

Announce Chamber program

Persons in the community in the 1950's will have the opportunity to relive some of the glory years when Cass City was known as the "Christmas Town" of the Midwest and newer residents will see interesting films and learn how it all happened when they attend the annual meeting of the Cass City Chamber of Commerce April 2.

The dinner is of special significance this year because it will mark the start of the individual membership drive, the first in the history of the organization, according to Lambert Althaver, Chamber advisor.

In addition, a citizen of the year and junior citizen of the year will be selected. Suggestions for these awards should be forwarded to Tom Herron, Chamber president.

Telling about Christmas town will be Lloyd Vyse, who played a principal role in the creation of the myriad displays that drew thousands to Cass City each holiday season.

Of special significance will be the recognition of the contributions that the late W. E. Walpole made to the community as the founder and president of Walbro Corporation.

FRIENDS FOR LIFE — 2-year-old Tosha Hatmaker takes a short rest last week in Cass City with her friend Samantha, a purebred collie. The pair, escorted by Tosha's aunt, Tanya Hatmaker, were on their way to Tosha's grandmother's house.

Schiller's to leave Cass City Friday after 39 years

Long-time Cass City wholesale distributor Schiller, Inc., formerly Bauer Candy Co., will close its doors at 4260 Doerr Rd. Saturday after some 39 years of business.

The local distributor of restaurant and fountain supplies, candy, tobacco, grocery items and other products, is being closed in an effort by Schiller, Inc., to reduce expenses, according to Cass City branch general manager Tom Jackson, who's been with the company since 1949.

"The reason is central buying. If you have 19 branches, it's (costly) to buy by the truckload and distribute" to each branch, he explained.

"At one time, it was very profitable to go the other way and be close to the customer," Jackson, 58, remarked.

Schiller, Inc., previously had 19 branches, including the office in Cass City, but is now down to 11. "Each branch used to buy its own merchandise, but now, everything will be purchased by the Bay City administrative office," Jackson continued.

Jackson is among 12 of the local company's 18 employees who will be transferred to other Schiller, Inc., branches. He will be working as an assistant buyer for the corporation in Bay City.

Ten employees will be transferred to Bay City or Saginaw, Jackson pointed out, adding that the majority of the remaining employees have either found other employment or decided against being transferred.

According to Jackson, Schiller, Inc., had its beginning in Cass City in 1977, when James F. Bauer, owner of Bauer Candy Co., retired and sold his business to the corporation.

Bauer had been in business since 1948, when he purchased the business from H.H. Kaufman. Bauer began in the building on Main Street which now houses Northwest Tire. Previously, the business was located at what is now Cass City Floral, Jackson said, adding that he worked at that location during his sophomore and junior years at Cass City High School.

Bauer moved to the company's current location in March 1973. An addition was completed in 1979.

Community working for Walbro award

A final mailing Thursday of about 300 letters, marked "more from Cass City, Mich.," capped a month-long drive by area residents who have nominated Walbro Corp. as "Company of the Year."

Community involvement in the project, stemming from a contest sponsored by the Detroit Free Press, surprised even those who spearheaded nomination of the local corporation.

"I personally think Walbro has as good a chance as anybody," Cass City Chamber of Commerce member Jane Hittler remarked. "I can't imagine (other) communities putting out as much effort" as Cass City.

Walbro has been a part of the village since 1954, when it moved to Cass City from Fenton. Today, the Cass City facilities employ some 500 persons and serve as Corporate and Carburetor Group Headquarters for the corporation.

Walbro, a major manufacturer of small engine carburetors, automotive products and molded plastics, has operations in the United States, Mexico, Japan, Singapore and West Germany.

Last week's final mailing to the Free Press contained letters written by Cass City Intermediate and High School students, Hittler explained, adding that similar mailings totalling thousands of letters and "support sheets" have been sent daily for the past 3 to 4 weeks on behalf of Walbro.

"The community involvement has been tremendous—not only the community involvement, but also throughout the Thumb," she continued. "We're not saying, 'if we win the award,' we're saying, 'when we win the award.'"

Aside from the most recent mailing, letters of support have been sent to the Free Press by a number of local business owners, chamber members, community leaders and school and hospital officials. Chamber leaders in Bad Axe, Caro and Vassar as well as the Community Growth Alliance office in Marlette also have written in support of Walbro.

The Tuscola County Board of Commissioners last week approved a resolution supporting the nomination.

According to organizers of the local project, data concerning economic growth, Walbro's "financial picture" and various business publications with articles on the corporation have been included in the promotional campaign.

"You have to cause some sort of stir or else they won't notice you," Hittler commented.

Geraldine Prieskorn, another driving force behind the Walbro nomination, agreed. "They have to be impressed with the effort that's going into it."

Prieskorn, a member of the Cass City chamber's Retail Committee as well as county Economic Development Corporation, said the widespread support for the nomination has been "surprising."

Walbro Corp. President Lambert Althaver, meanwhile, reacted to the company's nomination by saying, "We think it's great."

"I'm aware of (the nomination) and, obviously, very pleased with it," Althaver remarked.

"We're very proud of the accomplishments of the company, and the community."

Petitions available for 3 open school board posts

Persons interested in running for one of 3 vacancies on the Cass City Board of Education have until 4 p.m. April 6 to file a nominating petition with the superintendent's office.

The positions—2 4-year terms and a one-year term—will be decided at a school election scheduled for June 6.

To be eligible for the school board, persons must be at least 18 years old, an American citizen, a resident of Michigan for at least 30 days and a registered school district elector.

Individuals who plan to file a nominating petition, available at the superintendent's office, will need to obtain a minimum of 20 signatures from registered school district voters. School Supt. Donald Crouse says he's recommending that potential candidates obtain at least 25 signatures in case one or more signatures is deemed void.

Current school board members up for re-election are veteran member Edward Scollon; Louis Horner, who is finishing his first 4-year term on the board, and Beverly Auten, who is finishing the 3rd year of former board member Kenneth Micklash's 4-year term.

The terms of Scollon and Horner are both for 4 years, while Auten's seat will be for one year. Auten was appointed to fill Micklash's seat when he resigned to become high school principal.

Just 15 attend agricultural business stress meeting

Only about 15 agricultural businessmen attended the all day stress management seminar put on by the Tuscola County Extension Program at the Colony House Friday.

"We were expecting a few more," said William Bortel, director of the extension program. The program put on 3 different lectures in February to help farmers cope with the problems they are having. Bortel said he felt that businesses that deal with the farmers are under pressures, too. "We want to be of help to these folks," said Bortel. There are "a lot of pressures in ag-business. They need help like this (seminar). It helps them look at the internal pressures."

Persons from agriculture related businesses in the 4 counties were invited to the seminar that started at 10 a.m. and went until 3:30 p.m. Businesses in Lapeer, Frankenmuth, Pigeon and Bad Axe were represented among others, however no one from a local business attended the seminar.

Jack W. Kaine, president of the consulting firm of J. W. Kaine, Ltd. out of Shawnee Mission, Kan., gave the 5 1/2 hour seminar that focused on recognizing stress and managing it.

Kaine's family owns a 2,000 acre farm in Kansas which he helps manage. He said that for about half the year, though, he is on the road giving seminars. He was an undergraduate at the University of Kansas and received his graduate degree from the University of Minnesota. He has been giving seminars for about 3 years.

"Stress is our internal response to outside pressure," Kaine said. "Stress is largely how we look at things. A lot of us get caught in the 'gottas.' I gotta do this and I gotta do that. It is self-taught things that generate pressure."

Kaine said that agricultural businesses almost breed stress, for both the customer as well as the businessman are usually in stressful situations. He urged those present to learn to be patient and respond, instead of react. Unlike plants and animals "we have the ability to pause and think about a situation," said Kaine. "But in (stressful) situations you're so busy reacting that you don't pause and that's

When assessments challenged

Assessors listen to facts

Persons who suspect their property tax assessment is too high can do something about it.

The assessment process determines the true cash value of property for the purpose of calculating property taxes. It is up to each of Michigan's 1,531 different units of local government to fairly assess the value of taxable properties within their jurisdiction.

True cash value is the "usual selling price" of property. Individuals who think their assessment is too high should begin by inspecting their records at the local assessor's office. The assessment process involves some judgment and uncertainty, so mistakes do occur.

Make sure:
- Recorded dimensions of the house and lot in question are accurate.

- Portions of the house, such as unfinished attics and basements have not been misrepresented in the description.

- The appraisal worksheet did not miss defects that would reduce the house's value such as settling foundations.

When errors are clearly pointed out, most assessors are willing to adjust an appraisal without requiring any formal appeal process.

However, persons who remain unsatisfied can file a formal appeal of an assessment with a local Board of Review.

Each jurisdiction has its own citizen Board of Review which hears assessment appeals and renders decisions. Most Boards of Review begin meeting on the second Monday of March, with meeting time and place advertised locally. A local assessor's office has more information. By law, an assessor's office must furnish the forms necessary to present an appeal.

Non-residents may file a written protest, but appeals generally must be made in person or by designated representative. Presentations before the Board should include documenting a specific case with examples of comparable housing sold at lower prices than the appraisal in question, or of sales patterns in the individual's neighborhood. Also, the appeal should be limited to questioning the validity of the tax assessment and cannot include any arguments regarding the tax rate. By limiting remarks in this way, the chances for a favorable judgement are improved.

For persons who are still dissatisfied with the decision, the next step is to write the Michigan Tax Tribunal (Treasury Department; P.O. Box 30230; Lansing, MI 48909; phone 517-373-8850). Appeals to the Tax Tribunal must be preceded by appeal through the Board of Review process and received no later than June 30 each year.

The letter should include the name and address of the property owner, the legal description of the property, the county and township or city where the property is located, the date of protest to the local board of review, and a brief statement of the reason for the appeal. There is no fee, and the Tribunal holds hearings at various locations throughout the state. Additional information on appealing property tax assessments is available by sending a stamped, self-addressed business envelope to: MTTC, 115 W. Allegan #540; Lansing, MI 48933.

The Michigan Tax Information Council is a non-partisan, non-profit organization formed in 1982 to provide clear, timely and useful information about Michigan tax and spending policies. Production of this column was funded in part from a grant from the Joyce Foundation of Chicago.

Meg's Peg

Sharing the wealth

by Melva E. Guinther

Probably everyone has, at one time or another, speculated about what he or she would do upon becoming suddenly wealthy.

