Council reduces millage rate; oks Seeger repaving

Property taxes in Cass City this summer will be about the same as they were last year.

The village council Tuesday evening set millage rates. As required by the state truth in taxation law, the council had two choices.

The one it chose was to hold the line on taxes, which meant reducing millage rates from last year so that the village won't gain from inflation.

Had it chosen to keep rates the same, it would have had to conduct a public hearing.

The new millage rates, which will be reflected on tax bills to be mailed soon, will be 10.0567 mills for operations and 2.7428 for streets. The total of 12.7995 compares to 12.8205 last year. The operating levy will raise $22,760; the street levy, $60,754.

Staying the same as last year will be the 2.5 mills debt levy to pay for the new sewage treatment plant. Debt levies aren't affected by the truth in taxation law or Headlee Amendment.

The state equalized valuation of Cass City is $22.15 million, which is only about $75,000 more than what property was worth last year.

Whether individual property owners will pay more in taxes depends on how their assessment compares to last year.

There will also be a 1 percent collection fee, now called an administration fee, plus a 3 percent late fee for taxes paid after Aug. 15.

resurface Seeger Street from the south village limits north to where the four-lane pavement ends, part-way up the hill.

The money will be borrowed through the $60 million Governor's Transportation Bonding Project. The state will sell bonds to finance state and local road projects at an estimated interest rate of 9 percent.

The village will have 15 years to repay the loan out of funds it receives from state motor fuel taxes and license plate fees.

The council decided if it didn't take advantage of the program, it will never be able to borrow money at 9 percent in the future or have asphalt applied for $22 a ton.

Bids for the project have to be accepted by Aug. 15, according to the state's rules, which precluded any projects that would have required extensive engineering.

That is one reason why Seeger Street won't be paved all the way to the high school.

Another is that condition of the pavement there is very poor.

When it is rebuilt, Village President Lambert Althaver explained after the meeting, it will be with four lanes to relieve congestion at the high school entrance. The estimated cost is $133,500.

M-53 DETOUR?

However, the state may pick up part of the cost of the Seeger Street paving from Main Street north, this year, possibly all the way to the high school, though it would only be two lanes.

Village Superintendent Lou LaPonsie reported on a conversation he had with the state Department of Transportation, which is interested in detouring M-53 traffic through Cass City in the summer of 1984 when the M-53 bridge over the north branch of the Cass River is being rebuilt.

Traffic would be routed on M-81 to Seeger Street, north to Bay City-Forestville Road and back to M-53.

LaPonsie told the DOT the village will consider it, but only if some work is done on Seeger Street. He added later that the DOT doesn't have to ask. "I think they want to be cordial."

If the DOT does pick up part of the cost for paving Seeger, the village won't have to spend the whole $100,000 it is borrowing there, so can use what is left over repaving some other streets, but only ones that already have curb and gutter, to avoid the need for engineering.

STREETS

Most of the evening was devoted to planned and potential street projects.

The good news came when bids were opened for the Rose, Huron and West reconstruction projects (total of five blocks) plus paving of the one block of Pine between Seeger and Oak.

Awarded the bid for construction of 2,780 feet of curb and gutter was Andrew Barnes Construction of Cass City at $6.25 per foot, a total of $17,653. The only other bid was for $6.35 a foot. The estimate had been $8 a foot.

Awarded the bid for applying 800 tons of asphalt was Saginaw Asphalt Paving of Carrollton at $21.85 a ton, a total of $17,480. The estimate had been $30 a ton. The only other bid received was for $26.85.

The difference between what the village had estimated the projects would cost and the low bids will mean a savings of $11,107.

After considerable discussion, the council voted to borrow up to $100,000 to

A Cass City High School senior who was expelled from school interrupted commencement ceremonies last Thursday.

The student was Marty Hawley, who was expelled by the school board during a closed session at its May meeting, according to Supt. Donald Crouse. He was expelled because he had more than the maximum allowed number of demerit points for disciplinary infractions. Because he was expelled, he couldn't finish the school year and was therefore ineligible to graduate.

The superintendent said Hawley apparently entered the gymnasium when the graduating seniors marched in and then sat down with them.

When the graduates started to come onto the stage to receive their diplomas, Crouse said, Hawley came with them. He was wearing a cap (mortar board) from another student.

When he came on stage, he asked for his diploma. The superintendent said he told Hawley he had been expelled and would have to leave or police would be called.

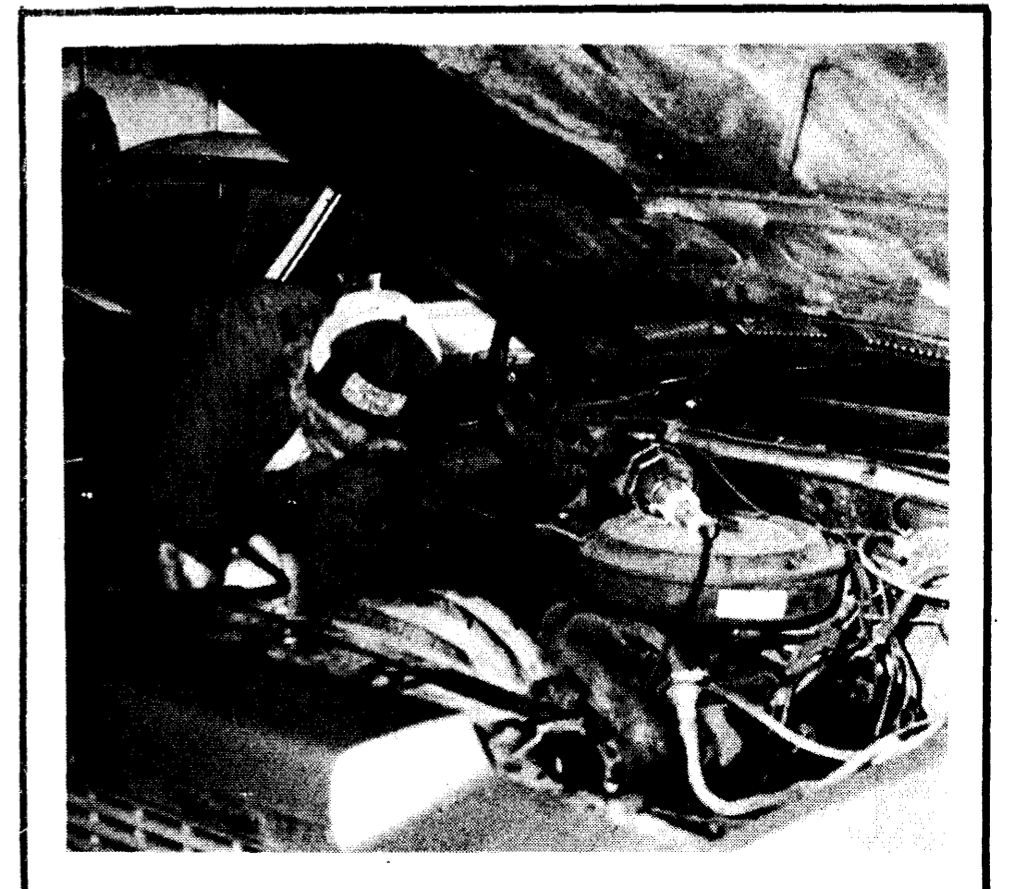

When three students went by him to receive their diplomas and ignored him, Hawley made remarks to them.

He then stepped in front of the podium and made some remarks to the audience and an obscene one directed at Principal Russell Richards.

The microphone had been turned off, so presumably much of the audience didn't hear what he said.

One of the members of the audience was Cass City Police Chief Gene Wilson, whose daughter was graduating.

Wilson came to the stage, escorted Hawley from the gymnasium, and got the graduation cap back, which the other student had left Hawley wear.

For 18-21-year-olds

State job program may mean 165 jobs in upper Thumb

It is too early to tell how many upper Thumb young persons will receive jobs from the $42.2 million Michigan Youth Corps (MYC) program approved by the legislature last week. The money is supposed to create jobs for 25,000 18-21 year olds statewide.

The apparent total in Tuscola, Huron and Sanilac Counties will be 165 jobs.

The money is to be allocated to five state departments: $22.3 million to the Department of Natural Resources for cleaning up state parks, with some of the money to go to local parks and recreation departments.

$7 million to the Department of Transportation for highway clean-up projects, with some going to county road commissions and municipalities for local road and street projects.

$2.9 million to the Department of Agriculture for soil conservation projects and work at county fairgrounds.

$5 million to the Department of Labor, to be funneled to agencies that administer the federal Comprehensive Employment and Training Act program, for jobs ranging from park work to clerical positions.

