Cass City schools to open Sept. 6

School for students will open Sept. 6, the Tuesday after Labor Day, it was decided Monday at the regular meeting of the Cass City School Board at the high school.

The opening day was a compromise between the teachers and the board. Cass City Teachers Association said that the teachers would prefer to start before Labor Day and get out earlier in June before hot weather strikes and the students become harder to teach.

The board first considered opening school Wednesday, Sept. 7, with teacher orientation held Tuesday, Sept. 6.

The compromise was to have teacher orientation the Thursday before Labor Day with school for students the following Tuesday.

It is expected that negotiations with the teachers now in progress for a new contract will result in a slight abbreviation of vacations during the school year so that school will be over in early June rather than the middle of the month.

The board wanted school to start for students after Labor Day because it felt that is what the parents desired.

OKAY WORK

The board authorized an expenditure that will be in excess of $17,000 for work on the high school parking lot and the Intermediate School parking lot.

At a price of $28.10 per ton for asphalt, cost for the driving area around the perimeter of the high school lot is estimated at $11,240. For the Intermediate parking lot south of the school the cost is $5,339.

The bids are for the asphalt only. Preparation work that includes removing some of the broken current roadway is not included.

Bids were awarded to low bidder Marlette Roofing for roof work on school buildings for a total of $72,000. There were four bids received.

The work is already in progress and is expected to be completed before school opens. The roofs and the cost: Evergreen, $26,798; Deford, $29,380; Campbell, $10,900; Intermediate, $8,600.

In addition, repair of a section of Campbell roof, not receiving a new coating, will be completed to repair leaks. The repair work is not included in the bid price.

Roof workers damaged the paved area of the Intermediate School playground with heavy equipment. A meeting will be held with the insurance company to have the area repaired at no cost to the district.

Board settles with operators' union

Members of the Operating Engineers, the union representing bus drivers, cooks and custodians, have received a six percent pay raise for each of the next two years.

The board ratified the contract Monday night at its regular session.

The former wage scale and the increases under the new contract are:

	1981-82	1983-84	1984-85
Bus drivers (per run)	$1,634	$1,720	$1,823
Cooks (per hour)	$4.19	$4.44	$4.71

In addition to the run pay, bus drivers received 10 cents per mile for each mile over 30 in the run, up from 7 cents in the former contract.

Because of the school's severe financial plight last year, the Operating Engineers accepted a salary freeze for 1982-83.

OTHER BUSINESS

The first step in considering non-union salaries was taken when Dick Wallace, Ben Hobart and Dick Albee were appointed to a committee to develop salary recommendations and interview personnel.

Authorization to borrow up to $499,000 against anticipated tax revenues was approved. Superintendent Don Crouse told the board that up to $700,000 may be needed during the year.

Only $499,000 was to be asked for at one time because the fee for filing is $100 under a half million dollars and $400 over that amount.

The board awarded insurance covering the bus fleet to Farm Bureau Insurance, the lowest of four bids received.

A policy with $100 deductible and limitations of $500,000 per person and $1 million per accident will cost the school $4,033.46.

Three bids were received for property and liability insurance. Low bidder was Schillinger and Schillinger for $12,106 for one year.

Harris - Hampshire, which submitted an identical bid with Schillinger for boiler insurance of $902 was awarded the boiler insurance.

The bids were asked for three years but there is no guarantee of the rate over that period and the policy does not bind either the insurance company or the school district in the rate changes.

Zoning appeal denied again

For the second time in less than three months, the Cass City Board of Zoning Appeals last Thursday denied the appeal of Dr. Robert and Susan Genoveses to build an addition onto their house.

The proposed two-car garage and dining room addition would have extended their home at 6368 Huron Street to within two feet of the west side lot line, which is a violation of the village zoning ordinance.

Since the Genoveses' May 19 appeal, the couple has filed a written agreement with Warren Wood of 6359 Church Street to buy Wood's vacant lot next door to their home, should he decide to sell it. The agreement is on file with the county Register of Deeds.

Wood spoke at both hearings in favor of granting the variance.

The Genoveses said last Thursday they and an architect have discussed all other alternatives, such as building a detached garage, but could find no solution other than extending the house within two feet of the property line.

In a letter submitted to the board, Genoveses stated the "narrowness" of the lot created "exceptional and practical difficulties" which restricted him and his wife from making reasonable use of the land.

The letter also claimed that a "hardship" exists because other options, such as a detached garage, are more expensive and would detract from the home's appearance.

Council must decide if village owned landfill will stay open

Keeping Cass City's landfill open may cost the village $80,000 over a five year period in order to comply with requirements of the state Department of Natural Resources.

Closing it will cost an estimated $11,000-15,000. The village council will have to decide what course of action to take. Presumably it will discuss the situation at its special meeting Monday, called for other purposes, and/or at its regular monthly meeting Aug. 29 (one day earlier than usual).

The problems involving the village-owned landfill and the alternatives were spelled out at a meeting in Cass City Friday by two officials from the DNR's Ground Water Quality Division, Len Zulewski and Daniel Cummins.

Representing the village were Superintendent Lou LaPonsie and village council member Elwyn Helwig. Also present were Peter Roth and Willil Hubbell from Hubbell, Roth and Clark of Bloomfield Hills, the village's engineering consultants, and Ed Kimbrue and Dale Lipar, sanitarians from the Tuscola County Health Department.

The DNR enforces Public Act 641, the state law regulating landfills.

The problem, Cummins told the gathering, is that the clay soils at the landfill site don't meet the permeability standards. "The cells (in which refuse is deposited) are unsuitable in their natural state."

Based on one sample taken, he added, "The soils may not even be suitable for recompaction (use as cover material)."

If the soils don't meet the state standards, does that mean there's a pollution problem at the landfill? Zulewski was asked at the end of the meeting.

Based on the findings from eight test wells at the landfill, he responded, "There's nothing serious at all...We don't want to alarm anybody. There's no cause for alarm."

During the meeting, after Kimbrue had complained about continually changing state standards for landfills, Zulewski commented, "All we're saying is the environment has to be protected. We're not saying it (the landfill) has to be closed."

THE DNR IS GIVING the village three options: Close it, or to prevent further future seepage, dig a new trench in which trash would be dumped and line it with a less permeable clay or with plastic.

Hubbell, Roth and Clark, is estimating it will cost $80,000 to dig a trench good for five years and line it with plastic.

Closing the landfill, which would require a final layer of clay, seeding, and some other work, would cost an estimated $11,000-15,000.

Asked by the Chronicle why the DNR is requiring installation of a clay or plastic liner when there are no present problems, Zulewski responded, "Potential," that conceivably a pollution problem could develop without a liner to prevent liquids in the landfill from seeping out.

LaPONSIE ASKED HIM whether the state would help pay the cost of upgrading the landfill to keep it open.

The DNR official responded that the state has never contributed for the upgrading of landfills.

As for the Headlee Amendment, which requires the state to reimburse local units of government when it (the state) requires actions that would result in increased costs, Zulewski said he has been told, "Headlee won't work either." (Public Act 641 is being challenged in court because of the Headlee Amendment.)

IN ADDITION TO serving the residents of Cass City, four townships -- Novesta, Elkland, Elmwood and Ellington -- pay the village $3.75 per resident per year to allow their residents to dump their trash there.

The landfill is located in Novesta, whose board last week approved a resolution to be sent to the DNR objecting to it.

The fees paid by the townships, plus a small amount paid by persons using the landfill who don't live in the village or four townships, is projected to total $18,300 this year.

The village budget projects it will cost $36,000 to operate the landfill this year, including $12,500 for salaries and wages (no village employees work there full time) and $13,500 for the value of the village equipment used there. (No equipment is used exclusively at the landfill).

Commercial trash haulers aren't allowed to use the landfill.

ZULEWSKI, WHO EXPRESSED doubts the upgrading will cost $80,000, suggested the landfill wouldn't have to be subsidized from tax revenues. "Privately owned landfills are money makers. There's no reason why yours can't be."

"The generators (those with the trash) should suffer the cost of refuse disposal..." he continued. "So that's where they should be hit, at the gate."

Kimbrue then suggested the village council should consider ending the subsidies paid by the townships and instead charge persons when they come to the landfill to dump their trash. Should the council decide to keep the landfill open, it is supposed to submit plans for its upgrading to the DNR by Sept. 1, but Zulewski said there would be no problem in granting an extension.

If the council decides to close it, the deadline for doing so is Sept. 1, 1984.

Even if the landfill is closed, a portion of it can still be used with DNR approval for dumping materials from demolished buildings, broken concrete, trees, brush, etc.

OPEN OR SHUT? -- The Cass City Village Council will have to decide whether to keep the village-owned landfill open, which might cost $80,000 over five years, or close it.

O-G, winner in circuit court, to try to regain lost territory

Armed with a legal opinion that, barring reversal by a higher court, will keep three transferred properties in the Owendale-Gagetown School District, the school board will attempt "to recover all property that was wrongfully transferred."

The opinion of Ingham County Circuit Judge James T. Kallman, read at Monday evening's board meeting, reverses the state Board of Education's decision in 1976 to transfer the Voelker and Parker properties to the Elkton-Pigeon Bay Port School District and the Belk property to Cass City.

The parcels have remained in Owen-Gage because of a stay issued by Kallman after then, pending resolution of the Goslin property transfer case from Owen-Gage to Cass City.

The Michigan Supreme Court having approved that transfer last year, Kallman recently conducted a hearing on whether to lift the stay, thereby transferring the properties from Owen-Gage.

His opinion, issued Aug. 2, reversed the state board's approval of the transfer requests. He sent the cases back to the state board "for appropriate action in light of the changed circumstances."

In his opinion, Kallman stated, "It appears to this court that politics and not sound reasoning influenced the state Board of Education's decision. The (board's) hearing officer rejected the evidence the state board used to justify its reversal."

The judge referred to the cases as stale, noting Voelker is now deceased "and Belk and Parker no longer live in the district."

Kallman also cited a state law that said there should be no less than 500 K-12 school districts in Michigan, then lambasted the state board. "...the clear effect of the action in these property transfers was to hack away at the (Owen-Gage) school district boundaries for the purpose of school district reorganization."

"It is well known that the state Board of Education favors reducing the number of school districts, contrary to the mandated number of 500."

As noted, Kallman sent the three transfer cases back to the state board.

