WHAT, US WORRY? Time was growing short for these fine tom turkeys, raised by Cass City resident Earnest Cook, when this photo was taken Thursday. Each of the birds has received a personal invitation to an area Thanksgiving Day dinner table.

Cass City's blossoming west end may get another economic boost if a Caseville businessman's plans become reality.

Tom Brawner, owner of Caseway Industrial Products, is considering moving his small industrial firm from its present location in Caseville to the old Nestles Building, located near the corner of Church and Nestles streets.

Brawner said Thursday he's actively pursuing the relocation plans, but won't be able to make a definite decision until he's able to weigh the feasibility of moving into an existing building now versus building in a year or 2.

"It's really just a matter of finding out more details about the economics of the move," he remarked.

Brawner described Caseway Industrial Products as a small, privately owned operation which specializes in plastic adhesives and a variety of cleaning products.

The company's line of adhesives are sold worldwide, via plastic distributors, with at least 50 percent of the products going into the aerospace industry, he explained, adding, that the cleaning products are geared more towards the local market and auto industry.

Brawner purchased Caseway Products, established about 9 years ago, from Cadillac Plastics, Troy, 7 years ago.

Currently, the company employs only 4 persons, including Brawner and his wife, Sherry, but there are plans for expansion. The current building "is sufficient for what I'm doing, but we're working on some other projects that could double our size," he said.

Brawner noted that his decision to begin looking for a new location was prompted in part by a desire to be closer to his Caro home.

So far, the Nestles building, owned by Dick Erla of Cass City, has been the most promising site. "There hasn't been anything in Caro that was pre-existing that could economically be brought up to code," he said, adding, "He (Erla) has sounded more reasonable to work with than virtually anyone I've talked to."

"Cass City has a lot to offer, I think. If I would go into Dick Erla's building, I would try to go in the very near future," Brawner continued.

Bach's back for 10th anniversary

Thirty-seven musicians including the artistic director, vocal soloists, a guest conductor, and composer will converge on Cass City Thanksgiving weekend to play 3 concerts Nov. 25, 26 and 27 with a recital in Caro Nov. 22.

"It is a weekend of much music making, long rehearsals and good concerts, as well as good food and friendship," Holly Althaver, founder, said. "The past 10 years have made Cass City the Thanksgiving home of these musicians. Friendships of longstanding continue to flourish and Cass Cityans annually make the musicians feel welcome and at home.

"From a Thanksgiving gathering in a local home to the lunches at the First Presbyterian Church and the Masonic/Eastern Star Brunch Sunday to the individual homes where musicians are housed, the musicians have experienced a Cass City tradition of warmth and generosity. It is that unstinted kindness that makes the musicians see this festival as unique and beyond compare," Althaver remarked.

Each season has included a one-day residency at Campbell Elementary for grades K-4. Monday, Nov. 14, Onita Saunders, harpist, performed for the students of Campbell, Evergreen and Deford Schools. These programs represent a joint partnership between the Village Bach Festival and the Cass City Schools.

Dozens of volunteers assist local chairpersons during the Festival. Over the 10 years, thousands of hours of assistance have been given at the churches, in private homes, in the Home Economics Department of the school, and by talented individuals.

The 1988 program will be under the artistic leadership of the founding conductor, Don Th. Jaeger. From the base and experience of the Cass City Village Bach Festival, he has been instrumental in the creation of the Boulder Bach Festival and the York, Pennsylvania Bach Festival.

This year's Cass City program:

Open rehearsals Friday and Saturday, Nov. 25 and 26, First Presbyterian Church, Cass City, from 9:30-11:30 a.m. and 1-3 p.m. Public invited, no charge.

Pre-concert lectures Friday and Saturday, Nov. 25 and 26, 7 p.m. and Sunday, Nov. 27, 2 p.m.

Concerts at First Presbyterian Church, Cass City, Friday and Saturday, Nov. 25 and 26, 8:15 p.m. and Sunday, Nov. 27, 3:15 p.m.

Annual Sunday Bach Brunch at Cass City Masonic Temple, to be served at noon. For reservations call (517) 872-2484 by Nov. 22. Everyone invited.

10 progress in contract talks

Cass City School and education association officials are at least "$600,000 apart" on a new teachers contract, despite nearly 7 months of negotiations.

The latest talks, held Friday, netted little progress. The session ended with the school negotiating team again requesting mediation. "We're far apart on a number of issues," school Supt. Ken Micklash remarked Monday.

Micklash said salary is a big issue, with the school offering a combined increase of 13 percent over 3 years. But the union is requesting a combined 30 percent increase.

Pay, however, isn't the only stumbling block in negotiations, which began May 12 and have consisted of 14 meetings, 2 with a state mediator.

Other issues which remain unsettled, Micklash said, are the union's request of an increase in longevity of 5 to 15 percent, depending on the number of years of service; full reimbursement of unused sick days; shortened teacher and student days; additional sick/bereavement/personal days, and an adjustment in conference days related to expenses.

"We're asking for a reduction in the insurance program; they're asking for an increase," the superintendent continued. He explained that the reduction would translate into a $100 deductible and $2 prescription co-pay. The union, he said, wants to retain the current package plus dental and vision coverage.

Also, the superintendent added, the union is asking for a reduction in class size (6 to 8 students), while the school bargaining team has countered with a request of increasing class size by the same number of pupils.

The reason for the school request is simple, Micklash noted. "There has to be some way to pay for it (union's requests), and the only way to pay for it is to lay off staff and increase class size."

"We're probably $600,000 apart, probably more," he Please turn to page 5.

Ypma protests school hazing

Does the custom of painting freshmen with lipstick the first 3 days of school amount to hazing? Rich Ypma, Cass City, a parent in the district, believes that it does and he wants it stopped, he told the Cass City School Board at its regular session Monday night.

During the first 3 days of school, freshmen traditionally have been painted with lipstick. It started with the painting of the letter F on the forehead of the students.

Today students are painted all over the face and, Ypma says, their arms, neck and clothing, too. Ypma has a son that went through the painting period and said that he was concerned about it happening all summer prior to entering the freshman class. He has a daughter that will be a freshman next year.

Concern about the tradition evidently varies with students. Trustee Dick Wallace said. His sons looked forward to it. However, it was agreed, if it is a concern, the practice should be looked at. Painting freshmen has been a practice at the school for 25 years or more.

School principals said that the painting may have gone too far in recent years, but pointed out that after the first 3 days when it was announced that it no longer would be tolerated, it stopped immediately.

The board has asked the school staff to look into the practice and work with the student council. Their report will be considered at the next regular meeting.

"I'll be back next month, Ypma promised.

Motorist stabbed, robbed

Tuscola County Sheriff's deputies Monday continued their search for a man who robbed and knifed a Tuscola County motorist Friday night.

Deputies are not releasing the name of the victim, who was stabbed several times after stopping to pick up a hitchhiker on M-46 near Bruisee Road in Indianfields Township.

A spokesman at the sheriff's department said the woman is in satisfactory condition at Caro Community Hospital.

The woman, who met deputies in the lobby of the county jail, stated that her assailant is between 5'10" and 5'11" tall and weighs about 170 pounds. The man, who has red hair and was unshaven, was wearing a gray jacket and blue jeans.

The incident occurred shortly after 6 p.m., according to the spokesman, who said persons who have any information about the suspect are asked to call the sheriff's department at 673-8161.

Rash of fire calls ends long "quiet" spell for firemen

Feast or famine. That's been the nature of fire alarms for Elkland Township fire fighters in recent months.

Unfortunately, the fire department's recent alarm famine—there have been only 2 alarms since Aug. 14—ended last week, when firemen were called upon 7 times over a 5-day period.

The worst of the alarms, one of which proved to be false, involved a fire that resulted in an estimated $40,000 in damage Friday afternoon.

Elkland firemen, assisted by the Kingston, Elmwood-Gagetown and Caro fire departments, responded at 4:11 p.m. to the Dale Stevens residence, located 4 miles south and one mile east of Cass City at 6919 Severance Rd.

Fire Chief Dick Root said he was told that one of the Stevens' children was making toast when the toaster caught fire. The resulting fire and smoke totaled the inside of the home, he said, adding the blaze is among the worst locally this year.

Root lauded the Elkland volunteers, saying they did a fantastic job, particularly in their initial response to the fire.

An electrical pole fire early Saturday evening near the intersection of M-81 and M-53 resulted in another fire alarm. Root said a cross arm on a Detroit Edison pole had caught fire, but was out when firemen arrived shortly after the 6:49 p.m. call.

Fire fighters responded to the Ronald Hulbert residence, 6740 Gilbert Rd., at 6:51 p.m. Thursday. Root said it appeared some heat tape had caught fire near an electrical outlet under the trailer house.

Smoke and other damage is estimated at between $1,000 and $2,000, he said, adding quick action by the residents probably saved the home.

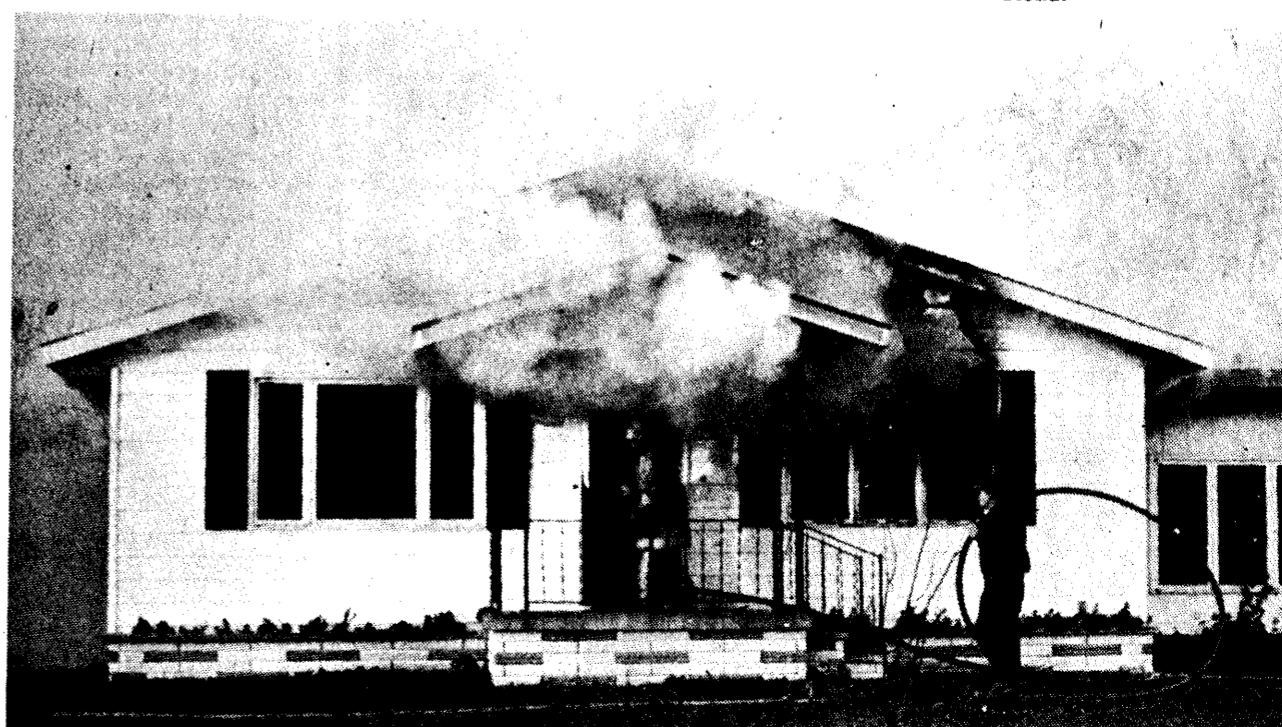

A 6 p.m. alarm Nov. 16 took firemen to the home of Jesse Wilson, located about 7 miles east of Cass City on East Cass City Road. The department was called after Wilson noticed a burning odor in the home, according to Root, who noted the origin of the odor was a television rotor control, which had shorted out.

