

1.6 acres by park

Council considering property purchase

The Cass City Village Council Tuesday evening debated possible purchase of 1.6 acres of property at the southeast corner of the park.

Cost would be $41,900, spread over five years, plus interest.

Council members, though generally favoring the idea, decided to wait until their June 27 meeting to make a decision.

The property, actually four parcels, one of which includes a house, runs between Church and Main Streets, just east of the Church of Christ and three parcels west of Scotty McCullough Drive.

The owner is Winnifred Bauman of Pleasant Ridge. The home on the property is vacant, the renters having recently moved out. She is offering the property to the village for $10,000 down and then payments of $7,975 a year for four years at 11 percent interest.

Council members generally felt the purchase would protect the park from encroachment by non-compatible uses and geographically, it almost is part of the park.

What came to mind was the request by a person a few years ago to have part of the Bauman property rezoned in order to build a snack bar facing the park. The rezoning was never approved, so the person didn't buy the property.

Part of the property in the rear is moved by the village now as it is considered, in terms of location, the southern boundary and entrance-way into the park.

Concerns of the council members and hence their reason in delaying making a decision were the village's finances, how the property would be used and being able to justify its purchase to the public.

There was also discussion about what to do about the house. The feeling was it isn't in good enough condition to move.

Mrs. Bauman is letting the council decide whether it wants to buy the property before offering it for sale to the public. If she doesn't want to wait until the next council meeting for a decision, a special meeting might be held. Before then, it was suggested, the property should be appraised to determine whether it is worth $41,900.

FINANCES

Part of the new $50 million cut in state expenditures ordered by Gov. Milliken is a $9.7 million reduction in state revenue sharing payments to local governmental units.

That works out to a loss of $1,387 to Cass City, according to the Michigan Municipal League, which will be taken out of the August payment. The 1982 budget had anticipated $37,500 in state shared revenue and a total of $117,500 in various state revenue sources.

The MML has warned the village that state quarterly payments could be delayed due to Michigan's cash flow problems and if the state is unable to sell $500 million in bonds this September due to its lowered credit rating, there could be more problems.

Meanwhile, the state Department of Natural Resources has imposed an additional expense on the village. It has ordered that samples be taken every three months and tested from the test wells at the landfill.

That has to be done by an engineering firm and will cost Cass City about $4,000 a year.

OTHER ITEMS

The council discussed patching of the many potholes in village streets. The street committee and village Superintendent Lou LaPonsie will report in June what possibly can be done this year. The primary problem in fixing streets is shortage of funds. So far this year, 29.3 tons of cold asphalt patch have been used in fixing potholes.

Trustees have discussed the last two months whether the village should advertise for bids from certified public accounting firms to perform the annual audit. Yeo and Yeo, which has an office in Marlette, has done the audit for the past several years and the council and other officials are satisfied with what work the firm has done.

Five CPA firms, including Yeo and Yeo, have expressed interest in the auditing job.

The council voted Tuesday to have Yeo and Yeo do the audit (of the 1982 books) for one more year, after which it will review whether to solicit bids.

The rationale for the decision was that there will be one more year of complicated financial records for the $6 million wastewater treatment plant project to be audited, and it is best for Yeo and Yeo to do it, since its accountants are already familiar with the records.

Operation of the sewage plant began last Wednesday (see photo) and no major problems have occurred. Village President Lambert Althaver suggested it might be best to wait until this fall to conduct an open house, since that would give time for the landscaping to be completed, grass to grow and the sewage plant employees to clean up the site. The contractors are to be done by the end of June.

The monthly treatment plant report said that a total of 47.43 inches of snow fell during the winter of 1981-82.

$6 MILLION JOB -- Cass City's new $6 million wastewater treatment plant started operating at 9:25 Wednesday morning, May 19. The last task was to unbolt the cap to allow the raw sewage to start flowing into the plant. Removing the bolts was Tim Thomas, an employee of the mechanical contractor. An open house will be held later this year.

Much competition expected

Legislative districts set, candidates entering race

The Michigan Supreme Court has now set the boundaries and the hat tossing has begun.

So far four candidates have thrown their hats into the ring for area legislative races and one candidate is switching rings.

The high court Friday ended months of partisan wrangling and started some anew by approving a reapportionment plan of legislative districts which was a modified version of the one it ordered former State Elections Director Bernard J. Apol to prepare.

It appears to give Republicans a chance to win a majority in the Senate and to win more seats, though still a minority, in the House of Representatives.

The displeased Democrats are planning to appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court on the grounds the plan does not comply with federal standards for population equality between districts.

One thing the plan does is make mincemeat of the present upper Thumb legislative districts.

Retiring State Rep. Loren Armbruster, R-Caro, has represented the 84th district, which consists of all of Tuscola County and part of Saginaw and Genesee Counties. Rep. Keith Muxlow, R-Brown City, represents the 77th district, which consists of all of Huron and Sanilac Counties and part of Lapeer and St. Clair.

The new 77th district consists of all of Huron County and all of Tuscola except for Arbel, Millington and Wadsworth Townships in the southwest corner of the county, which become part of the new 84th district.

The new 78th district consists of all of Sanilac County and part of St. Clair County.

Candidates who have announced so far are Unionville attorney Terry Hout-hoof, who did so in April, Tuscola County Advertiser Editor Dick Allen, and Richard C. Dehmel, Columbia Township farmer, who did so this week. (See articles elsewhere in this issue.) All are Republicans.

RETIRING STATE SEN. Alvin DeGrow, R-Pigeon, has represented the 28th district, which consists of all of Tuscola, Huron and Sanilac Counties, plus parts of Lapeer, St. Clair and Macomb. The reorganization plans put Tuscola, Huron, Bay, Arenac and Gladwin Counties into the 34th district. The new 28th Senatorial District consists of Sanilac, St. Clair and Lapeer Counties.

The 34th district race has attracted two candidates so far. One is State Rep. James A. Barcia from Bay City. (See story elsewhere in this issue.)

The other is Tuscola County Prosecuting Attorney Artis Noel, who announced in April that he was a candidate for state representative in what is now the 77th district.

He has changed his mind and expects to make a formal announcement of his candidacy for the Senate Monday.

ONE RESULT OF THE delays in establishing districts is that the Supreme Court has postponed filing and primary election deadlines.

The primary had been scheduled Aug. 3. It will now be Aug. 10.

The filing deadline for candidates for all political offices had been June 1. It remains that for county and township offices and local ballot questions.

June 8 is the new filing deadline for candidates for county political party convention delegates and June 15 is the final day to file for persons running for state representative and senator and for Congress.

The effect of the Democratic Party's appeal of the Michigan Supreme Court's reapportionment plan is apparently a matter of debate.

Some have said it could delay the primary and Nov. 2 general election dates and others have said the elections will be over before the U.S. Supreme Court rules.

Jaycees give $3,011 to Nicol family

The Cass City Jaycees presented a check for $3,011 last Thursday to the family of Mike Nicol to help pay expenses.

Present at the Jaycees' meeting at Wildwood Farms was Nicol's wife, Ann, and his parents, Stuart and Vera Nicol.

Nicol, 25, of Robinson Road, Uby, was injured Feb. 14 when he was struck by a motorcycle and sidecar which had slid off the course in an ice race at Skidway Lake.

He was transferred from St. Mary's Hospital in Saginaw, where he had been since the accident, to the Huron County Medical Care Facility in Bad Axe.

According to his mother, he is semi-comatose. His eyes are open, but he is unable to communicate and there is no way to know if he understands what is happening.

The Jaycees raised the money donated to the family from a raffle the organization conducted. The prize money was raised from a recent car wash.

Raffle winners were Kay Guinther, $200; Steve Kamrad, $100, and E.K. Gingrich, $50.

In addition to the financial donation, the Jaycees also presented the Nicols with a plaque on which was written

"The Lord's Prayer."

Also at the Jaycees' meeting, Jack Moore of Bad Axe, Michigan Jaycees membership management vice-president, presented new local Jaycees President Rick VanVliet and past President Bill Klinkman with a president's award of honor for the Nicol fund raising activity.

