CASS CITY, MICHIGAN - WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 27, 1988

LUS SUPPLEMENT

LAMBERT ALTHAVER, Walbro president, welcomes Gov. James J. Blanchard to the company's Cass City headquarters Monday.

GOVERNOR JAMES Blanchard lauded Walbro Corporation for its growth in Michigan and cited its use of the state's job skill program as an excellent example of what the program is designed to do.

Gov. Blanchard speaks

Walbro lauded for job training efforts

Before its entire manufacturing and corporate work force Monday afternoon, Gov. James J. Blanchard lauded Walbro Corporation for its employee training program and announced that the company has signed for its second job training program, a $78,000 Michigan Business and Industrial Training Job contract. The governor cited Walbro as an excellent example of the value of his proposed Michigan Skills Fund as outlined in his 1988 State of the State Address.

Michigan will allot $100 million over the next 5 years in the proposed Michigan Skills Fund that offers short-term, interest-free loans to businesses seeking to retrain employees.

One of the ways various job training programs will be made easier for workers to use is by issuing a Michigan Opportunity card. The card will tell how much the person has available for training and can use it to gain access to any of 50 different job training programs offered in 9 departments.

DESIRES AUTHORITY

In answer to a question about various departments, the governor said he would like to have the authority to hire top personnel in 4 departments including the controversial agriculture, Department of Natural Resources and prison departments.

Mark Haney, reporter for the Tuscola County Advertiser, asked if Blanchard would continue farm aid programs.

The governor was non-committal about aid programs but said efforts would be made for better marketing of Michigan farm products with emphasis on the top quality of the products.

The governor closed his short talk by saying, "Thank you (Walbro) for being an important part of Michigan's future."

Leach and Third Streets

Estimate project cost at $95,000

A special assessment district for curb and gutter construction on Leach and Third streets was established during a brief Cass City Village Council meeting Monday night.

A public hearing on the matter will be held during the council's next regular meeting, slated for Feb. 29.

The work covers one block of Third Street, from West Street to Vulcan Street, and about 4 blocks of Leach Street, from Garfield Street to Pine Street.

The per-foot assessment for residences located in the affected area is expected to be $8 to $10, LaPonsie said.

Trustees okayed the special assessment district after examining plans for the road work.

The total project cost is estimated at $95,000, including some $35,000 for curb and gutter, according to village Manager Lou S. LaPonsie, who noted that

ZONING REQUEST

In other business during the 45-minute monthly meeting, the council authorized the village Planning Commission to schedule a public hearing on a request from Cass City residents Randy and Sandra Kozan to rezone 3 lots located on the southeast corner of Church and Ale streets.

The council stated that the proposed rezoning, if approved, may also include a fourth lot, which is adjacent to the 3 lots.

The Kozans' request to rezone the property from General Business to Single Family Residential received support during the Planning Commission's Jan. 19 regular meeting, according to Trustee Nat Tuttle, who also serves on the planning board.

Hospital bid ignored

Ambulance service job awarded to Saginaw firm

Area residents have a new ambulance service following the quiet selection late last month of Saginaw Mercy Ambulance Inc. to replace Cass City Ambulance Service Inc.

But hard feelings over the decision remain between the Cass City Ambulance Board and officials at Hills and Dales General Hospital, one of 4 businesses that indicated interest in providing service locally.

Ambulance board Chairman David J. Milligan last week confirmed reports that the board decided to award the ambulance contract to Mercy in December, one year before an existing contract with Cass City Ambulance was to expire.

The decision, which drew criticism from Hills and Dales General Hospital Administrator Ken E. Jensen, was made after the board considered proposals from 3 ambulance companies, Milligan said.

He stated that the ambulance board received a proposal from Emergency Medical Services of Saginaw in September, one from Mercy in October, and another from Bay Medical Center Ambulance in November.

The board also received a proposal from Hills and Dales General Hospital, Milligan said, adding that the hospital's proposal was not received until Dec. 24, after the board had made a verbal agreement with Mercy.

"If Hills and Dales had made their offer when we had 3 offers on the table, we would probably have said you can have it," Milligan remarked.

PROPOSAL

The hospital's proposal, which came in the form of a letter, was Jensen's second contact with the board in December regarding the ambulance service. The administrator addressed the board one to 2 weeks earlier, when he urged that the contract be awarded to Bay Medical.

"They (board members) just didn't listen to him very much because in the 9 years we've been in the ambulance business, they (Hills and Dales) haven't been much help," Milligan remarked.

He added that the board chose Mercy because the firm's proposal provides some savings to the service area while providing for better training opportunities and allowing the ambulance board to maintain local control.

Jensen, meanwhile, said last week that the ambulance board's refusal to consider the hospital's proposal, because of the verbal agreement with Mercy, is "absolute nonsense."

NO SUBSIDY

Under Hills and Dales' proposal, Jensen explained, the hospital would contract the service out, probably to Bay Medical. Jensen noted that Hills and Dales and Bay Medical Center have worked cooperatively on programs involving areas such as training.

Also under the plan, an ambulance would be provided, no subsidy would be required of residents, and rent would be paid for storage of the ambulance at the Elkland Township Fire Hall, Jensen continued, adding that all residents would pay the full base fee for an ambulance run.

"We thought that was a pretty good offer, but instead of accepting it, they (board members) admonished us for not being interested" years ago when Roger Little stopped operating the ambulance service, he said. "I wish we could have, but we weren't in a financial position to do that."

Jensen added, "We certainly could have handled it (now) without any problem at all, but for whatever reason, the board made a conscious decision to go against the hospital."

According to Milligan, the board believes that Mercy was the best overall choice among the 3 companies.

ELIMINATED

He said that Emergency Medical Service of Saginaw was eliminated because that firm didn't provide an ambulance. The board decided against Bay Medical, he said, because the organization wanted to put 2 of its representatives on the ambulance board, and because the company would have established a different rate system.

The decision in favor of Mercy was based, in part, on a desire to switch to the new service's liability insurance when an existing Cass City Ambulance policy came due early this month, Milligan explained, adding that the move translated into a savings of some $2,000.

Also, Mercy agreed to provide one ambulance in addition to a back-up unit. Previously, Milligan pointed out, the ambulance board had to purchase the ambulance.

Other factors taken into consideration included training to be offered in Cass City by Mercy, and the opinions of ambulance personnel.

"It's a better deal. We still have the same thing we had before," Milligan remarked. "We're still providing a subsidy and we still have control over the billing rates."

As before, the ambulance service, which receives 30 percent of the gross collections, will serve as a manager, handling scheduling, pay roll, billing and other duties.

And, residents in the service area—Elkland, Novesta, Evergreen and Greenleaf townships, and Gageton—will continue to pay a subsidy of 0-to-$3 per person per year. In return, those residents receive a 50 percent discount on the cost of an ambulance run excluding oxygen.

BACKGROUND

Plans to begin looking for a new ambulance service, announced last summer, were sparked by Cass City Ambulance owner Jack McDaniel's decision to discontinue service at the end of a 6-year contract, which was to expire in December 1988.

Keating, who has been a member of the board of directors since 1955, said that he was invited to remain on the board but decided not to continue serving in retirement.

Keating is a native of Cass City. He graduated from Cleary College in Ypsilanti and studied at the School of Banking at U of M, the graduate School of Banking at the University of Wisconsin and the Trust School at Northwestern.

His distinguished business career started in accounting for industrial and retail concerns for 4 years.

He joined the bank in 1951 and became cashier in 1953. He was elected vice-president in 1959.

Reflecting on his 37 years in banking, Keating said that the business is much, much more competitive than it ever was. Banks try hard to maintain person to person relationships, the retiring president says, but it's much more impersonal today than it was years ago.

Keating and his wife, Marion, have 2 children, Phil of Albion and Ed of Midland. Both are in the banking business.

Keating says that he is considering several projects during retirement, but that his plans are too indefinite to comment on at this time.

NEW DUTIES

Replacing Keating as the officer in charge at the bank will be Douglas H. Herringshaw. Presently vice-president and cashier, he will become Senior Vice-President Chemical Bank Bay Area and will be in charge of the Cass City and Marlette offices.

Alan W. Ott, president and chief executive officer of the bank holding company, said that the merger would have no effect on most customers of either bank, but the combined bank would have a higher lending limit and would, therefore, be in a better position to respond to the credit needs of its commercial and corporate customers. "Very few of our customers will even notice the change," he explained.

Dominic Monastiere, who is president and chief executive officer of Chemical Bank Bay Area, will continue in that position.

Following the merger, Chemical Bank Bay Area will have total assets in excess of $140 million, and will operate 11 banking offices.

Robert Keating ends long career, bank becomes Bay Area branch

Chemical Bank Cass City will change its name and lose its president Saturday when the bank becomes a part of Chemical Bank Bay Area and Robert H. Keating, 63, retires.

Keating has been president since 1977 and said he felt that with the change in the bank structure it was the right time for him to bow out. The corporation has taken care of my retirement, he explained, and as a branch office this bank will not have a president.

Meg's Peg

Changing times

By Melva E. Guinther

Well, you won't be hearing my name or seeing my number on TV Jan. 29 when they announce the Publishers Clearing House sweepstakes winner. I started to sort through the bundle of instructions; looking for the 5 million-dollar stamps scattered throughout the 10 pieces of literature, sticking the red seal on the envelope to qualify for the extra million, enclosing the $50 cash voucher for the first 1000 entries, punching out the red dot on the American Eagle picture, and trying to figure out what to do in order to win a flag.

All that didn't deter me. But in spite of promises to the contrary, I have trouble believing that anybody who doesn't sign up for one or 2 magazines is actually going to win $7-10 million. There must be some significance to those little circles on the return envelope that indicate whether you're ordering one or 2 magazines.

If there's anything we don't need, it's another magazine subscription. Most of ours have expired. Those we still get are good publications, full of worthwhile, interesting articles and features that we fully intend to read. So we stash them in the end tables and in the little oak keg that seems to fit the purpose, to be perused at a later date, when we have more time.

Then, twice a year, I sort and discard the oldest and dullest, regretting that we never got around to reading them.

Magazines used to be an important part of life when we were kids on the farm. Dad always read "Fur, Fish & Game" and "Hunter, Trader & Trapper," neither of which held much appeal for a youngster.

One of Mother's magazines was different. We always looked forward to finding "Household" in the mailbox. Every month there was a story about "Little Brown Koko." With 7 kids, I don't know how she did it, but Mother always found time to read it to us. Our world was smaller then, the pace was slower and life seemed simpler. We didn't go out much. There was no TV, not even electricity for many of my early years.

It wasn't really a "Little House on the Prairie" or "Waltons" scene, but it does seem like values were more distinct and relationships more meaningful.

Why do I sometimes feel that with our expanded horizons and modern conveniences, we're missing something today?

