And while the rate hikes are a positive step towards that end, they represent neither a complete nor a longterm solution.

Even with the additional revenue created by the increases, village officials anticipate the 1991 General Fund contribution to the wastewater budget will still total $22,500. Additional future projections set the contribution at $46,400 in 1992, $60,300 in 1993, $76,050 in 1994 and $92,100 in 1995.

The Water Fund, meanwhile, is expected to hold its ownin 1991. However, officials anticipate that budget will require General Fund subsidies of $8,050, $11,700, $8,350 and $12,400 in the years 1992, 1993, 1994 and 1995, re-expense will fall on the shoulders of individual landowners.

Extension Director Dennis Stein told commissioners last week that the state wants the county to commit to funding the program by early January.

He said the county, in turn, will probably want a funding commitment from the townships, which will likely want a funding commitment from landowners.

Stein explained that the state program is operated by the Department of Agriculture and is funded by participating counties along with a federal subsidy from the U.S. Forest Service.

It's uncertain how much federal funding will be available.

The state has requested $1.7 million, but even if that amount is approved, it will probably cover less than 30 percent of the cost, Stein .continued.

"The program, over the last 5 years, has grown dramatically in size, so no one knows how much the state will be able to reimburse" the counties, he said.

Stein pointed out that federal dollars paid about 30 percent of the expense among Michigan counties last year, when 16 counties participated in the program. This year, he said, there are an additional 10 counties involved, but the state is requesting $250,000 less in funds.

According to the extension director, some participating counties, such as Bay and Midland, pay for their programs with a countywide millage, while others, including Huron County, raise the money through landowner assessments.

Tuscola County officials have agreed to cover administrative costs tied to the local program.

Commissioners appropriated $2,300 this year for expenses related to a gypsy moth egg mass count, and earmarked another $11,000 next year for a gypsy moth

Local Toys For Tots officials are hoping for a lastminute rush of toy and cash gifts from area residents to make this year's campaign a big success.

Community support has been good, but toys and donations are still needed to cover late additions," Toys For Tots Coordinator Sue Werschky said Friday.

This is the third annual campaign for the area Toys For Tots organization, which is sponsored by local civic groups and the U.S. Marine Corps Reserve. The effort serves children in the Cass City, Deford and Gagetown areas.

As of Friday, Werschky reported the group had collected roughly 400 toys and $2,125 in cash. "We have 106 families in the Cass Village President L.E. Althaver remarked the rate hikes approved Monday are steep, but pointed out, "I don't think this is the end by any means."

Later, he explained that he believes a combination of additional rate increases and spending adjustments will be needed in the future in order to maintain the wastewater and water budgets.

BUDGETS APPROVED

In other business during the 45-minute session, the council reviewed and okayed a revised 1990 budget of $1,350,345, and a 1991 spending plan totalling $1,517,495.

Both were approved following a brief public hearing attended only by council members.

Several bids were received from architects. The lowest was from Toshack and Sobscak Associates, Inc., of Saginaw for $5,500 and the firm was hired.

Requests for bids for the purchase of 2 new buses were sent to 13 firms and 4 bids were received.

Bids were asked for gas and diesel engine units. The only gas bid was from McFadden Company of Lansing. It was for $30,041. McFadden also had the lowest bid for a diesel unit, $32,039 for a 65-passenger bus with automatic transmission.

challenged that and asked about the availability of parts and the cost of repairing the engines if necessary.

The vote was 6-1 for the diesel unit, with Matthews voting no. One factor that prompted the move to diesel, in addition to economy, was that auto companies are not making gas engines for buses any more.

McFadden also offered the best price to the school for trading in the 2 old buses, a total of $5,820.

COLLEGE EXPANSION

The board okayed the expansion of the Saginaw Valley State University (SVSU) satellite program at the school. An office will be provided for the college and a person hired by the university to work on a set schedule for 20 hours per week to meet with students and aid them in course selection and financing. And Mom in the kitchen, stirring up Christmas pies, Felt ever so weary. Tears came to her eyes. The in-laws were coming, so proper and prim, And she wasn't ready, and Christmas looked grim. She'd run out of flour, had to race to the store, And her gingerbread house had crashed to the floor. As the hours grew short and her tension increased, She was hardly a picture of good will and peace.

