Area man hit twice by cars

The second time wasn't so lucky for Kennedy B. Smartt.

Smartt, 28, of Silverwood, was reported in critical condition Wednesday morning in the intensive care unit at St. Mary's Hospital in Saginaw, after being struck by a vehicle Tuesday night.

Tuesday night of last week, he was also hit by a car.

In the latest incident, according to the Tuscola County Sheriff's Department, Smartt was apparently standing on Saginaw Road, west of Mayville, when he was hit by the westbound vehicle driven by Max Palmreuter, 22, of Reese.

The driver told officers he first spotted the pedestrian from about 100 feet away and was unable to stop in time. The impact threw Smartt 122 feet. He landed on the shoulder of the road.

Smartt, who was wearing a black coat and pants, was taken to Caro Community Hospital, then transferred to St. Mary's. The accident took place at 8:18 p.m. The first time he was hit was at 8:46 p.m. Tuesday, March 27.

He was walking on M-24, northwest of Mayville, when he was hit by the northbound auto of Mary C. Bodeis, 29, of Mayville.

He was hit a glancing blow by the right side of the car's front bumper and was later treated at the Caro hospital for a reported broken leg.

Cass City Police Chief Gene Wilson, his wife and daughter, were witnesses to the first accident.

Novesta changes annual meet

Novesta Township electors voted at the annual meeting Saturday afternoon to abolish future annual meetings -- sort of.

They voted to combine the March, 1985, meeting of the township board with the annual meeting and hold them both on the third Saturday that month.

This year and past years, the board met the first Monday in March and the annual meeting was the fourth Saturday.

The meeting was attended by four board members and 10 electors. Trustee Arleon Retherford presided in the absence of Supervisor Bill O'Dell, who was ill.

Most discussion concerned roads.

Retherford reported O'Dell and Tuscola County Road Commission road superintendent Mike Gleason had surveyed the township's roads.

The estimate received to rebuild two miles of Shabbona Road to prepare it for blacktopping was $94,000, he said. Those at the meeting agreed all that is needed on the road is less costly grading, graveling and ditching, so an estimate for that will be obtained. The two miles are between Cemetery and Phillips.

Electors voted that the second priority should be grading, ditching and graveling of the one mile of Phillips Road between Severance and Shabbona.

The proposed 1984-85 budget that electors voted to accept earmarks $42,000 for road construction from the general fund, plus $6,000 in federal revenue sharing funds ($5,000 to be received this year, plus $1,000 remaining from 1983-84) to all.

SUNDAY DRIVE - With the temperature in the 50s Sunday and the sun shining, it was a nice day for a Sunday drive, which for Louis Langenburg of Koepfgen Road and his dog "Coolidge," meant a ride behind his two Percheron mares.

Good news for property owners

Center B Drain cleaning bid way under estimate

Several steps remain before property owners and governmental units will know their share of the cost of cleaning the Center B Drain and its branches, which are mostly in Elkland Township.

Cass City homeowners in the drainage district probably won't be assessed more than $60.

The good news is that the cost will be much less than was expected. Bids were opened Tuesday, March 27, for cleaning out the drains and cutting brush along the banks and were close to a third less than the engineer's estimates, according to Tuscola County Drain Commissioner Stanley Henry.

There will be no deepening, widening or straightening.

Lowest of 12 bidders for the Center B Drain project was John Corron of Pigeon, whose cash bid was $24,817.

For the Reid Drain, which flows into the Center B, and its branch, lowest of 10 cash bids was that of Randy LaFave of Caro at $9,988.

Corron had the lowest of 10 cash bids for Branch No. 1 of the Reid Drain and its branch at $10,965.

All contractors also submitted time bids, which were about 10-12 percent higher, according to Henry. If the time bids are accepted, the contractors will be paid over three years, which is why the bids are higher. Henry won't have to borrow money to pay them.

The contractors will receive all their money at once if Henry accepts the cash bids. Whether he does depends on the interest rates when he opens loan bids from banks this Friday.

Whether he chooses the cash bids with interest or time bids depends on which is cheaper. If the former, he must obtain approval from the county Board of Commissioners to borrow the money, review the bids to make sure they meet specifications, and the contractor must get insurance before Henry can award the construction contracts.

ONCE HENRY KNOWS whether the cash or time bids will be awarded, he has to apportion the total cost of the project among the county at large, two townships, village of Cass City, Michigan Department of Transportation, Tuscola County Road Commission, Grand Trunk Western Railroad and the benefitting property owners.

Property owners will pay about half the total cost, but the apportionment of the other half hasn't been determined yet.

Henry has until April 26 to decide who will be assessed how much, because on that day, everyone will be able to find out how much they will have to pay.

They can find out during what is called the day of review by going to the drain commissioner's office in Caro or by calling it at 673-5999, ext. 247.

Any property owners or representatives of any units who disagree with the assessments or apportionment of costs can appeal to Tuscola County District Court, but must do so within 10 days.

All property owners in the drainage district should have received a "drain notice" notifying them of the bid letting and day of review.

ASSESSMENTS ARE based on the amount of water that falls on the land, and the benefits to be gained, not on the valuation. For homeowners in Cass City, Henry said, the assessments won't be more than $60 each.

Payments of the assessments will be divided over

At annual meeting

Three Elkland officials receive salary increases

Electors attending the Elkland Township annual meeting Saturday afternoon approved salary hikes for the supervisor, clerk and treasurer.

Only 10 persons were present, including four board members.

It has been four years since the last salary increases, Clerk Norma Wallace said. The new salaries, proposed by the township board, were approved without controversy.

The supervisor's salary remains at $2,000, but the salary for his assessing duties was increased from $4,500 to $5,700.

The clerk and treasurer's salaries were both hiked from $5,000 to $6,200.

The two trustees didn't want an increase, so their salaries remain at $720 each.

1984-85 BUDGET

The proposed general fund budget presented Saturday for the new fiscal year that started the following day lists revenue and expenses of $161,219. That's an increase of $10,567 in revenue over 1983-84 and $10,282 in expenses.

The township finished the 1983-84 fiscal year with a healthy $181,921 in its savings account, of which about $120,000 was carried over to the new year, according to Treasurer Art Randall, and the rest is new tax revenue deposited for 1984-85.

The board projects spending $28,280 for road construction this year, compared to $71,760 in 1983, and $14,000 for road maintenance, an increase from $10,221 spent last year. $13,000 in federal revenue sharing funds is also budgeted for road work.

Almost all of the construction money last year was spent for paving three of the four miles of Schwegler Road between M-81 and Bay City-Forestville Road (the fourth mile was paved two years earlier) and the first mile of Koepfgen Road north of M-81.

The board hasn't decided yet on what roads it will have work done this year, Mrs. Wallace said.

OTHER EXPENSES

There is $14,000 budgeted for drains-at-large because of the pending Center B Drain project, a sharp increase from the $266 spent last year.

The other large general fund expenditure is $9,000 for ambulance service, primarily to cover the township's share for purchase of a new ambulance, scheduled for delivery soon.

The fire department budget, both revenue and expenses, is projected at $39,550, a slight increase from the $36,705 spent in 1983-84. Revenue consists of $23,900 in stand-by fees paid by other townships in which the Elkland Fire Department provides service, $14,591 transferred from the general fund and $300 in miscellaneous income.

The part-time fire chief's salary remains at $5,500 annually. Total pay for firemen is projected at $9,000. No major equipment purchases are expected.

The cemetery budget is projected at $24,825 in revenue and expenses. Revenue includes $6,000 from grave opening fees, $6,000 from sale of lots and $8,066 transferred from the general fund.

The sexton's salary remains $14,100 annually. Outside labor is expected to cost $3,500, about $1,000 more than was spent in 1983-84.

In addition to the $13,000 in federal revenue sharing funds earmarked for roads, $5,000 is budgeted to Cass City so that township residents can use the village-owned landfill.

It is expected the township will receive $12,000 in federal revenue this year, plus it has $6,000 left over from that source from last year.

The minutes of the regular February meeting were approved as presented.

The February financial statement was reviewed.

The Streets and Parking Committee reported that they met with Thomas Jackson regarding the rental of the parking lot and have arrived at an agreement but are still awaiting a reply from Gladys Fort for the other parking lot.

The committee also reported that a head count has been taken at Hillcrest Drive for school children crossing to determine the need for a sidewalk on the west side of Seeger Street. On separate counts the most was 6 and the least 3. The committee will look further into the problem.

The Public Utilities Committee reported that plans concerning the landfill should be completed by the end of April.

Plans were reviewed for the re-construction of North Seeger St. from the old village limits to the new village limits. A motion was made by Trustee Helwig and supported by Trustee Stahlbaum to approve the plans. Motion carried 6 years 0 nays.

A motion was made by Trustee Stahlbaum and supported by Trustee Hampshire to authorize the advertisement for bids on curb and gutter and blacktopping for North Seeger as soon as spec books are received and the date of such be determined by Lou S. A LETTER OF THANKS
TO OUR VILLAGE
GOVERNMENT

Cass City Village Government
6737 Church Street
Cass City, Mich. 48726

Dear Village Council:

The Cass City Development Corporation would like to thank the Village Office, the Village Council and Lou LaPonsie, under the leadership of President Lambert Althaver, for their complete cooperation with our efforts to develop Cass City.