Bowl-A-Thon dates aired

Three area parishes are among those planning to take part in the Saginaw Diocesan-wide "Bowl-A-Thon," slated for Feb. 5-15 for parishes and Feb. 8-19 for Catholic schools.

The event benefits programs of participating parishes in the diocese and the Francis F. Reh Academy in Saginaw.

Area parishes planning to participate are St. Pancratius in Cass City—1 p.m. Feb. 14 at the Charmont; St. Columbkille, Ubyly—7 p.m. Feb. 13 at the Charmont, and St. John's, Ubyly—7 p.m. and 9 p.m. Feb. 6 at the Crazy Horse in Ubyly.

Prizes will be given to those bowlers with the most sponsors. In addition to being eligible for diocesan grand prizes of $750 (first), $500 (second), $250 (third) and $50 (fourth through tenth), bowlers with at least 15 paid sponsors will receive prizes based on the number of paid sponsors.

Morells renew vows Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Morell renewed their wedding vows at 2:00 p.m. Sunday at Trinity U.M. Church. Their 4 daughters and 4 sons-in-law were attendants and 4 grandsons were ushers.

Rev. Joe Robertson officiated, which was the first 50th renewal ceremony he had performed.

The Morells have 11 grandchildren and 10 were present and 7 great-grandchildren.

About 125 attended the open house from 3:00 to 5:00 p.m. The oldest present was Mrs. Daisy Hodges of Caro, who is 90, and the youngest was their great-grandson, Evan John Laurie, 3 weeks old.

"If It Fitz..."

King widower?

By Jim Fitzgerald

My wife and I often eat dinner in a well-known Detroit restaurant and talk about the various people seated around the nearby piano bar.

"That will be you after I die," she began saying a few years ago, nodding toward a white-haired man about my age, wearing a business suit and a steady smile. He is a regular at the piano bar, always arrives and leaves alone, and always seems to have a good time.

My wife regularly gives me heck for the good time I'm going to have after she is dead.

She isn't sick. She is a couple of years younger than I, and knows that, according to life insurance statistics, she probably will outlive me by several years. Today there are many more widows than widowers over age 60 because the husbands of my generation work themselves into premature funerals trying to make enough money to support a family without the financial aid of a freeloaded wife.

That was a joke. I realize wives who are strictly homemakers make a great contribution and earn every cent their husbands give them to buy groceries and pantyhose. It's just that things have changed so much since my wedding day, when it was rare for a wife to work outside the home and unthinkable for her to wear anything as unsexy as stockings welded to her panties.

In those days, it was common for employers to require female employees to resign the instant they got married. A woman didn't need a job if she had a husband. Today, if the wife doesn't bring home a second income, a couple often can't afford a home. And only the most regressive male chauvinist pig—or Phyllis Schlafly—would dare suggest women don't have as much right as men to work anywhere they want.

In the future, life insurance statistics will surely reflect this huge influx of women into the stress-filled, 40-hours-a-week, 50-weeks-a-year world of bosses and efficiency reports. Women will work themselves to death just as quickly as men, and the only people living beyond age 70 will be wealthy heiresses and state legislators.

Meanwhile, however, in my generation the women will continue to outlive the men, and my wife will continue to insist she will be the exception, thus freeing me to become King Widower of the Piano Bar.

"You will be just like him," she frequently says about the white-haired man with the happy expression who is so frequently subjected to our piano-bar surveillance. "He has one of those innocent Irish faces that women love to mother. You will have a great time without me."

Lately this man's behavior has given new meaning to being mothered. We first noticed it about a year ago. While everyone else was singing along with the piano, he was kissing the woman sitting beside him. I don't mean a peck on the lips. I mean long, passionate kisses. We figured he'd found a soul mate. Good for him. I was sure they'd leave together.

But they didn't. Three times since then we've seen this guy do the same thing, each time the kisses were sizzling, and each time it was with a different woman who didn't arrive with him, or leave with him.

All the women were attractive and enjoying themselves as much as he was. Strictly as an avid observer and chronicler of the passing scene—certainly not as a possible emulator—I'm wondering how he does it. But I'm also getting sore ribs.

"Look, you're doing it again," my wife has begun saying every time the kisser goes into action. And she uses her elbow to make sure I'm aware of my surrogate perfidy.

I'm doing it again? How fair is that? He's having the fun and I'm getting the flak. Flak for something I'll never get to do, according to life insurance statistics. Onward and upward.

On farm accidents

Tuscola, Sanilac farmers asked to complete survey

A Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service farm safety specialist is asking Tuscola and Sanilac County farmers to respond to a survey regarding farm related injuries.

The survey, mailed Jan. 20, asks farmers about the frequency and nature of accidents that occurred on their farms last year.

Half of the farmers in each county were selected randomly to receive the survey, according to Howard J. Doss, a farm safety specialist who says that the survey form takes only 5 to 10 minutes to complete and doesn't require a signature.

If no disabling accidents occurred on the farm during the past year, it's still important that the farmer return the form, Doss said, adding that it will help indicate the number of farms where no accidents occurred in 1987.

"It's crucial that we have a broad participation in this research so that we can identify the areas of work that seem to have the most accidents," he remarked. "When we have that information, extension and other farm organizations will be able to more accurately target safety education problems that we conduct."

In spite of all the safety features incorporated into newer farm equipment, agriculture is now ranked as the most hazardous occupation in the United States, Doss said. Statistics for 1986 show that 52 deaths occurred per 100,000 farm operators.

That exceeds the death rate in mining—50 deaths per 100,000—which has long been considered the nation's most hazardous occupation.

The number of agricultural deaths annually in Michigan is known, but the frequency of work related injuries is not, Doss pointed out.

Additional information about the survey, co-sponsored by the Michigan Department of Health in cooperation with the Department of Health in Sanilac and Tuscola counties, is available by calling Doss at (517) 353-3737.

Details set for Mahmoody visit

Plans have been finalized for a one-day visit to Cass City by author Betty Mahmoody, who along with her 8-year-old daughter was held captive in Iran by her husband for 2 years before escaping.

Mahmoody will begin her visit in Cass City Feb. 11 with appearances at the Cass City Intermediate and High schools in the morning. A reception for the Michigan native will then be held at Rawson Memorial Library, from 1:30 to 5 p.m., when she will autograph copies of her book, "Not Without My Daughter."

Mahmoody will wrap up her tour with a talk at 7:30 p.m. in the high school cafeteria. The speech is open to the public. No admission will be charged.

Mahmoody's story, which has received national and international attention, is of special interest locally because she has 2 sisters living in Cass City.

Her ordeal began in August 1984, when she, daughter Mahtob, and husband Moody took a 2-week trip to Iran to visit Moody's relatives. When the trip had ended, Moody announced the family would not be returning to the United States.

"Not Without My Daughter" is a chronicle of Mahmoody's 2 years of captivity in Iran and of her daring 500-mile escape from Tehran over the mountains on horseback and on foot into Turkey.

Mahmoody, whose book was first published in October and is already in reprint, has appeared on several national television programs, including "Good Morning, America," the "Phil Donahue Show" and "20/20." She also is active with national lecture tours and appearances.

Novesta Supervisor Bill O'Dell reports that he has good news for township residents.

Concerned about the proposed cuts in costs of operating the United States Postal Service, he called the person in charge of the area.

The cuts will not affect the proposed new post office in Deford. Everything is still all "go," says a relieved O'Dell.

We take no sides in the decision by the Cass City Ambulance Board to have ambulance service furnished by Saginaw Mercy Ambulance Inc. (See story.) We do feel that it was handled poorly by the board.

It's an important issue and the various options should have been disclosed to the taxpayers before any decision was rendered. Keeping it quiet doesn't serve the best interest of the taxpayer.

Remember that first robin reported in this column of trivia? Well, that robin is actually an old settler, Ken Jensen believes.

Here's what he's found out: "Recently I noticed in your Rabbit Tracks article the fact that a robin had been spotted. I might suggest the robin is not confused, and flew in early. Rather, the bird made a conscious decision to spend the winter in Cass City."

"We have at least seven (7) of them (robins) spending the winter here on the hospital grounds. Dorothy McCreeley, our medical records director, sees them on a daily basis. And, we are concerned about them."

"According to Janet Henshaw at the ornithology department, the University of Michigan, the resident specialist on robins, in the winter they normally survive on mountain ash berries and other bush berries. Our mountain ash has dropped all its berries and thus our concern. Ms. Henshaw states they also would enjoy cranberries, currants, blueberries, raisins, etc. If they are in a real bad way, according to Ms. Henshaw, they might eat some suet."

Gov. James Blanchard is the consummate politician. After his speech at Walbro Monday, one of the many news persons there sidled up to him and asked for a brief interview. (There were reps there from all area TV stations, daily and weekly papers.)

The governor declined graciously, citing a tight schedule. But right afterward he found time to wander through the assembled workers and shake hands with anyone that wanted to.

We took a picture of the governor shaking hands with a worker, Donna Spence of Bad Axe. Tell them where your husband works, said co-worker Jean Bills. The Huron County Tribune of Bad Axe, said Mrs. Spence.

The Haire Net

Today there is a new appreciation for plain old ordinary good health. Not the body beautiful. Not the 42-inch shoulders with the 31-inch waist. Just the ability to function normally with all parts in working order.

This new awareness started Wednesday when 3 fingers became jammed in the rollers of a folding machine. Fortune smiled. There is nothing broken, just smashed a little and given time should be as good as new.

Meanwhile, it's necessary to function with one hand. It's amazing how this is. And remember this is just the fingers of the LEFT hand. As I write this I think of a friend who lost control of his entire left arm and I wonder how he can do all that he does.

But I digress. This is about appreciation (or the lack of it) for everyday normal use of our body.

The first thought that occurred as the doctor was applying the finishing stitches is that no way would I be able to pound this stuff out on a computer for a while.

And that poses 2 problems. The first is that after a lifetime knocking out stories on a keyboard, writing a story longhand just doesn't get it. Second and equally serious is that someone has to decipher my writing which when given the benefit of the doubt is LOUSY.

But I digress again. When you lose the use of a hand, there are major handicaps and the ones you never think about. Like tying shoes. Like fastening trousers. Like snapping the chain for the dog. Like cutting food. Like flossing teeth. Like shining shoes. Like....I could go on, but you get the idea.

Okay, I know it could be a lot worse. It could have been my right hand, not my left that got banged up.

It could have been permanent.

Kingston sixth graders learn that etiquette can be fun

by Tom Montgomery
News Editor

Two waitresses at Wildwood Farms Restaurant were understandably apprehensive Wednesday morning as they prepared to serve about 60 Kingston Elementary sixth graders. Mild tension was replaced by grins, however, as the young diners filed into the lower level banquet room.

