

Drilling took 11 days, with the 3,623-foot depth being reached last Wednesday, according to DeWayne McCave, the on-site supervisor.

Reef contracted with Freedom Drilling Co. of Traverse City to do the drilling. The drilling rig has since been removed. It was taken to the Lake Orion area to drill another well.

Reef has spent more than $200,000 so far, Downing said. "That's why we're going to make sure."

The next step, he explained, is to analyze the information obtained, then select the most likely zone (depth) at which oil or gas might be found.

Then what is called a workover rig is brought in to perforate the pipe that is in the ground at the selected depth. Acid is injected into the ground at that point, which will cause any oil or gas to flow into the pipe.

Data obtained so far,

Downing explained, have been conflicting. "We're not sure it's not a dry hole," he explained.

If it isn't and oil or gas ultimately is produced, Gibraltar Oil Co. of Port Huron has a financial interest with Reef in what is produced.

Workover rigs are in short supply, Downing said, so it might be as much as six months before that step of the operation and the acidizing take place.

County commission districts redrawn

Districts have been redrawn for the Tuscola County Board of Commissioners.

The five-member reapportionment district approved the new districts last Wednesday, which now must be approved by the Michigan Secretary of State Richard Austin.

The new plan calls for seven members of the county board, the same as now, with none of the districts crossing township lines. At present, two townships are part of two districts.

Of most interest to Cass City area residents is district 2, which presently consists of Elkland, Elmwood, Ellington, Novesta townships and Kingston township east of Kingston Road.

The new district 2 eliminates Ellington township, but adds the west half of Kingston township. The rest stays the same. Total population, according to the 1980 census, is 7,807.

The other districts and their total population are as follows (map on page 18):

- 1) Wisner, Akron, Columbia, Almer and Ellington. 8,089.
- 3) Gilford, Fairgrove, Denmark and Juniata. 8,095.
- 4) Indianfields and Wells. 8,538.
- 5) Fremont, Dayton, Koylton, Watertown. 8,120.

6) Tuscola and Vassar. 8,691.

7) Arbel and Millington. 7,621.

The difference in population between the largest and smallest district is 1,070. The only requirement of the law is that all districts be as close in population as possible.

Whether the difference in population is small enough to be in compliance, county Treasurer Elgene Keller said, will be up to the secretary of state to decide.

State law specifies who sits on the reapportionment commission: County Clerk Elsie Hicks; Prosecutor Artis Noel; Mrs. Keller; county Republican Chairman Robert Tarrant; and county Democratic Chairman Kathleen Asher.

Present county commissioners will serve through December of next year. Candidates will first run in the new districts in the August, 1982, primary, followed by the general election in November.

The feeling of the commission members, Mrs. Keller explained, was that they did not want to divide townships into more than one district.

The smallest district in population, Millington and Arbel townships (No. 7), is also the fastest growing area of the county, so it was felt it will eventually become closer to the other districts in number of residents.

By Mike Eliasohn
First of two parts
Too much rain, low prices on some commodities and high interest rates have

Gloomy outlook for farmers hurt by low prices for most crops combined to create a dismal holiday season for farmers, and for businesses which sell to farmers.

"It's bad, lousy, whatever you want to call it," said Bob Wischmeyer, Cass City Wickes Elevator manager, "and it doesn't look like it's going to turn around for a while."

"I would say it's really too soon to tell," commented Kale Bradley, manager of the Agri-Sales (ex-Blount Agriculture) elevator in Gageton. "If our prices don't get better... there's going to be some (farmers) set back."

"We have to be hopeful something will turn us around after the first of the year," commented Tuscola County Extension Director Bill Bortel.

The big hope is that the price paid for corn, about $2.25 a bushel Monday, will increase. The price is down almost $1 from a year ago, Wischmeyer said. The price for wheat is also less than a year ago.

Unfortunately, the corn forecast isn't optimistic. "The March futures don't look favorable, the sales opportunities are poor and the market trend is sideways," Michigan State University agricultural economist John Ferris wrote recently.

He is "bullish" about wheat, however. Compared to the Monday price of about $3.70 a bushel, the futures price stabilized in mid-November at about $4.60. Farmers who signed with the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service will be eligible for payments, expected shortly, on their 1981 wheat crop. The target price is $3.81.

DRY BEANS

The best crop price compared to a year ago is for dry beans. The price Monday was in the low $30s.

Offsetting the higher price, however, is the sharp drop in yields, with the result that most farmers aren't any better off than they were last year, Wischmeyer said. A one-third loss in yield was typical in this area, he said.

Those who managed to get their beans off early are in much better shape and those who got their beans off late, if at all, are hurting.

Pat Goslin of Bay City-Forestville Road, Gageton, is in the former category. "I feel I had a decent year to get my beans off when I did."

The reason he was able to get them when he did is because his fields are tiled. "If my fields weren't tiled, I'd have been out there yet," Goslin grows about 200 acres of beans and 70 of wheat.

As for farmers in general, he commented this year is "definitely" worse than the last few.

I WILL BE at The Cass City State Bank Friday, Dec. 11, 1981 to collect winter taxes. Elkland Township Treasurer.

CORN

In terms of yields, this was an excellent year for corn. In Tuscola county, the average was more than 100 bushels per acre, which is more than normal, according to Bortel.

However, a lot of corn is still in the field as farmers wait for the wet ground to freeze hard enough to support their equipment.

Countywide, Bortel said, about 80-85 percent of the crop is off, but much less between Cass City and Kingston.

DAIRY FARMERS

Dairy farmers had a different problem. At the time they should have been chopping corn for feed, fields were too wet. By the time they could get to it, the corn was too dry, thus is of low nutritional value and can spoil easily. There are similar problems with alfalfa hay.

The result is that many dairy farmers, who normally grow all their own feed, will have to buy hay to feed their cows.

That means an additional expense, despite a drop in their income, though dairymen are still considered better off than cash crop farmers.

Due to a surplus of milk, the Michigan Milk Producers Association has reduced the super pool premium it pays to its members above the support price for milk, according to Les Severance of Severance Road, Decker, the MMPA Deford local president. "There's a whole lot more milk than there's a market for," he explained.

The MMPA and other dairy interests have tried to encourage dairymen to cut production to eliminate the surplus, but the amount of milk keeps increasing.

The problem, as explained by dairy farmer Theron Roach of Gilford Road, Deford, is, "If I did it and the next guy didn't, that's not doing me any good."

SUGAR BEETS

Milk producers aren't the only ones suffering from too much of their product being available. "There's a lot of sugar around," said Dave Sunderland, Michigan Sugar Co. vice-president in charge of agriculture. Not all the sugar comes from sugar beets, however, and some is imported.

Farmers who sell their beets to Michigan Sugar averaged 20.5 tons per acre, a little above average, with a sugar content of 15.4 percent, which is below average. That means more

Mayville woman perishes in fire

A 91-year-old Mayville area woman, Lena Bretzloff, died Monday night when fire broke out in her home.

Results of an autopsy performed Tuesday at St. Mary's Hospital in Saginaw were not immediately available, but it is believed she may have died from smoke inhalation.

Mayville firemen found her body near the front door. Cause of the fire in her Leix Road home is still under investigation. Her son, William Bretzloff of Millington, told investigating sheriff's officers he had warned her about using an electric heater too close to curtains.

A grandson, David Robinson, discovered the fire and went to a neighbor of his grandmother's to call the

More teams for battle of books

Children in Grades 3 through 6 are reminded that there is still time to participate in the second annual "Battle of the Books," sponsored by Rawson Memorial Library and the Cass City Intermediate and Elementary school libraries.

As of Tuesday, 13 teams were registered. Several other teams needed either more members or a team sponsor. A team consists of six students and an adult sponsor. Team want-ad boards are up at the libraries for students looking for a team or members.

Any adult willing to sponsor a team should call Barbara Hutchinson at Rawson Memorial Library. The sponsor acts as contact person between the team and the library, arranges transportation and helps with scoring and timekeeping.

Registration forms, book lists and the books are available at the libraries. Teams which are formed but have not turned in their registration are encouraged to do so as soon as possible. Anyone having questions may call Rawson Library, 872-2856.

Rabbit tracks

By John Haire

(And anyone else he can get to help)

As a school board member, Ben Hobart was requested to make speeches to various area service clubs concerning Cass City School and its financial situation.

He asked how you go about getting permission to talk to the clubs.

Any veteran club member could have told him that clubs are looking for speakers. There's no problem, no problem at all, Ben, as long as there is no charge.

It's sure in most schools that the danger of a false fire alarm is a greater hazard than, say, extortion or blackmail.

That must be the reason that Cass City School administrators suggest that extortion and blackmail earn the student 6 points against the record while a false alarm earns 12 points.

Blackmail in the school ranking rates on a par with using tobacco. Smoking also earns 6 points.

While on the subject of misconduct penalties at the school listen to this. Excessive show of affection is a one-point infraction.

Clarification of what excessive affection is was the topic of discussion. Supt. Don Crouse asked, if a boy and girl walk down the hall with their arms around each other, is that excessive?

One of the spectators immediately piped up, "depends on where he places his hand." (The name is withheld to protect the guilty).

Editor Mike Eliason was cruising on M-46 last week end and when he passed the Vassar golf course he spotted 6 golfers enjoying their sport.

Naturally, since Mike doesn't play, he figured that those golfers were slightly demented. We golfers know better than that, don't we.

For years now Wayne Dillon has been conducting a raffle based on the final total score of Cass City basketball games. Over the years when the ante was 25 cents I won more than my share.

But inflation has hit and now it costs $1 to play and my luck probably has run out.

The reason for the big increase in price is that 50 cents of every buck goes to the school boosters for extracurricular activities.

That makes every player a winner every time they enter.

Agriculture Day slated Dec. 16

Farm management and future agricultural equipment will be the two main topics discussed at Thumb Agriculture Day Wednesday, Dec. 16, at the Colony House on M-53, south of Bay City-Forestville Road.

The annual event is sponsored by the Cooperative Extension Service and Thumb area agri-businesses. The latter will have 64 commercial exhibits of their products. Admission is free.

Last year, more than 1,000 persons attended. Doors open at 8 a.m. to view the exhibits.

"Management - the game of life," will be discussed at 10:30 a.m. by Bob Suter, Purdue University agricultural economist.

The other main speaker will be Stan West of International Harvester Co. His topic, starting at 1:35 p.m., will be "agricultural equipment of the '80s and beyond."

Someone who won't be present is U.S. Secretary of Agriculture John Block. It was prematurely announced a few months ago he would be the main speaker. He was invited, but didn't accept.

Doors will open at 8 a.m. for viewing of commercial exhibits. Door prizes will be awarded at 10, 1:25 and 2:30 p.m.

Other speakers and their topics will be: 10:05 a.m., conservation tillage, Mike Score, extension agricultural agent, Tuscola and Huron counties; 10:10, farm service cooperatives, Rex Sieting, Sanilac county Extension director; 10:17, crop production costs, Bill Bortel, Tuscola county extension director; 10:23, spring grains in the Thumb, Mary Score, Huron county extension agricultural agent, and 1:30 p.m., commodity market report, Bob Driscoll, Michigan Farm Radio Network.

"If It Fitz..."

Pearl Harbor Day

By Jim Fitzgerald

My favorite newspaper invited readers to submit written reports on where they were 40 years ago today, how they first heard about the attack on Pearl Harbor and how it changed their lives. OK. I was playing snooker in Curley Peloso's poolroom on Water Street in Port Huron. News of the bombing came from Curley's radio. I didn't think it would change my life much.

I was too dumb to know where Pearl Harbor was, but smart enough to know I was lucky to be only 15 years old. I figured the war would be over before the draft got me.

My best friend wanted to enlist as soon as possible so he could kill the dirty Japs and Germans, but John Wayne movies never persuaded me that there was glory and fun in killing. I said my friend was stupid, and he said I was a coward. We were both as right as we were wrong.

