Annual Memorial Day rites scheduled

Annual Memorial Day observances are scheduled in Cass City, Grant Township and Gagetown, authorities announced this week.

In Cass City, the observance will start with a parade Monday at 10 a.m., starting at West Street and proceeding down Main Street on its way to Elkland Township Cemetery.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 3644 will lead the parade. Also participating in the parade will be the Cass City High School marching band, the Elkland Township fire department, the 4-H junior Wranglers horse club, boys' and girls' Little League members, and Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Cub Scouts and Brownie Scouts from Cass City. Also in the line up will be antique cars, bicyclists and students of the Cass City preschool.

Anyone interested in joining the parade is asked to contact parade chairmen Lynda McIntosh at 872-4212 or Dorothy Stalbaum at 872-3930. Both are members of the Cass City Village Council.

The VFW post invites all active ex-service men to join them in the parade. They are asked to wear their uniform if possible.

According to McIntosh, participants are asked to line up on Church St., between Leach and West Streets, by 9:30 a.m.

Immediately following the parade there will be a program at the cemetery. Rev. Clare Patton of the Salem United Methodist Church, Cass City, will be the speaker. Chaplain will be Bill O'Dell.

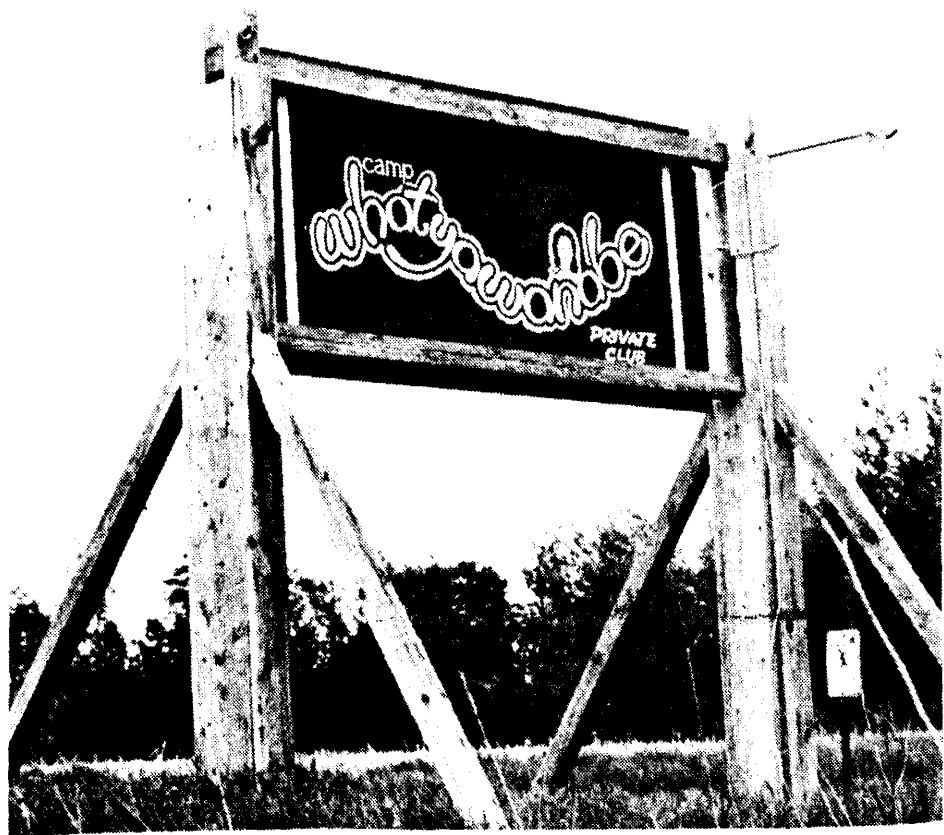

Jack Esau will be master of ceremonies. Veterans who are unable to walk to the cemetery will be transported by antique autos.

Veterans not participating in the parade who would like to attend the service should be at the cemetery by 10:30 a.m. They are asked to wear their uniforms. A color guard will fire a salute to those who have served their country.

Memorial Day services at Grant Cemetery near Owendale, will be held Sunday, May 25 at 2:00 p.m.

A program is planned which includes the Owen-Gage High School band and the participation of local churches and organizations. The public is invited.

Memorial Day services in Gagetown will be held at St. Agatha's Church. The seventh annual outdoor mass will be held in the church cemetery Monday at 11 a.m., weather permitting. The service is open to the public.

A NEW SIGN has been erected at the camp on Sebewaing Road, showing that the facility is now a private club and directing persons to the "women only" facility.

Eyes final exam policy

Cass City School Board sets project priorities

The Cass City Board of Education conducted its annual review of capital expenditures for 1986-87 and set priorities for projects to be completed during the summer vacation at its regular monthly meeting Monday at the high school. Although the exact amount to be spent is uncertain, the board authorized $35,000 for projects and left the door open for a revision of the expenditures as work proceeds.

The first refinishing of the high school gym floor is planned at a cost of $6,500. Also scheduled for the high school are 37 new typing tables and 10 typewriters at a cost of $9,700. The Intermediate School will have new doors installed for an estimated $6,000 and a room of furniture for the sixth grade for $1,500.

Campbell Elementary will receive a room of furniture and 20 chairs at a cost of $2,100 and cement work on the playground on the east side of the building will be installed. The cement will replace asphalt that is crumbling. The area where playground equipment is located will be sanded.

At Evergreen School, work on the building's skylight for $1,800 is contemplated and at Deford, 10 cafeteria tables and a refrigerator are estimated to cost $2,000.

The superintendent's office will receive a new copy machine for $3,000 and the one now in that office will be transferred to Campbell School.

Other work is scheduled, but not costed because it may be finished with school employees or contracted. This includes painting and remodeling the rest rooms at the stadium. Trustees also voted to keep the rooms locked unless a school related function is in progress. Three projects for Campbell School are also on the agenda, but no cost estimate was available. They include repairing the planter which will require masonry work and Crouse said it is likely that the work will be contracted. Also scheduled is cement work around drains and a partition for the kindergarten room.

Another project added at the meeting was finishing remodeling bathrooms on the first floor of the Intermediate Building.

FINAL EXAMS?

A request by the Cass City Student Council that students that earn all A or B grades, had no more than 5 excused absences and a good disciplinary record be excused from final exams sparked a conversation among board members that indicates that some change in the present system will be adopted at a future meeting.

Presently board policy is to have all students take finals. Trustees appeared united in feeling that students should be required to take finals until their senior

Life sentence

Judge Joslyn sentences Bucholz for criminal sexual assault

A Caro man was sentenced to life in prison by Judge Patrick Joslyn in Tuscola County Circuit Court Monday.

James Bucholz, 55, was sentenced on a charge of first degree criminal sexual conduct stemming from an incident Feb. 10. He was given one day credit for time served.

Terry Holcomb, 20, of 6730 Pine St., Cass City, pleaded guilty to a charge of joy riding, conspiracy to commit joy riding and conspiring to commit receiving and concealing of property under $100. His plea was accepted by the court. The charges stem from 2 incidents, one which occurred Feb. 18 and the other Feb. 21 in Elkland Township.

Lesbian owners say

Women's camp "not going anywhere"

by John Haire

Over 100 persons crowded into the meeting room of the Huron County Building Friday night, most of them there to tell the owners of Camp Whatyanabe that they wanted it out of the Thumb. The camp is located on Sebewaing Road, about 2 miles west of M-53.

The owners, all lesbians, called the meeting to try and "clear the air" after a copy of an ad they ran in "Metra", a gay publication, was circulated in the Upper Thumb. The ad said the camp was now owned and operated by lesbians and is for lesbians only.

The meeting was chaired by Chris Emmons, executive director of Women in New Dimensions, a lesbian club in Detroit. She opened the meeting by telling the group that the camp is now a private club and the women in it were ready and willing to help with fund drives and do whatever they could to help the community.

With the exception of one person who supported the owners, the crowd quickly dismissed the offer. What you should know, said one spectator, is that we don't want your help. We want you out of there. What you should realize, said another, is that this goes against the grain and you'll never be part of our community. The statement received a round of applause from the crowd. Huron County Sheriff Richard Stokan told the owners, what you should realize is that you will never become a part of Huron County.

The owners said that the ad that called for lesbians only was to call attention to the camp for women only and not for gay men. However, other copy in the ad read "There's nothing more erotic than nature; except women. When you put the two together you've got Camp Whatyanabe."