Something didn't seem right. The boys not only helped the young ladies with their wraps, but then went on to seat them. Once seated, each student placed a napkin on his/her lap. One would have been hard pressed to find an elbow on a table.

"Miss Manners" would have been proud. No, the waitresses weren't dreaming. Rather, they were serving the graduates of a 2-week mini-course on the basics of etiquette.

According to Kingston Elementary Principal Jim Franklin, who initiated and taught the unique course as part of the sixth graders' language arts instruction, most of the students actually enjoyed learning some of the finer points of manners.

The course included topics such as how to properly seat a lady, talk on the telephone and introduce someone. Dining etiquette, including the proper use of eating utensils, also was covered.

"I think it's a great thing for them. They enjoy it—they're highly motivated," Franklin remarked. "You may not see the difference in the cafeteria, but if they go out to Frankenthuth or the Grand Hotel..."

"I think we've all learned from it. I think they had fun."

PRACTICAL

Now in his second year as a principal in the Kingston School District, Franklin, 51, says that the brief unit on etiquette, taught for the first time at Kingston, gave students a practical, yet interesting way to learn some very useful things.

"I saw a need many years ago to teach kids something they are so lacking. I was always searching, as a teacher, to find something that was creative, but also practical," he said, adding, "These kids are being taught a little about how to be proper when they go somewhere."

Franklin explained that he taught the class using 4 books for reference. He admitted with a chuckle that "I found out that I had gotten careless" about certain aspects of etiquette.

Much of the pupils' grades was based on attitude, although mechanics also was important, Franklin explained, adding, "I told them it would be the easiest A you ever earned or the easiest E."

Asked if he believes students will retain and use what they learned, Franklin said he believes many will, especially those who choose to pursue careers which require acceptable manners.

UP TO THEM

"It's up to them," he added. "I think it's programmed into their computer. It's there if they want it."

And what do parents think of the new class? At least 2 say they're very impressed with the course and its teacher.

Richard "Sandy" Lance, whose daughter, Lisa, was among the sixth graders, remarked, "I was very encouraged by it. I think it was a fantastic program." He added, "I know I was told to keep my elbows off the table yesterday."

"I think he (Franklin) did a wonderful job," Lance continued. "I know my daughter was very excited about it—that's all she talked about."

Another parent, Wayne Wright, who serves as Kingston High School principal, commented that his daughter, Marsha, thought the banquet "was just a great day. I think the kids were conscious about how they looked."

"I think it was a very valuable experience for all the kids. It was very positive," Wright said, adding that unique and practical teaching ideas aren't something new for Franklin. "It's not the first thing he's come up with."

Franklin has taught the course for 6 of his 27 years in the field of education. Originally from Peck, he served in the Peck, MacKinnon Island, Whittemore-Prescott and Lakeville school districts before joining the staff at Kingston Elementary. Throughout the years he has served as a teacher, counselor, superintendent, principal and coach.

Although he hasn't always had time to teach the class, Franklin indicated the etiquette unit will probably continue at Kingston. "I think it's something, if I'm here, that we'll do year after year," he said.

FINAL EXAM -- A banquet last week at Wildwood Farms Restaurant served as a final exam for these Kingston Elementary sixth graders, who, taught by Principal Jim Franklin (above), recently completed a 2-week unit on etiquette.

KINGSTON SIXTH graders Ryan Walker, 11, and Tina Froede, 12, practice what they learned about proper dining etiquette.

One sentenced, many arraigned in circuit court

A 19-year-old Clifford man was sentenced in Tuscola County Circuit Court Friday to 3 to 10 years in prison for a conviction of probation violation.

Richard M. Warford, 439 S. Clifford Rd., also was ordered to receive substance abuse treatment.

Court records state that Warford violated his probation Dec. 11, when he was sentenced in circuit court after entering guilty pleas to 2 new criminal offenses--attempted resisting and obstructing a police officer, and reckless driving.

He had been serving a 60-month probation term for a conviction of breaking and entering.

A number of persons were arraigned Friday on various charges.

Michael O. Decker Sr., 37, 4927 Main St., Millington, pleaded guilty to fourth degree Criminal Sexual Conduct Oct. 19 in Millington.

Decker's plea, which stems from an incident in which he engaged in sexual contact with another person using force or coercion to accomplish the sexual contact, was taken under advisement by the court.

The offense carries a maximum sentence of 2 years imprisonment and/or a $500 fine.

Gagetown resident David J. Seibel, 33, 6803 N. Colwood Rd., stood mute to charges of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, third offense, and operating a motor vehicle while his license was suspended/restricted, subsequent offense.

A pre-trial was scheduled for Feb. 19. Bond was continued at $500.

If convicted, Seibel faces maximum sentences of 5 years imprisonment and/or a $500 fine; license revoked.

The charges stem from an incident Dec. 24 on Colwood Road in Elmwood Township, court records state.

Fred Grover Jr., 22, 5971 W. Millington Rd., Millington, stood mute to a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon (knife).

Grover faces a pre-trial Feb. 19. His bond was continued at $4,000.

The offense, which allegedly occurred Dec. 9 in Millington, carries a maximum sentence of 4 years imprisonment and/or a $2,000 fine.

An 18-year-old Fairgrove man pleaded innocent to charges of larceny in a building and possession of a short-barreled shotgun/rifle.

A pre-trial for Robert A. Hendrick Jr., 8964 Vanderbilt Rd., will be held Feb. 5. Bond was continued at $5,000 and $2,000, respectively.

He is charged with taking a purse from a gas station at 9006 M-25 in Wisner Township Dec. 10, and possessing an illegal firearm Oct. 29 in Wisner Township.

If convicted of both crimes, Hendrick faces a maximum sentence of 9 years imprisonment and/or $4,500.

Rob J. Partyka, 24, Royal Oak, stood mute to a charge of malicious destruction of property over $100.

His pre-trial was set for Feb. 19. Bond was continued at $5,000.

Partyka allegedly damaged a pickup truck Aug. 30 in Ellington Township, court records state.

The offense carries a maximum sentence of 4 years imprisonment and/or $2,000.

Vassar resident Mary L. Jacobs, 34, 4365 S. Kirk Rd., stood mute to a charge of uttering and publishing.

A pre-trial was scheduled for Feb. 19. Bond was continued at $14,000.

The charge stems from an incident June 19 in Juniata Township involving a check written for $36.36.

Herron was awarded this title following competition among the entire 150-member Cadet Corps. Competitors were evaluated on standard moving and stationary drill commands.
He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Herron of Cass City. He attended Cass City High School prior to becoming a member of the 250-person Cadet Corps at Kemper.
Kemper is the oldest military school west of the Mississippi, founded in 1844.

HEALTH TIPS

"Clotbusters" revolutionize heart attack treatment

By Claude Lenfant, M.D.
Director
National Heart, Lung and Blood Institute
Washington, D.C.

Virtually every minute of every hour of every day someone dies of a heart attack. Of the 1.5 million Americans who will suffer attacks this year, some 540,400 will die.
Today's death rate from heart disease is staggering, but it is decreasing. In part, this is because doctors are beginning to use revolutionary new drugs that, if given at the onset of an attack, can lessen or eliminate heart damage.

Why Do Heart Attacks Occur?

Recent studies have shown that in nearly 90 percent of heart attacks, blood clots develop in the coronary arteries, the blood vessels that carry food and oxygen to the heart muscle itself. Very often these arteries are already damaged by fatty deposits (atherosclerosis).
When a clot blocks a coronary artery, blood cannot flow through it freely. Without sufficient oxygen, that section of the heart rapidly deteriorates. Hence, the key to avoiding extensive heart damage and death is getting the blood flowing again as quickly as possible.

First of the "Clotbusters"

Unclogging the artery is the job of remarkable agents that dissolve the clot and get blood flowing soon after they are injected. The era of the "clotbusters" (thrombolytic, or clot-dissolving, drugs) began in 1982 when the Food and Drug Administration approved a drug called streptokinase for injection directly into coronary arteries to dissolve clots there.

Research involving 12,000 patients in 5 major studies indicated that administering streptokinase diminished death rates by 35 to 50 percent during the first few days following a heart attack.
This past May, an FDA advisory committee recommended that physicians be given the go-ahead to inject streptokinase intravenously (into a vein). Delivering streptokinase intravenously is easier and quicker - 2 major considerations in treating emergencies.

But despite its widespread use, streptokinase has some drawbacks. While the drug dissolves clots, it also attacks other components in the blood and thus can lead to excessive bleeding. And because streptokinase is made from bacteria, a small number of patients may have life-threatening allergic responses to the drug.
More commonly, patients have antibodies in their blood from exposure to streptococci bacteria. These antibodies may inactivate some of the streptokinase, thus blunting the beneficial response and making a higher or additional dose necessary. For these reasons and others, researchers have sought better thrombolytic agents with more certain life-saving powers.

The Next Step: Tissue Plasminogen Activator

A new drug, tissue plasminogen activator (t-PA), looks promising. Cleared by the Food and Drug Administration this November, some experts think t-PA will substantially improve the initial treatment of heart attacks.
t-PA is another thrombolytic agent, one normally produced by the human body in minute quantities. Through recombinant DNA technology, larger amounts of t-PA can be manufactured for treating heart attacks.

One potential advantage of t-PA is that it may be more "clot specific" than streptokinase. At moderate doses its effects may be limited to the clot itself so it doesn't attack other blood proteins.
Results thus far suggest that intravenous t-PA is more effective than intravenous streptokinase in reopening arteries, is apparently faster and causes less bleeding. In one study, headed by Burton E. Sobel, M.D., at the Washington University School of Medicine in St. Louis, 75 percent of patients with documented clots had their arteries reopened within 60 minutes using intravenous t-PA.

These findings were later extended by the Thrombolysis in Myocardial Infarction (TIMI) trial sponsored by the National Heart, Lung and Blood Institute, which compared t-PA with streptokinase (both given intravenously). Within 90 minutes of infusion, t-PA reopened the arteries in 60 percent of heart attack victims, whereas streptokinase reopened arteries in only 35 percent of patients.

Another advantage of t-PA is that because it is a naturally occurring body protein, it does not elicit an allergic response in patients, thus permitting readministration if necessary.

Emergency room doctors who have used t-PA as an experimental drug give it high ratings. Paramedics - often the first medical help to reach the victim - may become the medical professionals to use t-PA most often, because it is optimally effective when administered as quickly as possible.

Apparent drawbacks of t-PA include the concerns expressed by some scientists that the drug may cause excessive bleeding and that arteries opened by t-PA have a tendency to close again. In addition, at the higher doses now being studied, t-PA has caused serious bleeding and has been linked to cerebrovascular hemorrhage in some patients.