The village officers have spent countless hours promoting our village. They have obtained grants to help us defray the cost of printed material extolling the virtues of Cass City. Another grant they obtained was to help with the expense of a water and sewer system at our industrial site. (When the facilities were being installed our village management again offered their expertise and were on the site to see that the job was done properly.)

The Cass City Development Corporation is especially pleased with the advice and guidance the Village has given us in the past. We feel very strongly that our village is a better community and has more to offer, directly due to the efforts of our village government. Their indepth thought to the future of Cass City has provided us with a very large and active Park Program, a new and very able Waste Water Treatment Plant, and a fine street system with another major improvement coming in the summer.

The Cass City Development Corporation would like this letter read before the Council at the earliest possible Council meeting.

Yours truly,

Cass City Development Corporation

Methodists to host 20 for mission

The congregation of Salem United Methodist Church will participate in a lay witness mission Friday through Sunday.

Theme for the mission is "to sow new seeds, deepen one's roots, and grow up and outward in one's Christian faith and fellowship."

The mission will be conducted by a team of about 20 lay persons from all over the state. They come at their own expense, often giving up a day of work. Members of the local congregation host the team in their homes.

Following potluck meals at 6:30 Friday and Saturday evenings, general sessions of the entire congregation will be held. Saturday morning will be spent in smaller coffee hour groups held at several homes.

The team will be in charge of both the Sunday School and worship services Sunday.

Sunday afternoon, following a noon luncheon for the team, committee chairmen of the church will meet to evaluate the mission, and to set goals for the future of the church.

Ann Milligan has served as general coordinator for the lay witness mission and was assisted by several committee chairmen. Plans began in late fall and have been developed throughout the winter months.

Anyone is welcome to attend the general sessions.

Easy money

By Mike Eliasohn

Oh darn. Ed McMahon introduced the winner of $2 million in the American Family Publishers sweepstakes on the Tonight Show Friday and it wasn't me.

The woman seemed very calm, but why shouldn't she be, knowing she will never have to work again.

The woman, by the way, was from Michigan, although McMahon didn't say from what town, presumably for her own protection.

That probably is the major disadvantage of winning a super big prize in a sweepstakes or lottery. Suddenly, everyone is your friend, a long-lost (and needy) relative or has a kid who needs an operation to save his life.

It's a disadvantage I'm willing to put up with. Maybe there's still hope in the next sweepstakes.

If I win, the way you will find out about it is when my name and photo don't appear at the top of this space. To heck with the "dignity of work." If I win $1 million or $2 million, I'm going to explore the dignity of early retirement. I'll wave as I drive by in my Ferrari (at 55 miles per hour).

Unfortunately, very few persons ever win cash prizes big enough to allow them to retire or even

VFW sets first Cass City meet

The Veterans of Foreign Wars will conduct a "non-formal" meeting Tuesday, April 10, for persons interested in joining a new Cass City post.

It will start in the basement of the Wildwood Farms restaurant on M-53, south of M-81, at 7:30 p.m.

District Commander Dennis Robert of Akron will talk about the VFW.

Prospective members and their spouses are invited. Coffee and doughnuts will be served.

Veterans interested in joining who are unable to attend the meeting can call acting commander Jerry Sugden at 872-3708 or acting quartermaster Dave McNaughton, 872-4061, in the evening.

Sugden said about 25 veterans so far have indicated interest in joining a Cass City VFW post.

enough to buy a new car that costs a tenth of what a Ferrari costs.

Since most of us are too honest to turn to illegal means of getting rich, too unskilled to be professional athletes and too untalented to be entertainers, the only other way to get rich is hard work.

Unfortunately, there are many jobs that require hard work, but offer no means of getting rich. At best, they provide a means of earning a comfortable living.

Being a writer, I suppose I could write the Great American Novel, but I don't have the ambition. I could spend thousands of hours writing it and then not even be able to get a publisher to print it.

I have thought of several plots for novels. My problem is I can't think of anything else to write.

Maybe I could write a book entitled "1,001 Plots for Novels."

One rich person I admire is Jane Fonda. For a woman who is or was an anti-capitalist, everything she does seems to turn to money. Her exercise videotapes are the biggest sellers of all. Her first royalty check for her "Workout Book" was $3 million.

Her husband, by the way, illustrates a way to get rich quick and easy. Marry someone with money.

That's a lesson her husband, Tom Hayden, probably was never taught in economics classes at the University of Michigan.

The Haydens, or Fonda-Haydens if you prefer, illustrate one of the pleasant difficulties about being rich. It's possible to make so much money that the only way to get rid of it is to spend much of it frivolously and invest the rest — which results in making more money.

I read once that the Haydens, in order to ensure that their children had a normal upbringing, lived in a very middle class house in, as I recall, Santa Monica, Calif.

The last thing I remember reading about that subject was that they were having a house built in Santa Monica at a cost of $1 million.

Now their kids can grow up to be normal millionaires.

That's another way to get rich easy. Be born that way.

Five car-deer crashes occur on area highways

Deer have been coming out of the woods the last several days, to their misfortune and that of the drivers whose vehicles hit them.

The first of several such accidents was reported by sheriff's deputies at 10:30 a.m. Monday, March 26. Gayle Rae Griffiths, 33, of 2813 Froede Road, Kingston, was northbound on Froede, south of Rossman Road, when her car hit one of the animals.

Three were reported Sunday, the first at 2:35 p.m. by deputies when Frank B. Galubenski, 59, of 5740 Bevens Road, Kingston, was northbound on Murray Road, south of Gilford Road.

Cass City police said that Karen Ann Mayer, 32, of 1608 N. Main Street, Snover, was eastbound on M-81, west of Schwegler

Community singers to perform 2 concerts

The Tom Thumb Singers will present their spring program, entitled "The Sounds of America" Saturday and Monday in the Cass City High School cafeteria.

The programs begin at 7:30 and are free, though donations will be accepted.

The music will represent several different facets of American life, from the poems of Robert Frost to the most popular tunes from television commercials. In addition to several selections featuring soloists from the choir, there will be specialty numbers and skits.

The Tom Thumb Singers consists of 56 members ranging in age from 9-70. The group is supported by community donations, the United Fund, and by the choir members themselves.

They are directed by Andrea Hofmeister and accompanied by Carol Kersten.

The choir rehearses once a week throughout the winter months and ends the season with these concerts in April. The members plan to perform again for the July 4th Festival in Cass City and invite the public to rehearse and sing with them for that celebration.

Road, at 7:45 p.m. when her auto collided with a deer.

Terry L. Czekai, 18, of 7279 Elmwood Road, Cass City, was westbound on Elmwood, west of Krapf Road, at 10:15 p.m., deputies said, when his car hit a deer.

At 7:30 p.m. Monday, according to deputies, Robert R. Walker, 35, of 5325 Dorrance Road, Kingston, was eastbound on Deckerville Road, west of Plain Road, when his vehicle hit a deer.

OTHER ACCIDENTS

David C. Ashmore, 68, of 4599 Oak Street, was ticketed by Cass City police on a charge of failure to yield after a 3:15 p.m. accident Friday.

They said he was backing northbound out of a driveway onto Huron Street, east of Oak, and backed into the right side of an eastbound auto driven by Thomas D. Fulcher, 33, of 4759 Hospital Drive.

At 7:28 p.m. last Thursday, village police said, Milton F. Hofmeister, 68, of 4307 Hobart Road, Gagetown, was too far to the left when he turned right from eastbound Main Street onto Sherman Street and collided with another eastbound car that was closer to the curb.

Driver of the other car was Connie L. Allen, 34, of 6787 Third Street.

UPDATE
Mabel Lenda of Cass City, injured in a March 25 accident when her car struck a tree, remained in serious condition Wednesday morning at St. Mary's Hospital in Saginaw, but was no longer in the intensive care unit.

THAT LOST ITS DREAMS AND A BIG-CITY KID

Three grass fires reported in two days

There was a sure sign of spring Sunday, two grass and brush fires.

Another such fire took place Monday.

The first was reported at 11:50 a.m. at the southeast corner of Cass City and Hurds Corner Roads on property owned by Ron Gibelyou.

He has a Cass City phone number, so called the number for the Elkland Township Fire Department, which responded first.

The fire was in the Elmwood Township Gagetown department's territory, however, so that department also responded. Elkland firemen almost had the fire out by the time the Gagetown firemen arrived.

Elkland Assistant Fire Chief Milt Connolly said Gibelyou was burning grass and brush and the fire got out of control. About a half-acre burned before the fire was put out.

The second fire was reported at 3 p.m. along

Severance Road, a quarter-mile east of Cemetery Road on property owned by Joann Osantowski.

Connolly said the fire was started by children, apparently playing with matches. About a half-acre along the ditch bank burned before Elkland firemen were able to extinguish the fire.

The Monday fire was reported at 12:50 p.m. on the east side of Decker Road, about 1½ miles north of Shabbona.

