Raising rare sheep more than a hobby for McPecks

Two area residents, will take part in a Rare and Minor Breeds show slated for March 22 at Michigan State University.

Decker resident Janet McPeck plans to show 3 Border Leicester long-wooled sheep owned by herself and her husband, Phil. She will be accompanied by Cass City resident Walt Goodall.

The McPecks' sheep will be among more than 125 animals, most of them common to American and English agriculture 150 to 200 years ago, shown during the day-long event, which is referred to as a living agricultural history of sorts.

According to the McPecks, who have raised Border Leicester sheep at their "Argyll Farm," 5852 Argyle Rd., for 3 years, the Border Leicester is considered a minor breed.

"At one time they were probably significant to American agriculture," Phil explained.

"And they still are in other countries," Janet added. "The Border Leicester is used a lot in Britain because of its ability to cross well with other breeds and produce a mother who produces a lot of milk, takes care of her babies, and lambs well."

Janet noted that the sheep must have those characteristics in countries such as Britain because they are left to take care of themselves in open pastures.

Other characteristics the McPecks like about the Border Leicester is the length and luster of its wool. Janet, who sells wool to hand spinners, described the wool as "soft and silky and very strong."

MINOR BREED

The Border Leicester is considered a minor breed because there are relatively few of the animals in the United States, Phil remarked. He added, "I would say there are probably less than 2,000 in this country" that are registered with the American Border Leicester Association.

The McPecks, one of 3 registered breeders of Border

Leicester in Michigan, have been raising sheep for about 11 years. They have a total of about 70 sheep, 25 of which are white Border Leicesters, including 2 adult rams and 2 yearling rams. They also raise colored Border Leicesters, Cheviots (an English-Scottish breed) and a mix of crossbred sheep.

"We didn't go looking for a minor breed," Janet said of the couple's decision to begin raising Border Leicesters. "The wool was the big reason."

Janet added that she likes the Border Leicester's "Roman" nose and clean face and legs. "I guess you could say it was love at first sight."

"We enjoy the fun, but we work hard," Janet continued. "It's very labor intensive for a short time."

One of the busiest times, which recently was completed, is the birth of lambs. Nearly 40 lambs were born at the McPecks' farm over a 3-week period, with the couple spending much time in the barn in an effort to insure healthy deliveries.

FULL-TIME JOBS

Although both Janet and Phil have full-time jobs—he's a manufacturing engineer at Walbro Corp. and she's an industrial engineer at General Cable Co.—they still must find time to take care of their farm and sheep.

"We never call it a hobby," Janet continued. "We expect them to pay for themselves, and they do."

The couple explained that sales of market lambs, wool and breeding stock cover costs and supplement their income.

Phil pointed out that meat and wool prices are both on the increase. "Sheep are kind of a bright spot in agriculture," he added.

Janet pointed out that selling wool presents a problem with her residence so far out in the country. Much of the selling, she said, is done by mail order. The couple also sell wool at various livestock shows they attend.

The McPecks attend 5 or 6 shows a year. Please turn to page 16.

O-G board relents, OK's pupil transfer

The Owen-Gage Board of Education Monday reversed a decision it made last month prohibiting 2 children living in the district to continue attending school in Cass City this year.

Despite the change of heart, however, board members made it clear they expect the Cass City School District to initiate a cooperative agreement between the districts.

About 30 persons attended the nearly 4-hour regular meeting, during which Gagetown resident Fred Mikolon made a personal plea to the board.

A request by Mikolon and his wife, who reside in the Owen-Gage district, to allow their 2 young children to continue attending Campbell Elementary School during the 1987-88 school year, was rejected by the board Feb. 8.

The children, who previously attended school in the USA district, were enrolled at Campbell Elementary in January.

Mikolon Monday suggested a cooperative agreement between the Cass City and Owen-Gage boards regarding student transfers.

Mikolon urged approval of a motion "such that my children get to stay in Cass City contingent on the Cass City board allowing the Brinkman children to stay in Gagetown. It's called horse trading."

Mikolon referred to a request by Mr. and Mrs. James Brinkman to allow their 2 young children to continue attending school at Owen-Gage through graduation, even though they reside in the Cass City School District.

REJECTED

The Cass City board rejected that motion, but agreed to allow the Brinkman children to continue attending school in Gagetown for the remainder of the 1987-88 school year, with a review of the request to be held before the 1988-89 school year.

The Brinkmans requested that their property be transferred to the Owen-Gage district, but the request was rejected on a slim margin during a meeting of the Tuscola and Huron Intermediate School boards March 7. An appeal is pending.

"I'd like to see something worked out in the future so they're (kids) allowed to stay where they are, where they want to be," Mikolon said.

Board members Monday indicated support for Mikolon's suggestion.

"I think it's a good step. I think we should be working together and not pulling apart," Trustee Patrick Goslin commented.

William Kretschmer agreed, but added, "I don't know why it always has to start on this side of the fence."

"I think they should initiate something," board President Ronald Good said, adding, "We've asked for meetings (before) only to find ourselves walking out the door 5 minutes later."

Board Treasurer Jack Brinkman, who initiated the motion last month to deny the Mikolons' request, made a motion Monday rescinding that decision. The measure was approved unanimously.

ACADEMICS

Turning to academic matters, the board heard, and tabled, 3 proposals designed to toughen academic standards in the high school.

Faculty representative Peggy Randall presented a letter to the board proposing a change from 3.6-week marking periods per semester to 2.9-week marking periods per semester.

"We have noticed an increasing level of apathy among the students," Randall remarked. "We would like to overcome the idea they (students) have" that they can pass one marking period and then float through the rest and do as little as possible.

She explained that under the proposal, each of the 9-week marking periods would equal 40 percent of students' semester grades, with the semester exam making up the remaining 20 percent. Currently, each of the 6-week periods and the semester exam equal 25 percent of students' semester grades.

A primary goal of the proposal, she added, is to increase students' motivation to perform well throughout each marking period.

In a related matter, High School Principal Robert Andrews presented a proposal, recommended by an ad hoc committee, that would toughen eligibility standards for students participating in extracurricular activities, primarily athletics.

The recommendation prohibits students from receiving any Es, and would put into place weekly grading reports, which would determine eligibility on a week to week basis.

Students who receive an E would be allowed to practice, but not play while ineligible, Andrews said. All participating students would be required to maintain a 2.0 (C) average or 12 points, the same as current eligibility rules. A student who receives less than 12 points on their weekly grading would be placed on probation, as is currently done, and would have to earn 12 or more points the following week to be eligible again.

GRADES

Andrews also presented a proposal that would award additional honor points to students who take chemistry, calculus, trigonometry, accounting and English IV.