Then from the garage there arose such a clatter She had to rush out to see what was the matter. There Dad lay, quite dazed, in a heap on the floor Amid pieces of plastic and metal galore. In constructing the kids' Jungle Gym on the sly, He forgot to insert rod X in slot Y. And an angel sighed softly, looking down from his flight, "It was so much more quiet that first Christmas night."

'Twas the dawning of Christmas when they all settled down, Unaware of the snowfall that covered the ground, And muted the clamor, and seemed to erase All the mars and the scars man had made on earth's face. And the angel bent low and whispered a prayer, "God, grant these folks respite from chaos and care. Show them true happiness comes from above, And give them for Christmas your joy, peace and love."

After all, Santa, isn't what's important, really important, that another year is about to be chalked off and everyone in the family is healthy? (I was about to say hale and hardy, but decided not to overdo it.)

There's no one wondering when and where the next meal is coming from and we all take for granted sitting in our homes watching the TV and the world go by.

So this year, Santa, if time becomes a problem, forget about us and do your best to bring something to the soldiers in Saudi Arabia. A ticket home would be the best present you could give them, 100 percent satisfaction guaranteed.

You might also come up with a little magic elixir to be sprinkled over the Mideast and South America that would remedy the problems that seem to cost us a mountain of money, not to mention the worry that body bags will be in use again. After you attend to this,

Santa, there are a few lesser gifts that would be gratefully received around town.

You might select something nice for Judi Reinhold and all of her assistants, too. You remember Judi, Santa. She's the one that took charge of that recycling program in the village. Wasn't the cooperation from all the folks in Cass City and in the entire area just great?

You just watch, Santa. It will be just as good when the new curbside collections start in January. Makes you want to fill their stockings, doesn't it? You know, Santa, over the years we've had a little oldtimers can remember when nearly everyone was against shooting antlerless deer. Then most everyone agreed that the herd was too large. Now the pendulum is swinging back again. I suppose you can't bring us deer with 20-point racks that never run into cars and eat only grass, Santa, so how about the next best thing, a little awareness of each other's problems. I know, Santa, that if you weren't so well-established in the North Pole that you'd like to come live somewhere here in the Thumb. Great place to bring up the kids.

You were about ready to change your mind when you heard about that broad daylight rape, Santa? You should have known better and we should have known better. It wasn't true. Just the same, Santa, a little something for the fabricator of the story would not be amiss....like a little meeting in the woodshed with a strap.

We had a few surprises in the political arena around here and if you haven't been carrying those greetings to the Democrats cards after you left Wayne County, perhaps you should start. We have a true 2-party system now.

One other thing, Santa, as long as you are in the area, you've left most of that weather you are used to at home in the North Pole.

That's fine with us. And if those balmy days we enjoyed last week make getting around on that sleigh too tough, stop in and we'll pop for some deluxe wheels.

There are a few other things that come to mind, but I know you are busy this time of year, so never mind. Just bring us all the Christmas cheer and joys of the season and we will be oh, so grateful, as always.

topcoat and dress shoes and she wanted me to try them on because she was sick of bringing home the wrong sizes and having to return them.

As we embraced, she agreed it would be a bad idea to go to a suburban mall packed with holiday shoppers. But she had a great idea -the New Center area, only a 5-minute drive from home. There's a big Crowley's store, lots of smaller shops, thin crowds and free parking on Saturdays, she promised. Everything she wanted for me in one uncrowded building. OK.

