CASS CITY EMERGENCY TEAMS honed their lifesaving skills Monday night in a mock head-on accident near the corner of M-53 and M-81. The 90 minute exercise culminated with 2 victims being airlifted to Hills and Dales Hospital.

Chief Root: mock crash valuable learning tool

The distinct sound of whirling helicopter blades over Cass City early Monday evening signaled trouble. About 4 miles east of town, 2 vehicles had collided head-on and all 4 occupants were injured and trapped.

Firemen worked to free the patients and prepared to guide the St. Mary's Flightcare helicopter in for a landing, while ambulance personnel administered first aid. Before long, 2 of the patients were being transported by ambulance and the other 2 by helicopter to Hills and Dales General Hospital for treatment. The scene wasn't a new one for area emergency personnel, but this time it was all pretend. More than 20 area emergency personnel took part in the simulated accident, conducted just east of M-53 on Cass City Road, to gain experience in several areas.

It was a particularly important experience for fire fighters, who are responsible for helping to ensure that Flightcare has a clear area to land and pick up seriously injured accident victims, according to Elkland Township Fire Chief Dick Root. He pointed out that the 90-minute exercise also provided an opportunity to practice using the Jaws of Life, which were utilized Monday to "extricate" the accident victims.

"I think it was a very valuable lesson," he added. Taking part in the exercise, aside from Elkland fire fighters, the Flightcare crew and Hills and Dales General Hospital, were personnel from the Elmwood-Gagetown Fire Department, Cass City-Mercy Ambulance and the Department of Natural Resources.

Deford couple shows Grand Champion Wether at State Fair

A Deford area couple's angora goats recently scored big at the Michigan State Fair, winning a fistful of ribbons, including Grand Champion Wether (neutered male) and Reserve Champion Wether honors. The couple, Don and Debbie Krug, were among the owners of some 50 goats entered in the Sept. 1 show, held towards the end of the 11-day state fair. "I guess what we were most pleased with was we won the breeder's trophy," Debbie remarked Friday. She explained that the trophy is awarded based on the number of first, second and third-place points awarded to competitors who breed and show their own animals. It's common for some people to buy top angora goats at shows in Texas and then show them in Michigan, which is why it's nice to be recognized for breeding top quality angoras in Michigan, Debbie noted. Aside from grand and reserve champion honors, the Krugs won first and fourth place in the Senior Doe Kid Class, second place in the Junior Doe Kid Class, third and fifth place in the Senior Yearling Doe Class, second and third place in the Adult Doe Class, and second and third place in the Dam and Daughter Class. It was an impressive showing for the area residents, who have been raising angora goats for only a few years. "We moved up here (from Ann Arbor) in 1983 and got our first goats in 1984," Debbie said. She laughed and remarked that she and her husband started out with 2 neutered males. "I had never seen an angora before in my life when we moved up here. Neither one of us knew what they were, but we thought they were cute," she continued. Today, the couple manage an average of 80 to 100 goats at their Pinecreek Farm, located in southwestern Novesta Township. Although both have other jobs—Don works for Detroit Edison and Debbie is an animal technician at the Bad Axe Animal Clinic—Debbie recently decided to spend more time with the goats, which have turned into a full-time business involving the sale of mohair. "We sell most of the hair from the goats to hand spinners," Debbie remarked. "We breed our goats to give a finer, softer hair that appeals to the hand spinners. A lot of doll makers buy the hair, too." Although some of the hair is sold in Michigan, including a wool mill in Frankenthum, the Krugs ship hair to Georgia, Indiana, Ohio, Florida and Wisconsin. What isn't sold to hand spinners goes to a warehouse in Texas, where members of the Northern Angora Goat Ranchers Cooperative sell their products. Although the Krugs receive an average of $4 to $8 per pound for their better quality mohair, Debbie, who is on the cooperative's board of directors, remarked the price can vary from $1 to $8 a pound in a year. "It goes up and down like any other form of commodity," she added. Debbie said adult goats grow about an inch of hair a month. "An adult goat will shear 8 to 10 pounds of hair per clip, and that's done twice a year," she explained, adding the young goats' first clipping is the most valuable. Aside from selling raw mohair, the Krugs offer a variety of mohair items for sale through their own business, Pinecreek Products. Debbie, who spends a lot of time spinning and weaving at home, makes saddle blankets, rugs and yarn. She also sells silk screen T-shirts featuring pictures of angora goats. Although it's taken awhile to show a profit, Debbie indicated the time and effort spent improving the couple's angora goat herd, about half of which is composed of registered animals, is paying off. She added, "It's nice when you can make money doing something you really enjoy."

DEBBIE KRUG OF Deford shows off the angora goat that won Grand Champion Wether honors at the state fair. Krug and her husband showed several angoras, bringing home several awards, including the Breeder's Award (above).

2-year pact

17% wage boost for O-G teachers

Owen-Gage teachers will receive a 9 percent salary hike this year and another 8 percent raise next year under a new, 2-year contract ratified by the Board of Education Monday night. In addition, the board approved 5 percent pay increases in each of the next 2 years for the district's 20 non-certified staff members.

The school board unanimously approved the new union labor agreement, overwhelmingly ratified by the district's 21 teachers Sept. 4, after meeting in executive session for about 65 minutes.

Following the contract vote in open session, school Supt. Harley Kirby refused to release any details pending signing of the agreement by both sides.

But Owen-Gage Education Association President Manuel Thies, contacted at home late Monday night, agreed to discuss the contract.

Thies noted he didn't have any specific figures in front of him, but pointed out salary was by far the biggest issue in the new contract.

Other changes include pay increases in 4 or 5 positions in the contract's extracurricular schedule, he said. Examples cited by Thies included golf coach and driver's education teachers. A pay increase also is built in for in-house substitute teachers, he added.

In terms of fringe benefits, minor increases in vision and orthodontic insurance coverage were approved.

The contract also includes a retirement incentive, according to Thies, who explained that teachers who opt to retire in the first year of the contract will receive an incentive payment of $3,000.

Overall, he repeated, "Salary is the major item. The fringe benefits went up very little as far as cost to the district."

Thies acknowledged teachers are getting "nice raises," but added, "You have to see where we're coming from."

He pointed out that the teachers' previous 3-year contract, which covered the 1987-88, 1988-89 and 1989-90 school years, gave teachers "step" pay increases only and included no new money—no raises. Teachers in other area districts, meanwhile, were negotiating yearly increases of around 5 percent during that time period.

The teachers' previous contract was ratified in June 1989 after 2 years of negotiations.

Long-time school staff members, noting that a tentative agreement for the new contract was reached Aug. 23, said this is the first time in at least 2 dozen years that

Owen-Gage teachers have had a tentative labor agreement going into a new school year.

Although Kirby declined comment on how the new union labor agreement will affect the district's budget, he said the non-certified employee pay hikes will cost the district $9,989 in the first year and $10,951 in the second year.

Non-certified staff members, which include cooks, bus drivers and custodians, received pay increases of about 2.5 percent in each of the past 2 school years after taking a pay freeze in 1987.

school officials appeared cautiously optimistic after hearing preliminary enrollment figures.

Gagetown Elementary School Principal William Britt reported a total of 167 students in grades K-6 and 157 in the high school for a combined enrollment of 324. The total represents a loss of 6 students compared to the 1989-90 school year.

The real test will take place during the annual Fourth Friday Count Sept. 28, when schools throughout the state will conduct official student tallies.

School Supt. Harley Kirby has indicated Owen-Gage district could lose as many

Recycling starts in Cass City

Thirty interested residents attended a recycling organizational meeting Monday night at the Cass City Municipal Building and as a result, recycling will begin in Cass City Sept. 29.

After that, anyone in the area will be able to bring recyclable trash to the trailer provided by Blue Water Recycling Company of Port Huron each Tuesday from 1 to 4 p.m. and Saturday from 9 to 12 noon.

The key here is recyclable trash. Not all trash is acceptable and there will be a little effort needed to make trash recyclable. For instance, it was disclosed by Toad Smith, Blue Water Recycling representative, old newspapers are welcome but magazines can only be accepted if they are torn apart to include about 10 pages or less and stuffed in with the newspapers.

A list of acceptable waste and times it will be accepted will be published in the next issue of the Chronicle.

The waste will be placed in boxes in trailers provided and attendants will divide the trash by type. Only the attendants will place the trash in the containers and that's where the volunteers come in. Plans call for 2 persons to be present at all times when the trash trailer is open.