Andrews said the proposal would provide students with incentive to choose courses that are academically challenging and reward the additional effort for performance in the courses.

In other business, Huron County Probate Judge David Clabuesch made a presentation on a new program that allows Huron County schools to send hard to handle students to a central "quiet room" as an alternative to suspension from school.

A youth who is placed into the program becomes a ward of Probate Court, according to Clabuesch, who stated that the students, supervised by a sheriff's deputy, are placed in a

O-G terminates principal in secret vote

Stormy relations in recent years between the Owen-Gage Board of Education and the district's high school principals were again evident Monday night, when the board refused to renew Principal Robert Andrews' contract.

Andrews' future in the Owen-Gage School District was abruptly ended when a motion for renewal of his contract for the 1988-89 school year was soundly rejected by the school board, 6-1, on a secret ballot.

Andrews has been with the district for less than 2 years.

The action came following equally brief approval of a one-year contract for Elementary Principal William Britt.

Neither man's contract and evaluations were discussed Monday, although both principals opted to have the information discussed in open session.

School Supt. Harley Kirby recommended to the board that contracts for the 1988-89 school year be offered to both Britt and Andrews.

After the board unanimously approved Britt's contract on a voice vote, Trustee Joseph Warack made a motion to offer Andrews another contract. The motion was seconded by Trustee Donald Cummins.

Following a brief pause, school board President Ronald Good called for a secret ballot. After the vote, the board asked Andrews if he wished to reconsider discussing the matter in a closed session. He declined.

Good, who later stated that he called for a secret ballot because he sensed there was a problem, refused to be specific as to why Andrews was not offered another contract. He said only that the decision was based on board members' personal reasons.

Andrews also declined comment.

A number of persons attending the regular school board meeting, when asked, indicated surprise at the handling of Andrews' contract, saying there should have been more discussion before a vote.

Owendale resident Jackie Mandich suggested that the board consider not hiring another principal, and instead have one administrator handle the principal duties in both the high

Putman wins in Owendale, 2 challengers successful in Ubly

As expected, there were few surprises in 5 area village elections Monday.

The exceptions were in Ubly, where one incumbent trustee was unseated, and in Owendale, where a write-in candidate upset an incumbent for a trustee spot.

There were no surprises in Cass City, where 56 voters (about 7 percent of the registered voters) turned out. There was one spoiled ballot.

Winning 2-year seats were President L.E. Althaver, who received 54 votes; Clerk-Treasurer Joyce LaRoche, who received 54 votes, and Assessor Daniel Erla, who netted 54 votes. Village Manager Lou S. LaPonsie received one write-in vote for president, and Dick Hunt received one write-in vote for assessor.

Incumbent trustees Joanne Hopper (54 votes) and Nat Tuttle (52) were re-elected to 4-year terms. They will be joined by newcomer Matthew G. Prieskorn, who received 50 votes. Prieskorn will replace Lynda McIntosh, who decided not to seek re-election.

UBLY

About 40 percent of Ubly's 550 registered voters visited the polls.

Two challengers and one incumbent were elected to 3.4-year trustee seats on the village council, while all officers were re-elected to 2-year terms.

Challenger James Zalauf received 138 votes to secure a trustee seat, as did challenger Dan Lackowski, who netted 115 votes. Also elected was incumbent Trustee William Roberts, who received 111 votes. Incumbent David Jaroch, meanwhile, received 95 votes, and challengers Scott McDonald and Charles Cain received 63 votes and 28 votes, respectively.

Incumbent Trustee Lana Gordon did not seek re-election.

Council President Earl

Longuski received 146 votes. Clerk Chris Tyll received 151 votes and Treasurer-Assessor Florence Schrader netted 152 votes. Write-in candidate David Harrington received one vote for president and one vote for clerk.

Also Monday, Nancy Elliott and Eleanor Hay each were re-elected to 6-year terms on the Library Board.

OWENDALE

Write-in candidate William Putman, who was defeated in a Feb. 15 primary election, came back Monday to upset incumbent Owendale Village Trustee Joseph Schmidt.

Some 50 percent of the village's 94 registered voters went to the polls, according to Clerk Marie Susalla, who noted that there were 3 spoiled votes.

Putman, who received 23 write-in votes, will join incumbent trustees Martin Blondell (35 votes) and Robert Ricker (38 votes) on the council. Schmidt, meanwhile, received 19 votes.

Also re-elected were President Walter Howard (40 votes), Susalla (40 votes), Treasurer Lois Blondell (37 votes) and Assessor Katherine Ricker (38 votes), all of whom ran unopposed.

Terms for both officers and trustees are for 2 years.

KINGSTON

Two incumbents and one challenger claimed 3.2-year trustee seats on the Kingston Village Council, while all officers, who ran unopposed, were re-elected to 2-year terms.

Incumbent Trustee Paul Lalko received 39 votes, followed by challenger Daniel Westerby, 28 votes, and incumbent Marlene Powell, 26 votes. Challenger Sharon Brandibur was close behind with 21 votes. Incumbent Trustee William Kupiec, who decided not to seek re-election, received one write-in vote.

Village President Arlo Ruggles, meanwhile, netted 47 votes, while Clerk Kenneth Boileau received 46 votes and Treasurer-Assessor Beverly J. Heron netted 45 votes.

There was a total of 47 votes, which represents about 45 percent of the village's active registered voters, Boileau said.

GAGETOWN

Only about 5 percent of Gagetown's 188 registered voters visited the polls Monday. One spoiled ballot was recorded.

Incumbent trustees Richard Carroll and Tom Reehl won re-election with 28 votes and 29 votes, respectively, while newcomer Sharon Wood received 30 votes. All 3 will serve 4-year terms. Incumbent Trustee LeRoy Stapleton did not seek re-election.

Harry Kehoe received one write-in vote.

Meg's Peg
Cable cars and sushi
By Melva E. Guinther

The sights, sounds and sensations of the streets of San Francisco are truly unique.

We've vacationed in California the last 4 years and never tire of the singular San Francisco experience.

Street vendors selling flowers, jewelry and art, street performers playing mournful saxophones, guitars or strange, exotic instruments, and street people, begging for a handout, sleeping in doorways or simply staring, unseeing, at the passing throng, all have a role in making "The City" what it is.

But San Francisco is more. It's Golden Gate Park; it's Fisherman's Wharf; it's Chinatown and Embarcadero.

It's Union Square, Pier 39, Macy's and Capwell.

It's lights stretching upward into the hills until they're indistinguishable from the stars.

It's fabulous bridges and tunnels, and Alcatraz.

It's cable cars crammed with people speaking 4 different languages. (Riding a cable car brings a whole new dimension to togetherness.)

