A COLD WIND FANNED the blaze that claimed the Lee Voss residence, 1919 Crawford Rd., Deford, last Wednesday night. No one was injured, but the loss has been estimated at $70,000.

Fire started by faulty wood stove guts home

A faulty wood stove is being blamed in a fire that gutted a large, 2-story farm house about 6 miles southeast of Cass City last week. No one was injured in the blaze, but the home of the Lee Voss family, 1919 Crawford Rd., Deford, was a total loss.

The fire was reported at about 9:55 p.m. last Wednesday. At least 30 fire fighters from 5 area departments responded to the scene, spending the next 6 hours working to quell the blaze.

Despite their combined efforts, however, firemen, who were hampered by icy roads and a stiff, numbing wind, could not save the structure. "By the time we got there, it had gotten too good a start," Elkland Township Fire Chief Dick Root said. "It was just one of those (fires) you can't do anything about."

Root explained that the fire began near a wood stove in the basement and spread upwards to the ceiling. Fire fighters entered the basement in an attempt to snuff the flames, he said, but the fire had already spread up into the central portion of the structure's upper floors.

A veteran fireman, Root, who estimated damage at $70,000, remarked the loss was one of the biggest he can remember in terms of the extent of damage. Fortunately, the house was insured. Voss, along with his wife and one of the couple's daughters, currently are residing with another of the Voss' daughters in the area, family members said.

Elkland Township fire fighters were assisted by 4 other departments. The Elmwood-Gagetown Fire Department provided a tanker and manpower, the Kingston Fire Department provided a pumper, tanker and manpower, and the Lamotte and Caro departments each provided a tanker.

Root lauded the cooperation among the departments.

"They did a fantastic job," he said.

SUNDAY FIRE

Root said there was little damage at another house fire Elkland Township firemen were called to respond to Sunday evening at about 10:20 p.m.

The electrical service to a fuse box on the outside of a house at 5820 Severance Road shorted, igniting a fire, according to the fire chief, who noted the home's occupant, Ken Orton Jr., had the fire extinguished by the time fire fighters arrived.

The house, located 4 miles south and 1 1/2 miles west of Cass City, is owned by Jack Kappen.

Milk producers told to brace for less than a banner 1991

The coming year isn't expected to be a bright one for area dairy farmers.

That was the assessment of officials who spoke during the annual meeting of the Deford Local of the Michigan Milk Producers Association, held Saturday in Shabbona.

The 3-hour meeting was attended by some 30 persons, including 14 members.

While the cooperative as a whole remains financially sound, dairymen face a depressed market and stiff milk assessments, Harold Gremmel, MMPA District 9 director, and Roger Miller, MMPA director of Manufactured Product Sales, told those in attendance.

Gremmel, who presented an annual financial report on the cooperative, pointed out that 1990 was a good year. He said the cooperative marketed 2.9 billion pounds of milk and realized a net profit of more than $3 million.

The price for milk sold during the year averaged 80 cents over premium, with a peak in October of $1.79 over premium. "We've been holding at an average of 80 cents, and we're going to try for $1 this year," he said.

Gremmel remarked the quality of milk in 1990 was improved over the year before, but noted there were a lot of "one time" incidents on farms in which milk had to be dumped. There's room for improvement here, he said, adding more than 800 bulk tank loads were dumped last year.

Turning to the 1990 Farm Bill, Gremmel offered little good news, saying the support price has been set at $10.10 per hundredweight (cwt) for 3.65 milk, compared to the $10.60 farmers had hoped for.

PRICE SUPPORT

He explained that under the new bill, if there are fewer than 3.5 billion pounds of surplus milk, the price support can be hiked by 25 cents. That can be done up to 2 times per year.

On the reverse side, he continued, if the surplus milk totals more than 5 billion pounds, the support price can be reduced 25 to 50 cents, which can also be done twice in a year as long as the support price remains at a minimum of $10.10.

Further, Gremmel said that if the surplus milk totals 7 billion pounds or more, farmers' milk checks will be assessed to cover the cost of removing the surplus.

Farmers also face assessments tied to the Budget Reconciliation Act.

Gremmel explained that currently, farmers are being assessed 5 cents cwt towards reducing the national budget deficit.

For farmers who produce less milk this year than they did in 1990, that 5 cents is refundable. However, he pointed out, the assessment will increase to 11.25 cents in the years 1992-95. In addition, whatever is reimbursed to farmers this year will be tacked onto that 11.25 cents, increasing it to as much as 14 cents cwt.

POSITIVE

Despite that picture of doom and gloom, Miller remarked MMPA officials are doing some positive things in the area of marketing.

While the cooperative was primarily in the non-fat dry milk and butter business in the 1980s, the trend since then has been to go to other products that bring a higher return, he said.

In past years, non-fat dry milk and butter made up some 80 percent of MMPA's business, compared to 20 percent now.

Miller noted that while the return on products such as non-fat dry milk is typically 5 cents cwt, the cooperative is getting an average return of 65 to 70 cents cwt by processing various dairy blends.