One spectator told this reporter that he called persons in his congregation when he learned about the camp, and they attended. Many don't know about it yet, he said. You'll find 5,000 persons out there picketing that camp one of these days, another predicted.

Many of the group came armed with Bibles and read passages that they said showed that lesbians were sinning against God. You must understand that this is a moral issue, they said again and again.

The effect that the group might have on children was also voiced several times. We don't want women walking down our streets holding hands, they said. If this camp operates, it's sending a signal to others that the Thumb is the place for gay persons and it will never be, they said.

Emmons told the group that all of the owners were business and professional persons and the camp was a club for any women over 18 who wanted to join. The group distributed flyers telling the rules of the camp, drawing attention to one that read: "Taking into account that this is not a totally traditional place, we ask that you use common sense and discretion in your actions to make sure that being 'whatyanabe' isn't gonna be uncomfortable, threatening, or offensive to others. Thanks, and enjoy yourself!!"

Emmons admitted, when questioned, that the former owner did not know what use the new owners were to make of the camp. We made him an offer and he accepted, she said.

What has the owners concerned is the number of threatening phone calls that they have received since it became known that the camp caters to lesbians. We have it all on tape, Emmons said. Threats to burn the place down and to bomb us out. Some of the calls, you wouldn't believe what they said, she added, all anonymous of course.

One spectator asked why the ladies didn't like men. Emmons said that she was just more comfortable with women. She is the mother of 2 boys and when asked what they thought about her as a lesbian, she answered that they said if that was the life style she chose, go ahead with it.

While the owners patiently and without rancor answered the questions and accusations of their critics, the meeting didn't accomplish much.

In answer to the demand that they leave the Thumb, Emmons said grimly, we're not going anywhere.

Teachers air problems at O-G

Nearly 35 Owendale-Gagetown teachers crowded into the board meeting room at Gagetown Tuesday night to present a list of questions to the board that was sparked by a letter from Supt. Ron Erickson after the teachers filed for arbitration in an effort to secure interest and back pay due them.

Teachers have already experienced one payless payday and were told by the board that money due Friday for another 2-week pay period will also not be available.

The Owendale-Gagetown Education Association is seeking interest for the back pay due and has filed a grievance with Erickson about the issue.

The superintendent had until Monday to act on the grievance, Sheldon Markley, negotiator for the Tri-County Bargaining Association said, after which it automatically is passed to the board for its consideration. If the board denies the grievance for back pay, the issue then goes for binding arbitration.

What evidently angered the teachers was a letter passed out to them in the middle of their class periods saying that paying interest on the money might result in cutting teachers from the staff. Teachers want to be paid for doing their work just like you or anyone else, said Manuel Theis, president of the Owen-Gage union.

The problem, Erickson told the teachers, is that taxes have not been paid promptly this year due to the farm economic condition, and money due from these taxes has been delayed. The district needs to borrow funds against anticipated tax revenues, but cannot borrow money if interest payments are made. We learned that when we tried to pay interest on funds due during the last payless paydays, Erickson said.

Teachers came to the meeting armed with questions they wanted answered. They included:

Why were teachers not warned about payless paydays?

Why didn't the board plan further ahead?

What means are being taken to curb deficit spending?

Why is eliminating teachers a top priority?

What do other districts do in the same situation?

Does the board receive a copy of letters teachers receive from the superintendent (yes)?

Why are we (teachers) pegged as villains when all we want is pay for work we do?

If delinquent taxes were in, would it solve the cash flow problem minus Belk and Goslin properties?

Does the board take an active role in following the budget? (Trustee Jack Brinkman said that he was on top of the situation and goes over it regularly.)

Andrea Hofmeister, a teacher in the system, asked that a committee be formed with members from the board and teachers to keep open lines of communication. It was formed quickly and is expected to meet every other month starting in July.

Board members also explained to teachers that it was impossible to be forewarned about the money crisis, because predicting how taxes would be paid was impossible. The question about finances sparked a review of the financial situation by the board. According to Erickson a decrease in valuation will be overcome by an increase in taxes and the addition of $1.2 million in valuation that was returned to Owen-Gage from the Laker district. That should net about $36,000, Erickson explained. The decrease in valuation is equal to about 3 mills of taxes on the district's $47 million valuation.

QUESTION SPENDING

Spectators questioned the spending of funds for school trips and court cases when the teachers were not paid. The case of Nancy Folk and her request for unemployment compensation drew sharp criticism from Joe Salcido who questioned the spending of funds estimated at over $10,000 in a court case to deny payment of $1,600 to Folk. The case was heard May 2 in Huron County Circuit Court and if the district does not pay Folk, the amount due will be spread on the tax rolls. This (school) spends a lot of money foolishly, Salcido charged. The teachers were also upset because the board hired a music teacher for the remainder of the year at a time when the board was unable to meet its payroll. President Ronald Good said that the board is determined not to cut student programs and that he refused to pressure district taxpayers by threatening to cut bus service.

OTHER BUSINESS

A representative of the Farm Bureau Insurance Co. explained the limits of the school's policy. The board voted to increase its liability to $1 million from $300,000.

The board okayed the sale of 2 pieces of school property. Wayne Tomich is the buyer of 1.6 acres next to the Gagetown Park, with the exception of a 30-foot strip, for $750. Randy Howard was sold lots in Owendale, with exclusion of about 35 feet from the east side, for $1065. David Peters was recognized as student of the month.

"If It Fitz..."

Eating-wise

By Jim Fitzgerald

"Hey, Ma, let's have spaghetti sauce on everything."

That anonymous message was recently published in the personal classifieds section of a suburban weekly newspaper. I am one of the few people who understood what it meant. It meant all my children are on my wife's side.

My wife thinks I'm unreasonable, possibly senile, and certainly a picky eater. I think there's no substitute for tomato soup on meat loaf.

Before our wedding, shortly after the close of the Civil War, I put ketchup on meat loaf. My wife introduced me to tomato soup on meat loaf. I said: "How do you do, tomato soup, I love you on meat loaf and never again want to eat anything else on it."

And that's the way it's been all these years, until one fateful evening last month. I noticed something

Guidelines

The Department of Labor has issued guidelines to protect thousands of health care employees who administer cancer-fighting drugs in hospitals, clinics, doctor's offices and elsewhere. The guidelines are designed to alert health care workers to the dangers of antineoplastic drugs which are often carcinogenic.

different about the red stuff in the bowl beside the meat loaf.

"What are those lumps?" I asked.

"That's tomato soup; you like it on meat loaf. Eat it," she commanded.

A spirited discussion followed. My wife often commands me to eat something because I like it, even though it doesn't look to me like anything I like. She never tires of trying to persuade me that brussels sprout is cabbage, or kohlrabi is food. But never, not even in my worst nightmares, did I dream she would be evil enough to get devious with my all-time favorite meal - hot tomato soup on meat loaf with a baked potato.

She finally admitted it wasn't quite tomato soup. It was spaghetti sauce left over from 1972. "It's the same thing as tomato soup," she insisted. "Eat it; you like it."

Eating-wise, it hadn't been a good week for me. She'd been away for two days, playing Grandmother Bountiful, and I'd had to make my own orange juice. When living alone, I eat out, usually out of paper bags brought home from the deli. But I do pour my own orange juice in the morning.

Except when my wife ignores my humble request that she buy ready-to-drink orange juice and gets the canned frozen concentrated stuff instead. A long, frustrating search revealed there is no old-fashioned can opener in my home. There is an electric opener but I can never remember how to make it work. I can only make it growl, and it scares me.

I finally punched holes in the can with a fork, and it took 15 minutes for the frozen juice to glop through the holes. Then, following instructions on the label, I tried to fill the can with water three times and pour the water into a pitcher with the concentrated juice.

But the pitcher was full after two cans of water. By then, I was an hour behind schedule, so I drank the orange juice anyway. It was like drinking an orange Popsicle.

Later, my wife showed me that the proper-sized pitcher for making orange juice was in the refrigerator. It contained a few ounces of grape Kool-Aid left over from our 27-year-old son's 10th birthday party. She claimed she was saving it for our grandchildren. I think she's saving it to dye cauliflower purple so I'll think it's beets.

So anyway, you can see why I was in no mood for putting spaghetti sauce on meat loaf. My wife said the sauce was made from tomatoes, the same as tomato soup, and the unsightly lumps in it were hamburger, the same as meat loaf. I said just because I like beer flavored with hops didn't mean I liked to eat while playing hopscotch. What really made me crazy was I couldn't think of anything better than that to say.