We spent a day mingling with the residents of Chinatown in their markets and on their streets as they celebrated Chinese New Year.

Stan, ever the creative chef, was fascinated by the foods, especially the meats. My curiosity (and stomach) waned upon discovering what some of those delicacies were, and upon seeing others that required no explanation. Pig snouts, chicken feet and entrails are hard to disguise. I opted to check out the clothing and trinket shops while he studied cuisine.

We didn't spend all our time in the city, though. Our son, who is the "spongee" during our California holidays, drove us down the coast to Monterey, where we fed sea lions at Fisherman's Wharf with what wasn't snatched by the gulls and pelicans.

The Monterey Bay Aquarium has a vast array of exhibits and information on all sorts of curious and colorful sea life, including a touch pool where you can pick up and examine various creatures.

Of all the spectacular species on display, what impressed and surprised me most was the delicate white beauty of the jellyfish in a graceful water ballet.

Another day was spent on the craggy shores at Bodega Bay, where the apparently desolate tidal pools actually teem with life upon closer scrutiny.

We studied the prolific anemone, starfish and chiton, and watched the thunderous waves of the mighty Pacific crash over the rugged rocks.

We revisited the campus at Berkeley, our son's Alma Mater, which is always a delightful excursion.

We shopped, and we ate. We ate Italian and Japanese, dim sum and sushi.

In short, we had a great vacation.

With the possible exception of the sushi, I'd love to do it all again.

LaPonsie to represent Tuscola villages

Task force to approve rural road work

Cass City Village Manager Lou S. LaPonsie was elected early last week to represent all villages and cities in Tuscola County on a rural road task force that will approve state-funded road projects in this region. The Region 7 County Primary Road-Major Street Task Force, which represents 14 counties, including Tuscola, Huron and Sanilac counties, consists of one road commission representative and a city-village representative from each county. Establishment of the task force was provided for by the state Legislature in late 1987.

According to Tuscola County highway Engineer Robert J. Wellington, who along with LaPonsie will represent Tuscola County, the State Transportation Commission under Act 233 will fund certain road projects in rural counties as approved by the regional rural task force.

The projects, he said, must be on rural primary roads or major streets and include 25 percent local funds.

Under the legislation, local units of government must develop plans for specific road projects, the bids for which are to be let in Lansing.

The legislation is "primarily concerned with establishing an all-season road network in the counties," Wellington remarked.

Although the Region 7 task force now consists of 14 counties, Wellington stated that representatives from Tuscola, Huron and Sanilac counties will propose to break off from the full task force to form a Thumb subtask force.

The proposed action, which is allowed under the legislation, will be requested at the first meeting of the Region 7 task force, scheduled for 10 a.m. March 25 in Bay City.

"We think it's more convenient for us to work together in the Thumb," Wellington explained. He added that the subtask force would be composed of 6 county representatives and one department of transportation representative.

Wellington stated that some $512,000 in road funding is expected to be made available for road projects in the upper Thumb this year. About $174,000 will be made available in Tuscola County, $170,000 in Sanilac County and $168,000 in Huron County.

Funding to be made available in each of the 3 counties next year is expected to total $240,000 to $250,000, Wellington continued, adding that statewide, $11 million in funds will be made available this year, and an estimated $16 million in 1989.

Wellington pointed out that the counties have up to 3 years to use their available funding, and that counties can borrow from one another. "It gives (the counties) some flexibility," he added.

LaPonsie, who will serve a one-year term on the regional task force, is involved in a number of municipal boards, committees and associations, including the Tuscola County Solid Waste Planning Committee, to which he was appointed last week.

He is in his third year as a trustee on the Michigan Municipal League Board, and has been on the Village Management Committee of the Michigan City Managers Association for 6 years, 4 years as chairman. LaPonsie has served as secretary and first resident Economic Development agent with the Cass City Corporation since 1979.

O-G board rejects principal's contract school and elementary schools.

She stated that the money saved by not filling Andrews' position could be used to prevent student programs from being reduced or eliminated due to the district's tight financial situation.

Kirby and Good indicated after the meeting that someone will be hired to fill the high school principal post for the 1988-89 school year. Kirby remarked that having only one administrator for both buildings would be "unworkable."

Andrews, whose last contract with the Owen-Gage district was approved on a 6-1 vote, began his duties as high school principal at Owen-Gage Sept. 15, 1986.

Before that he taught in the Flat Rock School District for 5 years and served as assistant principal at the Career Center in Adrian for one year.

He replaced current Kingston High School Principal Wayne Wright, who resigned in August 1986 after losing his bid to replace Ronald Erickson as superintendent at Owen-Gage. Wright's departure was preceded by presentation to the school board of a petition, bearing some 280 signatures, demanding that he not be hired as superintendent.

Wright had previously survived an attempt by 2 board members not to renew his contract in April 1985. That vote ended 5-2 in favor of the former Owen-Gage principal.

Under certain circumstances your prescription drugs can act like poisons.

THUMB AREA HOME CARE AGENCY RECOMMENDS:

- Always keep prescription drugs in a safe, dry location out of the reach of children.
- Never share prescriptions with another person.
- Do not keep unused prescriptions around the house for use later.
- If a doctor gives you a prescription, be sure he/she knows other prescriptions or over-the-counter drugs you are taking from another doctor.
- Be sure you know what your prescriptions are for and what are the possible side effects.
- Tell your doctor if you think you are having side effects. Don't stop or change your dosage without talking it over with your doctor.

Prescription drugs are an important part of medical treatment when properly used. Avoid these pitfalls and get the most out of your prescriptions.

SEVEN GOLDEN RULES FOR GOOD HEALTH

Today, many Americans are living well in to their 80's. Their goal is to be healthy, productive and active. One way to better achieve this goal is to follow the seven Golden Rules for good health:

1. Eat a good diet
2. Get seven to eight hours of sleep per day.
3. Maintain ideal weight.
4. Exercise aerobically at least three times per week.
5. Use alcohol in moderation or not at all.
6. See your physician and follow his/her orders.
7. Don't smoke.

Generally it is best to eat three meals a day without snacks in between. You should have servings of meat, fruits and vegetables, milk and breads or cereals every day. Americans need to cut down on fats and salt. Many prepared foods purchased are high in both items and it is the wise shopper who reads labels. Hills and Dales General Hospital has been working with many local restaurants and grocery stores to help you reduce on fats. Please check the stores and restaurant menus for information.

Seven or eight hours of sleep is needed by most people to rest the body. You may need a nap in the afternoon also. Sleep not only rests the body physically but through dreams we rest it mentally also.