New Agents Under Development

Because of the questions raised about t-PA, several laboratories currently are developing newer thrombolytic agents. A team of Boston researchers, for instance, is experimenting with attaching a thrombolytic agent to monoclonal antibodies that zero in on the clot, much the way guided missiles home in on a target. The agent thus acts only on the clot, so fewer side effects occur.

Research also is being conducted with various analogs, or chemical cousins, of the t-PA molecule in an effort to increase the drug's duration of action and specificity. Longer-acting versions of t-PA could eventually eliminate the need to administer it continuously and allay worries of artery reblockage. And the greater specificity of future t-PA "relatives" also might diminish the likelihood of their triggering excessive bleeding.

The era of the clotbusters is in full swing. Thrombolytic agents have already revolutionized the way heart attacks are managed. Experience so far suggests that t-PA and its relatives may hold great promise as medicines that will save thousands of lives in the years to come.

Ant strength

Put the telephone pole over here, please: According to International Wildlife magazine, an ant weighing .0086 grams can carry a caterpillar 5 times its weight and 15 times its length. If the average adult male had comparable strength, he could carry an 810-pound object measuring 86 feet long!

Great Lakes College launches book drive

Great Lakes Junior College of Business, 1231 Cleaver Road, Caro, is kicking off a Community Book Drive for its campus library beginning Feb. 8.

This event coincides with National Education for Business Week Feb. 7-13 which observes the importance of training and educating individuals for tomorrow's business world.

The GLJC Caro campus is currently in need of books, periodicals, and reference materials for the 300 students currently attending the campus. Business-related materials are in particular need, but books and reference materials dealing with any academic subject area are also needed.

William Guerriero, Caro campus educational director and GLJC vice-president of administration, says that the library will also serve as a resource center for business professionals and area residents.

The library doors at the college will be open from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. for the drop off of any materials. Great Lakes Junior College staff members can also make arrangements to pick up donated materials. Additional information is available by calling 673-5857.

NOTICE OF FORECLOSURE AND MORTGAGE SALE

MORTGAGE SALE - Default having been made in the terms and conditions of a certain mortgage made by Grace L. Parker, widow of Harry Parker, deceased of 6428 Pine Street, Cass City, Michigan to The Pinney State Bank, now known as Chemical Bank, Cass City, a Michigan banking corporation, 6522 Main Street, P.O. Box 156, Cass City, Michigan, Mortgagee, dated the 16th day of January, 1980 and recorded in the Office of the Register of Deeds, for the County of Tuscola and State of Michigan, on the 8th day of February, 1980 in Liber 503 of Tuscola County Records, on Pages 1275-1276, as amended by Mortgage Extension Agreement dated the 21st day of April, 1983 and recorded in the Office of the Register of Deeds for the County of Tuscola and State of Michigan on the 25th day of April, 1983 in the Liber 531 on Pages 1061-1062, on which mortgage there is claimed to be due, at the date of this notice, for principal and interest, the sum of Eight Hundred Ninety-four and 03/100 Dollars ($894.03).

And no suit or proceedings at law or in equity having been instituted to recover the debt secured by said mortgage or any part thereof, whereby the power of sale contained in said mortgage has become operative;

NOW, THEREFORE, by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute of the State of Michigan in such case made and provided, notice is hereby given that on the 29th day of February at 10:00 o'clock a.m. said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale at public auction, to the highest bidder, in the front entrance of the Tuscola County Courthouse, in the City of Caro, State of Michigan (that being the place where the Circuit Court for the County of Tuscola is held), of the premises described in said mortgage, or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay the amount due, as aforesaid, on said mortgage with the interest thereon at twelve and one-half (12.5%) per annum and all legal costs, charges and expenses, including the attorneys' fees allowed by law, and also any taxes and insurance which may be paid by the Mortgagee on or before the date of said sale which may be necessary to protect its interest in the premises.

Said premises are described as follows: All that certain parcel of land situated in the Village of Cass City, in the County of Tuscola and State of Michigan, and described as follows, to-wit:

Lot Three (3) and the West Half of Lot Two (2), all in Block Eight (8), of the Original Plat of the Village of Cass City, according to the recorded plat thereof.

The redemption period shall be six (6) months from the date of sale.

AAUW members discuss quilts

The Cass City branch of the American Association of University Women held its monthly meeting at Rawson Memorial Library Tuesday, Jan. 19.

President Linda Derfing presided. It was voted that AAUW will contribute to the adult literacy program in the Cass City area. Legislative Day will be held March 16 at the Civic Center in Lansing. All AAUW members are encouraged to attend and meet with their legislators. The League of Women Voters and the Business and Professional Women's Club will also be represented.

Faye Stoll, from the Grainery Quiltworks in Kingston, was in charge of the program entitled "Warm and Cozy." Many members brought quilts to display and discuss.

Esther McCullough won a centerpiece donated by Special Scents in a drawing held.

Hostesses for the evening were Jane Hittler, Marilyn Peters and Kris Deering.

YOUR EYES
Dr. G.W. McNiven

SEEING & SKIING

Light plays an important part in the way you see, not only on the ski slope, but all the time. In the afternoons during the winter, the sun starts its descent in the western sky early. Even if you have perfect vision, it takes greater effort to see clearly. If you have any kind of visual defect, it is adversely affected by poor light.

Many skiers wear goggles to cope with the varying light conditions on the slopes. These goggles have interchangeable lenses of various tints. The darker tints are used when the sun is strong, earlier in the day, to relieve glare. The lighter ones are used in the afternoons to permit more light to enter the eyes. Other skiers prefer chromatic or light-sensitive lenses that automatically lighten and darken according to light conditions.

When poor lighting exists on the slope, however, it is wise for all skiers to "slow down" and be visually alert. This precaution will help avoid skiing accidents.

Many activities at ANR Week

By Bill Bortel

Agriculture and Natural Resources (ANR) Week at Michigan State University has more educational events in one week than any other program of its type in the state.

ANR Week, March 19-26, will offer nearly 100 educational activities. The event will have programs for farmers, business people, agricultural leaders, government representatives and people interested in a variety of topics ranging from health and nutrition to outdoor sports and family recreation.

"If the description sounds a little vague, it's because there are so many activities

3 county students on Alma Dean's list

William Charmley of Caro, Elizabeth Dickinson of Cass City and Gregory Surmont of Vassar are among the 195 Alma College students named to the Dean's List for outstanding academic performance during the 1987 Fall Term which ended Dec. 18.

Students who achieve a 3.5 or better grade point average during a term, while carrying a minimum of 13 credits (at least 8 of which are evaluative grades), are named to the Dean's List.

Charmley, a 1986 graduate of Caro High School, is the son of Richard and Rosemary Charmley, Caro. He is a sophomore majoring in physics.

Dickinson, a 1984 graduate of Cass City High School, is the daughter of C. Harlan and Marjorie Dickinson, Cass City. She is a senior majoring in business administration.

Surmont, a 1985 graduate of Vassar High School, is the son of Dr. Eugene and Mrs. Barbara Surmont, Vassar. He is a junior majoring in business administration.

going on each day of the event," says Wilma Miller, ANR Week program coordinator. "Topics range all the way from learning how to make safe choices in retail foods to planning Michigan's future in forestry."

The overall aim of ANR Week is to provide information that will help people improve their personal lives or skills in business through programs such as those on farm management, coping with changes in the rural community, trends in tourism and recreation, and certified farm markets.

Many programs have a futuristic orientation. These include a special day-long program about Michigan's rural housing, updates on environmental issues such as community waste problems and animal waste handling, methods to improve the quality of the Great Lakes shared by Canada and Michigan, and a session on how biotechnology will affect agriculture. Of particular interest to farmers will be programs to be held in the Wharton Center for Performing Arts about future crop planting and cultural practices.

Numerous sessions are designed to help improve individual skills. Visitors will find sessions on topics such as gardening with herbs and perennials and hunting wild turkeys. Several meetings will focus on expanding Michigan's tourism and outdoor recreation potential.

Some programs could lead to new hobbies or even sideline businesses. These include the workshop offered by the Michigan Beekeepers Association, a conference on bed-and-breakfast operations, a session on wild mushroom hunting and culture, a conference on wildflowers in Michigan, and the program on preservation of historic homes. There is also a special program about managing a horse enterprise as a recreational business.

Several technical sessions are also planned for the week. These include the Integrated Pest Management School, Microtel instructional workshops for farm accounting and payroll, and demonstrations of the Michigan Geographic Information System for soil mapping and land use planning.

Programs related to animal agriculture include the Michigan Fed Cattle Contest, a day-long program for dairy goat raisers and another for sheep producers. There will also be a special program on raising small animals for food and a day-long showing of rare domestic animals at the MSU Livestock Pavilion.

The details of all the ANR Week programs are contained in a free 16-page tabloid newspaper that is available from the Tuscola County Cooperative Extension Service office at 362 Green Street in Caro or the MSU Bulletin Office, Box 6640, East Lansing, MI 48826-6640.

PETITION FOR THE ENLARGEMENT OF THE CASS CITY VILLAGE LIMITS

TO THE BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS OF TUSCOLA COUNTY, MICHIGAN:

Pursuant to a resolution unanimously approved at a meeting of the Village Council of Cass City, Michigan, held December 28, 1987, a copy of which resolution is attached hereto as Exhibit A, the Village of Cass City does hereby respectfully petition you to alter the boundaries of such Village so as to include the following described premises which adjoins the present limits of said Village:

Beginning at Northeast Corner of Northeast 1/4 of Northwest 1/4 of Section 33, Town 14 North, Range 11 East, running thence West along Section line 183.0 feet, thence Southerly 217.0 feet, thence Easterly 183.0 feet to centerline of Doerr Road; thence Northerly along centerline of Doerr Road 217.0 feet to point of beginning.

Beginning at a point in the centerline of Doerr Road which is 217.0 feet South of the Northeast corner of the Northeast 1/4 of the Northwest 1/4 of Section 33, Town 14 North, Range 11 East, running thence West along Section line 183.0 feet, thence Southerly 217.0 feet, thence Easterly parallel to the section line 183.0 feet to the centerline of Doerr Road; thence Northerly along the centerline of Doerr Road 129.0 feet to the point of beginning.

The reason for this request is that the present owners of the properties in the above described parcels wish to obtain for their property all of the services, protection, and benefits which would be available if these premises were included within the incorporated Village of Cass City, and the Village of Cass City would also benefit by having said properties included within its corporate limits.

Hawks mentor's worst home defeat

Lakers dominate Cass City in Thumb B showdown 73-42

It was the worst home defeat ever suffered by a Ron Nurnberger coached team in Cass City and the game was every bit as one-sided as the final score indicated. The visiting Elkton-Pigeon-Bay Port Lakers demolished the Hawks, 73-42. The Lakers dominated at defense. The Lakers dominated on the offensive and defensive boards. The Lakers dominated in shot selections and shooting percentage. Even the Laker crowd appeared to dominate Hawk fans who were sitting on their hands all night.

