HOME AGAIN — Astronaut Brewster Shaw Jr. as he spoke to an estimated 800 persons in the Cass City High School gym Thursday evening. The program included a film and slides of his space flight. He also spoke to high school students Thursday afternoon and elementary and intermediate school students Friday.

Suzy Scollon junior citizen

Prieskorn and Herron citizens of the year

Geraldine Prieskorn and Tom Herron were honored last Thursday at the Cass City Chamber of Commerce annual banquet as Citizens of the Year and Suzy Scollon was honored as Junior Citizen of the Year.

The citizen of the year presentations were made by Holly Althaver, the 1982 citizen of the year, who was a member of the selection committee.

Mrs. Prieskorn served on the Cass City School Board from 1963-83 and was its president for seven years. She is a partner with her husband, Gerald, in Prieskorn Variety Stores, which owns the Ben Franklin and Paint Store in Cass City and Mill End Stores in Bad Axe and East Tawas.

Born in Cass City in 1931, where her parents, Glen and Lois Folkert, owned a general store, the family moved to Bay City in 1940, where her father bought a store.

She graduated from Bay City Central High School in 1949 and from the Northwestern University School of Business, Evanston, Ill., in 1953, at which time few business students were women.

Mrs. Prieskorn and her husband, Gerald, who have been married 30 years, moved to Cass City from Bay City in 1959.

Mrs. Prieskorn is a charter member and past president of the Cass City branch of the American Association of University Women, helped organize the Cass City Pre-School Nursery, is a deacon in the First Presbyterian Church, serves on the Hills and Dales Medical Clinic board, was active in Girl and Cub Scouts, assisted with the visits of the Airtrain here in 1972 and 1981, and is an active member of the Cass City Retail Committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Prieskorn have five children: Cara Jo, Pleasant Valley, N.Y., Susan and Matt, both of Park City, Utah, Jeff, Arlington, Va., and Rebecca, a 10th grader at Cass City High School. The four out-of-town children made a surprise visit home for the occasion.

In accepting the award plaque, Mrs. Prieskorn told the audience of 260 persons who gathered in the high school cafeteria, "Cass City has been marvelous."

TOM HERRON

Tom Herron graduated from Cass City High School in 1960. Due to the death of his mother in childbirth, he was raised by his grandparents in Gagetown.

After their death, he went to work as a carpenter in Detroit. Not liking the big city, he returned to Cass City, where he worked as a carpenter for a builder and lived in a rented room.

In 1965, Herron married Linda DeLong of Cass City. That year, he built his first house for his family, at Koepfgen Road and M-81, and his first for a customer, Preston and Florence Karr, on Penny Road, Gagetown.

Herron Builders has now constructed more than 80 homes within the village limits.

Herron developed Country View Subdivision in Cass City in 1972, which has 20 homes, and Hillcrest Subdivision with 21 homes in 1975.

Herron's most ambitious project is Northwoods Village and Estates, started in 1978, which has approximately 150 home sites. His home there is the third he has built for his family.

His contributions to Cass City haven't been only in building much of it. Herron was president of the Cass City Chamber of Commerce from 1979-82 and during those same years was also chairman of the Fourth of July Festival, which he helped start. He remains a member of the Chamber of Commerce board of directors.

He is a member of the Lions Club, was its president in 1970 and '71 and was Cass City Lion of the Year in 1977.

Herron was the first president of the Thumb Home Builders Association and was president a total of two years. He is also a member of the Builders Association of Saginaw, Caro Chamber of Commerce and the Tuscola Area Skill Center advisory board.

Herron served in the U.S. Army Reserves after high school, is a member of the St. Pancratius Catholic Church, and the Elkland Township Zoning Board.

He and his wife have six children: Brenda (Mrs. Tim) Brinkman, San Antonio, Texas, Barbara (Mrs. Les) Karr, Cass City, and Dawn (Mrs. Rick) Hollis, Cass City. Paula, who will graduate from high school this month, and Donny and Angela, both ninth graders.

In accepting the award, Herron said he remembered coming to Cass City with nothing. "I feel I owe this community a great deal... This community has done so much for me."

JUNIOR CITIZEN

Suzy Scollon, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ed Scollon, has been very active all four years of high school.

During her senior year, she is class president, student council secretary, participated in the school play, played part of the basketball season, received a first division rating in the district solo and ensemble for her piano solo and a second division rating at the state festival.

She teaches French twice a week to third grade students and taught a community education art class. She also gives piano lessons and is a teacher for a Renew (youth Bible) group at her church, St. Pancratius.

She is organist every Saturday and Sunday at St. Pancratius and every other week end at St. Agatha Catholic Church in Gagetown. She was a lifeguard at the Cass City

Flight 'fantastic,' Brewster Shaw says

"Fantastic" was a word Brewster Shaw Jr. used more than once to describe his 10-day space flight last year to a home town audience.

The astronaut, in Cass City for the first time since his flight aboard the Columbia, spoke to about 800 persons last Thursday evening in the high school gymnasium.

That afternoon, he addressed high school students. Friday morning, he talked to intermediate and elementary students.

"I'll tell you it's really great to recognize so many familiar faces," he said following the standing ovation he received after he was introduced.

"It's a tremendous feeling," he said of his flight, on which he was a pilot. "It really is a lot of fun. It's like being on the world's best ride at the county fair -- for 10 days."

As for what it was like orbiting as much as 155 miles above the earth, the 1983 Cass City High School graduate said, "I wish everyone sitting here could see it as I did because there is no way to describe it."

He did try, though. "It's fantastic," he said of the view. "It's absolutely beautiful."

The darkness of space is the "blackest black you ever saw" and the snow-covered northern hemisphere was the "whitest white." The southern hemisphere, where the season is the opposite, was a lush green. The stars were very bright and don't twinkle, because there is no atmosphere.

Shaw, who showed a film of his flight at all four presentations and also showed slides Thursday evening, stressed, "You cannot take pictures equal to what the eyeball can see."

He described the setting of the sun as seen from space, because of the colors, as "the most beautiful thing I've ever seen. Fantastic."

THE FILM SHOWED mainly the launch, what went on inside the Columbia and the Spacelab that it carried, and the landing.

The slides mainly showed views of the earth. Pointing with a stick to what was apparently a missile launching site in China, he said in that nation and in Russia, roads were often seen going nowhere. He would think, "I wonder what they're doing."

Pointing on a slide to the pyramids in Egypt, he commented, "It's really neat when you can see something like that from orbit." He added, "You don't have long to look because you're going over the ground at 4 1/2 miles every second."

THERE WASN'T MUCH time to enjoy the view and take pictures, Shaw indicated in explaining the mission of the Skylab that the Columbia carried in its cargo bay.

While he and mission commander John Young alternated in 12 hour shifts at the controls of the Columbia, the four scientists aboard worked around the clock, also in 12 hour shifts, performing many experiments.

From the experiments, the Skylab sent back to earth 2 trillion bits of information, enough to fill several thousand encyclopedia volumes, he said.

Shaw, who was accompanied on his trip here by his son Brandon, 7, stressed that the six astronauts on board were only a small part of a big operation. "This is a team effort." For the launch alone, there were "hundreds of people that make that happen."

He added that the whole orbiter program is a tribute to American science and technology, that no other nation could do it.

During the question and answer session, Shaw was asked whether he became afraid he might never return to earth when the landing of the Columbia was postponed a day because of technical problems.

"For a real bitty time, I was afraid," he admitted, "but it didn't last long... When you've got a job to do, you can't afford that (fear)."

(Shaw was asked a similar question when he appeared Monday on the WJR Radio "Focus" program in Detroit, concerning his reaction after two computers failed just prior to landing. "It made you a little bit nervous..." he responded. "It gives you cause to think.")

THE ASTRONAUT WAS also asked how long he might remain in the space program -- he's been in it since 1978 -- and whether he might return to active duty with the Air Force. He is a lieutenant colonel on leave to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The Air Force, he responded, can't yet tell him and other astronauts who are in the Air Force how their experience would be utilized if they returned to active duty. For that reason, Shaw predicted, they will stay "in NASA until we can't walk out of the vehicles (space craft) anymore."

He added, "I can't think of a better way to be in the Air Force and serve my country and I'm damn proud to be an American so I can do those things."

PREPARATION HAS BEGUN for Shaw's next flight, on which he will be mission commander, tentatively scheduled for launch in May, 1985. It will last seven or eight days.

The mission might be changed yet, Shaw told his audience, but as of now, it calls for launching of three satellites and for mission specialists Woody Spring and Jerry Ross to do some construction outside the shuttle, such as bolting together beams, to test techniques that will some

Robbery suspect nabbed in Texas

Ralph P. Kinney is expected to be returned to Michigan soon to face charges in connection with the March 16 robbery of the First of America Bank branch in Gagetown.

Kinney, 32, who lived on Cemetery Road, Cass City, was captured in Fort Worth, Texas, about 11 p.m. Wednesday, May 2, reportedly after city police stopped the vehicle he was driving for a traffic violation.

Kinney has been charged by the Tuscola County Prosecutor's office with armed robbery, felonious assault and possession of a firearm in connection with the robbery. All the charges are under state law.

In addition, the U.S. attorney's office in Bay City has charged him with armed bank robbery under federal law.

Assistant U.S. Attorney Michael Hluchaniuk said Wednesday morning that Kinney was presumably still in Texas, awaiting transportation back to Michigan by U.S. marshals.

The case could be disposed of in Texas, he said, but that is unlikely.

The trip back to Michigan could take several days, according to Hluchaniuk, because the usual means of transportation is via bus traveling between federal institutions. Kinney might go from Texas to a federal prison in another state, then wait for another bus going to another prison, and so on until he finally gets back to Michigan.

Hluchaniuk said it is unlikely Kinney will be tried in both federal court and under state law in circuit court, though that could happen.

A decision on which court will have jurisdiction, and therefore whether he will be prosecuted by the U.S. attorney's office or the Tuscola County prosecutor, hasn't been made yet.

The decision will be made by his office and Tuscola Prosecutor G. Scott Stermer, probably in a week to 10 days, Hluchaniuk said.

More than $1,000 was taken in the robbery of the bank. A van Kinney was known to be driving was found the day after the robbery in Bay City.

A warrant charging him with the robbery was issued by Stermer within 24 hours after it happened.

Two millages on August ballot

The Tuscola County Board of Commissioners voted unanimously Tuesday to place two millage proposals on the Aug. 7 primary ballot to finance additional county office space and senior citizen activities.

A tax increase of .25 mill (25 cents per $1,000 of equalized valuation) for five years will be sought to be "used exclusively for a proposed addition to and remodeling of" the courthouse annex.

The levy, if approved, according to Commissioner Royce Russell of Cass City, will raise about $170,000 a year. Estimated cost of the addition is about $650,000.

The county would probably borrow the money to finance construction, with the loan to be repaid from the tax levy, he said.

Proposed is construction of a two-story addition, plus basement, on the rear of the annex. Possible uses would include housing of the Cooperative Extension Service, now in the basement of the sheriff's department building, and a larger meeting room for county commissioners' meetings. They presently meet in the courthouse. The basement would be used to store county records.