Your ideal body weight can be determined if you are a woman, by taking your height and adding five pounds to 100 for every inch you are over five feet. A man adds 5 pounds to 110 for every inch over 5 feet. Extra weight is hard on your heart and other organs. If you have weight to lose check with your physician before going on any "crash diets." There is an Overeaters Anonymous group that meets at the hospital every Monday at 4 p.m. for support.

Exercise such as walking, swimming, biking should be done at least three times a week for twenty to thirty minutes. One way to tell if you are exercising hard enough is to take your pulse. Your pulse for one minute should be 220 minus your age times .6. Be sure and check with your physician before embarking on an exercise program and start slow and work up.

Alcohol is this country's number one drug problem. There are about 9,000,000 people addicted to alcohol in the U.S. Hills and Dales has actively been involved in a chemical education program in the school and community for four years. Alcohol is a depressant and is involved in over half the fatal traffic accidents.

Smoking has become less popular today. Smoking has been a major factor in cancer and chronic lung diseases. For every cigarette you smoke your life is shortened by about 10 minutes. Hills and Dales has classes to help you stop smoking.

Many times people see their physician but fail to follow his/her orders. Maybe a pill makes you feel sleepy so you don't take it. Instead of not following your doctor's orders you need to let him/her know.

If you follow these seven golden rules you should lead a healthy, active and productive life.

PHARMACY DEPARTMENT ACCIDENT PREVENTION TIPS

USE HOUSEHOLD
PRODUCTS CAREFULLY
Know your home.

Products that add shine to your home, sparkle to your glass, glisten to your chrome may make chores easier and more pleasant....but they can be harmful to your family.

Children are naturally curious. They touch, hold and taste things as a way of learning. When hungry or thirsty, some harmful products may look and smell a lot like a child's favorite food or drink.

As a child's taste buds are not well developed, he or she may not spit out bitter or foul tasting substances. Don't wait until your child is poisoned. Do something NOW.

1. Children (and adults) don't always recognize a poison. Cosmetics, cold remedies, mouthwashes, colognes, etc., can all be dangerous. Read labels carefully. Once you recognize products that can be harmful, please use them with care.
2. Teach your child that a poison can hurt. Explain that poisons can look like foods or treats and that he must ask a grownup before he eats or drinks something.
3. Store products in their original containers NOT in cups, bowls, bottles which children associate with food.
4. Manufacturers make their products attractive to sell them. Realize that a child may be attracted also.
5. Install child-resistant latches and locks on cupboards where harmful products are stored.

What to do if a poisoning occurs.

Vandalism complaint investigated

A malicious destruction of property complaint involving a vehicle parked on the west side of Leach Street, south of Main Street, Thursday evening was investigated by the Cass City Police Department.

Kelly M. Dillon, 6172 Lakeside Drive, told police that the driver side outside rear-view mirror and bracket on the 1978 pickup she was driving was broken off after 11:15 p.m. but before 11:45 p.m.

Damage was estimated at $50.

2 charged, one sentenced in Tuscola district court

A 31-year-old Cass City man was arraigned Friday in Tuscola County District Court on a charge of Criminal Sexual Conduct, first degree.

Bond for Ronald A. Pomeroy, 4563 Spence Rd., was set at $350,000. A preliminary examination was scheduled for 1:30 p.m. March 22.

Pomeroy is charged with engaging in sexual penetration with an individual, causing personal injury and using force or coercion to accomplish the act. The offense allegedly took place

March 10 in Akron Township.

The offense carries a maximum sentence of life or any term of years in prison.

Jeffrey A. Lakkari, 26, Mass City, was charged with resisting and obstructing a police officer, operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, second offense, and operating a motor vehicle while his license was suspended, second offense.

A preliminary examination was to be held today (Wednesday). Bond was set at $4,000.

Court records state that the alleged incidents, which carry a maximum sentence of 2 years imprisonment or $1,000, took place March 5 in Caro.

A 31-year-old Snover man was sentenced Monday for a conviction the same day of operating a motor vehicle while his license was suspended.

Roger W. Bearer, 3755 Bull Green Rd., was ordered to pay $150 in fines and costs. He also was ordered to serve time (up to 10 days) in the county jail until the fines and costs are paid.

Bearer's conviction stems from an incident Feb. 25 in Caro, court records state.

Tuscola commissioners okay board appointments

Tuscola County commissioners during their regular meeting March 8 approved the appointments of 13 persons to the county's Solid Waste Planning Committee, which will update the county's 5-year waste management plan.

Persons on the committee represent the solid waste industry, environmental concerns, county, municipalities, townships, East Central Michigan Planning and Development Region and the general public, according to Caro Village Manager Donald W. Dugger, who will serve on the committee.

Dugger also is vice-chairman of the 7-member Board of Public Works, which selected the committee members and is the project management agency.

Dugger stated that the planning committee will contract with the East Central Michigan Planning Development Region, which will conduct investigations, surveys and inventories related to solid waste management in Tuscola County, and then report to the committee each month.

The committee will then put together a final report and present it to the public works board, which will present the report to commissioners.

The Department of Natural Resources' scheduled deadline for completion of the report is Jan. 1, 1989.

Dugger remarked that he doesn't expect at this time to see a major change in the way Tuscola County handles solid waste, which is transported to landfills in Sanilac, Huron, Genesee and Saginaw counties.

Although landfills are on the decline and alternative methods of handling solid waste are available, Dugger said that cost is a major factor currently.

Warren seeks post on Road Commission

Robert L. ("Bob") Warren of Brown City recently announced that he is a candidate for the Sanilac County Road Commission in the Aug. 2 primary election on the Republican ticket.

Experienced in both business and county government, before his retirement in 1981, Bob was editor and publisher of The Brown City Banner for almost 25 years, and he edited and published the Sanilac County Press in Peck for 20 years.

He served 2 terms as a Sanilac County Commissioner and was chairman of the board 2 years.

He is currently chairman of the Sanilac County Department of Public Health, Sanilac Transportation Corp. and the Home Health Care Advisory Committee. Also, for many years he has been a board member of the Sanilac County Department of Mental Health.

He also serves as a member of the Patient Advisory Council for the Sanilac Medical Care Facility as a volunteer.

Warren also is a member of the Brown City council and is currently serving as mayor pro-tem and president of the council.

The first drinking chocolate was reportedly sold in England in the 17th century, having been imported from the West Indies.

"I've seen large incinerators that will burn 100 tons a day. But we're not going to be able to do that until it becomes economically feasible," he said, adding that it costs $6 to $10 per ton to landfill, compared to $30-plus per ton to incinerate.