Earlier the same day, volunteers responded to a 6:52 a.m. alarm after someone noticed some sparks coming from a fuse box behind the office of Dr. Hoon K. Jeung, 6230 Hospital Dr. The sparks were caused by a shorted out wire, Root explained.

Firemen also were called to wash down a section of Main Street on the evening of Nov. 15 following a 2-car collision at the intersection of Main Street and Doerr Road.

FIRE DESTROYED THE inside of the Dale Stevens residence, 6919 Severance Rd., Friday afternoon. The Elkland, Caro, Kingston and Elmwood-Gagetown fire departments were called to the 4:11 p.m. blaze, which caused an estimated $40,000 in damage.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Rasdale

Becky Jo Whittaker, daughter of Gerald and Ruth Whittaker of Cass City, and Thomas James Rasdale, son of Charles and Joan Rasdale of St. Johns, exchanged marriage vows Oct. 8 in a double-ring candlelight service, officiated by Rev. Harry E. Capps at the First Presbyterian Church of Cass City.

The bride was given in marriage by her parents. She chose a white satin gown with an illusion neckline. Venise lace and sequins accented the stand-up collar. An off-the-shoulder flounce of Chantilly lace ruffled over leg-of-mutton sleeves of satin and Chantilly lace. A full satin overskirt was draped with satin bows over a sequin accented Chantilly lace flounce that extended to a chapel length train. Her headband style headpiece was made of satin roses accented with pearls, baby's breath and iridescent leaves. It also had pearls cascading from both sides and a fingertip veil and blusher. She carried a cascade bouquet of white silk roses accented with touches of royal blue silk cornflowers, pearls, baby's breath and English Ivy, finished with white lace and royal blue satin streamers. All flowers for the wedding were done by Mrs. Betty Greenleaf of Cass City.

The matron of honor was Lori Hartsel of Cass City, friend of the bride. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Ann Borger of Westlake Village, Calif., Miss Colleen Whittaker of Whitefish, Mont., sisters of the bride, Miss Ruth Rasdale of DeWitt, Miss Mary Rasdale of Elsie, sisters of the groom, and Mrs. Tammie Whittaker of Cass City, sister-in-law of the bride. The bridesmaids wore teal-length dresses of royal blue and featured a satin bodice with sweetheart neckline and spaghetti straps with full lace skirt over satin. A cropped lace jacket with jewel neck and shirred lace sleeves was also worn. Each bridesmaid carried a white lace fan decorated with light blue silk roses and touches of royal blue silk cornflowers. It was accented with pearls and baby's breath and trimmed with white lace and blue satin streamers.

The groom and groomsmen wore gray shadow weave tuxedos with dinner jackets. The best man was Dennis Ballinger of DeWitt, friend of the groom. Groomsmen were Edward Rasdale, Michael Rasdale and Robert Rasdale, all of St. Johns, brothers of the groom, David Whittaker of Cass City, brother of the bride, and James Findlay of St. Louis, friend of the groom.

The bride's mother wore an ice blue street-length dress and the groom's mother wore a pale blue tea-length dress. They each had a corsage of light blue silk roses with white silk baby's breath flowers.

The piano and organ were played by Susie Scollon and "Time in a Bottle" was sung by Tom Fulcher, both are from Cass City. Greeters and guest book attendants were Sunny and Adam Rasdale, niece and nephew of the groom.

A dinner reception was held at the Colony House for 200 guests. Following a 2-week honeymoon in Hawaii, the couple is making their home in DeWitt.

Square dance

The Town & Country Square Dance Club will sponsor a dance from 8-11 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 26, at Cass City High School. All square dancers are welcome.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schwartz

Mr. and Mrs. Frank (Ivonia) Schwartz will celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary at a dinner with their family.

Ivonia Holly Toner and Frank James Schwartz were married Nov. 23, 1963, at St. Pancratius Catholic Church in Cass City. The officiating priest was Fr. A. Messing.

The attendants were Jim LaRoche, best man and Darlene Brady, maid of honor.

They have 3 daughters, Mrs. Doug (Michelle) Richmond of Pigeon, Brenda Schwartz of Perrysburg, Ohio, and Theresa Schwartz, at home.

Do you suppose we have too much to be truly thankful?

After all, it was pretty basic stuff with the Pilgrims. They'd survived the trip across the Atlantic in dinky little boats, and had been spared by plague and famine. They had religious freedom. With their simple lifestyle, why wouldn't they give thanks?

They didn't have to juggle schedules to get Susie to basketball practice, Johnny to the school play and Junior to the baby sitter, while trying to keep the family reasonably well fed and in touch with one another.

They didn't have stores and catalogs pushing E. T. videos, California Barbie and GI Joe Tiger Cats in early November for Christmas. They didn't have to face the mall mobs the day after Thanksgiving. And they didn't have to wonder if they'd ever get their credit card balance paid off after the holidays.

Nor had they endured months of boring TV coverage, long-winded speeches and debates between politicians seeking office. (Makes you wonder how anybody got elected in the old days, doesn't it?) Pilgrim women didn't have to clip coupons and wait in line at the supermarket checkout counter, cringing at how much the price of everything had gone up.

No sir. It was a simple matter of catching that turkey, decapitating, plucking and cooking it.

They didn't have broken down washers, dryers or freezers to worry about either, or plumbing backing up.

It's hard to imagine such a stress free life, isn't it?

Our forefathers didn't know about air pollution, acid rain and the greenhouse effect. They weren't constantly pressured by the scramble for the corporate ladder. And they didn't have to contend with the traffic and the idiots that drive the rush hour commute. How much of a gridlock can a couple oxen and a horse create?

I wonder what the Pilgrims would think if they could see our complicated lifestyle today.

Things were simple back then. All they had to do was carve a living out of the wilderness and fend off wild animals, sickness, starvation and hostile Indians.

Face it. They had more time and opportunity to be thankful.

Or perhaps your priorities are different without a lot of accoutrements.

"If It Fitz..."

Taking a physical

By Jim Fitzgerald

I was bleeding from two wounds. I was exhausted from a forced march. Strange hands invaded my body and harsh straps held me prisoner. Dressed only in boxer shorts and knee-high socks, I looked like a supporting actor in a macabre stag movie.

It was my annual physical examination, the first one in seven years. I don't like to think about it. I like to think about funny things. Driving to the doctor's office, I was passed by a pickup truck carrying four portable johns. Wouldn't it be funny if the john doors swung open to reveal a person sitting inside each one? And there was a long queue of people running lockstep behind the truck?

That's the type of funny thing I like to think about. It's my brand of day-dreaming or fantasizing. I like to think up cartoons that Richard Guindon might draw on a slow day. For instance, have you noticed the paint jobs on the link fences at intersections near busy freeway exits?

I mean the stoplight intersections where traffic moves slowly enough for idling drivers to do a little sit-down shopping. The fences discourage motorists from rolling down the embankment onto the freeway. These fences are occasionally spray-painted silver, very carelessly, with nearby flora and fixtures also getting a good coat. I suspect this imprecise painting is done from a moving vehicle.

And I visualize a curbside peddler holding up a bouquet of flowers, unable to move because he has been spray-painted stiff into a silver statue.

Or how about "No Standing" signs? I look at them and see pedestrians following orders, lying down flat on the sidewalk.

OUT ON THE CURB

You get the idea: I not only don't like going to the doctor, I don't like thinking about it, because it's not funny. But my wife said it was dangerous for me to have an annual physical once every 10 years. She doesn't want me to drop dead unexpectedly; she wants a warning so she can be prepared. I have the feeling that, if my demise surprises her, there'll be no funeral: I'd be put out on the curb with the rest of the trash.

So she made the appointment and I showed up on time, pausing at the public restroom near the doctor's office so I'd be comfortable if there were a long wait in the waiting room. But a nurse immediately ushered me into a back room and, first thing, asked me to fill a little bottle. Oh, Lord, how can I be so dumb?

After this slow start, my finger and arm were pricked for signs of life. I was attached to several machines by long wires and forced to march up and down two steps 36 times, holding the trailing wires like a forlorn bride with no attendants for her train.

Also I had to blow as hard as I could into a hose, activating something that looked suspiciously like a lie detector. The nurse said I was a better blowhard than most men my age and size. I blushed all over.

My doctor, who is also my wife's doctor, came in and comforted me by saying, "I will now remind you of why you stayed away from me for seven years." And that's what he did, prodding, pushing, pulling, rapping, snapping and going where no man had gone before him, except him.

MAYBE SHE WANTED THE CHAIR

When he could find nothing ailing me, he wondered if my wife had noticed some symptoms of poor health that he had missed. What was it that, after seven years, prompted her finally to insist that I get up and go see him?

I thought about it. I think she wanted to sit in my stuffed leather chair.

As I prepared to leave, the doctor handed me an envelope addressed to him. That was something new since seven years ago. Inside were three tongue depressors along with instructions that said the depressors weren't for depressing my tongue. They were for depressing my psyche. More precisely, they were for facilitating the transport of smudges of something from my toilet and through the postal system to my doctor for laboratory testing.

"There are many challenges in life," he explained. I told him I didn't want to think about it. I used to be a mailman.

The Haire Net

Last Wednesday wasn't the first time that I had been in Atlantic City, just the first time since casino gambling came to town.