I had a newspaper route then, and my first contribution to the war effort was to sell defense stamps to my customers. Except I would pick up my stamp allotment at the Times Herald office once a week and immediately sell most of them at the post office across the street to raise cash for gambling on Curley's snooker table. I may have been the nation's youngest war profiteer.

Eventually, of course, I would have to pay the newspaper for the stamps, but I always worried about that tomorrow. Fortunately, there came a tomorrow when man-poor defense plants hired boys to work after school to help fill the arsenal of democracy. Suddenly I was rich, and out of debt. War wasn't so bad at all.

But one day the entire enrollment of St. Stephen's School was abruptly summoned into church to hear from the pastor, Father E.J. McCormick. He announced the death of Bill McGill in Italy. Just a few years earlier, Bill had been the school's best athlete and most popular student. Now he was the first St. Stephen's graduate to be killed in World War II.

And early in my senior year, a classmate named Tommy Knapp quit school to become a paratrooper. He was a small, shy kid, and I could never imagine him bravely jumping out of a plane, as though he were John Wayne. But he did, over France, and Tommy was dead long before the day he would have graduated from high school.

The war was getting very bad. It refused to end on time, and I was drafted after a consultation between two Army doctors who decided a 6-foot-1 boy who weighed only 115 pounds could be of some military use, perhaps for cleaning the inside of rifle barrels.

I received basic training at Ft. Knox, Ky., where, during my first week, I went for a walk and became lost among the thousands of look-alike buildings. When I asked directions from a bunch of husky soldiers playing soccer in their underwear, they grinned and talked a language I didn't understand. I thought I'd been drafted into the wrong army. Later I learned the soccer players were Italian war prisoners.

I also learned later I was in the wrong army. While the U.S. troops marched and scrubbed and otherwise suffered, the grinning Italians kicked their soccer ball and went to movies in Louisville where the girls were. I asked my sergeant if I could renounce my citizenship, join the other side and surrender.

Instead, I was shipped to France ahead of schedule because of some action that soon became well-known as the Battle of the Bulge. A few months later, on the day the war in Europe ended, I was in a German hospital recovering bravely from a cold caught while washing a half-track without my galoshes on. I arrived back in New York, on my way to the South Pacific, on the day the war ended in Japan.

I thought that was as lucky as being 15 years old on Dec. 7, 1941. Forty years later, I still feel lucky that World War II changed my life a lot less than it changed the life of Tommy Knapp.

And I feel sad that some things never change. Today, at Ft. Knox, young men are still being trained to kill in wars started by old men. That is something to cry about on Pearl Harbor Day.

Watching Harbor Beach play basketball Friday night took me back to the 1940's and '50's when basketball was played for 3 1/2 months in winter and forgotten about on an organized basis until the following season.

That's not really the way it is, Steve Budzynski, Pirate coach, said this week. Harbor Beach did try to have a basketball program last summer. But it didn't amount to much for a couple of reasons.

Like most other schools, Harbor Beach has money woes and what the future held wasn't clear last summer. Now it is and only the varsity plays at Harbor Beach. No Junior Varsity or freshman competition.

Budzynski had the gym open two nights a week for a month after school was out but there wasn't much participation. Kids were on the farm and couldn't get in, he said.

Maybe it's because the Pirates have a weak team, but there's not too much fan support. The visitors' section of the gym last Friday was nearly empty.

Certainly this will place the Beachers at a severe disadvantage when they play most other schools in the Thumb.

Cass City is not unusual with its program. There's a host of boys this season that never played in regular season varsity competition until last Friday.

The key words are regular season. Every player on the squad is a veteran of 15 or more games played against other schools last summer. Many of them have two summers under their belt.

The program is a credit, of course, to Coach Ron Nurnberger. Before he arrived there never was a successful summer program in Cass City.

There's little doubt that a summer program is essential if a winner is wanted. And coaches that don't win don't last.

The fans want a winner. The pressure to build a winner has made teams better, much better than ever before. The best teams of the '40's and '50's would wilt before an average team today.

That's not saying that the way it's done today is better than it was 30 years ago. It may well be that today there's too much emphasis on the major sports. It's a year-around job for the athlete with little letup.

CHEERFUL FREE GIFT WRAPPING

Pedaling Around Down the tubes

By Mike Eliasohn

I own two television sets. As a matter of fact, I am watching one as I type this. One is in my apartment; the other is at work. If I didn't have the latter to watch in the evening, I would rarely see anything on the tube.

Most television programs aren't so involved that I can't watch them and type at the same time.

An exception is "Hill Street Blues," which is my favorite show. The main reason I can't watch while I type is that it has about 10 plots going on per episode.

At home I manage to eat dinner, watch the news and read at the same time, but that's when there is only one plot on the air. The advantage of watching TV, reading and eating at the same time is that I don't have to concentrate on what I am eating.

I may never have had food poisoning, but I never said my cooking was that great.

I started watching TV and typing at work in the evenings my first year here. November was about over and it occurred to me I hadn't seen any of the new television programs yet.

So far this season, I have seen four new shows, three of which have already been cancelled.

One starred Gabe Kaplan and its loss won't be one. Another was "Nashville Palace," which was enough to set country music back 20 years.

The third, "Jessica Novak," starred Helen Shaver, who was one of the two featured performers a few years ago in the most boring program ever on television.

It was called "United States." Anybody remember it?

The show was not about patriotism. It dealt with a married couple and their "united state" of matrimony.

Maybe the reason there are so many divorces these days is that the conversations between many married couples are as boring as those in the program. Other than the conversations, there wasn't much that went on in "United States."

As for "Jessica Novak," it is getting knocked off the air by "Hill Street Blues," of all shows, which now has the distinction of being the highest rated program in its time slot (10 p.m. Thursdays).

Last season, "Hill Street Blues" had the distinction of being the lowest ranked show to ever be renewed. This year, last I read, its ratings are now respectable, though not spectacular. As for my other favorite show, "Lou Grant," it's now back for, I think, its fourth year.

That almost sets another record. There are few shows I like that last that long.

Some don't even last a season. Several years back there was a show called, if I remember correctly, "Beacon Hill." It got cancelled after about 10 episodes.

There was a real funny baseball comedy a few years back called "Ball Four." Four was also the number of episodes that were on.

Going back even farther was another comedy, "He and She," starring Dick Benjamin and Paula Prentiss. That lasted a season.

When I started this, I was going to write about how too many Americans watch too much television and how cable television is creating some families of zombies.

I was going to say that some families only go outside to go to work, school and to buy groceries, but I'll save that for another time.

Heart attack believed cause of death

A Unionville area man, Leo Brandmair, found lying face down in a ditch full of water Sunday, is believed to have died of a heart attack and fallen in it, according to the Tuscola County Sheriff's Department.

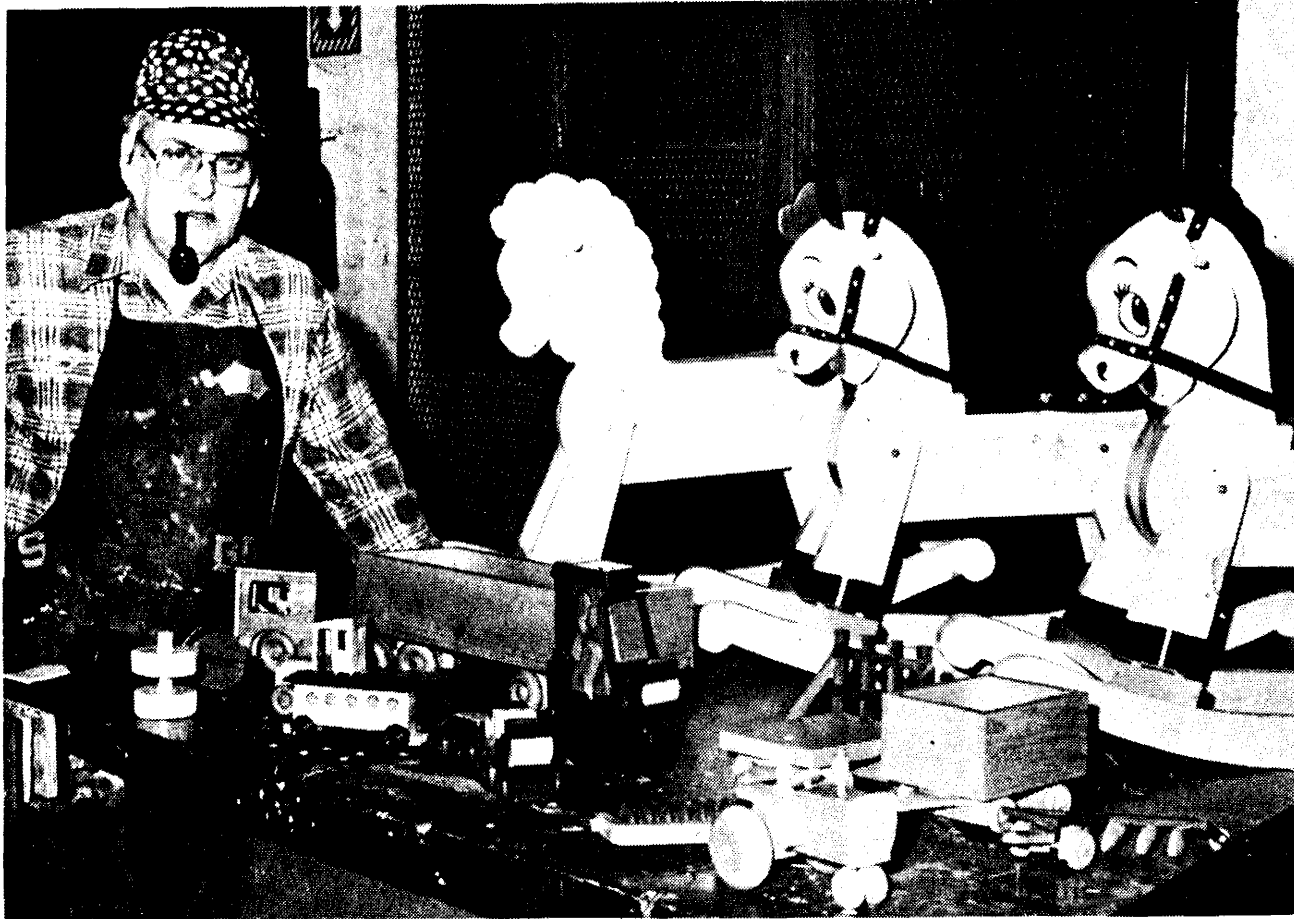

Brandmair, 79, was working in the ditch in front of his home at 4440 French Road, Columbia township. He was discovered by his wife, who called the sheriff's department at 3:42 p.m. and said she couldn't get him out.

An autopsy was performed, but results weren't immediately available.

