Home for family of six leveled in Sunday blaze

Fire Sunday morning left a family of six with only the clothes they were wearing.

Destroyed was the mobile home of Theron and Luana Roach and their children, Tammy, 17, Loyal, 16, Shannon, 11, and Robert, 7. The home was located on Gilford Road, between Englehart and Crawford Roads in Novesta Township.

Elkland Township Assistant Fire Chief Ron Pawloski estimated the loss at $40,000, including the mobile home, which had two additions, all the contents, and partial damage to a shed behind the home and to the siding on Roach's mother's home about 30 feet away. Some of the siding melted from the heat.

He said Mrs. Roach told him she had put clothes in the dryer in the rear of the home and was in another room a few minutes later when she discovered the fire.

Firemen were unable to determine if a fault in the dryer caused the fire or if it was something else close to the appliance. The fire started in the area where the dryer was located.

Fire fighters received the call at 11:30 a.m. It was "pretty much gone" by the time fire fighters arrived, Pawloski said. Smoke could be seen from as far away as Cass City, seven miles away, by the time they got there.

A total of 11,000 gallons of water was used in extinguishing the blaze, two loads from the Elkland department's tanker, plus the Kingston and Caro Fire Departments' tankers were also needed.

Elkland fire fighters returned to the fire hall at 1:30 p.m.

Mrs. Roach said she discovered the fire when she heard noises and the lights flickered. By the time she got to the room where the dryer was located, the back wall of the home was in flames and by the time she got outside, the roof was already burning. She believes the dryer malfunctioned, which started the fire.

She was alone in the home at the time. The only item she saved was an old chair, minus the cushions.

For now, the family is living with her husband's mother. They had been slowly fixing up an old home down the road, as time and finances permitted, with the aim of some day moving in. Friends are now helping them fix it up so that they can move in soon.

The Roaches, who are dairy farmers, did have insurance on their mobile home, though it wouldn't cover the entire loss, she indicated.

By Tuesday morning, Mrs. Roach said, so many persons had donated clothes that they didn't need any more. "They've been really nice, unbelievable," she commented. "You really know who your neighbors are."

Eventually, the family will need some furniture and other items, but not until they are ready to move into the house.

Mrs. Roach was very appreciative of those who have helped the family. "We've got a lot of friends. You find out a lot of people really care."

Communication top goal of Cass City board

The Cass City School Board's top priority for 1982-83 school year is unchanged from its top goal from the previous year.

Meeting in special session Monday night at the school board members said communication and public relations are the most urgent need for the school.

What the board wants is for Supt. Donald Crouse to be more visible to the staff of the school. One of the ways that this will be accomplished will be to have meetings with all staff members from the elementary, intermediate and high school in separate sessions once a year. In addition a meeting with the bus drivers will be held.

To get information to the public, a resume of school high points written by the superintendent will be published at periodic intervals.

Other suggestions included an abbreviated financial statement to hand to persons attending board meetings each month and using all available methods to give students recognition for scholastic achievements.

Principal Russell Richards said that students are now being selected as winners of the day. They are nominated by teachers in the system. Letters are sent to the selected pupils' parents.

Trustee Thresa Burnette wanted to see the school paper activated again and mailed to all homes. However this idea was dropped when it was explained that postage alone would cost about $800 for each issue.

The schools are sending communications home to parents via students, but the consensus was that it worked well at the elementary level, was less effective at the intermediate level and ineffective at the high school level because of the delivery home by the students.

Dick Albee, who pushed for better communication and visibility for the superintendent, also was the driving force behind a standard evaluation procedure for the superintendent and the staff.

He said that he was satisfied with the one used last year, but wanted it to be standardized for each year and a file kept.

He asked for a synopsis of the valuation sheets as graded by each board member. That fell through last year because only five of the seven board members completed an evaluation and one of them was unsigned.

The procedure was to have been to have each board member meet with the superintendent and then fill out the evaluation sheet. The superintendent does the same with the rest of the administration.

Crouse told the board that he wasn't uncomfortable with the evaluation but wanted the material kept in the vault in the school, not outside the school system.

We can put them in a locked safe box in the vault and give the key to the board president if the board wants this done, he said.

Finally, a written long-range evaluation of the repairs buildings will need at the end of each school year was requested.

Fugitive Duncan returns voluntarily

Florence Duncan, who has been a fugitive from the law since May, 1980, voluntarily appeared in Sanilac County District Court Oct. 18 to be arraigned on four criminal charges.

The former owner-operator with her husband, David, of the Thunder Road Speedway, northeast of Cass City, was arraigned on a charge of absconding and forfeiting bond, but waived examination on the other charges, embezzlement of chattel mortgage, fraud - Aid to Dependent Children over $500, and fraud - ADC, failure to inform over $500.

District Judge Richard Riordan set bond at $1,000 personal recognizance and she was released. Chief Assistant Prosecutor James V. Young told the Chronicle that Mrs. Duncan, who had been in Jamaica, is in poor health and is staying with an aunt in Madison Heights, near Detroit.

Her husband, 54, has been in the Sanilac County Jail since late July, charged with two counts of embezzlement of chattel mortgages, seven counts of possession of stolen property over $100 and nine counts of concealing or misrepresenting identity of motor vehicle or mechanical devices (alter-

Council mulls law peddler control

The Cass City Village Council Tuesday evening received its first look at a proposed ordinance to control transient merchants.

It was prepared by the village's attorney, Clinton House, who warned that it is impossible to control merchants who come to town for a few days and sell merchandise, usually out of the back of their trucks, without having to have some controls on those who are permanently in business here. "You can't have your cake and eat it too," he said at one point in the discussion.

The council had House prepare the ordinance at the request of the Chamber of Commerce, members of which were upset over transient merchants who sold furniture, tools and other items in town this year.

The attorney explained he drafted his ordinance by taking portions from control ordinances in other towns, mainly Frankenmuth and Imlay City.

In order to sell merchandise in town temporarily, an out-of-town merchant would first have to obtain a license from the village. Requirements in the proposed ordinance would include a photograph and fingerprints of the applicant, certification by two Tuscola County property owners "as to the applicant's good character," statement from a physician as to the applicant's good health, statement as to the merchandise to be sold and its value, investigation by local police and posting of a $1,000 surety bond. A license fee would be charged.

It was stressed that the draft presented to the council was only a proposal and some provisions might be eliminated if the ordinance is approved. Copies will be given to Chamber members for their review and can also be examined at the village office.

"I think municipalities who have done it," House said of such ordinances, "have got away with a lot of stuff because who's going to challenge it?"

In villages which have them, where he talked with their attorneys, he said the ordinances have had the desired effect of keeping transient merchants out because licensing procedures were too complicated to make it worth applying.

As for the legality of such ordinances if challenged in court, House commented, "This will hold up as long as you enforce it equally. I think it would stand up."

The key, he stressed, is equal enforcement. It would not be legal, for instance, for merchants to have a downtown sidewalk sales day and then not let out-of-town merchants participate if they got a license.

Local merchants under some circumstances might have to get a transient merchant license, for instance, to conduct a truckload merchandise sale out of a truck trailer instead of from their store.

In response to a question from the Chronicle, House said obtaining a transient merchant license would be more difficult than meeting the legal requirements to go into business on a permanent basis.

Council members had some doubts. Dorothy Stahlbaum, who owns a downtown store, said she found catalog sales and home sales parties as troublesome as transient merchants. "This ordinance is not the answer, I'm sorry," She wasn't sure what the answer was.

James Ware commented, "The cure is worse than the illness." He suggested an easier solution would be for merchants to ask property owners who rent use of their property to the transient merchants not to do so.

The ordinance will be on the agenda for further discussion at the council's Nov. 30 meeting.

LEAVES

Council members expressed concern about homeowners raking leaves into the street.

They then approved a policy that leaves are not to be raked into the street.

As an alternative to that and to burning -- which is still legal -- the village will provide free pickup of leaves that are bagged and tied and left by the curb for pickup.

The first pickup will be this Friday and the second will be a week later, Nov. 5. The leaves should be left out by early morning.

REZONING

At the October meeting, carpenter Gary Deering said he wanted to build a duplex apartment on a lot he owns on Pine Street, but was unable to do so because the land is zoned for single residential homes and the village zoning ordinance requires a minimum of 850 square feet of living space. His proposed two apartments would have 600 feet each.

That led to a discussion that perhaps it is time to update the ordinance.

Village President Lambert Althaver told council members Tuesday that since the last meeting, the village's planning consultants, Vilcan, Leman and Associates had been contacted regarding minimum floor space and possibly expanding the area where apartments are allowed.

A representative of the firm has been in Cass City to study the matter and a recommendation should be

Fritz dies in farm mishap

Funeral services will be held Thursday for Larry D. Fritz, 31, of Owendale, who was electrocuted in a farm-related accident about 8 p.m. Monday northwest of that community.

Fritz was dumping dirt from the box of his truck in a field in Windsor Township after having returned from the Michigan Sugar Co. plant in Sebewaing, where he had taken a load of sugar beets.

There were no witnesses to the actual incident, but according to those who arrived soon after and Huron County sheriff's deputies, Fritz had raised the box on the truck trailer and it came in contact with a live power line.

It appeared that when he exited the cab in order to disconnect the tailgate chains to completely empty the box, he grabbed a hand rail. When his feet touched the ground, the electrical circuit was complete and he was electrocuted.

Huron County Deputy Medical Examiner Jamal Akbar said Fritz died instantly of massive internal injuries caused by the electrical shock.

Wayne A. Dubs of Owendale told officers as he was driving out of the field, he saw sparks coming from the ground and the tires of Fritz' truck.

When he saw smoke coming from the tires, he went Please turn to page 20.

See above average off-year vote

Headlee versus Blanchard. Ruppe versus Riegle. Proposals A, B, C, D, E, G and H.

All the shouting will soon be over as voters go to the polls Tuesday. Polling places at township halls will be open from 7 a.m.-8 p.m.

Tuscola County Clerk Elsie Hicks feels election of a new governor -- the first change in Michigan in 14 years -- and the senatorial race may attract more voters than in most so-called off-year elections. "I think it would increase interest, yes," she said.

The record turnout in a Tuscola County election came in November, 1976, when Ford and Carter were running for president, when 79.6 percent of the eligible voters went to the polls.

Two years ago, when it was Reagan versus Carter for president, 72,914 persons, 70.5 percent of those eligible, voted.

If 45 percent vote this time, Mrs. Hicks said, that would be a pretty good turnout for a non-presidential election. There presently are 31,513 registered voters in the county.

In the Aug. 10 primary election, only 27.3 percent voted.

For those who can't make it to the polls Tuesday, the deadline to apply to township clerks for an absentee ballot is 2 p.m. Saturday.

Election stories appear on pages 4, 5, 12, 13, 16, 17, 18 and 20.

DICK HEADLEE, Republican candidate for governor, visits with Irl Colton (left) and Cecil Hayward (center) during a brief hand shaking stop Friday at the Sherwood Inn Restaurant in Hemans. Starting his day at Lapeer, he was in North Branch, Marlette, Brown City, Peck, Crosswell, Lexington, Port Sanilac and Sandusky before stopping at Hemans, then went to Caro and from there flew to Holland. He was an hour behind schedule when he got to Hemans at 3:20 p.m.

Trick-or-treating Saturday

Although Halloween is officially Sunday, all area communities have scheduled trick-or-treat hours Saturday.

In Cass City, hours will be 6-7:30 p.m.

Hours will be the same in Gagetown. The council originally scheduled trick-or-treating Sunday, but then moved it to Saturday.

The hours in Owendale are also from 6-7:30.

Trick-or-treating in Kingston will be from 6-7, followed by the community party in the fire hall for youngsters.

Hours for youngsters in Uby are 5-6:30 p.m., followed by the Lions Club sponsored party for children, starting at 7 in the old high school gym.

The Tuckeys have two sons, James and Mark, both of Cass City; three daughters, Mrs. Warren (Ruth) Kelley, Cass City, Mrs. Lee (Betty) D'Arcy, Kingston, and Mrs. Jerry (Esther) Freed, Elkhart, Ind.; 26 grandchildren, and 17 great-grandchildren.

The couple requests no gifts.

Rabbit Tracks

By John Haire

(And anyone else he can get to help)

In getting a volunteer for the "your neighbor says" feature this week several prospective participants declined to be interviewed after the topic was disclosed.

What we wanted someone to talk about was the upcoming election. Prospects said no because they were hesitant about offending.

Prospects said no because they felt they weren't well enough informed. Prospects said no because they have no interest in politics.

That's not surprising when you consider only about half of the persons that would be eligible to vote if they took the time to register make it to the voting booth at any election.

The thought here is that proposal D is not as dumb as the utilities would have us believe. It may be extreme in that it allows only one hearing for a rate increase at a time and the delay could be extremely hard on the companies.

However, Proposal H will eliminate automatic pass through of increases without hearings and does allow more than one hearing to be held at once. We can see nothing wrong with this.

We endorse proposal E asking for a mutual nuclear weapons freeze with the Soviet Union although it doesn't mean much. The kicker, of course, is the mutual freeze clause and how can it be achieved.

But we are more than happy to say yes to anything that would tend to curb the senseless arms build-up that the present administration is fostering.

Dave Asher brought in a promotion booklet published by GM for the new Buick which features the car on three pages with scenes from Bad Axe in the background.

I'd guess that if you live in New York City, Bad Axe in the tip of the Thumb is rural, rustic and romantic.

There's always a chuckle about the way Madison Avenue pictures rural America. Take that pitch for an automobile on TV when the daughter drives home alone to the old home small town.

When she falls into the arms of her dad he is shown wearing suspenders. That's rural the ad men evidently feel.

They should come in and look around. I'd guess they can't find one person on the main stem that wears suspenders and if they do it's a lead pipe cinch they won't be the turn of the century type depicted in the commercial.

2 women hurt in area crash

A Saturday afternoon accident in Columbia Township sent two Caro women to the hospital.

Reported in fair condition Tuesday afternoon at Caro Community Hospital, was Rachel I. Greenfield, 69. She was a passenger in the car driven by Frances R. Brandmair, 70, who was transferred from there to St. Mary's Hospital in Saginaw, where she was also in fair condition Tuesday afternoon.

Sheriff's deputies reported their car was westbound on Dickerson Road and collided with the auto of Jack E. Tillman, 45, of Saginaw, who was northbound on Remington Road and failed to stop at the stop sign.

Tillman was ticketed on a charge of failure to stop at a signed intersection. The accident took place at 3:50.

At 3:25 p.m. Saturday, Cass City police reported, Kristin C. Clara, 16, of 4857 Crestwood Circle, northbound on Leach, pulled into the path of a vehicle eastbound on Main and they collided.

Driver of the other vehicle was Thomas H. Koch, 24, of Sebewaing. At 8:50 a.m. that day, police reported, James J. Gretz, 53, of 6201 Mushroom Road, Decker, was maneuvering out of a parking place and backed into the car behind him, owned by Gaytha E. Jacot of Caro. Both vehicles were parked by the south curb on Main Street, east of Seeger.