Everything began better than advertised. It took me 2 minutes to choose a topcoat from a selection of several and Gregg Lewis (non-fiction). One of the National Football League's most enduring images is of Dallas Cowboys coach Tom Landry's deadpan visage through victory and defeat. Until his poorly handled dismissal after the 1988 season, Landry had been the Cowboys only coach and at one point had guided them to 20 consecutive winning seasons, including 5 Super Bowl appearances and 2 world championships. Landry briefly recounts his Texas boyhood and his high school, college, and professional playing days before set-tling into a detailed account of the coaching career that got him into the Hall of Fame. Landry emerges as a much more personable, good-humored man than his image suggests, while his dedication to the success of the Cowboys domi-nated his life. Landry was the Cowboys, but, as we see here.

A WOMAN OF OUR TIMES by Rosie Thomas (fiction) Harriet Peacock, a young British entrepreneur, loves the fray of business and the exhilaration of winning. Her life is set on a faster course when she discovers her photographer-husband cameraless with a model. Their breakup inspires a, quest: Harriet returns to her mother's hometown to search. for her unknown father. Instead she finds Simon Archer, a man who befriended her then-teenaged mother. Archer is former British army officer who was imprisoned by the Japanese in World War II. He survived his ordeal by inventing "a game of skill and calculation" painstakingly constructed from match sticks and other scraps. Harriet's, visit surprises and disarms him, and he gives her his game, never imagining that she would mass-produce it as "Meizu" (Japanese for maze or labyrinth) and build a multimillion pound corporation. Harriet is the ultimate workaholic. Her zeal to succeed distorts her judgment and strains her relationships with friends, family, and a pair of egomaniae; lovers - a drunk movie star and a rich and evil businessman were going to have trouble breaking into the win column this year, the team reversed itself and played "about as well as we are capable of", said Coach Ron Nurnberger, following a 60-45 decision over the visiting Vassar Vulcans Friday.

THE PLAINS OF PASSAGE by Jean M. CASS CITY CHRONICLE-WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 19, 1990

Top performance nets Hawks first win of year over Vassar

For the first time this season the Hawks were favored when they were scheduled to play the first road game of the season at Bad Axe Tuesday.

Regardless of the outcome of that game, Cass City will be definite underdogs when the Millington Cardinals come to town Friday in the last game before the holidays.

Pacing the revival of the Hawks has been Chris Herringshaw, who is becoming a look-to man in the Hawk offense. In the last 2 games he has set personal high scoring marks. Against the Vulcans he netted 26 points and was the leading rebounder with 9 boards.

Just when it appeared as if the Cass City Red Hawks scoring in the first quarter Herringshaw started his front 40-31. after the visitors had charged to a 4-point lead. In rapid fashion he whipped in a 3-pointer and a regular hoop to pull the Hawks even with 5:01 left in the quarter.

The Hawks never trailed again, although the teams traded buckets until the end of the period, which ended tied at 16-all.

Turnovers and missed shots were frequent in the second quarter, but some tight defensive play put Cass City in front 27-22 at the half.

The Vulcans staged a mini-rally to start the third period. Two baskets by Troy Stewart and another by Steve Babowski propelled Vassar into a 29-29 tie with a minute gone in the quarter. The teams were tied again at 31-all and Brad Gray hit a shot and Herringshaw took charge to put the game on ice for the Hawks. The lanky forward hit a pair of free throws and 2 buckets and suddenly Cass City was in

When Herringshaw cooled off, Troy Perry stepped up with 2 of his 3 baskets for the night to maintain the lead.

Going into the final 8 minutes the Hawks were in front 46-34. With Herringshaw again pacing the of-

Hawks fall to last half USA rally

For awhile it appeared as if the Cass City Red Hawks were ready to break into the win column for the first time this year Tuesday night at Cass City High School.

With a healthy 10-point lead at the half over visiting USA it appeared that the losing streak was history, only to have the Patriots charge back and win 64-54.

The key to the game was the third quarter. Cass City died offensively and the Patriots, behind Bill Nietzke's 7 points, wiped out the Cass City lead and went ahead by a point, 37-36. The Hawk scoring in the quarter was limited to a bas-

Hawks were just 6 of 12 in the final 8 minutes.

It looked like another low scoring game in the first quarter as USA scored just 4 buckets by 4 different players and the Hawks used balanced scoring to go in front 10-8.