Cause of the fire was undetermined, said Elkland Fire Chief Jerome Root Jr., but it did start near an area where trash is dumped. There are no buildings on the property, which is owned by a Mrs. Taylor of Saginaw. The fire was discovered by Clair Auslander, who lives across the road.

Because of the rough terrain, firemen couldn't use their trucks and had to swat out the flames with brooms. About 5-6 acres of grass and brush burned. Firemen were there about one hour.

State poor on affirmative action

By Warren M. Hoyt
Mich. Press Association

State departments have done poorly on affirmative action programs during the most recent review period, according to a recent report by the Michigan Equal Employment and Business Opportunity Council (MEEBOC).

Lieutenant Governor Martha Griffiths, chair of the council, said only four of the 24 departments or state agencies monitored received "good" or "satisfactory" ratings, while 11 were listed as "improving but not satisfactory" and seven were rated "unsatisfactory."

Two groups — the Michigan Employment Security Board of Review and the Department of State Police — were not rated as they had no opportunity to hire or promote during the period. However, their past practices were also listed as unsatisfactory, according to the MEEBOC report.

No state department or agency received an outstanding mark in its affirmative action performance rating during the May 1, 1983, through Jan. 15, 1984 period.

Receiving a good rating were the Office of Services to the Aging within the Department of Management and Budget and the Department of Social Services.

Satisfactory ratings went to the Department of Civil Rights and the Michigan State Housing Development Authority.

The 11 entities which showed improvement but were still not satisfactory in the rating were the Departments of Agriculture, Civil Service, Commerce, Corrections, Education, Labor, Mental Health, Public Health, Transportation and Treasury and the Michigan Employment Security Commission within the Department of Labor.

Unsatisfactory ratings went to the attorney general, auditor general, the lottery bureau, and Departments of Licensing and Regulation, Management and Budget, Natural Resources and State.

The performance ratings were based on the number of opportunities for hires and/or promotions at level 15 and above (over $28,000 annual salary level) within the review period and current department representation of various minority groups.

Griffiths called the departmental affirmative action performance rating unconscionable and said their records will be corrected. "The days of excuses are over," she declared.

Millions of people are afected by these minor skin disorders every year. But if you plan ahead and bring along some basic medication, these small hazards won't disrupt your outdoor fun. There are a number of relatively inexpensive non-prescription products available from your local pharmacy that effectively ease the pain, itch, suffering and inflammation of minor skin irritations.

Outdoorsmen should know emergency medical care

Medical authorities advise that anyone taking part in outdoor recreational activities possess a basic knowledge of first aid procedures. An American Medical Association spokesman recently commented that "preparation and common sense" are an outdoorsman's most important allies and added that "it is also essential to know how to quickly summon emergency medical care in case of a major accident, no matter where you are in the outdoors."

According to the National Safety Council in Chicago, it is estimated that there are more than 6,000 fatalities reported in the United States annually in connection with hunting, hiking, boating, fishing, swimming and camping accidents.

Of course, only a small percentage of the millions of people who enjoy the outdoors are ever faced with a serious accident. But the rest of us still encounter a host of everyday problems that go hand-in-hand with enjoying the pleasures of nature — namely such annoying irritations as sunburn, insect bites and poison ivy.

As anyone who spends time in the outdoors knows, these nagging little skin problems can ruin your relaxation and fun. Be smart. Plan ahead. You can't always avoid these hazards, so be prepared. Before you pack up your gear and go off to challenge the great outdoors this summer, stop by runs a game, the team can be in the fight for the title, Schelke feels.

The race promises to be a wide open affair. Schelke sees Vassar, North Branch and Bad Axe as the teams to beat.

What the Hawks must do this season, Schelke feels, is improve at the plate. The last two years the Hawks have had a team batting average under .250.

If Cass City can improve enough to score four to six

Schelke says the strength of the team is its defense. There are seven players back that started at one time or another last season.

Pitching will be a major concern. Gone is Rick Pobanz, one of the starters last season. Finding someone to help Randy Nicholas on the mound will be a top priority.

Anchoring the team will be these lettermen: Paul Hutchinson, third; Joe Langenburg, outfield; Pete Martin, catcher, and Brian Adkins, first base and catcher.

Besides Pobanz, Terry Czekal at second, Barry Lapp in the outfield and Fred Zawilinski at first must be replaced.

Grezeszak: Hawks will challenge for title

No miracles needed for boys to cop league toga

If the Cass City boys' track team just goes out and does what it is capable of, Coach Doug Grezeszak says, it can win the Thumb B Association title. No miracles are needed.

The Hawks finished second last year and lost only two seniors who were important point producers. Tim Smith was on the 440, 800 and mile relay teams and also ran sprints. Kirk Wischmeyer was on the 880 relay team and ran the 330-yard low hurdles.

Among the 12 returning lettermen is Greg Bliss, state runner-up in the two mile and team captain. Mike Middaugh, hurdler and long jumper who was voted co-most valuable player with Bliss last season, is counted on, as is Kevin Bliss, whose work in the distances earned points for Cass City. Jeff LaBelle, Joe Viney and Dan Smith, sprinters and relays, also are letter winners who earn points for Cass City.

There are several underclassmen who are expected to help the team. These athletes have reported for track for the first time. Dave Dorland in the shot and discus, Duane Richmond in the high jump, hurdles and middle distances, and Bryan Beecher in the sprints are making an impression on the coaches.

Scott Hurford is expected to give the Hawks a threat in the high hurdles for the first time since Todd Comment graduated.

There are 19 freshmen out for the team. Grezeszak is high on the group's potential. Notables are Dan Ware in the hurdles, Russ Auten and Kurt Bliss in the distance and Pete Leiterman in the sprints and long jump.

Grezeszak feels that Vassar will be the team to beat in the Thumb B, with Caro and Marlette also challenging.

This year's regional is at Saginaw Carrollton and appears to be on the weak side. A first place finish there is a definite possibility, Grezeszak points out.

The two-mile relay also favors Cass City with its top distance runners. The Hawks are powerful in the distances, but the sprinters have yet to prove themselves, judging by past performances.

Girls' track team seeks 4th straight league title

Things will be different at Cass City High School track meets this spring. No longer will it be a foregone conclusion that the girls will win.

That's because Cass City lost a host of outstanding performers by graduation headed by Carrie Lautner, now running for UCLA.

She was third in the state in the mile and second in the two-mile after setting state marks in the two-mile the previous year.

Also gone are Tracy Green, a 440 and 880 relay team member and sprinter, and Michelle Fahrner, outstanding middle distance runner and shot putter.

Tami Stimpfel and Chris Westerby, big point winners for the Hawks in 1983, are also lost. These girls ran an undefeated Thumb B Association record while winning the regionals and finishing 7th in the state last season.

That's a staggering loss of talent, says Coach Doug Grezeszak, but we have 16 returning letterwomen, many of whom would have been number one last season at other schools.

Going into the season, Marlette and Vassar are the title favorites, but Grezeszak refuses to concede anything to other schools.

The reason for Grezeszak's optimism is the talent returning and the addition of the two-mile relay for the first time this season.

The performance of the girls in cross country indicates that the Hawks will be strong in this event, Grezeszak feels.

Top performers among the 16 letter winners are Lori Calka and Jamie LaRoche, who sprint, long jump and run the 440 and 880 relays. Lynn Schmidt is the defending league champ in the high jump and Dawn Schmalz is a good hurdler.

The coach is expecting point production from Jeanne Marshall, middle distance; Cathy Britt and JoAnn Steely, shot and discus; Gilly Bryant, middle distance; Chris Tuckey, distance; Tracy Grindy, high jump and middle distance, and Lisa Meyer, low hurdles and middle distance. There is also a sharp group of freshmen on the team.

With three league titles in a row behind them, Grezeszak said the team's goal this spring is to make it four in a row.

Third row: Andrea Ridge, Jeanne Marshall, Gillian Bryant, Dana Zdrojewski, Lisa Meyer, Shelley Nicholas, Julie Sugden, Tracy Grindey.

Fourth row: Lorie Hurley, Lori Calka, Susie Sheldon, Jamie LaRoche, Lynn Schmidt, Kerry McGrath, Cathy Britt, Angie Otulakowski. Absent were Denise Anker, Angie Wright and Lori Papp.

Lamotte 4-H tops for month

The Lamotte 4-Stars are Sanilac County 4-H club of the month.

The club was organized about 27 years ago. The name "4-Stars" was chosen to represent the four county schools (Fox, Moshier, Parker and Pidd) in Lamotte Township.

In the early years, projects such as gun safety, cooking, vegetable and flower gardening, wood-working, sewing and canning were popular among the members.

For many years, club members helped in the community by cleaning out weeds in the Moshier Cemetery before Memorial Day. Club members also cleaned ditches around the township.

For the past 12-15 years, Christmas caroling for elderly residents has been a part of its activities. Members go to the homes of about 15 residents in the township to sing carols and leave a small Christmas box.

For a few years, the club helped the Lamotte Township Auxiliary at its children's Halloween party by setting up a maze one year and a hay ride another year.

