School board under fire

Critics say that local teachers ignored

The Cass City School Board was placed under severe pressure and sharp criticism at its regular meeting Monday night for hiring a teacher from outside the community to teach second grade at Campbell Elementary School when there were qualified applicants already active in the system that interviewed for the job.

Elementary Principal Dave Lovejoy told the board that he considered the hiring of teachers the hardest and the most important part of his job. He said that after checking the backgrounds of all candidates he felt that Paula Herron, Cass City, was most qualified for kindergarten and Jeanine McGee, Caro, was best for the position of second grade teacher. Herron comes to the system with a year's experience and McGee with 5 years' experience. All teachers will receive credit for service in other districts on the salary scale. Tenure is not transferred.

It was the appointment of McGee that caused the resentment of many of the persons attending. Mrs. Paul Chappel, a strong school booster and one who worked hard for the passage of the millage, said that with this decision she would not feel right to ask for help at the next millage election.

Two persons that were personally involved in the selection spoke. Barbara Kinn, a teacher at Deford for 12 years, wanted to know why she was not given the chance to transfer. I would like to have the decision in writing and placed in my file she said.

The Rev. Joe Robertson said that he felt the hiring system was flawed. He admitted that he was prejudiced because his wife who has been a reliable substitute in the Cass City system for 4 years was passed over 3 times when vacancies occurred. But I want to apologize for saying (to Lovejoy) that McGee was hired because her husband was a golfing buddy. I don't believe that was the case, he added. Apology accepted, Lovejoy replied.

Trustee Fred Matthews who voted against the hiring of McGee said that somebody will have a lot of work to do next June when millage renewal time comes because we have lost a lot of community support over this issue.

Another teacher hired was Jennifer Gyari for the third and fifth grades at Deford. Before she was hired Ben Hobart made a motion that the board not follow the recommendation of the administration because of the resentment he heard at the meeting.

That motion was quickly defeated, 5-2, as President Dr. Ed Scollon said that was buckling to pressure and letting the community hire the teacher. Trustee Dick Wallace said that it wasn't consistent to hire one teacher from outside the community and then reject the recommendation for another just because she was from out of the community.

POLICY CHANGE

Although the protestors had no immediate success, it may be that they will succeed in changing the way teachers are hired. What was suggested is a committee of the superintendent, principal and 2 board members to review candidates. A meeting has been scheduled for Tuesday, Sept. 12, at 7:30 to review the hiring policy and also to discuss a suggestion. Please turn to page 11.

O-G teachers unhappy, sign contract anyway

Details of a 3-year labor contract ratified by Owen-Gage teachers and school officials in June were released last week following a final review and signing of the pact.

The agreement was reached nearly 2 years after the teachers' previous contract expired.

School officials have indicated the delay was due, in part, to periods of waiting in hopes that the state would approve some form of education finance reform that would help financially strapped districts such as Owen-Gage. That never happened.

Owen-Gage Education Association President Manuel Thies said the teachers, though unsatisfied with the offer made by school officials, accepted the contract on the belief it was the best the school could offer.

In outlining specifics of the agreement, school Supt. Harley Kirby noted negotiations resulted in a small wage increase for the district's veteran instructors.

While a number of teachers have continued to receive increments over the past 2 years based on the school's salary schedule, a majority of the district's 22 teachers, who are at the top of their pay scale, have received no increases, he explained.

Under the new contract, teachers accepted a wage freeze in 1987-88. In 1988-89 and 1989-90, some teachers will receive increases of 1.65 percent.

The increases, Kirby pointed out, come in the form of a $500 bonus for teachers who have reached the top of their salary schedule. In addition, an extra $100 will be added to the salaries of teachers who have 15 to 19 years of service with the district. Teachers who have 20 to 24 years in will receive a $200 raise, and teachers who have 25 years and up, a $300 raise.

BENEFITS

In the area of benefits, Kirby said some changes were made in health insurance, but that teachers will Please turn to page 12.

Students report Tuesday

Area schools prep for opening day

A close look at the month of August on area school calendars may have young people wondering where the summer has gone.

Although warm, sunny days may continue for awhile, the end of summer vacation is at hand for area students, who are slated to return to class next week for the first day of the 1989-90 school year.

Officials at 4 area school districts will welcome some 3,500 students Tuesday for the first day of classes. Teachers, meanwhile, will report Monday.

The following is a round-up of other back-to-school information on each of the districts.

physical education and health instructor John Osterland will be returning following a one-year leave of absence.

A fourth position became vacant earlier this month, when elementary special education teacher Lee Ann Anklam submitted her resignation.

Bus routes will be running about the same routes as they did in the 1988-1989 school year. Students are asked to be on the watch for the first week to establish a timetable for their route.

Hot lunch will be offered in both the Owendale and Gagetown buildings the first day. Students will pay a dime more for lunch this year following approval Aug. 14 of a price increase. Prices are set at 80 cents in the elementary school and $1.10 for grades 7-12. Reduced meals will be 40 cents.

Applications for free or reduced hot lunches will be handed out to students during the first week of school, Kirby said.

Teachers in the district are in the third year of a 3-year contract approved over the summer (see related story page 1). Also approved during the summer is a preliminary 1989-90 budget totalling $1.561 million.

Officials at Uby Community Schools are expecting about 783 students, down by 17 pupils from 1988-89, for a full day of classes Tuesday.

Bus routes will be about the same as last year, but lunch prices have been changed. Students will pay 20 cents more this year for lunch, which will cost $1 in the Please turn to page 5.

CASS CITY

Voter-approval earlier this month of an additional millage request of 2 mills for one year for operations translates into business as usual in the Cass City School System.

"We're maintaining is what we're doing," school Supt. Ken Micklash said of classes and programs to be offered this year to the district's 1,649 K-12 pupils. The enrollment projection represents a decrease of some 20 students compared to last year.

Staff changes will include the addition of 2, possibly 3 teachers to fill vacancies at the elementary school level, according to Micklash.

Bus routes will be the same as last year, but students are encouraged to be at their stops early for the first few days.

Also the same are lunch prices, which are set at 90 cents for elementary students and 95 cents for intermediate and high school students.

The district, which is in the second year of a 3-year teachers contract, approved a 1989-90 preliminary budget this summer of $4.76 million.

OWEN-GAGE

Some 335 students, down slightly from last year's enrollment, are expected for a full day Tuesday in the Owen-Gage School District.

School Supt. Harley Kirby said there have been no significant program changes, but 4 new staff members have or will be added.

English teacher Ruth Grassmann has been hired to replace Joanne Hopper, who is on a one-year leave of absence; Janet Allen of LeRoy will be the district's new band teacher, and

Millage defeat to affect Sanilac Co. road patrol

The Sanilac County Cooperative Extension Service and sheriff's road patrol will be hardest hit by the budget axe following last week's sound defeat of an additional millage request for operations.

About 16 percent of the county's estimated 25,800 registered voters cast ballots in Tuesday's special election, which saw a request of .9 of a mill for 4 years fall by a margin of nearly 3 to one. The total vote count was 3,151-1,088.

Each of county's 26 township's rejected the measure. Vote totals in 4 area townships were: Greenleaf, 46-14; Evergreen 61-15; Lamotte, 82-24; and Argyle, 72-12.

County Administrator John Dean said commissioners began the unenviable task of deciding what services will go during finance sessions held last Wednesday and Thursday.

"They've reviewed the entire General Fund spending plan for this year and have identified areas they will be acting on next Wednesday," he remarked.