When you read about some ordinary guy winning the lottery or unexpectedly inheriting a million dollars, don't you automatically try to imagine how such an event would affect your life?

It's hard for me. In the first place, I have trouble with the very concept of $1,000,000. Secondly, I don't buy lottery tickets and, to the best of my knowledge, have no wealthy benefactors.

However, I recently came across a possible windfall that was more conceivable, albeit no more likely.

It's a contest sponsored by Nestle. Grand prize is a catered chocolate lover's party (I qualify!), with $25,000 cash for the winner and $1,000 each for up to 25 invited guests.

All you have to do is guess the identity of the "World's Greatest Chocolate Lover" in the picture, send in the entry form and a UPC symbol from a participating Nestle product, and hope your name is drawn.

The mysterious chocolate lover, who is supposed to make an appearance at the party, is cleverly disguised behind a mask that covers her eyebrows, but it looks an awful lot like ANNA WHITE to me.

Allowing my imagination some latitude, I wondered which 25 people I'd invite if the party were mine.

After immediate family, of course, would be relatives, close friends, co-workers, or possibly the neediest persons I know?

Without much difficulty, I came up with 15 names. Choosing the remaining 10 would create a lot of pressure, though.

No matter what criteria were used, somebody would be hurt or angry for not being selected. Is it really worth the hassle?

Maybe it would be better if I received one of the 5 first prizes. $1,000 cash and a $25 Chocolate Lover's gift basket. Then I'd only have to decide with whom to share the basket of sweets.

Besides, it says in the fine print that if "the celebrity" isn't available, they have the right to substitute a celebrity of their choosing.

Who wants to have a chocolate party without ANNA?

On the other hand, maybe they'd send AT SA. A. That would really be sweet.

Decker youth is finalist in pageant

A 16-year-old Decker youth has been selected as a finalist in the 1987 Miss Michigan National Teenager Pageant scheduled for May 22, 23 and 24 at the Clarion Hotel in Lansing.

She is Jody L. Hazzard, a junior at the Deford Christian Academy, and the daughter of Garth D. and Joyce Hazzard, 4486 Van-Dyke Rd.

Hazzard is among a number of Michigan teens selected for the scholastic competition, designed for students who earn good grades, are involved in volunteer community service and have shown potential as leaders in school and civic organizations.

Jody L. Hazzard

During the pageant, contestants will be judged on scholastic achievement, poise-personality, and appearance.

According to state pageant director DiAnna VanSickle, the contest, in which more than 40,000 will be awarded in scholarships and prizes, is a showcase for the state's youth.

"In short," she added, "these girls represent the best of Michigan teenagers and many are destined to take their places as leaders in the their communities and state."

"If It Fitz..."

Recruiting game

By Jim Fitzgerald

Did you hear the big news? Andre Thaddies, a high school senior in Delray Beach, Fla., will attend the University of Minnesota next fall. I read about it in the Detroit Free Press and the Detroit News.

Who is Andre Thaddies? Unless you live in Delray Beach, you probably never heard of him. Why would readers of Detroit newspapers want to know where Andre Thaddies is going to college?

And it's not just Thaddies. Robert Barnes of Iseig, N.J., will attend Kent State University in Ohio. John Williams of Houston will go to the University of Wisconsin. I read about them in the Detroit newspapers, too.

In fact, both newspapers published the names and chosen colleges of hundreds of high school seniors from all over the nation. Why is that something Detroiters should read?

The young men play football.

Each of them is an amateur athlete barely past puberty. Each was recruited by various universities and colleges. Each just signed a national letter of intent revealing which school was successful in obtaining his services. Extra, extra, read all about it!

Andre Thaddies, living in a little Florida town, would probably be thrilled to learn that around three million newspaper readers up north in Detroit could read that he is six feet tall, 180 pounds, and played running back and strong safety in high school.

Some people say big colleges put too much emphasis on sports, especially football and basketball. Nonsense. Thaddies and the other recruits got their names in newspapers thousands of miles from their homes because they excel in football. Other high school students excel in mathematics or literature. Their height, weight, specialty and chosen college will be listed in newspapers nationwide just as soon as they decide which recruiting offer to accept.

It is difficult for a 17-year-old to resist the blandishments of a UCLA alumnus who offers him a part-time job shoveling snow at $100 per hour if he'll sign a letter promising to study mathematics in Los Angeles. But then there is the University of Texas professor who spent so much time in the recruit's home, talking to his parents and offering him a free oil change (with oil well attached) if he would study mathematics in Austin.

Faced with this sort of pressure, it's no wonder an impressionable young mathematics student can't decide where to go to college. But when the decision is made, you will surely read about it in your local paper, no matter where you live.

Actually, I suspect it's harder for a more intellectual student — a poet, say — to choose a college than it is for an athlete. This theory is illustrated in the current Sports Illustrated, in an article about Sean Higgins, a basketball player who signed a letter of intent to go to UCLA but is now trying to renege so he can attend Michigan. Higgins claimed a wealthy UCLA booster, Steven Antebi, helped lure him to UCLA with offers of easy money.

And Antebi told the Los Angeles Times: "He (Higgins) has obviously been counseled by professionals. If you met with Sean Higgins at any time, he has trouble putting three words together...And he wasn't even able to carry on a dialogue."

Antebi apparently doesn't think much of Higgins' language skills, and it's safe to guess that Antebi thinks Higgins is not very smart. Smart enough for UCLA maybe, but not as smart as, say, a poet, who probably can put three words together.

But even an average poet might have difficulty deciding between two or more colleges that make him offers he can't refuse. So naturally it takes the poet a long time to make up his mind.

That's the only reason this season's crop of high school football players received more publicity than the poet crop. The athletes made news by signing their letters of intent, but the poets are still trying to find a big university whose library is as well equipped as its locker room.

"Battle of the Books"

Reading "battles" begin

With knowledge for ammunition, several 3rd, 4th, 5th and 6th graders took to the "battlefield" Monday afternoon as the 7th annual "Battle of the Books" got underway at Rawson Memorial Library.

The single elimination tournament will see a total of 16 3rd and 4th grade division teams, and 15 5th and 6th grade division teams test their knowledge of several books read over the past several weeks.

The first round will be completed Friday afternoon when the final 6 teams compete for a place in the second round. Competition Friday is set to begin at 3:30 p.m. at the library.

Second round action will be held the week of March

9. The third round will be held the following week and the final round will be on March 23.

Members of the 4 teams that make it to the finals will each receive ribbons; everyone participating will receive a certificate, according to librarian Barb Hutchinson.

Teams which don't advance to the finals will participate in an "honors" round scheduled for March 28.

"Battle of the Books" is sponsored by Rawson Memorial Library and the Cass City Intermediate, Campbell, Deford and Evergreen School libraries.

Debate over MOE payment settled by county board, 4-1

A debate among Tuscola County Commissioners concerning the final 1986 Maintenance of Effort payment for the county Medical Care Facility ended with a decision to cover most of the bill with general fund money rather than with millage funds.

The board, during a regular meeting Feb. 24, voted 4-1 in favor of paying the majority of the monthly $12,418 payment with general fund money (about $10,903) left over from 1986.

According to County Controller Michael Hoagland, the action means the 1987 general fund contingency account will be reduced from $103,000 to about $92,000. The payment affects the 1987 budget because the books on 1986 have already been closed, he said, adding, "It's an expenditure that will be charged in 1987."

The remaining portion of the $12,418 payment, about $1,515, will be covered with millage money approved by voters in 1986, Hoagland remarked. The multi-year, 1/2-mill request approved by voters begins in 1987 and is for Maintenance of Effort payments and capital improvements.

A roll call vote Feb. 24 saw board chairman William Worth (District 7), and commissioners Christopher Taylor (District 4), John H. Goodchild (District 3) and Kim D. Glaspie (District 2) cast "yes" votes on the motion; Commissioner Michael Green (District 5) voted "no."

In other business during the regular meeting, the board approved a motion commending the county Human Development Commission as a community action agency serving the county through the provision of needed programs.

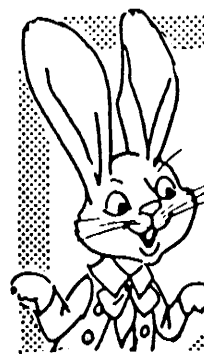

The action followed a report from HDC Director Mary A. Vandemark on the local agency's activities.

The board also heard an update concerning the County Planning Commission, and received an annual report from the register of deeds.

Worth was authorized to send a letter to each of the county's school districts inviting participation in the selection of a county seal.

County Clerk Elsie Hicks indicated that details of the program are not yet available, but added that county-wide participation is anticipated. Worth also appointed Commissioner Robert Russell (District 6) to the Thumb Area Commission on Aging Board, and appointed Dean Wingert to the Economic Development Corporation. Wingert replaces Kenneth Lynch, who resigned.

(And anyone else he can get to help.)

Charles McPhail thought for 17 years that if he didn't have any bad luck he wouldn't have had any luck at all. That's all changed today. He received a letter last week from the Michigan United Conservation Club announcing that ticket number 45,501 was a winner.

With the letter a check for $2,500 was enclosed.

It's sort of like the prohibition days. You can pass the laws, but can you get them enforced? All over the airports these days are prominent signs saying that smoking is prohibited.

Under the signs are passengers puffing away like there is no tomorrow. That happened in every airport visited.

Still, it's apparent that the no smoking campaign is bearing fruit. On one short flight on a recent trip to Utah, smoking was completely banned.

The reason? Of about 150 passengers on that plane, only one person indicated a desire to sit in the smoking section.

Former area resident is certified anesthetist

Former Cass City resident Dyan L. Sefton, 29, recently passed the national certification exam for nurse anesthetist.

The achievement places her among a number of graduates of accredited schools of nursing who are experienced in critical-care nursing and are legally licensed as registered nurses.

Sefton, now of Louisville, Ky., graduated from the Lee Hospital School of Anesthesia for Nurses in Johnstown, Pa. She also received a bachelor's degree in natural science from the University of Pittsburgh at Johnstown.

The daughter of Leroy and Vivian Sefton of Decker, Sefton works at Kosair's Children's Hospital, one of only 2 hospitals in the United States with a successful transplant program for infants and children.

