County offices reopen Friday

At a Tuscola County Commission meeting Tuesday, the board agreed to a request from Commissioner William Worth, Millington, to return courthouse employees to a five-day work week. All courthouse offices will be open this Friday.

Commissioner Royce Russell, Cass City, feels that unless the county's financial position "changes drastically," layoffs could be expected in most, if not all departments. Russell pointed out that the four-day work week was unfair to some employees, because county judges ordered their employees to work five days a week, while most employees only worked four days a week.

Two employees, one full time and one part time, were laid off when the four-day work week went into effect at the start of the year. These two employees will remain on a permanent layoff.

Russell added that the commissioners will be working on the budget at future meetings.

Also at the meeting, a group of county residents presented commissioners with petitions stating they

Village seeks weed control

Tuesday night, trustees of the Village of Cass City adopted a resolution that gives the village the legal right to control noxious weeds growing inside village limits.

The resolution requires that noxious weeds such as goldenrod, ragweed, poison ivy and sumac and other weeds that are determined to be a danger to public welfare, or a common nuisance, must be cut down by June 1, and again before Aug. 15.

Village Superintendent Lou LaPonsie was appointed to a two-year term as Commissioner of Noxious Weeds. He will not be paid any additional salary for the position.

LaPonsie said that last year the village had two areas where village crews cut down weeds on private property. Property owners were billed $25 for the service. In one case, the village was not able to collect because they did not have the authority.

"We have gone in and controlled the weeds," LaPonsie said. "I don't know if we had the authority to do it." He added there are three or four areas in the village that are constantly a problem for weed control. In most cases, when the owner is asked by the village to take care of the weed problem, the owner makes arrangements to cut down the weeds.

LaPonsie added that if the weeds are mowed twice a year, it will take care of pollen problems. "We have a number of people who are bothered by ragweed and goldenrod."

Village Attorney Clinton House explained to the council that under state statute, the maximum fine and service cutting charge the village can levy against a property owner is $25. Additional charges must be approved by the township supervisor. Under the statute, a municipality must have more than 5,000 people before a lien can be put on the property tax collections to collect fines and Champagne defeated 16 fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grade students from schools in the four county area who participated in the competition. The spelling bee was sponsored by the Detroit News and Lawrence Institute of Technology. Champagne will participate in a statewide spelling bee to be held at Lawrence Institute of Technology, Detroit.

charges. House said the cost of prosecution to collect for charges and fines would probably be more than the village would collect.

The council also discussed an ordinance that would prohibit the discharge of BB guns, pellet guns and bows and arrows within the village limits. Under the present ordinance, a person can discharge a BB or pellet gun, or a bow and arrow, if he is at least 18 years old.

Section six of the proposed ordinance would give the police department the authority to confiscate any firearm that a person had discharged in the village limits. No provision was made for returning the firearm to the owner.

Council President Ray Armstead said that he felt a provision should be made that defines how the firearm would be returned to the owner.

"I don't like a situation where you have blanket authority to confiscate," Armstead said. "If we don't define it, then I would rather see section six eliminated."

Armstead suggested the ordinance have a time period specified wherein the police could keep the firearm, then return it to the owner. He suggested the confiscation period be from three to six months.

The proposed ordinance would restrict the shooting of BB guns, pellet guns and bows and arrows to an authorized target range, which would require village approval.

Trustee Joanne Hopper asked House if the village would be liable if someone were injured at a target range the council approved.

House said that the village, if they approved the range, could be named in a

New union contract eases controversy

by John Haire

The controversy that has swirled around the operation of Provincial House since it became a part of Beverly Enterprises abated this week on the heels of an agreement between the corporation and Service Employees' International Union Local 79, AFL-CIO.

Still, the adverse publicity and the petition with 500 signatures presented to the Thumb Area Commission on Aging evidently was embarrassing to Beverly Enterprises.

Connie Schwaderer was hurriedly called in from her post as regional supervisor for Beverly Enterprises to take over as administrator and she said that Allan Sward, former administrator, had resigned. Sward says he was let go.

Schwaderer is no stranger to the facility. She was the administrator at the facility when it was built in 1973. She also is a native of the Cass City area.

Meanwhile, Carol Regan, organizer for the union, has softened her criticism of the Cass City unit since a tentative agreement was reached.

She said that statistics quoted that revealed that "there have been cuts in staffing hours for nurse aides by 15%...Spending on laundry and linen per patient day has been cut...a shortage of basic supplies and equipment needed to care for residents," were taken from a union brochure that included all 12 Beverly Enterprises nursing homes in Michigan, not the Cass City plant alone.

Although no longer with the company, Sward absolutely refuted the charges that nurses aides were doing work in the laundry or other jobs outside of their work area.

Regan said that when she Calvin Wilcox, a licensing officer from the Department of Public Health: Inspection at Provincial House failed to indicate any major problems. I thought they were doing an average job.

charged nurses aides doing work outside of their area she was talking about jobs such as mopping up spills and housekeeping duties, not the work of registered nurses.

Sward said that the company did have a 10 percent staff cut across the board recently because the patient load had decreased.

The 10 percent included administration and since I was one of the last ones hired I was one of the first to be discharged.

Although declining to give any details of the tentative contract settlement, Regan pointed out that the most important thing about the settlement to her was that it provides a mechanism for employees to discuss patient care problems and offer solutions to management.

AGENCY SUPPORT

A check with the Department of Public Health and a talk with Robert Brown, director of the Thumb Commission on Aging, indicates that Provincial House is operating as required by law.

Brown said that when the union requested a meeting about patient care at Provincial House he explained that he has no jurisdiction in the area.

He recommended they contact Citizens for Better Care, a nursing home advocacy group for patients' rights in nursing homes.

Up until receiving the petition with 500 signatures, he said he never heard any complaints about Provincial House.

Calvin Wilcox, a licensing officer from the Department of Public Health, said that the last inspection at Provincial House failed to indicate any major problems. "I thought they were doing an average job," Wilcox added that if infractions are found a surprise follow up inspection is held three to six months later. The last inspection was conducted March 11 by Mary Lodge, RN, a nurse consultant with the Department of Public Health.

"I gave them a clean bill of health as far as nursing is concerned," Lodge explained. "There was no obvious problem when I was there, everything was under control."

Another problem outlined at Provincial House by Regan, according to the news story, was a lack of Hoyer lifts used to get patients out of beds; a lack of blood pressure cuffs, and an insufficient number of wheelchairs.

According to Lodge that doesn't appear to be the case. Although she said she didn't count the number of wheelchairs or other supplies, she feels sure that she would have noticed any obvious shortage of equipment. "I didn't see anything lacking," she said.