The second proposal is .2 mill for four years to be used by the Thumb Area Commission on Aging "to maintain and expand services to older citizens in Tuscola County."

It will be a renewal of the present .2 mill levy for senior citizens, which ran five years and has expired.

CITIZENS OF THE YEAR -- 1982 citizen of the year Holly Althaver (center) presented this year's honors at the Chamber of Commerce banquet last Thursday to Tom Herron and Geraldine Prieskorn.

JUNIOR CITIZEN OF the year Suzy Scollon received her plaque from Cass City Intermediate School Principal Robert Stickley.

The Elmwood Missionary Circle will meet May 17 with Mrs. Preston Karr.

Attending the Presbyterian Wednesday, May 2, at First Presbyterian Church in Saginaw were Betty Russell, Yvonne Sherman, Cheryl Lester and Alexia Cook. The theme of the program was "Journey to Understanding." The speaker in the morning session was Rev. W.R. Saum of Bloomfield Hills who showed slides and related highlights of a tour of Russia. Speaking in the afternoon was Ruth Weingra of a trip made to South Africa in February. The meeting was terminated with Holy Communion.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Finkbeiner arrived home Monday after spending the winter months in Lakeland, Fla. The week end before leaving Florida they spent at Nassau.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Hendrick visited Theo Hendrick Sunday afternoon.

Twenty-one were present Thursday evening when the Ellington-Almer Farmers' Club met at the Ivan Tracy home. The potluck supper was followed by the business meeting over which Larry Chandler presided. Games provided entertainment. The June 7 meeting will be held in the Sutton-Sunshine Church fellowship hall.

Astronaut Brewster Shaw drew some second looks at the Gavel Club Invitational Golf Tournament Saturday. He agreed to fire the gun for the opening of the tournament and he sauntered to Rolling Hills Golf Course with his small son and mingled with the 120 golfers ready to tee off.

He came from the fields of his dad's farm where he had been working with a tractor. He was wearing working jeans and a Cass City Red Hawks sports jacket.

He didn't draw much attention from out-of-town visitors until he was announced which, I suspect, is the way he wanted it.

There were plenty of visitors around who regret missing their opportunity to talk with one of the Thumb's and the state's most distinguished men.

Incidentally, the tournament was won by the four-man team of Don Ouvry, Russ Richards, Merlin Farver and Leonard Shedd who shared $1,200 in prize money.

Karl Carter, Cass City Retail Committee President, is determined to resurrect the Rotary exercise trail at Cass City Recreational Park.

"If It Fitz . . ."

Over charged

By Jim Fitzgerald

Lately the mail has brought me, in six different envelopes, six plastic phone-charge cards from AT&T. I don't want them. They worry me. I'm going nuts trying to figure out what to do with them.

Each of the cards has the same name and number on it. Each arrived attached to a handsome brochure that, on the cover, urges me to "Reach Out and Touch the Future." I don't want to do that. It is the future that scares me.

I have no idea why AT&T sent me six identical cards when one would have been too much. If I have any questions, the brochure says. I should dial 800 CALL ATT. Is that supposed to be clever? AT&T's customers have phone numbers. Why does AT&T have phone letters?

Because AT&T has taught people to dial numbers endlessly, it is awkward for them to dial letters. CALL ATT figures out to 2255 188. Why doesn't AT&T just come right out and say so? I resent being put to the trouble of translating letters to numbers, especially when 800 CALL ATT is usually busy anyway.

That's probably why AT&T disguises its numbers as letters. It really doesn't want anyone to call it because, as the world's largest phone company, AT&T is embarrassed that people can't get it on the phone. I dialed 800 CALL ATT 15 times in two days. Eight times the line buzzed busy. Seven times a taped voice said all the operators were busy and I was put on hold to listen to dentist-office music.

I don't know how long the music plays before a live operator comes on the line. I refuse to wait on hold to talk to the phone company. The people who sell phone service should answer their phones promptly, to demonstrate the convenience of their product. I also won't buy a car from a salesman who takes me for a demonstration ride and runs out of gas.

So, unable to communicate with the communications giant, I'm left to speculate on why AT&T sent me six identical charge cards attached to six identical brochures in six different envelopes addressed to six identical addresses. And I speculate the giant is sloppy but doesn't care because it knows it's big enough to get someone else — you and me — to pay for the losses caused by its slop. I've heard from several readers who also received multiple mailings of identical AT&T cards. I don't know the production cost of each card and brochure, but it has to total why AT&T didn't at least save postage by mailing them in one envelope.

All I know is, now that AT&T and Michigan Bell have separated, long-distance rates will be cheaper. My wife spends most of her time talking long distance to our two daughters who live less than 100 miles away. From another colorful brochure, which AT&T sent me eight times so far, I learned that for me to benefit from lower long-distance rates, our daughters must move to Belgium.

But you want to know why I'm afraid of a future with six AT&T cards? Kathleen Vokes is why. She is the Howell woman who received phone bills totaling more than $60,000 last January and February. Ma Bell, promising to straighten things out, explained that some crooks charged thousands of calls to Vokes' card number. Two months later, Vokes told me AT&T had just billed her for $56,000 and sent her five new charge cards, four with a new number and the fifth with the old number the crooks use.

Faced with that type of corporate efficiency, I have six charge cards that could fall into crooked hands. I can't burn plastic without stinking up my apartment. I won't cut up the cards and throw them in the trash because a trash picker could glue them back together. I won't flush them down the toilet because a sewage plant worker might have daughters living in Belgium.

What can I do with them? According to the AT&T brochure, they are "state of the art" cards that I can "insert into new special public AT&T Card Caller phones."

I know where I'd like to insert them.

The Haïre Net

Mike Lucci and Joe Schmidt, former Detroit Lions football stars, are putting up money to bankroll a campaign by Oakland County Prosecutor L. Brooks Patterson to establish the death penalty in Michigan.

Taking a tough stance on crime has been a political bonanza for Patterson throughout his career.

The two football players were reported to be close friends of John Gray, who was shot dead during a robbery in his Bloomfield Township home in February.

Lucci and Schmidt are joining a swelling horde of persons upset and angry about the increasing rampant crime situation and the seeming inability of law officials to do much to halt the trend.

It probably appears to them as it does to many other supporters of capital punishment that increasing the penalty will deter other potential killers.

But over the years there are no statistics that show that the death penalty has reduced the number of homicides.

That leaves only the cost of housing prisoners for life as an argument for the death sentence. That pales in comparison to killing a person later proved to be innocent.

A much more effective way of reducing homicides is by gun control. Every hand gun in the United States should be registered, licensed and available only to those with a good reason for having one. That doesn't include target practice.

That leaves rifles and shotguns for hunters and sportsmen. They should be registered, too, but available.

The argument that if guns are controlled only criminals will have guns is hogwash. It's likely that some criminals will have guns, sure.

But they would be harder to come by. Certainly a kid going to junior high wouldn't be able to find one to take to school and kill a classmate as was reported in Detroit recently.

More and more families have a gun tucked away in their home, especially in the high crime areas, but I submit that they really aren't much protection. A gun placed inside a bureau drawer isn't much use against a bandit with a gun in his hand.

There are many more persons killed in fits of anger every year than are wasted by criminals. There are many more persons killed each year by accidents with guns than there are by criminals.

Gun control will save lives, capital punishment will not. It's as simple as that.

Area accidents

Deer-car crashes still plague area

May began with several vehicle-deer accidents in the area.

The most serious took place at 9:50 p.m. last Thursday when John L. Brunk, 40, of Ossineke, westbound on Deckerville Road, east of Crawford Road, lost control after his car hit a deer.

The vehicle went off the north side of the road, rolled over as it entered the ditch and came to a halt upside down, sheriff's deputies said. Brunk was not injured.

The other such accidents, all reported by deputies, involved:

Robert L. King, 25, of 5750 Denhoff Road, Kingston, when he was southbound on White Creek Road, north of Mayville Road, at 6:45 a.m. Tuesday, May 1.

James R. Marshall, 40, of Marlette, at 10:35 p.m. May 1 when westbound on M-46, west of White Creek Road.

James W. Johnson, 16, of McGregory Road, Caro, when northbound on McGregory, north of Elmwood Road, at 5:30 p.m. last Wednesday.

Susan B. Stine, 19, of 4235 Lamton Road, Deford, when eastbound on Severance Road, west of Crawford Road, at 10:40 p.m. last Wednesday.

Kenneth W. Haag, 29, of Hoppe Road, Unionville, at 5:30 a.m. Monday when southbound on Colwood Road, north of Elmwood. Joseph Favazza, 35, of 6159 Wilcox Road, Deford, didn't hit a deer. Deputies reported he was northbound on Kingston Road, south of Mushroom Road, at 10:15 p.m. April 27 when his vehicle struck a cow, one of several that were standing on the road.

OTHER ACCIDENTS

Deputies reported that at 5:42 p.m. May 1, Ronald L. Foster, 18, of Silverwood, southbound on River Street in Kingston, started to go around a southbound vehicle that had stopped. The vehicle then started to turn and ran into the side of Foster's car.

Deputies said the other vehicle didn't have its turn signal on. It was driven by Randal E. Bang, 25, of 3280 Washington Street, Kingston. A passenger, Donna Bang, 29, of the same address suffered possible injuries.

At 12:15 p.m. May 1, according to Cass City police, Betty L. Carmer, 56, of 1763 Van Dyke Road, Decker, eastbound on Main, east of Ale Street, failed to see the car in front of her that had stopped to make a left turn and ran into the rear of it.

Driver of the other car was Lynn Marie Schmidt, 18, of 470 Cemetery Road, Deford.

Terry L. Czekai, 18, of 7279 E. Elmwood Road, Cass City, told deputies he was eastbound on Elmwood, west of Crawford Road, Saturday, when he swerved into the westbound lane to avoid a westbound car coming at him head-on.

His car went off the north side of the road and struck a log and a tree.

The other car, described as a green Chevrolet Nova, didn't stop. The accident was reported to have taken place at 1:51 p.m.

Dwain Vollmar of 4442 Cedar Run Road, Cass City, was driving a tractor last Wednesday on M-81, near Green Road, according to deputies, when a semi-truck passed him.

A wheel came off the trailer the truck was pulling and hit the grain drill the tractor was pulling. Damage to the drill was estimated at $1,500. The incident was reported to the sheriff's department at 2:12 p.m.

2 drains need cleaning

Cleaning of two inter-county drains in the Cass City area last week were declared "practical" by the drainage boards that considered the projects.

The drains are the Huron Drain and its branches, the Rawson and Maharg Drains, in Elkland and Grant Townships and Branch No. 1 of Clark Drain and Branch A of No. 1 in Novesta and Evergreen Townships.

Property owners who would benefit from the cleaning petitioned for both projects.

The action by the drainage boards, Tuscola County Drain Commissioner Stanley Henry explained, means engineers can now be hired to survey the drains, determine what work needs to be done, whether the drains need to be cleaned their entire length, and the estimated cost.

Once that is done, all property owners in the drainage districts will be notified of a "necessity hearing," at which the drainage boards will decide whether the proposed projects should be done.

Henry doesn't expect the necessity hearings to take place before late summer.

