Novesta voters okay salary increases at annual meeting

Residents of Novesta Township were in a generous mood Saturday at the township annual meeting, approving $750 pay increases to the top three elected officials.

Supervisor William O'Dell's salary increased from $3,750 to $4,500 per year. Salaries for Clerk Nursie Kloc and Treasurer Ralph Zinnecker increased from $2,250 to $3,000 per year.

It is the first increase township officials received in two years.

Kloc told the 16 township residents attending the meeting that during last year's annual meeting the board turned down a $200 salary increase. She said she wanted to compare pay scales of other township officials.

Kloc presented a study of township pay scales prepared by the Fremont Township clerk. The study showed Novesta Township paid its clerk and treasurer the lowest salary of the 23 townships in Tuscola County. Wisner Township pays its supervisor $3,000, the only township lower than Novesta.

Indianfields Township supervisor receives an annual salary of $9,180. He is the highest paid supervisor. He is also paid $13,903 for assessing duties.

Kloc requested that she and Zinnecker receive a pay increase of $500 per year.

"Nursie and Ralph are underpaid," O'Dell said.

"They do a lot of work." Township resident George Wright made a motion that O'Dell, Kloc and Zinnecker be paid the same as Gilford Township's elected officials. This would be a $750 increase for Kloc and Zinnecker, and a $1,750 increase for O'Dell.

"I think $4,500 is a fair salary for a supervisor," O'Dell said, turning down an additional $1,000. Township residents unanimously approved the raise.

The township's deputy clerk, Iva Hartwick, and deputy treasurer, Evert Fields will also receive an increase. Their wages are based on one-twelfth of the yearly salary paid to the clerk and treasurer. Their annual wages will increase from $187.50 to $250.

The two newest board members, trustees Donna Monroe and Tim Knoblet did not receive a pay increase. They are paid $35 per meeting.

Also at the annual meeting, township resident Carl Labish requested board meetings and elections take place at the Deford Elementary School building instead of the town hall. Labish pointed out the lack of bathroom facilities and running water.

"This is not a place to hold a meeting," Labish said about the town hall. "We can't even have a drink of water or go to the bathroom."

Labish said Cass City School District Superintendent Donald Crouse told him the township could rent the gymnasium for $3, plus a $10 per hour custodian charge, if the meeting takes place after regular school hours.

At Labish's request, voters will decide where township meetings will be at an upcoming election.

BUDGET

Township residents approved the 1985-86 budget that projects township revenues at $96,450, and expenditures at $95,892.

The largest portion of the township's revenues, $39,000, will come from state revenue sharing funds. Local property taxes are estimated to generate $19,700. Novesta levies 1.5 mills. Federal revenue sharing funds are projected at $5,000.

The township carried over a $28,000 fund balance from last year. This is less than the previous year, when there was a $51,400 fund balance.

Zinnecker explained funds are kept in high interest earning accounts until needed. Last year the township generated $3,200 interest from the fund balance.

The lion's share of the township's expenditures, $35,000, are budgeted for road construction.

"This year we are going to have to spend our money on road work," O'Dell said. He added that several people have called to see what could be done about roads. "We are working on it," O'Dell said. "I haven't seen all of the roads, but I have seen quite a few. Any special improvements on a road we have to pay for."

In Tuscola County, road maintenance, including grading, patching and snowplowing, are paid by the county. Graveling and other improvements are charged to the townships.

The township budgeted $7,200 for fire protection from the Elkland Township Fire Department. Ambulance service for township residents will cost $4,500.

Sanitation services will cost township residents $3,000 this year. At a February township meeting, trustees agreed to hire Rich's Disposal, Deford, to bring a trash disposal truck to the township hall once a month. Trash pick up is the third Saturday of each month, from 8 a.m. to noon. Rich's Disposal charges the township $190 per month for each truck load.

Last year, the township spent $5,557 for residents to use the Cass City landfill. "It's a temporary situation," O'Dell said. "But it is working."

BRIDGE REPAIR

During the regular March meeting, prior to the annual meeting, trustees agreed to pay the Tuscola County Road Commission $1,000 for its portion of re-

No increase in taxes

Budget shows school to end year in red

Cass City School District will be reaching into a $462,984 surplus to keep afloat in fiscal 1984-85 which ends June 30, according to a budget adopted Monday night by the board of trustees at its regular meeting at Cass City High School.

Supt. Donald Crouse is predicting total revenues of $3,798,592 and expenses of $3,863,113. If the budget is followed, the school will end the year $64,621 in the red, but still have nearly $400,000 in reserve at the end of the fiscal year.

Although no new taxes have been requested, total revenues have increased about 2.5 percent while expenses are expected to climb about 8 percent.

One of the big increases will be for elementary instruction. It jumped about 15.5 percent from $575,699 to $664,807.

The reason for the sharp jump, Crouse told the board, was the addition of a teacher and more teacher aides.

Intermediate instruction will rise only 4.4 percent because there is one less teacher than previously. High school teachers' costs rose 9.9 percent. If the budget is followed, costs at the school will have risen from $3.42 million in 1982-83 to $3.86 million at the end of 1985.

The complete budget is printed elsewhere on this page.

RAISE PRICE

The board voted to raise the price of milk and cookies from $13 to $16.50 for students in the kindergarten. The new price is expected to cover costs.

In the future, the price will be adjusted without special board approval. Trustees voted to have the price changed whenever necessary at the beginning of each school year to cover costs.

The board also considered allowing chocolate milk to be served every day instead of three days a week. Crouse reported that students are refusing to drink milk on days when chocolate is not offered and the hot lunch program is losing about $1,000 yearly because of it. Because it is a policy change, the formal vote cannot be held until the next meeting.

BUY BUSES

The board authorized the purchase of three Wayne bus bodies at a cost of $13,437 each, less $2,950 for three buses traded in.

Wayne was the lowest of three bidders. Wayne also furnishes bodies for all of the other vehicles in the fleet.

OTHER BUSINESS

Election inspectors will earn more. The election chairperson will be paid $4.75 per hour and inspectors $4.50 per hour. Previously all workers received $3.50 an hour, a rate established in 1980.

Previously, however, inspectors were paid for training sessions. Now that expense will be paid by the inspectors.

School seeks tax renewal

Voters in the Cass City School District will vote Monday on a 16.9 mill renewal for operation.

The election will be held at Cass City High School and the polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

The renewal millage is expected to enable the school to operate its present curriculum. The 1984-85 budget shows that the money raised by the 16.9 mills may be a little less than actual expenses, but the school has a healthy reserve that Superintendent Donald Crouse feels will be enough to see the district through the two years for which the renewal is requested. The district has been operating on 16.9 mills since June 1982.

Among members of the school board there has been discussion about a millage increase to pay for an expanded curriculum.

However, on the urging of the superintendent, it has been shelved while the district seeks the renewal.

Crouse explained to the board that the 16.9 renewal is essential to keep the school operating as it is now.

After the operating millage has been received, he said, an expanded curriculum can be explored.