Families turn to sun to heat their water

By Mike Eliasohn
Second of three parts

Gerald Polk's hot water heating system has one disadvantage.

The water that comes out of the tap is the same water that flows through his ground-mounted solar collector, so when it gets cold, he has to drain the system. He installed it in April, 1981.

The Woodland Avenue resident also has water lines running through his wood burning stove to help heat his water.

Water from the auxiliary heat sources flows into a 52 gallon reserve tank and then into the regular 80-gallon electric hot water tank for heating to the desired temperature.

The warmer the water is that flows into the final tank, he pointed out, the less it has to be heated. Despite increases in electricity rates since he first installed the system, Polk said, his electric bills for his hot water heater have remained at $17-20 a month.

How well does it work? On a warm sunny day, he said, the solar heater keeps water going through it at 120 degrees even when his wife is doing the laundry. On a warm overcast day, the temperature may be 100 degrees.

A 365-DAY SYSTEM

Ken and Shari Schott of Brenda Drive have a solar hot water system that works year-round.

Unlike Polk's, the water that goes through their solar collector contains antifreeze. The solar heated water heats the tap water inside a storage tank. The tap water then flows into the regular gas-fired hot water tank.

The Schotts also have water lines running through their fireplace, so they haven't been able yet to compare gas bills for their water heater before and after they installed the collector.

Now that the heat fireplace isn't being used, they will be able to start making such an evaluation.

Mrs. Schott said their gas water heater usually uses 22 units of gas a month and for one-third of a month with the solar system, it had only used four units.

Their system also incorporates a blower and ducting to blow warm air from the unit into the first floor living area.

The storage tank and regular hot water tank are located in the basement.

Other than some help in installing the solar collector outside, the Schotts installed the system themselves. It cost them $3,800, but they will get about 54 percent of that back in tax credits.

Had they paid someone to do the installation, Mrs. Schott said, it would have cost $1,000-1,500 additional.

Next week: Geothermal heat — creating heat from water.

SOLAR HOT WATER -- Nineteen-month-old Kevin Schott isn't too fussy about how his hot water is heated, but as he grows up, solar panels such as this one may become very common. His parents, Ken and Shari Schott, did most of the installation of their solar hot water system themselves.

"If It Fitz..."

Causes for gnashing

By Jim Fitzgerald

My wife went to downtown Hudson's to buy a wedding present. I stayed home and screwed a light bulb into a lamp socket. Interestingly, these two diverse activities elicited the same reactions. We both gnashed our teeth loudly in memory of the cliched "good old days."

It was a General Electric three-way bulb bought at a supermarket for $2.20. Light bulbs once were free, but not really. There is no such thing as a free light bulb, even if you eat it for lunch. When Edison allowed customers to trade burned-out bulbs for new bulbs even up, the cost of the new bulbs was surely included in monthly power bills. But, just as surely, that cost was never as much as $2.20 per bulb. It is engraved on a stone tablet that a free lunch that's really not free is still a lot cheaper than anything wearing a price tag.

I can accept that axiom without too much gnashing of teeth. After all, it costs money to market a product — price tags don't grow on trees, except in nurseries. It is much harder to control gnashing when the $2.20 bulb gives less light than the "free" bulb. In this case, it gave no light at all. For $2.20, I got nothing except an occasion for gnashing.

When I screwed the bulb into the lamp, the glass part came off in my hand. The bottom part is still in the socket, with spindly filament sticking up starkly in mute testimony to corporations' inhumanity to customers. I don't know the proper name for the screw part of a light bulb (core?), and I also don't know how to remove it from the socket once it is no longer attached to the bulb part.

It should be stressed that I am not a strong person. The bulb did not break because it was twisted with great vigor. I have unusually small hands; people often ask me to reach into tiny places for them and pull out treasured lint that would otherwise be lost forever. My forearms are skinny and my muscles an unhealthy joke. I have been screwing in light bulbs for 50 years, and this was the first one to gnash my teeth.

So it seems fair to say they're not making light bulbs the way they used to, by cracky, and if Ty Cobb were playing today, it would be too dark for night baseball. But it doesn't seem fair to point out that President Reagan used to huckster General Electric products on TV, and I'm ashamed of myself.

My wife said I could probably remove the broken bulb's core from the socket with pliers. So I went and got pliers from her tool chest, except she said what I returned with was a monkey wrench. It should be stressed that I do much better when she sends me after a hammer.

When I stopped gnashing my teeth to say something, I could still hear a gnashing sound. That's when my wife explained that she was gnashing her teeth because she had bought a cheese board for a wedding gift at Hudson's and opted to pay $2.50 extra to have it delivered to the home of the bride-to-be.

"Delivery will take 10 to 15 days," the clerk said. "If you want the gift wrapped, it will take a few days more."

The home of the bride-to-be is a three-minute drive from the store. The distance can be walked easily in 10 minutes.

There are probably many valid reasons, all related to cost-effectiveness, for such astonishingly slow service. Maybe a bride-to-be must wait until a full delivery truck is headed her way, which may not be until every other unwed woman in her neighborhood has met the right man, become engaged and invited people who shop at Hudson's to the wedding.

But I remember growing up during the 1930s in a town 60 miles from Detroit. The Hudson's truck came to our neighborhood several times a week. Merchandise was often delivered the day after it was ordered. There was no such thing as waiting two weeks — or three if you wanted wrapping.

Those were the good old days when customer service was a help, not a hope, and people screwed light bulbs, not vice versa. Whatever happened to Onward and Upward? Gnash, gnash, gnash.

Trash fire

Elkland Township fire fighters Monday evening extinguished a fire in a trash bin behind The Station, 6432 W. Main Street.

Cause of the fire, reported at 7:55, was unknown. The bin, owned by Gateway Sanitation Service of Almont, appeared undamaged.

NEW PASTOR -- Rev. A. E. McFarland and his wife, Evelyn. The church is located at the corner of Third and Oak Streets and has services at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. Sundays and 7 p.m. Wednesdays.

New Nazarene pastor seeks ways to up membership

If Rev. and Mrs. A.E. McFarland want to have a big turnout in church, all they have to do is have a family reunion.

But the new minister at the Cass City Church of the Nazarene would prefer to have a steadier turnout, so is working to increase its present small membership.

When he gave his first sermon April 25, there were 20 persons present. By visiting prospects mentioned to him by church members and others, he expects to build up the membership.

Rev. McFarland and his wife, Evelyn, both widowed from their first marriages, have been married six years. He has eight children from his first marriage and she has six. Together, they have 37 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

When asked if she had a hobby, Mrs. McFarland responded her grandchildren are her hobby. She also likes to read, sew and cook.

Coming to Cass City is a homecoming of sorts for Rev. McFarland. He was pastor of the Ellington Church of the Nazarene from 1965-68.

While he was there, his daughter, Deloris, met and eventually married Richard Barriger, who is now a Nazarene minister in Princeton, Ill. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Barriger of Cass City Road, Cass City.

McFarland also has a son,

Dallas, who is a Nazarene minister in Coldwater.

Rev. Mac, as he prefers to be called, graduated from Olivet Nazarene College in Kankakee, Ill., in 1951, then served as pastor of the Nazarene Church in Flushing, near Flint, from 1951-58.

He then went to the First Church of the Nazarene in Lincoln Park, where he stayed until 1965, when he went to Ellington. He was at the Lapeer First Church of the Nazarene from 1968-73, then went back to the church in Lincoln Park, where he stayed until coming to Cass City. The Lincoln Park church had 81 members.

McFarland is age 64 and that was a factor in his deciding to leave Lincoln Park. "At my age and the evening of my ministry, I thought it was time to get out of the big city." Lincoln Park is a Detroit suburb.

Although he figures with a smaller church, he will be able to take things a little easier, he doesn't plan on retiring once he turns 65. "As long as I'm healthy as I am, I don't plan to be on the shelf."