Perhaps the most profitable example is a blend of condensed milk, cream and milk sold to the Dannon Yogurt Co., he continued, noting the product brings a return of $1.75 cwt (20-percent profit margin).

Miller also discussed the dairy quality program, which pays farmers premium for high quality milk. Some $1.7 million was returned to farmers in quality premiums last year.

Showing that figure to customers makes the job of marketing the product much easier, he commented.

Miller agreed with Gremmel's overall assessment of what farmers can expect this year.

He said dairymen are faced with a depressed market, saying, "There's just more milk out there than we know what to do with."

Miller predicted the average price farmers will get for their milk this year will be $11.50, an average of $2.50 less than last year.

PROMOTION

In other business, members discussed possible promotion efforts they might want to undertake in the coming year.

Towards that end, Janet Severance and Linda Rye were appointed to assist in that effort as Dairy Diplomats. The membership agreed to send both ladies to an upcoming Dairy Diplomat seminar, March 13 and 14 in Lansing, to learn about various promotional activities.

Final census figures told

Village to crack down on illegal dumping

Illegal dumping and 1990 census figures were among the topics discussed during a brief monthly Village Council meeting Monday night.

Councilman Mike Weaver brought up the topic of illegal dumping, saying many local business owners, including himself, are frustrated with the problem of people putting their garbage in dumpsters set up and paid for by businesses.

The on-going problem was acknowledged by other council members and village Manager Lou S. LaPonsie, who noted police have caught a few persons doing it.

"No one wants to pay for someone else's garbage, and it's upsetting people," Weaver said.

He urged that an ordinance prohibiting such dumping be implemented and enforced.

Other council members agreed and referred the matter to the council's Rules Committee with instructions to examine any existing ordinance dealing with the topic. Possible future action may include updating an ordinance already on the books or considering the adoption of a new ordinance.

Turning to finalized census figures, village President L.E. Althaver announced the final tallies revealed 2,276 persons in Cass City, an increase of 18 persons over the 1980 census.

The figure also represents an increase of 33 over the preliminary 1990 census count of 2,243 persons reported in August.

IN OTHER BUSINESS

In other business during the 40-minute session, the council:

- Tabled discussion on the possible organization of a Community Foundation in the Cass City area. A guest who was scheduled to make a presentation on the topic was unable to attend the meeting.

- Approved a resolution endorsing a request by the Cass City Preschool Nursery to be recognized as a non-profit organization for the purpose of obtaining a gaming license through the state lottery bureau.

Officials indicated school officials plan to conduct a raffle or 50/50 drawing.

- Passed a motion in support of the planned enhanced 911 emergency phone service plan slated to be implemented in Tuscola, Huron and Sanilac counties in late 1992.

- Read a letter written by F/Lt. Donald H. Schummer, commander of the state police post in Caro, who thanked Cass City Police Officer Craig Haynes for services rendered in the investigation of a fatal shooting in Cass City Dec. 27.

Schummer said Haynes, who was the first to arrive at the scene, was "a tremendous asset" in the investigation.

20 jobs lost at Walbro-SEM

Walbro-SEM, the ignition plant that was viewed by a jubilant Cass City area as an open house in November of 1989, will be leaving the community this spring.

The move will mean the loss of about 20 jobs in addition to management. Miles Smith, who runs the plant, will be moving with it. Several technical employees will work at Walbro.

Lambert Althaver, Walbro chairman, said that the company was switching production to Mexico.

When the joint venture was started here, the company was banking on new, sophisticated equipment to keep costs down and the product competitive. However, Althaver said, the anticipated volume was not achieved. We were forced to move to cut losses, he explained.

Workers were notified Thursday that the plant was moving at the end of the quarter.

Althaver said that the company is working hard to try to find a new product for the building.

BACH IN JEOPARDY?

In addition to losing SEM, the community could be without the annual Bach Festival this year. About a third of the funding is provided by the Michigan Council for the Arts. Governor John Engler has requested that the funding for the Council be cut.

About a third of the total cash revenues came from the Council last year. That amounts to about $9,000 of the more than $27,000 in cash that the Festival requires. The governor is trying to shift the cost to the private sector. But the current economic conditions make it hard for private business to take up the slack.

"We'll just have to wait and see what happens. We are going to try and go on with the program. The next 30 days should decide if we can, Althaver concluded."

New used car lot in village?

A vacant gas station in Cass City may be the future home of a used car lot, Village Council members learned Monday night.

A representative of Al Hanson Chevrolet, Buick, Olds, Inc., Sandusky, told council members that Hanson is "thinking strongly" of locating a used car lot in the village.

The representative, Derek Romain, cautioned that the proposal is only being considered at this time, but noted Hanson has inquired about the former Standard gas station.

Romain explained that he wanted to check with the council regarding zoning and other matters related to the proposal.

The council indicated no zoning changes would be needed to open such a business at the Main Street building, which now stands vacant.

Jaws of Life needed in auto crash

Injuries were reported in 3 separate traffic accidents in the area, including a 2-vehicle collision in Cass City, over the past week.

Beatrice B. Baker, 57, 4657 Schwegler Rd., Cass City, was hospitalized following an accident Friday afternoon at the intersection of Garfield Avenue and Sherman Street.