We can ask the taxpayers if they want a specific program at a specific cost, he said, and they can decide if it is worth it.

An expanded curriculum is different than this renewal request, Crouse added. Without it, he said, we just can't operate.

School petitions due April 8

April 8 is the final day for people interested in running for a school board position to register for the June 10 school election.

To be placed on the ballot, a petition with at least 20 signatures of registered voters from the school district must be submitted. Superintendents of Cass City, Owen-Gage, Kingston and Ubyly school districts recommend the petition have 25 to 30 signatures. This will guarantee the state minimum requirement of 20 signatures.

Cass City Superintendent Donald Crouse explained

some signatures may be invalidated if the person is no longer a registered voter.

The positions of Cass City School Board members Ben Hobart and Thresa Burnette expire June 30; Owen-Gage, Joseph Warack and Leona LaFave; Kingston, Janet Grieve and Louis Wenzlaff, and Ubyly, Julia Heilig.

All are four-year terms. Petition forms are available from the superintendent's office of the school district. Petitions must be returned to the superintendent's office by April 8 at 4 p.m.

Hills and Dales Hospital enters home care field

With Diagnostic Related Groupings (DRG's) reducing the hospital stay of Medicare and Medicaid patients, the Hills and Dales Hospital has entered into the home health care business to provide medical services to patients.

According to Hills and Dales Hospital Director Ken Jensen, under the DRG program, patients are sent home after a shorter hospital stay and may require medical care at home until they fully recover from the illness.

In the past, this service was provided by the Tuscola County Health Department and private organizations such as Allen Health Care, Cass City.

Hills and Dales Hospital is negotiating with Caro Community Hospital to establish a county-wide home health care program. Carol Hrycko, former director of nursing for the Tuscola County Health Department, has been hired by the Hills and Dales Hospital to coordinate the program. Hrycko left the health department March 8. She began her duties at Hills and Dales Hospital the following Monday.

At a February health department board meeting, a letter from Jensen, representing Hills and Dales Hospital, informed trustees it is interested in taking over the home health care department on a county-wide basis.

Health Department Director John Niederhauser said the board is interested in further discussions with Jensen.

"The home health care the Tuscola County Health Department provides is a needed and important service in Tuscola County," Niederhauser said. "However, it is not mandated by the state to provide such a service."

He added the board has not given a "clear indication" to accept or reject the offer, but the trustees requested Niederhauser send a letter to Jensen informing him they are interested in the proposal, and would like to discuss it further.

Hrycko said when she agreed to come to Hills and Dales Hospital to establish the program, it had to be a county-wide program available to all residents, regardless of insurance.

Hrycko expects it will be midsummer before the program is state certified. A patient must be referred to the program by a physician.

In addition to offering services provided by registered nurses, health care will be provided by physical and occupational therapists and a nurses aide program.

CAROL HRYCKO will be coordinating a new home health care program for the Hills and Dales Hospital, Cass City.

Nursing students to honor county grandparents

Nursing assisting students at the Tuscola Area Skill Center have planned a special program to honor and meet some of the "grandparents" of Tuscola County. It will be held Thursday, March 28, at the Skill Center. The program will begin at 10:00 a.m. and conclude with lunch that these folks may purchase for $1.00.

The activities are planned in conjunction with the students' Health Occupation Students of America Community Awareness Project, "Adopt a Grandparent." The "grandparents" of Tuscola County are special people and should not be forgotten. Their work years may be over but their life experiences are invaluable. Each life stage presents new satisfactions and challenges. People keep growing throughout life; therefore growing older is growing better, states Mrs. Pat Kirby, instructor.

The Tuscola County Board of Commissioners has declared March 24-30 Tuscola County Adopt-A-Grandparent Week. It is suggested during this observance to set aside time to spend with an elderly person. Further information can be obtained by calling the Tuscola Area Skill Center, 673-5300.

(And anyone else he can get to help.)

Joan O'Dell has done her bit to make a Weekly Reader writing pals contest in Cheboygan a success.

It started with a balloon found in a 20-acre field near the O'Dell home Monday. In it Walter Chamberlain asked the finder to get in touch.

Mrs. O'Dell promptly mailed a note to the youngster she figures will be in about the second grade and enclosed a pin showing where Cass City is located.

Every cloud has a silver lining department. The snow and 50-mile-per-hour winds that lashed the roof of the Silverdome in Pontiac put Lynwood Lapeer of Cass City back on the job.

Not only was he called to work, but he was pictured on the job in last Thursday's edition of the Detroit Free Press.

You can't keep a good man down, but you can slow him up a bit. Doug Grezeszak went home Monday after a 4-day stay in the hospital. The genial track coach was hit by a shot put Thursday and suffered a cracked rib and an injury to his back.

It happened when a first-year student became confused learning how to throw the shot and sent it off at a 60-degree angle hitting Grezeszak in the side.

Grezeszak is aiming to return to school Monday and also resume his job as track coordinator.

A THEATRICAL PRESENTATION on drug and alcohol abuse, "One for the Road," will be presented to the students of Cass City High School March 29 at 2:00 p.m. The play, presented by Crossroads Productions Ltd., features (from left): Debbie Kovellev, Irene Schweyer and Annette DePetris.

Alcohol abuse play to be presented to students

As part of the Alcohol and Drug Education Curriculum (ADEC) program offered at the Cass City High School, students will see a theatrical production of "One for the Road," a play that deals with teenage drinking, peer pressure and facing the consequences of drinking and drugs.

organization, is about a student who doesn't want to drink, but because of peer pressure, goes out for a drink with her two friends. As the students are returning home, an accident claims the life of one of the girls. The play ends with a scene at a hospital emergency room, with the other two girls seriously injured, and a grieving parent wondering what he did to deserve this.

The play, presented by Crossroads Productions Ltd., Southfield, a nonprofit promotions specialists for the Hills and Dales Hospital, and administrator of the ADEC program, said that "One for the Road" has had a real impact on students who have seen the play at other schools.

The play will be presented to the high school students March 29 at 2:00 p.m.

The cost of the play, $285, was paid for by an anonymous donor.

Another reason I'm inviting you is so I won't feel so guilty for what I am about to do. I am about to take three weeks off and go to Florida with Emily, my three-year-old grand-daughter.

Emily's parents, my wife and a gang of other relatives will also be there. Even Terrible Jean, my much older and stronger sister, will be there, intent upon humiliating her little brother on the tennis court. And there will be two creaky brothers-in-law who will beat me at golf because they've played the game much longer than I have, because they've lived much longer.

But Emily will be the only child among us. She is the only one of my four grandchildren who isn't trapped inside a school at this time of year. Terrible Jean and my second oldest sister, Awful Mary Lou, have dozens of children plenty old enough to produce grandchildren, but they haven't done it. I'm not sure why I'm the only one with grandchildren, but it is undoubtedly due to several admirable aspects of my character and behavior.

Whatever, I know Emily will contribute much to making my vacation bearable. She can swim better than I can, but I think I can handle her at tennis and golf. And if Terrible Jean doesn't treat me with more respect than usual, I won't let her squeeze and nuzzle my Emily, which is what three-year-olds are used for, along with extortion.

