"School Improvement" days set by O-G board

"School Improvement" plans and the results of this year's Michigan Educational Assessment Program (MEAP) testing highlighted a brief monthly Owen-Gage School Board meeting Monday night.

The board set Feb. 1 and April 19 as half days, allowing teachers and other school personnel to devote afternoons on both days to continuing work on planning School Improvement measures in the district.

School Supt. Harley Kirby noted the school's first School Improvement session, held Oct. 26, was devoted to reviewing what's been done to date.

The next 2 sessions, he said, will focus on developing mission statements—specific goals and plans—for both the elementary and high school. Another important task will be the organization of teams, composed of teachers, school board members, parents and others, that will guide implementation of specific School Improvement measures.

Turning to the MEAP, high school principal and Counselor Ron D'Aoust presented a brief rundown of this year's results.

D'Aoust said the district's fourth graders showed improvement in math, with 95.7 percent of the students passing 75 percent or more of the test objectives. The same was true of seventh graders, whose scores showed a dramatic improvement over last year, with 83.3 percent passing 75 percent or more of the objectives.

In contrast, the scores of tenth grade students fell several points compared to last year, with 73.3 percent passing 75 percent or more of the test objectives.

In the relatively new science category, D'Aoust noted fewer fifth graders passed 75 percent or more of the objectives (84.2 percent compared to 100 percent 1989), but pointed out most of the students remained above the 50 percent mark. Among eighth graders, only 33.3 percent passed 75 percent or more of the science objectives, and 48.1 percent passed 50 to 75 percent of

Tendercare workers protest wage cut

The union representing about 73 workers at the Tendercare Nursing Home in Cass City has filed unfair labor practice charges against the company.

Union representatives in Cass City say no strike is planned at this time, but vow they'll continue to fight the company's implementation last month of a contract not accepted by union memberships at 6 of 9 Michigan Tendercare homes, including Tendercare, Cass City.

Tendercare Inc. is a Canadian-owned company which runs about 30 nursing homes in Michigan.

Employees at 9 of the homes are represented by Service Employees International Union Local 79, the state's largest health care workers union representing more than 6,000 nursing home employees and another 6,000 hospital workers and nurses.

Low wages and union-busting tactics are the union's biggest complaints, according to Cora Remsing, an employee at Tendercare, Cass City, and a SEIU Local 79 day steward.

Remsing and Sally Hubert, both nurse assistants and local union bargaining committee members, were among several nursing home workers and supporters who rallied Nov. 1 at the Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., headquarters of Tendercare Nursing Homes to protest the company's actions.

Union spokesman Dale Ewart said the protesters were particularly outraged by Tendercare's decision to cut wages by 50 cents an hour.

In making the cut, Tender-care officials cited a recent decision by the state of Michigan to cease funding of a 50-cent "wage pass-through," a program SEIU Local 79 members initiated and successfully fought for in the state Legislature, Ewart said, adding at the same time, the company has continued to pay the "wage pass-through" to non-union workers.

LOW WAGES

Remsing and Hubert indicated the cut was a big blow to already low wages paid to union employees, and that the company's new contract doesn't offer much in return. "In place of the 50-cent cut they offered us 12- to 18-cent raises," Remsing said. "With the cost of living going up 45 cents this year and 45 cents next year, what's 12 or 18 cents?"

"Right now they (Tendercare) can't hire people fast enough. People are leaving just to go to work at Burger King or McDonalds," she continued.

"People think we make $9 an hour—we're making an average of $4 an hour, and you can't expect to live on that," Hubert, who has been employed at Tendercare for 4 years, commented.

Remsing agreed. "We have people here that are eligible for welfare, and they're working full time."

Dr. Louis Lukenda, a Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, Canada, dentist and the principal owner of Tendercare Inc., conceded Friday the employees have a legitimate complaint regarding the 50-cent wage cut, but remarked that that decision was "not within our control."

POLITICAL FIGHT

"It's our hope the state will reverse its stand; however, that's a political fight," he said. Please turn to page 5.

Cass City rape didn't happen

The reported abduction and sexual assault of a woman near Cass City a month ago didn't happen, Michigan State Police at the Caro post have concluded.

"It (case) isn't closed at this point, but it's changed drastically. We had some new developments here Tuesday (Nov. 6)," state police Det. Sgt. Allan Ogg said Thursday.

Few details are being released regarding the new developments.

"What I do want to release is it did not happen in Cass City. She was not abducted and there was no white van," Ogg said.

"Whatever happened is still under investigation," he added. The abduction and rape was reported to have occurred in broad daylight Oct. 15.

The victim, a Tuscola County woman in her 30s, told police she had parked and was preparing to leave her car at about 11:30 a.m. when a man grabbed her and forced her into his nearby van at knife point. She said the suspect then drove to a location not far from the village and sexually assaulted her.

The woman said she escaped after the assault, returned to her vehicle and later went to Hills and Dales General Hospital for treatment.

She described the suspect as being at least 6 feet tall and weighing close to 300 pounds with dirty, shoulder-length blond hair, a scruffy beard and rotting teeth.

The reported rape sent shock waves throughout the area, prompting a plethora of rumors about other reported assaults. Authorities received dozens of calls from persons reporting they had seen the suspect rusty white van.

Despite the new information police have received, Ogg cautioned that area residents shouldn't let their guard down.

Community consensus

Urgent need for school improvement

A special meeting Thursday called by Supt. Ken Micklash to secure community input about the operation and the goals of Cass City Schools attracted about 25 persons. The group included about a dozen from business and industry and the remainder were school board members and school personnel.

The community representatives unanimously pointed out that improvement in the system is vital.

The comments from the community ranged from concerns about simple reading and math comprehension to the way the school is operating compared to education world-wide.

Geraldine Prieskorn, co-owner of Ben Franklin Store in Cass City, recounted experience that the store has had with students applying for employment.

They are asked what is 10 percent of a $1.00, where England is located or what country is adjacent to and south of the United States.

About half of the students couldn't answer the questions and most of them didn't feel it was important to know, Prieskorn said.

Lambert Althaver, Walbro chairman, said that there is a great urgency for doing something to improve students to prepare them for the competition ahead.

Jim Bolton, head of the Cass City branch of Chemical Bank Bay Area, asked if the school was doing all that it could to meet the needs of the students.

Jane Hittler, Cass City, expressed concern that the school took pride in being

Vandals hit cars at school Friday night

Cass City police are seeking the person or persons responsible for damaging 2 cars and the Cass City High School building during a basketball game Friday night.

According to reports, the vandal or vandals climbed onto the school roof and threw a 4-foot, 8-inch round vent pipe onto a vehicle owned by high school Counselor Curtis Cleland, smashing the windshield and damaging the top and hood. They also threw a cone-shaped, 10-inch cast iron roof drain onto Supt. Ken Micklash's car, damaging the vehicle's roof and smashing the windshield.

The vandals also damaged a roof vent fan and broke 5 night lights attached to the east and north sides of the building.

Damage is estimated at about $200 for the school and $1,000 to $1,500 for the vehicles.

The incidents occurred between 8:15 and 9:30 p.m., according to police, who are continuing their investigation.

Also reported over the weekend was the theft of a radar detector from an unlocked vehicle parked at Charmont Lanes, 6138 E. Cass City Rd.

Dean R. Kundering, Sebe-waig, told police the incident occurred Sunday evening and involved his 1986 pickup truck. The stolen property is valued at $59.

Hills and Dales General Hospital

PATIENTS LISTED MONDAY, NOV. 12, WERE:

Jerry Hiatt, Aaron Dorland, Loretta Lamoureux, Leslie Tuckey, Danielle Guilds, Cass City; Deola Gilmore, Kingston.

Here's our latest supply of helpful household hints, garnered from a variety of sources.

To clean your microwave quickly and easily, heat a bowl of water to boiling in it. It will loosen dried food particles and make it easy to wipe up spills.

