VOLUME 84, NUMBER 5

CASS CITY MICHIGAN - WEDNESDAY, MAY 9, 1990

14 PAGES PLUS SUPPLEMENT

A SMILE, A WINK and an occasional pat on the back have been part of Betty Murphy's approach to education for 38 years. Above, the retiring teaching principal takes a moment to answer a question posed by second grader Sarah Jones.

Betty Murphy: 38-year teaching career near end

The sounds coming out of Betty Murphy's second grade classroom at Deford Elementary School Friday morning weren't unusual.

The teacher issued instructions in a warm, but firm tone of voice, occasionally admonishing her class for too much talking and not enough listening.

At one point, in an effort to quiet things down, she told her pupils to put their heads down on their desks. A hush fell on the class, except for one student who received a final warning: "Straighten up or I'll send you to the (principal's) office."

That threat presents an interesting predicament for Murphy, who is also the principal at Deford Elementary.

Later, in her office, she smiled and said her students hadn't asked yet how the principal could deal with a student sent to her office and at the same time teach her class.

Just the same, she remarked, "They know they'll see me. It's just different

May 22 Open House to honor Betty Murphy

The staff at Deford Elementary School invites the family, friends and associates of Betty Murphy to attend an open house in honor of the long-time Deford Elementary teaching principal.

Murphy will retire in June following a career in education that spans 38 years.

The open house will be held from 6:30 to 8 p.m. May 22 at Deford Elementary School, 6010 Decker-ville Rd., Deford.

meeting you in the office than meeting you in the classroom."

Murphy, who will retire in June, seems comfortable in her role as educator and administrator, although she admits it's been a challenging juggling act.

But then, after 38 years in the field of education, it's no surprise.

"There are times when it's very frustrating. If there is a discipline problem of any kind, that should be taken care of as soon as possible with younger children," the mother of 4 said. "You just can't be in 2 places at once, and sometimes you'd like to be."

On the other hand, she added, "There are many days that go so smoothly, there's no problem at all."

The past few years probably have seemed tame to Murphy, who pursued a career and a family long before having both become a popular option for women.

WORKED OUT BEST

"There were times when, I suppose, I felt a little guilty. (But) I feel it worked out best for us," she commented. "I feel a woman has to make a choice and then stand strong."

In fact, Murphy indicated that being a mother has complemented her work in the classroom.

"I always wanted to be a teacher," she recalled, noting that as a young girl living on a Shabbona area farm, she played school constantly, acting out the roles of both teacher and pupil. After graduating from Cass City High School in 1947, Murphy completed one year at Tuscola County Normal, qualifying her to teach in a country school for 2 years.

Seniors set for graduation swirl

Proms, band concerts, awards ceremonies and, of course, commencement exercises will highlight activities for students over the next few weeks as area high schools close out the 1989-90 school year.

Four area high schools—Cass City, Owen-Gage, Kingston and Ubyl—will graduate a combined 256 students this year.

Officials at each of the schools have announced year-end activities as well as final exam schedules.

CASS CITY

Among the remaining events at Cass City High School is an awards assembly that will be held Thursday at 9 a.m. at the high school.

Also scheduled this week is the prom, which will be held Saturday evening at the Colony House. Each of the school's 4 valedictorians and the salutatorian will have an opportunity to speak during the event, set to begin at 6:30 p.m.

The last day of classes for seniors will be May 17, with final exams to be held May 16 and 17. Commencement practice will be held May 18.

All other students will finish the year June 6 after completing final exams June 5 and 6.

This year's baccalaureate has been scheduled for 2 p.m. May 20 at the high school. The Rev. Cliff Jordan, pastor of the Cass City Missionary Church, will address the gathering.

School officials will graduate 114 seniors during commencement exercises slated for May 24 starting at 8 p.m. at the high school. Seniors Chris Folk and Wendy Weaver have been selected by a committee of students, faculty and administrators to address the class.

OWEN-GAGE

Thirty-two seniors at Owen-Gage High School have only a week left of classes, but there will be plenty of activity before commencement, set for 8 p.m. May 24 at the high school.

A full week of activities is slated this week. The spring high school band concert will be held today (Wednesday) at 7 p.m. at the high school, the band will participate in the Bavarian Festival Thursday, and band and honor students will leave Friday for a trip to Cedar Point.

Later this month, an academic awards program will be held starting at 9 a.m. May 15 at the high school, while athletic honors will be awarded during a banquet slated for May 30 at 6 p.m. at the elementary school in Gagetown.

Seniors' last day of school will be May 18, with final exams May 17 and 18. Underclassmen will end the year with final exams June 5 and 6.

Baccalaureate is scheduled for May 20 beginning at 7:30 p.m. at the elementary school. The guest speaker will be the Rev. Harry Capps, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Cass City.

At commencement, Ken E. Jensen, administrator at Hills and Dales General Hospital, Cass City, will address the Class of 1990. Also scheduled to speak are the class' valedictorian and salutatorian, Krista Grassmann and Stacy Enderle.

KINGSTON

End-of-the-year activities at Kingston High School include an academic awards assembly, set for Thursday at 12:45 p.m.; National Honor Society induction Friday at 7 p.m., and a spring athletic award program set for May 31 at 7 p.m.

The last day of classes for Kingston's 47 seniors, who will take their final exams May 21 and 22, will be May 22. Other students, meanwhile, will take final exams June 7 and 8, ending the year June 8.

The valedictorian and salutatorian of the Class of '90, Alice Gerhardt and James Green, will address their classmates at commencement exercises slated for 2 p.m. May 27 at the high school. The guest speaker will be Brett McLaughlin, editor and publisher of the Tuscola County Advertiser, and a 1968 Kingston High School graduate.

No baccalaureate is planned.

UBLY

May promises to be a busy month for Ubyl Community High School students, including the district's 63 seniors.

A spring band concert will be held today at 7:30 p.m. at the high school.

Later this month, a Future Farmers of America banquet has been scheduled for 7 p.m. May 16, followed by an open house displaying the work of school students in grades 3 through 12 May 18, academic awards assemblies May 22 for junior high students (7 p.m.) and high school students (8 p.m.), and a Future Homemakers of America banquet May 23 at 7 p.m.

A date for the school's spring athletic awards banquet hasn't been set yet.

Seniors will finish the year with classes May 22, and those who need to take final exams will do so May 23 and 24. Commencement practice is slated for May 25 at 9 p.m.

Underclassmen will take finals June 5 and 6, with June 6 being the last day of school.

Seniors will receive their diplomas May 27 in the high school gymnasium. The combined baccalaureate and commencement exercises will begin at 2 p.m.

The Rev. Leonard Wilkusi, pastor of St. Mary Catholic Church, Parisville, will deliver the invocation and benediction, and the Rev. Charles Robinson, pastor of the Ubyl Presbyterian Church, will deliver the scripture reading.

Also scheduled to address the Class of '90 are valedictorian Melissa Engle and salutatorian Becky Mazure, and Angela Riccardi, who will give appreciation remarks on behalf of the class.

Caution!

Fire hazard great during spring season, says DNR

Department of Natural Resources officials are reminding area residents to obtain a permit and exercise extreme caution if they plan to do any type of outdoor burning.

"The spring clean-up time is upon us and many of us will be cleaning up our yards and burning debris," Kim DuFresne, forest fire officer at the Cass City DNR Field Office, remarked.

"While the burning of yard debris is a common way of disposing of this unwanted material, there are other ways to dispose of (it), such as composting," he said. "We would encourage you to use alternative methods, but if you must burn, you are required to obtain a burning permit."