Cass City police said Baker was injured when the east-bound vehicle she was driving was struck by a south-bound car that failed to yield at the intersection due to icy road conditions.

Elkland Township fire fighters used their Jaws of Life to extricate Baker from her vehicle. She was transported by Cass City-Mercy Ambulance personnel to Hills and Dales General Hospital, where she was listed in "fair" condition Monday.

The driver of the other car, Shane M. Ross, 16, Cass City, was cited for failing to yield in the 3:40 p.m. accident, according to reports, which indicate both drivers were wearing seat belts at the time of the crash.

A pair of area teens were injured last Wednesday when their vehicle left an Elkland Township road and struck a telephone pole. According to troopers at the state police post in Caro, Kristen A. Seurnyck, 16, of Gagetown, was eastbound on Bay-City Forestville Road near Koepfgen Road at about 8 a.m. when she hit a snow drift and lost control of her vehicle.

Seurnyck and a passenger in her vehicle, Tammie Wright, 16, Cass City, sought their own treatment for injuries.

Neither was wearing a seat belt when the accident occurred, according to troopers, who cited Seurnyck for driving too fast for road conditions.

Also injured recently was a Pigeon man who lost control of his vehicle on an Ellington Township road Sunday. Sheriff's deputies reported Dale A. Killinger, 25, was northbound on Colwood Road south of Dutcher Road

Do you remember?

by Melva E. Guinther

It's probably a sign of my incredibly advanced age. The other day I caught myself harking back to my days as a soda jerk at Parrotts Dairy Bar, and I was surprised at how vivid some of the memories are after 40 years or so.

Parrotts, for the benefit of those who haven't been around forever, was owned by my aunt and uncle, and was located on Main St., where Sutter's Bakery and Restaurant stands today.

It was a great place for meeting just about everybody in town.

Some of the regulars that came in for coffee were Betty Townsend, from Townsend's Five & Ten, Donna Hildinger, from the Chronicle, Amy Deneen, who worked at Champion Advertising, and Patty Tate, who clerked at her parents' store, Tate's Grocery. Betty always ordered a cup of coffee and a glass of water. I also recall that the late Rev. Melvin Vender requested a spoonful of vinegar in his water, and the Floyd Reids and Frank Hutchinsons came in for sundaes every Friday night.

The only customer who ever asked for a thin milkshake was the late Horace Bulen of Bulen Motors. Everybody else wanted them as thick as possible. All this reminiscing led to thinking about other businesses in town at the time.

Boag & Churchill's plumbing and heating shop was next door, where Ryland & Guc is now, and Calkas had the Eat Shop east of the Dairy Bar.

The Gamble Store occupied the building that now houses McMahan Auto Supply.

Townsend's later became a Western Auto store and, I believe, is presently Georgine's and Information Exchange. Hartwick's Grocery was on the west corner of the block, and Bishops' Hardware and Parsch's clothing store were between Hartwick's and Townsend's. If you want to have a lively discussion with some old-timers, just start talking about where and when a certain business was located in Cass City. Stan and I couldn't agree on where Ashers' Men's Wear used to be. It turns out we were both right. Co-worker Joann Asher says there were 2 stores, one on the corner where Cass City Floral is and later, one located in the building vacated by the post office, between Woods Drug Store and Mac & Scotty's (now Coach Light Pharmacy).

To be named to the dean's list at Taylor, a student must achieve a grade point average of at least 3.6 on a 4.0 scale while carrying 12 or more credit hours.

Remember Eila Vance's hat shop? How about Dupuis IGA, Severns' Grocery (later Rutkowski's) and Freiburgers? Where were the A & P and Kroger stores? Hitchcock's store must go back a bit farther, because I don't remember it, except for hearing my dad talk about it. I remember Prieskorns', Huliens', Leesons' Wallpaper & Paint, the Smith store, where Kritzmans' is today, and the Federated store.

Others that come to mind are Baldy Ellis' Sunoco, Mac & Leo's and S T & H service stations, Reed & Patterson's and Gross & Meier meat markets, the New Gordon Hotel, Chandlers and Home Restaurant.

If you need someone to settle a dispute about Cass City's bygone days, I recommend Jack Esau. As Cass City's resident historian, he's sure to have the answers.

Library sets discussion group for older adults

Rawson Memorial Library, Cass City, is sponsoring an 8-week discussion group for older adults beginning Monday at 10 a.m. in the library's meeting room.

The program, entitled "In the Old Ways," focuses on the influence customs and traditions have on daily living.

Participants will be provided with a manual of stories, poetry and historical accounts produced by the National Council on the Aging Humanities Program. "The heritage and customs of the past endure in a wide variety of forms: a song, a proverb, a recipe for a special holiday, the ritual of a wedding ceremony, a pattern for a quilt or a family story," library director Barbara Hutchinson said. "The readings in this unit illustrate the informal and unconscious means by which people acquire traditions and the indelible stamp they leave on our lives and actions ever afterward."

Persons interested in taking part in this free program are asked to stop in at the library to register and pick up their book.

A set of audio tapes has been provided for those who wish to follow along that way.