The 5-year update is being funded 80 percent by the state and the remaining 20 percent by the county, Dugger noted, adding that the county's portion will be paid in-kind via volunteer hours.

Among the 13 persons who will serve on the committee is Cass City Village Manager Lou S. LaPonsie.

IN OTHER BUSINESS

In other business last week, commissioners approved the hiring of Rodney Stratton as a custodian, and Denise Ackerman as an account clerk to fill a vacancy in the treasurer's office.

The board approved use of a recently-purchased county car by the juvenile division of probate court.

A Cooperative Reimbursement Expansion Agreement for the prosecutor's office was approved. County Controller Michael Hoagland explained that the agreement will enable the office to recapture additional state monies related to certain service areas.

Also, the board heard annual reports from cooperative extension, the treasurer's office and the Human Development Commission, and approved paying $847 for a sound system for circuit court.

Easter egg hunt planned

Youth from Tuscola County are invited to attend the second annual Easter Egg Hunt.

The date for this year's hunt is March 26 at 11 a.m. The location will be the same as last year, at the fairgrounds next to the tennis courts.

All preschool to fourth grade youth are welcome to attend. This community service project is being sponsored by the Tuscola County 4-H Teen Club and local merchants.

HEALTH TIPS

Drinking lots of water helps lubricate skin

Red, cracked and flaky skin. It's one of winter's most common complaints, but it doesn't have to be.

"To keep skin soft and smooth during winter, drink plenty of water, apply skin moisturizers and lip salves, use a home humidifier, dry the skin thoroughly after washing, and wear protective clothes outdoors," says Dr. Larry Sell, senior vice-president for Health Care Affairs at Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Michigan.

"These steps keep the skin nourished from the inside and protected from the outside and help the skin retain its natural moisture," says Dr. Sell.

"The skin is the body's largest organ, composed of up to 90 percent water. That's why it's essential to moisturize skin from the inside by drinking 8 glasses of water a day during winter, as well as all year round," says Dr. Sell.

Healthy skin produces its own protective lubricant called sebum, he says. But sebum alone can't counteract the damage done by cold temperatures, drying winds and indoor heating.

"Skin moisturizers and anti-chapping lip salves will help protect skin and keep it moist," says Dr. Sell. "A good, inexpensive way to keep lips moist is to cover them at bedtime with a thin layer of petroleum jelly. Before children go outside, rub petroleum jelly lightly on their lips and cheeks."

Our furnaces create another problem by drying out indoor air. With the air lacking its normal humidity, anything moist dries out quicker -- including skin, Dr. Sell says. A portable home humidifier will help restore normal indoor humidity. A humidifier that works with the furnace is even more helpful if you can afford it.

"Although water is essential for healthy skin, water on the skin surface causes dryness. It's important to dry off the skin thoroughly after washing -- especially the face and hands because they are washed often," Dr. Sell explains.

"And when working or playing outdoors, protect the skin with proper clothing," he said. "That means especially hats and gloves."

13 attend Lutheran meet

Ada Hutchinson volunteered to chair the congregation's collection of food for Cass City's food closet. The ladies will meet March 17 to tie a quilt made by the Sunday School children for Sarah Miller.

Lois Moslander led a Bible study on bearing our crosses. Hostesses for the evening were Ruth Balzer and Sean Zawilinski.

Your neighbor says

We don't need any more party stores

An increase in the number of new businesses moving to Cass City in recent months has been a mixed blessing for some of the area's established retailers.

Although new business means fewer empty buildings and spaces along Main Street, a number of Cass City's party store owners say that the planned addition of more such businesses here will be too much.

The owners of some existing party stores fear they will be forced to go out of business.

The store owners recently explained their views to members of the village council, who indicated they understand but can't take a stand against new business coming to the village.

Your neighbor, Cass City native Rick Tuckey, agrees that some businesses will be hurt, but says that there is no way to keep out more party stores when other retailers also are having to deal with increasing competition in town.

"I don't think we need any more party stores. I think we have enough as it is," he remarked. "But there are a lot of other businesses (facing) competition, too."

Still, he added, "There are no real winners except for the people coming in. There are going to be more losers than winners."

Tuckey, the son of Dolores and J.D. Tuckey, resides at 6381 Chestnut Boulevard. The 29-year-old is employed at Donahue Farms in Unionville.

Swamp fever hits horses

A recent outbreak of Equine Infectious Anemia (EIA) or swamp fever has many horse owners concerned.

The recent outbreaks have been detected in pockets all over the state. These locations have included Bad Axe, Grand Blanc, Sandusky, Grand Rapids and the Caro area. There have been 4 reported cases resulting in the need to destroy 7 horses. All four locations, within Tuscola County, are related cases.

The disease (similar to the AIDS virus in humans) is characterized by anemia, intermittent fever, severe weight loss, and eventually, death.

EIA is caused by a virus found in the blood and tissues of infected animals. Recovered animals remain carriers for life and the only effective control upon positive testing is isolation or death. Animals have also been known to be carriers without exhibiting any of the symptoms.

The known ways in which the virus is spread include tears, nasal secretions, saliva, feces, mare's milk, semen and by virus carrying insects. The only way to confirm the presence of the disease is have a Coggins test.

Additional information about EIA is available by contacting a local veterinarian, the state vet, Dr. McCoy, April McQueen at 673-2037 or Jean Eilf at 673-4268. Informational pamphlets may be picked up at the Cooperative Extension Service office in Caro.

Cosmetologists view styles

Thumb Cosmetologist Affiliate, Inc. Unit 25 held a day-long meeting Monday at the Charmont, with guest artist David Pressley demonstrating new styles and directing a hands-on workshop.

Notre-Dame show slated at O-G

The magnificent Gothic cathedral Notre-Dame is the topic of a Detroit Institute of Arts statewide traveling exhibition that will appear at Owen-Gage High School March 21, through March 25.

"Notre-Dame de Paris: Monument to the Medieval Spirit," is open to students and the public during regular school hours each day, Monday through Friday, 8:15-3:30 p.m. and Monday afternoon and evening, March 21, 3:30-7:30 p.m. Admission is free.

The Notre-Dame show features a scale model of the cathedral and specially designed photo panels displaying more than 30 reproductions of the French architectural structure.

The cathedral of Notre-Dame is 426 feet long and 156 feet wide. It's famed for its beautiful rose windows, one of which is 42 feet in diameter.

The cathedral was built on an island on the Seine River in Paris, France. It took over 150 years to complete the monument and it was thought of as a history book during the Middle Ages, since the illiterate were able to "read" the biblical stories told in sculpture and painted glass.

Notre-Dame today remains a sacred place to worship and meditate. It also serves church and state as a hall for great festivals, coronations, marriages and funerals.