McFarland is a native of Falmouth, a very small town east of Cadillac, and said another reason for his being happy to come to Cass City is, "I'm really a country boy." His hobbies perhaps reflect his country origins. He likes to hunt and fish.

Mrs. McFarland plans to lead a women's fellowship at the church once she and her husband get a bit more established and the church membership expands a bit. She conducted such a fellowship in Lincoln Park.

Her husband said their reception in Cass City has been very cordial and that the members of his new church, though few in number, have "very good spirit."

The Haire Net

In the middle of a bull session the other day, the question was, am I a Democrat or Republican?

Right now, the answer was, I'm a Republican at the state level and a Democrat at the national level. In local politics, party labels mean nothing and the candidate is everything. Unfortunately there's no way of judging other candidates with the same yardstick.

I'm a Republican in Michigan because I believe in what Gov. William Milliken has done or is trying to do.

I'm a Republican because I believe in the changes in the business climate that the Republicans advocate. We need to keep jobs here, not in the south, and making it easier to do business in Michigan is the only real way to "say yes."

I'm a Democrat nationally because of Ronald Reagan.

After a year and a half, my worst fears about him have been justified. Give him a star for trying to cut costs in near out of control giveaway programs and having the guts to suggest that there should be a curb on social security's automatic increases.

You won't find many Democrats that will endorse that. Of course, when it comes to social security cuts you won't find many Republicans biting that economy bullet either.

Having said that, I've said it all for the president.

His foreign policy gives me the shakes. Limited nuclear war? Limited holocaust.

The increase in defense spending is a major cause of the huge budget deficit. Deficits cause high interest rates and high interest rates are one of the primary reasons that 10 million Americans are out of work and countless millions more working in jobs for which they are over qualified.

The president seems intent on negating much of what many of us equate with quality living. Wonderful national parks and undeveloped wilderness areas. A chance for all of us for brief moments to enjoy the tranquility of nature in the hustle and bustle of everyday life. That's the heritage started by Teddy Roosevelt and maintained or enhanced by every administration until Reagan.

With Reagan we get James Watt, who is doing everything in his power as Secretary of the Interior to barter away this precious national heritage.

If everything else were perfect, I'd never forgive the president for that.

Rabbit Tracks

(And anyone else he can get to help)

If the Chronicle were handing out gold stars for performance, an extra large one would be headed Gene Lukshaitis' way.

His precise capsule reports of the Cass City High School softball team's games are an editor's delight and the next best thing to being there.

In case you were wondering, the winners of the Cass City Retail Committee's two $100 grocery gift certificates were Mrs. Ben Kirtin of Cass City and Fran Szukala of Milford. That happened two weeks ago and in case you're wondering why it wasn't reported last week, the answer is I goofed.

That new face you see around the Chronicle is Nick Asendelft. He's interning this summer from Central Michigan University and will edit the annual progress edition.

Chances are very good that he'll be gone before I get that last name pronounced correctly.

Over the years Cass City has had some fine track teams and some champions. Compared to the record of the junior high, the high school teams have been also rans. Many, many times the champion junior high squad failed to keep pace at the varsity level.

Cass City has another in that long line of championship junior high teams this season and it will be interesting to see if it will continue to be the best in the league or fall by the wayside as the competition stiffens.

It could well be that this group of athletes won't have a chance to succeed or fail.

Guessing, it's about 60-40 against non-paying sports in 1982-83 at Cass City High School.

Because of the Memorial Day holiday, we would appreciate it if news copy is turned in to the Chronicle by Friday, if possible.

Pedaling Around Freezing teacher pay

By Mike Eliasohn

Cass City teachers should accept a freeze of their 1982-83 wages at the present levels.

Unfortunately, as of this writing, it looks like they will take the 10 percent increase due them and to heck with the consequences.

The teachers are entitled to the increase, which is written into their contract. Contracts are binding, but they can be renegotiated.

Teachers argue that residents of Cass City pay less than the state average for support of education, so why should they (the teachers) subsidize the low cost of education.

But these are not ordinary times and teachers should make the sacrifice. Unfortunately, "sacrifice" doesn't seem to be a word that is in their vocabulary.

A one-year pay freeze isn't going to make any teachers or their families so impoverished that they qualify for welfare or even for food stamps.

What it would do is save the school district and hence the taxpayers about $200,000 a year, according to the rough estimate of Supt. Donald Crouse.

That happens to be about what the two mills on the ballot June 14 for school programs will raise.

If the millage isn't approved, that will mean the loss of one elementary classroom teacher and the elementary art and physical education teachers; the intermediate school counselor, four high school teachers, and the library and nursing services at all levels. That's a total of 11 people. The 2 mills also includes funds for books and other materials and some custodians who will lose their jobs if it is defeated.

Why should the teachers give up their scheduled pay increase?

It would mean staff members scheduled to lose their jobs will still have them.

Presumably, that doesn't bother those teachers who have enough seniority that they don't have to worry about losing their jobs.

It would also mean that students won't be deprived of subjects and services they are entitled to for a good education. What kind of a school will it be without a library, for instance.

The easy way to prevent such cuts in staff, of course, is to approve the two mills June 14 and also the three mills for transportation and a half-mill for extracurricular activities.

That adds up to 5.5 mills and voters already have said what they thought of paying that much more in taxes.

What might make a difference is if voters who are being asked to make a sacrifice feel the teachers have made one. Accepting a 10 percent pay increase is not a sacrifice.

Walbro employees have made a sacrifice by accepting a three-year wage freeze (except for a cost of living increase the last two years) for the good of the company, for job security and to save the jobs of their fellow workers.

Their pay averages about $6.50 an hour, less than the starting wage for teachers, and they don't get four months off a year.

It's hard to imagine Walbro employees voting for a tax increase when they don't see teachers making a sacrifice like they made.

Taxpayers aren't going to vote for 5.5 additional mills, but maybe they will vote for 3 mills for transportation and a half-mill for extracurricular activities.

Wouldn't it be unfortunate if when students get to school next year they don't receive the education they are entitled to because in these difficult times, their teachers thought a pay increase was more important than their students or the taxpayers who pay their salaries?

SWING-OUT — Cass City High School seniors paraded through downtown Sunday following baccalaureate services. The high school band led the way in the traditional swing-out.

14-year-old hospitalized after bicycle accident

Cynthia Miller, 14, of Severance Road, was reported in fair condition Tuesday afternoon at Hills and Dales General Hospital, where she was taken by ambulance following a bicycle mishap that morning.

Cass City police reported she was riding her bike to school and her purse got caught in the front wheel, causing the cycle to flip over forwards, throwing her over the handlebars.

The accident took place about 8 a.m. at Pine and Leach Streets.

Two drivers were treated and released from Caro Community Hospital following week-end accidents.

Sheriff's deputies reported that Jennifer Ann Pugh, 29, of 350 Froede Road, Deford, was northbound on Hurds Corner Road. She said her brakes failed as she approached Deckerville Road.

She lost control of her vehicle, then ran over a stop sign at the northwest corner of the intersection. The car then ran into a tree.

Ms. Pugh was ticketed on a charge of careless driving. Officers checked her brakes and reported they were okay. The accident took place at 11:15 p.m. Saturday.

Also treated at the Caro hospital was Lu Alice Yost, 53, of 2118 Bay City-Forestville Road, Gagetown.

She was northbound on Colwood Road, south of LaJoie Road, she told deputies, and swerved to avoid some rabbits.

Her car went off the west side of the road into some shrubs and concrete blocks, then hit a utility pole guy wire, causing a power outage.

Officers found a dead rabbit in the path of her car and saw other rabbits in a yard. The accident took place at 6:50 a.m. Sunday.

Cass City police arrested Randolph J. Guigar, 26, of M-19, Ubyly, on a charge of operating a motor vehicle under the influence of liquor after an accident at 12:30 a.m. Sunday.

Officers said he was eastbound on Main Street, east of Scotty McCullough Drive, when his car went off the north side of the street and hit a speed limit sign.