Walbro announces 2 new appointments

Walbro Corporation has announced appointment of Clark A. Searle as vice-president, International Automotive, a new position. Kenneth E. Selzer has been appointed vice-president, Automotive Products Group, succeeding Searle in that position. The appointments were announced by Robert H. Walbro, executive vice-president, Walbro Corp.

As vice-president, International Automotive, Searle will be responsible for the expansion of Walbro's international automotive business and the development of the company's recently established European joint venture with Champion Spark Plug Company and Japanese joint venture with Mitsubishi Electric Company.

As vice-president, Automotive Products Group, Selzer will be responsible

2 films on smoking set

Two films on the hazards of smoking to both the smoker and non-smoker will be shown beginning at 7:30 p.m. March 9 at Rawson Memorial Library in Cass City.

The films are being offered through Hills and Dales General Hospital's "Community Awareness" program.

for all aspects of Walbro's electric fuel pump and fuel module operations in North America.

Searle joined Walbro as vice-president, Automotive Products Group, in 1983. He had previously been with Eaton Corporation in a variety of positions since 1960, serving most recently as Director-Capital Appropriations.

Searle holds a B.S. in Mechanical Engineering from Northwestern University, and an M.B.A. from Western Michigan University. He is a member of the Society of Automotive Engineers.

Searle is married and has 5 children. He and his wife, JoAnne, reside in Caro.

Selzer comes to Walbro from Semitool Industries, Inc., where he held the position of executive vice-president and chief operating officer. Prior to joining Semitool, Selzer spent 12 years with CTS Corporation in a variety of positions, ultimately serving as corporate vice-president for worldwide sales.

Selzer holds a B.S. in Engineering from Purdue University and an M.S. in Industrial Engineering from the Krannert School of Management. He is a veteran of the United States Air Force, serving as a pilot in Vietnam.

Selzer is married and has 2 children. He and his wife, Judy, will relocate to the Caro area from Montana.

The Haire Net

It takes a while, but eventually the message sinks in. We now take the keys from the ignition of the cars parked in back of the Chronicle. It's the pits, but we have no choice. It's inconvenient because lots of different people drive the cars on various assignments.

As most everyone knows, a couple of weeks ago joy riders snatched the car in the middle of the afternoon and abandoned it near Detroit. They had to drive the car on the sidewalk to get it out of the Chronicle parking lot. I don't say that I'm a slow learner, but 15 years or so ago another car was taken from the same spot. That one got only as far as Deford.

The question I heard most often after the news got around was, John, can I borrow your car? Really, I should have said, sure, and let them take their chances. Most of them wouldn't be caught dead in that car.

Taking the diesel convinces me that the thieves were rank amateurs. Of all the cars in all the parking lots in all the villages, that '81 Olds should have been the last one taken.

Diesels aren't the most popular of cars these days to begin with. That particular car had a smashed front end suffered in a bout with a big deer on M-81. It has clocked around 90,000 miles.

The final chapter of this saga has yet to be written. A little background music please. As previously reported, this car went through a period when getting it to start defied the experts at GM for several months and it was finally fixed at a little gas station garage in Colorado.

For a year and a half now that car has started faithfully, rain or shine. It became so reliable that my wife even drove it out of town. (She doesn't care how they look or how they run as long as they start and are sure to get her where she is going.) It was a compliment to that old Olds when she deigned to get behind the wheel.

My worst fear is that the joy riders did something to that car and it will revert to its bad habits and we'll be unable to drive it for another 6 months. Why should driving the car to Detroit change anything? All I can say is that when my elder daughter went to the garage where the car was towed, it was impossible to get it started.

It could be that the thieves poured gas into the tank instead of diesel. As I said, the ending of this saga has yet to be written. That wouldn't be as bad for me (worse for the insurance company) as having the thing inexplicably fail to start for some unknown reason.

If I had been real lucky, the guys that took that car would have gotten clean away and been forced to keep driving it.

It would have served them right.

Obituaries

Michael Galloway

Funeral services for long-time Decker resident Michael D. Galloway, 33, were held Friday at the Marsh Funeral Chapel in Marlette.

Galloway, 4036 Decker Rd., died Feb. 25 at Marlette Community Hospital following a brief illness.

Galloway was born March 29, 1953, in Marlette, the son of Lee and Dorris Galloway. The 1971 Marlette High School graduate married Dona Hudson on Feb. 16, 1974, in Marlette. He was an auto repairman for the General Motors Corporation's Pontiac-Fiero plant.

Galloway is survived by his parents, wife and 3 children, Troy, 16, Timothy, 11, and Terri, 9; 5 brothers, Brian Galloway of Alaska, Daniel of Snover, Joel of Clifford, Leon of Decker and Brent of Colorado; one sister, Merry Galloway of Decker, and a grandmother, Iva Beach of Clio.

The Rev. John R. Allan of the Marlette United Methodist Church officiated at the funeral service. Burial was at Evergreen Township Cemetery.

Memorials can be sent to the American Cancer Society.

Marie Meredith

Funeral services for Marie Meredith, who died at her Snover home Feb. 26, were held Sunday at the RLDS Church, Shabbona. She was 70.

Miss Meredith was the Shabbona area correspondent for the Cass City Chronicle.

Meredith, 4155 W. Decker Rd., was born June 5, 1916, in Sanilac County. A member of the Shabbona RLDS Church, she was preceded in death by a brother, Clark Meredith.

She is survived by one brother, Grant Meredith of Snover; 2 nephews, Alvin Meredith and Dale Meredith, both of Snover; 3 nieces, Ann Powell of Troy, Loraine Hill of Sandusky and Ruth Klee of Minden City, and other relatives.

Elder Dean Smith of Decker officiated at the funeral service. Burial was in Elkland Township Cemetery.

Consuelo Salcido

Mrs. Consuelo Salcido, 62, of Gagetown died Wednesday, Feb. 25, at Hills and Dales General Hospital in Cass City after a brief illness.

She was born Feb. 3, 1925, in San Antonio, Texas, the daughter of Antonio and Otilia (Reyes) Garza. Miss Garza came to Detroit when a young woman.

She was married to Anthony Salcido Nov. 17, 1945, in Sebewaing. They made their home in Lincoln Park, coming to Gagetown in 1984.

Mrs. Salcido was a member of Faith Gospel Tabernacle, Bad Axe.

She is survived by her husband, Anthony; 5 sons, Louis Salcido of Detroit, Thomas Salcido of Lincoln Park, Sgt. Daniel Salcido, USAF Great Falls, Mont., Carlos Salcido of Wyandotte and Robert Salcido of Gagetown; one daughter, Mrs. Joseph (Lenor) Szabo of Melvindale; 4 grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. Arthur Flores of San Antonio, Texas, and one brother, Antonio Garza of Essexville.

Funeral services were conducted Saturday at Little's Funeral Home, Cass City, with Rev. James Willett, pastor of Faith Gospel Tabernacle of Bad Axe, officiating.

Burial was in Hillside Cemetery, Elmwood Township.

Valedictorian, salutatorian

Ubly names top 2 in class of '87

Ubly High School Principal W.C. Courliss recently announced the school's valedictorian and salutatorian for 1987. Rochelle Puvalowski has been chosen valedictorian, while Karen Goniwiecha is the salutatorian.

Puvalowski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Puvalowski, has a grade point average of 3.958 after 7 semesters following a college prep curriculum.

Rochelle Puvalowski

Puvalowski has attended Ubly Community Schools since kindergarten. She was the recipient of medals of highest achievement in Algebra I, Short Stories and Writing I and II, Accounting, Typing I, and Short-hand. She has been awarded certificates in Biology I and II, Algebra II, and Speech I.

Puvalowski has been a member of the National Honor Society for 3 years and is the president of Ubly's Chapter this year. Through her business classes, she has attended Delta College Business Skills Day for 2 years and has received a first place trophy in Typing I and placed 3rd in Short-hand I.

Puvalowski has won a number of national awards, including the United States Business Education Award, the National English Merit Award, and the Academic All-American award. She has been a member of the Tri-County Honors Band for one year and a member of the junior play.

Puvalowski has participated in the National Music Scholarship Association for 2 years for piano and has attended piano sessions in Interlochen. She has accompanied band students at the Solo and Band Ensemble festival in Caro and the University of Michigan-Flint. She is also an active member in 4-H and serves on the Huron County 4-H Council. Through 4-H, she has gone to Michigan State University competing in Tel-Awards.

She is a member of St. John's Catholic Church, Ubly, where she has been an organist for 6 years and has recently become the head organist.

Puvalowski plans to attend Central Michigan University and major in Court and Conference Reporting. Goniwiecha, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Goniwiecha, has maintained a grade point average of 3.872 after 7 semesters following a college preparatory curriculum.

Goniwiecha attended Ruth Sts. Peter and Paul Catholic School for elementary and junior high school. She has been at Ubly Community Schools since her freshman year.

She was the recipient of medals of highest achievement for Typing I and leadership. She has also earned certificates of award in American Literature and Short Stories and Writing II, Algebra II, Geometry, Speech I, Biology II, General Business Short Stories and Writing I, Spanish I, Algebra I, and Biology I.

Karen Goniwiecha

Goniwiecha also has been the recipient of several national awards, including National English Merit, Academic All-American, and the National Service and Leadership Award.

Goniwiecha has been a member of Ubly's National Honor Society for 3 years. She has also participated in the junior and senior plays and was class representative as a sophomore and class president in her junior year. She is a member of the Senior Trip Club and was a hospital aide at Huron Memorial Hospital in Health Careers during her junior year.

Goniwiecha has been a cheerleader at Ubly for 4 years, 3 as captain of the squad. She participated at Kingston Competition as a sophomore and junior placing first and 3rd, respectively. Goniwiecha has attended cheerleading camps for 2 years and participated with the Ubly squad in the USCA National Grand Champions competition this year. The squad went on to further competition in Lansing where they placed 22nd out of 40 squads.

Goniwiecha is a member of the Sts. Peter and Paul Roman Catholic Church in Ruth and has been a choir member for 3 years at the church.

After graduation, Goniwiecha will be attending Mercy College of Detroit where she will be studying to become a registered nurse.

Additional honor students in the class of 1987 are: Nanette Maikrzk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Maikrzk; William Romberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Romberg; Michael Volmering, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Volmering; David Landeryou, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Landeryou; Scott Czewski, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Czewski; Melinda Gentner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Gentner; Nancy Egnor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Egnor, and Gloria Dropeski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dropeski.