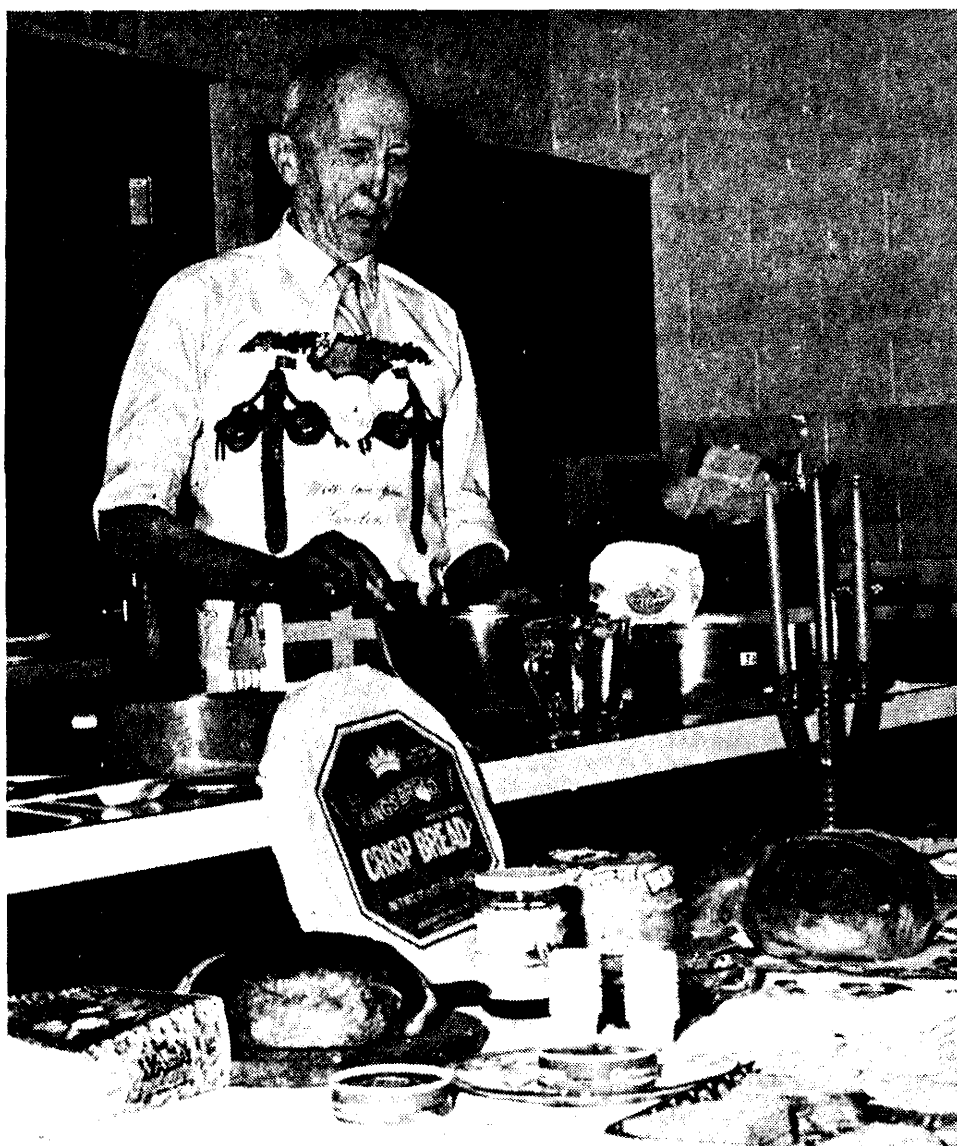

Funeral services will be Thursday.

Board okays $4.25 million 1982 budget

The Tuscola County Board of Commissioners Tuesday gave unanimous approval to a 1982 county budget calling for general fund revenue and expenditures of $4.25 million.

The budget is unchanged from the one first presented Nov. 9 and given tentative approval by the board the following day.

The projected expenditure in 1982 compares to $4.09 million the county will probably spend this year, a difference of $155,400.

Most of the increase is due to expenses the county has no control over, such as the cost of caring for its mentally retarded and ill citizens who live in state institutions, hospitalization insurance for county employees, insurance for buildings, vehicles, etc., bonds, retirement benefits and Social Security.

The budget balances precariously. A big factor in how precarious it will be is the contract to be negotiated with courthouse employees. The present pact expires at the end of this year.

Negotiations between the board and the employees' union start Thursday.

A pleasant note was the announced receipt of $18,000 reimbursement from the state for foster child care, which hadn't been expected.

Commissioners made numerous appointments Tuesday, effective Jan. 1: Canvassing Board — Reappointed to four-year terms were Esther McCullough, Cass City, and Milford Culbert, Fairgrove.

Planning Commission — Reappointed to three-year terms were Leon Keinath, Millington, Norman Cassie, Kingston, and Jack Desimpelare, Unionville.

Department of Public Works — County Drain Commissioner Stan Henry for a three-year term, replacing former Drain Commissioner Ed Goodchild.

Community Mental Health Services Board — of seven nominated for three-year terms, selected were William Scott, Caro; Patricia Gilchrist, Millington; Commissioner Margaret Wentz, Fostoria, and Kathie Athey, Clio mailing address. Mrs. Athey is the only new member.

CHINA PAINTING — Mary Ashcroft of Caro shared her expertise in china and porcelain painting at the holiday art program Saturday. About 150 persons attended the first annual event.

NEEDLEWORK — Marge Henderson of Kingston demonstrated various needleworking techniques, including Japanese embroidery, needlepoint and silk and metal embroidery.

HEALTH TIPS

Variety of things can cause earache

By Frank Chappell
Science News Editor
American Medical Association

There are many causes for pain in the ear.

One of the most common, particularly in summer, is an infection of the outer ear caused by swimming in contaminated water. This earache is called "swimmer's ear."

Symptoms are pain (particularly when the ear is pulled), itching and discharge. Medical attention is required.

Earaches in the middle ear often follow respiratory infections. Germs in the nose and mouth move into the middle ear. Children are particularly susceptible to middle ear infections.

Infected tonsils also can cause a middle ear infection. An infant with ear infection cries loudly, particularly when lying down, pulls or bats at his ear, or turns his head from side to side.

Medical attention is required for all middle ear infections. Do not put cotton swabs, hairpins, matches or anything else in the ear.

Children often put objects into their ears, these might be peas, beans, beads, paper or cotton. Insects also may get trapped inside the ear.

If the insect is alive and buzzing, put several drops of warm oil (baby, mineral or olive oil) into the ear to kill the insect. This is the only time putting oil into the ear is justified. Go to the doctor to have the insect removed.

Other small objects trapped inside the ear also need medical attention for removal.

The only possible exception is paper or cotton, if it is clearly visible outside the ear canal. One attempt to remove it may be carefully made with tweezers. See a doctor to make certain all of it has been removed.

The American Medical Association's Handbook of First Aid and Emergency Care cautions: Do not put water or oil into the ears to attempt to flush out the object. This may cause the object to swell and make removal even more difficult.

Bleeding from the ear is a medical emergency. Do not try to stop the flow of blood.

Cover the ear loosely with a bandage or cloth to catch the flow of blood and go promptly to the doctor or hospital emergency room.

Crisis Center picks officers for 1982

The Tuscola County Assault Crisis Center met Nov. 19 for its annual potluck and election of officers.

The new officers for the upcoming year are Marsha Schneider, president; Sue Hadaway, vice-president; Lauren Keineth, secretary and Bob Baer, treasurer. Serving on the board will be Alvine Eineke, Linda Letson, Karen Kopka, and Ron Schneider.

Monthly meetings are held the last Thursday of the month at the Human Development Commission, 429 Montague Street, Caro, at 7:30 p.m.

Persons who are victims of domestic assault (beating by a husband or wife), sexual assault or child sexual abuse can obtain help by calling 1-800-292-3666 toll-free and ask for a member of the Assault Crisis Center.

44 attend O-G Senior Citizens

The Owen-Gage Senior Citizens met at the Gagetown fire hall last Thursday.

There were 44 members present. Thirty-two blood pressure readings were taken.

The Christmas party will be Dec. 17 at the Owendale Municipal Building.

Everyone is supposed to bring a Christmas poem to read and a $2 gift to exchange.

Clarence Diebel won the men's door prize. Mrs. Mable Ondrajka won the women's door prize.

Donations sought from dairymen

The first two weeks in December is the 1981 campaign period for making pledges for the Meadows Endowed Chair for dairy management research and education at Michigan State University.

The goal is $750,000, the income from the monies to finance continued programs of research and education. About $450,000 has been obtained or pledged. The remaining $300,000 may be pledged this month.

Dairy leaders for the Endowed Chair have provided opportunities for all Michigan dairymen to make a pledge of at least $1 per cow (in the herd for a five year period). Almost all Michigan dairymen received a pledge card and a business reply envelope to Michigan State University Foundation with their current milk check.

Wilfred Binder, Bad Axe, and Harold Gremel, Sebewaing, may be contacted for further information.

Craft Club meets Monday

The Deford Craft Club will meet Monday at 6 p.m. at the Novesta Church of Christ for its Christmas party. Members should bring craft ideas for January.

You can Bank on it!

Q. I recently inherited $1,000. That's not much and certainly not enough to make any kind of large investment. But, I would like to keep it safe and have it earn as much as possible because to me, it is a lot. What do you suggest?

A. $1,000 is a beginning toward earning additional income. For maximum return and safety, deposit it in a savings account or investment certificate at an insured bank. You'll get very good return in interest, and your money will be absolutely safe, as guaranteed by the insurance programs administered for banks. Also, you might want to take a close look at All-Savers Certificates. With denominations as low as $500, good rates of interest and insured protection, you can hardly miss. In addition, you'll realize a tax savings because the interest earned, within certain limits, is non-taxable.

Pre-marriage seminar set in Cass City

All engaged couples are invited to attend the pre-marriage seminar being presented by qualified personnel from Catholic Family Service (CFS) of the Thumb Area.

Theme for the seminar is key elements in developing a strong marital relationship. Learning the skills of effective communications is one such vital element to a better overall marriage relationship.

The seminar will be Sunday, Jan. 10, at St. Pancratius Parish Hall, S. Seeger St., Cass City, from 12:15-5:30 p.m.

For further information and to register, call CFS at 269-7931 in Bad Axe or (313) 648-2304 in Sandusky or contact your pastor.

Pre-marriage seminars will also be offered March 14 at St. Josephs, Sandusky; June 13, Sacred Heart, Caro, and Oct. 10 at Sacred Heart, Bad Axe.

Study Club members sing in concert

Eleven members of the Gagetown Women's Study Club attended the do-it-yourself Messiah concert Sunday at the Temple Theatre in Saginaw.

More than 2,000 persons plus the Saginaw Symphony and the Saginaw Choral Society participated.

Following the concert, the club members had dinner at the Brentwood in Caro.

Members should take their gifts for the Medical Care Facility to Janet Martin before Dec. 15.

ORDINANCE NO. 107

An Ordinance To Establish Water and Sewer Charges and Regulations Covering The Same Within The Village of Cass City And Areas Adjacent Thereto; Termination of Services And Enforcement Procedures

The Village of Cass City Ordains:
1. A deposit of $10.00 shall be required from new subscribers for service within the Village limits, and $15.00 from new subscribers for service to any area outside the Village limits, to be held without interest to insure collection of a final charge in case of cancellation of service, or, if not cancelled, to be refunded to the depositor after three years time if credit investigation warrants.
2. The turn-on charge for water service shall be $5.00.
3. The charge for sewage disposal service for all users is based upon the water consumption, water meter size, extra strength surcharges, if any, and industrial costs recovery charges, if any. The total quarterly charge for all users is the sum of (a) the service charge set forth in Schedule A, (b) the commodity charge set forth in Schedule A, (c) the extra strength surcharges set forth in Schedule B.

Schedule A - Service Charge

(a) For those users who use Village Sewer and Water, the charge shall be as follows:

Meter Size (inches)	Allowance (K gal.)	Fixed Charges (K gal.)	Commodity Charge	Minimum Serv. Charge
5/8 & 3/4	0-10	$ 5.08	$ 4.54	$ 26.50
1	16	8.13	7.26	42.40
1½	33	16.76	14.98	85.45
2	53	26.92	24.06	140.45
3	100	50.80	45.40	265.00
4	160	81.28	72.64	424.00
6	330	167.64	149.82	874.50

*K gal. = 1000 gal.

All users located outside Village limits shall pay double the above rates.

All users of the system whose use is greater than the allowance shall be billed at a rate of $2.65/K gal. or part thereof over the allowance in addition to the above minimum service charge.

(b) Those users who use Village Sewer and non-Village water may:
(1) install a Village approved water meter, so their usage can be charged as scheduled above, or
(2) pay for their usage at a rate of 1 1/2 times the allowance per quarter, with the meter size to be estimated by the Village Council or its appointee.
(c) In event the metering facilities shall fail to operate or register flow correctly, the charge shall be based upon the estimate of the Village Council or its appointee of the water consumption for that billing period.