About 60 to 65 percent of the cost of running a nursing home, according to Sward, is for labor. The reduction in staff shows in the bottom line.

According to reports on Medicaid spending, Beverly and Provincial House showed a profit of $162,636, while spending $250,000 on administrative costs. In 1983, $126,000 was sent to Beverly corporate headquarters.

While refusing to comment on stories and the situation before she came back to Provincial House, Schwaderer said when asked if she thought that the squabble over the new union contract had anything to do with the current brouhaha, she answered quickly, "you've got the answer there to what it's all about."

Planning starts for Festival

A July 3 ox roast and dance party at the Colony House is scheduled to kick off events for the seventh annual Cass City 4th of July Festival this year.

At a planning meeting held last Thursday, members of the committee have decided to offer more activities for youths, while staying away from a carnival type atmosphere.

Chairmen of this year's festival are Dave Lovejoy, Roland Pakonen and Curt Strickland.

Strickland said the music group Night Life, scheduled to perform at the July 3 dance party, has told him they will put posters up, promoting their performance. This is hoped to increase attendance.

The annual bed race on Main Street is scheduled to kick off the July 4 activities. The bed race is scheduled to start at 10:00 a.m., followed by the parade at 11:00 a.m.

Parade Chairman Gary Jones said last year they had 65 units officially registered for the parade. He hopes to increase the number of entries this year. Jones plans on contacting about 100 possible entries for this year's parade.

Groups that Jones will be contacting include military and high school bands, horse show groups, antique car collectors, and other groups interested in participating in parades.

Any individuals or groups interested are to contact Jones at 872-2639.

The Cass City Jaycees have agreed to supply fireworks to be set off the evening of July 4. The $2,200 firework display will be set off by the Elkland Township Fire Department.

Annual activities such as the arts and crafts show, queen's pageant, teen dance, kids' games, softball games, a lumberman's exhibition, pet show, Please turn to page 14.

Quick now. When the town whistle starts howling, can you tell if it is signaling a tornado warning? Chances are you've forgotten. Right? If so, now that it's Michigan Tornado Safety Week, maybe it's time to renew the guidelines.

When the town whistle sounds with a three-minute blast, it's a tornado warning. That means that a tornado has been sighted in the area. Three short blasts is the all clear signal.

A tornado watch means a tornado or severe thunderstorm is possible. It's issued whenever conditions for severe weather have developed.

Watches are issued by news media, but no whistle sounds.

Do you agree that this is the time of the year that puts our worst face forward? It's too early to be green, too late to be white. It's just dirty, gray and depressing.

The melting snow also reveals all of the scars of winter and late fall. Among them is a deep rut in my front lawn that apparently was made by a village or county grader that lost its way during one of the frequent snowstorms.

The substantial majority given the tax renewal at the school is great for all of us who feel the money is needed. But we shouldn't read into it more than there is. Only a tiny fraction of the voters were at the polls which is usually the case when there isn't any real opposition to a tax proposal.

If the school were asking for a millage increase and it passed, then supporters could truthfully say that the mood of taxpayers towards education had changed for the better.

MR. YUK has been making visits to elementary schools in the area, teaching students about the dangers of accidental poisoning. Registered Nurse Ellen O'Hara from the Hills and Dales Hospital spoke to the developmental kindergarten class at Evergreen Elementary School, Shabbona, last Wednesday. O'Hara's daughter Susan is dressed up as Mr. Yuk.

Mr. Yuk teaches area students about poison

Mr. Yuk, a symbol used to teach children about the dangers of poison, has been visiting area elementary schools, teaching children not to touch poisons and medicines. The activities for the week were part of the National Poison Prevention Week, March 17-23.

During the week Otto Bacon, director of pharmacy for Hills and Dales Hospital, Jane Mitchell, in-service director, Celia House, nursing secretary, and Nurse Ellen O'Hara presented information to children about poison control. The theme for the week was "Children act fast...So do poisons."

Bacon recommends that all household products and medicines should be kept out of youngsters' reach, and preferably locked up. Bacon said that parents with infants and toddlers should keep a bottle of Ipecac, a drug used to induce vomiting, available, but it should not be given unless the parents are instructed to administer it by a poison control center.

Bacon pointed out that if a child accidentally takes a caustic poison or a petroleum based product, a parent may damage the child's lungs if vomiting is induced. He recommends the parent first call a poison control center before attempting any remedy. A poison control center can quickly tell the parent if the child should be taken to a hospital for treatment. If the child has taken a poison that must be removed, a stomach pump will prevent damage to the lungs.

"It is so much better to call the poison control center to know exactly what to do," Bacon said. He added that it only takes a few minutes for the center to determine what treatment should be performed.

Statistics show that a majority of poisonings happen just before meal time, something that Bacon feels parents should be aware of.

Bacon recommends that all medication be purchased in child proof containers, even if there are no children living in the house.

"It is pretty rare to find a house that never has kids around," Bacon said.

The nearest Poison Control Center in the area is at Saginaw General Hospital. The center is staffed 24 hours a day. The telephone number is 517-755-1111 or call Children's Hospital, Detroit, at 1-800-572-1655.

The Haire Net

Folks who know that this writer makes an annual pilgrimage to the finals of the Michigan High School Athletic Association basketball tournament usually ask, how was it?

The answer is that in recent years it has been better than ever. Don't assume that it's better because the teams are better, although they might well be. You can get an endless argument about that.

Where it's better is the conduct of the teams. In this day of increased lawlessness, increased concern about safety in the streets and jails that are overflowing, the conduct of the players and the fans is much improved.

Let me take you back five years or so. Back to the time when a team from Saginaw and a team from Detroit were locked in a close game.

At the conclusion there was a mini riot. Fans came bursting over the scoring table, knocking over reporters and officials while brushing by a cordon of police that were guarding the floor.

It wasn't until another squad in full riot gear came lockstepping onto the floor that order was restored.

Compare that with what happened last week end. Ignore the game between Flint Northwestern and Detroit Southwestern. It wasn't close enough, really, to get emotions at a fever pitch.

Switch to the morning game which certainly was.

It pitted Saginaw Buena Vista against Flint Beecher.

In case you missed it, the game went into double overtime before Beecher won it at the buzzer with a shot from 20 feet.

If you were a partisan fan there's little doubt that there were calls by officials that you feel robbed your team of a chance to win.

It's hard to imagine a situation that could be more ready to explode. If trouble was brewing, everything was there to make it boil over.

When the final whistle blew there were some crestfallen kids from Buena Vista and jubilant players from Beecher.

The player making the winning basket was mobbed and carried around on his teammates' shoulders.