Nat Tuttle, Cass City, who chaired the meeting, told the group that he had witnessed the operation at Lexington and was impressed. There was absolutely no dirt or mess. It was spotless, he explained.

While recycling is new to the Cass City area, it is not new to the Thumb. Already underway are similar projects in Harbor Beach, Bad Axe, Caseville and Millington.

The project will be under the direction of Judy Reinhold, Cass City, who was elected chairman. She said that an effort will be made to have the service clubs participate and help the other volunteers make the project a success.

31st bridge walk
for Dagmar Brown

Dagmar Brown of Cass City made her 31st trek across Mackinac Bridge in 61 minutes on Labor Day. She shook hands with Governor and Mrs. Blanchard. The crowd was estimated at 68,000.

She is a retired Licensed Practical Nurse and is also retired from the U.S. Naval Reserve as a Dental Technician Chief after 40 years of service. Recently she received a telephone call from the Bureau of Naval Personnel, Washington, D.C., notifying her she is subject to recall in the event of a full scale war. Holding a critical rating, the only criteria would be to pass a physical.

At present she works at the Hardee Restaurant in Cass City.

In 1875, a group of German archaeologists discovered the ruins of the original Olympic stadium in Greece.

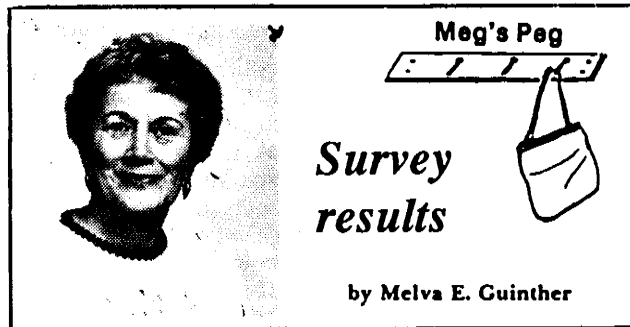

Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rick Lorentzen, was baptized Sunday in the Clio Methodist Church by Rev. Thomas G. Badley. Attending were Mrs. Helen Lorentzen of Cass City, Ann Marie Lorentzen and Doris Gardner of Saginaw, Betty Jean Lorentzen of Burton and Paula Jarvis of Clio. Dinner followed in the Rick Lorentzen home in Clio.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Torres and son Nathan of Midland were Sunday callers of Mrs. Audrey Cummins.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Don Whittenburg Friday afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. Larry Hendrick of Redlands, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Ron Hendrick of Kalkaska, Mrs. Ruth Fisher and Lee Hendrick of Cass City.

Mr. and Mrs. John Moore were callers of Mr. and Mrs. Don Whittenburg Thursday afternoon and Mrs. Helen Lubaczewski of Caro visited Sunday.

Mrs. Marion McIntosh of Bay City and her sister, Ruth Morell, attended the wedding of their great-nephew, Scott Schultz, and Sheila Crossland at the First Presbyterian Church in Vassar.

I know you've all been waiting eagerly for the results of my friend Minerva's survey on housework.

Min designed the survey, you may recall, because she wasn't satisfied with the conclusions reached by some other researchers.

Well, the returns are in and they indicate that, as Min suspected, women don't fall neatly into prescribed categories as "Compulsive Cleaners, Cleaning Enjoys or Mess Tolerators", as the other, far less scientific, survey would have you believe.

Min's poll revealed that people can be cleaning zealots in one area and total slobs in another.

The same women who feel their worth as a person threatened by the presence of a cobweb may let dirty dishes pile up for days.

Others get bent out of shape over rain spots on a window, but rarely make a bed.

A few housework fanatics turned up in the survey, but Min tossed them out as radicals who just make the rest of us look bad.

One bona fide Cleaning Enjoys responded, saying she "just loves" doing housework. She claims there's nothing more satisfying than cleaning the kitchen floor, then walking barefoot across it.

(This flies in the face of still another survey reported in Sunday's paper that claimed cleaning floors and washing windows are the most dreaded tasks of housekeepers.)

Another thought the ultimate housework high came from gazing at a freshly cleaned sink...possibly because it's such a rarity.

One harried housewife

Twenty-seven relatives attended a potluck dinner Sunday at the Robin and Lori King home in honor of Berneice Copeland's birthday.

Born to Carl and Dawn Parrott of Deford, a son, Carl David II, Aug. 19 at Lapeer Regional Hospital. Grandparents are Dave and Janet Parrish of Deford, A.B. and Jane Parrott of North Augusta, S.C., and Janet and Chuck Tuttle of Branchville, S.C.

Mr. and Mrs. James Profit of Escanaba spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Peters of Vassar. Saturday night, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Easton of Cass City were supper guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Bartle spent from Tuesday until Thursday at their cottage in Houghton Lake.

speak for millions when she remarked that housework is just something you do that nobody notices unless you don't do it.

Min and I were both surprised at, and happy for the company of, the number of women who hate emptying the dishwasher. One comment was that "Every woman should have 5 dishwashers and no cupboards." Makes sense to me.

Another respondent insisted that women of the 90s do not press clothes, only buttons.

The vast majority answering Min's survey could be classified as lackadaisical, short of filthy. And that pretty much mirrors Min's philosophy.

She figures if a person has to make a choice between cleaning the cupboards and taking the kids to the park, there's really no choice at all. The cupboards will need cleaning long after the kids are gone and their characters shaped. Chances are, Min says, that when they look back on their childhood in a few short years, cupboards, clean or dirty, won't be what they remember most about Mom and home.

Hospital offers mammograms for cancer awareness month

October is National Breast Cancer Awareness Month, and Hills and Dales General Hospital, Cass City, has joined this nationwide program, dedicated to educating American women and their families about the importance of early detection of breast cancer.

Early detection provides the best opportunity to treat breast cancer successfully.

Breast cancer is the most common form of cancer in American women: one out of 10 women will develop breast cancer in her lifetime. In 1990, over 150,000 new cases are projected, and 44,000 women will die of the disease.

To encourage all women to have a mammogram, Hills and Dales is offering a special price of $50 for a mammogram during the month of October. This price includes the cost of the exam and reading. At Hills and Dales, mammograms are done by a trained radiologic technologist and the equipment is ACR accredited.

Additional information is available by contacting Jane Mitchell, in-service director, at 872-2121.

Experts recommend a 3-step early detection program:

*Schedule regular mammograms - an initial screening mammogram by age 40, one every year or 2 to age 49, and every year after 50.

*Practice monthly breast self-examinations. Local hospital officials can teach patients how.

*See a physician for regular breast examinations - at least every 3 years until age 40, then every year.

The 5-year survival rate for localized breast cancer has risen to 90% because of advances in early detection, improved surgical procedures, hormonal therapy and chemotherapy.

Rabbit Tracks

by John Haire
(And anyone else he can get to help.)

When Labor Day rolls around 2 things are certain. The first is that summer vacation time is over. The second is that Dagmar Brown, Cass City, will be walking the Mackinac bridge on the holiday.

She did it this year for the 31st straight time and has a certificate to prove it.

She is almost as proud of that as she was excited about a phone call she received from the defense department. Brown is a retired servicewoman and the call was to inform her that in case of all-out war she could expect to be called back into service.

"I asked him if he knew how old I am, and he said that it didn't matter. All that is necessary is that I pass the physical", she reported.

She looks as if all that walking was good for her and she just might pass.

Even though she is now 68 years young.

There were 2 holes in one registered by Cass City golfers last week.

The first one was recorded at Rolling Hills Golf Course's short number 5 hole. This one was by Dick MacNall, Allen Health Care administrator, last Wednesday playing with Mark Robinson, Ernest Slavick and Dee Cargill.

The second was by Ruth (Grassmann) Houghton, who did it on the 7th hole on Sept. 7 (No, it wasn't a 7 iron, but an 8) at Fox Run, a new course south of Grayling. The Houghtons were on their honeymoon.

Here's a trivia item picked up by one of the many press releases that cross over the desk. Michigan is the 14th largest oil and gas producer in the United States.

I didn't think that we were that great. Probably because none of the numerous wells in the immediate Cass City vicinity ever produced enough oil to be commercially profitable.

Before watching the United States Open tennis tournament over the week, I figured that Boris Becker had the greatest serve. Last week at least his cannonball serves were eclipsed by the tournament winner, Pete Sampras. It was the first time that I ever saw a great player like Andre Agassi have trouble with any player's SECOND service.