The second quarter was the best that the team has put together this year. With Herringshaw burning the hoop for a pair of 3-pointers, two2-pointers and 2 of 3 free throws Cass City charged to a 32-22 halftime lead and things looked rosy.

PAY ATTENTION! Akron State Bank Announces

ket and 2 free throws by Steve Tuckey.

We just became much too tentative after we charged to that first half lead, Coach Ron Nurnberger said. We just have to come up with better guard play, Nurnberger added. It was a very disappointing loss for us. USA is not very talented this season, the coach feels.

There were a few bright moments for the Hawks. The play of Chris Herringshaw who netted a career high 20 points was one. Brad Gray came off the bench to turn in a good game. Tuckey, 15 points, and Troy Perry, 9 rebounds, turned in consistent performances.

The team ran the offense better than it had in previous games and the shooting improved somewhat. Cass City hit 15 of 32 from the field for 47 percent of 2-point tries. From 3-point range it was a different story as the Hawks hit on just 3 of 17. From the free throw line there was improvement with 15 of 25 for 60 percent for the Hawks, the best mark of the young season.

USA hit just 21 of 34 attempts, but was effective with the game on the line. In the last quarter as the Hawks pressed to get back in the game, the Patriots went to the line 18 times and converted 12 of them. The

Last quarter slumps push O-G to 2 league defeats

How many times, as a youngster, were you told to finish whatever you started.

Evidently, Coach Brian Wright's Owen-Gage basketball team didn't listen often enough, as the Bulldogs folded in 2 NCTL contests last week in the final quarters.

Friday's 64-54 loss at Deckerville may have cost the 'Dogs their best chance to record a league victory in 1990. The Bulldogs (0-3) entertain powerful Peck (2-1) this Friday in their final game before the holiday break.

Against the Eagles, junior Chris Anthes turned in his best career performance, netting 12 points and helping the visitors turn a 14-11 first period deficit into a 25-24 lead at the intermission. Deckerville's Larry Wolf had the hot hand early as he buried 4 baskets from the perimeter in the game's first 8 minutes.

In the 2nd stanza it was Owen-Gage's Mike Kady who caught fire, pouring in 4 jumpers to offset the hosts' fast start.

Deckerville regained the lead heading into the final quarter as Wolf continued to slice up the Bulldog defense. Wolf netted 3 open jump shots in the period and, with

It was our poorest outing of the season, Coach Don Markel said after his charges finished seventh among the ? teams in the Capac Invita-Jonal Saturday.

The best the team could do was fourth place finishes by John Koepf, 112 pounds, Brad Niester, the Bulldogs' 6' 5" junior, displayed promise throughout the first half as he helped controll the boards and netted 6 points, including a powerful lefthanded bucket from under the basket.

Beside Androl, Jason Ball (16), Matt Trish (11), and Todd Brink (10) finished in double figures for the winners.

The Bulldogs were led by Jason Torres (13) and Mike Kady (12).

It promises to be a rebuilding year for coach Don Markel and the Cass City wrestling team as graduation has seriously depleted Cass City's fine team of 1989-90.

That squad finished third in the Thumb B Association with a 4-2 record and 11-12 overall. They did it with some wrestlers that were as good as any to represent the school. They were led by Bob Leffler, league champion and third in the state at 125 pounds, and Randy Johnson, league champion

There are some experienced grapplers back. John Koepf posted a 27-19 record as a sophomore. Markel is looking for improvement from returning starters Pete Matson, 119 pounds; Dominick Vargo, 125 pounds; Shawn Sherman, 130 Delbert pounds; Mathewson, 145 pounds; Randy Peasley, team captain, 152 pounds; Dennis DeLong, 160 pounds, and Ron Woodward, 171 pounds.

Markel sees Marlette as the team to beat followed by Millington. Defending champion Caro lost several of its high quality wrestlers but still has a strong program and will be a challenger.

Santa "not real popular" in Spain--Gloria Ayala

It's been nearly 4 months since Gloria Ayala, a Rotary exchange student from Spain, has seen her home in Seville.