That will be in addition to the $35 million such agencies are receiving from Washington for the CETA Summer Youth Employment Program, which will provide jobs for about 35,000 14-21 year old disadvantaged youths, including a total of 430 in Tuscola, Huron and Sanilac Counties.

$5 million for the Department of Education to be distributed to intermediate (countywide) school districts (ISDs), community colleges and school districts in large cities.

Application forms are supposed to be available this week at high schools, community colleges and Michigan Employment Security Commission offices. They must be turned in, to the MESC, which has offices in Caro, Bad Axe and Sandusky, by June 10.

As of Friday, the only MYC program those contacted by the Chronicle were aware of was the one involving the education department, and it won't have much of an impact in the upper Thumb. The Tuscola County ISD is supposed to receive money to provide 26 jobs, Sanilac ISD, 19, and Huron ISD, 15.

In addition to the jobs coordinated by the ISD, the Thumb Area Consortium will receive an estimated $80,000, according to program planner Marv Pichla. The money is enough for 65 jobs, to be apportioned among the three counties based on population.

The jobs will pay the minimum wage of $3.35 an hour. According to Charles Cramer, Caro MESC branch manager, the Tuscola Intermediate School District (ISD) is receiving $1,000 per job, of which 15 percent ($150) can be deducted for administration.

The remaining $850 divided by $3.35 an hour works out to 254 hours, or a little more than six weeks. However, United Press International reported the jobs will last 8-11 weeks, with most starting June 20.

The MESC will be referring eligible applicants to the ISD, which will handle job placement.

Although technically the jobs will be open to all, receiving top priority will be those from families where the head of the household is out of work.

The second priority, according to Bill Pratt, Tuscola ISD vocational-career education director, is supposed to be age. Someone 21, for instance, receives priority over someone 20.

Slow car sales doesn't mean more repair work for garages

By Joe Bower

Today's recessed economy has forced people to neglect many things including their cars.

Slow car sales have meant motorists are keeping their cars longer. Contrary to what might be expected, that hasn't meant an increase in the auto repair business, at least in Cass City, though conditions may be improving.

Service managers at two car dealerships and owners of four service stations gave different opinions about their repair sales. Some said business is finally getting better after a three-year slump, but others believe it is not.

"In the last three years the repair business has been going down," said Floyd Luettke, owner of L and S Standard Service, 6597 Main. "Now it's starting to stabilize. This past month was the first improvement I've seen in three or four years." Since then, however, business has been at a standstill.

Clare Mellendorf and Fred Martin, owners of Clare's Sunoco Service, 6553 Main, and Fred's Service Garage, 5589 E. Cass City Road, respectively, have also noticed that repairs have increased "a little bit," as has Ron Ouvry at Ouvry Chevrolet-Olds, 6957 East Cass City Road. Mellendorf attributed part of the increase to the Memorial Day week end. "The American people get repairs fixed when they want to go somewhere," he said. "They want to get there without spending very much money."

The Village Service Center, 6415 Main, has felt little, if any, change. "If (repairs) are increasing," commented owner Bob Bader, "I sure haven't seen it. About three weeks ago they were, but not now."

HIGHER PRICES AND the rough economic times have prompted car owners to put off repairs for as long as they can continue to drive them.

Most people no longer practice what Mellendorf calls "preventive maintenance" as they used to when cars were regularly tuned up and new parts were bought before old ones wore out.

Now the majority of people put off problems and drive their vehicles until something goes out. In the long run this can be more expensive, warn those interviewed, as minor problems quickly become major ones.

"People don't neglect their cars, they just don't have the money to get them properly repaired," Leutke said. "They patch their mufflers, do their own oil and don't change brakes until metal is rubbing against metal."

GEIGER-HUNT FORD'S service manager Bob MacKay also mentioned that it is becoming more common for customers to get the minimal amount of repair work needed to keep their cars running.

Bader added, "The number of repairs I see are because of necessity."

More people are attempting to do their own repair work instead of paying a mechanic to do it, said several managers.

MacKay and Ron Ouvry added that many "do-it-yourselfers" are coming to them for free advice.

Rabbit Tracks

By John Haire

(And anyone else he can get to help.)

It's always been the opinion here that guys that play golf in the winter, dusting the snow off the greens, had to be a little touched in 'de head.

This week end I mentally added the guys that I saw water skiing to that not so exclusive list.

One story about the weather reported that the weather wasn't all that much colder than normal. Maybe three degrees for the month of May.

That must be accurate. It's also accurate to point out that much of the fine weather came Monday through Friday with the zilch week ends bringing down the average.

Sad note: June is expected to bring more of the same.

Do you wonder as I do when you travel around the countryside if the rain has been a real setback for farmers? When I see a field not planted the question immediately rises. Is it bare by design because of the PIK program or because there hasn't been an opportunity to plant?

Jack Esau, master of ceremonies for the Memorial Day service in the Elkland Township Cemetery for 24 straight years, kept his record intact Monday.

During those years, it has never rained during the service. There have been some close calls, and the deluge that followed Monday was one of them.

One parade watcher Monday sadly noted afterwards that not one American flag was flying downtown.

There was lots of variety in the weather Monday. It poured in Cass City about noon.

Gary Jackson, who lives on Cumber Road, about seven miles east of Cass City, reported hail and rain fell heavily for 3-4 minutes about 1 p.m.

Three miles east of him, in Cumber, all that fell about that time were a few drops.

Special funds allocated

A special nine-member board last Thursday allocated $33,554 Tuscola County is receiving in federal emergency jobs funds to be used for emergency food and shelter assistance.

According to board member Ruth Grassmann, Elkland-Novesta United Way president, 50 percent of the money will go to the Human Development Commission, with 10 percent going to both the Catholic Family Services and the American Red Cross.

Two percent of the money can be used for administration, which is being handled by the HDC.

The remaining 28 percent, Mrs. Grassmann said, is being set aside for any other non-profit organization, such as a church, that might come forth that can use the money for food and shelter.

The board is composed of Jim McLoskey, representing the American Red Cross; Pat Hill, president of Tuscola County United Way; Tom Seibert, Catholic Family Services; Jerry Kirk, Sena Humm and Lillian Pike, Akron-Fairgrove United Way; Moe Forrest, Caro United Way, and Elaine Crane and Ruth Grassmann, Elkland-Novesta United Way.

County Commissioners Bob Russell of Vassar and Ben Collon of Caro will serve as alternates.

Mrs. Grassmann was elected chairman of the special board.

Any organizations interested can apply to Richard Smith at the HDC in Caro. Smith can allocate the money, checking with Mrs. Grassmann, if necessary. She is serving as chairman to oversee spending of the grant.

The board will meet again in early August to evaluate how the money has been spent so far and allocate any still unspent, presumably to the HDC, CFS and/or Red Cross.

Any money not spent by Sept. 30, Mrs. Grassmann said, has to be returned to the federal government.

The Haire Net

It died almost without notice. Just gradually continued to waste away until there was nothing left.

Half hearted attempts to salvage it crashed on the rocks of the recession. More than that, though, it's dead because its time in the sun had come and gone.

Not many kids care about taking a senior trip these days. Why should they?

Class trips belong in the area of the Model-T Ford and the merry Oldsmobile. Not in today's space age.

What's the thrill of going to New York or Florida when you can get to the Big Apple for $100 and some of the graduates have already gone there just for the week end?

Before airplane travel, television and the space age changed our lives it was different. A trip was an occasion.

This year's graduates will be the first at Cass City not to take a trip. There were half-hearted attempts to keep alive the tradition.

The class tried to build up funds, starting as freshmen, but it was just no go. Any trip that would tickle the fancy of enough members to be worthwhile was simply out of financial reach.

You could see the handwriting on the wall. When the senior trip was abandoned as a class project and became an extracurricular activity it was a knife thrust to the jugular.

After that it was simply a question of how long it would take the patient to bleed to death.

There's a suspicion that the death reflects changing attitudes at the school. The closeness that once prevailed is waning. Maybe that's because they no longer are together like they once were.

Many leave for work projects. Others spend part of the day at the Skill Center. It's more like a college where classes are attended and everyone disperses to do their own thing.

That's not necessarily bad. It may be good because it probably prepares the students for what's ahead better than the system that it replaces.

But for every advancement there's a price to pay. Most of us can look back at grand memories of high school trips.

Maybe in nostalgia they are remembered as being better than they were.

Truthfully, it was the last fling with kids that you'd been involved with for four years. That involvement is diminished today and the relationship among students is less intense.

Today's graduates are missing something with the change.

"If It Fitz . . ."

No respect

By Jim Fitzgerald

Ollie Fretter mailed five pounds of coffee to my much older sister, Terrible Jean, with written instructions to brew a pot "and pour it over your brother-in-law's head." He meant me.

This happened the same day I came to work and found my desk missing.