Another accident took place Saturday night. Police said Edward Mozdzen of Deford parked his car in the village lot at Pine and Leach Streets at 11 and when he returned 45 minutes later, discovered another vehicle had backed into the right rear corner of his car.

The driver of the other vehicle, believed to be a pickup or other vehicle with a high bumper, left without leaving his name.

CAR-DEER

Department of Natural Resources conservation officer Juris Didrichsons, 34, of Sebewaing, was westbound on Elmwood Road, west of Greenland Road, at 6:22 a.m. Tuesday, Cass City police reported, when his patrol car collided with a deer.

At 8:50 p.m. Friday, Caro state police reported, Dorothy J. Taylor, 56, of 6351 Greenland Road, Cass City, was eastbound on Decker Road, west of Cemetery Road, when her car hit a deer.

Harold D. Whittaker, 53, of 6608 Pine Street, Cass City, was northbound on Kingston Road, north of Legg Road, at 7 p.m. last Thursday, according to deputies, when his car hit a deer.

At 11:15 a.m. last Wednesday, Cass City police said, Larry E. Clark, 41, of Caro, was eastbound on M-81, west of Cedar Run Road, when his car hit a deer.

The Haire Net

The only thing strange about it was that it took as long as it did in coming.

Now that you can't tell a person's generation by his haircut anymore, it was a foregone conclusion that something would have to give.

All over the country haircuts for youth are becoming shorter and shorter. In fact the hair cycle has gone full circle.

Bay City Central football players have adopted the butch haircut, according to an article in the Bay City Times.

I chuckled to hear the reasons. The butch is easier to care for, practically self-drying and a lot cooler for practices.

If they had tape players back in the 40's and 50's they could have recorded the same refrain without missing a beat.

What the players say about convenience is true, of course, but that's not the real reason for the shearing of the locks.

If the trend hadn't been back to shorter hair, there's no way on earth that those kids would wear a flat top.

In the early sixties, high school athletes all over the country, rebelled when coaches, indoctrinated with the idea that short hair and discipline went together, tried to force their charges into the mold.

Kids just up and quit and it wasn't long before hair style and beards were common on high school teams.

Butch haircuts are probably a style whose time has come again. As one of the Bay City football players said, I got it to be different and the best part is that the girls like to touch it.

Now that's getting down to it. What it's really all about. Kids want to be different. Now that you can't tell a kid from his old man by the cut of hair, the kid is going to change.

It happened the first time around. Kids and young adults wore butches and pretty soon the flat top started appearing in the middle-aged, too.

That's when the longer hair came along and, like all styles, it went to extremes just like butches did to a few exhibitionists on the fringe. Can you remember or have you seen pictures of the Mohawk?

The strip of hair down the center of the head about one-inch wide compares to the shoulder length hair of the long hair generation.

One thing about it. If butches are brutal and long hair ghastrly, be patient.

The kids will get around to adopting the hair style that you approve of sooner or later... providing their old man doesn't do it first.

"If It Fitz..."

An ordinary shooting

By Jim Fitzgerald

My son Ed clerks part-time in a drugstore in a small shopping mall on Detroit's east side. The other afternoon, while at work, he witnessed a shooting.

An off-duty security officer and a young man got into some sort of a beef outside the store. After their scuffling propelled them through the front door and inside the drugstore, the guard drew his pistol and shot his opponent in the stomach.

The other drugstore employees, exhibiting more street smarts than Ed, hit the floor as soon as they saw the gun. Ed just stood there, erect, a few feet from the action, and gaped. He was brought up in a small town and is still more fascinated than frightened by the strange things he sometimes sees in the big city. When the gun went off, Ed's first thought was that the sound wasn't as loud as he'd expected.

The wounded man got up and fled the store. Police later found him by following a trail of blood. Apparently, he will survive.

A few days later, a police officer phoned our home and told my wife, Pat, he wanted to "talk to your son about the shooting." That bit of information could have caused Pat to suffer a heart attack. Naturally, it was reasonable for the policeman to assume our son told his parents about the slightly exciting thing that happened at work. But he didn't.

When Ed returned home the day of the shooting, he didn't even mention it. When I get home from work, I mesmerize my family with descriptions of my day's adventures, such as falling asleep while waiting for the office elevator door to close. But Ed didn't say one word about seeing a guy get shot in the belly. He later explained he didn't want to add to the richly deserved laurels his mother has already won as a world champion worrier.

Fortunately, Ed did tell one of his sisters, who lives 70 miles away, about his hum experience near the line of fire. And she luckily relayed the story to their mother just before the cop phoned, so Pat didn't have a heart attack when she received official confirmation that her youngest child could easily have been killed by a stray bullet. She just gasped and moaned a lot.

But don't let me kid you. My son's brush with a shooting wasn't funny, and I know it. It's easy to laugh after the danger is dodged, but in a stupid society where thousands of people own guns, it's also easy for an innocent bystander to be shot. And when I ponder what could have happened in the drugstore that afternoon, my whole body shakes and I have to stifle a sob. Fathers worry as much as mothers; some of them just aren't as honest about it.

The same week as the shooting, by coincidence, the publisher of the weekly newspaper in the little town where Ed grew up visited a chic Detroit restaurant and was surprised when two armed guards opened his car doors. "We learned later that everybody gets this treatment," he later wrote. "It's the heart of Detroit, but it felt like Beirut."

It pains me when my beloved Detroit gets that type of one-sided publicity, but it's hard for me to protest when my own son, at work just a few blocks from home, sees a man shot. It doesn't make me feel better to point out that on a recent morning in the publisher's little town, population 6,000, in the most tranquil-appearing park imaginable, a woman was assaulted. And on that little town's main street, young men continually damage property and frighten older people.

The difference, of course, is that assaults are front page news in a small town. In Detroit, they're not news at all. The drugstore shooting that could have killed my son didn't rate one line of print in the next day's newspapers.

The sad truth is that hermits seldom get mugged. Wherever there are people, there is the risk of violence, and the more people, the more risk. When I figure out what can be done about people, you will be the first to know.

It just means that if you have personal possessions, lost or stolen, we'll pay you the replacement cost (up to 400% of its actual cash value) not just the original cost. And with inflation, that can add up to a big difference.

It's another reason why there's a big difference between Auto-Owners and some other insurance companies.

Decker faces Izydorek for Sanilac District 5 post

Voters in Sanilac County District 5 will choose Tuesday between Republican Donald Decker and Democrat Charles Izydorek to represent them on the county Board of Commissioners.

The district consists of Evergreen, Greenleaf, Lamotte, Argyle, Austin, Minden, Delaware and Marion Townships, plus five sections of Forester Township.

Redistricting is reducing the number of commissioners on the county board from the present eight to five as of Jan. 1.

In the Aug. 10 Republican primary, Decker and Eugene Foote both received 444 votes, the official vote being determined in a recount. Decker then received the nomination by winning a drawing with Foote. Both men presently serve on the county board.

DECKER, 61, of Hunter Road, Deckerville, is seeking his third two-year term on the board. He was county board chairman from March-December, 1981.

A farmer, he was Marion Township trustee for 16 years.

On the county board, Decker is chairman of the community services committee. He also serves on the Sanilac County Community Mental Health Services board, county Department of Public Works board, Thumb Area Consortium administrative board and is chairman of the six-county Michigan Association of Counties 7th District.

Donald Decker

Decker and his wife have four married daughters, 13 grandchildren and are members of the Deckerville Bible Church.

IZYDOREK, 42, of 3120 N. Decker Road, Decker, is a dairy and cash crop farmer. He is a member of the Evergreen Township Planning Commission and has served on the township board of review on and off for a total of three years.

A member of the National Farmers Organization, Izydorek is past president and secretary of the county NFO. He is a member of the township Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee until November.

He and his wife have five children, three of whom graduated from the Cass City schools and two still in school, and one grandchild. The family belongs to St. Joseph Catholic Church in Argyle, where Izydorek is a member of the parish council.

IN DISTRICT 3 of the county board, incumbent Commissioner Les Kraft of W. Applegate Road, Marlette, a Republican, is opposed by Democrat Walter Tereschuk of W. Sanilac Road, Sandusky.

The district consists of Moore Township (except for sections 12, 13, 24, 25, 36) and Marlette, Watertown, Flynn and Elmer Townships.

20 children collect $60 for UNICEF

Children from the week-day school of the Good Shepherd Lutheran Church collected $60.35 last week for the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund. Twenty students took part.

According to UNICEF information, the church's pastor, Rev. Allen Freundt said, that money raised is enough to purchase more than 50,000 vitamin C tablets for undernourished children of the world or enough oral rehydration salts to restore the health of 976 seriously dehydrated children.

The first textbook printed in America was Thomas Dilworth's A New Guide to the English Tongue, printed in 1747 in Philadelphia Pa.

Trooper asks support of proposal B

Dear Editor,

I would like to say a few words about Proposal B, which will appear on the Nov. 2 general election.

A lot of citizens signed their names on petitions statewide to get a chance to vote on this issue. Over 400,000 signatures were collected, of which 3,000 plus were from citizens of Tuscola County.

What is Proposal B? Proposal B is a constitutional amendment which requires a minimum staffing level of 2,257 state police troopers to serve the citizens of this state, not many.

If passed, it will require the legislature to establish proper funding for police service and protection of its citizens, instead of special interest pressures, like when the legislature gave our tax dollars away to subsidize the Pontiac Silverdome in the amount of $800,000 and there are other tax dollars given away also.

Vote YES on Proposal B Nov. 2.

Board makes plea for library funds

To the editor,

The beautiful library facility that the people of Cass City and the surrounding area enjoy today was opened in 1970.

The building was paid for by the Rawson Foundation and was furnished by money that had been saved by careful planning by past library trustees.

The lovely facility and all of the many services that area residents have come to depend on have been at no direct cost to individual taxpayers. For the first time the trustees find that they must ask for your help.

We have sought to hold the line on expenses for the past 12 years, and still offer the best service possible. Unfortunately, costs have risen, and at the same time a loss of revenue from penal fines and other county and state funds has amounted to over $11,000 in the past two years.

The village of Cass City and Elkland Township have both increased their support, but it will still cost at least $9,000 more to operate the library this past year than was received in revenue.

We regretfully find it necessary to put a proposal on the ballot Nov. 2 asking for 3/4 mill (75 cents for each $1,000 as equalized) for operation and maintenance of the library.

This amount would not allow for any expansion of library service, but would provide enough money to continue the present program.

We would like to thank you for your interest and support of the library program in the past, and ask you to now give it your financial support.

Sincerely,

Rawson Memorial Library Board of Trustees

Lucy Auten, vice-president

Reader irked by theft of political sign

Dear Editor,

Someone stole my political sign one night recently.

It was one for Jim McCann for state representative, a man well qualified for the job, who will fit quite well in the new legislature and win the new governor.

We've been trying to figure out who took the sign — it couldn't have been a Democrat. And I know some decent Republicans who wouldn't stoop to that.

Was it a Communist? Or, was it a Nazi? Or was it a crazy kid? No, these kids in Cass City are brighter than that.

It could have been some jobless person needing fuel for an empty wood stove or for kindling — a victim of trickle-down economics. There are plenty of these people around. I've carried fuel to a few of them at times.

I have another sign to replace the one stolen. I hope this thing doesn't escalate until NO political sign would be safe. It easily could, unless people respect one another's rights.

All political signs are safe with me, but evidently not all people feel this way.

Sincerely,

Willard L. Dodson

Pedaling Around

What a choice

By Mike Eliasohn

Maybe I should move. It seems like the only political candidates I like aren't running where I live. Unfortunately, I would have to move out of state.

As I said in this space several weeks ago, I have reservations about both James Blanchard and Richard Headlee and nothing either has said since has changed my mind.

Blanchard's ridiculous proposal to put Michiganders back to work is a $1 billion bond issue, with the money to be used to create jobs repairing houses, public buildings, roads, bridges, etc.

Michigan's credit rating is so low, the state would have to pay a very high interest rate to sell the bonds — if it can find any buyers at all.

Taxpayers would not only have to pay back the $1 billion, they would also have to pay the interest. More government spending.

It's impossible to repair roads, bridges, etc., without buying materials. If the cost of the materials comes out of the $1 billion, that won't leave much for hiring people. If it doesn't come out of the $1 billion, where is the money supposed to come from?

Many Road Commissions have had to lay off employees because of lack of money and/or not replace ones who retired. What Blanchard's proposal means is that persons who were paid enough of a wage to support a family on will be replaced by ones earning the minimum wage of $3.35 an hour. The unions won't like that, nor will a lot of other persons.

Headlee's plan is to give businesses a $1,000 credit on their Single Business Tax for each person they add to the payroll.

His plan also has flaws. Because of exemptions written into the law, half of the state's businesses don't pay the tax; as long as the economy is bad, they aren't going to be hiring persons just because there is a tax credit (they still need customers for their products), and when the economy finally does improve, they would be hiring anyway.

And do we really want a governor who says supporters of the Equal Rights Amendment "are proponents of lesbian marriages"?

On the other hand, I also think our state government needs a good shaking up.

Sanilac GOP meets Nov. 4

The regular meeting of the Sanilac County Republican Committee will take place Thursday, Nov. 4, starting at 8 p.m. in the county conference room, 37 Austin Street, Sandusky.

The public is invited.

and I don't think Jim Blanchard is the man who will do the shaking.

As for the U.S. Senate race, Phil Ruppe would have us believe that when Don Riegler speaks in the Senate, everyone leaves (or is it almost everyone?).

And when he sponsors a piece of legislation, it costs 10 votes.

Apparently those were accurate quotes from a Washington Post article. What's inaccurate is that Ruppe only borrowed quotes from senators who don't like Riegler. There were also quotes from senators who think Riegler does an excellent job.

I don't expect Ruppe to say nice things about Riegler. I only mention that to point out that Riegler isn't as bad a senator as his opponent's negative advertising would have us believe.

As for Riegler, it's nice to know he's the great protector of Social Security, but I haven't heard him say yet how he plans to pay for it.

Closer to home, I'll vote for Artis Noel for state senator because I know him and I think he will do a good job, but if Democrat Jim Barcia gets elected, I don't think it will be a disaster.

It's interesting to note that the United Auto Workers opposed him the primary because he had voted for the new workers' compensation reform bill.

As for state representative, it's too bad the 77th district (Tuscola and Huron Counties) is so overwhelmingly Republican — and I would say the same thing if it were overwhelmingly Democratic.

Probably a miracle wouldn't be enough to get Democrat Jim McCann elected. Dick Allen will do a good job in Lansing, but so could McCann.

I've lived in one-party districts where the incumbent was incompetent, but the only way to get rid of them was to wait until they retired or died.

The race for Tuscola County probate judge is between incumbent W. Wallace Kent Jr. and David G. Myers.