A trip to the eastern seaboard gambling mecca had long been in the back of my mind because of the first time I visited 45 years ago. It was during World War II and my unit of college kids that had joined the reserves was called up and assigned to the air corps which had taken over a former luxury hotel (called the Traymore). After the soldiers finished scrubbing the walls and living there, it was no surprise that it was demolished shortly after the war.

Over the years, finding out how the area had changed and if parts of it remained as I remembered it was one of those projects that I vowed to do if the opportunity arose. Did I find it different? Yes and no. I suppose that the ocean is more polluted today, but it and the beach look the same. So does the boardwalk.

As expected the huge glittering hotels dwarf what was there before, even though Atlantic City was still a glamour vacation spot when it was taken over by the government during the war.

There remains today the salt water taffy and the gift shops, just as there were nearly a half century ago. The circus-like attitude that comes across in every tourist mecca also remains. The natives look with disdain at the people who are lining their pockets.

You need to walk off the boardwalk to see the real change. There were plenty of places to go and some very nice stores, restaurants and bars that were not on the boardwalk. If you wander off the boardwalk today, forget it. There's nothing there but the urban decay that we all know about.

There's no doubt that the gambling interests in the city are prosperous. I read somewhere that the top money producers are making more than their counterparts in Las Vegas.

Among the gamblers and visitors I talked with it was unanimous that Las Vegas is the destination of choice, all things being equal.

Going to Atlantic City is a convenient stopgap for the real thing in Nevada. But that doesn't stop the tourists from flocking in. All overnight charters have been booked for a month or so ahead.

That's why my trip to Atlantic City was a one-day event. That's all that was available.

It's cheap enough. Counting the $15 food allowance, the $20 in quarters and other perks it costs about $70 to make the flight. Regular coach fare, round trip, is $460.

Did I have a good time? Yes. Would I go again? Not for just one day. We had to be at the airport at 7:30 a.m. (Metro, Detroit) and returned at 1 a.m. the next morning.

Believe me, Thursday was a long day at the Chronicle.

Nancy and Walter Olson

Nancy Elizabeth Kerbyson and Walter John Olson were united in marriage May 14 in the Historic Church of St. Peters, Mendota, Minn. The Rev. Michael Arms officiated for the daughter of Mary and Gerald Kerbyson of Higgins Lake, and the son of Helen Olson of St. Paul, Minn., and the late Walter O. Olson.

Barbara Smith-Holmen, friend of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Cathleen Douglas and Karen Beyerlein, sisters of the bride.

Timothy Scanlan, friend of the groom, was best man. Groomsmen were Gregory Todd and Vincent Cardinal, friends of the groom. Ushers were Kenneth and Robert Kerbyson, brothers of the bride.

The organist/soloist was Paul Kerbyson, brother of the bride. Altar servers were Robert and Curtis Beyerlein, nephews of the bride. Kenneth Kerbyson was the reader.

Rabbit Tracks
by John Haire
(And anyone else he can get to help.)

After over 20 years, the deer at the Walt Goodall farm are no more. They were sold recently. We enjoyed them, Goodall said, (and so did several generations of kids) but there comes a time....

Walt has many pleasant memories of the deer, and some not so pleasant, like the time the dog got in the pen and killed one of the does. He found that deer eat most everything, but have special fondness for gelatin dessert.

I always figured that the interest charged credit card holders is a big rip off, but now I can tell you about one that really stiffs the borrower. I learned about it in Atlantic City. In all the big gambling casinos, scattered around the gambling rooms are machines attached to phones with signs announcing credit card cash is available.

This is the way it works. There is a fee charged by the casinos, depending on the amount of money desired. You put your card in a scanner and I presume the amount you want is billed to your account (with that almost usurious interest) and the casino gives you the money.

An example of the fee is the charge of $16 for $200 with the amount of the fee rising as the amount rises.

Girls' basketball is in its second decade in Cass City and the improvement has been astonishing. When it started, none of the players had any ball handling skills and defenses were primitive to say the least. We had a near state championship team in the early days of the sport here and it's almost sure that this year's non-championship squad would have run over it with ease.

We can't begin to guess which successful deer hunter will be the youngest this fall, but we can tell you now who will be the oldest. It's Vern McConnell of Cass City, who is 92. See buck luck for details.

Your neighbor says Christmas displays up just in time

With the Thanksgiving weekend just around the bend, Christmas shoppers are gearing up to kick off the traditional beginning of holiday shopping. Although the Friday and Saturday following turkey feast day are known as the busy time of the year for retailers, many store owners have been soliciting potential buyers with Christmas advertising for weeks.

Some patrons take offense to the early display of Christmas lights, window dressing, radio and newspaper advertisements that goes hand in hand with the Yule season, but your neighbor, Helen Root, isn't among that group. "I think it's great. I do it (put up Christmas displays) while the weather is warm, too," responded Helen when asked if she gets turned off by the early exhibit of Christmas decorations. The Doerr road resident went on to say that she has already started her Christmas shopping, although she probably won't finish up until about a week before Christ's birth. And will the mother of 3 become fed up with all the holiday hoopla before the new year? "I really don't pay that much attention to it any more now that my kids are all grown up," she explained. Helen and her husband Don, who is employed at Berger & Co. in Cass City, have 3 daughters.

Surplus food distribution set Dec. 1

The Human Development Commission will be having a surplus commodity distribution Dec. 1 from 11:30 a.m.-1:30 p.m. or until the supply is exhausted.

The distribution sites are the Cass City Village Park, Cass City; Tuscola County Fairgrounds, Caro, and the Ivan Middleton Hall, Fairgrounds, Vassar.

Due to the volume of commodities, individuals are asked to take cardboard boxes to their distribution site.

Individuals must report to the distribution site in person, and present their Surplus Commodity Registration Card. Persons who are unable physically to go to the distribution site themselves may have someone pick up their surplus commodities only if the registration card is shown.

Surplus commodity cards can be obtained from the county HDC Offices. Please call for an appointment.

The surplus commodities have been made available to the HDC, the local Community Action Agency serving Huron, Lapeer, Sanilac and Tuscola Counties, from the federal government and is intended for personal consumption by eligible low income families.

Down Memory Lane

From the files of the Chronicle

FIVE YEARS AGO

Cause of a fire that destroyed the home of Chuck and Sara Watros southeast of Cass City Sunday evening is still unknown. Elkland Township fire chief Jerome Root Jr. said the estimated loss was $35,000 for the house and $15,000 for the contents. They had lived in their home for nine years.

Twenty-five persons attended the noon luncheon Friday in the Good Shepherd Lutheran Church for senior citizens. Favors were given to Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Cleland who were celebrating a wedding anniversary and to Thelma Jackson, Noreen Partridge, Emma Kettlewell and Ann Stepka who have November birthdays.

New stores are filling Main Street buildings. First of the empty buildings to be occupied was by Nothing Ordinary shop owned by Gloria Ouvry and operated by Sean Zawilinski and Pam Ouvry.

Another store that features unusual items is the RnB Chatterbox. The store, a ceramic studio, is owned and operated by Betty Laurie and Ruth Grassman. Just a few doors west of the new RnB store is another new business, Primary Vision Clinic. Mary Jane Ryba is the local office manager. The most recent of the new stores to open is Georgine's, operated by Georgine Jensen.

Cross country honors were presented at the boys and girls teams' banquet last Thursday. Names most improved were Randy Nicholas and Denise Anker. Renae Stimpfel and Greg Bliss, most valuable.

Volunteer helpers for the erection of the Cass City Main Street decorations were Ed Baker, Ken Eisminger, Fred Auten, Lloyd Vyse, Jim Baker, George Clara, Herb Ludlow, Eldon Stoutenburg, Richard Draws, Ed Retherford, Jim Champion and Tom Proctor. Larry Goodall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Goodall of Cass City, was promoted in mid-October to specialist four in Korea, where he is serving with the 7th Infantry Division's 31st Artillery.

TEN YEARS AGO

Edith Izydorek brought down her first buck, a 7-pointer, opening day of deer season.

Thelma Pratt was honored as the Cass City Business and Professional Women's Club "Woman of the Year" Wednesday. The former grocer was presented with an engraved platter during a dinner meeting.

Michigan's new returnable container law for beer, ale and carbonated soft drinks goes into effect Dec. 3.

Mr. and Mrs. M.B. Auten will have as guests from Wednesday until Sunday, her son, John Starman of White Pigeon, and her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Mulligan and daughters of Arlington Heights, Ill.

25 YEARS AGO

An organizational meeting of the Cass City Independent Basketball League will be held at the New Gordon Hotel, Monday evening, Dean Hoag announced this week.

Dean and Robert Morrison of Gorman, Calif., left Sunday night to return to Gorman after spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kelley and Dean's daughter, Vickie Morrison.

35 YEARS AGO

From 63 candidates who reported for the opening basketball practice at Cass City High School, Coach Irv Claxman will try to weld a winning team to protect the Thumb B Conference championship. He will have to build his team around Russ Foy, returning from the 1952-53 team. Gone from last year's club are Tim Burdon, Bob Wallace, Stan Guinther, Don Tuckey, Graydon Agar, Roy Wagg and Bill Martus.

The Frances Belle Watson Past Matron Club met at the Masonic Hall in Gageton Wednesday evening. New officers are Mrs. Howard Helwig, president, and Mrs. Clayton Root, secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Dean Rabideau of Cass City and her sister, Mrs. Rodney Karr, were in Bad Axe Saturday on business.

Letter to the editor

Letter to the Editor

What is happening at our Elementary School? Several days I have taken my daughter to school about 5-10 after 8 — one morning I took her when it was raining. I had noticed all the children outside, so I waited in the car with her until the bell rang. On another occasion when it was raining, I saw a child trying to go into the foyer — only to be pushed outside by a staff member. Why aren't these children allowed to wait in the foyer?

On another occasion I had driven by the school at lunch time — on a day when it was in the 20's with a strong wind — only to find several children outside with no coats.

Do the staff members want these children out of school with colds and flu? Why is there something like this happening. Everyone is concerned with teacher contracts, teacher raises - what about our children. There is no excuse for this - no excuse!

I now am late for work everyday because I do not dare to bring my child before that bell rings. I'd jeopardize my job before my child's health.

You other parents should take a look at what's happening, and the staff at that Elementary School better start taking the children's "Health" a little more seriously.

Thank you, From a very angry, concerned parent! (Name withheld upon request)

Editor's note: Generally, the Elementary School doors are opened when school starts at 8:15 a.m., according to Principal Dave Lovejoy, who said children who arrive early on bad-weather days are allowed to enter the school upon arrival.

Health care workshop set

More than 6,000 Huron County senior citizens will be affected by the Medicare Catastrophic Coverage Act of 1987. To learn more about this new health bill a "Catastrophic Health Care Workshop" has been set for Dec. 8 from 2 to 3 p.m. in the Activity Center at the Huron Community Fairgrounds, Bad Axe.