Schedule B - Extra Strength Surcharges

For all industrial users of the Sewage Disposal System whose flow contains suspended solids, B.O.D. or phosphorus in excess of 270 mg/l of suspended solids or 260 mg/l of B.O.D. or 11 mg/l of phosphorus, there is hereby established the following extra strength surcharges. The surcharges shall be imposed only on the discharged quantities in excess of the aforementioned limits and shall be in addition to the charge set forth in Schedule A.

Extra Strength Surcharge	COMMODITY CHARGE
Suspended Solids	$0.419 per lb.
B.O.D.	$0.203 per lb.
Phosphorus	$1.564 per lb.
4. The quarterly charge for water service for all users, based upon water consumption, shall be as follows:
ALLOWANCE
Minimum 0-5,000	$10.56
5,001-15,000	99 per K
15,001-25,000	856 per K
25,001-200,000	726 per K
over 200,000	564 per K
Outside Village Limits	Double the above rates plus $10.00

5. Charges for services furnished by the system shall be billed and collected quarterly. Bills and notices relating to the conduct of the business of the sewage system will be mailed to the customer at the address listed on the application, unless a change of address has been filed in writing at the business office of the Village, and the Village shall not otherwise be responsible for delivery of any bill or notice, nor will the customer be excused from non-payment of a bill or from any performance required in said notice.

(a) Bills for sewer and/or water services are due and payable at the business office of the Clerk or to any designated agent on their date of issue. The past-due date shall be the 30th day after the period billed.
(b) All bills not paid on or before the past-due date shall be termed delinquent and be subject to a 10% delinquency penalty. In the event that any such past-due charges are not paid within 30 days of the past-due date, then the Village water supply to such premises shall be discontinued. Services so discontinued shall not be restored until all sums then due and owing for water and/or sewer services, including penalties, plus a $5.00 turn-on charge, are paid. A ten (10) day notice of intention to discontinue services shall be sent to the delinquent customer.
6. Charges for water and/or sewer services furnished to any premises shall be a lien thereon and may be assessed on the tax roll and said lien may be enforced and collected in the same manner prescribed by the general laws of the State of Michigan providing for enforcement of tax liens.

(a) The official records of the Village of Cass City pertaining to the water and sewer system of the Village shall constitute notice of the pendency of the lien.
(b) In addition to the above remedy, the Village may institute suit for the collection of water and/or sewer charges in a court of competent jurisdiction, but no attempt to collect such charges and assessments by such suit shall in any way invalidate or waive the lien upon the premises.
(c) A landlord shall be held responsible for the payment of the water and sewer charges incurred by his or her tenant. It shall be the responsibility of a landlord to inform the Village Clerk when a tenancy begins and terminates.
7. All persons or firms using water for purposes in which the water does not become polluted, may discharge such water to the storm sewer instead of the sanitary sewer by paying for the necessary meters and the installation of same for measuring such water and the charges for connecting into the storm sewer system.
8. Ordinance No. 57 adopted March 14, 1963, relating to the establishment of water and sewer charges and regulations, and all other ordinances or rate schedules inconsistent with the provisions of this ordinance are hereby repealed as of the date this ordinance takes effect.
9. The provisions of this ordinance are hereby declared to be severable, and if any clause, sentence, paragraph, section or subsection is declared void or inoperative for any reason, it shall not affect any other part or portion thereof.
10. This ordinance shall become effective twenty (20) days after its adoption.

Enacted by the Village Council of Cass City, Tuscola County, Michigan, this 1st day of December, 1981.
On roll call - vote was: Yeas 5, Nays 0.

Lambert E. Althaver, Village President

Joyce A. LaRoche, Village Clerk

I hereby certify that the above is a true copy of the Ordinance adopted at the regular meeting of the Village Council of the Village of Cass City, Tuscola County, Michigan, held December 1, 1981.

Joyce A. LaRoche, Village Clerk

Your Neighbor says

I'm not planning any big purchases

Consumers are worried about high interest rates, unemployment and depleting their savings and will be making fewer purchases in the near future, according to a recent nationwide survey conducted by the University of Michigan Institute for Social Research.

Dave Doerr classifies himself with the majority of the respondents to that survey. "I'm trying to put some money away," he said.

For many persons, he said, "You just don't know from one day to the next whether you're going to be working or not."

Such a situation "doesn't help the economy, does it?" he continued. "It's kind of a vicious cycle, isn't it?"

Doerr has been employed at the Caro Regional Center for five years. There have already been layoffs there and there are rumors more persons will lose their jobs, he said.

What is needed to turn the economy around? Job security, Doerr responded.

Also, "The automobile industry has got to make a comeback, somehow."

What would Doerr like to do if he had the job security and the money? "I really want to buy a house or property, but I don't want to get into debt."

As for his 1979 model car, "As long as it runs alright, I'm not too concerned about buying a new one."

Doerr is single and lives on Cemetery Road, Cass City.

Church sets special programs

Special services for the balance of the year have been announced at the DeFord Community church.

Following the Sunday school hour this Sunday, there will be a Christmas dinner for the five bus drivers and all the bus riders, followed by one Dec. 16 at 6 p.m. for the Sunday school department and the junior department.

Other activities include a Christmas party Dec. 18 at 8 p.m. for the junior and senior high youth. Sunday, Dec. 20, at 10 a.m. the primary and the primary departments will present a Christmas program. At 7 p.m. will be a program by the adults and teens.

The year will close on New Year's Eve with a family communion service from 7-10 p.m.

Shabbona RLDS Women raise $900

The Shabbona RLDS Women's Department's regular meeting was Nov. 19 with Mrs. Don Smith. A noon luncheon was served by the hostess.

After lunch, the meeting was called to order by Mrs. Dean Smith, women's leader. Marie Meredith was in charge of the worship. Roll call was to bring a gift for a needy child.

The lesson was by Mrs. Robert Sawdon. The secretary's report was given by Mrs. Don Mackowiak and treasurer's report by Miss Meredith. She reported over $900 was taken in at the recent bazaar.

The next meeting will be the evening of Dec. 17 at the home of Mrs. Ryerson Puterbaugh. There will be a $1 gift exchange for everyone. Those who have a secret friend should bring their gift. The worship will be by Mrs. Don Smith.

Milk meet scheduled in Cass City

For months, dairy production has far exceeded demand, while federal support has lessened and bottle milk appears to be losing to competition by other beverages.

What can be done to change these current circumstances within the dairy industry will be discussed at a special seminar being sponsored by the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service in nine locations.

One of the meetings will be Jan. 28 at the Masonic Temple, Maple and Garfield Streets, Cass City. The day before there will be a seminar at the Veterans of Foreign Wars hall in Brown City.

Seminar topics will probe milk marketing problems, trends in market returns, management for financial survival, improved feeding and milk quality production recommendations.

Speakers will include Tom Angott, Detroit Pure Milk Co. president; William McCarthy, Michigan Department of Agriculture, and MSU specialists Glynn McBride, economist, Sherrill Nott, economist, Donald Hillman, dairy nutritionist, and Roger Mellenberger, dairy physiologist.

Each seminar will start at 9:30 a.m. and conclude at 3 p.m. Registration fees (primarily for meals) are under $10 and arrangements should be made at least one week in advance. Details may be obtained from the local county MSU Cooperative Extension Service office.

New books at the library

COMPLETE ENCYCLOPEDIA OF EXERCISES (non-fiction). For the first time ever, more than 350 different exercises -- all clearly presented -- are in one book. Practical and fully illustrated step-by-step instructions enable everyone -- of any age or level of fitness -- to create and vary their own exercise program so that it meets their individual and changing needs.

PATHFINDERS by Gail Sheehy (non-fiction). Author Sheehy discovered that true Pathfinders are people who come through an adult crisis or passage in a creative and expanding way, who are willing to take risks and who do not fear change. Through personal histories, analysis and example, Ms. Sheehy shows that all of us have the qualities of personality that fortify Pathfinders in seeking uncommon solutions to common life crises. She explains how each of us can become Pathfinders in our own lives.

REMEMBRANCE by Danielle Steel (fiction). A glamorous, triumphant love story follows two beautiful women through decades of love, loss, and sacrifice. Left homeless by World War II, Serena, Principessa di San Tibaldo, marries Major Brad Fullerton and returns with him to America. But they take with them a dark secret that stays with Serena and her baby daughter, Vanessa, even after Brad's death. A new, explosive love for Serena has consequences for the daughter whose womanhood she never lives to see. And Vanessa carries on -- finally restored to past and future by her mother's legacy of love.

SELF-EMPLOYED

RETIREMENT PLAN

WHAT

The Keogh (Kē'ō) Plan is a retirement plan for self-employed individuals. Each year, make a deductible contribution of $7500 or 15% of your annual income, (whichever is less). Over the years you will build up a substantial savings.

WHEN

In order to qualify for the 1981 tax year, you must sign up before Dec. 31, 1981.

WHY

You do not receive such a deduction from your gross income from any other type of savings plan. For a taxpayer in the 40% bracket, a contribution of $7500 would save you $3000 of taxes.

WHERE

All the details are available at Thumb National, of Pigeon and Cass City.

A substantial interest penalty is required for early withdrawal of time savings.

Thumb Electric given award

The Michigan Department of Labor has approved the self-insurance program of the Michigan Electric Cooperative Association (MECA) and 11 participating rural electric cooperatives.

The MECA Board of Directors received the certificate of approval for the self-insurance fund from the department's Bureau of Workers' Disability Compensation during a board meeting in Lansing Dec. 2-3.

MECA General Manager Ray Kuhl said the self-insurance program is expected to save participating cooperatives tens of thousands of dollars a year. Rural electric co-ops participating include Thumb Electric Cooperative.

Also at the meeting, Thumb Electric was presented with the safety accreditation award of the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association. The awards are presented every three years only to cooperatives that can verify a safety record that passes stringent requirements. The award was given to Thumb board member Leon Smith, Carsonville, and Manager Michael Krause.

Tuscola County

Sealed bids will be received from independent contractors to perform general cleaning duties at the Tuscola County Courthouse. Cleaning to be performed between the hours of 3:30 p.m. and 8:00 a.m., Monday thru Friday.

Details of duties requested may be obtained from the Building Supervisor, located in the Courthouse Annex, 207 E. Grant, phone 673-7711.

Bids will be opened December 22, 1981, at 2 p.m. in the Board of Commissioners Room, 440 N. State St., Caro.

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

FIVE YEARS AGO

Jim Winchester, Gagetown, is one of Hills and Dales General Hospital's oldest and most enthusiastic employees. Winchester has personally helped raise over $8,000 in pledges to the building fund.

A divided Tuscola County Board of Commissioners gave its okay to a consent order aimed at closing 17 unlicensed landfills.

A total of $365,519 in gifts and pledges was reported in the Hills and Dales General Hospital building fund campaign.

Tuscola county will face a housing shortage of nearly 2,000 units by 1980, with low and moderate income families feeling much of the crunch, according to a recently released report by the East Central Michigan Planning and Development Region.

The Cass City girls' basketball team came to the end of the tournament trail as it bowed to Lake Fenton, 57-47, in the regional finals. Beth Erla played one of her best games as she scored 17 points.

Cecil Larkin is top bowler. Fifty-seven students earned places on the Cass City High School honor roll for the second marking period.

Marvin Pratt, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A.J. Pratt, did not need to go deer hunting to get a thrill. He encountered an unwelcome visitor in the basement of their home and promptly shot the deer squarely between the eyes.

Organic farm group to meet

The Thumb area chapter of Organic Growers of Michigan will meet Thursday, Dec. 17, for a Christmas dinner meeting at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Elaine and Dennis Lasceski, Crockard Road, Filion.

The home is a mile east of Filion and a half-mile south. The meeting is open to anyone interested in organic farming or gardening. Those attending should bring a dish to pass and their own table service.

They should also bring a book for a book exchange.

TEN YEARS AGO

Despite delays in construction, Rev. Lloyd Street-er is still optimistic about the $100,000 addition to the First Baptist church.

Facilities for tobogganing and skating are being prepared by the village with snow and colder weather the only things needed.