Informational videos available at Rawson Memorial Library

The first videos purchased with a $10,000 Library Services Construction Act grant received by Tuscola County libraries are now available.

The PBS videos include series such as "Nova," "Vietnam: A Television History," "Planet Earth," "Shakespeare Plays" and many others. There are more than 200 videos in the collection. "If It Fitz...."

Competent service?

By Jim Fitzgerald

John Donald of Detroit and David Raben of Livonia provide the latest reminders of how frustrating it is that taxpayers can't fire their government employees, or at least kick them in the shins. What's the sense in being boss if you can't demand competent service from the hired help, or else?

Competent service? How about just answering the lousy phone, you bozos?

In fairness to Donald and Raben, it should be mentioned that they complained before we went to war with Iraq. Everybody safe in the United States feels silly griping about comparatively minor irritations while blood is flowing in the Persian Gulf. But life goes on, as surely as cliches, and ignoring bureaucratic fumbles here won't save one .fe over there.

GETTING BUSY ON CITY TAX FORMS

Donald figures he has a refund coming on his 1990 Detroit city income tax. He wants his money as soon as possible, but can't begin the process, he said, because he can't get a city income tax form.

Over 3 weeks ago, Donald said he was told by a friendly bureaucrat that the forms hadn't arrived from the printer yet. Could that be? Just that day I'd read that, in the Detroit school system, teachers often receive supplies one year after ordering them. But surely our city, always short of funds, wouldn't begin 1991 without a more-than-adequate supply of the forms taxpayers need to pay 1990 taxes to their ever-needy government.

It should be easy to find out. In the phone book, it says call 224-3323 for "City Income Tax Form Requests." For 14 straight weekdays, during regular business hours, I punched that number at least 5 times an hour (Yes, I'm stubborn. Also, I've discovered that the push button phone, when regularly used, provides the physical exercise required to keep my body in Vic Tanny shape. I'd use a rowing machine, except it's too big for my desk).

The line was busy on every call but one, when there was no answer to 22 rings. That was at 10:30 a.m. on a Tuesday and everybody in the office was probably busy investigating how the hell a call got through: "OK, what overzealous public servant hung up a receiver?"

I remained intrepid. The phone book also says to call 224-3315 for "City Income Tax Assistance Requests." It took me only 2 days to get an answer, and when I said I needed assistance in getting information on the availability of city income tax forms, I was instructed to call 224-3323, the number I'd been futilely punching for 2 weeks.

That's when I screamed and turned trepid.

"The city is earning interest on my money," John Donald told me. "I want my refund so I can earn my own interest." He added that when he expressed his frustration to the City Ombudsman's office - - whose mission is to help frustrated taxpayers - - "they told me to get off the phone."

TAXPAYER WANTS TO GET CONNECTED

As for David Raben, early this month he was informed by mail by the state Department of Treasury that there was an unpaid balance on his 1989 state income tax. He was instructed to phone one of 2 numbers if he had any questions. Raben quickly discovered that both numbers had been disconnected at the state's request. So he called the department's collection division and was told, by recorded message, that the number was only for ordering tax forms.

Yet another treasury department number, supplied by the phone company, was answered by a machine that instructed Raben to enter his Social Security number. He did, and the computer replied that the department had no record of his account.

Giving up, Raben wrote to the Department of Treasury on the back of its collection notice: "How in the heck do you people expect to do anything right with junk stupid letters like this? You ask a taxpayer to call and then provide a trail of phony phone numbers. Go to hell!! You can call me to resolve this. My real phone number is ...."

Such vituperation may not be polite, but it's the only satisfaction available to taxpayers who can't fire their employees, or even kick them in the shins.

Elkton pair stand mute at arraignment

An Elkton couple accused of raping 2 Thumb teenage girls stood mute during their arraignment Monday afternoon in Huron County Circuit Court.

A circuit court spokeswoman said pre-trial hearings for the defendants were scheduled for Feb. 11 at 1:30 p.m. Bond was denied at this time.

Patricia L. Bland, 45, and Franklin E. Apley, 45, each face 2 counts of first degree criminal sexual conduct and 3 counts of third degree criminal sexual conduct.

The couple is accused of engaging in sexual penetration 4 times with one of the victims in December, and once with the other victim this month. In both cases, police say the pair lured the teens to their Oliver Township residence with baby sitting job offers.

Huron County District

Judge Karl Kraus bound the pair over to circuit court last Wednesday after a day and a half of testimony and argument heard during the defendants' combined preliminary examination.

Bland and Apley, who each initially faced 5 counts of first degree criminal sexual conduct, remain lodged in the Huron County Jail.

If convicted, each faces a maximum sentence of life or any number of years in prison for each count of first degree criminal sexual conduct, and up to 15 years in prison for each count of third degree criminal sexual conduct.

Police, meanwhile, are continuing their investigation into the case. Huron County Prosecutor Leslie Hagen has said there is reason to believe there may be other victims.

Persons with any knowledge about the case are asked to contact the Michigan State Police post in Bad Axe at 269-6441.