Some members have earned county awards. Peggy Walkowski was awarded the Citizenship Washington Focus trip one year. The Spring Achievement Citizens Federal award in sewing and knitting were awarded to Nancy and Peggy Walkowski one year. Lori Thomas, Vanessa Fishell, Lora Potter and Mary Lou Fields have been recipients of awards at Fall Achievement. Some members have attended Exploration Days in past years. 4-H summer camp has also been a part of some club members' summer activities.

This year, Monica Janes will attend the 1984 Citizenship Washington Focus trip in June. A club member is a counselor-in-training for 4-H Camp.

The club is also working on raising its share of funds for the fairgrounds Eatstand Building Fund. Its goal is a "Mile of Dimes." If it succeeds, it will have raised over $8,000.

Club members are involved in many craft projects, such as macrame, Tri Chem painting, cross-stitch, and candlewicking. They are also involved with cooking, cake decorating, sewing, knitting, rabbits, vegetable and flower gardening.

They are hoping to become involved this year with community service projects in the township. Members are becoming more involved also with 4-H camp, Exploration Days, Performing Arts Troupe and other county projects and are looking forward to the 4-H fair this summer. The Lamotte 4-Stars are always looking for new members and leaders. If interested call the administrative leader, Mrs. Vivian Janes at 635-7798.

Senior citizen forum Monday

The Region VII Area Agency on Aging (AAA) is sponsoring a series of community forums in April to enable older persons, public officials and others to comment on issues that concern them.

In the Thumb area, the community forum will be Monday at the Good Shepherd Lutheran Church, 6820 E. Main Street, Cass City, from 1-3 p.m.

"We hope to accomplish two things this year," said Becky Reimann, AAA assistant director. "First, we plan to use the forums as an opportunity to promote the theme of the upcoming Senior Power Day, which is 'A Celebration of Aging: Growing in Numbers, Power, and Votes.'

"Secondly, the comments we receive from those attending the forum will be studied by area agency staff and board committees as we start to work on updating our area plan for fiscal year 1985." The agency serves 14 counties.

This year marks the ten year anniversary of Michigan's Senior Power Day and also the 10-year anniversary for most area agencies on aging in Michigan.

Your neighbor says

Longer school year won't help pupils

As a fourth grade teacher at Ubyly Elementary School and a teacher for 30 years, Rosalie Walsh has some thoughts on education and the various educational reforms that have been proposed lately.

One suggested change she doesn't feel would produce the results its backers think it would is a longer school year. "I think they (students) give up learning May 1."

She doesn't feel a longer school day is necessary, at least not in this area. "I think in the Thumb here, our schools are putting in a full day."

Rather than add more math and science courses, she suggested the problem might be that not enough students enroll in the courses offered now.

How to improve children's education? "I think parents are wrong if they don't use facilities that are available," Mrs. Walsh responded.

Parents sometimes reject having their children take remedial math or reading or other such aid. "It is a help," she said of such remedial programs, "because it takes a student from where he is to where he can achieve."

Mrs. Walsh advocated having a child repeat a grade if that will help. One of her students this year repeated third grade, "and now he's doing fine."

If a student doesn't learn the basics in the early grades, he or she will always be behind, she said. Repeating a grade in order to learn the basics is like, "When you do learn to walk, there's nothing going to stop you."

The teacher was asked about requiring high school seniors to pass a competency test in order to receive a diploma. The difficulty in writing such a test, she commented, is that "so much depends on what they (students) are going into."

Mrs. Walsh and her husband, Louis, a dairy farmer, live at 3580 Cumber Road, Ubyly. They have three children: Rachel Maurer, Snover; Rebecca Cregeur, St. Louis, Mo., and Rodney, who attends Delta College, and one grandchild.

O-G musician in all-state band

Owendale - Gagetown High School was represented in an all-state high school band when it performed at Western Michigan University Friday.

Known as the James Curnow All-Star Band, the 120-member ensemble consisted of the finest musicians representing over 60 high school bands from throughout the state of Michigan.

Owen-Gage was represented by tuba player Bruce Ricker.

Over 200 students were nominated by their high school band directors for seats in the band, which was conducted by nationally-recognized composer James Curnow, and Richard Suddendorf, director of bands at WMU.

A special committee of professors from WMU's School of Music subsequently selected those who had the opportunity to rehearse and perform in the band.

The day-long schedule of events was part of the 16th annual Spring Conference on Wind and Percussion Music. The evening concert featuring the Curnow Band was in Miller Auditorium.

At annual meetings

Township officials voted salary increases

Pay raises for all or some officials were approved by electors attending six of eight area annual meetings Saturday.

There was discussion in a few townships about abolishing the annual meeting, but all decided it was worth continuing.

Many townships had a big surplus at the end of the 1983-84 fiscal year to carry over to the new year, which started Sunday, one reason being the state caught up last year on its delayed revenue sharing payments, which it postponed making during its financial shortfall before passage of the state income tax increase.

The primary action at all the annual meetings was presentation of the budgets for the 1984-85 fiscal year.

TUSCOLA COUNTY

ELMWOOD -- The 1984-85 budget projects revenue of $168,358 and expenses of $104,387. Revenue includes a carryover of $64,000 from 1983-84.

Salaries remain the same except for the treasurer, who receives a raise to $3,500, the first since 1979. Other salaries are: Supervisor, $1,500 plus $3,500 for assessing, and trustees, $30 per meeting plus $150 a month.

It is anticipated $53,000 will be spent for roads this year, including $8,000 in federal revenue sharing, according to Clerk Joanne Sattelberg. Rebuilding of two miles of Green Road between Hoppe and Bay City-Forestville are to be done this year. The two miles south of Hoppe were done last year.

Also planned are graveling the 1 1/4 miles of Hobart Road between Walsh and Green and one mile of Doser between Cass City and Dickerson Roads, plus grading. Graveling on some other roads may be done.

Elmwood spent $44,200 on roads last year, including $9,301 in federal revenue sharing.

Other large expenditures in 1984-85 include $3,397 for the use of the Cass City landfill by township residents and $1,337 ($1 per capita) for the Rawson Memorial Library in Cass City.

The fire department budget, from the special half-mill levy, is $8,300 for equipment and $6,000 for operations.

Vietnam vets sought for parade

Frank Kietlyka of Lamton Road, Decker, is recruiting Vietnam War veterans to march in the Cass City Fourth of July Festival parade.

He said he marched with 1,100 Vietnam veterans in a July 4th parade last year in Southfield and would like to get a large number to march in Cass City this year.

Interested veterans are invited to call Kietlyka at 872-4132 after 7 p.m.

The seven electors plus board members voted to continue to hold the annual meeting.

It was decided a railing will be installed along the outside steps of the village-township hall.

It was announced Bill Winchester is the new sexton for the township cemetery.

The depository for township funds will continue to be the Gagetown branch of the First of America bank.

Township meetings will be on the third Wednesday of April, June, August, October, December, January, February and March, all starting at 7:30 p.m.

ELLINGTON -- The township has $210,162 available in 1984-85, of which $148,069 is carryover from last year and $62,093 is new revenue. Expenditures in the new fiscal year are being projected at $186,162.

Of that, $150,659 may be spent for roads, plus all of the township's federal revenue sharing funds of $6,171.

The township has one mile of Murray Road between Deckerville and Gifford Roads and a half-mile of Jacob Road between Dutcher and M-81 ready for paving this year.

Also a high priority this year is to finish grading and ditching of the one mile of Akron Road between Green and Hurds Corner.

The township board hasn't discussed yet what other road work might be done this year, according to Clerk Clayton Turner.

The supervisor received a pay raise, including assessing, to $6,000, from the previous $5,258. Other salaries stay the same: Clerk and treasurer, $3,576 each, and trustees, $800 each.

There is $1,200 budgeted for elections and $494 for library services.

The three-quarter mill levy for fire protection expired with last December's tax bills, so that will have to be voted on in an election this year. The board will also have to decide whether to put a road millage on the ballot, Turner said. The old levy expired two years ago.

An informal decision was made after discussing it to continue to hold the annual meeting.

Fourteen or 15 persons, plus board members, attended.

KINGSTON -- The new budget lists $119,372 in proposed expenditures and that amount in revenue, of which $50,673 is listed as invested income.

Of that, $60,000, plus $6,000 in federal revenue sharing funds, is budgeted for roads.

The township board is getting bids from the Tuscola County Road Commission and private contractors, Clerk Victoria Wolak said, for graveling portions of Englehart, White Creek, Rossman, Silvernail, Clothier and Dodge Roads, a total of 10 miles, plus ditching along Phillips Road.

The Road Commission and drain commissioner were the subject of much criticism because of what some persons felt has been a lack of adequate response concerning road and drainage problems.

The Road Commission was also criticized for the work done on Kingston Road between Deford and Kingston last summer.

A mixture of tar and stones was applied, with the stones causing broken windshields and headlights, Mrs. Wolak said, and now the road is very bumpy. (Similar comments were made at the Novesta Township meeting.)

(Road Commission Clerk Jim Miklovic told the Chronicle Monday the "maintenance seal coat" is intended to fill the cracks and maintain the present pavement. It doesn't make the road smoother. The tar and stone mixture, the same as used elsewhere, he said, was applied on Kingston Road and part of Deckerville Road between Deford and M-81.)