The cuts, he added, will hamper some services, while others will be more drastically affected.

"We're looking at having to cut out a quarter of a million dollars over the next 5 months of operations, and that's out of a $5.3 million spending plan," Dean continued.

This year's budget reductions, along with another $500,000 next year, will likely translate into the loss of up to 15 jobs, including 8 in the Sheriff's Department and 3 in Cooperative Extension, according to District 5 Commissioner Brad Apsey, who represents 8 townships, including Evergreen, Greenleaf, Argyle and Lamotte.

Apsey said Monday that no action had been taken yet, but that Cooperative Extension, including 4-H and other farming programs, and the road patrol will be the big losers under proposed cuts. Several positions in the courthouse also are expected to be eliminated, he added.

"We hate to do it, but these are non-mandated services, and that's about the only way you can go," he commented, adding, "We'd like to keep part of the road patrol if we can. We don't want to cut it out completely if we don't have to."

Apsey said commissioners had hoped to have proposed service reductions firmed up by early this week, with plans to act on them during a regular board meeting today (Wednesday). The cuts will likely be in effect by Sept. 1.

A second millage election hasn't been ruled out, but there has been no discussion on the matter, he said.

Board dealership hit

Vandals strike again

Vandals have again hit the Board Chrysler Plymouth Dodge Inc. dealership in Cass City.

According to reports filed at the Cass City Police Department, vandals punctured 6 tires, scratched paint and damaged a rear window wiper at Board's new car lot, Main Street, sometime after the business closed Friday.

The damage, which involved 4 vehicles, is estimated at $1,025.

The local dealership has been the target of several incidents of vandalism, as well as a break-in and vehicle theft over the past year.

Vandalism also was reported at the village's Wastewater Treatment Plant. Plant Superintendent Rick Mohr stated 4 windows, located on the east side of the plant's tertiary building, were shot with BBs or pellets sometime Aug. 15 or 16.

Also over the past week, Eva M. Ashmore reported her bike stolen from behind Suters Bakery, where she is employed.

Ashmore told police she discovered the bike, valued at $25, missing Saturday.

"If It Fitz..." Fly surprise

By Jim Fitzgerald

At my age, I'm used to not knowing things that younger people know. My ignorance almost never surprises me. But c'mon. Is it really true that men no longer use the flies in their underwear?

I recently celebrated my 63rd birthday. Seven-year-old Emily insisted the correct number of candles be put on Grandpa's cake. No one has done that for me since I was 12. After I finally blew out the huge blaze, the frosting had a severe case of waxy build-up. After the candles were removed, the cake looked like 2 baseball teams in full cleats had used it for first base.

The dining area was decorated with a banner, at least 10 feet long, on which was printed in huge letters: "Happy birthday Papa." There was a red and blue picture of a birthday cake at each end of the banner. It was a handsome sign, professional in appearance, obviously not something scrawled by a child. I asked if it were purchased at a party store.

"Emily made it on our computer," her mother said. I really hate that. I really hate that 7-year-old children know so much about operating computers, and I know nothing. And it isn't only computers. In a restaurant, I had to ask 3-year-old Tricia how to work the jukebox. She can slip a cassette into the VCR and tune it in a lot more smoothly than I can. I can never remember which damn button to push.

Cox reunion held Aug. 13

The Cox reunion was held Aug. 13 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ron Cox in Almont. About 125 attended, coming from Florida, Indiana, Arkansas, Illinois, Kansas City, Kansas, Pontiac, Carsonville, Attica, Kingston, Caro, Deford, Harbor Beach, Drayton Plains, Columbiaville and Cass City.

Lloyd Cox of Drayton Plains was the oldest member and Douglas Nowiski of Harbor Beach was the youngest. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Scott of Arkansas came the farthest. One family, from Indiana, flew their plane to attend the reunion.

I'm not implying that my grandchildren are precocious. Kids all over the world are smarter than I am. I keep reading about something called "Nintendo" but I don't have the slightest idea what it is. I expect the U.S. Supreme Court to rule that unborn children can beat me at video games.

I'll never forget the shock in Emily's voice when, after watching me put on my shoes, she hollered: "Hey Grandma, Grandpa can tie his own laces!"

It's humiliating, but not surprising.

In February, Simon & Schuster Inc. will publish a biography in which actress Drew Barrymore will "tell all." Drew is 14.

But I'm used to stuff like that. No surprise. I realize it's too late for me to get a life. But is it too late for me to go to the bathroom fashionably?

Pat Morgan, who writes about clothing for my favorite newspaper, recently complained that fashion creates unnecessary differences between the sexes. "Why do men's shirts button from the right and women's shirts button from the left?" she asked.

Why indeed? Is the button difference to prevent spouses from accidentally putting on each other's shirts when dressing for fashionable occasions? Such a mix-up could never happen in my home, unless my wife's bowling team got the same sponsor as mine.

I figured Morgan knew what she was writing about. And then she asked: "And does any man actually ever use that opening in the front of his underwear?"

Oh lord. I use mine all the time. How else are men supposed to utilize wall urinals? How else are men supposed to live up to their reputation for never putting the toilet seat back down?

I'm used to my daughters razzing me for still wearing wing-tipped shoes. I'm used to feeling different when I go to jazz joints in my usual form-fitting 2-piece suit. I realize the cool guys are into baggy pants and baggier suit coats with the sleeves rolled up. I am conscious of my necktie flapping while the stylish fellows button the top shirt button but wear no tie.

When I was young, a guy who dressed like that for social occasions was a poor farmer who didn't own a tie and had to roll up the coat sleeves because it belonged to his big brother and he didn't want to dip the cuffs in the soup. Today, I feel sorry for guys who dress like that on purpose and it's no surprise — it's a comfort — to be told that they're fashionably dressed, and I'm not.

But it is surprising to learn that the underwear fly is no longer in popular use. And it's uncomfortable to speculate on the alternatives used at wall urinals frequented by the fashionable. I'd rather go to computer school.

Elkland officials seeking cemetery lot donations

Elkland Township officials are seeking donations of lots on the west side of the township cemetery for the purpose of planting recently purchased blue spruce trees.

The matter was aired during the township board's Aug. 14 meeting, according to Clerk Norma Wallace, who said the board and Sexton Ted Morgan discussed placement of the trees.

"People have shown a real interest in wanting more trees out there," Wallace remarked, noting the township purchased 20 trees, but has only about half as many places to plant them. She added, "We're going to be asking if anyone wants to donate a cemetery lot to the township to plant a tree."

Interested persons can contact Roy Tuckey at 872-3439 or Morgan at 872-2263 for more information.

In other business during the monthly session, the board decided to seek job applications for field appraisal work.

The person hired will be assisting the township assessor in appraising and recording all parcels in the township for the purpose of establishing an up-dated record of all property as mandated by the state, Wallace said.

Also, the board voted to have the township's attorney send a letter to a resident who, officials say, is in violation of the township's junk ordinance.

Wallace declined to say who the individual is, but said the notice is not directed at property, located east of Cass City, that was in violation of the ordinance earlier this year.

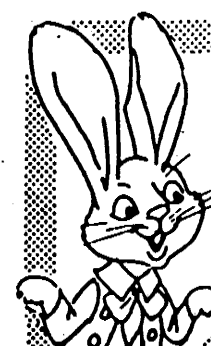

Janet and Dave Parrish

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Parrish of Deford celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary July 15. A surprise party given by their children was held at the Golden Years Club in Mayville.