DuFresne explained the permits, which are free, are required for all fires except the following:

- 1) When the ground is snow covered,
- 2) When the material to be burned has been placed in a debris burner constructed of metal or masonry with a metal covering device with holes no larger than 3/4 of an inch, and

3) When the fire is a campfire or within a building for cooking or heating purposes.

Persons should check with local government restrictions on open burning. In Cass City, for example, outdoor burning is prohibited.

Burning permits will be issued only for grass, leaves, needles, brush, logs and stumps, according to DuFresne, who noted the open burning of building demolition or excess construction material, automobiles or parts, or industrial waste is not allowed.

He pointed out that depending on the fire danger, determined by factors such as wind and a lack of rain, burning permits may be restricted or not issued at all.

Most important, he commented, are 3 simple rules for burning—never leave a fire unattended, burn early in the morning or late in the evening, and never burn on a Please turn to back page.

Novesta vote to decide library millage request

Novesta Township residents will decide a millage request this year to fund library services.

That was the decision Monday night of the Novesta Township Board, which voted to place the request, for 3/4 of a mill, on the ballot in August or November.

The millage request is in conjunction with a proposal for the township to join the Rawson Memorial Library District, currently composed of Elklund Township and the village of Cass City.

Library director Barbara Hutchinson approached officials and residents with an invitation to join the district during the township's annual meeting in March.

She explained that the township must bring to the district the same amount of funding (3/4 of a mill) provided by the other district members in order to join. The advantages of membership, she pointed out, are part ownership of the library and representation on the library board.

If approved, the millage would cost Novesta Township about $10,262 per year, or $6.92 per resident. Currently, the township pays $1 per capita, or about $1,480 annually for library services.

Should the millage fail, township residents will continue to have access to library services, according to Hutchinson, who noted, however, that the cost isn't likely to remain at $1 per person.

In other business during the 2 1/2-hour monthly meeting, the board voted to adopt a revised rural zoning ordinance for the township.

Township Clerk Nurse Kloc said the revised ordinance primarily reflects changes made in state zoning laws in recent years. A number of the current local zoning guidelines, which were adopted in 1978, have been outdated, she added.

The clerk noted Monday's action marks the completion of nearly 2 years of work by township zoning officials with the guidance of planning and development consultant A. Harold Kundering of Saginaw.

Also Monday, the board:

•Voted to send Kloc and Deputy Clerk Iva Hartwick to a hazardous household waste meeting, held Tuesday in Clio.

•Signed petitions for 2 drain projects. They are the cleaning of the McCallum and McCallum Compromise Drain, and the cleaning of 1,200 feet of roadside ditch located on the west side of Cemetery Road, 100 feet south of Severance Road.

•Voted to retain Ray Armstead Jr., CPA, Cass City, as the township's auditor.

GRAPHIC REMINDER — "Do you want this to be our last chance to be together" are the words painted across 2 mangled cars parked at Cass City High School, where the Student Council is again sponsoring Project Graduation, a program that urges students not to drink and drive. ## Bike-a-thon for St. Jude's Hospital set for Saturday

Local Bike-a-thon chairperson Linda Derfny has asked Cass City residents to join the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital "Wheels for Life" Bike-a-thon, scheduled for Saturday.

All children and adults are welcome. Last year, 67 riders turned in a total of $2,547.

Derfny explained that riders ask sponsors to pledge a certain amount for each mile ridden, or a set amount just for participating.

All riders turning in money will receive a button and a certificate. Those who raise $25 will also receive a Bike-a-thon T-shirt. When $75 is raised, the rider receives a barrel-style tote-bag, a T-shirt, a button and a certificate.

Sponsor forms are available at Rawson Memorial Library or at one of the 4 local sponsoring churches: First Presbyterian, St. Pancratius, Salem United Methodist and Trinity United Methodist.

St. Jude Children's Hospital was founded by entertainer Danny Thomas. The institution opened its doors to the public in 1962 to combat catastrophic diseases which afflict children. At St. Jude's, scientists and physicians are working side by side, seeking the causes and prevention as well as treatments for these terrible killers.

"The idea behind the Cass City Bike-a-thon is to have a good time while helping others," Derfny said. Free hot dogs and drinks for participants will be provided by local merchants. Additional information is available by contacting Derfny at 872-2069.

Mother's prayer
by Melva E. Guinther

Sunday is Mother's Day, the day when mothers everywhere receive well deserved special treatment.

In typical motherly fashion, they'll ooh and ah over gifts of cheap perfume, candy and flowers, and cherish the hand-made offerings of their offspring. God bless 'em.

This Mother's Day prayer, by Virginia Veeder Westervelt, is bound to elicit an amen from every mother of a teenager:

Help me to have the courage to say, "No" when it should be said, even if "everybody else can"; the vision to say "Yes" if it won't hurt anyone, even if it sounds like a crazy idea; the stamina to endure pajama parties.

Help me to have a good memory of how much more important boys are than almost anything else you can mention;

of my own voice once saying pitifully, "Oh, Mother!"

Help me to find the time to really listen when she feels like talking; to welcome her friends as cordially as I do my own (even those with a bird's nest hairdo);

to go to all the football and basketball games if she makes the cheerleading squad.

Help me to find shoes that meet with her approval; clothes as smart as her favorite teacher's; a radio with only low volume.

Make me clairvoyant enough not to praise the current swain the day after they've broken up forever; not to be a sergeant, a sister, or a preacher, when all she wants is to be left alone a little.

Make me appreciative of her warmth, vitality and enthusiasm; patient when the phone is always busy; tolerant of her good intentions.

Please accept my thanks for giving me a sense of humor; an awareness of beauty; an appreciation of little things; and for giving my daughter these same qualities that contribute to her happiness.

Help me not to worry, but to know there is a concern for her greater than mine; to trust her to make her own decisions; to bolster her faith in herself by my faith in her.

Thank you for my daughter.

"If It Fitz..."*Talk about dogged

By Jim Fitzgerald

It isn't only Detroit newspapers that damage Detroit's image. A recent 7-column headline in the Lansing State Journal blared: "Stubborn Portland couple beat Detroit's 'ghost-car' ticket."

Detroit councilman David Eberhard recently criticized local news reports that said 6 citizens were massacred in one shooting. He said such words as "massacre" make outsiders afraid of Detroit. Apparently Eberhard would prefer headlines that say our murder victims are graciously sent to a better life in the hereafter, lucky them.

Likewise, it would have been kinder to Detroit's image if the Lansing report said the couple were sorry they missed the fun of being in Detroit when the Detroit Parking Violations Bureau said they were.

Instead, the article described the Portland couple, Cindy and Jerry Selden, as angry about being fined for parking their Chevy Blazer in a Detroit no-standing zone when the Blazer was in Wyoming.

GO AHEAD, PROVE YOU'RE RIGHT

phoned her alibi to the violations bureau, she was asked for proof. She sent photocopies of gas receipts received during the Wyoming trip. Six weeks later, the bureau responded with an order to pay the original fine, plus overdue charges, or "a citation will be filed in court" and "your license to drive may be withheld."

Selden phoned the bureau again and — after being put on hold for 25 minutes (long distance rates) — was told the photocopies had been lost and she should send more. She did. "Two weeks later," according to the Journal, "she got a letter from the bureau saying her proof had been rejected and the Seldens could either pay up or prepare for a court battle."

Cindy Selden's next step was to bring me into the argument. In a letter to the violations bureau, she cited the "ghost-car scam" often mentioned in this column. "Within days," the State Journal reported, "she got a letter back saying the bureau had 'reconsidered' her proof and had decided to drop the matter."