Letter to the editor

Area man questions UPS project cost

Dear Editor,

We notice with interest the report of how the village hopes to increase the price of water and sewage to our citizens.

We also notice the plan to subsidize the new plant for U.P.S., in the Industrial Park for $55,000 to $60,000.

This has some of the earmarks of another Welfare Cadillac to business at the expense of the taxpayers. Is it?

The Industrial Park appears to an average citizen to be a white elephant to its owners. It is not the duty of the taxpayers to have the general funds spent to benefit these owners or U.P.S.

There are dirt roads and streets in Cass City that have been such for years, including the one running from the Elementary School to the High School. These roads deserve improving instead of doing public paving for U.P.S.

I hope it is possible to have Attorney General Frank Kelley and others check into this matter before allowing the village to throw higher water and sewer rates at its citizens.

The Detroit News recently made a big deal at Bad Axe of Sheriff Stokan's allowing jail inmates to work. It seems that that incident was blown out of proportion. I wonder if Cass City can stand as close scrutiny of the water and sewage plant activities.

I believe that Federal Funds also were used in building the plant for sewage in Cass City. We hope that the Feds are carefully monitoring the use of all funds at the plant.

Sincerely,
Willard L. Dodson

Piano gift to Pro House selected by Zonta Club

Cass City Zonta Club officials have selected a piano which will be purchased and donated to Provincial House, with delivery expected in the near future.

The news was announced at a recent meeting of the club.

Persons interested in making a donation toward the purchase can contact club treasurer Florence Karr at 665-2258.

In other business at the Feb. 17 meeting, members learned that 50 Zonta Lotto Calendars sold by the club have netted 3 $25-prize winners through a daily drawing.

A nominating committee was elected to select officers for the next 2 years. Also, Donna Wischmeyer was the winner in a quilt drawing.

A report was given concerning a Feb. 14 Annual Senior Sweetheart Luncheon, when each club member was accompanied by a senior citizen as their guest. Entertainment was provided by a bell choir from the Presbyterian Church, and Girl Scout Troop 598, which is sponsored by the club.

2 Cass City youths charged with unlawful use of vehicle

Two 17-year-old Cass City High School students were issued separate felony charges of unlawful use of a motor vehicle, by the Tuscola County District Court. A preliminary exam is set for March 13 at 9 a.m.

Duane S. Wilcox, Lot 17, Lakeside Dr., Huntsville Trailer Park, Cass City, and Michael D. Long, 5863 Argyle Rd., Decker, allegedly took "without authority and without intent to steal, an automobile belonging to the Cass City Chronicle," according to a court report.

Another student was also involved in the Feb. 16 incident, but no report has been filed as of yet. According to a police report, the missing vehicle was recovered Feb. 17 in Belleville by Van Buren Township Police officials.

Long and Wilcox face a maximum sentence of 2 years in prison and/or $1,000. Both youths paid the 10 percent of their $3,500 bond.

A 24-year-old Unionville man faces felony charges on felonious assault, according to a district court report.

Timothy W. Sawyer, 4677 Colwood Rd., faces a maximum penalty of 4 years and/or $2,000 stemming from a Feb. 19 incident.

According to a report, Sawyer allegedly "did make an assault upon Ronald Begeman with a rifle without intending to commit the crime of murder or to inflict great bodily harm."

Sawyer's preliminary exam is set for March 13 at 9 a.m. He paid 10 percent of his $6,000 bond.

CIRCUIT COURT

A 27-year-old Caro woman was sentenced in Tuscola County Circuit Court Monday to 6 months in the county jail and 5 years probation after she pleaded guilty to larceny by conversion at a preliminary exam Jan. 26.

Regenia M. Bradley, 1378 Boy Scout Rd., pleaded guilty to taking money which belonged to the Federal Emergency Management Agency and the Family Grant Program which was in excess of $100.

In a plea bargain accepted by the court, Bradley could only receive a maximum sentence of one year in the county jail and no other charges be brought against her, according to a court report.

George L. Shappell Jr., 25, 242 E. Alma St., Flint, pleaded guilty to 2 of 4 counts of criminal sexual conduct, Monday in circuit court.

The court accepted the plea of guilty to CSC in the second and third degree and set sentencing for March 23 at 1:30 p.m. Shappell faces 15 years in prison for both counts.

According to a report, on Jan. 24, Shappell "did engage in sexual penetration with another person being at least 13 years of age...but under 16 years." The second charge stemmed from a Feb. 5 incident.

The court has yet to decide if the two other charges of CSC in the third and fourth degree will be dismissed.

PLEA REFUSED

The circuit court Monday refused to accept a 26-year-old Marlette woman's plea of guilty to two counts of nonsufficient fund checks and will set a pretrial.

Susan C. Ross, 7363 West Marlette Rd., is being charged with one count of no account check and two counts of nonsufficient fund checks. She faces a maximum penalty of 2 years in prison and $500 for the no account check charge and 13 months in prison and/or $500 for each of the other two charges.

According to a court report, Ross wrote a check for $258.51 to Fisher's Big Wheel in Caro Nov. 6, 1986, when she did not have an account at the bank which the check was from nor did she have enough funds to cover the check.

Also in a separate incident on Oct. 27, 1986, she wrote a check for $253.62 and she did not have the funds to cover it.

3 hurt in 2-car mishap

A 2-car accident Friday night which resulted in minor injuries to 3 persons was one of several mishaps reported by the Cass City Police Department over the past 8 days.

According to the report, a vehicle driven by Brent Kostanko, 6909 Pringle Rd., was following a vehicle driven by Deborah E. Blue, 4187 N. Hurds Corner Rd., when Kostanko's vehicle back-ended Blue's vehicle on Main Street east of Ale Street. The incident occurred when another vehicle, in front of Blue, stopped to make a left turn.

Blue, Kostanko and a 16-year-old passenger in Kostanko's vehicle all sustained minor injuries, the report stated. Kostanko's passenger was transported to Hills and Dales General Hospital for treatment of cuts to her forehead and knee, while Blue sought her own treatment.

Kostanko was cited for following another vehicle too closely.

In another 2-car mishap, reported Feb. 24, 2 16-year-old Cass City youths were traveling southbound on Seeger Street north of Main Street when one of the vehicles drifted onto the path of the other vehicle.

No citation was issued following the accident, which resulted in slight damage to both vehicles.

On Sunday, a vehicle driven by Deckerville resident April M. Belanger, 3479 Main St., struck a vehicle driven by a 16-year-old Cass City youth on N. Seeger Street north of Chestnut Boulevard.

The report stated that Belanger was northbound on Seeger when she passed an unknown vehicle in a "no passing" zone. She then struck the Cass City youth's vehicle, which was making a legal right turn onto a driveway.

No citation was issued. Both vehicles sustained light damage.

Robert M. Bouvier Jr., 122 Sawyer St., Grand

Blanc, was one of 2 persons who reported that their parked vehicles had been struck by unknown vehicles.

Bouvier stated that his vehicle was parked in a lot near Hills and Dales General Hospital when it was struck in the rear Saturday. He reported slight damage.

Phillip W. Martin, 6439 W. Main St., discovered his vehicle slightly damaged after it had been parked behind his residence. The vehicle, parked near North Alley east of West Street, also was struck in the rear Saturday.

Two car/deer mishaps were reported. Beverly J. Daily, 3160 Sanilac Rd., Mayville, struck a deer while traveling north on Cemetery Road 1/4 mile south of Delong Road. Light damage resulted in the accident, which occurred at about 6:45 a.m. Friday.

Also hitting a deer was Clarke R. Haire, 6389 Vandike Rd. Haire was westbound on Cass City Road 1/4 mile east of Schwegler road Feb. 24 when a deer ran into his vehicle, causing slight damage. The accident occurred at about 6:55 p.m.

Brewster Shaw okay after jet fire Feb. 24

Astronaut and Cass City native Brewster Shaw escaped injury Feb. 24 when the jet he and another NASA pilot were flying apparently was hit by lightning and caught fire.

The 41-year-old Shaw, and NASA pilot Robert A. Rivers, 35, left the burning T-38 jet after an emergency landing at the Los Alamitos Army Air Field near Los Angeles, CA. The pair was taken to Long Beach Naval Hospital for observation, and later released.

The jet was "hit by lightning," Shaw's father, Brewster Shaw Sr., said last week after receiving a phone call from his son. "He just said he was okay. It caused some smoke in the plane and (they) had to land."

According to published reports, Shaw and Rivers refused to bail out of the burning aircraft because the jet was flying over a residential area.

The incident is being investigated, according to a NASA spokesman, who indicated that Rivers was flying the twin engine, 2-seat jet when a fire warning light appeared. The crew shut down the craft's right engine, and a second warning light appeared signaling the possibility of a fire in the left engine.

The crew was able to make the landing with the left engine operating at reduced thrust, the spokesman said.

According to the elder Shaw, his son, who is stationed in Houston, was making a routine, weekly trip to Los Angeles to check improvements to the shuttle program.

Shuttle astronauts use the T-38 jets on a routine basis for trips from Houston to various agency field centers and contractor sites.

Shaw is a veteran of 2 space shuttle flights. He served as co-pilot aboard the shuttle Columbia in November 1983 for the first Spacelab mission. He also served as commander of the shuttle Atlantis for a mission in November 1985.

Last week's scare wasn't Shaw's first, according to his father. Shaw was a fighter pilot for one year in Vietnam, and was forced to eject from a jet several years ago while flying over Georgia.

Elkland firemen to make $5 for each meet attended

The Elkland Township Board at its Monday night meeting decided to pay the Elkland Township firemen $5 per meeting instead of the usual quarterly $20, according to Norma Wallace, township clerk.

Wallace said that if a fireman attends all the meetings each quarter he can be paid up to $30, but to be paid the fireman must attend the monthly meetings, which are held every first Monday of the month.

The board also moved to hire the Michigan Department of Corrections to remove road brush, but the cost is not to exceed $3,000. A representative from the Caro branch was at the meeting to answer any questions the board members had.

The last item that the board approved was the spring cleaning at the Elkland Township cemetery. The board moved that all arrangements must be removed from the plots by April 1 and can be replaced again after the cleaning is done on May 1.