"Because of this ruling," Supt. Ronald Erickson told the Owen-Gage board, "it's going to be difficult knowing what the state board will do. As an educated guess, I guess they will do nothing."

He then recommended to the board that it approve a "news release" stating that because of Kallman's ruling, it "will immediately proceed to recover all property that was wrongfully transferred. The Owen-Gage board will also initiate recovery for damages against those individuals who covertly attempted to deny the Owen-Gage school's right to exist."

Erickson specifically mentioned that means trying to recover the Goslin territory, plus Elenbaum, now part of Elkton-Pigeon Bay Port.

Owen-Gage will start, he explained, by asking the Huron and Tuscola Intermediate School District Boards of Education to transfer the properties back to Owen-Gage. If they reject the requests, an appeal could be made to the state Board of Education and from there to circuit court.

Before then, however, an appeal may be made of Kallman's ruling. Assistant Attorney General Richard Gartner, who handled the case in behalf of the state board, said he and the head of the education division of the attorney general's office must make a recommendation to the solicitor general whether to appeal. The opinion of state Superintendent of Public Instruction Phillip Runkel will be solicited before making the decision.

If an appeal is made, it must be filed with the state Court of Appeals by Aug. 22.

"I was disappointed with the decision," Gartner said of Kallman's ruling. "My view is the decision by the state board was the correct one."

As for Kallman's recommending the case to the state board "for appropriate action," the attorney commented, "It's a little hard to understand what he meant. I think he meant the state board is now required to deny the transfer."

Gartner's view is that the state board's decision in 1976 was proper and was supported by testimony given at the time by witnesses that the other districts offered better educational opportunities.

In contrast, he said, Kallman was more persuaded by the hearing officer, who recommended denying the transfers, than by the state board.

Cheers continue at Owen-Gage with supervisor

There will be cheerleaders at Owendale-Gagetown football and basketball games this coming year, the school board decided Monday evening, but only if they have adult supervision.

The board spent 50 minutes discussing with the 10 varsity and junior cheerleaders problems that occurred with last year's squad and what should be done concerning the upcoming school year. High school Principal Wayne Wright said the 1982-83 school year began with 15 cheerleaders and a teacher advisor. The season ended without an advisor, who quit in frustration, and seven cheerleaders. No teachers are now willing to handle the task, he added.

The main problem, it was explained, was bickering

STACY AND MICHAEL RICHARDS

Stacey Lynn Dutcher and Michael Russell Richards were married June 18 at the Caseville United Methodist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin P. Dutcher of Caseville. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Richards of 6592 Houghton Street, Cass City.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Brent L. McCumons.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, wore a gown with a portrait neckline, pleating leaf trim, cap sleeves with leaf detail, a heavy applique bodice, drop torso waist, full skirt with applique front, pleated border hemline and a cathedral length train.

Her cathedral length veil consisted of a Juliet applique leaf cap with English netting.

Her bouquet consisted of seven gardenias arranged in a cascade with a white orchid in the center, with stephanotis and ivy acting as filler.

Maid of honor was Shari Lee Dutcher of Caseville, sister of the bride. Her lilac gown featured a portrait neckline accented by a double ruffle and fitted waistline, with full hooped skirts. The outer skirt was draped to give the full hooped skirt a scalloped effect. She wore a wreath of baby's breath and tiny silk flowers in her hair.

Matron of honor was Terri Frattini, Mount Clemens, friend of the bride.

Bridesmaids were Melanie Lewis, Alma, and Coleen Elzinga, Ellsworth, friends of the bride, and Laura Lee Richards, Cass City, sister of the groom. Their gowns were the same as the maid of honor's.

Flower girls were Julie Esch, cousin of the bride, and Sarah Lovejoy, a friend of the groom. They wore lilac colored gowns with high necklines and lace bodices, with wreaths in their hair identical to the one worn by the maid of honor.

Best man was Steven Richards of Cass City, brother of the groom. Honorary best man was Jeff Prieskorn, Washington, D.C., friend of the groom.

Groomsmen were Scott Richards, Ann Arbor, and John Tuckey, Hico, Texas, friends of the groom, and Robin Dutcher, Caseville, brother of the bride.

Ushers were Craig Stahl, St. Louis, Mo., cousin of the bride, and Don Glenn, Lansing, friend of the groom.

Music was performed by soloist Al Pittenger and a trio consisting of Kurt Proctor, Dave Heins and Paul Guernsey. Organist was Paul Kerbyson and pianist was Carol Anderson.

The bride's mother wore a candlelight long gown of silk crepe with a corsage of gardenias. The groom's mother wore a long yellow dress with a matching hat and one white orchid.

A dinner reception was held at the Colony House, Cass City, for 450 guests.

After a two-week honeymoon in Hawaii, the newlyweds are living in Orlando, Fla.

The Pony Express, which has lived in legend for more than a century, lived in fact for less than two years.

Rabbit Tracks

By John Haire

(And anyone else he can get to help.)

Long distance phone service was nearly as good as ever Monday despite the nation-wide strike.

The only difference noticeable on station to station calls was when the operator asked for the caller's number it was necessary to give it slower than usual.

The executives weren't as quick at it as the regular operators.

Many merchants along the main stem in Cass City were taking in $2 bills last week. The bills aren't popular and get little use in the regular course of the business day.

Most of those $2 bills that are floating around came from workers at Hills and Dales General Hospital.

Administrator Ken Jensen said that employees were paid in $2 bills last week, almost $15,000 worth.

We just wanted to show the economic impact of the hospital as well as its importance as a health care center, Jensen explained.

A couple of weeks ago The Haire Net told how a boater was quick to come to the rescue when the boat conked out in Little Traverse Bay. That's not unusual on the water, I added.

Wrong, says the Chronicle ad girl, Deb Otulakowski. The Otulakowskis were part of a group boating on Lake Huron when a faulty gas gauge caused them to run out of gas.

We were there a good long time and boat after boat passed us by, the owners telling us we should have filled up before leaving, Deb said ruefully.

Blood drive at Hills and Dales

There will be a Red Cross blood bank drive at Hills and Dales General Hospital Tuesday from 1-7 p.m., sponsored by the Hills and Dales Auxiliary.

Jane Mitchell, RN, the blood bank chairman, explained the process of giving blood. "You will feel no more discomfort than you experience when your doctor takes a blood sample for a test," she said.

After you register and have your temperature taken, a registered nurse will ask you some questions concerning your medical history, conducted in strictest confidence. While talking to you, the nurse will take your blood pressure and perform a simple test to measure the iron content of your blood.

The actual donation of blood usually takes 10 minutes and you feel the needle only when it goes in. You'll then be asked to rest for a short while, then be given some refreshments to replenish your fluids. Altogether, you'll be our guest for about an hour," Mrs. Mitchell continued.

"Only one unit of blood - a little less than a pint - will be taken, which your body will replace quickly. An average adult's body has 10 to 12 pints of blood. After you have given, you can resume your normal activities. Some people fear they will faint, get sick or feel unusually weak after giving. Less than 4 percent of all donors have any type of adverse reaction."

Call 872-2121 for an appointment or for more information. Donors will be accepted without an appointment.

SUMMER REWARD! -- Some of the 45 youngsters who read 10 or more books this summer search through a pile of toys as part of the proceedings of a party held in their honor last Thursday in the Cass City park. Hot dogs were served and certificates and book bags were given away.

67 children finish reading program

The "Read and the World is Yours" summer reading program at Rawson Memorial Library came to an end last Thursday with a picnic in the Cass City Recreation Park for youngsters who successfully completed the program.

Sixty-seven children read the required 10 or more books, of whom 45 attended the picnic.

In addition to the meal, each attending received a certificate and a prize, which they selected. Children who were unable to attend can pick up their certificate and prize at the library.

Those who read at least 10 books were:

Tired of hearing that it's not the heat, it's the humidity. Tired of "Going Solo." Tired of reach out and touch someone.

Tired of weeds. Tired of cutting the lawn. Tired of writing columns. Tired of broken machines.

Tired of ink on my fingers. Tired of ink on my clothes. Tired of broken delivery promises. Tired of goofed up delivery orders. Tired of deliveries. Tired of excuses. Tired of no excuses.

Tired of attending school board meetings. Tired of trying to lose weight. Tired of trying to be a better golfer.

Tired of hot, sticky nights. Tired of hot, sticky days. Tired of balky cars. Tired of repair bills. Tired of gas bills. Tired of electric bills. Tired of bills.

But I'm not too tired for: The raspberry season. Pretty girls in bikinis. Pretty girls in dresses. Pretty girls. A home run by the home team, regardless if it's Cass City or Detroit.

A swim on a hot summer day or night. A boat ride on a hot summer day or night. Air conditioning.

A card game with friends. Winning. Fresh baked bread. Fresh baked rolls. Fresh baked anything as long as it's fattening. The coffee bull session. The "Music Man" for the umpteenth time. Humphrey Bogart in "Casablanca." Bogart in anything. Reading the papers. Reading the columns of peers. Reading almost anything. Anything not educational.

Dream trips. Dream times. Trout trips to Montana. Trout trips anywhere. Vacations anywhere. Real trips like a quickie to Northern Michigan Wednesday and Thursday. Adios.

Moonlight and coffee breaks

By Jim Fitzgerald

After learning about two government employees who moonlight on a second job without leaving their first job, I couldn't help asking myself:

What kind of fool am I, tra la la?

I've been working for around 40 years and have never taken a coffee break. Also, I almost never eat lunch. By a conservative estimate, I've voluntarily given up over 10,000 hours of eating and/or drinking time due me, in favor of working.

I don't intend to sound noble or incredibly generous to my boss. I sincerely believe I may be the laziest person breathing. In fact, there are times when my extremely relaxed condition raises questions about the breathing. A favorite family story concerns the time my father chanced upon me while I was delivering my paper route. That evening at dinner he swore he'd had to line me up with a tree to make sure I was moving. And I was on a bike.

Recently the Free Press Chief of Security assigned himself the daily task of pausing at my desk and snapping his fingers in my face. He is a retired cop with considerable experience at shaking bodies and telling them to get up and go home. On days when my wife asks why I'm home so early, I blame police brutality.

Also, in the interest of journalistic objectivity, it probably should be noted that through the years, co-workers have accused me of skipping coffee breaks and lunches simply so I can get my day's work done quickly and leave early in the afternoon, around 10 a.m. This is an unjust accusation.