A COLUMNIST'S CONTRIBUTION

I really feel bad about my contribution to the thwarting of this grand effort to impress outsiders with the size and scope of Detroit's valiant battle against illegal parking. Who wouldn't want to visit here after learning that our Municipal Parking Department actually believes a Portland couple would obtain fake receipts from Wyoming, photocopy them twice, and make 2 expensive phone calls just to avoid paying a $30 fine, rather than for the principle of proving they wouldn't be intimidated by bureaucratic bozos.

You really have to admire the dogged determination of our parking people. Another example is provided by Betty Kowalski of Grand Blanc. Along with a clipping of one of my ghost-car columns, she sent the violations bureau a signed statement from a Flint bump shop saying her car was being repaired when it was supposedly parking overtime in Detroit. Helen Irving, director of the Municipal Parking Department, responded with unbelievable never-give-up valor.

After denying my charge that there's something smelly in an operation that continually tickets drivers for parking where they never parked, and collects big bucks from innocent people who'd rather pay than hassle, Irving told Kowalski:

"I would appreciate information regarding the driving condition of your vehicle at the time the ticket was issued. It was noted on the documents you submitted that authorization...to road test the vehicle on area streets, highways or elsewhere... was granted."

Talk about dogged. Irving suspects a Flint bump shop employee drove Kowalski's car 140 miles to park overtime in Detroit. Never mind that Kowalski's documents (I saw them) prove a road test was NOT authorized. The important point is that Irving remains hot on the trail.

Irving's contribution to Detroit's image can't really be underestimated, but I'll keep trying until someone intelligent at City Hall hears me. Perhaps if Councilman Eberhard began by stopping the bad publicity caused by the parking department, he could work his way up to keeping massacres out of headlines.

At DNR field office*DuFresne joins staff

A new forest fire officer has joined the staff at the Department of Natural Resources' Cass City Field Office.

He is Kim DuFresne, 34, who was previously stationed at the Gladwin Field Office.

DuFresne replaces Fire Officer Jim Melin, who retired after 4 years at the area field office.

Originally from Sanford, DuFresne has been employed with the DNR for only about 16 months, but he has several years of firefighting experience.

"I got into this basically by accident. This isn't something I planned to do," he remarked of his work as a DNR fire officer.

DuFresne explained that he came into contact with the DNR after he, his brother and 2 other men formed a volunteer fire department in Midland County's Lincoln Township in 1977. There's quite a bit of state land in the township, he noted, adding several of the volunteers began working with the DNR as "key men," or volunteer DNR firemen.

DuFresne served in that capacity for 7 years before accepting a full-time position with the DNR. He also served 13 years as fire chief in Lincoln Township.

"It's an enjoyable job. You get to help people and help people in their need," he said of his work, adding his No. one goal is to maintain a good working relationship with the community.

A state-certified Fire Fighters Training Council and Red Cross CPR instructor, DuFresne and his wife, Cathy, have 2 daughters, Renee, 6, and Rebecca, 5.

KIM DUFRESNE (above) recently joined the staff at the DNR's Cass City Field Office, where he serves as the area's new forest fire officer.

The Haire Net

On the face of it, how can you not applaud the U.S. Supreme Court ruling that says that ownership and viewing of child porn material in one's home is a cause for criminal prosecution?

The reason that the court said that the man in his home was not protected by the First Amendment guarantee of freedom of expression was that the protection of the children in the production was a legitimate exception.

If that decision would deter obscene child pornography, only a few weirdos would say it's not a good exchange.

Realistically, how many arrests will be made? We have dope dealing almost wide open in many urban areas. Story after story in all media tell how defenseless home owners cry out for police assistance which never comes. Just too many cases, too few officers to handle the needs.

It would be a rare day when authorities would take the trouble to get a search warrant to catch a pedophile.

Killing child porn would be much more effective if attention were focused on the big-volume dealers rather than an individual buyer. After all, when the film is in the can, the damage has been done.

While the true benefits of this decision are exceedingly slim, the erosion of our rights is a cause for concern.

Previously the viewing of even obscene material in one's home was protected. The law says that photographs and other material depicting child nudity is illegal. In a strict sense, that could mean parents taking pictures of children taking a bath is cause for prosecution.

It was the second decision in recent weeks by the Supreme Court that removes a little of our rights.

The court now says that a judge can order a school board to raise taxes to pay for large-scale desegregation plans and can override state tax-limitation laws to do it.

There is speculation that the courts could also order other local public institutions, mental hospitals and prisons, to raise taxes to solve problems under this ruling.

Not only does this erode our rights, but it leaves a huge hole for bureaucrats to forge ahead on a spending spree without a check by the taxpayer. It's shuddering to think of what education would cost if it weren't necessary to face the taxpayer for operating funds.

The limitation on taxes without a special vote in Michigan dates back to the great depression. While it certainly has had its flaws, it has worked for the over half century it has been in effect.

More important, both decisions put the power to govern in the hands of the courts and take it from us, and it's hard to see how that can be justified under the Constitution.

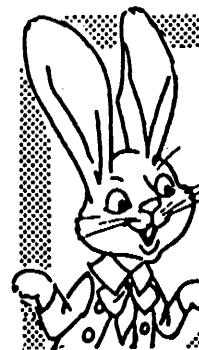

Don't forget! Sunday, May 13.

We have cards and gifts to help you make this a very special Mother's Day.

by John Haire
(And anyone else he can get to help.)

Here's a sad projection in that booklet, "2001 Imagine the Possibilities", often quoted in this trivia.

"Worldwide farm productivity will increase, which will further speed the decline of the U.S. farmer. By 2001 Americans will be importing as many food products as they export."

And all over the developing nations, people will continue to starve.

It promises to be a trying time for members of the Cass City Board of Education if plans to close a building materialize.

It's doubtful if it will be as stressful as it was a decade or so ago when millage requests failed and busses stopped running.

Three members of the board came within an eyelash of facing a recall election.

Although members often sail along for a few years without any difficult decisions, it's inevitable that the time will come when a seat on the board truly becomes a hot seat.

It nearly always centers around money or the lack of it as the demands of labor on one side and the reluctance of taxpayers to spend puts the board squarely in the middle.

Dave Osentoski reported last week that he had a buyer ready to re-open the automobile dealership building east of Cass City. It is now owned by the credit arm of General Motors.

However, General Motors Corporation feels that the area market potential does not warrant granting a franchise to re-open. General Motors Acceptance Corporation feels that a re-opening would not be justified from a business standpoint.

To try and boost the deal, a petition campaign in the business community is underway trying to persuade GM to change its mind.

Report no injuries in 4 mishaps

Troopers from the state police post in Caro reported no injuries in 4 vehicle accidents that occurred in the area over the past week.

Vehicles driven by Bruce A. Messer of Caro and Francis E. VanHorn, 3356 Washington St., Kingston, collided at the intersection of Cemetery and Decker-ville roads in Novesta Township Thursday.

Reports state Messer was westbound on Decker-ville Road at about 7:30 p.m. when VanHorn's vehicle pulled out into the intersection.

Both vehicles sustained moderate damage in the crash, according to troopers, who cited VanHorn for failing to yield the right of way.

Also Thursday, Gerald E. Rocheleau, Caro, reported hitting a deer while driving west on Decker-ville Road east of Hurd's Corner Road in Ellington Township.

Reports indicate his vehicle sustained minor damage in the 9:30 p.m. mishap.

A half hour earlier, a vehicle driven by Dennis H. Morell, 5721 Rossman Rd., Kingston, hit a deer in the westbound lane of Bay City-Forestville Road west of Grassmere Road in Elkland Township.