The cathedral is the true heart of France — the highway distances are calculated from the central west portal of the structure and people from around the world flock to worship in its chapels and admire its Gothic beauty.

DON SAYS REVIVE

As spring approaches and cleaning is around the corner, carpet cleaning and furniture cleaning seem to be necessary and to some the same old task.

Spending becomes a part of cleaning every year. And as with some things (saving) isn't always getting the best. There is always the energetic. But if you don't know the proper way, there's more harm than good or it's a waste of energy.

Be sure and find the right company or equipment to do the job. Portable units tend to lack power. You need the dirt lifted out not pushed around. And then there's the dirty water which can be a menace to septic. And is renting the equipment and buying all those products really all that cheap?

Then you must decide to protect your work. And again (saving) isn't always the best as a professional job. Use a professional name like 3M, otherwise known as scotch guarding or Dupont protectors, etc.

After all consider cleaning to replacing.

Some tips:
1. Use proper products, tools, etc.
2. If shampooing, you'll need to rinse or extract.

3. Purchase proper protectors and apply each cleaning.

4. Clean regularly at least every 18 to 24 months.

We're "Revive", all of the above. We've searched to serve you let us be your very best. Watch for our spring specials (coming soon). For service, estimates or questions, call Don today, 872-3471.

March 24, 25 in Cass City

All-school play slated

An expanded cast, live rock band and 2 sets will be featured in Cass City High School's all-school play, "New Beat on an Old Drum," slated for 7:30 p.m. March 24 and 25 at the high school.

The play is a comedy in 3 acts, according to director Jane Reif, who said that the students have been rehearsing since Jan. 25.

The play focuses on Jane Shaw (played by senior Jane Dickinson) who arrives to spend the summer at a beach house, inherited from her aunt, to find that her neighbors (4 widows played by juniors Connie Clayton, Caren Britt and Sally Brooks and freshman Amiee Cooper) have agreed to sell their land to a dashing real estate operator—and that her property is needed to complete the package. Sensing a trick, Jane takes a closer look. The ensuing complications result in a blend of humor, suspense and romance.

"I had to search for a good play with a female emphasis. The last 2 plays under my direction had a male lead," Reif remarked, adding that a majority of high school plays feature male leads.

"It was time to bring out the talents of Dickinson, as well as to allow more female participation in a play production," she said, adding that Dickinson has 4 years of acting experience. Other cast members with at least 2 years experience are Clayton, junior Brad Bishop and seniors David Burnette and Wendy Wheeler.

Reif pointed out that the play will feature a cast of 12 plus 11 walk-on parts and a live rock band that will perform a short song between scenes. Also, junior John Wright will play piano prior to the performances, and senior Kristy Marshall will play during intermission.

EDC approves company loan

A loan to help a Caro area manufacturing firm expand was approved by the Tuscola County Economic Development Corporation board of directors during a meeting held March 2.

The loan is part of the EDC's revolving loan fund and was given to the Michigan Boatlift and Dock Company, located on M-46 south of Caro.

EDC Director Jim McLoskey said the board was pleased to approve the loan to the company, owned by Dale Rushlo, because it is the first business in the Caro area to receive an EDC loan.

"The revolving loan fund committee was impressed with Dale's operation and the number of new jobs to be created. The money from this loan will be used to buy aluminum, and is scheduled to be paid back to the EDC later this year."

McLoskey said the revolving loan fund now contains nearly $19,000 which is available to companies wanting to locate or expand within Tuscola County. Other loans have been approved for firms in Cass City and the Vassar area.

Also at this month's meeting, the EDC board was updated on efforts to promote the M-24 extension project and the maintenance of M-81; and a committee was appointed to review recommendations from a recent survey of manufacturers.

The next meeting of the EDC board is scheduled for April 6 at 7 p.m. at the county annex building in Caro.

Tons of soil

Gone with the wind: Over six billion tons of soil are wind-swept or rain-washed off U.S. farmland, forests, rangelands and streambanks each year. According to National Wildlife magazine, that's enough soil to fill a line of dump trucks stretching from the earth to the moon and three-quarters of the way back.

Wow! Cass City rolls to district title

Team balance key to Mayville win — Nurnberger

The Cass City Red Hawks roared into regional competition against Unionville-Sebewaing Wednesday on the heels of a convincing victory over the Mayville Wildcats Saturday afternoon, 85-72.

Next to playing at home, Coach Ron Nurnberger's charges probably like playing at Mayville best. The last district title that Cass City brought home was won in 1984 at the same gym that netted this year's championship.

Hawk fans had some anxious moments early in the game as the Wildcats came out clawing to jump into a 6-0 lead. Mayville was helped by some cold shooting by the Hawks, who missed their first 5 shots.

The Wildcats dominated the game until there was just 1:57 left in the opening period. That's when Jeff Dillon hit a 3-pointer and that's when Cass City started to take control.

The initial charge was spearheaded by Jeff Krol, who had by far the best night of his career. Krol hit on drives and short jumpers. The Hawks were trailing 13-9 when he started his scoring spree. He scored 4 of the next 5 Hawk baskets and pushed Cass City in front to stay, 19-15, with 2 minutes gone in the second quarter.

It was a night when the guards took control when the game was on the line. When the Wildcats stopped Krol, Jeff "Sonny" Sontag took over. He scored the next 10 points for Cass City with a pair of 3-pointers, a break away drive for 2 points and a pair of free throws.

Cass City netted 15 unanswered points to take a commanding 34-17 lead with 2:10 left in the first half.

After that it was mop-up time. The Wildcats made one more mini-run at the Hawks in the closing moments of the third quarter as Mayville standouts Duncan Thornton and Aaron Graham led a 10-1 spurt for the Wildcats to close the gap to 10 points at the end of the period.

Paul Tuckey, who had been quiet offensively for the first 3 quarters, came to life in the last quarter with 10 points to kill whatever hopes Mayville had of making a comeback.

Mayville, with its outstanding shooters, lived and died all year on the 3-point shot. Wednesday they died by it, hitting just 8 of 31 attempts. Cass City converted 5 of 7 from 3-point range. The Hawks also were better in 2-point shots. Helped by many lay-ups when the Mayville press was beaten, Cass City hit 23 of 49 for 47 percent while the Wildcats were 15 of 43 for 37 percent.

Nurnberger was very pleased with the scoring balance of the Hawks. Eight players shared in the scoring and 5 players were in double figures, led by Krol with 19 points.

750 tickets for USA game on sale at school

Tickets for Cass City's opening round in the regionals of the Michigan High School Athletic Association are on sale for $3 each at the Cass City High School office until Wednesday noon the day of the game, Athletic Director Don Schelke announced.

