In Tuscola County

Accidents increase in 1985

Fatal accidents investigated by the Tuscola County Sheriff's Department were exactly the same in 1985 as they were in 1984, but all other accidents increased in 1985. The three fatal accidents investigated in December pushed the year's total to 11, the same as 1984, and two more than were recorded in 1983. Injury accidents increased 6.08 percent with 325 reported in 1985 and 276 in 1984. Accidents in which damage was reported increased 4.58 percent. There were 29 more in 1985 for a total of 812 as compared to 783 the year previous. Total accidents for the year were up 6.8 percent. Four persons were killed in the county in December, bringing the total for the 12 months to 13, one more than the 12 that were killed the previous year. The one added death amounts to a 7.7 percentage increase. Persons injured jumped 7.8 percent from 427 to 463, while there was an increase of just under 10 percent in the number of cars involved in accidents investigated by the department. Total vehicles involved last year were 1546 as compared to 1395 in 1984. Although the number of fatal accidents remained constant in 1984 and 1985, both years were more than was recorded in 1983 when nine persons died on county roads. That's an increase of about 18 percent. DECEMBER ACTIVITY During December the sheriff's department answered 559 criminal calls and 156 emergency calls. There were 145 service and miscellaneous calls and 91 calls to serve papers for the courts. In December vandalism and larceny offenses were the most frequent violations with 41 of each investigated by the department. Other frequent criminal complaints received were burglary, 33, assaults, 20, and disorderly conduct, 19. The license bureau, which Sheriff Paul Berry is determined to keep operating although there has been opposition to it from the Tuscola Board of Commissioners since the state office opened in Caro, handled 282 applications in the month. In addition, 180 driving tests were conducted and 18 chauffeurs' tests administered. Five road tests were given. Other routine activities of the department included investigation of nine runaways and three missing persons and issuing 52 gun registrations.

After 90 years Novesta Baptist Church closes

After 90 years, the Novesta Baptist Church has closed its doors. The little country church has gone the way of the country store and the country school and basically for the same reasons. They are rising costs, the continuing shift of population to urban areas and the mobile society. The church is gone, but not forgotten, the building remains. The loss is particularly heavy for old time members of the church like Ruby Thorne. She lives about a block from the Cass City Baptist Church where she now attends, but when the Novesta Church was open she drove over nine miles each way to worship in the church on Lamton Road, a half mile south of Decker-ville Road. I attended there as a child in the 1920's, she said, and when we moved back to Cass City from the city we just naturally went back to our church. It's sad, Mrs. Thorne continued, but many of the older people have died or moved away. Typical of the problems, perhaps, are those of members like Harriet Rayl. She changed churches several years ago because she just couldn't drive at night anymore and her new church has a pick up and delivery service. HISTORY The first meetings of the church were in a schoolhouse at the corner of Crawford and Decker-ville Roads. The first church building was erected in 1898 and it was demolished by "the worst cyclone ever to strike the Thumb area." According to a report in a church brochure, the present church was rebuilt the same year. The church at its beginning was larger than when it closed. There were 16 to 18 families in the church when the last service was held Dec. 29. The articles of association when the church formed were signed by 24 persons. The declining membership is what made it necessary to merge with the Cass City Baptist Church. It was simply a case of not enough money to pay the bills, Ronald Montel, a church officer, said. The church's trying financial condition was outlined for the members by the Rev. Ralph Imhoff, its Pastor. Please turn to page 13.

THE NOVESTA BAPTIST CHURCH building now belongs to the Cass City Baptist Church. The last service was held there Dec. 29.

4th Festival gets green light for '86

After a meeting Thursday at Cass City High School it was determined that there is leadership available to continue the annual July 4 Festival, according to Dave Lovejoy, last year's Festival co-chairman.

Lovejoy said that details were still being worked out and that the persons in charge would be announced when all arrangements are complete.

It's no heat wave, but last year was much colder

So you thought it was cold Monday and Tuesday? Not really. It was a balmy four degrees below zero Tuesday morning at the Cass City Waste Water Treatment Plant.

That's not exactly a heat wave, but it is considerably warmer than the coldest day of the year in 1985 when the mercury dipped to a really cold 19 degrees below zero.

Last year's coldest temperature was recorded Feb. 2. This year's cold snap came one week earlier. It wasn't exactly summer on Jan. 28 a year ago, but it was a more seasonable and comfortable 14 degrees.

This week's cold snap has kept service stations busy. L & S Service reports that they responded to eight or 10 calls for help with cars that wouldn't start. A couple of them had to be hauled into the garage and worked on, according to station personnel. Clare Mellendorf at Clare's Sunoco says that he can't handle calls during the days because he works alone at the station. I make a few service calls before and after the station is open, he explained.

Mellendorf says that many cars that won't start are the result of ice in the carburetor. Ice forms on the outside and the inside of the throat and people think they have water in the gas, he added, when they haven't. All they really have to do is run the car at fast idle for five or 10 minutes and the problem would clear up. Please turn to page 16.

Thefts and shoplifting reported in Cass City

Two cases of theft from cars and a shoplifting spree were reported to the Cass City Police Department during the week. Sharon Krueger, 6547 Kelly Road, Cass City, said that her purse containing $63 cash, a $138 check and credit cards was taken from her car Saturday, Jan. 25, at about 3 p.m. from the driveway of a residence on West Street, in back of Cass City Ford, Inc.

She told the police that she was gone into the home for just a few minutes and when she returned the purse was gone. Robert Ryland, 4242 Seeger, said that a CB radio, 12-volt tire inflator and DC battery tester were taken from his pickup. He believes that the theft occurred when the vehicle was parked at the IGA Foodliner or when parked behind The Station bar. He discovered the theft when he noticed the door on the passenger side was open the following day. He said that the car was locked when it was parked.

Owner Mike Weaver reported that five music boxes are missing from a display at his store, Coach Light Pharmacy. The last two to come up missing were believed to be taken Thursday and Friday. A window was broken at the Thumb Cycle Sales, 6509 Main Street, at about 1:20 a.m. Sunday. Chief Gene Wilson said that two minor youths were horseplay around and one boy was pushed into the window. No charges have been filed.

For area schools

Emphasis key to state test results

State averages for Michigan Educational Achievement tests given annually to all students in public schools increased in all categories while the results for area school districts were mixed. Uniformly, area schools that place more emphasis on the tests score higher than schools that do not. Most school districts are establishing policies that make it important for pupils to pass the tests.

To pass the test, according to the standard set by the state, the student must get 2 of 3 parts of each question correct and answer 75 percent of the questions correctly.

Kingston has not yet made passing the test a requirement for promotion or graduation and the scores are lower than the state average in math in all grades and reading in the seventh grade. If the results at other districts which made passing the tests part of the curriculum requirement are an indication, Kingston's results will improve next year.

That's because Kingston is establishing an achievement testing policy for all grades and students that fail will not be promoted, according to Dr. Jerry Laycock, superintendent. Included in the yearly testing will be the state achievement tests for grades 4, 7 and 10. Bad Axe High School has established a policy that requires the 10th grade tests to be passed before students can earn a diploma and the school's test results are over the state average in all categories.

However, the Bad Axe tests scores dropped from the previous year in reading in all grades and in math in the fourth and seventh grades. Cass City has been placing increased emphasis on the tests but this year there was no penalty for not passing the tests. Next year there will be a remedial course for students who fail the test.

Ubyly does not require the tests to be passed for graduation. The test results at Ubyly were above the state average except for 10th grade math, which was slightly below.

Testing by the state will increase. This year, an optional health test was available which was administered to Owen-Gage students. Next year a science test will be administered when the tests are given in late September or early October.

The state averages have risen every year since the tests started, although there were temporary declines in a subject in one or more grades before the upwards spiral continued again. The tests were first administered to fourth and seventh graders in 1973 and the 10th grade was added in 1979.

There has been a good deal of discussion among school administrators as to the significance of test results. Much depends, Jerry Cleland, Cass City Counselor, told the Cass City School Board at one of its regular meetings, on whether or not teachers are teaching towards the tests or not.

At the state level girls have outscored the boys each year since 1977-78. Girls score higher on math tests, supposedly an area where boys do well, especially in high school. Testing in the 10th grade showed 70.5 percent of the girls reached at least the 75 percent correct test objective while 64.5 percent of the boys passed. On college entrance exams, boys do better on average than girls. Cass City has not compiled boy-girl test result percentages.

According to the state records, an estimated 36,000 students earned perfect scores on both the math and reading tests and they will receive certificates this spring.

In Cass City, Cleland reports, there were 24 perfect scores for students in the 10th grade.

We Believe:

1. The Scriptures, both Old and New Testaments, to be the inspired Word of God, without error in the original writings, the complete revelation of His will for the salvation of men and the Divine and final authority for Christian faith and life.
2. In one God, Creator of all things, infinitely perfect and eternally existing in three persons, Father, Son, and Holy Spirit.
3. That Jesus Christ is true God and true man, having been conceived of the Holy Ghost and born of the Virgin Mary. He died on the cross a sacrifice for our sins according to the Scriptures. Further, He arose bodily from the dead, ascended into heaven, where at the right hand of the Majesty on High, He now is our High Priest and Advocate.
4. That the ministry of the Holy Spirit is to glorify the Lord Jesus Christ, and during this age to convict men, regenerate the believing sinner, indwell, guide, instruct and empower the believer for godly living and service.
5. That man was created in the image of God but fell into sin and is therefore lost and only through regeneration by the Holy Spirit can salvation and spiritual life be obtained.
6. That the shed blood of Jesus Christ and His resurrection provide the only ground for justification and salvation for all who believe, and only such as receive Jesus Christ are born of the Holy Spirit, and thus become children of God.
7. That water baptism and the Lord's Supper are ordinances to be observed by the Church during the present age. They are, however, not to be regarded as means of salvation.
8. That the true Church is composed of all such persons who through saving faith in Jesus Christ have been regenerated by the Holy Spirit and are united together in the body of Christ of which He is the head.
9. That only those who are thus members of the true Church shall be eligible for membership in the local church.
10. That Jesus Christ is the Lord and Head of the Church, and that every local church has the right under Christ to decide and govern its own affairs.
11. In the personal premillennial and imminent coming of our Lord Jesus Christ and that this "Blessed Hope" has a vital bearing on the personal life and service of the believer.
12. In the bodily resurrection of the dead; of the believer to everlasting blessedness and joy with the Lord, of the unbeliever to judgment and everlasting conscious punishment.