He was taken to the county jail in Caro, where he was later released after posting bond. Arraignment before District Judge Richard F. Kern was scheduled June 7.

Cass City police ticketed Joseph W. Szarapski, 17, of 5485 Kelly Road on a charge of failure to yield following an 8:45 p.m. accident Tuesday, May 18.

Officers said he was westbound on Church Street, failed to yield after stopping at Seeger Street, and collided with the southbound car of John Zawilinski of 6316 Church Street.

Michael C. Donnelly, 32, of Bay City, was ticketed by deputies on a charge of no proof of insurance following a 7:40 p.m. mishap May 18.

They reported David J. Sturtevant, 41, of 3550 Cedar Run Road, Cass City, was turning onto Cedar Run from westbound M-81 when the Donnelly car ran into the rear of his vehicle.

A hit-and-run accident was reported at 11 a.m. May 18. Damaged by the unknown motorist, according to Cass City police, was the car of John Zawilinski of 6316 Church Street.

His car was parked on Leach Street, south of Main, when someone backed into it, damaging the right front fender.

Caro state police reported that Nanette K. Rutkowski, 22, of 4793 N. Seeger Street, was eastbound on Akron Road, west of Colwood Road, at 12:10 a.m. last Wednesday when her car ran into a tree limb lying across the road.

Two thefts occur at Cass City H.S.

Two thefts at Cass City High School have been reported to village police.

Barbara Root of 3805 Huron Line Road told officers after school Monday that $43 in cash and $68 in checks plus several bottles of suntan lotion were stolen from her gym locker between 2 and 3 p.m. that day.

The locker was unlocked but the room was locked during class. The money was from sales of suntan lotion by the cheerleaders, which hadn't been turned in yet.

Chemistry-physic-math teacher Douglas Grezesak told police last Thursday that a tape player was stolen the previous day from his classroom between 3:30 and 10:30 p.m. The Panasonic unit was valued at $75.

Police also reported that two fire extinguishers marked with "CCHS" had been taken from the high school during the last few weeks.

Gagetown police officer Marc Bridson investigated an open door late last Wednesday night at Gagetown Elementary School.

There was evidence someone had been inside, he said, but nothing appeared taken or disturbed.

Two seven-year-old boys admitted to Cass City police Friday that they had thrown a rock through a car window.

Owner of the car was Russell Hillaker of 6350 Greenland Road. The car was parked on Leach Street, near Sixth Street, by his daughter that evening.

The driver's side window was broken and a rock was found on the front seat. The incident was reported at 8:30 p.m.

Police notified the boys' parents.

Jack Kappen of 2546 Keilitz Road, Cass City, told sheriff's deputies Tuesday morning, May 18, that three headlights on his tractor were broken and the gas cap and keys were taken while it was parked at Little and Dodge Roads from May 15-17. Loss was estimated at $50.

Quaker Maid store owner Kareem Khoury reported to Cass City police that a partial barrel of beer was stolen shortly before closing time.

Two men came in and ordered a quarter-barrel of beer and then another man ordered a half-barrel.

The barrels were placed on the counter. The quarter-barrel was paid for, then while the third person was paying for the half-barrel, both barrels were taken, apparently by one of the first two men.

Donor name omitted

The obituary of Meredith B. Auten in last week's Chronicle said he and two others donated seven acres of land on which Hills and Dales General Hospital was constructed.

Four persons made the donation, the name that was inadvertently omitted being that of Curtis Hunt, who also donated use of some equipment used in the hospital's construction.

Phil Ruppe campaigns in Thumb

Philip E. Ruppe

Phil Ruppe, candidate for the Republican nomination for U.S. Senator from Michigan, was a luncheon guest at the Cass City Rotary Club meeting Tuesday, May 18, at Wildwood Farms.

Ruppe, who was campaigning in the upper Thumb that day, was introduced by one of his supporters, Ed Moore of Bad Axe. Ruppe represented the 11th district in the U.S. House of Representatives from 1967-79. The district consisted of all of the Upper Peninsula and several counties in the northern lower peninsula.

During his years in Congress, Ruppe says he was a strong supporter of jobs and economic development, a fair share of return of federal tax dollars to Michigan, energy development, the Great Lakes, the environment and the automobile industry.

75 attend church banquet

Approximately 75 persons attended the mother-daughter banquet Thursday evening, May 20, at the Cass City Missionary Church.

Theme for the evening was "Portraits in White."

The invocation was given by Mrs. Edith Surbrook after which the girls from the Sunday School presented "What is a Mother?" Toast to mother was presented by Mrs. Mary Lou Cooper and the toast to the daughter was presented by Mrs. Beatrice King.

Special honors were given for: newest mother, Jan Tuckey; newest bride, Rhoda Tuckey; mother who is always available, pastor's wife, Elaine Taylor; mother in prayer, Florence Tuckey; mother in faith, Rosalyn Thompson; mother in love, Wanda Tuckey, and mother of the year, Sherry King, who was honored for the many times she has opened her heart and her home to many foster children.

After a salad buffet, the women were entertained with a fashion show of various wedding dresses worn by the ladies of the church being modeled.

The following dresses were modeled: Evelyn Whittaker by her daughter Rita; Ethel Whittaker by herself; Wanda Tuckey, herself; Elaine Taylor, her daughter Linda; Jane Becker, her daughter Michelle; Evelyn Hendra, herself; Rhoda Tuckey, herself; Jan Tuckey, herself; Maryette Briggs, herself; Deloris Boyer by Linda Whittaker; Cheryl King by Beth Tuckey; Mary Fritz by Marsha Taylor; Mary Lou Cooper by her daughter, Denise Cooper; and Beatrice King by her granddaughter, Diane Cooper, and Virginia Henry, herself.

A description of the dress and also the testimony from the person whose dress it was was read by Shirley Tuckey and Elaine Taylor.

The final dress modeled for the evening was Lori Whittaker representing the "bride of Christ."

Special music was provided by Ethel Whittaker, Evelyn Whittaker and Shirley Heronemus. Benediction was given by Vera King.

Down Memory Lane

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

FIVE YEARS AGO

An open house honoring Mr. and Mrs. Stanley McArthur on their 50th wedding anniversary will be held Saturday, June 4, in the First Baptist Church basement. Stanley McArthur and Pauline Squiers were married June 14, 1927, in Flint. Cass City residents will be asked to quench their thirsts with something other than water Thursday through Sunday. The village water tower will be drained to allow interior painting of the structure.

Cheryl Karr and Chloe Ann Wills of Cass City were two of 28 area high school students chosen for the musical group "Satisfaction" during auditions May 11-12. "Satisfaction" is a branch of the Campus Life Division of Youth For Christ.

Cass City has been a run away winner in the opening two games of the Thumb Traveling League. Craig Helwig limited Pigeon to three hits in an 11-2 walk away Tuesday. In the second game Thursday, Cass City rolled over Mayville with an 11-3 score.

TEN YEARS AGO

The Cass City Junior High track team remained undefeated in regular season competition last week by winning a dual meet Tuesday with Marlette and a triangular meet Thursday with Caro and Lakers. The thinclads defeated Marlette 95-32. The score in the three-school meet was: Cass City, 89½; Lakers, 58, and Caro, 11½.

The few days remaining for the class of 1972 will be hectic and fun. The seniors leave Saturday for the traditional trip, this year going to Florida, where they will spend two days at Disney World and one at Cypress Gardens.

Lambert Althaver, executive vice-president of Walbro Corporation, announced this week that the portion of its business that manufactures float feed carburetors will be moved to a recently purchased building in Caro.

David Sherrard, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Sherrard, received a bachelor of arts degree in social studies at Bethel College Sunday during the 25th anniversary commencement.

25 YEARS AGO

Village Engineer William Schram reported to the council Tuesday that there is no water pressure on Seventh Street west from Seeger Street west. The area also does not have adequate fire protection, the council decided.