While I was anticipating my days in the sun with Emily, Paul Dragan phoned to invite me to the aforementioned party. You may recall that he and his wife, Sharon, are the parents of P.J. Dragan, who died in 1983, at age eight, after fighting leukemia for more than three years. I wrote several columns about P.J. and the anonymous magic dragon who regularly sent him gifts and notes during his illness.

Paul Dragan, a Detroit police officer, is president of Leukemia, Research, Life Inc. (LRL), an organization he and Sharon founded four years ago. So far, LRL has raised more than $200,000 for Children's Hospital to spend on research into the causes of childhood cancers.

LRL's biggest fundraiser is an annual "Evening of Hope" dinner dance. For only $20 each, you get fine food, drinks and music. It's not one of those parties that attract fashion writers and gossip columnists, which is too bad because I always wear my dark blue suit and my wife always behaves outrageously. It's one of those parties that attract the kind of people who generate an atmosphere of hope and love that can be fully felt, but not adequately described. You have to be there.

This year's "Evening of Hope" is at 6:30 p.m. Saturday, March 30, at the Imperial House in Fraser. To order tickets, phone 521-4968 during the day or 371-6187 evenings. If you can't attend the party, donations made out to Leukemia, Research, Life Inc. may be sent to Paul Dragan, 20250 Goulburn, Detroit 48205.

According to Dragan, about half the people who do most of LRL's fund-raising have children afflicted by — or lost to — cancer. It is easy to understand their concern. But why does the other half, untouched by childhood cancers, work so hard?

"They are counting their blessings," P.J.'s father said.

On March 30, in the Imperial House, fresh back from a vacation with Emily, I will be counting my blessings, too. At previous LRL parties, a few people told me they were there because of something I wrote. I would rather hear that than anything.

The Haire Net

It beats me why people want to live in the past. Yesterday was yesterday and today is today. Enjoy it.

That thought washed over me as I read in one of the metro dailies that a "Great Escape Weekend" was planned at Henry Ford Museum in Dearborn.

What will happen Saturday and Sunday is that a bunch of oldtimers will step back 40 years in time.

The scene will include World War II uniforms and zoot suits, saddle oxfords and bobby sox and the big band sound.

There's little doubt that each generation has its music and the radio dial in my car is set for the big band sound of the 40s, 50s and 60s.

That's as far as I'll go to relive the past. Trying to recreate what's gone is as impossible as trying to predict what's ahead.

There's something sad about revisiting old stamping grounds filled with haunting memories.

It's never the same. Ask anyone who has tried it.

There's always been sort of a half wish to visit the base where the majority of my service time was spent.

It has been resisted. At first because of priorities. Making a living came first. Now, because it is futile.

What really sparks the desire is to see what happened to the people that were part of your life for more than two and one-half years. A close part.

Where are they now, what are they doing? Did the dreams of the day come true or crumble against the wall of reality?

I'll never know and perhaps it is for the best. Keep all these persons in the special niche of memory the way they were.

Or, maybe, better than they were. Time and distance distorts memories. The good remains and the not so good fades away.

That bit of nostalgia is different than trying to create again a mood and a period of our lives.

It can't be done. You may as well try and recapture youth.

All of those folks who gather at the museum this week end will try desperately to have a good time. Maybe some of them will. Self-delusion is a powerful drug.

But everyone will be just like Don Quixote tilting at their own little windmills.

AROUND THE FARM

Positive thinking will help farmers face problems

By Bill Bortel

We have heard enough doom and gloom during the last few months and I believe it is time to think positive before agriculturists move to the fields this spring. We must be realists as to the problems of agriculture, however, it is equally important to have a positive attitude or it will be rather difficult to do a good job of farming.

America's greatest blessing is its abundant food supply. No other country in history has enjoyed a table set with such nutritious, high quality food, priced to make it available to all.

Home gardener series in Caro

A series of programs for the home gardener will be held at the Cooperative Extension Office in Caro. The first in the series will address the topic of growing your own vegetable garden. The general areas that will be covered are: soil, fertilizing, watering, starting seedlings, transplanting and seed planting your garden. Time will be spent on residue and weeds, as well as disease, fungus and insects that affect your garden's production and how to control these problems.

The vegetable garden program will be held in the committee room of the Civil Defense Center, Cooperative Extension Office, Wednesday, March 27, from 1:00-3:00 p.m.

You can register for this program by calling (517) 673-5999, ext. 228, or write to the Cooperative Extension Service, 420 Court Street, Caro, MI 48723. There will be a $2.00 charge for each program. Checks should be made payable to Cooperative Extension Service.

Additional programs to be offered include: April 3 - Small Fruit and Brambles; April 17 - Lawn Seeding and Care; April 24 - Trees of All Kinds; May 1 - Flowers: Perennial and Annual.

Farmers need to be congratulated. Abundant food is the strength of America. Only 2 to 3% of our people farm the land and produce the world's highest standard of living.

As agriculturists, we need to put our heart, soul and mind into thinking positive. There are a few things I wish farmers might try in 1985. I believe the people that think positive will normally have the best luck. Try these suggestions:

1) Smile. Every morning, at everyone you meet. You'll soon feel as happy as you look. I believe this is very important. If you don't feel good about yourself, you probably will affect your work accordingly.

2) Shake hands. Touch people in a polite, friendly way.

3) Open your eyes. Make yourself see something new everyday. You have so much that you can witness. I lived on a farm for many years and went by with blinders on. Upon marrying my wife, she made me aware of so many things I never really saw before - living nature in the fields, along streams or where you are.

4) Pay a compliment to everyone you meet, provided that you can find one thing about that person you sincerely like. If you can't find something, then look again.

5) Put new life into your walk. Happiness is a state of mind and you can actually increase your happiness by acting happy.

6) Try to listen to other people. Force yourself to listen so hard that you really understand what they are trying to communicate.

7) Don't let the world's problems get you down. You have enough of your own.

8) Reach out. Get involved with others and you'll find that your life takes on a whole new dimension.

On a little heavier note, I am going to list a few things which you might use to put this whole package together today. You are going to have to have a game plan to survive. With increasing expenses and decreasing land values, a game plan is a must. I believe improving management skill is the first place to start.

1) Keep on learning. To become a better manager, you have to work at it. It won't happen overnight either - it calls for long-term commitment to a program of learning and experience. You must resolve to make yourself a better manager in order to take advantage of the potential benefits the system brings to your operation. If you don't make this effort, you can't expect to enjoy those benefits.

2) Set goals and plan to meet them. The first step in any management process is to analyze the situation, decide on realistic goals, and develop a plan through which to attain them.

3) Have priorities and place them with you and your family.

4) Be willing to adjust to change. Sometimes we have to be willing to say we made a mistake and alter plans and face the real situation today.

Another part of the game plan along with management skills is working with your creditor. Be honest and straightforward with the creditor. Don't hide anything. Treat your creditor as a friend.

The last part of the game plan are different strategies that one might use in a tight financial year like 1985.