The couple were married July 17, 1964, in Cass City. They have 5 children, David of Cleveland, Ohio, Jeff of Caro and Dawn, Michael and Jamie, all of Deford. They also have a daughter-in-law, Cyndi (Mrs. Jeff Parrish) of Caro and a son-in-law, Chip, of Deford.

The anniversary cake was made by Mrs. Florence Hurd, Mrs. Parrish's mother.

(And anyone else he can get to help.)

How about this? If you have a family of 8, the children can receive free meals and free milk at Cass City or any other Michigan public school if the family income is $26,338 or less. Reduced meal prices are available if the family income is $37,481 or less.

It's boom time in the golden triangle from Traverse City to Petoskey. Overheard at the Indian Reservation at Sutton's Bay, a tourist lamenting that he had to drive all over the Leelanau Peninsula and the Traverse City area and was unable to find a motel that wasn't full. We'll sleep in the car tonight, he told his friend.

This one is hard to believe in these days of air disasters and near disasters. GTE's prediction booklet with predictions for the year 2,001 is that "Airline safety will be near-perfect thanks to in-flight self-correcting diagnostics and repair overlaid on automated ground maintenance routines."

I can believe better, but near-perfect? What happens when a piece of the motor breaks off and puts the plane out of commission? Then, too, in 12 years who knows how fast planes will fly?

Problems now may be solved, but ones we never even thought about are sure to crop up, if we judge it by the industry's track record.

Among the students on the Cass City High School cross-country team are 2 with oriental names. When I struggle with the spelling of the names I also ask myself if our names are as difficult for them as theirs are for us.

There's no use asking the students. They are special people with special talents or else they would not have qualified as exchange students.

The parents of that tot who wandered into the street last week in front of a car must be overjoyed that the accident was not worse than it was.

Is there a parent anywhere that has not lost sight of children for a moment? I'd guess not, and a moment is all that it takes.

Most of the time we are lucky and the "lost" is found and life goes on and the incident is forgotten.

Intellectually we know that it happens somewhere at least every week of the year and probably a whole lot more.

But we forget. We have heard the message so many times that it rolls past without making any more impression than a single rain drop on a sand dune.

In the next couple of weeks we'll hear again pleas for caution on our highways. The Michigan State Police issue an annual caution story about the dangers on the highways over the Labor Day holiday weekend.

You are sure to be reminded that school is again starting and to be careful. When the kids first come back to classes is an especially dangerous time. Both the drivers and the kids haven't got back into the routine and it's so easy to have that accident that is never forgotten.

There are no easy to take accidents, of course. You could make a case that for the father or the mother of a young family to die in an accident is the worst that can happen. But snuffing out a life almost before it begins is worse in my book.

Even if the driver is not at fault, which the police report indicated was the case in the tot accident last week, if the accident had been fatal it would be something that would be almost as hard for the driver to shake as it would be for the parents.

I haven't any statistics to prove my case, but when we take to the highways around the Thumb, we are driving where there's more chance to end up dead than on a Detroit freeway during the rush hour.

As this is written, 16 have died on Tuscola County Roads. Sure, accidents run in streaks and we may not have another for months now. But year in and year out, the rural Thumb roads have been bigger killers per mile driven than any major highway.

No matter how careful, there are times when accidents occur. The best that can be hoped for is that with extra care and defensive driving we can avoid an accident because of our extra diligence behind the wheel.

We have lost children before with accidents on area roads. With luck and with care, we may be able to not add to the list in 1989.

Immunizations

Act 299, Public Acts of 1975, authorized the Director of the Michigan Department of Public Health to specify, by regulation, the immunizations and tests required of all children enrolling in Michigan schools for the first time. This year the following immunizations are required: Diphtheria, Tetanus, Rubella, Pertussis, Measles, Poliomyelitis.

In addition, each new school entry must have had a vision screening test.

The parent or guardian who, because of religious or other convictions, does not want his child protected from these diseases must submit a signed statement to that effect.

As part of our school admission procedure for your child, we must enforce the law stated above. We must have the health record or a similar statement in order to admit your child officially to school.

If you have questions about this, please consult your local school, your doctor, or the Thumb District Health Department.

Discrimination Prohibition and Student Information

It is the policy of the Cass City Public Schools to not discriminate on the basis of sex, race, religion, or other prohibited matters in employment, or in educational programs. Seeger St., Cass City, MI. 48726 (517) 872-2148

If any parent or adult student wishes to not have such information released, notification, in writing, must be sent to: Kenneth J. Micklash, Superintendent, Cass City Public Schools, 4868 N. Seeger St., Cass City, MI. 48726.

Student Accident Insurance Policy

Student accident insurance is available for parents to purchase through the Guarantee Trust Life Insurance Company. This low cost insurance plan can provide coverage for students at both school and home. Forms for participation will be given to all students to take home during the first week of school. Please review this information carefully and contact your child's principal if you have any questions.

Guidance and Counseling

The school guidance program is designed to assist students who have personal and social concerns, and to help students design academic programs to meet their individual needs and abilities. College admission and financial aid assistance is provided for students interested in continuing their schooling after graduation. One of the programs designed to benefit both the student and the community is the co-operative education program. Under this program, some students are placed in on-the-job work situations for part of each school day. Students and parents desiring more information are encouraged to contact the guidance offices.

Free and Reduced Price Student Meals

The Cass City Public Schools policy for free and reduced-price meals for children unable to pay the full price of meals served under the National School Lunch, School Breakfast or Commodity School Programs uses the following household size and income criteria to determine eligibility:

Total Family Size	Scale for Free Meals or Free Milk	Scale for Reduced-Price Meals
1	$7,774	11,063
2	10,426	14,837
3	13,078	18,611
4	15,730	22,385
5	18,382	26,159
6	21,034	29,933
7	23,686	33,707
8	26,338	37,481
Each additional family member	+ 2,652	+ 3,774

Children from households whose income is at or below the levels shown are eligible for free and reduced-price meals or free milk.

Application forms are being sent to all homes with a letter to parents or guardians. To apply for free or reduced-priced meals, households should fill out the form and return it to the school. Additional copies of the application form are available at the principal's office in each school. An application which does not contain all of the following information cannot be processed by the school: (1) the total monthly household income AND the amount and source of income received by each household member (such as wages, child support, etc.) OR the household's food stamp case or AFDC number if the household is on food stamps or receives AFDC; (2) names of all household members; (3) social security numbers of all household members 21 years of age or older, or the word "None" for any adult household member who does not have a social security number; and (4) the signature of an adult household member.

Food Stamp/AFDC Households: If you currently receive Food Stamps or "Aid to Families with Dependent Children" (AFDC) for your child, you only have to list your child's name and Food Stamp or AFDC case number, print your name and sign the application.

The information provided by the household is confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility and verifying data. Applications may be verified by the school or other officials at any time during the school year.

If children are approved for free or reduced-price meal or free milk benefits, the household must report to the school increases in household income over $50 per month ($600 per year) and decreases in household size.

Households may apply for benefits at any time during the school year. If a household is not currently eligible but has a decrease in household income, an increase in household size or if a household member becomes unemployed, the household should fill out an application at that time.

In most cases foster children are eligible for these benefits regardless of the household's income. If a household has foster children living with them and they wish to apply for free or reduced-price meals for them, the household should contact the school for more information.

Under the provisions of the policy each building principal will review applications and determine eligibility.