Without that excitement the games would be nothing. The cheerleaders crying over the loss, the winning (and the losing) coaches hugging their players. The losers choking back tears, and perhaps hiding a face with a towel. That's what it is all about.

It's a credit to the players and to the schools that despite the emotion after the whistle they conducted themselves just the way you hope that your team would respond if they happened to make it to the biggest schoolboy sports event of the winter.

So, yes, it's better than it was. Maybe sports do help build character. Players from Buena Vista showed a lot of it last Saturday.

"If It Fitz...."

Nose blowing

By Jim Fitzgerald

"Last night was a mistake," I told her.

That is another TV-movie cliché I've always wanted to say to my wife. Last Monday I wrote about how I finally found a reason to tell her: "We need to spend some time together." (After minor surgery, I needed her to change the dressing on a back wound beyond my grasp). It is incredible that a second reason to speak dramatically came along so soon after the first. I guess it never rains but it makes you sorry a smile is your umbrella.

After a night of wild abandon unlicensed by nuptial contract, the well-spoken hero or heroine often says last night was a mistake. That means he or she doesn't want to do it again because someone might get hurt, or because it just won't work out, or because one of them has an incurable disease unrelated — remarkably — to their dialogue.

Which reminds me: The mailman brought me a letter with this message printed on the outside of the envelope in large letters: "HERPES TEST RESULTS — Private and Confidential." And I used to worry about postal employees reading my postcards.

An esteemed newspaper owner named Jim Sherman sent me the X-rated envelope. His is a remarkable success story. Starting only 30 years ago with just one small newspaper, he now owns five and plans to buy a sixth just as soon as he can afford a newspaper bag to carry them all in.

Anyway, on the morning my wife asked why I blew my nose the night before, I told her last night was a mistake. I couldn't think of a better defense. She was angry because the nighttime blow, although with Kleenex, was without precedent.

She claims I am completely predictable. "You always blow your nose in the morning, right after you finish shaving. The noise is my signal to get up and start breakfast," she said. "Because you blew unpredictably, I put the coffee on at 2 o'clock in the morning."

Some people may think it uncouth to discuss nose blowing in public. But there is precedent for thinking otherwise. Nose blowing was recently discussed in the Missouri Legislature. Rep. Fred Williams proposed legislation that would make it a crime to blow your nose in a restaurant.

"If we can tell people they can't smoke in a restaurant, why can't we tell them they can't blow their nose?" Williams asked.

Right. It may not be practical for restaurants to completely ban nose blowing, especially during the flu season, but they should at least offer a non-blowing section for customers who don't intend to blow and don't want to hear people who do. "Blowing or non-blowing?" the hostess could ask.

The Ann Arbor Public Library recently adopted a rule calling for the ejection of patrons "with extremely poor personal hygiene," so certainly it should be possible for a restaurant to segregate blowers from non-blowers. It's a lot easier to spot a handkerchief flasher than to distinguish cheap cologne from a skipped bath.

I apologized to my angry wife for unpredictably awakening her six hours early, and asked if it would make her feel any better if I moved to Missouri and got arrested for abusing a controlled substance called mucus. That was after I used the last-night-was-a-mistake cliché, which may have been contagious.

"I need some time to sort things out," she said.

To be continued next week.

Zonta Club

at dinner meet

A white elephant auction was held by the Zonta Club following the regular dinner meeting at the Charming March 19.

Geraldine Purcell, president-elect of District 15, Zonta International, was among the guests.

The auction was a fund raising event to help finance the annual purchase of a well for the Sri Lanka Water Well Project, sponsored by UNICEF and contributed to by Zonta International.

Zonta Clubs throughout the world have contributed enough to purchase over half of the pledged amount of 2000 wells in the Sri Lanka Project. The wells cost $225.00 each, resulting in over $225,000, and it appears the full pledge will be paid by the end of this year. Cass City has just purchased a third well.

Charter member Edith Little is still a patient at St. Luke's Hospital in Saginaw.

McLeody Days

By Bill McLeod

Whoever came up with the saying "the more things change, the more they remain the same," missed the mark with today's college students.

Sunday, I read a story in the Detroit News about the latest thing on college campuses, conservative newspapers. The story was about the new underground newspapers of the 1980s. Instead of knocking the establishment for being too far to the right, they claimed that the college newspapers, and administrative programs are too liberal for college students.

According to the story, the new conservative press supports Reagan and his defense spending programs, while knocking tax increases that would be used to fund social programs. They support conservative groups such as the Young Republicans and the Young American for Freedom.

Pinstripe Power. I remember the college underground papers of the late 1960s and 70s. When a story talked about the market, they were referring to the next shipment of marijuana that was being brought to campus, not about Wall Street. Other "feature stories" were on how to flunk an Army physical, and editorials knocked the administration for allowing an ROTC office on campus.

Today's underground press is running editorials on how the administration is too liberal for offering courses on Afro-American and women's rights studies.

The heroes of the underground newspapers during the 1960s were groups such as the Students for Democratic Society, (quickly labeled communistic, by someone), and the Chicago Seven, a group of students, including Jerry Ruben and Abbey Hoffman, who disrupted the Democratic National Convention in Chicago during the 1964 elections.

Being a photographer at heart, the papers of the 60s would be a lot more fun to work at. A photo of a long haired student putting flowers down the barrel of a national guardsman's rifle is a lot more exciting than taking a picture of someone in a three-piece suit standing in front of a video display terminal, elated because his stock just doubled.

Ninety-seven percent of the world's water is in the ocean.

FARM BABY - Shirley Barriger, Unionville, presented James and Donnieca Garcia, Caro, with a basket of Michigan agriculture products and a check from Tuscola County Farm Bureau to commemorate the first baby born in Tuscola County on Agriculture Day. Garcia's son, James E. Garcia, was born March 20, at 9:45 a.m. at the Hills and Dales Hospital.

Caro man sentenced for probation violation

Monday, Tuscola County Circuit Court Judge Patrick Joslyn sentenced a 26-year-old Caro man to 3 to 10 years at Southeastern Michigan Prison, Jackson, on a probation violation charge.

David W. Robinson, Caro Mobile Estates, Caro, was sentenced on the probation violation charge after a jury found him guilty of a charge of larceny under $100.

Robinson was originally placed on probation March 3, 1982, after he pleaded guilty to an arson charge. He was also sentenced to serve one year in the Tuscola County jail.

Robinson was given credit for 384 days already served.

Also Monday, two brothers from the Flint area stood mute on charges of felonious assault, and aiding and abetting in assault. The court entered not guilty pleas for the pair.

The charges stem from a March 2 attack on Kevin Smith in Watertown Township.