Of course the Hawks didn't give the hometown crowd much to cheer about. The game was decided in the first quarter. The Lakers cleaned the boards and collected the first 2 buckets of the game on fast breaks. Dean Roestel made 2 quick steals to give the green machine a couple more easy baskets and the visitors never looked back. At the end of the first quarter the Lakers had stunned Cass City, 19-4.

Nurnberger had 2 comments about the game. It's the best shooting Laker team he has seen in years and they came to play. We were not helped by the 2 close games we won previously in the week, he said. Cass City has won key contests this year by canning shots from the 3-point line. Against the Lakers they were one of 10.

Veteran observers of the Lakers said that it was by far the best game the team has played all year. After the first quarter debacle, Cass City's offense started to function but the defense was unable to slow down the Laker offense. The visitors had little trouble solving Cass City's press and steadily added to the lead.

Starting the fourth quarter it was obvious that it wasn't Cass City's night and the reserves took over for the remainder of the game.

The Lakers used their big front line to advantage. Kel Hill, 6-7, and Paul Elenbaum, 6-2, complimented muscular Kendal Wertz who was a rebounding demon for the visitors. Wertz also led the Lakers with 18 points, closely followed by Elenbaum with 15. Paul Tuckey's 10 points were the best for Cass City.

Despite the loss, the Hawks are not out of the Thumb B Association title race. They trail Vassar and the Lakers by a game and meet both clubs again before the season ends.

Hawks hand Vulcans first defeat in Thumb B 68-65

It was the first crucial game of the season and the Cass City Red Hawks rose to the occasion Tuesday, Jan. 19, by knocking off Vassar, previously undefeated in the Thumb B Association, 68-65, at Cass City High School.

The Hawks played their best game of the season and needed to, as the Vulcans kept challenging until the final whistle.

Coach Ron Nurnberger was very pleased with the team's offense. Our passing was good and the team played very unselfish basketball, he said.

Faced by Jeff Sontag, who notched a 3-pointer and a pair of 2-pointers, and Paul Tuckey, who hit 3 buckets from the low post and added 2 free throws, Cass City jumped off to an 18-12 lead in the first quarter.

Sontag dominated play for the Hawks in the second quarter and Mike Gohsman kept Vassar in the game all by himself.

Cass City jumped into its widest lead of the night in the opening minute and a half of the second period, outscoring Vassar, 7-2, to go ahead by 11 points, 25-14.

Gohsman personally answered that challenge with 4 baskets and at the intermission had closed the gap to 6 points, 32-26.

The Hawks' lead varied between 6 and 10 points until the final 2 minutes.

The Vulcans were able to close the gap because Cass City was unable to cash in on foul shot opportunities. In the last quarter the Hawks answered just 3 of 11 foul shots, including the last 4 in a row when the Vulcans were attempting to get back in the game.

The poor foul shooting was the only area in which Cass City did not excel. The Hawks hit 5 of 7 3-point attempts and 21 of 40 2-point tries. Vassar hit 4 of 9 from 3-point range and 25 of 44 regular hoops. Tuckey and Mike Randall shared rebounding honors with 8 each. Tuckey led all scorers with 26 while Sontag scored 24. Gohsman netted 22 for Vassar.

JV GAME

The Cass City JV continued to show improvement in a loss to the Vassar JV, 58-50.

Night ski run at Huron Park

A one-mile trail through the woods at Port Crescent State Park will be lighted by candles for a 2-hour cross-country ski run beginning at dark Saturday, Feb. 6. The trail is located across the iron bridge at the west end of Port Crescent Road, 5 miles southwest of Port Austin on M-25. The Huron Audubon Society will provide warm refreshments and a bonfire will also be part of the evening's activity. This event is scheduled to be repeated Saturday, Feb. 27, and Sunday, March 13. The State Park Motor Vehicle Permit will be required for vehicle entry into all areas of the park.

Hawks survive scare from upset minded Hatchets

After a rousing, key win over Vassar, the Cass City Red Hawks were a different team Friday and the Bad Axe Hatchets nearly staged an upset before falling 57-54.

The team must have still been thinking about Vassar, Coach Ron Nurnberger said, but gave Bad Axe credit. They shot well and have shot well all season.

The Hatchets got off to a fast start behind Marty MacAlpine's 3 buckets. Mike Randall kept the Hawks on the heels of the visitors with 3 buckets and Jeff Sontag added 2, including a 3-pointer. At the end of the quarter Bad Axe was in front, 18-16.

Andrew Copeland collected 3 3-pointers, 2 of them in the second quarter and the Hatchets forged in front 35-28 at the intermission and visions of a Thumb B Association upset loomed.

Cass City won the game in the third period with some excellent defense. The Hawks limited the Hatchets to just 2 baskets and, led by Paul Tuckey's 3 buckets, forged in front 43-39.

After that the Hawks were in control and only 3 3-point baskets kept the Hatchets close. Tuckey led Cass City with 21 points and 11 rebounds. Randall, 16, and Sontag, 13, were also in double figures. The Hatchets had balanced scoring led by Geiger with 13 points.

Cheerleader competition dates set

The Kingston Junior and Senior High School cheerleaders will sponsor their annual cheerleading competition beginning at 8 a.m. March 12 at Kingston High School.

The deadline for registration is Feb. 5.

Cheerleaders in grades 7 through 12 will compete in one of 8 divisions according to school classification. Trophies will be awarded to the winning teams in each division, and the top junior and senior high cheerleaders will be recognized. A special award will be given to the school judged "most spirited."

Last year, some 400 cheerleaders from the Thumb as well as Detroit, Saginaw and other areas participated in the day-long event.

Additional information about the event, including entry fees, is available by contacting Principal Wayne Wright, 683-2550; Lawanda Adamczyk, 683-2075, or Poetia Nichol, 683-2966.

Auto-Owners Insurance passes $1 billion in premium payments

Auto-Owners Insurance exceeded $1 billion in property and casualty insurance premium volume in 1987, joining an elite group of insurers, nationally, who have achieved that prominence.

Announcement of the sales achievement was made by Owen H. Marmon, chairman and chief executive officer, at the companies' headquarters at Lansing. President H. Max Tanner, long identified with the marketing activities of the companies, added that the $1 billion sales achievement has even greater significance when considering the companies operate in 18 states. Tanner has been elected to succeed the retiring Marmon as chairman and chief executive officer Feb. 1.

Auto-Owners Insurance is comprised of 4 property and casualty companies and one life/health insurer. All are rated "A+ Superior" by A.M. Best Company, the nation's leading independent insurance rating authority.

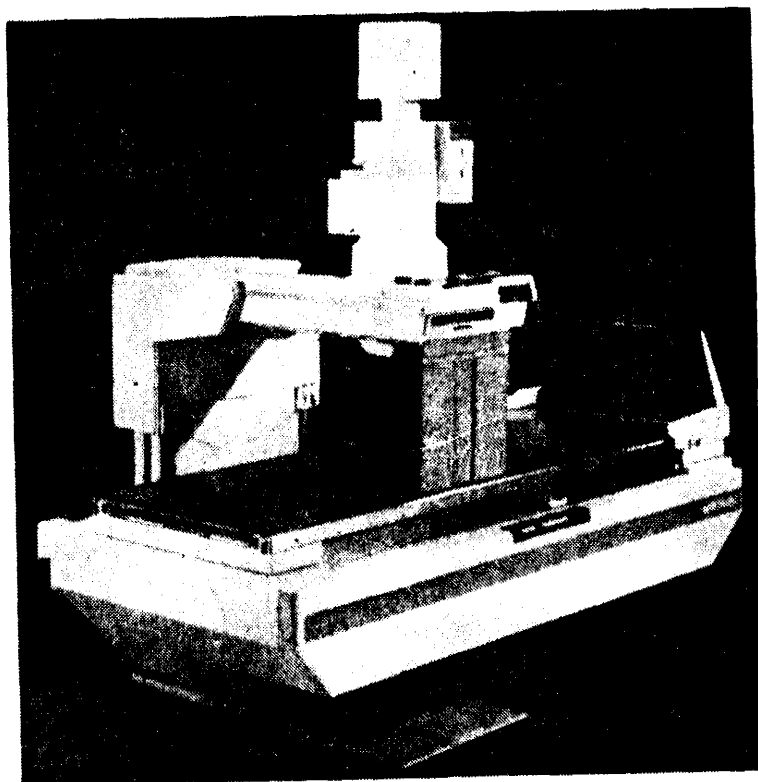

Auto-Owners is represented in Cass City by Harris-Hampshire Agency.