The school has been allotted 750 tickets, which were expected to be available at 10 a.m. Tuesday.

The Hawks will face Unionville-Sebewaing at 7 p.m. Wednesday at Frankenmuth High School.

The teams will not be strangers. They have met twice during the year with the Hawks winning both encounters. However, says Coach Ron Nurnberger, you can throw those records away. USA has gone to a full court man-to-man defense and it proved good enough to whip the Lakers in the district tournament at Ubly. The Lakers defeated Cass City twice during the regular season by substantial margins.

While it's true that the Patriots are playing their best ball of the season, it's also true that Cass City was also at its peak in the districts. It promises to be one whale of a ball game.

No matter which team wins, it will have a stern test waiting for it when the finals are played Friday at 7 p.m. The winner will face the winner of Tuesday night's Brown City-Flint Burton-Bendle game.

Friday's winner enters the quarter finals at Troy-Athens High School against the winner of the regional at Dundee Wednesday, Mar. 23.

Eagles fall as chapter added to Cass City's great basketball tradition

Another chapter was written in the great basketball tradition at Cass City High School Wednesday when the Hawks upset the highly regarded Deckerville Eagles with a great last ditch rally, 64-62, in the class C district tournament at Mayville.

Fans will be talking about the game along with other great moments in Hawk history. It ranks with the stirring win in 1977 over Frankenmuth that netted Cass City its first league title in 18 years. It ranks with the upset of unbeaten Unionville-Sebewaing in the district tournament that same year. It ranks with that memorable shot from mid-court by Chuck Bliss that spurred Cass City past favored Michigan Lutheran Seminary and later to the regional title in 1974.

In all these games the Hawks came from behind to win, but in none did they rally so far so fast as they did against the Eagles who had lost only one game all season.

Even the most ardent Hawk fan must have felt that Cass City's chances were slim after the Eagles had come charging from behind in the third quarter and forged a 9-point lead with just 5:01 left to play in the game.

But the turn-around started when Jeff Dillon whipped in a 3-pointer to make the score 60-54. A moment later Mike Randall hit a jumper from the post and suddenly Cass City was back in the game, 60-54, and there was still 4:04 left to play.

The lead was narrowed to 2 points a minute later when Paul Tuckey whipped in a close-in shot and the score was tied by Randall's bucket with 2:02 left.

Tim Stolicker, who Hawk coach Ron Nurnberger called a great basketball player, sunk the only Deckerville basket in the last 5 minutes of the game to push the Eagles back in front 62-60. Tuckey got that one back with 1:53 left. Twenty seconds later Jeff Krol made his only bucket of the night for Cass City, and by far the biggest 2-point in his career, to put the Hawks ahead again.

Deckerville had the ball with a chance to tie or win with 40 seconds left, but turned the ball over without getting a shot. The Hawks missed a chance to ice the game with 5 seconds left, but couldn't get the ball in play from out of bounds. However, the Eagles were slow getting the ball up court and time ran out before they were able to get a shot off.

It was a game of streaks. Deckerville charged out to an early lead with some good outside shooting by Stolicker and some fine rebounding and low post play by Richard Barker to move in front 16-10 in the first 6 minutes of the game.

Cass City overcame that lead and using some fine control ball, spread offense in the second period, forged in front, 35-29, at the half.

Deckerville then played its best ball of the night, paced by Stolicker and Jeremy VanNorman's 33-pointers in a row. For the night the 6-3 forward hit 5 of the long-range bombs to account for all of his 15 points. Stolicker netted 25 points to close out an illustrious 4-year varsity career. Tuckey netted 20 and Randall 22 for Cass City. The Hawks were perfect from the free throw line, but had only 2 shots from the foul circle all night, the lowest number of attempts in history.

JEFF SONTAG drives for 2 points against Mayville as the Hawks advanced to regional play in the district finals.

The idea of the program, which includes input from Common Ground, the DSS, Mental Health and the sheriff, is to try to turn problem students around before they become incorrigible, the judge explained. He added that local programs will hopefully save the county the cost of housing juvenile offenders in expensive juvenile facilities.

Also Monday, the board: --Received a donation of $300 from the Gagetown-Cass City Knights of Columbus Council 8892 for special education programs.

--Met in an 85-minute executive session to discuss teacher contract negotiations.

--Hired a report from elementary Principal William Britt that absences due to sickness are up, with 18 percent absent early last week, which dropped to less than 10 percent before rising to 16 percent Monday.

--Hired Joe Salcido to replace Jim Wissner as baseball coach.

--Approved a motion requiring 2 school board members to attend future parent-teacher conferences.

--Approved Brad Cope-land as the Owen-Gage High School "student of the month" for February.

Bow to North Huron

First quarter fatal as O-G bows out of district tourney

Coach Dean Roller's Owen-Gage Bulldogs' season-long habit of falling behind early carried over in the district class D tournament at Caseville Wednesday and as a result, the Bulldogs lost to Kinde North Huron, 78-61.

Led by Chad Weber, who connected on a pair of 3-pointers, and Brian Majeski, who whipped in 3 from the field for 7 points, North Huron raced to a 22-12 lead in the first 8 minutes.

The lead proved to be too much for the Bulldogs to overcome. Chris Abbe did his best to get Owen-Gage back in the game in the second period, when he caught fire and whipped in 5 field goals. The Hurons countered with another barrage of 3-point plays, 2 by Rick Moore and another by Brian Majeski, to keep the Bulldogs from closing the gap.

The Bulldogs might have had a golden opportunity to get back in the game when Jeff Andreski picked up 3 fouls in the first half, but his foul trouble was mirrored for Owen-Gage by Chad Stirrett, who had been playing some of the best basketball of his career in recent games. Stirrett picked up 3 fouls early and then, just seconds before the half ended, was charged with number 4. He was forced to sit out much of the third quarter while North Huron was in a cold streak. In the third period, O-G outscored North Huron, 13-12, but that was not nearly enough to overcome the first half margin of the winners.

The Bulldogs were led by Abbe, the team's leading scorer for the season, with 19 points while Stirrett added 14.

North Huron had balanced scoring with 5 players in double figures, led by Moore with 15. Nine different North Huron players shared in the scoring.

Softball league sign-up times set

This year, for the second time, the Cass City Girls' Softball League will be divided into 3 divisions for girls living in the Cass City area.

Girls who are at least 8 years old but not more than 14 years old will be in 2 divisions. The first will be for 8 and 9 year-olds. Girls in this division will practice together to learn the game and develop skills. Then they will be divided into 2 teams and play a few games.