I feel it is unfortunate the latter has accepted the endorsement of Right to Life of Michigan, which he mentions in his ads.

Does that mean he will think the same way as the probate judge last year in Kalamazoo County and the one last week in Kent County who felt the fetuses were more important than the children (11 and 13 years old respectively) who were carrying them?

According to the candidate, it does.

And perhaps it reflects my age, but I think at age 30, Myers lacks the legal experience that Kent has.

Michigan electors Tuesday will be voting "yes" or "no" on seven ballot proposals.

Two of them, Proposals D and H, deal with utility rate hikes. G changes the method of electing Michigan Public Service Commission (MPSC) members, who act on utility rate requests (electricity, natural gas, etc.).

Proposal A deals with removing civil immunity from members of the legislature; B, minimum staffing of state police; C, the due on sale clause in mortgages and land contracts, and E, an advisory freeze on development and deployment of nuclear weapons.

There is no Proposal F, to avoid confusion with E.

PROPOSAL A

The Michigan Constitution exempts legislators from civil arrest and process while the legislature is in session and for five days before and after. The exemption includes such things as traffic offenses, libel, tort (injury or wrong committed against the person or property of another) and contract offenses.

Now that the legislature is in session most of the year, senators and representatives have almost total immunity from prosecution for civil infractions.

Passage of Proposal A would enable the legislature to put limitations on the granting of such immunity.

PROPOSAL B

If approved, the constitution would be amended to make the state police constitutionally mandated and its powers defined. The department and its duties are presently established by law, which can be changed any time by the legislature.

The proposal would only permit reduction of enlisted personnel below the number employed as of April 1, 1980.

PROPOSAL C

When lenders invoke due-on-sale clauses, home sellers cannot pass on their older, presumably lesser interest rate in their mortgages or land contracts to the would-be buyers.

Proposal C would prohibit lenders from foreclosing on a mortgage or land contract (in order to make the buyer have to negotiate a new loan at a higher interest rate) unless it can prove the buyer would be a poor credit risk.

The U.S. Supreme Court has ruled that federally chartered lending institutions can invoke due-on-sale clauses, so the above provision would apply only to state chartered lenders.

A second part of Proposal C says that when court foreclosure is based on a due-on-sale clause, the owner has 48 months instead of the present six months to redeem the property. During the 48 months, the owner can remain on his property without making any mortgage payments.

Opponents say the extended redemption period would result in boarded-up homes sitting empty for four years and could shut off the flow of outside mortgage money into Michigan, which could make home mortgages harder to get.

Backers say use of the due-on-sale clause and foreclosures should be used to protect lenders from financial risk, not to gain from higher interest rates, and that due-on-sale makes it harder for owners to sell their homes.

They also say the longer redemption period would pertain only to non-risk due-on-sale foreclosures by federally chartered lenders and thus would not affect many mortgages.

PROPOSAL D

If approved, the MPSC would be prohibited from granting automatic rate adjustments which is presently allowed whenever a utility company obtains fuel for generating electricity or buys natural gas that is more expensive than that being currently distributed.

It would also require full hearings on all costs of utility services and allow only one rate increase hearing per utility at a time, unless they are for different services (for utilities that sell electricity and natural gas).

Opponents argue that utilities don't always have control over the cost of their fuel, thus when their cost goes up, under Proposal D, they would have to borrow money while waiting for a rate increase to be approved and the requirement for a full hearing on every requested rate increase would result in higher interest rates on money they borrow.

Supporters say allowing utilities to pass increased costs to their customers without hearings result in the utilities having no incentive to try to get the best deal to buy their fuel or gas. Allowing only one hearing at a time will make it easier for opponents of rate increases to contest the requests.

MPSC rate increase proceedings usually take 12-14 months per request.

PROPOSAL E

If approved, the legislature will be required to send to the president and other federal officials a petition urging, "The United States propose to the Soviet Union a mutual nuclear weapons freeze, both countries agreeing to halt the testing, production and further deployment of all nuclear weapons, missiles, and delivery systems in a way that can be... verified by both" and that funds for nuclear weapons be used instead for civilian purposes.

Supporters say passage of the proposal will send a message to Washington and Moscow that it is time for a nuclear weapons freeze.

Opponents say a nuclear weapons freeze at this time could leave the U.S. in a position of permanent inferiority to the Soviet Union.

PROPOSAL G

If approved, the present MPSC which consists of three members appointed by the governor, would be replaced by a five-member body, elected by the public.

The MPSC is responsible for regulating Michigan's electric, natural gas, telephone, steam heating and water utility companies, as well as gas and oil pipelines and commercial motor transportation services.

Under Proposal G, MPSC members would be nominated by political parties but run on the ballot as non-partisan candidates. Those elected would serve four-year terms.

Since the public would elect them, advocates say, MPSC members would be more sensitive to consumers and more carefully scrutinize requests for rate hikes.

Opponents say Michiganders already vote for judges and members of the state board of education and the governing boards of the three largest universities. Voting for MPSC members will only mean more candidates whom most of the public knows nothing about.

They also question whether elected members will be knowledgeable and any more responsive to consumer concerns than appointed members.

PROPOSAL H

Like Proposal D, Proposal H would bar utilities from automatically passing on to their customers increases in costs for fuel and natural gas purchases.

Unlike D, however, H would allow the MPSC to conduct a hearing on any change in the cost of fuel or purchased gas at the same time as a general rate case proceeding.

H would also prohibit members of the legislature from working for any Michigan utility company for two years after leaving office.

Proponents say the ability to have hearings on costs increases concurrent with, but separate from regular rate increases, would make the entire regulatory process less costly and more efficient.

Opponents argue that current hearings would result in confusion, especially for consumer groups opposing rate increases.

LEGISLATION

The legislature recently approved a bill, since signed into law by the governor, that deals with utility rate regulation.

The law can work in conjunction with either Proposal D or H or independently and some argue that because of it, neither D or H is necessary or desirable.

The law would:

—Abolish automatic utility rate adjustment clauses.

—Require the seven largest utilities to undergo extensive state review before adjusting monthly bills in order to make up for higher or lower energy costs.

—Provide funds to assist consumer groups and the attorney general's office to intervene before the MPSC in utility rate increase requests.

Muxlow vs. Davies in 78th district

Keith Muxlow

In the new 78th state house district, voters Tuesday will have a choice between Republican Keith Muxlow and Democrat Richard Davies.

The district consists of all of Sanilac County and part of St. Clair County.

MUXLOW, 48, is serving his first two-year term as state representative in what is now the 77th district (Huron and Sanilac Counties and part of Lapeer and St. Clair.)

In the House of Representatives, he serves on the agriculture, state affairs, urban affairs and tourist industries committees. He is minority vice-chairman of the tourist committee.

A former dairy farmer, Muxlow was Brown City mayor from 1972-80 and served on the village council for three years before that.

He is a member of the Brown City Area Health Board and the Marlette Community Hospital Board of Trustees and is co-owner of Brown City Industrial Park.

Muxlow is an Army veteran, was treasurer of the Sanilac County Republican Party, chairman of the Brown City centennial celebration in 1976 and an advisor to the Cooperative Extension Service. He is a Rotary Club member.

DAVIES, 62, farms 450 acres with his son in the Melvin area in southern Sanilac County.

He ran unsuccessfully for Congress in 1968 and '70 and for the House of Representatives in 1960 and '78.

The farm, which he has owned 25 years, was his week-end home for many years while he held other jobs. Davies was deputy state treasurer from 1961-67, and as part of his duties was controller for the Mackinac Bridge Authority.

He was controller for the city of Taylor, a Detroit suburb, for 11 years.

Davies has also been a municipal consultant, finance officer for the regional Civil Defense office in Battle Creek, a finance officer for the Michigan Department of Education, and has been appointed to special assignments by federal courts, including being a receiver for bankrupt firms.

Walbro sales up, but earnings down

Lambert E. Althaver, president and chief executive officer of Walbro Corp., has reported consolidated net sales of $11,092,456 for the three-month period ended Sept. 30.

This compares with $10,219,065 for the same period in 1981. Earnings for the period were $78,489, compared with $96,381 for the third quarter of 1981.

On a per-share basis, earnings for the period were 10 cents, compared with 12 cents for the third quarter of last year.

For the first nine months of 1982, Walbro's sales totaled $32,076,183, compared with $33,036,058 for the same period in 1981.

The company reported a loss of $322,319 for the period, compared with earnings of $446,348 for the first nine months of 1981. Per share results were a loss of 41 cents for the first nine months of 1982, compared with earnings of 57 cents for the same period in 1981.

Shares outstanding remain at 778,820.

In announcing the third quarter results, Althaver noted that sales of the company's small engine carburetors continued at low levels due primarily to general economic conditions. Sales of the company's die-castings were also at low levels because of reduced demand in the automotive and chain saw industries.

Sales of Walbro's electric fuel pumps, however, reached record levels in the third quarter, with the introduction of the company's new rotary pump to the automotive original equipment market and continued strong electric fuel pump sales to the automotive aftermarket. The company's Plastics Group also recorded increased sales during the third quarter.

Althaver expects the company's sales to remain level throughout the fourth quarter, with improvement beginning early in 1983.

"The outlook for 1983 indicates greater opportunities to sell all product lines and we are hopeful that improved levels of profitability can be attained during the next year," he said.

Kretzschmer

HURON COUNTY
COMMISSIONER

Congressman
Bob Traxler
Endorses

Vern Kretzschmer FOR County Commissioner

I want to offer my strong endorsement of Vern Kretzschmer for the position of County Commissioner in Huron County. I have had the opportunity to work closely with Vern on a number of issues of interest to Huron County. I can tell you that he works hard, and he works until the job is done right.

Vern's experience with ASCS also makes him uniquely qualified to deal with different levels of government, something that is essential for any county commissioner. He already has this kind of relationship with me, and I know that he will quickly achieve a similar relationship with our new State Officials in Lansing.

Vern Kretzschmer is right for Huron County. He has the experience. He understands the concerns and problems of Huron County, both as a farmer and a businessman. He knows how to work to get the job done, and to get it done right.

Vern is a Man of Action. YOUR VOTE IS APPRECIATED

Rites held Monday for Phil Doerr

Philip A. Doerr, 61, a lifelong resident of Cass City, died Friday at Hills and Dales General Hospital, after a long illness.

He was born Jan. 6, 1921, in Cass City, the son of Herman and Retta (Hooper) Doerr.

Doerr married Betty Wright Sept. 2, 1949, in Bowling Green, Ohio. Following their marriage, they made their home in Cass City.

Doerr was the first enlistee from Tuscola County after the bombing of Pearl Harbor in December, 1941, and served with the Navy in the Pacific during World War II.

He attended Trinity United Methodist Church.

Doerr is survived by his wife; three sons, Robert Doerr, Kalamazoo, David Doerr, Cass City and Tony Doerr, Austin, Texas; two daughters, Mrs. Casmire (Mary) Stuba, Detroit and Mrs. Garry (Sally) Barnes, Cass City; two sisters, Mrs. Lester Ross, Cass City, and Mrs. William Bystrom, Brockton, Mass.; one brother, Edward Doerr, Cass City, and three granddaughters.

Funeral services were conducted Monday afternoon at Little's Funeral Home, Cass City, with Rev. Thomas Wachterhauser of Trinity United Methodist Church officiating.

Burial was in Novesta Cemetery.

Elmwood oks Green Rd. project

The Elmwood Township Board last Wednesday approved the rebuilding of two miles of Green Road between Cass City and Hoppe Roads.

The Tuscola County Road Commission will do the work next year at a cost of $19,000-20,000 a mile. The project is to start in the spring and be completed by Aug. 15.

At the board's August meeting, some residents living along the road expressed concern about cutting of some trees and widening of the road resulting in their front yards being reduced. It was arranged for them to meet the next day with Road Commission officials, who explained what the project involved.

The board also voted last week to have the Road Commission spread crushed gravel on the mile of McEl-downey Road south of Bay City-Forestville at an estimated cost of $6,000-7,000. The work will be done yet this year, if the road agency has time and weather permits.

It was voted that the $2,147 quarterly federal revenue sharing payment will be spent for roads.

Approval was given for Farmland and Open Space Preservation Act (Public Act 116) agreements for Ron Cybulski, Wayne Becker, Sattelberg Brothers and Dwin Vollmar for a total of five parcels.

Musical set at playhouse in Port Austin

Marie Nicholl, Caseville, stars as Molly in the Meredith Wilson musical, "The Unsinkable Molly Brown," opening Nov. 5 at the Port Austin Community Playhouse.

Gary E. Sturm, Port Austin, portrays the man in Molly's life, Johnny Brown. The play runs the first three week ends in November. The Friday and Saturday performances will begin at 8 p.m. and the Sunday performance will be a 2 p.m. matinee.

Down Memory Lane

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

FIVE YEARS AGO

Twenty-five attended the youth meeting Sunday evening at Salem United Methodist Church. Mrs. Eldred Kelley presided at the short business meeting and Karen Siders and Joan Umpfenbach were in charge of devotions.

Voters in the Owen-Gage School District Saturday defeated a ballot measure that would have approved the transfer of five territories from the district to other school districts. The vote was 571 opposed to 90 in favor with two spoiled ballots.

Parents are not apt to be faced with an increase in the cost of hot lunches at Cass City Schools this year. The annual report showed that the lunches are paying for themselves.

Pvt. Scott A. Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Parker of Kingston, graduated from basic training Oct. 8 at Fort McClellan, Ala. Parker will soon be entering military police training at Fort McClellan.

TEN YEARS AGO

Dolores Slowinski has retired from the Artrain to live in Cass City, where she has set up looms and will spend her time weaving.

Director Maynard McConkey reported that the Tuscola Soil Conservation District is taking orders for tree seedlings that will be available for planting in the spring.

Football coach Roland Pakonen said this week that the game with Vassar has been designated dad's night. Fathers of the players will have special seats on the sidelines and be honored at halftime.

A silver lining in the dark cloud of misfortune for the Ray Periso family must have been the reaction of all folks who rallied to their aid after their home and belongings burned. This week, the Perisos had received more than they could use so Mrs. Periso plans to take the surplus to the Creamer family who also suffered a fire tragedy.

25 YEARS AGO

A second reunion of the Cass City High School class of 1922 was held Saturday evening. After a dinner at Parrott's, the group went to Frederick Pinney's home to visit. Arrangements for the reunion were made by Mrs. Harry Falkenhagen and Earl Harris.

The board of directors of the Cass City Area Pageant Association announces that plans for the third annual nativity pageant are well advanced. James Wallace is general chairman with Richard Erla as co-chairman.

Roger L. Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Wright of Cass City, completed recruit training Oct. 11 at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego, Calif.

The new addition on the east side of the Cass City pool building at the recreational park has been completed at a cost of $2,346, it was announced this week at the Cass City Village Council meeting.