Bob Wright, Dave Ware, Paul Schember and Martin Yedinak, members of a tumbling team from Cass City School, entertained members of the Cass City Rotary Club Tuesday noon at the New Gordon Hotel.

Two of the largest silos in the Thumb area are now under construction at the farm of Dr. H.T. Donahue of Cass City. The two silos will have a combined capacity of 778 tons of silage. Each is 20 feet in diameter and 50 feet high.

Gary Don Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Jones of Decker, has been awarded a Michigan State University 4-H scholarship. The scholarship provides for tuition of $68 per term for four years as long as Mr. Jones meets the scholastic requirements of the grant.

4-H hosting dairy camp

Plans are well underway for the first 4-H Dairy Camp to be held at the county fairgrounds in Sandusky from July 13-15.

The camp will combine activities normally associated with camping such as hiking, picnicking, playing and making new friends with learning about cows, goats and the dairy industry.

Dr. Gale Baumgardner, associate professor of animal science at Michigan State University and camp coordinator is assembling a staff of resource persons to instruct campers in such areas as: Dairy cow and dairy goat judging, fitting and showing, planning and paying for a dairy farm, making and eating dairy foods, dairy production, dairy goat quiz bowl and giving speeches and demonstrations.

Campers will work with teachers, researchers, Extension Agents and MSU students as they learn more about cows, does, calves, kids and milk.

The camp is scheduled to begin at 10 a.m. July 12 with closing session at 2 p.m. on the 15th. Total cost for the camp, including registration and all meals is $20. Pre-registration forms are available through the 4-H office of the Sanilac County Cooperative Extension Service. It is not necessary to be a 4-H'er to attend.

The population of Michigan in 1820 was 8,767.

Parenting class to discuss habits

Some habits that parents find worrisome, such as thumb sucking, lying, and stealing are actually part of a child's natural development.

A class in "worrisome habits" will discuss some of these habits, why they occur and how to deal with them. It is the fourth class in a five part parenting series.

The class will be Tuesday, June 1, from 7-8 p.m. at Cass City High School. Instructor will be Peggy Houck Vuylstek, extension home economist from St. Clair County.

There is a $1 registration fee for this class, which includes all class materials and a baby sitting service. For further information and registration requests, contact the Cooperative Extension Service office in Caro or Sandusky.

Summer jobs sought for area students

Gov. William Milliken has proclaimed May as Youth Employment Month and the Tuscola Area Skill Center placement department in Caro is doing its part to help the proclamation become a reality, according to Steve Ley, placement coordinator.

The placement department, along with statewide placement services, is soliciting summer jobs for youth via letters, phone calls, radio announcements and newspapers during this month and early June.

Many students are available for summer jobs and are willing to do jobs consisting from window washing to the type that need excellent preentry job level skills. Some students are willing to do work free for the experience a job might offer them.

"If you would like to hire a youth for summer work or would like additional information, call the Placement Department at the Tuscola Area Skill Center, 673-5300," Ley said.

HEALTH TIPS

High blood pressure precautionary measures

Gov. Milliken has declared May as "High Blood Pressure Month."

One of every six Americans has high blood pressure and three-fourths of the American public do not know some of the most important facts about high blood pressure and efforts to control it.

In an effort to promote, coordinate, and increase support of the needed high blood pressure control services, the Tuscola County Health Department issues these reminders.

1) High blood pressure increases the risk of premature illness or death from coronary heart disease, strokes, and heart and kidney failure.

2) Persons told their blood pressure is just "a little higher than normal" should visit their doctor and have their blood pressure checked. Findings of a recent study conducted by the National Institute of Health showed that even people with "borderline" high blood pressure received benefits from treatment that helped bring their pressures back into the normal range.

3) There is no cure for high blood pressure, but it can be controlled.

4) To control high blood pressure, doctors usually prescribe medication. The medicine must be taken every day.

5) Doctors often tell people who have high blood pressure to make changes in their diet. They ask them to lose weight, cut down on salt, and exercise more. For some people with high blood pressure, that is enough to bring their blood pressure back to normal.

Other persons have to take

Big Brothers/ Sisters names top volunteers

Big brother Carl Safford of Vassar and big sister Pamela Sopchik of Caro have been selected as the outstanding volunteers for 1982.

The honor is given to volunteers who have demonstrated outstanding support to Big Brothers-Big Sisters, their community and their little brother or sister.

Carl Safford has been a Big Brother for the past 10 years, working with four little brothers.

In addition, he is an active participant in the Hospice program and the Michigan Heart Association. Safford has been very involved with the Big Brothers-Big Sisters program as a board member for two years and in planning and implementing activities for the children. He and his wife, Beth, live in Vassar.

Mrs. Sopchik has been involved in Big Brothers-Big Sisters for the past eight years. She has been involved in every agency function during that time and has devoted many volunteer hours to the agency. After eight years, Pam is still matched with the same little sister.

Pam has recently been able to fulfill a long time dream, in opening her own business in Mayville. She and her husband, Andy, live in Caro.

the medicine every day plus make changes in their diet. If you have high blood pressure, do everything the doctor advises so you can keep your blood pressure under control.

6) High blood pressure can affect anyone. Some people think that only tense or anxious people have high blood pressure, while relaxed and calm people have low or normal blood pressure. This isn't true.

Asthmatic kids summer camp slated

The American Lung Association of Michigan will provide campships for asthmatic children between the ages of 7 through 14 this summer at Camp MICHIMAC.

The association is accepting applications until June 24 for the two part resident camping program beginning July 24 and ending Aug. 7.

Now entering its third year, Camp MICHIMAC has provided one or two weeks of camping each summer for 110 youngsters at Camp Nissokone in Oscoda and Camp Ohiesya in Holly. This year Nissokone for children ages 10-14 will run from July 24 through Aug. 7. Ohiesya, for the 7-10 age group, will be held from Aug. 1-7. Both are YMCA camps.

Asthmatic children will have the opportunity to participate in a variety of camping activities alongside non-asthmatic campers. They will be supported by a staff of volunteer physicians, nurses and pharmacists.

Camp MICHIMAC is co-sponsored by the Michigan Allergy Society and the Michigan chapter of the American Academy of Pediatrics in conjunction with the YMCA of Metro Detroit.

Anyone interested in applying should call the Lung Association at its toll-free number, 1-800-292-5979.

The first game lasted eight innings, two more than normal, before the Eagles won, 4-2.

Winning pitcher Jerry Alard struck out seven, walked three and gave up five hits.

Losing pitcher Randy Radabaugh struck out eight, walked two and gave up six hits.

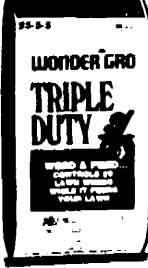

Radabaugh hit a double and Dan Glidden's single in the first inning drove in the Bulldogs' two runs.

Softballers bow in twin bills

Coach Gene Lukshaitis used the final games of the year to prepare for next spring when he hopes his softball team will be stronger than it was this season.

The Hawks ended the regular season with double header losses to USA and Marlette to finish with a 6-16 record.

Marlette topped the Hawks Thursday in the final Thumb B Association games, 12-10 and 8-4.

The first game was another close loss for Cass City. The Hawks jumped into the lead 7-4 with a six-run outburst in the third but the Red Raiders bounced back with three in the fourth and five in the fifth to win it.

Sherry Stec pounded out three hits in four tries while Rhonda Fader and Jill Root each batted in three runs with two hits.

Melanie Ross was three for three with 4 RBI's for Marlette.

In the nightcap, Marlette dominated the game, jumping out to a seven-run lead in the first three innings and coasting in for the 8-4 decision behind Penny Cook. Jill Root took the loss.

Fader collected a hit in one official turn at bat for Cass City and was on base three times. Ross hit a long home run and had two hits for the winners.

Cass City was again unable to come up with the clutch hit when needed, stranding 10 runners in the first half of the game.

USA GAMES

The Hawks faced the potent USA Patriots last Tuesday and lost both ends of the twin bill.

In the first game, Lukshaitis experimented with new players and used veterans at different positions to get ready for next year. The result was a runaway for USA, 17-3.

