Schumacher, 51, pleads innocent of funds theft

A former president of the Thumb National Bank and Trust of Pigeon was indicted late last week on charges that he embezzled nearly $78,000 from the bank over a 4-year period.

James Schumacher, 51, of Pigeon was indicted late last month by a federal grand jury, according to officials at the U.S. Attorney's office in Bay City. Papers filed with the court accuse Schumacher of embezzling and converting $77,760.87 for his own use between March of 1981 and April of last year. Schumacher pleaded innocent to the charge with bond in the case set at $100,000. Because the Thumb National Bank and Trust is a member of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, the charge was filed in U.S. district court.

Schumacher is the ninth person from the Thumb and Saginaw areas to be charged with a violation of federal banking laws within the past 2 weeks. He and the other 8 people were arraigned on the various charges in Bay City before U.S. District Court Magistrate Charles Binder. The alleged violations were investigated by officers from the Saginaw office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. If convicted on the charge, Schumacher could face a maximum penalty of 5 years in prison and/or a fine of $5,000.

Thumb National Bank and Trust officials said Schumacher had been employed at the bank in Pigeon for nearly 30 years and resigned as president in December of last year. In a statement prepared by bank attorneys, they said the money involved in the indictment was improperly taken from the bank under the guise of bank expenses and did not involve any customer accounts. An independent certified public accountant hired by the bank said there was no reason to believe that the bank's assets had been overstated or its liabilities understated as a result of the alleged incident.

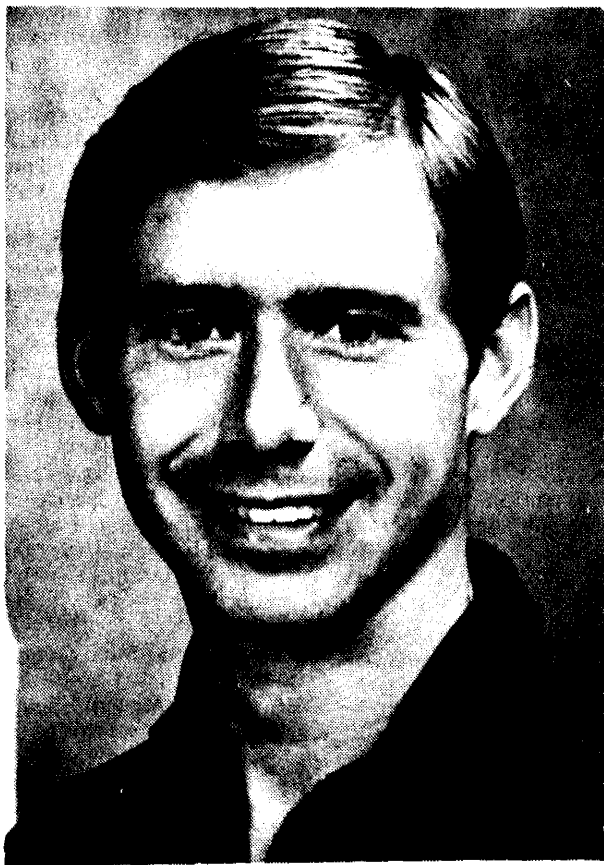

Also appearing before U.S. District Judge James Churchill last week was Ronald O. Davis, 37, of Caro. The former assistant vice-president of the Peoples State Bank in Caro pleaded guilty to a charge of the misapplication of bank funds. Bond in the case was set at $10,000. Davis was accused of misapplying and converting to his own use $123,706 between October of 1982 and March of last year.

A third former banker from the area, Leonard R. Haist, 55, of Ubly, pleaded guilty to a charge that he misapplied $21,000 in bank funds. Haist is a former vice-president at NewCentury Bank. His bond was set at $50,000.

During a hearing, Haist told Judge Churchill that he used the money as an attempt to cover-up mistakes he had made, but did not keep any of the money for himself. Haist said he made 3 or 4 loans while he was employed as a loan clerk, and paid the interest on the loans, in order to keep his job. A number of the borrowers then declared bankruptcy, and Haist said he used more fraudulent loans to pay the interest.

Court officials said sentencing in the case is scheduled for April 22. Attorneys have agreed to place a 2 year cap on any prison sentence that Haist may receive as part of a plea-bargain arrangement.

Owen-Gage okays meeting with Cass City board

Two additional steps were approved Monday night by the Owen-Gage Board of Education in dealing with property transfers with the Cass City School District.

As one of the first items on the agenda during its regular monthly meeting, Owen-Gage School Board President Ronald Good read a letter from the Cass City School Board asking for a joint meeting of the 2 groups. The letter stated that the offer from the Cass City board to exchange property of equal State Equalized Valuation (SEV), is a firm offer, and not a negotiating position. The letter also stated that the joint meeting would be viewed as an opportunity to answer any questions about the offer.

Owen-Gage Superintendent Ronald Erickson described the offer from Cass City by saying, "For the property in the Belk parcel that Owen-Gage would give up, we would receive an equal amount of property in the Goslin parcel. We would be trading our land for our land."

Following discussion, the Owen-Gage School Board approved a motion to meet with the Cass City School Board March 24. A site for the session will be agreed upon by the 2 superintendents.

Later in the meeting, the Owen-Gage board passed a resolution to request the transfer of property that would include the remainder of the Goslin parcel from the Cass City school district to Owen-Gage. The board earlier had filed a petition with the Huron Intermediate school district board asking that the non-resident property in the Goslin parcel be transferred. The move was recommended by Superintendent Erickson who said, "I thought that we made a reasonable offer last month, but this may change their minds on the subject." A hearing on the petition will be held by the joint Huron and Tuscola Intermediate school boards.

Board members were also given a report on the Belk parcel hearing by the state board of education, and the negotiated compromise on the Elenbaum, Parker, Schaper and Voelker property transfers. The board was told that hearings officer Raymond Godmer went along with the negotiated settlement between Owen-Gage and the Elkton-Pigeon-Bay Port school districts, but recommended against the Belk property being returned to Owen-Gage. Godmer reportedly took the action because the Belk property is a part of a total parcel that includes another property transfer.

On a similar note, the board passed a resolution asking the Huron Intermediate school district to approve the property transfer, as stated in the compromise agreement between Owen-Gage and the Laker schools. That arrangement will allow for about 1,200 acres to return to the Owen-Gage district, with there being no transfers of property for the next 10 years.

OTHER BUSINESS

A couple of items dealing with the annual school election came before the Owen-Gage school board Monday night. A resolution was adopted setting the last day of registration for May 12, with the election itself scheduled for June 9. It was announced that the terms of board members Jack Brinkman and Donna Salcido are expiring this year. Nominating petitions for board candidates can be picked up in the superintendent's office, and must be filed by 4:00 p.m. April 7.

Superintendent Erickson also announced that 9.75

Appointed to commission

Shaw to help probe Challenger crash

by Jim McLoskey

Cass City native and veteran astronaut, Lt. Col. Brewster Shaw Jr., has been appointed to the staff of the commission which is charged with investigating the January crash of the space shuttle Challenger.

The announcement naming the 40-year-old Shaw to the staff was made public over the weekend, and the native of Cass City has been on the road ever since. Shaw was appointed to the staff of the commission to funnel the concerns of astronauts directly to investigators, and to bypass administrators with the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

His father, Bruce Shaw Sr., said, "Brewster left for Washington Monday morning. He spent last week at Cape Canaveral in Florida." The Shaws received the information in a telephone call from their son.

The elder Shaw said the appointment to the staff of the Presidential commission caught his son by surprise. "Prior to getting the official word, Brewster said he didn't know anything about it. He told me he considers the appointment just another job, and it will take him away from his home and family," Shaw said his son is expected to remain on the staff of the commission until June 1.

In a memo released Saturday, John Young, America's most experienced astronaut, said pressure to maintain a brutal flight schedule seriously compromised the safety element of NASA programs. Brewster Shaw Jr. flew as Young's co-pilot on a shuttle flight in November of 1983.

In the memo addressed to Rear Adm. Richard Truly, the associate administrator for space flight with NASA, Young said, "If the management system is not big enough to stop the space shuttle program whenever necessary to make safety corrections, it will not survive, and neither will our 3 space shuttles, or their flight crews."

In responding to the memo from Young, Truly said he concurs with the thought that flight safety must be NASA's first consideration. Speaking with reporters later, Brewster Shaw said he felt Truly's response was a positive step in the right direction.

As commission members meet in Washington this week, divers are expected to continue their efforts to recover wreckage of the Challenger's crew cabin, and the remains of some of the astronauts who were on board. The wreckage was discovered about 16 miles off the coast of Florida in 100 feet of water.

Snow removal costs decline

Spring is just around the corner and soon snow removal equipment will be put away until next year. Winter has been easier on everyone this year, with the snowfall considerably less than last year's. The tri-county area reports that last year was definitely the worst in a long time. Snowfall in Huron County was 77 inches, November through February, 1984-85, compared to 45.7 inches during the same time this year. In Cass City, 85 inches of snow was recorded last winter compared to 54 inches to date this winter.

As imagined, snowplows were a common sight on the road last year, and the figures prove it.

John Martin, secretary-manager of the Huron County Road Commission said snow removal costs from Dec. 21, 1985 to Jan. 31, 1986 was $230,000 compared to $525,000 during the same time last year. "Last winter was expensive," he said. "The extra man hours and extra fuel can dry you right up."

Jack Kineman, engineer-manager of the Sanilac County Road Commission said that last year he estimates they went at least $200,000 over budget compared to $100,000 this winter. Jim Miklovic, Tuscola County Road Commission clerk, also reported spending less on snow removal this winter.

In Cass City, Main Street was a popular spot for snow removal equipment. In January through December 1985, 1,669 loads of snow were hauled off Main Street January to date, 1986, 735 loads were taken away. It's doubtful 934 loads will be collected between now and the first of spring. As far as costs for the removal, last year $53,430 was over double the $25,995 spent this year to take the snow away.