The Haire Net

Every so often the talk turns to years and events gone by and the stream of college students that spent summers here on their way to graduation and a professional career.

Young, idealistic, talented people eager to set sail. The exceptional ones that turned a few brief months here into something that sticks in memory and is pleasantly triggered again by events.

Larry Werner who worked at a variety of papers including a stint as a by-line writer for the Detroit Free Press. Pat Yaroch, one of the first to come here, who chalked up time at the Free Press and the Detroit News, went overseas and then came back to take a writing job in Washington, D. C. Wayne Kamodi who produced a special section by himself and won a prize for photography.

We've lost track of most of them, including Werner who was here in 1969 and won a state-wide first prize for a feature he did on marijuana.

Which brings us to the real topic of the day. How much this community, and every community, has regressed from standards that were stricter, in respect for the law which was greater, and from the closeness to our neighbors, all of which tended to discourage deviant behavior. Back in 1969, Werner gathered together a group of Cass City High School students at Cass City Recreational Park. Guaranteeing them absolute secrecy, he asked them about Pot in Cass City.

Today that wouldn't be much of a story at all. Smoking a little Pot making waves? Forget it. Not when in the last month there have been a couple of stories about rapes in the area. Not when police raids on marijuana fields have been so frequent that they are almost commonplace.

Today cocaine violations have to be major to command much more than casual interest.

Contrast this with what happened when Werner did his stuff 22 years ago. The story was a sensation. Pot in Cass City! Pot in the Thumb!

A call came storming in from the chief of police from Caseville because the story said the students revealed that Caseville was the hot spot for Pot.

A story like that hurts us, he said, demanding (not getting) a retraction.

There were several readers who told me that they figured the kids were making up a lot of stuff just for the devil of it. All that stuff isn't going on around here like the story said, they believed.

Regretfully, the story was right on, a credit to the reporter who was only 3 or 4 years older than his subjects.

Regretfully, the problem is not Pot now, but much more addictive mind-altering drugs. Drug abuse is being battled on all fronts, in the schools, in the churches and in law enforcement offices.

We are making progress, surveys show. Sadly, it's unlikely that we will ever return to the time when a story about Pot is considered a major event.

For 2nd degree murder

Hagen to spend 7 years to 20 years in prison

The Kingston area man convicted last fall in the shooting death of his wife was sentenced Friday in Tuscola County Circuit Court to 7 to 20 years in prison.

Christian W. Hagen, 41, 7380 Centerline Rd., previously pleaded guilty to second degree murder and possession of a firearm in the commission of a felony. He was sentenced to 2 years in prison for the firearm conviction.

Hagen shot his wife, Capicola Hagen, 40, with a single barrel 20-gauge shotgun at the couple's Koylton Township residence March 21.

Also Friday, Jimmy L. Sabin, 44, Vassar, was sentenced to 8 years to 20 years in prison for his conviction on a charge of first degree criminal sexual conduct.

A jury found Sabin guilty of the charge Nov. 27.

Court records state he was charged with engaging in sexual penetration with a child under the age of 13 years June 15, 1989, in Vassar Township.

Pablo Gonzales, 30, Fairgrove, received prison terms of 4 years to 15 years, and 2 years for his Nov. 30 pleas of guilty to breaking and entering and possession of a firearm in the commission of a felony, respectively. He also was ordered to pay $15,000 in restitution.

According to court records, Gonzales broke into a house at 47 N. Ringle Rd., Fairgrove, June 23.

The sentencing of a Vassar man convicted of criminal sexual conduct was canceled when the court refused to accept a plea bargain sentencing arrangement.

The arrangement called for a maximum sentence of one year in the county jail in addition to probation.

The court ordered the matter to be set for a pre-trial.

The defendant, Stanley M. Spencer, 48, pleaded no contest to the charge Nov. 30, according to records, which state he is accused of engaging in sexual contact with a child under the age of 13 years April 12 in Tuscola Township.

Roger W. Guthrie, 22, of Akron, was sentenced to one year in the county jail for his Nov. 9 plea of guilty to second degree criminal sexual conduct.

He also was sentenced to 3 years probation and ordered to pay a $30 victim crime fee, $30 per month oversight fee, $100 fine and court costs totalling $100 plus attorneys fees.

The conviction stems from an incident in October 1990 in Akron Township, court records state.

Larry Mayfield, 45, Flint, was sentenced to one year probation and 6 months in jail (90 days suspended to the end of probation) for his Nov. 29 plea of no contest to attempted retail fraud.

Mayfield also was ordered to pay a $100 fine, $30 victim crime fee and costs of $200 plus attorneys fees.

He was accused of stealing property, valued at more than $100, from a store March 27 in Vassar.

In other proceedings Friday, a 3-day jury trial ended in an innocent verdict for Frederick R. Wrege, 30, of Clio.

Wrege had been charged with negligent homicide in connection with a fatal traffic accident that occurred April 14 in Arbel Township.

Also, William R. Kuhoupt, 34, Vassar, entered a plea of guilty during his arraignment on a charge of fourth degree criminal sexual conduct.

Sentencing was scheduled for 9 a.m. April 19 by the court, which ordered a presentence investigation and HIV testing.