I mention these embarrassing but typical incidents only because it's the honest thing to do. Occasionally I get calls from strangers who are surprised to discover that I answer my own phone. They seem to think a person of my eminence should have a secretary to handle such mundane chores. They should be told the truth, and that's what I'm doing today.

Compared to me, Rodney Dangerfield has his ring kissed by fawning passersby. The only time I don't answer my phone is when I can't find it. My desk isn't located in a private office with my name on the door. It is one of dozens of desks crammed into a huge room inhabited by hard-working journalists who work hardest at discovering how far my phone can be moved without breaking the cord. Every time I see Jack Nicklaus in his yard in Florida, I'm afraid he's talking on my phone.

Technically, it is my desk only when I'm sitting at it. When I'm not, the desk belongs to anyone who wants to use it. The only requirement is that he or she must do two things I never do - smoke and drink coffee. After sweeping away the ashes, a forest ranger can determine the age of my desk by counting the rings on it.

Through the years, I've grown used to finding irrefutable evidence of disrespect on my desk. But I was surprised the other morning to find no desk at all, just the vacant space where it used to be. It was nowhere in the entire room. The video screen and keyboard the desk usually held were on the floor. To type this column, all I had to do was lie down.

Years ago, newspaper printers knew they were in trouble when they came to work and found no place to hang their hats. The custom was for a printer to hang his hat on a nail sticking out of the wall nearest his work area, and when the boss wanted to fire him, he simply pulled the printer's nail. That was a lot easier than moving a large desk from the third floor of an office building.

When I sympathized with my boss, pointing out that he could have fired people with a lot less effort in the good old days, he said I was still employed. My desk, which is mostly just a table, had been borrowed for a panel meeting on the fifth floor, he explained, and would probably be returned sometime that same week. In the meantime, I should lie down and get to work.

As for Ollie Fretter, he owns appliance stores and sometimes offers five pounds of free coffee to anyone who can beat his deal. He recently sold Terrible Jean a TV set, but it wasn't working the day I visited her to see the Master's golf tournament. So naturally I wrote a column describing her as an inconsiderate hostess. And she mailed the column to Ollie so he would know how terribly his merchandise had publicly embarrassed her - and she attached a note saying five pounds of coffee would make her feel better about the whole deal.

It was bad enough when Fretter's spokesman suggested the coffee be poured on me, but the ultimate disrespect came when he assumed that, because Terrible Jean and I have the same last name, I had to be her brother-in-law.

When, as a child, I complained about the horrible misery of being the only boy in a family with four sisters, my father would always console me by saying that only I, lucky Jimmy, could carry on the proud family name for him. He should have known that Terrible Jean would marry someone named Fitzgerald so she wouldn't have to change the name welded to her sweat socks.

If there were a phone on my desk - if I had a desk - I wouldn't answer it for fear some stranger would ask what my name was before Terrible Jean got married.

How blood pressure is measured

When the doctor takes your blood pressure, he gets two numbers. The high number is called the systolic (sis-tah-lick) reading. This measures pressure in the blood vessels when the heart is pumping. The low figure is called the diastolic (di-uh-stah-lick) reading. It measures the pressure between pumps, when the heart is at rest.

Blood moving through the body causes pressure in the blood vessels. So, everybody has blood pressure. Blood pressure is different in different people. Your doctor can find out what is right for you.

Pedaling Around

A tale of two cities

By Mike Eliasohn

Every town wants more jobs.

Usually, when people think about creating new jobs, they think in terms of attracting new industry, be it a manufacturer of automotive parts or plastic ashtrays.

They don't think too often about nursing homes.

But it was a nursing home over which Deckerville and Sandusky were recently fighting tooth and nail, a nursing home that would create about 80 jobs, as well as pay property taxes and provide other benefits for the community that got it. Deckerville was the winner.

The reported number of jobs may even be low. Provincial House in Cass City, according to Administrator Marti Hunter, employs about 96, of whom 12 work part-time.

(Another newspaper account said about 100 jobs, payroll of $700,000 a year and construction cost of $2.5 million for the Deckerville facility.)

Nursing homes, unlike food stores or factories, can't be built anywhere and everywhere.

In the same way that the government regulates how many places can sell liquor, the government regulates how many nursing home beds there can be in a county.

If there are too many beds, that is, too many nursing homes, conceivably all the homes could go out of business and then residents of the area would be without a needed service.

There is also government regulation of the number of hospital beds. One reason some hospitals (built before regulation) in some areas are in financial trouble is there are too many beds for the area.

Hospitals, like hotels, motels and nursing homes, don't stay financially healthy if too many beds are too empty for too long.

In the case of Sanilac County, the Michigan Department of Public Health determined there was a need for 120-180 additional nursing home beds in the county.

There presently are 127-84 at the Sanilac County Medical Care Facility in Sandusky and 43 at the Marlette Extended Care Facility.

The result was two proposals for 120 bed extended care facilities, by different private firms, one in Sandusky and the other in Deckerville.

Only one could be built, however, which required a certificate of need by the East Central Michigan Health Systems Agency.

Prior to the agency board's vote May 19 of 21-7 in favor of the Deckerville facility, there was a lot of campaigning by both communities to get the approval.

Letters were written to newspapers and endorsements sought from other governmental units. The Sanilac County Board of Commissioners declined to take sides.

When the Marlette Village Council endorsed Deckerville's bid, at Deckerville's request, Sandusky officials protested.

Marlette's response, in essence, was, "You didn't ask. Deckerville did."

When the Health Systems Agency board held its final hearing May 19 in Saginaw, about 250 Deckerville supporters and 50 from Sandusky were there.

Probably a few months ago, most didn't know there was such an agency. The agency's staff, incidentally, recommended a compromise. Since the county needed 185 beds (the accounts I'm getting this information from differ somewhat), it suggested 90-bed facilities in both places.

The developer of the proposed Deckerville facility said that would be economically unfeasible. The developer of the Sandusky one was willing to accept 90 beds. (Neither developer was local, by the way.)

The Health Systems Agency's endorsement of a certificate of need for the Deckerville facility now goes to the Michigan Department of Public Health, which must give its approval in order for construction to begin.

History film at St. Columbkille

St. Columbkille Catholic Church on M-53, seven miles north of M-81, will be the appropriate setting for the showing of a film on the Battle of Culloden, fought in Scotland April 16, 1746.

The 80-minute film will be shown Thursday, June 9, starting at 8 p.m. It will be preceded by a tour of the church cemetery.

The program is sponsored by the Bad Axe Historical Society, which has invited members of the Cass City Area Historical Society and other interested persons to attend.

St. Columbkille was founded by Highland Scotch Catholic families, most of whom were descendants of the 5,000 Highlanders who unsuccessfully fought in the Battle of Culloden, in northwest Scotland.

It was the last battle to restore a Catholic prince to the throne of England.

The Highlanders fought under the banner of Charles Edward of the House of Stuart, known in history as the "Young Pretender."

They lost to 12,000 Royal troops who fought under the Duke of Cumberland.

St. Columbkille is named after Scotland's patron saint. Most of its founders' descendants were from the island of South Uist in the Hebrides group, 30 miles off the northwest coast of Scotland.

Charles Edward fled to the island after his defeat at Culloden.

About 1,200 South Uist emigrated to Canada in 1849, after the new owner of most of the island forced out most of the small tenant farmers and because of the potato famine. Another group came the following year.

Many died of disease and hunger on their way to Williams, near London, Ont., where some South Uist emigrants had settled a few years before.

In the early 1870s, 12 of the families left there and came to the Greenleaf-Sheridan Township area, where they started farming and bought six acres of land from Indians on which to build the St. Columbkille church.

The first church was built of lumber. Construction of the present brick structure started in 1903. It was originally valued at $10,000 -- $5,700 in cash and the rest in donated labor and use of teams by the men of the parish.

Around the Farm
EDC farm financing

By William Bortel

In January, 1981, Gov. Milliken signed legislation authorizing the issuance of economic development corporation (EDC) bonds to help the agricultural and forestry enterprise sectors.

The stated goal of the legislature was to help farmers and foresters by reducing costs of production, to help save the family farm unit, and to stop the spread of urban sprawl.

This amendment to the EDC Act has made possible a procedure for financing farms which may be of interest to banks or other institutions, or under some circumstances to a person wishing to sell his farm.

In the first situation, a bank, financial institution or any other third party could purchase the EDC bonds and the proceeds of such a sale would be used to acquire the farm.

In this latter situation, the seller of a farm could purchase EDC bonds with the EDC then loaning the bond proceeds to the farm purchaser to be used to pay for the farm.

In short, the seller of the farm takes EDC bonds in payment for the farm.

In all situations, the normal bond security, that is, mortgage, security interest, and possibly guarantees, would be given by the farm purchaser.