With the coming spring weight restrictions go into effect for all county primary roads and local roads. The Huron County Road Commission said the restrictions mean maximum loads on single and tandem axle trucks will be reduced. The restrictions are imposed when temperatures warm and the ground under the pavement starts to thaw and becomes soft. The restrictions help minimize damage to the roads while those conditions are in effect. The restrictions went into effect Friday morning at 7 a.m. in Huron County, Tuesday at 8 a.m. in Sanilac and 7 a.m. Monday in Tuscola County.

Waste water treatment vet Willy ending career

by Cymbre Sommerville

At the west end of town, hidden from view, sits the Wastewater Treatment Plant. The plant is unobtrusive and quiet, and to the casual onlooker it seems almost deserted, but inside each building there is nonstop activity. Pumps run, disks turn, water flows, and up in the lab, various tests are run throughout the day.

It is here, upstairs in the latest and largest addition to the plant that Nelson "Moose" Willy works. He is the lab man this week and he is in charge of running such tests as biochemical oxygen demand, and the phosphorus and ammonia nitrogen content in the water. He works 5 days a week, 8 hours a day and every third weekend. This will soon come to an end when he retires May 22, after 32 years. Willy has been at the plant since April 3, 1954.

His job entails a number of duties such as operator one week and maintenance man the next, and probably the most fascinating is the lab work. The plant is heavily regulated and calls for 9 different tests to be run daily and documented.

When Willy started, the plant was secondary, basically meaning that biological life ate the volatile material and there were tanks to catch the solid materials. The plant's capacity was about 400,000 gallons a day. As Cass City grew, a third phase was added in 1979, moving the water capacity up to 1 million gallons a day. The $6.2 million addition enabled the water to be cleaned even further.

Each addition, according to Willy, is built with the future in mind. "This one is expected to last to the year 2000," he remarked.

Has he had trouble adjusting to the new technology? "You gradually fall into it," he said. The job is one that is primarily learned through experience, not classroom work.

Superintendent of the plant Rick Mohr has worked with Willy for the past 5 years and says that when Willy leaves, a lot of knowledge will be walking out the door, and it can't be replaced. "He will be quite a loss," said Mohr.

Willy, a big, soft-spoken man, plans a quiet, relaxing retirement. "I'm not much of a traveler," he said. "I've lived in the same house since 1929." Willy plans to spend his time hunting, fishing and gardening.

He is somewhat well-known in town for his gladiola garden. "I plant 1,200 bulbs every spring and give the flowers away to the hospital and restaurants." Willy also has a complete vegetable garden including raspberries and strawberries. He will not sell anything out of his garden, but is more than happy to give it away. "It's a good way to make friends," he said. "I had one man come up to me on the street and say, 'you're the man with the flowers.'"

Neighbors claim he's out working in the dirt before the snow's off the ground. Replied Willy, "I have flowers blooming from spring to fall."

"It's what I enjoy."

5 area villages elect officers

Cass City had a 9% voter turnout for Monday's elections. Village president is Republican Larry L. Davis, lone candidate for the position. He received 65 votes. Also unopposed and elected as clerk and treasurer, was Republican Joyce LaRoche with 67 and 68 votes respectively, and assessor is Republican David Erla with 66 votes. The 3 trustees are Republicans Elwyn Helwig with 64 votes, Dorothy Stahlbaum with 64 votes and K. Michael Weaver received 63 votes. A total of 68 voted.

GAGETOWN
Almost half of the registered voters in Gageton turned out to place their ballots Monday night. Republican David Abbe, beat newcomer, Claude Harry King, a Democrat, 42 to 38 for the presidency. Incumbent Elery Sontag was the lone candidate for both clerk and treasurer and he retains both positions with 74 votes for clerk and 71 for treasurer. Two of the village trustees elected are newcomers, Democrats Doris Bang with 68 votes and Beverly Leyva with 57 votes, and re-elected was Republican Charles Wright with 41 votes. A total of 85 turned out for the elections.

OWENDALE
Election results were no surprise in Owendale as all 7, Republicans, were running without opposition. There was a 25% voter turnout, and elected as village president was Walter Howard Jr. with 20 votes. Lois Blondell is treasurer with 19 votes, while the position of clerk belongs to Marie Susalla with 22 votes. Assessor for Owendale is Katherine Ricker with 19 votes. Trustees are: Martin Blondell, 19 votes; Robert Ricker, 19 votes; and Joseph Schmidt Jr. re-

No damage in fire

No damage was reported from a chimney fire south of Cass City handled by the Elkland Township fire department Saturday morning.

Fire Chief Jerome Root, Jr. said the call came in at 9:50 a.m. from the William Shaw residence, at 7385 Severance Road.

"The firefighters ran a chain down the chimney to clean it out, but there was no damage to the structure," said Root.

Members of the Elkland Township Fire Department spent about 90 minutes on the scene. There were no injuries reported.

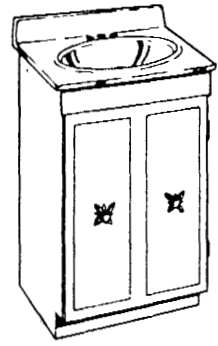

CLEANING DISTILLATION FLASKS for tomorrow's procedure is just one of Nelson Willy's daily lab tasks.

March 19 and 20, Sanilac and Tuscola Counties Cooperative Extension will host two special sewing related programs called "Hints For the So-so Sewer" and "Updating Your Pattern Fitting Skills."

The hints for the So-so Sewer Program focuses on sewing techniques and shortcuts. The participant learns how to lay out and cut patterns without pinning, mark patterns easily and accurately, and create darts and hems that do not show. "I made it!" Also included are setting in sleeves without pinning or basting, sewing without pulling threads, and sewing zippers and v-neckline inserts. This program will be held from 1-3 p.m. and repeated from 7-9 p.m. at the County Conference Room in Sandusky.

In the Pattern Fitting Skills Workshop, the participant learns how to buy the right size pattern for dress and slacks, take the required measurements, check the pattern with her measurements adding the needed ease for each area. She then learns how to pivot and slide the pattern using waxed paper and a tracing wheel to make necessary alterations for length and width. The participant then practices these pivot and slide techniques on mini patterns. There is no slashing or spreading of the pattern, no cutting larger seam allowances, no guesswork. Patterns fit first time, every time, and without smiles, frowns, or

The Onizuka 4-H Fund for Excellence has been established as a national 4-H tribute to Lieutenant Colonel Ellison S. Onizuka, a member of the ill-fated space shuttle Challenger crew. Announcement of the fund came today from Michael J. Tate, Director of Michigan 4-H Youth Programs. He presented one to the Hawaii state 4-H program, one to the Texas state 4-H program, and was scheduled to present one to the national 4-H leadership in February. In previous years outstanding students at Cass City High School were recognized as members of the National Honor Society and salutatorian or valedictorian. Many good students were ignored.

This year the Cass City Educational Association is doing something about those students. All of the seniors with a 3.0 (B) or better average will be recognized at a special assembly Tuesday, March 18, at 7 p.m. in the speech room of the high school. The public is invited. In the class of 1986, 40 of the 128 qualified. Each will be presented a certificate and refreshments will be served after the meeting.

A coach in the Thumb B Association will be inducted into the Michigan Coaches Association Hall of Fame April 12 at Grisler Arena.

Honored will be Don Smeznik of North Branch High School. In 25 years of coaching football his record is 151-72-6. He was 9-0 in the Thumb B last season.

Tickets are $5 and are available from Tom Fagan, Hall of Fame Chairman, 3540 Galpin, Ann Arbor, MI 48105.

You don't hear much about mayor's exchange day anymore. Pairings for this year were recently announced. In previous years Thumb mayors or presidents traded with other cities, sometimes many, many times larger than the one they served.

That's changed now. This year four area communities are listed for the exchange. Owendale will exchange with Gageton and Pigeon will swap with Sebewaing.

The mayor's exchange is Monday, May 19.

Sad, but true. The Thumb B Association has long been regarded as the "Big Ten" of Thumb athletic conferences. This year it was the weakest group around. Not one of the 8 teams in the league got out of the district tournaments. That's the first time that I can recall that happening since the league was formed over a quarter of a century ago.

Gagetown sets budget

The Village of Gageton will be operating with a budget over the next year that is very similar to last year's budget, as a result of action taken during a council meeting Monday, March 3.

Members of the Gageton village council gave their stamp of approval to the 1986-87 budget which includes general fund revenues of $84,540 and expenditures of $82,550, leaving an expected gen-

The Haire Net

Because my job requires the constant use of the dictionary, I have learned to be a better speller than the average guy who doesn't deal with words every working day of his life.

My spelling is nothing to write home about. In fact there's no doubt that it's worse than that of the average ink-stained reporter on most papers.

Still it's a thousand times better than it was when I started 35 years or so ago.

No amount of training will turn persons like me into brilliant spellers. It's like trying to make a basketball pro out of a guy with 2 left feet. All you can do is make him better than he would have been without the practice.

Really good spellers are born, not made. My wife, Melva Guinther and Joann Asher often spell words correctly that they have never seen before and sometimes aren't in their vocabulary. For all of us not born with the gift, that smacks of wizardry.

It's sure that if my reporting career had started with the use of the computer, my spelling wouldn't have improved one iota. Spelling improves by looking up words in the dictionary and then writing them. A certain amount sinks in every time you do it. With the computers that's not necessary. Press a button and every misspelled word is pointed out and the correct spelling presented in a box on the screen. Press another button and the incorrectly spelled word is automatically changed.

It seems to me that the advance of computers poses a special problem for our schools. For what's true in spelling is also true in math. With the computers doing the thinking, it promises to make teaching the basics more challenging than ever before.