Court records state Kuhoupt was charged with engaging in sexual contact with a child under the age of 13 years in the fall of 1990 in Vassar Township.

Edward D. Carlisle, 59, Vassar, entered a written plea of no contest to a charge of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, third offense, Sept. 2 in Vassar Township.

His sentencing is slated for 9 a.m. March 15. A presentence investigation was ordered and bond was continued at $2,000.

Snover resident Matthew T. Price, 18, 2665 Freiburger Rd., pleaded guilty to attempted malicious destruction of property.

The court set sentencing for April 19 and ordered a presentence investigation. Bond was continued at $10,000.

Price's conviction stems from an incident involving a car Dec. 3 in Cass City, records state.

Eileen M. Seltz, 34, 4300 Green Rd., Cass City, pleaded guilty to attempted delivery of marijuana Sept. 18 in Elmwood Township.

A presentence investigation was ordered and sentencing was scheduled for April 19. Bond was continued at $5,000.

Nobody Does It Better!

Cass City spikers split 2 matches

Learning to win may have cost the Red Hawk volleyball team its first Thumb B win Thursday at Marlette. Coach Sherry Burns' spikers came out blazing against the Red Raiders and posted convincing 15-7 and 15-8 victories in the match's opening games. Marlette, however, exhibited great poise, narrowly winning the next 2 games (15-13), (15-12) before pulling away in the rubber game 15-4. But if the Hawks' match Monday against Harbor Beach is any indication, Burns' squad may have profited from the setback. The gain seems to be that Cass City has learned to put a team away when they get the opportunity. That occasion came after Cass City split the first 2 games in a revenge match with the Pirates. The Hawks ended the contest with 15-4 and 15-7 wins in the 3rd and 4th games of the match. Again Cass City came out of the blocks quickly on its home floor and captured the first game 15-11. Jandi Hillaker helped the hosts' cause with 5 service points in the game. Harbor Beach jumped out 1-8 in the next game and fought off a brilliant late run by the Hawks to post a 13-15 win to even the match at a game apiece. In the final 2 games Cass City did what it does best to take the match - hustle. Especially effective was the play of role players Brandy Eason and Leslie Goslin. Eason used various tip shots throughout the match, while Goslin recorded 3 consecutive aces serves in the final game when the game's outcome was still on the line. The Hawks will be looking for their first conference win this Thursday when they entertain Vassar. The team's overall record in dual meets stands at 3-4.

JODI HILLAKER spikes one for a point as the Hawks topped Harbor Beach. Watching is Cass City's Kim Morley.

Coach concerned as O-G spikers win

The Owen-Gage volleyball team had a surprisingly difficult time, Thursday, downing NCTL foe Kingston on the Cardinal's home floor. Although the Bulldogs upped their league record to 2-0 with wins of 15-9, 15-10, (14-16), and 15-12, Coach Judy Campbell expressed concern. "We are not playing well yet. (There are) Too many huffs during the games and we fall apart. We're certainly not ready to meet North Huron this week." The Bulldogs will travel to North Huron on Thursday where the NCTL crown will most likely be settled. At times against the Cardinals the Dogs displayed the makings of a championship squad. They were especially effective at the service line where they recorded 17 aces, including a team high 6 by Aimee Merchant who also led the visitors in service points on the night with 16. Another bright spot for the Bulldogs is the continuing strong play from all conference senior Vicki Ricker. Ricker had game highs in both assists and kill tips, registering 3 and 6 respectively. Even though the Bulldog front line of Lisa Dorsch, Lori Radabaugh and Renee Murawski turned in big numbers for the Bulldogs, totaling 33 kill spikes between them, Campbell feels there is room for improvement at the net for the defending champs. BAY CITY Earlier in the week, on Monday, the Bulldogs were defeated 10-15, 14-16, (15-4), and 10-15 by their arch rivals the Bay City All Saints. The hosts proved too much for the visitors, despite good games from Radabaugh, Ricker and Carli Salcido. The trio accounted for an unheard of 48 digs in a losing effort. Marilyn Abfalter also played well for the Bulldogs as she served for 11 points on the evening, which included 4 aces. NORTH CENTRAL THUMB LEAGUE VOLLEYBALL STANDINGS

Top teams win in rec. league

Both Sebewaing and Shelter's posted victories last week to set up this week's showdown between the Jayces' recreational basketball league's top 2 teams. Sebewaing slipped past the Cass City No Names on Thursday, 91-88, while in Monday's contests Charmont remained in the title race defeating Brentwood 73-68 and Shelter's routed Board Chrysler, 69-45. In Thursday's bill John Meininger and Jeff Williamson led a trio of players who scored 20 or more points for Sebewaing, with 27 and 28 points respectively. The losers were led by Joel Palmateer with 26 tallies. Earlier in the week Rick Tuckey (34 points) and Ken Martin (16 points) were too much for the Brentwood squad, despite a fine game from Leroy Howard who finished with 22 markers, as did teammate Bob Risky. In the late game Monday, Ross Voelker recorded game scoring honors against Board Chrysler with 20 points. The losers failed to register any play in double digits, however, all their players made it into the record book. At the end of 6 weeks' play, the league's top 5 scorers and their averages are: John Meininger (22.8), Gary Robinson (22.5), Rick Tuckey (19.6), Tom Williamson (19.2) and Ross Voelker (19). STANDINGS