HURON DRAIN

Asked for the Huron Drain and its branches are "cleaning, deepening, widening, extending or relocating."

The drainage board composed of Henry, Huron County Deputy Drain Commissioner Robert E. Tufts and Michael Gregg, Michigan Department of Agriculture assistant deputy director in charge of drains, met in the Elkland Township hall Tuesday, May 1, to determine the "practicalness" of the project.

About 25-30 persons attended, Henry said. Much of the discussion concerned whether all of the drain needed to be cleaned, or just part of it. No one said it didn't need cleaning.

The drain was last cleaned in 1953, according to Henry.

It starts in Section 11 of Elkland, south of Bay City-Forestville Road, east of Schwegler Road, and runs through section 3 of Elkland and section 34 of Grant before emptying into the Pigeon River in section 27, south of McAlpin Road and east of Elkton Road.

The Maharg Drain is in sections 27 and 34 of Grant and the Rawson Drain in section 34 of Grant.

Henry didn't have available the total distance of the drains involved (Huron and the two branches).

CLARK DRAIN

Nine property owners attended the drainage board meeting last Thursday at the Evergreen Township hall concerning cleaning of the two branches of the Clark Drain.

They asked questions concerning what might be done and how, Henry said, but no one disagreed with the need to clean the drain.

Serving on the drainage board were Henry, Gregg and Sanilac County Drain Commissioner Stuart Armstead.

The drainage district consists of sections 19, 29 and 30 in Evergreen Township, which are on the east or west side of M-53, south of Severance Road, and section 24 in Novesta, which is west between Lamton and Crawford Roads.

Branch No. 1 of Clark Drain and Branch A of Branch No. 1 total 2.75 miles. It was last cleaned probably 40 years ago, Henry said.

The petition asked for cleaning, relocating, widening, deepening, straightening and extending, but it will be up to the engineers to determine how much needs to be done.

Methodist women at salad buffet

The United Methodist Women of Trinity Church attended a mother-daughter salad buffet Monday evening at the church with an attendance of 90.

Mrs. John Marshall presided. The invocation was given by Cathy McCallum. Entertainment was the presentation of "The Magic Well" by the Frankenthum Drama Club.

The toast to the mothers was given by Pam Nieboer, toast to the daughters by Bev Nieboer and to the grandmothers by Chris Weippert.

Special recognition was given to the eldest grandmother, Mildred Eskilsen, and to Esther Gunther, who had nine daughters and granddaughters there. Helen Baker had been married the longest, 58 years, and Shirley Karr was the youngest grandmother.

Pedaling Around

Flying objects

By Mike Eliasohn

There were two assemblies at Cass City Intermediate School Friday, both of which involved objects flying in space.

The morning programs (separate ones for intermediate and elementary students) were presented by astronaut and Cass City native Brewster Shaw Jr.

The afternoon programs, again separate ones for the intermediate and elementary students, consisted of Mel Kostich and T.J. Borson, who demonstrated presumably all possible ways of throwing a plastic disc back and forth — overhanded, underhanded, sideways, over the shoulder, straight, bounce shots, curves, etc.

The two members of the Air Aces don't throw Frisbees. That's a brand name, they explained, and they use another brand (made in Michigan, by the way).

Kostich and Borson, whose visit was paid for by the student council, were scheduled before Shaw's visit was arranged, which is why the students had two assemblies in one day. Presumably, not much learning took place in class rooms Friday.

The astronaut's visit may have been more interesting, but it was obvious the students had more fun watching the Frisbees — whoops, plastic discs — flying back and forth. Some got to do some throwing themselves.

I mention all this because it was an interesting contrast.

Brewster Shaw is what might be considered a role model. Maybe some students who hear him here (he spoke to high school students Thursday) were inspired to some day become an astronaut or a scientist.

In contrast, Kostich and Borson make their living demonstrating their disc tossing techniques at schools, shopping malls, etc. — anywhere where they can get paid.

Borson smiled when I asked him what occupation he lists on his income tax return. He did say he makes a living doing what he does, though the returns are "meager."

I didn't have time to ask, but I would guess both are college graduates, since the Air Aces (there are more than two of them) apparently started in Ann Arbor. (I didn't hear all the beginning explanation.)

I wonder what their parents think of what they do for a living. Some kids go to the University of Michigan to study to become engineers and some become scientists and some even become astronauts. (Although some astronauts attended the U-M. Shaw didn't. He's a graduate of the University of Wisconsin.)

In contrast (I'm assuming all this), Kostich and Borson went to college for four years and end up throwing plastic discs at each other.

Our society would obviously be better off with more Brewster Shaws, but to be honest, I admire Kostich and Borson just as much.

I think it's kind of nice to think they make a living from what to everyone else is idle time recreation. I'll bet they have more fun than most of us.

Pvt. Dennison takes Army mechanic class

Pvt. Jeffrey E. Denison, son of Alice and Walcott Denison of 4851 Canboro Road, Owendale, has completed a tracked vehicle mechanic course at the U.S. Army Armor School, Fort Knox, Ky.

During the course, students were trained to repair engines, transmissions, and the fuel, electrical and air hydraulic systems of the Army's tracked vehicles. They also learned to perform recovery operations for abandoned, damaged, disabled or mired vehicles.

He is a 1981 graduate of Laker High School.

Softball was developed in 1887 in Chicago and was originally designed as an indoor game.

About 60 guests attended the mother-daughter banquet Saturday, April 28, at Good Shepherd Lutheran Church.

Mrs. Dale Deering was emcee for the program. The youth hand bell choir of the First Presbyterian Church entertained and Mrs. Frank Butler read a poem, "How the Lord Created Mothers," by Erma Bombeck. Group singing was enjoyed with Mrs. Ken Lowe, pianist.

Mrs. John Connolly gave the toast to daughters and her daughter Krista, the toast to mothers.

Awards were given in numerous categories. Mrs. Albert Stine, 84, of Deford, was the oldest mother and her granddaughter, Mrs. Mike Lowe of Deford, was the youngest mother. Mrs. Dan Balzer's mother, from Illinois, traveled the farthest to attend.

Kari Lowe of Cass City, 11 months, daughter of Ken and Mari Lowe, was the youngest daughter attending.

Four generations were present. They were Mrs. Frank Butler; her mother, Mrs. Mollie Holzward of Unionville, and Mrs. Butler's daughters, Mari Lowe and daughter Kari and Bonnie Zeidler and daughter Beth, all of Cass City.

Mrs. Gerald Gunther of Gagetown had the birthday closest to Mother's Day and Mrs. Bill Zeidler was the mother with safety pin in pocket.

Mrs. Ron Weippert and Mrs. Maynard Stine were cochairmen of the event which began with a potluck supper. Three men of the church assisted with the meal.

150 students at Young Author Day

Close to 150 youngsters in grades 1-6 from 13 upper Thumb area schools or school districts took part in the annual Young Authors Conference Saturday morning at Cass City High School, conducted by the Thumb Area Reading Council.

To be selected to attend, students had to write a book, with teachers selecting the 10 best, the authors of which could attend the conference.

Students Saturday attended two workshops, plus a sharing session to talk about their books with each other.

The workshops and their leaders were: Story teller, Carolyn White; Lansing; clowning, Gladys Roberts, Caro; arts and crafts, Karen Haselbeck, Reese; kites, Robert Reamy and Susan Spycher, Millington; creative dramatics, Gene Heffelfinger, Vassar; shadow box, Cindy Peoples, Millington; chalk talk, Shirley Tuckey, Cass City; music, Rev. Larry Higgins, Kingston; pipe cleaner art, Loretta Daenzer, Richville, and "fun with felt," Gen Lounsbury, Caro.

Ms. White, who told Irish folk tales, also told them last Thursday morning at Evergreen Elementary School and Thursday afternoon at Deford Elementary.

The day ended with lunch in the cafeteria and a program.

Participating schools or school districts were Cass City; Kingston; Our Lady of Lake Huron, Harbor Beach; Reese; Kingston; St. Michael, Richville; St. Paul, Millington; Vassar; Pigeon Elementary; Akron-Fairgrove; Elkton Elementary; Caro; Zion Lutheran, Harbor Beach, and Harbor Beach.

Students attending from Kingston were Shawn Baer, Trevor Baer, Brook Barons, Mandy Clapsaddle, Shawn Grow, Sara James, Shannon Johnson, Melanie Kramer, Steve Lesoski and Angela Sims.

Among teachers serving on the steering committee were Marilyn Peters, Cass City, and Elaine Houghton, Kingston.

Navy Petty Officer 3rd Class Stephen L. Agar, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Agar of 5965 Shabbona Road, Decker, has graduated from Field Medical Service School.

The five-week course at the Marine Corps Base, Camp Lejeune, N.C., is designed to prepare Navy hospital corpsmen and dental technicians for duty with Marine Corps combat units. During classroom instruction, practical application periods and field training exercises, he studied the fundamentals of battlefield survival and personal protective measures.

Agar received instruction on basic tactics and the use of weapons for self-defense. To graduate, he was required to demonstrate basic proficiency in emergency medical techniques, casualty evacuation, field sanitation and preventive medicine procedures.

Eddie Hauch top candy bar salesman

Persistence paid off for Eddie Hauch of Fenton, who sold 240 candy bars, the most of any student at Tomek-Eastern Elementary School.

Eddie's great-uncle is Earl Markel of Cass City. His parents are Ed and Jolene Hauch.

The candy bar sale was sponsored by the Tomek-Eastern Parent Teacher Organization, with proceeds used to buy playground equipment.

Eddie, a fifth grader, stood outside a supermarket for eight days to sell the candy bars.

By selling more than any other student, he received a prize of $25, which he said he will use to buy clothes.

HDC annual meeting Friday

The Human Development Commission (HDC) will celebrate 18 years of service with its annual luncheon and program Friday.

The community action agency serves Huron, Lapeer, Sanilac and Tuscola Counties with many programs, along with the coordination of Substance Abuse Services in St. Clair County.

HDC's programs include home weatherization, foster grandparents, emergency services, a toll-free information and referral line and planning services.

The annual meeting will be at the Knights of Columbus Hall, 903 Ryan Road, Caro, featuring State Sen. James Barcia as speaker.

The public is invited to attend the program beginning at 1 p.m. Guests expected to be in attendance that day include State Representatives Dick Allen and Keith Muxlow.

Scholarship available in Huron

Applications are now being accepted for the Anthony L. Rapes Memorial Scholarship at the Cooperative Extension Service office in Bad Axe.

The scholarship is given in memory of Tony Rapes, long-time distinguished agricultural agent and educator.

Scholarships will be awarded in the following two categories: Graduating high school seniors who will be continuing their education in a field of agriculture at either a four-year college or two-year technical program, and students who have already completed one or more years in such a program and will be returning this coming year.

The application deadline is May 21. Applications are available in the extension office or from high school guidance counselors. You must be a resident of Huron County to apply.

South American Indians called the rubber tree cahu-chu, which means weeping wood. The drops of oozing latex made them think of big white tears.