It's sure that every generation will depend more and more on computers. Even for old timers like me who were brought up on typewriters and the multiplication tables, switching to computers is not as hard as I figured it might be. Now in the second week, already I am becoming hooked.

I'm not sure if that's good or bad. I am sure that we'll never go back to doing it like we did before.

That's progress?

eral fund balance or reserve of $1,990 at the end of the year.

As adopted by the council, the budget calls for expenditures of $19,500 on major streets and of $5,000 for local streets in Gageton. The council chose to allocate $19,900 in federal revenue sharing funds for operation of the police department.

Village officials said the new budget was approved on a unanimous vote of the council and most of the figures were based on those from last year. A public hearing was held on the money plan, but no input from the public was presented.

The council approved an amendment to the 1985 budget as recommended by Village Accountant Danny Haag. The monthly bills were also paid by the council.

That is the unfortunate situation the great party aims to improve. It raises money to be spent toward the day that no child will die of leukemia at the age of eight, the way P.J. Dragan did.

You may recall that I wrote several columns about P.J. and the mysterious magic dragon who continually sent him gifts and messages during the three years he was ill. The identity of the magic dragon has never been revealed, but the example prompted many people to begin caring about the childhood diseases that devastate thousands of families every year.

"If It Fitz..."

P.J. to be remembered

By Jim Fitzgerald

"You haven't written one word about your new granddaughter since she was born almost two months ago," a reader said. "I've been so worried that there might be something wrong with her."

No, Tricia is just fine, thanks. But a lot of other children aren't. This is my annual column about them, and my annual invitation to you to attend a great party in memory of P.J. Dragan.

Also, this is probably a good time to mention that my wife is just fine, too. Recently I quoted a phone caller who told me his wife was dying of cancer. A few readers missed the question marks and thought I was referring to my wife. I was touched by the concern they expressed — and exceedingly grateful that it resulted from a misunderstanding.

The man who is losing his wife is bitter about the trillions of tax dollars spent on weapons that will kill people, while a much smaller amount is spent on medical research that could prevent people from dying too young from cancer and other diseases.

P.J. died in 1983. Two years before that, his parents, Sharon and Paul Dragan helped found Leukemia-Research-Life! So far, this amazing little organization has raised more than $300,000 for Children's Hospital to spend fighting the cancers that kill children.

"All we want is a future for children with cancer," Paul Dragan, a Detroit police officer, told me shortly after his son's funeral. "We never thought it would happen in our home, and we wonder whose home it will strike next."

LRL's biggest money-raiser is the annual "Evening of Hope" dinner dance and open bar. Last year, attendance topped 1,000, twice as many as the previous year. This year's crowd could be even larger, because the music will be provided by the 15-piece Johnny Trudell orchestra, one of Detroit's best-known and finest.

For ticket ($25 each) information, phone 676-3625, or 527-7253 after 5 p.m. If you can't attend, donations made out to Leukemia, Research, Life! may be sent to Paul Dragan, 20250 Goulburn, Detroit 48205.

By the time you read this, I will know what it's like to travel a great distance with a seven-week-old baby. Tricia and her family, including 4-year-old Emily, are vacationing with my wife and me in the Bahamas. In this writing, it is still being discussed whether Emily's bicycle, wrapped in Tricia's diapers, will fit in the plane's overhead luggage rack.

But my intention is to somehow survive and be back in Detroit in time for the big party. I've said it before: At LRL parties, a few people usually tell me they are there because of something I wrote about P.J. Dragan. I would rather hear that than anything.

So say hello. My wife will show you 26 snapshots of Tricia — who is healthy, and I am grateful.

Budget reviewed in Novesta Township

At the Novesta Township meeting March 3, the budget was reviewed and found ready to be presented to the electors at the annual meeting March 22. The total budget of $125,000 was up $29,000 from last year. According to Nursie Kloc, township clerk, the reason for the increase was to pay for additional roadwork budgeted at $58,000. Also during the meeting a petition was presented by Keith Little to have the Talmage drain cleaned which starts in Ellington Township and runs across Novesta Township, sections 7, 8 and 9. It was inspected by Drain Commissioner Stanley Henry and he found it in need of cleaning. A contract to have the work done was signed.

At last month's meeting it was suggested that 3 bridges are in need of work and a contract was signed for a preliminary hearing and surveying. William O'Dell, township supervisor, said that there is no proposed budget for the work until the preliminary work has been done. The bridges are a proposed low arch bridge on Kelly Road west of Lampton Road, a replacement bridge over MacArthur Road north of Shabbona Road and a replacement bridge on Elmwood Road east of Cemetery Road over the Cass River.

Bad Axe couple awarded Literacy Certificate (TARC)

The Celebrate Literacy award was given by the Thumb Area Reading Council to a Bad Axe couple, March 3, at the annual Bosses' night banquet.

Lillian and Earl Bettinger received the award, a framed certificate, for their involvement in the promotion of reading. Mrs. Bettinger, a former writer for the Free Press, and her husband, an actor, researched the great fire that went across the Thumb. Mrs. Bettinger wrote a radio play about the fire and Mr. Bettinger acts out the various parts. The pair perform at schools and for civic groups. The award was presented by the reading council president, Donna Emerson, in affiliation with The International Reading Association.

The Reading Council promotes literacy as a "universal concern" and the awards are given to anyone who promotes literature. One recipient is chosen from the tri-county area and this is the fourth year an award has been given.

Edible flowers?

Americans have long been eating plant roots (carrots) and seeds (peas), so why not add flowers like roses and violets to the average diet? Many kinds of flowers are served around the world in salads, soups and as garnishes for their high content of vitamins and minerals, reports International Wildlife magazine.

IT'S POLEBALL TIME -- For high school and college basketball players this is "March Madness" time when dreams of a state or national championship are still alive. These trainees at Consumers Power Company's electric operations training center are demonstrating their own unique version of the game, nicknamed "poleball." Physical coordination is essential for electric linemen in order to work safely with high-voltage power lines. As a training technique, "poleball" helps the linemen learn balance and confidence in their mobility -- despite being almost 30 feet off the ground. Consumers Power serves almost six million of Michigan's nine million residents with either electric or natural gas service.

Tuscola County Economic Development Corporation still seeks new director

The search is continuing for a new director of the Tuscola County Economic Development Corporation, 1184 Cleaver Road, Suite 800, Caro, 48723. Board members said the naming of the new director could be at least one month away. An advertisement requesting applications for the new director was placed in the Michigan Industrial Development Association newsletter. The EDC board was told that plans will be announced soon for a dinner meeting with Michigan Department of Commerce Director Doug Ross. The meeting will be held at a location in Caro in late April. It is expected that Ross will use the session to explain a revolving loan fund-program. He will probably also use the occasion to solicit funds to add to the money that is already in the revolving loan fund for Tuscola County, which was started by the corporation.

A quorum was not present for Wednesday's meeting of the Tuscola County EDC board, so no formal action was taken on business coming before the group.

Colony House new site for TEC annual meeting

Nearly $70,000 in patronage capital will be returned to members during the 49th annual meeting of the Thumb Electric Cooperative scheduled for 10:00 a.m. Thursday, March 20, at the Colony House, Cass City.

"This will be the first time in 48 years that the TEC annual meeting will be held outside the Village of Uby," said Cooperative General Manager Michael Krause. "We are very excited about our new site, and hope that the central location will attract members from Tuscola and Sanilac County who may never have attended an annual meeting."

The close to $70,000 in patronage capital will be returned to TEC members who purchased electricity in 1959 and 1984. Checks will be available at the annual meeting for those people in attendance. In addition, the election of 3 directors, and reports on the operation of the cooperative over the past year will be featured.

Krause said "the Unbelievable Bob Springfield" will be this year's featured entertainment. He said Springfield has entertained nationwide with his combination of music and comed for both young and old.

A hot lunch will be served at 12:00 noon with Bob Springfield to follow at 1:00 p.m. Prizes will be awarded throughout the day to members in attendance.

The meeting March 20 is open to members of the Thumb Electric Cooperative and their immediate family. The TEC serves more than 9,500 members in Tuscola, Sanilac and Huron Counties.

So to speak . . .

by Jim McLoskey

Life at 6550 Main Street over the past month has resembled a combination of college classes called Job Transition 101 and Welcome To The Real World for the 2 new kids on the block here at the Chronicle.

The "kids" I am referring to are myself and new reporter, Cymbre (did I spell that right?) Somerville. Both of us have made our share of mistakes over the first weeks on our new jobs, but it seems they are now being spaced farther and farther apart.

In my case of being a creature of radio journalism, I thought the job of newspaper editor would just require a change from what is called "writing for the ear" to "writing for the eye," and trading in my microphone for a video display terminal. This would involve using the past tense of verbs more than the present tense, and no longer using phonetics in spelling the last names of people.

Then along came using a 35 millimeter camera for the first time, and learning the difference between points and counts when matching a headline with a story! On the plus side, it only took me 2 and a half weeks to discover where the bathroom is located! (So much for priorities!)

As far as Cymbre is concerned, she is the one who has had to adjust from what life was like behind the sheltered walls of Central Michigan University. It seems that the realism of a newspaper job is one thing that cannot be taught at school. For the record, though, I think Cymbre is a fine writer...even if she didn't attend Michigan State, and does insist on driving a foreign car!

One of the items that has not changed with my new job is something I feel all reporters should be—whether they are in newspapers, radio or television. That is being a good listener. In some ways, the Chronicle serves as a voice, a sounding board, a feedback source and as a history book for the people who read the paper. Without reporters who have the ability to be good listeners, some of these thoughts, ideas and opinions may be lost. (Key point for those of you taking notes!)

During my short stay here at the Chronicle, I have been very impressed with the amount of input from you, the readers, that goes into the stories that are printed. I think this is a good sign, and I hope it continues for a long time to come!