Gary N. Wright, 30, 1425 Franklin St., Apt. 1, Flint, has been charged with felonious assault. Jerry A. Wright, 29, 803 East St., P.O. Box 1397, Flint, has been charged with aiding and abetting in an assault. Smith was attacked with a baseball bat.

A pre-trial hearing has been set for April 22. Bond continues at $5,000 each.

Joslyn accepted a guilty plea from Ronald R. Matthews, 20, 2315 Elmwood Rd., Caro, on charges of larceny in a building.

Matthews was originally charged with breaking and entering of an unoccupied building with intent to commit larceny, and larceny in a building.

The charges stem from the Jan. 24 breaking and entering of Lucky's Kountry Korner party store, 1792 E. Caro Rd., Caro. Cigarettes, lottery tickets and liquor were taken during the robbery.

Joslyn will sentence Matthews May 13. Bond continues at $10,000.

Joslyn accepted a guilty plea of larceny in a building from Kirk S. Jackson, 23, 742 Williamsburg, Apt. 7, Caro. Jackson was charged with stealing appetite control pills from Central Shop-Rite store, 1520 W. Caro Rd., Caro, Jan. 30.

Jackson will be sentenced May 20. Bond continues at $5,000.

At a special March 19 motion day, Joslyn accepted a guilty plea from Mark R. Frazee, 20, 2325 Mertz Rd., Caro, on a charge of delivery of LSD.

Frazee was originally charged with delivery of LSD and delivery of marijuana April 25, 1984. He will be sentenced May 6. Bond continues at $10,000.

Also March 19, Judge Joslyn accepted a guilty plea from Kenneth L. Smith, 45, 9501 Saginaw Rd., Apt. 3, Vassar, on charges of third degree criminal sexual conduct.

The charges stem from criminal sexual conduct with a 15-year-old Denmark Township girl Sept. 22, 1984.

Joslyn will sentence Smith April 22. A $100,000 cash or surety bond has been set.

Judge Joslyn accepted a guilty plea from Julio Delgado, 19, 869 E. Hudson Ave., Vassar, on charges of receiving and concealing stolen property.

Delgado was originally charged with receiving and concealing stolen property valued over $100. The stolen property was several aluminum bottom boards from Ervin Industries, Vassar. The charges against Delgado were made Nov. 14, 1983.

Joslyn will sentence Delgado Oct. 7.

Tuscola County Sheriff's Department Deputy James Jashenski reported that a 22-year-old Decker man was not injured in an auto accident Sunday at 9:20 a.m.

According to the report, Terry L. Agar, 22, 5965 W. Shabbona Rd., Decker, was eastbound on Deckerville Road, one-half mile west of Phillips Road, when he lost control of the vehicle on the slush covered road surface.

Agar went off the south side of the road, through a ditch, and onto the other side of the ditch.

Deputy James Compo reported that a vehicle driven by Dale D. Bader, 46, 4678 Kennebec Dr., Cass City, struck a deer March 22 at 6:40 p.m.

Compo reported that Bader was eastbound on Deckerville Road, one-half mile east of Hurds Corner Road, when he struck the deer. Bader was not injured in the accident.

No injuries reported in Monday accident

Cass City Police Officer Donald Miller reported there were no injuries in a three-car accident Monday at 3:05 p.m.

According to the report, Kelly S. Stevens, 22, 4430 Doerr Rd., Cass City, was eastbound on Main Street, attempting to turn left into a driveway at 6817 Main St., Cass City.

Stopped behind the Stevens vehicle was a vehicle driven by Todd A. Kloska, 28, 118 E. Washington Dr., Caro. He was struck from the rear by a vehicle driven by Gary R. Labor, 18, 935 E. Hopson Rd., Bad Axe.

Labor was issued a citation for failure to stop in assured clear distance ahead.

Officer Phillip Klaus reported that a vehicle driven by Mark J. Mozden, 22, 6182 Deckerville Rd., Deford, was struck by a vehicle driven by Charles F. Auten, 22, 4647 N. Seeger St., Cass City, Sunday at 3:55 p.m.

According to the report, both vehicles were southbound on Comment Drive. Mozden was in the right lane, Auten was driving in the left lane, left of center. When Mozden attempted to turn left into a parking space he was struck by the Auten vehicle.

Obituary

Sussex funeral held Friday

Graveside services were held at Elkland Cemetery Friday afternoon for John T. and Mildred Sussex of Lansing, who were killed in a one-car accident Tuesday, March 19, in Lansing Township.

Mr. and Mrs. Sussex had been residents of the greater Lansing area for the past 35 years.

Sussex, 72, was retired from the State of Michigan Department of Treasury in 1980. He was a member of the Dearborn Masonic Lodge F&AM of Dearborn, the First Presbyterian Church of Dearborn and a veteran of W.W. II having served with the U.S. Air Force with the rank of captain.

Mrs. Sussex, 71, was retired from the Waverly Public School District in 1983 after teaching elementary school for 10 years and previously had taught in the Lansing Public School District at Verlinde Street School for 17 years. She was also a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Dearborn.

Surviving is one daughter, Karen S. Sussex of Milan. Mr. Sussex is also survived by one sister, Mrs. Clarence (Cleva) Lock of Arizona. Mrs. Sussex is also survived by two brothers, Leslie Karr of Mt. Pleasant, and Robert Keating of Cass City.

Services were conducted Friday in the Estes-Leadley Greater Lansing Chapel with the Rev. Alfred D. Deutsch of the Delta United Presbyterian Church officiating. Rev. James McCallum of the Cass City Trinity United Methodist Church officiated at the graveside service.

Memorial contributions may be made to the American Heart Association of Michigan in memory of John T. and Mildred G. Sussex.

Former Cass Cityan killed in March 19 auto accident

A former resident of Cass City was one of two persons killed in an auto accident that occurred around 3:30 p.m. on West Joseph Highway in Lansing Township, Tuesday, March 19.

She is Mrs. John Sussex, of Lansing, a sister of Robert Keating of Cass City. Also killed in the crash was John Sussex, her husband and the driver of the car.

Police speculated that Mr. Sussex may have suffered a heart attack just prior to the accident. The car was traveling about 60 miles per hour when it hit a utility pole.

According to Lansing Township Police Chief Jeff Ashley, several factors led the police to believe that the driver suffered a heart attack.

Several witnesses said that the car accelerated suddenly, for no reason before hitting the pole. Sussex had a history of heart surgery, and when police arrived no blood was found on the body, suggesting he was dead before impact.

Other information about Mrs. Sussex is presented in the obituary column.

Township meetings Saturday

Saturday, March 30, residents of area townships are invited to attend their township's annual meeting, to discuss pay increases for township officials, how federal revenue sharing funds are to be spent, and a review of next year's budget.