Electors suggested that the township board write a letter to the county Board of Commissioners complaining about the lack of response from the Road Commission and drain commissioner.

Electors also suggested the board solicit bids for roadside grass mowing and brush cutting this summer.

Township officials were granted an approximately 10 percent pay raise: Supervisor, from $4,752 to $5,230 ($2,615 for being supervisor and $2,615 for assessing); clerk from $2,880 to $3,170; treasurer, from $2,733 to $3,010, and trustees, from $30 per meeting to $35.

Other large budgeted expenditures are fire protection, $6,000; township hall, $5,000 (for remodeling, plus utilities, etc.); drains -at-large, $2,000.

Nine electors plus all five board members attended. There was some discussion about abolishing the annual meeting, but no action taken, so it will continue.

SANILAC

EVERGREEN -- The budget projects $82,000 in revenue, of which almost $28,800 is carryover from 1983-84, and expenditures of $82,000.

The supervisor, clerk and treasurer each received $400 raises, to $2,900, $1,700 and $1,700 respectively. They are the first raises in apparently four years.

The board also asked for raises for the two trustees, but one didn't want it, so their salaries will remain at $40 per meeting.

There is $20,880 budgeted for roads, of which $10,000 is set aside for paving the one mile of Germania Road south of Deckerville Road.

$1,000 is to be spent for spraying roadsides, to be matched by an equal amount from the Road Commission, and $880 for a new tube bridge on Arnold Road, north of Shabbona Road, to be matched by an equal amount from Argyle Township, plus money from the county.

An additional $7,000 from the general fund is to be spent for brining roads for dust control.

Other general fund expenditures include drains-at-large, $8,400; fire protection, $5,000, and elections, $1,000.

Spending of federal revenue sharing funds is earmarked as follows: Road patching, graveling and culverts, $5,500; Rawson Memorial Library, $1,042 ($1 per capita); Cass City recreation program, $250, and fire protection, $2,000.

The amount of the ambulance subsidy isn't known yet.

The meeting was attended by nine electors and five board members.

GREENLEAF -- The budget projects $140,000 in revenue, of which $77,000 is carryover, and $92,046 in expenses.

There is $70,000 budgeted from the general fund for roads, of which the two largest projects will be building two miles of Gilbert Road north of Cass City Road (grading, graveling and ditching) and graveling two miles of Leslie Road. Patching, brining and brush spraying will also be done.

All federal revenue sharing funds will also be spent for roads, a projected $4,195.

Other general fund expenditures include fire protection, $5,875; ambulance subsidy, $2,500; refuse disposal, $1,250; Rawson Memorial Library, $746 ($1 per capita), and Cass City recreation program, $100.

Salaries remain the same as last year: Supervisor, $2,500 annually; clerk, $1,700; treasurer, $2,000, and trustees, $35 per meeting.

Four board members and four electors attended.

LAMOTTE -- General fund revenue and expenses are both projected at $85,950, which includes a $10,000 carryover from last year.

Spending for roads and bridges, brining and roadside brush spraying are budgeted at $31,900.

Electors approved pay raises for all officials: Supervisor, $1,800 (up $200), plus $3,500 for assessing (up $350); clerk and treasurer, each $2,500 (up $200), and trustees, $520 (up $45), plus $7 per meeting (no change).

The other large general fund expenditure is $6,000 for the fire department. (The half-mill levy for the fire department is earmarked for purchase of a new fire truck.)

Of the federal revenue sharing funds, $3,000 is to be spent for the fire department, $2,600 for roads and $400 for recreation.

Thirteen persons, including board members, attended.

HURON COUNTY

BROOKFIELD -- Revenue, including the 3 mills levied for roads and carryover of $13,000, is projected at $163,000. Anticipated expenditures are also $163,000.

Approximately $120,000 is to be spent for roads, of which $97,000 is to come from the special millage, $15,000 in federal revenue sharing and the rest from the general fund.

Most of the money, Clerk Edmund Good Jr. said, will be used to apply crushed stone on roads where needed.

The supervisor, clerk and treasurer each received a $1,000 raise, to $6,000, $3,500 and $3,500 respectively. The board will set salaries for the two trustees, presently $30 per meeting, at the next regular meeting.

Salaries were last raised four years ago, Good said, and the board recommended the increases after reviewing what neighboring townships paid.

About $10,000 will be spent for the fire department and $7,000 for drains-at-large.

There was discussion about water rights and it was agreed the legislature should undertake action to improve riparian rights.

Sixteen persons, including board members, attended.

GRANT -- New revenue is projected at $40,000, plus carryover of $47,628, plus $3,200 in federal revenue sharing funds. Expenditures are projected at $50,000.

There is $12,000 from the general funds plus $4,100 in federal revenue funds (including $900 unspent last year) budgeted for roads. The township board hasn't decided yet what road work will be done.

There was discussion about putting a road millage on the ballot again, with the decision to be made by the township board at its meeting Monday. Such a measure has been defeated several times before by voters.

The township board Monday evening decided to ask voters in the Aug. 7 primary to approve a one-mill levy for three years for road maintenance and construction, which if approved, will raise about $15,000 a year.

It will be the sixth time since 1976 the board has sought approval of a road millage. The previous levies were for a larger amount and all were defeated.

Drains at large are budgeted at $9,338, up from $600 last year; fire protection, $6,000, up from $5,200, and ambulance subsidy, $1,500.

With the number of voters nearing the maximum allowed for one precinct using paper ballots, Clerk Donald Reid said, there was discussion about either splitting the township into two precincts or acquiring a voting machine. No decision was made.

There was talk about the future of the annual meeting, but no one knew the status of the state law on the subject.

Salaries remain the same as last year: Supervisor, $3,640 annually; treasurer, $3,120; clerk, $2,600, and trustees, $25 per meeting.

Twelve persons including board members attended.

Law requires annual meets

The future of the annual meeting was a topic of discussion at some area township annual meetings Saturday, partly out of confusion about the present law and proposed changes to that law.

The present law, according to Pat Skelding, public affairs officer for the Michigan Townships Association, is that all general law townships with a population of less than 5,000 must hold an annual meeting on the last Saturday preceding the first Monday in April, unless the township board votes to hold the annual meeting at another time.

The law was changed in 1980 to allow annual meetings other than on the "last Saturday."

All townships in the Cass City area are general law townships with less than 5,000 population.

In general law townships with a population of 5,000 or more, a majority of electors can vote to abolish the annual meeting. The question has to be put on the ballot by a vote of the township board or by filing of petitions signed by at least 8 percent of the registered voters in the township.

Charter townships do not have to conduct annual meetings.

The current position of the MTA, in a resolution approved by delegates at its last state convention, is that annual meetings should be abolished in all townships unless the board votes to have one.

Proposed legislation that has been passed by the House of Representatives and is currently in a Senate committee, Ms. Skelding said, would extend the provisions applying to general law townships with more than 5,000 population to those with less.

That is, the annual meeting could be abolished by public vote. Either the township board or 8 percent of the electors signing petitions would have to put the question on the ballot.

The feeling of the MTA, Ms. Skelding explained, is that the concept of the annual meeting is outdated.

They go back to when they were often the only meeting held in the township each year.

At one time, township officials were elected at the annual meeting, taxes were levied, budgets adopted and other important decisions made.

Now, township boards are required by law to meet at least once every three months and a public hearing must be held prior to the adoption of the annual budget.

About the only powers left to electors at the annual meetings are to approve salaries of township officials and to approve or deny purchase or sale of real estate by the township.

DRAIN CLEANING -- The Center B Drain, shown here east of Koepfgen Road, will have the silt dug out and brush along the banks removed. The portion of the drain north of M-81 was last cleaned in 1971. South of there, it hasn't been cleaned since being built in 1920.

Drains to cost area residents three years, with one-third of the amount each year added to property tax bills, starting with those to be mailed at the end of this year.

Completion date for the contractors awarded the Center B and Reid Drain projects will be Aug. 1 of this year. Completion date for the Reid branches which includes installation of three drainage control structures is Sept. 1. Henry expects work will begin in May.

Henry stressed the total cost of the project, in addition to the amounts paid to the contractors, includes interest, engineering costs and contingency.

THE CENTER B Drain project involves cleaning 5.5 miles, all in Elkland. The drain starts southwest of the intersection of Dodge and Bay City-Forestville Roads. It runs southeast, parallel to the Grand Trunk railroad tracks to the Cass City village limits, then veers southwest and crosses M-81, Koepfgen and Elmwood Roads before emptying into the Cass River.

Cleaning of the drain will start where it crosses Koepfgen Road, south of M-81, the engineers having determined it wasn't necessary to clean it out all the way to the river.

Reid Drain starts in Elmwood Township, northeast of the Cedar Run Road and M-81 intersection, and runs northeast into the Center B. Its branch runs north from M-81. The drain is 2.5 miles long. Its branch is 1.3 miles.

Branch No. 1 and its branch run north from M-81 into the Reid Drain. Total length is 1.7 miles.

THE DRAINAGE District for the Center B and its branches includes four sections in Elmwood Township, 18 sections in Elkland Township and all but the southeast corner of Cass City. All property owners in the drainage district will be assessed to help pay the cost of the project.