Kathy Cramer pitched a one-hitter for USA, allowing only a hit in the fourth inning by Jill Root.

It was a different story in the second game. The game was close all the way. A controversial call of a ball hit down the third base line hurt Cass City's chances as the Patriots netted three runs when the blow was called fair.

Kim Adam led USA with three hits in four tries and five RBI's. Jamie Fox had a perfect game at the plate with three for three and Sherry Stec and Lori Calka each collected two hits.

Hawks bow in pair of mound duels

Two pitching duels in a double header with Marlette ended the Cass City Red Hawks' regular season baseball schedule Thursday.

The only trouble for Hawk fans was that the Red Raiders won both duels at Cass City Recreational Park.

In the opener, Gardner bested Willard Burdon, 5-2, and in the nightcap Jim Adkins bowed to Romosier, 3-0.

With a little luck the outcome could have been different in both games.

Burdon allowed five hits but it was walks that enabled the visitors to walk off with the victory in the first game.

In Marlette's three-run fourth inning Burdon allowed just one hit but two walks and an error opened the flood gates. Burdon allowed just three hits in the Matt Lukshaitis' single.

In the nightcap the Hawks outthit Marlette 5 to 3, but Romosier was double tough in the clutch as he white-washed Coach Don Schelke's charges.

The game was actually decided in the first inning when Marlette punched out two of its three hits and all of its runs. The hits coupled with a crucial error by Cass City accounted for all the markers. Adkins allowed a hit in the second and then mowed down the Raiders in order the rest of the way.

Generations of Bayleys could profit from this

Dear John,

In reference to your mention in the May 20 "Rabbit Tracks" regarding your postcard from Beatrice Bayley, a retired school teacher. I along with many others, also received a card from

Grads attend breakfast in their honor

Twelve members of this year's graduating class and their parents were guests of Rev. and Mrs. Eldred Kelley at a 7:30 breakfast Sunday morning in the Salem United Methodist Church parsonage.

The graduates are Colleen Auten, Kirk Winter, Krystal Isa, David Lockwood, Leigh Wilson, Marc Inbody, Janel Trueman, James Peddie, John Finkbeiner, Kathleen Guilds, Deb Walter and Shari Spencer.

During the morning worship service, each graduate was presented with a gift from the church, handmade by Carol Furness.

"Beatrice Bayley" approximately a year ago. At that time the cost of the book was a little over $28, but the scam approach was the same.

As an avid genealogist, I was interested at first and contemplated sending for the book. After checking it out however, and after reading an article in the Flint Journal, I decided otherwise.

The upshot of the article I read was that the post office is quite interested in the fact that they cannot seem to locate "Beatrice Bayley" in any connection with this operation but instead have found that two or three other gentlemen are involved and they consider the whole operation slightly suspicious.

The post office recommends anyone receiving the card would be better off, genealogy wise and certainly financially, if they saved their money.

Sincerely,

Jim Mosack

P.S. Enjoy your paper immensely!

She tells about her husband's 45th high school class reunion they attended last year in Walled Lake.

The class was small but everyone showed up including two teachers. During the evening each one got up to tell something that happened to them while in school and it was really funny.

The biggest laugh came when one of the teachers told how there was no money to pay him so the superintendent went door to door in town to get money.

New books at the library

THE ELECTRONIC COTTAGE: EVERYDAY LIVING WITH YOUR PERSONAL COMPUTER IN THE 1980's by Joseph Deken (non-fiction). This closely written, fact-packed manual introduces the novice to the basic principles of computer language, and to the conceptual strategies behind each computer's use. Deken explains what computers do, the kinds of language bits that they handle, and how we must reorient our thinking to deal with them. From hardware and software, binary arithmetic and computer games, up to analog-to-digital conversion and bio-feedback, the mysteries are elucidated. This book gives a clear presentation of many unfamiliar ideas, but requires some effort on the part of the reader.

MARRIAGE by Gwen Davis (fiction). A tenderly bitter-sweet portrait of Chris White, a woman who senses that the romance has gone out of her marriage. A Mexican vacation with her husband, son, and daughter serves as the turning point of her quandary as Chris tries to choose separation as the solution. The events and the people that surround her at this moment prompt both reconsideration and indecision as the claims and impressions, past and present, on her mind make Chris ask once more what she has tried to make of her life and what it has become in actuality.

ECHO CHAMBERS by Richard Himmel (fiction). Himmel's implausible plot concerns China's five-year plan to control the world by being number one in industrial output, oil output, laser and nuclear technology - you get the idea. This would be done by a consortium of eight powerful members worldwide. Himmel throws in enough torture, high finance, and intrigue (plus a happy ending) to satisfy the most demanding reader.

Three persons plead guilty to charges in Tuscola Circuit Court

Three persons pleaded guilty Monday when they appeared before Tuscola County Circuit Judge Patrick R. Joslyn.

Marty T. McLellan, 18, of 1727 Luder Road, Caro, pleaded guilty to breaking and entering an occupied dwelling. His plea was accepted and sentencing was scheduled July 12.

He was charged with breaking into a home at 1775 Luder Road April 18. Rodney Lee Caughel, 26, of the Riverside Correctional Facility, Ionia, formerly of Saginaw, pleaded guilty to uttering and publishing a forged check for $25 July 23, 1981, in Vassar.

His plea was accepted and sentencing was scheduled June 7. He was ordered held without bond. Gregory A. Welch, 24, of 240 E. Grant Street, Caro, pleaded guilty to violating probation.

His plea was accepted and he was sentenced to 14 days in the county jail with work release privileges granted.

He was placed on 36 months' probation in June, 1981, for delivery of marijuana and violated it by failing to attend a substance abuse counseling session.

Alfred Palmer, 21, of 332 Gaway Street, Vassar, pleaded innocent to violating probation. A pretrial hearing was scheduled June 14.

He was placed on 36 months' probation in February of this year for delivery of marijuana. He is charged with violating it by failing to visit his probation officer May 6, failure to pay a court ordered obligation and by not maintaining steady employment.

David E. King, 17, of 2274 Mertz Road, Caro, pleaded innocent to violating probation. The matter was continued to June 7.

He was placed on 36 months' probation last December for larceny in a building. He is charged with violating it by failing to maintain an approved residence and possession of marijuana.

Sentencing was delayed one year Monday for Roger L. McKnight, 23, of 113 W. Bevens Road, Caro, who pleaded guilty March 8 to arson in connection with a fire Jan. 5, 1981, in the Caro Area Services for the Handicapped building on Cleaver Road, Caro.

At the end of a two-day trial Friday, a circuit court jury found Sharrie Lynn Spencer, 22, of 211 Huron Street, Bad Axe, innocent of breaking and entering an occupied dwelling.

She had been charged with breaking into the Rainbow Restaurant southwest of Caro July 7, 1981.

DISTRICT COURT

A charge of possession of marijuana against William Dow, 26, of 5080 Leslie Road, Decker, was dismissed Monday by Judge Richard F. Kern.

Dow pleaded guilty to the charge June 10, 1981, after which sentencing was delayed one year. The charge was dismissed because he fulfilled the terms of his probation during the year.

Your Neighbor says Seat belts should not be mandatory

A proposed law in Michigan that would require front seat occupants of cars to wear seat belts was endorsed last week by Chrysler Corp. Chairman Lee Iacocca.

He told the House of Representatives Insurance Committee that seat belts are the most effective life-saving devices ever made. He said France's mandatory seat belt law has reduced fatalities in traffic accidents by 25 percent.

Dean Severance doesn't support such a law. "I guess I don't think there should be a law, but everyone should (wear seat belts) anyway." He feels wearing safety belts should be a matter of personal choice. "In most cases (accidents), they help, but in some they don't."

Severance isn't a seat belt user. "Mostly it's a matter of inconvenience is why I don't," Severance explained. He added that if he felt strongly that safety belts help in an accident, he would use them.