The Cass City High School 90-voice choir will present a cantata Sunday in the high school gym under the direction of Dorland Kuntz.

What might have been a test case to decide the legality of the county ordinance prohibiting antlerless deer hunting in Tuscola county has been halted by Prosecutor Leo Maki in his decision not to issue an arrest warrant for a man who shot a doe.

Results of the medical staff election at Hills and Dales General Hospital were announced by Administrator Byron Landholt. Chief of staff is Dr. James Ballard; vice-president, Dr. K.I. MacRae, and secretary-treasurer, Dr. June MacRae of Gagetown.

25 YEARS AGO

Announcement was made this week of the purchase of the Cass City Skating Arena by Charles and Eva Winters and family from Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cottick.

One of the highlights of the Sunday observance of the 75th anniversary of the First Baptist church in Cass City was the burning of the mortgage on the church.

The Tuscola County Board of Supervisors voted to raise the salaries of clerks and other county employed personnel.

Gagetown and Unionville will switch to dial telephone systems at 2:01 Sunday morning.

The recount of the vote deciding the Sunday sale of beer and wine in Tuscola county was scheduled to begin Friday. In the original balloting, the voters favored continuation of the ban on sale of beer and wine by a 39-vote margin.

Music for the Christmas pageant was recorded this week at Cass City High School. Roger Parrish was in charge of the arrangements.

Graduates of Cass City High School who won varsity letters on Central Michigan College's undefeated football team were Tim Burdon of Gagetown and Donald Tuckey and Fred Tuckey of Cass City. Junior varsity letters were won by Jim and John Ellis of Cass City.

Computer career program runs on federal tax dollars

A computer terminal at Cass City High School is doing double duty, helping students choose careers and members of a newly formed club learn how to write computer programs and use it in various ways.

The terminal is one of 36 in the federally-funded Michigan Occupational Information System network operated by the Huron Intermediate School District.

Most are in high schools in Tuscola, Huron and Sanilac counties, with the computer at the HISD office in Bad Axe.

The setup at Cass City, hooked to the computer when being used by telephone, has a keyboard like a typewriter to transmit information or questions to the computer. A printer types out the answers or the information can be shown on the video screen like a television.

The primary purpose of the computer is to help students select a career that is appropriate for them.

More than 1,400 careers are programmed into the computer.

A student can indicate his or her interests, aptitudes and abilities by typing them on the keyboard. The computer then prints out a list of careers that utilize those skills or shows them on the screen.

Students then can consult the computer to obtain additional information about careers that interest them. The information includes what the work involves, working conditions, requirements, pay and possibilities for advancement, employment possibilities and outlook, education needed and where obtainable, and sources of additional information.

The computer is available to Cass City students on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays and during the last school year was used 382 hours, second among the 36 sites.

Many previous graduates and adults have also been using the terminal. Anyone who would like to use it or obtain additional information can contact counselor Wayne Dillon at the high school at 872-2148.

MEMBERS OF THE new Computer Club are using the terminal to keep abreast of the world of computers.

By programming games, math problems, pictures, graphics and bio-rhythms, the students are learning basic computer language.

With consideration being given to organization of a new athletic conference, Athletic Director Roland Pakonen asked club member Dave Lockwood to use the terminal to draw up a future schedule for a 13-team league.

The student used the computer to come up with a mythical schedule through 1995.

Students are also using their new skills to have the computer print out 1982 calendars and bio-rhythms, which will be sold. Proceeds will be donated to the school to buy additional micro-computer equipment.

Lockwood demonstrated some of the projects at the recent Thumb area teachers' in-service workshop at Laker High School.

INTENDED PURPOSE of the club, according to advisor Doug Grezeszak, chemistry - physics - math teacher, is to train students "to become computer literate before graduating from high school, an important benefit since the computer fields offer some of the best jobs available today."

As expressed by member Chris Polk, "It's a hobby I hope will blossom into a career."

The club is informal, with no officers or regularly scheduled meetings.

Active members are Lockwood, Polk, Scott Hobart, Dale Cleland, Jim Gravenemeir, Kippen Wills, Malcolm House, Scott Geiger and Sheryl Evans.

INPUT -- At the computer terminal keyboard is Chris Polk. Computer Club members looking on are Dave Lockwood (left rear), Dale Cleland (plaid shirt) and Scott Geiger.

Students' test results better

Seventh grade students at Cass City Intermediate School recently received their copy of the Michigan Educational Assessment Program test results.

Although the state has yet to release the state averages for local comparisons, the score indicates a rise in last year's achievement rate. Last year's scores showed a dramatic rise in achievement from the 1979 scores and a very strong showing as compared to state standards, according to counselor Gene Lukshaitis.

In seventh grade, 74.6 percent of the students placed in the highest quartile in mathematics and 83.1 percent in the highest quartile in reading as compared to 70.4 and 81.0 percent respectively in last year's testing. Only 6.9 percent of the math students fell into the bottom quartile and only 3.1 percent of the reading students.

Thirteen of the students, 10 percent of those taking the test, scored 100 percent in both reading and mathematics.

Although it is too early to tell exactly what implications the test scores will have for the school system until the state scores are released, Lukshaitis said, the school system can feel reasonably sure "Johnny can read" and read reasonably well as 96.9 percent of those taking the test fell into the top two categories of achievement.

Cass City police report rash of minor mishaps

A Clifford woman sought her own treatment for injuries suffered after her car went off the road Tuesday morning.

Caro state police reported Dana Marie Karpovich, 37, was southbound on Hurds Corner Road, south of Rossman Road, when she lost control on a slippery spot.

When the tires hit the shoulder, the car rolled over, landing upside down. Ms. Karpovich was ticketed on a charge of violation of the basic speed law.

Cass City police reported a rash of accidents involving cars backing into parked vehicles and one pillar during the past several days.

At 10:15 a.m. Dec. 1, Veron I. Gingrich, 56, of 4770 Koepfgen Road, backed into the parked car of George S. Frank, 3875 Cedar Run Road, in the Cass City High School rear lot.

At 4:15 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 2, James D. Massingale, 49, of 5907 Reed Road, Deford, was backing from a driveway on the east side of Seeger Street, north of Garfield. He backed into the car of Velma M. Helwig, no address given, parked by the west curb.

Deborah Kay Harbec, 31, of 2567 Cemetery Road, did some business at the Thumb National Bank drive-in window and then started to drive off. She remembered something, started to back up and backed into a brick pillar. The mishap occurred at 2:50 p.m. last Thursday.

At 4 p.m. Saturday, Mildred G. McLellan, 48, of Mayville, was backing up at the Village Service Center, Main and West Streets, and backed into a parked General Telephone repair truck.

Kevin A. Shaw, 17, of 6235 Van Dyke Road, Cass City, was westbound on M-81, east of Schwegler Road, at 8 a.m. Nov. 28, according to deputies, when his vehicle struck a deer.

James D. Knowlton, 30, of 5260 Leslie Road, Decker, was northbound on Cemetery Road, north of Shabbona Road, at 10:30 p.m. last Thursday when his car collided with a deer.

Rutkoski listed in "Who's Who"

The 82nd edition of "Who's Who International" selected Frank V. Rutkoski of Amherst, N.Y., to its "Who's Who in Industry and Finance."

Included are executives and professionals in insurance, investments, international banking and manufacturing.

Rutkoski is the son of Enick and Helen Rutkoski of Cass City and is a 1954 graduate of Cass City High School.

Frank began his early business career in Cass City at the family grocery store, later with Lloyd Bryant's Gamble Store and then with the Bauer Candy Co.

Rutkoski then joined Montgomery Ward Co. in a management capacity at both Port Huron and Owosso. In 1967, he entered the insurance business with Farm Bureau Insurance and advanced through all levels of management between 1967-1977. Rutkoski then joined Farm Family Insurance of New York and currently operates its management recruiting and consulting business serving the western half of New York state and manages its farm insurance agency.

Frank and his wife Joann (Koroleski) and their five children reside in East Amherst, near Niagara Falls.

Square dance Saturday in Cass City

The Swinging Hatchets, Country Couples, Rocking Eights and Town and Country square dance clubs will conduct a dance Saturday from 8-11 p.m. at Cass City High School.

Vern Scott will be the caller. All square dancers are welcome.

Those attending should bring finger food.

Presbyterian women conduct tea

The Women's Association of the First Presbyterian church held its Christmas tea at the church Monday evening.

Alexia Cook was in charge of a program of music and stories.

Roger Little sang "Star of the East" and "Oh Holy Night." Some members of the choir sang Christmas carols and the members sang along. There were about 25 present.

Circles II and III were in charge of refreshments. The annex was decorated for the Christmas season.

ARMY MEDICS Spec. 4 Mike Kilroy (left) and Spec. 4 Frank Nolan, LPN, explained their work to Craig Weaver's two physical science classes last Thursday morning at Cass City High School. Here, they explain cardiopulmonary resuscitation on the dummy to student Kris Curtis. The medics are attached to the 101st Airborne (Air Assault) Division at Fort Campbell, Ky. They are appearing at numerous Michigan high schools during several days as part of a recruiting campaign.

John Crawford, 81, avoids prison

Sentencing of 83-year-old John A. Crawford for manslaughter was delayed for one year when he appeared Monday before Tuscola County Circuit Judge Patrick R. Joslyn.

The octogenarian pleaded guilty Oct. 26 to the charge, of fatally shooting Samuel W. Ozorowicz Sept. 11 outside of Crawford's home on Cartwright Road, south of Kingston.

The delay of sentence is a form of probation, during which Crawford must not violate any laws and must report to his probation officer.

At the end of the year, the judge can place the defendant on probation and or sentence him to a maximum of 10-15 years in prison.

Joslyn told Crawford that at the end of the year he should write down what he feels his sentence should be.

Prosecutor Artis Noel, who made a plea bargain with the defendant in exchange for his guilty plea — Crawford was originally charged with second degree murder — told the Chronicle he did not make any recommendation concerning the sentence.

Two persons were arraigned Monday before Joslyn on charges of felonious driving.

Alan Lee Wisenbach, 23, of 2322 Remington Road, Caro, stood mute to the charge. A plea of innocent was entered. He will stand trial starting Jan. 5.

Wisenbach is charged with driving a car which ran into a sheriff's department patrol car March 22 which was parked along Darbee Road in Almer township.

The two deputies and police cadet inside received minor injuries.

St. Clair William Young, 62, of Saginaw, stood mute to charges of felonious driving and leaving the scene of a personal injury accident.

A plea of innocent was entered and a two-day trial will be scheduled.

Young is charged with driving a car Oct. 23 which struck a bicycle being ridden by 9-year-old Bryan Guthrie, who was riding it along Bradleyville Road, southwest of Fairgrove, resulting in serious injuries to the boy.

Also Monday, Charles R. Jones, 33, of 1651 E. Dayton Road, Caro, was sentenced to one year in the county jail for writing three non-sufficient funds — checks, within 10 days. He was credited with 238 days served.

He pleaded no contest to the charge, of writing the checks totaling $251 March 14 in Caro.

John L. Chvatal, 20, of 1645 Meadow Lane, Lot 11, Reese, was placed on four years' probation for attempted larceny in a building June 7 at a store in Gilford township. He pleaded guilty to the charge Oct. 13.

Chvatal was also sentenced to 185 days in the county jail, with credit given for 185 days served, fined $100, assessed $250 court costs and ordered to pay restitution.

Charles D. Lay, 20, of 4145 Vassar Road, Vassar, was placed on three years' probation for attempted delivery of marijuana April 4 in Vassar. He pleaded guilty to the charge Oct. 26.

He was also sentenced to 30 days in the county jail, starting Jan. 3, fined $200 and assessed $200 court costs.

Alvin E. Thrasher, 23, of 10370 Oak Road, Millington, stood mute to a charge of cutting trees without permission Oct. 9 on Sargent Sand and Gravel property in Vassar township. He also stood mute to a charge of being an habitual offender.