Leftover wallpaper makes a pretty shelf or drawer liner. To secure a candle to its holder, dip the base of it in hot water first.

If candle wax gets on a table, cover the area with foil, then lay a hot, wet towel over it. When the wax has softened, simply peel it off.

Cut glass will sparkle if you add a little bluing to the water in which you wash it. Close buttonholes of a cardigan with small safety pins before washing. It keeps them from stretching out of shape.

Try using a matching earring instead of a pin to secure the neckline of a dress that's cut a little too low. It looks pretty and you don't need to worry about it showing.

A clock that quits working can be made into a decorative paperweight by placing a picture against the inside of the glass.

Use a sugar bowl as a mayonnaise dish. The lid will keep it from drying out. If you don't have oil on hand, try foamy shaving cream on squeaky hinges.

Make your own room deodorizer by soaking a cotton ball with oil of wintergreen and placing it in a glass container.

Powdered cinnamon or cloves on a piece of foil in the oven also makes the house smell good. (Family members may be disappointed, however, when they discover you're not really baking.)

Try applying raw egg white to a minor burn. It's said to relieve the burn and speed up healing.

If you make a point of standing during long distance phone calls, you'll probably save a lot on your phone bill.

Make kitchen drawer liners from the backing of adhesive-backed paper. It's waxed and can be wiped clean with a damp cloth.

Mixing half a bottle of cheap dish detergent with half a bottle of a more expensive product will save you money.

Clean shower curtains with laundry pre-wash stain remover.

Remove onion, garlic or fish odor from a cutting board by rubbing it with the cut side of a lime or lemon, squeezing as you rub. Then rinse with water.

Try pouring boiling water over apples before peeling them. Skins should slip off easily.

Use butter or margarine wrappers for greasing pans.

Crisp up celery or lettuce by putting it in a pan of cold water with some ice cubes and a few slices of raw potato.

Try boiling several small potatoes with skins on along with eggs to make the eggs peel easily.

Dab a paste made of meat tenderizer and water on insect bites and stings to relieve itching.

Avoid wearing neckties, jewelry or loose-fitting clothing when using power tools or mixers.

The bad news is that the figures were wrong in 2 stories published in recent weeks. The real bad news is that in both cases the right figure is more painful than the wrong one. The story said that a new contract at Walbro-SEM was to start in 1991 and it should have been 1992. Another story said that the new price for cable service in Cass City would be $6.95. Regrettably, that's the price now. Next month it will be $18.95 per month.

Deer season starts Thursday. As always, the Chronicle will picture the first successful hunter to report at the office. We also will photograph any hunter with a deer with an unusually large rack. All successful hunters that bag a buck or a doe are asked to call for listing in our deer hunters' column.

A lot of folks these days are heaving a sigh of relief over the news that there was no abduction and rape in Cass City as originally reported to the police. It places the community almost where it was before the incident was reported. Almost. While it didn't happen here, it serves as a reminder that it did happen in Caro and we should all be vigilant.

5th annual Community Thanksgiving Dinner set

Area residents who don't have plans for Thanksgiving are invited to attend the fifth annual Community Thanksgiving Dinner next week in Cass City. The dinner will be held Nov. 22, Thanksgiving Day, at St. Pancratius Church. Serving will begin at 12:30 p.m. The event is free; no reservations are necessary. The community Thanksgiving celebration actually will begin the night before with an interdenominational service slated for 7 p.m. Nov. 21 at the Trinity United Methodist Church, Cass City. The dinner, which typically includes turkey, dressing, mashed potatoes, salads and pies, as well as music, is open to any interested person.

Send Girl Scout cookies to servicemen

Organizations and individuals can send "a little bit of home" to service men and women in Saudi Arabia and the Persian Gulf by sending donations for Girl Scout cookies. "When service members receive Girl Scout cookies, they will enjoy something familiar from home and know that we are thinking of them," Jeanne Nelson, Executive Director of the Mitten Bay Girl Scout Council, said. Individuals, businesses, churches, clubs and organizations can participate. "You can donate money for one package or as many packages as you wish," Nelson explained. The cost is $2.25 per package. A case of 12 packages is $27. There is no extra charge for shipping and handling. Donations will be accepted until Nov. 23, 1990, to allow time for the cookies to be ordered. Persons who would like to make a donation for the purchase of Girl Scout cookies can send a check or money order for the number of packages they wish to send, along with their name and address to: Middle East Cookie Connection, Mitten Bay Girl Scout Council, 415 Federal Avenue, Saginaw, MI 48607. A group from the Vietnam Veterans of America will transport all donated Girl Scout cookies to a military shipping center. Cookies will be distributed randomly among service members in Saudi Arabia and the Persian Gulf.

Movie Time set Friday

Rawson Memorial Library's "movie time" for senior citizens will be held Friday starting at 1:30 p.m. at the library, 6495 Pine St., Cass City. Films slated to be shown are "Journals of Lewis & Clark" and "Log House."

As in the past, transportation will be available. Also, dinners will be delivered to those physically unable to attend. Additional information is available by calling 872-4604 or 872-5114.

The Haire Net

Although it has been under discussion for 2 years, they tell me, I and the vast majority of you, learned of it during the recent election.

What we learned is that it will be necessary to fill out a form telling if you are a Democrat or a Republican if you want to vote in the next presidential primary election in March, 1992.

That was the topic of the day at the coffee table, and the regular members were peeved. A couple of them refused to sign, feeling it was an invasion of privacy, which, of course, it is.

The way it works is that a month before the election a card indicating which party you prefer must be signed or you won't be given a ballot. If you sign, you will be given a ballot with only the presidential candidates of the party indicated on the card.

Besides being an obvious infringement of our right for a secret ballot it also seems to be a stupid waste of time and money. Par for the course in a government that spends thousands for a toilet seat.

If the reason for all this is to prevent cross-over voting, in which a ballot is cast for a candidate who is less likely to defeat the candidate you really want to win in the general election, I fail to see how it will work.

It could deter crossovers if the designation of party is made now when no one knows if crossing over would be politically advantageous.

It's still a big price to pay. It's not like we will be electing the president, you know. When all the ballots are counted, all it means is that delegates to the national convention will be committed for a few ballots to the person who wins the primary. If that man is not elected, the delegates are released to vote anyway they choose.

Much greater than the threat of cross-over voting is the very real danger of the results of not voting at all.

In the recent election, maybe a third of the registered voters, statewide, were at the polls. What the percentage is of all the residents in the state, including those who never registered, is a guess. Twenty-five percent? Less?

Now we are in the midst of making it harder, not easier to vote. It's certain that there will be a massive educational campaign to get the word out about this latest brainstorm of the politicians.

It's even more certain that cards will not be signed and the distressing dismal voting record will be even further eroded.

When it comes to cutting the cost of government, here's the first place to take the fat out of the budget.

We could save even more if we forgot the whole business of a presidential primary and sent uncommitted delegates to the convention where they might exchange their vote for a little political patronage for Michigan.

"If It Fitz...." Custody battle

By Jim Fitzgerald

"Everyone knows trust is important to a good marriage," I whispered to my wife. "Do we want to tell this woman we don't trust each other?"

"Embarrassment now is better than a fight later," she said.

We were in the opulent lobby of the new Star John R Theater in Troy. Remember when the part of the theater containing the screen was a thousand times bigger than the dinky space just inside the entrance, where popcorn was sold? At Star multiplexes, the refreshment counter area is huge and grand enough for the coronation of a king. By comparison, the movies are shown in broom closets.

THE USUAL

I'd just placed our usual order—2 small cartons of popcorn and one small Coke. My wife always rejects a drink because she's never thirsty in the lobby, but 10 minutes into the movie I have to sit on my coke to keep her from stealing it. Which is part of the ugly problem that surfaced after the sales clerk said:

"That would cost $4.75. Did you know that for the same price you can get a large tub of popcorn instead of 2 small cartons?"