Using EDC financing, the bondholder does not have to pay federal and Michigan income tax on the interest received on the bonds and as a result the bond purchaser takes a lower rate of interest than would otherwise be possible.

In every situation, the farm purchaser's loan repayments to the EDC equals the debt service on the EDC bonds, with the result that the farm purchaser receives the benefit of the lower interest rate.

As is the case with any other project financed by EDC bonds, the details of the project should be examined carefully by bonding advisors to determine that there are no circumstances which could cause the interest to fail to be exempt from federal income tax under the Internal Revenue Service Code.

Following are several circumstances which need to be considered in any financing:

1) Tax exempt financing can only be used to finance land or property of a character subject to the allowance for depreciation under the tax code that is necessary to the operation of the farm as business. The tax exempt portion of the financing cannot be used for the residential portion of the farm, for inventory, or for working capital.

Since the entire purchase price of the farm does not need to be paid out of the bond proceeds, it could be financed by the down payment made to the bank by the purchaser.

2) In authorizing issuance of the bonds, the EDC must find that the financing accomplishes one of the public purposes set forth in the EDC Act.

Since retaining the family farm unit is one of these purposes, an EDC cannot put itself in the position of helping a corporate farming enterprise (other than a family which has incorporated its farm business for liability or tax purposes) to purchase a farm which was formerly operated by a family unit. Such a sale would conflict with the intention to the Act to retain the family farm unit.

3) It is not possible to use EDC financing to help the farm purchaser purchase a farm from a member of his family. The regulations in the tax code pertaining to related persons apply to all projects financed by EDC bonds, but the sale of a farm is more likely to take place between related persons than the sale of non-farm assets. The interest on bonds is never exempt from federal tax in the hands of a "related person" to a "substantial user" of the project financed.

As with any EDC financing, and especially with respect to such newly developing areas as agricultural projects, it is essential that each project be subjected to a thorough review by competent, experienced bond counsel to insure that the requirements of both state and federal law are met and the interests of all parties are thereby protected.

For further information you might wish to contact the Tuscola County EDC. Members are Lyle Ackerman, David Andreychuk, William Bortel, Ervin Dean, Richard Dehmel, vice-chairman, Margaret Frahm, Randy Keinath, Elgene Keller, treasurer, Mark Laethem, Robert Sugden, chairman, and Clayton Turner, secretary.

James Nicol hospitalized after car rolls in 2-vehicle crash

A Deford man was taken to Hills and Dales General Hospital after his car rolled over last Thursday night.

James A. Nicol, 21, of 7314 Deckerville Road, was released from there Friday and then went to the county jail in Caro, where he was released on bond pending an appearance in district court on a charge of operating a motor vehicle under the influence of liquor, in connection with the 11:19 p.m. accident.

Sheriff's deputies reported that Frank L. Newsome, 61, of 6508 Deckerville Road, Deford, was exiting his driveway when his car was struck by the westbound Nicol auto.

The latter vehicle then rolled over and landed upside down in the north side ditch, just east of the Cemetery Road intersection.

Newsome told officers he didn't see the Nicol auto approaching and two witnesses, whose car was stopped at the intersection, southbound on Cemetery, said they didn't believe the Nicol auto had its lights on.

driver of the car, which was headed southwest on M-81, south of Akron Road, when it hit the deer at 6:55 a.m. last Thursday.

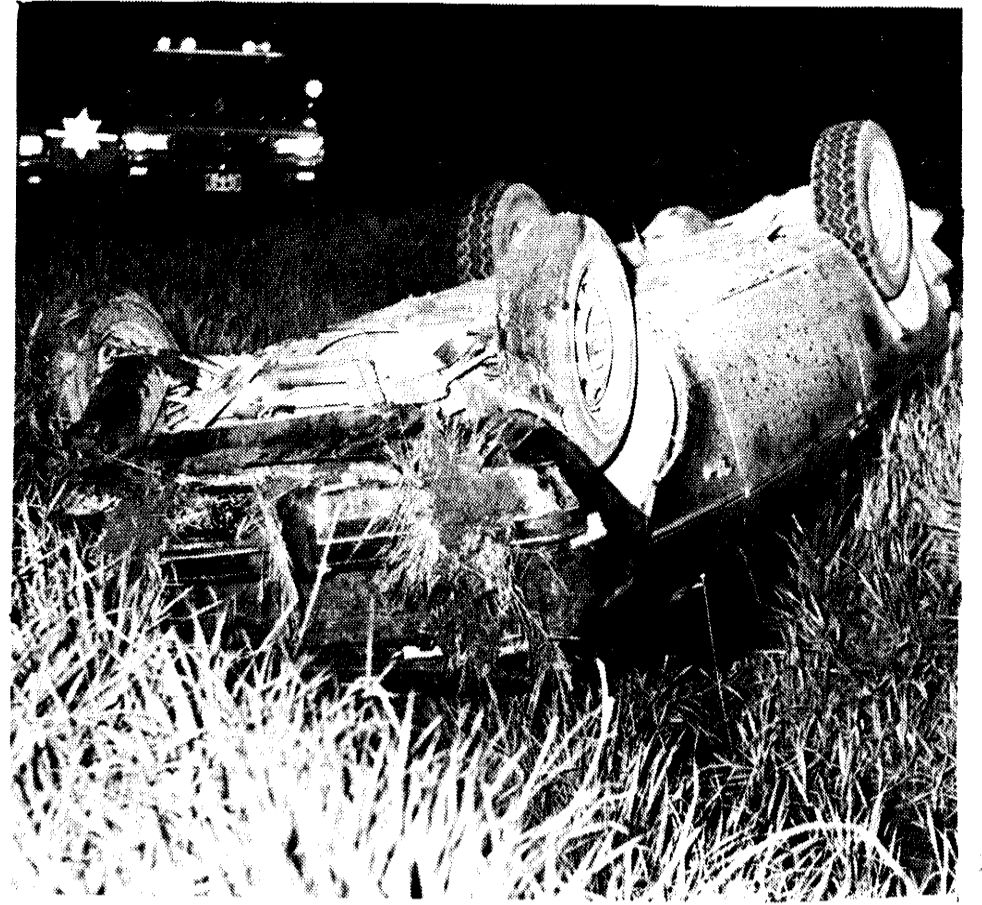

Amber M. Miller, 67, of 3378 Pine Street, Kingston, was ticketed by Caro state police on a charge of failure to yield following an 11 a.m. accident last Wednesday.

Troopers said she was eastbound on Centerline Road, turned left onto White Creek Road, and her car was hit by a southbound auto driven by Carol Kietzke, 17, of 4555 White Creek Road, Kingston. Ms. Miller told officers her vision was obscured by a bush at the northwest corner of the intersection.

Cass City police reported that at 12:30 p.m. Friday, Josephine K. Ardler, 56, of 6325 Church Street, was backing from a parking place behind the Chemical Bank. She turned too quickly and her car struck the vehicle parked alongside, owned by Dick Root of Cass City.

At 9:30 a.m. Friday, according to village police, Valerie J. Heleski, 19, of Bad Axe, was eastbound on M-81, east of Dodge Road, when her car struck a deer.

ROLLOVER -- James A. Nicol of Deford was hospitalized overnight at Hills and Dales General Hospital following an 11:10 p.m. accident at Deckerville and Cemetery Roads.

Village council holds line on summer taxes

The village's application for $42,000 in federal Small Cities Program funds has been rejected.

If received, it would have been matched by an equal amount of local funds to install sewer lines and a lift station to pump sewage from Maple, Sherman and M Streets and Maple Court to the sewer main on Garfield Street.

Eighteen homes there presently use septic tanks, but the tile fields are becoming saturated, which causes a pollution problem.

More federal funds will be available, with applications due July 15, so the council authorized submitting a new request.

To improve their chances of getting it, it is asking for $37,800 in federal funds (45 percent), to be matched by $46,200 in local funds.

OTHER ITEMS

Rev. Edward A. Francis and Rev. Robert E. Taylor of the Mizpah and Cass City Missionary Churches respectively presented a letter signed by them and three other members -- a majority -- of the Cass City Area Ministerial Alliance.

The letter, also addressed to the Chamber of Commerce, opposes "the location of a beer tent in the public park... or in any other area of Cass City during the Fourth of July activities."

It explained, "... we believe the... festivities are for the benefit of the Cass City families and not for those who come to Cass City to 'party down' at the beer tent."

Federal Land Bank lowers interest rate

The Federal Land Bank of Saint Paul has notified its approximately 75,000 member-borrowers in Michigan, Minnesota, North Dakota and Wisconsin who have variable rate loans that the Bank's interest rate will drop 1/2 of one percent to 11.25 for farm loans and to 11.75 percent for rural housing loans, effective July 1, 1983.