The second division will include girls 10 to 14 years old. They will be divided into a 5 or 6-team league. Each team will play each of the other teams in the league twice to complete the season. The season will be followed by an all-star game and an awards picnic.

Girls in these 2 divisions will begin play as soon as weather permits in May. The 8 and 9-year-olds will probably finish in June and the 10-14-year-olds, around July 4.

The cost for all girls participating in either of the divisions is $5.00 each with $10 the maximum paid by any one family.

Girls in the third division must be at least 14 years old by July 1, but cannot be 18 years old before Sept. 1.

These girls will participate in a traveling league involving competition with teams from neighboring areas. They will play approximately 10 doubleheaders beginning July 1.

The cost for all girls participating in this division is $10 each with $20 the maximum paid by any one family.

Girls interested in participating in any of the 3 divisions can register on one of these 3 dates:

Thursday, March 17, and Thursday, March 24, at Cass City Intermediate School, room one (next to cafeteria), 6:30 to 8 p.m.

Tuesday, March 29, at Cass City High School gym, 7 to 8:30 p.m.

At the final sign up, girls 10-14 who did not play previously in the second division are asked to participate in a workout.

All girls who register will play in the league. Sign-up sheets are available in the offices of Cass City Schools and will be available at registration.

COACHES NEEDED

VISION PERFORMANCE

Is your child doing well at school? Sometimes the child who sees clearly at distances is straining to see well to read. Since reading is an integral part of learning, school work suffers. In many instances, however, there are behavioral signs that may indicate vision performance problems. Should you, or your child's teacher note...

- a drop in scholastic achievement
 - frequent daydreaming
 - eye rubbing or blinking
 - avoidance of reading whenever possible
 - headaches
 - covering one eye
 - tilting of the head
 - poor eye/hand coordination
- ...have the child's eyes professionally examined and bring these symptoms to the attention of your optometrist. You don't want vision problems to affect your child's ability to learn.

Democrats set to pick delegates

Tuscola County voters will get a chance to help choose Michigan's 151 delegates and 46 alternates to the 1988 Democratic National Convention, according to Margie Bell, Tuscola County Democratic Party chairperson.

Participation in the Democratic caucus is open to all Michigan voters. To participate a person must sign in on a sheet stating their support of the Democratic Party. Proper identification, in the form of a valid Michigan Drivers License, Michigan ID card, or a voter registration card, is required. Individuals not yet of legal voting age, but who will be by Nov. 9, 1988, will be able to participate. Special provisions have been made to accommodate individuals whose religious convictions prevent them from participating.

Any Democratic voter whose religious convictions prevent participation in a Saturday caucus may request a Special Presidential Preference Form by writing to the State Party Chair, 606 Townsend, Lansing, MI 48933. The voter can then complete the form and return it by 5 p.m., March 25, 1988.

Tuscola County will have 2 caucus sites open between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. March 26.

Residents of the City of Vassar and the townships of Arbel, Dayton, Denmark, Fremont, Juniata, Koylton, Millington, Tuscola, Vassar and Watertown, will participate at Vassar City Hall, 287 E. Huron in Vassar.

Residents in the townships of Akron, Almer, Columbia, Elkhart, Elkhart, Elmwood, Fairgrove, Gilford, Indianfields, Kingston, Novesta, Wells and Wisner, will participate at the Tuscola County Courthouse Annex, 207 E. Grant in Caro.

Caucus participants will be provided with a Presidential Preference Form. The participant will complete it, deposit it in a collection box, and then is free to leave.

"The Republicans left selecting their presidential candidate up to party officials elected in 1986," Bell said. "We give all the Democratic voters a chance to make their choice count."

Area residents on honors list

Six area residents are among nearly 1,200 Ferris State University students recently named to the school's honors list for the winter quarter.

To be eligible, students must have compiled a minimum 3.5 grade point average while carrying at least 12 quarters of graded work.

Area residents included on the list are Craig T. Langmaid and Patrick A. Peters, both of Cass City; Uby residents John D. Walsh, Patrick W. Steffen and Lynette M. Guigar, and Tracy L. Green, Snover.

Caro man, 36, could serve 15 years in prison

A 36-year-old Caro man was sentenced to prison Friday in Tuscola County Circuit Court for a Feb. 17 conviction of Criminal Sexual Conduct, first degree.

John W. Adkins, 427 Fremont St., was ordered to serve a term of 7 1/2 years to 15 years in prison for the offense.

A SIGN NEAR THE entrance to Phil and Janet McPeck's "Argyll" farm cautions drivers to be on the lookout for wayward sheep. The McPecks, who each have full-time jobs, share in the care and raising of their flock, which now totals some 70 sheep.

6 such shows a year and have done well in competition.

GRAND CHAMPION

The couple did particularly well in Maryland last year at one of the largest shows of its kind in the country. A colored Border Leicester ram owned by the couple won Grand Champion Fleece over 100 other entries in the show.

"It was a very nice win for us because we came out of nowhere," Phil said. "We're going to go back and try again this year," Janet added.

Also last year, one of the McPecks' white Border Leicester ewes won Supreme Champion in the Hastings Fiber Festival and the Ohio Sheep and Wool Festival.

At next week's Rare and Minor Breeds Show, which has been scheduled as part of the Agriculture and Natural Resources Week, March 21-26, a variety of animals will be shown from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. at the MSU Livestock Pavilion.

Co-sponsored by the American Minor Breeds Conservancy, the show will feature a parade of animals at 11 a.m., 3 p.m. and 7 p.m.

Among the animals to be seen, aside from the McPecks' sheep, are Lippizan, Shire and Norwegian Fjord horses; Dutch belted, Galloway, Scottish Highland and Texas Longhorn cattle; Delaine Merino, Jacob and Tunis sheep; and Red Waddle and Tamworth hogs.

Banquet slated

The March meeting of St. Pancratius Women's Council was well attended.

Final plans were set for the mother and daughter banquet May 2.

A nominating committee was appointed for election of officers. They will present names for a vote at the April meeting. Also discussed was the installation dinner to be scheduled in June.

The video, "Jesus the Redeemer," was shown after the meeting and refreshments were served.

UNUSUAL

"A few people raise these animals just because they are unusual," Roger Morrison, MSU Cooperative Extension Service job training agent and show coordinator said. "But AMBC members believe that preservation of these breeds is important to the American animal industry."

"There is always the possibility that these old breeds may have some genetic resistance or trait that would be crucial to the advancement of new livestock breeds," he remarked. "And you really never know when this old gene pool might be needed to control a pervasive disease in the livestock industry sometime in the future."

Morrison observed that the main reason for collecting old and rare breeds, however, is just plain fun.

"For the owners of these animals, it's just like an antique car rally—they delight in showing them off," he said.