35 YEARS AGO

Cass City defeated Vassar High School Friday night by an 18-0 score. Ron Bullis made the first touchdown in the second quarter and Jerry Priesskorn scored the other two touchdowns.

Rotarians who count Arthur Holmberg, high school principal, among their favorite speakers, heard him present methods in education, past and present, at the club luncheon Tuesday.

At a recent meeting of the board of trustees of the Cass City Community Hospital, Mrs. E.B. Schwaderer was chosen chairman; John McClellan, vice-chairman, and M.B. Auten, secretary-treasurer.

Keith Little, Harold Little, Don Karr and Edwin Baur attended the 20th national Future Farmers of America convention in Kansas City, Mo., from Oct. 19-22. Each state sent two voting delegates to the convention. Keith Little, state secretary of Michigan, had the honor of being one of the voting delegates.

ASK DR. COE

By Dalton P. Coe, D.D.S.

Headaches, earaches, ear noises, neck, shoulder and back pain, facial tics and dizziness are among many symptoms associated with T.M.J. syndrome. T.M.J. syndrome develops from improper fit of the lower jaw and the upper jaw at the temporomandibular joint. The improper fit of the lower jaw in its joint can be caused by many factors. Among these factors are an improper bite, chewing habits, clenching or grinding of the teeth or any injury to any of the chewing muscles.

It is estimated that 20% of the populace is affected at sometime or another by T.M.J. syndrome. Some people are highly susceptible and suffer greatly, while others experience only minor discomfort.

Initial treatment of T.M.J. syndrome is simple and almost always effective in providing relief from pain. A plastic appliance is fitted over either the upper or lower teeth. This allows the lower jaw to move to its most relaxed position. Once the muscles of the jaw are relaxed, the lower jaw will return to its "normal" position.

This having been accomplished, pain usually ceases. Of course, all factors should be considered to assure proper balance of the jaw muscles. Through correct diagnosis and treatment, relief of many symptoms of T.M.J. syndrome is now possible.

IRA A Tax-Saving Breakthrough!

Can husband and wife both have an IRA?

YES ... There's no such thing as a one-per-family IRA limit. IRAs are individual accounts, therefore both husbands and wives can have their own. When a husband and wife each earn separate amounts of personal earned income, both qualify to contribute up to $2,000 yearly in their separate IRAs.

Federal regulations require substantial penalties for withdrawal made prior to maturity.

IRA

A Tax-Saving Breakthrough!

Where do tax benefits come from?

Those who have IRA accounts should always remember that their tax benefits come from two separate sources: (1) the annual tax savings attributable to tax deductible contributions, and (2) the interest earned on amounts invested which remains tax exempt until removed. Postpone taxes on both the money you deposit and interest you earn.

Federal regulations require substantial penalties for withdrawal made prior to maturity.

Green Thumb offers senior citizen jobs

Michigan Green Thumb, Inc., is offering part-time employment opportunities to persons 55 and over.

The agency receives its funds from Title V of the federal Senior Community Service Employment Program.

Persons must be low-income to qualify and would work for government and non-profit private agencies in their own communities, according to area supervisor Arthur Clark.

Persons employed through the program work 21 hours a week and receive $3.35 an hour.

Clark finds the positions after persons apply and are accepted. There is no guarantee that a job will be found for every person who applies and is eligible, he said.

For more information, contact Paul Hillman, Michigan Green Thumb, 3480 S. Isabella Road, Mt. Pleasant 48858, telephone (517) 772-5308.

New books at the library

IMPORTANT FAMILY by Dorothy Eden (fiction). Kate O'Connor finds love and hope in colonial New Zealand. She is astounded to learn that her new employer, Sir John Devenish, intends to give up his comfortable life and move his family and servants to the Canterbury Colonies. Kate is charged with looking after the fragile Lady Devenish and her attractive daughter Celina. It is only at Avalon that she begins to perceive the mystery that has driven Sir John so far from home.

FOR SPECIAL SERVICES by John Gardner (fiction). For James Bond, an open door can lead to an assassin lurking in the darkness, or a temptress lying on his bed. His special talent for handling these dangers has kept him alive, but now the one man who has beaten him has returned — Blofeld, the brilliant mastermind of the international crime organization SPECTRE. Trapped in a desert fortress, 007 must walk a deadly tightrope to stop the horror of Blofeld's most evil scheme.

AMERICA IN SEARCH OF ITSELF by Theodore H. White (non-fiction). Like earlier works in "The Making of the President" series, White tells the story of an election. In this case, it is the former actor from California who brought a new governing class and their ideas to power. White, however, does not focus solely on the election, but starts in Eisenhower's era and portrays the revolution which the past 30 years have produced in American politics and lives.

2 candidates vie for Huron board

Residents of Grant, Sheridan, Oliver, Windsor and Chandler Townships Tuesday will choose between Calvin Reibling and Vernon Kretzschmer to represent them on the Huron County Board of Commissioners.

The townships form District 2. Reibling, the incumbent, is a Republican. Kretzschmer is a Democrat.

KRETZSCHMER, 50, of 8321 Bern Road, Bay Port, is a farmer and owner with his wife of Kretzschmer Home Center in Pigeon, which is operated primarily by her.

REIBLING, 58, of 4192 Crown Road, Elkton, has been a member of the county commissioners 12 years and was chairman of the county board in 1975.

He has been chairman of its finance committee the past three years and has served at one time or another on all of the board's committees.

unopposed, having won the Republican primary over incumbent William Nugent. She will be the first woman to serve on the county board.

The district consists of Bingham, Paris, Sherman, Sigel, Bloomfield and Lincoln Townships.

Statewide candidates listed

The races for governor and U.S. Senator have been hard to ignore for anyone who watches television, but for the record, here's who's running for statewide offices except for educational offices, covered in another article:

Governor — James Blanchard (D), congressman since January, 1975; Richard Headlee (R), president of Alexander Hamilton Life Insurance Co. since 1972; Robert E. Tisch, Tisch Independent Party, Shiawassee County drain commissioner. The American Independent, Libertarian, Socialist Workers and Workers League Parties also have candidates.

U.S. Senator — Donald Riegle (D), senator for the past six years, U.S. representative for 10 years before that; Philip E. Ruppe (R), U.S. Representative from 1970-80, director of Washington services for Amax, Inc. Four minority parties have candidates.

Secretary of state — Richard H. Austin (D), has been secretary of state since January, 1971; Elizabeth A. Andrus (R), president of the Michigan Northern Railway. Two minority parties have candidates.

Attorney general — Frank J. Kelley (D), attorney general since December, 1961; L. Brooks Patterson, Oakland County prosecutor since January, 1973. One minority party candidate.

Comedy scheduled in Caro

The Caro Arts Society has announced that tickets for its November dinner theatre production of the Neil Simon comedy, "Come Blow Your Horn," have gone on sale.

The play will run Nov. 19, 20 and 21 at the Knights of Columbus Hall. If the dinner theatre is a sellout, a conventional (without dinner) performance will be offered Thursday, Nov. 18.

"Come Blow Your Horn" will be directed by Beth Miller of Kingston, and will feature in the starring roles, husband and wife Steve and Margie White, Maureen McLaughlin, Maggie Echols and Sarah Pistro, all of Caro; Gil Miller, Kingston, and Fergus Mann, Saginaw.

Your Neighbor says

I don't care for TV political commercials

The election is less than a week away and Hazen Brown is still deciding which candidates and ballot issues to vote for.

In making his decisions, he feels the best source of information is what he reads.

"I don't care for them," he said of television commercials for and against the ballot proposals. "I'd just as soon read about them. I think you get more detail."

Asked if he feels the TV ads for the proposals are confusing, he responded, "They usually are."

As for TV ads for candidates, he doesn't like the so-called television ads, which instead of saying why citizens should vote for a candidate, say why they shouldn't vote for his opponent. Brown said he would rather hear positive things about a candidate — "Give me some good reasons," — rather than negative things about his opponent.

The main job of whoever is elected governor will be, Brown responded, "Mostly, get the people back to work. Everybody knows that. That's nothing new."

Democratic gubernatorial candidate James Blanchard is proposing the state should sell bonds to raise money to make low-interest loans to local governments to help them repair roads, bridges, sewers and other facilities and thus provide jobs.

"Well, that worked in the '30s," Brown said of what some are calling a "make work" program. As for whether it will work now, "I really couldn't say."

Brown doesn't care for television ads for candidates for the same reason he doesn't like them for ballot proposals. "They don't show me much. I'd sooner read about it. It saves me changing the channel."

Brown, a semi-retired farmer, and his wife, Margaret, live at 7181 Walter Road, Cass City. They have three daughters and five grandchildren.

DeGrow vs. Prager in senate race

Voters residing in the new 28th state senate district will be deciding among Republican Dan DeGrow of Port Huron, Democrat John M. Prager of Lum in Lapeer County and Libertarian Party candidate Thomas Henry Hoffman of Port Huron.

The new 28th consists of Sanilac, Lapeer and St. Clair Counties.

DeGrow is a second cousin of retiring Sen. Alvin DeGrow, R-Pigeon, who represented the old 28th — Tuscola, Huron and Sanilac Counties, plus part of Lapeer and St. Clair Counties.

PRAGER, 36, is chairman of the Lapeer County Democratic Party, a member of the United Auto Workers and a production line employee at the Chrysler Corp. plant in Center Line.

He is a graduate of Cooley High School in Detroit, has an associate degree from Macomb County Community College and a bachelor's degree from Wayne State University.

A Vietnam veteran, he is a member of the general board of the Michigan UAW. He and his wife, Betty, have two children.

DeGrow, 29, has been a state representative since January, 1980, representing part of St. Clair County.

He attended St. Clair County Community College from 1971-73, graduated from Michigan State University in 1975, where he was a Phi Beta Kappa, and received his law degree from Wayne State University in 1978.

In the House of Representatives, DeGrow is assistant minority whip; vice-chairman of the Marine Affairs Committee, and a member of the Education Committee, Senior Citizens and Retirement Committee and Conservation, Environment and Recreation Committee.

L. Forbush finishes Navy recruit camp

Navy Fireman Larry C. Forbush, son of Marilyn Arnett of 1299 Cemetery Road, Deford, has completed recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

During the eight-week training cycle, trainees studied general military subjects designed to prepare them for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic occupational fields.

Included were seamanship, close order drill, Naval history and first aid.

Five run for state supreme court

Five candidates are running Tuesday on the non-partisan ballot for eight-year terms on the Michigan Supreme Court.

Electors may vote for two of them, which is the number to be elected.

Ross Campbell of Ann Arbor was a probate judge from 1967 until he was appointed a Washtenaw County circuit judge in 1969. He has been elected to the position three times since, the last time in 1980. He is an adjunct professor at Cooley Law School in Lansing.

Michael F. Cavanaugh was an assistant attorney for the city of Lansing and then city attorney for a total of two years, from 1967-69, then in private practice until elected a district judge in 1971. He has served on the Michigan Court of Appeals since being elected in 1974.

Blair Moody Jr. of Grosse Pointe Shores was a Wayne County Circuit judge for 11 years before being elected to the Michigan Supreme Court in 1976. He is the only incumbent seeking reelection. He is chairman of the Supreme Court's sentencing guidelines committee.

Dorothy Comstock Riley of Detroit served an interim term on the Wayne County Circuit Court before being appointed to the Court of Appeals in April, 1976, and has been elected twice since then. She was in private practice 10 years and an attorney for the Wayne County Friend of the Court for 12 years.

Peter W. Avery, 33, is a 1980 graduate of Cooley Law

School in Lansing and has practiced law in Michigan and New York.

Although non-partisan on the ballot, the candidates were nominated by political parties, Moody and Cavanaugh by the Democrats, Riley and Campbell by the Republicans and Avery by the Libertarian Party.

COURT OF APPEALS

William R. Beasley and Michael J. Kelly are without opposition to be reelected to the Court of Appeals, 2nd district, for six-year terms; Beasley has served since 1976; Kelly since 1974.

The 14 county district includes Tuscola, Huron and Sanilac Counties.

Tuscola board seeks reelection

All seven members of the Tuscola County Board of Commissioners are seeking reelection.

Three of them don't have any opposition, including Royce Russell, R-Cass City. He will represent the new District 2, which consists of Elkland, Elmwood, Novesta and Kingston Townships.

Districts have been redrawn since the last election to comply with 1980 census statistics.

Also running without opposition are Donna Rayl, R-Akron, District 1, Ellington, Almer, Columbia, Akron and Wisner Townships, and Paul Nagy, R-Vassar, District 3, Gilford, Fairgrove, Denmark and Juniata Townships.

Districts in which there are contests are as follows: (1 denotes incumbent):

4) Marion Huff (D) and J. Benson Collon (R-I), Wells and Indianfields Townships.

5) Margaret Wenta (D-I), and Rollin Carpenter (R), Koylton, Dayton, Fremont, and Watertown Townships.

6) Robert Russell (D) and George (Bill) Clark Jr. (R-I); Tuscola and Vassar Townships.

7) Kenneth Kennedy (D-I) and Robert Fong (R), Arabela and Millington Townships.

REELECT DON DECKER

DISTRICT 5 SANILAC COUNTY COMMISSIONER

Lamotte, Evergreen, Argyle, Greenleaf, Austin, Minden, Delaware, part of Forester, Marion Townships.

- Lifelong Sanilac Resident
- Your support will be appreciated in Nov. 2 General Election

THE MAN WHO WILL DO THE JOB

Paid for by committee to reelect Don Decker.

Allen and McCann vie to succeed Armbruster

The race to succeed retiring State Rep. Loren Armbruster, R-Caro, is between Dick Allen, winner of the Aug. 10 Republican primary over seven other candidates, and Democrat James McCann, unopposed in the primary, who is running for the office for the fourth time.

The reapportioned 77th district consists of all of Huron County and all of Tuscola except for Arbel, Millington and Watertown Townships in the southwest corner of the county.

The old 84th district represented by Armbruster consists of all of Tuscola and part of Saginaw and Genesee Counties.

ALLEN, 44, has been editor of the Tuscola County Advertiser for most of the 18 years he has been with the newspaper.

A veteran of the U.S. Marine Corps and the Air Force, he attended the University of Illinois and the University of Maryland.

during the campaign to avoid possible conflict with federal law since the position is partially federally funded. He is still performing the duties, but without pay.

McCann has associate and bachelor's degrees from Columbia College in Missouri, the latter in psychology, a master's degree in educational and community leadership and an educational specialist degree, both from Central Michigan University, and has started work on a doctoral degree in education.

McCann served on the State Labor Board for more than a year, representing veterans concerning employment.

He is a member of the Democratic State Central Committee, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Disabled American Veterans, Michigan Association of County Veterans Counselors, Michigan Association of Civil Defense Directors, and the Michigan Democratic Agricultural Committee and is an authorized agent for the Michigan Veterans Trust Fund.

McCann is also owner of Tel-View Video, which makes videotapes of weddings, industrial programs, etc.