At the meeting the township board will present the 1985 fiscal budget, which will go into effect April 1. A report of last year's revenues and expenses will be presented. Many of the townships will conduct a public hearing on how federal revenue sharing funds are to be spent.

State law limits the power of electors attending the meeting to accept or reject salary increases to elected officials, and the purchasing or selling of property and equipment by the township.

Area townships in Tuscola County with annual meetings starting at 1:00 p.m. are: Ellington, Kingston, Koylton, Wells, Columbia and Elkland. Elmwood Township will hold its annual meeting March 30 at 10:00 a.m.

In Sanilac County Austin, Evergreen, Moore and Greenleaf Townships will hold their annual meeting at 1:00 p.m. Lamotte Township will hold its annual meeting April 5 at 7:30 p.m.

In Huron County, Bingham and Grant Townships will hold their annual meetings March 30 at 1:00 p.m.

700 attend co-op meeting

More than 700 people attended the 48th annual meeting of the Thumb Electric Cooperative (TEC) Friday at the Ugly High School.

Reelected to the board of directors were Walter Cook, Huron County; Ronald Schiestel, Sanilac County; and Roger Vollmar, Tuscola County.

After the annual meeting, the board of directors reelected Cook as president, Allan Shaw as vice-president, Vollmar as secretary and Michael Lasceski, treasurer.

During the presentation of the 1984 financial statement, Lasceski pointed out TEC has operating revenues of $7,063,097, and expenses of $6,884,871. In addition to an operating margin of $178,226, the cooperative earned $135,752 on short term investments. The total operating margin for 1984, including dividends from other organizations, was $323,684. During 1983, the cooperative had a total operating margin of $464,570. The total operating expenses were 6.9 percent higher than for 1983, primarily due to higher interest costs and for storm damage repairs.

General Manager Michael Krause reported the cooperative was able to maintain its financial position with a 5.2 percent rate increase, which went into effect in November, 1984. The increase to members, less than a seven percent average increase for the past six years, was needed to cover maintenance costs from storm related damages. The November, 1984, and February, 1985 storms caused an estimated $300,000 damages.

Krause explained that through the uses of peak shaving and load management systems, cooperative members saved $1,250,000 in operating costs. He added that 60 percent of TEC's operating expenses are spent to purchase electricity from Detroit Edison.

Pvt. McKnight completes course

Marine Pvt. John E. McKnight, son of Joanne M. Nicholas of 6627 Seed St., Cass City, has completed the Infantry Combat Training Course at Marine Corps Base, Camp Pendleton, CA.

John E. McKnight

During the six-week course, McKnight received classroom instruction and participated in field exercises involving infantry tactics; the construction and camouflage of fighting positions, and the use of mines, demolitions and intra-company communications equipment.

A 1984 graduate of Bad Axe High School, Bad Axe, he joined the Marine Corps Reserves in August 1984.

By using diesel generators and controlled waterheating for 1,900 members, the cooperative was able to keep power costs to members at the same level as in 1983.

Krause reported the cooperative received a 3.7 percent cost increase per kilowatt hour from Detroit Edison. He added the cost of electricity will increase above the projected inflationary rate during the next two years because of the cost of the two new Detroit Edison power plants.

Krause added that $184,000 in patronage capital was paid to TEC members during 1984. About 9,400 past and present members will share the refund.

President Cook reported that during 1984 the cooperative spent $1,300,000 for plant additions and improvements. A new diesel generator that was installed in Caro is expected to save members $150,000 in electricity purchases. Also during 1984, a Millington transmission interconnection line, which cost $350,000, was completed. It will improve the reliability of service to the southwest portion of Tuscola County. The cooperative also rebuilt four miles of distribution line in the Vassar and Kinross areas at a cost of $180,000.

Cook told TEC members that the cooperative recently obtained approval for a $2.8 million loan from the Rural Electrification Administration and the Cooperative Finance Corporation.

Allen Health Care has been in business for one year and provides necessary medical services to the ill and disabled in their homes. We will continue to provide quality nursing services as we continue to meet the needs of our community.

Sincerely,

EDITOR'S NOTE: Rod Hildebrand's objection is well founded. The story meant to imply that previously non-profit hospitals had not concerned themselves with the home health care field that concerns like Allen Home Care, Inc. provided and will continue to provide.

Floridians like cool weather

Dear Editor,

I like to read Rabbit Tracks by Mr. Haire and usually find his column amusing. I take exception, though, to a recent comment that Floridians would not appreciate a 75° day at this time of the year as much as Michiganders appreciate a balmy 55° day. Of course we appreciate a nice, cool 75° day. It gives us a chance to wear our jackets.

Sincerely,

Holbrook Helpers earn conservation award

The Holbrook Helpers 4-H Club has won top honors and a cash award for its outstanding 4-H conservation project at the Sanilac Petroglyphs State Park. The park is located on Germania Road, 1/4 mile south of Bay City-Forestville Road.

The Sanilac County 4-H Club was one of 45 U.S. clubs recognized through the national 4-H council awards program.

Winners were selected by the Cooperative Extension Service.

Holbrook Helper team leader Mike Kanaby accepted a $50 check provided by the John Deere Foundation. Club administrative leader Judy Doer stated, "This award represents the beginning of a long-term effort by the Holbrook Helpers to help make this historic site a more attractive, fun and educational place to visit."

The winning program focused on improving and publicizing the Sanilac petroglyphs, a series of rock outcroppings decorated by Indians' pictograph carvings. Working with State

DNR Park Officer Roy Eli, club members and leaders improved the appearance of the park, marked nature trails and learned the history of the park. They also prepared an exhibit on the park for the Sanilac County 4-H Fair.

Plans for the coming year include improvement of existing trails, construction of rustic benches and interpretive signs to help visitors better understand the importance of the site. The 4-H conservation of natural resources program is designed to encourage an understanding of effective citizenship in conserving resources today and in the future and application of appropriate scientific practices in conservation.

Patterson completes Air Force training

Gary W. Patterson, a 1984 graduate of Uby Community Schools, has recently completed Air Force Basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, TX. He is presently assigned to Sheppard Air Force Base, TX, where he is receiving specialized instruction in the civil engineering field.

During the six weeks' basic training, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and cusoms, and received special training in human relations. Upon completion of basic training, Patterson received credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

Patterson, son of Gordon E. and Kay F. Patterson, 2592 Pringle Rd., Uby, will return home for a two-week leave April 30. He will be assigned to a station in Germany.

Your neighbor says

Auto industry needs to change

Will the American auto industry have to lower the selling price of the cars they produce to stay competitive with Japanese made automobiles?