Although Severance doesn't feel wearing seat belts should be required, he does feel Michigan should retain its law requiring motorcycle riders to wear helmets. The difference is that cycle riders have no protection if they fall off, whereas car riders are enclosed in a protective shell.

Severance, who lives on Van Dyke Road, works on and is a partner in the family dairy farm, Arthur Severance and Sons, on Severance Road, Decker. (The other sons are Tim and Randy.)

He and Tim also operate "Illusion," a combination of playing records and a light show for dances. So far they have worked at four high school dances and by the time this week end is over, three weddings.

In addition to all that, Severance, who is single, plays outfield and is a designate hitter on the Croft-Clara softball team.

Women's Club views Audubon slide show

The 59th annual meeting of the Tuscola County Federation of Women's Clubs was held Saturday, May 22, at the Akron United Methodist Church.

Registration and a social hour preceded the meeting.

Rev. Janice Martineau of Samers Club attends rally

The Upper Thumb Samers Chapter 48 of the Good Sam Club attended the state Good Sam spring rally May 14-16 in Charlotte.

Eleven units and 23 members attended from the chapter. A total of 198 units attended from all parts of the state plus Ohio and Indiana.

Programs were planned for adults and young people. Bingo was played and potluck meals enjoyed. The Crowe Family performed music Sunday morning.

Plans were made to attend the Good Sam state rally Aug. 18-22 in Coldwater. All interested in attending should contact either Roy Davis or Jim Briggs.

The next regular chapter meeting will be June 12-13 at Ber-Wa-Ga-Na Campgrounds on M-46 just west of M-24. Guests are welcome.

the Akron United Methodist Church gave the invocation and Cub Scout Den No. 2 Pack 3551 of the Akron Boy Scouts presented the flag and led the Pledge of Allegiance.

Councilman Bondarenko of Akron welcomed the group followed by a welcome to the federation by President Evelyn Ziehm of Gagetown.

East Central District President Bernadeen Jaynes of Vassar spoke about the state convention at Marquette. An informative talk on Girlstown was presented by East Central District Girlstown Representative Carolyn Laplow of Millington.

The meeting adjourned for the banquet followed by the program. Donna Rae of Akron, a member of the Audubon Society, showed and narrated her collection of slides of birds.

An invitation for next year's meeting was extended by Mrs. Hannah Reetz of the Caro Van Winkle Club.

Again this year, the clubs presented funds to the county project, speech therapy, to help youngsters attend speech camp at Central Michigan University.

County tries again for bridge construction funds

The Tuscola County Board of Commissioners Tuesday approved the request of the county Road Commission to place a millage proposal on the Aug. 10 primary election ballot.

Proceeds of the half-mill levy, which will be for five years, will be used to finance bridge construction, if approved by voters. A 1-mill levy for the same purpose expired in 1980.

Following a public hearing Tuesday, the board approved the agricultural and forestry project plan of the county Economic Development Corp. Two farmers at the hearing indicated they favored the plan.

Its approval will enable the EDC to sell bonds as a means for farmers and foresters to purchase equipment at lower interest rates than through conventional financing.

The board had received a request from the union that represents courthouse employees, asking it to reclassify about nine employees. The upgrading of their job categories would have meant higher salaries.

On the recommendation of their personnel committee, commissioners approved a resolution that said that because of their recently imposed freeze of the pay of non-union employees and the county's limited finances, they would deny the request.

However, should county finances improve, the resolution continued, the board will reconsider the request.

Pillsbury eyes Wickes

The on, then off sale of Wickes Agriculture to the Pillsbury Co. is on again.

The proposed sale of its agricultural division by the financially troubled Wickes Companies, Inc., was first announced in January.

In April, following a shakeup of top management of the San Diego, Calif., based firm, the company announced a change of talks with Pillsbury because its new chairman and chief executive officer was reviewing all Wickes operations.

Also in April, citing $2 million owed, Wickes filed for Chapter 11 bankruptcy protection from creditors.

Wickes has now announced, however, that it has reached tentative agreement to sell its agriculture division to Pillsbury for $45 million.

Final agreement is subject to approval by the U.S. Bankruptcy Court in Los Angeles, which is expected by the end of this month.

If the court approves the sale, Pillsbury will take immediate possession of all Wickes Agriculture plants and inventories and assume management of all operations.

Included will be more than 50 elevators, terminals, processing plants and packaging plants in several states.

Unknown yet is what will happen to Pillsbury's application made in March to the Cass City Economic Development Corp. for the EDC to issue $800,000 in tax exempt bonds to finance purchase of the local elevator. (Pillsbury would have paid the principal and interest.)

According to village Superintendent Lou LaPonsie, the last notice the EDC received from Pillsbury's bonding attorneys was that no action was taking place regarding the bond sale.

Water off

Water service to a seven-block area on and near Main Street was stopped for 3½ hours Tuesday.

Village workers turned off the water at 3:30 p.m. to replace a faulty fire hydrant on the northwest corner of Main and Oak Streets. The water was turned back on at 7.

He will be running in the new 77th district. (See story, page 1).

Allen, 44, began his career with the newspaper as a reporter but quickly moved to the position of editor—a responsibility he has held for most of his 18 years with the twice-weekly Advertiser.

A veteran of the U.S. Marine Corps and the U.S. Air Force, Allen attended the University of Illinois and the University of Maryland. He returned to his home town of Caro in 1964.

He is a charter member of the former Help Line crisis intervention program, a charter member of the Tuscola County Community Mental Health Services Board, was instrumental in establishing the Tuscola Players Community Theatre Group in the early 1960s and is presently an officer of the Caro Arts Society.

Allen is a former member of the Caro Jaycees, former coordinator of youth activities of the Caro United Methodist Church, served on the Caro Board of Commerce in the late 1960s and has been active in the work of the American Cancer Society and the March of Dimes. He also helped develop the Thumb Meet of Champions track and field meet.

A member of the rules committee of the Michigan Press Association, he is also a member of the Caro Community Hospital Advisory Board, a volunteer with the Caro Baseball Federation, and a member of Mt. Moriah Lodge No. 226 F & AM and Chapter No. 96, Royal Arch Masons of Caro. Allen and his wife, the former Janet Butcher of Fairgrove, have two teenage sons, David and Brian. They reside in a farm home in rural Fairgrove Township.

Barcia seeks senate post

State Rep. James A. Barcia, D-Bay City, has announced his candidacy for state senator from the new 34th district.

The district consists of Huron, Tuscola, Bay, Arenac and Gladwin Counties. (See story, page 1.)

Barcia, 30, was first elected to the House of Representatives in 1976.

He is currently chairman of the House public works committee. He previously was chairman of the drainage committee and has also served or serves on the education, conservation, environment and recreation, colleges and universities, tourist industry relations, and liquor control committees.

James A. Barcia

He was elected by his colleagues to the leadership post of majority (Democratic) whip at the beginning of his second term and has held that position since.

In 1978, he was the author of a bill which eliminated sales and use taxes on medical devices such as eyeglasses, wheelchairs, crutches, canes, braces and hearing aids, which saved users $10 million in taxes.

He helped pass the "Whistleblowers Protection Act" in 1980, which protects employees who report violations of law by their employers from firing or other

Mass for senior grads held at St. Pancratius

A baccalaureate mass prepared by the high school seniors of St. Pancratius Catholic Church was held Sunday at the 9 a.m. mass with Father Joseph Morales as celebrant.

Seniors participating in the service were Gerald Bartnik, Kim Czekai, Joe Decker, Brenda Erla, Chuck Erla, Mark Kocan, Gail Little, Sandy McDonald, Gary Robinson, Mary Ross.

Tom Rutkoski, Gerri Salas, Jim Smithson, Lori Sugden, Robert Sutter, Julie Vargo, Stan Wilson and Karla Wischmeyer.

Lori Sugden was commentator; Jim Smithson, Brenda Erla, and Karla Wischmeyer were readers. Intercessions were read by Mary Ross, Robert Sutter and Julie Vargo, with all students participating in the offertory.