Parents and guardians dissatisfied with the ruling of the official may wish to discuss the decision with the determining official on an informal basis. The household also has the right to a fair hearing. This can be done by calling or writing to Kenneth J. Micklash, Superintendent, 4868 North Seeger St., Cass City, MI. 48726.

Murder, accident claim lives of 2 from Thumb

Two persons with Cass City connections died last week, victims of a murder and an automobile accident.

A Peck man was declared a murder victim after he was found in his bedroom in a pool of blood Sunday, Aug. 13. He is Edward Donnelly, 82, who has a twin brother, Andrew, who lives in Cass City.

Donnelly was severely beaten on the head and had a 4-inch gash on his neck. Police discovered a forced entry to the home and tracks leading from the area. There were no signs of a struggle

New law to affect truckers

As part of a nationwide effort to improve highway safety, the state of Michigan will begin implementing new laws for commercial drivers Oct. 1.

Many truck operators will have to get a Michigan commercial driver's license, but some farmers will be exempt, according to Ron Nelson, legislative counsel for Michigan Farm Bureau.

"Those farmers who operate a vehicle with a gross vehicle weight rating (GVWR) under 26,001 pounds and are transporting farm products, farm machinery or farm supplies within 150 miles of their farm do not need to get the new license," he said.

Farmers who are not exempt can drive with their present Class 1, 2 or 3 endorsement until their current license expires on April 1, 1992, whichever is first. After that they must have a commercial driver's license to drive a commercial vehicle either within the state or out-of-state.

"If your current license expires between April 1, 1992, and Sept. 30, 1993, you will receive a notice about when to apply for the license," Nelson said.

"If you have never had a class endorsement from Michigan and need a commercial driver's license, you must pass a knowledge test based on the license manual and a skills test, based on the type of vehicle you intend to drive and your driving record."

A question-and-answer brochure on the commercial driver's license is available from the Michigan Department of State, Correspondence Unit, Lansing 48918.

elementary school and $1.10 at the junior high and high school level.

High school Principal William Courliss outlined a number of changes this year in the district, which has achieved full U of M accreditation after several years of probation.

In the high school, officials have added honors English classes in the ninth and tenth grades. Also, the school's psychology offering has been expanded from one to two sections.

A big increase in enrollment has prompted the addition of a third first grade section, according to Courliss, who said the class' size will be 23, 23 and 24 pupils. Unfortunately, he noted, with all grades housed in one building and the district already struggling with limited space, the additional class is causing a rippling effect in the upper grade levels.

Three new staff members have been hired to fill vacancies. They are vocational agriculture teacher Robert Sollman, elementary special education instructor Johanna Bragg and high school secretary Norma Peruski.

Uby teachers are in the third year of 3-year contract with the district, which is operating on a preliminary 1989-90 budget of $2.54 million.

School District.

Bus routes will remain the same this year, according to school Supt. Jerry H. Laycock, who said the same is true of school programs with one exception.

"We are implementing a new developmental kindergarten program," he said, adding the program is for young 5s as well as children not yet ready for kindergarten.

The new program, which Laycock said will complement the district's preschool and full-day kindergarten, will consist of half days 5 days a week. Additional information is available by calling 683-2294.

New staff members this year are elementary teachers Cheryl Bradford and Constance Parker. Bradford is replacing Carol Shields, who retired after 32 years of service, and Parker is filling in for Bob Sims, who is taking a one-year leave of absence, Laycock noted.

Kingston Schools is operating on a preliminary 1989-90 budget of $2.7 million. The district's teachers are in the final year of a 2-year contract.

Cystic Fibrosis Foundation officials recently named Mary Rabideau and Suzanne Humpert as co-chairwomen of the 1989 Breath of Life Campaign in Cass City.

This year's local fundraising goal is $250, and 30 to 40 volunteers are being sought to help in the campaign.

September has been designated by the National Health Council as the month for the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation to promote its major education and fundraising campaign to raise money for research, education, diagnosis and treatment of Cystic Fibrosis.

Although Cystic Fibrosis is still the leading genetic cause of death among children, the average life expectancy is now the early twenties. The greatest health problems from C.F. are caused by increased lung damage from repeated infections and by malnutrition from inadequate digestion of food.

With early diagnosis, daily therapy and medication, the quality and length of a child's life is improved.

Great Lakes College sets special courses

Great Lakes Junior College of Caro will be offering a series of special Saturday courses beginning Sept. 23. Students can earn credit in the following new courses: managerial women, beginning typing, law for the lay person, and computer literacy.

"These courses are designed to benefit both the full-time student preparing to be job-ready, and someone who is simply interested in the topic itself. Some of these students may not be enrolled in an academic program," says Pam Hensley, educational director of the Caro campus.

"Two of these courses, managerial women and law for the lay person, are particularly unique," Hensley says. "The managerial women course offers the student a comprehensive look at all aspects of contemporary managerial science from a woman's perspective. As more and more women enter the workforce as managers, a course designed specifically for them is a necessity," she says.

Law for the lay person will give the student an understanding of everyday legal terminology and application. Hensley says the course gives the student an understanding of Michigan law in terms that everyone can understand. "Much of the legal jargon has been stripped away," she says.

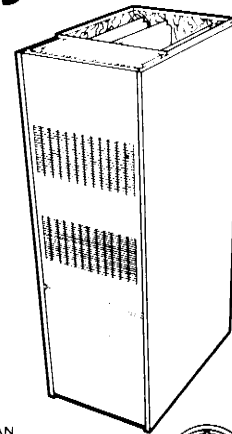

"Music Man" to audition in Caro

Exams set Friday

2 charged in district court

A 41-year-old Vassar man was arraigned in Tuscola County District Court last week on a charge of second degree Criminal Sexual Conduct.

A preliminary examination for the defendant, James L. Roskamp, was scheduled for 1:30 p.m. Friday. Bond was set at $15,000.

Court records state Roskamp is charged with engaging in sexual contact with a person at least 13 years of age but less than 16 years in January. Also arraigned last week is Richard A. Strozski, 32, 3505 W. Caro Rd., Caro, who faces a charge of manufacturing marijuana June 19 in Juniata Township.

His preliminary exam has been set for 1:30 p.m. Friday. Bond was set at $4,000.

3 sentenced last week

A Battle Creek man was sentenced to prison Friday in Tuscola County Circuit Court for convictions of receiving and concealing stolen property over $100, and being a habitual offender.

Richard E. Lawhead, 30, was sentenced to 3 1/2 years to 7 1/2 years in prison, with credit for 10 days already served, and ordered to pay court costs of $1,500.

Lawhead was found to be in possession of stolen lottery tickets, according to court records, which indicate his conviction stems from the July 24, 1988, break-in of an IGA store in Kingston.

Caro resident Gordon Crittenton, 25, 184 State St., was sentenced to jail for 2 counts of attempted delivery of cocaine.

Crittenton, who pleaded guilty to both charges June 9, was sentenced to 365 days in jail and 5 years probation, and ordered to pay fines and costs totalling $500 plus attorney fees for the first count. He was sentenced to 365 days in jail for the second count.

Court records state that the incidents occurred Sept. 9, 1988, in Caro, and Sept. 11, 1988, in Indianfields Township.

Steven F. Kissel, 39, of Saginaw, was ordered to pay restitution of $2,500 by Oct. 18 or serve 60 days in jail for a June 21 plea of guilty to larceny under $100.

Records state he took a GM blower assembly in February in Denmark Township. Also Friday, Mary A.

Brown, 48, 620 Allen St., Caro, entered a plea of guilty during her arraignment on a charge of attempted welfare fraud.