You can top this one, can't you? The first entry in our little true confessions reports was submitted by Chuck Auten. Chuck says that he had a never fail excuse for coming in late, day or night.

What I did, he said, was blame it on Malcolm (House).

Jim Wilson says that the garage sale that the Cass City VFW is sponsoring on Main Street has been well received. Along with offering tables at $3 each for persons wishing to sell items, the VFW is also picking up clothing to be donated to Big Brothers, Big Sisters and distributing cancer information free to interested residents.

Any money left from the table charge or the hot lunch program, that is run in conjunction with the sale, that's slated every Saturday, is socked into the organization's building fund.

Tuscola Sheriff Paul Berry spoke to the Cass City Rotary Club last week and said that he was determined to keep the drivers' license bureau at his office.

The sheriff said that his office offers the service on Saturdays and that he promised in his election campaign to offer the service to residents.

The Tuscola County Board of Commissioners has decided to close the bureau with the opening of a state office in Caro. The drivers' license bureau keeps us in touch with people and that's important, the sheriff says.

The lost child identification program sponsored by the VFW and Cass City Cadette Girl Scout Troop 221 has been completed and Kay Warner reports that 282 children were fingerprinted at Campbell Elementary School.

CASS CITY LIONS do their bit to help the ENACT program (Eliminate Narcotics Activity in County of Tuscola) with a check for $50. The check was presented Thursday by Lions President Kim Glaspie (right) to Jo Ellen O'Connor, chief assistant prosecuting attorney for Tuscola County, and Fred LaPratt of the Vassar Police Department.

Cass City Lions join drug battle

Lions Clubs in Tuscola County are taking a major role in financing a program to eliminate narcotic activity in the county of Tuscola (ENACT).

The fund has swelled to $3,500 with a $500 donation presented to the group Thursday by the Cass City

Lions Club.

Lions across the county have contributed all but $300 of the money collected. $300 was donated by the Vassar Rotary Club.

The plan is to make ENACT an ongoing program. The need has been exacerbated because of the crackdown on drug peddlers in Saginaw and Bay City who, authorities believe, have switched their operations to Tuscola County because of the crackdown.

ENACT started in Vassar. Money raised will be used to hire a full time crew of plainclothes cops to work undercover to nab dealers and suppliers, said Kim Glaspie, Cass City Lions president, who presented his club's check to ENACT authorities.

"If It Fitz..."

I lied, I'm glad

By Jim Fitzgerald

Martin Luther King Jr. was not a friend of mine, but once I lied and said he was.

It happened in Colorado Springs in 1968. I was there with a group of Detroit area businessmen making a six-day, five-state tour of air defense bases. During the '60's, the Pentagon spent $700,000 yearly on those tours, which greatly angered Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis.

Proxmire charged the military with using taxpayers' money "to brainwash Rotary-type citizens to back its huge budget and to lobby for its weapon systems."

The extracurricular delights of our trip were advertised in advance. When guests were invited, they were assured the tour wouldn't be all boring lectures and demonstrations concerning the ability of the North American Air Defense Command to push buttons and blow an enemy, miles away, into small bits of flesh and metal. There also would be cocktail parties, grand dinners and entertainment.

At the White Sands missile range in New Mexico, we were given an amazing demonstration of how a guided missile system, using radar and computers, could destroy enemy planes despite any escape maneuver they might attempt. After an incredible three-hour show, the visitors were invited to ask questions.

A banker next to me stood up and asked: "Is this the night we go to the dog races in Juarez?"

The question I asked most of our military lecturers and guides was: "Does it bother you, maybe late at night when you can't sleep, that your sole occupation is to perfect and manipulate machinery which has one ultimate purpose — to kill people?"

I always got the same answer: "We have to do it because the Russians are doing it." It also got me hard, squinty looks from officers who obviously wondered who the hell let the peacenik in.

Our last stop was at Ent Air Force Base in Colorado Springs. We had Rocky Mountain trout and a dry wine for lunch.

For dinner, we had the news that Martin Luther King Jr. had been shot to death in Memphis, Tenn.

"Good," said the colonel sitting next to me. "King was asking for it. Now if someone would kill the rest of those (racial expletive deleted) who are causing all the trouble, maybe we'll have some peace."

I told the colonel I hoped he didn't really mean it when he said he was glad King was dead. I told him King was one of my best friends. I told him about King's marvelous wife and beautiful children. I told him those kids must be heartbroken at the loss of their father.

I asked the colonel to imagine how his children would feel if their daddy were shot dead in the head. I never met King or his family. But that turkey colonel believed me, and I made him crawl. He was almost crying when he apologized for insulting my best friend.

A few years later, the colonel was promoted to general. Today he's retired, probably sitting in the sun somewhere, enjoying his pension and dreaming of someone bringing peace to South Africa by shooting Bishop Tutu.

Anyway, on that evening in Colorado Springs, I refused to forgive the colonel for speaking his warped mind. I left the table in a magnificent rage and went off to get drunk by myself.

It was a childish thing to do. Eighteen years later, I'm still glad I did it.

Zany records

According to National Wildlife Magazine, it was an argument over the speed of a golden plover, a hunted game bird, that led to the birth of the Guinness Book of World Records more than 30 years ago. Among the sportsmen engaged in the argument was Sir Hugh Beaver, then the managing director of Guinness Breweries. Since then, the book has been responsible for sparking the eating of the biggest tree by a human (an 11-foot birch), the most prolonged kiss (417 hours) and the most non-stop leap-frogging (108,463 leaps covering 602 miles).

Pvt. J. Crawley in W. Germany

Army Pvt. Jimmy L. Crawley, son of Genevieve A. Crawley of 6372 Pine St., Cass City, has arrived for duty with the 8th Infantry Division, West Germany.

Crawley, a medical specialist, was previously assigned at Fort Sam Houston, Texas. He is a 1985 graduate of Cass City High School.

The Haire Net

For the first time in many years, because of a temporary revolting development, I regressed from my role as publisher to that of editor-publisher last week.

It will be that way for a couple of weeks or so until two new writers arrive. It's the first time in perhaps 15 to 20 years that there hasn't been someone around to help carry the editorial load.

You know something? It wasn't so bad. On the other hand, it wasn't so good either.

At the risk of making it hard to survive around home, let me say it would have been downright miserable (maybe impossible) to do this without assistance from Dorothy.

Before you say anything, let me tell you positively that it's not true that this place wouldn't run at all without my wife. I don't care what they say.

There's a difference now from the days when the total news load was my every week responsibility. That's in addition to the grey in the hair and the wrinkles in the forehead.

Maybe it's because I've been away from it for a while, but the truth is that I don't write as fast as I once did. Maybe? Okay, I don't write as fast now. But balancing that is a more sane approach to the work and in the long run a more productive week.

In the early days around here, standard operating procedure was to forget all about writing anything for the next week's paper until at least the following Monday. Sometimes the entire front page for the edition that was printed on Wednesday was started at 4 p.m. Tuesday and completed early Wednesday morning.

Now, work for the following week's paper starts Tuesday noon as soon as the current edition goes to press.

Two decades ago, it was there will be a paper next week so what's the worry? Today the fretting starts before the ink on last week's paper is dry.

Did you notice that the Chronicle is waiting for two new writers? That's a 100 percent increase in the editorial staff.

Hopefully, it will enable us to expand coverage a little. The addition probably doesn't make economic sense, given the size of the paper.

But we burned the mortgage a while ago and money isn't everything.

"Subdue your appetites, and you've conquered human nature." Charles Dickens

Retirement is travel time

Art Holmberg visits Europe for 4th time

As the son of a minister, former Cass City High School Principal Arthur Holmberg moved around from state to state, until finally settling here in 1935.

Born in Illinois, the 77-year-old Holmberg spent time in Massachusetts, Wisconsin, Wyoming, Texas, and Iowa before Michigan became his home. The elder Holmberg's penchant for travel definitely rubbed off — Arthur Holmberg recently returned from his fourth excursion to Europe. Holmberg, along with his daughter Joan Pollock, spent Christmas and New Year's in West Germany and Austria visiting his grandson Blair, 21, who is studying German at the University of Munich as part of his University of Michigan undergraduate studies.

Also in the group were Greg Notman, a friend of Mrs. Pollock, and her son, Bradford, a student at the University of Michigan.

But in more than two weeks abroad, the tourists toured the Royal Opera House and visited an apartment once lived in by Mozart at Vienna, Austria; rode on the famed Orient Express, and walked beautifully scenic towns within the Austrian Alps.

After approximately 26 hours in airports and on planes, the pair returned to Michigan Tuesday, Jan. 7.

It was the second time he and his daughter had traveled to Germany to visit one of her college-going sons. In 1982, Bradford Pollock was studying at the University of Freiburg.

"It certainly helps to go around restaurants and see towns with somebody there to speak for you and do translation," Holmberg said. "And both times we've traveled there we've been fortunate to know somebody who speaks the language well."

The travelers left Metropolitan Airport in Detroit Dec. 20, flew to a connecting flight in New York City, and then continued to Munich. By car, they shuttled over to Alpinland Resort in St. Johann, Austria, located near the Pangau River.

Arthur did not tackle the Austrian Alps, but Joan and Blair did. The Cass City Citizen of the Year in 1982 was more content to scan the beautiful, snow-capped mountains that surrounded the town and resort.

"The scenery was unbelievable. It may be hard for someone around here to imagine, but it was stunning to be able to leave a store or restaurant and see a 5,000-foot mountain rising up," he said.