DISTRICT COURT

Jack Stahlbaum, 47, of 6293 Main Street, pleaded guilty Monday to driving with license suspended or revoked.

Judge Richard F. Kern accepted his plea and sentenced him to three days in the county jail, starting Dec. 11. He was fined $20 and assessed $35 court costs.

He was cited on the charge April 4 by Cass City police.

Assertiveness workshop planned

Catholic Family Service is planning an assertiveness training seminar which will consist of two sessions, three hours each.

The seminar is planned Monday, Dec. 21, and Wednesday, Dec. 30, each to start at 9 a.m.

Pamela Jo Kahler, MSW, CSW, instructor, explained the content will include determining how assertive one is currently, improving one's self-esteem, learning to cope with stress, looking and feeling assertive, beginning assertive exercises, and a new approach for dealing with interpersonal conflicts.

For further information, call Catholic Family Service at 269-7931 in Bad Axe or 648-2304 in Sandusky. Registration must be made by Thursday, Dec. 17. The seminar will be conducted at the CFS office, 602 N. Port Crescent, Bad Axe.

Meat grading meeting set

Bill Deadman of Packeland, a meat packing firm in Green Bay, Wis., will explain beef grading and pricing at 1 p.m. Tuesday at the Wildwood Farms restaurant on M-53.

Admission is free. The meeting is sponsored by the National Farmers Organization, but its purpose is information, not recruitment, according to Mrs. William Jones, who runs the NFO livestock collection point on M-53 with her husband.

Also present will be speakers about dairy and grain from NFO headquarters in Corning, Iowa.

WINTER BEAUTY -- By the end of winter, winter beauty will turn to winter blahs, but with the cold season just starting, Mother Nature can still be appreciated. Photo was taken along Green Road in Ellington township, south of M-81.

Fire greets McCluskeys in new home

It was not the sort of housewarming Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McCluskey had in mind.

The new Walbro executive and his family moved into their home at 4645 Hunt Street, being rented from Jack McDaniel, Friday.

They were about to leave late in the day when they discovered the smoke from the fire in the fireplace wasn't all going up the chimney. The Elkland Township Fire Department received the call at 5:17 p.m.

Fire Chief Dave McNaughton said there was a crack in the mortar which allowed the fire to come through and started the boards above the mantel smoldering.

Mr. and Mrs. McCluskey poured some water on it and when firemen arrived, the latter poured another pan of water on it to put the fire out.

Damage was estimated at $200.

Elkland Township Assistant Fire Chief Ron Pawloski didn't have to go to the fire Tuesday evening. It was at his house.

Creosote inside the chimney leading to a wood burning heater ignited. Pawloski threw in an extinguishing fuse, but called the fire department as a precautionary measure.

The fire was out by the time firemen arrived at his Warner Road home south of Kelly Road. The call was made about 8:10.

beets have to be processed to get the same amount of sugar.

The first installment payment to sugar growers will be mailed next week, but the total amount they will receive, Sunderland explained, depends on the amount of sugar, beet pulp, and molasses ultimately sold.

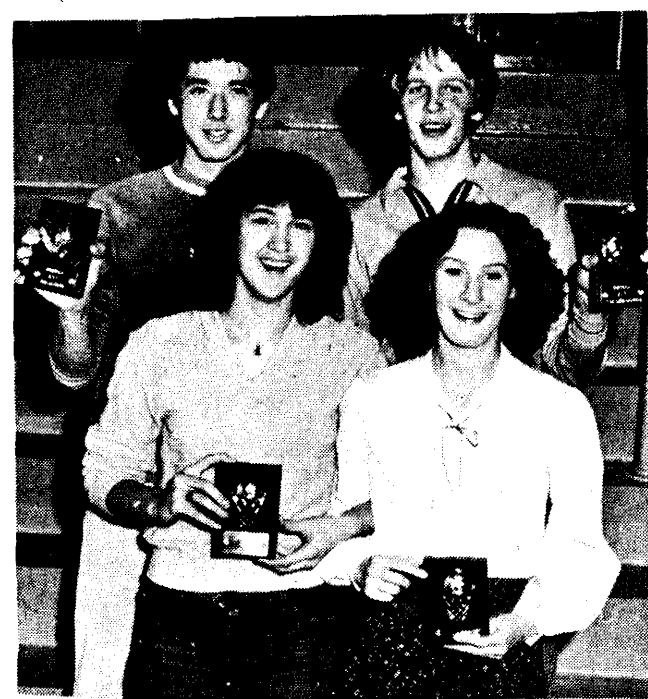

The price of sugar is down, he said, "so you tell me what the price will be six months from now. We'd like for that to go up some." Big users -- soft drink manufacturers, bakers, etc. -- are presently paying 22 cents per pound.

Next week: How agribusinessmen are affected by the farm recession.

Cause was unknown of a fire that started in a woodpile outside of the home of Imogene Fleming on Crawford Road, south of Kelly Road, Saturday morning.

There was about 1½ cords of wood in the pile, fireman Roger Hurley said, of which maybe 80 percent was still useable after firemen extinguished the fire.

The fire was reported at 11:20 a.m. Firemen were gone from the fire hall about one hour.

Honor O-G athletes at banquet

Dan Glidden was named most valuable football team player and Stan Andrakowicz most improved at the Owendale-Gagetown High School fall athletic banquet last Thursday in the Gagetown Elementary gym.

Announcement was made by head coach Arnie Besonen, who presented letters to seven freshmen, six sophomores, nine juniors and four seniors, plus five managers.

Girls' basketball coach Judy Campbell named Joan Mosack as her most valuable player and Karla Kretzschmer as most improved. Letters were presented to nine varsity players and eight junior varsity.

Bulldogs split opening games under new coach

Port Hope defeated Owen-Gage in basketball Tuesday night, 63-50, in the league opener for the Bulldogs, played on their own court.

Top scorers for Owen-Gage were Dan Glidden and Mike Powell, each with 16 points.

Joe Murphy led the Blue Stars with 21. Neal Emerick scored 16 points.

The Owen-Gage junior varsity won, 72-52.

Owen-Gage is scheduled to host Deckerville Friday, however, the game will be played Saturday night should the Eagles' girls' basketball team win their quarter-finals game this Wednesday night, which means they will be playing in the state semi-finals Friday.

MICH. LUTHERAN

Claude Stevens marked his return to coaching Friday with a 47-41 win by his Bulldogs over Michigan Lutheran Seminary.

Owen-Gage had to overcome the loss of 6-1 guard Dan Glidden for the second and third quarters, who sat on the bench after collecting three fouls in 2 minutes and 39 seconds in the first quarter.

Top scorer for the Bulldogs was Terry Muntz with 18 points followed by Chris Huizar with 12. The team shot 20 of 52 from the floor, 38 percent, and collected seven of 17 possible points at the free throw line, 41 percent.

Dan Kaesmeyer collected 11 points for home team MLS.

The Bulldogs outbounded their opponents, 39-38, with the 6-3 Muntz grabbing 14 of them.

MLS won the junior varsity game, 53-46.

Council meeting

The Gagetown Village Council Monday evening approved payment of $31,449 to Edmands Engineering of Bay City for work done on the proposed village sewer project. Most of the money is federal funds.

Santa Claus' annual visit is scheduled at 2 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 19, at the village-township hall. He will give candy to children.

O-G's Glidden sweeps honors

Owendale-Gagetown junior Dan Glidden scored almost a clean sweep of all-state football team honors.

The receiver was named to the Associated Press, United Press International and Detroit News Class D all-state teams and was a Detroit Free Press honorable mention as an end. He was a recipient of the Bay City Times golden helmet award.

He was also a North Central Thumb D League all-conference selection as an end and honorable mention as a defensive halfback.

The 6-1 Glidden caught 48 receptions during the past season, gained 805 yards and scored 15 touchdowns.

As a defensive halfback, he made 69 tackles, intercepted six passes, blocked three punts and blocked two extra point kick attempts.

Dan follows in the footsteps of his brothers, Jim, who was named to all four all-state teams last year, and Dick, who was a UPI and Free Press honorable mention after the 1978 season.

They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Glidden of Owendale.

Tax reforms seen unlikely

By Warren M. Hoyt
Mich. Press Association

With less than three weeks remaining in the 1981 legislative session, there is much to be done in a short period of time to make the fall session a success.

The session has broken down to charges and counter-charges between the Republican administration and the Democratic legislature.

Top on everyone's hit parade was a rewriting of the state's workers compensation act which due to its cost has placed Michigan in a competitive disadvantage with neighboring states when competing for new business and industry and even in trying to keep existing ones in the state.

The latest action came in the Senate, where on a series of partisan votes, a series of Republican-sponsored bills were diverted to a position on the calendar where Republicans would have to come up with six Democratic votes even to place them in a position for discussion.

Gov. William G. Milliken called the action irresponsible and a step backward in the effort to reform the system.

Senate Democrats, meanwhile, said the Republican bills were scuttled so they could introduce their own bills to address the abuse problems instead of removing deserving people from the system.

Milliken, who had urged the legislature to have the bills before one house prior to the Thanksgiving recess, chastised the leadership for its inaction on the package he labelled as the single most important issue to ever come before the legislature.

"This whole week has been a charade. . . . Senate Democrats, with some notable exceptions, have approved a procedure which will not only continue to stall consideration of critical workers compensation reform legislation but actually represents a step backward. Their every move has been directed at preventing any progress on this issue," he charged.

The governor's proposal would require a review of an injured worker receiving benefits after 150 weeks and requalify the worker for further employment if he or she could take a similar job paying no less than 80 percent of the wage being received at the time of the injury.

Also, the proposal calls for coordination of benefits that would reduce workers compensation benefits by the amount being received from any supplemental income due to the injury.

Democrats, meanwhile, feel workers will take the brunt of the reform with a reduction in benefits and then requalify for work even if jobs aren't available.

Also, Democrats feel a major abuse is being perpetrated by insurance companies who they think are premium gouging. Their immediate solution is to mandate by legislation a 20 percent reduction in insurance premiums paid by employers.

Milliken counters saying a simple insurance premium cut is simply not dealing with the issue and would not solve the state's problems.

Hawks face first test after opening with easy wins

The Cass City Red Hawk basketball team will face its first real test of the season Friday when it takes to the road to meet the Sandusky Redskins, a team figured to be a title contender.

It's likely that it will be a very long evening for the Hawks and their fans if the team doesn't play better than it did Tuesday at home against the Bad Axe Hatchets.

The Hawks won, 58-49, but didn't look good while doing it. Only some horrible free throw shooting by the Hatchets enabled Cass City to win by a comfortable margin.

The Hatchets hit just one of 14 tries from the charity stripe. Figuring that many were one and one fouls at least a dozen points were lost if the visitors had hit a respectable percentage. Neither team looked like they wanted to win in the first period. Turnovers were frequent and shooting erratic.

In the first six minutes the best each team could do was six points. The pace quickened in the final two minutes of the period and at the end of the quarter the score was tied, 12-12.

Cass City went in front to stay in the first two minutes of the second quarter, surging in front 17-12 on balanced scoring and turnovers by the Hatchets.

Cass City never trailed after that but Bad Axe stayed in contention until the final minutes.

Midway through the second quarter Cass City stretched its margin to 11 points only to have the Hatchets score three unanswered baskets to close to within five points before Gary Robinson pushed in a hoop to stop the rally and enable the Hawks to lead 27-20 at the intermission.

In the early minutes of the third quarter it looked like Cass City was going to salt away the game. With 3:14 left the margin was 14 points, the most of the evening.

Bad Axe refused to fold and came back to trail 45-32 at the end of three quarters.

The teams changed baskets for much of the last period. The Hatchets cut Cass City's margin to seven points but the Hawks quickly spurred again to nail down the win.

For the second straight game Robinson had a superior game. He netted 20 points to lead all scorers. Scott Hobart was also in double figures with 13 points. Leading Bad Axe was Fred McIntyre with 12 points.