Cass City is included, Henry explained, because all the storm drains except those in the southeast corner eventually empty into the Center B. (Drains in the southeast corner empty into the Cass River.)

Property owners who will benefit from the drain cleaning petitioned for the project. A board of determination appointed by Henry inspected the drains and conducted a hearing in March, 1983, before deciding the proposed project was necessary.

Charge 2 for driving under influence

Cass City police last week arrested two drivers on charges of operating a motor vehicle under the influence of liquor.

The first took place at 2:35 a.m. Thursday, with the arrest of Jefferson D. Auvil, 25, of 8844 Grassmere Road.

Auvil's car was stopped by officer Donald Miller Jr. on Cemetery Road at Huron Line Road after he followed it from Cass City at speeds up to 86 miles per hour, according to the officer.

Auvil was released from the county jail later that day after posting $100 bond. Arraignment in district court was scheduled April 9.

Mary T. Quinn, 27, of Clawson or Caseville, was taken into custody at 2:35 a.m. Friday on a charge of driving under the influence after Miller noticed a pickup truck being driven away without its lights on from behind Rabideau Motors on Main Street. The truck was driven two blocks north on Seeger Street, where the driver stalled it and couldn't get it restarted.

18 attend Missionary Fellowship

Eighteen persons were present Monday evening for the monthly meeting of the Women's Missionary Fellowship in the First Baptist Church.

Shirley Shaw presided over the meeting and contributed a poem, "Spring."

Prayer time for missionaries was led by Lillian Hanby. For the program, Olive Stark spoke about "the life of Christ."

The April meeting will be project night.

Refreshments were served by Sally Britton and Jean Ewald.

Lots of salt water

The ocean contains about 97 percent of the earth's water. Available freshwater supplies - groundwater, lakes, rivers and streams - make up less than one percent, according to National Wildlife magazine.

Library to give away 25 plastic book bags

Rawson Memorial Library will celebrate National Library Week April 8-14.

Theme of the week is "Knowledge is Real Power."

The first 25 persons coming to the library each day will receive a plastic "Love My Library" book bag.

Four Superman posters and banners featuring the theme for the week will be given away in a drawing. Children through the eighth grade are eligible to participate.

Students in grades 9-12 and adults are eligible to guess the number of items checked out of the library during the week. The person with the closest guess will win a nylon tote bag with the American Library Association symbol on it.

In addition, the second annual Thumb Art Association student show will be in the library meeting room this week and next week. It features the five best works of art from each school in the Thumb area.

Rawson Memorial provides many services.

In addition to books, paperbacks and magazines, it also has pamphlets, travel guides and tourist information, records, cassettes and cameras available for loan.

Many materials it doesn't have can be borrowed from other libraries through the inter-library loan program.

A limited number of films and video cassettes can be borrowed through the White Pine Library Cooperative.

Available for use in the library are reference materials, historic materials (old photographs, Cass City High School annuals, etc.), record and cassette players with headphones and photo-

Student art show set at library

Thumb area high school art teachers are holding their Thumb Area Student Art Show at Rawson Memorial Library now through April 14.

Each teacher has chosen five outstanding pieces of art work from their students' work to be put on display.

According to Ken Kueffner, Caro art teacher, the show is intended to showcase the work of some of the best art students in each school. The show is not a competition among area schools, but a way of showing the dedication, skill, and creativity these young area artists have.

Participating high schools are Cass City, Kingston, Caro, Mayville, Brown City, North Branch and Unionville-Sebewaing.

The show is held in a different location each year.

Last year, which was the first time for the event, it was held in the Indianfields Township Library in Caro.

Pam Terbush, Mayville art teacher, and Marilyn Biefer, Kingston art teacher, have been preparing for the show since October. They have been contacting teachers, arranging exhibit space, and doing all the work necessary to make the show a success.

They have also been meeting with other art teachers to plan a possible art show of the teachers' work. Many of the teachers are practicing artists who work in a variety of media.

The exhibit can be viewed during regular library hours.

Juries convict two in circuit court

Tuscola County Circuit Court juries last week found two persons guilty of the charges against them.

2 girls win 1st in show

Rochelle Puvalowski and Lisa Howard playing a piano duet won first place in their division and first place overall in the recent Bad Axe Jaycees first annual talent show.

Rochelle is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Puvalowski of Ubyly. Lisa is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Howard of Deckerville.

Heidi Peters of Ubyly won third place.

All are students of Jan Moore of Deckerville.

Richard T. Neeley, 21, of 10364 Lewis Road, Millington, was convicted Wednesday of receiving and concealing stolen property over $100, an outboard motor July 1, 1982, in Arbela Township.

Bond was continued until sentencing May 21.

Harley E. Kelley, 36, of 2763 Hurds Corner Road, Caro, was found guilty Thursday of impaired driving March 27, 1983, in Almer Township.

He then pleaded guilty to being an habitual offender because of two prior convictions for driving under the influence of liquor, in 1974 and 1982. Judge Patrick R. Joslyn accepted his plea.

He then released Kelley on $5,000 personal recognizance bond. A sentencing date will be set.

Both trials lasted two days.

Monday of this week, Joslyn sentenced Robert Towler, 35, of Detroit, to one year in the county jail for larceny in a building. Serving of six months of the sentence was deferred and he was credited with 43 days served.

Towler was also placed on probation for five years, fined $500, assessed $400 court costs and ordered to pay restitution of $1,692.

He pleaded guilty March 5, to stealing watches and drugs Jan. 22, 1983, from the Unionville Pharmacy.

3 selected in piano evaluation

The second annual regional piano evaluation judging took place March 17 at Saints Peter and Paul School in Ruth.

The judge was Charles B. Asche from Interlochen. Ruth is the only evaluation center in Michigan.

The three students chosen by him to go on to the international semi-finals in Cincinnati, Ohio, where they will be competing with students from all over the world were Heidi Peters, Ubyly, Kristine Abend, Palms, and Melissa Engel, Minden City. All other participants received honors.

Three participants, Miss Engel, Lisa Howard, Deckerville, and Rochelle Puvalowski, Ubyly, will attend a music festival April 13-14 at Interlochen. There will be a master class, ear training and pedagogy classes.

Pay hike for Gagetown police officer

The Gagetown Village Council Monday evening directed police officer Larry Eaton to start working 40 hours a week and gave him a pay raise of 50 cents an hour, to $6.50.

Eaton had been working 30 hours a week during the winter months.

The council also granted his request to purchase a breathalyzer, used for measuring blood alcohol content of drivers, at a cost of approximately $400.

No one appeared at the scheduled public hearings for the 1984-85 village budget and use of federal revenue sharing. The new budget for the fiscal year that started Sunday was approved.

Clerk Elery Sontag issued the oath of office to three council members, Richard Carroll, Leroy Stapleton and David Abbe, who were reelected to four year terms March 12.

Walbro files for stock registration

Walbro Corp. Friday filed a registration statement with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) covering 220,000 shares of its common stock for sale by the company to the public.

The offering will be made through Stifel, Nicolaus and Company, Inc.

Net proceeds of the offering will be used for repayment of debt which will provide the company with additional borrowing capacity to fund expansion programs.

Walbro manufactures small engine carburetors, electric fuel pumps, and other fuel systems products, as well as molded plastics parts and diecastings.

A registration statement relating to these securities has been filed with the SEC, but has not yet become effective. The securities may not be sold, nor offers to buy be accepted, until the registration becomes effective.

A prospectus may be obtained from Stifel, Nicolaus.

Pedestrian hit twice by autos

Wilson said he just missed hitting Smartt, then made a U-turn to check on the man. Ms. Bodeis slowed when she saw Wilson start to turn, then her car hit Smartt.

The chief said Smartt acted intoxicated, although there was no smell of liquor on his breath.

The victim was reported to be walking on the road, about four feet from the edge, when he was hit. Like the second accident, he was wearing dark clothing.

Pair in Novesta refuse raises

be used on roads.

Novesta last year spent $29,350 on roads.

Some complaints were made about the poor condition of Kingston and Decker Roads in the township, which are county roads.

The other motion approved by those present was to authorize the board to purchase a new tractor and mower for mowing the roadsides.

It was agreed that would be cheaper in the long run than repairing the present tractor and modifying it so that it could pull a needed new mower.

TRUSTEE FRED KNOBLET proposed $200 raises for board members, but withdrew the proposal after Clerk Nurse Kloc said she and Treasurer Ralph Zinnecker didn't want one.

A letter was read from Rich's Disposal of Deford offering trash pickup in the township, either house-to-house or at one site once or more monthly.

Ketherford said there was no need to take any action as long as the Cass City landfill, which is located in Novesta Township, stays open. The village council will decide soon whether to close it.

The 1984-85 budget presented Saturday, which electors voted to accept, projects $107,808 in revenue and $106,749 in expenses.

Revenue listed includes $19,553 in property taxes, $27,000 in state revenue sharing, federal revenue sharing of $5,000 (plus $1,000 left over from last year), and $51,400 in savings remaining from 1983-84.

The township received the last of its delayed state aid payments last year, payment of which had been postponed during the state's financial crunch, which boosted the amount of money left over at the end of the year.