Naturally, the dark-haired -year-old misses a few tnings.

"Gazpacho" (a cold soup made of tomatoes, peppers, onions, vinegar, oil, etc.), Ayala giggled.

Seville, located on the "Back home," she added, Guadalquivir River, is a "we spend much more time metropolis of more than one preparing meals than we do here.'

That's not all bad, hower, judging by the sparkle in Ayala's eyes when pizza is brought into the conversation. The exchange student has also acquired a fondness for Mexican food.

But so hot," she said,

'There is a huge conflict between the 2 groups,' Ayala pointed out. "The Gitanos are very poor. They don't obey the laws. They are beggars.'

Many of the Gitanos live in many changes. Improved a place called Tres Mil Vivistreets, building bridges, modernizations," she said enda. Ayala remarked it is not dangerous there. "I through Trisch's interpretawould not be afraid to go Seville is best known for its there.' Turning to education, Ayala made a number of observations.

"In Spain, the private schools are much better than the public schools. Here (in the states), I believe the public schools are better than the private schools."

"School is much tougher in Spain," she continued. "Out of a 45-student class, 5 or 6 will not advance."

Also in Spain, the students remain in the same class the entire day-teachers switch from room to room. Another difference between the 2 countries' education systems is the emphasis on sports.

"There is no competition between schools like there is here, Ayala said quietly. After schooling, much emphasis is placed on students' personal careers. Both of Ayala's parents are professionals.

Maite, Gloria's mother, is a factory executive and teacher, and her father, Jose, is an agricultural engineer.

> "Careers are important. We have fun during school, then we look for our career. Marriage will come later," Ayala commented. She noted the average couple in Spain weds between the age of 25 to 30.

> Another comparison drawn by Ayala is the difference in how Thanksgiving and Christmas are celebrated.

"Thanksgiving we get the day off school to go to church. But we don't have the big turkey dinners."

Likewise, there are some differences in the way Spain spends its Christmas.

"In Spain, the wise men are very important. Therefore we exchange gifts Jan. 6,' she said.

Although the manger scenes and Christmas trees play a role in Spain's yule time celebration, Santa does not.

Although he is recognized, 'Santa is not real popular in Spain," Ayala remarked.

Most likely the biggest change in the Christmas season for Ayala has come in a white package.

The temperature rarely drops below 70 degrees in Spain.

Small milk price cut expected

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has approved reducing the butterfat in the formula determining milk prices paid to dairy farmers under all federal milk marketing orders.

GLORIA AYALA, a Rotary exchange student from Spain, has spent her first 3 months in Cass City with the Jim and Sandy Bolton family.

Caro man faces 4 charges

A 25-year-old Caro man was arraigned Saturday in Tuscola County District Court on charges of drunk driving and resisting a Caro Police officer.

The defendant, Joseph H. Lince Jr., faces charges of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, third offense; driving while impaired, second offense; transporting an open intoxicant, and resisting and obstructing a police officer. All the charges are in connection with an incident Friday in Caro, court records state.

A preliminary examination is scheduled for Friday at 10 a.m. Bond has been set at $20,000.

That decision is supported by Farm Bureau and all major sectors of the dairy industry, according to Michigan Farm Bureau dairy specialist Kevin Kirk.

"The typical dairy farmer will probably see a decrease in his price that he receives for his milk," Kirk said. "It will be a small decrease, but in the long run it will gradually pick back up because the prices paid for dairy products will actually increase."

Kirk said the change is being made in response to consumer demand for lower fat dairy products. The new formula provision will be used for the first time Jan. 4 and will apply to December's milk, he said.

Bond has been set at $2,000 for the defendant, who faces a preliminary exam on the charges Friday at 10 a.m.

According to court records, Law is accused of assaulting a woman with a knife, and resisting Millington Police Officer Tom Laude Dec. 16 in Arbela Township.

Also, Jackson State Prison inmate Donald J. Rife, 25, was arraigned on a charge of prison escape.