The resident of W. Akron Road, Akron, and his wife, have four children.

Dick Allen

Allen was a charter member of the former Help Line crisis intervention program, charter member of the Tuscola County Community Mental Health Services Board, helped establish the Tuscola Players Community Theatre Group in the early 1960s and until recently was an officer of the Caro Arts Society.

A former coordinator of youth activities at the Caro United Methodist Church, he served on the Caro Board of Commerce in the late 1960s and has been active in the American Cancer Society and March of Dimes. He helped develop the Thumb Meet of Champions track and field meet.

Allen is a member of the rules committee of the Michigan Press Association, Caro Community Hospital Advisory Board, Caro Baseball Federation, Mt. Moriah Lodge No. 226, F and AM, and Caro Chapter No. 96, Royal Arch Masons of Caro.

He and his wife and two sons live in Fairgrove Township.

McCANN, 53, has been Tuscola County veterans counselor since December, 1973, after having served more than 20 years in the Army.

James McCann

Since September, 1981, he has also been the county emergency services coordinator, although he is on leave from the position

Stadlberger sentenced for arson

Ernest Stadlberger, 19, of 6280 Moriarty Road, Decker, was sentenced Oct. 19 to six months in the Sanilac County Jail, for two arson related charges.

In addition, he has now been charged with arson in connection with a Tuscola County barn fire.

He was credited with two days served. Sanilac Circuit Judge Allen Keyes also fined him $150 and assessed $400 court costs.

Stadlberger pleaded guilty Sept. 23 to attempted arson of real property in the Sept. 9 burning of the barn of Edwin Peters in Evergreen Township and arson of personal property in the Sept. 11 burning of Steve Innes' wagon loaded with straw in Lamotte Township. He was arrested by state police about an hour after the latter fire was reported.

He was sentenced to concurrent sentences for each charge. The fine and costs covers both charges.

He was a member of the Lamotte Township Fire Department until shortly after his arrest. Stadlberger was arraigned last Wednesday on a charge of arson of real property in connection with the burning of the barn owned by Pat Sheridan on Lamton Road, south of Deckerville Road. That fire occurred Sept. 2.

He appeared before Magistrate Donald Smith who set bond at $10,000. A pretrial hearing before District Judge Richard F. Kern was scheduled Monday of this week, with preliminary examination Nov. 5.

Bond has been posted, so Stadlberger was returned to the Sanilac County Jail.

"There are many things that we would throw away, if we were not afraid that others might pick them up."

Notice Of GENERAL ELECTION For ELMWOOD TOWNSHIP

TUESDAY, NOV. 2, 1982

Polls will be open at the township hall from 7 a.m. - 8 p.m. said day of election.

Application for absentee ballot must be made by Saturday, Oct. 30 at 2 p.m.

JOANNE SATTELBERG
TOWNSHIP CLERK

ROAD CLOSED -- Argyle Road, east of M-53, was closed Friday for installation of a new drainage tile, part of the Craig and Heussner Drain cleaning project. A total of 5 3/4 miles of drain are being cleaned at a cost of $96,000. The project began earlier this month and will be completed next spring. The drain drains 1,800 acres, all in Evergreen Township. The township will pay 15 percent of the cost; Sanilac County, 22.67; state Department of Transportation, .64; and property owners, 61.69 percent. Contractor is Larry Jocham of Clifford.

Barcia, Noel seek 34th senate seat

Voters have a choice Tuesday, between Democrat James A. Barcia and Republican Artis Noel to represent the new 34th district in the Michigan Senate.

The district consists of Tuscola, Huron, Bay, Arenac and Gladwin Counties. Part of it, Huron and Sanilac, was included in the old 28th district, which has been represented by retiring Sen. Alvin DeGrow, R-Pigeon.

If the votes cast in the Aug. 10 primary have political party significance, it appears Barcia has the advantage in the general election. He and the one other Democrat running in the primary received a total of 26,774 votes; Noel and the other two Republican candidates received a total of 15,998.

BARCIA 30, has been a state representative since 1977, representing part of Bay County including Bay City and Essexville.

Barcia (pronounced bar-see) is chairman of the Funeral slated Friday for Pearl Watson

Pearl Clare Watson, 93, of Argyle, died Monday at her home after a short illness.

She was born Dec. 14, 1888, in Koylton Township, Tuscola County, the daughter of David and Sarah (Redman) Emigh.

Miss Emigh married Charles S. Watson Jan. 15, 1913, in Sandusky. They made their home on an Evergreen Township farm until moving to Cass City in 1948. Her husband died in 1974. Mrs. Watson moved to Argyle in 1976.

She is survived by one brother, Fred Emigh, Snover; three grandchildren; Mrs. Bill (Bonna) Pruitt, Lincoln Park, Mrs. Gene (Conalee) Grindsaff, Southgate, and Mrs. Robert (Sally) Henry, Argyle; 10 great-grandchildren, and two great-great-grandchildren. One son, Gaylord, one daughter, Eleanor, three brothers and three sisters preceded her in death.

Funeral services will be conducted at 1 p.m. Friday at Little's Funeral Home, Cass City, Rev. James Rule of the Argyle United Methodist Church officiating.

Burial will be in Elkland Township Cemetery.

Homespun needlework class set

The Cass City Department of Community Education will offer a two session class on candlewicking and counted cross stitch beginning Nov. 11 from 7-9 p.m.

Counted cross stitch was popularized in the Scandinavian countries using the same basic stitch as stamped cross stitch but has a finer and more even look.

Candlewicking is a colonial needlework which frugal ancestors did by utilizing the wicking left from candle-making and using it on their homespun cotton muslin, leaning heavily on the popular decor of the times.

Contact the community education department at 872-4151 to enroll. A small fee plus the cost of materials will be charged.

James Barcia

He also serves or has served on the education; conservation, environment and recreation; colleges and universities; tourist industry relations, and liquor control committees.

At the start of his second term, Barcia was elected majority whip by his Democratic colleagues, a leadership position, and has held the assignment since.

A 1974 graduate of Saginaw Valley State College, Barcia worked for U.S. Sen. Philip Hart in 1971, was community service coordinator for the Michigan Community Blood Center in 1974-75 and was administrative assistant to then State Rep. (now Congressman) Donald Albosta in 1975-76.

NOEL 34, was appointed Tuscola County prosecutor in January, 1979, and was elected to a four-year term in November, 1980.

From 1976 until he became prosecutor, Noel was a Macomb County assistant prosecutor, specializing in the organized crime section.

A native of Detroit, he received his bachelor's and master's degrees from Eastern Michigan University.

Artis Noel

The Caro resident is a member of the Tuscola County Republican Party, Caro Rotary Club, and the First United Presbyterian Church in that community.

He and his wife, Justine, a doctor practicing with Caro Family Physicians, have one daughter.

Hawks drop close games to Vulcans, Raiders

Like Michigan State's football team Cass City's basketball team has been in every game recently but has won only once. The Hawks dropped another close decision Tuesday night at Vassar, 33-30.

The game got off to anything but a fast start. In the first eight minutes Cass City failed to score while the Vulcans counted just two points, which has to be a record in scoring futility.

After that the teams picked up the pace. Cass City scored 14 points in the second quarter and the two teams left the floor at the intermission tied.

The Vulcans bounced back to take a 26-21 lead at the end of the third quarter and the Hawks were unable to close the gap.

Jill Hutchinson scored 14 points for Cass City while Betty Jo Morrison led all scorers with 18 for Vassar.

Michelle Fahrner picked up 10 rebounds and Kim Wagg added 8 but balanced rebounding by Vassar gave the winners a 41-36 edge on the boards.

Cass City had a miserable shooting night, hitting just 12 of 48 shots for 25 percent while Vassar hit 33 percent on 15 of 46.

MARLETTE GAME

If there is glory in losing, the Cass City Red Hawks covered themselves with it Thursday when they took tough Marlette into overtime before dropping a 46-45 decision at Cass City High School.

The Hawks, who chalked up their first victory of the season in a dozen tries by topping Sandusky in the preceding game, continued their fine play against the Raiders.

In the first half, it appeared as if form would be followed as Marlette jumped off to an 11-8 first period edge and increased it to 25-17 at the intermission.

But Cass City charged back in the third period and the first half of the final quarter to tie and go in front. At the three-quarters mark it was 31-all and with four minutes left Cass City was in front by seven.

But Marlette went into a press and several turnovers enabled the visitors to tie it up at the end of regulation time. Marlette edged Cass City 7-6 in the overtime period to take the win.

For the first time this year Cass City had three players in double figures. Carrie Lautner and Laura Richards netted 14 each and Jill Hutchinson counted 10. Cheryl Miller, 10 points, and Connie Lumm, 12, led Marlette.

Cass City's improvement in recent games can probably be traced to a more healthy Michelle Fahrner, who has been suffering with a sore knee, and the improvement of girls with limited varsity experience prior to this season.

Fahrner led Cass City in the rebounding department with 12. Deanna Wilkins took down 14 boards for Marlette.

Cass City shot 30 percent from the field and Marlette hit 40 percent of its shots.

GANG TACKLING helped Cass City keep North Branch in check for most of the night. The Broncos won 19-0 on several big plays following Cass City's mistakes. Stopping a Bronco are Kevin Shaw, left, and Joe Langenburg.

Bulldogs fall to North Huron and Ubly, top Peck

North Huron was an easy winner over visiting Owen-Gage Tuesday night in girls' basketball, 57-37.

Top performers for the Bulldogs were Joan Mosack with 13 points and 12 rebounds and Jackie Kain with 12 points and 11 rebounds.

Mary Kennedy scored 16 points for the Warriors and Bonnie Prill had 14.

North Huron won the junior varsity game, 40-17. Owen-Gage hosts Carson-ville-Port Sanilac Thursday and is at Deckerville Tuesday.

Score by quarters:

NH	15	9	17	16	57
O-G	3	8	12	14	37

UBLY

A weak second half for Owen-Gage let the visiting Bearcats win easily last Thursday, 36-21.

Ubly led by only one point at halftime in the non-league contest, 16-15, but outscored the Bulldogs in the second half, 20-6.

Joan Mosack scored 13 points to lead Owen-Gage. Teresa Messing was top scorer for Ubly with 17 points.

Owen-Gage won the junior varsity game, 29-27.

Score by quarters:

Ubly	3	13	14	6	36
O-G	6	9	2	4	21

PECK

The Bulldogs gained their fourth North Central Thumb D League win of the season with a 43-33 win last Wednesday over visiting Peck. The game was originally scheduled to be played the night before.

The Bulldogs led at the end of the first quarter, 12-2, but only gained four more points in the second to lead at halftime, 16-10. They outscored their opponents, 19-7, in the third quarter, then coasted to the win.

Jackie Kain led the Bulldog scorers with 15 points. Joan Mosack contributed 12 points and 17 rebounds.

Top scorer for the Pirates was Denise Kipp with 14 points.

Peck won the junior varsity game, 23-18.

Score by quarters:

O-G	12	4	19	8	43
Peck	2	8	7	16	33

Jaycettes form local chapter

An organizational meeting to form a Cass City Jaycette chapter was held Oct. 14.

Officers chosen were: President, Beth Howard; vice-president, Mary Beth Swiderski; secretary, Connie Klinkman; treasurer, Yvonne LeValley, and directors, Darlene Russell and Peggy Ulfing.

The Pigeon Area Jaycettes, the extending local, explained to the group the purpose of Jaycettes, to provide leadership training and individual development opportunities, to serve the community and cooperate with the Jaycees.

The next meeting will be Wednesday, Nov. 3, at 8 p.m. at the Charmont. All women between the ages of 18 and 35 are invited to attend.

Plans are also being made for the charter banquet Nov. 13.

For further information contact Beth Howard at 872-4579.

24 attend AARP meeting

Twenty-four members and guests attended the regular meeting of the American Association of Retired Persons Oct. 14.

Blood pressure readings were taken by volunteer nurse Irene Freeman. Edith Pichard from the Commission on Aging was in charge of the program.

Luella Smith from Snover played the harmonica and the piano for a members sing-a-long.

President Mary Kritzman opened the meeting. Rose Worstell gave the invocation and the salute to the flag.

The next regular meeting will be Nov. 11 in the Good Shepherd Lutheran Church fellowship hall. Clara Eberts, Nellie Shagena and Marie Roch will be in charge of arrangements.

Hawks need win to move out of league basement

Friday will be the final opportunity for the Cass City Red Hawks to move out of the cellar of the Thumb B Association, a spot they share in the league with Bad Axe and Sandusky.

Friday the Hawks play the Sandusky Redskins at Cass City and for the first time this year the Hawks will enter the game rated with at least an even chance to win.

That's because in recent games Cass City has been coming on strong. Two weeks ago they looked good in an upset over Bad Axe and last Friday looked nearly as good in a losing effort against North Branch, 19-0.

Actually, the game was much closer than the final score indicated and mistakes by the still young Cass City eleven were responsible for the Broncos' victories.

Each team fumbled twice and in addition Cass City had a drive thwarted by a pass interception. In the final analysis it was Cass City's inability to cash in on opportunities that ruined any chance for another upset.

Branch was leading, 7-0, after a 47-yard run around his own right end by Dave Ankley, who broke several tackles on his touchdown jaunt.

The Hawks punted and when the receiver fumbled, recovered on the North Branch 38. Coach Don Schelke went to the air and it looked for a moment like the strategy would pay off.

A toss in the left flat found the Hawk receiver in back of everybody with clear sailing to the goal line, but the excellent pass was dropped and Cass City's best chance to score went glimmering.

After that, North Branch went to work and scored again. Credit this one to Ankley. He set up the marker with a 13-yard jaunt and then went over a few moments later on an eight-yard run.

The final score came in the third period when Mike Griffen pounded over from the one yard line.

Dave Osentoski led the offense and defense again. He was credited with 2 solo tackles and 21 assists. The senior fullback also led the offense with 40 yards in 10 carries. Also credited with fine defense by Schelke were Jeff Loomis, 13 assists; Kevin Shaw, 10 assists, and Tom Lefler, 2 solo tackles and 8 assists.

'88 class builds fund for sports

The class of 1988 has a little nest egg built to tide them over any tough times ahead. This year's seventh grade conducted a raffle to raise money to pay for sporting activities when the Cass City Schools money crunch was on.

Now that the millage was passed it will be deposited in the name of the class to be used for sports in case it is needed.

The raffle netted the class $902.

The winners were: steaks, Shirley McComb; crafts, Denise Sharko; ham, Genevieve Crawley; lubrication and oil change, Robert Ryland; turkey, Sue Baker; fruit cocktail, Mary Mahalski; vegetable and fruits, Linda Marshall; cooler, Nancy Hutchinson; dairy, Sue Baker, and margarine, Lynn Leatham.

Nov. 6 and 13, persons interested in singing in the newly formed community choir are invited to come to Cass City High School for more information and to sing for voice placement. Hours will be 9-11 a.m. in the band room located in the rear of the building. Those will be the rehearsal hours (Saturdays, 9-11 a.m.) for the new choir, which begins practice Jan. 8 and ends with a concert March 28 in the evening.