1) Improving farm income through higher production. 2) Cut costs of production. 3) Restructure debts. 4) Possibly take a non-farm job to generate more income. 5) Participate in the Feed Grain Program.

I believe it all boils down to the nine most important words in the English language. We quite often think of money, love, sex, health, etc., however, I believe the following nine words one can use, "I've got a problem and I need your help," would be the best words agriculturists can use in 1985.

McLeody Days

By Bill McLeod

It finally happened. Monday morning, for the first time in my life, I had to suck in my stomach to get my pants snapped.

Almost four years of eating calorie-laden pasta meals prepared by my Italian wife has not added a pound.

Even 10 years of drinking

Microwave advantages

Microwave cooking offers some major advantages, if it's taken advantage of properly. For example:

- Your kitchen stays cool when you use a microwave oven as microwaves move through air and cooking dishes, only the food gets hot.
- Microwaves are reflected by metal surfaces but are able to pass directly through plastic, paper, glass and some wood.
- There's little need to plan ahead as with conventional cooking methods. Frozen foods are easily defrosted in the microwave when needed.

Food never sticks to microwave cookware made of UDEL polysulfone from Union Carbide, even without treatment or after scratching, because the non-stick surface is built in, not added on.

The microwave oven will cook about 75 percent of the foods usually cooked conventionally. A few exceptions are popovers, angel food cakes and hard and soft eggs in the shell.

Cooking with a microwave oven is safe as the cooking is done inside a closed, sealed oven cavity—eliminating hot coils or open burner beer never added an inch to my belly. I quite drinking about five years ago, before light beers became popular, so I can't use that as an excuse.

But seven months in Cass City, with its great bakeries, and "boom," I gained almost 10 pounds. I just can't pass up my morning doughnut, or two...well, sometimes three.

Never before have I put on a belt just to wear a belt. It was always a requirement. At this rate, I will be in suspenders by the end of the year.

Using conservative estimates, at a pound a month, by the end of the year I will weigh more than 180 pounds. Mike Eliasohn stayed more than seven years with the Chronicle. If my weight gain continues, by the summer of 1990 nobody will kick sand in my face when I lay on the beach, which is where I will have to stay because my 14-foot boat won't keep me afloat.

Diane offered some encouraging news this morning. I can get a new wardrobe from my brother. He has been squeezing into his 190-pound clothes for the last two years, a 20-pound size.

Diet pop commercials on television show women who brag about being able to wear the same prom dress they did years earlier as a high school senior. Even with my additional poundage, I wouldn't want to return to my 130-pound high school days. I used to wear 28-inch waist blue jeans, with a 36-inch inseam.

When I tried to play basketball, people would come to the games just to sit and laugh at me. Fortunately, I never got off the bench, so they never got a close look.

I must admit that thoughts of weight control really don't interest me. I came from a farm family that ate lots of potatoes and meat. Munching on celery and carrot sticks for the rest of my life sounds as exciting as watching paint dry.

My cousin, a crop farmer, lays around all winter and he generally puts on about 20 pounds. During the summer, when the hard work begins, he quickly loses it.

That's my plan of attack. This summer I will type a lot more than I did this winter.

"COME OUT OF THE CLOSET" will be presented by the Owen-Gage Drama Club March 28 and 29 at 7:00 p.m. at the Gagetown Elementary School. The play is about three girls who move to a run-down apartment in New York from their Ohio home. Starring in the play are (from left): Kendra Reehl, Tina Lopez, Dena McDonald, Linda Retford, Ron Good, Marci Enderle and Kendra Kretschmer.

Peck-Decker schools to make up snow days

To comply with a new state school aid bill that requires school districts to offer 180 class days, students of the Peck and Decker districts will go to school longer this summer, and will have a shorter spring break. Students at Peck will also attend school Saturdays.

Only school districts that reached agreements with their teacher's union after Oct. 1, 1984, are affected by the state aid bill. Under terms of the bill, all school districts will be required to offer 180 days of class, or 900 class hours, after July 1, 1987. Sen. James Barcia, D, Bay City, has introduced legislation into the state senate to repeal the 180-day requirement.

Students in the Decker School District will go to school through June 13. The last day of school was scheduled for June 4. Decker students have had spring break shortened by five days. They were scheduled to be off April 1 through 8. Under the new schedule, they will only have Good Friday off. Decker schools have been closed 13 times this winter. Students attended school one extra day at the end of the first semester.

Classes at the Peck School District were Saturday, March 9, and are scheduled again this Saturday. School is also scheduled for Saturday, April 13.

School has been scheduled for April 1, 2 and 3, the first three days of the scheduled spring break. The school year has been extended from May 31 to June 5. School was canceled 10 days this year at Peck.

Senior complex to be completed in May

BRICK LAYER Gordon Smith, Cass City, an employee of Steve Putman Contracting, Caro, lays another row of bricks at the new senior citizen apartment complex.

Construction of a new 24-unit senior citizen apartment complex at the south end of Woodland Street, Cass City, is more than half completed, with occupancy expected for May.

The apartments are being built by Rural Housing Corporation (RHC), East Lansing. Funding for the project has been provided by the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA). The FmHA agreed to fund 95 percent of the $695,000 project. The remaining five percent will come from RHC.

Marci Powers of RHC said construction of the 18,260 square-foot apartment complex is on schedule.

Each of the 24 apartments will have an exit to the main hallway, and a second exit to a private outdoor patio. The apartments will have an emergency call, pull cord system to alert the live-in manager of an emergency. The apartments also have smoke de-ectors and a fire sprinkler system.

Powers said because the project is funded by the FmHA, the amount of rent charged is determined by federal guidelines. Maximum rent for the one-bedroom apartments, including heat, is $456 per month. The minimum rent is $241 per month. The maximum yearly income a senior citizen can earn, and still live in the apartment complex is $23,000.

Each of the 24 apartments have 567 square feet of living space. The apartments have a 13x16-foot living room, one 10x12-foot bedroom, a 7x14-foot kitchen and pantry area, and a 5x8½-foot bathroom.

The apartment complex will have a crafts room, lounge areas and laundry facilities open to all residents.

The three-acre site for the complex was purchased from the village of Cass City last October. RHC paid the village $24,000 for the site.

Rent applications are available from the Cass City Village Office.

JOHN EBERHART puts the final touches on the interior walls at the new senior citizens apartment complex located on Woodland St., Cass City.

To honor several electric pioneers

Fifty-four Michigan residents who were instrumental in bringing electricity to rural areas of the state will be honored with Rural Electrification Pioneer awards by the Michigan Electric Cooperative Association at its annual meeting in Lansing, April 9-11.

Among the 54 are seven persons from the Thumb Co-op district. They are: Blanche Rumpitz, Frank Wilson, Clifford Wallace, Francis A. Hund, Clayton Bensinger, Ruth Brandmair and John Glaza.

Recognized for their vision, their technical and organizational skills and their persistent efforts to light up the countryside, the rural electric pioneers are being cited as part of the 50th anniversary observance of the Rural Electrification Administration.