As I step down from my soapbox for this week, I would like to take this opportunity to thank the many readers who have taken the time to welcome me to this job and to wish me good luck. Cass City and the surrounding communities have a great number of fine people who are doing things both large and small, and I hope I can do my part towards letting you know where credit is due.

Turnout light for village elections

KINGSTON
The 6 incumbents in Kingston were elected as follows: Republican Arlo Ruggles is president, receiving 40 votes. Clerk belongs to Kenneth Boileau with 39 votes. The treasurer and assessor for the village is Beverly Heron with 35 votes. The 3 trustees are Republican Paul Lalko, 33 votes, and Democrats Marlene Powell with 23 votes and William Kupiec with 31 votes. There was a 23 percent turnout with 42 voting.

UBLY
There was a 10 percent turnout of registered voters in Uby. Unopposed Republican Earl Longuski was elected president with 37 votes. The position of clerk went to Chris Tyll also a Republican with 45 votes. Also unopposed and elected as treasurer is Republican Florence Schrader with 41 votes and assessor is Democrat Cass Abraham with 39 votes. Trustees are incumbents Agnes R. Olshove, a Democrat, with 34 votes and Republicans, William Bailey with 36 votes and Kenneth Sweeney with 42 votes.

A 6-year term on the library board will be served by Madeline Baurer, 40 votes and Lila Misico with 38 votes. A total of 46 people cast their ballots.

Little change in Kingston budget

The Kingston Village Council adopted a 1986-87 budget which is nearly identical to last year's money plan for the village, during its monthly meeting held Monday, March 3.

Village Clerk Kenneth P. Boileau said the new budget approved by the council calls for expenditures of $183,868. He said the total is slightly lower than last year's budget of $184,110, with the major expenditures being the operation of the Kingston police department and for insurance for the village. "The cost of our insurance has increased by 25%, and is one item that is getting harder and harder to find," Boileau said. The council also decided to set aside $5,500 in federal revenue sharing funds for the development of a parking lot off State Street, west of the corner with Ross Street. A public hearing on the new budget was held earlier.

The council was told that the process of choosing a new police officer for Kingston is continuing. Boileau said applications which have been submitted for the position were sent to the Tuscola County sheriff's department for screening of the candidates.

A number of items dealing with the fire department came before the council Monday night. Council members were told that the Kingston Fire Department's Ladies' Auxiliary had purchased a television set and video cassette recorder and donated the package to the department. The set and VCR will be used by the firefighters to view training tapes and other educational programs.

The council approved the appointment of Richard Lance as the newest member of the Kingston fire department. Council members were also told that Doug Randlette Jr., Mark Sefton and Chuck Kotsch III have completed the first phase of a firefighters training course.

In other action, Councilman Paul Lalko was appointed street administrator for the next year and permission was given to members of the Knights of Columbus to solicit funds in Kingston March 21-23. The activity is part of the group's annual fund-raising drive for the mentally impaired.

There were no injuries Friday, when a car driven by Kristina M. Iseler, 29, of Mayville hit a car driven by Connie McNaughton, 37, of 4875 Seeger. According to the Cass City Police Department, Iseler was westbound on Church St. and reportedly did not see the McNaughton vehicle which was southbound on Seeger.

A car driven by Robert E. Lefler, 48, of 8254 Van Dyke, was westbound on M-81, a quarter mile west of Crawford Rd., Saturday, when he was unable to avoid a deer crossing from the north side of the road.

Lynwood G. Lapeer, of 7681 Elmwood, was traveling west on M-81 near Schwegler Rd., Thursday, when a deer ran into the path of his car.

William Learman of 6642 Huron St., reported a hubcap, valued at $40, was taken from his car while he attended a basketball game at the Cass City High School, Tuesday, March 4.

Your neighbor says

Success in the 80's according to Wiles

Over the past couple of years, people who deal with career planning have been talking about robotics, computers, marketing and public administration as the best ways to find the elusive pathway to success.

Hazen "Red" Wiles, of Green Road, has been studying what it takes to become a success in the 1980s. "The industrial age is bowing out to the technological age and I am anxious to see what is waiting around the corner. But I think there is too much emphasis being placed on the amount of money a person makes and on career positioning," Wiles said.

"In the past, it was quite acceptable for people to rest on their laurels when 2 or 3 decades of successful service had been rendered to a farm, shop, office or other business," Wiles says. "Our current, space-age careers, coupled with government interaction at all levels, have resulted in the most complicated American society that historians will ever record."

"It seems like the mass media and authorities in career development are encouraging young students to go into anything that is technological. What ever happened to pumping gas, or selling furniture? I don't think there is enough emphasis placed on finding success in other ways," said Wiles.

The Green Road resident also feels that making a living has almost universally given way to success which is measured in monetary wealth. "It doesn't make any difference what field they are in. People are being measured by how much money they make. I have seen several people who are content in their job and love doing what they do. But they have had to go into something else because family or friends have demanded it, and say they have more potential," he said.

Wiles was asked if there will be a place for everyone to find success. He answered by saying, "You bet there is a way to be a success. It just depends on the definition. Someone wiser than myself put it this way: 'to laugh often and much; to win the respect of intelligent people and the affection of children; to earn the appreciation of honest critics, and endure the betrayal of false friends; to appreciate beauty honestly; to leave this world a bit better, whether by loving your family and friends, a garden spot or a redeemed social condition; or to know that just one life has breathed easier or smiled because you lived; this is to have succeeded!'"

HEALTH TIPS

Strong muscles prevent low back pain

"Live a healthy life," Hippocrates advised, "and you are not likely to fall ill, except through epidemic or accident. If you do fall ill, a proper regimen will give you the best chance of recovery." In ancient medical texts, "a proper regimen" had a place alongside such treatments as sulfur baths and oil of dolphin livers.

Probably no modern physician prescribes sulfur baths and dolphin liver oil, but a proper regimen, including exercise, is taking an honored place among the treatments to combat that age-old and excruciating condition, low back pain.

In addition to exercise, other treatments include heat, spinal manipulation, traction, medication, surgery and even injections of a meat tenderizer.

A Worldwide Affliction Low back pain syndrome -- a name encompassing a variety of causes -- afflicts a major portion of the world's population: by one estimate, 80 percent of humankind. Usually, it disappears as spontaneously as it appears, and about 90 percent of its victims recover in three months or less.

However, about 4 percent of those affected suffer for six months or more. In other words, the condition becomes chronic. Unfortunately, only half the chronic victims are ever able to return to work.

In the United States, low back pain is the second leading cause of lost work time, after colds. It is near the top of the list of reasons for going to a doctor, and a recurrent problem for some 25 million Americans. One estimate places its annual cost at $23 billion.

Because its possible causes are so numerous, there is no such thing as a "standard" low back pain disorder. Moreover, it can be chronic yet have no discernible cause. And leg pain, which is sometimes called sciatica, may accompany low back pain, or even be the prevailing symptom.

The Major Causes: Muscle Weakness, Stiffness and Tension Studies indicate that the underlying causes of most low back pain are stiff, tense and weakened muscles that go into painful spasm. They may exert pressure on nerves. Fully 83 percent of such pain was attributed to poor muscle condition, in a study conducted at Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Center in New York City.

Hans Kraus, M.D., author of the book "The Cause, Prevention and Treatment of Backache, Stress and Tension," treated President John F. Kennedy's low back pain. Dr. Kraus believes that weak muscles are often overlooked as a cause. A pioneer physiatrist -- a physician specializing in physical medicine -- he sees the strength and flexibility of key posture muscles as essential to maintaining a healthy back.

"There are four different sources of muscle pain," says Dr. Kraus. "One is spasm. The patient cannot move and goes to bed. A second is muscle tension: The muscles get tight, and beyond a certain point, they hurt. The third is muscle deficiency: Weak, stiff muscles produce pain. Pregnant women are among those who may suffer from this. The fourth cause is trigger points: little areas of degenerated muscle tissue."

Dr. Kraus, whose practice is in New York City, believes that if muscles are strong and supple, they can prevent low back pain and they are less likely to spasm. Modern-day living, obesity and aging all contribute toward weakening muscles of the lower back and of the abdomen, which work in tandem.

Muscles are not the only source of low back pain. The Columbia-Presbyterian study also showed that low back pain problems are caused by mechanical difficulties such as displacement of vertebrae. Even a difference in leg lengths can produce low back pain, another study suggests.

The Notorious Herniated Disc

One well-known cause of low back pain is the notorious herniated disc. The disc is a leather-like package containing a gelatinous material. When a disc ruptures, the material leaks out and presses on the spinal nerve roots.

"If you squeeze a nerve, as happens with a herniated disc, the pressure produces an electrical discharge that results in pain," says Hubert L. Rossmoff, M.D., medical director of the Comprehensive Pain Center and professor and chairman of neurological surgery at the University of Miami School of Medicine. "It's like an electric shock that runs down the leg and disappears. The subsequent sensation is numbness rather than further pain."

"In contrast, low back pain originates primarily from injured tissues in muscles, tendons, ligaments and joints around the spine and its support structures. We find these are the causes more than 90 percent of the time," he adds.

New books at the library

AS TIME GOES BY: THE LIFE OF INGRID BERGMAN by Laurence Leamer (non-fiction). The author covers the late actress's life and career from her birth in 1915, through early successes in Sweden and Hollywood, up to her death of cancer at age 66. Revered in America as the devoted wife of Dr. Peter Lindstrom and mother of their young daughter Pia, as well as for the noble movie innocents she played, Bergman was quite the opposite, according to Leamer. She was away from home often, drank heavily and was sexually active with her fellow actors and directors. He describes Bergman's years following the scandal when she left her husband and child to live with Roberto Rossellini in Italy, the failure of their film, Stromboli, the chaotic consequences of their eventual marriage and divorce, and the effects on their children and the deserted Pia. Although a self-absorbed woman, she earned three Oscars and fame as a professional, working almost to the end of her life.