Our son overheard this domestic discussion and was subsequently responsible for the aforementioned newspaper ad suggesting it would serve me right if spaghetti sauce were dumped on all my meals. I am used to our daughters siding with their mother, but our son usually sees things my way.

My cup does not runneth over. My pitcher does.

The Haire Net

Some folks have the knack, some don't. A way of making even a casual stranger feel appreciated. Art was a guy like this. Many times while walking into a grocery store, he'd stop and start telling a perfect stranger the best way to buy meat or how to cut their grocery bills. Most times it's a lead pipe cinch that they never paid any real attention to his solutions. But without exception the target of his lectures invariably left with a smile.

Most of us are too embarrassed to thrust ourselves forward like this and those that aren't, just don't care enough to do it. That was the key to Art's special gift. He cared and it showed. When you left his house after a short visit or a long one, you could count on him being at the door saying, "Gee, I'm glad that you could come over". Made you feel good all over.

I got to thinking about Art and his gift the other day when a casual friend jumped me for ignoring him on the street. It's hard to explain that he walked right by and I didn't see him. That's the truth, believe it or not. I often wonder if other folks walk down the avenue with their mind focused on a problem or an area far removed from wherever they are and see nothing that's going on around them.

There's no doubt that taking a little time to notice other folks is worth whatever it costs as long as it is sincere. When it's mechanical and meaningless, perhaps it's better to say nothing.

Many times when someone wishes me to "have a nice day", it would be better if they said nothing at all. If the business is appreciated, say thank you. If it's phony, it really is a turn off.

There are probably some phonies that can make you believe they are for real. There's a whole raft of persons who are for real, but it never is apparent in a casual meeting.

Like I said, that's a real knack.

Stock market players pull in a profit

They played the game and came out of it with a profit. Some were not so lucky.

Such is life in the Stock Market Game.

Students at Cass City High School were given a taste of the financial system through "real life" simulation of investments into the stock market.

There were a total of 18 teams involved. The game was taught in the classes of Kate Jackson and Ron Nurnberger.

To begin, each team was given an imaginary $100,000 and an option to purchase on margin another $100,000. The game lasted 10 weeks and when it was finished, 2 Cass City teams placed in the top 5 of the central region for the second year in a row. The region includes a total of 116 teams.

The team of Ken Pasanski, Tony Yost and Kevin Parrish finished second in the region and sixth in the state overall (out of 270 teams). The team of Bryan Toner, Genny Wolfrum, Laura Gabler and Tami Mallory finished fourth in the region and 12th overall in the state. Stock market certificates and prize money of $40 will be awarded to these students.

The second place team made $50,000 profit in 10 weeks, investing in AMFESC Industries, Inc., Mobile Home Industries, Inc., ALCO Standard Corp. and many others.

The fourth place team profited $37,400, investing in stocks such as Disney and Chrysler.

According to Nurnberger, the most traded stocks were Disney, Ponderosa, General Motors and various small stocks for quick profit taking. He said that everyone wanted to buy some Walbro stock but they were limited to the American and N.Y. Exchanges.

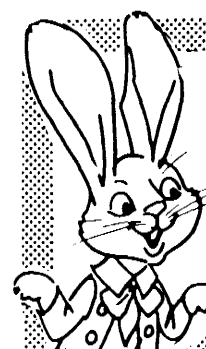

This was the third year that Cass City has played the game.

The Stock Market Game, called "Top Dollar", is sponsored by the Michigan Council of Economic Education for high school business classes. It is in conjunction with Eastern Michigan University and the Detroit Free Press. The game involved 356 teams from 40 high schools and junior highs throughout the lower peninsula. The top team was from Onsted High School. Their teacher and 3 students won a free trip to New York City to visit the New York Stock Exchange.

Gift giver

The centuries-old ritual of women bringing rich dowries to a marriage is somewhat common among humans, but in the animal kingdom, it's the male who bears the gifts before mating. According to International Wildlife magazine, lady spiders can expect a large ball of silk while a female katydid is allowed to feast on her mates hind legs.

Rabbit Tracks

(And anyone else he can get to help.)

The next issue of the Chronicle will be published Wednesday instead of Tuesday because of the Monday Memorial Day holiday. Deadlines will remain the same.

It's all a matter of timing. The story quoting Lambert Althaver and Walbro was transmitted from far, far away.

A call to the Cass City plant came just as Althaver was calling from Singapore. Bob Walpole asked about the company's plans for the Cass City Cultural Center building and the answer was relayed to me.

No one was better with story trivia than Mike Eliashohn, when he served at the Chronicle for seven years. He still is a demon with details.

He writes: If anyone wonders when gas was less than $1 a gallon in Cass City prior to this spring it was in approximately Oct., 1979. The price for regular was 99.9 cents and I figured gas would never be under $1 again and I had my picture taken with a sign showing the price.

Other hangovers from his Tuscola County days include service offers for his Ford to be used in Cass City and a call to serve on the Tuscola county circuit court in February. Mike lives in St. Joseph now, about 200 miles away.

Tourist authorities predict that the traffic in Michigan will be the heaviest in history for a Memorial Day week end.

Wear your seat belts. The Chronicle can't afford to lose any subscribers.

There are persons who are out and out racists and those who don't feel they are prejudiced, but are. Both types were in attendance at the meeting in Bad Axe with the lesbian owners of Camp Whatyawanabe.

One spectator said she moved out of Detroit to get away from lesbians and blacks. She was quickly shushed by the group. Indignantly she said, have you ever lived next to one of them.

One spectator answered her and said, yes, by gosh, he has lived next to blacks and there are some good ones.

It never occurred to him that his "defense" of blacks showed his prejudices.

Notice of Public Hearing on Increasing Property Taxes

The township of Novesta will hold a public hearing on a proposed increase of .1770 mills in the operating tax millage rate to be levied in 1986.

The hearing will be held on Monday, June 2, 1986 at 7:30 o'clock in the p.m. at Town Hall, Deford, Michigan.

If adopted, the proposed additional millage will increase operating revenues from ad valorem property taxes 10.73% over such revenues generated by levies permitted without holding a hearing.

The taxing unit publishing this notice, and identified below, has complete authority to establish the number of mills to be levied from within its authorized millage rate.

This notice is published by: Novesta Township, Wm. C. O'Dell, Delong Rd., Cass City, Mi., phone 872-2349.

Bad Axe baby to receive car seat

Paul and Evelyn Smaglinski of Bad Axe are the proud parents of a baby girl born Sunday, May 11, at 10:50 a.m.

The birth of their daughter, Denise Lynn Smaglinski was significant because she was the first baby born at Hills and Dales during Hospital Week which ran May 11 through May 17. Because she was, the Smaglinskis received a baby car seat from the Hospital Auxiliary.

This is the second year that the auxiliary has given a seat to the first born during Hospital Week. According to Jane Mitchell, the car seat was previously given to the first baby of the new year, but she said that the baby born at the first of the year received a lot of other things and it was decided to change it.

Denise weighed 6 lbs., 4 3/4 ounces and she is the Smaglinski's first child.

ELAINE PROCTOR, a member of the Hospital Auxiliary, presents Evelyn Smaglinski of Bad Axe with a car seat for having the first baby born during Hospital Week. Denise Lynn was born Sunday morning, May 11, to Paul and Evelyn Smaglinski at Hills and Dales Hospital.

A total of 338 SVSC students were named to the winter 1986 Dean's List. These students were recognized for maintaining between a 3.4 and 3.99 grade point average while carrying 12 or more credit hours.

Eight area students were among those recognized. Students from Cass City are: Gregory Armstead, 6658 Houghton St.; Mary Kappen, 5400 Bay City-Forestville Rd.; Kris Curtis, 4618 Oak St.; Barbara Watson, 6338 Pine St., and Paula Herron, 4861 Spruce St. Kingston resident Jennifer Laiko, Snover resident Priscilla Seward and Uby residents Barbara Anthony, Glorie McCarty and Timothy Rutkowski were also named to the Dean's List.

Business brisk at TCSD

Activity was up slightly at the Tuscola County Sheriff's Department in the month of April.

Both burglary and larceny climbed slightly. There were 39 burglary calls in the month of April and 36 in March. Larceny calls last month were tallied at 45 and 39 in March. Also up were the number of disorderly/vagrancy calls, with an April count of 28 and 22 in March.

Reports of vandalism jumped 20 in April, from 48 in March to 68 in April, and the number of harassing/obscene phone calls showed a slight increase in April from 4 to 10.