Tom Nicholson, Cass City, said that Reagan is not in favor of import tariffs or quotas on Japanese built cars, so eventually the American car producers will have to bring down the cost of the cars to remain competitive.

Nicholson feels that areas other than worker's wages could be cut to reduce automotive costs. "There are other ways of cutting the cost," Nicholson said, pointing out that cuts could be made in benefit costs, workman's compensation costs from the state, and energy savings around the plant could be ways of reducing overhead costs.

Nicholson said the auto makers "got fat" from lack of competition, and with the Japanese government subsidizing the auto industry, they are able to produce cars cheaper.

"I wouldn't buy a Japanese car," Nicholson said. He drives a Chrysler K-Car, which he bought in town.

He feels that for the same amount of money, a Japanese car may have more accessories, but he will stay with an American made car.

Nicholson is an industrial engineer with General Cable. He and his wife Martha have three children. They live at 6619 Houghton St., Cass City.

Village to attack weed problem lawsuit if someone were injured.

LaPonsie feels that a range would be covered by the zoning and building codes ordinances, which would restrict placement of the range in village limits.

Armstead felt that target ranges should not be totally disallowed in village limits, because a legitimate business may want to open a range for bow and arrow or air rifle shooting.

The proposed ordinance was sent back to the rules committee to further define some of the recommendations. It will be brought back to the council at a future meeting.

Also at the meeting, the council:

Approved an ordinance that allows school buses to pick up students at any location in the village. A previous ordinance allowed the buses to stop only at certain intersections.

Agreed to contact the Michigan Municipal League for a bid for workman's compensation insurance for village employees. LaPonsie said that Al Kico of Harris Hampshire Insurance, Cass City, informed him the cost of insurance would increase from $10,419 a year to $14,986 a year.

The village has 62 tax notices that were not collected by March 19. The tax notices were taken to the county treasurer for collection. The total amount due the village from the taxes is $14,230.01. The village collected 95.5 percent of 1984 property taxes.

The Department of Public Health gave the village water supply a clean bill of health following a Feb. 7 inspection.

There's still another reason now why I'll not get a personal computer - the government.

In all its august wisdom, Congress has written into its new 1000-page tax "reform" bill that you can deduct part of the depreciation of a personal computer - only if you keep a record of the time it is used for business purposes, and the time it is used for personal purposes.

This record must be kept in the form of a "log" showing date, number of minutes used, nature of the use, that is, personal or business and if business, the details.

So my wife tries to use it to balance the household check-book. Aug. 31, 1984 (the entry goes) balancing checkbook (personal) 3:30 to 4:15 p.m. total 45 minutes.

Next day I tap out an interest problem on an investment account. Sept. 1, 1984... Agnes Gilhooley account, interest calculation, 3 minutes. (My own calculator could have done it in half a minute).

This sort of thing goes on for a year as part of your income tax figures. How would you like to add up all those entries, figure the percentage of time for business use? Then apply that percentage to the depreciation figure for the computer, then enter the result on the business expense part of your return...then some day justify all this to the IRS auditor...

Next year, no reason why these characters in Congress won't apply the same rule to the use of your typewriter, and make you keep a log of how many times you tap the keys on business and how many times for personal letters. Lordy, Lordy!

One of two things is going to happen: You're going to (1) ignore this silly ruling, make a guess at the percentage of time the gadget was used and depreciate it accordingly, or (2) not claim anything in the way of expense.

In either case, your regard for your government is going to drop, and that's not a good thing in a democracy. You must have reasonable confidence in the people running the country, or in the long run, there's trouble. Already, citizens rate Congressmen in the same category as used car salesmen.

This nonsense about tax breaks on personal computers is one more reason, as I said, why I don't plan to get one. Unless a person wants to play with one for amusement, I see no reason to put a couple of thousand dollars for one of the things. I really think they're a fad, like hula hoops.

Mind you, this doesn't apply to commercial computers. Many businesses simply couldn't compete today without computer systems. Insurance companies, for example. Banking. Brokerage houses. Retail inventory control. Manufacturing. Navigation. Engineering. Did you know that the drawings and drafting of giant aircraft are done by computers? The results are far better than mere mortals could ever do.

Speaking of the computer business, had you noted that in the period of Aug. 1 to 3 that an investment in IBM options would have gone up 700%. That's right -- an investment of $10,000 on Aug. 1 in the October 130 calls could have been made at the price of 1/4. At the close on Aug. 3 after that mighty surge in the market, and IBM hit 120, the same options were worth 1.75. Your investment would have been worth $70,000.

Figure the annualized gain on your personal computer. Don't forget to enter it in your log.

Thumb Career Day at SVSC

Thumb area high school students will learn how to plan for college and a career Friday, April 19. Saginaw Valley State College will host some 400 students from Tuscola, Sanilac and Huron Counties during its seventh annual Thumb Day.

Jim Dwyer, Thumb Day coordinator, said students need to examine the programs and services available at college, including career preparation, paying for an education, college housing and adjusting to the academic workloads.

"The students will get exposure -- many for the first time -- to the college environment and setting," Dwyer said, adding "After the visit, the students realize that they need to set priorities for their future in higher education."

The day begins with a check in at 9:30 a.m. in the SVSC theatre. Guest speaker Dr. Robert Meadows, professor of education at SVSC, will discuss "Goal Setting" at 9:45 a.m.

(Buzz) Murray. Funeral arrangements are incomplete. Mr. Murray and his wife, the former Madge Walsh, spent their high school years in Gagetown. They have one son, Luther Jr. (Buzz). Mr. and Mrs. Dick Walsh of Detroit and Lela Walsh of Bad Axe left Monday for LaBelle.

Day at SVSC

Students will tour the campus to visit dorms, classrooms and athletic facilities. Current SVSC students from the Thumb will share experiences in adjusting to academic and social aspects of college. Other activities include career presentations that will provide information on academic requirements for a career, pay scales, job market outlook and more.

Thumb Day concludes with an all-you-can-eat luncheon buffet in Doan cafeteria. Cost for lunch is $2 and all other activities are free.

For more information about Thumb Day, call Jim Dwyer at 790-4200.

New books at the library

SILVERWOOD by Joanna Barnes (fiction). Stately Ada Prudhomme, the chateau of Silverwood, is the central figure, her life reviewed in flashbacks through the eyes of her family and acquaintances. We know from the beginning that Ada's putative blueblood background is a fraud; as the drama unfolds, we observe the grit, grace and style that gave rise to her legendary noblesse oblige. Author Barnes conveys a fine sense of the Los Angeles locale and the moneyed people who lived there in the first decades of our century. She portrays the lives of the rich, privileged set and of those in the movie colony who infiltrated and mingled with them. In the world she depicts, individuals with social pedigrees are generally inferior - in talent, sensitivity and the capacity to cope - to those who have raised themselves from obscurity and penury.