"If you lived in Cass City, and found a 5,000-foot, snow covered mountain just outside of town, that would be quite unusual," Holmberg continued. "But it's common there and I'm sure people there don't really think about it. For me however, it was quite a thrill."

While at St. Johann, Holmberg and company participated in Christmas caroling, which — of course — was done in German.

After a three-day stay at Munich's Pension Furst, they traveled via the famed Orient Express to Vienna, and the Pension Perschy. Holmberg said he enjoyed Austria's capital the best on the trip.

"It is so beautiful, with old, historic buildings, castles, and museums," he said. "And it has such an important musical history."

Holmberg said the high point of the Vienna-portion of the excursion was seeing "The Figaro House," the home where Mozart lived and where he composed many of his classics.

Mozart's old second-story apartment — the scene of his composing — has been turned into a well-preserved museum, and many original copies of his music are on display there.

About 200 miles southeast of Munich, Vienna is also the home of the famed Royal Opera House, perhaps the world's most renowned opera theater. Holmberg said he had hoped to attend an opera there, but the event had been booked completely for several months.

"We didn't get to see the opera, but we did the next best thing — we toured the Royal Opera House," he said.

And Holmberg said he enjoyed his experience on the Orient Express as well.

"It was the first time we'd taken it," Holmberg said, of the train which now runs from Paris to Budapest, Hungary. "But it was a pleasure, although not as exotic as it was built up to be in movies. Trains in Europe are fast, clean, and on time. It's a shame we can't have train service like that over here."

Also, Holmberg said he most enjoys staying in "second-rate" rooms rather than American conglomerates such as the Hilton or Holiday Inn chains.

"They are called 'pensions' and they are most often recommended by travel agents and people who've been there," Holmberg explained.

"Cost-wise, they are much cheaper than if you stayed in a U.S.-like hotel."

"And you're able to get a feel for the culture and people of an area. They are very comfortable," he added.

Holmberg first visited Europe in 1974 when he toured Scandinavia with his late wife Sigrid and daughter Joan. Sandwiched between the two Germany treks to see Bradford and Blair, was a 1984 trip to the French Riviera, and a Mediterranean town, Antibes.

The bulk of Holmberg's traveling has taken place since his 1969 retirement from Cass City High School, where he was principal from 1943.

"I just enjoy travel — seeing how people live and seeing historic places throughout the world," he said. "I've been fortunate to be in good enough health to do it, because there's an awful lot of walking involved."

"But as long as I'm able, I'm going to get around and see the world," he said.

Between trips, Holmberg keeps occupied with his "other" hobbies, of gardening and photography.

Accident round-up

Pair injured in crashes

A Cass City woman received minor injuries in a one-vehicle accident that occurred in Novesta Township early Sunday evening.

Tuscola County Sheriff's deputies said Alan D. Mead, 23, of Cass City was eastbound on Deckerville Road, west of the intersection with Dodge Road, when he lost control on the icy pavement, and the vehicle went off the roadway. Injured was a passenger, Barbara A. Mead, 23, of Cass City, who was taken to Hills and Dales General Hospital. She was treated for minor injuries and released. Not injured were the driver and two other passengers, Paula J. Mead, 1½, and Barbetta Mead, three months. The mishap was reported at 6:00 p.m. Sunday.

Saturday at 6:45 p.m., Daniel M. Rutkowski, 25, of Uby, was eastbound on Deckerville Road, west of the intersection with Dodge Road, when his car struck a deer that had run from the north side of the roadway into his path. The driver was not injured.

Also Saturday, Sandra L. Houghton, 33, of Deford, escaped injury in a one-vehicle accident. Sheriff's deputies said she was westbound on Bevens Road, west of the intersection with Hurds Corner Road, when she lost control of her car due to the slush on the roadway. The vehicle went into a ditch on the south side of the road, went through a fence, and then rolled over on its side before coming to a stop. The mishap was reported at 9:50 a.m. Saturday.

Wednesday at 2:35 a.m., Richard D. Darling, 31, of Kingston, was eastbound on Marlette Road, east of the intersection with Maple Grove Road, when he failed to negotiate a curve in the roadway, and his car struck a tree. Darling was taken to the Marlette Community Hospital for treatment of his injuries, and released.

Monday, Nancy Jean Howey, 34, of Gageton, was traveling on M-24, north of the intersection with Riley Road, when she struck a deer. The car-deer accident was reported at 12:45 a.m.

Camp scholarships for Huron youth

The Kelly Rae Flannery Scholarship Committee is accepting applications from youth 10 to 14 years of age to attend camp this summer. The camp scholarships are presented to youth whose family would have a financial hardship in sending their child to camp. Applications are available at the Cooperative Extension Service Office, 104 County Building, Bad Axe.

The Camp Scholarship Committee is a subcommittee of the Interfaith Council. The scholarships can be awarded to Huron County youth to attend any type of camp such as: church, 4-H, scouts, music, athletics and handicapped youth. The scholarship fund was established from a grant from the Detroit Free Press for a story reprinted in the Reader's Digest as a result of the tragic death of Kelly Rae Flannery. The grant money is in an Interfaith Council account with the stipulation that the interest earned each year can be awarded to needy youth to attend camp.

Mrs. Rawson heads bikeathon for St. Jude's

The Central Regional office of St. Jude Children's Research Hospital announced that Mrs. D. Rawson has agreed to chair the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital Bikeathon in Cass City. She was also in charge of last year's bikeathon.

St. Jude Children's Research Hospital was founded by entertainer Danny Thomas and the institution opened its doors to the public in 1962 to combat catastrophic diseases which afflict children.

The Bike-a-Thon program is dedicated to "Jaime," who is from Ohio and was diagnosed with leukemia in May of 1983, and began treatment at St. Jude Children's Research Hospital. Today, her cancer is in remission and she is doing quite well.

We sincerely appreciate the concern that Mrs. Rawson has for our work, and we hope the citizens of Cass City will support the Bike-a-Thon this spring to help provide the funds that are needed to preserve the world's greatest asset... "Our Children," authorities stated.

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

FIVE YEARS AGO

Gerald Elenbaum of Owendale has been reappointed to the Michigan Bean Commission by Gov. William G. Milliken. He was first appointed in 1978. He farms 1,900 acres of beans, sugar beets and feed grains and has a herd of 138 dairy cows.

Fire early Wednesday, of undetermined origin, destroyed the storage shed of Richard and Loraine Enos on Ritter Road, east of M-53 in Greenleaf Township. It was extinguished by Elkland Township firemen. Leonard Osentoski of Uby spotted the flames from a mile away and drove to the Enos home to alert the occupants.

Four tables of cards were played when the Euchre Club met Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Copeland. High prizes were won by Mrs. Ronnie Gracey and Gaylord LaPeer.

Navy Machinist's Mate 2nd Class Jasper Collins

III, son of Jasper Collins Jr. of Kingston, has been awarded the Good Conduct Medal. Collins is currently serving aboard the guided missile cruiser USS Mississippi homeported in Norfolk, Va.

TEN YEARS AGO

Cass City needs an additional $18,700 to complete its municipal swimming pool project, it was learned at the Village Council meeting held at the Municipal Building.

Loss was set at $22,000 when fire destroyed a repair garage owned by William Eberts and located 2 1/2 miles south of Cass City.

A long-sought Thumb-based alcoholic detoxification and treatment center will open its doors next Monday at Huron Memorial Hospital in Bad Axe. The Substance Abuse Center Alcoholism Inpatient Unit will offer comprehensive care to the alcoholic and his family and will serve as an education and preventative center. It is designed to treat patients living in Tuscola, Huron, Sanilac and Lapeer Counties.

25 YEARS AGO

A study of the population trend of the Cass City area has made it clear to the school study committees that serious consideration should be given to the building of additional school facilities, it was announced this week in the first of regularly scheduled press releases.

An estimated 170 persons turned out to honor Cass City High School graders, at the annual banquet that was highlighted by a talk and film by Bert Smith, Michigan State University line coach, and the presentation of letters by Coach Mike Yedinak.

The increase in population as revealed by the 1960 census has resulted in more than $8 million in federal funds for secondary road construction during the fiscal year starting July 1, an increase of a half million dollars over the previous year. Tuscola County will receive $62,647, Huron County will receive $60,891, while Sanilac receives $68,015.

35 YEARS AGO

Thursday, Feb. 1, will mark the first day in which Dr. P. A. Schenck will be "without a job" in nearly fifty years, for after practically half a century he will retire from active duty as a dentist in Cass City.

Otto Ross, speech instructor in the Cass City High School, and his team of five debaters are celebrating their second year in a row in securing a plaque and their entrance into the district elimination contests. They have won five out of eight debates this season. They held a similar record last year.

Clare E. Ballagh, a former graduate of Cass City High School in 1935, received the Coach-of-the-Year award in Palm Springs, Calif. The title was awarded in recognition of the success of his football team, The Palm Springs Indians, in earning their first RCL grid title last fall.

HEALTH TIPS

Mother's drinking affects unborn

During the week of Jan. 12, 1986, local and national organizations around the Nation sponsored a series of programs and activities launching the "National Fetal Alcohol Syndrome Awareness Campaign." And with good reason, too: fetal alcohol syndrome (FAS) is one of the three leading causes of mental retardation in newborn babies. If you are pregnant or are thinking about having a baby, FAS is a health problem about which you should know something.

Almost everyone is aware that alcohol abuse over a period of time can contribute to many serious disorders in adults, including muscle and heart disease, malnutrition, digestive problems, and cirrhosis of the liver. Many also know that alcohol, when used during pregnancy, can damage the frail, delicate unborn baby.

For a number of years, researchers have been studying infants born to women who drank heavily during their pregnancies. What they found in a significant number of these infants is a disturbing pattern of physical, mental, and behavioral abnormalities — FAS. Babies with FAS were smaller and weighed less than normal babies, and they did not "catch up" later, even when they were given special postnatal care.