Kady needs help O-G loses 2 in league

Owen-Gage's Mike Kady needs help. Help from his Bulldog teammates if they hope to improve on their 2-8 record as they swing into the 2nd half of the season. Despite Kady's 2-game total of 49 points, Coach Brian Wright's cagers dropped NCTL contests last week to North Huron and Kingston. Their latest setback came Saturday at home in a match-up game against the Cardinals, who remained one game back of undefeated league leader Akron-Fairgrove, with a 61-43 triumph. Owen-Gage was to have played Akron-Fairgrove Tuesday before entertaining Deckerville Friday.

The hosts found the going tough early against last year's NCTL champions and recorded only 6 first period points. Kingston jetted to a 14-6 advantage during the period and increased its margin to 17 by the intermission. Most of the damage was done by Kingston's Steve Scott, who recorded game scoring honors with 24 tallies. Scott outscored the Bulldogs single-handedly in the first 2 stanzas, where he pumped in 7 and 11 points, respectively. "We came out flat and missed several easy shots," said Coach Wright. "But I thought we played good defense." Owen-Gage's offensive woes continued in the second half as Kingston doubled the hosts' offensive output midway through the third period before Coach Leon Westover emptied his bench. Kingston had the game well in hand by the start of the final stanza, leading 50-25. Kady led the Bulldogs with 23 markers, scoring 21 of the losers' final 37 points. The only other player to score in double figures was Kingston's Adam Fetting, who notched 10 markers.

Fourth quarter blues strike again, Marlette wins, 70-57

The fourth quarter blues struck Cass City again Friday at Marlette as the Red Hawks faded in the final 8 minutes to lose for the second time this season to the Raiders, 70-57. In a game that was much closer than the final score indicated.

Cass City is in the unenviable position of playing just well enough to lose regardless of the team it's playing. In all but a very few games this year the team has challenged for the win only to fall short.

The one time that it didn't was against Vassar, where the team is scheduled to play for the second time Friday. The game will be a battle to determine who stays out of the Thumb B Association cellar.

It was a see-saw game all the way. Cass City jumped off to a 15-10 first period lead on balanced scoring. Chris Gallagher took charge for the Raiders in the second period to lead his team to a 35-28 advantage at the half.

In the period Gallagher hit 2 3-pointers and 6 of 6 free throws.

Troy Perry sparked a rally for the Hawks in the third quarter. He whipped in 7 of his team-high 19 points. Perry was a force on the boards all night with 12 rebounds.

Tied going into the fatal fourth, the team battled on even terms. Mark Irrer contributed a bucket and 2 free throws to keep Cass City in the game. With 1:57 left the Hawks trailed by a point, 52-51, but a mental error ruined any chances for the win.

Al Dadacki was whistled for a technical and Marlette converted both, took possession and scored, resulting in a 4-point swing that put the Raiders comfortably ahead as the clock ran down.

While Gallagher provided the spark for the winners in the first half, it was Chris Storm who fueled the attack in the fourth. He burned the nets for 5 baskets, mostly on jumpers from the outside, and added 2 free throws.

In addition to the fine performance of Storm, the Raiders can trace their win to some outstanding free throw shooting at crunch time, sinking 15 of 19 in the last quarter.

Besides Perry, Chris Herringshaw, 12 points, and Irrer, 10 points, were in double figures for Cass City.

Early lead not enough

Cass City falls to USA

Cass City High School has been a potent team for 3 quarters in its last 3 games, but unfortunately games have 4 quarters and the fatal fourth has turned victories into defeats. The latest loss came Tuesday at Unionville-Sebewaing, 50-46, after the Hawks led 40-35 going into the final 8 minutes.

Although naturally unhappy with the loss, Coach Ron Nurnberger was pleased with the overall performance. We passed well on offense, the best we have this season, he said.

Cass City was helped by the play of Al Dadacki who started at guard, hit 2 of 3 3-pointers and generally played well.

Chris Herringshaw, Cass City's most consistent scorer, got the Hawks off to the right start in the first quarter with a pair of baskets and 2 free throws. Dadacki added a pair of 2-pointers. Bill Nietzke added a 3-point and a 2-point bucket to keep the Patriots in the chase.

Leading 12-8 at the end of the first quarter Cass City added to the lead with a 14-12 margin as Troy Perry sparked the attack with a pair of 3-pointers.

USA started the surge that was to carry the team to the win in the third period behind Matt Kauffield, who started his last half long-range bombing with a pair of 3-pointers. Dadacki matched them for Cass City and Cass City went into the last quarter with a 40-35 lead.

Kauffield continued his bombing in the last period and Cass City didn't. He hit 2 3-point shots with the game on the line and that proved to be too much for the Hawks to overcome.

Inability at the free throw line continued to plague Cass City which converted only 50 percent (5 of 10) while USA canned 11 of 15 for 73 percent.