Created by Franklin Roosevelt, REA has provided low-interest, long-term loans to enable the distribution and generation of electricity in rural areas. When commercial utilities did not respond, rural people joined hands and formed 1,000 electric cooperatives, including 14 in the state.

In Michigan, the rural electric pioneers organized the first co-op meetings, helped install the first power poles, canvassed their areas for new members and volunteered use of their land for necessary rights-of-way. Each pioneer devoted hundreds of hours to extend service to their home areas.

The awards will be presented by David Hamil, former head of REA under four U.S. Presidents, at the MECA annual meeting April 9 at the Lansing Hilton Inn.

The breadfruit is important to the economy of many tropical areas. Part is consumed as food. The inner bark is made into a kind of cloth. The wood is used for building boats and furniture.

Cass City man injured when truck rolls over

Cass City Police Officer Kenneth Schott reported a Cass City youth was injured when the pickup truck he was riding in rolled over

Thursday, March 14 at 7:00 p.m. According to the report, Michael E. Horne, 17, 4118 S. Seeger St., Cass City, was injured when a vehicle driven by Christopher B. Tracy, 18, 7663 Elmwood Road, Cass City, rolled over while attempting to make a right turn onto Schell Street from Industrial Street.

Horne was treated and released from the Hills and Dales Hospital, Cass City. Tracy and another passenger, Richard A. Randall, 17, 4916 Schwegler Road, Cass City, were not injured.

Tracy told Officer Schott that he was driving about 35 mph, attempting to make a turn when the front tire went flat, causing the vehicle to roll over.

Tracy was cited for reckless driving and failure to report an accident.

Officer Phillip Klaus arrested David Zawilinski, 27, 4355 Leach St., Cass City, for driving with a suspended driver's license.

According to the report, Officer Klaus observed Zawilinski driving south on Leach Street, near Pine Street. Klaus said he knew Zawilinski's license was suspended, and stopped him. The incident happened March 16 at 4:35 a.m.

Officer Schott reported a vehicle owned by James C. Vernier, 4788 Hospital Dr., Cass City, sustained damages while parked in the Cass City High School parking lot.

According to the report, Vernier parked the vehicle at 8:15 a.m. Friday. When he returned at 1:30 p.m. someone had kicked the front passenger side of the car. Damage was estimated at $80.

Officer Schott reported a vehicle driven by Fredrick J. Leeson, 17, 4669 Hospital Dr., Cass City, struck a legally parked vehicle owned by Gary L. Smith, 2365 E. Dickerson Road, Unionville.

According to the report, Leeson was eastbound on Main Street, driving along the south curb lane, attempting to merge left. Leeson was unable to merge because of other eastbound traffic, and could not stop before striking the Smith vehicle. No citations were issued.

Leeson and a passenger, Julie L. Sugden, 17, 5864 E. Cass City Road, Cass City, were not injured.

STRATEGY TIME - After a question was asked, the Hawks took only a short time to decide the correct answer.

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

FIVE YEARS AGO

The 1980 valedictorian is Elizabeth Ann Britton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Britton of Kingston. Her accumulative grade point average is 3.976. The salutatorian is Shelly Stoll, daughter of Dallas and Faye Stoll of Silverwood. Her four-year grade point average is 3.82.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Barnes and Mr. and Mrs. Willard Dobbs went to Kawawlin Saturday evening to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tim Barnes to celebrate Tim's birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Dorland of Decker will be celebrating their 30th wedding anniversary Monday. Otis and Donna Mitchell were married March 24, 1950, at the Mizpah Missionary Church by Rev. Robert Mattemson. Dorland is employed at General Cable. Mrs. Dorland is a Cass City school bus driver.

The Thumb Area Commission on Aging Board of Directors Monday decided to seek voter approval for a .2 mill levy for four years to support senior citizen activities in the upper Thumb.

The Cass City High School symphony and concert bands each received a 2 rating in the district band festival Saturday at Fenton. The symphony band competed last year, when it received a 3 rating. Band Director Tom Clair said the symphony band's rating does indicate improvement but with "things to strive for yet."

TEN YEARS AGO

ROD ALLEN, president of the Saginaw-Bay Chapter of the Mothers' March of Dimes, accepts a check for $609.33 from Barb Jackson, chairman of the march in Cass City.

Your neighbor says Government programs to benefit big farmers

Should the government bail American farmers out of the financial problems they are facing?

"No, I don't think so," said Sharon Matthews. She said only the big farmers would benefit from a federal bail out program. She added that these big farmers spent their way into their financial bind.

Matthews and her husband, David, operate a 120-acre farm. They raise beef and grow cash crops. Her husband has owned the farm for about 20 years.

"We try and get by with what machinery we have. Not the biggest and the best; you don't overspend yourself."

Matthews agreed that farm crop prices are too low, but she said she did not feel the government should be required to pay for the farmers' problems. "You lose every year," she said. "You don't hardly make any profits."

In addition to operating the farm, they both work at General Cable in Cass City.

The Matthews live at 4360 Hadley Road, Decker.

Avoid the cluttered appearance

Sprucing up your home? Lots of people are—it's easier and less expensive than moving. But where to start the housecleaning? The sinks? The windows? The closets? Perhaps, the floors.

Begin with a basement to attic tour. Get rid of old clothes, books, toys and all the other outgrown or worn-out clutter. Just that can give a home a new look. Try investing in storage containers and shelves so you can avoid the cluttered look and still keep the memories.

Letter to the editor

Reader claims school bias

Dear John: I was very interested in the article on Feb. 28, 1985 which referred to the excellent Owen-Gage Board of Education and their Superintendent. You seemed to be concerned that the people of Owen-Gage were not informed about certain Board of Education decisions concerning the illegal Goslin, et al. property transfer. However, I think your real concern is the fact that you do not personally know what is happening in Owen-Gage.

Please John, we realize that your primary interest is for Cass City, and it should be because you live there. We also realize that you have always been interested in Owen-Gage property becoming part of the Cass City School District because it would help Cass City in school population and tax base. However, it would be extremely detrimental to Owen-Gage if that were to happen...but again we are not your primary concern.

Therefore, we do not tell you everything John, not because we don't like you but because we don't trust you.

Sincerely,
Rod Wright

Joslyn sentences Vassar man to Jackson Prison

Tuscola County Circuit Court Judge Patrick Joslyn Monday sentenced an 18-year-old Vassar man to 18 months to 10 years in the Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson after he pleaded guilty to a breaking and entering charge.

Brian K. Bables, 145 Andy St., pleaded guilty to the charge Feb. 11. He was originally charged with breaking and entering with intent to commit larceny, and resisting and obstructing a police officer.

The charges stem from the Dec. 6 robbery of Ted's Market, 428 E. Huron Ave., Vassar. Bables took $116 from the market. He was apprehended after Vassar Police officers tracked him through the snow to his Andy Street residence.

Bables was given credit for one day served in the Tuscola County Jail.