Akron-Fairgrove's press kills Bulldogs' bid to end losing skid

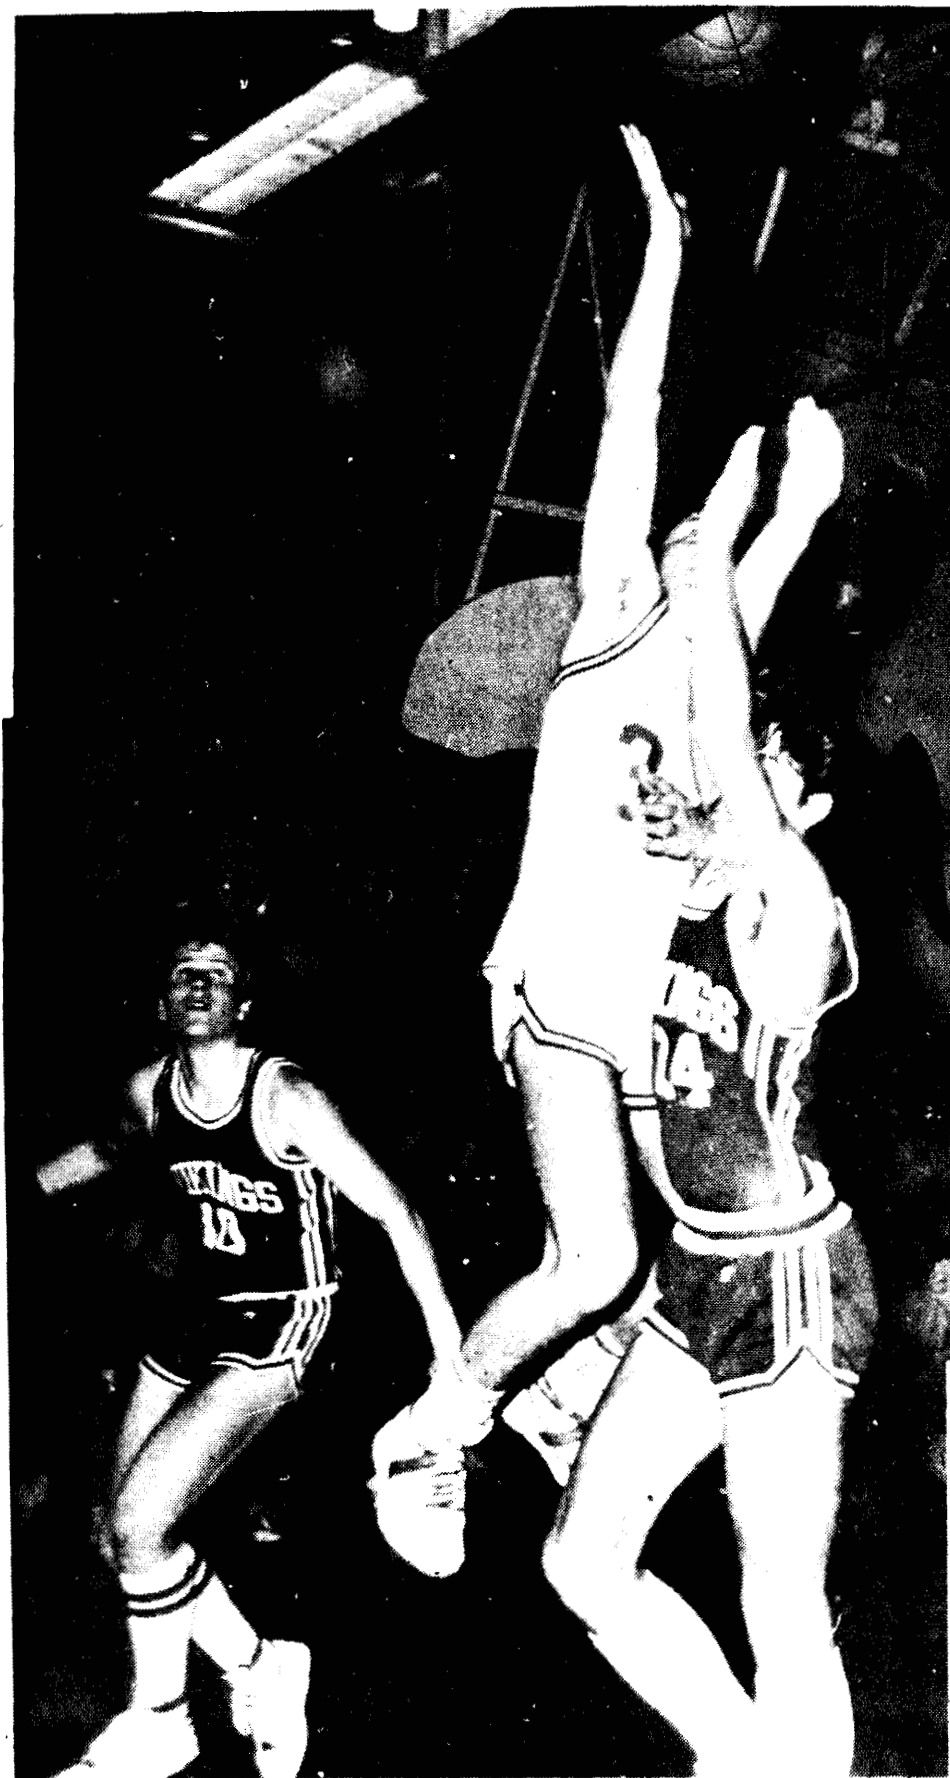

Don't judge a book by its cover. How accurately that cliché expresses the final score of last Friday's North Central Thumb contest between Owen-Gage and Akron-Fairgrove, which ended 92-56. The Bulldog loss was their 9th straight. Coach Dean Roller's cagers' best chance of ending their losing slide will come this Friday when they travel to Caseville to tangle with the winless Eagles, the only team to fall victims to the Bulldogs back in December of last year. And although the Bulldogs handled the Eagles with ease on their season opener, Coach Roller doesn't expect things to be so easy the second time around. "Last time they played without Jeremy Steinman, who will make a difference," said Roller. Also it's on their home floor. A slow start against the Vikings, who were spotted a generous 8-point lead Friday before the Bulldogs could break into the scoring column, was symbolic of the uphill climb the visitors would face all night. Owen-Gage managed to end the quarter trailing 20-14. Both teams traded baskets for much of the second stanza, as only a free throw separated the two teams from the opening Bulldog drought to half time, where the host team led by 7. The Bulldogs came out in the third quarter playing tight defense, which dwindled the Vikings' lead to 5 points on a hard drive lay in by Marc Reinhardt. Owen-Gage's Chris Abbe, arguably the best athlete on the floor, kept his team in pace with the Vikings the remainder of the quarter, setting up an old-fashioned shootout for the final 8 minutes as only 2 (3 point) baskets separated the two teams. But from here the Vikings started to compose their misleading cover on the game's final score. The Vikings, using a fierce full court press as their main weapon, destroyed the Bulldogs, outscoring them 37-7 (18-2 in the final 2 minutes) to run away with a close contest.

We couldn't put the ball in the basket, played no defense and couldn't handle their press, said Roller, who watched his team end the game much like they started it. Akron-Fairgrove's Jeremy Ball had a career night. Ball netted 31 points on 2 baskets from outside the 3 line, 10 others on jumpers from all over the court and a 5-6 showing on the charity stripe. John Miller pitched in 20 tallies for the winners, while Brent Laursen and Tim Wehrman finished with a dozen. The Bulldogs' lone bright spot was the play of senior forward Abbe, who finished with 23 points. Chad Stirrett

Owen-Gage whips Hatchets Monday

Ailing Bulldog spikers lose to Thumb B favorite Lakers

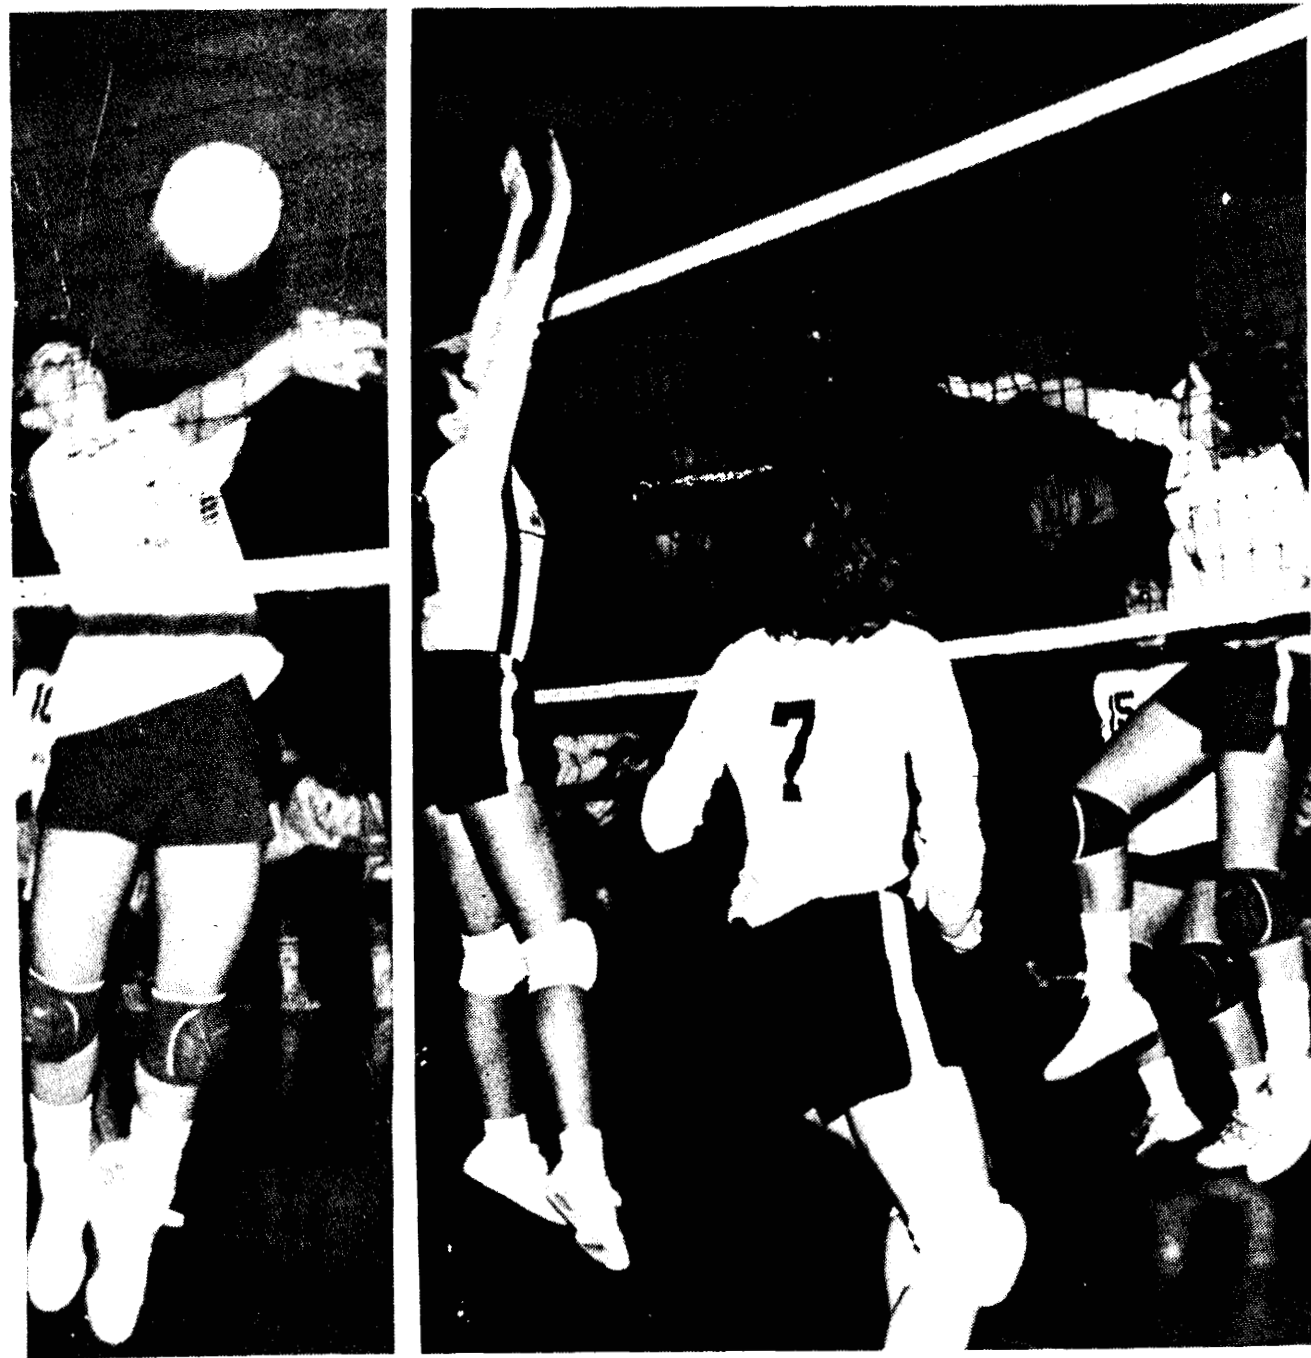

The Bulldog volleyball team ran into a murderous front line Monday, Jan. 18, that belonged to the Thumb B's Elkton-Pigeon-Bayport Lakers, and were defeated in straight games 14-16, 7-15 and 6-15. Bulldog mentor Judy

Campbell felt that her spikers, who played without senior Jane Billy, who was ill, "played real well the first game and half of the second," to the hands-on favorite to win the Thumb B championship. Many of the Bulldog spikers displayed the form that brought them the North Central Thumb League crown last year. Namely Susie Salcido. The Bulldog senior was credited with 14 good tips including 10 kill tips, 12 good spikes, of which 6 were kills, to go along with 9 blocks and 5 saves. Bulldog Dawn Holland also was praised by Coach Campbell as she recorded 10 points, 6 sets and 2 kills. Holland also had 4 blocks. Andrea Goslin and Marcie Draschil were credited with 13 sets each in a losing effort. The Bulldogs open their NCTL schedule against North Huron next Monday.