In truth, when I leave the office early I am still working. I am going out into the field to do research. Ideas do not come to a columnist's desk and ask to be written about. The columnist must go out and beat the bushes for them, and more bushes can be found in a field than in an office. That's why I am outstanding in my field more often than sitting at my desk.

Besides, I haven't always been a full-time columnist. For many years I edited a newspaper, and before that sold advertising. Both of those jobs required long hours, sometimes six or seven days a week, but still I never took a coffee break and seldom ate lunch.

You are dying to know why, so I'll tell you. I'm afraid of coffee or anything else wet that might spill on my desk. I've seen sloppy co-workers ruin an entire day's work with one tipped carton. If that ever happened to me, I wouldn't have time to go out into the field to do research, and the downtown area would become overgrown with unbeaten bushes, possibly impassable.

I don't take coffee breaks in coffee shops or standing around coffee machines because I hate to talk about last night's ball game. I believe in playing one game at a time, forgetting what happened yesterday and never worrying about tomorrow, barring injuries.

I don't eat lunch because that's a smarter way to stay slim than leaving my car home and jogging all over town. Eating, not driving, makes people fat.

So what kind of fool am I, tra la la? The kind who works in the private sector instead of for the taxpayers. It never occurred to me to moonlight during my unused lunch hours and coffee breaks. My first boss wouldn't stand for my using his office space and equipment earning money from a second boss. And he would surely worry about the second job encroaching upon the first, netting me a double-dip income for a single-dip effort.

But two employees of the Wayne County treasurer's office regularly earn about $1,000 a month in extra income on their lunch hours and coffee breaks by using county public records to do real estate tax searches for private title insurance firms. It's been going on for years.

That's the beauty of working for the taxpayers. They'll stand for anything, usually because they don't know about it.

If I'd spent the past 40 years working for the county treasurer, today I'd probably be rich enough to hire someone to be out-standing in my field for me. And I could devote all my energy to racing trees in memory of my father. On a bike.

No-till meet, pig roast set Aug. 17

The growing of corn and soybeans by the no-tillage method is spreading in Tuscola County.

In 1982, there were about seven no-till corn farmers planting less than 100 acres total and no soybeans planted using no-tillage.

This year has brought over 25 no-till farmers with about 500 acres of no-till corn and 150 acres of no-till soybeans.

Wednesday, Aug. 17, has been set to review some of the no-till sites, discuss the management of no-till, and view a variety of modern planters capable of planting no-till.

The event begins at 3 p.m. at the Willard Petzold farm at Birch Run Road and Fulmer Road, south of Millington. An informal discussion of no-till management will take place with a pig roast to follow.

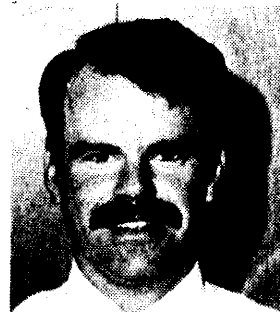

Preliminary organization of a no-till project involving equipment dealerships for 1984 will be offered for farmers.

Contact the Tuscola Soil Conservation District at 73-8174 for more information and to register for the Aug. 17 pig roast.

Ridge till tour this Thursday

Ridge till dry beans and sugar beets will be shown starting at 7:30 Thursday evening, Aug. 11, at Dick Partlo's ridge till, upright dry bean comparison plot. The location is a half-mile south of Dickerson Road on Clark Road, 1½ miles north of Akron.

Partlo has over 400 acres of ridge till crops, including corn, soybeans, dry beans, both nuptune uprights and cranberries, and sugar beets. He will be present to discuss his experiences.

Pedaling Around

Help wanted

By Mike Eliasohn

Inside stuff:

We are again debating our coverage of the fairs, which we first did several years ago.

Specifically, we are questioning whether we should continue listing the blue ribbon, etc., winners from the 4-H clubs in our area.

For the Sanilac and Tuscola fairs, it takes quite a lot of space and work, especially by the 4-H leaders who have to gather the information. We ask the leaders to do it for us.

The question we are asking is how many persons are interested in reading the lists of winners, whether it is worth the work involved.

Alternatives are to continue what we have been doing, list only county honors winners, which is a rather small number, or not list anything from clubs in our fringe coverage area.

If we chose the latter, for instance, we would probably only list clubs in Greenleaf and Evergreen Townships for the Sanilac fair, which presumably would be only the Evergreen Guys and Gals, Holbrook Helpers and Greenleaf Golden Rods.

We only list some of the clubs in our fringe areas now. With the exception of the Uby Valley 4-H Club, we have never had much luck in getting results from clubs that take part in the Huron Community Fair. No one has ever complained about NOT having results from a certain club.

I would appreciate hearing from anyone who has comments concerning our fair coverage (4-H and anything else), so please give me a call.

WEDDINGS

We may have lost a couple of readers angered over our wedding policy, which we put into effect this past spring.

The policy is this: We will only run photographs with wedding stories if they are received within two months of the wedding. If more than two months old, we will only run a story.

The problem was that occasionally someone would bring in a story and photo for a wedding that had taken place five, six, seven or maybe more months old. We felt silly running a wedding story that old, but we didn't have a policy we could point to as a reason why we wouldn't run it.

We finally decided we should have a policy in writing and decided two months was a reasonable amount of time to turn in wedding stories with photos. Some daily newspapers require wedding photos be turned in BEFORE the wedding, so that the photo can run a few days afterwards.

The aforementioned readers got mad because they brought in wedding stories and photos more than two months old, after our policy had gone into effect, so we wouldn't run the photos. They decided they didn't want the stories run either.

So for those planning a wedding, I advise telling the person who is going to be taking the photographs that the Chronicle needs the photo within two months. There's no reason why a photographer can't get a photo to us within that time span.

Of course, sometimes the problem isn't with the photographer, but with the bride or her mother who is supposed to write the information for the wedding story, but is in no hurry to do it.

WOMEN'S SECTION

Last September, the Chronicle published for the first time a section devoted to women.

There were four articles in it, about a farm wife who does much of the farming; a mother of 15 children; a divorced mother raising her two children alone, as well as working outside the home, and the female office manager for the all-male Michigan Jaycees.

We are going to have such a special section again this year, so I'm looking for suggestions for women to write about. If you have suggestions, please give me a call. (I'm at the Chronicle — telephone 872-2010 — most evenings, as well as in the daytime.)

TWO INJURED — The car of Douglas Kelley (top) struck the car of Helen Kubiak last Thursday at Milligan and Koepfgen Roads. Kelley was treated and released from Hills and Dales General Hospital. Ms. Kubiak was released Monday.

Accidents send 5 to area hospitals

A two-car collision north-west of Cass City last Thursday sent two persons to Hills and Dales General Hospital.

Douglas W. Kelley, 16, of 4632 N. Seeger Street was treated and released. Helen Kubiak, 62, of 5489 Notter Road, Gagetown, the other driver involved, was released Monday.

Sheriff's deputies reported Kelley was eastbound on Milligan Road and ran into the right side of the car driven by Mrs. Kubiak, who was southbound on Koepfgen Road. There are no "stop" or "yield" signs at the intersection, officers noted.

The accident took place at 2:30 p.m.

Two motorcycle riders were treated and released from Huron Memorial Hospital, Bad Axe, following a Saturday afternoon accident southwest of Uby.

They were James and Jeffrey Poehlman, 40 and 16 respectively, of Ferndale.

Sanilac county deputies said the younger Poehlman was driving and lost control as the cycle was eastbound on Bay City-Forestville Road, just west of Patterson Road.

Both riders were thrown off and landed on the south shoulder.

Michael Scollon, 12, of 4849 N. Seeger Street was treated and released from Hills and Dales after he rode his bicycle into a car Tuesday.

Cass City police said the youngster was riding his bike south on the sidewalk on the east side of Seeger and rode into the side of a car headed west that had stopped to wait for traffic to clear before exiting the alley north of Main Street. Driver of the car was Richard L. Thorp, 50, of Caro.

The boy told police he was looking off to the west and didn't notice the car until it was too late to stop. The mishap occurred at 3:45 p.m.

Cass City police reported that at 12:15 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 2, Paula Kay Ewald, 18, of 6798 Third Street, was northbound on Woodland Avenue. She stopped at Main, didn't notice an eastbound car approaching, pulled into the intersection and the two vehicles collided.

Driver of the other auto was Darlene D. Moore, 41, of Kinde.

Martha Emmons of 5871 Bay City-Forestville Road told village police at 11:30 a.m. Friday that while her car was parked in the lot at Oak and Pine Streets, an unknown vehicle damaged her car.

At 12:40 p.m. Saturday, police said, Deborah J. Raymond, 26, of 4235 Seeley Road, was backing out of a parking place at Albee's True Value Home Center and backed into the right rear of a car entering the lot.

Driver of the other car was Sylvester L. Kubiak, 32, of 5479 Notter Road, Gagetown.

Cass City police reported that at 9:55 p.m. last Wednesday, Blake E. Fisher, 19, of 7224 Daus Road was eastbound on M-81, west of Koepfgen Road, when his vehicle struck a deer.

Billy Joe Simmons, 55, of 3950 S. Phillips Road, Kingston, was westbound on Dorrance Road, west of Phillips, at 4:15 a.m. Aug. 1, deputies reported, when a deer ran into the side of his car.

Farm agreements okayed in Elkland

Elkland Township Board members assembled Monday evening for a rather short meeting, according to Clerk Norma Wallace.

In the only action during the monthly meeting, approval was given to Farm-land and Open Space Preservation Act (Public Act 116) agreements between the state and two pairs of farmland owners.

They were Dale and Joyce Christner for 156 acres they own in section 6 and Dean and Nancy Hutchinson for their 259

Arson charge for Somerville in Aug. 27 home fire

Gary J. Somerville, 37, of 2781 Froede Road, Kingston, has been charged with setting fire to his home July 27.

Caro state police arrested him on a charge of willful or malicious burning of a dwelling last Wednesday. He appeared later that day before Magistrate Donald Smith, who set bond at $25,000 cash or surety.

Somerville appeared Monday before District Judge Richard F. Kern, who scheduled a preliminary examination Aug. 15 and preliminary examination Aug. 25. He was released from jail Tuesday.

Detective Dan Miller of the Caro state police said Somerville reported a fire in his garage July 14, a fire in his barn July 25 and fires in his home July 27 and 29.