The choir, to be called the Tom Thumb Singers, will welcome both adults and children. Children who can read and who have the ability to carry a tune, will sing half of the program and will be assisted by the other adult members. The second half of the program will feature more difficult music with just the adult members.

The community choir was organized by the Cass City Community Education Department and a committee consisting of Andrea Hofmeister (choir director), Art Holmberg, David Lovejoy (community education director), Dotty Scollon and Donna Wachterhauser. Participants are welcome from all over the Thumb area, with plans for a choir of 75-100 people.

Each choir member is expected to buy their folder and rent their music. The cost is $12.50 for children and $22 for adults.

All of the costs of the choir excluding music have been raised by donations from area residents.

Some of the musical selections will include: "Medley from Annie," "Sounds of Kenny Rogers," "Give Me Your Tired, Your Poor," "Ol' Man River," "One" from the musical "Chorus Line," and a collection of waltzes by Brahms.

For more information call Dave Lovejoy at 872-4151 or Andrea Hofmeister at 663-2634.

Investment is topic at women's club

Twenty members and two guests attended the Oct. 20 meeting of the Cass City Business and Professional Women's Club.

Guest speaker was Jim Szewc of Bad Axe who spoke about investments.

The 1983 calendars were distributed by Gloria Hartwick and may be purchased from her or Shirley Haag.

Highlight of the November meeting will be honoring of the "woman of the year." The committee in charge consists of Mrs. John Perry, Marilyn Ertman and Mrs. Leo Ware.

FIRST PHEASANT -- Joe Leeson, 15, of 4669 Hospital Drive shot his first pheasant Saturday morning in three years of hunting. His father, Fred, also shot one. They were hunting in state game area north of Cass City. Aiding them was their dog, "Snug."

Set expectant parents' class

A new class at Hills and Dales General Hospital in the expectant parent series will start Nov. 4 at 7 p.m. There will be a series of seven classes given weekly and held in the basement meeting room A.

The following topics will be discussed: male and female anatomy - fetal growth and development; body changes in the expectant mother; nutrition and breast feeding; labor and delivery - breathing and relaxation exercises; tour through the maternity department; new infant and mother, and infant care, family planning and contraception.

Couples are recommended. If a husband is not available, women should feel free to bring a relative or friend who can give support and encouragement at home and during labor.

The classes will be presented with lectures, demonstrations, informal discussion and a variety of visual aides and film strips. There will be a fee of $20 per couple, to be made payable to Hills and Dales General Hospital, and should be brought to the first class.

A doctor's permission must be given for anyone to take these classes. The forms will be available in doctors' offices or may be obtained from the hospital and must be brought to the first class.

Everyone must pre-register prior to the onset of the classes. For further information contact Faith Fahrner, R.N., at Hills and Dales, telephone 872-2121.

Title on line as O-G meets Eagles Friday in Thumb D showdown

The championship of the North Central Thumb D League will be at stake this Friday when Owen-Gage hosts Deckerville.

The 6-0 Bulldogs, victors over Peck last Friday, 25-6, can do no worse than tie for the championship. The 5-1 Eagles need a win to tie for the title.

"This is for all the marbles," Owen-Gage coach Arnie Besonen said. "We have to maintain our poise the whole game. Deckerville is improving each week and Jerry Allard is a premier back in the area." The game starts at 7:30 p.m.

As for last Friday's contest, the coach continued, "It took us 2½ quarters to get rolling after we made countless unexcusable mistakes. Their first touchdown was set up by a fumbled punt return and two defensive penalties."

The Bulldogs didn't score until there was only 3:25 left in the third quarter and collected 19 of their 25 points in the fourth. Quarterback Stan Andrakowicz scored three of his team's four touchdowns, with fullback Nick Swiastyn also a big contributor to the offensive effort, Besonen pointed out.

Peck scored its lone touchdown early in the second quarter on a two-yard run by Alex Williamson. The conversion attempt was unsuccessful. The 63-yard scoring drive took 12 plays.

Owen-Gage got on the scoreboard in the third quarter on a seven-yard run by Andrakowicz, the 62-yard drive taking only four plays. The point after touchdown attempt failed.

With 10:09 left in the final period, the quarterback scored again, on a 22-yard run. The PAT attempt was no good. The 53-yard drive took six plays.

About five minutes later, Swiastyn carried the ball over the goal line from six yards out to cap a seven play, 61-yard drive. Dan Glidden kicked the extra point.

Only 38 seconds remained on the clock when Andrakowicz scored again, on a 16-yard run, the Bulldogs having gained possession on the Eagle 22 yard line and taking two plays to score. The PAT attempt was unsuccessful.

Owen-Gage rushed for 181 yards in 38 carries. Andrakowicz gained 82 yards in nine carries; Swiastyn, 52 in 14 carries, and Lee Gettel, 11 times for 44 yards.

Andrakowicz completed only two passes of 13 attempts, with one interception, but both of them were long bombs, a 46-yarder to Glidden and a 44-yarder to Reid Goslin. Offensive yardage totaled 271.

Peck was held to only 125 yards offensively, 69 of them in 37 carries on the ground, and seven pass completions of nine attempts, with no interceptions, for 56 yards. Scott Williamson did most of the passing. Leading rusher was Steve Sheridan, who carried the ball twice for 29 yards total.

The Bulldogs made 12 first downs, fumbled three times, losing the ball twice, and were penalized four times for 50 yards. They were forced to punt four times, with each kick averaging 38.2 yards.

The Pirates made eight first downs, fumbled four times and lost the ball twice, were penalized seven times for 83 yards and punted six times, with each kick averaging 30.8 yards.

Defensive standouts for the victors were Gary Erickson with seven tackles and one fumble recovery, and Glidden, Swiastyn, Paul Lopez and John Shope, each with six tackles.

Sheridan tackled Bulldog ball carriers nine times and made one fumble recovery. Paul Lorkowski also made nine tackles and Tony Lucero had eight.

Bliss heads all-stars

Hawks 2nd in Thumb B

There were no changes in the final team standings for Cass City harriers after the final Thumb B Association meet held Tuesday, Oct. 19, in Marlette.

Caro is the league champion and Cass City finished second. Other schools finished in the following order: North Branch, Marlette, Lakers, Sandusky and Vassar.

Greg Bliss won the event in a time of 16:13. The first five finishes of each school were counted to determine the team score. Jackson was ninth, Kevin Bliss, 11th, Dickie Green, 29th, and Randy Nicholas, 31st.

The all-league team was also selected. It was led by Greg Bliss of Cass City. Caro, the conference champion, placed Ken Campbell, Mitch Steele and Mike DeLorenzo. The final spot was taken by Oscar Flores of North Branch.

The second team included Jackson of Cass City. Others were Jeff Cantwell, Vassar; Jim Clabuesch, Lakers; Steve Griffin, North Branch, and Kevin Kausch, Lakers.

GIRLS' RESULTS

There were no trophies awarded for conference honors among the girls because only four schools fielded teams. They were, in the order of finish: Sandusky, Cass City, Caro, Lakers.

Rena Stimpfel finished second. Brenda Essenmacher of Sandusky won. Other Cass City runners in the top five were: Chris Tuckey, 7th; Lori Hurley, 9th; Merilee Leslie, 10, and Lisa Wilson, 11.

THUMB MEET

It was Kirk Scharich's turn to win as the outstanding harrier from USA topped Greg Bliss of Cass City in the Thumb Area Cross Country Championships held Thursday at Caro.

The two outstanding long distance runners have traded wins most of the year and last week Scharich was the winner by 1.2 seconds.

There were 18 teams entered. Caro took the team championship with 74 points. USA was second with 122 points and Cass City, third with 153 points.

Other teams finished in the following order: Marlette, Capac, Yale, Reese, North Branch, Lakers, Mayville, Akron-Fairgrove, Brown City, Sandusky, Vassar, Lapeer East, Harbor Beach, Frankenmuth and Kingston.

Other placings by Cass City runners included Jackson, 18, Kevin Bliss, 26, Green, 51, Nicholas, 56, Tom Wallace, 72, and John Agar, 83.

In the girls' competition, Cass City with 77 finished third behind Harbor Beach, 55 points, and Sandusky, 71

Traxler and others unopposed

Some candidates don't have to worry about opposition Tuesday, or at least significant opposition.

Most prominent among them is 8th District Congressman Bob Traxler, a Democrat, who has held the position since April, 1974.

The district includes Tuscola, Huron and Sanilac Counties.

Clio real estate broker Russell Cummer's attempt to get enough write-in votes in the Aug. 10 primary to become the Republican nominee was unsuccessful, so the only person running against Traxler is Libertarian Party candidate Shelia M. Hart.

Other area candidates without opposition include: George E. Benko, incumbent Sanilac County probate judge.

Ottomar Sting, Republican, running for Grant Township trustee.

Russell Shaw, (R), Lamotte Township trustee.

Ken Hofmeister, (R), Elmwood Township treasurer.

John B. Huhn (R), Koylton Township trustee.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Comment, accompanied by Miss Sue Ann Comment and the Misses Mary and Nellie O'Rourke, spent the week end of Oct. 16 with their son and family, the Michael Comments, in Export, Penn.

A visitor last Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Rabideau was their nephew, Herbert McHenry of East Detroit. Herb and his brother, Bill McHenry of Rochester, recently returned from three weeks of big game hunting in Africa, where each shot a zebra.

Mrs. Jackie Goodell's second grade class from the Gagetown Elementary School made a trip last Tuesday to Bantz Apple Mountain in Freeland, where they learned about the growing and harvesting of apples and cider makers. Mothers accompanying the class were Mrs. Margaret Timmons, Mrs. Penny Cavanaugh, Mrs. Judy Harp, Faith Fahrner, Sally Draschil and Janet Muntz.

Last Thursday, the Owen-dale-Gagetown Senior Citizens Club was entertained for lunch by the Gagetown Methodist ladies in the church hall. After lunch, the group went to the Gagetown Community Building where President Frank Doan opened a short business meeting with prayer and salute to the flag, after which Huron Co. Sheriff Tokan addressed the group.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Munro attended the funeral of their sister-in-law, Mrs. Fred McDonald, at Sacred Heart Catholic Church Friday, Oct. 15.

Mrs. Gerry Carolan accompanied her daughter, Mrs. Phyllis Connors of Caseville, to Detroit last Tuesday where they visited Mrs. Eva Langerie and were overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Milbauer. En route home they visited in Lapeer with Mrs. Connors' daughter, Toni Watterworth, and all were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Watterworth. Cindy Watterworth Striplin, another daughter, of Marietta, Ga., was also a guest.

Saturday, Jack Tamblin and son Todd of Essexville. Charlie Ball of Bay City, Mike Root and son Steven and Don Schwartz met at the home of William (Buckshot) Burrows and all spent the day pheasant hunting. Host Buckshot prepared a barbecue noon lunch at his home.

Sunday, Oct. 17, Mrs. Sue Penrod and Mrs. Mary McKellar and grandchildren, Tanya, Bobby and Tara, were dinner guests of DeLores and Dick Stevenson of Caro. The occasion was a birthday celebration for Mrs. Stevenson's mother, Bessie McKellar Kenny of Sandusky, who was also a guest.

Spending the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lenhard, were Mary Lenhard, student at Grand Valley College, and Ann Lenhard, from Saginaw Valley College. During the week end other visitors were Tom and Jeff Lenhard of Sebewaing. All were happy to meet the newest member of the Lenhard family, Tara Lenhard, daughter of Jim and Donna, who with son Chad, were here from Indianapolis, Ind., and spent the week end with Donna's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Don DeLong of Cass City.

Miss Barb Goslin of Essexville and Miss Carol Goslin of Caro spent the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Goslin of Unionville.

Miss Lori Comment of Caro, daughter of the Clare Comments, and the Keith Goslins' daughter, Patricia of Saginaw, made a week-end train trip to Toronto.

Leslie Goslin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Goslin, celebrated her eighth birthday Friday when she entertained Diana Loomis, Kristin Seurynck and Shannon Turner at a slumber party. Saturday, her parents gave her a second celebration when they hosted a dinner in her honor. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Shannon of Fairgrove, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Vaughn of Mayville, Mr. and Mrs. Brad Goslin and Shannon and Mr. and Mrs. Phil Bader of Findlay, Ohio. The Baders spent the week end.

Mrs. Marion Carroll was honored on her birthday last Sunday when she and Dick met with son Tim Rabideau and his wife for a dinner celebration, hosted by the Rabideaus.

Mr. and Mrs. Elger Generous and Jack Generous were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Generous and daughters of Caro. Evening callers were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Skinner and daughter Crystal of Caro.

Mrs. Leonard Karr accompanied her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Oatley of Allen Park, to Syracuse, Ind., where they visited from Monday to Wednesday with the Karrs' son, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Karr and son Eric. The remainder of the week, Mrs. Karr spent in Allen Park.

Library millage on Elkland Twp. ballot

Elkland Township residents are being asked Tuesday to approve a three-quarters of a mill increase in their property taxes for support of Rawson Memorial Library in Cass City.

The revenue — $31,599 annually based on the township's present valuation — is needed to offset declining revenue from other sources, supporters say.

If approved, the levy won't appear on tax bills until December, 1983. Three-quarters of a mill equals 75 cents for each $1,000 of valuation, so for a home with a valuation of $25,000 (half of the market value), the levy would mean an additional $18.75 a year in taxes.

The millage will be for an indefinite period. "We anticipate the library will be here for an indefinite period," library board trustee Maynard McConkey explained. "... unless there is some other means of funding, we couldn't see any purpose in making it (the millage) temporary."

Since the library opened in 1970, according to head librarian Barbara Hutchinson, it grew steadily until reaching a plateau the last couple years of about 50,000 books and other materials circulated annually.

"I would think that people in the community would want that we would grow and be a vital institution," she said. "If we don't have a means of funding the library that is dependable, then what's going to happen is, we're going to go back down the other way."

FAILURE OF THE MILLAGE won't mean the library will close its doors. What it might mean, Mrs. Hutchinson said, is it would be open fewer hours, fewer books would be purchased and there would be fewer programs.

What cuts would be made will be the decision of the library board, which is composed of three representatives of the township and three of the village.

Present library programs include films for senior citizens, family film nights, story hours for pre-school children, summer reading programs and the Battle of the Books for youngsters in grades 3-6, which last year involved 200 children.

Part of the library's problem is that costs are going up. It's not unheard of these days for a novel to cost $15-18, Mrs. Hutchinson said. Magazine subscriptions have also increased in price, as have other costs, such as utilities. One result is, "We're buying less books than we have in past years."

The library has a full time staff of three, Mrs. Hutchinson receives $10,200 annually (36 hours a week) and the two assistants, $9,000 each. The janitor receives $3.75 an hour (projected $1,950 annually) and the student page, $2.50 an hour ($1,950 annually). There is no insurance or pension program for staff members.