New books at the library

DEADHEADS by Reginald Hill (mystery). Just when Patrick Aldermann thought everything was coming up roses, a few weeds began to surface in his personal Garden of Eden. When his Great Aunt Florence went to her just reward, Patrick came into possession of Rosemont House and its glorious grounds. Then his employer, "Dancy" Dick Elgood, accused him of killing people to get ahead. Even after Elgood retracts the statement, Patrick still has problems. It seems Elgood's suspicions have not fallen on deaf ears. Inspectors Pascoe and Wield, familiar characters from previous mysteries in the series, decide to do a little delving into the career and life-style of Mr. Aldermann. What they uncover are some very interesting facts about Mrs. Aldermann.

THE COMPLETE BOOK OF THE OLYMPICS by David Wallechinsky (non-fiction). Wallechinsky's latest factual compilation contains not only the final results of every Olympic contest since the revival of the games in 1896, but also features summaries of the Olympics' more interesting or unusual events. For instance, sketches include the U.S. basketball team's controversial loss to the Soviets in 1972 and Rick DeMont, the U.S. swimmer who was stripped of a gold medal in 1972 because his allergy medicines were considered illegal. Discontinued events such as white-water canoeing and golf are also recapped.

CONSCIENCE PLACE by Joyce Thompson (fiction). The Place is where babies born with genetic mutations to parents who have been exposed to nuclear radiation are shipped at birth. There, they grow up with no knowledge of their origins or that the outside world exists, thinking of themselves only as "the People" and of the powers that provide them with their means for living as "the Fathers." The only pronoun used at the Place is "he" for there is no sex differentiation or sex education at the Place - to prevent the People from reproducing. Many of the People are born with fur, feathers and scales, limbless or with other deformities, yet they are unaware that there is anything wrong with them. The Place was designed as a safe harbor for society's victims but the Fathers now want to use it as a laboratory and the People as a "control group" for experiments. Brother Alice is the "normal" administrator who passes as a mutant herself, in a costume of scales. She loves the People and she attempts to stop the Fathers, but must destroy the People's innocence in order to get their help.

AMERICAN MOTORISTS INSURANCE CO.

Plaintiff/Counter-Defendant, vs. GARY J. JACKSON, Defendant, and JESSICA L. JACKSON, Defendant/
Counter-Plaintiff.
File No. 83-CX-713-BC.

ORDER TO ANSWER

At a session of said Court held in the Federal Building in the City of Bay City, Michigan, on the 13th day of April, 1984.

PRESENT: HONORABLE JAMES HARVEY, U.S. District Judge.

On the 30th day of September, 1983, an action was filed by American Motorists Insurance Co., Plaintiff, against Gary J. Jackson, Defendant, in this court to set aside a fraudulent conveyance, adjudicate the validity of Plaintiff's lien and for satisfaction of said lien, all with regard to premises described as:

A piece or parcel of land situated in the Township of Greenleaf, County of Sanilac, State of Michigan, and more particularly described as follows, to wit:

The South 1/2 of the Southwest 1/4 of Section 23, Town 14 North, Range 12 East, Greenleaf Township, Sanilac County, Michigan, excepting therefrom a parcel commencing at the Southeast corner of the South 1/2 of the Southwest 1/4 of said Section 23, thence West 16 rods; thence North 80 rods more or less to the North line of said South 1/2 of the Southwest 1/4, thence East 16 rods; thence South 80 rods more or less to the place of beginning.

IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that the Defendant, Gary J. Jackson, shall answer or take such other action as may be permitted by law on or before the 1st day of June, 1984. Failure to comply with this order will result in a judgment by default against such Defendant for the relief demanded in the complaint filed in this court.

HEALTH TIPS

Dangers of high blood pressure

Have you had your blood pressure checked lately?

You should. In 1981, 37.3 million American adults had high blood pressure, and some of them didn't even know it.

"High blood pressure is usually not associated with symptoms, so annual checks are vital for detection," said Dr. Seymour Gordon, co-director of the division of cardiovascular disease at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, and president of the American Heart Association of Michigan.

"Many people think that because there are no symptoms, there is no need to treat high blood pressure. Treatment is vital, since high blood pressure is a definite risk factor for the development of a stroke or heart attack."

"A person with high blood pressure may put himself at an even greater risk if they discontinue their treatment abruptly. Blood pressure can increase to very high levels -- often higher than those that prompted treatment, and may precipitate a stroke or heart attack. Blood pressure cannot be treated now and then," Gordon continued.

"Once a person is diagnosed as having high blood pressure, their doctor will prescribe a treatment plan, which may include medication, diet for weight reduction, exercise and a cutback in the use of table salt (sodium) or foods high in sodium.

"The prescribed treatment plan offers the patient a form of control over their high blood pressure, if they stick to the plan on a daily basis. With treatment using new drugs, high blood pressure can almost always be controlled.

"The patient must understand the importance of following their doctor's advice," Gordon said. "Although high blood pressure does not visibly affect them day-to-day, it is a very serious condition. High blood pressure is a major risk factor of heart attack and stroke, which are responsible for more deaths in this country than all other causes combined.

How many people are affected? One in every six adults has high blood pressure, and less than half of them know it. High blood pressure can be found in anyone, from a child to a senior citizen.

"Of course the big question is, what causes high blood pressure," Gordon said. "Actually, we're not sure in about 90 percent of the cases. Research continues to look for some answers, and there is a heavy emphasis on developing more medications which can control high blood pressure."

"The only way to detect high blood pressure is through a simple test that takes only a few minutes. The test involves placing a pressurized cuff around the upper arm, and with the aid of a stethoscope, the blood pressure is determined as the pressure on the cuff is released."

Exhibits sought for Huron fair

A special incentive program is being offered to all 4-H and Future Farmers of America members in Huron County.

The purpose is to encourage members to prepare and display exhibits providing information about Huron County agricultural commodities at the Huron County Fair Agri-Land. Agri-Land is a cooperative exhibit promoting Huron County agricultural commodities. Fifteen commodity groups will be promoting their product by giving out samples, providing literature and letting people know more about how to use their commodity and about their organizations.

Groups participating will be: Great Lakes Beet Growers, Thumb Sheep Breeders, Huron County Dairy Diplomats, Huron U-Pick Strawberry Growers, Huron Corn Growers, Thumb Cattlemen, Huron Pork Producers, Huron Bean Growers, Thumb Poultry Producers, Bay Port Fish Co., Huron 4-H, Thumb Certified Seed Growers, Huron Soil Conservation District, Huron Soil Cooperative and the Extension Homemakers.

Two types of exhibits are being encouraged: Information exhibit and action exhibit.

An information exhibit will be a maximum of 4-by-4 feet and provide information about any Huron County agriculture commodity. Information can include acres produced, cost of production, uses of the commodity, nutrient information and production information.

Awards of $40, $25, and $10 will be given for the top three exhibits.

An action exhibit will be a maximum of 4-by-8 feet. In addition to providing information about a commodity, it will also provide an opportunity for the fairgoers to test their knowledge or skills about a commodity.

Examples would be identifying the parts of livestock, electronic questions about commodities, judging contests, etc. Awards of $75, $50 and $25 will be offered to the top three action exhibits. All exhibits should be built to stand on a table or floor.

All exhibits must be brought to the meeting room of the new livestock arena Friday, Aug. 3, by 3 p.m.

Anyone or any group interested in participating can contact the Cooperative Extension Office in Bad Axe, for more information or ideas.

Groups or individuals planning to prepare an exhibit must enter the project at the extension office by June 1 to be eligible for the incentive awards.

Hawk boys unbeaten in league

The Cass City Red Hawk boys' track team is perched on top of the Thumb B Association and is the only school undefeated in league competition.

The Hawks now lead Marlette and Vassar by a single game. Vassar's only loss came Thursday at Cass City when the Hawks won a hotly contested 84-79 decision.

In the double dual meet, the Hawks easily topped North Branch, 121-39.

Against Vassar the Hawks were led by Greg Bliss and Mike Middaugh, triple winners. Bliss won the mile, 2-mile and 880-yard run. Middaugh took the high and low hurdles and the long jump.

The first place finishers and the times or distances were:

2-mile relay, Cass City, 9:15.58.

MIKE MIDDAGH shows the strain of running the 330-yard low hurdles in a double dual meet with Vassar and North Branch. The Hawk thinclad was a triple winner for Cass City with victories in both hurdles and the long jump.

Helwig starts fast in Ohio league

Ex-Cass Cityan Brian Helwig is off to a fast start with the Piqua (Ohio)

Fastballers, giving up only one earned run in 21 innings of pitching.

The Fastballers opened their Buckeye Major Fastpitch Conference schedule Saturday, April 28, against West Liberty, with Helwig getting the win in the nightcap on 11 strikeouts, one hit and two walks. He struck out 15 batters in a row. Piqua won, 4-1.

Helwig suffered his first loss of the season the next day when he gave up his first earned run in a 1-0 defeat to Findlay Jac and Do. He allowed five hits.

The week end left Piqua 2-2 in the conference and 4-2 overall.

The Cass City High School girls' track team suffered its first dual meet loss in Thumb B Association competition in nearly four years, stretching over 24 meets, but still retains a strong chance to win a share of the league title.

The loss came Thursday against Vassar, 82-70, at Cass City Recreational Park. The Hawks shared first place finishes against the Vulcans, but the Vassar depth proved decisive. Coach Doug Grezeszak says that Cass City may turn the results around in the Thumb B league meet when top performers earn most of the points. Vassar is undefeated in dual meets in the league and Cass City and Lakers have one loss.

O-G loses pair of twin bills

Owen-Gage dropped two baseball games to visiting Peck Monday, to fall to 2-4 in the North Central Thumb D League and 2-5 overall.

The Pirates took the opener, 11-5, on 10 hits and five walks at the expense of losing pitcher Reid Goslin, who struck out 11.

Winning pitcher Tim Mahaffey struck out four, walked five and gave up three hits. Both teams made seven errors.

Joe Lopez hit a double for the Bulldogs. Mahaffey aided his cause with two triples and a single.

Peck won the nightcap, 10-0, on 11 hits and one error. Ted Krause hit a single, triple and a home run for the victors.

The Bulldogs had three hits and four errors.

Steve Smith scattered three hits and struck out 12 for the win.

Lopez started on the mound for Owen-Gage and was relieved by Ron Susalla. They gave up a total of 11 hits, walked three and struck out five.

KINGSTON

Owen-Gage lost two baseball games to host Kingston last Thursday, 7-5 in the opener and 7-6 in the nightcap.

Mike Byers went the distance in the first game for the win, allowing eight hits, and three walks while striking out six.

Alan LeValley took the loss with six strikeouts, seven walks, and eight hits.

Owen-Gage was errorless; Kingston made two.

Reid Goslin, Earl Harris and Stu Stirrett each hit two singles for the Bulldogs. Cardinal Dave Ahern hit two doubles and Gary Cooper, a triple.

Ahern struck out 10 in the second game for the win. He gave up four hits and didn't walk anyone.

Goslin was the losing pitcher with five strikeouts, four walks and eight hits.

Stirrett hit a double. Mark Reehl had a double and single for the Cardinals. Gary Cooper's single in the seventh inning drove in the winning run.

Owen-Gage made three errors; Kingston, two.

Thumb bowlers end season

The Thumb Area Women's Bowling Association ended its season last week end with its first tournament, open to women who rolled a 550 series or better during the season.