Since most theaters have become part of international cartels, I've noticed the clerks are trained to recite a robot sales spiel aimed at attaining that ultimate artistic achievement wherein each patron, no matter how high the ticket price, will spend even more feeding his or her fat face.

If you order popcorn, you're asked if you also want candy. Hot dogs and muffins are tantalizingly displayed. And, to further increase profits, communal feeding from a single tub is encouraged because popcorn containers cost management more than the popcorn.

"No, thanks, 2 small cartons will do," I said. Usually, this demurrer is sufficient to turn off the spiel. But the clerk was persistent.

"You get more popcorn in a large tub than in 2 small cartons," she said. Her tone said I'd be a fool to pass up such a marvelous bargain.

CUSTODY BATTLE

That's when my wife and I whispered and decided humiliation was the only way to go.

"We are trying to avoid a custody fight over the tub," I told the clerk, jarring her out of the robot mode.

"What?" she inquired. My wife explained that we'd once used a communal tub, holding it jointly on her right knee and my left knee (fortunately, I was sitting on her right) and she couldn't enjoy the movie because she was too busy monitoring me, making sure I didn't consume more than my half of the popcorn. Also, the sound of her hand constantly slapping my hand was disturbing to people sitting near us.

I pointed out that the real problem was my wife's jealousy. I don't eat more popcorn, I simply eat it longer.

That's because I eat popcorn the American way, by the fistful, unlike my wife who eats it an incredible kernel at a time, as though she were taste-testing midget truffles in an exotic French cafe. Naturally, it's unavoidable that I spill some, so I was still eating popcorn out of my lap long after the communal tub was empty.

That made my popcorn-less wife jealous, and she was also embarrassed when I wouldn't stand up straight to allow latecomers into our row. I had to crouch to prevent loss of sustenance.

After hearing our stories, the clerk resumed her robot role, delivered the popcorn in 2 cartons, and recited: "Remember, you can bring back your empty cup for a free Coke refill."

Not after I've been sitting on it, I can't.

CLOGGING UP A STORM—That's what about a dozen area residents are learning to do in a Cass City Community Education clogging class offered for the first time in the upper Thumb.

Fund raisers net $2,500 for area cancer victim

A pair of recent fund raisers held in Cass City netted an estimated $2,500 for an area couple.

The fund raisers were held to benefit Nancy and Dennis Karr. Dennis, who is battling cancer, is expected to leave Nov. 24 for Indianapolis, where he's scheduled to undergo testing Nov. 25 and 26, and a 10-hour surgical procedure Nov. 27.

According to benefit organizer Lorraine Nash, 18 persons raised a total of about $1,200 in a walk-a-thon held Oct. 27.

A benefit dance and silent auction held Thursday, meanwhile, netted another $1,300, Nash reported, adding the event drew about 75 persons.

Union vows to fight said, noting efforts to reinstate the cut are tied to a Medicaid funding lawsuit pending against the state.

"What we're hoping to do is reassess the situation when the lawsuit is settled with the state," Lukenda added.

In the meantime, he said Tendercare made its final and best contract offer Oct. 3. Six of the company's 9 unionized nursing homes in Michigan accepted the offer, which was implemented for all the homes Oct. 23.

Lukenda rejected the union's charge that Tendercare is utilizing union-busting tactics by virtue of the company's decision to continue paying the 50-cent "wage pass-through" to non-union workers.

"It's a distortion, obviously," he said, "because the non-union people have not negotiated salary increases."

Lukenda remarked the decision to allow non-union employees involved in direct care to keep the 50 cents also represents an effort to bring their wages in line with union pay levels.

SYMPATHETIC

"We're sympathetic to the needs of our employees and we'll make every effort to pressure the state" to improve pay levels in the nursing home industry, Lukenda concluded.

The union also plans to apply some pressure, but its target will continue to be Tendercare, according to Remsing, who criticized not only low wages, but also what she describes as an unreasonably strict attendance policy implemented in the new contract.

"We don't anticipate a strike. Patient care is our No. One concern, and that's why we kind of look down on striking," she said, "but we're still going to keep the pressure on them. We haven't stopped trying to get them to be just and fair to us."

Among the local union membership's options are off-duty picketing, the distribution of flyers and talking to senior citizen groups,

Cloggin'

Enrichment students say it's lots of fun and a great way to exercise

In a way, the echoing clickety-clack emitting from the Cass City High School cafeteria each Monday evening sounds as if a troupe of tap dancers are polishing their steps.

And it sort of looks like square dancing, although there aren't any partners doing it.

It's clogging. And although it may be hard to describe, area residents learning the basic steps in a 10-week enrichment class offered by Cass City Community Education agree it's lots of fun and a great way to exercise.

"I wish they had it 2 times a week instead of one," Phyllis King, one of 12 students in the class, remarked during a recent Monday night session.

A Cass City resident and aftermarket coordinator for Walbro Corp., King noted she's always been interested in various forms of dancing. She said she square danced as a youth and has taken tap dancing lessons.

"Old age is boring, so I thought I'd try something young," she added.

By definition, clogging is foot tapping steps incorporated into a number of patterns, which can be set to a variety of music styles, including country, swing and rock and roll.

Although taps are used, clogging instructor Dan Hoard indicated the dance is unlike tap dancing in a number of ways.

With clogging, "Everything is done from the waist down," he said. "Clogging and square dancing kind of go together. A lot of cloggers are also square dancers."

"Clogging originated in the Appalachian Mountains and was passed down through our ancestors," Hoard noted. "In the beginning, wooden shoes were used, but now we use a leather sole shoe with dual taps."

A Watrousville resident who became interested in clogging 3 years ago, Hoard said the dance takes 3 forms—free-style, choreographed and Appalachian. "Many cloggers or clogging teams look different when they're dancing, depending on the style they use," he explained. "Some put a lot into their rhythm and some cloggers like to do their own thing."

Unlike some forms of dance, Hoard pointed out clogging is something nearly any healthy person can do.

NO DIFFERENCE

"You don't need a partner (and) your size or age make no difference," he said. "You won't see 2 people who clog exactly the same way, and that's fine. Everybody has their own style. Everybody does it at their own pace."

Students, who invest an average of about $60 for shoes for taps, learn 8 or 9 basic steps during their first 10-week session, according to Hoard, who said he tries to introduce both simple and complex steps. Once those are learned, he added, "you can clog anywhere."

Interest in clogging, offered in the upper Thumb for the first time this year, appears to be increasing in the area, according to Hoard.

Now in his second year of teaching the dance, he said his first class, held last year in Vassar, drew 14 persons, 10 of whom stayed on for a second year.

Only one of 13 persons, meanwhile, has dropped out of the class offered in Cass City.

3 MEN

"I was glad to see that many come," he said, adding the only thing that would please him more would be to see more men take an interest. Currently, there are 3 men among his 22 students in Vassar and Cass City.

"Men do clog," he said. "I think that if they would get there one time, they would do it."

Caro resident Wayne LaPratt, an auto industry worker and Hoard's lone male student in Cass City, remarked he's enjoying the class.

"I like it really well," he added. "It's kind of nice; you get a night out."

"I came from a country background. I've got relatives who do it—I've got an aunt who's 80 years old who can do it," LaPratt said. "It's always intrigued me and I wanted to try."

"I love it," another student, Juanita Burk of Cass City, commented. "I took it a couple of years ago in Frankenthum."

Burk, who has served as Campbell Elementary School secretary for close to 23 years, said she also enjoys square dancing, something she and her husband, Fin, have been doing together for a dozen years.

ENJOYS DANCING

Marla Dickinson, an LPN employed at Tendercare, Cass City, for 11 years, remarked she also enjoys a number of different types of dancing.

"I like to dance. I've taken ballroom dancing and country and western dancing. I've learned a couple of the Latin dances, and I used to square dance as a kid," the Deford resident said.