OWEN-GAGE'S superstar Susie Salcido displays the form which led Owen-Gage to wins in straight games of 15-4, 15-5 and 15-0 over Bad Axe Monday night in non-conference action.

Olympian McPhail earns trip to winter games in Calgary

Chances are good that 1988 will be a year of sports competition to be remembered for 15-year-old Cass City resident David McPhail. McPhail, who will compete in the 1988 Special Olympics State Winter Games Feb. 9-12 in Cedar, is among only 4 Special Olympic athletes in Michigan who have been chosen to receive a 5-day, all-expense-paid trip to the 1988 Winter Olympic Games in Calgary, Alberta, Canada. McPhail will be accompanied on the trip, slated for Feb. 16-20, by Area 10 Special Olympics Director Doug Blasius, one of 4 directors in the state selected for the trip. "We have tickets for ski jumping, luge and bob sleigh," Blasius, whose area consists of Tuscola, Huron, Sanilac and St. Clair counties, said. He added that he and McPhail will also see 2 hockey games—USA versus USSR and USSR versus W. Germany. The trip, sponsored by Blue Cross/Blue Shield of Michigan, also will include a sightseeing tour of Lake Louise and Banff National Park. Blasius, who pointed out that David was chosen for the trip from among 800 Special Olympic athletes in Area 10, added that McPhail was picked because he's competed in both state and international Special Olympic Games. "He's a pretty skillful little guy; he's won several medals," Blasius remarked. "It's a good opportunity for him." McPhail, the son of Charles McPhail, 2676 N. Englehart Rd., has netted some 15 medals in Special Olympics competition over the years in skiing, soccer, basketball and poly hockey. With the support of coaches Ed Crosby and Bob Miner, he's participated in both the state summer and winter games, and in 1985 took part in the international games in Salt Lake City, Utah. "David is really dedicated and works hard in competition. He puts out 110 percent in whatever sport he plays," Blasius said, adding that the Highland Pines student will again compete in the slalom and downhill events in the upcoming 1988 Special Olympics State Winter Games.

AREA SPECIAL OLYMPICS Director Doug Blasius and Cass City resident David McPhail, 15, are among a handful of Special Olympics officials and competitors recently chosen to receive an expense-paid trip to Calgary, Alberta, Canada, to see a portion of the Winter 1988 Olympic Games next month.

Slick roads cause several accidents

Slick roads over the weekend caused several vehicle accidents, including a one-car crash early Sunday morning that left 3 Tuscola County residents hurt.

Injured in the accident were MaryAnne D. Rockentine, 23, 3420 Phillips Rd., Kingston; Jenny A. Campbell, 20, Caro, and Judith A. Ollita, 26, Vassar.

Tuscola sheriff's deputies reported that a westbound vehicle driven by Rockentine on E. Caro Road west of Hurds Corner Road lost control on icy pavement, slid into a ditch and came to rest against a tree. Caro fire fighters used the "Jaws of Life" to free the driver from the wreckage, reports state.

All 3 women were transported to Caro Community Hospital, where Rockentine and Ollita were treated and released. Campbell was transferred to Saginaw St. Mary's Hospital, where she was treated and released.

None of the occupants were wearing seat belts at the time of the 2:05 a.m. mishap.

A Cass City man escaped injury Sunday when he lost control of the vehicle he was driving on Bay City-Forestville Road west of Sheridan Road in Akron Township.

Frederick W. Milligan, 5201 Hartsell Rd., was westbound at 9 a.m. when his vehicle hit a patch of slush and entered a ditch, according to reports, which listed damage as minor.

A vehicle driven by Connie R. Krol, 3479 Pine St., Kingston, slid into a parked vehicle at the Novesta Church of Christ parking lot Sunday, causing slight damage to both vehicles.

Krol was attempting to pull into the lot when the 11 a.m. mishap occurred.

Deputies reported light damage in a one-car mishap Saturday evening on Deckerville Road west of Lamton Road in Novesta Township.

Dennis A. Hyatt, 4733 W. Deckerville Rd., Snover, lost control when his eastbound vehicle dropped off the edge of the roadway. The vehicle then slid across the road and hit a road sign.

Moderate damage to 2 vehicles was reported in a crash Saturday in Ellington Township.

Reports state that an eastbound vehicle driven by a 16-year-old Akron youth crossed the center line of Deckerville Road east of Hurds Corner Road and struck a westbound vehicle driven by Randall H. Gilliam, 6595 W. Shabbona Rd., Decker.

No one was injured in the 11:05 p.m. accident, reports state.

Police seek warrant in Jan. 19 larceny

Cass City Police are seeking an arrest warrant for a suspect in connection with the larceny of a hand gun from a display case at Cass City Hardware last week.

Hardware co-owner Jeff Leinweber told police that the gun, a Ruger Mark II .22 automatic pistol, is believed to have been taken during the early afternoon Jan. 19. The gun was discovered missing the following day.

Reports state that the gun has been recovered by police.

Also filing a complaint last week was Stuart Atwell, 4622 Kennebec Drive, Cass City, who stated he discovered Jan. 20 that his storage shed at 4135 Vulcan St. had been broken into.

Atwell reported 3 small electric motors and a bench vise missing from the shed. Total value of the items is estimated at about $470.

Obituaries

Mary Ann Gibson

Mrs. Mary Ann Gibson, 94, of Cass City died Sunday, Jan. 24, at her home after a lengthy illness.

She was born Sept. 5, 1893, in Snover, the daughter of Hiram and Emma (Bateman) Flannigan. She married Rev. Ernest Gibson March 27, 1919, in Battle Creek. They served in pastorates in Pontiac, Petoskey and Detroit and came to the Cass City area in 1938 from Brown City. Her husband died Jan. 11, 1983.

Mrs. Gibson was a member of the Cass City Missionary Church of Cass City and was awarded the Governors' Citizen Award.

Surviving are: 3 daughters, Mrs. Alex (Naomi) Lindsay of Augres, Mrs. Kendall (Irma) Jacobs and Mrs. Harmond (Emma) Nicols, both of Decker; 9 grandchildren; 19 great-grandchildren; one brother, John Flannigan of New Haven, Mich., and 3 sisters, Mrs. Merle Wauser of Birch Run, Mrs. Virgil Van Norman of Decker and Mrs. Julius Cole of Saginaw. A grandson, 3 sisters and 5 brothers died previously.

Funeral services will be held at 1 p.m. Wednesday at Cass City Missionary Church. Dr. Glen S. Waun of Elkhart, Ind., Rev. Clifford Jordan, pastor of the Cass City Missionary Church, and Rev. James Keller, of Lamotte Missionary Church, will officiate. Little's Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements. Interment will be in Elkland Cemetery, Cass City.

George Ouvry

George M. Ouvry, 55, of St. Clair Shores died Wednesday at Grace Hospital, Detroit, from leukemia. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ouvry of Cass City and a brother of the late Aimee Ouvry.

Ouvry was a Twin Pines milkman for 36 years. He was president of the St. Charles Beneficial Society and a member of the Belgium-American Century Club.

Surviving, besides his parents, are his wife, Phyllis, 3 sons, Michael, Douglas and Kenneth, a daughter, Sharon, one granddaughter and a brother, Charles.

Funeral services were held Monday at St. Angela Church, East Detroit, with burial in Resurrection Cemetery in Clinton Township.

Douglas Salgat

Douglas Henry Salgat, 55, of Cass City died Wednesday, Jan. 20, at the University of Michigan Hospital in Ann Arbor, after a lengthy illness.

He was born May 4, 1932, in Gagetown, the son of Mrs. Ada (Karr) Salgat of Cass City and the late Lawrence Salgat. He came to Cass City in 1977.

He was a member of St. Pancratius Catholic Church of Cass City and the Gagetown Farmers Club.

Surviving are his mother; one brother, Frank Salgat of Ann Arbor, and one sister, Mrs. Richard (Marlene) Chepko of Taylor, MI; 2 nieces and 2 nephews.

A prayer service was held Friday evening at Little's Funeral Home, Cass City. Funeral services were held Saturday at St. Pancratius Catholic Church, Cass City, with Rev. Father James Falsey, pastor of St. Michael's Catholic Church of Wilmot, officiating. Interment was in St. Agatha Cemetery, Gagetown.

Pearl Starr

Mrs. Pearl E. Starr died Friday, Jan. 8, in Phoenix, AZ.

The former Pearl Clark was born near Argyle Nov. 9, 1899.

She was united in marriage to Leigh Starr Nov. 9, 1919. In 1930, they moved to Phoenix. Mr. Starr died in July 1972.

She is survived by one daughter, Avis Johnson, 3 granddaughters and a number of great-grandchildren.

Services were conducted Jan. 12 from Sunset Chapel in Phoenix.

Your neighbor says It's a good idea to try it out first

Nearly a quarter of all American children are now living in single-parent households, according to the Census Bureau's "Americans' Marital Status and Living Arrangements" report.

Further, more than half of all American children will spend some time in a single-parent household before reaching adulthood, the report states.

The statistics may startle, although not surprise, many area residents, who probably are aware of rising divorce rates and a growing number of unmarried mothers in recent years.

Your neighbor, Amy L. Hoffman of Gagetown, said the report reflects changes in America.

"It doesn't surprise me, but I don't think it sets a good example for children if the parents aren't married," she remarked.