This workshop is free to senior citizens and reservations are requested to allow presenters to have enough materials and refreshments for all those attending.

Additional information is available by calling 269-9949 or writing the Cooperative Extension Service, 104 County Building, Bad Axe, MI 48413.

Barbara Neuman, extension home economist of the Cooperative Extension Service, and Patrick Essian of Edward D. Jones & Company are sponsoring the workshop.

Singers set to begin new year

Persons interested in joining the Tom Thumb Singers are encouraged to attend the group's first rehearsal meeting of the year, slated for 7 p.m. Jan. 9 at Cass City High School.

Former accompanist Glenda Wilson has been named director of the 60-member community choir, following Director Andrea Hofmeister's move to the Reese area. Jan Roll will replace Wilson as accompanist.

Additional information on the singers is available by contacting Michelle Zdrojewski at 872-4151, Jeanne Auten at 872-2275, Geneva Richards at 872-2467, or Art Holmberg at 872-2994.

For Health Insurance That's A Cut Above The Rest

Consider the 24 Karat Major Medical Plan from Time Insurance. Time's plan outshines the competition because more value has been built into every benefit you receive. Values like:

- Freedom to choose your doctor and hospital
- 15% non-smoker's discount
- Prescription drugs, ambulance, and x-ray coverage
- 100% coverage for pre-admission testing, second surgical opinions, home health care and more.

In addition, because the 24 Karat is a hospital pre-certification plan, it uses a system of managed health care to ensure that every hospital treatment and service you receive is medically appropriate for you. For more information contact:

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Comment entertained members of the Garfield Turner family for an early Thanksgiving Sunday. Guests were Jim and Joyce Turner and family of Cass City, Mr. and Mrs. Rick Turner and daughters of North Branch and Gerry Carolan.

The final celebration of the 50th anniversary of the Diocese of Saginaw was held Tuesday evening at the Civic Center in Saginaw. Representatives of the 115 parishes of the diocese attended the Mass, with Principal Celebrant Bishop Kenneth Untener using the Gold Gospel Book from St. Agatha Parish.

Will Burdon of Muskegon spent a few days with his parents, Paul and Barb Burdon, and did some deer hunting in the area. Paula Burdon of Alma came for Friday and Saturday.

While Mr. and Mrs. David Merz and son of Keller, Texas, visited, Mrs. Bill Merz of Saginaw hosted an early Thanksgiving dinner for her family. Guests were Alma and Mary Wald. Mrs. Howard (Gertrude Anker) Evans of Lake Orion died last week at age 81. She was a graduate of Gagetown High School. Pat Posluszny and Mary and Alma Wald called on the family at the Sparks Funeral Home in Lake Orion.

Latheria Roe was surprised with a birthday celebration party Sunday evening, Nov. 13, at the home of her son, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Roe in Gagetown. Guests were her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Roe of Pigeon, and her sister, Mrs. Dorothy Radabaugh of Owendale. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Dale Jamieson, Mrs. Alice Ricker, Mrs. Kay Karg and daughter Sandy and Mrs. Bonnie Gaeth, all of Owendale. Supper was served by the hosts and the birthday cake was made by Kay and Sandy Karg.

Mamie Russell of Unionville and Bunny Hunter spent the afternoon last Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Muri LaFave.

Louie Abend of Wilks-Barre, Pa., spent a few days visiting cousins, Ila and Leo Seuryneck, and other relatives. Last Saturday they were guests at a get-together of the Alfred Goslin family, at the home of Lee and Helen Wood of Essexville.

Mrs. Norman (Suzy) Adams, a former Gagetown resident, now of Bay City, suffered a broken hip in a fall at her home and is a patient at Bay Medical Center.

The Dick Carrolls met in Lapeer with Tim and Dottie Rabideau of Lansing and their children for a visit and dinner at Nick's last Sunday.

Last Sunday dinner guests of Marge and Leonard Karr were Cliff and Thelma Jackson of Ubyly.

Ila and Leo Seuryneck visited Clare and Jeanne Comment at Sand Point before the Comments left for St. Petersburg, Fla., to spend the Thanksgiving holiday with Dee Comment.

Owen-Gage recognizes A. Goslin

Owen-Gage High School senior Andrea Goslin has been named the school's "student of the month" for October.

The daughter of Francis and Evelyn Goslin of Gagetown, Goslin has been active in sports as well as academic activities and student government during her years in high school.

Andrea Goslin

She is a member of the National Honor Society and currently holds the office of secretary in that organization. The senior class president, who also was president of her junior class, also has participated in the French Club and yearbook. She was a snowball representative in her junior year.

Also a sports enthusiast, Goslin has been a member of the basketball, volleyball, softball and track teams.

Her future plans include attending Central Michigan University, where she plans to major in physical therapy.

meeting, the annual holiday bazaar was discussed. Mary McKellar gave the lesson, a Holiday Story, and old favorite poems.

The hostess served refreshments.

Larry Mauk of Detroit spent a few days with his aunt, Mrs. Fred McKellar. Gerry Carolan visited Sadie Tait last Monday and was her overnight guest.

Sister Nancy Ayotte, IHM, spent Nov. 14-15 in Dayton, Ohio, attending a workshop on ways to help those resistant to change in the church.

George Glaser died last week in Clarkston. After a graveside service, burial took place in St. Agatha's Cemetery Saturday.

MATT RUSSELL DIES

Matt Russell, son of Ruth Russell of Grand Rapids and the late Ron Russell, died Tuesday, Nov. 15, in Santa Monica, Calif., at the age of 31.

A memorial service took place Friday evening at 7:30 at Immaculate Conception Catholic Church in Lapeer.

Surviving, besides his mother, are his wife, Gwen; 3 brothers, Tim, Pat and Paul Russell; 4 sisters, Sara, Mary Kay, Carrie and Rona Russell; 2 nephews and a niece.

CASS CITY

CASS CITY-MERCY Ambulance personnel prepare to transport Kim Wildman of Cass City to Hills and Dales General Hospital Nov. 15 after Wildman's car backed into another vehicle at the intersection of Doerr Road and Main Street. Village officials have asked the state to consider putting a traffic light at the intersection, where 2 accidents occurred last week.

2 persons hurt

3 crashes at village's west end

Two persons were injured in one of 3 2-vehicle accidents which occurred at the west end of Cass City over the past week.

Cass City resident Kimberly A. Wildman, 20, 6877 Herron Dr., was hurt when her westbound vehicle backed into another westbound vehicle Nov. 15 on Main Street at the Doerr Road intersection.

Wildman was transported to Hills and Dales General Hospital by Cass City-Mercy Ambulance personnel. The driver of the other vehicle, William C. Carr Jr., sought his own treatment for minor injuries.

According to Cass City Police, Carr had stopped, signaled and was preparing to turn south onto Doerr Road when the 7:25 p.m. mishap occurred.

Wildman, whose vehicle sustained moderate damage, was cited for failing to stop in an assured clear distance.

At the same intersection the next morning, a westbound vehicle driven by Delbert C. Healy, 7949 Daus Rd., Cass City, slammed into a stopped vehicle while turning south onto Doerr Road from Main Street.

Police said the stopped vehicle, driven by Richard L. Root, 6158 Elmwood Rd., Cass City, was preparing to enter Main Street from Doerr Road when the 6:55 a.m. crash occurred. Both vehicles sustained moderate damage, reports indicate.

A vehicle driven by David S. Marshall, 5201 Hadley Rd., Cass City, backed into another vehicle, driven by Susan A. Zagorski, 6537 Main St., Cass City, early Sunday morning on Main Street east of Comment Drive.

Both drivers were westbound at about 12:05 a.m., according to reports, which state Zagorski had turned from Comment Drive east onto Main Street when the mishap occurred. Both vehicles sustained light to moderate damage.

Police said Marshall was going too fast for conditions and that he failed to stop in an assured clear distance.

Area drivers are "bagging" share of deer this season

Area motorists have taken their share of deer since the firearm deer season began early last week.

Several car-deer accidents, most of them resulting in minor damage to the vehicles involved, have been reported over the past week to various law enforcement agencies in the area.

Ronald B. Kuenzli, 675 S. Cemetery Rd., Deford, told Tuscola County Sheriff's deputies he was driving south on Cemetery Road north of Severance Road Saturday when he hit a deer at about 4 p.m.

Kingston resident Terry A. Ellenbaum, 2311 S. Kingston Rd., struck a deer Saturday at about 6:15 p.m. while driving east on Bevens Road east of Kingston Road in Kingston Township. Early the same day in the same township, David A. Bezenah of Caro hit a deer while driving on Bevens Road west of Phillips Road. The mishap occurred at 5:50 a.m.

Also Saturday, Earl F. King, 5285 Dorance Rd., Kingston, was eastbound on Dorance Road east of English Road in Novesta Township when his vehicle struck a deer at about 5:50 p.m.

Unionville resident James R. Gillespie told deputies he was eastbound on M-81 near Dodge Road in Elkland Township at about 3:40 p.m. Friday when he hit a deer.

Another Unionville resident, Arnold L. Bell, reported hitting a deer Thursday while driving west on Akron Road east of Green Road in Ellington Township at about 10 a.m.

CASS CITY POLICE

Cass City Police filed 2 car-deer mishaps, including one reported by Dale W. Kaake, 5026 Hadley Rd., Cass City, who was southbound on Schwegler Road north of Milligan Road at 8 p.m. Nov. 16 when a deer ran into his vehicle.

Later the same evening, Donald L. Smith Jr., Cass City, struck a deer while driving east on Shabbona Road west of Dodge Road.

STATE POLICE

State police at the Caro post reported 4 car-deer accidents.

Iris R. Kappen, 2495 Keilitz Rd., Cass City, was southbound on Dodge Road west of Shabbona Road in Ellington Township at 7:45 p.m. Friday when her vehicle collided with a deer.

Steven H. DeLong, 3183 Englehart Rd., Cass City, also hit a deer Friday. The 9 p.m. mishap occurred while he was southbound on Englehart Road south of Kelly Road in Novesta Township.

Robert D. MacKay, 6720 Garfield Ave., Cass City, was westbound on M-81 west of Deckerville Road at 6:30 p.m. Thursday when his vehicle hit a deer.

A vehicle driven by Cass City resident Angela M. Doerr collided with a deer Nov. 15 at 7:45 p.m. on westbound Bay City-Forestville Road west of Germania Road.

Owen-Gage refuses to fold; wins title

The Owen-Gage Bulldogs fought, scrapped, clawed, and battled themselves to a 49-47 win over Akron-Fairgrove to give 3rd year Coach Dean Roller his first district title at North Huron on Monday night. The victory was the Bulldogs' 4th in six days.