Sentencing was scheduled for Oct. 27. Bond was continued at $4,000.

Records state Brown is charged with obtaining a larger amount of assistance (ADC and food stamps) than she was entitled to Aug. 13, 1986, in Caro.

Vassar resident Courtney E. Bedell, 20, entered a plea of innocent to a charge of breaking and entering a semitractor, which resulted in damage to the vehicle, July 25, 1987, in Vassar Township.

Bedell's arraignment was continued to Friday. Bond was set at $5,000 and the defendant was granted permission to participate in the work release program.

In other proceedings last week, a jury returned a verdict of guilty against 44-year-old Crosswell resident Sandra Hawks, who was charged with unlawfully driving away a semitruck Dec. 3, 1987, in Kingston.

Sentencing is to be set for Hawks, who was remanded to the sheriff until her $5,000 bond is made. A pre-sentence investigation was ordered.

LETTER TO EDITOR

German visitors thank community

EDITOR'S NOTE: The 41-member Olympia-Morata-Gymnasium orchestra and choir from Germany visited Cass City in May and this letter to the Rev. Joe Robertson, pastor of the Trinity United Methodist Church in Cass City, tells their reaction to the community.

Dear Mr. Robertson,
Although our choir and orchestra have seen so many interesting places like Chicago, Niagara Falls, Muskegon, Lansing and Lake Michigan, most of our students have lost their hearts in Cass City. You and your host families' overwhelming hospitality will be unforgettable as well as the attentive audiences at the schools and churches.

We want to thank you once more for your personal efforts to make our stay so rewarding for all of us. Please extend our gratefulness to all your parishioners and those of the other churches and to the principals and teachers of the Cass City Schools. Special regards to Father Spleet, Jules and his lady parishioners from the coffee shop on Main Street.

Thank you very much indeed, for you have made us hear the heartbeat of America in Cass City.

Yours,
Bernard Geiger

MORE THAN $22,000 worth of asbestos removal work was completed by a 10-man crew in just a few days last week at Owendale High School. Above, a member of the crew prepares to remove asbestos insulation from a section of pipe, located in a shop area, which has been completely enclosed in a plastic bag equipped with arm and hand inserts.

Hiring at school draws criticism

by Ben Hobart that would make it mandatory for administrators to live in the Cass City District. Goals for the school will also be on the agenda.

Passed without comment was the contract for Daniel Caister for custodian at the Intermediate School.

ADULT TEACHING CONTRACTS

Adult Education teachers were hired and granted a 5 percent raise in salary. The teachers are paid on the same scale as driver training teachers with the exception that they are given a 25 cents per hour bonus if 80 percent of their students stay enrolled through the fourth Friday when each becomes eligible for state aid. The salary for 1989-90 will be $14.45 per hour plus the bonus.

STUDENT TRANSFER

The board wrestled with the annual problem of students wanting to transfer. This year all requests were approved. The 7-year-old daughter of the Dale Kaakes was granted permission to attend Campbell Elementary from Evergreen School.

The request was approved because there was room in the class at Campbell and there would be no extra expense to the district. The child will board the bus with her brothers and be with them for the 40 minutes or so that there will be no parent at home. A similar request by the Kaakes last year was denied.

A request for a Freshman student at Kingston to remain at the school was granted. Mrs. Diane Lipe made the request because the family purchased a home on Mushroom Road which is the dividing line in the district and the Kingston bus will travel in front of her home.

Another similar request involving Pam Reese, who will be a kindergarten student at Owen-Gage, was granted. The board instructed Supt. Ken Micklash to see if there were students at Owen-Gage in a similar position that would like to attend Cass City Schools. The move by the board was another indication of thawing relations between the 2 districts.

Hawk linksters looking for strong finish in Thumb B

If the Cass City Red Hawks could figure out a way to get past the powerful Caro Tigers, it would be a pleasant fall for Coach Jim Fox and his golf team. For the Hawks, who finished 6-5 last year and 2-4 in the Thumb B Association, have a veteran squad back that Fox feels should rank right behind the Tigers in the race for league honors.

The Hawks are sure to miss Steve Hammett who was one of the top 5 finishers in most matches. Brent Hall and Mike Scollon also contributed. But there are good players returning and strong sophomores pushing the upper classmen for spots on the team. The varsity will probably be built around senior Mike Francis, team captain, 3-year letterman and second team all-conference last year.

Fox expects big things from Garen Barker, sophomore, who lettered as a freshman. Barker has the potential to be an all-conference performer before his high school career ends, says the coach. Ken Micklash, senior, has earned 3 letters. Chris Herringshaw, junior, had matches last year where he was outstanding. He needs to develop consistency. A new candidate for the team is Jeff Hockey. The sophomore has exhibited strong potential, but has yet to face the test of actual competition.

Two other sophomores are prospects to make the varsity. They are Troy Osentoski and Bart Hall.

Several other team members and Freshmen are out for the team this fall. Cass City opens the season at Rolling Hills Golf Course in a non-conference match against Owen-Gage Tuesday, Aug. 29.

O-G pact details aired

The insurance was changed from no deductible to $100 deductible, and a 50-cent co-pay plan for prescriptions is now $2 co-pay, Kirby said, adding the school will pay the deductible plus the co-pay charge for 10 prescriptions.

Other items of the contract have already been implemented in the district, but are now formally included in a contract. They are: *School days for teachers have been shortened by 5 minutes (2 days per school year).

*Teachers' 7-period day has been reduced to a 6-period day, including a prep period.

*Elementary teachers are relieved of recess duty and now have a prep period.

*Suggested maximum class sizes of 25 in kindergarten and 30 in elementary and secondary grade levels will be followed "whenever practical." Kirby pointed out the changes do not affect students, who will continue to have a 6-period day.

NO CHEERS

According to Thies, the contract gives teachers little to cheer about.

"The contract, as a whole, isn't a bad contract. (But) the salary is lacking in it as far as keeping up with any of the surrounding areas," he remarked. "We're sitting at the very bottom."

Owen-Gage teachers earn less than their counterparts at 21 other upper Thumb schools, including 7 other Class D schools, according to 1988-89 salary figures presented by Thies.

"The teachers took the contract because they didn't think there was anything else for the district to give," Thies commented. "It was a close vote. They certainly aren't satisfied with it, and it's going to get worse because the surrounding areas are getting 5 and 5 1/2 percent (raises)."

Thies indicated the pay level at Owen-Gage will continue to play a major role in the district's ability to keep good teachers.

He added, "If you're a young teacher, what kind of future do you have here?"

Predict price drop

The recent sharp drop in grain prices will reduce the cost of feeding livestock. That means lower livestock prices are on the way, according to Kevin Kirk, livestock specialist for Michigan Farm Bureau, because a drop in feed costs will encourage livestock producers to expand their output.

"Livestock producers, if they want to maintain profits when coming into a low in prices, should be cautious about how much they pay for feeder cattle and feeder replacements," he said. "They also need to be cautious about their expansion plans."

Kirk says it could be a year to a year-and-a-half before the livestock cycle turns and prices begin another upswing.

Bulldogs ready to defend NCTL basketball crown

This year's Owen-Gage basketball team figures to be hard-pressed to equal the record compiled by the 1988 squad, but that doesn't mean that the Bulldogs won't have a good team this year.

The girls could have a fine, fine season and still fall short of the 20-4 mark set by last year's North Central Thumb D squad which rolled over the competition to take the league crown and then added a district toga to go with it.