The first three fires were extinguished by him and his family.

An investigation was conducted by Miller, the state police fire marshal's office and Detective Larry Walker of the Tuscola County Sheriff's Department.

Information was presented concerning the third fire to Prosecutor Artis Noel, who issued a warrant charging Somerville with arson, Miller explained.

The other three fires remain under investigation. The fire Somerville is charged with starting caused minor damage, according to the detective. It was confined to a doorway threshold.

Not so for the July 29 fire, however. Kingston Fire Chief Bob Phillips said the kitchen and stairwell were damaged, plus there was smoke and water damage elsewhere in the home. Firemen fought the fire for about three hours.

According to court records, the family is staying with relatives on Lamton Road. Somerville and his wife, Cathy, have four children.

Sanctions can curb growth

By Warren M. Hoyt
Mich. Press Association

Sanctions that could prevent construction of new factories in the Detroit area that emit hydrocarbons and pollutants and could cut off the state's federal air quality funds are scheduled to be imposed by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.

The state will then have 45 days to appeal the sanctions, which are scheduled to be printed in the federal register by the end of the month, before they officially take effect in September.

Michael Koryto of the air quality division of the state Department of Natural Resources (DNR), said Governor Blanchard will lead a coordinated effort to stop the sanctions which would be imposed only against the three-county metro area -- Wayne, Oakland and Macomb Counties.

The sanctions are being imposed because the state has failed to impose an inspection and maintenance program to check automobiles for emissions of ozone and carbon monoxide.

In 1980, the legislature, under threat of such sanctions then, enacted a statute providing for an inspection and maintenance program, but numerous efforts to promulgate rules implementing the program have failed.

Under the law, the DNR was supposed to certify which areas would be required for testing and the Michigan Department of State would stipulate the kind of tests required and the costs to cover the tests.

No funds have been appropriated for the inspection and maintenance program and several officials, including Secretary of State Richard Austin, have urged the federal government to drop the program. Koryto said the sanctions proposed include a "construction moratorium" on new factories that would emit any significant amounts of hydrocarbons.

The state could also lose up to $3 million in federal air pollution grants which "would seriously jeopardize efforts to make progress to clean up dirty areas."

Included in the "coordinated effort" Blanchard would lead against the sanctions would be the Departments of Natural Resources, State, Commerce and Transportation.

BUDGET RECODIFICATION

A proposal to recodify Michigan's current statutes, allowing for such things as a later submission time of recommendations by the governor to the Legislature, should be ready for introduction by fall, according to officials of the Department of Management and Budget and the two legislative fiscal agencies.

The proposal, taking either the form of one omnibus measure or two or three bills, would cap more than a year of work by staff members of the House and Senate Fiscal Agencies, DMB and other departments.

The proposal would also take the place of several hundred sections of current state law describing and defining how the budget is to be formulated.

A major objective of the recodification would be to update currently archaic language and references. The main acts currently defining the budget process were drafted in 1919 and reenacted with revisions in 1941-1965.

Other major portions of the recodification could include a later submission time of budget proposals by the governor to the legislature. The later time would allow state planners time to study the proposed federal budget proposal, which is submitted after the state budget.

Another major proposal would be to change current procedures for budget transfers, which now all require approval by the legislative appropriations committees.

ter. The scholarships are renewable each year the students maintain a minimum grade point average as an undergraduate.

Miss Prich was valedictorian of the 1983 graduating class at Owendale-Gagetown High School; Miss Alexander was salutatorian. Peruski was salutatorian at Ubly High School.

Announce cystic fibrosis chairmen

The Cystic Fibrosis (CF) Foundation has announced chairmen for three area Breath of Life campaigns.

They are Karen Fischer, Cass City; Jean Boyl, Kingston, and Evelyn Duckwitz, Snover.

In Cass City, the highest amount raised previously was $158. The goal this year is $250 and 30-40 marchers are needed. In Kingston, $329 has been raised previously. The goal is $150 and 10-20 marchers are needed. In Snover, $127 has been raised previously and 5-10 marchers are needed to achieve the goal of $100.

The CF Foundation will promote its major educational and fund raising campaign in September, with Sept. 18-24 having been designated by Congress as CF Week nationwide.

CF is the leading genetic cause of death among children, with the average life expectancy of its victims now the early 20s. The greatest health problems from the malady are caused by increased lung damage from repeated lung infections and malnutrition from inadequate digestion of food.

Money raised from Breath of Life campaigns statewide will be used for research, education, diagnosis and treatment.

2 teenagers plead guilty of breaking into area home

Two teenagers pleaded guilty in Tuscola County Circuit Court Monday to charges in connection with the June 22 break-in of a home at 5560 Bond Road, Kingston Township.

Randy T. Ashcroft, 19, of 2906 Van Dyke Road, Decker, pleaded guilty to attempted breaking and entering with intent to commit larceny.

Judge Patrick R. Joslyn accepted his plea. He set bond at $50,000 cash or surety because Ashcroft is on probation for a 1982 larceny conviction.

Ashcroft had also been charged in connection with another break-in the same day at a home on Phillips Road, Kingston. That charge will be dismissed.

David S. Bacon, 17, of 6211 Fulton Street, Mayville, pleaded guilty to larceny in a building.

His plea was accepted and bond of $7,500 was continued.

A sentencing date will be set for both men.

Also Monday, two men were arraigned in connection with a July 16 break-in of a home in Caro.

Carl J. Tucker, 21, of 500 S. Almer Street, Apt. 5, Caro, pleaded innocent to charges of breaking and entering and assault with intent to rob and steal from Charles Frisbie.

His pleas were accepted and a pretrial hearing scheduled Aug. 15. Bond of $20,000 was continued.

James A. Randall, 19, of 909 W. Burnside Street, Caro, stood mute to charges of unarmed robbery and larceny in a building.

He also stood mute to supplemental information charging him with being an habitual offender.

Pleas of innocent were entered by the judge, who scheduled a pretrial hearing Sept. 6. Bond of $20,000 was continued.

Robert A. Wonch, 21, of 6330 Detroit Street, Otter Lake, pleaded innocent to a charge of unlawfully driving away an automobile July 11 in Vassar Township.

His plea was accepted and bond was continued until the pretrial hearing.

A motion for reduction of sentence for Robert Jordan, 30, formerly of Bay City-Forestville Road, Gagetown, was approved.

Jordan was sentenced Nov. 22 of last year to one year in the county jail for operating a motor vehicle under the influence of liquor (third offense), with credit given for eight days served. With additional credit for good time, he was scheduled to be released Sept. 19.

Jordan's attorney from the State Appellate Defender's Office argued and the judge agreed, that he was entitled to 42 days off his sentence because state law says a sentence can be reduced by up to one-fourth if the convict demonstrates good conduct, diligence and good general attitude.

A motion to dismiss a habitual offender charge against Richard Lee Harley, 42, of 9073 Willits Road, Mayville, was dismissed. He will now be tried on the charge.

He was previously convicted of criminal sexual conduct (third degree).

Charles Hugo, 25, of Standish, was placed on five years' probation for receiving and concealing stolen property over $100.

He was also sentenced to one year in the county jail, with serving of half the sentence deferred. He was credited with six days served and work release privileges six days a week were granted.

Hugo was fined $300 and assessed $350 court costs.

A jury found him guilty June 22 of possession of a stolen Corvette body and Ford pickup truck last Dec. 3 in Arbelia Township.

James M. Giddings, 19, of 1978 Gun Club Road, Caro, pleaded guilty to attempted resisting and obstructing a Caro police officer Jan. 1.

His plea was accepted and a sentencing date will be set. Bond was continued.

DISTRICT COURT

Garry Spencer, 21, of 3472 Pine Street, Kingston, was sentenced Monday by Judge Richard F. Kern to three days in the county jail for obstructing and resisting a police officer. Serving of the sentence was deferred one year.

Spencer was also placed on two years' probation, fined $122, assessed $128 court costs and is to attend alcohol counseling sessions.

A jury found him guilty of the charge June 29, of obstructing and resisting a sheriff's deputy Feb. 25 in Kingston. It found him innocent of a charge of operating a motor vehicle under the influence of liquor (second offense) in connection with the same incident.

Report theft of bicycle

Ross Kraft of 4453 Leach Street reported to Cass City police last Wednesday morning that a bicycle was stolen from his back porch since 11:30 the night before. The Murray bike had a chrome frame, 20-inch wheels and was valued new at $144.

Carla K. Hunter of 4701 Hospital Drive told village police Tuesday, Aug. 2, that someone smashed the sun roof of her car while it was parked at the Charmont from 10:15-10:30 that evening.

Bernice Kula of Port Austin told Caro state police Saturday evening that while her car was parked by Mr. Kelly's Market in Gagetown that day about 12:30 p.m., someone took a paper bag containing prescription drugs and a portable electric fan from her car.

The drugs were valued at $30; the fan at $20.

Commissioners okay repair of sheriff's radio system

The Tuscola County Board of Commissioners at a special meeting last Wednesday approved repairing the lightning damaged radio equipment at the sheriff's department.

The county will also be providing the local match to a federal grant to buy a new radio system.

The present one, located in the basement of the county jail, was damaged July 29 when lightning apparently struck the antenna. The estimated cost of repairing it, according to Sheriff Paul Berry, is $10,000, which will be paid for by insurance.

The radio system is 13 years old and had been scheduled for replacement, for which the county applied for and was awarded a federal grant.

The new system is supposed to cost $90,000, of which the federal share will be $44,824, Berry said. The rest will come from county funds.

Among improvements in the new system will be tape recordings of all calls made to the sheriff's department, plus it will be lightning proof.

There has been a delay in receipt of the funds. Commissioners were told at their regular meeting Tuesday of this week that with the aid of Congressman Bob Traxler, D-Bay City, the federal funds should be received by the end of the year.

Repairs to the present system, now underway, were necessary since the sheriff's department couldn't afford to wait for the new system to be installed. The damaged radio hasn't had all frequencies working.

As of last Wednesday, the plan had been to leave the old radio in the basement as a backup while the new one would be installed on the first floor.

However, on Tuesday, Vice-Chairman Donna Rayl, presiding in the absence of Chairman Paul Nagy, appointed Commissioners Royce Russell, Ken Kennedy and Ben Collon to research the matter.