THE KILLING ANNIVERSARY by Ian St. James (fiction). Set primarily in Ireland and England, but spanning much of the globe, this emotionally charged saga revolves around the necessarily tragic destinies of several men trapped by the historical circumstances into which they were born; Sean Connors, a successful Irish journalist and entrepreneur who harbors ambivalent feelings about his homeland; Matt Riordan, the leader of a fanatical IRA squadron who is fiercely dedicated to the cause of a united Ireland; and Mark Averdale, an Anglo-Irish nobleman determined to maintain the status quo in Ulster. All three are natural enemies whose paths continually intersect with predictably explosive results.

DAYWORLD by Philip Jose Farmer (Science Fiction). For his memorable short story "The Sliced-Crosswise-Only-on-Tuesday-World," Farmer imagined a future Earth whose overpopulation was solved by freezing most of its citizens, allowing only a seventh to "live" each day, in strict rotation. As a metaphor of an overregulated civilization and its romantic discontents, this was fine. At novel length, though, the many problems of logical consistency seriously undermine the conceit. Policeman Jeff Caird belongs to a secret society intent on loosening the government's iron grip. As he tracks a traitor to his group and dodges a high-echelon detective, his carefully partitioned personae (for each day's world) begin to blur and merge.

HEALTH TIPS

Warning signs of heart attack

There's a craze sweeping America that has us watching our diet, signing up for aerobics, and hitting the streets in our jogging shoes. Still, about one million Americans are dying each year from diseases of the heart and blood vessels. That's about 50 percent of all the deaths in America each year.

"This year, about 1,500,000 Americans may have a heart attack, and about 550,000 of them will die," said Henry Swain, M.D., president, American Heart Association of Michigan. Most people hospitalized in time survive their attack and live for many years, working and leading a normal life. But, if you don't call your doctor promptly when you detect the warning signals, you are more likely to die or be disabled.

"As people are learning about the importance of good nutrition and exercise, they should also be taking a few minutes to learn the warning signs of heart attack. Many people get excited about a new exercise program, particularly when the warm weather arrives. They start up without seeing their doctor to be sure they're in proper condition. As a result, the sudden strain on the heart can be deadly.

"The point is, you can be in good shape and still have a heart attack," said Dr. Swain. "If you know the warning signs of heart attack, you can better tune in to the signals your body is giving you, and take the proper action if necessary."

"The warning signs of heart attack are: An uncomfortable pressure, fullness, squeezing or pain in the center of your chest, lasting two minutes or more. The pain may spread to your shoulders, neck and arms. Severe pain, dizziness, fainting, sweating, nausea or shortness of breath may also occur. Not all of these signals are always present. If you experience the signals, get help immediately.

"The pain you feel may be indigestion, but you should call your doctor or hospital immediately, especially if it gradually increases and becomes intolerable. Unfortunately many people die because they delay. The average person waits three hours before seeking help.

"An individual will often deny they're having a heart attack, but someone must take quick action. They should call the emergency rescue service, get to the nearest hospital room that offers 24-hour cardiac care, or give CPR if necessary, provided someone is trained in the procedure.

"Before the emergency occurs, call your local hospital to find which ones provide 24-hour cardiac care. Keep the number of your local emergency medical service (EMS) by the phone. Not all communities have the 911 emergency number and you could waste precious time.

"You should also be aware of signs similar to heart attack which are probably not indications of an attack," said Dr. Swain. "One false sign is sharp, shooting pains, lasting only a few seconds, and sometimes repeating. Or, the pain usually lasts only a few minutes. (You should call your doctor about this within a day or so; it may or may not require treatment, but not on an emergency basis.) Pain may be aggravated with each breath, easing when you exhale, or the pain can be associated with tenderness, a sore area near the surface, aggravated by touch. Another false sign is numbness or tingling affecting fingers and toes, accompanied by light-headedness. Pain is increased by moving arms, which is probably muscle strain. What seemed like breathlessness is really the feeling one can't breathe deeply or swallow easily. The heart seems to skip a beat, which is not cause for alarm."

For more information on heart attack, call your local office of the American Heart Association of Michigan and request "Why Risk Heart Attack," "Heart Attack Survival Kit," and "Heart Attack."

Thumb leaders at PAL program

Three Thumb area residents are spending a week in Washington, D.C., as part of a leadership project sponsored by the Home Economist Program of the MSU Cooperative Extension Service.

Mary Alice Osgerby of Caro, Dorothy Wood of Marlette and Linda Adams, Extension Home Economist, are among 70 participants in the Public Affairs Leadership (PAL) project who left March 25 for Washington.

PAL is a two-year program developed to familiarize community volunteer leaders and professional Extension staff members with how government operates and influences public issues affecting Michigan families.

Training is conducted through a series of seminars and programs about government, how it operates and how individuals and organizations can influence the decision making that affects families and communities, says Beth Moore, Extension public policy specialist and project coordinator.

"The Washington experience will provide the PAL participants with a firsthand opportunity to see and hear federal policy making taking place," Moore says.

The group will visit the departments of Agriculture, Health and Human Services, Education and Commerce. While at USDA, they will have separate sessions on Extension Home Economists, Food/Consumer Programs and Farm Policy and will also attend a reception with John Block, Secretary of Agriculture.

They will spend an afternoon on Capitol Hill and have a chance to visit with their Senators. Other activities include a tour of the White House, visits to various organizations, such as the National Education Association, a tour of the Supreme Court, and much more.

The group will also have several intensive work sessions during the week to help put the various aspects of their visit into perspective.

The Koutoubiya minaret in Marrakesh, Morocco, was built with musk added to the mortar. After almost one thousand years, it still gives off a pleasant aroma.

Promote Vargo in W. Germany

George M. Vargo, son of Shirley B. Brown of 3553 Third St., Owendale, has been promoted in the U.S. Army to the rank of specialist four.

Vargo is a chemical operations specialist with the 2nd Support Command in Nellingen, West Germany. His wife, Deidra, is the daughter of Dennis Thick of Gagetown.

He is a 1983 graduate of Owendale-Gagetown High School, Owendale.

The couple have a 14-month-old son, Brandon.

was completely sold out in the summer of 1984.

Many residents of the Thumb area as well as others from across the country are requesting copies. The Sanilac County Historical Society has sponsored the new printing and is urging those who want a copy to get their order placed.

The history, the first comprehensive history of the county in 100 years, has received commendations from Maine to California. Historians and history buffs in general have applauded its contents.

The county history is a hard cover, 312-page book with general chapters from the Indian days until today. It also includes 315 family histories with pictures, maps and illustrations.