Originally from the Snover area, Dickinson has since added clogging to her list of most enjoyable dances.

"It's good exercise and it's fun, too," she said. "Another thing is, you don't need a partner. A lot of the women in this area can't get the men to dance."

"I do it for enjoyment," Hoard commented. "This is what I do in place of going to a health spa."

King enthusiastically agreed. "It's more strenuous than jogging," she said. "It really gets your old heart pumping."

She added, "You can't help but enjoy the music. It makes your feet want to get up and dance."

Balloons are safe
and biodegradable

Recently, a good deal of misinformation has made its way into newspapers, magazines, notices and conversations regarding balloons and the environment. I feel it is important to set the record straight.

Claims have been made that "Balloons are litter" and "Balloon releases adversely affect sea life."

A good quality latex balloon is made out of 100% natural latex, the sap of a rubber tree, and as such is fully biodegradable.

In a balloon release most of the balloons rise to a height of 5 miles—then burst. The tiny pieces of latex float back to Earth and quickly degrade about as fast as an oak leaf.

The balloons that do not rise high enough land at an average of about 1 balloon every 15 square miles.

When balloons land in the water, they do not harm turtles or fish. There is no proven evidence in different courts across the U.S. that balloons present danger to sea life. If by chance the balloon is swallowed, being 100% latex, it is passed safely.

This and the fact that balloons from releases return to the Earth, are the reasons for these guidelines to follow when releasing any balloon:

- *Mitar (foil) balloons should never be released. They are not biodegradable and can cause power interference or outages.
- *Do not attach anything to a balloon that will not degrade (ie. plastic cups, ribbon, etc.)
- *Steer clear of power lines if strings are used.
- *Latex balloons can even be recycled. Used latex can be pressed into large sheets which can be used for windshield wipers, shock absorbers, and knee injury pads.
- *Balloons bring out positive feelings for many people, and they're a safe and useful product. So if someone tells you or you read that balloons are not safe—get the facts!

New home care program part of budget agreement

Editor,

America's seniors spoke loud and clear to Congress so they are still holding some victories.

Don Riegler were very helpful in people legislation.

Chuck Simon,
Kingston

The Budget Summit, doing the president's job, came up with a 1,500-page report President Bush signed. While Bush pushed Capital Gains Tax reduction, most lawmakers were there representing all Americans.

The Medicaid Frail Elderly Home and Community Act was passed as part of the budget agreement. This legislation would make it easier for states to provide very disabled elderly people and victims of Alzheimer's disease with needed long term care services in their own homes and communities, rather than in nursing homes.

The new home care program will be optional for States. WE now have a program for next Senior Power Day. Some $580 million will be available over the next 5 years for this new benefit. Bob Traxler, Carl Levin, Sander Levin and the objectives.

Showing marked improvement in science were the district's eleventh graders, 57.1 percent of which passed 75 percent or more of the objectives, compared to 22.2 percent in 1989.

D'Aoust also discussed reading test scores, but noted there are no figures to compare with because this year's test was composed of new objectives developed by the state.

Overall, he said, fourth, seventh and tenth graders' reading scores were good.

"In most cases we have improved," D'Aoust remarked. The counselor indicated some concern over the tenth grade math and eighth grade science scores, but pointed out various objectives taught in schools don't always complement testing objectives developed by the state.

"We may be teaching well, but we may not be teaching what the state says is important to teach," he explained, adding he'll be looking further into why some scores were lower this year.

D'Aoust cautioned that making specific test comparisons from one year to the next is risky in smaller districts such as Owen-Gage. He said scores often vary in small districts because the loss or gain of a few students in a class of 25 or 30 can dramatically shift percentages.

In other business Monday, the board:

- *Approved a resolution making the Owen-Gage Developmental Preschool Program eligible to receive $12,500 in state funding for 5 at-risk 4-year-olds enrolled in the preschool in the 1990-91 school year.
- *Approved Kirby's recommendation to release students at noon Dec. 21, the last day of school before winter break.
- *Hired Sheila Pawlak as junior varsity volleyball coach. Pawlak, who also coaches junior high basketball, was one of 2 applicants for the position. The other was Susan Salcido.
- *Approved senior Bethany Rayl as the "student of the month" for November.

Council proceedings

The regular meeting of the Cass City Village council was held Oct. 29, 1990 at 7:00 p.m. All Trustees were present with the exception of Trustee Hopper.

The minutes of the regular September meeting were approved as presented.

The September Financial Statement was reviewed.

The Treasurer's report was reviewed showing 94.08% of taxes collected. There were 101 tax notices turned delinquent Sept. 27, 1990.

A motion was made by Trustee Weaver and supported by Trustee Tuttle that the bills be approved as presented. Motion carried 6 years, 0 days.

Judi Reinhold was present and reported on the Blue Water recycling program. The council extended appreciation and thanks to her and all the volunteers for making this program successful.

Joe Campbell of Waste Management Co. of Almont was present and presented a curbside recycling proposal to the council. Each household would be furnished with a recycling material bin to be placed at curbside with other waste. The cost would be fixed for the next 3 years as follows: 1991 - $9.50 per household, 1992 - $10.26 per household, 1993 - $11.08 per household. A motion was made by Trustee Tuttle and supported by Trustee Helwig to accept the proposal. Motion carried 6 years, 0 days.

A motion was made by Trustee Tuttle and supported by Trustee Prieskorn to enter into an agreement with the Michigan Department of Natural Resources for the Cass City Walking Trail Grant program and to designate Village Manager, Lou S. LaPonsie, as the local authorized representative to sign documents on behalf of the Village. Motion carried 6 years, 0 days.

An annexation request was received from the Knights of Columbus Council #8892 of Cass City and Gagetown for annexation of approximately 4 acres of property to the Village. A motion was made by Trustee Helwig and supported by Trustee Karr to petition the Tuscola County Board of Commissioners to make and approve such annexation. Motion carried 6 years, 0 days.

An annexation request was received from Kelly Smith, owner of the Huntsville Mobile Home Park, for annexation to the Village. A motion was made by Trustee Weaver and supported by Trustee Helwig to petition the Tuscola County Board of Commissioners to make and approve such annexation. Motion carried 6 years, 0 days.

The council concurred with the request of the Cass City Retail division of the Chamber of Commerce to cover the parking meters from Thanksgiving to the first of the year.

The Planning Commission minutes were reviewed. The Manager's report was reviewed.

A donation for the park in the amount of $2,000.00 was received from United Way.

A motion was made by Trustee Helwig and supported by Trustee Karr that the meeting be adjourned. Motion carried 6 years, 0 days.

FIVE YEARS AGO

Owen-Gage counselor Larry Romain presented board members with copies of the 1985 Michigan Assessment Test report showing that the grades of students in the fourth, seventh and tenth grades remained about the same as last year. At a meeting of the Cass City Retail Committee 3 members were appointed to a committee to ask the Cass City Village Council to remove parking meters from Main Street. Appointed were Bill Kritzman, Mike Weaver and Clarence "Bud" Schneberger.

Echo Chapter Order of Eastern Star will meet Wednesday evening. Betty Murphy heads the refreshment committee assisted by Thelma Graham, Audrey Cummins, Millie Mark and Helen Agar.

Two tables of cards were played when the 500 Club met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Emma Fisher. Prizes were won by Mrs. Martin Sweeney and Della Gucwa. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Fritz VanErp.

TEN YEARS AGO

A sure sign of approaching winter is hanging of the Christmas decorations in downtown Cass City. Performing the aerial portion of the task, with other workers on the ground, was Joe Gruber, village employee.

The fire in the storage bin on the Arnold Broecker farm caused $50,000 damage. It was a long day for Elkland Township firemen Friday as they spent more than 5 hours fighting the fire.

Employees completing 10 and 15 years of service at Hills and Dales General Hospital included Maxine Loney, Catherine Fox, Virginia Hartwick, Clare Leitch, Phyllis Little and Jean Juhasz.