There are players back from that outstanding squad that Coach Dean Roller, starting his fifth year, can turn to in his campaign to retain the loop crown, but there are also outstanding players who have been lost because of graduation or injury.

Four members of last year's squad graduated, led by Andrea Mandich who was all-league and all everything for the Bulldogs. Two other regulars, Angie Bolzman and Andrea Goslin, are gone and so is Dawn Dorsch who saw plenty of playing time. Add to that the loss of Krista Grassman, who is out for the season after back surgery, and it's easy to see that Roller has his work cut out for him.

Roller will turn to Angie Winchester and Brandy Salcido, 2 seniors who must take up the rebounding slack if the Bulldogs are to win this season, the coach feels.

There are also 4 other players who have earned varsity letters to round out the varsity so the Bulldogs should still be one of the teams in the fight for the title. The other letter winners are Marla Goslin, Stacy Enderle, Wendy Ferguson and Vicki Ricker. Ricker is a quick point guard and Goslin a scorer who can hit from anywhere. These 2 are proven veterans from the championship team. Enderle will help at guard. Lack of depth will be a problem this season, Roller says.

The Coach sees plenty of competition ahead in the league. He feels that Peck and Deckerville will be hard to beat. Akron-Fairgrove is also expected to have a strong team.

VETERAN COACH Dean Roller gives Senior Marla Goslin a helping hand with her free throw technique. Goslin will be expected to carry much of the scoring load for the Bulldogs this season.

TOURNAMENT

The coach will get a better line on his squad next week when the Bulldogs play in an invitational tournament at Caseville. The Bulldogs play their first game against Mayville Tuesday, Aug. 29. Both the varsity and junior varsity play and the first game starts at 6:15 p.m. Other teams in the tourney are Caseville and Port Hope scheduled to play Monday, Aug. 28.

Teams losing the opening round games play in a loser's bracket Aug. 30 and the championship game will be held August 31. All games start at 6:15 p.m.

Arthritis Relief

Arthritis is a general term which describes "joint inflammation." Arthritis can affect the hips, knees, wrists, spine, ankles, toes, and fingers. The most common types of arthritis include osteoarthritis, rheumatoid arthritis, and gouty arthritis.

Effective management of arthritis symptoms involves relieving joint pain and stiffness, arresting joint deterioration, and maintaining joint mobility. These objectives can often be accomplished with:

Medicines: Aspirin is the medicine most commonly used to treat arthritis. Prescription-only antiinflammatory medicines for arthritis include naproxen, tolmetin, sulindac, and fenoprofen. Other prescription arthritis medicines include certain steroids, gold salts, hydroxychloroquine, and penicillamine.

Physical therapy: Appropriate movement of affected joints is needed to prevent joints from becoming stiff. Good posture and proper diet may help relieve stress on certain joints.

Surgery: If medicines and physical therapy do not control arthritis pain or if joints become severely damaged, surgery (e.g., hip or knee joint replacement) may be necessary.

1989 Red Hawk squad

Experience lacking, but not size, speed

If the Cass City Red Hawk football team can take over where it left off in 1988 Coach Don Markel's drive to develop a winning attitude will take care of itself this season.

Last year the Hawks lost the first 3 Thumb B Conference games of the season and then bounced back to win the next 5 games in a row, including 4 in the league.

It may be hard for Markel to improve on last year's dismal early season record or his very respectable 6-3 season's mark this fall.

That's because the team will be missing 9 players from last year's team, including some very good backs and linemen.

Paul Tuckey at quarterback and Jeff Dillon at end were all-conference players. Brent Beecher at fullback was a solid 2-way player.

Dennis Dadacki was a threat to go all the way any time he carried the ball.

Greg Mika and Brent Meininger were anchors in the middle of the line and ends Steve Wright and Jason Smith helped make the passing attack go.

Those are big shoes to fill, but if the team can get its act together before being blown out of contention early in the year, a record as good or better than last year is very possible.

Ten players who won varsity letters last season are back, and players up from the junior varsity provide more speed than Markel had to work with in his first year at the helm in Cass City.

There is also good size in the line. Six players tip the scales at 200 pounds or more, led by Brent Morell, senior letter winner, who is 245 pounds. Two other seniors with the size that catches the eyes of coaches are Jim Creason, 225 pounds, and Mike Brooks, 205 pounds. There are 3 hefty juniors on the squad. Dennis Tietjens, 200 pounds, is listed at fullback and may find his niche at linebacker when the Hawks start to play for keeps.

Gary Becker, 215, and Pete Mulrath, 210, have the size but lack experience. Leroy Beecher, 6-2, 195 pounds, just misses the 200-pound mark, but he's a veteran and letter winner last year.

With these players Markel believes that he can match up size-wise with the other teams in the conference so he is switching to a 4-4 defense from the five-man front with 2 linebackers used last year.

What this year's backfield lacks most is experience. What it has that was missing from the veteran group that graduated is speed.

Markel is counting on 3 juniors to play with Jason Robertson, senior co-captain of the team who will play at quarterback. Al Dadacki, 5-10, 165 pounds; Greg Graham, 5-7, 145 pounds, and Tim Englehart, 5-9, 150 pounds, are players that are slated for heavy duty in the backfield. Markel said that he is still sorting out how to best utilize the talents of this trio.

Scott Dillon, senior co-captain, is slated for heavy duty again this season. Other letter winners on the squad, all seniors, are: Doug Marker, halfback, 5-10, 140 pounds; Scott Marshall, halfback-end, 5-8, 160; Don Smith, guard, 5-9, 165; Randy Johnson, guard, 5-10, 155; Chris Ventline, 6-0, 165, tackle; Darryl Wood, end, 6-0, 165, and Mark Wark, end, 5-10, 165. There are 31 players on the squad. Markel sees the defending champion Lakers as the team to beat with strong challenges from Caro and new-to-the-league Millington.

Stevenson Financial stages late rally to win championship

Stevenson Financial topped R & H Body Shop, the regular season champs of the San-Cass league, Wednesday to win the league's play-off championship.

Basketball meeting set

There will be a meeting Thursday, Aug. 24, at 6:30 p.m. at the Cass City High School gym for girls wishing to play junior high, 7th and 8th grade, basketball. All girls interested in participating are asked to attend.

On hand will be Gary Robinson and Bert Brinkman, junior high coaches, and Marty Daniel girls' varsity basketball coach.

Stevenson staged a dramatic 5-run last inning rally to grasp the 8-5 victory.

Greg Foy gave the winners their first lead when he belted a 2-run homer in the first inning.

However, R & H battled back to score 5 runs in the middle innings and took a 5-3 lead after 4 frames.

That score stood pat until Ken Marotzke tied the game with a 2-out single in the final stanza.

Then with 2 runners aboard Jeff Williamson, arguably the league's best hitter, laced a 3-2 count pitch over the left field fence to give Stevenson the win.

Dean Roller was on the mound for the winners and he bested Ed Stoutenburg.