The federal money for the new radio system is in the form of a civil defense grant. The concern, Russell explained, is that if the radio goes upstairs, Washington won't help pay for it, since the fortified civil defense center is located in the basement.

Another concern is how much remodeling will be needed to put the radio upstairs, since the driver's license bureau would have to be moved, and the cost.

Berry, who wants the new radio upstairs, said the remodeling would be done by county employees, so the only added cost would be for materials.

In other action Tuesday, the board received a request from county librarians for a subsidy of 35 cents per capita in federal revenue sharing funds next year. This year's subsidy is 20 cents.

The board approved the low bid of $2,840 from Bill Cragg of Fairgrove for drilling of a water well at the county Medical Care Facility as backup in case there are ever problems with the Caro water supply system.

Your neighbor says Other needs more important than jails

The U.S. Justice Department recently completed a study which reported Michigan's prisons are overcrowded, violent and racist -- conditions which violate inmates' constitutional rights.

Many of the state's prisons are in drastic need of repair. One legislator even said the Michigan State Prison at Jackson is so bad it should be torn down as a start toward upgrading the penal reform buildings.

Upgrading the system would require a great deal of taxpayers' money. According to Phyllis Cox of 4364 Leach Street, such an undertaking is not worth it.

"If you're being punished why should you expect the best?" she asked. "You're bringing it (a prison sentence) on yourself."

Mrs. Cox believes prison inmates should have "good food, a good, clean room and a decent place to sleep."

However, tax money should be funneled toward other areas which benefit more people first such as eliminating unemployment and repairing housing projects for the poor.

"I don't want them sitting in slums when they are in prison," she added, "but, I don't think prisons are a top priority. We've got to remember the people who live every day and make up Michigan. We have to do something for them first."

Mrs. Cox who has been a bus driver for the Cass City Schools for 18 years, believes part of the problem of overcrowding in prisons can be blamed on the state's high unemployment. The more people without jobs, the more crime is likely to occur.

She also feels education would help deter young persons from crime, and thus lessen overcrowding in prisons.

"Something has to be done to keep people from getting that far," Mrs. Cox noted. "The only problem is where do you start?"

60 attend Ballagh reunion

The annual Ballagh reunion was held Sunday at the Cass City Recreation Park with more than 60 persons present.

Orin Wright conducted the business meeting with Mary Ballagh reading the minutes.

Officers elected for the coming year were: president, Morgan Ballagh, Kinde; vice-president, Bill Blaylock, Bad Axe, and secretary-treasurer, Roxanne Somerville, Cass City.

Prizes were awarded to:

Oldest -- Fred Jaus, Bad Axe, 101 years.

Youngest -- Eric Brown, Cass City, 10 1/2 months.

Coming the farthest -- David and Carol Harris and family of Ionia.

Other prizes were awarded to Myrtle McColl, Christopher Lopez, Christina Harris, Billy Ballagh, Sonya Lopez and Bill Blaylock.

The 1984 reunion will be held the first Sunday in August at the home of Jim and Judy Brown, Cass City.

Trinity minister leaving

Rev. P. Thomas Wachterhauser, pastor of the Trinity United Methodist Church since June, 1979, announced to his congregation Sunday that he has accepted a position as associate minister at the First United Methodist Church in Ann Arbor.

His last sermon in Cass City will be Aug. 28.

The Ann Arbor church has 2,000 members and Rev. Wachterhauser will be one of a full-time staff of five -- a senior minister, two associate ministers and two directors of education.

Although he will be doing some regular ministerial duties, such as visitations, performing weddings, etc., his primary duties will be counseling, working with young single adults, and the committees that deal with missions and outreach and "church in society."

Rev. Wachterhauser said that although he requested the change and is looking forward to his new assignment, which he feels will be a good experience, "It was a real rough decision" to leave Cass City.

He doesn't know yet when the bishop will appoint a successor at Trinity.

Rev. Wachterhauser and his wife, Donna, have two children, Eric, 10, and Erni, 8.

3 on CMU honors list

Central Michigan University has announced its winter semester honors list, which includes three area students.

They are Karla J. Kretschmer, 7088 Main Street, Owendale, a sophomore; Harold D. Pritch, 8456 Huron Line Road, Gagetown, senior, and David J. Chard, 2858 Leslie Road, Decker, junior.

Honor students must be in the top 10 percent of their class, have completed 12 or more credit hours of classes and have a grade point average of 3.5 or better.

HEALTH TIPS

He who hesitates may end up dead

Though the death rate for heart disease has been declining in recent years, there is one fact that has medical authorities nationwide both concerned and frustrated: The average heart attack victim waits a shocking three hours before seeking help.

"This is a real tragedy," said Dr. Richard Antell, Flint internist and former president of the Michigan Heart Association, "because before that three hours is up, one out of two heart attack victims is dead."

"Of the 650,000 people expected to die of a heart attack in the U. S. in a year, 350,000 will die before reaching a hospital. We believe that perhaps as many as 175,000 could be saved if they took prompt action."

"Why does the average heart attack victim wait so long before seeking help? Many people don't know the symptoms of heart attack, and second, it is common for the person suffering the symptom to deny the possibility he is having a heart attack.

"Often when we ask people why they didn't seek help sooner, they would have felt foolish going to the hospital for what they thought might be a heart attack, only to be told it was 'only indigestion.'"

Dr. Antell continued, "If you feel an uncomfortable pressure, fullness, squeezing or pain in the center of your chest (which may spread to your shoulders, neck or arm), and if it lasts for two minutes or more, you could be having a heart attack."

"Severe pain, dizziness, fainting, sweating, nausea or shortness of breath may also occur. Sharp, stabbing twinges of pain, however, are usually not signals of a heart attack."

"At this point," Dr. Antell went on, "your life may depend on what you do. First, call the ambulance in your community immediately. Or, if someone can get you to a hospital faster in any other way, go. Don't refuse to accept the fact that you may be having a heart attack. Remember, if it isn't a heart attack, it doesn't matter. If it is, nothing matters more."

Bronc Riders do well at Sanilac fair

The seven-member Bronc Riders 4-H Club took home 15 ribbons from the Sanilac County Fair July 24-30.

Leading the group were Lisa Gornowicz, who took first place in cloverleaf and pole bending competition and second in showmanship, western riding, trail and reining; Kim Kidd, who was the winner in trail, and Tina Kidd, who finished second in pole bending.

For her performance, Miss Gornowicz, the daughter of Harold and Karen Gornowicz of Snover, has been chosen to participate in gymkhana class competition at the Michigan State Fair in August.

Crawford reunion draws 74

The annual Clayton Crawford family reunion was held Sunday in the Cass City Recreation Park with 58 members and 16 guests present.

It was the first time in eight years that all 10 children of the late Clayton and Anna Crawford were together. They are Arthur and Clare Crawford, Pontiac; Lew and Norman McCloy, Cass City; Marion McCloy, Detroit; Lessel Crawford, Auburn Heights; Milton Crawford, Bay City, and William Crawford, Phoenix, Ariz., who was visiting in the area for a week.

Others came from Cass City, Detroit, Marine City, Troy, Dryden, Bay City, Caro, Deford, Argyle, Pontiac and Gagetown. Among the guests was Father Robert Handley of Port Hope.

The oldest family member present was Arthur Crawford, 78. The youngest was two-month-old Grant, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gregory Frank of Cass City.

The 1984 reunion will be the first Sunday in August in the same place.

Power outage due to electric repair

The aftermath of the July 29 thunder and lightning storm was felt in Cass City and the area Monday with a power outage that lasted about 1 1/2 hours.

The power went off at 11:34 a.m. and was restored at 1:05 p.m., according to Ben Tallero, Detroit Edison director of customer and market services in Port Huron. He said 128 customers were affected in Cass City, Elkland and Novesta Townships. Some had power, but at reduced voltage.

A reclosure on a distribution circuit was damaged by lightning July 29, Tallero explained. Another one wasn't available then, so a lineman "jumped" the circuit to make a temporary repair.

The power was off Monday when a new reclosure was installed. A fuse mounted on the same pole, west of Brooker Street, blew, so was also replaced then.

New books at the library

LEGION by William Peter Blatty (fiction). Since the violent and mysterious death of his friend Father Damien Karras in The Exorcist, Lt. William Kinderman has enjoyed 12 years of tranquility. Then a small boy is murdered in a mock crucifixion, and Kinderman has the unsettling feeling that some long-slumbering evil has reawakened. With each new victim, Kinderman is thrust into a race to stop a murderer with an insatiable appetite for evil.

TENDER PREY by Patricia Roberts (fiction). Mary Stephens, the widowed mother of two little girls, answers a lonely-hearts ad in the Police Gazette and soon thereafter marries one John James, a man she knows little about. Alas, Robbie Wallace is his real name, and his subsequent abduction, asphyxiation, and dismembering of Mary's younger daughter, June, only reinforces an already menacing past history of similar behavior and stints in both Sing Sing and Bellevue. Wallace leaves no apparent clues in his murderous path, and Detective Jim Hackett is stymied for months in his attempts to solve the case, until a small, hand-carved wooden doll, looking ominously like June, arrives mysteriously on the family doorstep.

THE WORLD IS MADE OF GLASS by Morris West (fiction). Intrigued by an oblique note in Carl Jung's autobiography, West has written a novel in which he enlarges on Jung's enigmatic reference to an unnamed patient. In doing so, the novelist has generated a startling portrait of this august psychoanalyst at a critical period in his life, when he was plagued by his troubled relationship with his mentor Freud and by his unsettled professional and private lives. It is the soul and body of Jung's patient, called Magda here, that holds center stage in the novel.

Col. Wallace buried with honors

Col. Lee Wallace, U.S. Army (Ret.) was buried Friday with full military honors in the Grant Township Cemetery.

The rural Gagetown resident, 69, died suddenly Tuesday, Aug. 2, at St. Mary's Hospital in Saginaw.

He was born Oct. 5, 1913, in Grant Township, the son of George B. and Vina (McCart) Wallace. He married June Lang Aug. 2, 1946, in Newport, R.I.

He also received Philippine Liberation, World War II Victory, World War II Occupation and Bronze Arrowhead American Theatre ribbons.

Following the war, Wallace served at various posts in the United States and Middle East. He was a director of the Command and General Staff College, Fort Leavenworth, Kan., and was military attache in Iran and the United Arab Republic (Egypt).