Community ed. classes set

Cass City Community Education offers more than 20 fall classes, from baskets to computers to painting to clogging.

Mondays have 5 basket classes starting with the basic bun, heart-shaped, catch-all, tote and a magazine basket. Also, old stand-bys are back in the form of karate, kalosomatics, and "Fitness Factory." A brand new offering is Clog Dancing along with a self-help class called "Your Rights as Individuals." Basic wood-working is again offered on Mondays.

Tuesdays feature landscape oil painting for the intermediate student and also a financial information class called "Your Finances in Changing Times."

Available on Wednesdays are beginning bridge, self defense for women, drug awareness for everyone, a quilt class called "Heavenly Star Medallion," beginning square dancing and an adult great books discussion group.

Thursdays offer a papier mache class, beginning oil painting and an Apple works class.

Most of these classes have a registration fee but many are free. Most begin in October.

Additional information is available by calling 872-4151.

The Haire Net

Here we go again. How it is or how it should be from the corner of Oak and Main Street in Cass City.

The good news, according to media stories, is that surveys indicate that the battle against drug use is gaining ground. Make that illegal drug use. The use of alcohol is not part of the decline or the battle.

Having said that, it appears we have a long, long way to go. Just last week papers in Sanilac, Arenac and Gladwin counties had stories about local police authorities finding and destroying plots of marijuana.

The odds are great that most folks would say that summer temperatures have been cooler than normal this year. Surprise! Temperatures have been a very tiny bit above average. What were missing were the real hot days and nights that stick in memory.

Cooler nights are blamed by many farmers for putting the harvest season up to 2 weeks behind normal.

Although corn traditionally thrives with hot nights, their absence hasn't seemed to hurt. Corn looks good everywhere. That goes for sweet corn, too. The quality over the entire season is the best that I can remember. You, too?

As others see us department. According to one Arab scholar interviewed on television, the Arab world sees the Iraq-Kuwait problem as an Arab problem. He does not see Saddam Hussein as a ruthless despot.

Questioned about the use of poison gas, he said that only the United States used the atomic bomb, the most devastating killer ever devised.

It was not brought out that Hussein used the poison gas on his own people. He did point out that the Arab people, not the rulers, resent the United States interference, and that Arabs feel that our country has followed a double standard because of the Palestine homeland question.

The program was food for thought because the man interviewed had no history as a wide-eyed radical. Maybe that's why President Bush predicts a long stay in the Middle East.

He'll be shaving before his parents have to replace their Lennox Pulse Furnace.

Not only is the Lennox Pulse™ Gas Furnace durable, it can reduce gas bills by up to 50% giving you more to spend on life's little expenses.

"If It Fitz...."

A day at the fair

By Jim Fitzgerald

When 4-year-old Tricia entered the Belle Isle Conservatory for the first time, and looked up at the big banana trees and other overhanging foliage, she exclaimed: "It's a jungle in here."

"Everybody else says it's a jungle out there," I told her. "They're silly," Tricia said.

OK. So, no longer worried about bumping into trouble in the jungle out there, Grandpa took Tricia out to the Michigan State Fair, along with her sister Emily and Grandma. Ironically, Emily wanted to go on the bumper cars. A few minutes later, I wanted to disappear.

It was my first time in one of those tiny carnival-powered rubber-bumper cars whose sole purpose is to smash into each other and sprain the drivers' necks. I don't know how I could live over 60 years without once being dragged into a bumper car. The reason undoubtedly had much to do with a kind God rewarding me for living an ultra-pure life.

But now God obviously wanted me to keep Emily happy and safe. She said she'd driven a bumper car before, so I figured if an 8-year-old kid could handle the operation, it wouldn't hurt me too much to sit beside her. It wasn't until we were in the bumping arena that Emily revealed that I had to drive my own car so she could crash into me with her car.

DRAWING A BEAD ON GRANDPA

Oh, well. I noticed the cars were equipped with seat belts, which would prevent Emily from knocking my frail body out into oncoming traffic. Both ends of the two looped belts were attached securely to the car, and I had a devil of a time ducking my head under the driver's belt and then tugging it down into both armpits as I simultaneously struggled to sit up straight. The belt seemed unreasonably tight across my chest, but, as Emily began to attack, I felt extremely secure.

Until I felt extremely stupid. When Emily whacked me within hearing range of my wife, safe behind a fence, I noticed she was laughing very hard and impolitely. Following her direction, I looked at the other drivers and realized the seat belt loops were supposed to go under one arm, not two. Oh lord.

"You are never going to get out of that car," my wife shouted the next time I spun near her. "I'll bring the family to visit you whenever the fair's in town."

I had a quick vision of the head of the State Fair summoning a technician armed with a sharp appliance designed to cut me free without causing excessive bleeding. Would an anesthetic be administered first?

Panicked, I quit steering, leaving my car and body completely subject to the violent whims of Mad Max Emily. I devoted all my energy and guile to becoming a squirming, wiggling Harry Houdini escaping a straitjacket. By the time the ride ended, I was free at last, and it was only 3 more hours before my wife stopped laughing.

STARES FOR A SILLY OLD POOP

There was more. Tricia insisted I take her on the Tilt-O-Whirl, although I warned that the whip-like spinning might be too rough for her tender years. She scoffed at my doubt of her bravery. Ten seconds into the ride, despite my impassioned entreaties and embrace, Tricia howled up such a "get-me-off-of-this-thing" storm that the operator made a special stop, just for us to get off.

Everybody stared at the stupid old poop who didn't know enough to protect that precious tyke from being scared to death on a ride much too dangerous for her, poor little dear.

It could be worse. There was a fun-house type contraption that required the kids to clamber up some ropes, cross some rickety bridges, and occasionally disappear from adult view. The climax was a plummet down a long, tunneled slide.

The first three times, I bent down and peeked up the tunnel to see Tricia way up there, peeking down. "Catch me, Grandpa," she shouted, and I did.

The fourth time, Tricia was feeling brave enough to solo. "I don't need you anymore, Grandpa," she shouted.

That's worse.

O-G seniors
air activities

The Owen-Gage Senior Citizens club gathered for a meeting and potluck dinner Thursday at St. Agatha's Parish Hall in Gagetown.

Thirteen blood pressure readings were taken during the meeting, which was attended by 39, including guests Reatha Hughes, Irma Chisholm and Ruth Morrell.

In other business, it was noted a get-well card has been sent to Carl Erer, and the group recognized Beulah Kretzschmer's birthday and the wedding anniversaries of Stanley and Audrey Frankowski, Louis and Irma Ouvry and Homer and Beulah Kretzschmer.

Also, club President Elma Miklovich presented literature on a trip to Nashville slated for next month, and it was announced that flu shots will be available Oct. 5 at the Lutheran Church in Cass City.

Door prizes for the day were given to Florence Schell and Luther Durham.

HDC to distribute commodities Sept. 27

The Human Development Commission will conduct a surplus commodity distribution at the following locations Sept. 27:

Cass City Village Park, Cass City (11:30 a.m. - 1:30 p.m.), Tuscola County Fairgrounds, Caro (11:30 a.m. - 1:30 p.m.) and Ivan Middleton Hall, Vassar (10:30 - 12:30 p.m.).

Due to the volume of commodities, individuals are asked to bring cardboard boxes to carry their commodities.

Persons must report to a distribution site, in person, and present their Surplus Commodity Registration card. Persons who are unable physically to go to the distribution site themselves, may have someone pick up their commodities provided their registration card is shown.

Surplus Commodity cards can be obtained from the County HDC Offices by calling for an appointment. The HDC Tuscola County Office number is (517) 673-4121.

The commodities have been made available to the HDC, the local Community Action Agency serving Huron, Lapeer, Sanilac and Tuscola counties, from the federal government and are intended for personal consumption by eligible low income families.

Awesome

Mike Kelley says rewarding missionary work in Korea over the summer reinforced his career plans

If a fellow Asbury College student asks Mike Kelley how his summer vacation was, chances are good he'll say it was, well, dabong.

That's "awesome" in Korean, a language the 21-year-old from Cass City became familiar with during a nearly 2-month stint as a missionary in Seoul, South Korea, over the summer.

Kelley, the son of the Rev. Eldred and Luanne Kelley, Cass City, recently talked about his missionary work before leaving to begin his final year at Asbury, a Christian college in Wilmore, Ky., where he is majoring in computer science.