The biggest jump for the month was in the number of animal complaints. The number quadrupled from a March total of 7 to an April total of 28.

The number of fires reported showed a slight drop of 7. A total of 40 were tabulated in April.

In a summary of calls received, the number of criminal calls went up considerably in April from 501 to 571. The number of emergency calls on the other hand fell from 184 to 151.

The county jail received 141 inmates for the month, of which 7 were females, and there were 140 released, of which 7 were females. There was one inmate transported to Southern Michigan Prison in Jackson to serve sentence.

HONOR SOCIETY

Seventy-nine students were inducted into the SVSC Honor Society Sunday, April 13. Criteria for membership to the society include junior or senior status, a minimum of 14 credit hours, and a ranking in the top 10 percent of the student's department. Students must then be nominated by department faculty members.

Local students inducted into the society are Joanne Hopper of Cass City, whose major is undecided, and history major Priscilla Seward of Snover.

Infant death investigated

Officers at the Caro Post are investigating the death of an infant which occurred in Gifford Saturday.

The infant has been identified as 21-month-old Paul D. Horton.

Other details were unavailable at this time.

Surplus commodity pick-up Thursday

The Human Development Commission (HDC) will have a Surplus Commodity Distribution at the Cass City Village park Thursday, May 29, from 12:30-2:30 p.m. or until the supply is exhausted. Other locations are the Caro fairgrounds and Ivan Middleton Hall at the fairgrounds in Vassar.

HDC anticipates that cheese, butter, honey, flour and rice will be available for this distribution. Due to the volume of commodities, individuals are asked to bring cardboard boxes to carry their commodities.

Individuals must report to the distribution site in person, and present their surplus commodity registration cards. Persons who are unable to go to the distribution site themselves may have someone pick up their surplus commodities ONLY if the surplus commodity registration card is shown.

The surplus commodities have been made available to the HDC, the local community action agency serving the Thumb, from the U.S. Department of Agriculture. The operation of the program is overseen by the Department of Education.

According to Pat Christie, community service coordinator for the HDC, there are 162 households with a total of 490 individuals registered to receive commodities at the Cass City site. She said that registration is down this year. "Normally we have around 250 households registered," she said.

The food is intended for personal consumption by eligible low income families. Christie said that there are 2 levels a household may belong to which determine eligibility. The determining factor is whether there is someone over 60 years old in the household. For example, a family of 3 with a member over 60 years of age can make up to $14,592 and be eligible. A family of 3 with no one over 60 can make up to $11,856 and receive commodity goods.

Christie said that registration is closed until after the distribution May 29. Residents will be able to register with the HDC after June 1.

Drop in winter wheat forecast

Winter wheat production in Michigan in 1986 is forecast at 38.5 million bushels, down 14 percent from 1985, according to the Federal/State Michigan Agricultural Reporting Service. The forecast is based on conditions reported by farmers as of May 1. Planting of the 1986 crop was delayed last fall by the late harvests of soybeans, corn and dry beans. Some intended wheat planting was never realized. Winterkill was substantial, especially in the "Thumb" and in central Michigan. This resulted in an estimated 50,000 acres of abandonment. Acres for harvest is set at 700,000. The yield forecast is 55 bushels per acre, down from the record high of 60 last year.

The U.S. winter wheat production forecast as of May 1 is 1.60 billion bushels, down 12 percent from 1985. Acres for harvest are down 11 percent to 42.8 million. The yield forecast is 37.4 bushels per acre. White wheat production for 1986 is forecast at 241.4 million bushels, up 5 percent. About 80 percent of Michigan wheat is of the white class.

Name Hrycko to dean's list in Kalamazoo

Kalamazoo College named 136 students to its Dean's List for the winter quarter.

Included was Raymond A. Hrycko, a freshman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Hrycko, 6037 Green Rd., Gagetown.

Students named to the Dean's List must achieve a 3.5 grade point average or better on a 4.0 scale.

County Library and St. Clair Community College at Port Huron Wednesday. Leah Miller and Justin spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Spencer.

Long before the Susan B. Anthony dollar, there was the Martha Washington one dollar Silver Certificate, in 1891.

Some of the last few to return home to Michigan after wintering in Florida are Mabel and Les Clark of Kinde, Clark and Marce Seeley of Sand Point and Stella and Bill Martus, Cass City.

BRIDAL SHOWERS

Two showers Saturday, May 10, honored brides-to-be Cory LaFave and Tammy Rabideau, and the previous week was in honor of Lori Comment.

Cory LaFave's bridegroom is Mark Henry Denay of Bay City. Their wedding is planned for Friday, June 6, at 6 p.m. at St. Boniface Catholic Church, Bay City, with a reception immediately following at the Sky Room, Tri City Airport, Freeland. Cory is the daughter of Lee LaFave and the late Jim LaFave. Her shower was held in St. Agatha Parish hall, hosted by Barb Goslin, Linda Kunisch and LuAnn Roemer.

Tammy Rabideau, daughter of Keith and Norma Rabideau, has plans for a June 28 wedding at St. Agatha Catholic Church and her bridegroom is Donald Schaefer of Cass City. Her 11:00 a.m. bridal shower luncheon was held at the home of Larry and Sue Kohl in Bach, co-hosted by Jan Hagerman.

Lori Comment's shower was at the home of LouAnn

Seuryneck, Cass City, and was hosted by LouAnn, Lisa Erla and Patty Goslin. Lori is the daughter of Clare and Jeanne Comment. Her marriage to Ken Beachy of Caro will take place Saturday, May 31, at St. Agatha Church in a double wedding ceremony with her brother, Todd Comment, and Jeanine Sutter.

Mother's Day guests of Mrs. Sue Penrod were Diane and Michael Malapolski of Roseville and Pat and Dominic Buffa of Warren.

MOTHER-DAUGHTER BANQUET

The Gagetown Methodist Church held their annual mother-daughter banquet Friday, May 9, in the church hall with 55 in attendance. Joan Koch and Janet Muntz were co-chairmen and Betty Laurie was in charge of the program.

The young ladies attending were given earring favors and the smaller girls were given bracelets. For the program, Theda Seeger of Cass City showed slides of Australia.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Burdon were guests over Mother's Day weekend of their son and daughter-in-law, Tim and Barb Burdon of Midland, at their cottage at Torch Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Clare Comment moved last week from their farm home on Bay City-Forestville Rd. to Sand Point. Mother's Day they had as guests Lori Comment and Ken Beachy of Caro, the Bill Erlas, Jeanine Sutter and Todd Comment of Cass City, Mr. and Mrs. Vern Beachy of Pigeon, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Seuryneck and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Comment.

St. Agatha Women's Society held their mother-daughter potluck Saturday evening at 6:00 p.m. in the parish hall. About 100 women and girls attended. After the meal, Sister Nancy Ayotte, IHM, showed slides from different countries, presenting the Virgin Mother and talked on her role in life. Jackie Goodell gave a reading in tribute to mother and grandmothers, and prizes were presented.

Dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kehoe Mother's Day were Steven Kehoe and Barbara Orzak of Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Fred McKellar entertained family and friends for dinner Mother's Day. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Arnie Nimtz and Kerry and Gloria McKellar of Sebewaing, the Gary McKellar family and Sue Penrod.

Mrs. Arthur Carolan was the guest of her daughter and family, Phylis and Skip Connors of Caseville, Mother's Day. They were joined by Toni Watterworth and John Speck for brunch at the Eagles Club.

At the 11:00 a.m. mass at St. Agatha's Catholic Church Mother's Day, an older mother, a young mother, a mother of one, and a mother of many took part in a ceremony crowning the Virgin Mother. Mrs. Regino Lopez placed the crown and Nancy Rabideau, Cathy Kropewnicki, and Arlene Enderle placed flower bouquets.

Mr. and Mrs. Earnsey Seeley of Cass City were Mother's Day guests of their daughter and family, Carol, Bill and Billy Ehrlich. In the evening, they attended the concert at St. Agatha presented by the Cornerstones.

Evelyn Ziehm, Jackie Goodell and Hilda Koch attended Tammy Rabideau's bridal shower May 10 at Bach.

Mrs. Velma Helwig was the dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Herb Rutkowski of Cass City Thursday evening.

Willard Burdon, son of Paul and Barb Burdon, spent the past month with them while doing his internship in optometrics at Ed Hensleys in Bay City. Willard will graduate from Ferris State College May 28, and the 29 will write his state board exam at U of D.

He expects to be working in Columbus, Ohio, after graduation. Paula Burdon, student at Alma College, was home for Mother's Day.