The colonel then returned to Washington, D.C., where he was deputy commandant of the Defense Intelligence School in 1963-64 and commandant in 1965.

Wallace and his wife retired from the military in 1968 to the family farm in Grant Township after 32 years of service.

He was a member of Tyler Lodge No. 317, F and AM, Cass City, and a past member of the American Legion post in Caseville.

Wallace is survived by his wife; one son, Nick Wallace, Coral Gables, Fla.; one granddaughter, Sharon Lee, and one sister, Mrs. Dwight E. Turner, Fairport, N. Y. One brother preceded him in death.

A Masonic memorial service was held Thursday evening at Little's Funeral Home, Cass City.

Funeral services were conducted Friday afternoon at the funeral home by Capt. Gilbert R. Mabry, U.S. Army Reserves chaplain, from Flint.

At the cemetery, an honor guard from Fort Sheridan, Ill., performed the graveside flag ceremony, formed the firing squad and played "Taps." They also served as pallbearers.

The first postage stamps issued in the U.S. were issued in 1847.

COL. LEE WALLACE (1964 photo)

Wallace joined the Army in 1936. He served in the infantry in the Pacific Theatre during World War II and was in combat duty in the Aleutian Islands, southern Philippines, Ryukyu Islands and Marshall Islands. He was a regimental commander by the end of the war.

For his service during the war, he was awarded the Purple Heart, Silver Star and Bronze Star, all with one cluster; medals for Asiatic and Pacific service and American defense, and the Combat Infantry Badge.

Obituaries

MYRTLE MAE LUDLOW

Myrtle Mae Ludlow, 74, of Cass City died last Thursday at Provincial House after a long illness.

She was born April 14, 1909, in Sigel Township, Huron County, the daughter of Lester and Minnie (Parney) Miller.

Miss Miller married Herbert Ludlow Sept. 13, 1930, in Bad Axe. They made their home in Reese and Bad Axe before coming to Cass City in 1936.

Mrs. Ludlow was a life member of Echo Chapter No. 337, Order of the Eastern Star, Cass City; past president of the Cass City Study Club; a member of the Hills and Dales Hospital Auxiliary, and had attended the First Baptist Church.

She is survived by her husband; two daughters, Mrs. Koert (LaDonna) Lessman, Las Cruces, N.M., and Mrs. Dale (Irene) McCoon, Caro; one son, Lyle Ludlow, Greenville, Ohio; three brothers, Clarence Miller, Cass City, Roy Miller, Flint, and Irven Miller, Punta Gorda, Fla.; 11 grandchildren, and four great-grandchildren. One brother, Lester, preceded her in death.

Funeral services were conducted Saturday afternoon at Little's Funeral Home with Rev. John R. Wood of the First Baptist Church officiating.

Burial was in Elkland Township Cemetery.

DONALD L. HALEY

Donald L. Haley, 60, of Elkton, died Sunday, Aug. 7, in Bradenton, Fla.

He was born Aug. 7, 1923, son of the late Austin and Ruth (Brakenberry) Haley. Sept. 22, 1945, he married Florence Marshall in Bad Axe.

Haley founded Haley Oil Co., Elkton, in 1966, before retiring May 11, 1976. He farmed in Oliver Township for many years, had managed the Bad Axe Stockyard and worked as a self-employed livestock hauler.

He was a prominent member of First Baptist Church, Bad Axe, where he had served as a deacon and usher. Haley was past president of the Elkton Rotary Club, A World War II veteran, he was a member of the Disabled American Veterans. He served on the Oliver Township Fire Department for six years, Elkton Ambulance Service for five years, and the Elkton Village Council for 10 years, during which time he was Mayor Protem.

Surviving are his wife; three sons, Roger and Randy, both of Elkton, and Ralph "Will" of Saginaw; five grandchildren; a brother, Robert Haley of Elkton, and many nieces and nephews.

One brother, Aaron, and a sister, Marion Lewis, preceded him in death.

Funeral services were to be conducted Thursday, Aug. 11, at 2 p.m. from First Baptist Church, Bad Axe. Rev. Millard Heron will officiate with burial in Colfax Cemetery.

ANN SMITH

Funeral services for Ann Steimann Smith, 85, of Juhl, were held Saturday at the Marsh Funeral Chapel, Marlette. Officiating was Rev. Chris Anderson of the Hope Lutheran Church, Marlette.

Appeal

before the board is confronted with another situation similar to this one.

His concern is basically the same one he and Albee held at the May 19 meeting. At that time, both were afraid the board would be "deluged with many appeals" of the same nature.

GENOVESE ARGUED the situation concerning his property was unique because he and his wife had investigated all other alternatives, plus they have a written agreement to purchase Wood's vacant lot before anyone else, should it come onto the market.

"I want to make reasonable use of my land and I can't do it," he said. "It is not possible without seeking a variance. I have no other options."

His arguments and new case swayed the opinion of Mrs. Hopper, who had cast a "no" vote at the first appeal meeting, but Davis would not change his mind.

Davis felt, despite the couple's wishes, a two-car garage may not be a necessity. He also suggested the couple should have considered the fact that the house was built off the center of the property before buying it.

The house was erected in 1956, four years before Cass City adopted its present village ordinance.

Davis and Genovese had engaged in heated debate during the course of the 50-minute meeting.

When the board member cast his dissenting vote, the Genoveses stormed out of the Municipal Building's meeting room.

Film Sunday at Church

Renowned evangelist Billy Graham is the featured speaker in the film, "Crisis in the Home," that will be shown starting at 7:30 p.m. Sunday in the Evangelical Free Church, 4533 Weaver Street.

Admission is free. Dr. Graham offers six keys to a happy home and successful marriage, based on the teachings of the Bible.

Also featured is Dr. James Dobson, family counselor and author of several books, and his wife, Shirley, who talk about family life and suggest how meaningful communications can be restored.

Farm exports down in '82

Michigan agricultural exports fell 19.8 percent from a high of $938.4 million in 1981 to $752.6 million in 1982, according to the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

Reduced shipments of corn and soybeans accounted for most of the decline.

Farm exports decreased nationally during the same period from $43.8 billion to $39.1 billion.

Gagetown Area News

Gen Kehoe

Phone 665-2221

A reunion was held in Marysville City Park last Sunday and descendants of Mary and Leo Seurnyck gathered for a potluck dinner and reminiscing. Attending from this area were Mr. and Mrs. Muri LaFave of Owendale, Mr. and Mrs. Don Russell of Unionville, the Wayne Dillons, Mrs. Ruth Cummings of Essexville, and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Seurnyck.

Mr. and Mrs. George Prich Jr. were honored on the occasion of their 35th wedding anniversary when their children and grandchildren hosted a surprise party July 31 at the Masonic Hall in Sebewaing. Guests attended from Gibraltar, Bay City, Bad Axe and other points.

Sally and John Ellis and son Andy of Richfield, Minn., visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Hobart, for several days last week. They also spent time at the Baranich home in Fairgrove and the Ben Hobart home. Mike Ellis didn't accompany the family, since his Babe Ruth ball team, having won Minnesota State Championship, was competing in play at Delta, Colo. Wednesday, Phil and Mary Ann Reidinger of Rochester were dinner guests and spent the day with the Hobarts.

Carol "Terry" Kehoe Bieth of Highland visited Port Austin last Thursday where her son Mike was camping with friends and on her return, was an overnight guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kehoe.

The Owendale-Gagetown Senior Citizens Group met last Thursday in St. Agatha Church Hall with 46 members present. Twenty-seven blood pressure readings were taken. In the absence of president Elma Miklovich, Venita Kling conducted the business meeting, opening with the Lord's Prayer and salute to the flag. Last minute plans for a trip to Lexington were discussed. The afternoon was spent playing bingo. Lois Ouyry and Lloyd Finkbeiner won door prizes. Committee members Les and Millie Munro, Myrtle Nelson, Ann Fritz, Hazel Swaistyn, and Venita Kling served cookies and coffee.

Visiting Mrs. Mabel Ondrajka Wednesday were her daughter-in-law and granddaughter, Mrs. John Ondrajka and Krista of Marlette.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin McKinnon of St. Clair Shores spent Saturday afternoon and evening at the home of the Harlan Hobarts. Marvin is the son of the late Dan and Mildred McKinnon.

KING REUNION

Descendants of the family of Bill and Gladys King gathered Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Brady Hadsell in Birch Run for their fifth annual reunion. Eighty guests attended from near and far for the potluck dinner, games and visiting.

The eldest member present was Gertrude King Clement of Detroit and the youngest was 10-month-old Terry Goslin, grandson of Al and Eva Goslin of Unionville.

Attending from this area were Debbie and Doug Edler of Pigeon, Judy and Jon Shope, and Mr. and Mrs. Elery Sontag and of the 11 surviving Kings, eight were present. A special guest was Mrs. Frank Wrummel of Detroit, the former Nellie McDonald, whom many in Gagetown remember when she spent summers with her grandmother.

Bonnie and Bob Kozan, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Kozan of Cass City, and Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Walrod and Charlotte Slaughter enjoyed a trip last week to the furthest tip of the Kewanaw Peninsula, Cats Head Bay on the Grand Traverse.

Vincent J. Walsh of Bullhead City, Ariz., died Friday, Aug. 5, in Hurley Hospital, Flint. His funeral took place at the Colon Funeral Home, Caro, Monday morning and burial was in Memorial Gardens, Odessa, Tex. Walsh spent his formative years in Gagetown and graduated from Gagetown High School. He and his wife, the former Phyllis Parsons of Caro, were visiting their home areas at the time of his death.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Hobart visited Mrs. Mary Carolan in Bay City Sunday afternoon.

Miss Cory LaFave of Bay City celebrated her birthday Sunday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim LaFave, when Mrs. Lucille LaFave, Mrs. Gerry Carolan and Craig Carolan were guests for coffee and cake.

Mrs. Mary Blondell of Caro, Mrs. Lucille LaFave, Mrs. Mabel Ondrajka and Mrs. Maude Sarosky attended the brunch Sunday morning at the Methodist Church and played cards at Mrs. Sarosky's home afterwards.

Tom, John and Pat Kregger of Sandusky were overnight guests Sunday of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Munro, and took their grandfather golfing Monday.

Deacon and Mrs. Bud Kuhr spent a few days in Fenville with their son and daughter-in-law, Don and Dana Kuhr.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Comment of Rochester spent Friday with Ray's brothers and families, the Doug Comments and the Eugene Comments.