Order forms for the second printing have been distributed through the banks of the county.

Down Memory Lane.

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

FIVE YEARS AGO

The 1979 Citizen of the Year, Bill Kritzman, presented plaques to those receiving the 1980 honor, Esther McCullough and Dr. Delbert E. Rawson, DDS. Junior Citizen of the Year honors went to Ken Martin, who received the plaque from Intermediate School Principal Bob Stickle. The awards were made at the annual Cass City Chamber of Commerce banquet.

It was a long nine years of effort for Theo J. Cleland of Ubyly, but it was worth it. The mother of three earned her bachelor of business administration degree at the end of the fall semester at Saginaw Valley State College. She majored in accounting.

Michael Vatter, a 6-0, 200-pound senior from Cass City High School has signed a letter of intent to attend Northwood Institute next fall, according to head football coach, Jack Finn.

Roads were in the worst condition Friday that they have been all winter. What that means, as everyone knows, is that it has been a mild winter. Classes were cancelled in the Kingston and Ubyly School Districts. Classes were held in Cass City, but students were sent home two hours early. There were about 1,500 customers without power in scattered parts of Tuscola County.

Sheriff's Deputy Paul P. Berry of Caro has announced he will seek the Republican nomination for the office of Tuscola County sheriff. A native of Caro, Berry graduated from Caro High School in 1951.

TEN YEARS AGO

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Buehrly and family will have as Easter guests, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Buehrly and son Don, Edward Buehrly, Mrs. Elsie Anthes and Francis Elliott. The Shabbona RLDS Women's Department met Thursday with Mrs. Bruce Kritzman for a noon luncheon. Mrs. Kritzman was assisted by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Hazen Kritzman. After lunch, the meeting was called to order by Mrs. Don Smith, women's leader. Worship service was conducted by Mrs. Floyd McIntosh.

Cass City Village Council quizzed Police Chief Gene Wilson regarding Cass City's crime problem, in the wake of a report submitted by Wilson showing a large upswing in traffic violations and in other serious crimes. Wilson said the higher figures are due in part to greater enforcement with the addition of Officer Robert Smith to the force, and to the increasing crime rates across the nation.

Patti Lautner of Cass City captured top honors in three events in senior division competition during the Third Annual Cass City Gymnasts meet held Saturday. Lautner took first in vaulting, tumbling and floor exercises.

Laurence Ziehm, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ziehm of Gagetown, has recently been chosen to participate in the Center for Foreign Study's Summer Program in Copenhagen, Denmark.

25 YEARS AGO

There will undoubtedly be changes made in the recreation program this year when Jim King and Leo Ware, the park committee, meet with interested persons to hammer out a suitable program.

The village council upped the salary of Assessor C.J. Striffler from $200 to $350 yearly Tuesday night at their regular meeting at the Municipal Building.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Hendrick visited Mr. and Mrs. Frank Laming Saturday evening.

Carl McIntosh and Hugh Milligan, members of the Cass City FFA chapter, returned from the 32nd annual convention of the Michigan Association of FFA at Michigan State University.

Fred Withey, manager of Farm Produce Co., this week said that liquidation by the stockholders does not mean that the elevator is going to close its doors. It is highly probable that the company will be sold to a corporation or individual and will continue to be run as an elevator.

35 YEARS AGO

Despite the poor roads, there were no vacant places at the tables in the Cass City Grange dining room in the Bird schoolhouse when the potluck dinner was served by Mr. and Mrs. John Marshall and Mr. and Mrs. E.W. Golding Friday evening. County agent Loren Armbruster acted as moderator and introduced the visiting students from Michigan State College.

A dog pound ordinance will be in effect April 3, 1950 and will be enforced. Arthur Eskilsen has been appointed as pound master, and dogs running at large will be picked up by him and held for 72 hours for claiming.

Corporal David F. Kitchin of the Marine Corps, who had been stationed on Guam for twenty-one months, enjoyed a 30-day furlough at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jason Kitchin. He left Sunday to return to Oceanside, Calif.

During the past week, sixty-six boys have reported for baseball. Coach Clasen is on the lookout for some good pitchers. Promising candidates are Wallace Brown, Gerald Whittaker, Jim Schad, Bill Martus and Graydon Agar, the latter two being freshmen.

"Stonewall" Jackson's real name was Thomas Jonathan Jackson.

CASS CITY, MICHIGAN Girl Scout

paper-glass drive scheduled

The seven Girl Scout troops of Cass City will be holding a glass and paper collection drive March 30, from 3:00 to 5:00 p.m.

Proceeds from the paper drive will be used to help Girl Scout troop 598 fund future trips and projects.

The glass drive will be used to help Kim Malten, Caro, pay for a Girl Scout exchange trip to England.

To arrange for pick up, call 872-3112 or 872-5035 or 872-3752. The troops request that paper be tied in bundles and the glass be clean. A second paper drive will be held in late April or May.

Cass City Girl Scout troops 414 and 239 will hold a bake sale April 5.

TRU-TEST COLOR CONSULTANT

Dear Bonnie:

My husband is very partial to blues and my favorite colors are in the sunny yellows and golds. How can we use both of these colors in decorating our home?

Signed,
Jane P.

Dear Jane:

Find a mutually pleasing sample that has both of these colors, perhaps in a fabric or a picture, and use this combination throughout your home, letting one color dominate in a room while the other takes a quiet stance. Use the blues as the main color on the west or warm side of your home and the golden tones on the north to provide a sunny atmosphere. Blues give a calming effect and yellows are stimulating, so you decide what rooms need excitement.

Sanilac 4-H'ers at Lansing

4-H members from across Michigan are meeting in Lansing this week for the 1985 4-H Capitol Experience. This year's theme is "Michigan Government in Action."

Sanilac County has four participants, Jeb Brydon of Marlette, Melissa Janes of Decker, Patric McFarlane of Sandusky and Denise Peruski of Deckerville.

"The purpose of the activity is to increase Michigan youths' awareness of state government and community service and to encourage them to get involved in public affairs on local, county, regional, state and national levels," says Steve Kinzel, associate director of the Michigan 4-H Youth Program.

The youths were to attend sessions of state government, meet with media representatives who cover the capitol, tour the Capitol, meet representatives of the governor's office and the Senate and House and talk with representatives of several state agencies.

The 4-H'ers spent one afternoon working on a community service project of their choice, ranging from assisting a local food bank to lending a hand at a child abuse center in Lansing.

After returning home, participants will organize community service projects, using the knowledge they've gained through the Capitol Experience program.

The 4-H Capitol Experience is sponsored by the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service 4-H Youth and Natural Resources and Public Policy programs.