Mrs. Joyce Horowitz of Long Branch, N.J., returned last week to her winter home in Ellenton, Fla., after visiting a month in Houston, Tex., with Lynn and Charlie McPhail. While there, she underwent tests and treatment at the Houston Heart Clinic.

Muri LaFave of Owendale is a patient at St. Joseph Hospital in Flint, where he underwent surgery Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Comment spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. John Arvay and sons in Owosso. They attended the tulip festival in Holland and Tim Arvay played with his high school band in the parade.

Mrs. Leona Bozarth of Oklahoma City, OK., arrived Saturday to spend a few months with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Lorencz. During her visit, great-grandson, Tom Sattler of Unionville, will graduate from USA High School in June and Joe and Mary Lou Lorencz will celebrate their 40th wedding anniversary June 8.

Supper guests of Gerry Carolan Sunday evening were her grandson and wife, Penny and Rick Carolan of Detroit. The Carolans are both law students at Wayne State University.

Guests of the Dick Burdons Thursday evening were Mrs. Burdon's sisters, Mrs. Art Kundinger, Mrs. Arnold Gremel and Mrs. Fred Schnepp, all of Sebewaing.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Tom Salcido for a few weeks are grandchildren, Kristin and Jeremy Salcido of Saline. Week-end guests were Mike and Bobby Jo and Tom and Tammy Salcido of Ann Arbor.

In last week's report of the Gagetown Women's Study Club, the meeting's program by Janet Martin was omitted. Mrs. Martin gave a talk on legislation, how it works, how a bill becomes law and the bills now before congress.

Miss Vicky Downing of Dearborn spent Mother's Day weekend with her mother, Mrs. Mary Downing.

CONFIRMATION AT ST. AGATHA

In a ceremony at the 11:00 a.m. mass at St. Agatha's Sunday, Father Julius Spleet conferred the Sacrament of Confirmation on 20 young people. The altar was decorated with white lilacs, snowballs and red carnations and many parishioners wore red, all signs of a new life, as the young confirmands received their red stoles and certificates.

Yvette Hurd did the readings, Sister Pat Wilson of Saginaw and Kendra Reehl sang solos and a musical selection was played by members of the confirmation class. Sister Nancy Ayotte planned the morning's liturgy, and CCD teachers, Wayne and Sherry Dillon and Cathy and Fred Sullivan prepared the class for the sacrament.

Those being confirmed were Steve Root, Jane Billy, Chris and Jim Rabideau, Chris Abbe, Pat Murawski, Charlene Goslin, Rae Lynn Rocheleau, Tammy and Yvette Hurd, Brent Meininger, Brad Kamrad, Cindy Enderle, Dan Marker, Tammy Kady, Clayton Hobart, Troy and Kendra Reehl and Mark and Alice Kappen.

A reception in the church hall followed the service.

Mrs. Mary Jane Swinney of Imperial Beach, CA, is visiting her aunts, Mrs. Gerry Carolan and Mabel Clark, and other relatives in the area. She spent a month in Flint visiting her father, Earl Ward, who is ill.

Special service at Holbrook church

A concert of music with Sue Tennant, also featuring ventriloquism, will be held Sunday, May 25, at Holbrook Baptist Church on Germania Rd.

The program begins at 7:00 p.m. and the public is invited.

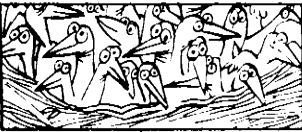

The church is located 8 miles east and 3 miles north of Cass City.

Singles party

The YMCA Thumb Singles Club will hold its next party at the Sandusky Maple Valley Elementary School Saturday, May 24, from 8:30 p.m. to 12:30 a.m.

Music will be by Barney and the Country Boys and refreshments will be served.

Guests are welcome.

New books at the library

A PERFECT SPY by John LeCarre (fiction). When Magnus Pym, British spy extraordinaire, disappears, Her Majesty's Secret Service goes bonkers. Could the great Pym really be a traitor, as the Americans have been hinting for years? The story exposes the human price one pays for living "on several planes at once." Like his command father (a sort of white-collar Alfred P. Doolittle), Pym is a man without an identity: "The art of it was to forget everything except the ground you stood on and the face you spoke from at the moment." Defiantly, Pym refuses to strip away his humanity in the name of national security and, acting out of loyalty to a friend, becomes a double agent. Pym's act of treason is both the source of his destruction and his triumph, the one part of his life that is not cover for something else.

I'LL TAKE MANHATTAN by Judith Krantz (fiction). As the shareholders of Amberville Publications can attest, a family tree wouldn't be complete without twisted branches. The magazine empire of the late Zachary Amberville is being pulled to pieces by his envious younger brother, Cutter, whose first official act after marrying his sister-in-law is to ax four periodicals. Within a year, he expects to sell those remaining at a huge profit. But Cutter hasn't reckoned on his feisty niece, Maxi, who, at 29, has been a mother once, a divorcee three times, and a spendthrift all her life. Sailing into battle with aid from her brother Justin, a photographer with a past of his own, and her macho first husband, Rocco, Maxi turns a dying magazine into a wild success.

SMALL TRACTOR SERVICE MANUAL by Intertec Publishing. Thirty-seven popular models of small garden-type tractors and eight engine types, from one-cylinder air-cooled to 16 horsepower, are covered in this comprehensive two-volume set. Major repair and maintenance operations are detailed in a condensed, technical text. Each section is amply illustrated with precise line drawings, photographs, and the necessary technical specifications. Measurements are listed in both metric and U.S. equivalents.

Teachers — new and old — are vanishing from the classroom into less stressful and higher paying careers. Why?

A college graduate with a four year college degree in Mathematics commands a starting salary of $25,000.00 per year.

In Tuscola County a teacher with a four year college degree will have to work ten years or more to reach a $25,000 salary.

If the brightest and best are to be retained and attracted to teaching, salary and working conditions must be significantly improved NOW.

Low Interest Energy - Conservation Loans for Home-Owners and Landlords

Thanks to an Energy Bank Program grant from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), the city of Cass City is able to help many of its residents make energy-conservation improvements in their homes. This is Cass City's first home improvement program that is available to rental-property owners as well as home-owners including mobile homes.

The Program works like this: 1) An interested resident phones or visits the Cass City Village Office 872-2911 to see if she/he is eligible. The office personnel will help the applicant get bids from approved energy contractors and to select the best and lowest bid. 2) The city then pays a "principal reduction" for that loan. The amount of the principal reduction can vary from 50% to 20% of the improvement costs, depending primarily on the applicant's income.

To be eligible for this program, the owner of the home must:

- Be income-eligible, under certain circumstances with incomes as high as $55,200 (except for owners of apartment buildings with more than 4 units, where there is no income limit).
- Be eligible for an FHA Title One Home Improvement Loan. Usually this means that you must own the home or be buying it on a mortgage or land contract.
- In general, borrow a minimum of $1,000, with a minimum monthly payment of $25 per month.
- Have an energy audit done of the house, either through the RCS program offered by Southeastern Michigan Gas Co. or through another approved auditor. Most audit costs over $15 may be included as part of the loan.

Eligible Improvements Include:

- Caulking and weatherstripping
- Furnaces and furnace efficiency modifications
- Insulation
- Storm doors and windows
- Energy-efficient lighting systems
- Conversions from master utility meters to individual utility meters
- Note: 1) Improvements begun before applying for this loan are in-eligible; 2) in general, improvements must be able to "pay for themselves" in seven years.

HUD's Energy Bank Program is administered in Michigan by the Michigan State Housing Development Authority (MSHDA), in cooperation with the Michigan Administration and the Michigan Public Service Commission. These agencies require that at least 20% of the loans go to households with gross annual incomes of $20,720 or less. To apply, or for more information, visit: Cass City Village Office, 6737 Church St., Cass City, Michigan 48726, 517-872-2911.

Energy Bills a Problem?

Home Energy Analysis For Residential and Commercial

Provides a home energy audit to determine energy consumption efficiency. Conservation improvements are suggested. An analysis cost $10.00 for residential and $150.00 for commercial. These are eligible to all Southeastern residential and commercial space heating customers. The analysis is free to qualifying low income customers.

Exhibits to highlight Expo

By Bill Bortel

More than 300 commercial farm exhibits, field demonstrations about forage production and marketing, and a forage machinery clinic will highlight Ag. Expo '86, July 22-24 at Michigan State University.

The main exhibition will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., July 22 and 23 (Tuesday and Wednesday), and 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. July 24. Field demonstrations will run from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Tuesday and Wednesday and from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Thursday. A variety of tours and educational exhibits will round out the program.