Owen-Gage landed 3 players on the North Central D League all-conference football team. Jim Glidden was a unanimous selection as an end. Craig Gettel was chosen as quarterback and Scott Gaeth was named as a linebacker on the defensive squad.

25 YEARS AGO

A former resident of Cass City, George A. Maleck, is teaching Junior High Math at Vassar High School. Maleck was a summer term graduate at Michigan State University. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Maleck of Cass City.

Norman A. McQueen, Cass City, will have the exclusive use of the prefix "Pine-Ridge-View" in naming all Registered Holstein dairy animals bred in that herd.

Jim Walters became the first player, other than Seniors, to be singled out for outstanding grid work by Coach John Bifoss this week.

Mr. and Mrs. David Loomis and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Loomis spent Saturday evening at the Don DeLong home.

35 YEARS AGO

Stan Beach of Gagetown is a member of the football squad at Taylor University, Upland, Ind. Beach, who is battling for a starting position as fullback, has seen much action this season and has scored a total of 12 points.

Postmaster Chester Muntz issued a reminder this week to persons in the area planning to send parcels overseas, saying that Dec. 1 is the deadline for mailing to ensure delivery by Christmas.

Mrs. Ben Hobart showed color slides and described conditions in Mexico as the guest speaker at the Cass City Rotary Club Tuesday noon.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Van-Norman of Shabbona were honored at a surprise party Monday evening, planned by their daughter, Mrs. James Hopkins of Clio, and a niece, Mrs. Alex Lindsay Jr., of Decker.

Report: Too few methadone treatment programs available

Too few methadone treatment programs are available to Michigan residents willing to use the treatment to end use or addiction to drugs, according to a report released by the Office of Substance Abuse Services.

The report suggested the failings of the treatment programs could raise the risk of spreading AIDS among intravenous drug users. Without more programs, transportation inconvenience and inaccessibility will continue to plague the treatment method, the report concluded.

OSAS recommended new methadone treatment services, additional medication units from existing sites and strategic geographic placement. "The use of opiates continues in Michigan, but the most effective treatment for many opiate users and addicts — methadone maintenance — is too little available," said OSAS Administrator Joan Walker in the report. "The threat of AIDS among needle users makes the need for access to effective treatment everywhere in Michigan all the greater."

The number of methadone treatment programs throughout Michigan has declined from 16 to 12 sites, compared to 58 in the early 1980s. Methadone is used to prevent withdrawal symptoms over a 24-hour dosing interval, drug-hunger and euphoric effects of narcotics.

Major problems in methadone programs cited in the report include inadequate geographic availability of treatment, low retention rates in many treatment programs, gaps in the types of services offered and a need for primary medical care.

To improve retention rates, the OSAS report recommended:

- thorough assessments for every client;
- carefully defined program services with specific goals;
- individual service planning;
- referral of clients to resources from other service organizations;
- aftercare as a standard part of treatment planning and assignment.

Bulldogs roll over Caseville, lose to A-F

Last Friday, in a preview of the first game to be played in the district tournament Tuesday, the Owen-Gage Bulldogs rolled over Caseville, 64-38, to end the season on a positive note. In North-Central Thumb D competition Tuesday, Nov. 6, it was a different story, as the Bulldogs bowed to Akron-Fairgrove, 58-49.

The game marked the end of a dismal season for Caseville, which was winless this season. There wasn't much suspense in the game, none after the first period, when the Bulldogs ran off a huge 23-7 lead behind some torrid shooting by Michelle Tkacz, who bombed the nets for 12 of her game-high 17 points.

At the half Owen-Gage stretched the lead to a comfortable 42-17 and after that it was merely a matter of playing out the game.

Coach Dean Roller emptied his bench and 9 of the 11 girls on the squad participated in the scoring. Besides Tkacz, in double figures for the Bulldogs was Vicki Ricker with 16 points. Penny Murdock scored 15 and Mandie Fritz, 10, for Caseville.

AKRON-FAIRGROVE

The Bulldogs lost the game against Akron-Fairgrove the same way the team won it against Caseville. Instead of running off a lead in the first half, the 'Dogs let the Warriors jump into a big lead that it was impossible for the team to overcome, although they outscored the visitors 29-26 in the last half.

Owen-Gage was just not able to find the hoop in the first quarter and was limited to a pair of field goals and 5 free throws in the first 8 minutes. Meanwhile A-F rolled for 17 points behind Kim Butcher's 9 points and a pair of hoops by Danelle Volk.

Butcher continued her scoring spree in the second quarter with 3 more baskets and a pair of charity tosses to lead her team to a 32-20 halftime lead. Ricker kept the Bulldogs within shouting distance with 3 baskets, including a 3-pointer, in the period.

Ricker led all scorers with 20 points. Michelle Tkacz added 15. For the Warriors, Volk and Butcher were the big guns, each scoring 19 points.

New books at the library

A VOW OF SILENCE by Veronica Black (mystery). Sister Joan is a member of a traditional religious order sent by her prioress to check possible "irregularities" at a convent in far-off Cornwall. The delicate situation, involving the accidental death of a young novice and abrupt departure of a postulant, requires utmost discretion, the investigator senses after meeting the cloister's worldly superior, Mother Ann. Joan finds an inappropriate statue in a place of honor and the discovery provides a clue to Mother Ann's crackpot scheme, innocently abetted by her naive charges.

FIREFLY by Piers Anthony (fiction). Something on the grounds of a central Florida ranch has just killed a man. The culprit is an alarmingly thorough carnivore that, like a firefly, sucks up all soft tissue, leaving only bones behind. Its method of attack is alarming too. It exudes powerful pheromones that fill its victims with incapacitating sexual desires.

PATENTING THE SUN: POLIO, THE SALK VACCINE, AND THE CHILDREN OF THE BABY BOOM by Jane S. Smith (non-fiction). Paralytic polio went from epidemic outbreak to near-extinction in 50 years. This medical triumph involved more than the daring of Jonas Salk, who developed a killer-virus vaccine against the advice of his colleagues, and of his rival Albert Sabin, whose oral live-virus vaccine is now widely used. The war on polio is also the story of the March of Dimes, mass field-testing of the vaccine on school children, accidental deaths, scientists jockeying for prestige and power, and the importation of large numbers of monkeys. A Northwestern University visiting scholar, Smith convincingly links FDR's struggle with crippling polio to the nation's turning "to the language of polio" in the 1930s. This exciting, dramatic narrative tells a comprehensive story of the conquest of polio and sheds fresh light on the politics of medicine.

CASS CITY HOLIDAY OPEN HOUSE

Cass City wins opener, 36-31

Storm hits Marlette in tourney opener

There was a Storm in Mayville Monday night and the Marlette Red Raiders got caught in the blast. A blast that knocked them out of the district play-offs in the opening round as the Hawks won a tight, taut, terrific ball game, 36-31, and will now move on to play undefeated Deckerville Wednesday at 8 p.m.

Storm

Sophomore Jenny Storm led a last half charge that pulled the Hawks from behind to register the win. She had plenty of help from her teammates, who played a tight zone all night and held their own on the boards against the taller Red Raiders. And when it came down to crunch time, it was Jandi Hillaker who controlled the ball, hit the open player and converted the key free throws that kept Marlette from pulling the game out in the final minutes. The game was as close as you would expect from 2 teams that split during the regular season. The first half ended 15-all as both teams had trouble finding the hoop consistently, although it didn't bother Marlette's Mary Benoit in the first quarter. She scored all 8 of her team's points with a pair of buckets from 3-point range and another from just inside the circle. Strangely enough, it was the only points she was to score all evening.

Long shots in the first half accounted for most of the limited scoring. Most of the action was confined to the final moments of each quarter. In the first period Jandi Hillaker whipped in a shot from just over the middle of the court as the horn sounded to bring the Hawks to within a point, 10-9. Freshman Jodi Schember made a fine defensive play to steal the ball and score a basket with seconds left in the second period only to have Carrie Ross tie it, 15-all, with a set shot from the side.