REV. JOHN R. WOOD, PASTOR

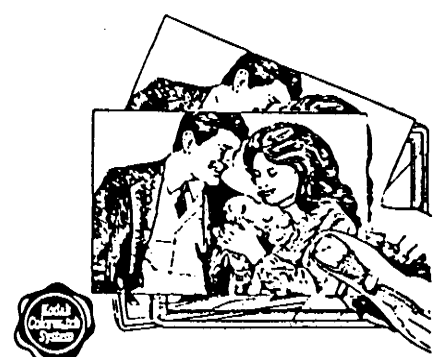

New books at the library

THE EYES OF THE DRAGON by Stephen King (fantasy). This is the story of the crusade of Peter and Thomas, two princely brothers, to destroy the 400-year-old Flagg, the evil magician who threatens to control the kingdom of Delain after the death of their father, King Roland, who remained unwed until he was past 50. Flagg has imprisoned Peter, the heir apparent, on suspicion of murdering the king (actually it was Flagg who did it) and installed the profligate second son, an easier mark, on the throne.

RIDE A TIGER by Harold Livingston (fiction). This is the story of the successful rise of Leo Gorodetsky from lookout for the neighborhood craps game to underworld gambling czar. The author attributes the success of bootlegging, the national networking of organized criminals, the creation of Las Vegas, the rise of gambling in Cuba, and the Bay of Pigs affair (although here blame is shared with the Kennedys) all to the genius, business acumen, and chutzpah of Gorodetsky. Much is made of Gorodetsky's Jewishness, particularly by his Italian "business partners," who resent his heritage as much as his success. Although Gorodetsky is in fact a man without religious beliefs, he does eventually become a staunch supporter of (and financial contributor to) Israel. Somehow, through all the killings and corruption, Gorodetsky emerges as the character he claims to be—a businessman.

WATCHERS by Dean Koontz (fiction). When Travis Cornell encounters a stray dog while hiking, he quickly realizes that the animal is most unusual and that something terrifying is stalking them both. The encounter with the dog is the beginning of a tightly woven plot involving genetic manipulation that has created two extraordinary animals; one is the dog, named Einstein, the other is a murderous hybrid called "The Outsider." Hunted down by both the government and a professional killer who has learned the secret of the animals, Travis, Einstein and Nora Devon, a lonely woman betrayed by man and canine, attempt to escape their pursuers all the while knowing that a confrontation with The Outsider is inevitable.

Stress program scheduled

Persons interested in learning symptoms related to stress, and what can be done to cope with stress, may want to attend a program on the topic scheduled for 7 p.m. March 18 at Hills and Dales General Hospital.

Cass City physician Beatriz Martin, M.D., is offering the program, which includes the film, "Stress and Illness," as a free service to the community. The program will be followed by a discussion, with Martin and a clinical psychologist answering questions.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Laurie spent from Friday to Monday in Detroit with Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Laurie. Several homes have changed hands here recently; Mrs. Stanley Fike has purchased the John Frankowski home on W. Main Street; Mrs. Frank Reader has sold her home to Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Ryan, and Mr. and Mrs. Garfield Turner have bought the John Kelley home on S. Seeger Street.

HEALTH TIPS
Diabetes remains undiagnosed in nearly half of all cases

Could you have diabetes and not know it?

The answer is an unequivocal yes. Of the estimated 11 million people in the United States who have diabetes only six million know it. An additional four to five million have diabetes but haven't yet been diagnosed. All told, that's about 5 percent of the population.

This year, there will be about 13,000 new cases of insulin-dependent diabetes diagnosed in people under the age of 20. Another half million Americans will develop non-insulin-dependent diabetes -- and if past trends continue, about 85 percent of them will be over the age of 45.

But since the earliest extant descriptions of diabetes go back some 3,500 years, why is it estimated that there are almost as many undiagnosed cases as diagnosed cases? The answer is that although there are plenty of warning signs of diabetes, they are -- for the most part -- nonspecific and easily missed, particularly for non-insulin-dependent diabetes, which accounts for 85 to 90 percent of people with diabetes.

Insulin-dependent diabetes is not that difficult to spot, although only a physician can actually diagnose the disease. The major warning signs, usually found in youngsters under the age of 20, are:

- Frequent urination, accompanied by an unusual thirst and the drinking of an excessive amount of fluids.

- Rapid weight loss, with frequent attacks of fatigue, irritability and nausea.

- Extreme hunger. When these symptoms occur suddenly, a physician must be seen at once.

Non-Insulin-Dependent Diabetes

Most Americans with diabetes, however, have the non-insulin-dependent type of disease, and that's harder to find. Usually it develops quite gradually -- so gradually, in fact, that many patients are diagnosed only after they have gone to the doctor for treatment of one of the many life-threatening complications of diabetes such as heart attack, kidney disease or eye problems. The major warning signs of non-insulin-dependent diabetes may include any of the previously mentioned signs, or:

- Easy fatigue. - Blurred vision or any change in sight. - A tingling feeling, numbness or pain in legs, feet, fingers or toes. - Excessive weight. - Frequent skin infections or itchiness. - Drowsiness. - Slow healing of wounds.

If any of those warning signs are evident, a diagnostic test is called for because, while diabetes cannot yet be cured by medical science, it can be controlled by daily insulin injections in insulin-dependent diabetes, and usually by diet and exercise in non-insulin-dependent diabetes. If you have any of the diabetic symptoms, the American Diabetes Association (ADA) says you should be tested for the disease. And if you have more than one of those signs, a checkup is even more imperative.

One more factor, and a most important one: The ADA says a diabetes screening test is absolutely vital during pregnancy for a woman who has given birth to a baby weighing more than nine pounds.

Actually, the once standard urine test can only hint of diabetes. Now, however, physicians can come up with a highly accurate diagnosis with blood testing, which is usually done after the patient has gone without food for at least eight hours, or directly after a meal or after ingesting a measured amount of glucose (basic sugar). Each test, of course, examines different values.

Diabetes is Life-Threatening

But most of those warning signs are more discomforting than life-threatening and thus are not a cause for immediate concern. Then why bother to check for diabetes? There are six striking reasons:

1. Diabetes with its complications is the number three cause of death by disease in the U.S.

2. Diabetes is the number one cause of new cases of blindness in Americans between the ages of 20 and 74.

3. More than two million Americans are hospitalized each year because of diabetes.

4. Diabetes decreases life-expectancy approximately one-third, although this decrease can be prevented by treatment. Diabetic patients are leading longer lives these days than they used to.

5. People with diabetes are at a higher risk of heart disease, stroke, kidney failure and severe nerve damage.

6. Diabetes causes 20,000 leg and foot amputations annually as the result of gangrene infections.

Who Should Be Checked for Diabetes?

One in every 20 Americans has diabetes, and picking out those who are at highest risk is not, with the wealth of information we have compiled over the years, as difficult as it might seem.

Four groups of Americans are generally conceded to be at highest risk: those who are overweight, are over the age of 45, have relatives who have had diabetes, and/or women who are pregnant. Some authorities say the probability of getting diabetes doubles with each decade of life and with each 20 percent of excess weight.

In general, all pregnant women and anyone with two or more risk factors should be screened -- even without any symptoms.

If there's a history of diabetes in your family, your chances of developing non - insulin - dependent diabetes are quite high. Some studies indicate that if one of your parents plus a grandparent and an aunt or uncle have had the disease, your chances of developing it are near 85 percent.

There are, of course, other risk factors to be considered: - Diabetes strikes women nearly twice as often as men. - Black Americans develop diabetes at double the rate of whites, and black females have the highest diabetes-related death rates.

- Hispanic Americans are five times more prone to develop diabetes than other ethnic groups in the U.S. There's not much you can do about your genetic makeup, of course, or about your age. There is, however, a lot you can do about your weight -- and obesity has long been known to be a major risk factor in non-insulin-dependent diabetes.

Proper diet and exercise are the primary treatment approaches although oral medication or even insulin may be required in some cases. This year the American Diabetes Association, whose more than 700 chapters are scattered across all 50 states, has undertaken a national program to uncover the estimated five million undiagnosed diabetic Americans and to further educate clinicians about the latest advances in treatment. The key lies in finding those who have diabetes, by teaching people to spot one of the warning signs of the disease -- and then inform his or her doctor. Diabetes can be effectively treated, but only after it is diagnosed.

Volunteers are sought for Crisis Center program

The Thumb Area Assault Crisis Center will be conducting orientation sessions for prospective volunteers in the area who are interested in working with victims of domestic violence.

Two, 2-hour sessions beginning at 1 and 7 p.m. will be offered in Huron, Sanilac and Lapeer counties. The sessions will be held March 9 at the Huron County Department of Social Services, March 12 at McKenzie Memorial Hospital and March 13 at Lapeer General Hospital.

The training is designed to teach skills in effective listening, empathy, crisis intervention and problem-solving techniques. In addition, participants will be introduced to the dynamics of domestic violence and what their role will be in dealing with related problems.

Once trained, volunteers will be qualified to work in the newly-opened shelter for abused women and to assist clients with advocacy issues, transportation arrangements and crisis management in the area covering Tuscola, Huron, Sanilac and Lapeer counties.

Additional information about the training program is available by contacting Mary A. Osentoski at (517) 673-4121, or 1-800-292-3666.

Speaking talk set

A 3-day seminar for persons who would like to improve their communication skills has been scheduled for March 12-14 at the Lamotte Missionary Church.

Carol Kent will be the featured speaker. A Port Huron resident, she holds a Bachelor of Science degree in speech education and a Master of Arts degree in communication arts.

Seminar participants will have the opportunity to learn skills such as speaking with enthusiasm and proper use of gestures; how to teach a Bible passage or chapter with clarity; how to prepare various outlines; how to organize and file speaking materials; and proper dress and evaluation of vocal variety, tone and eye contact.

Participants will each receive a cassette tape of their presentation to help in evaluating their own strengths and weaknesses.

To register for the seminar, which begins at 6:15 p.m. and ends at 10 p.m. Thursday and Friday, and from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Saturday, persons can call the church at (517) 635-7204.

Mrs. Tom (Ethel) Jamieson of Caseville, Mrs. Elva (Madeline) Haggitt of Wisner and Mrs. Gerry Carolan visited last Sunday at the home of Lena and Ray Rabideau.

Craig Carolan, theological student at Pontifical Josephinum in Columbus, OH, spent a week's spring break with his parents, Evelyn and Francis Goslin.