More than 40 women participated in the qualifying rounds Saturday at Biff's Bowling Bar in Kinde. The top four then competed Sunday, with Dody Yahn of Pigeon finishing first and being named bowler of the year; Nancy Gainer, Port Hope, second; Bea Harwood, Bad Axe, third, and Marilyn Smith, Bad Axe, fourth.

The first place winner received a gold watch and second, third and fourth place finishers received silver dishes. The top four prizes were furnished by the association.

In addition, numerous merchants from throughout the upper Thumb donated prizes for various games on Saturday—squad prizes, 200 games, winners of various rounds, etc.

The association has more than 1,700 members.

Bulldog girls top Kingston, lose to Peck

Owen-Gage dropped to 3-3 in the North Central Thumb D League softball standings Monday with two losses to visiting Peck.

The Pirates won the opener, 3-2, on the pitching of Sheryl Hunt, who gave up two hits, walked five and struck out seven.

Sheila Engelhardt took the loss on five hits, three walks and one strikeout.

Barb Hellebuyck and Cindy Enderle got the Bulldogs' two hits, both singles.

Peck won the nightcap, 11-8. Suzie LeBlanc started for the team and took the win, allowing four hits and 10 walks, while striking out seven. Hunt came on in relief, struck out two, walked one and didn't allow any hits.

Engelhardt took the loss on 10 hits, five walks and one strikeout. Hellebuyck hit a double.

The Bulldogs were to have hosted Deckerville this Wednesday, host Lakers Thursday, Carsonville-Port Sanilac Saturday, and play at Akron-Fairgrove Monday.

KINGSTON

The Owen-Gage softball team elevated its record to 3-1 last Thursday with two wins at Kingston.

The Bulldogs coasted to a 23-2 win in the opener, aided by 14 walks issued by the Cardinal pitchers, Denise James, who took the loss, and Deanna Gusek, who relieved her. The Bulldogs banged five hits and struck out six times.

Sheila Engelhardt was the winning pitcher, striking out four, while only walking one and surrendering two hits.

Leading hitter for Owen-Gage was Jenny Hellebuyck, with two singles in four times at the plate.

The Cardinals hurt their cause with six errors. Owen-Gage didn't make any miscues.

The Bulldogs won the second game, 8-5. Engelhardt again pitching without relief, took the win, giving up two hits and one walk. She didn't strike out anyone.

Gusek took the loss on six walks, three strikeouts and two hits.

Owen-Gage's two hits, both singles, were batted by Marcy Enderle and Kathy Johnston.

Kingston's two hits, also singles, belonged to Belinda Eldridge and Denise James.

The Bulldogs made nine errors; Kingston, four.

SHEILA ENGELHARDT of Owen-Gage had a good day last Thursday against Kingston. The winning pitcher in both games, she gave up a total of seven runs, four hits, walked two and struck out four.

STRIKE! The Hawk baseball team has suffered from lack of punch at the plate. The action took place in the Hawks' loss to Vassar.

Hawk 9 wins 1st league game

The Cass City Red Hawks won their first game of the season in the Thumb B Association Tuesday, May 1, taking the nightcap of a twin bill from Vassar, 12-6.

It was the only bright spot of the week for Hawk fans as Vassar took the opener of the double header, 5-3.

In games Thursday at Laker High, the Lakers topped Cass City twice, 8-4 and 9-8.

The Hawks' record in the league is 1-5, but over-all

Cass City is a respectable, 6-6.

In its win for the week, the Hawks pounded three Vassar hurlers for 13 hits, including seven in the fourth when the Hawks scored six times to salt away the game. Randy Nicholas pitched a four-hitter for the victory.

Jim Crawley led the attack with three hits. Nicholas, Tom Wallace and Joe Langenburg collected two hits each.

The Hawks missed an opportunity for a sweep of the double header in the opening game when Vassar scored four times in the last inning to break open a tight game with the Hawks ahead, 2-1.

Victim of the rally was Langenburg who took the loss despite pitching a four-hitter. Tom Gilchrist picked up the win. Crawley led Cass City with two hits.

LAKER GAMES

The Lakers proved to have too much firepower for Cass City. They battered Langenburg and Gary Crickon for 11 hits on the way to the win.

The second game loss was a heartbreaker. Cass City went into the final inning leading 8 to 6 only to have the Lakers score three times on three hits and two errors to win the game. Nicholas in relief of Crickon took the loss.

DISTRICT DRAW

Cass City drew a bye in the 16-team qualifying round of district 46 State Baseball Tournament. They will meet Mayville which also drew a bye in the pre-district.

The game will be played May 25 at Cass City. The districts will also be held at Cass City June 1 and 2 with the first game starting at 12 noon.

Softball team posts 3 wins

It was a good week for the Cass City High School softball team in Thumb B Association competition as the Hawks took three out of four games played.

Tuesday, May 1, the Hawks split a double header with Vassar, and Thursday topped the Lakers twice.

Jill Hutchinson had the visiting Vulcans eating out of her hand in the first game as she tossed a neat three-hitter in a 10-0 win called after five innings. Colleen Irner, Lisa Benitez and Shannon McIntosh each collected two hits in the win.

It was a different story in the nightcap as Vassar jumped all over Hutchinson in the first inning to score four times, more than enough for Barnett to chalk up the win.

Barnett tossed a four-hitter and the Vulcans edged the Hawks, 6-2. Julie Smith led the Hawk attack with two hits in three tries.

LAKER GAMES

The Hawks were forced in overtime against the Lakers in the opening of the twin bill before Julie Miller rapped out a two-out single to score McIntosh in the close 3-2 Hawk win.

Hutchinson pitched a two-hitter to notch the victory. Both of the safeties came in the fourth inning when Lakers scored twice. Cass City scored twice in the fourth to set the stage for the winning rally. Benitez and McIntosh each collected two hits.

Yvette Hurd made one of her rare starts in the nightcap and pitched the Hawks to a 6-2 decision. The Hawks broke open a tight 2-2 game in the sixth with four big runs. Rhonda Fader rapped a key double down the third base line to key the rally. Smith, McIntosh and Pam Sawdon keyed the attack with two hits each.

DRAWINGS HELD

Drawing for the state pre-district and district tournaments have been held and the Hawks will face tough Marlette. The date and place have not been announced. There are 12 teams in the playoffs.

After the pre-districts the winning teams will meet May 25 for the first round of district 46 competition and the semi-finals and finals will be played June 1.

JILL HUTCHINSON'S record has suffered from some close defeats. She was in control in the first game against Vassar, winning easily, 10-0. She is regarded as one of the top pitchers in the Thumb B Association.

He was preceded in death by two brothers, George and John Soule; five sisters, Ellen Foote, Blanche Goodnoe, Laura Armstrong, Alice Day, and Anna Grice, and several nieces, nephews and other relatives.

Funeral services were held Saturday at Hacker Funeral Parlors, Sandusky, Rev. Fr. Cecil Soule of Crosswell officiating.

Burial was in Valley Cemetery, Ubyly.

MARTHA ZAWILINSKI

Martha Zawilinski, 75, of Cass City, died Wednesday, May 2, at Harper Hospital in Detroit after a short illness.

She was born May 16, 1908, in Detroit, the daughter of Alexander and Mary (Wojciechowski) Kolar.

Miss Kolar married Bruno Zawilinski Nov. 9, 1940, in Freiburg. Following their marriage, they lived in Detroit for a short time, later coming to Cass City, where they made their home.

Mrs. Zawilinski was a member of St. Pancratius Catholic Church of Cass City and its Altar Society.

She is survived by her husband; three daughters, Mrs. Thomas (Judith) Krolkowski, Almont, Mrs. Larry (Brunodine) Keyser, and Mrs. Frank (Nancy) Keller, both of Cass City; two sons, Peter Zawilinski, Punta Gorda, Fla., and Michael Zawilinski, Cass City; two brothers, Phillip Kolar, Romeo, and Thomas Kolar, Ubyly; two sisters, Mrs. Clara Wojcik, Lincoln Park, and Mrs. John Pelton, Snover, and eight grandchildren. Three brothers and two sisters preceded her in death.

A prayer service was Friday evening at Little's Funeral Home, Cass City.

Funeral mass was conducted Saturday morning at St. Pancratius, Rev. Julius A. Spleet officiating.

Burial was in Elkland Township Cemetery.

Open house marks 80th birthday for Reva Little

Twenty relatives and friends of Mrs. Reva M. Little of Cass City were in Center Line Saturday afternoon, when her 80th birthday was celebrated with a dinner and open house at the home of her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Don Roberts.

Mrs. Little's family includes two sisters, Mrs.

Paul Craig, Cass City, and Mrs. Alva McNeil, Bristol Road, Caro, and a brother, Rev. Robert Milner, Mt. Morris. All were present Saturday. The ages of the four total 298 years.

Among those attending were Mrs. Little's sons, Grant M. Little and his wife, Todd, N.C., and Bruce A. Little, Hawaii.

She was born May 7, 1904, in Almer Township, near Caro, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Milner. Her husband, Arthur Little, died in 1975.

In addition to three children, Mrs. Little has nine grandchildren and two great-grandsons.

She was head librarian for the Cass City Library, now Rawson Memorial Library, for 21 years, retiring in 1971. She was also a justice of the peace for many years, has been correspondent for the Chronicle for 41 years and was correspondent for other newspapers.

She is a life member of the Order of the Eastern star and American Legion Auxiliary and has been affiliated with four churches, for which she has done various volunteer work.

Forest land helps

New research shows that forested land returns 10 times the moisture to the atmosphere that deforested land does, says the National Wildlife Federation. Forested land is also said to produce 50 percent of the rain that falls on it.

26 years at Owen-Gage

Teacher-coach Claude Stevens retiring

If Claude Stevens' wife had never gone to the beach in Biloxi, Miss., or the wife of the superintendent of the Vanderbilt schools hadn't run into an elk with the family car, Claude Stevens probably would have never come to Owendale-Gagetown High School.

He did, and after having taught math there since 1957 and coached basketball and baseball most of those years, he is retiring.

Methodist Women eat 4-house meal

Fourteen persons attended the May meeting of United Methodist Women of Salem Church.

The meeting started with a progressive dinner with egg rolls at the home of Myung Park, salads at the home of Shirley Geiger, the main course at the home of Iris Tuckey, with dessert at the home of Elaine Jezewski, followed by the business meeting there with Shirley Geiger presiding.

For devotions, Mrs. Jezewski presented the brief story of "The Little Half-Worn Shoe." Luine Patton spoke on the history of the Red Bird Mission Hospital in Kentucky.

A get-well card to be sent to Cecil Loomis was signed. Members appropriated $50 toward the expenses of sending three members to attend the school of missions at Adrian in July. Mrs. Patton announced the annual "mystery trip" will be June 23.

The next monthly meeting will be June 4.

five league titles. His lifetime coaching mark, including the two schools he coached at previously, is 335-184.

In baseball, which he coached at Owen-Gage from 1957-74, his teams were 197-61 and won six or seven league titles. His life-time mark is 276-68.