Babies with FAS also had small heads, facial irregularities, joint and limb abnormalities, heart defects, and poor coordination. Most were also mentally retarded. Many had a number of behavioral problems such as hyperactivity, extreme nervousness, and a poor attention span.

Not every baby affected by alcohol has all the symptoms of FAS. Some children have only one or two alcohol-related birth defects. Some of these more subtle defects can adversely affect a child's performance in school even when the child has a normal level of intelligence. And, even one alcohol-related birth defect is an unnecessary tragedy. The point is that all alcohol-related birth defects — including FAS — are completely preventable if women refrain from drinking while they are pregnant.

Research is just beginning to show the amount of alcohol that may harm the developing baby. While there are, as of yet, no hard and fast rules, we do know that even moderate amounts of alcohol pose a risk to the unborn baby.

Women who consume two normal-size drinks a day, for example, increase their chances of miscarriage and of having a baby that is smaller than babies born to women who avoid alcohol altogether. Women who drink heavily during pregnancy — six or more drinks a day — clearly risk giving birth to a child with fetal alcohol syndrome.

There is much that we still do not know about alcohol-related birth defects. We are not sure at what point during pregnancy the developing baby is most likely to be harmed by alcohol. Nor do we know to what extent the effects of drinking may be made worse by such factors as smoking and poor nutrition, although both are of themselves dangerous to the normal growth of the unborn baby. Until all the facts are in, however, the best advice I can offer women who are pregnant or who want to become pregnant is to refrain completely from drinking alcoholic beverages.

Even without all the answers, there are two things that are beyond dispute. First, the more the mother drinks, the greater are the risks she takes with the health of her unborn baby. Second, there is no possibility of having a child with any alcohol-related birth defects — including FAS — if the mother does not drink at all.

To help ensure that your baby is strong and healthy, I'm sure you will agree that the safest and wisest choice is to avoid alcohol during this most important time of your life and your baby's life.

During this next year, the National Institute on Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism, U.S. Public Health Service, is sponsoring the "National Fetal Alcohol Syndrome Awareness Campaign" in conjunction with the American Medical Association; the National Council on Alcoholism; the March of Dimes; the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Special Supplemental Food Program for Women, Infants, and Children (WIC); the Agency on Developmental Disabilities, U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, and the Healthy Mothers, Healthy Babies National Coalition. For more information about alcohol-related birth defects, write the National Clearinghouse for Alcohol Information, P.O. Box 2345, Rockville, MD 20852 or call (301) 468-2682.

KURT BLISS RETURNED to action last week and he helped the Hawks against the Lakers, but it wasn't enough as the Green Machine took a stranglehold on the Thumb B Association championship with a 67-54 decision.

2-game lead

Lakers widen league lead with key win over Hawks

The Elkton-Pigeon-Bay Port Lakers showed the Cass City Red Hawks why they are undefeated in the Thumb B Association as they answered the challenge of the Hawks in a battle for the league lead with a 67-54 decision Friday.

It would take a major reversal of form for the Lakers to lose the title now as they lead Cass City, in second place, by 2 full games.

What's more the Hawks had better not have a let down Friday when the Caro Tigers come to town. Caro played a close game against the Lakers before they met Cass City and are much improved over the quintet that Cass City defeated earlier this season.

Coach Ron Nurnberger said that he didn't feel that Cass City's defense was all that bad against the Lakers, but the host team "shot the lights out." They are a senior team and we are a junior team, he added, and the experience showed. Another telling statistic was the rebounding. The Lakers outrebounded the Hawks, 30-23, and the taller Lakers were also intimidating on many shots from around the foul stripe.

Cass City was ice cold in the first period and missed many good shots and the Lakers with savage rebounding made sure that there weren't any second chances.

Then behind Mike McArdle and Chris Eby they dashed off to an 11-4 lead and were never behind. The Hawks kept challenging throughout the game but each time they mounted the charge the Lakers would come up with one of their patented outside jumpers to pull away again.

The closest the Hawks came to taking the lead came with 1:20 left in the second quarter when there was just a basket difference, 28-26, between the two clubs.

EPB answered that challenge to move ahead at the half, 33-28. Hawk fans looking for a second half rally were severely jolted when the Lakers outscored Cass City 8-2 in the opening minutes of the third period to charge in front 41-30.

The Hawks weren't finished and managed to close the gap to five points midway through the final period. But Cass City lost Dave Miller via the foul route and never was able to seriously challenge again.

The Hawks went to a full court press in the latter stages of the game, but the Lakers solved it behind the ball handling of Eby.

Cass City was forced to foul in the last quarter and the Lakers were super at the charity stripe sinking 12 of 15 to add to their winning margin.

his recent fine scoring with 25 points. Bliss netted 15. Eby led the Lakers with 24 points while McArdle scored 16 and Tom Beer had 12.

Hawks roll to victory over winless Imlay City quintet

The Cass City Red Hawks welcomed Kurt Bliss back to action Tuesday at Imlay City and the Hawks rolled to an easy victory over the inept Spartans, 88-59.

Bliss played about half the game and it was a fine time for him to swing back into action.

As expected, shooting was definitely a problem for the junior sharpshooter after his long layoff.

The Hawks didn't need Bliss at his best to win. The game was a laugher all the way for the Hawks, as they rolled to the Thumb B Association victory over winless Imlay.

The game was decided for all practical purposes in the first quarter when the Hawks jumped off to a 25-12 lead.

In the first half, Coach

Ron Nurnberger had every player on the squad into the game and the bench continued to help widen the lead. At the half the score was 53-23.

A bright spot for Hawk fans was the play of Scott Adams, who Nurnberger says is continuing to improve.

He scored a career high of 16 points and picked up

Cass City widened its lead in the third period to 35 points before the Spartans closed the gap slightly in the final eight minutes.

In all, 10 of the 11 players on the squad shared in the scoring.

Imlay City's defense enabled the Hawks to get off good shots and the team hit 32 of 60 shots from the field for a 55 percent average compared to the Spartans' 21 of 56 for 37 percent. From the free throw line, Cass City was 24 of 32 for 75 percent and Imlay, 17 of 24 for 80 percent.

JV GAME

The Hawks also won the preliminary with a win over the Imlay City JV.

Hawks open league volleyball season with win over Bad Axe

Cass City opened Thumb B Association competition Thursday with a victory over visiting Bad Axe, winning three of five games.

The Hawks started strong, winning the first two games 15-6 and 15-9 as Coach Beth Howard said that a fine team effort was responsible.

The Hawks set the ball up 60 percent of the time and served at an 83 percent clip in the two games. Top servers were Terri Summers and Kelly Deering with 10 service points each.

The Hatchets fought back in the next two games with 15-8 and 15-6 decisions. The Hawks set up the ball just 53 percent of the time and made 14 bad passes as compared to three in the first two games.

The Hawks had trouble getting the serve in and the top server was Kris O'Dell with seven service points. Cass City bounced back to take the deciding game in the match as the team was 90 percent at the service line with five aces, three by Kelly Deering.

Coach Howard says that the Hawks lack height, but did manage seven kills off spikes and 14 points with tips. Top servers were O'Dell with 19 points and two aces and Terri Summers with 20 service points and one ace. Top receiver was Brenda Severance, sophomore, who is the top receiver and plays with control. She's a real plus for the team, Howard feels.

Top spikers were Deering with 10 attempts, one kill; O'Dell, 10 attempts, three kills, and Shannon McIntosh, 10 attempts, 2 kills.

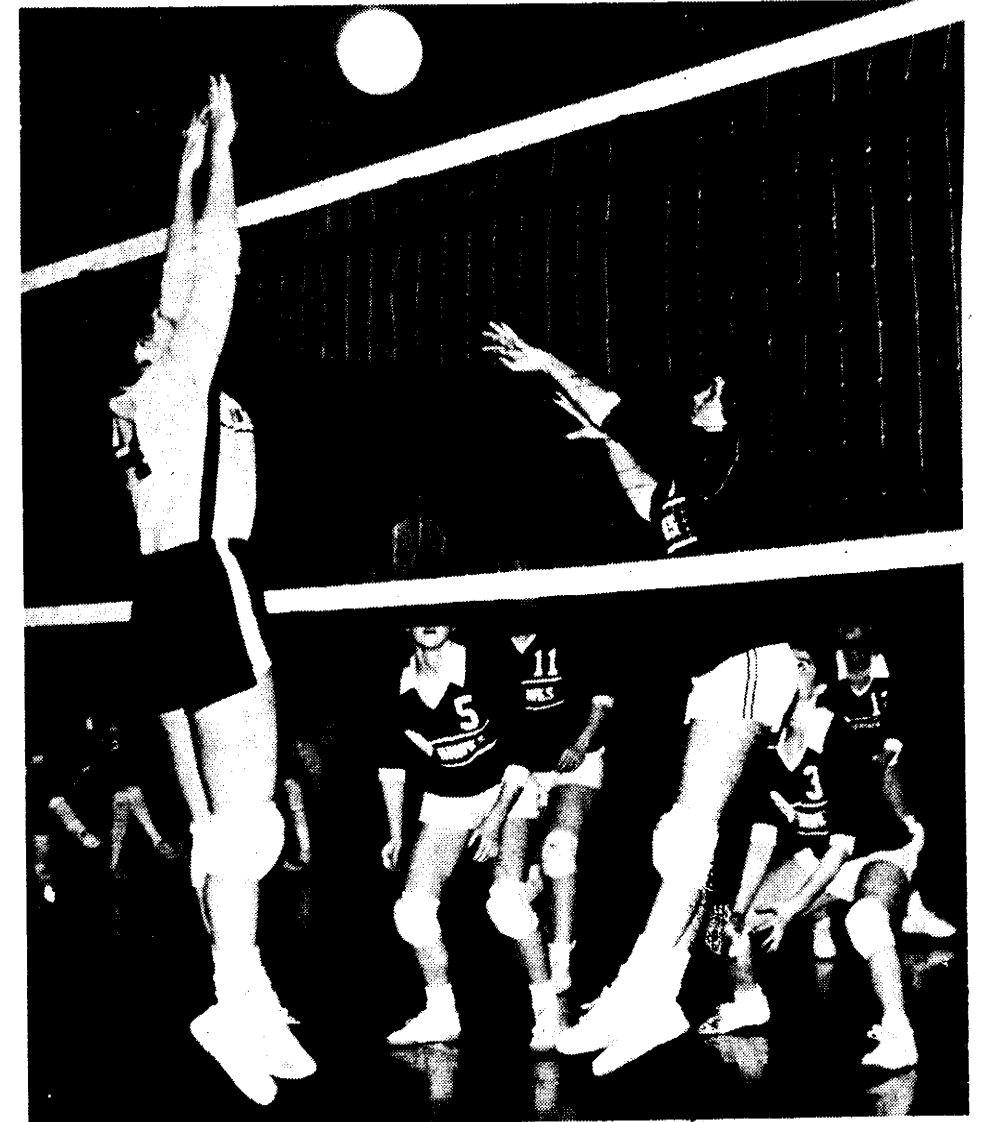

Summers was credited with 26 assists and McIntosh scored 10 points in 13 attempted tips.