DIRT RICH by Clark Howard (fiction). Just back from World War I, Sam Sheridan is a bit bewildered by his cool reception in the dusty town of Dane, Texas, when he arrives with his pregnant wife, Georgia, a beat-up car and a letter informing him that a man he never met has left him 100 acres of land. The estate lawyer offers Sam several thousand dollars to part with his legacy, but refuses to answer any questions. Local merchants shun Sam, stating only that Pete Spence, the richest man in town, wants him out. An old cowboy, Draw Poker, and his Indian sidekick, Tongue, befriend Sam, who finally learns some hard truths about his origins. With single-minded intensity, Sam and a growing crew of outcasts probe his land for oil. After successfully tapping the biggest oil field in East Texas, Sam sets out to ruin Spence and the town of Dane, and unwittingly allows ambition to taint him irreparably.

VICTIMS by Dorothy Uhnak (fiction). The story begins when neighbors do nothing to help Anna Grace as they see her fatally stabbed. Arriving at the murder site in Queens, beautiful, brainy detective Miranda Torres meets journalist Mike Stein, who views the case as his chance to make headlines by exposing the heartless onlookers. Stein and Torres become lovers when she is ordered by police brass to get involved with his investigation, which results in scorching articles about Anna's "second murderers." Stein goes along with a coverup by the police when developments cast doubt on the sensational reports that promise him fame and fortune. Only incorruptible Detective Torres keeps seeking truth, putting herself in a trap set by an untouchable crime kingpin.

The Michigan Family Farm Development Program was created by the legislature to assist qualified beginning farmers to become established in farming in 1982, states Bill Bortel, County Extension Director.

To be eligible for a loan, a person must fulfill all of the following:

Be a resident of the state. The agricultural land, improvements and/or depreciable agricultural property proposed to be purchased must be located in this state.

Have sufficient training, education, ability or experience in the type of farming for which the loan is requested. (Beginning farmers with on-farm experience will be given preference).

Have or have access to adequate operating capital, land and/or equipment.

A beginning farmer is responsible for locating a bank or private investor to purchase the bond which funds a MFFDA loan. Most loans have resulted from a beginning farmer taking the initiative and presenting a valid proposal to the prospective investor. With the agricultural industry continuing to experience stresses and strains, lenders and investors will be particularly prudent in the selection of loans made, and bonds purchased. It is, therefore, essential that a beginning farmer have a complete loan proposal (cash flow, net worth, debt service ability, etc.) in hand when approaching a prospective investor regarding a MFFDA loan.

Loans will be made available to beginning farmers of low or moderate net worth, to facilitate acquisition of agricultural land and agricultural improvements (up to $400,000) and depreciable agricultural property (up to $125,000) to commence or continue farming. Loans are available to all qualified beginning farmers in all geographical areas of the state.

20 attend Baptist WMF

Twenty women attended the Women's Missionary Fellowship meeting Monday evening, March 3, at First Baptist Church.

Carol LaPonsie presided over the business meeting, in which members voted a contribution of $25 to be sent to Rev. Jerry Hopkins, formerly of Bad Axe and now at Grand Rapids, to help pay for furnishings in the new location. Also voted was $25 to Baptist Family Service, a children's home at St. Louis, Mich.

Prayer for missionaries was led by Ruth Fisher. Mrs. Fisher gave a book report and Jean Wood urged members to make more use of the church library. The meeting closed with Jean Fisher's testimony.

Easter decorations were used at the table when refreshments were served by Carolyn Sorenson and Michelle Hanby.

Drama club puts on 3-act comedy

"To Love, Honor, and Confuse" is the title of the play to be presented by the Cass City High School drama club March 13 and 14 at the high school cafeteria.

Curtain time is 7:30 p.m. for both the Thursday and Friday performances. Tickets are $2 for general admission and will be available at the door. Tickets may also be purchased in advance at the high school office.

The play is a 3-act comedy written by Raymond J. Marschalk. Serving as director is Mrs. Jane Reif, the drama club coach, who said members have been in production with the play since the middle of January. "Most recently, the drama club has produced comedies, but this year's choice of a play incorporates both comedy and drama," said Reif.

Assistance with the play is not limited to only the members of the drama club. "We have been involving industrial education students and those from the art department for painting. The custodians have been a great help in a number of areas and the entire school is being canvassed for various props that are needed," Reif added.

The cast of "To Love, Honor and Confuse" includes Dan Tuckey as Frank, Matt Tuckey as John, Jennifer Davis as Priscilla and Jane Dickinson as Sara. Allen Burk plays the role of Henry, while Barb Merchant is Honey Belle, and Clayton Hobart plays the role of Myles. The producer for the play is Jody Hanson.

Even as final preparations are being made for this week's play, the coach of the drama club is looking towards the future. "In the years to come, we are hoping to bring back more drama, and also expand student and community interest to eventually be able to produce musicals. Some of the members helped with publicity for this play and did a real fine job," said Reif.

Sweet Adelines

The barbershop sound is crucial

The prospective Lake Huron Chapter of the Sweet Adelines has just received word that they have passed the chapter's musical evaluation, which puts them one step closer to becoming an official Sweet Adeline Chapter, a non-profit organization of women who sing 4-part barbershop harmony.

Kathy Sullivan, of Gagetown, has been a member of the group since it began one evening 3 years ago, when 15 women got together to sing barbershop style.

"Sound is the most important part of the group. It's a barbershop sound as it relates to women's voices," she said. Sullivan herself sings bass.

Once the Adeline Chapter becomes official, they are eligible to compete in regional, national and international shows. What gives these competitions character, believes Sullivan, is that all the women must look identical, right down to their makeup. "Our dresses must be one inch off the floor, if one woman is wearing earrings, we all have to wear them," she said.

Last year the group went through an intense recruitment of members. We advertised and changed our meeting site each month to give women in each area a chance to join. We spent more time practicing and working on our style and less time on "sing-outs," (the term for a singing engagement), remarked Sullivan. In the last 4 months the group has added 4 new members bringing the group total to 24.

Two of the newest members, Beverly Haughton and Lila Arroyo are from Cass City. Another recent addition to the group is Carol Beitz of Gagetown.

Sullivan points out that anyone is welcome to join. Of course, the Adelines prefer those who can carry a tune.

A prospective member must visit 3 times and then she can try-out, and be given a voice placement: leader, tenor, baritone or bass. If the thought of a try-out scares you, don't worry, there are no solos.

The Sweet Adelines perform mainly at community events. "We perform at an annual steak dinner at the Scenic Golf Course in Pigeon. We've also performed at the Sugar Beet festival, and Harbor Beach sidewalk sales," she noted.

The group practices every Monday night at the First Methodist Church in Bad Axe. "It's a fun group," said Sullivan.

The Sweet Adelines' next singing engagement is April 2, 1986 at the Colony House, Cass City, for the Farm Bureau Spring Rally dinner.

Deckerville trio leads upset over Red Hawks

A sophomore playing like a senior, a freshman playing like a veteran and a senior playing an inspired game combined to end Cass City's tournament trail almost before it began.

The trio led the Deckerville Eagles to a 69-66 victory over favored Cass City Tuesday night in the opening round of district Class C play for both teams at Sandusky. The Eagles won despite an heroic effort by Dave Miller, who burned the nets for the Hawks with 33 points.

In the final analysis, it was the same weakness that has plagued the Hawks all year that sent them down to defeat. Deckerville controlled the boards and at times Cass City lost the intensive defense effort that they displayed in the final game of the season. The Eagles were just too good for any kind of a let-down and they took advantage of the sloppy defense to go in front after the first 4 minutes of the first quarter.

Cass City had bounced into a 5-2 lead after 3 minutes of play when Duane Geiger, the senior who is 6-3, and the sophomore, Tim Stolicker, who is 6-1, hit a pair of buckets each to move Deckerville into an 11-9 lead with 5 minutes gone. After that the lead changed hands several times before the half. There were never more than 4 points separating the teams. At the intermission Deckerville was in front 29-27.

Immediately after the third quarter started the freshman, 6-0 Richard Barker, connected and Stolicker started to burn Cass City from the low post, and the Eagles spurred to a 5-point lead. Coach Ron Nurnberger was forced to play a box and one defense with one man watching Stolicker all over the court.

Midway through the last quarter Deckerville stretched its lead to 7 points, the widest margin separating the teams all night.

The Hawks, behind Miller and Kurt Bliss, charged back and when Dennis Hyatt ripped in a pair of clutch free throws, Cass City trailed by a point, 58-57, with 1:54 left in the game. An Eagle turnover gave Cass City possession with a chance to go in front for the first time in the last half, but a wild pass down court gave the ball right back to Deckerville. The Eagles made the most of it when Barker was left all alone by the bucket for an easy 2 points.

Cass City wasn't through. Miller made 2 pretty hoops to counter a pair of clutch free throws by Stolicker. With 37 seconds left Cass City trailed, 63-61, and Bliss was at the foul line. The shot bounced off the rim and the Hawks' chance to pull out a win went with it.

Besides Miller's 33 points, Bliss was the only other Hawk in double figures, with 20. For the Eagles, Stolicker netted 22 and Geiger added 13. Cass City scored 21 field goals and 24 of 33 free throws. Deckerville scored 28 field goals and 13 of 19 free throws. The Eagles were effective from the free throw line in crunch time with the game on the line in the dying moments of the game.

Bay fishermen to benefit from U of M promotion

Perch and catfish anglers in the Saginaw Bay area who return tags from specially marked fish can reel in cash, and help University of Michigan researchers improve the quality and quantity of future catches.

Prof. James S. Diana and research assistant Ray Haak of the U-M School of Natural Resources have tagged 6,500 perch and catfish as part of an ongoing study to learn why the quality of Saginaw Bay fishing has deteriorated over the last 10 years and to try to reverse that trend.