In the same township Sunday, Sandra K. Budreau of Caro reported hitting a deer while driving east on Decker-ville road west of Dodge Road. The accident occurred at about 7:30 a.m., reports state.

Tuscola voters to decide 2 millage issues, Sunday sales

Tuscola County commissioners were expected Tuesday to approve the language for a County Road Commission proposal that will ask voters in August to approve one mill for 2 years for primary road construction.

The issue is one of 3 voters are expected to decide this year.

The others are renewal of .5 of a mill for the county Medical Care Facility, and whether to allow packaged liquor sales on Sundays. Commissioners recently indicated they will place both of those questions on the General Election ballot in November.

If approved, the road work millage would be levied in 1990 and 1991, raising about $616,000 each year.

Of the total, an estimated $450,000 would go each year to the road commission. The remainder would be distributed to the county's villages and the City of Vassar.

According to road commission Clerk James Miklovic, a majority of the county's 350 miles of primary roads are in need of some repair.

"I think the safe thing to say is most of the primary roads out there need attention to some degree; some, of course, more than others," he said.

Without additional funding, those repairs may have to be done at the expense of township road work, he said, noting the county in some years has spent more than $200,000 on local roads.

"It's not a threat. It's just a fact that we will have to repair these (primary) roads sooner or later."

Sooner would be cheaper - in some cases a lot cheaper - than later, Miklovic indicated.

He cited 3 classifications of road damage - minor damage, such as cracks, that can be repaired at a cost of about $10,000 per mile by applying "slurry seal"; moderate damage, which requires re-surfacing at a cost of $25,000 to $30,000 per mile, and extensive damage, requiring a road-way to be rebuilt at a cost of $50,000 to $70,000 a mile.

Miklovic, who pointed out it's always best to repair minor damage before it becomes a major expense, said the millage funds, if approved, would be spread throughout the county so all residents would get some benefit.

The millage will be the road commission's third attempt in 2 years to secure primary road funding.

Voters in August 1988 rejected a request of 2 mills for 4 years. Three months later, a proposed $20 license plate surcharge to fund the work was soundly defeated.

Commissioners' decision to ask voters to decide whether to allow Sunday

Lecture slated at Caro church

John E. Sweeney of Northfield, Ill., will present a free Christian Science Lecture entitled, "How Far Can We Trust God?"

The lecture will be held at First Church of Christ, Scientist, corner of Lincoln and Pearl Streets, Caro, Thursday at 8 p.m.

The lecture will discuss questions such as "What are the bases for trusting in God? How far can this trust go? Is it logical and safe to trust God to heal physical sickness as well as other types of discord such as injury, job-related problems, inharmonious relationships?"

The lecture will examine the basis of such trust, as found in the Bible, and in experiencing healings through prayer.

Sweeney is a member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship in Boston, Mass.

The lecture is open to the public.

liquor sales was prompted by a request from packaged liquor dealers in the county, who have tried unsuccessfully in past years to do away with the local law.

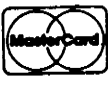

Most Michigan counties allow such sales, and store owners in the county say their customers are simply crossing county lines to purchase liquor on Sundays.

Motorcycle Safety classes are scheduled

Like spring flowers, motorcycles begin to appear with the warmer weather, and to ensure the safe use of motorcycles, the Caro Community Education Office will be offering 2 different motorcycle safety classes. The first class is the Performance Based Class and is for those 18 years or older who have experience riding motorcycles. All students are required to provide their own bike, helmet, full gloves, eye protection, long-sleeve arm protection and ankle-high footwear. Students under 18 with a valid driver's license are eligible if they have extensive off-road experience. A riding pre-test will be given prior to the class for all 16 and 17-year-old riders. Class date for this Performance Based Class is May 19. The second course is called the 20-Hour Class and is designed for students under 18 and those adults with little or no riding experience. Bikes will be provided and students must be at least 16 years old. The same riding gear as the Performance Based Class is required for this course also. The class will meet June 8, 9 and 10. Pre-registration is required for both classes, with a limited number of spots available. Interested persons can obtain more information by calling the community education office at 673-3166, ext. 241. Caro Community Education is the only organization in Huron, Sanilac, and Tuscola Counties to offer the motorcycle courses. Successful completion of one of these courses is required for younger riders (and recommended for older riders) before they can obtain their motorcycle endorsement.

Good times

Area seniors invited to visit a meal site during Older Americans Month

Good food, good friends and a fine time.

Ask any one of several area residents why they can be found at the Cass City Senior Meal Site Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons, and chances are good that will be their answer.

"We come for the fellowship," Bruce Holcomb, Cass City, remarked Friday at the meal site, located at the Good Shepherd Lutheran Church.

"We've lived here for 50 years," he said. "We enjoy it very much; we have good meals. We look forward to it."

His wife, Thelma, added, "Old friends we've known for years. . . we get to visit with them."

The Holcombs aren't alone. In fact, senior citizens in the Thumb can enjoy the same food and friendship at any one of 22 meal sites across Tuscola, Huron and Sanilac counties.

Area residents 60 years and older and their spouses are getting a special invitation to visit a meal site in May, Older American's month, by officials at the Human Development Commission, which administers the program, as well as several others geared towards seniors.

38 attend O-G seniors meeting

Thirty-eight members of the Owen-Gage Senior Citizens Club met at the parish hall of St. Agatha's Church in Gagetown for a potluck dinner Thursday.

Thirteen blood pressures were taken. Florence Schell gave the dinner prayer.

The afternoon meeting was called to order by President Elma Miklovich.

Les Beach read a humorous reading, Florence Schell read a poem about how her "get up" has gone and Miklovich read a poem about mothers.

It was noted that Senior Power Day is May 15 and there is a Senior Ball at the Colony House May 23. Anyone interested in going can contact Isabelle Seeley at 872-3588.

Gerry Carolan and Amasa Anthes won the door prizes.

Report wheel caps stolen

Cass City police recently investigated the larceny of 4 wheel center caps from a pickup truck.

According to reports, Jeffrey S. Wallace, 4748 Schweigler Rd., Cass City, told police he discovered the caps missing Saturday while the vehicle was parked at the Charmont, 6138 E. Cass City Rd.

Total value of the caps is estimated at $100.

Those who decide to try the Cass City Meal Site will find, interestingly, that the local meal site not only caters to seniors, it's managed by an area senior, Ann Stepka, 83.

Stepka, who worked to establish the local meal site, which first opened at the First Presbyterian Church 6 or 7 years ago, says she usually hosts 15 or 16 seniors each Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

"They get together to visit, they play (Bingo) and they have a good time," she commented.

NICE FOR THEM

"We make it nice for them," she said, adding she tries to do a little something extra on special occasions. "We take good care of them."

Stepka is assisted by her daughter, Isabelle Seeley, a former long time hospital dietary worker who handles the record keeping, serves as a volunteer driver and nutrition aide and, in general, lends a helping hand where it's needed.

The pair work together to provide a very precious commodity - companionship.

"A lot of them are alone," Seeley remarked. Without the meal site, "I think a lot of them would be pretty lonely. They like to get out and socialize and eat with someone."

Mary Vargo, Cass City, one of more than 20 seniors at the meal site Friday, agreed.

"I live alone and have for 17 years. Instead of getting used to it, it's getting more lonely," she said.

"There are some days that I don't talk to anybody for 2 or 3 days at a time, but I come out here and I can get a square meal and meet the ladies I used to know 15 or 20 years ago."