Father Morales presented each senior with a gift from the parish and then presented the Julia Murray Scholarship awards to Kim Czekai, Julie Vargo and Karla Wischmeyer.

After the services, the seniors with their families, friends and members of the parish were feted with a breakfast in the parish center.

County waste disposal plan passes first test

The proposed Tuscola County solid waste disposal plan has passed its first test with few scars.

The 13-member county committee which has been working about a year on the state-mandated plan met May 12 to go over the changes suggested by the state Department of Natural Resources (DNR), which reviewed the preliminary draft since it last met Feb. 24.

The meeting at the courthouse annex in Caro was the first opportunity for representatives of the townships and villages in the county which voted to participate in preparation of the plan to review it.

The committee scheduled a public hearing on the plan Wednesday, Aug. 18, at 7:30 p.m. in the annex. The DNR requires a minimum of 90 days from when the plan is ready for review and the hearing.

In the interim, copies of the plan will be mailed to the 34 villages and townships (at $7.50 each, the committee decided, since the state didn't provide enough funds to pay for all of the required planning). Copies will also be available at public libraries.

The 20-year plan recommends continued reliance on the three landfills in Tuscola County for disposal of trash for at least the next five years. The plan must be updated every five years.

It questions recycling of waste materials in the near future because it isn't felt it would be financially feasible in rural areas.

The committees reviewed a letter dated May 6 from the DNR waste management planning section specifying needed corrections and suggested changes.

ONE COMMENT IN THE letter, in response to the plan's questioning the feasibility of recycling, drew some laughter when it was read aloud:

"The fact that recycling operations are not profitable should not be considered a disadvantage if they are being run by the government. After all, waste disposal and management is a public service and like other public services such as sewage, water, road, etc., it is not provided by the government for the purpose of turning a profit."

Human Development Commission planner Howard Hoskins commented about that being an example of bureaucratic thinking.

Overall, he noted, although the DNR questioned some figures used in the preliminary plan and offered some suggestions, all were minor and in some cases, "nit-picky." No sections required a major re-writing.

Ed Kimbrue, Tuscola County Health Department environmental health director, who prepared the last state-required solid waste plan a few years ago, commented that when the DNR gets picky, that means it can't find anything major to be concerned about.

THE COMMITTEE authorized Hoskins to respond to the DNR comments and to submit to it the newly prepared management plan, which the state agency has not yet seen.

The management plan specifies that the county Department of Public Works will oversee implementation of the solid waste plan and "monitor to determine significant changes that would require modifications of the plan during the first five years."

If the DPW decides changes are in order, it reestablishes the 13-member solid waste planning committee, which makes the changes, which after a public hearing, must ultimately be approved by the DNR.

After the public hearing in August, any final changes will be made. Then the solid waste disposal plan must be approved by two-thirds of the 34 township boards and village councils in the county.

If the required number don't approve, the plan goes back to the committee for revision and then back to the local units for approval.

The plan must ultimately be approved by the DNR. The deadline to have it okayed and in operation is the end of the year.

The meeting last Wednesday attracted 22 persons, including seven members of the committee and local officials.

Thumb Area Consortium planning for 1983 CETA

The Thumb Area Consortium administrative board last Thursday authorized the start of planning of its Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) program for 1982-83.

What it doesn't know yet is whether there will be a 1982-83 program.

The Reagan Administration and Congress, consortium Executive Director Frank Lenard explained, are still debating what form federally-financed job training programs, if any, will take during the new fiscal year that starts Oct. 1.

The latest update from the National Association of Counties, presented to the board, said there is an impasse between the administration and the Senate, with no action expected soon. The House of Representatives is waiting for the Senate to act first.

One result may be that the present CETA program, which expires Sept. 30, will be extended for another year in its present form, which would give Congress time to revise it.

Since CETA could come to an end then, Lenard told the board, he is setting aside $120,000 to pay salaries while the agency shuts down, unemployment compensation, etc. Lenard estimated it will take more than 90 days should CETA end to get everything organized should the records need to be examined in the future.

With the possibility that CETA will continue for another year, the Michigan Department of Labor has directed local CETA agencies to submit annual plans for 1982-83, based on the same amount of money as they received this fiscal year.

The administrative board therefore voted to have the consortium submit an updated master plan to the state for the new fiscal year.

The state recommends the master plan include only two CETA programs, Title II-B (mostly classroom job training) and Title VII on-the-job training, for which the consortium is receiving $1.5 million and $233,882 respectively this year.

Lenard doesn't expect actual funding next year to be anywhere near that, based on what the Reagan Administration is recommending. "To be realistic, you could just about cut that in half," he told the board.

If those are the only programs operating next year, that will mean no job training specifically geared toward youth.

JOB PROMOTION

In other action, the board approved the recommendations of its advisory council for allocation of $12,000 in Title VII funds for "employment generating services." All villages and cities in Tuscola, Huron and Sanilac were asked to submit funding proposals, with $4,000 to be appropriated in each county.

Grants awarded were as follows: Tuscola -- Cass City, $2,000 to mail promotional brochures and for advertising to attract new business and industry; Caro, $2,000 to promote industrial activity. Those were the only communities to submit fund requests.

Sanilac -- Marlette, $2,000 for printing and mailing industrial promotion brochures; Brown City, $2,000 for advertising in and out of state to attract industry. Six communities submitted requests.

Huron -- Huron County Economic Development Corp., $1,600 to compile an inventory of all industrial sites in the county; Harbor Beach and Port Hope, $800 to promote tourism in the area, and Pigeon Area Community Events Council, $1,600 for an industrial brochure. Those were the only communities to submit requests.

Taking stock

The caller was a real state salesman. He was mildly upset over the column I wrote about the no-interest-for-five-years deals on homes in this area.

He said I hadn't mentioned that although no interest is paid on the 50 percent of the deal that you pay off in five years, you can deduct an interest charge on this portion.

The IRS will let you assume the interest was 10 percent and the difference between what you pay and what you would have paid if 10 percent interest was charged is the amount you can deduct.

I didn't mention it because I didn't know about it. Steve Tubbs of the CPA firm of Grossman Wienberg & Lawson confirms that it's so.

My critic insisted it was a better deal than renting.

"You have a house all during this period when you're paying off the mortgage," he said. "You ought to subtract what rent you would have paid during that time, and then you'd see how much better off you were."

As they say in Washington, we'll reappraise the situation. Let's say the total price is $120,000. You pay half down, or $60,000.

That $60,000 could have been left in Southern Bell Telephone bonds to earn 16 percent. That's $9,600 year.

You're also going to be paying taxes and maintenance and repairs. Call this $2,000. That's $11,600 that you won't have each year that you're an owner.

Now for the other $60,000 you're paying off in five years — this period that you'll have a home with no interest on the $60,000.

Although you'll be paying off the $60,000 at $1,000 a month, to keep it simple let's say the first year you don't pay until year-end. Consider you had a free ride for 12 months.

After you've paid in this first $12,000 it isn't going to be earning interest for you anymore. At 16 percent that's $1,920.

At the end of the second year, there's another $12,000 out of your investment funds and interest on $24,000 now. And so on until the fifth year. Let's add up the figures:

Year	Lost interest	Taxes, etc.	Total
1	$ 9,600	$2,000	$11,600
2	11,520	2,000	13,520
3	13,440	2,000	15,400
4	15,360	2,000	17,360
5	17,280	2,000	19,280

After the fifth year you're all paid up and are one of the landed gentry, paying $19,280 annually for the privilege. The government will have let you deduct from income about $15,000 in "interest" even though supposedly you didn't pay any. If you're in a 35 percent bracket, that has saved you $5,250.

So the net amount you have in the house is $120,000, less the $5,250 that has come off your income tax. You've got about $115,000 tied up.

The caller insisted the place would be worth a lot more at the end of that time so it's a good investment.

He doesn't guarantee it, though. But maybe he's right. You can find out for sure if you buy now and sell in 1987. Call me up then and tell me what a dummy I was