Anglers will receive $1 for each returned tag and are eligible for grand prizes of $100 to $500. Marked fish have yellow plastic "spaghetti tags," resembling clothing price tags, attached to their backs. Tags bear a 5-digit number and a return address.

Although 4,000 yellow perch and 2,500 channel catfish were marked, Diana said he has received only about 100 tags and needs far more responses for the study to be a success.

Fishing in the Saginaw Bay area has worsened substantially over the last 10 years, according to Diana, largely because the fish are dying young. "Very few perch live to be more than 3 years old, while many perch elsewhere have a life expectancy up to 10 years," he said.

The study, initiated by Diana in the spring of 1983, will also help determine why fish in the outer bay are so much larger than those in its inner waters and what percentage of fish living in the bay are caught by fishermen.

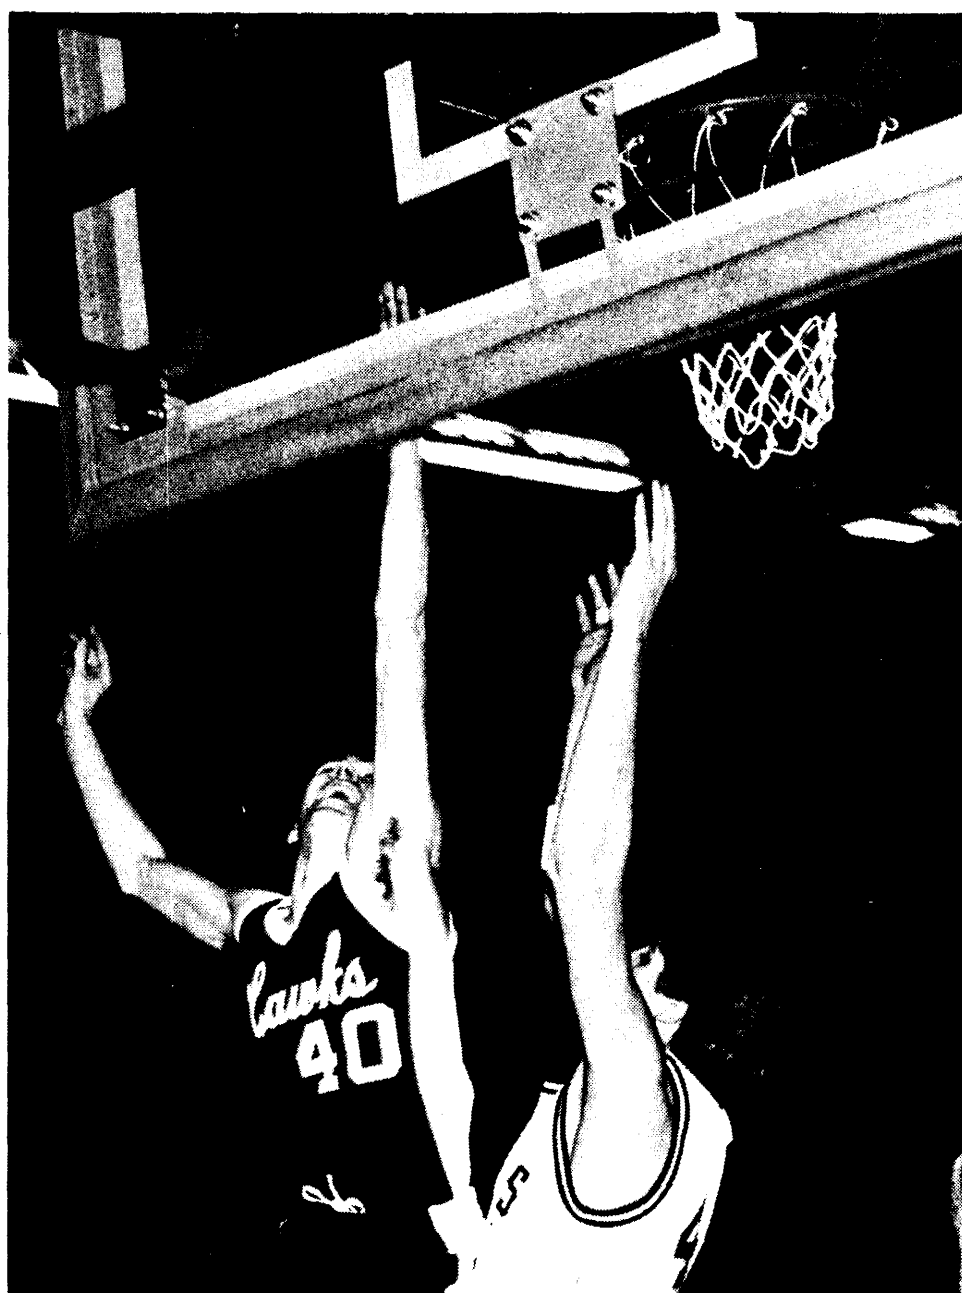

The perch were tagged in waters off Tawas, Port Austin, Bay Port, Pinconning and Au Gres. The catfish were tagged near Bay Port.

Both commercial and recreational fishermen are eligible for the $500 perch award. In the catfish contest, only sport fishermen are eligible for the $200 prize, but commercial fishermen can receive $100 in a separate drawing. The drawings will be held Sept. 30 at U-M.

Perch tags should be returned along with the catch date, location, water depth, sex, length, and, if possible, a sample of scales to: James Diana, School of Natural Resources, U-M, Ann Arbor, Mich. 48109-1115.

Similar information and tags marking catfish can be sent to: Michigan Department of Natural Resources, 33135 South River Road, Mt. Clemens, Mich. 48045.

The study is funded in part by the Michigan Sea Grant Office at U-M and the Department of Natural Resources.

CASS CITY WAS upset by Deckerville in the opening round of the Michigan High School Athletic Association district tournament at Sandusky despite an outstanding effort by Dave Miller who registered 2 of his 33 points on this play.

Five O-G band members bound for New Orleans

This summer a group of students will travel to New Orleans to represent Michigan at the Lions' National Convention. Five students from the Owen-Gage High School will be part of the New Orleans tour, July 4-15.

There are a number of steps involved in becoming a Lions' Band member. First the students are required to send in a tape and, if it meets the band's standards, they travel to St. Johns for a week-end audition, which was held Jan. 11 and 12 this year.

The auditions began Saturday morning with over 200 students representing 90 high schools competing for about 160 positions. They ended Sunday, when the students found out who was chosen.

While in St. Johns, the students are put up by Lions member families. There are 2 rehearsals before they leave, one April 12 and 13 and one May 3 and 4, which run from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Saturday and 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Sunday.

One of the participants, Cindy Enderle of Owen-Gage, said they will rehearse June 30 through July 3 and, before they leave for the tour, they will give a sort of farewell pre-tour concert in St. Johns.

The main event of the New Orleans tour is marching in the 69th annual Lions International Parade in which they compete with other all-state bands from around the country. Last year Michigan placed second while Mississippi placed first.

This year's group is funded through various sources such as the band boosters, the Owendale Women's Club and a Lion sponsored pancake and sausage breakfast. The 5 Owen-Gage players are: Kendra Reehl, flute; Jane Billy, alto saxophone; Roger Godinez, cornet; Ron Good, cornet; Cindy Enderle, baritone.

O'Harris attends State FB seminar

Farm Bureau is recognized across the state and nation for its grassroots policy development process. Tuscola County members put that policy into action by sharing MFB's 1986 policies with their elected representatives at the state capitol. Loren O'Harris of Cass City attended the Lansing Legislative Seminar Thursday, at the YWCA in Lansing.

During the morning session, MFB Public Affairs Division staff updated the participants on the issues the Legislature will probably consider in the 1986 session. State representatives and senators from our district were invited to attend the luncheon to discuss current issues and FB policy. Following lunch, members were encouraged to visit legislators' offices, attend committee hearings or watch the Legislature in session.

A corresponding national seminar, the 1986 Washington Legislative Seminar, will be held April 15-18. MFB members will visit the nation's capitol to discuss the organization's national policy with U.S. congressmen and Reagan administration leaders.

USA nips Cass City

Cass City Intermediate School has joined an interscholastic league of academic competition known as Academic Track. Academic Track teaches students the importance of team effort and sportsmanship while stressing individual performance and self-confidence.

The competition is in two major forms, written tests over the major academic areas and live performances.

In Cass City's first competition they lost a close battle to USA Middle School. The final score was USA 111 and Cass City 107. Cass City came out of the academic portion with a slight lead, but lost out in the performing arts portion.

Cass City made a strong showing for the team in its first competition against the experienced team from USA. The next meet is scheduled at Cass City March 17 at 6:00 p.m.

Deadline nears for youth days

The application deadline for students interested in an opportunity to attend Rural Youth Days in Tus-tin, April 24 and 25, is March 17.

Three area students will be selected to attend, and approximately 35 Michigan students are given the opportunity to learn about cooperatives, explore their leadership skills and socialize.

One high school student from a school in Huron, Sanilac and Tuscola Counties will be selected to attend the June 14-20 tour of Washington, D.C. They will represent the Thumb at the youth tour.

Michael Krause, general manager of the Thumb Electric Cooperative, said he has seen very few applications from the Cass City area.

"You don't have to be a student, just interested in learning about cooperatives," he said. He hopes that the selected student would become active in the community in the future.

The applicant's parent or guardians must be members of the Thumb Electric Cooperative.

O-G spikers bow to potent Dryden team

The first match for the Bulldogs was with University of Liggett High School from Grosse Pointe Woods. After losing the first game 7-15, Owen-Gage came back to win the final 2 games with scores of 15-8 and 15-11, and advanced to the finals.

That meant a showdown with the host team from Dryden—a team that Owen-Gage Coach Judy Porter had done quite a bit of homework on. Porter said that the powerhouse team from Midland Dow had only lost 2 games all season and one of them was to Dryden. She also said 2 of the girls on Dryden's team had played in the Junior Olympics. "With those things in mind, we were just happy to score," Porter said.