"Like I've said all along, these girls do what they have to do to win," said a shower soaked Roller afterwards.

The Bulldogs used a full court press to jump out in front 6-1 in the early going, as both squads appeared tight in the opening stanza. Akron-Fairgrove started to loosen up in the second period and struggled back behind a fine effort from Kim Butcher, who scored easily from under the basket most of the night.

The Vikings cut the Bulldogs' 16-10 first period lead to 3 points midway through the 2nd period on a short jumper from the Vikings' sophomore point guard Andrea Mulloy.

Owen-Gage then responded to Mulloy's basket with 6 quick tallies of their own on baskets by Vicky Ricker, Angie Bolzman and 2 free throws by Andrea Goslin. With under a minute remaining before the intermission, the Bulldogs held a comfortable 28-19 lead.

The Vikings wouldn't give up though, and registered the final shot of the half as Billie Jo Ewald canned the game's only 3-pointer to reduce the North Central Thumb League champs' lead to 30-26 at the break.

After trading baskets in the first part of the 3rd period, a 3-point play by Butcher, who finished the night with 17 points, sliced the Bulldogs' lead to a deuce, 33-31.

The Vikings would knot the score at 35 with 2:16 remaining in the period when Mulloy converted 2 technical foul shots assessed against a Bulldog player.

When Michelle Brown hit a jumper on the inbounds pass, the Vikings had their first lead, 37-35. The game came down to the final 8 minutes as the 3rd period ended at 39 all.

Owen-Gage's Andrea Mandich, who has played the best ball of her 3-year career over the past few weeks, gave the Bulldogs the lead back, 42-39, at the 4-minute mark in the last period on a driving lay-in and a charity toss a few plays later.

"Andrea turned into our leader," Roller commented. The Vikings regained the lead at 43-42 on a basket by Ewald. Mandich answered Ewald's basket when she calmly sank 2 free throws with just over 2 minutes remaining in the game to give the Bulldogs a one-point margin at 44-43.

With the game tied at 47, Andrea Goslin would hit the game winning basket with 1:40 left in the contest. Several turnovers by the Bulldogs gave the Vikings ample opportunity to send the game into overtime, but their defense rose to the occasions to preserve the win as the Vikings' final shot missed the mark with 10 seconds left in the game.

The Bulldogs were able to run out the clock from there.

For the Bulldogs, Mandich's 15 points were tops. She was followed by Bolzman's 15 tallies. Butcher was the only Viking to finish in double figures.

PREVIOUS GAMES

Getting to the finals of the tournament proved to be a harder task than the games during the regular season indicated they would. The Bulldogs were forced into double overtime Thursday to top Kinde North Huron, 53-51, before easily rolling by Caseville, 53-41, Saturday night.

The victory over Kinde will be long remembered. It proved that a couple of cliches that coaches always talk about are sometimes more than mere rhetoric.

The first is that the bench is important and without it success is very difficult, if not impossible. The second is that when the going gets tough, the best players take control.

How important was the bench against the Warriors? Without it, the game was lost. That's because 4 of the Bulldogs fouled out before the overtime began. Fortunately for Bulldog fans, one of them was not Andrea Mandich. The senior all-star gathered the 4 girls off the bench and held off Kinde for he win to keep their district title hopes alive. Girls off the bench that played so well during the overtime were Marla Goslin, Dawn Holland, Krista Grassmann and Brandy Salcido.

Coach Dean Roller said that good defense enabled the Bulldogs to escape with the win. We were stone cold from the field and from the free throw line, Roller said, hitting just 18 of 73 from the floor for 25 percent and 17 of 42 from the free throw line. When you shoot like that you need a good defense to hold the team together.

Held to 2 points in the first half, Mandich came to life in the last half and overtimes to rack up 16 points. Kinde was led by Pam Horetski with 20 points, Rhonda Error added 12. Tammy Kent scored 10 and played a fine floor game.

After the close win over Kinde, the victory over Caseville was almost anti-climatic, except that it kept the Bulldogs alive and in the chase for the district title.

The Bulldogs charged out to a 26-16 lead at halftime and were never in serious danger of losing. Andrea Goslin led the Bulldogs with 15 points. In double figures for Caseville were Charlotte Bieri, 13 points, and Krista Colgin, 12. Caseville ended the year with a 5-15 record.

Free skiing guide offered

A guide to free skiing in Michigan is now available from the Michigan Travel Bureau. The free skiing, it should be noted, is for first-timers and senior citizens and is limited to specific dates in January and February.

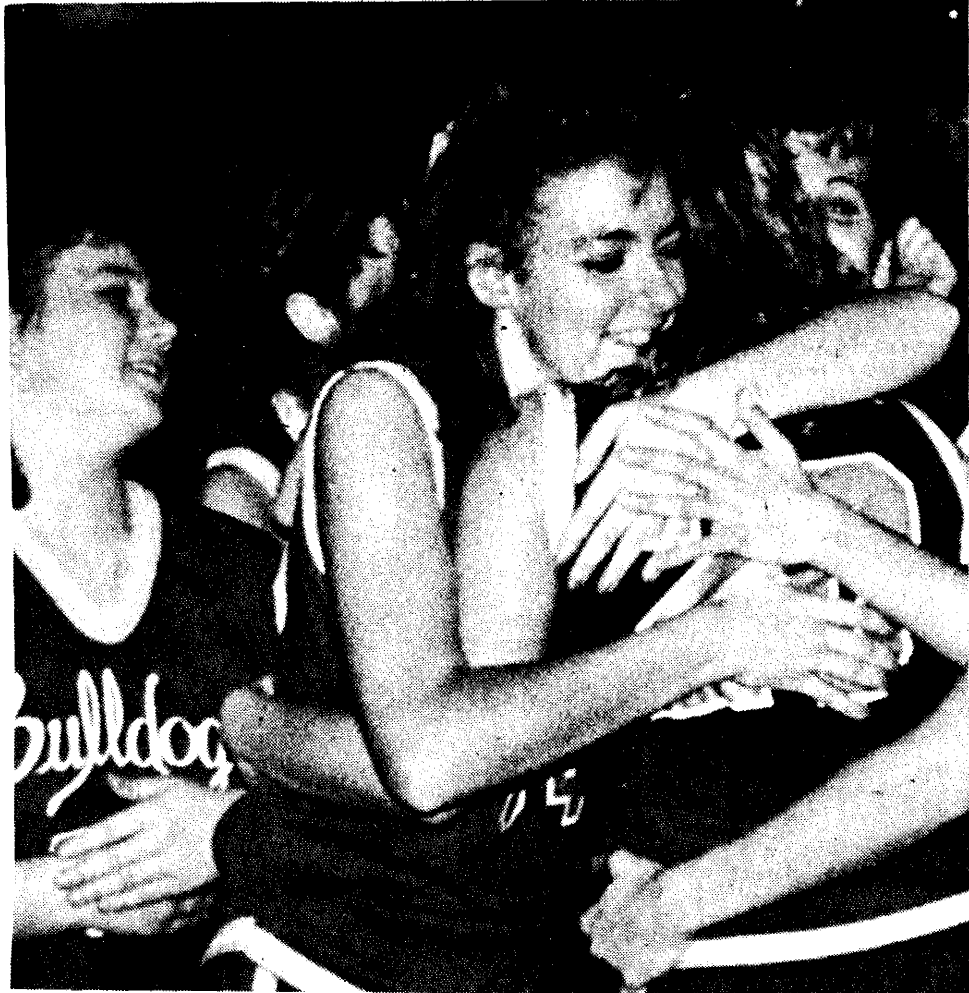

The bureau has just produced brochures outlining 2 special ski promotions: "Let's Go Skiing, Michigan!" (Jan. 20, 1989) for persons who have never, or have rarely skied, and Silver Streak Week (Jan. 30-Feb. 3) for those 55 years of age and above.

The Learn to Ski Free brochure lists the 50-some resorts taking part in the "Let's Go Skiing, Michigan!" program. Participating resorts will offer free beginner lessons and free beginner-area lift and trail tickets to novices who sign up in advance. Many also will offer free use of rental equipment to those who sign up in advance.

Copies of the Learn to Ski and Silver Streak Week brochures can be obtained by writing the Michigan Travel Bureau at P.O. Box 30226, Lansing, Michigan 48909, or by calling 1-800-543-2YES.

COACH DEAN ROLLER AND HIS NCTL champion Bulldogs are all smiles after adding the district title to their list of accomplishments for 1988.

SMILES INSTEAD OF tears came for Owen-Gage basketball players Monday night after the Bulldogs won the district class D crown with a win over Akron-Fairgrove. Hugging her teammate is Theresa Schwartz.

Bulldogs win NCTL title

The Owen-Gage Bulldogs had the North Central D League basketball title in their sights and weren't about to let it get away last Tuesday as they rolled past the Kingston Cardinals, 64-32.

The Bulldog wrecking crew went to work early and bounced out to an early lead and never looked back. Using a balanced scoring attack, O-G racked up a 17-11 lead after the first 8 minutes.

If there was any doubt about the outcome of the game it was quickly dispelled by halftime. With Andrea Mandich pouring in 12 points, the Bulldogs netted 24 points in the second quarter and Owen-Gage was in front, 44-20.

Coach Dean Roller turned to his bench in the second half and the regulars sat out the final quarter.

Roller used all 14 girls on his team and 13 of them broke into the scoring column. Mandich led the way with 18 points while sitting out the final 8 minutes. No Cardinal was in double figures.

It is apparent that this year, Kingston doesn't have the talent to challenge the league champions. It was probably a good thing that the Bulldogs were not challenged. Roller said that it was a very sloppy game with lots of fouls and turnovers. Kingston's poor shooting made it easy for Owen-Gage. The Cardinals shot just 14 percent (7 of 50) from the field. The Bulldogs were a respectable 43 percent on 24 of 55 field goals. Kingston stayed reasonably close in the first period with the help of 5 free throws.

The championship was especially gratifying to the Bulldogs as the senior stalwarts of this year's team were winless when fresh-

ANDREA MANDICH APPLIES pressure, despite having 4 fouls, during the Bulldogs' 53-51 double overtime win over North Huron Thursday. Mandich was the only Owen-Gage starter to play in either overtime.

Hickson's 3-pointers decisive

Sandusky edges Hawks in district opener

The Cass City Red Hawk basketball season came to an end Friday when the Hawks lost a heartbreaker to the Sandusky Redskins, 60-58, in the District Class C tournament at Cass City. The game was highlighted by a glorious comeback by MAKING THIS PRETTY LEFT-handed lay-up against Sandusky in the district tournament Friday was Cindy Powell. The Hawks lost a heartbreaker, 60-58.