Walk-a-thon raises $2,130+ for family

A walk-a-thon held recently in Cass City to benefit the family of Becky Emmons raised some $2,130 in pledges and donations.

Money is still coming in, according to walk-a-thon organizer Sue Pawloski, who called the event "a success and a wonderful tribute" to Becky, a Gagetown area teen who died last month after a lengthy battle with cancer.

Pawloski said the most spirited couple taking part in the walk-a-thon were Gaylord and Charlotte Lapeer, Cass City, who walked 2.2 miles. The youngest was Becky Turner, 5, who walked the 4.2 mile course with the aid of her older sister.

A total of 64 persons participated in the fund raiser, Pawloski said.

ONE OF 106

Vargo is one of some 106 older residents who attend one of 7 meal sites in Tuscola County each day, according to HDC Executive Director Mary Ann Vandemark, who noted another 200 to 225 seniors citizens receive home delivered meals in the county daily.

Aside from Cass City, Tuscola County's meal sites are located in Caro, Kingston, Mayville, Vassar, Fairgrove and Millington. Sanilac County, meanwhile, has 10 meal sites and Huron County, 5.

About 45 percent of the cost of the meal program is paid for with a grant from the Region VII Area Agency on Aging. The remaining 55 percent is covered by USDA reimbursements, senior mil-lages and donations (a suggested donation of about $1.25 is requested at the meal sites).

Vandemark acknowledged socialization is an important aspect of the meal sites, but pointed out that much more is offered.

"It gets them socializing, but it also gives them access to a lot of information," she explained, adding various meal sites occasionally offer blood pressure and cholesterol checks, as well as guest speakers who discuss issues of importance to seniors.

The meals program also helps some older residents maintain their independence.

And that, Vandemark indicated, is one of the biggest dividends of the program. "Our seniors are very valuable," she added.

Editor's note: Area seniors will have the opportunity to take part in several events during Older Americans Month, including Senior Power Day, slated for May 15 at the Lansing Civic Center, and the Tri-County Senior Spring Ball, May 23 at the Colony House, Cass City.

Additional information on both events (including transportation), as well as other activities, is available by calling the Human Development Commission in Tuscola County (1-800-843-6394 or 673-4121), Huron County (269-9901) or Sanilac County (313-648-4497).

ISABELLE SEELEY (left) and assistant cook Diana Kennard serve up lunch to more than 20 seniors who attended the Cass City Meal Site, located at the Good Shepherd Lutheran Church, Friday afternoon.

GOOD FOOD, GOOD friends and a fine time can be found at the Cass City Meal Site, one of 22 such facilities open to seniors aged 60 and older in Tuscola, Huron and Sanilac counties.

"I STILL haven't retired," Ann Stepka (left), manager of the Cass City Meal Site, says. Stepka, 83, and her daughter, Isabelle Seeley (right), work together to ensure the local program runs smoothly.

Arson fires costly

About fourteen percent of the wildfires in Michigan each year are set deliberately. These incendiary fires tend to be larger, and more costly to suppress, than fires started from other causes.

Arson fires can be extremely destructive. An arson fire in Ogemaw County burned 500 acres, and destroyed 3 cabins, a pole barn, and a travel trailer. A DNR firefighter was burned on this fire, and a major recreation area had to be evacuated.

Persons who have information concerning any suspicious wildfire are asked to call the Michigan Arson Hotline: 1-800-44-ARSON. The caller's name will be kept anonymous, and, if the information given leads to an arrest, the caller may receive a reward.

Host Kingston wins boys' track meet

Andre' Damm remained undefeated in North Central Thumb League track competition by winning both the 100 and 200 meter dashes at Kingston Tuesday.

Host Kingston (123), however, dominated the meet that also included schools from Peck (55), Carsonville Port-Sanilac (48) and Caseville (13.5). The 'Dogs finished with 40 points.

Coach Arnie Besonen, who proudly boasts of his boys' 400 and 800 meter teams, was pleased with his 400 meter relay team that posted a winning time of 50.46, but was disheartened when the same runners mishandled a baton exchange in the 800 meter relay, which possibly cost the team a first place finish.

In the girls' competition, CPS nipped Kingston 83 to 74, while Owen-Gage finished a distant third with a team total of 52.

Maclin Damm was the only Bulldog lady to record a first place finish. It came in the 100 meter dash, where her time of 14:08 topped the 5-school pack.

O-G in key clash for North Central League crown

Coach Harvey Billy's Owen-Gage baseball team remained in the thick of the North Central Thumb League title chase last week, picking up 3 wins in 4 tries and extending their league mark to 6-2.

Owen-Gage's next league encounter will be Thursday when Billy's diamond 9 travels to Deckerville. The contest could very well decide the NCTL pennant, as the Eagles stand one game in front of the Bulldogs at 7-1.

Kevin Koch extended his record to 4-0 against North Huron Thursday, besting Jim Koenig 6-1.

In the nightcap, the 'Dogs suffered their only loss of the week, a heart breaker in extra innings, 3-2. Chad Sturtt was on the mound for the losers.

Koch got all the runs he needed in the visitors' first at bats in the opener.

Senior Bryan Abbe doubled in the game's first run and then rode home on a Sturtt single.

Koch, who holds a stirring 1.30 ERA, allowed only 2 hits and struck out 8.

Leading 4-1, Owen-Gage added 2 insurance runs in the 6th inning.

The big blow came off the bat of center fielder Bob Haldane, whose triple scored Koch, who had singled to start the Bulldog rally. Moments later Haldane came home on a mishandled grounder off the bat of Craig Smith.

Mike Kady led the Bulldogs at the plate, picking up 2 singles in 3 trips to the plate.

In the 2nd game two costly throwing errors, with 2 outs in the 7th frame, cost the Bulldogs a chance for victory.

Owen-Gage tied the contest at 2-all in the 4th inning. Koch was responsible for those tallies, as he doubled in Sturtt and Mike Errer, who opened the frame with

MERLE FARVER, of Elkton, is all smiles after acing Rolling Hill's 5th hole Saturday. Farver used a pitching wedge on the 102 yard hole to record his first career hole-in-one.

O-G splits twin bills

The Owen-Gage softball team ended the week much better than they started it.

Thursday the Bulldogs swept a twin bill at North Huron, downing the Warriors, 8-7 and 12-0.

Monday the 'Dogs fell victims to the defending North Central Thumb League champion Peck Pirates, 1-0 and 7-0.

Coach Judy Campbell's squad now stands at 4-4 on the year.

At Kinde, Coach Campbell lauded her team's efforts on defense, where they made only 6 errors in 12 innings of play, a drastic improvement from earlier this year.

Vicki Ricker pitched well enough to record the win for the Bulldogs in the opener, while Michelle Tkacz shut out the hosts in the nightcap.

Several Bulldogs had a banner afternoon at the plate. Ricker led the Bulldog hit parade, picking up 4 hits, including a triple in the second game.

Monday the Bulldogs' bats were silenced as Pirate hurlers Deanna Kip and Shelly Ross limited the hosts to only 5 hits on the night. The duo also struck out 10.

Ricker and Tkacz handled Owen-Gage's pitching duties and suffered the losses. Owen-Gage will travel to meet Deckerville Thursday.

Hawk boys fall in title chase...

Cass City's hopes for a Thumb B Association baseball title were dashed last week as the Hawks lost twice to Bad Axe and split with Marlette.

It's easy to sum up why we lost, Coach Doug Hall said. We just weren't able to hit at all. Our pitching was good enough to win all of the games, he added.

In the Bad Axe doubleheader played Monday, April 30, Cass City lost by identical 4-1 scores. The first game was decided in the first 2 innings. Jason Robertson was touched for 6 hits and 4 runs in these innings before being relieved by Greg Graham.