The Hawks played Caseville Monday, Jan. 20, and won both matches in the non-conference tilts. The scores were 15-13 and 15-9 in the first match and 15-9, 7-15 and 15-12 in the second.

The Hawks play North Branch in Cass City Thursday.

SHANNON McINTOSH tries a spike against Bad Axe Thursday as the Hawks topped the Hatchets in the opening Thumb B Association game for Cass City.

Turkeys flourish in Deford area

Wild turkeys are flourishing in the northern portion of the lower peninsula, doing so well that the Department of Natural Resources allows limited hunting by permit. Now a campaign is on to restore the birds in southern Michigan's deciduous forests.

Judging by the results of two plantings in the Deford State Game Area, the restoration project should be successful.

Turkeys were released in the Deford area in 1983 and 1984. If the birds continue to do well, it's possible that some may be trapped for establishing populations in other areas.

Restoring the wild turkey in southern Michigan is the 1986 project of the Michigan Wildlife Habitat Foundation.

The foundation will spend $64,000 to import wild birds from Vermont and educate the public about the species.

Your help needed

The DNR is interested in determining the success of the introduction of Iowa turkeys in Deford State Game Area. Anyone who has made recent observations of the Deford flock is requested to contact the DNR Field Office at 1123 Mertz Road, Caro; phone 673-3434 from 8:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon Monday thru Friday; or call Jim Goodheart at 313-724-2015. Please include date and location of sighting, and the number of birds in the flock if known.

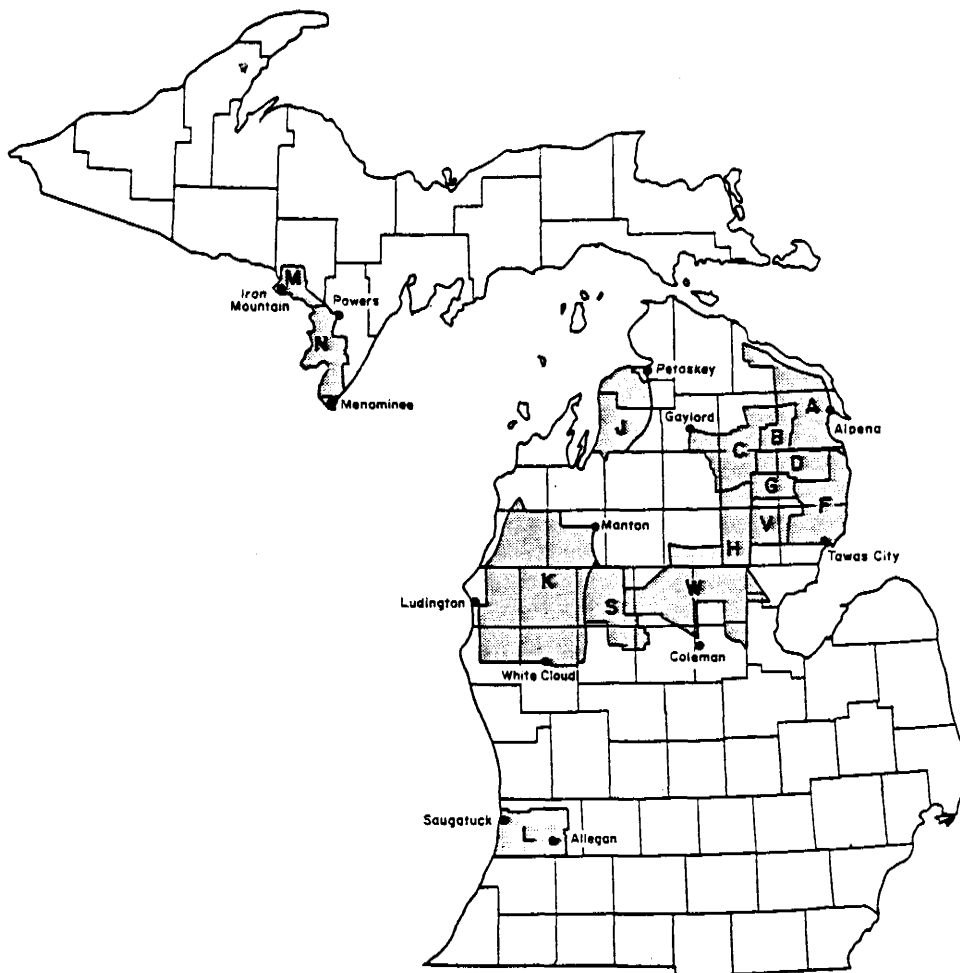

John Urbain, DNR turkey specialist, believes assistance by the foundation will considerably speed the department's efforts. "Getting these wild birds through the foundation will mean that we may have a 20-bird flock at the Maple River State Game Area and south of Homer yet this winter," Urbain said.

To ensure the project's success, approximately $20,000 of the approved money will finance a public awareness campaign. The campaign will stress to all citizens the benefits of restoring this native bird, encourage them to confine their pets, discourage release of game-farm stock, and emphasize that people should report anyone killing or harassing the wild turkeys. Finally, to protect the project, $4,000 in reward payments has been designated for identifying poachers.

Partial funding for the turkey restoration project came from a $5,000 donation from the Michigan Wild Turkey Federation.

WILD TURKEY HUNTING AREAS

IN THE SHADED AREAS wild turkeys were planted and are now abundant enough to allow hunting. A campaign is on to restore the birds in southern Michigan.

O-G spikers run victory skein to 10

O-G spikers take match at Bad Axe

The Owen-Gage Bulldog spikers continued undefeated Monday, Jan. 20, by winning a match at Bad Axe, taking 3 out of 4 games played.

Judy Porter's charges took the first game of the match, 16-14, and lost the second, 15-12. The Bulldogs then posted a 15-8 decision and won the final game in the match, 15-13. Owen-Gage now has a season's record of 6-0.

Marcie Draschil led the way for the Bulldogs with 20 points. Barb Hellebuyck scored 13 points and was credited with 17 sets. Susie Salcido was the leading spiker. She had 14 kill spikes and 15 good spikes, in addition to scoring 11 points. Cindy Enderle was responsible for 24 good sets.

In the first Thumb B Association match Thursday, the Hawks swept all games from Bad Axe, 15-4, 15-1 and 15-12. Isard was 12 for 12 serving and Ballard, outstanding at the net.

Kappen leads wrestlers

Cass City's points were earned by Mark Kappen who won the 132-pound event, and John Lebioda, a senior, was third at 155 pounds.

O-G falls twice in league play

Carsonville-Port Sanilac put together a big last quarter when Owen-Gage's top rebounders were out with four fouls to post a 61-50 decision Friday at Owen-Gage in a North Central Thumb D game.

The game was closer than the final score indicates. The Bulldogs had the lead in the last period but Coach Dean Roller had only eight players dressed and when three fouled out, the visitors ran away with the game.

Rebounding was the key, Roller said. Out tallest player didn't dress because of academic problems and Steve Root, our 6-2 rebounder, was benched in the first half with three fouls and fouled out in the last period. While in the game Root was the big man on the boards for Owen-Gage and hauled down 13 rebounds.

The Bulldogs jumped out to a 14-9 lead in the first period and C-PS rallied in the second to take a narrow 29-27 lead at the intermission.

At the end of three periods the Bulldogs were in front 39-37.

Stu Stirrett led the Bulldogs with 19 and Root added 10 points. C-PS had four players in double figures led by sophomore Chris Kemp, with 21 points.

Owen-Gage swings back into action again Friday with a league game at Caseville.

PECK GAME

The Owen-Gage Bulldogs rallied from a 10-point deficit in the final quarter to move within a point of Peck, but the crucial baskets just would not fall and the Bulldogs bowed in the North Central League game, 59-53.