A preliminary exam in the case was scheduled for today (Wednesday). Bond has been set at $10,000. Rife is charged with escaping from Camp Tuscola, Caro, July 21.

Edison customers won't be left out in the cold

Detroit Edison customers with special needs will not be left out in the cold this winter.

The utility will grant payment extensions of up to 6 months to customers in the Michigan National Guard and military reserves who have been assigned to service in the Middle East.

Additionally, customers having difficulties paying their energy bills can take advantage of Detroit Edison's Winter Protection Plan and other assistance programs offered by the utility.

Under the plan, effective from Dec. 1 through March 31, 1991, Detroit Edison will not shut off electric of Health has concluded that milk and meat from cows treated with bovine growth hormone (BGH) is just as safe as those from untreated cows.

The study was done at the request of Senate Agriculture Committee chairman Patrick Leahy.

Michigan Farm Bureau dairy specialist Kevin Kirk said the report helps reinforce an earlier review of BGH by the Food and Drug Administration that reported milk containing BGH is safe to drink. "The more and more positive news we have regarding research and scientific data on BGH, the more it will ease the uncertainty in the minds of consumers," he said. Kirk noted that despite the good news on the safety of the genetically engineered hormone, further testing requirements mean that

Low interest rates for farmers

The U.S. Congress has extended the use of tax-exempt small-issue Private Activity Bonds (PABs) until Dec. 31, 1991, thus making available low-interest loans to beginning farmers through the Michigan Family Farm Development Authority's (MFFDA) Beginning Farmer Program. Authorization for the use of PABs had expired Sept. 30,

The Beginning Farmer Program makes loans available through lenders, contract sellers or other investors to enable farmers to purchase land, farm buildings, farm equipment and breeding livestock, despite a shortage of capital. Because of the tax-exempt status of a bond that MFFDA sells to a lender, the lender can loan money below the conventional interest rate.

'With the extension of PABs, MFFDA is able to issue bonds on behalf of eligible beginning farmers,' said Lee Gonzales, director of MFFDA. "Michigan has a need for programs such as this.'

As a member of the National Council of State Agricultural Finance Programs, MFFDA has used PABs, also known as Industrial Development Bonds, for 68 beginning farmer loans totaling $5.6 million since 1983. Under the program, the farmer negotiates with a local lender, contract seller or other investor to arrange interest rate, length of the loan, repayment schedule, security and collateral

The 1986 Tax Reform Act reduced some incentives obtained for lenders' participation. However, interest income received by any private lender from a MFFDA bond is tax-exempt on both federal and state tax returns. In addition, a seller of a farm may become a bondholder under the program, thus making additional loans possible.

Various rules and regulations promulgated by the Internal Revenue Service govern the use and sale of tax-exempt bonds. For example, the bond amount is limited to a lifetime aggregate amount of $250,000 per borrower for agricultural land and improvements and depreciable agricultural property. Of the possible $250,000, no more than 462,500 may be loaned for used property. In addition, tax-exempt proceeds cannot be used to refinance existing debt, finance working capital, or finance acquisitions of land or property from a related person. According to the Internal Revenue Code, a father, mother, grandfather, grandmother, son, daughter, brother, sister or spouse constitute a related person. More information is available by calling the Michigan Family Farm Development Authority office, Michigan Department of Agriculture, at (517) 373-3898.

Pettinger deployed to Middle East

Navy Petty Officer 2nd Class Wayne H. Pettinger, son of Harold G. and Velda J. Pettinger of Ubly, is currently deployed to the Middle East in support of Operation Desert Shield while serving aboard the guided missile destroyer USS Sampson, homeported in Mayport, Fla.

Operation Desert Shield is the largest deployment of U.S. military forces since Vietnam. The operation is in response to Iraq's invasion of Kuwait and threat to Saudi Arabia.

A 1979 graduate of Ubly High School, he joined the Navy in October 1986.

We'd like to say thank you for your graciousness in all our dealings and for the opportunity to be of service.