Graham shut the door on the Hatchets the rest of the way. Copeland was effective in the clutch. He blanked the Hawks on 5 hits until the last inning, when Troy Benitez lashed a home run to avert the shutout.

Bill Langenburg pitched the nightcap and matched the Hatchets' Campbell pitch for pitch all game. Each hurler gave up 4 hits as Bad Axe notched the 4-1 decision. The Hatchets scored 2 unearned runs in the fifth, when Langenburg struck out Copeland only to have the ball get by the catcher and allow runners on second and third to score.

Robertson picked up 2 hits in a losing cause.

Brent Sturtevant started on the mound against Marlette Thursday and it just wasn't his day. He pitched to just 4 batters before being relieved by Graham as the Red Raiders scored twice.

Graham then pitched a one-hitter until he allowed a hit in the first extra inning that scored the winning run.

The Hawks got back into the game with a run in the third on hits by Sturtevant and Mark Irer and tied it in the fourth on hits by Robertson and Scott Dillon.

Cass City's bats finally came alive in the nightcap, making it easy for Sturtevant, who started, and Langenburg, who came on in the third to notch the win, 12-5.

Cass City rapped out 12 hits against Wehner, Ray and Gallagher. Graham and Benitez led the attack with 3 hits each.

...Hawk girls also fall out of race

Cass City's hopes for a Thumb B Association softball title were given a severe jolt last week when the Hawks lost a doubleheader Thursday to Marlette. Cass City came into the game with a 5-1 league (9-1 overall) record after defeating Bad Axe twice the previous Monday.

In the opening game against the Raiders, the Hawks faced all-state hurler Jill Atkins and lost 11-4 in a game that was very close until the fifth. The Hawks trailed 5-4 but 4 walks and 3 errors enabled the winners to push 6 runs across and ice the game.

Cass City hit Atkins surprisingly well, collecting 8 hits, including 2 each by Vicki Robinson, Jodi Benitez and Shannon Sapien. Beth Powell was charged with the loss.

While the Hawks were able to solve the slants of Atkins, they could do nothing with the less publicized Goss, who tossed a neat 2-hitter while whitewashing Cass City, 12-0.

Terri Gibson started and hurled the first 3 innings. She developed a sore shoulder and was replaced by Jennifer Fruendt, a freshman, who finished the game.

The 2 wins pushed

Marlette's record to 7-1 to lead the league.

BAD AXE GAMES

There wasn't much to get excited about in the doubleheader win over Bad Axe. Cass City won both games by lopsided scores called after 5 innings because of the "mercy" rule.

The Hawks won the first game, 18-7. Every player in the line-up collected at least one hit. Jandi Hillaker and Sue Papp showed the way with 3 hits each as the Hawks pounded out 15 safeties.

The game was decided by the time 2 innings had been played. The Hawks scored 4 times in the first and 6 times in the second. Powell chalked up the win, pitching a 4-hitter.

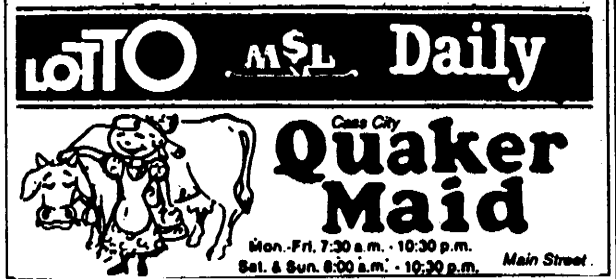

Fruendt made her first start of the season in the nightcap. Given outstanding support, she had little trouble registering the win, 16-6. The Hawks again scored 10 runs in the first 2 innings and lashed out 20 hits in the 5 innings. Fruendt allowed 6 hits, walked 5 and struck out 6.

Every player got at least one hit and Robinson, Gibson and Papp each had 3 hits.

Hawks top Bad Axe

Caro shows power in easy win over Cass City

It's hard to see how anyone in the Thumb B Association will challenge the Caro Tigers for the championship of girls' track this season.

The Tigers showed awesome power in sweeping by the Hawks Tuesday, May 1, 113-39. Cass City bounced back to win a dual meet with Bad Axe, 90-62, Wednesday.

Santos won the long jump, the 100 meter dash and the 100-meter hurdles. She also ran a leg on the winning 800-meter relay team with Jennifer Romstead, Jenny Nye, and Ross. The Hawks won 12 of the 16 events.

Hawk boys bow to Caro, Bad Axe

Defending champion Caro Tigers showed why they are odds-on favorites to repeat as Thumb B Association track champions this spring as they rolled over Cass City, 125-38, Tuesday, May 1, at Caro. It was the first of 2 losses in conference competition during the week. Thursday the Hawks lost to Bad Axe, 83-80.

Against the Tigers the Hawks won 4 events, 2 of them by Brent Morell, who took the discus and the shot put. The Hawks were strong in the field events, also winning the pole vault with Bob Leffler's 9-6 vault.

In addition to taking 12 first places, Caro also won all but 2 second places. Tim Rutkowski placed second in the 100 and 300-meter hurdles.

BAD AXE MEET

The Hawks were forced to compete without one of the top performers last week, and the absence of Tim Englehart probably enabled the Hatchets to win a narrow victory.

Englehart, who is one of the conference's premier performers in the high jump and the long jump and also is the Hawks' dash man, was not eligible.

Pacing the Hawks was Rutkowski, who won 3 events, the 100-meter hurdles, 200-meter dash and the high jump. Morell was a double winner with wins in the shot put and the discus.

Tourney pairs Hawks, Hatchets

Cass City will play Bad Axe in the pre-districts in both baseball and softball in games scheduled May 25 at 4:30 p.m. at Bad Axe. If the Hawks survive the pre-district competition, they will play in the districts June 2 at 10 a.m., also at Bad Axe.

The Hawk girls should have an excellent chance to advance, as they easily defeated the Hatchets in regular season play.

Based on regular season play, the baseball game between Bad Axe and Cass City promises to be a stiff test for Cass City, which lost both regular season games by close margins.

In the districts the scheduled calls for the Bad Axe-Cass City winner to meet the Deckerville-Sandusky winner.

In the bottom bracket, the Ubyl-USA winner will meet the Harbor Beach-Lakers winner. The finals will be played at 2 p.m.

Jim Fox clarifies resignation

Jim Fox, an employee at Cass City Schools for 14 years who was recently forced to resign, explained the reasons for the resignation as bus driver supervisor and custodian.

It all started, Fox said, when some of his tools and other items were taken at the school. My investigation led me to several students. I took these students from class and narrowed the investigation to one student.

This is where I was wrong, I admitted. I grabbed the student by the hair and the back of the neck. He then took me to the place where he had thrown the tools in the bushes. I recovered them and sent the student back to his class. I thought that was the end of it.

Supt. Ken Micklash said that he didn't want to get into any discussion about the case, but added that the incident was not the only one that caused concern.

Fox had the support of many of the bus drivers he supervised in the incident, including 2 that wrote a letter to the editor voicing their view.

Jury finds teen guilty of voluntary manslaughter

The 5-day murder trial of Caro teenager Chad J. Lyttaker ended Friday in Lapeer County Circuit Court with 2 guilty verdicts. A jury consisting of 5 men and 8 women found Lyttaker guilty of voluntary manslaughter and possession of a firearm in the commission of a felony. Bond for the 18-year-old was set at $15,000. Sentencing is to be scheduled.