Stevens graduated from Pentwater High School, south of Ludington, served in the Army Air Corps in World War II as a gunner on B-29 bombers in the Pacific and graduated from Central Michigan University in 1950.

He and his wife, Jacqueline, whom he married in 1950, went to Biloxi, where he was to take a civil service test to become a U.S. customs agent.

While Stevens was taking the test, she went to the beach, fell asleep, and returned with her face all puffed up from chiggers. He took one look at her, he recalled, and said, "To hell with this. We're coming back to Michigan."

He returned to CMU to take the required classes for him to teach and finished those in February, 1951. Stevens, who first studied chemistry, explained he decided to go into teaching because he wanted to coach.

Sports goes back a long way in the Stevens family. His father played with the Minneapolis Millers, a triple-A division baseball team, and his mother, who died when he was two months old, played for the Oklahoma Redheads professional basketball team.

In high school, Stevens played basketball, baseball, ran the dashes in track and was also on the swimming team.

His first teaching job was at Custer, east of Ludington, where he was also principal, athletic director and coached all sports. He was there four years.

He then went to Vanderbilt, north of Gaylord, where he again held those jobs at the high school. He was there two years.

For the next year, Stevens had signed a contract to teach at Detroit Southwestern High School and also coach baseball and freshman basketball.

CLAUDE STEVENS

Fate intervened in the form of an elk that collided with the car of Vanderbilt Supt. Leslie Reynolds, while his wife was driving.

Reynolds had applied for the job of superintendent of the then Owendale School District. Because of the accident, he didn't have a car, so Stevens volunteered to drive him to Owendale for the job interview.

While waiting in Owendale for Reynolds, Stevens talked to teacher Charles Ellis, who had been a classmate at CMU. Ellis persuaded him to come to Owendale.

Stevens notified Detroit

Presbyterians host mother-chum dessert

Eighty persons attended the annual mother and chum dessert served Monday evening in the First Presbyterian Church dining room.

The president of the Women's Association, Betty Russell, welcomed the guests. Following the grace by Sandra Bolton, women of Circle I served ice cream and cake at tables decorated with spring flowers.

For the program, the group moved to the auditorium, where the youth hand bell choir performed and a sing-a-long joined in with the adult hand bell ringers. Kathleen Bolton sang a tribute to mothers.

The program concluded with a movie, "Jimmy's Crickets in Times Square."

Special recognition was given to seven in the group; a gift to Avis Youngs as the eldest, to Barbara Cook as the youngest mother, and to Verna Mae MacRae as the mother whose daughter resides the greatest distance away.

Mrs. Bolton gave the benediction.

Southwestern he wasn't coming and went to Owendale to stay. He taught chemistry as well as math the first couple of years, then only taught math. In addition to baseball and basketball coach, the latter as assistant coach the first year, he also was assistant football coach until 1975.

Reynolds also came, incidentally, and was superintendent one or two years. The Owendale district merged with the Gagetown district in 1959.

STEVENS HAD LOTS of opportunities over the years to coach at other high schools, plus offers from Olivet College to coach baseball and Lake Superior State College for basketball.

He turned them all down. "I wasn't one of those people who thought the grass was greener (elsewhere)," Stevens said. More importantly, "I liked it here."

He admits another reason he didn't mind staying in Owendale was because with the exception of one summer, he didn't spend them in Owendale.

He spent them in Pentwater, in the family home more than 130 years old, which is six blocks from Lake Michigan.

In 1975, the Stevenses sold their home in Owendale and made the one in Pentwater their year-round home. Since then, Stevens has left home during the school year each Sunday evening, and returned after school each Friday. (It's a drive each way of at least 3 3/4 hours.) During the week, he stays with his daughter, Debbie Brinkman, near Cass City.

He and his wife have four other children, Tom Stevens, Oxford; Chris Stevens, a U.S. Army captain, soon to be stationed in Atlanta, Ga.; Lynne Ford, Pentwater, and Sue, who is getting married in June. Debbie, Chris and Tom all graduated from Owendale; Lynne and Sue from Pentwater.

All participated in athletics in high school and Chris also pitched for CMU.

"WE'VE HAD A LOT of good athletes in this school," Stevens said. Most, he added, were also good students.

The best all-around athlete, the veteran coach said, was Stan Brown, a 1962 graduate, who developed his athletic skills growing up in inner city Detroit. Brown was good in all sports, but was best in baseball. "He had a bad season his senior year," Stevens joked, "He only hit .910."

After high school, Brown signed with the Cleveland Indians and played one year in the minor leagues. He switched to amateur baseball and played on two national championship teams in the Detroit area, then to slow pitch softball and played on three world championship teams.

Stevens' most memorable win in basketball came in 1971 against Sebawaing (prior to its merger with Unionville). The Bulldogs trailed by six points with 22 seconds left and won in regulation time.

They tied it 79-all with two seconds left. Jim Ravi grabbed a Sebawaing rebound, was fouled, then made both foul shots for the win.

Stevens like the challenge of coaching at Owendale. In large schools, coaches can choose players to fit their (the coach's) style of play. In small ones, "You have to adjust your style to what you have... You have to really coach in a small school."

STEVENS HAS HIS retirement planned. A friend is retiring as Pentwater Township supervisor and Stevens is running uncontested (so far) to take his place. The township has 1,400 residents in winter and about 9,000 in summer. Also planned is, "I'm going to spend six weeks next winter in Mexico." After 32 years of teaching, Stevens knows once it's over, "You can't help but miss it. I'm going to miss it."

An open house for Stevens will be held Friday in the Owen-Gage High School cafeteria from 3-7 p.m.

20 attend Lutheran Ladies Aid

Good Shepherd Lutheran Church Ladies Aid met Monday with 20 members present.

Helen Avery gave a talk about the Lutheran Women's Missionary League retreat in Jeddo she had attended.

The June meeting will be a picnic at the park. Refreshments were served by hostesses Lucille Stine and Linda Voss.

Novesta signs road construction contract

The Novesta Township Board has signed a contract with the Tuscola County Road Commission for an estimated $32,260 of road work this year, it was announced at the Monday board meeting.

The major project, according to Clerk Nurse Kloc, will be grading, ditching and graveling where needed of two miles of Shabbona Road between Cemetery and Phillips Roads at an estimated cost of $25,600.

The rest of the money will be used for graveling other township roads where needed.

Also Monday, the board voted to purchase a new International tractor and mower for $15,659 from Janson Equipment of Caro. A price was obtained on one other make, with the cheaper tractor being purchased. The tractor will be used for roadside mowing.

The old tractor and mower will be sold to the highest bidder. The mower needs repairs. The board decided it wasn't worth spending the money to fix the mower, for which parts are no longer available, or modifying the old tractor so it could use a new mower.

At the suggestion of Supervisor Bill O'Dell, the board discussed whether the township should again have a constable and if it does, whether he should be armed.

Mrs. Kloc said of the 11 township residents at the meeting, most didn't want the constable to be armed, if one is appointed.

O'Dell will check further and at the June 4 meeting, the board will further discuss having a constable.

Three petitions were presented to the board to have roadside ditches cleaned.

The board approved cleaning two of them, for Jan and Stella Zieba along Shabbona Road, 1 1/2 miles east of Cemetery Road, and of Lee Voss for 1,400 feet of his property along Crawford Road. The Road Commission does the work, paid for by the township.

Voss also asked for the township to pay part of the cost, with him paying the rest, to extend a ditch along Shabbona Road that runs through his property. His request will be worked out, Mrs. Kloc said, as to who will pay how much and what work will be done.

Tabled was the request of Four new bridges in Novesta

The Novesta Township Board has signed a contract with the Tuscola County Road Commission for replacement of four bridges.

They are on Phillips Road, south of Kelly Road; DeLong Road, east of Dodge; Warner Road, south of Kelly, and Warner, north of Severance.

The Road Commission will use its own men and equipment to replace the present one-lane bridges with wider tube bridges. Once completed, wide farm equipment will be able to go over the bridges, instead of having to detour around them, which they have to do at present.

Supervisor Bill O'Dell said he hopes construction can be done this spring.

The Road Commission will pay 75 percent of the cost of the bridges, and the township, 25 percent. Novesta's total share is estimated at $3,200, O'Dell said.

Hessel Venema for cleaning of the ditch along his property on the east side of Phillips Road, north of White Creek.

His request was tabled, Mrs. Kloc explained, because Venema has also asked that the one mile of Phillips he lives on be graded, graveled and ditched, between Shabbona and Severance Roads.

The board will check with Venema and then make a decision at its June meeting.

At the request of a Lapeer funeral home, the board established a policy regarding burials in the township cemetery. From now on, all caskets will have to be encased in concrete burial vaults.

The board increased insurance on township records kept in officials' homes. Coverage on records kept in the clerk's home was increased from $500 to $1,500; supervisor's and treasurer's homes from $500 to $1,000.

Brady pleads guilty to burning church building

Dennis J. Brady pleaded guilty in Tuscola County Circuit Court Monday to starting the fire that heavily damaged the Caro Church of Christ. Damage was initially estimated at $150,000.

In addition to his guilty plea to arson of real property, Brady, 21, of 3120 Hurds Corner Road, Caro, also pleaded guilty to breaking and entering an occupied dwelling (a home on Hooper Street, Caro) and aiding and/or abetting Kent M. Haag in breaking and entering the Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Caro. All three incidents took place in the early morning hours of April 16.

Judge Patrick R. Joslyn accepted his plea. A sentencing date will be set. As of Tuesday, Brady remained in jail in lieu of bond.

In a plea bargain with the prosecution, in exchange for his guilty plea, three other charges against Brady will be dismissed. They are breaking and entering the Church of Christ, aiding and/or abetting Haag in breaking and entering of Wright Pharmacy in Caro, and aiding and/or abetting Haag in larceny of a building, in theft of the tabernacle from the Sacred Heart Church. All took place April 16.

Haag, 32, of 344 Wells Street, Caro, also appeared Monday before Joslyn and pleaded innocent to breaking and entering an occupied dwelling (the home on Hooper Street), breaking and entering the Sacred Heart Church, breaking and entering the Church of Christ, breaking and entering Vandemark's Auto Parts in Caro, breaking and entering Wright Pharmacy, breaking and entering a motor vehicle (a pickup camper) and larceny in a building (theft of the Sacred Heart tabernacle), all April 16.

A pretrial hearing was scheduled next week Monday and bond of $50,000 was continued. Haag remained in jail Tuesday, unable to post bond.

ASSAULT

In a plea bargain with the prosecution, Kirk T. Steinbacher, 20, of 7424 Irish Road, Millington, pleaded guilty but mentally ill to assault with a dangerous weapon (shotgun) without intent to commit murder.

The assault was against his father April 16 inside their home.

Steinbacher was originally charged with two counts of assault with intent to commit murder (against his mother and father), breaking and entering an occupied dwelling (his parents' home) with intent to commit felonious assault and possession of a firearm in commission of a felony.

He was accused of breaking into his parents' home on Hess Road, Vassar, Feb. 10 by kicking in a door, firing shots inside and making threats against them. He did not shoot at them.

In exchange for Steinbacher's guilty plea, the original charges against him will be dismissed.