IN ADDITION TO roads and salaries, other large expenditures projected during the fiscal year that started Sunday are fire protection, $6,300, provided by the Elkland Township Fire Department, and $5,557 paid to Cass City so Novesta residents can use the landfill. Both amounts are the same as last year.

Ambulance service is budgeted at $4,000, which includes the second payment on the new ambulance, and $1,482 ($1 per capita) to Rawson Memorial Library so township residents can use the library.

Cemetery expenses, including the sexton's wages, are budgeted at $2,500. The electric bill for the street lights in Deford will cost an estimated $1,650.

There is $13,000 set aside in the new budget for anticipated expenditures.

Pour brandy over vanilla ice cream and sprinkle with coarse ground coffee. It's delicious!

Seek Kinney in bank heist

Ralph P. Kinney, charged with armed robbery and two other charges in connection with the March 16 robbery of the Gagetown branch of the First of America Bank, was still at large Wednesday morning.

State police at the Caro post, who investigated the robbery, believe he is in another state. Kinney, 32, did live in a house on Cemetery Road, south of Cass City. The van he was driving was found in Bay City the day after the robbery.

Heussner seeks 8th district nod

John Heussner, Republican candidate for Congress from the 8th district, was in Cass City Monday.

The retired farmer is the only candidate so far to announce for the Republican nomination and the opportunity to run against Democrat Bob Traxler of Bay City, who was held the position 10 years.

Heussner, 65, and his wife, Edwina, live in Marlette. Their 1,150-acre farm near that community is now run by their son, Michael, with occasional help from his father.

JOHN HEUSSNER

Heussner was president of the American Sugar Beet Growers Association in 1980-81, during which time he had a role in passage of the 1981 farm bill and represented the United States on the World Sugar Farmers Association board.

Heussner was also president of the Michigan Farmers and Manufacturers Sugar Beet Association for two years and president of the Croswell Sugar Beet Growers Association for 17 years, until last month.

He also has been chairman of the advisory board for the Saginaw Valley Bean and Sugar Beet Research Farm, chairman of the Marlette Community Hospital board of trustees and secretary of the Marlette Farmers Co-op Elevator Co. board.

"I don't like to label myself as a conservative Republican," Heussner told the Chronicle, "but I certainly am conservative."

He started farming in 1939 and said one reason why he is running for Congress is he doesn't feel ready for retirement yet.

Kelly Jo wins trip to New York

It was a memorable and exciting three days in New York City recently for Kelly Jo Erlenbeck, who was one of two grand prize winners of the national "Caress Before You Dress" contest sponsored by Caress Body Bar soap.

She is the daughter of Lyle and Ann Erlenbeck of Saginaw and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orval C. Hutchinson of 3806 N. Crawford Road, Cass City. Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Hutchinson of Cass City are her aunt and uncle.

The contest, announced in the November issue of "Teen" magazine, required each contestant to submit a photo of herself. Her photo and that of Tami Lee Phenice of La Grande, Oregon, were chosen from more than 1,000 entries.

Kelly and her mother were flown to New York City, courtesy of Caress, for a three-day (Feb. 26-28) whirlwind tour.

Highlights included a professional makeover, photo sessions for a two-page story in the June issue of "Teen," a $500 spring wardrobe from Sorrel Fashions, and a year's supply of Caress. Miss Phenice was there at the same time.

During their stay in New York, Kelly and her mother enjoyed posh accommodations at the Grand Hyatt Hotel and scenic dinner Windows on the World on the 107th floor of the World Trade Center.

They also visited such attractions as Bloomingdale's, Tiffany's and South Street Seaport, and saw performance number 3,561 of Broadway's longest running musical — "A Chorus Line."

Seventeen-year-old Kelly, a senior at Michigan Lutheran Seminary, has many interests. She enjoys basketball, volleyball, softball, bicycling, skiing and aerobics, plays the piano and has an after-school job at "Town and Country," a Saginaw clothing boutique.

She intends to pursue career in fashion merchandising.

"Winning this contest, and getting the chance to visit New York and model for Teen, is the most exciting thing that's ever happened to me," Kelly said. "It's an experience I'll always remember."

KELLY JO ERLÉNBECK of Saginaw selected a $500 wardrobe during her trip to New York City.

Henry Rock: In 40 years he did it all

After having worked for the Tuscola County Road Commission for more than 40 years, Henry Rock would have been forgiven if he took it a little easy his last day on the job.

Friday was his last day as foreman of the Deford street, which covers six townships, but like every other day, he was at work at the garage in Deford at 5:30 a.m.

His official workday ran from 7 a.m.-3:30 p.m. but Rock always arrived an hour and a half early because he wanted to always get his book work done before the other men arrived.

Rock, 65, was district supervisor since 1974. It was quite a contrast to his first job with the Road Commission, working part of the year in 1936, '37 and '38 building bridges.

The pay was only 25 cents an hour, but the Depression was still underway, so Rock was grateful for any work he could get. The bridge construction season started in April or May and lasted until about Nov. 1.

Rock's father, Herman, was a full-time Road Commission employee and also farmed. His brother, Albert, also worked on bridges. The family lived on a farm one mile west of Deford.

Cement for the bridges was hauled in carts pushed by hand. Rock remembers many days when work started under the headlights from cars and ended the same way.

He and his wife Sylvia Ione (most persons know her as Ione) were married Aug. 12, 1939.

They moved that year to Flint, where Rock worked as a gas station. They next moved to Detroit, where he worked at Continental Motors, but he quit that job. "I couldn't take the inside work. My health gave out."

His problem was nerves. Rock had no trouble getting a full-time position with the Road Commission, so the family moved to Deford, where he started his new job June 22, 1944.

The Rocks have two sons, Henry Lee, Marlette, and Herman, who lives near Atlanta, Ga., and six grandchildren.

The family first lived in a rented house, but after a few months moved into the house on Reed Street where Mr. and Mrs. Rock still live.

When the family moved to Deford in 1944, the town had a bank, lumber yard, grain elevator, three general stores, hardware and two gas stations.

ROCK'S FIRST JOB with the Road Commission when he returned was operating a mower for 85 cents an hour. (He had been making $1.35 at Continental.) That winter, he was a helper on snowplow trucks. The helper worked the hydraulic system pump handle back and forth in order to raise the snowplow blade.

The next year, Rock was promoted to truck driver.

The worst snow storm he recalls came in March, 1947. The snow was so deep, one car was buried between Deford and Kingston "and the only thing that stuck out was the aerial."

Compared to nowadays, snow plowing then was hard work. The trucks weren't heavy enough and breakdowns were frequent. Engines would burn out and drive shafts, universal joints and rear axles would break.

When part of the drive line broke, a mechanic would drive out with the replacement parts and "we'd help them (replace it) right out in the snow bank."

Drivers sat lower in the old trucks and the snow coming off the plow blade sometimes made it impossible to see. Rock remembers driving as much as a quarter mile "by feel," because he couldn't see where he was going.

There were no mechanical salt spreaders in those days. Two men stood in the back of the trucks, slit open bags of rock salt and held them over the end of the truck while the salt trickled out. "Many a mile I rode through sleet storms" (in the back of the truck), he said.

The big trucks now can clear at least one lane on all county roads in 2-3 days. In the early days, "If we got a hole through them in a week, we were doing good."

Back then, however, residents in the country would stock up on groceries in anticipation of being snow-bound. Nowadays, Rock said, "If they're cooped up for one day, they're calling in. They want it opened right now."

HENRY AND IONE ROCK
Hofmeister helps plan for better forests

Andrea K. Hofmeister of Hobart Road, Galetown, was one of 14 members of the Natural Resources and Public Policy Committee that met recently at Michigan State University and decided to encourage new educational efforts in forest management.

The committee, formed in 1983, works with support from the MSU Cooperative Extension Service Natural Resources and Public Policy program.

According to Adger Carroll, NRPP director, the group meets two or three times each year to identify issues that need attention from the Cooperative Extension Service and other organizations that influence education related to Michigan's natural resources.

Meeting at MSU March 22 during Farmers' Week and Natural Resources Days, the group decided the educational needs of private forest owners must be addressed from a new perspective.

A recent survey shows that as many as 300,000 people in Michigan own some forestland, but most are not using it for maximum economic advantage.

"These people include farmers, city dwellers and other people throughout the state, who may or may not live near the forestland they own," Carroll explains. "The problem the committee addressed is how to reach the tremendous number of individuals in Michigan who need information on how to manage forestland efficiently."

The committee will talk with representatives of various timber interests in Michigan and with extension staff members to determine what kind of information these private woodlot owners need.

The committee is also examining ideas to help tourism grow in Michigan's agricultural areas, Ms. Carroll said. Currently, it is investigating the concept of "bed and breakfast" homes in Michigan's rural areas.

Members of the committee will meet again in the fall to examine progress and plan for additional efforts in support of forestry management and tourism development.

81 donate blood to Red Cross

Seventy-five units of blood were given at the Red Cross blood bank at Hills and Dales General Hospital Monday. There were 81 donors.