Since the library finances will be tight next year — revenue from the millage won't be received until 1984 if the proposal is approved — Mrs. Hutchinson anticipates wages will stay the same in 1983.

THIS YEAR, THE LIBRARY's total budget is $48,000 and revenue is projected at $37,200, with the difference being made up by using money left over from last year.

The largest budget items are salaries and Social Security, $24,600; book purchases, $7,000, and utilities, $4,200.

The library's income comes from several sources. Elkland Township is contributing $5,500 this year and Cass City, $5,000. Those annual contributions will end if the millage is approved.

THE BIGGEST SINGLE source of revenue is penal fines, which is money collected by Tuscola County Circuit and District Courts for criminal convictions and civil infractions. By law, the money must go to libraries. It is distributed on the basis of population within each one's service area.

Money from that source reached a peak in 1980, when Rawson Memorial received $19,477. This year, it is only projected at $14,726.

The state tries to maintain uniform assessments all over the state, for instance, for speeding, but it is up to each judge how much of the assessment he wants as fines, which go to libraries, and how much he wants as costs, which help pay the cost of operating the court.

Most of the penal fine revenue in Tuscola County comes from district court. For several years, the formula was 60 percent fines and 40 percent costs. A few years ago District Judge Richard F. Kern changed it to 50-50, and then for a year, it was 40 percent fines and 60 percent costs, he having made the change because of the increasing cost of operating his court.

Because his court had a surplus, as of Sept. 1, he changed the formula back to 50-50.

The judge pointed out that even when the assessment formula stays the same, the amount of penal fine revenue can change from year to year. If policemen are laid off, fewer tickets are written and fewer persons arrested. Bad weather and the bad economy keep persons off the road, which results in fewer traffic tickets being written. "It's just not dependable."

He has assured county librarians that the 50-50 assessment formula will be retained for at least a year and he will then seek authority from the state court administrator to raise the fine and costs, rather than change the percentage.

Even with the change to 50-50 funding, Mrs. Hutchinson doesn't anticipate penal fine revenue to be as much as it was in 1980.

LIBRARIES USED TO receive a portion of the federal revenue sharing funds county government receives. In 1979 and 1980, the peak years, Rawson Memorial received $1,654 each year.

Beginning this year, however, county commissioners eliminated the revenue sharing to libraries because of other county financial needs. Librarians have requested the payments be reinstated in 1983, but commissioners haven't made a decision yet.

State aid is another revenue source, projected at $4,393 this year. That's the most received in the past several years, but with the precarious state of the state's finances, Mrs. Hutchinson isn't sure all that will be received by year's end.

The library contracts with Elmwood, Novesta, Greenleaf and Evergreen Townships plus part of Ellington Township to provide service for their residents. Those townships presently pay 45 cents per capita annually for the service, except for Ellington, which pays the equivalent of .3 mill, minus penal fines for the area. The library receives the penal fines for all of those townships. Payments by them, not including the penal fines, will total about $2,200 this year.

The rest of the projected revenue for this year is use of copy machine fees and overdue book fines, $1,200; interest, $1,200; Elkland, Novesta United Way, $1,200, and gifts, $1,000.

NEXT YEAR WILL BE A critical one for the library. If expenses and revenues were to be the same as this year, the library would end up about $10,000 in the hole, since it will have very little money left over this year to carry over into 1983.

Although the $31,599 total millage would raise starting in 1984 sounds like a lot, Mrs. Hutchinson pointed out, deduct the total of $10,500 received from Elkland Township and Cass City and another $10,000 for the difference between income and expenses, and that leaves only $10,000 the library will be gaining and much of that could easily be eaten up by increasing expenses.

If the millage is approved, she would first like to build up a fund surplus as a cushion for lean financial years before adding new programs.

Smokey presents awards

Smokey the Bear was present in the Gagetown Elementary School gym last Thursday to pass out the ribbons for the top entries in the fire safety poster contest sponsored by the Elmwood Township-Gagetown Fire Department.

Kindergarteners and first graders colored in fire safety drawings, second through fifth graders made posters and sixth graders wrote essays on fire prevention.

Winners were:
Kindergarten — 1st place) Kay Timmons, 2) Melanie Joles, 3) Ryan Radabaugh.
First grade — 1) Brandy Parks, 2) Don Kowalski, 3) Shannon Smith.

Second — 1) Tanya Muntz, 2) Alissa Draschil, 3) Misty Coryell.

Third — 1) Shane Ross, 2) Julie Warack, 3) Barbara Kowalski.

Fourth — 1) Kathy Wildman, 2) Michelle Metzger, 3) Chad Timmons.

Fifth — 1) Chris Pavlichek, 2) Arnie Fritz, 3) Chad Stirett.

Sixth — 1) Nancy Cummins, 2) Patty Ondrajka, 3) Theresa Schwartz.

A plaque engraved with the name of each year's winner, starting with Miss Cummins, will hang in the sixth grade room.

The presentation of the ribbons to the winners by Smokey was preceded by a program on fire safety presented by Fred Sullivan, the fire department day captain. He also showed a film about the first Smokey the Bear.

The contest is conducted annually by the fire department. Sullivan told the students that partly due to their efforts, Elmwood-Gagetown was the only fire department in Tuscola County that did not have to extinguish any grass fires last spring.

CETA job program to undergo big changes

The federally funded Comprehensive Employment and Training Act program (CETA) will undergo some big changes in a year, the Thumb Area Consortium administrative board was informed last Thursday.

The consortium runs the CETA program in Tuscola, Huron and Sanilac Counties, which during the fiscal year that ended Sept. 30, involved expenditure of about $2.8 million.

Consortium Executive Director Frank Lenard outlined the changes in the new job training program recently approved by Congress.

The current fiscal year, which ends Sept. 30, 1983, will serve as a transition year, with the present CETA classroom, on-the-job and work experience programs remaining in operation. As of Sept. 30 this year, 389 persons were enrolled in the programs, 287 of them in classroom job training.

Congress has yet to appropriate funds for all of the present fiscal year or for the new program, so for now, the consortium will have to get by on the $151,981 it had left remaining at the end of the 1981-82 fiscal year (Sept. 30) and a $180,000 advance in CETA funds from the state.

That should last until mid-December, by which time Congress should have appropriated funds for the rest of the fiscal year.

The new program starting Oct. 1 of next year, which will replace CETA, will be known as the Job Training Partnership Act.

Although federally funded job training will have a new name, Lenard told board members it won't be that different than the present program. "It's more like CETA than it's not like CETA."

ONE CHANGE WILL BE in what are defined as "service delivery areas." The present consortium doesn't qualify under any of the new criteria.

One criterion is that a service delivery area has to have a population of at least 200,000 persons.

Lenard received the go-ahead from the board to try to recruit Lapeer County to join the consortium, which would give it a little more than 200,000 persons in the service area.

Lapeer is presently joined with Genesee County in operating of the CETA program, but Genesee would still have more than 200,000 persons in its service area without Lapeer County.

He explained that by taking the initiative to form a four-county consortium, he might forestall the state Department of Labor from adding Tuscola, Huron and Sanilac to a service area with Bay or Saginaw Counties.

"I would like to keep this area as a service delivery area," Lenard said. "I feel we have done a good job and I would hate to see us pulled into a large metropolitan area."

Such an arrangement, he fears, would result in most of the federal job training funds being spent in the urban areas, to the detriment of the rural area served by the present consortium.

THE NEW JOB TRAINING program will fund training in classrooms, businesses and factories and will shift responsibility for planning and distributing from the federal government to the states. According to the U.S. Department of Labor, the program will train at least 1 million persons a year (Congress hasn't yet appropriated funds for it, however.)

The present consortium administrative board is composed of two county commissioners from each of the three counties.

Although that may remain when the new program starts Oct. 1, 1983, a private industry council will have at least equal authority.

A majority of the PIC will be composed of representatives of business and industry, with the rest from education, labor, community based organizations, rehabilitation agencies, economic development agencies and the Michigan Employment Security Commission.

There is a PIC now, but it serves as an advisory board, only.

NINETY PERCENT OF the participants in the new program must be economically disadvantaged, with the remainder having to have some other barrier to employment (displaced homemakers, criminal offenders, teenage parents, older workers, etc.) to qualify.

Some of the new federal money will be used to train long-term unemployed workers and those who lost their jobs due to the permanent closing of the place where they worked, but that program will probably be run directly by the state. It will also include assistance in job hunting, relocation moving and supportive services.

Some money will also be spent for a Job Corps and programs to aid American Indians, migrant workers, and veterans.

AUDIT

The consortium's financial records were audited earlier this year for the fiscal years that ended Sept. 30, 1979, '80 and '81 by a certified public accounting firm hired by the state.

The preliminary draft of the audit, presented to the board last Thursday, showed only $235 in questioned expenditures out of $21.5 million in CETA funds spent by the consortium during those years. The $235 involved two payments for mileage. One couldn't be verified and the other involved overpayment.

The major recommendation of the auditors was that Lenard in the future request smaller advance payments of CETA funds from the state (the federal funds first go to Lansing) so that the consortium won't have as much cash on hand.

He sometimes requests large advances because the state is sometimes slow in forwarding CETA money to the consortium, thus it is in danger of running out if it doesn't have a lot on deposit.

Council examines proposed ordinance ready for consideration at the November council meeting.

OTHER ITEMS

It was reported the new sewage treatment plant is about done except for plumbing of the rebuilt digester and landscaping, both expected to be finished by Nov. 1, and the final checklist to make sure everything is done and working right.

There will then have to be negotiations with the contractor as the plant wasn't done by the Aug. 23 deadline, so the village could assess a penalty.

The plant is working well, for instance, removing 100 percent of the ammonia nitrogen from the sewage.

The village has purchased a used truck-mounted welder for $3,500. It will be used for welding, thawing frozen pipes in winter and its generator-powered lights may come in useful on other occasions. Previously, when such equipment was needed, it had to be rented.

3 townships have millage proposals

Three area townships, Argyle, Bingham and Sheridan, have millage proposals on the ballot Tuesday.

All have levies for roads, plus Sheridan also has one for fire protection.

Any that are approved won't appear on tax bills until December, 1983.

ARGYLE

The township board is asking for one mill for three years for roads maintenance. The township hasn't had such a levy before.

One mill will raise about $6,000 annually, according to Supervisor Jerry Hillaker. Without the added revenue, he said, it looks like the township will fall behind in keeping its roads in good repair. "Every year, it seems to be more expensive."

This year, Argyle will spend about $12,000 out of its general fund for road maintenance, plus an additional amount for brining. If the millage passes, some money will presumably still be spent from the general fund for roads.

A couple of years ago, the township paid for a new bridge, which cut into the amount it had available for roads, Hillaker said.

New truth in taxation and truth in assessing laws make it harder for township taxes to keep up with increasing expenses, he pointed out, and if federal revenue sharing ends, that would also hurt the township's finances. The township will be levying .8604 mill this December.

BINGHAM

The township is asking for renewal of two mills for 10 years for road paving.

The present levy will appear for the last time on tax bills this December. The 1.77 mills (2 mills minus a rollback) will raise about $37,000, according to Supervisor Aaron Weltin.

The first levy ran for 10 years and paid for paving of three miles of Jurgess Road between Munford and Priemer, the first mile of McTaggart west of M-19 and for preparation of the mile of Jurgess between Priemer and Purdy for paving. There isn't enough money left out of the present levy, however, to pave it.

It costs close to $100,000 to pave a mile of road, Weltin said.

If the new millage is approved, he explained, it will be decided at the annual meetings which roads will be paved.

SHERIDAN

One mill for four years for fire protection is a renewal. The present levy, which will appear on tax bills for the last time this December, is .9216 mill (one mill, minus a rollback).

The township contracts for fire protection with the Bad Axe Fire Department for the half of Sheridan north of McTaggart Road, and with the Bingham Township (Uby) department for the south half.

One mill will raise $15,688, based on the present valuation.

The two mills for four years for road improvements is technically a new levy, Supervisor Robert Becking explained. The identical levy appeared on the Aug. 10 primary ballot and was defeated by a tie vote. Had it been approved, it would have been a renewal, since a two-mill levy for roads expired with December, 1981 tax bills.

The money, if the proposal is approved, will be used for road building, gravel, etc.

The township's general tax levy this year (not including the fire millage) will be 1.1908 mills.

Sanilac to try again for special bridge millage

Close doesn't count, which is why Sanilac County residents Nov. 2 will vote for a second time on a three-quarters of a mill increase in their property taxes for repair and replacement of some of the county's decaying bridges.

The measure appeared for the first time on the Aug. 10 primary ballot and was defeated by only 26 votes, 3,481-3,455.

At the request of the Sanilac County Farm Bureau, a strong backer of the millage proposal, and the county Road Commission, the county Board of Commissioners voted to place the measure on the ballot a second time.

Like the first, the tax levy, if approved, will be for five years. However, it won't appear on tax bills until December, 1983. Had it been approved in August, it would have gone on this December's tax bills.

Based on the county's present valuation, the millage will raise about $370,000 the first year.

All that won't go for bridges, as state law requires a proportionate share be returned to incorporated cities and villages, based on their state equalized valuation, to spend for bridges if they have any, or for street repairs.

They would receive about $70,000 the first year, thus leaving $300,000 for primary and local road bridges.

Three-quarters of a mill increase in property taxes means an increase of 75 cents in taxes for each $1,000 of valuation.

THE BALLOT PROPOSAL specifies that if the millage is approved, a seven-member committee will be established to decide the priority list for fixing bridges. Serving on it will be representatives of the Road Commission, Board of Commissioners, schools, industry and agriculture.

According to the Citizens for Safe Bridges, organized by the Farm Bureau to promote the millage, a 1979 survey found 89 of Sanilac's 175 county and local road bridges were posted for restricted use.

According to Road Commission Engineer-Manager Jack Kineman, some have been replaced since then and some others have had load limits imposed, so the total number of restricted use bridges is still about 89.

A Road Commission map shows five bridges in Evergreen Township on which load limits are imposed, plus two on the Evergreen-Lamotte Township line; four in Lamotte, plus one on the Lamotte-Moore Township line; three in Moore; six in Argyle Township, plus one on the Evergreen-Argyle line; one in Austin Township, and none in Greenleaf.

The CSB, according to representative Faye Adam, estimates replacing all the defective bridges would cost $11 million, so passage of the millage will only be a start.

"In addition to automotive traffic," she pointed out, "bridges serve school buses, delivery vehicles, emergency personnel (fire trucks, police and ambulances), milk trucks, farm implements and on down the line. When a weakened or closed bridge forces one of them to take a longer route, we all pay."

PRESENT FUNDING for bridges comes from various sources, Kineman explained.

Federal critical bridge funds in 1980 and 1981 paid for replacement of two local road bridges. Washington pays 90 percent of the cost, with the rest being local money.