St. Agatha Catholic Church was the scene Saturday of the 2:00 p.m. wedding of Dawn Herron and Richard Hollis. Some of those attending the reception at Colony House were the Al Seurnycks, the Leo Seurnycks, Elger Generouses, Harry Kehoes, Gene Comments, Keith Goslins, Ben Hobarts, Bob Dunns, Jack Downings, Gerry Carolan and the Roy Messers.

Mrs. Sue Penrod spent last week visiting with her sister, Alma Binge, daughters, Pat Buffa and Diane Malipolski, and grandson Larry Mauk in Detroit.

The Lenhard family chose the Cass City village park for their second annual reunion Sunday. A potluck dinner was the feature of the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Walsh of Detroit spent several days at the Walsh farm on Walsh Road. On their return from a vacation in Gaylord, Mr. and Mrs. L.A. (Buzz) Murray of LaBelle, Fla., spent Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the farm, also.

The McKellar family reunion was held Sunday in the Gagetown Park with 42 attending. Guests came from Missouri and Florida and from Sandusky, Cass City and Pontiac.

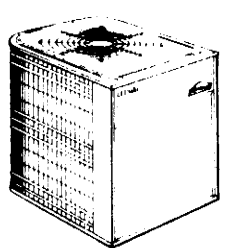

Kerry and Mary McKellar, accompanied by Bessie Kenney of Sandusky, visited Mr. and Mrs. Clayton McKellar in Marine City last Sunday. The Clayton McKellars were unable to attend the reunion because of the ill health of Mrs. McKellar.

Many area residents attended the funeral Friday of a long time Gagetown resident, retired Colonel Lee Wallace, at Little's Funeral Home, Cass City.

Mrs. Velma Helwig and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kehoe were callers at the home of Mrs. Carl Sieland in Caro Sunday.

At Tuscola County Fair

Area 4-H'ers show 2 grand champions

Cass City area youngsters had two of three grand champion livestock at last week's Tuscola County Fair. Two of the three grand champions sold for less money than they did last year. Al Leslie, 16, son of Dale and Audrey Leslie of Leslie Road, Decker, had the grand champion steer and Deanna Hutchinson, 13, daughter of Dean and

Nancy Hutchinson of Spence Road, Cass City, had the grand champion market lamb. Al is a member of the Cass City High School Future Farmers of America chapter and Deanna is a member of the Cass City 4-H Livestock Club.

Deanna saw her 137-pound Suffolk sold at Thursday afternoon's 4-H and FFA livestock sale to Gettel's Inc. of Sebawaing for $1.50 a pound, 90 cents less than the 1982 grand champion was sold for.

Her grand champion also formed half the grand champion pen. Her other lamb, also weighing 137 pounds, was purchased by Caro Building Center, for $1.50 a pound. Deanna was also the junior showman winner for market lambs.

Her brother, Scott, 17, had the reserve champion lamb, a 123-pound Suffolk, purchased by Erla's Food Center and Packing, Inc., Cass City, also for $1.50 a pound.

Forty-one lambs were auctioned off, four less than in 1982. The market price last Thursday was 45 cents a pound.

mental weighed 1,320 pounds.

Janelle, a member of the May-King 4-H Club, was senior showmanship winner in beef.

Other area winners and their buyers were Tim Rugles, May-King, first in homegrown steer (born and raised on the farm) and first in super heavyweight steer, 77 cents a pound (1,400 pounds), purchased by Kingston Insurance Agency and Donald J. Fraleigh Insurance, Caro; Jim Barnett, Cass City FFA, first in lightweight class, $1 a pound (1,055 pounds) by Erla's Food Center and Packing, Inc., and Fred Schoch, Cass City Livestock Club, first in light-lightweight, 75 cents a pound (965 pounds), Dr. Robert F. Green, DDS, Cass City.

Thirty-seven steers went on the auction block, one less than last year. The market price was 61 cents a pound.

pen and the champion homegrown pen. It was purchased for $1.80 a pound (250 pounds) by Frankmuth Bank and Trust of Richville. Bob Maurer Trucking bought the other half of the pen, a 240-pounder, for $1.50 a pound.

Lynn Knoll of Richville Livestock had the reserve champion pen.

The only non-Richville 4-H'er to win was Bob Battel of the Cass City Livestock Club, who had the reserve champion pen and the reserve champion homegrown pen, weighing 235 and 234 pounds. Caro Building Supply bought them both for 75 cents a pound.

A total of 145 hogs were sold Thursday, compared to 129 in 1982. The market price was 46-48 cents a pound.

SMALL ANIMALS

The second annual 4-H and FFA small animal sale took place Thursday morning at the fair.

Shannon Roach had the grand champion goat, a 67-pound Nubian-Toggenburg, which was purchased by Lazy Circle S Farms of Cass City for $2.50 a pound. Shannon, 11, is the daughter of Theron and Luana Roach of Gilford Road, Deford.

Other grand champions and the buyers were: Dan Schmalz, Unionville, pen of three rabbits, $10 a pound by Wickes Big Acre, Caro, total of 14 pounds.

Kelly Paul, Fostoria, pen of three fryers, $6 a pound by Steve Karpovich, total of 12.5 pounds.

Betty Jo Crittenden, Caro, turkey, $10 a pound by Wickes Big Acres, 16 pounds.

Stacey Braun, Kingston, pen of three ducks, $7 a pound by Wickes Big Acre, total of 21 pounds.

Ricky Colosky, Vassar, geese, $9 a pound by Pillsbury Co., 13.6 pounds. He also had the grand champion veal calf, purchased by Mayville Feed and Grain for $1.70 a pound. The animal weighed 318 pounds.

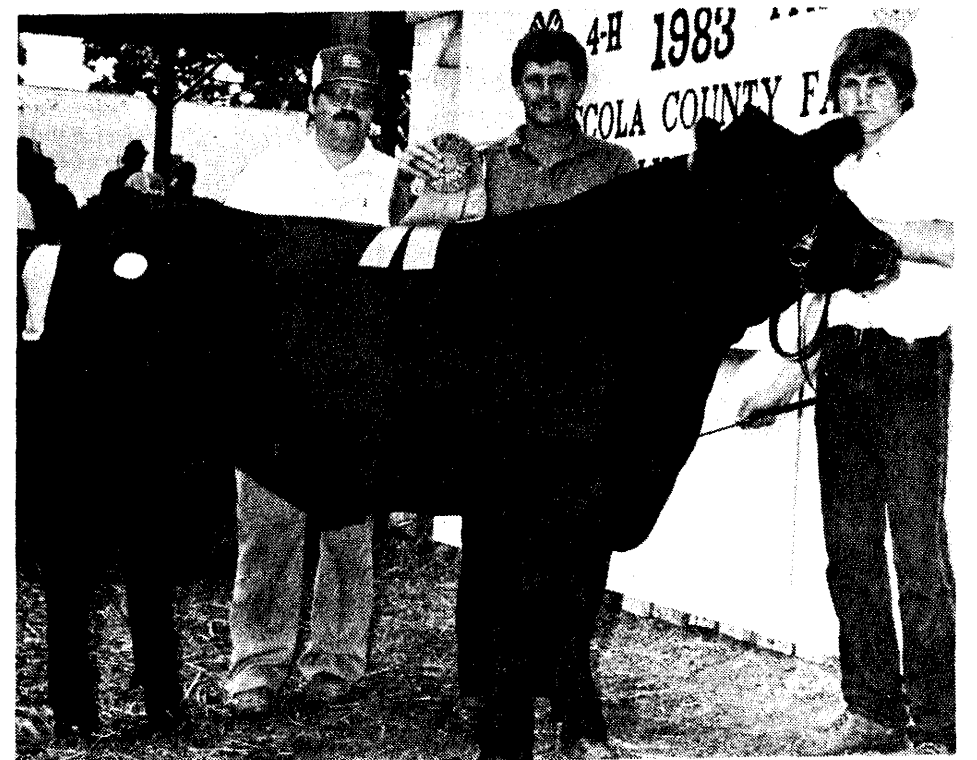

RESERVE CHAMPION — Dennis Rieck of Rieck's Auto Parts, Kingston, bought Janelle Daily's reserve champion steer at the Tuscola County Fair for 92 cents a pound. Janelle, 18, is the daughter of Jim and Beverly Daily of E. Sanilac Road, Mayville.

CHAMPION LAMBS — Deanna Hutchinson (right) of Cass City had the grand champion lamb, purchased by Lloyd Kuhl (right) for Gettel's of Sebawaing. It formed half of the grand champion pen, with the other lamb being purchased by Bob Hirn of the Caro Building Center. Holding the second lamb is Darlene Monroe.

RESERVE CHAMPION LAMB — Scott Hutchinson of Cass City had the reserve champion lamb at the Tuscola fair, purchased by Dan Erla of Erla's Food Center and Packing.

NEW CLASS

The "Early Five" class for students too young or not ready for kindergarten has 19 students for the fall, Jackie Freiburger, elementary principal, announced.

She also said that four of the written goals for courses have been completed and copies will be presented at the September meeting of the board.

High School Principal Russell Richards reported on meetings he attended to discuss directions schools should take in curriculum.

MAKES PROFIT

Students returning to school should not have to face an increase in prices. Supt. Donald Crouse reported that, according to the auditors, the hot lunch program will show a profit of over $5,000.

After hearing that report the board quickly okayed the third year of a contract with Canteen, Inc., which manages the program at the same rate as was paid for the last school year.

Hot lunch free or reduced price guidelines were adopted according to new guidelines received from the Department of Education. The money is reimbursed by the Federal government for the free meals. A complete schedule showing income qualifications will be published later as required to qualify for the program. The new guidelines make it possible for higher income families to qualify.

OTHER BUSINESS

The board voted for three directors for the Michigan Association of School Boards including Virginia Leipprandt from Laker School District, the only candidate from Thumb schools.

Truth in taxation hearing will be held before the regular board meeting Sept. 12.

Chris LaBerge was granted an unpaid maternity leave for 1983-84 school year. She will retain first rights to any opening for which she is qualified when returning. She will not be able to replace a teacher already in the system because of seniority, Crouse said.

Luke Taylor, son of the Arnold Taylors, staying in Evergreen Township, will be allowed to attend Campbell School.