In November of 1989 the Berlin Wall came tumbling down. It seemed like at last for peace sprang into full bloom in many hearts. Suddenly, the hopes for a new world political order became a possibility. One our Lord". more roadblock to peace had been removed. In August of 1990, Iraq invaded Kuwait and now, our hopes for peace are tempered by the possibility of war. And as once we were caught up in the euphoria of the possibility of peace, we are now brought back to the reality of the possibility of war.

Yet, the hope for peace never wanes within us! For it goes deeper than the dream of political peace. It goes to the core of our lives as we realize that there is warfare going on within us. For we world was astounded as the often find that the good we would do, that we do not, and the evil we would not, peace had come. The hope that we do. As St. Paul says, "Who will rescue me from this body of death? Thanks be to God who gives us the victory through Jesus Christ

The Prince of Peace has come! Once again we celebrate his coming and hear the words which meet our deepest hopes for peace. "Unto you is born this day in the city of David, a Savior, who is Christ the Lord." My prayer for each of us is that we might know the peace which transcends all human understanding and that it may be manifest in our lives and throughout the room. Children are eagerly opening their gifts hoping that a Christ; new excitement will fill their lives. As they play with made room, their new toys, wear their new clothes, and appreciate their new possessions, satisfaction fills the giver's life.

But as the year progresses the toys soon become less exciting, clothes are quickly outgrown, appreciation becomes depreciated. But there is a gift that will never wear out, will always bring satisfaction, and appreciates with each passing year. It is God's Christmas gift. How have you responded to God's Christmas gift?

Mary cherished her Christmas gift, Our Savior, Christ the Lord;

She wrapped the Babe in strips of cloth; Our Savior she adored. But when the Babe grew up and reached The age of thirty-three, The world took off the clothes He had,

To shame Him publicly. After wrapping the Lord in cloth.

"Yes, I would," he replied. After the refreshing drink, he asked her name and then left.

Several years later, Dr. Kennedy, an excellent surgeon, was operating on a woman who needed major surgery. After several months of recuperation, she developed complications and required additional surgery.

She had very little insurance, and all her life savings were depleted by the hospital and medical bills.

So one morning after 2 major operations, a long hospital stay and several weeks of convalescence at home, she saw the postman deliver her mail.

In her mail was the bill from the surgeon - - - she wept as she saw the total, $7,159. It was a debt she'd be paying the rest of her life....the tears became even a greater flow when she saw written across the page in a typical doctor's scrawling penmanship: PAID IN FULL WITH ONE GLASS OF COLD MILK, THANK YOU! Dr. Paul Kennedy.

I am so thankful Jesus came as the Savior of the world, but personally paid my monstrous debt. I become especially mindful of this between Thanksgiving (when being thankful is on my mind) and Christmas (when the coming of Jesus to save me from my sin is on

A plane took off from New Orleans International Airport 8 1/2 years ago. The pilot took the jet down the runway even though the wind was gusting and the rain was drenching. The jet clipped a tree only 2,250 feet beyond the runway. Then a power line was hit. The jet with its 138 passengers crashed into houses and exploded. Thirteen houses were leveled. The flames shot 200 feet into the gray sky. Gas tanks of burning cars erupted adding to the detonation. inferno. For 2 hours a dozen ambulances waited for firemen to make entry safe. Lamented Volunteer Fireman Bob Bennett: "We train and train to help save lives. Then it happens and we can't do anything but take the dead out."

It appeared that everyone had died. Two hours after the crash, Deputy Sheriff Gerald Hibbs saw something move in the rubble. "Get a doctor!" he shouted. A baby started to cry. "What a sound it was," recalled Bennett. Wearing only diapers, 16-month-old Melissa Trahan was rushed to a hospital. She suffered only foot burns. Said a policeman, "Just one ray of life in all this. One tiny little baby."

God works through babies

In 1809 the world was concerned with only one thing...Napoleon and his army. The French general was a threat to world peace. The world took little note of 2 babies who were born that same year: Abraham Lincoln and William Gladstone. Lincoln would become President of the United States and free the slaves; Gladstone would become Prime Minister of Great Britain and lead his country in many social reforms.

them a baby...and that baby was Moses.