Also Monday, Judge Joslyn refused a plea bargaining offer from Terry R. Cortimilia, 6343 Pine St., Cass City, charged with first degree criminal sexual conduct. Cortimilia offered a guilty plea to second degree sexual conduct.

Joslyn ordered Cortimilia committed to the forensic center for evaluation. Bond continues at $20,000.

A not guilty plea was entered for William C. Pomeroy Jr., 17, 2034 Keilitz Road, Cass City, on charges of breaking and entering an unoccupied building with intent to commit larceny. Pomeroy stood mute at the hearing.

A pre-trial examination is set for April 29. A $10,000 bond continues.

LEADERSHIP FORUM - Gary S. Cass, Student Leadership Forum Coordinator for the Michigan Department of Education spoke to a group of students on becoming a positive force in shaping educational policies at their school. The forum was held at the Tuscola Area Skill Center Tuesday.

From Tuscola County

300 at Leadership Forum

More than 300 students from all of the high schools in the county participated in a State Board of Education Student Leadership Forum at the Tuscola Area Skill Center Tuesday. The forum was part of the State Board of Education's state-wide Project Outreach program designed to improve public attitudes about schools. An esti-ated 20,000 students will participate in nearly 100 forums during the 1984-85 school year.

During the morning, students attended seminars on topics such as developing leadership skills, positive attitudes, legal rights, how to improve student government, choosing a college, taking control of their lives, choosing a career, and drug and substance abuse.

Thirty-five students from Cass City High School attended the meetings. The students were nominated by their teachers on their leadership abilities. Final selections were made by Jeanne Marshall and Barb Root, members of the student advisory committee.

Following the seminars, students formed discussion groups. Marshall led a group discussion on improving school spirit. Root was the secretary of the meeting. Notes that were taken during the discussion will be sent to the State Board of Education to be reviewed to see what was accomplished at the meeting.

Later this week a student will be chosen from the forum to attend a State School Board Meeting.

Surplus commodity distribution scheduled in Cass City Friday

The Human Development Commission has scheduled a surplus commodity distribution at the Cass City Village Park, Lions Pavilion, Friday, March 22, from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. or until the supply is exhausted.

HDC Director Mary Ann Vandemark said a double distribution of cheese, butter and rice will be given to those presenting a surplus commodity registration card. Because of the large amount of commodities that will be distributed, senior citizens and handicapped individuals are encouraged to have someone pick up the food for them. Vandemark said that for those persons who are physically unable to pick up their surplus commodities, someone else may pick up the commodities for them, if they have their registration card.

Vandemark said that a mass registration for eligible households to receive surplus commodity cards is being planned in April. New cards will not be issued for this distribution.

The surplus commodities have been given to the HDC from the federal government. It is intended for personal consumption by eligible low-income families.

For additional information contact the HDC office, Caro, 673-6153.

Bortel recommends six ways to cut down spring planting costs

If you're short on credit, here are ways to get the highest yields from fertilizer you do apply, Bill Bortel, county extension director, says. Bortel offers six steps for saving money this spring. They are:

1. You can really cut fertilizer rates to fields that test 40 pounds or higher in phosphorus and 250 pounds or more in potassium. You'll sacrifice little if any yield, and you can double or triple your maintenance rate later, when you're not so pinched for cash.
2. On lower-testing soils, the farther the soils are below the desired test reading, the more yield response you will likely get from fertilizer.
3. Don't try to build up the fertility level. This can take as much as nine pounds of P2O5 to raise the P1 test by one pound; about four pounds of K2O to raise the K test by one pound. Instead, leave the buildup until later and apply enough fertilizer to achieve near-optimum crop yields this year.
4. If fertilizer dollars still won't stretch, you might want to apply a larger portion of fertilizer as a starter or band with the planter. Starter or banded fertilizer is about four times more effective than broadcast fertilizer. But don't go to any major expense to put applicators on the planter if it's not already equipped.

Often materials for banding are higher priced than the usually-broadcast straight materials.

5. Nitrogen is especially critical for optimum yields of most nonlegume crops. Usually, figure on applying about 1 1/4 pounds of N per expected bushel of corn where the crop follows itself. Following soybeans, reduce the rate by about 25-40 pounds of N, or by 80-100 pounds following a good legume forage stand.
6. Especially in a wet spring, the closer you apply the nitrogen to the time it's needed by the crop the more effective it will be.

Often materials for banding are higher priced than the usually-broadcast straight materials.

Little caffeine in chocolate

Chocolate has less caffeine per serving than coffee, tea or soft drinks. A one-and-a-half-ounce chocolate bar contains only nine mg. of caffeine, far below the 450-900 mg. needed for overstimulation, says the American Dietetic Association and the Food and Drug Administration.

Our bodies cannot distinguish between sugars gotten from fruits, vegetables, milk, honey or confections, according to Dr. Helen A. Guthrie of Pennsylvania State University.

Acne is neither caused nor aggravated by the consumption of chocolate. In fact, acne is not primarily linked to diet at all, as indicated by research from the University of Pennsylvania.

By Bill Myers
Taking stock

I had to go halfway around the world to get a decent reply to a question I couldn't get answered locally: What good is a personal home computer for an average fellow?

At computer shows the salesmen gave me mumbo-jumbo about projecting budget outlays, and structuring finances and interfacing inflation with dynamic orientation of living modes, and that sort of thing.

At Radio Shack, they don't use the fancy words of the corporate world. They just tell you, "Oh, lots of things. Everybody's getting them."

And if you don't buy one right then, you've lost your place in line and it will be a half hour before you can get a clerk again.

This was America. Either I couldn't understand what people were talking about or I couldn't find anyone who had time to listen to a dumbbell like me.

In the course of my travels to the south shore of the Mediterranean, I met this delightful chap from Australia, William Denham White, who likes to be called Denny.

Denny is a partner in the prestigious world-wide accounting firm of Coopers & Lybrand. He has been with their Sydney office. This summer he is retiring, but staying on for a while as a consultant. I asked him about home computers.

It was a couple of years ago on the MS Lindblad Explorer. Personal computers were just getting on the market then, and Denny was busy buying goat-hair rugs. He said come to Sydney some day and he'd have more time to discuss my question.

So Jeanne and I did, and had a delightful time with Denny and his wife, Joyce. But we got so busy going to the Sydney opera house and attending dinners every night, flying over the town in a single engine plane or touring the harbor that we had no time for computers.

We invited the Whites to visit us at the tranquil town of Beulah, Mich., on beautiful Crystal Lake. They did just that last summer, but what with the sailing and golfing and the Interlochen National Music Camp, and eating strawberries, we had only a quarter hour to get on the computer question.

"I've looked into them, and I'm getting one, an Apple model," he said, "but not for home use. All you need for money figuring at home is an adding machine and a cash book."

Mind you, Denny is a CPA, and a partner in a big accounting firm, and this has been his career.

"I'm getting this computer," he continued, "for two reasons — one to learn more about them and how to operate them, and two, to use possibly for more complicated money problems for a number of friends whom I've been advising."

"It will have no earthly use just for household finances."

It was a long ways around to get the very answer I had expected back in 1982.