The rate change was made possible, according to St. Paul FLB President Roger Schlader, by continued stability in the credit markets and this impact on the cost of funds to the bank. "The bank's expectation that the rates will remain fairly stable and perhaps even moderate further, was also considered in the pricing decision," said Schlader in making the announcement.

He added that the rate reduction was in keeping with the St. Paul Bank's pricing philosophy of responding to and anticipating general market rates, thereby keeping its rates as competitive as possible. Schlader pointed to the increased significance of the reduction when combined with the bank's rate reduction Jan. 1, 1983, of 3/4 of one percent.

"The Federal Land Bank of Saint Paul is committed to servicing the rural and agricultural community. While we recognize that there are difficulties in rural America, we do believe that our actions will contribute to the revitalization of our most basic and most valuable industry -- agriculture," stated Schlader.

The Federal Land Bank Association of Caro serves 1861 member-borrowers in the counties of Huron, Tuscola, and Sanilac. It has $158,498,576 in outstanding loan volume and makes farm and rural home loans as well as providing financially-related services. Adv.

Dorothy Stahlbaum, chairman of the budget and finance committee, reported it had reviewed proposals from three certified public accounting firms.

With all three bids similar and no complaints against the present CPA firm, Yeo and Yeo, the committee recommended and the council approved sticking with it to perform the 1983 audit. Cost will be $5,800-6,300.

The council met for 20 minutes with attorney Clinton House, its negotiator with the Fraternal Order of Police, which represents the village's four patrolmen.

The last contract expired May 1. A state mediator was at the last session, Althaver said after the meeting. No date has been set for another negotiating session.

Of the 50 applicants for the department of public works job, replacing a man who retired, Edward R. Nizzola of 4371 West Street was hired. He is a certified mechanic.

Althaver and LaPonsie met recently with the local manager of First Michigan Cablevision, Mark Reker. He said cable will be extended into Northwood Village and Estates and along Doerr Road by Aug. 1.

He will look into complaints about reception of certain channels.

The Walbro Corp. Charitable Trust has donated $1,000 for the tennis courts, bringing the total contributions by all donors to $15,423.

A plaque will now be made dedicating the court to the late Horace Bulen and thanking the contributors.

Getting Your Auto Ready For Painting

Putting a new coat of paint on your car or touching up rough spots? It's important to smooth down the car's surface before painting, in order to blend or feather-edge spot repairs, and remove particles and dried bubbles from the old paint coat.

You'll do a better job when sanding a car's contours if you soak your abrasive sheet in water for 15 to 30 minutes to make it more pliable and more conformable.

REUNION -- Retiring Campbell Elementary School teacher Leola Retherford was reunited Saturday evening with Dr. Gumecindo Salas, president of the State Board of Education, whom she taught at Crawford School. Salas was guest speaker at the banquet given in her honor by the Cass City Education Association. CCEA President Don Shelke presented him with its first Cass City School Alumni Honor Award, to be presented annually to one individual "for outstanding achievement as a graduate of Cass City schools." Each recipient's photo will hang in Cass City High School. (Huron Daily Tribune photo).

Jobs program

Cramer isn't worried about filling the jobs that will be available. "We're not going to have any shortage of applicants."

The jobs will be with governments, schools and non-profit organizations.

Praet anticipates working with the Thumb Area Consortium which has already solicited such jobs for its federally funded Summer Youth Employment Program (SYEP), in procuring jobs for the MYC program, which is entirely state funded.

HE AND CRAMER WERE still awaiting final details of the program when they talked to the Chronicle.

For instance, they were notified of the 26 jobs prior to passage of the MYC legislation, before it became official.

A provision of the MYC legislation, the legality of which may be reviewed by the Attorney General Frank Kelley, will require the 13,000 18-21-year-olds who are receiving general assistance welfare payments to apply for the jobs if they are not already enrolled in a job program.

Two persons were reported to have sought treatment for possible injuries following a 2:45 p.m. accident, May 23.

They were Charles F. Auten, 20, of 4647 N. Seeger Street, and the passenger in the car he was driving, Daniel L. Dickinson, 19, of 6391 Church Street.

Deputies reported Leonard R. Smolarkiewicz, 29, of 7625 Van Dyke Road, Cass City, westbound on M-81, was passing a car when he realized too late the auto in front of the one he was passing, driven by Auten, was turning left into a driveway. His auto hit the Auten car.

Caro state police reported that Joyce Spencer, 32, of 3933 Cass City Road, Cass City, sought her own treatment after she was cut by pieces of glass when the car in which she was riding struck a deer.

Leroy L. Sherman, 21, of Onville, who was the

O-G sophomore receives honors

Dena Lynn McDonald, daughter of Jeannette and Elwood (Bud) McDonald of Owendale, has been selected by a special committee to represent her church, St. Paul's Lutheran of Linkville, and her school, Owendale-Gagetown High School, in the Society of Distinguished American High School Students.

She was nominated by her pastor, Rev. Paul Hoyer.

A superior academic record, participation in extracurricular activities, or service in school and community affairs determines each student's eligibility and selection for membership.

The society also sponsors a national awards program, funded by 118 participating colleges. Dena will now have a chance upon graduating from high school to be selected for one of the awards. Her profile will appear in the 1983 "Registry of the Society of Distinguished American High School Students," along with all the other students being honored nationally.

Dena is a sophomore, member of the high school band, Business and Office Education Club and participates in basketball, volleyball, softball and track. She is a member of the youth group of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, which has been raising money for their planned trip to San Antonio for the 1983 LCMC Youth Gathering in mid-August.

The youth plan a pancake and sausage breakfast Sunday, July 10, in Owen-Gage cafeteria to raise additional money for the trip.

Failure to apply and accept a job if offered will result in loss of benefits for the summer.

TUSCOLA COUNTY DEPARTMENT of Social Services Director Onalee Detwiler, who also didn't know details yet of the program, said general assistance recipients who are physically able have been required to work since the 1960s at public service jobs, when jobs are available, or else lose their benefits.

Such a requirement was imposed fairly recently for Aid to Families with Dependent Children recipients.

There aren't enough jobs for all the general assistance recipients, Mrs. Detwiler said. Those who don't have them who meet the age requirement were supposed to sign up for the federal SYEP or lose their benefits.

SOME OF THE MONEY to fund the MYC was originally going to come from the Recreational Land Trust Fund, which is supposed to be used to buy recreational lands for use by the public.

The legislature changed the MYC bill at the last minute, so that $16 million is supposed to come from the trust fund only as a last resort and if it is borrowed from there, the money must be repaid.

The $42.2 million for the MYC program is supposed to come from various existing state funds.

Bats have boomed since 1946 or '47

Nothing left in Cumber except softball

Cumber once had a combination general store and gas station, bar, church and school.

Those are all gone, but one thing lives on, in addition to a couple of houses — softball. Before that, it was bloopers ball and before that, baseball.

There has been a Cumber ball team playing continuously since 1946 or 1947.

What is or was Cumber is located six miles east of M-53 and one mile north of Cass City Road. The ball diamond, complete with bleachers, fences, restroom and announcing stand, is located a short distance north of the Cumber Road - Wheeler Road intersection, on the east side.

The original diamond was on the west side.

The present diamond was the site this past week end of the 16-team seventh annual Cumber Memorial Day Invitational Softball Tournament, which is the present Cumber team's only fund raising event of the year.

The 18-player team plays Sunday nights in the Thumb Slo-Pitch League and Tuesday or Thursday nights in the Minden City Night League. There is also a Cumber women's team, in existence since 1972, which plays in a league on Wednesday evenings.

In addition, the four co-ed teams of the St. Joseph

Catholic Church at Argyle and St. Ignatius Church of Freiburg will be playing some of their games this season on the Cumber diamond.

Bob Brown, manager of the present Cumber men's team, was a player on the first baseball team, which he recalls started in 1946 or '47.

He and another original member, Ronald Schiestel, and Delores Walsh recall the other members of the original team were Jay Brown, Leonard Lautner, Pete Walsh (Delores' husband), Lloyd Grifka, Harold Spaetzel, Carl Kolb, Maurice Walsh, Eugene Flannery, Phillip Hund, Harold Walsh and Harry Hartwick, who was the pitcher.

The manager was Alfred Osentoski.

THE PLAYERS WERE generally in their teens or early 20s, with some of them having recently returned from service in World War II.

Brown recalls they had a hard time getting started. Not only did they have to get money for uniforms, they also had to build their own diamond, which was done by expanding the Cumber School diamond to baseball dimensions.

Most of the players lived within 4.5 miles of Cumber, but a couple came from Cass City. "We didn't have quite enough locals," Brown said.