Pin awards were given to Betty Rosenberger, Janet Vandiver, Ernest Schwaderer and Michael Kirn for having reached the one gallon mark in donations of blood. Awards for two gallons went to David Luana and Donald Merchant.

The Cass City Lioness Club was the sponsor. The next Red Cross blood bank will be Aug. 21.

Commission has had big, heavy duty trucks designed for road work for about 20-25 years. They and all the other innovations means it doesn't need as many employees as it once did. When Rock started, it had 80 men doing road work. Now there are about 40.

Rock was responsible for one innovation. In 1960 or 1961, he mounted one of the first citizen band radios on a truck when he was plowing roads. It was his own radio and the base station was in his house.

From about 1950-54, Rock operated a dragline, used for cleaning out ditches and loading gravel, and drove a truck in winter. He next was a grader operator, then went to driving a truck year-round.

In 1964, he was promoted to weighmaster, which meant he patrolled roads looking for overweight trucks. The most overloaded truck he ever stopped, hauling sand, resulted in a $3,000 fine.

Except for when he was weighmaster and for his first few months in 1944, Rock was always assigned to the Deford garage, about 1½ blocks from his house. That had the disadvantage that sometimes during snowstorms, since he could walk there, he had to get the first snowplow out of the garage and then plow the road open to where the other drivers lived.

HE WAS PROMOTED TO his last job, as Deford superintendent, in 1974. When he started, he was in charge of 14 or 15 men. Now, only five are assigned there, plus the foreman, plus four trucks, two graders and one loader. Jay Tuckey is the new foreman.

Rock, who was Novesta Township clerk for 24 years, through 1978, retires from the Road Commission with more seniority than any other employee. "I think I've had enough time in," he said of his reason for retiring, in addition to his age.

He and his wife will be guests of honor at a retirement dinner being given by his former co-workers Saturday at Donella's Restaurant, south of Caro.

His retirement activities will include working around the house, fishing and traveling. Rock also makes concrete cemetery marker footings and overhauls lawn mowers.

"I enjoyed my work," he commented the evening before his last day on the job.

To that, his wife added, "I never heard him say as long as he worked for the Road Commission, 'I don't want to go to work.'"

THE WORST snow storms, Henry Rock recalls, were in 1947 and 1948. The Road Commission trucks were fitted with a side plow, such as the one shown here, or a V-plow. Photo was taken in 1948.

Registration for surplus food slated

Eligibility requirements for surplus commodities -- cheese, butter, etc. -- have changed and more persons may now be eligible.

As a result, the Human Development Commission has established registration days in the counties it serves. Those who may be eligible to receive the commodities must register at this time. New cards will be issued to those with old cards.

Individuals 18 years or older may register on behalf of a household. Only one card per eligible household will be issued. Examples of income eligibility are a family of two with annual income of $8,502 and a family of four with annual income of $12,870.

To receive a Surplus Commodity Card, and to prove eligibility, you must bring with you to registration: 1. Social Security Card for the person registering. 2. Proof of residence, such as a driver's license or Michigan personal identification card, and 3. Proof of income - for the past 30 days for all members living in your household. Written verification is needed such as AFDC/GA (budget letter, current medicaid card), self employment (1983 income tax form), wages (check stubs), unemployment (letter of benefits), Social Security (award letter, copy of check) etc...

Food stamp cards or WIC cards will not be accepted as proof of household eligibility.

Registration at all sites will be from 10 a.m. - 4 p.m.

Registration in Huron County was held Tuesday of this week. Registration in Sanilac County will be this Thursday. Persons with Decker, Snover, Marlette, Brown City, Sandusky and Melvin addresses are to register at the Marlette village hall, 6407 Morris Street. Those with Argyle, Deckerville, Forestville, Minden City and Palms addresses are to sign up at the Deckerville community center, 3451 Main Street.

Residents of Tuscola County must register Monday, April 9. Those with Cass City, Deford and Gagetown addresses are to go to the Cultural Center, 6429 Main Street, Cass City. Persons with Kingston, Caro, Akron, Fairgrove, Unionville, Gilford and Silverwood addresses go to the HDC office, 429 Montague Street, Caro.

Ferris State music groups at Owen-Gage

The Ferris State College Jazz Ensemble and Collegiate singers will be performing a concert this Thursday for students at Owendale-Gagetown High School.

Each year, the two groups perform in a different area of the state as a service of the Big Rapids college. Their other stops during the Wednesday and Thursday tour will be at high schools in Mt. Morris, St. Charles and Harbor Beach, plus an evening concert in Flint.

The groups perform concerts of about an hour in length featuring student soloists in the context of big band jazz and show choir singing.

The Collegiate Singers perform vocal renditions of jazz and pop standards set to choreography with matching wardrobe. The Jazz Ensemble will perform contemporary and traditional big band jazz and pop selections.

HEALTH TIPS Early treatment can limit arthritis

Thirty-one million persons face long term pain and suffering because of the 90-100 different joint inflammation diseases that are arthritis.

Fortunately, says the Michigan State Medical Society, early detection and treatment can limit pain and prevent crippling for the majority of arthritis sufferers.

Arthritis is generally thought of -- incorrectly -- as an "old age" disease. In reality, it is indiscriminate and may strike individuals of all ages. With certain types of the disease, the likelihood of development may increase with age or genetic predisposition, but not necessarily.

Most arthritis types are very rare. In fact, just two -- rheumatoid and osteoarthritis -- account for 90 percent of all arthritis cases.

Rheumatoid arthritis is an inflammatory disease affecting the entire body. It is characterized by intense and prolonged muscle stiffness, fever, general fatigue, and severe joint swelling and pain. At its worst, rheumatoid arthritis can completely disable its victim as it invades and destroys the joints' linings. Rheumatoid arthritis usually develops, without obvious reason, between the ages of 20 and 35.

Osteoarthritis is more common than rheumatoid and is associated with increased calcium deposits around joints. Chances are 5-1 that an individual living to age 65 will develop it. Symptoms of osteoarthritis are usually localized in the affected joints with pain and stiffness becoming more severe as cartilage and bone are gradually destroyed.

Arthritis treatment commonly consists of combined drug and physical therapies. Aspirin's anti-inflammatory agents normally provide adequate relief.

Newer drugs, known as NSIDS (nonsteroid anti-inflammatory drugs) are also now being used frequently. They work like aspirin, without its negative side effects. Another drug treatment, known as gold therapy, is often used in aggressive rheumatoid arthritis treatment regimens.

Physical therapy, while equally important, is less popular with victims because it may initially result in greater discomfort. Used over time, however, hot baths, whirlpools, paraffin soaks, and both passive and active exercise can be significant pain relieving and mobility preserving tools.

Continuing treatment advances assure arthritis victims even greater relief in the future, but treatment can only follow detection.

The Medical Society suggests individuals with arthritis symptoms see their physician. Don't let undiagnosed arthritis lead to permanent disability.

New books at the library

THE IRA HANDBOOK: A COMPLETE GUIDE by Michael P. Pantheri and David H. Flynn (non-fiction). A sober and thorough guide that informs potential investors of everything they need to know about Individual Retirement Accounts. The authors, both attorneys, make a strong case for IRA investments, and although their examples assume earnings at an annual rate of 12 percent (a good 3 points above recent averages), the figures are still persuasive. Information on setting up, contributing to, and eventually withdrawing from an IRA is presented along with easy-to-follow sample cases. The authors frequently contrast new tax laws with the old. One chapter looks at the tricky IRA rollover, IRA annuities and Simplified Employee Pension Plan.

MARIE BLYTHE by Howard Frank Mosher (fiction). A small child immigrates to northern Vermont from French Canada at the turn of the century. Hell's Gate is a thriving woodworking village, wholly owned by the benevolently despotic Abraham Benedict. The future is bright for the Blythe family. But Marie loses her father in a logging accident and her mother to tuberculosis. The young orphan takes to the road with a family of gypsy stonecutters, only to return to Hell's Gate two years later. There, as a servant in the Benedict household, she is treated less than benevolently when she bears the Benedict's only son. Marie is 13 years old. She will survive two world wars; fall victim to consumption herself; experience love, requited and unrequited. Drawing strength from the forests and granite that surround her, Marie does more than survive, she prevails.

ALMOST PARADISE by Susan Isaacs (fiction). This is the story of Nicholas and Jane Cobligh. He is the world's most handsome film actor, she is a celebrity TV talk show host. Everything seems fine in their marriage except that Nicholas spends more and more time away filming. On the way to meet him, Jane is hit by a car, and after lingering, dies. It was almost Paradise.

There is no cause for alarm for residents of the area (Huron, Tuscola, Saginaw Counties, etc.) who have ordered Girl Scout cookies, according to D.J. Smith, executive director of the Mitten Bay Girl Scout Council in Saginaw.

Ms. Smith said cookies ordered for the last 20 years by residents of the 21 counties of the Mitten Bay council have been provided by the Burry-Lu Co., which is not the company which supplied the St. Louis, Mo., area with cookies in which foreign objects have been found.

Ms. Smith said Burry-Lu uses strict quality control, including the use of metal detectors at the factory, to insure the safety of its Girl Scout cookies, delivery of which is now underway or will begin shortly.