The 1987 Cass City High School graduate said his visit to Korea was made possible through the Novice Overseas Worker program, a short-term missions program administered by OMS International, a missions organization.

"It's for someone who has no idea what missions are all about but who feels they have a call to go into the mission. And I have a call," he added.

Kelley said he was among 72 persons from the United States and Canada who spent June 18 through Aug. 18 in one of 8 countries as short term missionaries during this summer's program, entitled "Outreach Asia 1990."

"We went to Taiwan for a week to a conference to learn how to witness to someone on the streets, even if they didn't speak the language," he remarked.

A week later he began his work in Seoul with the help of a co-worker assigned to provide support and help with language interpretation.

Kelley said he spent the first month teaching English and Bible studies.

He taught English to a small group of college students. "They know grammar better than any Americans, but they don't know conversational English," he remarked.

Kelley pointed out that the English language is a valued skill there, and that he was regularly stopped by strangers who wanted him to talk to them. "There's a definite want to learn English. If you know English, you are respected, and that was a tool to be able to be with them and stay with them and show them Christ's love."

BIBLE CLASS

At the same time, Kelley began teaching a women's Bible class at the Korean Evangelical Holiness Church, where he attended. Only 4 women were in the first class, but attendance later doubled.

According to Kelley, group Bible study is a relatively new concept in the church in South Korea, where, since 1958, the Christian population has doubled every 10 years, reaching a little over 26 percent today.

Kelley recalled one particularly good memory about one of his "students." "There was a Buddhist who came to the Lord on the last day," he said, noting she hadn't missed a class, but for the first 2 weeks made it clear she wasn't interested in being converted. "That was exciting," he added.

During the last half of his stay, Kelley and 7 other Americans conducted a seminar for 45 Koreans. The purpose, he explained, was to help prepare them to become missionaries in other countries.

"They are in the beginning stages of learning what missions are all about," he said, noting the church in Korea has been sending missionaries to other countries for only about 15 years.

NEW CULTURES

How to adjust to new cultures, learning about different religions and how to witness in English were among the seminar topics.

Kelley said he took a handful of students out once or twice a week to practice witnessing at a subway station. After helping them to get started, he said, "By the end of the day they were going up to people quicker than I could."

Kelley indicated the seminar was an enjoyable albeit tiring 2 weeks.

"We would wake up at 6 in the morning and teach classes all day," he said, adding the students' desire to learn and hear English continued into the night. "I would literally be up till 2 or 3 in the morning talking to them."

Although Kelley learned to deal with the language barrier, he indicated it wasn't easy at first. He recalled understanding only 2 words (his name) spoken during the first sermon he attended. Later, he was invited to attend a men's Bible study and was asked, unexpectedly, to share some scripture with the group for an hour or 2.

CUSTOMS

And there were a number of customs unfamiliar to him.

Wave to someone the wrong way, for example, and it means "come here" instead of just waving hello, he commented.

Kelley cited another custom, the traditional bow, and remarked, "You feel like you're constantly bowing, especially in church, where you're the tallest person and you're white."

At mealtime, the oldest and most respected person at the table is the first to eat. Kelley recalled a meal with his women's Bible study group in which he was having a conversation with someone and noticed others were poised to eat, but were waiting for him to begin.

Physical closeness among members of the same sex was "probably the hardest thing for me to get use to," Kelley said.

Interestingly, Kelley didn't experience a lot of shock in terms of leaving a small town with a population of a few thousand to live in a city of some 13 million.

CHICAGO

He noted that last Christmas he worked in Chicago as a driver for the Salvation Army. He drove some 6,000 miles in 4 weeks and lived in a drug rehabilitation center in an area where it wasn't wise to walk outside at night.

Compared to that, he said, "Korea was just extremely crowded."

The country also has prospered in recent years, he observed.

"It's amazing. Their economy is just terrific," he said, adding the country, today,

Szostak promoted at First of America

The board of directors of First of America Bank-Mid Michigan, recently announced that Walter G. Szostak, Cass City, has been promoted to assistant vice-president and assistant manager of the commercial credit department.

Union retirees elect officers

Retirees of United Steelworkers Local Unit 622 elected officers during a Sept. 4 regular meeting at the Cass City VFW Hall.

Elected were Grace Nemeth, president; Eldina Heck, vice-president; Lorene Englehardt, secretary; Wana Hallock, treasurer, and trustees, Howard Hallock, Ann Klinkman and Harry Wright.

In other business, the group noted its recent white elephant sale was a success and decided to hold another sale during its Oct. 2 meeting, which will feature a potluck dinner.

His responsibilities include training personnel in commercial loans and financial analysis, controlling credit inventory, and analyzing and providing documentation for loans of high complexity.

Walter Szostak

Szostak began his career with First of America in 1986 as a credit analyst. A 1981 graduate of the University of Michigan, he received his master of business administration in finance degree in 1982 from Central Michigan University.

Szostak and his wife, Michele (Konwalski), and their son, Joshua, recently moved to Essexville.

FUTURE MISSIONARY — Mike Kelley of Cass City worked as a short-term missionary in Seoul, South Korea, over the summer. A senior at Asbury College, Wilmore, Ky., he plans to use his training in computer science in the mission field.

$235 stolen from Cass City church

Cass City police recently investigated the theft of $235 in cash from the First Baptist Church, 6420 Houghton St., Cass City.

Church official James Howard told police the money, taken sometime last Wednesday or Thursday, had been kept in a metal cash box in a desk drawer.

Howard stated the church is locked during non-business hours, according to police, who said there were no signs of forced entry into the building.

lic health nursing supervisor, announced.

"This year's vaccine will protect against somewhat different strains than last year's vaccine, so persons will need to be immunized even if they received the vaccine in 1989," Buck said.

Recommendations for who should receive the vaccine are:

*All persons 60 years of age and older.

*Persons with chronic health problems, such as heart disease, lung disease, neuromuscular diseases and anemia.

*Persons with immune system problems.

*Health care, fire and police personnel who have frequent contact with high risk persons or who perform essential community services.

The vaccine will cost $5. Td (adult tetanus-diphtheria) booster will also be available for $5 to those adults who have not been previously immunized or have not had a booster in 10 years.

Additional information, including dates, times and places the vaccine will be given, is available by contacting Buck at (313) 648-4098.

Your neighbor says

Phone services not for Decker's Chris Kruzel

In a capitalistic society, the more competition the better, right?

Maybe. Case in point - the phone system.

Perhaps since the addition of independent companies, such as Sprint and MCI, people might argue our phone service has become cheaper or more efficient. Maybe our phones have more functions since the AT&T breakup.

There would be little debate, however, that most of us are much more confused these days when our phone bills arrive, or are tired of receiving phone calls, junk mail and the like persuading us to choose their company over another.

We asked your neighbor, Chris Kruzel, if he has selected a phone company yet.

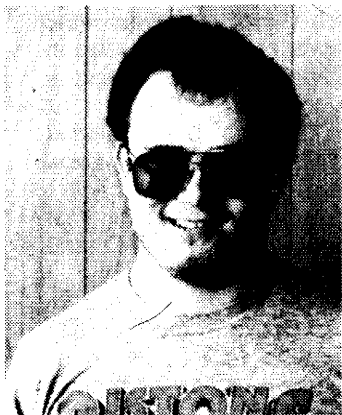

"Nope, I think it's kind of stupid. I couldn't even if I wanted to," says the 19-year-old Decker resident.

Kruzel, a 1989 graduate of Cass City High School, says his biggest complaint about the phone system is when he is making a call from a toll booth.

"If you get the wrong company's operator, it takes about a 3-fold chart to (understand how to) get through."

As far as services such as 3-way calling or call forwarding, Kruzel says he doesn't use any of them. "For me they're not worth the money."

Kruzel is the son of Pearl and Joseph Kruzel.

In district court 2 charged in break-in

Two men, including a Caro area resident, were charged Friday in connection with the Aug. 26 break-in of a Millington Township residence.

David R. Starr, 20, 13215 Lewis Rd., Caro, and Gary R. Brabbs, 25, of Flint, were each arraigned in Tuscola County District Court on charges of breaking and entering an occupied dwelling with intent to commit larceny, and receiving and concealing stolen property valued at more than $100.

Bond for each defendant was set at $5,000. Preliminary examinations for the pair were scheduled for Sept. 18 at 1:30 p.m.