Sunday, Feb. 22, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Seurnyck entertained their children and grandchildren for dinner in celebration of the birthdays of David Seurnyck of Houston and Shelly Seurnyck Donaldson of Hunting Woods. In addition to David and the Donaldsons, guests were Mr. and Mrs. Gary Cummings and family of Essexville, the Clare Comments and the Al Seurnycks.

Pat and Joy LaFave were callers last Friday evening at the home of Muriel and Agatha LaFave.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ashmore accompanied Mrs. Sally Wood and Katie last Monday when they attended the funeral of Mrs. Dorothy Steven in Pontiac.

Members of the Williamson Farm Bureau Club, Stella Pisarek, Marge Karr and Louise Ashmore, helped serve at the annual dinner last Tuesday at the Farm Bureau building in Bad Axe.

In celebration of the birthday of Mrs. Don (Mamie) Russell of Unionville, family members met last Monday for lunch at the Charmont in Cass City. Present were Helen Stock, Agatha LaFave and Ila and Leo Seurnyck.

George, Alma and Mary Wald visited Mrs. Martin (Marie) Bartholomy last weekend at the Sun Crest Rest Home in Lapeer and were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Holcomb and family of North Branch. Mrs. Bartholomy celebrated her 69th birthday Sunday, when the Holcombs hosted a dinner celebration at their home.

Bill and Nancy Burrows announce the birth of a new grandchild. He is 9-pound, 6-ounce Matthew Scott Burrows, born Wednesday, Feb. 25. His parents are Tim and Kathie Burrows of Mesa, AZ. Maternal grandparents are Bill and Suzy Vidrih of Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Gerry Carolan left last Wednesday and was the overnight guest of Mrs. Mary Carolan in Bay City. The 2 Mrs. Carolans and a granddaughter, Diane, flew Thursday, Feb. 26, to Florida where they will visit a couple of weeks with family members, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Carolan, Ft. Meyers, and Mr. and Mrs. Skip Connors of LaBelle.

Visitors at the Bill Lenhards' during the past week were Tom and Jeff Lenhard of Bad Axe and Sebawaing and John Lenhard of Caro. Mary and Ann Lenhard and Melissa Brissette of Saginaw spent the weekend.

Edna Ostrander, a resident of the Gagetown Senior Manor, was taken by ambulance to Hills and Dales Hospital Friday evening.

A new great-grandchild of Mrs. Alma Wald is Ashley Elizabeth Smith, born Feb. 18 to Julie and Randy Smith of Belding. Grandparents are Barbara Wald of Cass City and Joe Wald, Gagetown. The baby weighed 8 pounds, 7 ounces.

Your neighbor says Revitalized chamber is a good start

With the revitalization of the Cass City Chamber of Commerce, residents may see a growth in the number of Main Street businesses. But, the chamber cannot do it on its own and, if the village wants to attract other businesses similar to Walbro Corporation or General Cable, then the residents will have to work together.

Ken Hofmeister, 41, 4481 Hobart Rd., Gagetown, has worked for Walbro Corporation for a year as an IRC coordinator. He said that to get more businesses interested in the village will take a lot of hard work, but he feels the village is stepping in the right direction. The village "is growing," said Hofmeister.

One suggestion Hofmeister had was specialty shops. "Basically (you) have to look for specialty shops for things you can't otherwise get in the area," he said.

Hofmeister also thinks that we lose some business to major chain stores such as K-Mart. "If we could talk a major chain store into (moving into) the area," we could compete with the others, said Hofmeister.

Hofmeister supports the new spirit of the chamber and thinks it's a good idea. He thinks the best way to help the city grow is to get more industries to move into the area. If you "expect things to happen," it will "take a lot of hard work," said Hofmeister.

Hofmeister, who was raised in the area, returned after a 15 year absence. He was a farmer for a while and then went to work for Walbro.

Final game Friday

Hawks beat Hatchets, 56-47 despite poor performance

Cass City kept its Thumb B Association record unscathed by racking up its 13th league win of the year Friday in the final home regular season game, but no Hawk supporter was happy about it.

That's because the Hawks continued the sloppy play that has characterized their performances in recent games. Cass City topped the Hatchets, 56-47. In the first meeting between the 2 teams, Cass City blew Bad Axe off the floor.

"If we don't start playing better defense than we have in the last 3 games," Coach Ron Nurnberger said, "we're in deep trouble with the districts starting Monday."

The Hawks' offense wasn't all that great either. The club was guilty of 17 turnovers and hit just 56 percent from the free throw line.

It was a close game until the last 2 minutes of the third quarter and the first 1:10 of the fourth quarter, when Cass City ran 10 unanswered points to lead 42-32.

Paced by lanky Bob Brown, Bad Axe came from behind in the third quarter to tie the game and Hawk fans were fearful of a second straight upset. The Hatchets were finding Brown in the low post and he responded with baskets or free throws. He scored 12 of his 17 points in the last half.

A very slow start by the visitors was probably the difference in the game. Bad Axe scored just 6 points in the opening 8 minutes and the Hawks moved in front 14-6 as Mike Kelley scored 4 quick baskets. Kelley also paced the third quarter run with 4 more hoops.

Kelley got very little offensive help from his teammates Friday. Dave Miller, who probably will be Cass City's third player to chalk up 1,000 career points, scored 12 and no other Hawk netted more than 6 points.

Cass City ends the regular season this Friday with a league game at Imlay City.

ONE MORE TO GO

The Cass City Junior Varsity remains unbeaten, paced by Paul Tuckey with 26 points and Jeff Krol with 21 points. The JV will be favored to end the season with a perfect record when they meet the Imlay City JV Friday in the final game of the year. The JV squad topped the Hatchets, 68-54.

MIKE RANDALL of Cass City applies the pressure on defense against Rich Gundlach of Bad Axe. Coach Ron Nurnberger says that the Hawks have not been playing good defense in recent games and need to improve sharply before next week's district tournament.

Non-conference Mayville defeats Hawks, 56-55

When you are number one in the Thumb and number 3 in the state, watch out, every team on the schedule will be aiming to be the one that knocks you from your lofty perch.

It doesn't matter if the game is a non-conference affair. It doesn't matter if a loss or a win won't change anything at the end of the season.

It's a matter of pride and the Mayville Wildcats had it Thursday night as they hosted a Hawk squad that was probably slightly overconfident and certainly didn't play as well as they have in previous games.

But give Mayville credit for not folding in the clutch and holding on for a 56-55 decision. Cass City's only 2 defeats this season have come from teams in the Thumb C League, Mayville and Sebewaing.

Coach Ron Nurnberger said that his charges were forcing passes that caused turnovers and were guilty of taking bad shots. In the first half the team played some lackadaisical defense, too. The Wildcats took advantage of the lapse to move out in front 12-6 with 3:22 left in the first quarter. The Hawks missed several close-in shots before trading baskets to the end of the quarter. Mayville staged a rally in the opening minutes of the second quarter to open up a 21-10 lead before Kurt Bliss broke the spell with a basket from close-in, was fouled and made the free throw. That started Cass City on a mini run and the Wildcat lead melted to 5 points, 25-20, with 3:17 remaining in the half. Duncan Thornton took charge for Mayville at this point and pumped in a couple of shots from the top of the key to stretch the lead again. At the half, the Wildcats led, 33-24.

Cass City played the kind of defense that has carried the team undefeated in the Thumb B Conference in the third quarter. With the entire team participating Cass City climbed into the lead with a 12-2 run. Most of the points came on a close, trapping defense. Bliss started it, Dave Miller added a field goal. Mike Kelley chipped in a bucket and Steve Ross added a fast break bucket. Kelley then added 3 free throws in the blitz.

It looked as if form were to be followed and the Hawks were taking control of the game as expected. But the Wildcats refused to read the script and came charging back and the teams swapped baskets most of the rest of the way. Cass City led 40-37 on a pretty driving basket by Mike Randall shortly after the final period started. Brian Terbush answered the challenge with a bucket and Dale Barnhart added another. When the Cats added another bucket, they suddenly were in front 43-40. The Hawks weren't through. Miller scored and then set up Randall with a pretty pass to put the Hawks in front 47-43 with just under 3 minutes left. Mayville's Matt Caverly then took charge with a couple of buckets to put the Cats in front for good.

With 23 seconds left the victors were in front, 55-51, and even though Caverly missed a couple of one and one fouls the best Cass City could do in the dying seconds was to close the gap to a single point.

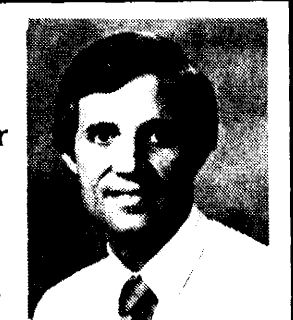

The Cats were led by Thornton with 17 points while Kelley paced the balanced Cass City scoring with 12 points. Mayville out-rebounded Cass City, 32 to 28.

JV Red Hawks beat all odds, come up champs

With only 7 players, the Red Hawk JV basketball squad has managed to escape injury, avoid fouls, and remain undefeated this season.

"They're a team," said first year coach Tim Severance about his winning squad. "Not one guy dominates the game. They (each) play their role pretty well."

Severance went on to say that the members of the sophomore team are mates on the court as well as off. "There is a closeness amongst the kids. There is no bickering between them."

The JV Hawks only have one more game Friday, but like the varsity, have clinched the conference. Next year the 7 boys will move to varsity and Severance will have to start all over with the freshman team, something he is a little worried about. "They are awful small," said Severance, whose team right now averages between 5 feet 9 inches and 6 feet. "There is some talent among the kids, if they can get some height." The freshmen team is 10-10 for the season.

According to Severance, the biggest drawback is the number of boys he has. "There are not enough bodies," he said. "We've only 7 guys and we stayed away from injuries and foul trouble, two main concerns."

Six of the players are 16, but the youngest, Paul Tuckey, 15, is the teams' best outside shooter, leading scorer and good offensive rebounder, according to Severance.

Severance said the team leader is Jeff Dillon who starts as guard. "If we get behind, he gets everyone fired up. He is the hardest worker in practice and in the games," he said.

The best ball handler and the quickest on the team is Jeff Krol who also plays the guard position. Brent Beecher, the starting center, is the leading rebounder of the team averaging about 9 or 10 points a game.