JV'S WIN

The Cass City Junior Varsity won its opening game of the season by posting a 59-44 decision over the Hatchet JV in the preliminary.

Harbor Beach Game

Probably the most die-hard fan doesn't think that Cass City is as overpowering as they looked in the season's opener Friday against Harbor Beach.

The host Hawks jumped off to a 13-1 first period lead and completely dominated the Pirates while registering an 84-48 decision.

The non-conference tilt did little to expose the strengths or weaknesses of this year's team.

One of the surprises in the first game was Gary Robinson. The southpaw guard sparked the team in the first quarter and led all scorers with 19 points.

Robinson played almost not at all last season and was the second or third guard substitute on the bench.

Because the game was lopsided Coach Ron Nurnberger was able to use every person on the 12-player squad and 11 of them scored.

Just a little over four minutes in the first quarter was gone when the Hawks were ahead, 13-1, and from then on it was strictly no contest.

The inexperienced Pirates were weak on defense and had trouble with Cass City's full court press. By the end of the quarter Cass City was in front 28-9.

The rout continued in the second period. Featuring balanced scoring Cass City ran its lead to 50-19 by the intermission and before the half ended Nurnberger was starting to get a look at his complete squad.

Because the Pirates allowed the Hawks many fast break easy layups the Cass City shooting percentage was a respectable 55 percent on 34 baskets in 62 attempts.

Harbor Beach converted just 22 of 56 tries from the field for 39 percent.

Besides Robinson, Scott Hobart with 17 and Ray Ferris with 12 points were in double figures for the Hawks, John Ginther netted 16 points for the losers.

The box score:

Cass City	FG	FT	Pts.
Robinson	8	3-4	19
Ferris	4	4-4	12
Kamrad	1	-	2
Decker	2	0-2	4
Kerbyson	1	-	2

Harbor Beach	FG	FT	Pts.
Kramer	3	1-2	7
Wood	2	-	4
Schock	3	1-2	7
Muehlfield	1	-	2
Ginther	8	0-1	16
Pfaff	3	-	6
Essenmacher	2	-	4
Townley	-	2-2	2
	22	4-7	48

GARY ROBINSON, a key performer in the first two Cass City basketball games collected two of his 20 points on the fast break against Bad Axe.

Balance is key in Rec. cage league

It looks like the Cass City Recreation Basketball League is exceptionally well balanced this season. Consider this. After just two games there is only one undefeated team among the eight league squads.

Right now Shetler's is in the driver's seat with two wins following its 68-52 decision over Erla's last Wednesday.

The winners jumped off to a three-point first period lead, stretched it to 35-21 at the half and were in control the rest of the way.

Paul Beachy of Shetler's led all scorers with 22. He was helped by Ross Voelker, 19, and Kent Shetler, 15. Ken Pichla netted 20 for Erla's and Roy Calahan added 14.

In the nightcap McMahan's evened its season's record with a 58-45 decision over Elkton.

Elkton went in front 14-8 in the first period but fell to a McMahan 22-point surge in the second quarter as the winners went in front 30-25 at the half.

From there on McMahan's took control to chalk up the decision. McMahan's was led by Leon Kaniszewski, 19 points; Jason Koehler, 10, and Kurt Copeland, 10 points. Aaron Deering scored 14 for Elkton.

In the Thursday night game, Stevenson's got on track behind the scoring of Rick Tuckey, 24, Mark Green, 16, and Bill Stevenson, 15 points, to overpower Charmont, 88-62.

Stevenson went in front early and stayed in charge the entire game. Stevenson's board strength was the difference in the game.

The winners were in front 34-22 at the half and led 57-44 after three quarters. Charmont featured balanced scoring with Dale Reick, 14, Norm Stevens, 10, and Dirk Sutherland, 10, in double figures.

In the nightcap Farm Bureau won a decision over Holmes-Walpole that was much closer than the final 61-50 score indicated.

The Lawyers were in front after the first 8 minutes, 18-13, but the Farmers came storming back in the second quarter to lead 27-24.

After the end of three quarters the Lawyers trailed by just a point but Farm Bureau played a strong last period to take the win.

Mark Gainsforth, 17, and Tom Koch, 16, led Farm Bureau. Craig Helwig scored 12 for the losers.

The standings:

	W	L
Shetler	2	0
Charmont	1	1
Erla's	1	1
Farm Bureau	1	1
Holmes-Walpole	1	1
McMahan's	1	1
Stevenson	1	1

McDonald's

achievements

noted in book

F. Robert McDonald has been selected to appear in the 13th edition of "Who's Who In California."

McDonald, of San Francisco, is among approximately 5,000 Californians of achievement listed in the 1981-1982 volume.

He is owner and president of Manor House Associates, a wholesale office and residential furniture business with offices in the Showplace Square in San Francisco.

McDonald received a scroll from the Who's Who Historical Society, the publishers, "in recognition of exceptional achievement, leadership and service."

He is the son of the late Francis and Harriet McDonald of Cass City and the brother of Richard and James McDonald, both of Cass City.

If you're the lucky owner of a cast iron pot or dutch oven, don't throw it out... use it! The available iron in food can increase up to 400 percent when iron cookware is used. Cleaning it will be good exercise as well.

Wrestlers open new season

The inexperienced Cass City wrestling team finished seventh in an eight-team wrestling tournament held Saturday at Birch Run.

The meet was won by Birch Run with 198 points. Pinconning finished second with 158½ points. All the schools in the tournament were Class B or larger. Cass City is Class C.

The Hawks won 56 points. Paul Brown was second in the 126-pound class. Blake Fisher was third at 145 pounds and Jim Adkins was third in the heavyweight division.

It was the first meet of the season.

Other teams in the meet and the points won were: Oxford, 118½; Lakeville, 113½; Swan Valley, 85½; Sanford, 81, and Millington, 21.

Sheriff seeks clues in probe of sports car theft

Investigation by the Tuscola County Sheriff's Department is continuing into the theft of a 1963 Corvette from a Gagetown area barn Nov. 28 or 29.

The car has since been recovered. Owner of the car is Hugh G. Hagerman of Lapeer, who was storing it in the barn of relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Rabideau of 2167 Hobart Road, Gagetown.

The theft was reported by their son, Keith Rabideau, at 12:35 p.m. Nov. 29. It was discovered by another son, James, and took place sometime after 10 p.m. the day before.

Recovery of the car was reported at 12:30 a.m. Nov. 30. It was found in a gravel pit near the Ellington township cemetery at Hurds Corner Road and Dutcher Roads.

The only damage, according to sheriff's department Detective Ron Phillips, was a broken gas cap.

OTHER ITEMS

Thomas Sontag of 4484 Hartsell Road reported to Cass City police at 10 p.m. last Thursday that his car was entered while it was parked in the high school lot since 8 p.m.

Taken were seven cassette tapes and the case they were in, worth a total of $64, and $17 in cash kept above the visor.

Allen Witherspoon of 4615 Oak Street told village police at 5:45 p.m. Friday that the bicycle of his son, Richard, was stolen while parked from 3:15-4 p.m. in front of The Station game room, 6444 W. Main Street.

The bike was a brown and cream West Point three-speed.

Ellis Karr of Cemetery Road told sheriff's deputies Nov. 30 that four split fence rails were broken and others knocked down at the home of Duane Dietz, 6249 Lakeside Drive, Cass City.

Three juveniles were found to be involved and their parents agreed to have the fence repaired.

Final rites for Alfred Schollaert

Alfred A. Schollaert, 43, of Owendale, died Monday at St. Mary's Hospital in Saginaw following a brief illness.

He was born Feb. 15, 1938 in Elsie, the son of Jeff and Ruth (Cramer) Schollaert.

Schollaert and Mrs. Alice Taylor were married June 2, 1973, at Pigeon.

Schollaert was formerly a janitor at Owen-Gage High School in Owendale.

He was a member of St. John Lutheran church, Kilmanagh.

Surviving are his wife; two sons, Ervin Schollaert, Brown City, and Bruce Schollaert, Flint; two daughters, Debbie Marie Schollaert and Ruth Helen Schollaert, both at home; four brothers, Donald Schollaert and Bruce Schollaert both of Edmore, Eugene Schollaert, Cass City, and Lee Schollaert, Flint; one sister, Mrs. Sharon Conley, Burton; two step-grandchildren; two step-daughters, and three step-sons.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Thursday at Our Savior Lutheran church, Bad Axe. The Rev. Wayne H. Wentzel of St. John Lutheran church will officiate.

Burial will be in Colfax cemetery. Arrangements were by MacAlpine Funeral Home, Bad Axe.

Students complete project

The Cass City Intermediate School Student Council has completed its 1981-82 school year fund raising project.

The commercial soap concentrate sale netted a little more than $1,450 profit for the school. The funds are used to sponsor most student activities, including the year end awards ceremony.

Top sales prize winner this year was Yvette Hurd, who sold $156 worth of soap. She won a combination portable television, AM-FM radio, worth over $100. Posters and iron-ons were awarded to those who sold over 12 bottles of the soap concentrate, with one of the items being awarded for each dozen sold.

Group prizes were awarded to the top home rooms and those participating from those rooms. Members of the following home rooms and anyone selling 24 or more bottles are invited to an all-you-can-eat pizza party Dec. 19 in the high school cafeteria:

Fifth grade, Mrs. Tibbitts; sixth grade, Mrs. Iseler; seventh grade, 7D, and eighth grade, 8A, and top sales people Yvette Hurd, Mike Kelley, Peter Khoury, Barry Brown, Anthony Bader, Dave Peruski, Michelle Koepf and Sue Pollega.

Missionary Society has meeting

Fifteen women attended the Monday evening meeting of the Baptist Missionary Society at the First Baptist church.

Mrs. Clyde Wells presided over the business meeting. Prayer time for missionaries was led by Mrs. Richard Shaw and devotions by Mrs. Alvin Hutchinson.

Officers were elected for the coming year as follows: president, Mrs. Richard Shaw; vice-president and devotions chairman, Mrs. Leslie Merchant; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Jim Perry. Assistant and reporter will be Mrs. Diane Ramsey.

Elected project chairman was Mrs. Lou LaPonsie with Mrs. Art Fisher as assistant. Chairman of prayer time for missionaries will be Mrs. Stanley McArthur.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by Mrs. Rosella Kretschmer and Mrs. Don Kowbel.

Each woman brought a Christmas gift for a shut-in.

Commission on Aging spends $600,000 in year

The Thumb Area Commission on Aging (TACA) spent almost $600,000 during the fiscal year that ended Sept. 30 and aided 18,000 senior citizens in various ways, according to TACA Executive Director Ron Cassie.

The six major services provided were information and referral, outreach and ombudsman, transportation, socialization, newsletter and meal program.

TACA received funding from the following sources: Federal government, $311,000; state, $72,000; local, $149,593; and donations, $67,000.

The local funds come from the .2 mill levied for senior citizen activities in Tuscola and Sanilac counties, $76,441 and $53,152 respectively, and $20,000 in federal revenue sharing/funds from the Huron County Board of Commissioners. The money from each county is spent within the county.

The difference in amounts between Sanilac and Tuscola is because the latter has a larger tax base and while all of the levy there goes to TACA, in Sanilac, some of the revenue goes to senior citizen programs not run by the agency.

THROUGH THE SERVICE of information and referral, senior citizens can get help and information on a variety of concerns. Last year, TACA received 4,798 calls and walk-ins. The agency helped persons find answers to questions concerning Social Security, transportation needs, health problems, financial concerns, etc.

The major concern of outreach is to find senior citizens who really need help, Cassie said, and then to assist that individual obtain those services they might need. Last year, outreach workers made 3922 home visits.

With regard to transportation, the Commission on Aging provided 7,828 trips to the doctor, food shopping, drugstore for prescription drugs, and other appointments last year. The average trip was 13 miles long. There were 104,640 miles logged, mostly by volunteer drivers.

In 1980-81, 144,000 issues of the Thumb Area Senior News were printed by the commission. The monthly newspaper, covering items of interest and concern to senior citizens, was printed at a cost of 20 cents per issue. Currently 18,000 senior citizens receive it.