That set the stage for the Storm. She scored a basket and added a free throw early in the third quarter to put the Hawks ahead, 18-15. After Beth Dudek scored on a drive from her guard position, Storm again rained on the Red Raider parade with a pair of buckets and with 5:14, the Hawks were in front, 22-17.

The lead was short-lived as Marlette worked the ball in for short shots and scored 8 unanswered points to go in front 25-22.

Trailing in the last quarter, 27-24, Jandi Hillaker took charge. She scored a bucket to move her team to within a point. Then she found Storm on the end of a beautiful fast break to move Cass City ahead, 27-26. After a pressure bucket by Marlette's Misti Anderson, another fast break bucket moved the Hawks ahead again, 30-29, with 5:44 left in the game.

Cass City never trailed after that, but it was anybody's ball game until the final seconds of play.

Stephanie Leiterman pumped in a key basket to stretch the lead to 34-31. After Jandi Hillaker missed a pair of free throws, Marlette had the ball with 2:42 left and then Storm made a key steal. Jandi Hillaker was fouled again and this time she iced the contest by sinking both ends of the one and one with about 30 seconds left to play.

Storm led Cass City with 13 and Jandi Hillaker scored 9. Jodi Hillaker played a tight defensive game from her post in the front court and the entire team blocked out well on the boards. Benoit's 8 points was high for the Red Raiders.

Red Hawks end cage year with 2 wins

The Cass City Red Hawks rebounded from 3 straight losses to win the final 2 games of the regular season and appeared to be ready for the district tournament that started Monday.

The Hawks earned a split for the season with the Bad Axe Hatchets Tuesday, Nov. 6, with a 46-42 decision at home, and followed with a decisive win over North Branch, 71-59.

The wins moved the record to 9-11 for the year. A young junior varsity posted a 13-7 mark with 2 victories.

Coach Marty Daniel was pleased with the winning effort against Bad Axe. It was a great team effort, he said. Jandi Hillaker controlled the offense and Jenny Nye, Jennifer Fruendt and Jodi Hillaker controlled the boards.

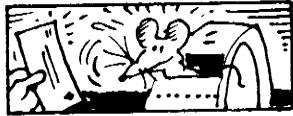

The Hawks jumped out to an early lead and the game was never in doubt after the first half. Jenny Storm whipped in 4 hoops and Jandi Hillaker added 3 more in the opening quarter as Cass City surged to a 16-6 lead.

Jodi Schember found the range in the second quarter with 4 baskets and at the half the Hawks were coasting, 34-18. After that it was merely a matter of how much the margin would be at the end.

In double figures were Jandi Hillaker, 16; Jodi Hillaker, 14, and Schember, 12 points. Jennifer Brining scored 12 for Bad Axe.

NORTH BRANCH

When a team takes 52 shots from the field and makes 23 of them, good things usually follow. It did for Cass City Friday as the Hawks rolled up their greatest point total of the season and outscored the Broncos in every quarter to win the final game of the season.

It was a team effort, Daniel stressed, and the scoring indicated it. The Hawks roared to a 20-14 lead in the first quarter with 4 players sharing in the scoring, led by Jodi Hillaker with 6 points.

Jandi Hillaker took charge in the second quarter, scoring 11 of Cass City's 18 points as the Hawks took a 38-29 half-time lead.

The prolific scoring continued in the last half as the Hawks posted 14-13 third quarter and 19-17 last period advantages.

The Hawks had 6 players share in the scoring with Jandi Hillaker, 22; Jodie Schember, 16; Jodi Hillaker, 13, and Jenny Nye, 11 points, in double figures. For the Broncos Erin Rozanski scored 14 and K. Rock, 11.

TIGHT DEFENSE played an important role in Cass City's win over Marlette. One of the key players was Jodi Hillaker who applied pressure to the Red Raider ball handlers all night.

police and Bad Axe State Police arrested 2 men and seized marijuana valued at $5,000 at a Pigeon area residence last Wednesday.

Arrested were Shawn Lee Noonan, 19, and Dennis Joseph Noonan, 42, both of 853 S. Caseville Rd.

Shawn Noonan was arrested on suspicion of delivering and manufacturing marijuana (2 counts).

In addition to the arrests, police seized 1 1/2 pounds of marijuana and one illegal pistol. The arrests were the result of a 3-month investigation conducted by the Thumb Narcotics Unit and Sheriff's deputies.

Newell Hubbard

Newell (Jack) Hubbard, 85, of Deford, died Monday, Nov. 12, at Hills and Dales General Hospital in Cass City.

He was born Nov. 10, 1905, in Milan, Mich., the son of Newell and Ethel (Green) Hubbard.

He was married to Lela Slack April 25, 1926, in Cass City. The couple made their home in Deford.

Mr. Hubbard had been owner and operator of Hubbards IGA in Deford from 1944 until 1968. He was a member of the Farm Bureau and attended the Deford United Methodist Church.

He is survived by his wife, Lela; 2 sons, Newell J. Hubbard and his wife, Helen, of Kingston and Orville F. Hubbard of Orion; 2 grandsons, Bradley Hubbard of Inlay City and Steven Hubbard of Detroit, and 2 sisters, Mrs. James Meyers of Jackson and Mrs. Irene Cheslick of San Leandro, Calif.

One daughter, Marcia, and one brother, Justin, preceded him in death.

Funeral services will be conducted at 1 p.m. Thursday at Little's Funeral Home, Cass City, with the Rev. Eldred Kelley, pastor of the Evangelical Free Church of Cass City, officiating.

Burial will be in Novesta Township Cemetery, Cass City.

John Norlock

John Norlock, 84, of Cass City died Nov. 7 at St. Mary's Hospital in Saginaw after a long illness.

He and his wife Louise celebrated their 52nd wedding anniversary Sept. 10. The couple moved from Detroit to Cass City in 1971 when Mr. Norlock retired as transportation supervisor for DeVlieg Machine Co. of Royal Oak.

Mr. Norlock was an honorary member of the Rotary Club of Cass City, where he played piano at their noon lunches, and a parishioner at St. Pancratius Church.

Besides his wife, survivors include 2 daughters, Dona Norlock and her husband Robert Beckwell of Detroit and Paula Morrissey of Birmingham, Mich., and a son, John E. and his wife Ellen of Dearborn; 7 grandchildren and one step-grandchild; a brother, Henry A. Norlock of Redford, and several nieces and nephews.

Mr. Norlock donated his body to Wayne State University Medical School.

A memorial service will be held Saturday, Nov. 17, at 11 a.m. at St. Pancratius Church with Father Julius Spleet, pastor, officiating. Memorials may be made to Rawson Memorial Library in Cass City.

Robert Walters

Robert Allen Walters, 49, of Cass City died Friday, Nov. 9, at his residence.

He was born June 23, 1941, in Cass City, the son of Stanley Walters of Cass City and the late Mrs. Margaret Walters.

He was married to Miss Nancy Hynes April 20, 1963, in Cass City.

Mr. Walters served with the United States Navy. He was on the Cass City and Gagetown police departments and was a member of the Salem United Methodist Church of Cass City.

Mr. Walters is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Michael (Deborah) Zmierski of Owendale; one son, P.O. 3rd Class Robert A. Walters, USN, Beeville, Texas; 3 grandchildren, Melissa, Michael II and Jennifer Zmierski; his father, Stanley Walters of Cass City, and one brother, James Walters of Bay City. Two brothers, Norris and Wesley, preceded him in death.

Funeral services were scheduled Tuesday at Little's Funeral Home, Cass City, with Rev. Eldred Kelley, pastor of the Evangelical Free Church, officiating.

Burial with Military Honors was to be in Hillside Cemetery, Cass City, under the auspices of VFW Post 3644, Cass City.