Felonious assault carries a maximum penalty of four years in prison. The "but mentally ill" plea, Prosecutor Scott Stermer explained, means Steinbacher will be sentenced the same as anyone else, but he must receive psychiatric treatment while in prison and may be assigned to facilities best suited for his receiving treatment.

OTHER CASES

Dean A. Emery, 27, no available address, stood mute Monday to a charge of uttering and publishing a check for $100 in Caro June 25, 1982.

A plea of innocent was granted and pretrial hearing scheduled next week Monday.

The prosecution entered a motion for supplemental information, charging Emery with being an habitual criminal because of four prior felony convictions. If convicted of the supplemental information, he could be sentenced to life in prison. The normal maximum penalty for the uttering and publishing charge is five years in prison.

George R. Donovan, 26, of 401 Weeden Road, Caro, was sentenced to one year in the county jail, with work release privileges granted, for delivery of LSD last Aug. 5 in Indianfields Township. He pleaded guilty to the charge April 9.

Donovan was placed on five years' probation, fined $2,500 and assessed $500 court costs.

Jerry Martinez, 17, of 372 Wells Street, Caro, pleaded guilty to unlawful use of an auto March 16 in Caro. His plea was accepted and sentencing scheduled June 18.

Kurt A. Urban, 22, of 663 W. Burnside Street, Caro, stood mute to a charge of malicious destruction of property over $100 for damaging a car Feb. 22 in Caro.

A plea of innocent was entered and pretrial hearing scheduled June 25. Bond was continued.

Charles G. Crump, 22, of 4908 Murphy Park Drive, Otter Lake, stood mute to two charges of criminal sexual conduct. A plea of innocent was entered and pretrial hearing scheduled May 16.

The first charge has two counts: Criminal sexual conduct (first degree) with a girl under age 13 in his Watertown Township home April 13. The second count, CSC (second degree), is with a different girl under age 13 in his home the same day.

The second charge is CSC (first degree) with a girl under age 13, one of the ones named as complainant in the first charge, April 21 in a different home in Watertown Township.

Suzann M. Gamm, 21, of 5275 Hess Road, Vassar, pleaded guilty to attempted breaking and entering an occupied dwelling in Vassar Township April 1.

Her plea was accepted and a sentencing date will be set. Bond was set at $5,000 personal recognizance if she has a job, cash or surety if she doesn't.

Brian K. Bables, 17, of 145 N. Andy Street, Vassar, pleaded guilty to attempted entry of a building with intent to commit larceny, a house in Vassar township March 31.

His plea was accepted and sentencing scheduled March 31. Bond was set at $5,000 personal recognizance.

School - union can't agree

No progress was reported in the Monday negotiating session between the Cass City School Board and the Tri-County Bargaining Association, the first held since Feb. 9.

Supt. Donald Crouse said the session lasted more than three hours and the TCBA bargainers were "not in a position to honor" the oral contract agreement that was reached Nov. 11 on a three-year contract.

The TCBA has claimed no such tentative agreement was reached.

Cass City Education Association President Don Schelke told the Chronicle

Kindergarten round-up at Owen-Gage

Kindergarten round-up for the Owendale-Gagetown Area Schools will be Tuesday, May 15, in the Gagetown Elementary School gym from 9-11 a.m. for students with last names starting with M-Z.

Parents should bring the birth certificate and immunization record with their child.

The school nurse will be there to answer questions about immunization and the speech therapist will screen children for speech problems. Hearing testing will take place at that time.

the TCBA bargainers agreed no public comment would be made concerning the negotiations until after teachers are informed at a meeting this Wednesday afternoon.

Both sides are awaiting appointment of a state fact finder. The TCBA filed a request with the Michigan Employment Relations Commission last December for fact finding.

The MERC submitted the names of three potential fact finders to each side, which had to cross off one name and send the other two back to MERC.

If both sides crossed off different names, then the one whose name was not eliminated will be the fact finder, Schelke explained. If they both crossed off the same person, MERC will select a fact finder from the remaining two.

The two sides are now waiting for MERC to announce selection of a fact finder, who will then schedule a hearing at which each can present their positions.

He or she will then consider the information presented and issue a recommended settlement. The recommendation isn't binding, so a contract will still have to be negotiated.

Crouse said the dealings with MERC are being handled by the board's professional negotiator, Al Luce, but his understanding is that Luce sent back the two names of potential fact finders under protest.

The board's position, the superintendent explained, is there was a tentative agreement that "the union is unwilling to honor and if you had an agreement, you don't need fact finding."

Teachers have been working the present school year without a contract.

Until the nineteenth century, solid blocks of tea were used as money in Siberia.

Letter to the editor

Moore says he's innocent

To the Editor:

I would like you and the rest of the people in Cass City to know that you haven't seen the last of me yet.

Hopefully, in the near future you'll be printing, "Moore found innocent by jury," instead of printing that I was found guilty.

But the way you printed in the March 8 edition of the Chronicle, you sounded like you're pretty sure I've committed this crime.

You didn't print that the only evidence that the police have is that a 16-year-old told them that I broke into some houses with him. He could have said anybody's name and they would be in the same place that I'm in, in jail with a $12,000 cash bond that is impossible for me to put up.

I admit that I did break into a house last year, but I also did time in jail for it. So why bring it up?

Also the time I did in the Sanilac County Jail was from the same crime that I was convicted of in Tuscola County.

What you're saying is that I've committed a crime before, so I must have done it this time. Well, you're wrong.

Another thing I'd like to let the public know is that the 16-year-old is still living at home. He's not on any kind of bond, so why isn't he in jail or a detention center? He's the one who admitted to this crime, not me. Think about it, and put yourself in my place. It sounds like the police told him to say that I did it with him and they'll let him go. That's just my opinion, but I want that 16-year-old to know I'm not going to do his time for him.

Sincerely,
David Moore (Elenbaum)
Sanilac County Jail

P.S. There is a law that says a person is innocent until found guilty, don't believe it.

In Sanilac and Tuscola Counties, it's the other way around, a person is guilty until found innocent. Of course, neither county will admit to that, but I've been through both court systems and in my opinion, that's the way they work.

Editor's note: Moore is charged with two counts of breaking and entering and one of larceny in connection with three alleged break-

Hand quilting 'stained glass' class May 22

The Cass City Community Education Department will conduct a hand quilting class called "Stained Glass," taught by Kay Niedrich of Caro.

The technique consists of putting fabric together and quilting it to become a piece that looks like stained glass. The class project will be a sun catcher for a window. Students are asked to bring scissors, pencil, straight-pins and a thimble.

The one-session class will be Tuesday, May 22, from 7-9 p.m. at Cass City High School. Cost will be $2.50. The kit is $1.50 and may be purchased from the instructor the night of the class.

To register, call the Community Education office at 872-4151 or mail your registration to the Community Education Department, 4868 N. Seeger Street, Cass City.

ins earlier this year in Sanilac County.

A separate trial has been scheduled on each charge, the first in June and the other trials in September and December. Chief Assistant Prosecutor James Young said Moore stands a better chance of receiving a fair trial that way than if he were tried on all three charges at one time.

The 16-year-old has been charged in connection with one of the break-ins, according to Young, and will be tried in Sanilac County Probate Court, unless he enters a plea.

Moore served sentences in the Tuscola and Sanilac jails for different offenses, not the same one.

Monday in Sanilac County District Court, the 18-year-old, of 6359 Robinson Road, Cass City, pleaded guilty to a charge of escape from jail.

Judge Richard P. Rioridan accepted his plea and remanded him to jail to await sentencing. The escape charge is a misdemeanor and carries a maximum penalty of one year in jail.

Moore was caught early Friday, according to the Sanilac County Sheriff's Department, trying to escape through the food service elevator. He got in the elevator on the second floor, in an area accessible to trustees - he was a trustee - and was captured at the first floor elevator exit.

Moore's letter was written April 28.

Testify in O-G hearing

The second day of a Michigan Employment Relations Commission hearing regarding an unfair labor practice charge filed against the Owendale-Gagetown School Board by the Tri-County Bargaining Association was held Tuesday in Detroit.

Owen-Gage Education President Manuel Thies was the only one to testify, and was on the witness stand for more than 3½ hours.

He said he finished his testimony. The attorneys hired by the Michigan Education Association have "at least one" more witness to call to the stand, TCBA chief negotiator Bob Gengler, then Owen-Gage's attorney can call his witnesses to the stand, according to Thies.

The first day of the hearing was Tuesday of last week. The third day will be June 12, Thies said.

The TCBA, an MEA affiliate representing Owen-Gage teachers in contract bargaining, has charged the board with failure to bargain in good faith.

Inquiries and questions concerning the

SUMMER YOUTH EMPLOYMENT PROGRAM

BACK FROM SPACE — Astronaut Brewster Shaw Jr. (left) presented the small American flag and Columbia-Skylab cloth patch (later made into this montage) and Cass City flag that he carried into space to Village President Ray Armstead Jr. Earlier Thursday, during the program he presented to Cass City High School students, he presented a similar montage which included the CC varsity letter he carried into space, to Student Council President Ed Hewitt.

APPRECIATION — Outgoing Chamber of Commerce President Curt Strickland (right) presented a plaque from the chamber to former Village President Lambert Althaver in appreciation of his 21 years of service to village government, two as trustee and 19 as president. At left is new chamber President Kim Glaspie.

Walbro sells 265,000 stock shares

Bacon, Stifel, Nicolaus (Stifel, Nicolaus & Company, Incorporated) sole underwriter, announced last Thursday the public offering of 265,000 shares of Walbro Corp. common stock at $18.50 per share. Net proceeds will be used to repay a portion of the company's revolving credit bank loan in order to give Walbro additional borrowing capacity to fund expansion programs.

day be used in constructing a space station in space, which President Reagan has ordered will be a priority of the space program.

Shaw ended his slide program by showing members of the crew on the flight. The pilot will be Bryan O'Connor. There was applause — presumably from women (it was dark) when he showed the last slide, of mission specialist Mary Cleave, whom he described as a "very smart lady." She has a doctoral degree in civil and sanitation engineering. Shaw said of the four, "The whole bunch is a lot of fun."

The astronaut ended his more than one hour presentation about his first flight by telling his audience, "I'm really looking forward to coming back and telling you about the next one."

Singles club dance Sat.

The YMCA Thumb Singles Club will conduct a dance Saturday from 8:30 p.m.-12:30 a.m. at Maple Valley Elementary School in Sandusky.

Music will be provided by Denny Ewald. Refreshments will be available and guests are welcome.

By Bill Myers Taking stock

Dear Bill:

The day I sold my newspaper I became an Instant Nobody in this town. After a lifetime as the town editor, I am now just an ordinary, no-account bum.

Betty and I have talked about moving to Florida. You seem to be offering a lot of free counsel in your columns, so tell me:

What do we look for, and look out for, if we decide to uproot from northern Michigan and join you and the Medicare set down there?

Harry Whiteley

Dear Harry:

You are not unfamiliar with south Florida after spending several weeks here every winter the past dozen years. But I might have a few tips as a fellow who has been a resident since 1961. I see things a little differently from a tourist.

First, location: There's a reason property is cheaper north of Palm Beach: The weather is not so good. It's colder by five degrees in Stuart than the Palm Beach-Lauderdale area. Vero Beach, a lovely community, is 10 degrees colder.