The men are charged with breaking into a house at 8175 S. Vassar Rd., according to court records, which state the receiving and concealing charges involve a stolen vehicle.

Also over the past week, 2 Caro residents were arrested and charged in separate incidents for allegedly driving under the influence of liquor and resisting police officers.

Larry E. Bloomfield Jr., 24, 4006 E. Deckerville Rd., was charged Saturday with 2 counts of resisting and obstructing a police officer, operating a motor vehicle while impaired (second offense) and having no operator's license in his possession.

A preliminary exam was slated for 1:30 p.m. Sept. 18. Bond was set at $5,000.

Court records state the offenses allegedly occurred Friday in Caro and involved Caro Police officers Ronald Suranye and Ken Frederick. Mark E. Spencer, 20, 3265 E. Dayton Rd., Caro, was arraigned Sunday on charges of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, operating a motor vehicle while impaired (second offense) and resisting and obstructing a police officer.

Spencer, whose bond was set at $2,000, also faces a preliminary exam Sept. 18 at 1:30 p.m.

Court records state his offense allegedly occurred Sept. 8 in Ellington Township and involved DNR Law Enforcement Division officer Michael Daniel.

Another county resident, Edward D. Carlisle, 59, of Vassar, was arraigned Sept.

4 on charges of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor (third offense), operating a motor vehicle while his license was suspended or restricted (second offense), transporting an open intoxicant in a motor vehicle, and unlawful use of license plate.

Bond was set at $2,000 for the defendant, who was to have had a preliminary examination Tuesday.

All of the charges against Carlisle are connected with a Sept. 2 incident in Vassar Township, according to court records.

Eagles swamp slumping Bulldogs

The Owen-Gage girls' basketball team has encountered 2 problems.

Defensively they've been battling to stop their opponents' inside game. Offensively they have been battling to score.

These problems were never more evident than in Thursday's 78-18 defeat at Deckerville.

"This game was a total disaster," said Coach Dean Roller, whose cagers dropped to 1-3 on the year and 0-1 in the North Central Thumb League.

The 'Dogs will wrestle with North Huron Thursday in their first home game. Roller is hoping the familiar surroundings will solve their offensive woes.

"Our shooting has been terrible in all 3 games," says Roller.

On the year Owen-Gage is connecting on only 18% of their shots from the floor.

Against the Eagles, 18% would have been considered a hot hand, as the Bulldogs connected on only 6-55 attempts.

"They intimidated us with their size. This will be one game to forget."

The only offensive the Bulldogs have displayed this year has come from point guard Vicki Ricker.

Ricker scored the only Bulldog basket in the first half, as the Eagles spurred to a 34-4 half-time lead.

Deckerville came out on fire in the 3rd stanza behind the shooting of Melanic Mosuer. Mosuer canned 4 quick buckets, including 2 well beyond the 3-point circle.

When the smoke finally cleared, Deckerville had built a 65-13 advantage.

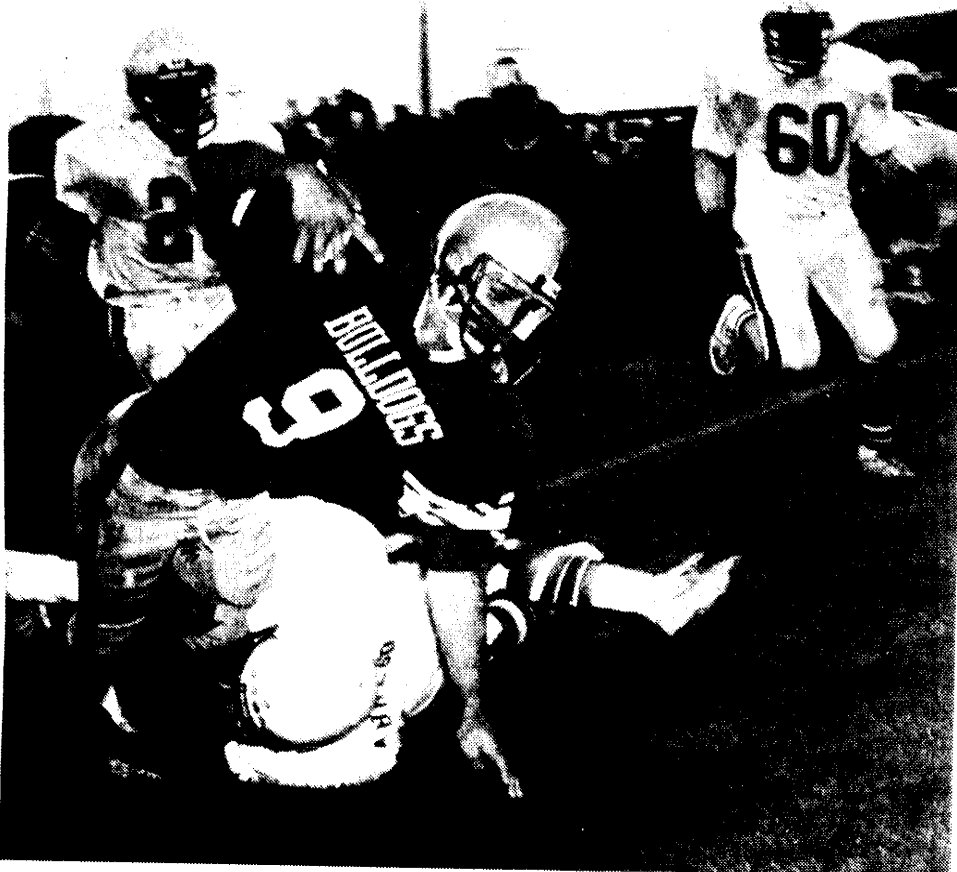

Mosuer finished with 12 points and teammate Monica Spranger captured game scoring honors with 14 tallies to lead the winners.

Ricker, who has recorded double digits in each of the Bulldogs' 3 games, netted 10 points to top the losers.

Hawk golfers roll to pair of wins

The Cass City Red Hawk golf team won 2 more matches and remains unbeaten. The matches this week included a win over Thumb B Association rival Millington.

That win came in a triangular meet Monday night at Rolling Hills Golf Course. The scorers were: Cass City, 172; Millington, 175, and Harbor Beach, 179.

Cass City won despite a bad outing by Garen Barker, who shot 48. His score was thrown out and the scores of the team that counted were: Chris Herringshaw, 45; Jeff Hockey, 42; Troy Osentoski, 42, and Bart Hall, 43. The 42's were the low scores of the match. They were equaled by Stan Shamel of Millington.

Herringshaw's round included 7 5's. Hall had a double and triple bogey and still was able to shoot a 43. Hockey and Osentoski stayed out of serious trouble. Barker went out of bounds on number one and 2 holes. Cass City's junior varsity defeated Millington, 194-196.

The Hawks completed pre-season non-league play with a perfect 2-0 record, with a 171-197 win over Mayville Wednesday at Rolling Hills.

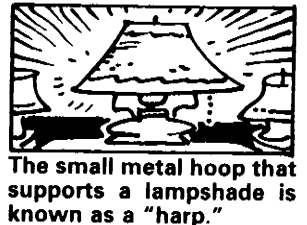

Medalist for the match was Herringshaw, with a 41. Osentoski shot 42 and Barker a 43, despite going out of bounds on the second hole. Bart Hall shot 45.

Mayville was led by Rob Major, with a 45. Other Mayville scores were: Scott Langford, 53; Mose Garner, 50, and Richie Ferguson, 49.

The Hawk golfing future looks bright. Freshman Chris Chappel shot 45 and sophomore Eric Hoard, 47. Freshman Wendell Guinther shot a 50. Sophomore Matt Rutkoski posted a 48.

HAWK GOLFERS remained undefeated on the year despite an uncharacteristic outing by Garen Barker, shown here lining up a putt on the 6th green.

Mistakes costly as O-G bows to Peck, 28-7

Imagine the worst possible way to start a football game and that's probably close to the way the Owen-Gage Bulldogs opened against Peck Friday in a 28-7 defeat.

After a clipping penalty on the opening kickoff backed the Bulldogs deep into their own territory, Peck's Jeremy Abrego returned a BJ Haldane punt 82 yards for the visitors' first score.

Two plays later Peck's Steve Hill recovered a Bulldog fumble on the 'Dogs' 39-yard line.

Then on Peck's first snap over center, quarterback Doug Lorkowski found Jason McCanahn wide open on the 5-yard line, from where he walked into the end zone untouched to give the Pirates a 12-0 lead.