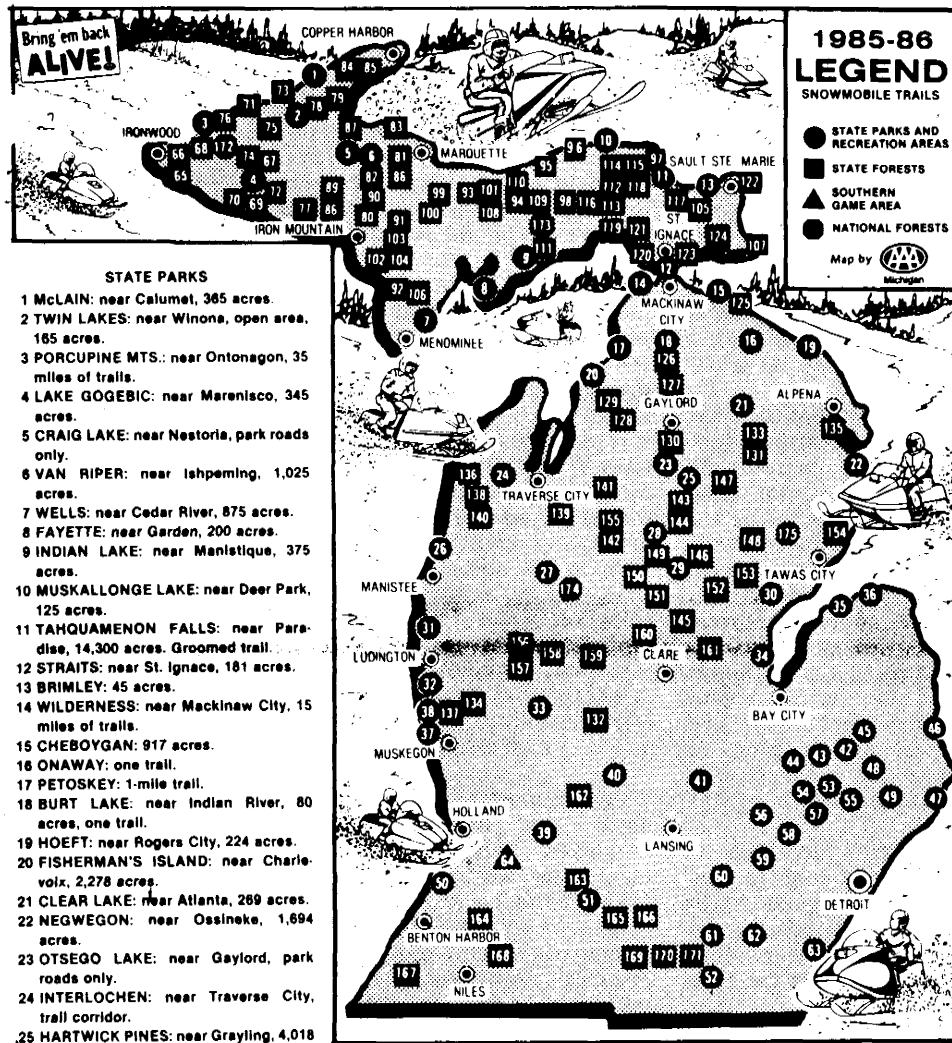

We had our chances, Coach Dean Roller said, but poor shooting stopped us again. The Bulldogs outboarded the winners with 20 more rebounds, Roller said, but we just couldn't cash in when we needed to.

Owen-Gage moved into an early lead and was ahead 19-14 at the end of the first period. The second 8 minutes of the game proved to be decisive. Peck outscored Owen-Gage 20-9 and the Bulldogs were never able to recover.

Stu Stirrett again led the Bulldogs with 24 points. He was helped by Ron Susalla with 14 points.

Peck was led by Doug Kussrow with 17 points and Ron Ureel with 15 points. Peck also took the JV game, 49-45.

Ziehm report from Ecuador

Volcano ash effect visible 500 miles away

Editor's note: This story was submitted by Ron Ziehm, a 1978 graduate of Cass City High School. He is presently enrolled in a two-year Peace Corps program in Ecuador, working in a remote area with local farmers. Ziehm is the son of Richard and Evelyn Ziehm, Gagetown.

Amazon Basin. Coca, with about 6000 people is still being settled. It has lush tropical surroundings with lots of tropical fruit, banana and coconut palms, papaya and pineapples.

I spent a week learning about native grasses that could be used in the lower areas of my zone. While I was there I helped a friend transport two tropical hair sheep down river in a big motorized forty-foot dugout canoe, owned by the Ecuadorian Ministry of Agriculture.

After three hours we landed at a mission on Pompeya Island where a Basque priest is trying to introduce new animals for the natives to raise. These sheep have more meat than regular wool sheep and can survive in hot humid climates.

One of the projects in my area will be to cross these sheep with wool sheep. Producing them here in Ecuador, they will be cheaper than importing them from Brazil or Colombia. And the farmers here can afford to buy them.

Just now there are only 40 pure hair sheep in all Ecuador. Here in Baeza we hope to have our first lambs around Christmas time. So far the project is doing well. The river got progressively wider as we went and was about a half mile across at the widest part that we traveled. They told me it gets up to 10 miles across near the Amazon River.

Most of the Napo is very shallow. We traveled with an experienced person to navigate the areas deep enough for our motor. The many varieties of butterflies and flowers were a beautiful sight. We stopped to see some monkeys and parrots, but they were tame and owned by the natives. They were the only ones we saw on this trip.

Until oil was discovered, there was no real civilization in my area, but 14 years ago they completed a dirt road across the north part of the Oriente from Quito to Lago Agrio. This served the oil fields as well as helping to colonize the area. Up until this road was built, my site of Baeza was a town filled with pack mules and horses for transportation.

People would travel two days by horse from here to a town where they could get buses to the capital, Quito. So Baeza has many relatively new residents. Just 10 years ago the only road heading south was built.

Baeza has about 500 people and is located on a ridge, either side is a long way down. Most businesses have living quarters for the owners up over the main floor. There is a high school here and a 30 bed hospital. One doctor is the director but every year two other doctors spend a year here before going on to areas where they wish to work. There is only one phone in town and you must make an appointment to use it. Newsweek comes about a month late but gives me news of the outside world.

My apartment has shelves now along with other simple furniture that I made. A woodworker taught me to make benches, tables and bed. Woodcutters here can take a chain saw and cut perfectly straight measuring only with their eyes. Once a month I have to pour diesel fuel over the wood floor of my $20 a month apartment to discourage the many insects. Some are real pests and burrow under your skin causing a rash.

My Spanish is getting much better and the only other English speaking person is still two hours away. The Andes Mountains tend to diminish radio reception but I do listen to Voice of America and the Armed Forces Radio usually at night when reception is better.

Meals for me are simple, I cook beef and rice mainly. A truck stops in our town every Monday and we can buy fresh vegetables. Quite a bit of food has to be transported over the Andes Mountains. If I happen to be at a farm at meal time, I eat with the family. During October I spent 15 days vaccinating 5000 head of cattle with four other people. We were vaccinating against hoof and mouth disease.

The holidays are especially nice for the Peace Corps volunteers here. Last July 4th, 120 volunteers had a good day in Quito with cookouts and ball games. Also dancing with Ecuadorian folk music as well as rock and roll.

Later an open house was held at the U.S. Ambassador's residence. All U.S. citizens were invited as well as some Ecuadorians. About 2000 people enjoyed this occasion. The Ecuadorian people always dress up in very bright colorful clothing.

The end of our rainy season was really welcomed.

Makes it much nicer working outdoors. In my area I have seen earthworms that were two feet long and close to two inches in diameter. I'd like to use them for fishing but there aren't any fish here big enough. When I go out to the farms to help with various problems, I sometimes have to walk or go by horseback, at times without a saddle.

Going up the mountain trails is fine but coming down the steep slopes, I almost slide over the horse's head. I try to get rides in vehicles when I can manage it. In my area there are few buses and great distances must be traveled between farms.

It was several days before I got word that the volcano Nevado del Ruiz in Colombia had erupted. I had been enjoying the unusually gorgeous sunsets but heard they were the result of the sun's rays coming through the ash that remained in the air after the eruption. I'm located about 500 miles south of this mountain. We do have some volcanoes here in Ecuador. About 40 miles away from me is snow covered Cotopaxi, the highest active volcano in the world. It is over 19000 feet high, a beautiful sight to see.

Recently I took a trip into the Oriente, as the Ecuadorian jungle is called, to see a forest project with people working for the government. We left my site at Baeza, crossing two rivers via a ferry and arriving in the oil town of Coca about six hours later. This is the last major town connected by road to other parts of the country and is located along the Napo River in the

Tag fish in Saginaw Bay

"Fisherman's luck" is going to take on new meaning this fall, when prizes from $100 to $500 are awarded to fishermen who have returned tags found on Saginaw Bay perch and catfish, according to Professor James Diana, a fisheries biologist at the University of Michigan.

Diana, his assistants, and Michigan Department of Natural Resources (MDNR) personnel have put yellow metal tags on about 6500 perch and catfish in Saginaw Bay. Information provided with the return of these tags will help Diana and his colleagues study the fishes' life-cycle processes.

The September 30, 1986, drawing will be divided into three categories:

-Perch - $500 grand prize. Both recreational and commercial fishermen are eligible.

-Catfish - $200 prize. Just recreational fishermen are eligible.

-Catfish - $100 prize. Just commercial fishermen are eligible.

To qualify for the $500 perch grand prize, fishermen must return the yellow tag found on any perch they capture, along with the date of capture, the location and water depth, the fish's sex and length, and, if possible, a sample of its scales. The tag and information should be sent to Professor James Diana, School of Natural Resources, the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, MI 48109-1115.

To qualify for the catfish drawings, fishermen must return the tags along with the date and location of capture to the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, 33135 South River Road, Mt. Clemens, MI 48045.

These addresses are also stamped on the tags.

Fishermen returning tags will immediately receive a one-dollar reward. Anyone who has already returned tags automatically qualifies for the September 1986 drawing.

Four thousand perch and 2500 catfish have been tagged. The perch were tagged and released at the Tawas, Port Austin, Bay Port, Pinconning, and Au Gres areas. The catfish were tagged and released at Bay Port.

Eliminate state for nuclear waste

Michigan has been eliminated as a site for a national nuclear waste facility because of a potential threat to the Great Lakes, but Governor James J. Blanchard said the lakes remain threatened by a site in Wisconsin.

Michigan was one of 10 states eliminated from consideration by the U.S. Department of Energy (DOE) in its Draft Area Recommendation Report, part of the process in choosing a second site for a waste facility.

"I am glad that the DOE ultimately acknowledged my repeated communications with them that locating this facility in the UP would unnecessarily jeopardize the Great Lakes," Blanchard said.

But he added, "A threat of this magnitude to the lakes, whether it originates in Wisconsin or Minnesota, is totally objectionable, and I oppose any program or activity that could result in the contamination of the lakes."

The DOE identified 12 primary and eight secondary sites in seven states which have the granite formations and meet other criteria to handle the next waste facility.