The more than 50,000 people expected to attend the event will see more than 35 acres covered with just about every kind of equipment and supply needed for a good farm operation.

"I'd be very surprised if a farmer went away from Ag. Expo without at least one new idea that could benefit the farm operation," says Bill Brickert, Ag.

Expo chairperson. "I don't know of another place in the state where farmers can see as varied and as broad a collection of the latest farm equipment and production guidelines as they can see at Ag. Expo."

The main exhibition area, located at Farm Lane and Mt. Hope, will hold displays worth millions of dollars. Visitors can see irrigation systems; field machinery; dairy equipment and supplies; livestock handling equipment; grain harvesting, handling and storage systems; crop sprayers, farm buildings, and seed and fertilizer supplies and services.

A wide variety of university educational exhibits are being planned for Ag. Expo. Most of these will answer questions on crop insect, weed and disease control, soil testing and erosion prevention, computerized farm record keeping, livestock health management and other farm-related topics.

Daily field demonstrations will focus on how to establish a good forage stand and harvest a quality product, guidelines for selling forage as a cash crop and the importance of testing forage samples. There will also be a trouble-shooting clinic for forage equipment.

Ag. Expo is free and open to the public. Visitors will find plenty of free parking. Free shuttles will be provided from the parking lot to the main Expo site and also to all of the field demonstrations and research centers.

Ag. Expo is sponsored by the MSU Department of Agricultural Engineering, the Agricultural Experiment Station and the Cooperative Extension Service in cooperation with exhibitors from 16 states and Canada.

RESIDENTS AT PROVINCIAL HOUSE set loose 117 balloons as part of National Nursing Home Week. Provincial House which is owned by Beverly Enterprises released the balloons along with other Beverly Homes across the country. A total of 100,000 balloons were released Wednesday, at 4 p.m.

Future Homemakers kept busy at 40th annual conference at WMU

The Michigan Future Homemakers of America celebrated their 40th birthday at the 40th Annual State Leadership Conference at Western Michigan University, April 30-May 1-2. Representatives from Owen Gage were: Suzy Grassmann, Denise Pavlichek, Theresa Schwartz, Lisa Battisti, Jodie Fritz, Angie Bolzman, Heidi Jaworski, advisor Tammy Laurie, and Ruth Grassmann.

The overall conference theme was "A Past to Honor; A Future to Mold" and the goal was to remember past achievements in building foundations for the future.

There were activities each night for the participants involved in the State

Leadership Conference. Wednesday evening a balloon lift off celebrating the 40th birthday of FHA-HERO took place with a carnival after the First General Session. The second night of State Conference was highlighted with an anniversary dance which also celebrated the organization's birthday or anniversary.

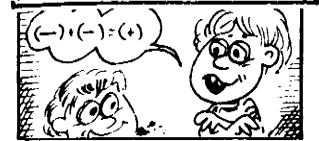

The members participated in skill and leadership events such as job interview, public speaking, parliamentary procedure, illustrated talks, food service, and many others. Other participants ran for state offices, served as voting delegates, sang in the chorus, participated in the Connection Team for reporters, or had the opportunity to learn new ideas. Some of the members received their State FHA-HERO Degree of Achievement which is the highest honor presented by the organization. Theresa Schwartz, Jodie Fritz and Lisa Battisti received a 1st place rating for their puppetry relating to teenage pregnancy, under the category of families and futures.

Contests were also held between chapters. These included such areas as membership growth; male membership growth in chapters, Honor Chapter activities, Honor Chapters for having participated in the State Projects concerning Teenage Sexual Decision Making and Dealing with Spouse Abuse, scrapbook competition, exhibit competition and the Public Relations competitions.

The Future Homemakers of America—Home Economics Related Occupations is a national student organization with membership of half a million young men and women from home economics programs in junior and senior high school. Students participating in the organization involve themselves in projects dealing with the individual, the family, the school and the community.

Most school children can tell you two negatives make a positive, but few can name the man who first said so. It's said to have been John Lowth who first laid down that rule of grammar in 1762.

Various roadwork was given the go-ahead at the monthly meeting of the Elkland Township Board Monday, May 12.

The township approved paving 2 miles of Dodge Rd. The cost for the first mile, to Hoppe Rd., will be approximately $24,000 and the cost of the second mile, from Milligan to Hoppe Rd., is estimated at $26,400, according to township supervisor Dave Milligan. The township will also put gravel on various spots on township roads, said Clerk Norma Wallace. The cost for this is estimated at $8,000. She said that dust control will be added on all inhabited gravel roads in the township, at a cost of approximately $323 a mile, which includes grading, said Milligan.

In other action, Anton Peters of Cass City was hired to the newly created seat of zoning administrator. He is responsible for administering the Elkland Township Rural Zoning Ordinance.

Some of Peters' duties will include assisting the general public, land developers and builders in understanding the ordinance and its meaning, responsibility for providing for notification and enforcement of violation of ordinance and assisting the planning commission in considering zoning ordinance amendments, special land use permits and site plan review. His duties will not include zoning ordinances within the village. The job will be part-time and salary for the position has not yet been determined, according to Wallace.

HEALTH TIPS

Stroke warning signs

Americans underestimate the number of lives claimed each year by stroke and they don't always associate lifestyle changes with stroke prevention, according to a recent American Heart Association survey.

Respondents to the random survey incorrectly identified accidents as the third leading cause of death instead of stroke.

"The survey indicates to us that people aren't aware stroke is the third leading cause of death in this country, behind diseases of the heart and cancer, and that it claims more than 155,000 lives a year," said Fernando Diaz, M.D., chairman of the stroke committee of the American Heart Association of Michigan.

Those polled also have not learned that they can take an active role in reducing the risk of stroke. Although 90% of those with high blood pressure said they knew high blood pressure was a major cause of stroke, 85 percent of the group said they thought nothing could be done to prevent stroke.

"Certain lifestyle changes can help control high blood pressure, which is a major risk factor for stroke. It's disturbing to know that many people with high blood pressure, as well as healthy Americans, don't realize this fact," said Diaz.

According to Diaz, maintaining ideal body weight, reducing salt in the diet and following doctor's orders on medication can help control high blood pressure and in turn may reduce the risk of having a stroke.

The survey also showed that those responding were not entirely certain of the warning signs of stroke. Although 91 percent knew that loss or slurring of speech was a warning sign, only 65 percent identified weakness or loss of feeling in the arm or leg as a warning sign. About 74 percent correctly identified sudden loss of sight in one eye as a warning sign of stroke.

Knowing and recognizing these signs is critical to preventing some stroke, according to Diaz.

"We know at least 10 percent of stroke victims have a mini-stroke called a transient ischemic attack (TIA), before a major stroke," he said. "By recognizing the significance of the warning signs, a person who has a TIA can get to a doctor before a major stroke occurs."

Other significant statistics show that black Americans and those in lower income groups were the least informed about stroke, yet these groups have a higher incidence of high blood pressure and stroke.

Most of the respondents recognized that patients who have been affected by stroke can recover and be helped by therapy. But confusion about rehabilitation was evident when almost a third of those polled indicated that stroke survivors are so disabled they require institutional care.

"We've come a long way in understanding and preventing stroke and rehabilitating its victims, but to reduce needless premature death and disability from stroke, we need to get prevention messages to the public," Diaz said.

Diaz is a neurosurgeon at Henry Ford Hospital in Detroit.

Arthritis film slated

Arthritis is ranked as American's number one crippling disease. Over 31 million Americans have arthritis, but only some are treated. Many persons with joint and muscle pain, or even disability, either suffer without relief or resort to quack remedies.

A special documentary film called, "Aches, Pains, and Arthritis," will be shown at Hills and Dales Hospital, Cass City, Wednesday, May 21, at 7 p.m. Through a human-interest style of presentation, the 25-minute documentary encourages people to take an increased responsibility for their own well-being by establishing healthy habits and assuming a more active role in disease prevention, according to Dr. Beatriz G. Martin, Cass City, internal medicine specialist.

Ducks are down

The domestic duck count is way down, by about one-third. Drought and rapid loss of their wetland habitat to farmers and energy companies are the main reasons, reports National Wildlife magazine.

Hawks drop twin bill to Caro

Dave Miller was the victim of a fine pitching performance by Caro's Theaker in the nightcap. It was a tight game until the fifth, when the Tigers bunched 3 hits, a walk and an error for 5 runs and the game. Cass City's lone counter came in the fifth, when Czekai reached first on an error and rode home on a hit by Rob Nicholas.