Hoffman, 22, added that many couples don't seem to want to make a lifetime commitment, while many of those who do simply opt for divorce if "something better comes up."

"That sounds horrible, but it's easier that way—they take the easy way out." Hoffman indicated she believes marriage should come first, but that it's okay for a couple to live together for a short period (less than a year) as a "trial period."

"With the divorce rate, I think it's a good idea to try it out first if you really love each other and you want to get married, but you aren't sure," she said.

Originally from Saginaw, Hoffman resided in Catlin, Ill., for 18 years before moving to Gagetown in July. She is employed at Gagetown Manor as a nurses aide.

Area ambulance contract settled

McDaniel, a former Cass City resident now living in Bay City, took over the service in 1979 along with Wallace Grassmann, who later died in a car accident.

The pair decided to start an ambulance service after Roger Little, owner of Little's Funeral Home, announced his plans in 1977 to discontinue operating ambulance service due to increasing government regulations. Ambulance service had been operated out of the local funeral home for some 35 years prior to Little's announcement.

McDaniel, whose contract will be completed by Mercy, last week indicated he played an active role in the choosing of a new ambulance service for the area.

"As far as input into the decision, I've been in the ambulance business for 9 years—I looked at all 3 proposals. I talked to all the people, and I made a recommendation" in favor of Mercy, he said.

"I decided way back in 1979 that we'd give it 10 years and by that time, Hills and Dales should have their act together and... be able to provide a more quality service than we were able to," McDaniel said, adding that the hospital's initiative in making a proposal simply came too late.

Mercy Ambulance officials, meanwhile, have already organized first aid training for ambulance attendants locally, and will begin an Emergency Medical Technician training program in Cass City within the next 3 months, according to Mercy Director Ray Little.

Little, who stated that the area service has a total of 16 EMTs and attendants on staff, added that the ambulance company is looking forward to working with residents, ambulance personnel and Hills and Dales.

Mercy Ambulance, which is based in Saginaw, has been in business for 30 years. Although the business has been controlled by the Development Corporation of St. Luke's Hospital for the past 3 years, the service operates independently of the hospital.

Council sets assessment district, hears request

Tuttle stated that the Kozans are planning to build a day care center on the land, and would like tentative approval for the zoning change before finalizing purchase of the property.

Contacted at home by telephone Monday night, Sandra Kozan declined to comment on details of the day care center, saying that the project is still in a tentative planning stage. She did say, however, that the center would be capable of serving up to 30 children, from infants to kindergartners.

ANNUAL REPORT

A year-end "state of the village" report compiled by LaPonsie was reviewed by the council.

Aside from routine maintenance and improvements, a number of major projects were completed in 1987, ranging from a change in street lighting from mercury vapor to high pressure sodium, to paving and construction of curb and gutter on Division and Sherman streets.

The annual report indicates that new house construction continued at a good pace last year, with the 6 permits issued totaling $370,000 in construction costs.

A greater number of new house permits was issued in only 3 of the previous 10 years. Ten permits were issued in 1986 ($638,600 in construction costs) and in 1978 ($400,000), and 9 permits totalling $333,000 in construction costs were issued in 1977.

LaPonsie remarked that "other" construction also was promising in 1987—industrial additions, $148,000; new commercial, $963,000; commercial additions, $16,000; residential additions, $62,639, and church additions, $25,000.

Criminal activity in the village, meanwhile, was down by 12 percent compared to 1986.

Nearly all criminal incidents were down, including assaults, down by 16 (a total of 15 in 1987); vandalism, down by 12 (100); burglaries, down by 9 (13); larcenies, down by 7 (98); drug complaints, down by 8 (7), and auto thefts, down by 6 (4).

The total number of minor complaints in 1987 was down slightly over the previous year. Police issued 192 traffic tickets, compared to 300 tickets in 1986.

Turning to water usage, LaPonsie states that the number of gallons of water pumped from village wells last year was down by 22,000,000 gallons (18 percent) from 1986. The total for 1987 was 100,738,900 gallons.

LaPonsie attributed the drop to several factors, including repair of numerous small leaks, a decrease in usage and an improved meter system.

Also in the report, a brief note on the status of the Cass City Food Closet lists some 220 families (about 765 people) being served by the closet since it opened in March 1983. In 1987 alone, 22 new families (87 people) were added to the list.

The closet, initially opened to provide emergency assistance to area families during particularly difficult economic times, was designed to help those who had been laid off and who could not qualify for Social Services' aid. Since 1985, the program has been broadened to help those also getting food stamps and/or ADC or General Assistance.

Police stated that icy pavement prevented Peters from avoiding contact with the other vehicle, owned by Maurice Winchester, 5085 Bay City-Forestville Rd., Gagetown.

Stephen M. Root reported that his vehicle was struck early Sunday morning by an unknown vehicle while parked at the Charmont Motel.

Root's vehicle sustained moderate damage, police said.

Chemical Financial Corp. reports income up 4.3%

Gilbert A. Currie, chairman of Chemical Financial Corporation, reported net income for the year of 1987 of $7,590,000, a 4.3% increase over total net income of $7,274,000 earned in 1986. Earnings for the fourth quarter of 1987 were $2,459,000, which represents a 19% increase over the $2,067,000 earned in the fourth quarter of 1986.

Earnings per share for 1987 were $3.24, a 9% increase over the $3.21 per share earned in 1986. For the fourth quarter of 1987, earnings per share were $1.05, compared to $.89 per share earned during the fourth quarter of 1986.

Currie stated that the results for 1987 continue the record of consecutive annual gains achieved each year since Chemical became a bank holding company in 1974.

Chemical Financial Corporation is the parent company of Chemical Bank and Trust Company, Midland, as well as Chemical Banks headquartered in Bay City, Cadillac, Cass City, Clare, Gladwin County, Grayling, Marshall, Montcalm County and Standish.

4 arraigned on larceny charges

Four persons were arraigned in Tuscola County District Court recently on larceny charges involving items allegedly taken from Fisher's Big Wheel Store in Caro.

Shannon M. Weidman, 17, and Bethany A. Renshaw, 18, both of Clio, were charged with larceny in a building. Bond for each was set at $5,000. Their preliminary examinations will be held at 9 a.m. Feb. 3.

According to court records, the pair are charged with taking video movies, tapes and cartridges, and make-up from the store Jan. 9.

The offense carries a maximum sentence of 4 years imprisonment and/or a $2,000 fine. Also arraigned were James K. Walker, 21, 112 Murray Rd., Caro, and Mathew H. Malloy, 18, 416 E. Frank St., Caro, who are charged with larceny over $100.

Walker, whose bond was set at $2,000, faces a preliminary exam at 9 a.m. Feb. 3. Malloy, meanwhile, was to have his preliminary exam today (Wednesday). His bond was set at $5,000.

Both men are charged with taking a radar detector from Fisher's Big Wheel.

If convicted, each would face a maximum sentence of 5 years imprisonment and/or a $2,500 fine.

Troopers report 2 area mishaps

Light to moderate damage was sustained by 2 vehicles in a mishap Saturday on East Dayton Road at Albin Road in Indianfields Township, troopers at the state police post in Caro reported.

Reports state that Doyle O. Buckner, 637 W. Lincoln Rd., Caro, was eastbound at 11:50 a.m. when he lost control of his vehicle, which crossed over into the westbound lane and struck a vehicle driven by Allen J. Brady, 3920 Little Rd., Cass City.

Troopers stated that a possible blown tire may have contributed to the mishap.

Also last week, a 2-car accident on Unionville Road south of Bach Road in Huron County's Sebawaing Township Jan. 19 resulted in minor damage.

Reports state that a southbound vehicle driven

Taking stock

By Bill Myers

Your income in 1988 will not be taxed on a joint return at 33% until it reaches $72,000. That's after all the deductions you take, and exemptions and carry-forward losses, and all that.

In other words, net taxable income. Tax-free bonds don't count in figuring that $72,000.

Unless your salary or capital gains have put you up to that level, there's no reason for investment income to push you into that bracket. You buy municipal, tax-exempt bonds.

Your tax rate is 28%, or if your net income is only $19,000, then it's only 15%.

AMT- Alternative minimum tax - not to worry. That can be disregarded until you have about $2,000 of these so-called "preference items." Ask your tax man to explain, but don't take up too much of his time at $120 an hour. You won't remember what he tells you, anyhow.

Point is, tax rates are going to be lower this year. Oh, Great White Father will nick you more on Social Security, and deductions for medical costs can be used only when they exceed 7.5% of your income. Interest costs are fully deductible for home mortgages. Other sums paid for interest - car loans and such things as credit card interest - are 40% deductible.

$100 of these loans, you take only $40 deduction. So let's figure 28% is going to be your tax, and use these figures as typical rates of interest income, before and after tax:

Security	Before	After
Market Tax-free bonds	7%	5.4
Gov't bonds	8	8.0
Corporate bonds	9	6.48
Average stock	10	7.2
CD's	3.5	2.52
CD's	8	5.76

Of this list, only CD's are not easily sold. There's a penalty for an early cash-in of CD's. All of the above are taxable at the rate of 28% we assumed.

 You have until April 15 to put an annual allotment of up to $2,000 into an IRA plan, and have it deducted from your 1987 income. If both you and your spouse are working you can put in $2,000 apiece, if you earn that much.

If one spouse is not working then the other can chip in $2,250.

Let the IRA account grow and grow. You can start taking it out when you're 59½, but you can let it ride until the year after you're 70½. Why these half-birthdays were invented, I'll never know.

Look at the matter this way, if you please:

If you don't put this $2,000 into an IRA, then ol' Uncle Whiskers in Washington will nick you for 28% of it, and you'll have left only $1,440. The other $560 you'll never see again.

Put the $2,000 into an IRA-Individual Retirement Account--and let it grow for the next 25 years. No tax on it all that time. Just this one deposit into an IRA account in 25 years will grow to $18,000.

This is based on buying some zero-coupon government bonds (CATS, for example) yielding 9% and priced at a trifle over 11¢ on the dollar.

You give up $1,440 now (after tax) and in 25 years you've got $18,000. A good deal. Better do it.

Bill Myers is a retired editor and investment counselor.

No one hurt in 2 minor accidents

No injuries and only minor damage were reported in 2 vehicle accidents handled recently by the Cass City Police Department.

A vehicle driven by Christopher S. Peters, 5822 Cass City Rd., struck a parked vehicle at the Cass City Hardware parking lot at about 9 a.m. Jan. 18.

Police stated that icy pavement prevented Peters from avoiding contact with the other vehicle, owned by Maurice Winchester, 5085 Bay City-Forestville Rd., Gagetown.

Stephen M. Root reported that his vehicle was struck early Sunday morning by an unknown vehicle while parked at the Charmont Motel. Root's vehicle sustained moderate damage, police said.