The smallest player is Patrick Murphy who starts at forward. "He has the natural ability to be a basketball player if he wants to work on the game. He has the best fundamental moves of anybody on the team."

The two boys who relieve the five starters are Brent Meininger and Kevin Hartwick. Meininger is the tallest on the team, 6 feet 1 inch, and usually plays center. According to Severance, Meininger used to start but the team switched to a quick man line up, so Meininger became sixth man. "It's hard to go from starting to going off the bench," Severance said. "Once he adjusted to that, he has made a major contribution and has played real well."

Hartwick is the only player who hasn't started but is very important to the team, said Severance. "He knows what's going on in the game and works so hard in the practices." If the team needs him, Hartwick doesn't need to be told what to do. Hartwick usually plays center or forward.

Severance also gave credit for the teams' success this year to the fans' support. "Students are coming to the games and the crowds are getting bigger," Severance said. "It's directly tributed to the way the school is now. The whole high school is pretty close."

Spikers lose TBA title to Lakers

The title for the Thumb B Association passed the Cass City spikers by, as the Elkton-Pigeon-Bay Port Lakers beat the Hawks 15-3, 15-7, 15-0 to claim the crown Thursday night.

The spikers' attention is now on the pre-district match which will be played Wednesday night at Cass City High School. If the Hawks win they will compete at Districts on Saturday.

March madness begins Monday

Class C at Cass City

Cass City will probably enter the district class C tournament as favorites, especially since the tournament is being played this year at Cass City High School.

However, the Hawks will not be as strongly favored today as they would have been when they were riding high, rated third in the state in one newspaper poll.

One of the teams in the tournament, Mayville, holds a victory over Cass City, and Marlette played head to head with Cass City in the last meeting between the two teams.

Also in the tourney is Deckerville, the team that bounced Cass City in last year's district, with the players back who administered the upset in 1986.

Cass City will open the tournament Monday at 7:30 p.m. against Sandusky.

The tourney pairings and playing dates:

Monday, Mar. 9
Vassar, bye.
Cass City vs Sandusky, 7:30 p.m.

Tuesday, Mar. 10
Marlette vs Mayville, 7:30 p.m.

Wednesday, Mar. 11
Cass City-Sandusky winner vs Vassar, 7:30 p.m.

Thursday, Mar. 12
Deckerville vs Marlette-Mayville winner, 7:30 p.m.

Saturday, Mar. 14
Finals at 7:30 p.m.

Class D at Harbor Beach

Drawings for the Michigan High School district tournament to be held at Harbor Beach were held Monday and competition will start March 9 and be concluded with the finals March 14.

The action will start Monday night at 6:30, when Akron-Fairgrove takes on North Huron. At 8:30 p.m. Caseville and Bay City All Saints will take the court. This is the first year Bay City All Saints have been in Class D, reflecting the school's declining enrollment.

The winners of both games will move on to the semifinals, which will start Wednesday night. Port Hope takes on the winner of the Akron-Fairgrove and North Huron game at 6:30 p.m. Owen-Gage will play at 8:30 p.m. against the winners of the Caseville and Bay City All Saints game.

The winners of these games will go on to the finals held Friday, March 13, at 7:30.

Roller said that the 2 teams to beat at Districts would be the Bay City All Saints and Port Hope. "We have to play very well to beat" those teams, said Roller. The Bulldogs have only scrimmaged against the All Saints and lost to Port Hope last week.

Roller says his team has a chance if they stay away from foul trouble.

Bulldogs rally in fourth, beat Wesleyan 51-34

Although plagued by fouls, the Owen-Gage Bulldogs beat North Branch Wesleyan, 51-34, Tuesday, Feb. 24. The Bulldogs will play their last game against Akron-Fairgrove Friday night.

The game was tight, with North Branch tying the score 28 all in the third quarter. But the Bulldogs rallied and scored 23 points in the fourth quarter to North Branch's 6.

In the first half of the game the Bulldogs were called on 14 fouls compared to North Branch's 8. But the second half was a different story and the referees were busy calling 19 fouls against North Branch to the Bulldogs' 4.

"We were in foul trouble again," said Coach Dean Roller. "In the second half North Branch Wesleyan got into foul trouble, which helped us pull away."

Besides fouls, the Bulldogs had trouble at the free throw line. "Our free throw percent was terrible," said Roller. The Bulldogs only made 13 out of 31 attempts.

Stu Stirrett and Steve Root were the big scorers of the night with 15 points apiece. Stirrett made 9 free throw baskets out of 13 attempts. Root only made one out of 6.

Rick Salcido and Dave Laurie both made 8 points. Marc Reinhardt and Chris Abbe also contributed to the scoring with a basket or two.

Owen-Gage will be meeting Akron-Fairgrove Friday and Roller thinks it's going to be a tough game. "We got a big advantage in height and rebounding," said Roller. "But they (Akron-Fairgrove) shoot real well and have strength."

Walbro dividends to give 10 cents per share

The Board of Directors of Walbro Corporation, at a regular meeting Feb. 23, declared a first quarter dividend of 10 cents per share payable April 20 to stockholders of record March 6.

The 10 cents per share first quarter dividend is a continuation of the 10 cents per share dividend established in the fourth quarter of 1986. Dividends of 8 cents per share were paid for the first 3 quarters of last year.

At the same meeting, L.E. Althaver was elected Chairman of the Board of Directors. Althaver succeeds Walter E. Walpole, founder of Walbro Corp., who died Jan. 1, 1987.

Althaver joined Walbro in 1954. He was named President and Chief Operating Officer in 1977 and became Chief Executive Officer in 1982. Chairman of the Board, Althaver, will retain the titles of president and chief executive officer.

Bulldog spikers take Caseville tournament; remain undefeated

Chalk 2 more league games and another tournament up for the Owen-Gage spikers, whose fire cannot be snuffed out by any other league team.

On Saturday the Bulldogs attacked and beat 7 teams to win the Caseville Tournament. The team had recently taken the Lakers Tournament held Feb. 7.

The first victim to fall to the Bulldogs was the Hatchets, who lost 15-5 and 15-4. Kingston also went down without much fight, 15-3 and 15-1. In the third match Harbor Beach showed a spark in the second game, but it was quickly put out by the Owen-Gage spikers. Harbor Beach lost 15-4 and 15-11.

Cass City, who came in second in the tournament, lost to Owen-Gage, 15-8 and 15-11. They proved themselves tough, however, beating Uby and then facing the Bulldogs again in the finals.

Akron-Fairgrove lost to the Bulldogs in pool play 15-6 and 15-4. And hosting Caseville was easily dismissed 15-5 and 15-5.

The Bulldogs really didn't face their match until they played the Red Hawks, for the second time that day, in the finals. The Red Hawks pulled ahead, winning the first game 10-15, but the Bulldogs would not be put down so easily and came back in the second game 15-4. The closest and most exciting game of the tournament was the last game played, in which the Bulldogs and Hawks tied each other 3 times before the Bulldogs spurred ahead and won the game 15-12.

Susie Salcido had a great day with 41 service points, 138 total spikes, 56 of which were kills, and 55 total tips, of which 20 were kills.

Andrea Mandich led the team in service points with 62 under her belt. Cindy Enderle had the most sets, 94, and Barb Hellebuyck came in close second with 74 sets. Janie Billy, who was ill in last Thursday's game, recovered nicely and had 88 spikes, 35 of which were kills, and 24 tips, 9 of them kills.

LEAGUE GAMES

On Feb. 26, the Bulldogs barely worked up a sweat as North Branch Wesleyan fell in straight games, 15-3, 15-5, 15-5, and 15-3.

Enderle scored 26 service points and was credited with 14 sets. Salcido had a total of 34 spikes, 10 of which were kills, and 8 tips with 3 kills. Hellebuyck scored 7 service points and had 14 sets and Heather Dorsch had a total of 13 spikes, 6 kills.

The Kingston Cardinals were easily beaten on their home turf Feb. 23. The final scores were, 15-2, 15-7, 15-1 and 15-0.

Enderle again led the pack with 19 service points and 7 sets. Billy had a total of 21 spikes, 11 kills, and Salcido followed close behind with 16 spikes, 9 kills. Marcie Draschil scored 11 service points and had 4 sets.

OUIL suspected in arrest of Cass City man

The Tuscola County Sheriff's department arrested a 25-year-old Cass City man Saturday for allegedly operating a vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, according to a police report.

Phillip L. Zawilinski, 7255 Cemetery Rd., had parked his car on Shabbona Rd. when a patrol unit approached the car because the right headlight was burned out. Zawilinski started moving westward to Kingston Rd., turned south to Deckerville Rd. and then drove eastward until he finally stopped.

According to the report, Zawilinski had slurred speech and a strong odor of alcohol. A spilled beer was also found under the front seat of the car.

Zawilinski stated in the report that he was taking medicine for a tumor in his eye and that he had 3 drinks. He was charged with OUIL.

Kellie S. Mettleton, 2130 Phelps Lake Rd., Kingston, stated in a police report that someone had attempted to break in and enter her house on Feb. 20. The police were not called until Feb. 22.

Mettleton's sister, Robin Winn, called police since Mettleton doesn't have a phone. Mettleton stated that she left her residence and when she returned she saw that the doorknob on her front door had been damaged since it was loose. "It didn't appear that anyone came into the residence and it didn't appear that anything was missing," she stated in the police report.

Police said they could do nothing, since Mettleton had not contacted them the day it happened. "At this time it would be difficult to find any evidence and/or, if evidence was found, to get a prosecution, owing to the length of time from the time that the incident occurred to the time of the report," stated the officers in the report.

Mettleton was advised that if she should have similar problems again, to call the sheriff's department.

DEER/CAR MISHAPS

A 38-year old Vassar woman struck and killed a deer with her car while traveling on Deckerville Rd. on Feb. 26, according to a police report.

Sandra L. Parker, 8311 West Sanilac, was traveling west on Deckerville Rd. when a deer ran into the path of her car from the north. Parker was uninjured and her car received only minimal damage.

Karen M. Miklovica, 23, 3640 Markle Rd., Clifford, was uninjured when her car struck and killed a deer on Kingston Rd., Feb. 27, according to a police report.