Second: Don't be in a rush to buy a house or condo. The market is soft now, and is likely to be for some time. There'll be lots of bargains in the future.

Meanwhile, rent a place, furnished, for a few months while you look around.

Personally, I like living on the water — but that means the Intracoastal and not the ocean. Along the ocean very few plants or bushes grow well, lawns are poor, and the windows get covered with salt constantly. At night it's a dismal view, because the coastline is so straight, and all you see is a big, black ocean.

The exposure of your house or apartment is very important in Florida. A south-facing one is warmer in winter and cooler in summer. A west-facing one gets a hot and glaring afternoon sun you won't like. The ideal: a southeast corner apartment.

Don't get a ground floor apartment. They're too easy to break into. You get ants, too. Don't get one too high, or you won't be able to enjoy the landscaping or the passing scene. Floors three, four, five, six or seven are fine.

The further away you get from the ocean, the hotter it will be in summer and the colder in winter. The ocean is a great equalizer. There are also a lot more bugs when the weather gets warm.

Houses, of course, have the same problems with break-ins as do first-floor apartments. Oh yes, and don't bring a dog to Florida.

Nothing but problems, and most apartments don't allow pets.

If you are considering the west coast of Florida, let me point out the winters will be colder and the summers warmer. And if you get down around the Marco Island area near Naples, the bugs will eat you alive in the summer.

After a year down here, and you're settled in, sell your house in Rogers City. You'll do it sooner or later anyhow. Join the rest of us unemployed no-goods who are enjoying one of the nicest parts of America as become a full-time resident.

P.S.: Taxes are less for full-timers, too.

Editor's note: Whiteley owned the Presque Isle County Advance in Rogers City. He doesn't disagree with Myers' advice, but claims he didn't write the letter, adding, "You couldn't drag me out of northern Michigan with a team of horses."

Gagetown approves rezoning

The Gagetown Village Council Monday evening approved rezoning of the St. Agatha School property from R-2 residential to R-3 to allow its use as a state licensed adult foster care home.

The Village Planning Council, following a public hearing, had recommended the rezoning.

Clare Roller of Caro has an option to buy the building from the St. Agatha Catholic Church if he can obtain financing and get a state license. (The Chronicle incorrectly said last week Roller wanted to convert the building into apartments for senior citizens and that he was from Fairgrove.)

The building was last used as a church school during the 1968-69 school year. It was used after that for Sunday School and catechism classes.

It was last used for any purpose during the 1977-78 school year, when it was rented by the Owen-Gage School District, according to Deacon Lambert Kuhr.

pool last summer.

As an honor prize winner, it was entered in the national Scholastic Art Awards Program competition in New York City, where it received an honorable mention.

In announcing the junior citizen, intermediate school Principal Robert Stickle also named the other nominees for the honor. They were Ed Hewitt, Paula Burdon, Janis Burnette, Marsha Taylor and Jill Hutchinson.

OTHER AWARDS

Outgoing chamber President Curt Strickland presented a plaque from the chamber to Lambert Althaver, in appreciation of his 21 years of service to village government, two on the council and 19 as village president.

Dale McIntosh presented a plaque to the special guest and his good friend, Astronaut Brewster Shaw Jr., from "the Cass City community honoring him with deep pride as its illustrious son..."

Rev. Robert Taylor of the Cass City Missionary Church gave the invocation.

Huron and Sanilac County residents will be voting Tuesday on a 2 mill tax increase to fund Thumb Area Transit, the public bus system that operates in those two counties.

Defeat of the millage, according to TAT Director Brad Diamond, will mean service will stop, probably at the end of September. If the millage is approved in one county, service will continue in that county only.

Polling places will be the normal voting places in those counties, usually township halls. Voting hours will be from 7 a.m.-8 p.m.

TAT started service in September, 1981. The first two years, all costs were paid by the state except for what was raised by fares.

During the current fiscal year, the state's share is 75 percent, with the remainder coming from fares.

Starting the fourth year, combined state and federal funds will pay half the operating cost, with fares expected to provide 25 percent of the needed revenue. The millage is needed to provide the rest.

If approved, the levy will raise about $85,000 per county per year. The levy will be for three years, from Oct. 1, 1984, through Sept. 30, 1987.

The cost to the individual property owner will be 20 cents per $1,000 of state equalized valuation per year. For property worth $60,000 (state equalized valuation of $30,000), the added tax would be $6 a year.

During 1982-83, according to Diamond, TAT carried 170,091 passengers, which was 49,025 more than were carried during the first year of operation. By the time the present operating year is over, it is expected ridership will have exceeded 200,000.

TAT provides mostly what is called "demand-response" service, Monday through Saturday. Residents in the zones which include Bad Axe and Sandusky can receive service the same day they call, usually within an hour.

Persons living outside those zones must make a reservation 24 hours in advance. The TAT buses can pick up the passengers at their home, take them to their destination and return.

It does have some flexible routes used for picking up and returning the same persons daily, which with some deviation permitted to pick up other passengers.

Among TAT's passengers are handicapped persons who travel to programs conducted by mental health agencies and intermediate school districts, high school students traveling to vocational classes at other high schools and senior citizens in the Foster Grandparents program traveling to and from their assignments.

The two counties are divided into zones. The regular

Homemakers Night held

The Tuscola County Association of Extension Homemakers met April 26 at the Gilford United Methodist Church for its annual Homemakers Night. A roast beef dinner was prepared and served by the North-West Gilford Study Group.

Members displayed their cultural art works, which consisted of quilts, pillows, ceramics and other items.

Past county chairwomen were honored: Mrs. Walter Moderaw, Dorothy Stokes Stevens, Gladys Laurie, Maggie Boughman, Helen Smit, Ethel Youngs, Mrs. Clark Davison and Mrs. Gerry Nobel.

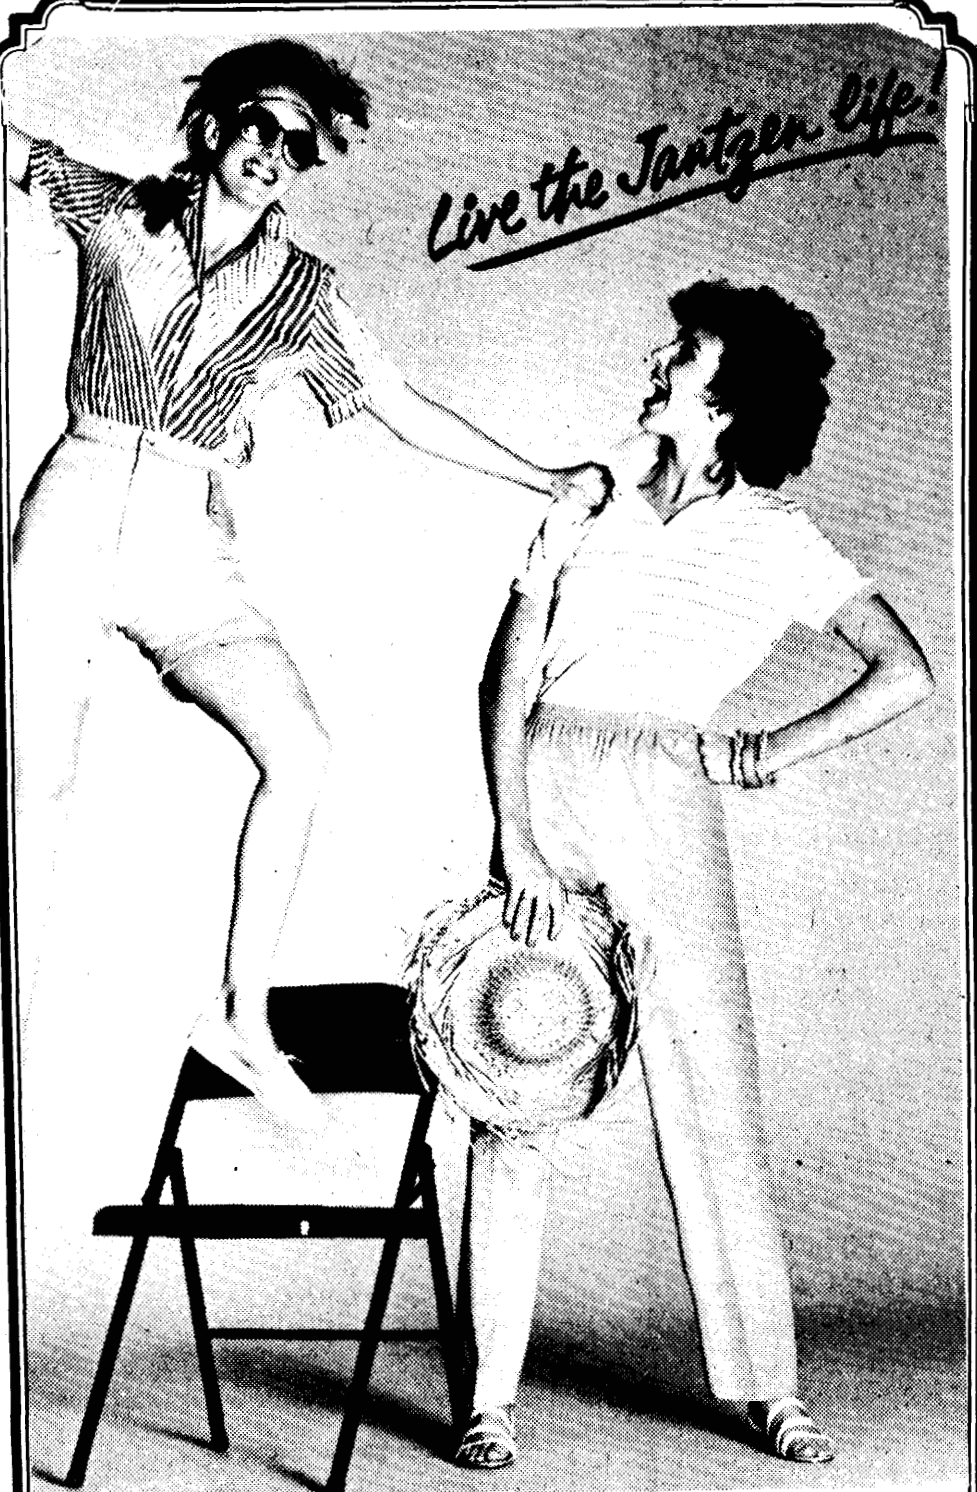

Each group chose a special lady from their study group to be honored: Hinson, Mary Jane Nobel; North West Gilford, Alice Haske; Elmwood, Ella Mickovich; Moreland, Alice Thomas; Arbela, Ruth Bauer, and Watertown-Duncan, Lila Free-land.

Easter Seals seeks medical equipment

The Michigan Easter Seal Society is accepting donations of used medical equipment for use in its loan equipment program.

Over 30 sites are in operation and equipment is needed to upgrade and expand this program, such as wheelchairs, walkers, canes, crutches, bath benches and commodes.

All items which cannot be shared with other social service agencies. To make arrangements for pick-up or delivery, call Cheryl Jones toll-free at (800) 292-2729. All donations are tax-deductible.