Liquor, drugs nabbed at prison

Two inmates of the minimum security prison, Camp Tuscola, Wahjamega, and a 30-year-old Detroit man were charged Saturday after a corrections officer thwarted an attempt to smuggle alcohol and drugs into the prison.

According to a report filed by Michigan State Police Trooper Richard Harrington, Caro post, a corrections officer observed two inmates unloading boxes from a van parked in the prison driveway. When the officer approached, the prisoners handed the boxes back to the van driver, Roderick Early, 1743 McDougal St.,

Detroit. Early then left the area. The state police were called to investigate.

Trooper Harrington found a box containing several bottles of liquor that had been hidden in a wooded area off Chambers Road, about one-quarter mile from the prison. He also found a small quantity of what is believed to be marijuana.

Early returned to the prison area where he was arrested. When running a file check on Early, Trooper Harrington learned he was wanted on several traffic warrants in Detroit. Early was also ticketed for operating a vehicle with a suspended driver's license, and open intoxicants in a vehicle.

Early was arraigned Monday in Tuscola County District Court on a felony charge of delivery of alcohol and contraband into a prison facility. Bond was set at $10,000.

The two inmates, Rodney W. Dunes, 35, Detroit, and Horace Pitts, 34, also of Detroit, were arraigned on charges of possession of alcohol and contraband in a prison facility. Bond was set at $30,000 for Dunes, and $25,000 for Pitts.

The three were taken to the Tuscola County Jail following the arraignment.

School to end year in red

After a closed session, the board granted Daryl Iwakovitsch tenure and Julie Bitzer second-year probation.

Jerry Cleland reported that the committee to establish a program for gifted and talented students was active and is seeking a $1,100 grant.

Establishing the program, Cleland told the board, will take three years. The first is an in-service period to train the teachers. The second year will be recommendations of program and identifying students. The third year the program is expected to be in operation.

The board authorized the transfer of the children of Sharon Coons to Caro. The Coons live in the Cass City District, but are in business in Caro, a block from the school.

Police still seek prison runaway

Camp Tuscola, the new minimum security state prison, Wahjamega, had its first prisoner escape March 12, between 8:55 and 10:00 p.m.

According to prison Supervisor Michael Flintoft, inmate David D. Bane, a 20-year-old white male from Brighton, was present at an 8:55 p.m. bed check. He was not at a 10:00 bed check. When last seen, Bane was wearing a red and tan checked shirt and blue jeans. How Bane escaped has not been determined. He has not been apprehended.

Bane was sentenced to serve 18 months to five years on charges of receiving and concealing stolen property. He arrived at the Wahjamega prison Feb. 21, after serving less than two months of his sentence at the state prison in Jackson.

After Bane was reported missing, the Michigan State Police, Tuscola

County Sheriff's Department, Caro Police Department and the Caro Regional Center were notified. A nation-wide system that alerts all law enforcement departments a prisoner has escaped was also contacted.

Michigan State Police tracking dogs were unable to find Bane. Flintoft said Bane probably had a vehicle waiting for him, and left Tuscola County immediately.

When apprehended, Flintoft has recommended Bane be prosecuted on escape charges. The penalty for escaping from a prison adds two to five years to a current sentence. Bane will not be allowed back into a minimum security prison.

AT THE NOVESTA Township annual meeting, resident Carl Labish requested that meetings be held at the Deford Elementary School.

Consider Erickson for new position

Owen-Gage School District Superintendent Ronald Erickson is one of six candidates being considered for a superintendent's position with Manistique Area School District.

"There hasn't been any negotiations yet," Erickson said. "There is nothing concrete."

Erickson has been Owen-Gage superintendent for 10 years. "They are going to have to do an awful lot," said the 48-year-old superintendent. "I am content here at Owen-Gage."

At a Nov. 11 board meeting, Erickson's $35,000 salary for the 1984-85 school year was approved by the trustees.

Erickson has an educational specialists degree from Central Michigan University. He is a doctoral candidate at Western Michigan University.

Sandy Morrish

Helper burned at trailer fire

The Elkland Township Fire Department responded to a fire Monday evening that destroyed a boat, motor and trailer valued at $7,500 at the Thomas Little residence, 5025 Severance Rd., Cass City. Fire Chief Jerome Root said a trash fire spread from the open pit to an area where the boat was stored. The burning grass ignited a canvas tarp covering the 16-foot 1984 Bayliner boat. A pickup camper parked near the boat was also damaged by the fire. Damages to the camper were estimated at $500. A motorcycle valued at $100 was also destroyed. Root said a storage building received an estimated $300 damages from the fire.

Little's next-door neighbor, Sandy Morrish, 5043 Severance Road, Cass City, received second degree burns on her left hand when she slipped while helping move the burning boat. Morrish was treated and released from the Hills and Dales Hospital, Cass City.

Firemen responded to the alarm at 6:28 p.m. They returned to the fire hall at 7:25 p.m.

Michigan Mirror

Threaten sanctions for fewer mispayment errors

Michigan's mispayment error rate for the Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) program dropped to an all-time low in the first half of fiscal year 1983-84, but the program faces possible federal sanctions of $25 million for the fiscal year because errors are substantially above target levels, Department of Social Services officials reported.

The sanctions would be in addition to $34.8 million in threatened sanctions for

NEW PASTOR - Reverend Ralph Imhoff and his wife, Delores, recently moved to the area to take over as pastor at the Novesta Baptist Church.

New Novesta pastor loves church, people

Reverend Ralph Imhoff has no doubts about his duties as the new minister at the Novesta Baptist Church.

"The word minister means servant," Rev. Imhoff said, adding that his duties as the new minister include preaching, teaching, counseling and visiting the sick. "Just the things that go with the loving and caring of people."

Imhoff and his wife, Delores, came from the Mackinaw City area to take over the pastorship at the Novesta church Jan. 24. While in Mackinaw City, he served as associate pastor at the Grace Baptist Church, Carp Lake, for about four years. He was also an interim pastor at the Levering Baptist Church, Levering, for about six months.

Both he and Delores graduated from the Omaha Baptist Bible College, Omaha, Neb., and began working for Hiawatha Baptist Missionaries, establishing independent Baptist churches in Wisconsin and Iowa.

Imhoff said his duties with Hiawatha Baptist Missionaries were to start Baptist churches "from scratch." While the church was being formed, he was responsible for the planning and pastoral duties of the new church. After the church was established, Imhoff moved to a different area to start another church.

He spent 17 years with Hiawatha Baptist Missionaries before moving to the Mackinaw City area. In addition to working as an associate pastor at the Carp Lake Baptist Church, he worked part-time jobs to help support his family. Delores worked as a receptionist for the Mackinaw City Chamber of Commerce.

"My primary work has been the Lord's work," Imhoff said. "Those other things were a means of survival."

He replaces John Lang, who left the Novesta church last October to accept a pastoral position with the Faith Bible Church, Ft. Madison, Iowa.

Imhoff said he and other ministers spoke several times at the Novesta Baptist Church before the congregation selected him as its new minister.