Cass City at that time -- and still is -- a hotbed of fast pitch softball. Baseball was the common sport in Cumber and lots of other places. Slow pitch softball was unknown, at least in the upper Thumb.

Cumber first played in the Bluewater League, which had Sanilac, Huron and St. Clair County divisions. The top teams in the division playoffs then played for the league championship at the end of the summer.

In the Sanilac division, Cumber played teams in Minden City, Argyle, Lexington, Crosswell, Port Sanilac, Sandusky, Deckerville and Peck.

Cumber won the league title for the first time in 1951, with Schiestel as manager. It last won a division title in 1979.

IN BETWEEN, IT WON many other trophies, but the team's trophies and some team photos were lost when the Cumber Bar burned Dec. 31, 1977.

In addition to losing those and the after-game watering hole -- the bar was not rebuilt -- the team also lost a partial sponsor.

Then owner Paul Lazzarie began partial sponsorship of the team about 1950 and the arrangement continued through various owners until the bar burned.

The team does have a partial sponsor now, Smith Distributing of Bad Axe, but has to raise most of its funds from the tournament.

THE BASEBALL league folded about 1960. "We had to play something," Brown said, so they switched to bloopers ball. A bloopers ball is 16 inches in circumference, compared to a softball's 12 inches.

There wasn't another team in the area, however, so the Cumber-ites had to play in a league in the Columbiaville - Postoria - Mayville area. "We were way over here and the rest of the league was way over there," said Louis Walsh, who started playing for Cumber after getting out of the Army in 1956.

The team quit playing bloopers ball after a couple of years, because it didn't like it, Brown said. "Too big," Walsh added, in reference to the ball.

Cumber then switched to slow pitch softball, starting with the North Thumb Softball League in 1972. It joined the Thumb Slo Pitch League in 1974.

THE MEMORIAL DAY week-end tournament started in 1977, when Pete's Bar of Bad Axe won the first place trophy. Osentoski Realty and Auctioneering of Cass City won the next year.

The owner of the property on which the original diamond was located wanted to use it for other purposes, so in 1979, the tournament was held in Argyle, when it was won by the Fort Hope team.

The 1980 tournament on the new diamond across the road from the old one was won by Colony House of Cass City.

The diamond is on property owned by Louis Walsh, who leases it to the team, which is responsible for its upkeep.

In addition to the size of the ball and the location of the diamond, there has been another change over the years.

In the early days, all the players farmed. "If you could talk the old man into letting you get away for the day, you were all set," Brown said.

The baseball team played on Sundays and holidays and he remembers one July 4th when he was up early hauling hay, left to play ball and when he was done, returned to the haying.

Now, according to Jerry Osentoski, a team member since 1975 and coordinator of the tournament, about 50 percent of them are farmers. He guessed about 90 percent live within five miles of Cumber.

But some things don't change, at least for Ronald Schiestel, Pete Walsh and Joe Walsh. The three players since the 1940s are still playing, though no longer for the Cumber team.

They play for a team in the Sunday night over-30 league in Uby. Lloyd Grifka is an umpire in the league.

THIRTY-SIX or 37 years is how long they have been playing ball in Cumber. Having been around for a long part of that history are, from left, Jerry Osentoski, Pete Walsh, Lloyd Grifka, Ron Schiestel, Louis Walsh and Bob Brown. Pete Walsh, Grifka, Schiestel and Brown started playing in 1946 or 1947.

Roll back pay raises?

By Warren M. Hoyt
Mich. Press Association

Saying they are willing to make sacrifices in line with imposing the new 38 percent income tax increase on the people of Michigan, the Senate has approved legislation that would allow them a second chance at rejecting pay increases of the governor, lieutenant governor, justices of the Supreme Court and members of the legislature.

The bill would allow the legislature 90 days after the governor submits the annual executive budget proposal to consider salary and expense recommendations as proposed by the State Officers Compensation Commission.

The commission meets every two years to review the work load of the state officials and sets new pay schedules for the next two years. The pay rates go into effect automatically unless the legislature rejects the entire recommendations by a two-thirds majority in both houses.

The legislature currently has until January 31 of every odd-numbered year to consider the pay package.

Because the legislature does not convene until the second Wednesday of January in those years and then recesses to get organized, the legislature, in actuality has only two or three days in which to review the pay plan.

As a result, no serious efforts have ever been mounted to rescind the recommendations.

UNDER THE LEGISLATION, sponsored by Sen. James Barcia (D-Bay City), the legislature would be able to review the proposed budget, along with the economy of the state and nation as well as projected revenues, to be better able to consider the pay proposals in their proper context.

The Senate debate on the bill created fiery discussions, uncommon in what is otherwise a stodgy body.

Most outspoken was Sen. Jack Faxon (D-Southfield) who charged the bill was just a vehicle so some members could "stand forth in purity and piety."

He called the bill unconstitutional, now that is is ex post facto for the 1983-84 recommendations, since the most recent recommendations were automatically approved as of Jan. 31 without legislative action.

Faxon said football coaches at major Michigan colleges and universities are higher paid public servants than the governor. "Football coaches are supreme, we are nothing," he said.

Barcia responded by reminding the members of the Senate of the tax increase recently imposed on the people. He said the government has extracted sacrifices from the public and the bill shows the public the legislature is willing to face the same sacrifices.

Sen. David Holmes (D-Detroit) likened the legislature to a board of directors in his speech opposing the bill.

He said the legislature is a 148-member board responsible for the imposition, collection and expenditure of more than $4 billion annually.

Holmes said he believed the members of the legislature were greatly underpaid considering the amount of progressive legislation generated each year to protect the health and well-being of the more than 9 million people of the state.

COMMISSION RECOMMENDATIONS called for a freeze during 1983 and an average increase of 7.2 percent for 1984.

Under the recommendations, the governor's salary will go from $70,000 to $78,000; the lieutenant governor will receive $53,000, up from $50,000; justices of the Supreme Court will receive $74,000 compared to the current $69,000; and members of the legislature will receive $33,200, up from the current $31,000.

Osentoski winner at Cumber tourney

Osentoski Realty and Auctioneering, Bad Axe, was too much for all five teams it faced as it won the seventh annual Cumber Memorial Day week end invitational slow pitch softball tournament.

In Monday's championship game, Osentoski defeated D and D Battery of Warren, 22-4.

Countryside Bar of Parisville finished third out of the 16-team field and Budweiser from Bad Axe was fourth, both losing to D and D in their final games, 14-12 and 14-7 respectively.

D and D had the tournament's most valuable player, Art Shankin, and most valuable pitcher, Danny Ritter.

The other teams Osentoski defeated on its way to the crown were: Cubitt Realty, Bad Axe, 13-0; The Brewery, Mount Clemens, 9-2; Budweiser, 11-1 and Countryside Bar, 15-5.

Girls in battle for state title

Cass City High School track coach Doug Grezeszak is expecting good showings from members of his two teams Saturday at the class C state track meet in Bangor, especially in the girls' competition.

The girl Red Hawks are thought to be one of the strongest squads, along with Detroit St. Martin DePorres, DeWitt and Detroit Lutheran West.

"They're all solid in the same areas (sprints)," he said. "I'm hoping they'll knock each other off."

Nine girls will compete in a total of 11 events and Grezeszak believes they have a chance to bring home the state crown.

He added, "Where we are solid and have our chances, we're real solid. We might pull it off. If we get three firsts from Carrie (Lautner) and the 1600-meter relay team, that's 30 points. I'm hoping we can nickel and dime them with our depth.

"The key is in getting our fairly-sure points in the 1600, 3200 and long jump," he explained. "We also need to score semi-well in the 1600 relay, 800 and 400. We need to then squeeze out a couple of points in our remaining events of 100, long jump, shot put, 400 relay and 800 relay."

Number one ranked and defending state 1600 and 3200-meter champ Lautner is being heavily counted on to have a good day. She is trying to capture her fourth and fifth gold medals which are only awarded to state event winners. (She was 1600 meter champ in 1981.)

She should do well "because she's got the experience of competing at states."

Grezeszak is also counting on Jamie LaRoche and Lori Calka for points in the long jump. "Both are looking great," he stated.

LaRoche has recorded the second farthest effort of the year among class C long jumpers and Calka has the tenth best.

The coach hopes the 800 (Tammy Stimpfel, Tracy Green, LaRoche and Gilly Bryant) and the 1600-meter relay teams (Stimpfel, Michelle Fahrner, Chris Westerby and Bryant) will do well and finish among the top eight.

According to Grezeszak, the 1600-meter relay foursome, which ran poorly at the regional meet in Caro, has the potential to finish third among the state's best squads.

Greg Bliss, the lone representative from the boys' team will be up against tough competition in the 3200-meter run from four others beside Kirk Scharich of USA who defeated him at the regionals. Four runners from across the state have turned in times only five seconds behind Bliss' best of 9:40.