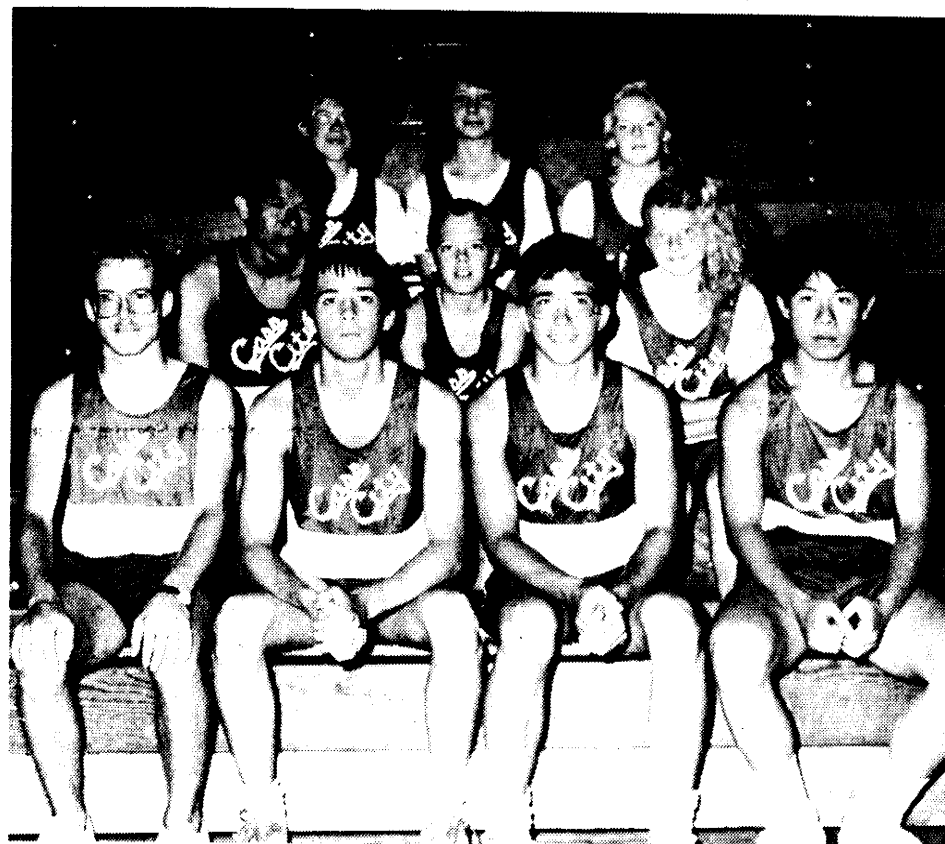

Mike Wilson led R & H's offense attack with 3 hits.

Motorist escapes injury

A Deford motorist escaped injury Thursday when the vehicle he was driving entered a ditch and rolled over in Novesta Township.

Tuscola County Sheriff's deputies said Calvin J. Messing, 6840 Deckerville Rd., was southbound on McArthur Road at about 12:10 p.m. when he failed to stop at the Shabbona Road intersection, lost control of his vehicle and left the roadway.

Messing then left the scene, according to deputies, who later cited him for careless driving.

He replaces J. Ronald Gaffie, who had been serving since April as interim president while the Association was conducting its presidential search. Gaffie, also chairman of Mutual's board of directors, will assist Hofmann over the next few weeks during the transition period.

Hofmann plans on residing in the Bay City area with his wife and 2 daughters.

Mutual Savings, the sixth largest savings and loan association in Michigan, has assets in excess of $900 million and operates 35 statewide offices, with one in the Cass City area.

Bubblonian Encounter auditions set

Auditions for the children's play, "Bubblonian Encounter," will be held at 7 p.m., Aug. 30 in the Cass City High School Library.

The characters are "Bub," a naive lovable extraterrestrial and Archie and Betty, a friendly couple.

Persons interested in auditioning should be comfortable with the subject of child sexual abuse and be available for daytime performances in various Tuscola County schools. Male and female parts are available. Performances will be held Wednesday and Thursday mornings exclusively.

The play will be produced by the Cass City Players under the direction of Gary Sturm of Port Austin. Performance mileage will be paid to the actors.

More information is available by contacting the Cass City Community Education Office at 872-4151.

YOUR EYES

Dr. G.W. McNiven

WHEN SCHOOL BELLS RING

With school bells about to ring, you may have already bought new clothes and sharp pencils for your youngster, but have you had his or her eyes examined?

Look at the youngster carefully. Is he or she blinking a lot, tilting the head to one side as if favoring either eye, rubbing the eyes excessively, squinting, or watching TV within inches of the screen? Any of these symptoms of poor eyesight demands a professional eye examination even before school begins.

In addition, other subtle eye defects can affect your child's vision and potential school achievement. Even mild farsightedness in some children may adversely affect the ability to read, by causing letters to appear unclear at book distance. Eyes tire easily. The tall child who is only mildly nearsighted may not see the blackboard clearly when seated in the back row of the classroom.

There's no need to take a chance on any child's achievement and happiness at school. Have your child's eyes thoroughly examined -- and corrected where necessary -- before those school bells ring in our town.

EQUAL HOUSING OPPORTUNITY

Taking stock

By Bill Myers

Ol' Bob Tripp and his spouse, Mickey, and Jennifer Birdsong and I went fishing the other day in Lake Michigan. This is an annual event. Each year we pile aboard Bill Carlson's Bertram, "Double Trouble," and go after salmon and steelhead trout and lake trout. We fish off Leland, Mich., near the Manitou Islands.

(If you're up this way next summer, book a half day with Carlson. He's a pro, has a dandy boat, and he's a pleasant fellow.)

We went out despite a scare some wildlife group stirred up this year about cancer resulting from eating fish out of Lake Michigan. We even had a call from a friend in Florida, warning us.

We don't frighten that easily. We'll continue eating fish out of the Great Lakes as we have for 101 these many years. We will drink the well water in these parts, and eat the apples and the wonderful fruit of this blessed area, and we'll go swimming and buy chickens in the market and eat butter and red meat, and anything else that is put on the table.

The Tripps and the Myerses, you see, still belong to another era before the Nervous Nellies took over. We expect there's a little risk in anything (except municipal bonds) and maybe something will get us someday. Confidentially we expect to go on forever, but when we tell friends that, we get only indulgent smiles.

Back to this cancer scare and Lake Michigan fish. It's propaganda. The fish are tested every year as they have been since 1968. They are pure as Ivory soap. Folks around here have been eating fish out of the lakes all their lives, and look healthier than Nervous Nellies I know.

But the sort of nonsense that the professional worriers develop is harmful. It hurts people who make a living running charter boats and motels where the fishermen stay.

Some of the charter owners report their business down 50% since the scare stories came out in the daily papers and on the telly. You take 50% off the gross in any business and you take away all the profits, because fixed expenses go on whether or not there are customers.

Anyway, we caught 3 Chinook salmon, 2 steelheads and a lake trout and we are enjoying them. We will keep on eating these delicacies and will continue to defy the worry warts.

We chided Dan Rather about fumbling for an answer when he was asked what pork rinds are. (President Bush loves 'em.) They're made from smoked, fried hog skin, Dan. They are rich in fat, protein and sodium, and have more cholesterol than say peanuts or potato chips. And who cares?

University of California health letter says the fad for oat bran is fading. Rice bran products are cooking on, and the boys at Cal say it's better for you. Unlike most stuff that's "better for you," it tastes pretty good as long as you don't eat it straight. Then it resembles sawdust.

In Vermont earlier this summer, the mosquitos were so bad that some hotels were offering guests a deduction from their bill of $1 for every bite they got. Guests found that took some of the sting out. Another remedy is to put toothpaste on the bites. Try it. (I haven't.)