"We have fallen in love with the church and the people," Rev. Imhoff said. "We look forward to a long stay."

the 1981-82 and 1982-83 fiscal years when state error rates generally increased while the target requirements were steadily dropping.

Department Director Agnes Mansour said the state would appeal any sanction imposed, and failing there, would file a lawsuit claiming the targets are unreasonable and arbitrarily too low.

"We consider it to be an unreasonable standard. This simply is not the time to be expecting states to meet continuously decreasing sanction rates," she said.

Ralph Douglas, acting regional family assistance administrator in Chicago for the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, said no decision has yet been made on the threatened sanctions. Michigan is one of seven states which has never been sanctioned for AFDC, food stamp or Medicaid programs.

The state AFDC error rate — which includes ineligible and overpayments — in April-September, 1984, was 6.6 percent, while the sanction target had dropped to 3 percent.

In the first half of the fiscal year, the rate was 8.1 percent. The prior low was 7.1 percent for the 1980-81 fiscal year.

Mansour said inadequacies in the quality control system make the targeted rates unrealistic, and said she supports pending legislation to restructure the system and change the targets.

The director said the 3 percent target is particularly unrealistic given federal policy changes and said sanctions should take into consideration individual state problems, such as Michigan's with a high urban population and a more error-prone program to aid unemployed families.

Food stamp and Medicaid programs remain above targeted sanctions: the error rate in the food stamp program was 5.9 percent in the last six months of fiscal 1984, down from 6.7 percent in the first six months and compared to a 7 percent target.

Fiscal 1984 figures were unavailable for Medicaid, but had increased to 2.3 percent in the first half of the year, from 1.2 percent in the last of fiscal 1983, while the sanction target is 3 percent.

Mansour said target rates were needed to prod states into improving their programs, but said, "We should concentrate not on sanctions, but on performance. A system which is punitive and simply shifts costs to the states is not equitable."

Gagetown Area News

Gen Kehoe
665-2221

On a recent Sunday afternoon, Madelyn and Alva Haggitt of Wisner were callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Rabideau.

ELMWOOD EXTENSION

The Elmwood Extension group met Wednesday, March 13, at the home of Mrs. Gladys Laurie. Club chairman Agatha LaFave called the meeting to order and nine members responded to roll call. The lesson for the day, by Mildred Laurie, was on the care of plants and orchards.

A council meeting will be held April 8 in Caro at the County Extension Office.

Stella Leyva is hostess for the next regular meeting, April 10.

Hostess Mrs. Laurie, served dessert and coffee.

Tom Rabideau came home early last week from Allen Park Veterans Hospital and Thursday was taken by ambulance to Veterans Hospital in Saginaw. His sisters, Verniece Tontaine of Wayne, Sister Ruth of Stuart, Fla., and Joane Mendicino of San Antonio, Tex., visited him Thursday and were overnight guests of Mrs. Gerry Carolan.

Some of those attending the Lioness sponsored style show at the Charmont in Cass City last Wednesday evening were Arlene and Pat Enderle, M.M. Downing, Barb Burdon, Lori Seuryneck, Marie and Ann Goslin, Justine Jantz, Phyllis Connors, Gerry Carolan, Gen Kehoe, and Sally Patnaude. Mrs. Patnaude's 3-year-old granddaughter, Laura Beth Patnaude, was one of the junior models. Her parents are the Jude Patnaudes of Cass City. Mrs. Jeanine Hobart also was a model.

On Tuesday of last week, Mrs. Frank (Gladys) Weatherhead visited Mrs. Helen Root of Caro.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim LaFave arrived home Thursday after spending the past few months in Arizona and the West Coast. During their time spent in Phoenix and Carsdale, Bill LaFave of Castle Rock, Col., spent a week end. HEALTH TIPS Children act fast, so do poisons

Since 1972 there has been a 75% reduction in childhood poisonings due to household chemical products. However, in 1984, an estimated 130,000 children under the age of five will still have been victims of accidental ingestion.

March 17-23, 1985 has been designated National Poison Prevention Week by President Reagan. The basic theme, "Children Act Fast...So Do Poisons!" means that parents must always be watchful when household chemicals or drugs are being used. Many accidents happen when adults are using a product but are distracted (by the telephone or doorbell) for a few moments. Children act fast, and adults must make sure that household chemicals and medications are kept away from children at all times.

Medicines, household substances, insect sprays, kerosene, lighter fluid, some furniture polishes, turpentine, paints, solvents, and products containing lye and acids are most frequently the cause of accidental poisoning among children.

During the special week the Michigan Pharmacists Association and your local pharmacist remind the public to follow these basic household safety tips:

Keep all household products and medicines out of the reach of youngsters and preferably, locked up when not in use.

When these products are in use, never let them out of your sight - even if you must take them along when answering the telephone or doorbell.

Store all medicines separately from household products.

Leave original labels on all products, and read the label before using.

Keep items in their original containers.

Always leave the light on when giving or taking medicines.

Avoid taking medicines in front of children since youngsters tend to imitate grown-ups.

Refer to medicine as "medicine" - not "candy."

Clean out the medicine cabinet periodically, and safely dispose of unneeded medicines when the illness for which they were prescribed is over.

Finally, use safety packaging properly - by closing the container securely after use.

For brochures and pamphlets on poison prevention please write to: Michigan Pharmacists Association, 815 North Washington Avenue, Lansing, MI 48906 or telephone (517) 484-1466.

Piano students audition at MSU

Four area piano students were among 2,000 preliminary auditions in the fifth annual Young Keyboard Artists Association International Competition.

Eddie Park, son of Dr. and Mrs. Sang Park, Cass City, Soo Yun, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. No Yk Yun, Cass City, To Shim and Doe Sun Kim, daughters of Dr. and Mrs. Shin Keun Kim, of Sandusky competed March 10 at Michigan State University. The four pianists are students of Paul Kerbyson, Cass City.

The Young Keyboard Artists Association was founded in 1980 to provide performance opportunities for talented young pianists. Its original recital series has evolved into the largest piano competition in the United States, often called "the keyboard olympics."

From January to April, preliminary auditions are held in 80 cities to select 500 semifinalists eligible to come to Michigan in mid-June.

Contestants compete in four divisions according to age level for $40,000 worth of prizes. Cash awards range from $50 to the grand prize of $5,000 which includes a solo with the Grand Rapids Symphony. Scholarships to Interlochen and Blue Lake, solo recitals, and an international concert tour provide performance opportunities.

Dale Nyboer, founder and executive director of YKAA, is a well-known personality among music professionals in America. He is an outstanding piano teacher and serves on the summer faculty of Interlochen National Music Camp.

Area Foster Grandparents to raise funds

A fund-raising campaign will soon begin to send Foster Grandparents to Central Michigan University. A three-day statewide training seminar will be held in May. Foster Grandparents work with "special needs" children in Huron, Sanilac and Tuscola Counties.

Saturday, March 30, the grandparents' raffle/bake sale/bazaar will be held at locations in Bad Axe, Sandusky and Caro.