Lorkowski's run for points after gave the Pirates a 14-0 lead before most of the crowd had found their way to their seats.

"We made a lot of first year mistakes, by first year players," said Hall of Fame Coach Arnie Besonen. But they're not at fault. I am."

Owen-Gage will have to eliminate all those mistakes if they hope to win Friday when Deckerville comes to town. The Eagles have already defeated 2 class C schools this year.

Trailing 14-0 at the end of the first quarter, Owen-Gage got right back into the contest when Mike Kady capped a Bulldog scoring drive to open the 2nd period.

The score was set up by a beautifully executed fake punt that covered 8 yards and got the Bulldogs into Peck's territory for the first time on the night. The drive was also aided by a well disguised halfback pass that converted a crucial 3rd down and long situation.

Kady's kick for point after ended the scoring in the first half, with the Bulldogs trailing 14-7.

Peck picked away at field position for much of the 3rd period until Lorkowski found his way into the end zone with 9:34 left in the game. Mike Carson covered the run for points after, giving the visitors a 22-7 lead.

Peck's final score, a 9-yard Ross Bradley run, came with 22 ticks left in the game, after Owen-Gage failed to convert a fake punt deep into their own territory.

In defeat, Coach Besonen said, "This is a bunch of gutty kids, they could have laid down after the start we had, but didn't."

He added, "Peck had an awesome front 4 and they just ate us up and stopped our inside game."

On defense Mickey Parks recorded a season high 19 tackles from his left inside linebacker position and teammate Haldane was credited with 14. Jason Torres helped out with 11 stops from his strong safety position.

Parks led the Bulldog rushers with 45 yards on 10 carries, while Carson's 103 yards were tops among the visitors.

Next game: Marlette

Millington wins as Hawk offense fails again, 14-0

The Cass City Red Hawks are probably one of the best winless teams to play for the school and if the defense keeps operating like it has, breaking into the win column should be just a matter of time.

Coach Don Markel would love to see it happen on the first road game of the year Friday at Marlette. The Red Raiders have a good squad this year and the Hawks figure to have their hands full.

It would be a lot easier if the offense could become untracked. Last Friday in the Thumb B Association opener for both teams, the Hawks bowed to Millington, 14-0. In the 2 games this year Cass City has failed to score in regulation time.

It appeared as if it might be a long night for Cass city fans when the visitors scored the first time they got the ball. Taking the opening kickoff on the 38, the Cardinals punched their way down the field.

And punch is the right word. Behind the massive Millington line, the Cardinals racked up 4 first downs, practically all of it on power football through the center of the line.

Millington scored with 6:43 left in the first quarter. Mike Dronko pounded over from the 2. A run for the extra points was stopped.

Cass City was able to pick up a couple of first downs in the subsequent series and picked up yardage in several series. However, the team was never able to put together a sustained drive to score.

After that opening drive, the Hawk defense stiffened and most of the rest of the game was spent in futile drives.

Late in the second period, the Cardinals moved for a first down on the Cass City 21 after Nate Kammer made a sensational catch of Joe Smith's pass good for 25 yards.

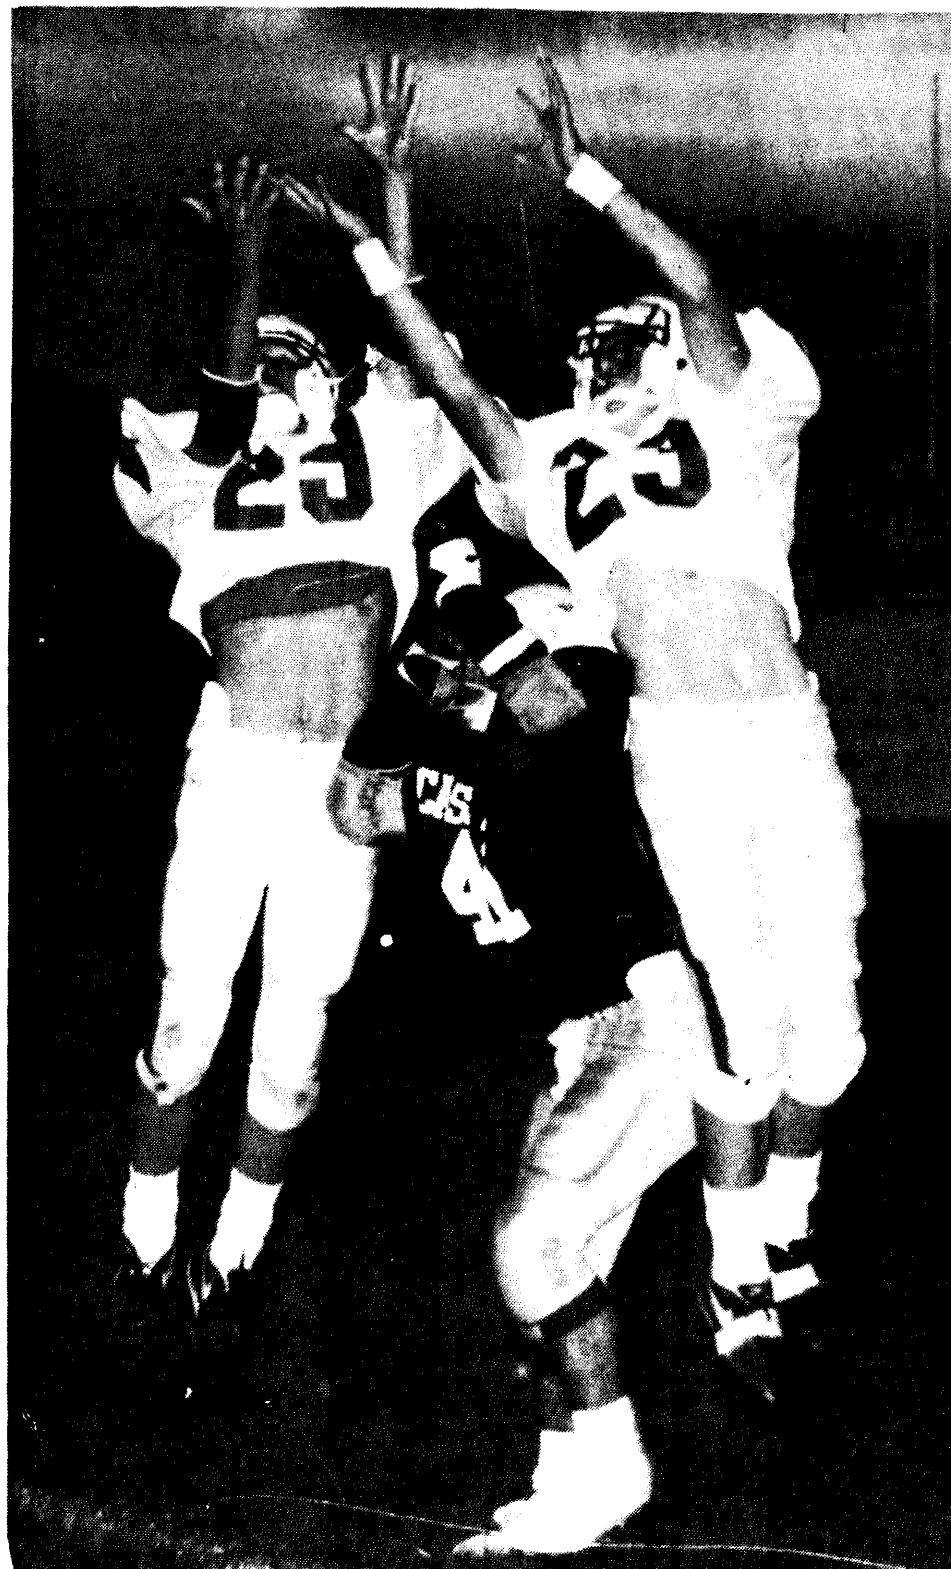

But a combination of penalties and Hawk defense stopped the drive and kept the Hawks just one touchdown away.

It stayed that way until time was running out. Millington then scored a touchdown to put the game out of reach with 2:43 left in the game. Smith tossed 14 yards to Walter Kujat for the score. A pass was also good for the extra points.

Leading the defense that kept Cass City in the game was Matt Weippert, who was in on 20 tackles, 3 unassisted. Tim Englehart gained 16 yards on 3 carries for a 5.3 average. Greg Graham was the workhorse in the backfield with 19 carries for 53 yards, a 2.8 per carry average.