Cass City that fell short because the Redskins' Carrie Hickson, at 5-1, the shortest player on the floor, played like a giant during crunch time when the game was decided.

After falling behind early, Cass City used most of the second and third quarters and the early minutes of the final period to claw back into the ball game. The Hawks scored the first bucket of the game and then fell behind never to lead again until there was only 2:22 left to play.

Cass City forged in front 52-50 when Sue Papp calmly converted a pair of free throws and Cass City fans were going nuts in the stands.

That's when Hickson took personal charge to advance her team to the semi-finals against Reese Monday. She sank a 3-point bucket from outside to push Sandusky ahead by a point. Vicki Robinson countered that one with a set shot from the side. Hickson then converted another 3-point and a moment later stole the ball and fed it to Angela Baerwolf for an easy layup to put Sandusky ahead for good with 1:15 left.

Darlene Monroe hit a shot from the low post to close the gap to a single bucket. The Hawks had the ball with 8 seconds left, but travelling was called as the ball was being brought up the floor and Cass City's last chance went with the lost possession.

In the crucial last quarter Hickson hit 3 3-point shots.

It looked for while as if Sandusky was going to blow the Hawks right out of the gym. After Cass City scored the first basket, Sandusky scored the next 8 points. Coach Al DeMott had his charges in a full court zone press and the Hawks had trouble trying to dribble through it.

With 6:21 left in the second quarter, Cass City trailed 19-6 and Coach Marty Daniel called time out and the game changed. Instead of dribbling into a trap, Cass City passed the ball quickly and beat the defense for several lay-ups.

The Hawks also switched the defense briefly going into a zone defense and started to close the gap. It was 33-21 at the half and 41-35 after 3 quarters.

It appeared that Cass City was in control when the team finally forged into the lead, but Hickson would have none of that and Cass City bowed out after a season that was more successful than anticipated when play started this fall.

Monroe led Hawk scorers with 15 points and Robinson netted 10 off the bench. Hickson led all scorers with 19 points, including 6 of 6 from the free throw line. Angela Baerwolf added 13 points.

FINAL GAME

Cass City ended its regular season with a non-conference tense overtime victory over Unionville-Sebewaing Tuesday, 69-58.

It was close all the way with neither team able to mount a substantial lead until the overtime, when the Hawks outscored USA, 12-1. Instrumental in the win was Cass City's best night of the year from the free throw line. The Hawks were 16 of 20 from the charity stripe, including 6 of 7 in the critical overtime period. Beth Powell was 4 for 4 and Jandi Hillaker, 2 for 3 in the overtime.

Equally gratifying to Hawk supporters was that Cass City managed the win with Darlene Monroe, all-conference center, on the bench with 5 fouls.

The game was all knotted after a quarter at 8 each and Sebewaing edged in front at the intermission by a single point. The Patriots were ahead by a basket, 38-36, and Cass City got that back in the free scoring fourth quarter with a 21-19 edge.

The Hawks showed the scoring balance that makes coaches smile as 7 players shared in the scoring and 4 of them were in double figures. Beth Powell, with 14, led the pack. Sue Papp scored 13 and Cindy Powell and Jandi Hillaker netted 10 each. Connie Herman led all scorers with 16 points.

In the junior varsity contest the Hawks lost 35-27 and ended their season with a .500 percentage with 10 wins and 10 losses.

Thumb B all-star team announced

It's no surprise that the 3 top teams in the Thumb B Association dominated the league all-star team as selected by coaches. Cass City placed Darlene Monroe on the first team and Cindy Powell on the second team. Undeclared North Branch placed 2 players on the first team, 5-11 Stacy Lamphere and 5-9 Katrina Costello. Both girls are seniors.

A pair of Marlette juniors, Jill Atkins, 5-9, and Cathy Fromwiller, 5-8, round out the first squad.

Monroe, 6-1 senior, was instrumental in moving Cass City up from the also-rans into title contention as the Hawks finished with a 9-5 conference record. Monroe finished the year with 203 rebounds and 272 points. She averaged 13 points per game.

Besides Powell, the second team included Tracey Moe-naert, 5-10 Imlay City junior; Connie Schulz, 5-10 Laker senior; Marcia Putnam, 5-9 Marlette senior, and Marian Groce, 5-11 North Branch senior.

Powell, 5-5 senior, piled up 63 assists and 196 points during the season. Her average was 9 points and in addition she played a strong defensive game for the Hawks.

Lamphere was named honorary captain and Tim Zeeman, North Branch, was elected coach of the year.

Cass City also placed 2 on the honorable mention list. Named were Beth Powell, junior, and Jandi Hillaker, sophomore.

Others on the honorable mention list are: Lori Loeffler, Caro; Brenda Buschlen, Laker; Tracie Henne, Laker; Deanna Bergdolt, Vassar; Mona Torrez, Caro; Missy Cubitt, Bad Axe; Teresa Ware, Imlay City; Christy Damm, Laker; Kim Clothier, Marlette; Marty Goodfellow, North Branch; Lynn Knoll, Vassar.

Coach Daniel speaks out

You are never happy when the season ends as abruptly as it did, especially when your team has accomplished so much and brought respect back to a program. We started the year knowing that we would have to work hard and grow up fast as a team. I have nothing but admiration and respect for these ladies. They did all we asked and accomplished more than many thought they were capable. They have in one year managed to inject new life, determination and a never say die attitude that will nourish this program for years to come.

I would like to say to the seniors that you have led us well in both attitude and example. That through your will to leave as winners you have re-established the lady Hawk basketball program to a level of respectability. Your presence will be felt for many seasons to come and the memories that you gave us will never be forgotten. I would like to say a special thank you to Amy Frances, Andrea Isard, Cindy Powell and Darlene Monroe for their leadership throughout the summer and season, without your leadership none of this would have been possible.

I would also like to issue a challenge to the juniors, sophomores and freshmen to put in the time and work needed to continue what has been started this season.

Ugly hunter shot in neck

A 32-year-old Ugly man was accidentally shot in the neck while hunting in Huron County on the opening day of the firearm deer season.

Harold P. Grifka, 1710 Morrison Rd., was taken to Huron Memorial Hospital for emergency treatment after the early afternoon mishap and then transferred to St. Mary's Medical Center in Saginaw, where he was treated and released the next day.

A spokesman at the state police post in Bad Axe said Grifka was hunting with some friends in a wooded area about 7 miles south of Bad Axe when a deer was sighted, shots were fired and Grifka was struck in the neck by some buckshot.

Residents donate food

During the week of Nov. 12-19, 6 members of Boy Scout Troop #594, 7 members of Cub Pack #3594, a Tiger Cub and 6 adult volunteers participated in the Boy Scouts of America National Good Turn, "Scouting for Food."

As a result of their efforts, the Cass City Food Pantry will receive over 500 donated nonperishable food items.

According to coordinator, Carol LaPonsie of Cass City, the Food Pantry, operating under the Human Development Commission, has been in existence for approximately 5 years. With the assistance of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Connell, nutritious foods are distributed to area jobless and low-income families.

For additional information regarding the Cass City Food Pantry, residents in the area can contact LaPonsie at 872-3314 or the Food Pantry at 872-3155.

"Players" set program

The Cass City Players recently announced their next production will be "Arsenic and Old Lace," to be presented tentatively at the end of February.

Auditions will be held at Cass City High School Nov. 28, Nov. 30 and Dec. 1 from 7 to 9 p.m.

Additional information is available by calling 872-4151.

Seek donations for Yule gifts

Volunteer Services officials at the Tuscola County Department of Social Services office will be coordinating the 14th annual county-wide Christmas Basket Program.

"Toys for Tots," sponsored by the Thumb Area Mudrunners and the U.S. Marine Corps, will again deliver toys for the children receiving baskets.

Donations of gifts (under $5.00) for the elderly/disabled, clothing items of hats, scarfs, mittens/gloves and nonperishable food will be appreciated.

Cash donations are also welcome to purchase additional gifts needed for the baskets.

This holiday project gives people an opportunity to share their Christmas with another person or family in the county. Donations may be taken to the department office at 1365 Cleaver Rd., Caro, Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., or contact Volunteer Services at 517-673-9127. Distribution of the baskets will take place Dec. 16-20.