THE COSTLIEST PROGRAM is the senior citizens meal program. TACA operates 16 meal sites in the three counties and last year served 119,306 meals. Of these, 48,348 were delivered to homebound senior citizens. Volunteer drivers drove 89,496 miles delivering the meals.

In Tuscola county, there is a double home delivered meal program (hot lunch and cold dinner) operating out of a 10-mile radius from Caro, Mayville, and Vassar.

All the other sites have a hot lunch delivered in a 10-mile radius from each of the following sites, on the days they are open: Fairgrove, Kingston, Caseville, Port Austin, Bad Axe, Harbor Beach, Port Sanilac, Deckerville, Sandusky, Crosswell, Millington, Peck, and Cass City.

TWO HUNDRED VOLUNTEERS play a large role in providing services. Without the help of these dedicated people, Cassie said, some services such as transportation, blood pressure testing, and the ID-discount program would be very limited. Volunteer help worth $23,273 was given in 1980-81.

The Commission on Aging also provides several additional services which either rely on volunteer help or are self-supporting. Blood pressure testing is done at 20 sites throughout the three counties. Testing is done by nurses who volunteer their services. Last year, 6,851 blood pressure readings were provided for senior citizens.

The senior citizen discount and identification card program enabled senior citizens to fight rising prices through voluntary discounts given by roughly 450 merchants. ID cards enabling senior citizens to get these discounts are available at sites throughout the three counties. Over 8,000 senior citizens have the cards.

The TACA administrative office is in Cass City. It has service offices in Caro, Bad Axe and Sandusky.

BARN FIRE -- Bingham Township (Uby) Fire Chief Elmer Brahmer checks the crates in the A.J. McCarty barn after the early Wednesday fire was out to see if any pigs remain inside. Seventeen pigs died.

17 pigs killed in Argyle area fire

Seventeen pigs died in an early morning fire 1 1/2 miles north of Argyle. The fire was at the farm of A.J. McCarty on M-19, Uby. Lost, he said, were five sows worth $150 each and 12 baby pigs worth $40 each, a total of $1,230. In addition, some pigs may have suffered health damage as the result of getting wet from firemen's hoses and then being exposed to the cold.

The metal building did not suffer any apparent structural damage. He did not immediately have an idea of the value of the crates that were lost and any other damage.

Bingham Township Fire Chief Elmer Brahmer said the apparent cause of the fire was heat lamps, which were inside the crates housing the pigs, which ignited straw used for insulation.

McCarty said the straw, used for insulation, was on top of the sheet metal on top of the crates.

The fire, reported at 2:30 a.m., was discovered by McCarty's wife's aunt, Nila Sole, who was driving by on her way home from work in Deckerville.

The Bad Axe, Ruth and Elkland Township Fire Departments' each brought a tanker to assist. By the time Elkland's unit arrived, the fire was almost out and their services weren't needed.

McCarty and some helpers got some of the pigs out of the barn before the Bingham firemen arrived, a period of about 15 minutes.

J.P. McCluskey joins Walbro

Joseph P. McCluskey has been named director of marketing for the Carburetor Group of Walbro Corp. The appointment was announced by Robert H. Walpole, senior vice-president, Carburetor Group.

Joseph P. McCluskey

McCluskey's responsibilities will include worldwide marketing strategy, planning, pricing, service and advertising activities for the Carburetor Group's North American operations.

Prior to joining Walbro, McCluskey was director of marketing for the Powder Metal Products Division of Gould, Inc. He has also served as general sales manager for D.A.B. Industries and has held sales positions with Raybestos-Manhattan, Inc. and Anchor Coupling Co.

McCluskey has a BS degree in mechanical engineering from Mississippi State University. He is a member of the Society of Automotive Engineers and the Metal Powder Industry Federation.

Married and the father of two children, McCluskey, 45, and his family are now living in Cass City.

Boca Raton, Fla. — There was moderate jubilation last winter on the part of school officials when the latest literacy test scores came out.

The joy might well have been more tempered than it was. Of the 12 schools in Palm Beach county, half were worse in either the verbal or arithmetic part of the test — or both.

At Boca Raton High School, 96 percent of the 11th graders who took the verbal test passed it, and 78 percent passed arithmetic.

The test involved questions on the 8th grade level. The passing score was 70 percent.

So Boca Raton, among the top ones in performance (No. 3 of the 12 schools in arithmetic scores) had 73 students out of 100 in the 11th grade who were able to get seven questions right out of ten, on an 8th grade test.

Pity the store or bank that hires one of those 22 of each 100 who couldn't get even seven right answers out of ten simple arithmetic problems.

For that matter, feel sorry for the place that hires most of those who did pass, when passing requires only 70 percent right answers. That would permit an employee to make 30 mistakes out of 100 in sales slips, in invoices, in bank deposits.

Yet the educators rejoice in this showing. We concede there is something to be glad about, if scores are going up. Yet half the county schools showed worse performances in either the verbal part or the arithmetic part than a year ago.

Our standards are woefully low — 70 percent passing mark for an 11th grader on an 8th grade test.

We watched one of these products of arithmetic classes in a Boca Raton bank the other day. The woman was presented with 14 bond coupons, each valued at $25. She wanted to verify the customer's figure of $350 as the total.

Her machine couldn't multiply, so she asked another teller. The other teller couldn't help.

The customer suggested, "Just multiply 14 x 25, dear."

"I can't."

Her solution was to enter 14 on the adding machine 25 times. It took a while, but it worked.

I suggested to the president of the bank that they could make their procedure more efficient in such cases. Instead of entering 14, 25 times, they should instruct the girls to enter 25, 14 times.

It would cut down the wear and tear on the adding machines by nearly half.

The failure of arithmetic instruction is not peculiar to local schools.

Once I stopped at Boone Tavern, in Berea, Ky., where I enjoyed the inn's delicious Southern cooking. The waitresses were students at Berea College.

When I presented our check to the cashier on the way out, I noted that the older woman at the register had to figure the sales tax on each check.

"Why don't you have the girls do that?" I asked. "It would save time here."

"Oh, we tried that," she replied. "They made too many mistakes, and some of them couldn't do it at all."

Another case: My baby sister (that's the one now reading up on Medicare benefits) made it through high school on charm, then through Vassar by a wise selection of courses that avoided math or science. She helped out on the paper in our home town during the war.

Among her duties was to take in want-ads over the counter. The ads cost 35 cents. She convinced my dad to raise the price to 50 cents, because she couldn't make change for 35 cents.

And she had a little trouble with recipe books. So many recipes said "serves four." There were only two in her household. So what do you do if a "serves four" recipe calls for one-third of a cup of shortening, and you want to cut it in half?

You do what my baby sister did . . . make the full recipe, and serve the rest tomorrow night.

Woman dies in house fire fire department. He and the neighbor then went to the burning home, but due to the smoke, were unable to get inside. The Mayville Fire Department was called after 11 p.m.

The last person to see Mrs. Bretzloff alive was her daughter, Eleanor Robinson of Mayville, who had left the home at 7 p.m.

The elderly woman was the second person to die in a Tuscola county fire recently. Otto Netmop, 67, of rural Caro, died Oct. 23, when the shack in which he was sleeping caught fire.

Methodist women

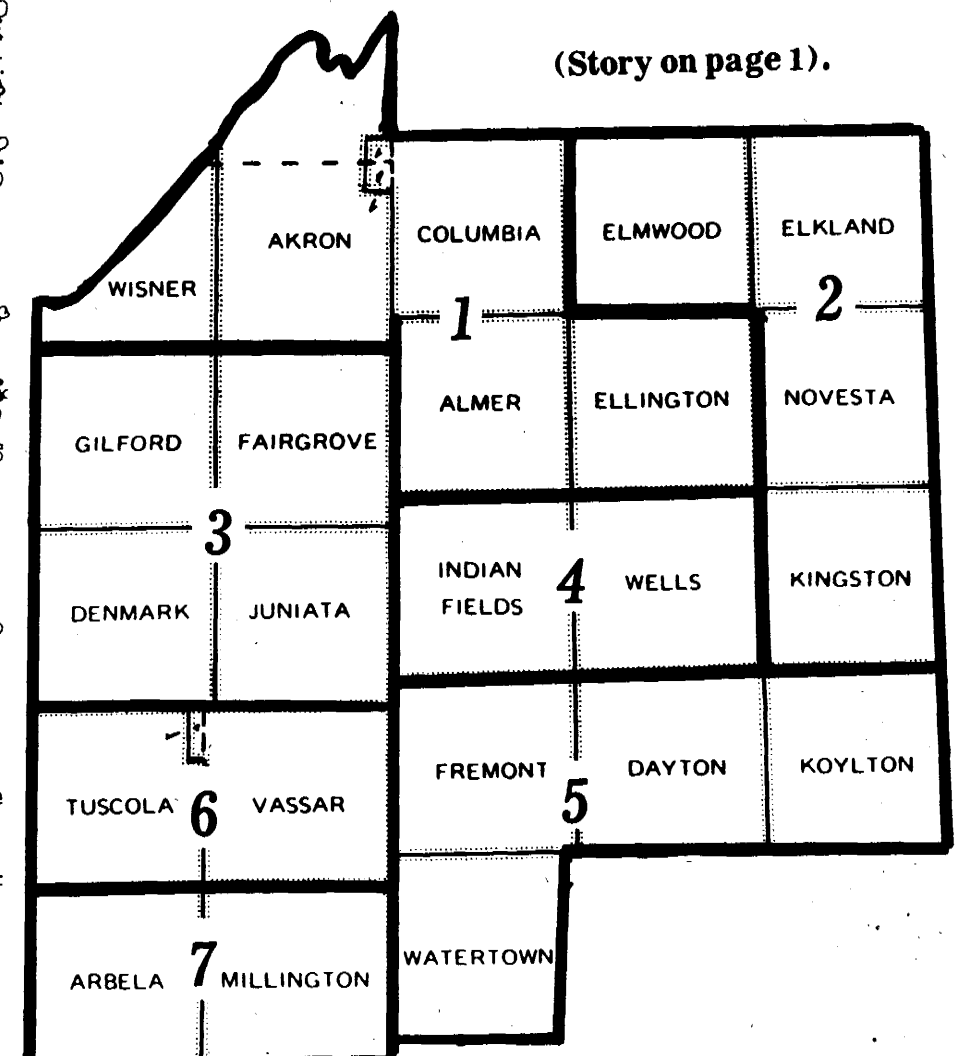

Sixty-two women from Salem UM church attended a dinner in the church dining room, sponsored by the United Methodist Women. Mrs. Charles Tuckey was chairman. Guests were seated at 16 tables.

Mrs. Gilson Miller, whose husband is pastor of the Deford and Kingston UM churches, presented a slide and drama presentation.

The door prize went to Joan Umphenbach.

NOTICE REGARDING POSSIBLE CHANGES IN AVAILABILITY OF ADVERTISED GOODS AND IN QUOTED PRICES Because this piece is not prepared by this retail dealer, but by its wholesaler (HWI), which has warehouses at Cape Girardeau, Missouri; Dixon, Illinois; Medina, Ohio; and Waco, Texas and because this piece is prepared several months in advance of the actual sale period, some items may not be immediately available on demand at this store due either to sales above reasonable demands, or other circumstances beyond this retailer's control. Therefore, this store will gladly issue a "raincheck" for any advertised item not available on demand, which will be good for purchase of the particular item at the advertised price when additional inventories of the item are received. Due to unforeseen circumstances certain items may not be available at all, or a substitution will be suggested. This store and the HWI warehouses endeavor to avoid any such changes whenever possible, but sometimes they have no control over manufacturers and their problems. All the prices stated are HWI suggested. Each HWI store sets its own prices. The prices quoted herein are subject to change due to possible printing errors or circumstances unforeseeable at the time of printing. The right to limit quantities is reserved by this retailer. Early shoppers will find the best selection.