Dick Wallace will represent the board on a committee with teachers to form a policy for honoring retiring school employees.

76 HORSES THAT WORK LIKE 100.

If you're looking for a 100-horsepower tractor, look at the Kubota M7950 instead. It's rated at 76 PTO.

But it works more like a bigger tractor. Because we build both our own diesel engine and fully synchronized transmission, the two are designed to work together perfectly. This exact match gives you a lot more pulling power.

And equipped with 4-wheel drive, you can get as much as 35% more pulling power. So take a look at the new Kubota workhorse, the M7950.

ALL STARS — Dan Glidden (left) and Dave Osentoski hold plaques they received for their participation in the third annual Michigan High School All-Star football game. They also received shirts, shorts, hats and jerseys.

Local football players shine in state high school all-star game

Two local gridders who were virtually unknown outside the Thumb made big contributions Saturday at the Michigan High School All-Star Football Game.

Among the 40 top players participating on the East team in the third annual contest were Dave Osentoski of Cass City and Dan Glidden of Owendale-Gagetown.

The May graduates made the best of their once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to help their team defeat the West stars 24-10 at Michigan State University's Spartan Stadium.

Glidden, a two-year all-state wide receiver, all but stole the show by hauling in three passes good for 153 yards and two touchdowns.

"It was like a dream for me," the 6-2, 192-pounder said about the touchdown receptions. "I didn't expect to have that good of a performance. All I hoped to do was catch a pass."

Osentoski, the former all-state Red Hawk fullback, also had a good day despite playing out of position.

"I was chosen for the defensive line but when I got there they put me at (offensive) guard which I haven't played since 11th grade," he commented. "For the first couple days I was all screwed up, but then it went okay."

Playing in the trenches where efforts often go unnoticed, he helped block out defenders giving East quarterbacks ample time to connect with their receiving corps members.

GLIDDEN AND OSENTOSKI had the distinction of being players from two of the smallest schools. Only two other teammates came from schools outside the Detroit area. Unlike the majority of the players, neither had been offered an athletic scholarship.

Both felt some apprehension about going up against their more celebrated peers. However, as soon as the equipment was donned, everyone's accomplishments and accolades were stripped aside. Surprisingly, the competition provided by the all-stars was not all it was cracked up to be.

"Sunday (July 31) was our first day in pads and I was scared," admitted Osentoski. "When I saw those big guys, I figured I would get creamed."

That was not the case for the 5-10, 180-pounder who added, "I thought I held my own pretty well." So must have the six-member coaching staff as they had him play half the game at a relatively foreign position.

"The quality of football was about the same as it is around here," he added. "They were quicker and do more than we do but they may have just a little more talent."

Glidden agreed. "I thought there was no difference from here, but they were a little bigger and faster," the ex-Bulldog said. "However, I got hit harder here than I did there."

DURING THE 10 DAYS they were at the MSU campus, their schedules were very busy. Morning and afternoon practice sessions, which compared to high school training, took up to five hours alone. Plus, the teams made visits to convalescent homes and children in local hospitals. Spare time was occupied by watching television and getting to know teammates.

"We (the East team members) were kind of close," Osentoski noted. "Everybody got along with everybody." He added he and Glidden had not met before playing in this game.

Almost 6,000 watched the aerial contest which featured 49 passes by both teams for a total of 390 yards. It's expected that more fans would have shown up if the game had not been scheduled to be televised.

Plans were made to broadcast the game throughout the state but, at the last minute, the deal was cancelled.

Coaches from Northern Michigan University did get a chance to see the game and liked what they saw. They were so impressed with Glidden's performance that they contacted him Monday morning about trying out for the Wildcats football squad.

He had originally planned on just taking classes at the Marquette school but is now considering the possibility of playing for NMU, which has a tradition of being an annual NCAA Division II power.

If he should make the team he would be carrying on a family tradition.

His brother Jim participated in the first all-star game two years ago before playing college football for a season at Ferris State College.

OSENTOSKI ALSO hopes to continue his football career this fall when he tries to join FSC's football team as a walk-on. He has talked with members of the coaching staff during the summer and is willing to play "wherever they find a spot for me."

For both, the game now stands out as a bright spot of their respective football careers -- so far.

"It was real rewarding for me and something I'll always remember especially with the way our (high school) season (3-6) went," Osentoski noted. "It was a real pleasure and honor to go play down there and be among 80 of the best players in Michigan."

"It was one of my highlights," Glidden echoed. "I've always dreamed of playing it since my brother did and I finally had a chance."

A chance is all these two virtually unknown gridders needed to make their presence felt among the state's finest players.

Should they try out for college ball later this month, that's all they will ask.

Based on their past performances, a chance is all they will need.

The hoatzin, a rare South American bird, has claws on its wings in addition to those on its feet. These claws help the young crawl about in trees.

Sanilac 4-H dog owners win 5 firsts

Four Sanilac County 4-H members received honors at the 1983 Michigan 4-H Dog Show July 30 at Michigan State University.

Michelle Lewis of Marlette took first place in both the novice and junior showmanship, 11 years old divisions; Monica Kietzke of Kingston took first place in junior showmanship, 14 years division; Amy Sly of Lexington placed first in junior showmanship for 15-year-olds, and Chris Wixson of Croswell placed first in junior showmanship for 16-year-olds. In addition, Sanilac County placed second in the team class.

Purpose of the annual event is to give young people an opportunity to demonstrate the skills they've learned and taught their animals through the 4-H Dog Project.

This year's event included obedience, showmanship, Leader Dog puppy, brace and team divisions.

Tuscola Fair attendance up

Paid attendance at last week's Tuscola County Fair increased compared to the 1982 fair.

By the time the gates closed Saturday evening, 15,809 persons bought tickets to attend the fair, plus 406 purchased passes good for the week.

The total of 16,215 compares to 15,776 paid admissions, including passes, at the 1982 fair.

The number of persons who actually attended the fair is far higher than that, since there is no way of counting the senior citizens who attended free until 6 p.m. Thursday, plus children 11 and under and 4-H exhibitors who get in free the entire week.

Fair Manager Walt Jackson feels attendance might have been a little higher if it hadn't been so hot, especially last Thursday which was Senior Citizens Day. Some of the senior citizens who would have come had the weather been cooler presumably would have come with persons who would have had to pay to get in.

Another potential deterrent was that the Bay County Fair was the same week.

Although more persons came to the fair this year, they didn't spend as much once they got there.

Total attendance for the evening grandstand shows was 7,158, compared to 7,792 who bought tickets last year. The big draws this year were the Friday evening demolition derby with 2,248 tickets sold, and the Monday evening mud wrestling, featuring the all-girl Chicago Knockers, which attracted 1,249.

The most poorly attended program was Tuesday evening, when only 215 persons bought tickets to see the Gay Nineties horse parade, Tuscola County bean queen pageant (Lori Humm of Fairgrove was crowned queen), Sheriff's Posse drill team and parade of 4-H livestock champions.

In addition to grandstand attendance being down, gross receipts from the midway rides and games was down by about $1,000.

O-G cheerleaders

between the varsity and junior varsity cheerleaders.

The board informally decided previously, member Donna Salcido explained to the 10 girls, that, "Without supervision, there will be no more cheerleading, it's as simple as that."

Monday, the board approved a resolution setting that as policy.

It also accepted Mrs. Salcido's offer to at least temporarily serve as the cheerleaders' advisor. Parents or others will be recruited to help her.

TEACHERS

The board accepted with regret the resignation of Joel Shaner, who had been music teacher less than a year. He has accepted a music teaching position at the University of Wisconsin - Milwaukee, which will also enable him to earn a master's degree in conducting.

It named Sandra Parks, who had been temporarily teaching home economics at the high school, as the kindergarten teacher, replacing Eva Rochefort, who retired.

It appointed Brenda Sue Parker, the new home economics and Spanish teacher, as the new girls' varsity and junior varsity basketball coach.

At its July 25 special meeting, the board granted leave of absence for the fall semester to high school business teacher Peggy Randall. Hired to replace her for the semester was Margot Cooley of Bay Port.

OTHER ITEMS

A 1983-84 school year calendar was approved. Classes begin Wednesday, Aug. 24. Christmas vacation will be Dec. 19 to Jan. 3; spring vacation, April 16-20. The last day of school will be May 31.

The board spent 35 minutes in executive session discussing the status of negotiations with teachers, who are represented by the Tri-County Bargaining Association. The last negotiation session was held Friday, Erickson said after the meeting that progress was made, but no date has been set for the next bargaining session.

The board authorized levying 26.75 mills on December tax bills for school operations, the maximum authorized.

Erickson reported that the $580,000 borrowed in tax anticipation notes has been received. Employees have now received two of the three paychecks they should have received but didn't while the district was temporarily out of money.

Elementary Principal Bill Britt was authorized to obtain bids for routing the sewer pipe outside the building to the septic tank. The present pipe runs under the gym floor. It broke and the resulting leakage caused some swelling of the gym floor, which will have to be repaired.

The board decided it will continue to allow juniors and seniors to study cosmetology at Howard's Beauty Academy in Caro and pay some and maybe all of their tuition during the school year. They will only be allowed to attend two hours a day, instead of the previous four.

The board approved a motion recognizing May graduate Dan Glidden, who scored two touchdowns in Saturday's all-star football game in East Lansing.

3-family reunion held

The 15th annual Mosack-MacDonald-Everts family reunion was held at the home of Mrs. Mildred Mosack in Gagetown Saturday, July 30, with 53 relatives and friends in attendance.

Those in attendance included the Gerald Kerbysons from Cass City; Joe Mosack family, Mentor-on-the-Lake, Ohio; Robert Mosack family, Cleveland; Gail Mosack family, Owendale, and the Jim Mosack family, Flint.

Also attending was Elizabeth MacDonald from East Grand Rapids. Other relatives came from Birmingham, Royal Oak, Saginaw, Flint, Owendale, Otisville, Linden, West Branch and Sebawaing.

Bocci ball, badminton and cards were played and a usual potluck dinner was enjoyed.

Next year's get-together will be held as usual on the last Saturday in July.

"I feel somewhat," Jackson concluded, "the people came, but evidently they didn't spend as much after they got here, but all in all it was a pretty good fair."

It is too early to tell how the fair did financially, but Jackson feels it will end up in the black. "The end result is we'll do quite well, but nothing outstanding."