The most notable incident in human history of God using a baby occurred when, 1900 years ago, Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judea. At that time the world was concerned with the incredible power of the Roman Empire and her legions of fierce warriors. The Jewish people, under the Roman thumb, were looking for deliverance. They apparently thought their Messiah would come riding on a white horse and overthrow the Roman armies. Instead, God sent them a Baby!

Hostages Released!

The news this month of the imminent release of hostages from Iraq brought first stunned disbelief, then joyous-celebration from families across America and beyond. The captives have been freed! Scores of former hostages anticipated joyous homecomings.

The first to return shared widely different accounts of their time in captivity. Some spent their days as hostages on the luxurious estate of a Kuwaiti sheik. Others struggled in quite severe conditions: cramped quarters, meager food, emotional distress. But the welcomed announcement of freedom brought release for all. Their captivity was a thing of the past.

The angels' announcement to the shepherds is the good news today that freedom from captivity is extended to each of us from a loving heavenly Fath le not afraid; for behold, I bring you good news of a great joy which will come to all the people; for to you is born this day...a Savior..." (Luke 2:10, 11). Our respective lots in life may contrast sharply. Success and affluence come to some; heartache and struggle seem to characterize others. Yet, the binding power of sin is no respecter of persons. Left to ourselves, we are but hostages to the dark powers of self and this world. What has been done about this "hostage situation"? The glad announcement of Christmas is: "He has sent me to proclaim release to the captives." (Lk. 4:18). Christmas is the proclamation that freedom for all has been secured by the Child in the manger. And we can eagerly anticipate a home-coming with Him who brought our release!

Let us respond this Christmas by accepting His deliverance and rejoicing in this freedom.

The traditions of Christmas 1990

In a day when the morals and values of Judeo-Christian ethics are being systematically removed from American life, Christmas stands as the bastion of all that is right and holy.

At the Evangelical Free Church of Cass City we make a definite attempt to promote and live by the ethics of Jesus Christ, who was humanly born at Christmas time.

On the first Sunday of Advent we decorate our church and a large Christmas tree and then our evening service is dedicated to the traditions of family values. Every individual or family in the church has a Christmas tree ornament with the family name imprinted on its side. During this service, one by one, persons come to the front of the church. And, while one member places the ornament on the tree, another member steps to the microphone to share a Christmas tradition, a special blessing, a prayer request or praise, or even a desire to begin a new tradition. The service is always a special blessing and encouragement to every attender as each realizes that the Christ of Christmas is alive and well, in spite of the systematic removal of His birthday from American

Did you have cake? Jack Frost was to our town, and Father Winter didn't give us much snow yet. I wish it would snow so we could go sledding and ice -skating, make angels in the snow and have a snowball fight. It's almost Christmas and this year I play an angel at my church. I hope I do good, Jesus will be watching me. 1 want to do real good, and be good all of the time, but I am not.

Are you taking food to people this year? Many people don't have food. I was going to ask for a new house to live in, but many people don't live inside a house, our cats do and so do our dogs. It's cold out. For Christmas I want all our friends to come back home so people stop crying, and then we can have fun again. And a go-go my pet dog.

I have to go now to eat my supper, Mom made pea soup.

Christmas means Christ PASTOR SCOTT TYSICK Cass City Church of God

Jesus is the Reason for the Season! (Luke Chapter 1 & 2-Verse 21)

Christmas is the giving of Christmas means love. many things to many people. It means gifts and glamour, celebration, meditation, reunion, reminiscence, old friends, old faces, worship, prayer, pageantry and parties.

Christmas is a holiday, a holy day, a friendly greeting, glittering lights, gifts galore and a Christmas tree. As always, Christmas means carols and carolers singing their serenades on Christmas Eve. To the children throughout the world, Christmas will always mean toys, a snowman and a special snack for Santa Claus and his reindeer. Christmas does mean magic and mystery, mistletoe and holly, cookies and candy, toys and trees — yet, to all people of goodwill