Lyttaker was initially charged with open murder in connection with the Nov. 10, 1989, shooting death of Randall C. Fielder, 18, of Caro.

Fielder was shot once with a .357 magnum revolver at his parents' home at 143 Ellington St., Caro. Lyttaker turned himself in to Tuscola County Sheriff's deputies shortly after the incident.

A change of venue to Lapeer County was granted by Tuscola County Circuit Court Judge Patrick R. Joslyn in February after attempts to seat a jury failed.

Letters to the editor

Story statement was misleading

Letter to Editor, I was somewhat upset after reading in your newspaper the manner in which the school incident with Jim Fox was described.

The statement "his alleged relationship with a student," I feel, was misleading and using the word "relationship" made it sound sordid, which it was not. I think the words "school incident" would have been sufficient. Why not have more compassion for the man along with his parents, children, ex-wife and wife and print it with more discretion.

Also, he was an Air Force Lt. Colonel and not an Army Colonel. Perhaps you could get your facts straight before printing them and hurting people.

Name withheld

In poor taste

To The Editor, We are writing in reference to the statement made in the article published May 2 concerning the reported incident about Mr. Fox.

We feel the wording was in very poor taste. It left too much to the imagination. It was a disciplinary problem and nothing more.

Reports like this cause undue criticism by the public when they are unaware of the complete facts. Such reports create problems we do not need.

We feel the paper owes Jim Fox an apology for the way the article was written.

Thank you,

The Cass City Bus Drivers
Jeanette LaPeer,
Bus Steward

HEALTH TIPS

Unproven remedies dangerous, costly

It's a fact. Unproven remedies for arthritis are a waste of time, money and, in many cases, "hazardous to your health."

Nevertheless, studies show that 90 percent of Americans with a significant degree of arthritis will try a questionable treatment at some point. And, of the people who have tried an unproven remedy, one in 10 report harmful side effects.

Some examples of unproven remedies and their known side effects are:

Ant, Bee and Snake Venom - Bee venom is highly poisonous. The sting produces an immediate local inflammatory reaction consisting of pain, redness, swelling and heat. Very bad allergic reactions can develop unexpectedly, leading to shock and even death.

WD-40 - This extremely flammable product was developed to protect metal, stop squeaks and loosen rusty parts. Using the product as a cure for arthritis can cause severe reactions such as rashes, swelling and loss of hair. Swallowing the product can cause nausea, vomiting and diarrhea.

Willard's Water - This product was originally a cleaning agent developed in the 1930's. It contains ingredients that should not be ingested, such as rock salt and magnesium sulfate.

Vitamins/Minerals - Although vitamins and minerals are not harmful in most cases, some people - anxious to ease the pain of arthritis - take too many, which can lead to an overdose.

Despite the potentially dangerous side effects associated with unproven remedies, some people with arthritis continue to rely on them as a form of treatment.

As Dr. Arthur Grayzel, the Arthritis Foundation's Senior Vice-president for Medical Affairs, points out, people with arthritis are particularly vulnerable to trying unproven remedies because of the absence of a cure and the degree of pain associated with the disease.

Dr. Grayzel stresses that questionable treatments should not be used because they may lead to severe joint damage down the road. "A few people who use unproven remedies will, indeed, experience a loss of pain which leads them to believe the treatment is helping or curing their arthritis," Dr. Grayzel says. "However, what they don't know is that the treatment is only masking the true symptoms and when not treated properly, severe joint deformity can result. When this happens, unfortunately, the only alternative is surgery."

Even though there are several unproven remedies that should not be used - under any circumstances - there are also some unproven remedies that are usually harmless. These include:

*Acupuncture
*Copper Bracelets
*Mineral Springs
*Spas
*Topical Creams

However, before using any product as a cure for arthritis, it is best to consult a physician first. According to Dr. Grayzel, "Any unproven remedy can be harmful if it causes you to stop your prescribed treatment."

To help consumers make informed choices, and in recognition of national Arthritis Month in May, the Arthritis Foundation, Michigan Chapter is offering the booklet, "Unproven Remedies," which is available free of charge. For a copy, contact the Chapter at 23999 Northwestern Highway, Suite 210, Southfield, Mich. 48075, or call 350-3030.

Your neighbor says

Sneaker prices are ridiculous

If you allow yourself to sneak a peak into the sneaker industry, you'll find all is not well in paradise.

One problem in the $10-billion athletic footwear business is that a small loan may be required to purchase some of the brand name shoes.

For instance, the Reebok Pump on sale goes for around $170. Another popular trade name, marketed at teenage youths, is Nike's Air Jordane. To run, jump and shoot baskets like their spokesperson, Michael Jordan, will cost parents $125.

But the biggest controversy concerning the high priced shoes, which are considered status symbols in teen circles, are the crimes connected with owning a pair.

Assaults and drug related crimes to obtain the fancy footwear are so common that in Detroit youngsters say it's inevitable.

Last year, teens were shot in New York and Houston over a pair of gym shoes.

Even the question of racial bias has sprung up in athletic footwear trade. Some experts claim black athlete endorsed ads glamorize aggressive behavior to black youths, whereas white athlete ad campaigns are portrayed in a more positive environment.

We talked to your neighbor, Paul Szarapski, about shoes. "I think the prices are ridiculous," says the Cass City resident.

A 1989 graduate of Cass City High School, Szarapski says he would never spend $100 on a pair of shoes.

"I am cheap," smiles Szarapski. "These shoes only cost $9," the 20-year-old said, pointing to a pair of black sneakers.

Szarapski, who is employed on an area farm, feels there's nothing wrong with the way athletes are portrayed in commercials.

If they can make a buck, why not?

Szarapski, single, is the son of Dick and Norma Szarapski.

New books at the library

THE CAT WHO TALKED TO GHOSTS by Lilian Jackson Braun (mystery). Iris Cobb, the resident-curator of the local historical museum, tells Jim Qwilleran she's hearing ghosts; after she dies of what the coroner says is a heart attack, Qwilleran and his Siamese cats, Yum Yum and the psychic zany Koko, move in to find out what could have scared her to death. Unearthing old and well-kept secrets in Moose County family histories, Qwilleran also investigates some newcomers to the area. Notably the museum's neighbors down the road at Fugtree Farm, and the deceased's son whose inheritance is considerable.

WHITE NINJA by Eric V. Lustbader (fiction). This is the third book of a trilogy about the adventures of Nicholas Linnear - the ninja - whose mother was Japanese and whose father was a British officer. As the story begins, Linnear is having marital problems, and his best friend, chairman of a large corporation, is fighting off a computer virus and pressure from a Japanese business coalition. But an even bigger crisis exists: though Linnear has become "shiro" (white) ninja, "an enemy has seeped into his soul," leaving him helpless and weak.

DEVICES AND DESIRES by P.D. James (mystery). The story takes place on Larksoken, a remote windswept headland in Norfolk, where the presence of a huge nuclear energy plant serves as a metaphor for the power of the past to rule over the characters. Commander Adam Dalgliesh of New Scotland Yard, in Larksoken to settle an estate left him at the death of a relative, is drawn into the investigation of a serial killer, the Whistler. Dalgliesh's neighbors include the power station's director, Alex Mair; his elegant sister Alice, a cookbook author; acting administrator - and Alex's former lover - Hilary Roberts; and anti-nuclear activist Neil Pascoe. The next signature killing, of the widely disliked Roberts, turns out to have occurred hours after a young man who firmly establishes his identity as the Whistler commits suicide. The question of who murdered Roberts, then, centers around motive.