"Experts" who have been advising you to keep a lot of cash, or invest in short-term Treasury bills didn't do so well the first half of the year. At the other end of the rainbow those who touted junk bonds fell on their faces, too. Here are "total return" results of various kinds of fixed income investments, before and after tax:

	Before tax	After tax 28%
Long-Term gov'ts.....	13.62%	9.81%
Corporates....	11.34	8.18
Municipals....	9.78	9.22*
Mortgages....	9.20	6.62
3-Mo. T-Bills..	4.46	3.21
Junk bonds....	5.75	4.14

* - 2% of 'total' on municipals was estimated from capital gains, subject to 28% tax, leaving net return of 9.22%.

Okay junior high football funding

There will be junior high football for the first time in many years at Cass City if details can be ironed out in the next few days. The school board authorized the expenditure of some $5,000 for equipment for the program in its regular monthly meeting Monday night.

The new program is designed to replace Freshman football which was dropped this year. The program, as presented by Coach Don Markel and Athletic Director Don Schelke, will include 3 weeks of training and conditioning and a 4-game schedule. Teams from other schools have agreed to play, they said.

There will be no added staff member for the program and it is expected that Jim Mastie will be the coach. If a hitch in the program comes it most likely will be in securing the helmets. That's not expected to be a problem, Schelke told the board, but if it is, of course there will be no program this fall.

Several other curriculum changes were authorized. The administration was told that if another credit of physical education was not offered the school would lose its accreditation at the secondary level. A credit and a half of physical education will be offered, Principal Russ Biefer said.

At the Intermediate School the 7th and 8th grade bands will be joined into a junior high band. That will free an hour of instruction time which will be divided into 2 parts. The first semester a 50-minute art class is scheduled. The next semester a 50-minute class in computer science is to be offered. Both classes will meet once a week.

A remedial course in math and reading is planned. The 8th grade will have an industrial arts course. None of these changes will require additions to the teaching staff.

Kathleen Iseler said that she felt that there were not enough academics offered at the school. She claimed that college bound students were in co-op when they should be taking other courses. Supt. Ken Micklash asked that the teacher be more specific and the conversation indicated that the curriculum was at least as varied and complete as it ever has been.

OTHER BUSINESS

Chris LaBerge, Deford elementary teacher was granted a leave of absence.

A truth in taxation meeting, required because the district is raising more taxes, was held without any comment from spectators.

The purchase of 5 bus radios at a cost of about $400 each was approved. The board plans to have all buses equipped with the radios over a 3-year period.

Three bids were received for the purchase of insurance for the school. Because they are complicated they will be reviewed by a committee and granted to the low bidder.

The board authorized spending about $2,500 for clean up of the area around the Cass City stands at the football field. The area was dug up for the construction of the new track. The plan is to hard top the area, but it was not decided if it should be completed this fall or after the ground had settled for a year.

Finalist

Board among top dealerships

Roger Board, owner of Board Chrysler-Plymouth-Dodge in Cass City, is in Reno this week with a very select group of Chrysler Corporation dealers. He is one of 5 finalists from across the United States for People magazine's 1989 Dodge Grand Award for outstanding service.

Roger Board

All of the more than 2,000 Dodge dealers nationwide were eligible for the award, which is co-sponsored by Chrysler Motors and People magazine.

Board Chrysler-Plymouth-Dodge won the nomination by meeting or surpassing stringent selection criteria that included achieving a customer satisfaction rating among the best in its sales class and winning Chrysler Motors' 2 highest dealership service awards, the Award for Excellence and the Five-Star Service Quality Award.

Ted R. Cunningham, Chrysler Motors' Vice-president Service and Parts Operations, said:

"The People award is one of the most sought after in the automobile business. Dealers nominated for the Grand Award have a clear understanding of the meaning of customer service."

The first airplane purchased by the U.S. government was called the Miss Columbia and bought from the Wright brothers in 1909.

They have a personal dedication to customer service and a commitment to be the best."

The Michigan State University School of Business, East Lansing, supervised the selection of the finalists, who were judged on a variety of customer relations areas, including community service, follow-up with warranty customers and the resolution of customer complaints.

Board, owner of Board Chrysler-Plymouth-Dodge, and the other finalists for the Award for Outstanding Service will be seen in a 2-page advertisement in an October issue of People.

Your neighbor says

Enjoyed watching total lunar eclipse

If you felt a little quirky last Wednesday, a little peculiar, you needed to look no further than about 238,856 miles for the reason.

That's where the event scientists have labeled a lunar eclipse took place.

The last time that North America was treated to a view of such a celestial event, when the earth lodges between the sun and moon, was in December of 1969. The next full lunar show won't be until the year 1992.

Two Uby residents, and Cass City business women, were well aware of the prime time sky show that started around 9:30 p.m.. They are your neighbors, Donna Gracey and Carol Kulish.

"We watched it at Donna's house," said Carol who, along with her sister and mother, Albina Gracey, is the new owner of Shaky's Eatery in downtown Cass City.

Although Carol enjoyed the moon-watching event, Donna admitted she missed it.

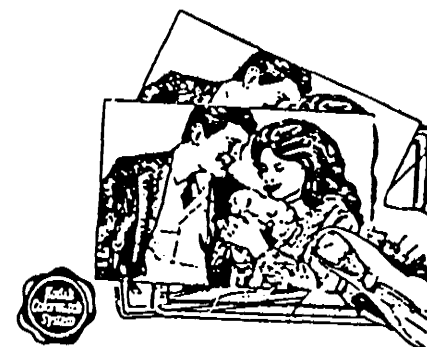

"I was sleeping through most of it," smiled the single, 23-year-old restaurateur.

When questioned if they believed the heavenly display had any astrological effect on them, the sisters said that's their mother's department.

"She believes in all that stuff, she follows our horoscopes and went to have her palms read this year," commented Carol.

4 drivers arrested in Cass City

Cass City police arrested 4 persons—2 on suspicion of drinking and driving—over the weekend.

According to reports, police arrested James D. Knowlton, 38, Cass City, Friday evening for driving while his license is suspended.

Police stopped Knowlton on Seeger Street south of Main Street at about 8:09 p.m. after observing a cracked windshield on the pickup he was driving.

Early the next morning, police stopped and arrested Benny L. Rhyndress, 31, 2232 Englehart Rd., Deford, on suspicion of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor.

Rhyndress was stopped on South Seeger Street near Seventh Street at 12:07 a.m. after police clocked his vehicle at a speed of 40 miles per hour in 25 m.p.h. zone. He also was observed weaving in his lane of traffic, reports state.

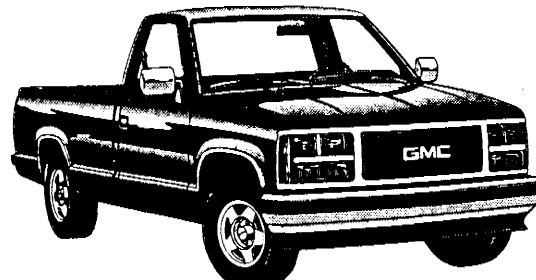

Mark W. Matthews, 25, of Allegan, was arrested about 2 hours later, also on suspicion of operation a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, after being stopped on North Seeger Street north of Hillcrest Drive.

Matthews' license is suspended and he was driving with an improper registration plate, according to reports, which state he drove left of the road center line and was traveling at a speed of 45 m.p.h. in a 25 m.p.h. zone prior to being stopped.

Also Saturday, Thad L. Robertson, 17, of Decker, was arrested for driving while his license is suspended and being a minor in possession of alcohol.

Reports state he was stopped near the intersection of West and Main streets at about 8:40 p.m. after police observed that the pickup he was driving has a broken windshield.