The junior distance star "is a shoo-in to at least place," said Grezeszak, despite allergies and a cold which have bothered Bliss the past few weeks.

12 teams in week-end event

Birch Run wins annual tourney

Bob and Nancy's of Birch Run won the week-end fast pitch softball tournament in the Cass City Recreation Park with a 3-0 win over Reese IGA.

Third place was won by the Marlette Area Softball Hitters (MASH) with a one-run victory over McMahan Auto Supply of Cass City. Final score wasn't available.

Because of rain Sunday morning, action that day was delayed and the championship and runner-up games didn't end until about 12:30 a.m. Monday.

Receiving the most valuable player trophies were Pete Bouvry, Reese IGA, offense, and Tim Johnson, McMahan, defense. Most valuable pitcher was Bob Wiler of Bob and Nancy's. Best all-around player trophy went to Greg Ciurla of MASH.

Bob and Nancy's emerged from the round robin portion of the tournament with a 4-1 record, after defeating Charmont, Thumb National Bank, McGraw-Edison and Genesee Retailers and losing to Reese IGA.

Two other teams in the division were also 4-1, so Reese IGA then played and eliminated McGraw-Edison.

Top teams in the other division were McMahan at 4-1 and MASH at 3-2.

In the semi-finals, Reese IGA defeated McMahan, 5-4, and MASH lost to Bob and Nancy's, 2-0 which determined the teams that played in the championship and runner-up games.

Twelve teams competed in the tournament, organized by Jim Turner with help from the McMahan, Thumb National Bank and Charmont teams. Proceeds will be used to help pay for higher fences and backstops at the two softball diamonds.

Hawks lose to USA in pre-district

Cass City came to the end of the baseball tournament trail at Unionville-Sebewaing when the Patriots broke open a tight game in the fourth inning to win the pre-district battle, 6-4.

The two teams were coasting along tied after three innings. USA scored three times in the second. The Hawks counted once in the first on a couple of errors and twice in the third on errors and singles by Fred Zawilinski and Joe Langenburg.

The fatal fourth started peacefully enough. The first two batters were retired. But with two away USA counted four times on four hits and an error. Big blow was a triple by Simmet. Cass City scored twice in its half of the fourth but it wasn't enough to close the gap.

In games Tuesday, May 24, Cass City dropped a double header to Reese. The Hawks dropped the first game, 6-2. Actually the game was decided in the first inning when Reese sent 11 batters to the plate and scored five of their six runs. Cass City bunched three of their four hits in the third to score twice. It took longer for Reese in the nightcap but the results were the same as the Rockets took a 5-2 decision. The winners scored single counters in the first three innings and added a pair of insurance runs in the fourth. Cass City broke into the scoring column in the fifth with a run as Rick Pobanz singled and Stewart Batts chipped in a double to chase him home. Barry Lapp accounted for the second run on a double that drove in Langenburg who had singled.

SEASON'S RECORD

Cass City's weakness this season was lack of hitting. As a team the average was .238. Only two players with 10 or more at bats hit .300 or more. Terry Czekai compiled a .321 mark, and Lapp, an even .300. Batts hit .375 but was up only 8 times.

Pobanz led the team with an earned run average of 2.70 while Randy Nicholas was the work horse of the mound staff with 205 innings pitched and an ERA of 3.5.

O-G loses final softball games

The Owen-Gage softball team lost both games of a make-up doubleheader to North Huron Saturday, 6-2 in the opener and 13-1 in the second game.

Shelia Engelhardt received the losses in both contests and her adversary, Bev Polega, got the wins.

Both hurlers allowed only two hits in the first game with Engelhardt striking out seven and walking eight and Polega recording one strikeout and three walks.

Engelhardt and Trina Peters were the only Bulldogs to get hits. Each had a single.

In the second game, Engelhardt gave up eight hits and nine walks while striking out two. Polega limited Owen-Gage to four hits, struck out four and yielded four walks.

No one had more than one single for coach Judy Campbell's Bulldogs.

The Bulldogs finished their season with a 3-13 league record and 3-14 overall.

PRE-DISTRICT

Owen-Gage was eliminated from post-season play with a pre-district loss to Carsonville-Port Sanilac Monday, May 23, by an 8-1 score.

Shelia Engelhardt suffered the loss. She gave up nine hits and eight walks.

Winning CPS hurler Debbie Dean struck out six, walked four and gave up four hits.

Carol Zimmer led Owen-Gage batters with a pair of singles.

Croft-Clara wins softball tournament

Croft-Clara won the Frankenmuth Memorial Day week-end invitational over nine other softball teams from eastern Michigan.

The first game was played Friday night against Peppermint Lounge of Flint. Mike Rea and Doug and Dean Elbers all had two hits, but it was a two out single by Ken Martin in the top of the seventh that drove in the winning run.

Craig Helwig pitched the 2-1 win, allowing three hits, walking no one and striking out 12.

The next game was Saturday afternoon against 'S Sporting Goods of Midland.

Ken Martin pitched the team to a 6-0 win giving up three hits and walking only two.

Jerry Toner led the hitters with three hits including a triple. Doug Elbers and Martin each had two.

The only loss for Croft-Clara came in the Saturday night game against Pauley Insurance of Waterford.

Mike Rea got the team's only hit in a 3-0 setback. Helwig took the loss.

Wolverine Supply was the next opponent in a game that would determine whether the Cass City team would advance to the playoffs Monday or spend Memorial Day at home. It did not take long to determine where they were going because they scored two runs in each of the first three innings and coasted to an 8-3 win. Doug Elbers, Brad Elbers and Mike Murphy all had two hits. Helwig got the win, allowing five hits, striking out 9 and walking none. Monday, the top two teams in each bracket were paired against each other in the semi-finals.

Croft-Clara won its division and had to play the second place team in the other division which turned out to be league rival and old nemesis, Frankenmuth Black Label.

With Frankenmuth holding a 2-1 lead going into the bottom of the seventh, Brad Elbers led off with a walk. Jeff Hartel then lined a single to left, taking second on the throw to third.

With runners on second and third and no one out, Frankenmuth elected to walk Doug Elbers, the team's hottest hitter in the tourney, to load the bases. Jerry Toner then came to the plate and on the second pitch, hit one to the fence in left center field, scoring the tying and winning runs.

Helwig got the win.

The championship game was against Chelsea Big Boy. Croft-Clara won 2-0. Brad Elbers got the winning RBI with a single to left in the sixth inning. Again, Helwig pitched the win, allowing only three hits, striking out three and walking no one.

Doug Elbers led the team in hitting with an average of .533 for the tournament. Helwig won the outstanding pitcher trophy.

In Thumb Travel League action last week, the Cass Cityans defeated Heck's Bar of Saginaw. Dean Elbers tripled in one run and Mike Rea got a single to drive in the other.

The team plays at home Wednesday at 7:20 p.m. against Heck's and then will be playing in a tournament in Reese this week end. The first game there is scheduled at 8:30 Friday night.

Bulldogs wrap up baseball season

Owen-Gage finished its baseball season Saturday by losing both games of a make-up doubleheader to visiting North Huron.

In the opener, the Warriors edged the Bulldogs 7-5 behind Mike Moody's six-hit, two-walk, six-strikeout performance.

Dan Glidden gave up nine hits, one walk and struck out four in a losing effort.

John Shope and Gary Erickson provided most of the Bulldogs' hitting punch. Shope had a triple and a single that drove in four runs. Erickson collected two singles.

Randy Dickinson had a single and a double for North Huron and Dean Hatch and Dave Case each hit a pair of singles. Dickinson hurled a three-hit pitching gem to lead his team to a 6-1 victory in the nightcap. He gave up only one walk while fanning 12 Bulldogs.

"We sure made him look good," noted Owen-Gage coach Phil Gray.

Stan Andrakowicz suffered the loss despite allowing only five hits. He walked six and struck out four.

The Bulldogs' three hits were all singles by different players.

Rich Heinrich hit a triple and a single and Hatch had two singles for the Warriors.

Owen-Gage ended the season with a 5-11 league mark and a 5-13 overall record. North Huron was second in the league at 13-1.

O-G honors sport stars at spring athletic banquet

Dan Glidden received the "Bulldog athlete of the year" award last Thursday at the Owendale-Gagetown High School spring athletic banquet in the Gagetown gym.

The senior also received the most valuable player awards in basketball, baseball and track.

Most improved basketball player was Stan Andrakowicz. The basketball awards were presented by junior varsity coach Dean Roller, substituting for head coach Claude Stevens.

Volleyball coach Judy Campbell presented the most valuable player awards to Jackie Kain and Joan Mosack. Miss Kain also received the "most valuable" award in softball from Miss Campbell, with Rita Sullivan being named most improved.