Wisconsin has one primary and one secondary site while Minnesota has three primary and five secondary sites.

The Menominee, Wisconsin area, one of the primary sites, is in the Great Lakes drainage system, said J.D. Snyder, an environmental assistant for the Governor.

Blanchard said his High-Level Radioactive Waste Task Force would continue to monitor DOE activities and make recommendations for possible state action to oppose selection of the Wisconsin site.

The Governor last year advised the Secretary of Energy that the Regional Characterization Report failed to acknowledge the Great Lakes as the region's most predominant characteristic.

Following a 90-day comment period on the draft report, the DOE expects to issue a final area recommendations report this summer.

It plans to nominate five sites in 1991, from which a selection would be made for the second waste facility. It previously identified nine sites in six states for the first facility, with a final selection of one of those expected in 1991.

3.9 MILLION WITH JOBS IN 1985, SECOND BEST YEAR EVER

Preliminary estimates show the number of employed persons averaged over 3.9 million in 1985, the second highest level ever for the state, the Michigan Employment Security Commission reported.

MESC Director Richard Simmons Jr. said the 3,934,000 average employment figure was 65,000 below the record level set in 1979.

Simmons said the improvement in the state's labor force was 63,000 higher than the year before, with men taking 45,000 of those jobs and women the other 18,000.

Most of the new jobs

(about 80 percent) were in service areas, while manufacturing businesses accounted for 13 percent of the new jobs. Within the service sector, service industries produced 34 percent of the new jobs and retail trade another 25 percent.

Simmons said the number of women in the work force declined by 3,000 in 1985, to 1,909,000, while the male workforce increased 12,000 to 2,459,000.

Black unemployment increased by .9 percentage points to 27.8 percent, while white unemployment averaged 7.6 percent, down from 9.1 percent, the MESC said. The increase in black unemployment rates occurred even though the number of blacks in the labor force declined by 9,000 to 482,000.

The EPA will soon conduct a nationwide survey of homes for radon - a dangerous gas emitted from uranium deposits in the earth that seep up into homes. National Wildlife magazine reports that up to a million homes may have "significant" levels of radon gas, which is known to cause cancer among uranium miners. Extremely high concentrations have already been found in southeastern Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York.

Sheriff's investigates thefts in houses, vandalism

A pair of breaking and enterings in the Kingston area remain under investigation by officers with the Tuscola County Sheriff's Department.

Saturday, police were notified of a break-in at the Leslie Rossman residence, at 6201 Rossman Road in Kingston Township. Sheriff's deputies said entry was gained into the house trailer by thieves prying open a back door. Items taken included two television sets, a microwave oven, a radio, a vacuum cleaner, a pair of binoculars, and some bottles of champagne. Police said the thieves also went through several drawers and cabinets inside the mobile home. Further investigation noted that a garage on the property was also broken into. Taken from the structure were electric drills, a skill saw, and a socket set. The door to a camping trailer was also pried open, and the doors on some cabinets were opened. Entry to the garage was gained by forcing open a side door. Sheriff's deputies believe the incident took place between Jan. 22 and 24. Property valued at $2,500 was reported as missing Wednesday following a breaking and entering to a residence at 1350 S. Phillips Rd., Kingston. The incident was reported to the Tuscola County Sheriff's Department by Allen J. Brodzik of Detroit. Items taken from the house included several rifles and shotguns, two kerosene heaters, a chainsaw, and a woman's coat. Police said thieves entered the house after breaking an upstairs window. Three other chainsaws and a generator were also taken from a barn on the Phillips Road property. In addition, some damage was done to the door of a trailer. Investigating officers noted the thieves knew exactly what they were looking for, and said they suspect the incident could be related to a divorce in the family. Police said they believe the breaking and entering occurred between Dec. 27 and Jan. 22. It remains under investigation.

inside the storage shed were ransacked. However, there was no major damage done, and police found nothing of value missing from the building. The incident was investigated by Detective Ron Phillips.

Wednesday of last week, police were told of a case of the malicious destruction of property over $100 that occurred in Kingston Township. The report was filed by Joel A. Carl of Deford, who told police he had parked his car, a 1980 Chevrolet Citation, along Red Oak Drive Dec. 27. Upon returning the next day, he told police he found the windshield of the car broken, and one of the tires cut. The incident was reported to police for insurance purposes only.

The larceny of property was reported to the Sheriff's Department Tuesday. The incident was filed by Susan Welch of Clifford, and occurred at the Kingston High School. Mrs. Welch told police that her son, Joseph, is in the music program at the school, and plays the flute. Sometime between Jan. 9 and 13, she said her son's flute was stolen. It was in a black case located in the Music Room of the Kingston High School. Police were told that the flute cost $345 when it was purchased a few years ago.

Novesta Church closes

final pastor. We talked about it and the congregational vote was unanimous to merge with Cass City, Rev. Imhoff said.

There were reasons in addition to the financial one for merging with Cass City, the pastor continued. Most of the church membership already show in Cass City and several live in or near the community.

With the merger, all of the assets of the church were turned over to the Cass City church. That includes the church building, a parsonage and about five acres.

Closing the church leaves Rev. Imhoff without a charge. We hoped when we came here to complete our active ministry at the church, he sighed, but now we are waiting for God to provide us with a new church to do His work.

There was one bright note in the gloom of the church's closing. All through the rough financial days the membership found a way to complete its obligation to the missionary it supports. He's David Moody, Deford, who left last year to work in Kpoline, Togo, West Africa, where he is establishing a printing firm for the people there and has taken over a congregation, Rev. Imhoff proudly explained.

It's very pleasing to me and the other members of the church that the Cass City church has agreed to take over our obligation to Dave, Rev. Imhoff said.

Although not all of the members have joined the Cass City church, most have and we are pleased with our reception there. It has made a difficult situation better, he said, and will work out for all of us, God willing.

REV. RALPH IMHOFF

Your neighbor says

"Refrigerator" is her favorite

If everything went as planned Friday, Cheri Martin spent Sunday afternoon glued to the television.

Sure, I'm going to watch the Super Bowl, she says. Dad (Ken Martin) loves his football and I watch when it's important or my team is playing.

Martin's team is the Bears, who she predicted would win. No question about it, she says.

Her favorite player? "The Refrigerator," Cheri laughed. "I just love to see him score."

When it comes to the Lions, Martin is not as excited. She used to be a fan of Billy Simms, but now she's a little doubtful. Looks to me like it (the notoriety) went to his head, she explained.

Martin is the Cass City junior varsity volleyball coach and is hopeful of locating a job from among several promising leads.

She is a graduate of Cass City High School and Saginaw Valley State College.

Walbro and Champion in joint venture

Officials of Champion Spark Plug Company, Toledo, and Walbro Corporation, Cass City, announced a joint venture to produce and sell automotive fuel system components in Europe. Terms of the agreement were not disclosed.

"Walbro's fuel systems technology is highly regarded throughout the industry, and Champion is delighted to launch this new venture with them," Robert J. Brotje Jr., Champion's president and chief operating officer, said.

Champion, the leading spark plug manufacturer in the world, supplies spark plugs to numerous foreign and domestic manufacturers of automobiles, trucks, motorcycles and small-engine equipment. It is also a major worldwide manufacturer of windshield wiper products.

L.E. Althaver, Walbro's

president and chief executive officer, said that joining forces in this endeavor with Champion is a very positive step. "Our new, jointly-owned company will benefit immeasurably by Champion's international sales and marketing strengths, especially its close working relationship with European vehicle makers."

World's sweetest

In 1965, the same year a chemist created the artificial sweetener NutraSweet, another scientist discovered a natural substance which is the world's sweetest known compound. The seeds of the plant he found in the rain forests of West Africa are - molecule for molecule - 100,000 times sweeter than sugar and, on a weight basis, 3,500 times sweeter.

New books at the library

JEALOUSY by Nancy Friday (non-fiction). The green-eyed monster is subjected to a thorough and intimate examination in this lively confessional analysis. Friday's goal is not to eradicate jealousy but to understand it, and her book is essentially a process of discovery in which the reader may participate. In the series of chapters titled "Memoirs of a Jealous Woman," Friday uses her own life for a graphic case study of how jealousy affects sexual relationships. The book contains interviews and personal revelations, perceptive discussions of Freud's Oedipal triangle and Melanie Klein's notion of the primal infant/mother triangle.

LEONIE by Elizabeth Adler (fiction). Leonie, who is only 16 in 1890, has left the provinces to seek her fortune in Paris. She is without fortune, family and friends but she has something to make her madly successful: she has tawn. Her eyes are tawny and so is her hair and her cat, Bebe, and so is her first lover, Rupert, who promises to marry her after he sees his parents in Germany. But alas, he never returns because the lovers' letters have been intercepted by Gilles de Courmont, who wants Léonie for himself. Nothing if not practical, Léonie casts her lot with Gilles whom she continues to address as "Monsieur," as if he were a rock star instead of a Duc. Monsieur gives her Cartier jewels, Worth dresses, dinners at Voisins and a very hard time, for although he does nobly under the covers, he also has the heart of an undercover man. Monsieur is forever spying on Léonie - dispatching her other lovers with bribes and blows - even murdering one who has just given her another bébé. Finally provoked, Léonie leaves the Duc, becomes a famous chanteuse and finds true love with James Homer Alexander Jamieson III, but Monsieur continues to haunt her life.

THE CRYSTAL CAT by Velda Johnston (mystery). As a child, Linda knew of her mother's death by alleged drowning in a pool near their Wessex, Conn. home. Growing up in Manhattan, adopted by relatives, harboring doubts and nurturing an avoidance of her hometown, Linda is drawn there when she marries Guy, a resident of the small yachting community. The newlyweds are not happy in Wessex; there is a sense of menace in their immaculate home and Guy may be having an affair. Linda's efforts to unravel the mysterious circumstances of her mother's death require a painful revisiting of the past and the revelation of a would-be coven in town.