Water spiders

Move over Esther Williams. Here's the European Water Spider. It eats, sleeps, mates and raises young underwater. According to Ranger Rick magazine, this acrobatic spider gets air by swimming to the surface, doing a somersault and snatching an air bubble. The water spider attaches this natural "air tank" to breathing holes in the middle of its body. Then, the spider heads back to the water's surface for other air bubbles to use in its underwater home.

Classes offered on arthritis, muscle aches

Two courses to help with arthritis pain and other muscle aches are being offered by the Tuscola Area Skill Center in Caro.

An Arthritis Self-Help Course will be offered on Wednesdays from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. starting March 4 and ending April 8 at the TASC. The course runs for 6 weeks. The cost for the 6 sessions is $30.00.

Participants in the course will learn the self-help principles, joint protection/energy conservation, pain therapy, exercise, relaxation, medications, psychosocial aspects/problem solving, doctor/patient relationships, nutrition, and non-traditional treatment.

Shirley Foerster of Caro will be teaching the course and will provide the participants with materials from the National Arthritis Foundation.

Each person who registers for the course can bring another person, free of charge, to reinforce the material.

Three 4-week water exercise classes, which have already started, are being offered at the Highland Pines school pool in Caro. The classes were originally begun for people with arthritis, but are very helpful for people who are suffering from muscle aches.

According to a release from TASC the participants in the classes don't need to know how to swim. The pool water is kept at 85-87 degrees. Each session is $2 and is limited to 10 people.

The afternoon class held from 3 p.m. to 4 p.m. on Mondays, started Feb. 23 and will end March 16. The Tuesday evening class, offered from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m., started Feb. 24 and will end March 17. The third and last class, which is offered Thursdays from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m., started Feb. 26 and will end March 19. Registration for these classes is still open.

Taking stock

By Bill Myers

Along about this time of the winter, when the days are short and the skies are sunless, and you have a bad cold, and your back hurts from so much sitting, a lot of us old folks get morbid.

Not this character, though. I just get a little meaner.

But for the others, the undertakers are running ads about pre-paying your funeral. It is a timely message, especially in this land of the ancient, south Florida.

I called one such outfit in Fort Lauderdale, which had been extolling in its ads the benefits of paying now and dying later.

It seems you pick out just the funeral you want, the type of coffin, burial or cremation or cemetery or mausoleum. Say the price tag is $3,000.

You can pay the $3,000 all at once, or take five years to pay.

And there are no finance costs. Imagine that! The undertaker takes your money, invests it and collects the interest and keeps it, and doesn't charge you a quarter for this service.

You, of course, don't get any interest. All you get is a guarantee that the $3,000 price tag in the example won't be any higher. And you can get your money back any time before you die.

Say it's invested at 9% and the cost-of-dying index goes up same as inflation, namely, 3%. The funeral home is 6% ahead every year. In 14 years the $3,000 at the "real" or inflation-adjusted rate, would double.

Americans being a gypsy lot in these times, chances are you wouldn't be in the undertaker's territory five years from now. People move an average of every three years down this way.

I suggested this to the nice man on the other end of the line. (Why is it that undertakers always talk softly?) He said that I'd be happier to have these details off my mind now, and would not burden my survivors with such unpleasant matters.

I asked him about pure cremation prices -- no embalming, no viewing, no casket, no bronze urn.

"Oh, we have a special on that," he said. "Regular price is $495. Now for a limited time, $395, if it's paid in advance. There's only one extra, $50 if you want ashes scattered at sea, plus a $10 permit from the county."

"Can the family go on the boat?"

"That would be extra--$150 for up to six people. But there would be no $50 charge then. The $150 would cover it all."

I explained that I wasn't really ready for the $395 deal, because, except for a cold sore on my lip, I felt pretty good.

"That's just a guarantee," said the undertaker. "It will never cost you any more."

Actually, I had just called out of curiosity, as I said. Some time ago, I joined the Neptune Society, which is also in Fort Lauderdale. They'll do the cremation bit and disposal at sea for just $275. No money paid up front, except a $25 membership fee, but that includes both Jeanne and me.

The $395 which I might be paying to the undertaker for his special cut-rate in advance I am putting in zero coupon bonds and letting them grow even as I wither a bit here and there.

In the Myers family we have a strong streak of pragmatism. Back in 1969, "flower bonds" could be bought at a 20% discount and used at par to pay estate tax. It was April 29 and my father lay dying from pneumonia.

At his bedside was C.M. 'Doc' Ruhmann, president of the First National Bank of Lapeer, Mich. Dad called him to come close.

"Doc," he said in a hoarse, shaky voice. "Get me some of those bonds. Better do it now."

Those were my father's last words. An hour later he died. Meanwhile ol' Doc had got to the phone and carried out his orders.

Dad died happy. He had saved $40,000 in estate taxes.

Reduced budget set in Novesta

Novesta Township officials tightened their financial belts Monday night in order to come up with a proposed 1987-88 budget which is some 12 percent less than the previous year's spending plan.

The tentative budget will be presented to township residents at the township's annual meeting, scheduled to begin at 1 p.m. March 28.

Township Clerk Nurse L. Kloc said the board during its monthly meeting Monday approved proposed revenues of $109,798 in 1987-88, with expenditures of $110,955. The difference in expenditures and revenues will be covered by an expected "carry-over" fund of about $20,000, she said.

Revenues in 1986-87 were $125,150, while expenditures were $124,712.

Kloc indicated the board made across-the-board cuts in an attempt to avoid making drastic reductions in any one area. She noted that the township won't incur the $1,750 expense of elections and an audit during the new fiscal year. Some $4,000 in road work funds was cut.

In other business during the 1 1/2-hour meeting, the board discussed garbage disposal service in the township.

Kloc stated that a representative of Rich's Disposal, which currently handles garbage pickup in the township, will attend the annual meeting to discuss continuation or elimination of existing services.

The township currently pays about $3,500 per year for the service, including 2 pickups per month in the spring, summer and fall, and one pickup per month in the winter.

The board also briefly discussed planned road work for the next year. Kloc, who had no details on specific projects, said that the township will be requesting estimates from the Tuscola County Road Commission on grading and graveling a number of roads.

A detailed plan of proposed road work will be available at the board's April regular meeting, she said.

CAMPBELL ELEMENTARY second graders get a tour of a Cass City ambulance as part of a two hour presentation on staying safe and out of trouble. The program was put on by the Caro 4-H club and designed for "latch key" children.

Caro 4-H Club sponsors safety program for kids

A program to help children stay safe and out of trouble when left alone was started by the Caro 4-H club in February.

The club hired Gagetown resident Vickie Merchant to present the 2 hour sessions to elementary school children. Campbell Elementary School hosted the event Feb. 23-24 and Mar. 2-3 for its 96 second graders.

"I was hired by the county commission to put together programs to keep kids safe and out of trouble," said Merchant.

Merchant said there are a lot of children who are left alone after school and when the parents do errands. These children have come to be known as latchkey kids. "I don't know how long they are left alone, but they are being left by themselves younger and younger," she said.

Merchant talked with 2 second grade classes on Feb. 23 and Mar. 2 and talked to the other 2 the following day. She asked how many children were left by themselves sometimes and the majority of the second graders raised their hands. But when she asked how many were left alone after school only about 10 students raised their hands.

The majority of last week's presentation was taken up by the Cass City Ambulance Service Emergency Medical Technicians (EMT) who gave the students first aid tips. EMTs Connie McNaughton and Ron Pawloski told the children what to do if a relative or friend has a seizure or stops breathing. The children learned to listen, watch and touch to see if the person is breathing. They learned to find the pulse in their necks.

Also the EMTs showed the students how to treat cuts and scrapes, bloody noses and what to do for broken bones. McNaughton and Pawloski passed out emergency numbers and told the children if they have to call an ambulance to always tell the dispatcher the address and what seems to be wrong with the victim. "If you can't remember your address," McNaughton said, "remember the street you live on and the color of your house. Never hang up" without telling the dispatcher your address.

After the half hour talk, the students toured the ambulance and looked inside an emergency kit.

Merchant finished off the presentation with a few helpful hints. She told the students to always say "no" to strangers and always walk home from school with a group of friends. She warned them to always keep their key hidden and if they lose their key to either have one hidden outside the house or go to a neighbor's house and call their parents.

On Monday and Tuesday, Merchant talked about how to get along with brothers and sisters and some suggestions on how the students can use their time wisely to stay out of trouble. She showed the students how to make nutritional snacks and what the students can do when they are afraid.

According to Merchant, she will be going on to DeFord and Evergreen schools to deliver the program there. She has already been to schools in Mayville, Unionville-Sebewaing, Reese, and Caro.

ity, in one way or another, has been part of those accomplishments."

According to Hittler, the results of the contest, which ended Sunday, won't be known until next month.

Candidates for the award will be narrowed to 5, with a winner being chosen by an independent panel of judges. The award will be presented April 18 as part of "Michigan Week."

Kaine gave a list of 10 of the most positive self-taught statements to say to yourself when you are under stress; for instance, first things first or easy does it or don't take it personally. "It's not the big things usually that are stressful but the little things."

"Listen to your body talk," urged Kaine. "It's trying to tell you something."

MEAT NUTRI-FACTS
This Weeks Feature:

CHINESE PEPPER STEAK

1 pound top round steak, cut ¾ to 1 inch thick
1 tablespoon cornstarch
½ teaspoon sugar
¼ teaspoon ginger
¼ cup soy sauce
3 medium green peppers
3 small tomatoes
2 tablespoons cooking oil
1 clove garlic, minced
¼ cup water

Partially freeze steak to firm and slice diagonally across the grain into very thin strips. Combine cornstarch, sugar and ginger and stir in soy sauce. Pour mixture over meat and stir in soy sauce. Peppers into thin strips and cut tomatoes into wedges. Quickly brown beef strips (½ at a time) in hot oil and remove from pan. Reduce heat; add green pepper, garlic and water to pan and cook until green pepper is tender-crisp. 5 to 6 minutes. Stir in meat and tomatoes and heat through. 4 servings.

It is our policy to have all items advertised in this circular in stock during the sale period. However, because this circular is printed approximately 90 days prior to the sale date, there could be an unforeseen delay, or in some cases, non-shipment of an item. We regret any inconvenience it may cause. If an advertised item is unavailable during the sale period, we will, to the best of our ability, offer a substitute item of comparable value with an equal savings over the regular price. We do reserve the right to limit the quantity on some items and special prices are in effect only during the sale period while quantities last.