The Millington junior varsity made it a clean sweep for the week with a 42-0 win over the Cass City JV.

THIS UNIDENTIFIED Cass City defensive back looks dwarfed by Brian McComb and Mike Dronko of Millington, but he did his job, breaking up an attempted pass deep in Cass City territory.

Rebounding a problem

Hawks bow to Cardinals, post win over Mayville

The Cass City Red Hawks split opening games last week with a 67-32 decision over Mayville and a loss to the Millington Cardinals, 62-34.

The games affirmed what Hawk basketball fans suspected before the season started. Cass City can play with anybody that is its size, but will have trouble against the taller teams.

The Hawks matched up size-wise against Mayville and dominated the game against the visitors from the Thumb C League. Daniel called it a strong team performance. Our fast break, fast tempo offense created many scoring opportunities led by Jandi and Jodi Hillaker with support from Stephanie Leiterman and Jenny Nye, he pointed out.

For all practical purposes the game was decided in the first quarter. Led by Jandi Hillaker and Leiterman, with 3 baskets each, Cass City jumped off to an 18-2 lead.

The 2 girls duplicated the first quarter performance in the second period and the Hawks were coasting by half time, 34-12. Daniel was able to give his entire squad meaningful playing time and 8 of the 9 players scored.

Jandi Hillaker led the team with 8 rebounds while hitting 57 percent of her shots from the field in a 14-point effort. Jodi Hillaker was the top rebounder with 12. Cass City made 42 percent of its shots from the field. Leiterman, 14 points, and Jenny Storm, 10 points, were also in double figures for Cass City. Dawn Irvine led Mayville with 14 points.

MILLINGTON GAME

The Millington Cardinals were one of the pre-season favorites to win the Thumb B Association crown this season and they showed why by defeating Cass City in the league opener, 62-34.

The team that defeats the Cardinals this year will have to do it with some exceptional shooting because Millington will control the boards with Jenny Bushaw, 6-2, Karen Ill, 6-feet, and Karen Gibbs, 6-2. These girls enabled Millington to post a huge 48-26 rebounding edge.

One reason that the Cardinals were able to snare that many rebounds is that the Hawks had a stone cold shooting night, making just 19 percent of their shots from the field and just 13 of 30 free throws.

When the game started it looked as if the Hawks might be able to demonstrate to the rest of the league what it will take to defeat Millington as they worked for good shots and converted them. Cass City jumped off to a 6-0 lead in the opening minutes.

But that was it for the night. The Hawks continued to work and get what Coach

Daniel called good shots, but they simply did not fall. Cass City missed 9 of its next 10 field goal tries. With the Benefit golf tourney set Saturday

The Tuscola County Big Brothers/Big Sisters organization is sponsoring a "moonlight golf" fund raiser slated for Saturday at Rolling Hills Golf Course, Cass City.

Entry fee is $25 per player for the 2-person scramble, which will feature a shotgun start at dusk. The cost includes an afterglow (soup, sandwiches and dessert).

More information is available by calling 673-6996.

Cardinals holding Cass City to just one shot, the lead melted like ice on the Fourth of July and by the end of the quarter Millington was in front, 12-8.

In the second period Cass City was limited to 5 free throws and Millington continued to make the most of the Hawks' missed shots. At the half the visitors were comfortably ahead, 26-13.

Bushaw led Millington with 19 points while Jandi Hillaker topped Cass City with 9.

JV WINS

The junior varsity continued undefeated, with wins over Mayville, 50-20, and Millington, 41-26.

6 sentenced, 2 enter pleas in circuit court Friday

Six persons were sentenced and 2 others entered pleas Friday in Tuscola County Circuit Court.

William J. Caudell Jr., 25, 1773 Hawkins St., Deford, was sentenced to 15 months in the county jail for his conviction on charges of carrying a concealed weapon (a dirk) and operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor Feb. 17 in Kingston.

Caudell, who pleaded guilty to the charge July 20, also was ordered to serve 3 months probation and pay a $100 fine, a $30 per month oversight fee and $30 crime victim fee plus attorneys fees.

Kingston resident David M. Lalko, 37, 5972 Noble St., Kingston, was sentenced to 6 months in the county jail with work release privileges for his May 18 plea of guilty to operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor Dec. 16 in Wells Township.

He also was ordered to serve 5 years probation and attend substance abuse counseling, and pay a $500 fine, costs of $200, a $30 per month oversight fee and $30 crime victim fee.

Also ordered to serve 6 months in jail, which was deferred as long as the defendant is employed, was Jeffery M. Pomeroy, 21, 1786 Hurds Corner Rd., Cass City.

Pomeroy, who pleaded guilty July 13 to a charge of larceny in a building, also was ordered to serve 5 years probation and pay $100 fine, $100 in costs, a $30 per month oversight fee, $30 crime victim fee and attorneys fees.

Court records state Pomeroy was involved in the Jan. 22 theft of computers, monitors, keyboards, radios, software and flashlights from Fairgrove Elementary School.

Bridgeport resident Patricia A. Parth, 22, was sentenced to one year probation and 30 days in jail (deferred to the end of probation) for her July 9 plea of guilty to 2 charges of conspiracy to harbor a fugitive.

Parth also was ordered to complete 180 days community service and pay court costs and fines totalling $200.

Parth assisted Camp Tuscola inmates David A. McEachern and Kelly A. Dalian in their attempt to escape Dec. 30, according to court records.

Also Friday, a pair of county women were sentenced for pleas of guilty to separate cases of welfare fraud.

Linda L. White, 42, of Mayville, received a one-year delayed sentence and was ordered to complete 100 hours of community service in addition to making restitution.

She fraudulently obtained more than $500 worth of ADC and food stamps between December 1988 and March 1989, court records state.

Caro resident Tina M. Torres, 25, meanwhile, also received a one-year delayed sentence. She was ordered to complete 90 hours of community service and pay $2,515 in restitution.

Court records state Torres fraudulently obtained more than $500 in ADC and food stamps between December 1988 and July 1989.

Two persons, including Mt. Morris resident Eddie W. Owens, 19, entered pleas of guilty to separate charges.

According to court records, Owens pleaded guilty to a charge of breaking and entering an unoccupied dwelling with intent to commit larceny.

Sentencing is to be set for the defendant, who is accused of breaking into a house at 8175 Vassar Rd. in Millington Township Aug. 26, 1989.

Troy K. Martens, 23, of Vassar, pleaded guilty to a charge of writing 3 non-sufficient fund checks within 10 days Aug. 5-10, 1989, in Mayville.

Sentencing was set for Oct. 26 by the court, which ordered a pre-sentence investigation. Bond was continued at $1,000.

Court records state the offense allegedly involved 3 checks in the amounts of $45, $65 and $105, all of which were drawn on the Michigan Federal Credit Union.

Service academy applications sought

U.S. Senator Donald Riegle is accepting applications for nomination to one of America's 4 service academies: Annapolis, West Point, the Air Force Academy and the Merchant Marine Academy.

Most applicants are high school seniors, however the academies accept people up to the age of 22 who meet their rigorous requirements. Senator Riegle uses the all-competitive nomination method, whereby 10 applicants for each opening are submitted, and the academy selects the best qualified from the list. It is possible for all 10 of the nominees to be offered appointments.

Senator Riegle has been recognized as having one of the highest acceptance rates in the nation. The cadets and midshipmen of the class of 1994 include 25 young men and women from Michigan who were nominated by Riegle last December.

"I am very proud to represent a state that has so many qualified young people who wish to serve their country in this way," Riegle said. "Those selected by the academies represent an important investment in the education of Michigan's young people."

Young women and men interested in attending the academies should make an application to one of Senator Riegle's regional offices. The deadline for consideration of completed applications is Oct. 26.

Satisfaction to perform at Novesta

The Thumb-area Youth for Christ teen choir, "Satisfaction," will present a concert Sunday at 7 p.m. at the Novesta Church of Christ, 2896 N. Cemetery Road.

The 22-member choir is made up of high school teens from across the Thumb and is under the direction of Bob and Judy Titus of Caro.

The choir sings Gaither numbers as well as other contemporary songs.

There is no charge for the concert, however, a free will offering will be taken for the choir. A nursery will be provided and an afterglow of cookies and punch will be served.

More information is available by calling 872-3658.