A number of area residents were among youths honored during the annual Sanilac County 4-H Achievement Awards program, held recently in Sandusky with more than 100 4-H members, leaders, parents and guests in attendance.

Among those recognized was Dennis King of Decker, a member of the Lucky Stars 4-H Club who was named one of 2 recipients of the Key Club Award, which is based on total 4-H participation.

King also received the National I Dare You Award, which recognizes personal integrity, balanced living and motivation for leadership, and was named this year's recipient of the Home Economics award, presented to the youth that had submitted a state awards application and scored highest in the foods and nutrition project area.

In addition, King and Teresa Berden, Snover, a member of the Laing Super Stars 4-H Club, were recognized for sharing the responsibility (as members of the Sanilac County 4-H Royal Court) of conducting the awards program.

King also was recognized for his work in the citizenship project area, and was among several youths honored for their accomplishments as 1990 District Program Award winners.

Aside from King, whose project area was horticulture, other area District Program Award winners include Jeff Gillig, Decker, a member of the Lucky Stars 4-H Club who also was a state winner in his project area (field crops). Jeff Doerr, Uby, a member of the Holbrook Helpers 4-H Club, also was district winner in the area of high technology.

Other area youths honored, and their project areas, were:

*Benji King, Decker, Lucky Stars 4-H Club (arts and crafts, citizenship, horticulture and vegetables),

*Jason King, Decker, Lucky Stars 4-H Club (arts and crafts, horticulture, vegetables, rabbits and public speaking),

*Julie Matthews, Decker, Evergreen Guys and Gals 4-H Club (arts and crafts and public speaking),

*Jim Matthews, Decker, Evergreen Guys and Gals 4-

H Club (dairy),

*Kara King, Cass City, Evergreen Guys and Gals 4-H Club (fashion revue),

*Tina Long, Decker, Holbrook Helpers 4-H Club (food and nutrition),

*Jennifer Fischer, Snover, Germania Silver Stars 4-H Club (home environment and woodworking) and *Jeff Gillig, Decker, Lucky Stars 4-H Club (leadership).

Form Professional Secretaries chapter

The Saginaw Valley Chapter of Professional Secretaries International is sponsoring the formation of a new chapter in the Thumb area.

Professional Secretaries International, established in 1942, is a nonprofit, nonunion, nonsectarian, worldwide association of more than 40,000 members and affiliates.

The organization provides a worldwide network for furthering personal and career pursuits, access to the largest pool of information available on the secretarial profession, an opportunity for continuing education, leadership training programs, affiliation with others engaged in the same profession, monthly meetings with educational speakers and a part in community activities.

More information is available by contacting Justine DeGrandt at Jordan College in Cass City (872-4394), or Dianne Voss at Frankemuth Mutual Insurance Company (652-6121).

Trend continues

Voters pick candidate, not party

Area voters last week elected a Democratic county commissioner, but supported a Republican governor. And they appeared split when it came to the U.S. Senate race between Democrat Carl Levin and Republican Bill Schuette, but clearly favored an incumbent Democratic U.S. Congressman and a Republican state representative.

What a difference a few years makes.

Recycling meet set

There will be a meeting of all volunteers of the Cass City Recycling Program Thursday starting at 7 p.m. at the village municipal building.

All volunteers are asked to attend as this is a very important meeting.

Analyzing local voting patterns used to mean, with few exceptions, checking out how badly Republicans defeated their Democratic challengers.

Recent years have seen that trend dissolve, and more than one Republican candidate has been surprised at the polls. At the same time, Democrats as a whole haven't exactly taken over, despite making some inroads in previously Republican-only territory.

The fact is, party affiliation doesn't appear to ensure or doom a candidate's chances of election anymore. An increasing number of voters seem to have embraced a method of selecting candidates based on their feelings about the individual—not his party.

It's hard to say exactly when the trend began, but a tight county commission race 4 years ago may have marked the beginning of drastic changes to follow.

When Kim Glaspie was elected the first Democrat ever to represent District 2 as a county commissioner in 1986, the victory was considered impressive in a county and especially a township (Elkland) known for being staunchly Republican. In the same election, area voters also supported election of a Democratic governor.

Two years later, Glaspie was re-elected and, with the first ever victory of a Democrat in District 4, Democrats took control of the county board, 4-3. Voters also selected a number of Republicans for county office, but added to the list of firsts by supporting the election of the first ever Democrats in countywide office (sheriff and treasurer).

That same year, county voters, including those in area townships, favored Republicans for President and the state house, but chose Democrats in races for the U.S. Senate and U.S. House.

"I knew it was going to be a close race," Burns remarked. "I just hoped Kingston (and Novesta townships) would pull me through and they did."

"I hope to do well for everyone in the community. I know there's a lot to learn, but I'm a quick learner," she added.

Also last week, local voters followed countywide trends in approving a 1/4-mill renewal for the county Medical Care Facility, and rejecting a ballot issue that would allow package liquor sales on Sundays.

In other area millage issues, Novesta Township voters rejected a 3/4-mill request for services provided by Rawson Memorial Library, 214-150, Elmwood voters approved millage requests for road work (1.5 mills), 153-149, and fire protection (one mill), 192-113, and Ellington voters okayed a 1/2 mill request for fire protection, 185-149.

Last week's election was also marked by a mixed bag of results as well as better-than-expected turnouts in the 3 upper Thumb counties.

Officials in Tuscola County saw 46.3 percent of registered voters go to the polls. In Huron County, the turnout was 49 percent and in Sanilac County, 51 percent.

Locally, the races expected to generate the most excitement—for the District 2 county commission seat and district court judge—didn't disappoint.

Democrat Mary Lou Burns narrowly defeated Republican Roy Tuckey for the commission seat, 1,120-1,111, and Cass City native Kim Glaspie edged Caro Attorney Duane Burgess by 665 votes to earn his first 6-year term as judge.

Minor injuries reported in pair of vehicle crashes

Two motorists, including a Cass City area resident, sustained minor injuries in a 2-vehicle accident last week in Cass City.

Cass City police reported Daniel A. Miles, 17, 6413 VanDyke Rd., Cass City, was driving south on Weaver Street Nov. 6 when he stopped at the Main Street intersection, then attempted to make a left turn and collided with a westbound vehicle driven by Brian S. Rocheleau, 29, of Lake Orion.

Miles told police he didn't see Rocheleau's vehicle driving past some legally parked cars near the intersection.

Both drivers were transported to Hills and Dales General Hospital, Cass City, where they were treated and released.

Both men were wearing seat belts when the 1:40 p.m. mishap occurred, according to police.

In other accidents, a 5-year-old Cass City area boy sustained a minor injury Sunday evening when the vehicle he was riding in left Deckerville Road and flipped over in Ellington Township.

Tuscola County Sheriff's deputies said Michael F. Seabright, 1104 Murray Rd., Cass City, was westbound on Deckerville Road near Hurds Corner Road at about 6 p.m. when he lost control of his vehicle while attempting to avoid a collision with a deer.

Seabright and one passenger in his vehicle, Michael Seabright, 8, were not injured, according to reports, which state another passenger, Justin Seabright, 5, suffered a minor injury.

A number of other deer-related mishaps also were reported recently in the Cass City area.

Diane J. Kingsland, 4319 West St., Cass City, told deputies she was driving south on M-81 north of Colwood Road in Ellington Township Saturday at 9:20 p.m. when she hit a deer or a dog in the roadway.

Others reporting car-deer accidents included Darren J. Kilbourn, Snover, who hit a deer on Stevens Road east of Berry Road Friday at about 9:40 p.m.; Todd J. Sweeney, Cass City, who struck a deer at 6:15 p.m. Friday on M-81 west of Schwegler Road in Elkland Township, and Sharon K. Bulgrien, Deckerville, who hit a deer Thursday at about 6:30 p.m. while driving on Deckerville Road east of Englehart Road in Novesta Township.