Baseball coach Phil Gray presented the most improved player award to Gary Erickson, plus the "most valuable" to Glidden.

Track coach Richard Glidden presented "most valuable awards" to his son, Dan, and to Stan Andrakowicz.

Glidden also announced that the 400 and 800 meter relay team of Dan Glidden, Andrakowicz, Jason Reinhardt and Gary Erickson will be competing in the state class D championship meet Saturday, June 4, in Traverse City, because of their fast qualifying times in the regionals, despite finishing fourth.

It was originally announced that the only Bulldog to qualify for the state championship was Frank Abfalter in the 1600 meters.

All of the senior athletes received plaques.

Letters or awards were distributed to the athletes who played on the varsity and junior varsity teams, plus junior high basketball, volleyball and cheerleaders.

Deford church school holds graduation

A large crowd attended the graduation service at the Deford Community Church School Friday. A dinner in the fellowship hall preceded the program.

The program in the church included many awards and the graduation of two seniors, Jeff Willis and Chuck Rodgers.

The school numbered 60 students the past year. Summer school will continue through June for those who need to attend.

Guest speaker was Dr. Leonard DeWitt of Fort Wayne, Ind., president of the Missionary Church Inc.

Winds dangerous

The Motorcycle Safety Foundation warns that strong gusty winds can be a hazard for motorcyclists. A rider can actually be moved across a whole lane of traffic if not prepared to handle the sudden wind. Motorists should be aware of this fact when they are crossing stretches of exposed roadway along with motorcyclists.

Cass City downs Ubyly in softball pre-district

Cass City High School softball team earned a berth in the District Class C play-offs Friday at Cass City Recreation Park.

The Hawks of Coach Jim Fox topped a fine Ubyly team in extra innings, 4-3, and was forced to come from behind to do it.

Jill Hutchinson had only one bad inning and Ubyly made the most of it, combining three hits and a walk for a 3-0 lead in the third.

Ubyly held that lead until the fifth when the Hawks tied it. Rhonda Fader led off with a single. Laura Richards walked and both advanced on Colleen Irrer's infield out to the right side.

Dee Hempton drilled a key hit to left center to score both runners and scored herself a moment later as Hutchinson slapped her second hit of the game.

Neither team seriously threatened after that until the ninth. Cass City then staged almost a rerun of the fifth to win it.

Fader walked. Rachel Kaplan pinch hit and ripped a ball which handcuffed the shortstop. Hempton hit the ball hard on one bounce to the center fielder to load the sacks. Hutchinson then walked to win it.

The victory moves the Hawks into the district championship against Bad Axe in diamond one at Cass City.

In the bottom bracket on diamond two Mayville, fourth ranked in the state, plays USA and the winners then meet for the district title.

I'm looking forward to Memorial Day Weekend

Memorial Day week end annually marks the beginning of Michigan's summer tourist season. Usually warmer weather accompanies the three-day holiday when people flock from their homes to visit parks, relatives and tourist spots. But, this year may be different. Forecasts for the week end did not promise warm temperatures.

Despite the unpleasant weather predictions, millions still took advantage of the extended week end to kick off the summer. Linda Mellendorf, of 6244 Cedar Drive, and her husband, Gary, and their two daughters, Michele, 9, and Wendy, 12, were to be among those who left home "to get away from it all." They planned to pack up their camper and head for the outdoors.

"We're hoping the weather will be nice because we're going camping at Bay City State Park," Mrs. Mellendorf said Friday.

She added that they were going because they always have gone in years past.

It is a peaceful break from her work as a housewife and babysitter.

"We all go and a bunch of us get together and goof around," she commented. "It's really relaxing and a lot of fun."

According to Mrs. Mellendorf, the park that her family annually visits is not frequented by the many Michigan residents who get out on the week end.

"It's not really packed. We are never really crowded."

"Most of the people head toward the lake (Huron) for Memorial Day but they all have boats. We don't have a boat so we can't go," she chuckled.

HEALTH TIPS

Counting calories vital to reducing

By Frank Chappell
Am. Medical Association

Think of food calories as fuel - the fuel that is used to keep you alive, alert and moving.

The American Medical Association's popular pamphlet, "The Healthy Approach to Slimming", reminds persons that if you take in more fuel each day than your body can use, the excess is stored as fat.

Most people leading moderately active lives need about 15 calories per day per pound to maintain their weight. So, if you want to stay, say, at 150 pounds, you can eat foods containing no more than 2,250 calories each day. That's 150 times 15.

But if you're well above your ideal weight, you'll have to cut back calorie intake and use more of the stored fuel.

There are approximately 3,500 calories in each pound of stored fat. So to lose one pound a week, consume 500 fewer calories each day. That 150-pounder who needs 2,250 calories daily to maintain weight must cut down to only 1,750 per day to lose a pound a week. To lose two pounds a week, he must consume only 1,250 calories daily.

It is usually unwise to try to lose more than two pounds per week. Rapid weight loss may leave you tired and vulnerable to illness.

If your motive is to lose weight quickly so that you can get back to thick milkshakes, 12-ounce steaks and high-calorie bedtime snacks, you are going to have lifelong weight problems.

The slow and sensible weight loss program can help condition you to a better way of eating.

If you are obese or have had a weight problem for many years, see your family doctor before launching any do-it-yourself diet.

Some heavy people have unsuspected illness and it would be foolhardy to complicate any problems by postponing treatment or following an inappropriate diet.

New books at the library

P.S. JACK PAAR by Jack Paar (non-fiction). Entertainer Jack Paar's memoirs are both fascinating and funny. He knew and knows everyone - including the last six presidents, all the Kennedys, and the most celebrated of sports and entertainment people. Paar tells about his early career, his Army service as an entertainer and his entry into television. Most of the book covers the television years, and is loaded with anecdotes about all the famous people he knew and worked with.

THE LAST LION: WINSTON SPENCER CHURCHILL - VISIONS OF GLORY 1874-1932, by William Manchester (non-fiction). This is a biography of Winston Churchill set against the most important and least understood political event of the century - the collapse of the British Empire. The son of a cold father and a scandalously irresponsible mother, Winston adored his parents. He became insatiably ambitious, trying to win the admiration of his parents who ignored him. Never expressing hostility towards his family, he sought enemies in the outside world, resulting in a powerful, terribly flawed man.

GARDEN WAYS JOY OF GARDENING by Dick Raymond (non-fiction). Raymond leads readers step-by-step through an entire gardening season - planting, harvesting and keeping. Special methods cover wide row planting, transplant care, succession crops, soil improvement, pest control, and small space gardening ideas - for vegetables, fruits and traditional garden companions. This is the full-color companion book of the 13-part television series.

Road funds up 8.8 percent

State tax revenues for maintenance and improvement of roads and streets and other transportation systems increased 8.8 percent during the first three months of this year, compared to the same period in 1982.

It was the first such increase in three years.

The result is that the Tuscola County Road Commission will receive $577,775, compared to the $525,008 it received as its share of Motor Vehicle Highway Fund revenues for the first three months of 1982. The Sanilac County Road Commission will receive $533,177, up from $483,629, and Huron County Road Commission, $499,531, up from $451,172.

Cass City will receive $15,507 for the quarter (up from $14,454 for the first quarter of 1982); Gageton, $4,562 ($4,260); Kingstons, $3,023 ($2,819); Owendale, $3,327 ($3,104); and Uby, $5,628 ($5,246).

The first quarter increase is due to the 2-cent per gallon increase in the state gasoline tax, plus an increase in license plate fees, that went into effect Jan. 1, plus a 3 percent increase in highway travel.

Offsetting the increase in miles driven was a decrease in gasoline sold, from 849.5 million gallons in the first quarter of 1982 to 793.6 million this year, due to more higher-mileage cars being on the road.

Of the total collected statewide in fuel taxes and license fees, 37.7 percent is used for maintenance of state highways, 33.7 percent goes to county road commissions, 18.6 percent to incorporated cities and villages, and 10 percent for support of bus and railroad programs.

Pheasants available to 4-H'ers

The Tuscola County Cooperative Extension Service will provide pheasant chicks for raising and release to 4-H youth groups in June.

4-H members interested in raising and releasing some of these birds should have a group representative contact 4-H Youth Agent Peggy Breclaw. In order to cover handling costs, there will be a fee of three birds for $1.

A small number of pheasants can be raised easily and successfully by any conscientious youngster and with some of the payment-in-kind enrolled farmland providing new and unoccupied habitat, pen raised pheasants may have a 35-50 percent chance of survival this year instead of the usual 3-5 percent chance.

Complete instructions on how to raise and release the pheasants will be provided to each youth. Youngsters participating in this program may not sell the pheasants or keep them for breeding purposes.