In the finals against Dryden, Owen-Gage lost by scores of 11-15 and 7-15.

In Saturday's regional competition, Susan Salcido had 16 service points, 18 kill spikes, 11 good tips, 24 good spikes, and 5 kill tips. Janie Billy returned to the line-up and had 10 kill spikes, 16 good spikes, 5 kill tips and 13 good tips. Barb Helleyuyck was active with 18 sets and 11 service points. Cindy Enderle had 24 sets, along with 8 service points. Senior Marsha Lopez, playing in her last game with the team, had 24 sets.

Saturday's results left the Owen-Gage squad with a record of 34 wins and 4 losses for the season. "That's not too bad for a rebuilding year," added Coach Porter. "We are among the top 8 teams in the State. Back in December, I thought we would be in the middle of the pack, so I am very pleased with how things turned out."

Looking ahead to next year, Coach Porter said, "We are young and coming back, where the competition is not." The Owen-Gage team will lose only 3 seniors—Kim Wildman, Deb Engelhardt, and Marsha Lopez—who will graduate this year.

SUSIE SALCIDO SAW lots of action Saturday as Owen-Gage won its first game in regional competition at Dryden.

Team shows improvement

O-G bows in opening district tourney game

The first game of the Class D district tournament for the Owen-Gage basketball team, Thursday in Akron, proved to be the last game of the season for the Bulldogs, as they were defeated by Michigan Lutheran Seminary 58-44.

"A few of our juniors were pretty uptight because of this game being the first district action that they had seen," said Owen-Gage Coach Dean Roller. "We were 10 points behind at half-time, but our shots were much better in the third and fourth quarters."

Some of the pre-game jitters were evident as the Bulldogs were outscored by the Cardinals 18-13 in the first quarter. Michigan

Lutheran Seminary continued to stretch its lead by scoring 11 points in the second quarter, compared to 6 for Owen-Gage. At the half, MLS led 29-19.

The bulldogs began to hold their own in the third quarter, with each team scoring 16 points. Owen-Gage came within 7 points of the Cardinals with less than 2 minutes to go in the game, but was outscored in the final quarter 13-9. Owen-Gage shot 33% from the floor, while MLS connected for 41%.

For the Bulldogs, Ron Susalla had 13 points. Steve Root was not far behind by scoring 12 points and getting 15 rebounds.

Mark Zoellner was the top scorer for MLS with 20 points. He was followed by Kevin Colb with 18.

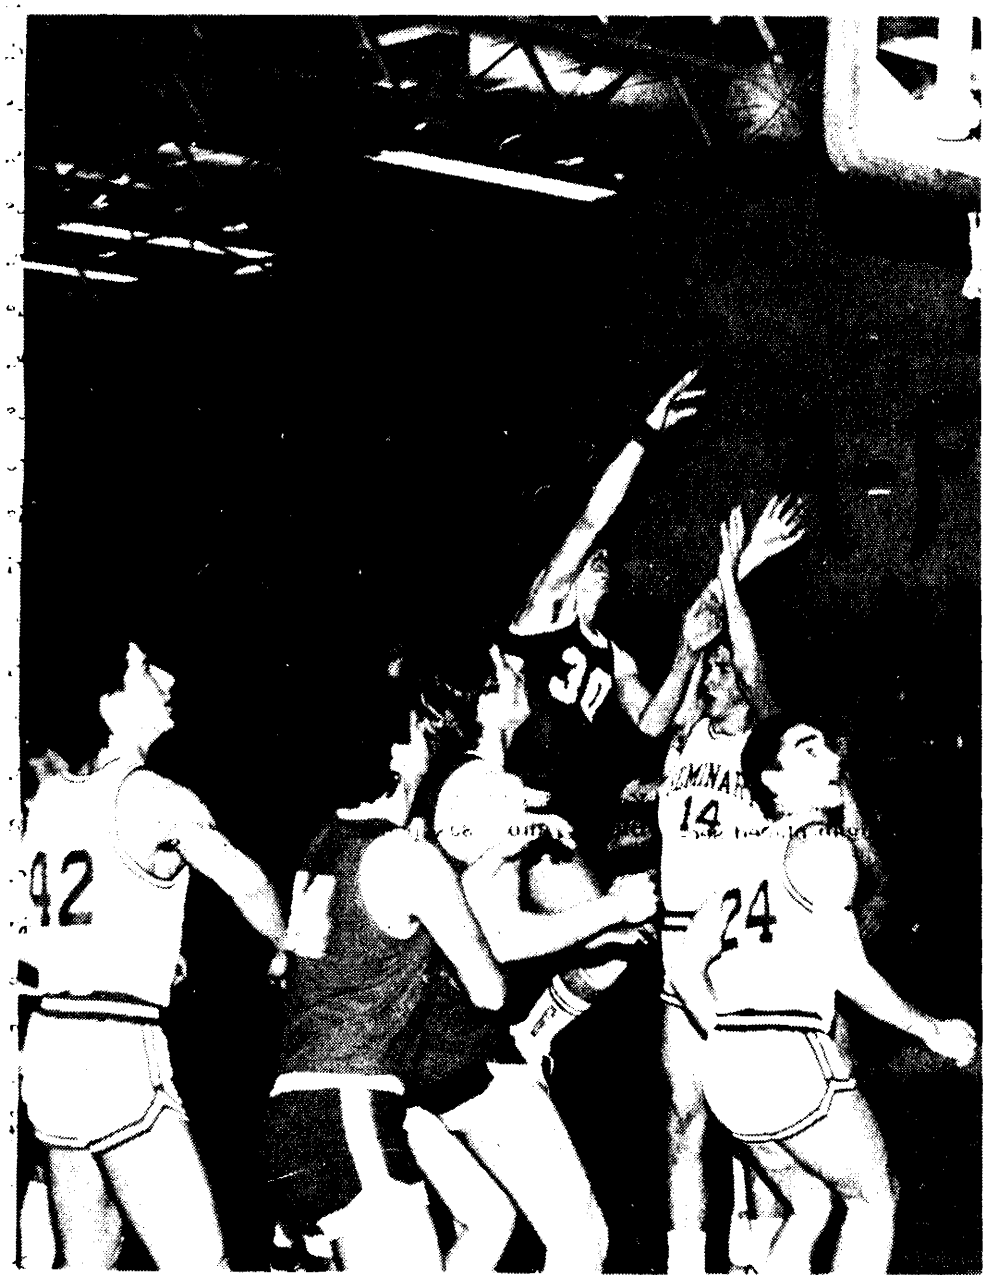

The Owen-Gage squad finished the season with an overall record of 4-17. Coach Roller described the season as frustrating at times, but said the team had been improving over the past 3 or 4 games. "Our juniors are showing good improvement and we will have 4 solid starters to begin next year," said Roller.

Playing in their last game Thursday for the Bulldogs were seniors Dave Salcido, Dave Peters, Ron Susalla and Wayne Sheldon.

In the final game of the district tournament in Akron, North Huron defeated Michigan Lutheran Seminary 72-54. North Huron will play Kingston in the regional tournament at Millington Wednesday.

March 12, at 7:30 p.m. Kingston is considered a heavy favorite to win the game, as the Cardinals defeated North Huron twice earlier in the season.

OWEN-GAGE FORWARD Steve Root (number 30) goes up for 2 points against Michigan Lutheran Seminary in district action Thursday in Akron.

County Farm Bureau helps with $10,000 gift

Tuscola County Farm Bureau, together with the Michigan Farm Bureau and other Farm Bureaus across the state, has made a donation to Michigan State University's Cooperative Extension Service for the formation of an additional Extension Management Assistance Team (EMAT). A $10,000 check was presented by Michigan Farm Bureau President Elton R. Smith to Extension Director Waldimar Moline at a news conference in East Lansing Feb. 24.

According to Tuscola County Farm Bureau President Barry Hedley, the local organization contributed $139.45 (5¢ per 1985 year end member total) to support the EMAT program, which has assisted over 300 farm families since it was initiated in early 1985. EMAT is an outreach program utilizing Extension specialists in agriculture production, economics, and family life, along with the local county agent.

"EMAT provides an opportunity for a farm family to take a close, objective look at their farming operation, with the aid of MSU specialists, around the kitchen table in their own home," Hedley said. "We believe our support of this program is a positive approach to assist farm families who are experiencing financial stress. We support the EMAT program because we know it works and because it responds to the needs of these families now rather than six months down the road." He also added that the program would be beneficial to agri-businesses, too.

Hedley said that plans are underway for the Tuscola County Farm Bureau to work with the county Cooperative Extension Service, as part of an assistance network for farm families who need information and referral to EMAT or other agencies.

Circuit Court

Judge Joslyn sentences Millington man to 5 years' probation and jail

A Millington man appeared in Tuscola County Circuit Court Monday and was sentenced to 5 years' probation and a year in the county jail stemming from a charge of second degree criminal sexual conduct.

Scott W. Reinert, 20, was sentenced by Circuit Court Judge Patrick Joslyn and also fined $300, charged costs of $300 and given one day credit for time served.

Daniel J. Guinther, 21, of Caro was sentenced to from 2 to 7 1/2 years on charges of larceny over $100, stemming from an incident Aug. 15, 1984. Guinther had been found guilty by a jury trial. He was given one day credit for time in jail.

Bradford G. Henderson, 17, of Millington was arraigned on a charge of larceny in a building and malicious destruction of personal property valued under $100, stemming from an incident in Vassar. Henderson pleaded guilty to both charges and a sentence day was set for June 9, 1986.

Kevin LaLonde, 22, of Caro, was sentenced to from 2 to 14 years for forgery and 2 to 4 years for larceny. Both sentences are to be served concurrently. Charges stem from an incident May 31, 1985. He was also given 23 days credit.