Humpback whales sing in accents which indicate where they're from—the Virgin Islands, Bahamas or Puerto Rico, for instance.

State Education Trust Fund costs up 7 percent

Setting aside money for college through the Michigan Education Trust Fund will cost an average of 7 percent more this year. That is the increase based on recent prices set by the MET Board of Directors. The increase is half of last year's 14 percent hike and should remain at 7 percent the next few years, said State Treasurer and MET Chair Robert Bowman.

Restraint on tuition hikes by community colleges and universities and "better than expected investment opportunities" contributed to the lower increase this year, Bowman said. At least 5,000 individuals are needed to participate in 1990 to maintain price levels. Last year 8,864 people invested in MET, compared to 40,409 enrollees in the first year. Price hikes will not affect those who bought MET contracts in 1988 and 1989.

Emergency rule issued by governor

At the request of the Department of Public Health, Governor James Blanchard has issued an emergency rule aimed at improving protection from harmful chemical exposures for Michigan workers. "Of all environmental exposures, none are greater than those of workers who risk chemical exposure day after day, year after year," Public Health Director Raj M. Wiener said. "These new protections could reduce lost workdays due to chemical exposure illnesses by one half-million days. And on a national basis, could save 700 lives annually."

The rule was issued under the authority of the Michigan Occupational Safety and Health Act. It adopts lower exposure limits for 212 chemicals and creates limits for 164 new chemicals to allow statewide enforcement of national standards under the federal OSHA program.

The MET program, with almost 50,000 children enrolled, has built a trust fund with assets of almost $350 million. One of the most recent investment opportunities is a transfer of 57 percent of MET's assets into preferred stock, Bowman said. This reduces the amount of taxes MET will have to pay.

Because of a decline in interest during its second year, the board adopted a new monthly purchase plan. In the first 2 years, persons buying the tuition contracts had to pay a lump sum, either their own funds or money lent by cooperating financial institutions. The MET board now offers a payroll deduction plan for state employees and monthly installments for all Michigan residents as new options to entice participants, Bowman said.

Bowman attributed last year's drop in participants to high interest rates and residents viewing MET as a consumer loan, saying "people just don't like going into debt." The 2 new options will allow people to invest in MET without borrowing. "The monthly purchase plan increases the accessibility of MET for even more Michigan families," he said. "We are 2 steps closer to (year-round) open enrollment."

The base cost for one year of MET tuition for a newborn child is $2,095 under the 1990 Full Benefits Contract. The cost was $1,960 last year. With the new monthly purchase plan, an individual can purchase that same year of tuition for $35 a month over 7 years. Participants will not be penalized for taking their money out early in any of the payment options, Bowman said. Under the 1990 Limited Benefits Contract, the base cost for one year of MET tuition for a newborn child is $1,947, compared to $1,864 last year.

For community college benefits, the base cost for one year for a newborn child is $1,133, compared to $1,128 last year. Bowman said the community college prices remain the least changed from year to year because the colleges have "kept the lid on tuition."

The older the child, the more MET will cost because the trust has less time to invest money before the child is ready for college, Bowman said. The price range is not as wide for community college tuition. The base cost for one year of MET tuition for community college for a 12th grader is $1,415, compared to $3,874 for the 1990 Full Benefits Contract.

The monthly purchase plan will require a $50 option fee to be paid each contract year. Purchase plans are based on 4, 7 or 10 years of tuition. The extended application period for MET is Oct. 15 to Nov. 9.

SUMMER TRAVEL LEVELS OFF TO 1989 FIGURES

Michigan summer travel activity appears to have leveled off at 1989 record figures, Travel Bureau Director John Savich reported. That year was the best in Michigan history, with a $10 billion summer and a $16.5 billion annual economic impact. "A softening of the national economy, a lack of new consumers in the travel market, and cool, rainy weather combined this summer to slow down Michigan's 5-year surge as one of America's most popular vacation states," Savich said.

Reports from Michigan destinations this summer ranged from flat to moderately above last year. Major destinations around the country were significant attractions this summer, he said.

Savich said while rising gasoline prices have not yet had an impact on travel, if the Midwest situation results in a general recession, it could have a serious effect on the industry.

So far, so good

O-G enrollment promising

as 10 students over the last school year and still remain in-formula, meaning the district would continue to receive membership state aid.

As an in-formula district last year, the district received some $240,000 in state aid.

However, Kirby has expressed concern in recent months that a big drop in enrollment, combined with rising land values, could return the district to out-of-formula status.

Turning to other matters during the 2 1/2-hour session, the board approved a motion allowing the Owendale Lions Club to operate the high school concession stand during the homecoming football game Friday night if no groups within the school volunteer to do so by today (Wednesday) at noon.

The concession stand was closed during the last home football game because the school's Trip Club, which operated the stand last year, hasn't formed this year. School officials said the club has no advisor.

DROPPED SERVICE

Kirby reported that he has dropped Thumb Area Transit as the school's transportation provider to skill center students.

Last month Kirby said the district faced an increase of $1,776 this year in the cost of transporting students to the skill center via Thumb Area Transit. The number of students who attend the skill center, meanwhile, has dropped from 23 last year to about a dozen or less this year, he added.

Since then, Kirby remarked he has tried to negotiate a cheaper arrangement with the transit service, but "they weren't willing to make any kind of deal or talk about it."

Kirby, who said the district currently is renting an intermediate school van, again suggested that the district purchase a 15-seat minivan, which also would be used to transport small sports teams and other students groups.

Cost of the vehicle is estimated at between $14,000 and $17,000.

No decision was made, but board members expressed concern over the cost. It was suggested that if school officials are going to spend $17,000 on a van, they might as well buy a bus. The possibility that the number of skill center students will total more than the capacity of a van also was raised.

IN OTHER BUSINESS

Also Monday, the board:

•Hired Drucilla Pisarek and Peggy Vargo as the district's new Chapter I elementary aides.

Both were recommended for the federally funded positions by a recently formed school committee composed of 3 board members who select job candidates after receiving recommendations from the administration.

•Approved senior Kathy Wildman as "student of the month" for September.

In a related matter, the board approved a resolution stating it would like the "student of the month" program to continue as it has, with teachers selecting students from the senior class.

•Confirmed that extracurricular posts, such as coaches and class advisors, have been filled. Positions yet to be filled are jayvee volleyball coach and advisors for the Trip Club and Students Against Drunk Driving.

•Noted the Huron County Sheriff's Department will present "Safetyville" to kindergartners and first grade students Sept. 19 starting at 8:45 a.m.

•Authorized Kirby to attend a Michigan Association of School Administrators conference Sept. 26-28 in Traverse City, and a Risk Management/Loss Control Seminar Oct. 11 in Flint.

•Approved annual state school funding incentive resolutions certifying that the district is adhering to guidelines related to maximum average class size in grades K-3, and high school graduation requirements.

New books at the library

SECOND CHILD by John Saul (fiction). The tormented victim in this story is young Melissa. She doesn't fit into the snooty social life of the exclusive East Coast beach community of Secret Cove, and her cruel mother hates her for this failing. The arrival of Melissa's beautiful half-sister, Teri, exacerbates the situation. Melissa escapes her mother's punishments by entering a trance state where her imaginary friend D'Arcy protects her. And who is D'Arcy? Apparently, the ghost of a spurned servant girl who returned an engagement ring still attached to her severed hand. Murderous Teri tries to manipulate Melissa's apparent psychosis, but D'Arcy intercedes. Mother and half-sister are evil incarnate.

THREE BLIND MICE by Ed McBain (mystery). Matthew Hope, Calusa, Florida lawyer, takes on a "hopeless case," defending Stephen Leeds, arrested for murder. The victims were 3 Vietnamese tried but found not guilty of raping Leeds' wife, Jessie. Every bit of evidence ties the crimes to Leeds, who had publicly sworn to avenge his wife's abuse, but Hope believes in his client and works diligently to free him. The dangerous search for clues to the killer absorbs the lawyer. Small discoveries become significant when Hope piles them into a mountain of evidence against the unsuspected guilty party.

CIRCLE OF PEARLS by Rosalind Laker (fiction). Julia Pallister is fated to love 2 men: her brother's Oxford friend Christopher Wren, and Adam Warrender, the Puritan scion of the adjoining estate. Hot-tempered, impetuous Julia, whose traits betray her into regrettable situations, is an appealing character. The story details the political turmoil and domestic customs, and the Great Plague and the Fire of London.