Peck too powerful

Owen-Gage splits 6 softball tilts

In the last 6 games Owen-Gage's softball team has played at an even .500, losing a pair to powerful Peck, winning a pair from Caseville and splitting with Kinde North Huron. All games were in North Central D competition.

The week started right for the Bulldogs when they powered their way to a 20-9 decision over Kinde. Owen-Gage pounded out 15 hits and was helped by 9 walks. Kinde rapped out 9 hits to go with 5 walks to score its runs.

The O-G stickers were led by Angie Bolzman with 4 singles. Cindy Enderle, Andrea Mandich and Susie Salcido each collected 2 hits.

The nightcap was a pitching duel won by N-H 4-2. Each team collected only 4 hits, but the winners made better use of their hits and combined them with 6 walks to take the decision. Bolzman cracked a triple for the Bulldogs.

CASEVILLE GAMES

Owen-Gage proved to be too powerful for Caseville and the Bulldogs swept both ends of a double bill by convincing margins. The O-G girls walked away with the win in the first game, 14-4, with 16 bases on balls to go with 5 hits. Meanwhile the Caseville 9 were limited to just one hit and 8 walks. Top stickers for the Bulldogs were Bolzman and Salcido with a triple each, and Jane Billy with a double.

The nightcap was also a one-sided affair as O-G won 17-2. The girls used 8 hits and 10 walks on their way to the win. Bolzman and Salcido continued their lusty slugging. Bolzman collected a single and double and Salcido a single and triple. Andrea Mandich collected 2 singles.

PECK GAMES

Peck came to Owendale Thursday, hit a bushel and walked off with a pair of wins. They outslugged the Bulldogs, 14-9 in the first game with 12 hits and 7 walks. O-G was held to 3 hits, 2 by Salcido, and kept the game close by picking up 16 walks.

In the second game Peck was in command all the way using 5 hits and 14 walks to run up a 16-6 decision.

Vassar tops in Thumb B track

The Cass City girls' track team recorded its poorest finish in this decade when it recorded a 7th place finish Tuesday, May 13, at Caro's Stamats field in the Thumb B league meet. Last year's champions, the Vassar Vulcans, ran off with the league honors by winning 6 of the 16 events.

Joann Steely highlighted the girls' day as she recorded Cass City's only first place finish in the 100 meter dash. Steely posted a time of 13.11.

Coach Larry Robinson wasn't surprised with Vassar's first place finish. "It's the way I saw it, Vassar was just too strong," stated Robinson, when asked to comment on the league results.

The boys came in a distant 6th place in league competition, which was also won by the Vulcans, who recorded 149 points to beat out runner-up Caro who chalked up 115 points. Cass City's Randy Teichman was the boys' only league winner. Teichman vaulted 12'3" to take top honors in the pole vault.

Students travel to math competition

More than 600 sixth, seventh, and eighth grade students recently participated in the Middle School Regional IV Mathematics competition at Central Michigan University.

Seven students from Cass City Intermediate participated in the competition. Two qualified for state finals held Saturday.

Bart Hall, a sixth grade student, qualified for state finals. He is the son of Doug and Judy Hall of Cass City.

Michael Bills also qualified for state finals. He is the son of Thomas and Janene Bills of Cass City.

Other participants included: Don Smith Jr., an eighth grade student, who is the son of Donald and Janice Smith of Decker.

Hawks send 2 to state track meet

The Cass City boys' and girls' regional track meet was held Saturday, May 17, at Breckenridge. The Hawks qualified 2 athletes to advance into state competition May 31, at Bangor High School.

For the girls, Joann Steely finished 3rd in the 220 meter dash. Coach Larry Robinson was pleased with Steely's performance who, in his eyes, "has been our most consistent performer all year."

Steve Ross, although running with an injured ankle, qualified for the Hawk boys with a 2nd place finish in the 330 meter hurdles. According to Coach Dave Bitzer, "Ross gave it everything he had; but I could tell after the 2nd hurdle he was hurting and he would have had even a better time." The team trophies were won by Unionville-Sebewaing Area boys and Reese girls.

SENIOR SCOTT HARDING accepts the Harold Ferguson Award from band director George Bushong.

Ferguson award highlight of spring band concert

From Stevie Wonder to John Philip Sousa, the Cass City High School band gave a farewell performance at the annual spring band concert Monday, May 12.

Highlight of the program was the presentation of the Harold Ferguson award to senior Scott Harding. According to band director George Bushong, the award is given to an outstanding senior band member. He said that the recipient is chosen by a vote of the senior band members. The award reflects the student's leadership qualities, musicianship and overall popularity.

Bushong believes that Harding, a percussionist, was deserving of the award. His name will go on a plaque that hangs in the band room. "If he has his way, you'll be hearing more from him in the future. His ambition is to be a rock star. If anyone can do it, he probably can," said Bushong.

The concert was bound to please anyone with the varied selection of music such as the Gallant Seventh by Sousa, Flight of the Bumble Bee, a salute to Motown, Fraggie Rock and selections from the pop group WHAM. Harding was the soloist in Flight of the Bumble Bee.

How can you count on great claims service? No problem.

Many may say they have great claims service. Only some can prove it. Auto-Owners polled their customers, and found almost all of them are satisfied with Auto-Owners Claims Service. (Nobody's perfect, but we're trying.)

So right now there is a great effort to please the few that aren't and continue the "common sense" approach to settlements that made Auto-Owners so popular in the first place.

See your Auto-Owners agent. Because although there are many that say they have great claims service, Auto-Owners works harder every day to prove it.

Your neighbor says

Check lanes necessary evil

It has been recently proposed that sobriety check lanes be set up on Michigan roadways to check for drunk drivers. As imagined, the idea has been received with mixed feelings. Do you think the test lanes are worthwhile? Are they infringing on our constitutional rights?

"I think that it's too bad it has to be that way, but I don't think it's a bad idea," said Cass City resident Ronald Harp.

He says that he thinks that it is unconstitutional. "That's why I have reservations about it."

He added, "I think that the police should worry more about places getting broken into than chasing drunk drivers."

When asked if he thought that the check lanes would do any good, he said yes. "I hate to say it but I think it will help, so I guess it's a good thing."

"Like the ad says about searching airports for terrorists, it's something people have to put up with. It's an inconvenience but it's worth the good that it brings," Harp added.

Harp, 29, is a former resident of Flint and has lived in Cass City almost 2 years. He is employed at Schneberger's TV, Appliance and Furniture store.

Donna Sageman retires at Ubly

The Ubly Community Schools staff and Board of Education will honor Mrs. Donna Sageman of Bad Axe at a retirement dinner party Saturday evening, June 7, at the Franklin Inn at Bad Axe. The event will begin with a social hour at 6:30 p.m. followed by dinner and program at 7:00 p.m.

Reservations must be made with Mark Tenbusch, Ubly Community Schools, by Friday, May 30. The cost per person is $12.50. The event is open to the general public.

Miss Darlene Clark, Future Homemakers of America Consultant of Michigan State University, will be among the dignitaries to speak on her behalf.

DONNA SAGEMAN

Mrs. Sageman has served in the Ubly Community Schools for 21 years. She taught Home Economics during the period 1953 through the present time. She has been the advisor of the Ubly Future Homemakers of America Chapter throughout her tenure as teacher.

PRAYER to the Holy Spirit - Holy Spirit, You who make me see everything and who show me the way to reach my ideal. You who give me the Divine gift to forgive and forget the wrong that is done to me, and who you are in all instances of my life with me. I, in this short dialogue want to thank you for everything and confirm once more that I never want to be separated from you no matter how great the material desires may be. I want to be with you and my loved ones in your Perpetual Glory. Amen. Pray this prayer 3 consecutive days without asking your wish. After the third day, your wish will be granted no matter how difficult it may be, then promise to publish this prayer as soon as your wish has been granted. 5-5-2-1-1

Gagetown students put on first play

Students at Gagetown Elementary School took to the stage Monday evening to perform their rendition of 3 fairy tales.

The play which was called Telling Tales Again, Sam, written by Linda Abbott, was a take-off on the ever popular Gingerbread Man, The 3 Little Pigs and The Miller and his Son.

According to Sandra Parks, director of the play, this was the first time that the elementary students have put on a drama. "They've done a fantastic job. They learned their parts better than high school students," she said.

The play was unique because it was performed as a theater in the round (on an open stage). The children performed in the gymnasium and the audience was part of the setting.