Jeanette M. Walker, 40, of Caro pleaded no contest to a charge of attempted receiving and concealing stolen property stemming from an incident March 6, 1984 in Wells Township.

Terry Czekai, 20, of 7279 Elmwood Rd. made a plea to have his trial rescheduled and the court appointed Kim Gaspie as his lawyer. Czekai is charged with embezzlement from the Quaker Maid dairy store.

Judge Joslyn has delayed a decision to withdraw a plea of guilty entered by Dale R. Matzke, 20, and his brother Steven J. Matzke, 21, both of Millington, until Friday.

The delay is to enable their attorney, Thomas V. Wilhelm of Southfield, to bring in witnesses and other testimony that would help to prove the Matzkes' innocence. Dale Matzke took the stand Monday and told the court that he was innocent, and at home when the incident occurred.

He had pleaded guilty to assault with intent to commit a felony, while his brother Steven pleaded to being an accessory to the Oct. 1984 shooting of Timothy Burke, who along with his partner, Juris Didrichson, was chasing the brothers and another Millington man who were allegedly fleeing a deer poaching incident.

Two weeks prior, Steven S. Simon was sentenced to 3-5 years on charges of attempted assault during a felony and malicious destruction of property over $100.

Authorities allege that Dale Matzke shot Burke while Simon drove the truck during the chase. They allege that Steven Matzke disposed of the rifle.

Farm Bureau Citizenship Seminar is June 23-27

High School students in Tuscola County have the opportunity to participate in Michigan Farm Bureau's 23rd annual Young People's Citizenship Seminar, June 23-27 at Olivet College.

The seminar provides students with several "hands on" experiences that help them understand their responsibilities as U.S. citizens. Topics covered include the free enterprise market system, the democratic political system, the American way of life and peoples and cultures around the world. Students are exposed to a variety of viewpoints from political, motivational and patriotic speakers.

Participants are involved in political activities where they can run for a state or county office or help a candidate campaign. All students learn to vote by three methods (paper ballot, voting machine and computer punch card) and participate in party rallies, caucuses and conventions.

To be eligible for the seminar, a student must be a junior or senior in high school during the 1986-87 school year. Students must also be willing to report on their experiences when they return from the seminar.

The Tuscola County Farm Bureau Young Farmer Committee will be contacting area schools within the next 2 weeks, to find applicants for the 4 to 6 positions available in Tuscola County.

Educational display

ON DISPLAY at the Regional Educational Media Center, 4415 Seeger Street, is the Parthenon. The Greek building models show 2,500 years of change. They can be observed Monday through Friday, March 4-12 and March 25-April 10.

State Board of Education calls for reduced class size in local intermediate schools

The rule change that would add an estimated $46,200 to the cost of operating the Tuscola Intermediate School District (TISD) is just one of the financial problems that the TISD faces, Al Mahan, assistant superintendent for special education, said this week.

Among the reforms approved last week by the State Board of Education was a reduction in class size for impaired students. The new rule would require an additional one and a half teachers, according to a study made by the state.

Mahan said that there are currently 7 special education teachers from the TISD working in the district's 9 schools. The teachers' time is allotted by population with smaller schools sharing a teacher and larger districts served by one or more teachers.

Besides the reduced class size, the new regulations would require a teaching aide for any class with 12 or more educable mentally impaired pupils at the elementary level.

Before the new rules become effective they must be reviewed by the attorney general and then be adopted by the legislative committee, Mahan explained.

The aim of the state board is to have the new rules in effect when school starts in the fall.

The $46,200 is only a small portion of the TISD annual budget of $1.3 million that is raised from a tax levy of 1.6 mills.

Of major concern is the reduction in state equalized valuation and a predicted major slash in state and federal revenues, Mahan feels.

This year the decrease can be about 4 percent, Mahan says. As the law stands right now, the district could see a slash of 30 percent in federal funds in 1987-88, Mahan said.

Another change in the rules would require new teachers hired after 1990 to have certificates in either elementary or secondary special education instead of the K-12 certificate now required.

That could make teachers' salaries increase, adding another expense to the district, but, of course, would have no immediate impact on costs.

OK Owen-Gage, Cass City meet

90% of the problem is with athletic equipment that is taken. Board members learned that the Owen-Gage schools will be receiving a Chapter II grant from the Michigan Department of Education. The money will be used for the purchase of library materials, and for a computer to be used in the counseling office.

In other action, the board approved a motion to have all teachers use a uniform grading scale in determining semester grades. Amy Draschil was named the Student of the Month, and the board passed a resolution congratulating the Owen-Gage high school volleyball team for winning both the North Central D league, and the district tournament, before losing to the number-6-ranked team in the State in regional competition.

In accordance with laws for probationary teachers, Les Packard, Royce Ehrle, and LeeAnn Anklem were placed on second-year probation. Tenure was granted by the board to Sandra Juengel, Tammy Laurie, and to Larry Romain.

3 escape injury in Friday crash

Three members of a Cass City area family were not injured in a one-vehicle accident that occurred south of Bad Axe Friday afternoon.

Huron County sheriff's deputies said Gregory J. Hanby, 16, was northbound on M-53, near the intersection with Atwater Road, when he lost control of the pickup truck he was driving. Police said the vehicle went over an icy patch on the pavement, went off the roadway into the ditch on the east side of the road, and rolled onto its left side.

The driver and his 2 passengers, Donald Hanby, 51, and Barbara Hanby, 53, were not injured.

Officers said the accident was reported at 2:15 p.m. Friday.

Slight injury as car rolls over Saturday

The State Police at the Caro post reported a rollover Saturday, on Dodge Rd. near Bay City-Forestville Rd.

Terry E. McKee, 30, of 6536 Kelly Rd. was slightly injured when the car he was driving went off the east side of the road into the ditch and rolled over.

Paul A. Langlois, 25, of Gagetown, was also injured Saturday when his car flipped on Colwood Rd. near Bay City-Forestville Rd. Langlois was southbound when he lost control on the icy road and left the pavement. His car came to rest against a utility pole.

A breaking and entering was reported Wednesday, at 2311 Kingston Rd., Kingston, home of Oral J. Kaiser. The breaking and entering was discovered by Leona Henderson, Kaiser's neighbor, who is watching the home while Kaiser is in Florida. Kaiser's car, a Pontiac Phoenix, was stolen but has since been recovered. According to the state police a telephone was also taken.

A Deckerville teen was uninjured in a rollover on Bay City-Forestville Rd. near the intersection of Cemetery. The Tuscola County Sheriff's Department reports that Charles F. Walton, 17, was westbound on Bay City-Forestville Wednesday when he lost control on the icy road, went into a small ditch and rolled over.

Slippery roads were to blame in a 2 car mishap Thursday. Sarah M. Pistro, 36, of Caro was traveling northeast on M-81 near Cass River Rd. when she slowed for a right turning car ahead of her and slid off the road. The car following the Pistro vehicle driven by David A. Ertman, 24, of

Taking stock

By Bill Myers

The call was from a New York bond salesman, even more enthusiastic than the usual peddler.

"I've got a great buy for you," he said excitedly. "Nothing else like it on the market. I can let you have $100,000 of them."

"What are they?" I asked.

"North Slope Boros of Alaska. 10.4% due June, 1995. Priced at $110.36 to yield 8.75%. That's a full point better than anything else that short. Know where the North Slope is?"

"Sure do. I've been there. The tail end of the world."

"Oh, but they've got oil -- all the Alaskan oil comes from there. The bonds are a mortgage on all those millions of acres."

"Thanks. I'll pass."

The salesman couldn't believe I wouldn't buy such a deal. I don't like to be rude to such callers, because after all, they're trying to make a living, and it's not an easy way to do it. I had to hang up, because he wouldn't stop talking.

I then put in a call to an old friend in the leading bank in Anchorage, Alaska, a man who does the bond buying for the bank. He has been around Alaska a long time.

"What about these North Slope Boros?" I asked him. "Oh, no! We call 'em North Slops. There are only 7,500 people in that whole north section of Alaska. They've already got more debt than the whole state has."

"The only thing they've got is oil -- and you know what's happened to that. When contracts are renewed, the price will be $15 or less delivered to the Gulf in the U.S. Now old contracts are around $25 a barrel."

It costs $11 a barrel to get it out of the ground and deliver it to Gulf refineries. New wells won't be drilled at that price. The state or federal government won't be selling any leases, either."

Then I talked with my friend the banker about the Alaska Housing bonds. They've been rated highly by Moody's and Standard & Poor.

"The ones we have are all practically all state guaranteed," he said. "But we aren't buying any more, even of those. You see Alaska gets about 85% of its tax money from its tax on oil and the pipeline. The tax is based on the well-head price. That will soon be $15 -- less than half what it used to be."

"Alaska will simply have to revise its whole tax structure, if oil prices stay at $15. The ride on the gravy train -- or oil train, rather -- is over."

"Another thing on the Housing bonds that came out in the last two or three years: mortgages aren't assumable in case of resale. Right now, with unemployment going up, owners can't get a buyer because the buyer can't assume the present mortgage, and the original owner in most cases can't finance the deal himself. So he just walks away, and the state housing department is stuck with the property."

"Another thing -- fishing and timber are no longer viable industries. That leaves oil and tourism."

As an old Alaskan hand myself, I could add that tourism doesn't amount to much because the season is too short -- maybe 75 days. Farming never has amounted to anything. Neither fur nor gold contribute much any more.

My talk with the old-timer in Anchorage not only made me glad I turned down the North Slope Boros bonds, but also convinced me to sell whatever Housings I had that weren't guaranteed by the state or by a federal agency.

Best for teeth

A sugarbeet a day keeps the dentist away--maybe. Two West Germans chewed sugarbeet pulp after breakfast and lunch, brushed their teeth at night, and reported clean, healthy and very white teeth. Now, 70 more Cologne School of Medicine volunteers are trying the practice.