Open meeting planned

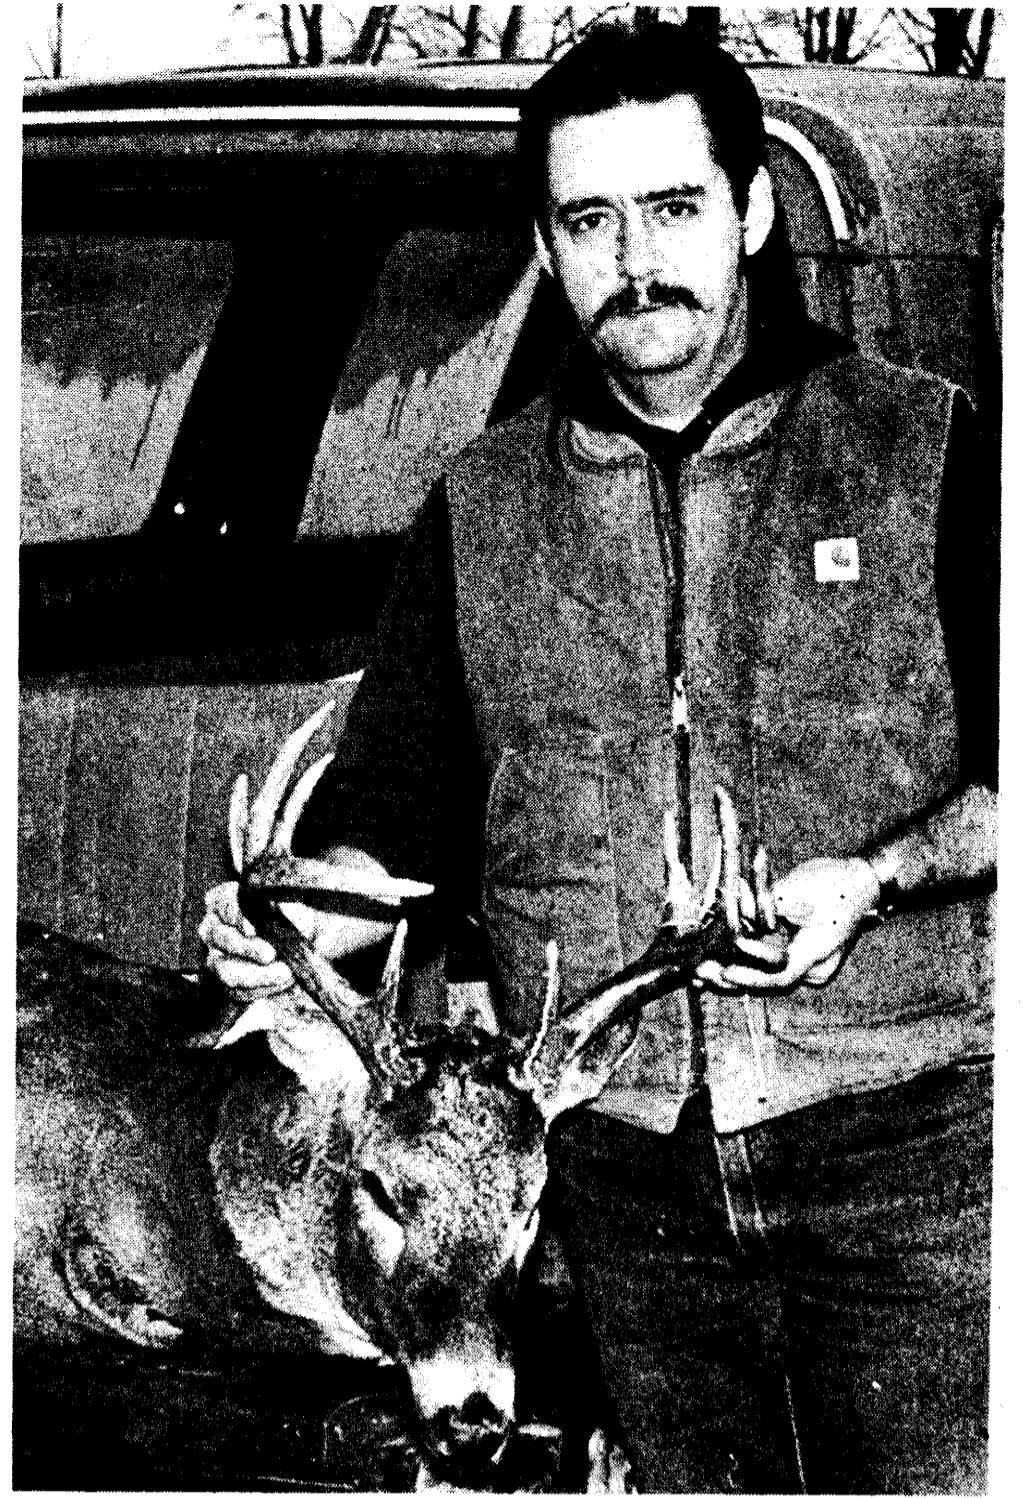

The Substance Abuse Services Coordinating Agency of the Human Development Commission will hold a public hearing Nov. 29 to display the 1988-89 Comprehensive Plan and prioritization of Substance Abuse Services in the Thumb Region.

The open session will begin at 5 p.m. The hearing will be held at HDC's Board Room, 429 Montague Ave., Caro. All interested citizens and public officials are cordially invited to attend.

Persons who have questions or cannot attend and would like to communicate comments, verbal or written, regarding Substance Abuse Services in their area can contact Judith V. Wyzkiewicz, Substance Abuse Services Coordinator, at HDC, (517) 673-4121.

FIRST HUNTER TO CHECK in at the Chronicle opening morning, Tuesday was Gary Bradley. He bagged his buck in the Colwood area at about 8 a.m. The 18-pointer was his second buck in 3 years.

CASS CITY'S JEFF Parsell took his best buck ever on the firearm deer season opener Nov. 15 while hunting north of Elkton. The 11-point trophy weighed close to 200 pounds.

Buck luck

The firearm deer season opener last week meant plenty of buck luck among area hunters, some of whom bagged 2 nice bucks this season.

Among the nicest deer reported to-date is an 11-point trophy shot on opening day by Cass City resident Jeff Parsell, who spotted the estimated 200-pound buck while hunting north of Elkton at about 3 p.m.

Another Cass City resident, Rick Hartwick, doubled his fun by bagging 2 6-point bucks during the opener while hunting northeast of Cass City.

He bagged the first buck, which weighed in at 160 pounds, at 7:45 a.m. About 4 hours later, he nailed the second deer, a 170-pound buck.

On the same morning, the husband and wife team of Dan and Cindy Shaw, 4675 Downington Rd., Decker, bagged 2 135-pound bucks in the Snover area. Dan's was a 5-pointer and Cindy's, a 3-pointer.

Ron Rutkoski of Decker shot his first buck in 2 years of hunting at about 8:20 a.m. Nov. 15.

He sighted the 7-pointer, which dressed out at 127 1/2 pounds, at about 8:20 a.m. while hunting 4 miles south-east of Cass City.

Bob Joles, Gagetown, bagged a 175-pound, 5-point buck at 7 a.m. on the opener while hunting in the Gagetown area.

Vern McConnell, 92, a doe shot at about 9 a.m. opening day on his property southwest of Cass City.

Chuck McConnell, Vern's son, an 11-point buck, about 12:30 p.m. opening day.

Tim McConnell, 15, Vern's grandson, his first deer, a doe, shot at about 10:30 a.m. opening day.

George Sangster, 20, a 9-pointer shot near Decker opening morning. The young hunter has shot several deer in previous years.

Gary Bradley, rural Cass City, an 8-pointer at about 8 a.m. opening day in the Colwood area. It was his second buck in 3 years.

Scott Adams, a 10-pointer shot in Sanilac County opening day.

George Nowakowski of Deford got his third and fourth bucks in 3 years of hunting Thursday and Friday.

He shot a 140-pound, 3-point buck Thursday at about 5:30 p.m., and a 5-point buck, which weighed in at 170 pounds, Friday. Nowakowski bagged both deer in the Deford area.

Peterson shows slides

Florence Peterson of Bay City was guest speaker at the Monday, Nov. 14, Cass City meal site. She presented slides on the topic, Fraud and Other Con Games.

The monthly birthday dinner was observed Friday when 24 were present. Birthdays celebrated were Ann Stepka, Thelma Jackson, Lee Tracy and Louis Franks. Steven Zallerbeck presented the program on Long Term Care and Citizens for Better Care.

There will be no meal Friday, Nov. 25, and a white elephant sale will be conducted Friday, Dec. 2, and blood pressure readings will be taken.

Thief gets $750 from Russell car

An Owendale area man last week reported the theft of $750 in cash from the glove box of his vehicle.

Ralph Russell, 3901 S.

Elkton Rd., told Cass City Police that the money was stolen sometime between Wednesday and Friday.

He said he believes the theft took place while the vehicle was parked in one of 3 locations—Erla's Food Center, 6233 Church St.; IGA Foodliner, 6121 E. Cass City Rd., or the Virginia Zawilinski residence, 4355 Leach St.

Most crops harvested Fall rainfall totals nearly 15"

Close to 90 percent of all crops have been harvested in Tuscola County, despite a wetter than normal fall.

With the exception of fall 1986, area farmers have had to deal with more rain this harvest season (September, October and November) than they have in at least the past 7 years.

According to figures recorded at the Cass City Wastewater Treatment Plant, the combined rainfall total during September, October and November to date is 14.68 inches.

Compare that figure to the totals recorded during the same 3-month periods in 1987 (13.52 inches), 1985 (14.66 inches), 1984 (10.34 inches) 1983 (9.62 inches), 1982 (7.81 inches) and 1981 (14.52 inches).

The rainfall total for the same period in 1986 was 19.66 inches.

Perhaps more important than the total figures this fall were the periods during which light rain would fall on consecutive days; not heavy showers, but just enough to keep area farmers out of their fields.

Still, the wet conditions didn't wreak havoc on county crops as a whole. According to Tuscola County Cooperative Extension Agent Eric Frahm, dry beans and navy beans still in the fields probably aren't salvageable at this point, but the same isn't true of other crops.

"The big reason it hurt them (dry beans) is they were planted late to begin with," he noted, referring to this summer's drought. "Where there are soybeans still in the fields, when the ground freezes, they can be harvested," he said, adding the remaining corn also will be harvested eventually. Frahm pointed out that the weather also has delayed fall tillage operations, but that there is some good news in that the rain is replenishing the soil moisture. Hopefully, he said, farmers will be able to finish their harvests and prepare for next spring.

"It's hard to say what the weather's going to do. If we have a few good days, they (farmers) can cover a lot of ground in a short time," he said.

2 hurt Friday in 1-car mishap

Two men, including a Cass City resident, were injured Friday morning when their vehicle left Deckerville Road west of Crawford Road in Novesta Township and struck a ditch.

The driver, Allan D. Smith, 73, of Garden City, and Wade Kappen, 72, 2546 Keilitz Rd., Cass City, were listed in "good" condition Monday at Hills and Dales General Hospital.

Smith told Tuscola County Sheriff's deputies that he thinks he fell asleep at the wheel just prior to the 10:15 a.m. crash.

Deputies, who cited Smith for careless driving, noted he is on several medications and will undergo a drivers license re-examination.

Minor damage was reported in a one-vehicle accident Saturday morning on Riley Road at the Berry Road intersection in Wells Township.

Shane D. Jones, 7205 S. Bevens Rd., Deford, told deputies he was eastbound on Riley Road at about 5:30 a.m. when he swerved to miss a dog and went into a ditch.

Cass City resident Tracey L. Hightower, 4848 Deckerville Rd., was driving on Snabbona Road west of Cemetery Road in Novesta Township Nov. 15 when she lost control of her vehicle, which then struck a parked car.

Hightower, whose vehicle sustained minor damage, stated she saw some deer and attempted to take evasive action when the 6:20 p.m. mishap occurred.

The owner of the parked car, which sustained extensive damage, is Robert Dickson, 6310 Shabbona Rd., Cass City.

The family of Laura McQueen extends thanks to our loving community of relatives, friends, neighbors and acquaintances who remembered us with prayers, visits, food, flowers, contributions in Mother's memory, cards and tender expressions of comfort and sympathy. To Roger and Beverly Little of the funeral home for their kindness and expertise; also, Pastors Clare Patton and Eldred Kelley for their visit, prayers and comforting words; Salem United Methodist Church Women's group who so willingly served the special luncheon after the service. Thank you and God bless you.

3 Marlette men face drug charges

Three Marlette area men were arraigned on drug charges Friday in Tuscola County District Court.

Steven P. Seifferlein, 24, and Richard L. Seifferlein, 21, both of 4850 Miller Rd., and Robert D. Fick, 25, 6245 Frenchline Rd., face preliminary examinations at 9 a.m. Nov. 30.

Bond for Steven and Richard Seifferlein was set at $25,000 each, while Fick's bond was set at $26,000.