Parks said that 20 children from grade two through six participated in the play.

Short chase ends in arrest and arraignment

A foot chase in downtown Cass City ended in the arrest of a Cass City man early Monday morning.

Paul G. McClorey, 20, was arrested at approximately 1:00 a.m. Monday by the Cass City Police after leading an officer on a short chase across Main St. and up a flight of stairs behind Coach Light Drug.

According to the police report, an officer was called to 4545 Downing, where McClorey was allegedly "tearing up the house" and fighting with his brother, who owns the home. When the officer arrived, McClorey had left the scene, but the officer heard a suspect hollering near the Wash King laundromat. The report goes on to say that after exchanging words on Main St. near the Station Bar, the officer involved attempted to arrest McClorey and was led on the chase which ended in McClorey's arrest.

He was arraigned in Tuscola County district court, where he entered a plea of guilty to the charge of disorderly person. He was fined $42 and charged $33 in costs.

Dale Kus of 6301 Bay City-Forestville Rd. reported to the Cass City Police that a stereo valued at $175, an equalizer valued at $150 and approximately $20 was taken from his car, which was parked behind Sutter's Bakery Monday, May 12.

David Erla, 30, of 6432 Seventh St. was traveling west on East Cass City Rd. Monday, May 12, when a number of stones dropped off an agricultural plow he was following, causing damage to the windshield and undercarriage of his car. Owner of the plow is unknown at this time.

Cass City School Board meets

Iseler. Another request presented at the April meeting concerning which students should speak at commencement exercises was denied after Principal Russell Richards presented the results of a survey among students in the junior class.

The survey asked if students wanted to retain the current method of choosing the speakers which is by a committee of 2 students, 2 teachers and 2 members of the administration or would prefer having the valedictorian and salutatorian speak. 66 favored the committee, 29 the top students and 8 had no preference, Richards said.

OTHER BUSINESS

said that 9 teachers have signed to attend a Central Michigan University course in Caro this summer to learn about teaching the gifted. Tuition and fees are $225 each and will be paid from a grant received for the program. Cleland said that the grant was for 3 years and runs out next year, but further funding is expected so that hopefully all teachers that want to take the course will be able to do so in future years.

The class meets 3 half days a week for 3 weeks in August. The board authorized new textbooks in 9 courses at a total cost of $7,899.65. Included are 3 English texts, essential living text, a consumer skills book, 2 shorthand books, a chemistry text and a French II book.

Three teachers, Yvonne Sherman, Donna Emmerman and Marilyn Peters showed slides and talked about the Young Authors program. Kelly Smith informed the board that he is expanding Huntsville Park by 23 units

Erickson. It was filed because of Theis' failure to follow the correct procedure in figuring grades of students. The board agreed to have the letter removed and the teacher promised to follow the marking procedure set in board policy.

The board went into executive session and when it returned voted to waive the attendance policy for one of the school's students.

THEFT PROBLEM

Theft at the school was discussed and possible solutions suggested including changing locks on the doors. No decision was reached but a committee of taxpayers and school officials was formed to study the problem and suggest solutions.

Taking stock

By Bill Myers

It was Preakness time. As people were speculating whether Ferdinand could put another star in his crown, it brought back memories for my fellow-golfer, Jim. The memories went back to 1922, but they hadn't faded, and aren't likely to. We'll let Jim tell the story:

I had graduated from Maryland the year before (this is Jim speaking) and had a job with the city of Baltimore as an engineer in the sewer division. Pay was $75 a month.

Jobs were scarce then and I was lucky to be working at any figure.

I did get Saturday afternoons off so I went out to the track that third Saturday in May to watch the Preakness.

At the track I ran into an old friend of mine from school.

"Hey, Jim," he said. "Got any money? My old man's horse is running, and he is betting the family jewels on it. Name's Pilory."

Well, $10 was a day's work for me, but I went over and put that much on the horse's nose-to win.

He came in! Paid 20 to 1. I got $210.

That was nearly three months' pay for me. Soon as the races were over, I hopped a train for Washington to blow myself to a big weekend.

Monday morning, I was a little hung over when I took the train back to Baltimore. An older man was sitting beside me, and he kept asking me questions about my job and did I like it and what did I do and so on. I thought he was sort of nosey but I answered everything he asked. Actually, I would have liked to get some more sleep.

At the end of the ride he said, "Young man, I suppose you wondered why I was asking you all these things. . . Well, I was interviewing you for a job."

"I'm with Western Electric here in Baltimore. We're starting a big project and need some engineers. Want to come with us?"

Why not? I asked myself. There wasn't much future in the Baltimore sewer department.

What's the pay? I inquired of the man.

"$125 a month."

That did it. And I joined Western Electric. I found out when I got the job the company had run an ad for a few engineers and there were 500 applicants.

So I became a telephone engineer. Later they moved me to New York Tel and later to Bell Tel of Pennsylvania. After that, I went to the parent company American Tel and Tel.

I never had another job, and retired after 44 years with the company.

End of Jim's story. He didn't mention that when he retired he was vice-chairman of AT&T, world's biggest corporation.

Today, at 85, he plays a darned good game of golf, winters in Gulfstream, Fla., and summers in New England.

The moral of the story is obvious: Go to the track when you have time off, plunk down a day's wages on the first hot tip you get, collect your money and head for the fleshpots of the big city. And be polite to strangers even though you have a hangover.

Bill Myers is a retired editor and investment counselor.

Obituaries

Meta Johanna Heins

Mrs. Meta Heins, 89, of Cass City, formerly Merrick, N.Y., died Monday, May 19, at Hills and Dales General Hospital, Cass City, after a short illness.

She was born Aug. 14, 1896, in Brooklyn, N.Y., the daughter of George and Metta (Gartelmann) Bruns.

Miss Bruns was united in marriage to George J.

Heins Sr. Oct. 19, 1926, in Brooklyn. He died in May of 1960.

Mrs. Heins made her home in Floral Park and Merrick, N.Y., coming to Cass City in 1985 to make her home with her son.

She is survived by her son, George J. Heins Jr. of Cass City; three grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. One daughter, Adele Camps, and eight brothers and sisters preceded her in death.

Funeral services will be conducted Friday, May 23, at the Walkers Funeral Home in Merrick, N.Y., with burial in the Lutheran Cemetery, Brooklyn, N.Y.

Memorials may be given to the Lions Club Leader Dog Program.

Lylan Weltin

Lylan Weltin, 92, Uby, died Sunday at her home after a long illness.

She was born Aug. 24, 1893, in Argyle Township, daughter of William and Minnie (Langenburg) Herdell.

She married Joseph F. Weltin June 27, 1917, at St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Argyle. He preceded her in death Dec. 20, 1963.

She was a member and former officer of Christian Mothers of St. John's Catholic Church Circle No. 3; a rural school teacher from 1946-1962; a former officer of Uby Women's Club; a former parishioner at Holy Trinity Church, Smith's Corners, and a member of St. John's Catholic Church, Uby, since 1957.

Surviving are three daughters, Clair Grifka and Mrs. John (Helen) Maurer, both of Uby, and Mrs. Daniel (Joan) Mahoney, Ithaca; two sons, Aaron Weltin and James Weltin, both of Uby; 56 grandchildren; 80 great-grandchildren, and one great-great-granddaughter.

She was preceded in death by two sons, two daughters, two sisters and one brother.

Services will be 10 a.m. Wednesday at St. John's Catholic Church. The Rev. Patrick O'Connor, pastor, will officiate. Burial will be in the church cemetery.

A parish wake service was to have been at 7 p.m. Tuesday and a Christian Mothers rosary at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Zinger-Smigielski Funeral Home, Uby.

Deford man injured

A Deford man was seriously injured in an accident Tuesday, May 13, according to the Tuscola County Sheriff's Department.

Randy Ashcroft, 22, was riding on the rear driver side step of a truck that was backing to trash at a Kingston address when he was pinned between a Goodyear tire sign pole and the truck. Ashcroft, who was giving directions to the driver, Timothy Smith, 24, of Vassar, was taken to Marlette Hospital.

A car driven by Delores Lester, 50, of Kingston was traveling east on E. Sanilac Rd. Tuesday, May 13, when she attempted a left turn and struck a car driven by Earl Reid, 72, of Carsonville, who was passing Lester on the left. No citations were issued.

Jeffrey Loomis, 21, of 4796 E. Cass City Rd. was northbound on Schwegler Rd. Wednesday night when a deer came from the east and Loomis was unable to avoid it.