Kineman is anticipating federal funds will be received in 1983 to enable the Snover Road bridge, west of Snover, to be replaced.

Some of the millage could be used as the local match to receive federal bridge funds.

In recent years, the Board of Commissioners has given the Road Commission some federal revenue sharing money for bridges. The amount this year was $50,000.

Continuation of revenue sharing past next year is in doubt, however, plus county commissioners can decide they need the money for something other than bridges, the engineer-manager pointed out.

The Road Commission this year replaced five tube (culvert) bridges. The $50,000 paid one third of the cost, the townships in which the bridges were located paid a third and the rest came from the Road Commission's coffers.

HIS AGENCY'S FUNDS are declining, Kineman explained, so it isn't practical for it to spend more money for bridges and still have enough for road maintenance and snow plowing.

In 1979, he said, the agency had total revenue of $4.31 million (state highway funds, federal funds, county contributions, and township funds). Last year, revenue totaled $3.22 million.

The main reason for the decline is that the state highway funds (from taxes on motor vehicle fuel and license plate fees) have been decreasing because new cars are lighter (which affects license fees) and get better mileage, plus persons are driving less due to the recession.

To cope with the reduction in revenue, the Road Commission hasn't replaced employees who leave, reduced the number of hours worked for six weeks last spring, is buying used equipment and postponing some equipment purchases and is reducing road maintenance and mowing.

Erickson runs

Four seeking 2 posts on state board of education

The long list of candidates for state education posts includes one familiar name.

Owendale - Gagetown Superintendent of Schools Ronald Erickson is one of two Republican candidates for the state board of education.

Erickson is in his eighth year at Owen-Gage and has been in education a total of 23 years.

A cloud hangs over his candidacy in the form of a 12-year-old opinion from Attorney General Frank Kelley that says that a school superintendent serving on the state board would be a conflict of interest since he is employed by an agency that does business with the state.

Kelley's opinion is only that and Erickson said four private attorneys have told him they don't feel there is a conflict.

The superintendent told the Chronicle he will wait and see if he gets elected before dealing with the issue further.

The Detroit News, in endorsing Erickson's candidacy, suggested it was inconsistent for Kelley to rule school superintendents can't serve on the state board, but that it was okay for Barbara Roberts Mason to serve. Ms. Mason is a Michigan Education Association staff member who is completing her first term on the state school board and is running for another one.

The News said of Erickson, "His 23 years in public education have convinced him there should be tougher standards for students, staff and administrators — and fewer state mandated programs, as well as greater local control."

Ronald Erickson

The other major party candidates for the state board are Republican Jacqueline McGregor, who taught school for 18 years, was a school board member for 12 and now serves on President Reagan's Inter-governmental Advisory Council on Education, and Democrat Carroll Hutton, a former United Auto Workers education director, currently an assistant dean of continuing education and director of labor education at Oakland University.

Michigan State University — Democratic candidates for its board of trustees are incumbent John R. Bruff, president of the MSU board, an attorney, and Bobby Crim, retiring state representative from Davison and speaker of the House of Representatives.

Republicans are Laura Heuser of Hartford, who owns a large fruit farm with her husband, and George A. McManus Jr., a former county Cooperative Extension Service director, who owns a 500-acre fruit farm near Traverse City.

University of Michigan — Democratic candidates for its board of regents are Sarah Goddard Power, a former deputy assistant secretary of state in the U.S. State Department, and Thomas A. Roach, an attorney. Both are incumbents.

Republicans are Rockwell T. Gust Jr., an attorney and general counsel to Alexander Hamilton Life Insurance Co., and Ellen M. Templin, first vice-chairperson of the Republican State Committee.

Wayne State University — Democratic candidates for its board of governors are Mildred Jeffrey, a United Auto Workers staff member, and Michael Einheuser, an attorney. Both are incumbents.

By Bill Myers

Taking stock

From what I read, and see and hear on the telly, every last one of us in America is being persecuted by the Reagan Administration.

If you're old, it is assumed you're in want, and your Social Security mustn't be cut one penny. If you're young, you can't afford to buy a house. If you're a little younger the government is cutting back on student loans.

If you're black, then you're out of a job. If you're white, you're getting to that state rapidly because factories are moving to countries with cheaper labor.

If you're ailing, they're talking of trimming Medicare. If you're a farmer, the government subsidies aren't enough.

Let's consider one group that has been hollering the loudest lately — the students, who fear that student loans may be harder to get.

We're thinking of a friend who makes $100,000 a year. His son is going to an Ivy League school in New England thanks to a cheap loan from the government. He or his dad probably will have to pay no interest until he graduates, say four years from now.

The $3,000 loan allows Pa to leave that much untouched in his money market fund. Say it averages 13 percent for four years. Skipping compound interest, that is $1,560 saved.

The loan the second year has three years' free ride on interest, saving the old man $1,170. Third and fourth years total $1,170. Grand total of saving: $4,900.

Crawford free of shooting charge

A charge of manslaughter against 84-year-old John A. Crawford was dismissed Monday by Tuscola County Circuit Judge Patrick R. Joslyn.

Crawford, of 6725 Cartwright Road, Kingston, pleaded guilty to the charge Oct. 26, 1981, of fatally shooting Samuel W. Ozorowicz Sept. 11 of that year outside of his (Crawford's) home.

The shooting followed an argument between Crawford and his step-son. The octogenarian fired at the car in which the step-son and Ozorowicz, who was a passenger, were riding as they tried to leave. One of the shots hit Ozorowicz.

Following the defendant's plea, sentencing was delayed one year by the judge.

During the past year, Crawford has had to report to a probation agent. Before dismissing the charge, the judge was informed the defendant has undergone surgery during the past year and plans to live this winter with his son in Hazel Park.

In other cases Monday: Nancy L. Thick, 27, of 4940 Gilford Road, Deford, was sentenced to one year in the county jail for attempted uttering and publishing. She was credited with 43 days served.

She pleaded no contest to the charge Oct. 4, of writing her name Feb. 4 in place of someone else's on a money order for $58 made out to General Telephone and then using it to pay her phone bill.

Noal G. Powell, 30, of 4090 Little Road, Cass City, pleaded guilty to attempted felonious assault, to shooting arrows at Phillip A. Karl Feb. 20 at 4510 N. Seeger Street.

His plea was accepted and sentencing scheduled Feb. 7. Bond of $5,000 was continued.

Dean A. Emery, 26, already serving a sentence at the State Prison of Southern Michigan at Jackson, was sentenced to an 8-20 year term there for uttering and publishing, to follow his present one. He was credited with 111 days served.

Joslyn found him guilty of the charge Oct. 19, after which the defendant pleaded guilty to supplemental information charging him with being an habitual offender.

The uttering and publishing charge involved a check for $100 made out to the Department of Social Services June 25.

A defense motion to set aside the conviction and sentence of Michael D. Haley, 39, of 344 Wells Street, Caro, for malicious destruction of police property was denied.

Dismissal was sought on the grounds he was mentally incompetent to stand trial. A jury found him guilty of the charge Aug. 3, of damaging a Caro police car March 11.

The guilty plea of David E. King, 18, of 2274 Mertz Road, Caro, to violating probation was accepted.

He was sentenced to 45 days in the county jail, to be served on week ends. Probation was continued.

He was placed on 36 months' probation in December, 1981, for larceny in a building. He was charged with violating probation by moving from his approved residence and possession of marijuana.

Charles J. Taylor, 23, of 1749 VanGeisen Road, Caro, was sentenced to six months in the county jail, with serving of half of that deferred to the end of probation. He was credited with four days served.

Taylor was placed on five years' probation, fined $200, assessed $300 court costs and ordered to pay restitution.

He pleaded guilty to the charge Sept. 29, of writing a bad check for $109 to the Caro Kroger store Dec. 12, 1981.

Myers challenges Kent for probate judge post

Two candidates are running for Tuscola County probate judge in Tuesday's election, the incumbent, W. Wallace Kent Jr., and David G. Myers, a Tuscola County assistant prosecutor.

The term is for six years. KENT, 41, was elected to his first term in November, 1976.

The Kalamazoo College graduate received his law degree from the University of Michigan and then practiced law with a Caro firm until he was elected judge.

Kent serves on the Michigan State Bar Association Juvenile Law Committee, Michigan Probate Judges Juvenile Affairs Committee, is treasurer of the Michigan Bar Association Judicial Council and has taught juvenile law for five years for the Michigan Judicial Institute and foster parent law for two years in an extension program offered by Eastern Michigan University. He is a life member of the 6th Federal Circuit Judicial Conference.

graduated with honors from Michigan State University in 1974, receiving his bachelor's degree in criminal justice.

David G. Myers

Myers graduated from the Detroit College of Law in February, 1979. He took night classes at DCL and worked full-time during the days as a security officer and later as a law clerk in federal court and for a Bloomfield Hills law firm.

He is treasurer of the Tuscola County Bar Association and a member of the family law and criminal law sections of the Michigan State Bar Association and the Caro Knights of Columbus.

Myers has been endorsed by the Tuscola County Fraternal Order of Police and Michigan Right to Life.

A member of Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Caro, he and his wife and two children reside in that community.

Parents turn in teen vandal

Vandals who shot BBs at windows of two Cass City homes and broke a car window at another home Saturday night, Oct. 16, have been found by Cass City police.

Police Chief Gene Wilson said the parents of one of the four boys involved turned him in, which led to the other three. The boys ranged in age from 12-15. One lived elsewhere and was visiting his grandparents; the rest live in Cass City.

Windows were damaged at the homes of Clinton House, 6320 Virginia Drive, (a sliding glass door) and Kenneth Copeland, 4675 Hunt Street. The car which had a window broken belonged to Nellie Wallace, 6277 Virginia Drive.

Wilson said charges won't be brought against the four, but restitution is being worked out among the victims, the juveniles and their parents and the police.

At 3:45 a.m. Tuesday, police on patrol found five small trees located behind the office of Dr. Hoon K. Jeung, MD, 6230 Hospital Drive, had been broken off.

Village police were called to the Coach Light Pharmacy, 6480 Main Street, at 6:30 p.m. Friday, where two shoplifters had been apprehended. They were ages 11 and 6 and were turned over to their parents.

At 8:20 p.m. Sunday, police were notified eggs were being thrown at the Cass Theatre from the roof Helen's Beauty Salon, which is across the street.

Florence Duncan arraigned than $150,000 in stolen trucks, parts and equipment.

The Duncans fled in May of that year. The speedway has since reverted to its original owner.

They were arrested in Kentucky in August or September, 1980, were released on bond pending extradition proceedings to send them back to Michigan and disappeared.

Mrs. Duncan, who isn't charged in connection with the stolen parts operation, was next arrested by the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Detroit Jan. 1, 1981. She had gone there to take care of a real estate matter.

She was arraigned the next day by Judge Riordan who has to set bond in such cases. He set it at $15,000. Mrs. Duncan paid 10 percent of that to a bonding company and disappeared again.

She and her husband next turned up in the Caribbean island nation of Jamaica.

Duncan was arrested in May of this year by authorities in Palm Beach County, Fla., was extradited back to Sanilac County in July and has been in jail in Sandusky since then.

He told Sanilac sheriff's officers who brought him back that he had been transporting items by boat from Florida to Jamaica, which is why he was in Florida when he was arrested.

He waived district court examination Aug. 31 on all 18 counts against him.

Sanilac Circuit Judge A. len K. Keyes has disqualified himself from hearing either of the Duncans' cases, Young said, due to prior dealings with the defendants.

They will now be arraigned before Huron County Circuit Judge M. Richard Knoblock, probably this Friday, according to the chief assistant prosecutor.

Owendale trucker dies in mishap

up to the truck, stuck his hand in the ground in order to throw some dirt on the tires, assuming they were on fire, and received a jolt.

He then walked to the front of the truck and saw Fritz on the ground.

Another driver, Rob McClorey, arrived at the scene and while Dubs ran to a house to call an ambulance, McClorey and some others pulled Fritz away from the truck.

One of those who helped pull the victim away, Todd Elenbaum of Sebawaing, received a minor burn on his left arm when it "brushed" the truck.

McClorey and then Pigeon Police Chief Mark Nieschulz performed cardiopulmonary resuscitation on Fritz until the Elkon ambulance arrived. Ambulance personnel continued CPR on the way to Scheurer Hospital in Pigeon, where the victim was pronounced dead on arrival.

Fritz was born July 14, 1951, in Pigeon, the son of Melton and Vernice (Wiley) Fritz. He and Connie L. Maxwell were married Nov. 8, 1969, in Pigeon.

Fritz was employed by Elenbaum Corner Acre Farm, Sebawaing, was a member of the Owendale United Methodist Church and a leader of the Real People 4-H Club.

He is survived by his wife; one daughter, Michelle, and one son, Kevin, both at home; his father, of Bad Axe; one sister, Mrs. Gerald (Beverly) Koroleski, Elkton; and his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Agnes Fritz, Bad Axe.

Services will be at 1 p.m. Thursday at the Owendale United Methodist Church, Rev. Myra Sparks officiating. Burial will be in Grandlawn Cemetery, Pigeon.

Arrangements were by the Champagne Funeral Chapel, Elkton, where friends may call until 10 a.m. Thursday.

W. Wallace Kent Jr.

Kent is vice-president of the Caro Arts Society and a director of the Pine Acres Boy Scout Camp near Caro. About a year ago, he started the Tuscola County Youth Services Council composed of representatives of schools, government agencies and police and organizations which deal with children.

Aim of the group, which meets about every other month, is to increase effectiveness, avoid duplication of services and share ideas, he said.

Kent has been assigned as a visiting circuit, district, probate and juvenile judge in other counties.

He is former president, vice-president and treasurer of the 40th Circuit Bar Association and former local counsel to the Michigan Bar Association Grievance Board.

Kent and his wife and four children live in Caro.

Board okays Tuscola tax rate

The Tuscola County Board of Commissioners Tuesday approved the 1982 tax apportionment report, which specifies millage rates in all taxing units and the amount of taxes that will be collected.

The millage rates will be reflected on property tax bills that will be mailed in about a month.

County property owners will pay a total of $23.88 million in taxes to schools, townships, county government, senior citizen activities and for bridge and street repair.

The total state equalized valuation of the county is $630.48 million (half of the true cash value).

Greg Goudy of the East Central Michigan Planning and Development Region reported to the board about a survey of public access sites on Saginaw Bay.

One purpose of the study is to determine the feasibility of establishing more access sites in Tuscola County.

The board approved erection of a nativity scene on the courthouse lawn for Christmas.

IRA A Tax-Saving Breakthrough!

Can I have both an IRA and Keogh?

Yes. As a result of the way the law read in 1981 and prior years, many people believe that they can't have an IRA and Keogh at the same time. This is no longer true. If you are presently in Keogh, stay with it. However starting in '82, use IRA as an additional tax shelter.

Federal regulations require substantial penalties for withdrawal made prior to maturity.