Chemical declares stock dividends

Monday, Jan. 20, the board of directors of Chemical Financial Corporation declared a dividend of one share of common stock for each 10 shares held of record as of the close of business Jan. 27. The 10 percent stock dividend is payable Feb. 17.

No fractional shares will be issued. Fractional share amounts will be purchased or sold for the shareholder by the authorized agents.

At the time of the declaration of the 10 percent stock dividend, directors indicated their intent to continue the current quarterly dividend of $.31 per share on the increased number of shares outstanding. This will mark, in 1986, the 11th consecutive annual increase in cash dividends paid to Chemical shareholders.

Robert B. Bennett, Chairman of Chemical Financial Corporation, reported net income for the year 1985 of $6,699,000 or $4.69 per share. This represents an increase of 3.4 percent over per share net earnings of $4.536 for 1984 and a 7.8 percent increase over total net income for 1984 of $6,216,000. Per share earnings have been adjusted for the 10 percent stock dividend declared Jan. 20.

For the fourth quarter of 1985, net income was $1,985,000 or $1.38 per share, up 4.8 percent from the restated per share earnings for the fourth quarter of 1984.

Chemical Financial Corporation, has 51 banking offices in 16 lower Michigan counties, including Cass City.

Cold weather sets no record

Cold weather can be a state of mind. Monday in Chicago the wind chill factor was 30 below zero.

Television showed thousands lining the streets of the Windy City to greet returning Bear football players, conquering heroes of the super bowl.

The players arrived by bus and several of them climbed to the roof of the bus to wave at the crowds as they slowly wended their way to the rally area.

Three of the four were wearing sweaters instead of coats and the fourth, a sweat shirt.

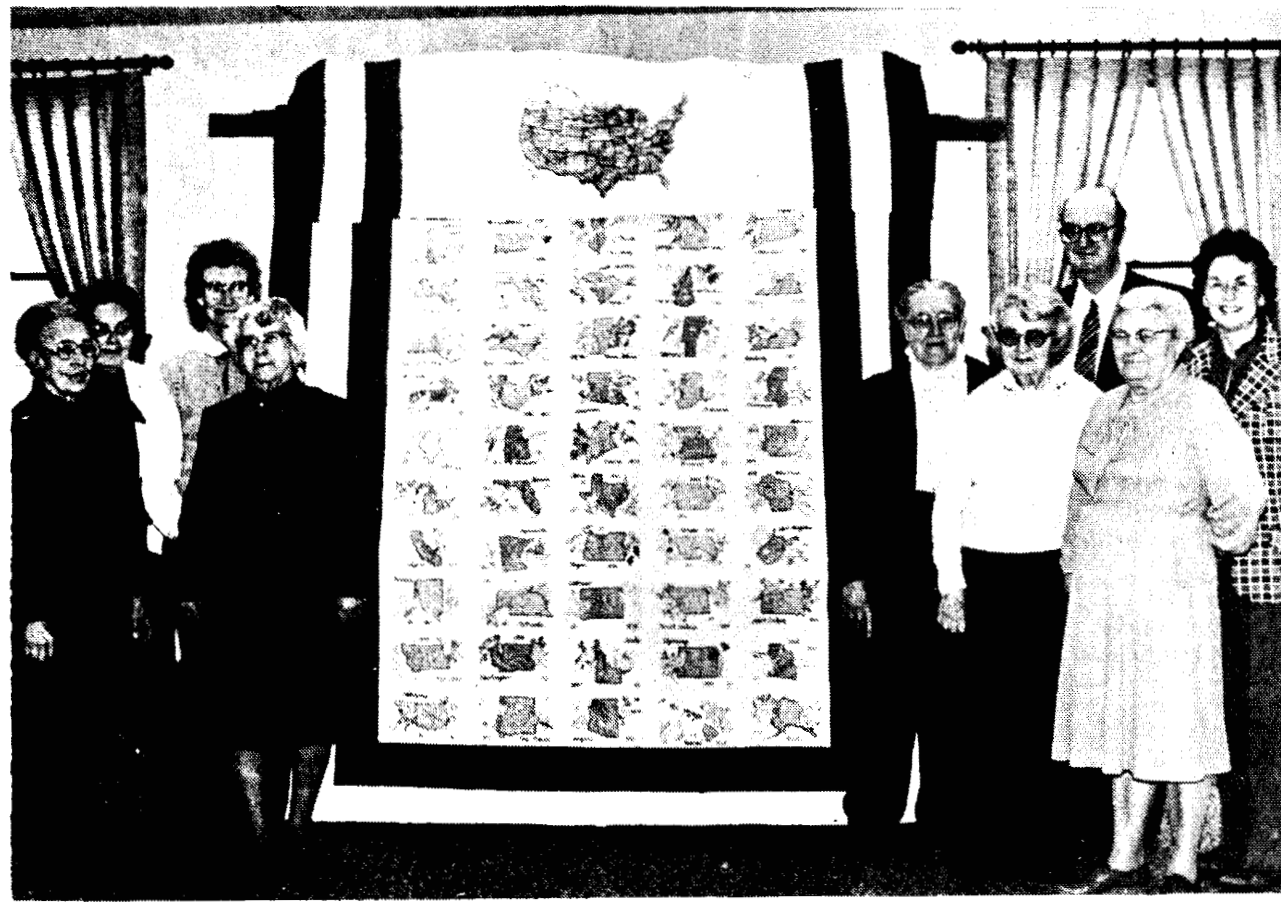

The four appeared to be having a grand time and not at all bothered by the weather.

Taking stock

By Bill Myers

Recently we ran a list of 20 companies that earned more, and paid out more dividends every year for 10 years. There were only 64 more of some 4,000 stocks that Financial Weekly surveyed for us, that had the same qualities.

We picked 20 of them more or less at random, spotting ones with familiar names.

So far, so good. Such companies should hold their own in the ups and downs of markets. Right?

Wrong. Here are the same 20 with their 5-year highs and lows. And what a range. Wal-mart's high was 16 times that of its low. Eli Lilly's was only twice.

The average was around five times. A typical one varied between 2 and 10 on a scale. That's a roller-coaster ride, the way I see it. It was not at all a straight upward climb. Even if you were canny enough, or blessed with second sight, to have bought at the low, the average one would be 10 percent under the high that it reached.

It's no sure road to riches, but I do think such stocks are a lot safer than ones without such fine records in the last decade.

The final measure to take before you plunge would be the ratio of price to earnings. Say a stock sells at 10 x earnings. So its ratio is 10—a typical proportion. It's earning 10 percent of its price. If you get all the earnings, you'd have a return of 10 percent on your investment.

That's not all that great. Government bonds yield you 10.5 percent. And then, you don't get all the earnings—maybe only half. So your yield is then 5 percent. If your family income is around $30,000, you keep only 3 percent of your dividends, after tax. Compare that with the 10 percent tax-free from municipal bonds.

Obviously, there has to be some reason, for so many people to invest in stocks. It has to be that stocks usually go up in price as they earn more, and pay more dividends.

This is fairly likely to happen if the market doesn't go sour, and if you didn't pay too high a price to begin with, when you bought.

After doing the first sorting for you, and coming up with a list of stocks that earn more and pay more each year — at least have for 10 years, we present figures of the price/earnings ratio as of mid-September. Personally, I don't like a ratio over 10, but I'm just a simple country boy. Here they are: (High-lows and current price to nearest $).

Birthday present

Kingston ladies send special quilt of United States to President Reagan

Every year the ladies of Kingston United Methodist Church produce a quilt for the annual church harvest auction. The one created this year was something special and brought $400 from Barbara Lance of Ithaca. The ladies figure that it might be something special for President Reagan.

It featured an outline of every state in the union, complete with the state bird, state flower and numbered to show when it was admitted to the union in comparison to other states. Mildred Parrott cut out the patterns and the 50 cut-outs were then taken to the homes of members who embroidered them.

Red and blue thread was used alternately for the map and yellow thread marks each state capital.

On the back of the quilt, the ladies embroidered "made by the Women of the Kingston Methodist Church."

Lance decided to give the quilt to President Reagan as a birthday (Feb. 6) present.

She contacted a friend who works in the President's Task Force in Washington who said that she would see that the president received the gift.

The ladies are hoping to get a letter thanking them for the gift so that it could be hung in the church.

The unusual quilt and the decision to give it to the president attracted the attention of WNEM Bay City which showed it on its nightly newscast Wednesday.

It was expected to be shipped to Washington last week.

Pair arraigned on sex charges

Two men, including one from Gageton, appeared in Tuscola County Circuit Court last Monday, Jan. 20, in separate criminal sexual conduct cases.

Richard Wayne Emmons, 41, of Gageton, was arraigned on charges of first degree criminal sexual conduct, and third degree criminal sexual conduct. He entered a plea of guilty to the third-degree criminal sexual conduct charge. The first-degree charge was dismissed. The court accepted the plea from Emmons conditioned on his examination at the State Forensic Center to determine his competency to stand trial. Bond in the case was continued at $15,000. Sentencing was scheduled by Judge Patrick Joslyn for March 10. The charge against Emmons stems from an incident that occurred in November of last year in Elkland Township involving a 13-year-old boy. It was investigated by State Police from the Caro post.

Also appearing in Circuit Court in Caro last Monday was Jerry Norman Morse, 41, of Millington. He entered a plea of no contest (no contest) to a charge of attempted second degree criminal sexual conduct. That plea was accepted by the court upon reading a State Police report of the case. A charge of second degree criminal sexual conduct against Morse was dismissed. Sentencing in the case was scheduled for March 10. Bond was continued at $7,500. State Police at the Caro post said the charge stems from an incident involving a 14-year-old girl that occurred in June of 1984 in Arbela Township.

Elliott fire loss set at $60,000

Fire gutted the home of Gene and Sally Elliott at 6862 Severance Road Friday morning resulting in a loss estimated at over $60,000.

Fire Chief Jerome Root Jr. said that the fire started in the chimney while Mrs. Elliott was in the house.

A few pieces of furniture were saved, but other than that the home and contents were a total loss, Root reports.