Gagetown park funds raised

The Gagetown Park Committee held its kickoff fund raiser Nov. 4 at Sherwood on the Hill in Gagetown.

About 170 persons attended the event, which netted some $800.

Entertainment was provided by Tootsie Van Kelly and her band, The Grand River Trio. Van Kelly is former Gagetown resident Ruth LaFave Russell, who appears regularly at the Amway Grand Plaza Hotel in Grand Rapids.

The Park Committee is presently planning future fund raising efforts with plans to use the money for repairs and maintenance at the Gagetown Village Park.

Retirees meet Nov. 6

United Steelworkers of America retirees met Nov. 6 at the Cass City VFW hall.

A brief meeting and potluck dinner were held with 26 members in attendance.

Ann Klinkman entertained the group with her piano keyboard and singing. There was also group singing and a 50-50 drawing, won by Otis Dorland and Helen Pyrek.

The next meeting will be held Dec. 4 at the same place. There will be an exchange of gifts.

Starting 12th year

Families return for Bach Festival

The 12th annual Village Bach Festival starts Tuesday, Nov. 20, at the Caro First Presbyterian Church at 8:15 p.m. Performances follow at Cass City's First Presbyterian Church, Nov. 23 and 24 at 8:15 p.m. and Nov. 25 at 3:15 p.m.

Musical families are reunited at the Festival. Returning for the 12th season is the Preucil family. William Preucil Sr., viola, and Doris Preucil, violin, come from their home in Iowa City, Iowa, where he is a professor of viola at Iowa State. They also are founders and teachers of the Preucil School of Music, a Suzuki School housed in an 1880 Victorian school building which they have renovated.

William Preucil Jr., concert master of the Festival and the first violinist of the renowned Cleveland String Quartet, studied first with his mother. William and his wife Gwen, violinist, join Ann Preucil, violinist and harpist, and Jeanne Preucil, violinist, and the senior Preucils for a Thanksgiving of music making. Jeanne Preucil was 10 years old when the Cass City Bach Festival began. She studied first with her mother, Doris, and now is a student at Oberlin College.

Other families returning to make music are the Paulu family, Norman and Eric. Norman, first violinist of the Pro Arte Quartet of Madison, Wis., is a familiar soloist of the Village Bach Festival and will be performing an unaccompanied Bach Sonata Nov. 23. Joining Norman is his son Eric, violinist.

"We are very proud of the quality of music making that continues each year," says Don Jaeger, artistic director and conductor, "and we appreciate the opportunity to foster the careers of young, gifted musicians who go on to perform in concert halls throughout the world. One of the major goals of the Village Bach Festival has been to offer a new stage for performers."

Rehearsals open to the public are scheduled Friday and Saturday, Nov. 23.

24, 9:30-11:30 a.m. and 1-3 p.m. at Cass City's First Presbyterian Church. Children accompanied by parents are welcome.

A Sunday brunch is held annually at the Cass City Masonic Temple, corner of Garfield and Maple Streets. The public is welcome to join the musicians, and their host families, at noon before the Sunday concert, Nov. 25. For reservations call (517) 872-2484 by Nov. 19.

A cookbook compiled from the kitchens of the Festival volunteers and musicians has been published this year. The cookbook will be on sale for $7.00 prior to concerts and at intermission. Ticket information and reservations may be obtained by calling (517) 872-5400, 1:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m.

ONE OF THE features of the new VFW Hall in Cass City is the plaques of deceased members that decorate a wall. Visitors were served buffet style during Sunday's open house.

HEALTH TIPS

Rules must be followed when taking arthritis medication

For most people who have arthritis, taking some sort of medication is a daily ritual. These drugs help by reducing inflammation and uric acid levels, slowing down the disease process, suppressing the immune system and, most importantly, relieving pain.

Though these drugs should be taken regularly, it is important to remember that taking any kind of medicine on a regular basis is serious business. There are certain rules that must be followed.

A great many people who take medicine regularly do not take them as prescribed. This includes taking the medication at the wrong time of day, the wrong amount, skipping doses, and stopping the drug too soon.

To receive the best results, and for your own safety, follow the instructions that your physician and pharmacist give you about your arthritis medication. Find out what you are taking, why you are taking it, and how to take it correctly.

It is also very important to take only your own medication; never use anyone else's medication or let them use yours. What may be good for one person may be dangerous to another.

Even when taken as prescribed, all drugs, both over the counter and prescribed, have side-effects. There are a few easy guidelines to reduce the chance of side-effects of your arthritis medication.

To reduce these side-effects, discuss changing the dosage or the type of drug with your doctor. Secondly, watch your diet. Certain acidic or spicy foods may upset your stomach in conjunction with your medication. It is also important to find out if you are able to take your medication with or without food.

Thirdly, some drugs may be affected by alcohol, which may increase or reduce the drug's effect. It may be best to reduce or stop your alcohol intake. Lastly, monitor yourself and your body. Always report possible side-effects or unusual reactions, including a rash, fever, nausea or headache.

With the somewhat reduced cost and its availability, many people prefer to use over the counter drugs. Many store bought drugs are very beneficial, but always ask your doctor's advice on types and brands.

If you are thinking of taking more than one medication, it is very important to consult your physician because the interaction could have harmful effects. Always bring your medication, over the counter or prescribed, with you to your medical appointments.

The storage of medication is an important factor that most people do not consider. Most medications have specific storing instructions on the label. If not, ask your pharmacist.

In general, don't transfer medicines from one container to another, because you may confuse dosage information. Don't keep prescription medications or over the counter drugs beyond their expiration dates. As we all know but must remember, keep all medication out of the reach of children.

Lastly, and one of the most important things to remember, is to be honest with your doctor. Ask questions and take advice. Remember that medication is only one part of arthritis treatment. Rest, exercise, weight control and a positive attitude are also very important. Ask your doctor to help you help yourself.

For more information, contact the Arthritis Foundation at 23999 Northwestern Highway, Suite 210, Southfield, Mich., 48075, or call (313) 350-3030.

Your neighbor says

Give them a chance

It could be called the biggest upset of the year. It was a battle that seersawed through the night. And when the smoke finally cleared, the underdog had posted a narrow come-from-behind win.

Of course, we're talking about Republican John Engler's victory over incumbent James Blanchard in the Michigan governor's race.

"I was surprised that Engler won," says your neighbor Dawn Prieskorn, who went to the polls around 5:30 last week.

One of Engler's more noteworthy political promises was that he could cut Michigan property taxes by 20%.

We asked Prieskorn if she thought Engler could deliver on that pledge.

"It might take awhile, but let's give him a chance, says the 26-year-old Prieskorn, who is employed as an accountant in the Finance Department at Walbro Corporation in Cass City. A 1981 graduate of Cass City High School, Prieskorn told us she was happy with the results of the local races.

"I was glad to see some Cass City people got elected," noting it should give our area good representation in the county.

Prieskorn also commented on President Bush's recent deployment of more manpower to the Middle East.

"I support the United States being over there." Continuing, Prieskorn interestingly added that she has a brother participating in Desert Shield.

"My brother Ron has been over there the last 3 months. He serves on a Navy medical ship."

Dawn resides in Cass City with her husband of 2 years, Matt. They have no children.

Introducing...

Heartland's Best 100% Real Eggs
That Will Not Increase Blood
Serum Cholesterol!

Clinical Tests Prove It.

In clinical tests in which people ate 12 Heartland's Best eggs per week, as a part of a well-balanced, low-fat diet, total cholesterol actually decreased significantly. Over 1 billion eggs already consumed abroad.

The Hen's Diet Makes The Difference
Heartland's Best eggs are produced by hens fed a unique diet including an all natural proprietary feed supplement. Our hens are fed a better diet than most humans. The unique diet is based on over 20 years of study, plus dietary research at Cornell University.