DNR OFFICIALS are reminding area residents who plan to burn outdoors to first obtain a permit. Extreme caution is urged, according to officials, who say a blaze that scorched nearly 90 acres southwest of Cass City last March (above) is a good example of what can happen when burning under windy conditions.

Deford's Betty Murphy gearing up for retirement

At about the same time she married Keith Murphy. Her first job was at the Stone School, located 4 miles east, 2 north and a half east of Cass City, where she taught 8 grades. After one year, she accepted a teaching position at the Chambers School in Evergreen Township.

"Then Mike, my oldest son, was born. I stayed home a year with him, and then I went back to teaching again," she said, adding she taught at the McHugh School, which was located where the NFO building is now, for 2 years. Murphy recalls her next job, as a fifth and sixth grade teacher at the then newly-built Evergreen Elementary School, with particular fondness.

LIKE HEAVEN

"To go from teaching all 8 grades to 2 grades was, you know, just like heaven," she said, grinning.

Another maternity leave again sidelined Murphy's teaching career, but a year after daughter Kris was born, she returned to Evergreen in 1957 to teach third and fourth grade.

After 3 years there, she accepted a second grade teaching post at Campbell Elementary School, which was later followed by another year off when son Scott was born in 1962. She then went back to Campbell, teaching kindergarten for 8 years.

In the meantime, Murphy had earned her bachelor's degree from Central Michigan College in 1961 and, 7 years later, would earn her master's degree in counseling from the same school.

After giving birth to her last child, Patrick, in 1971, Murphy switched to a sixth grade class at Cass City Intermediate School, where she remained for 7 years before accepting her present job in 1978.

MANY TIMES

"Many times I thought, I'll only teach a couple years," she recalled of her long and varied tenure.

However, she pointed out, "Each time I was home I found out I was not cut out to be homemaker. I guess I just enjoy teaching; I know I love teaching. I do not enjoy housekeeping."

As teaching principal at Deford, Murphy spends 4 1/2 days teaching and the other half day in the office.

Serving in both capacities has given her an opportunity to witness many changes in education over the years.

A big increase in paperwork -- government, not student related -- is among the changes, she observed. "And it's getting more and more because the government's expecting more of the school. We know we need to have a good school, but you have to have it all written down now."

At the same time, she noted, "Things are changing so fast in education, with the use of computers."

The amount of knowledge that children have today via TV and videos, and an increasingly mobile society, also has expanded, Murphy said.

PHILOSOPHY

Through all the changes, the veteran educator has maintained a philosophy towards teaching that combines discipline with smiles, winks and a few pats on the back for her pupils.

Murphy remembered interviewing for the job of teaching principal 12 years ago, noting that she told the school board that, yes, she does believe in spanking, but used wisely and with love.

"Kids need love, and often the kids that need it the most are the ones who are hardest to love," she said.

Most students have responded warmly to her approach. Still, she finds it difficult to forget the occasional failure.

"There was one boy... I never felt that I really reached him," she said. "You wonder was there a reason that he was hurting that I wasn't able to help in some way."

Overall, the past 38 years have been good, according to the grandmother of 6, who noted she will miss her students and fellow teachers in retirement, but not the alarm clock.

Classes will be replaced by golf outings, quilting, knitting and a trip to Florida," Murphy remarked, adding she and her husband "aren't afraid to be senior citizens."

"I'm going to do what I want to do when I want to do it."

And while she's enjoying a well-deserved extended vacation, Murphy indicated she'll have the satisfaction of having few regrets.

She added, "I wouldn't change a thing."

Burning permits required

windy day. "Basically, use good common sense, get a permit and make sure there are no restrictions," he added.

Persons interested in obtaining a burning permit should contact the nearest fire department or, in Tuscola, Huron and Sanilac counties, the Cass City DNR Field Office (phone 872-4009).

Adelines set dinner show

The Lake Huron Chapter of the Sweet Adelines will present a dinner and show at the Colony House near Cass City May 18. The concert will feature the male quartets, "Power Play" and "Family Forum."

This year's beneficiary, receiving part of the proceeds from the event, will be the Huron County Council for the Prevention of Child Abuse and Neglect.

The "CA/N" Council works to prevent child abuse thru programs like: Babes: a puppet presentation to elementary children; Caress: a volunteer program for new mothers; Bubblerian Encounter: a play on good and bad touching for second and third graders, and Parent Nurturing: a very intensive educational program for families.

Last year there were 210 reported cases of child abuse and neglect in Huron County.

Tickets are available from any member of the "CA/N" Council. The Lake Huron Chapter of the Sweet Adelines, or by calling Mary Ann Tenczor at 269-9201.

Taking stock

By Bill Myers

I am always impressed with the Du Pont story. Every summer I get updated by an up-and-coming plant manager from Camden, S.C., Jim Prettyman, when he comes to Beulah, Mich., to sail with -- and against -- me.

(For a young fellow, he sails quite well. But you need maturity in this sport, and you have to be sly and devious. It takes time to develop those traits.)

Jim was telling about the company's philosophy. "We look at our competitors, and they can get the same raw materials we can, the same computers, the same sort of plants and locations, and more or less the same technology.

But the one thing we have that they don't is our employees. This is a great source of ideas for efficiency, for a better product and more of it. And we pay our people accordingly. For example, if a man comes up with an idea that will help the company, I can give him up to $2,000 on the spot. No committee approval, no red tape, no delay, no higher-up approval."

Jim was sent to the Camden, S.C., plant because of his success in getting employees interested in what they were making, in learning why the plant's products had to be produced economically, and with superior quality.

One of the things they make at Camden is some synthetic goop that is sold to carpet manufacturers. The way Jim described the product, it resembles the stuff that babies regurgitate when they are fed too fast. Hard to be inspired making such a compound.

So Jim took some busloads of the plant workers up to the carpet factory and showed them how this messy stuff they made at Camden became attractive carpeting. The men were impressed, and their jobs had a little more meaning.

You do stunts like that and the employees find more satisfaction from their jobs. They find ways to do things better, and they get promptly paid off in cash.

Could this sort of treatment be a reason why Du Pont has virtually no unions in this vast company?

The publication "Directions," foretelling what the company will be like when the 21st century gets here, will probably be sent to you if you write:

Editor, Du Pont Directions, Room 7706, Wilmington, Del. 19898. Predictions I found intriguing:

*The work force will be older on average, with the number of people age 48-53 up 70%. The median age will be up 6 years.

*Minorities will account for 30% of additions to payrolls.

*Instead of the traditional long chains of authority the company will be broken into smaller fiefdoms. Plant managers, for example, will be sultans instead of majors.

*Productivity, static since the 70's, will be going up 1.4% a year. From that, a higher standard of living.

*The company will be more global. More production and more sales outside America. Maybe half the company total.

*Manufacturing will be tightly tied in with research, marketing and engineering, marching along together as a family.

*Research will be teamed with marketing. For example, if Du Pont develops a new material for surgical gloves, they may sell the gloves themselves or jointly with others. (A great field. Everyone except grandma is wearing the things now.)

*Despite a growing appetite for oil, and despite fears of the Worry Warts that the supply will run out, Du Pont through its Conoco division, expects that its reserves will be greater in they year 2000 than they are now.

About the only note of pessimism Du Pont has for years ahead is the increasing role of Federal government in business, in making it harder for business to be competitive.

Editor's note: This is the last installment of Taking Stock as the column's author, retired editor and investment counselor Bill Myers, is retiring from writing.

DEFORD ELEMENTARY School teaching Principal Betty Murphy will retire in June after a lengthy tenure in education, including the past 12 years at Deford, where each week she spends 4 1/2 days in the classroom and the remaining half day in the office.