Court records state all 3 men were arrested in Kingston Nov. 17 by troopers from the state police post in Caro. All 3 are charged with possession of cocaine (less than 50 grams) with intent to deliver. In addition, Fick is charged with possession of marijuana.

The maximum penalty for the drug offense is one to 20 years imprisonment and a $25,000 fine, or lifetime probation.

WHAT IS CHIROPRACTIC?

Chiropractic has grown to be the largest non-medical healing art in the world. It's very name describes how it is performed: cheiros + praktos, Greek for "done by the hand". Chiropractors do not use drugs or surgery and their natural healing methods attract millions of new patients each year: housewives and movie stars, scientists and businessmen, lawyers and laborers, infants and the elderly, professional athletes and "weekend warriors"; they all come seeking the unique services that only a Doctor of Chiropractic can provide.

IS CHIROPRACTIC NEW?

Yes, Chiropractic is new. In fact, in 1895, the year of its discovery, there was only one chiropractor in all the world and he had only one patient. * You couldn't get much newer than that. But, Dr. D.D. Palmer of Davenport, Iowa had something wonderful: a new idea. A better idea. An idea of how to get sick people well, keep the well from getting sick and relieve humanity from sickness and suffering without pills, prescriptions and surgery. One more thing - his new idea worked. It worked very well. People began to travel from far away to be cared for and in many cases stayed to study this promising new healing art. In spite of chiropractic's newness it began to take hold and grow throughout America. Not just America. There are now practicing Doctors of Chiropractic and Chiropractic colleges throughout the world. Dr. Palmer's discovery has been a lifesaver to millions.

* RECEIVE ANSWERS TO THESE QUESTIONS AND OTHER RELATED CHIROPRACTIC QUESTIONS BY ATTENDING OUR FREE LIFE AND HEALTH TALK HELD IN OUR OFFICE WEDNESDAY AT NOON AND FRIDAY AT 7:00 P.M.

* Office Hours Mon., Tues., Wed., & Fri. - 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. & 3 p.m. to 7 p.m. Thurs. & Sat. 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

* We accept most insurances including Blue Shield Master Medical, Medicare, Medicaid, Actna, American Community Mutual, Workman's Comp., Auto Accident.

A SPECIAL THANKS...

To all those who signed my nominating petitions,
To all my campaign committee workers,
To all my hardworking volunteers,
To all my financial contributors,
To my family, friends, and relatives,
To all the people who allowed me to put signs in their yards,
And to all the voters of Tuscola County, Democrat and Republican,
A special thank you for making it possible to become your next sheriff.
I will continue to need your support in years to come as I strive to serve you by being the best sheriff I can.

Our 36th year serving Tuscola, Sanilac and Huron Counties

2-year loss prompts school board to axe hot lunch vendor

Cass City High School has gone full circle in the organization of its hot lunch program, following a decision reached by the Cass City School Board Monday night in its regular session to terminate Canteen, the organization that has run the program since 1981.

Prior to hiring Canteen, the school operated the program at a substantial loss. When Canteen took over the lunch program showed a profit for the first 5 years. However, in the last 2 years the program has shown a loss. Supt. Ken Micklash checked with other schools and found that schools that were running their own programs were operating at a profit while charging about the same or less for the students' meals.

This year Canteen has been paid $32,691. Micklash said that hiring a supervising head cook would cost about $6,000, giving the school a savings of about $26,000 if all other factors remain the same. Joining a food purchasing group will cost $500.

It is expected that the school will take over after the Christmas holidays. In 1988 the loss was $3,681.

EXPENSIVE PROGRAM

It appears as if school taxpayers may be facing an expensive building repair at the high school sometime in the near future, but if a plan outlined by Micklash proves feasible, the cost will be reduced 50 to 75 percent.

The project is a new roof at the high school and the estimated cost is between $160,000 and $260,000, which would require 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 mills in taxes in the Cass City district.

However, there is a technical assistance and energy conservation grant that may be available that would pay 50 to 75 percent of the cost if approved, still leaving a substantial amount of $50,000 or so for local taxpayers to shoulder.

The roof at the high school is requiring more and more repairs, Micklash said, and will need to be replaced in the near future.

The initial technical assistance portion of the application must be prepared by Dec. 16 and accompanied by a $1,000 deposit. The board okayed the deposit and will study the rest of the technical assistance portion of the program when it is presented. Total cost of the preliminary work is $5,800 and Micklash said he was assured that 50 percent of this cost would be paid regardless of whether or not the major grant is approved.

Engineers have told him that the original study of the building would result in a very short payback time for the survey cost even if the new roof and insulation were not installed.

CHRISTMAS VACATION

Because the school and the teachers union have not agreed to a contract, the board set the Christmas vacation schedule. Vacation will start Friday, Dec. 23, and school will start again Wednesday, Jan. 4.

older child will attend Cass City Intermediate School.

● Dick Partlo, teacher, showed a film taken when a living science presentation was presented at the school and explained that the cost of operating this and other similar programs cost the Intermediate School Council about $4,000 a year, which has already been raised for the current school year by the students.

● Members of the board, teachers and parents, about 20 in all, will be selected to participate in a TV-5 program that is designed to explore preparing students for the year 2,000. It will air Dec. 1 from 7 to 8 p.m.

● Members of the board are expected to attend a meeting Jan. 21 of the coalition of school boards concerned about school financing, but will not join the group at this time.

The group's aim is to go to court if the legislature doesn't do something about unequal funding of districts by the state. It ranges from $2,200 to $7,500 per pupil. Cass City is on the low end of payment per student, Micklash said.

● A grievance by the Cass City Teachers Association was aired by President Lloyd Schinnerer. It concerned teacher input into the curriculum. The union says that teachers were not notified what class they were to teach until the day school started and materials were not made available in time for proper teacher preparation.

The last minute changes in the curriculum occurred because of the addition of a state-mandated computer course, Micklash said. No action was taken on the grievance.

● Letters of appreciation will be sent to 2 Cass City organizations. The American Association of University Women's club in Cass City will receive a letter for coordinating and partially funding a living science program in the elementary grades and an Art Expo program once a month.

The Bach Festival committee will be thanked for sponsoring harpist Onita Saunders for elementary students.

Sanilac Ag society holds annual meet

The Sanilac County 4-H Agricultural Society recently held its annual meeting in the County Conference Room in Sandusky to elect directors to serve on the Fair Board and to review the 1988 fair year.

Elected to serve 3-year terms on the board of directors were: George Romzek of Sandusky, Roger Wood of Brown City and John Agar of Decker.

Romzek, Wood and Agar join the following members already currently serving terms on the board: John L. Cook of Peck, Jeff Dawson of Crosswell, William Smith of Yale, Virginia Auslander of Decker, Mark Heberling of Applegate, Earl Warner of Sandusky and Lloyd Shephard of Brown City.

Immediately following the annual meeting of the Sanilac County 4-H Agricultural Society, the Fair Board held its meeting to elect officers for the coming year. Elected to serve as officers were John L. Cook, president; Earl Warner, vice-president, and Virginia Auslander, secretary-treasurer.

Taking stock

By Bill Myers

Last spring my friend Jim Mulcahey, a New England sailboat racer, bought a hatful of Southern Bell Tel. stock (Bell South in the listings). It was 36.

At the same time I bought some Southern Bell bonds, yielding 9.5%. Price was around par.

I bet him I'd do better by fall than he would.

I lost.

Jim's stock went from 36 to 42, and he sold out close to that. My bonds, bought for a pension fund, went up 5 points or 5%. Jim's percentage gain was 16.6%.

So he won the bet and everybody in town knows about it. I should have known better than to wager against a man whose license plate reads DAM YANKEE and who named his boat Yankee Trader.

My only crumb out of the contest was that in the enthusiasm we both had last spring, we forgot to say how much we were betting.

And with no check on their loans, it developed that bad loans were about the only ones they had.

Heaven knows the banks were lax enough with Continental Illinois and Penn Square being shocking scandals. But the banks did have a little more protection for the depositors.

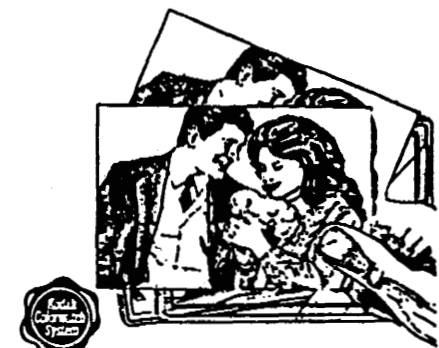

The whole thing started when bank and S & L depositors insurance -- FDIC and FSLIC -- was jumped from $40,000 to $100,000. The irresponsible swingers got into the act then. They bid up interest rates for these deposits, gave commissions to brokers who brought in hot money. The depositors could care less whether the banks or S & L's were any good -- Uncle Sam was going to guarantee the deposit up to $100,000.

If you had a million to put into a high-rate CD, a broker would scatter the amount among 10 institutions, and you had no risk.

The road ahead will be rocky for the S & L's, and I wouldn't bet on the industry still being around 5 years from now, except as an arm of the government.

OTHER BUSINESS

Cass City sports fans will have the option of buying all-sports tickets at reduced prices, the board decided. A full season pass for all events will cost an individual $50, a full family ticket, $70, plus $5 for each child over 5 years old.

Tickets for either fall or winter events only can be purchased for 50 percent of the full season ticket costs, Athletic Director Don Schelke said.

● Norman and Pattie Parker, who have moved into the portion of the district served by Campbell Elementary School, were granted permission to have a child remain at Evergreen Township School.

The board was advised that the Evergreen bus runs in front of the house and that there are fewer students in the Evergreen class than there would be in the Campbell class that the student would be attending. An

Farm wife night set for Dec. 15

Dr. Ron Hanson, Professor of Farm Management and Ag Finances, from the University of Nebraska will be the guest speaker at "Farm Wife Night," set for Dec. 15 from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Indianfields Public Library, 840 West Frank St., Caro.

"Farm Wife Night" is being presented to farm women by the Tuscola County Cooperative Extension office. Dr. Hanson will speak on ways to "perk-up" farm families stressed by the adverse conditions affecting area farmers.

Other topics will include conflicts between farming operations, coping with personal problems and avoiding stress as well as improving communications between farm families.

Dr. Hanson was raised on a grain and livestock farm in northwest Illinois and has traveled extensively throughout the nation speaking to farm families. He delivers a motivating and highly entertaining talk of the "true to life" problems that can arise between family members of the farm.

Preregistration is required and anyone interested is asked to contact Betty Pattullo, extension home economist, Tuscola County Cooperative Extension office, 517-673-5999, Ext. 228, no later than Dec. 9.

Participation will be limited to the first 100 farm women who request a reservation.