Herringshaw led Cass City with 16 points and Dadacki had 10. Kauffield scored 18 and Nietzke 14 for the Patriots.

USA had the edge in rebounds, 22-18. Cass City's rebounding was well divided, led by Herringshaw with 5.

Your neighbor says

Rate boost OK

There's not a whole lot a person can do if the State of Michigan decides to raise the state's sales tax to 5%. The same holds true about the United States' government's hike of the first class mail rate, which will be increased to 29 cents on February 3.

Your neighbor, Kay Guinther, says she doesn't like to see any increases, but "if they need it, they need it."

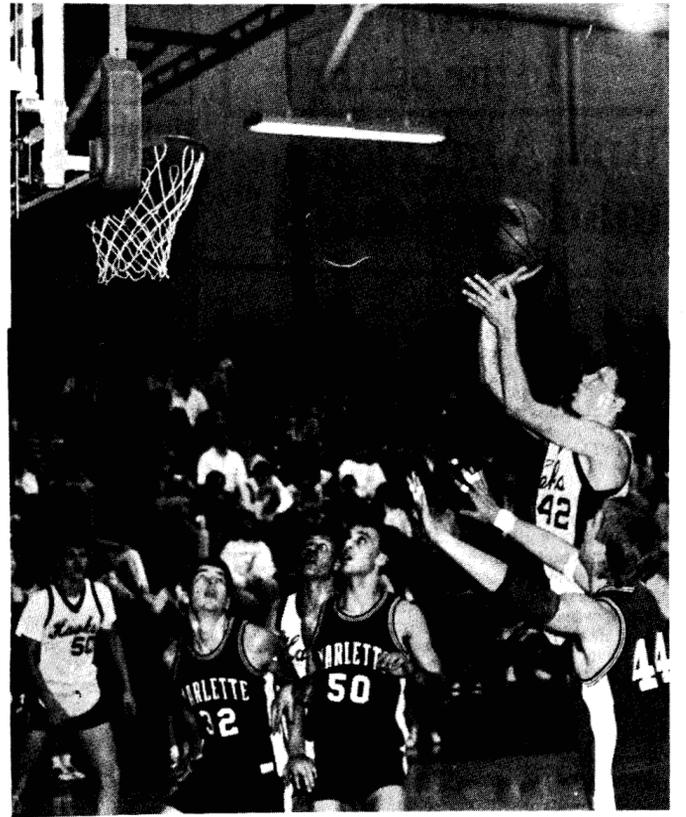

The 37-year-old Cass City resident added, "I think they should have raised it to 30 cents (rather than 29 cents), a penny won't make that much of a difference."

Guinther, employed at the Paint Store in downtown Cass City, feels the post office does a good job and says she won't look for other carriers to use come the first of February.

However, she did comment that the rate boost has already affected the amount of mail she sends.

"I've already started delivering some things that I would have mailed."

Kay and her husband Tom, who works for General Telephone Company, have 2 children, Kerry, 16, and Amanda, 12.

Hawk wrestlers split pair of dual meets

The Cass City wrestling team continued to show improvement last week, splitting matches against Bad Axe and Sandusky.

Against the Redskins at home Thursday, the Hawks recorded a narrow 35-31 victory.

The match was decided in the middle weight divisions, where the hosts recorded 7 straight wins after the 112 lb. class.

Three of those conquests came by the way of pins, including first round pins by Casey Howe (:29) and Delbert Mathewson (:27). The other Hawk pin was earned by Pete Matson and came in the final period.

The Hawks, who trailed 2-8 before the run, led 35-8 after Mathewson's pin in the 152 lb. class.

It would be the last match the Hawks would win on the evening.

BAD AXE MATCH

Wednesday at Bad Axe, the Hawks took a 36-26 lead into the final 2 matches, but pins by the hosts' Mike Ornowski and Pete Maeder gave the Hatchets a 38-36 team victory.

Cass City emerged victorious in 6 weight classes at Bad Axe, 5 by way of pins.

The guests' pins were registered by: Wendall

Guinther, John Koepf, Casey Howe, Delbert Mathewson and Andy Cheriawski.

The other Hawk decision was earned by Jeff Mathewson, who won by a forfeit.

Coach Don Markel's grapplers will be in action at Armada Wednesday before heading to Imlay City Thursday to compete in a tri-school meet.

Letters to the editor

Buy American made products

To the Editor,
After reading the Cass City Chronicle, I was disturbed to see all the money needed for our schools, etc. I really don't know where the people on this planning board think all this money is coming from. Maybe they think it's like "Manna From Heaven."

A big part of Cass City's industry is moving to Mexico. A large portion left some years back. Our city workers get raises, school tax increases, city tax increases, water rates going up, we are in a recession and also involved in a very costly war. I wonder why nobody seems to be paying any attention to Governor Engler.

"Too much taxes hurts everybody." Maybe we should try to get these taxes from the Mexican government since they have a good portion of our jobs. We can't pay taxes without jobs.

We need to pay more attention to what's going on with our industry in this area (no raises, no tax increases). We need to secure our American jobs and buy made in U.S.A. products.

Don't wait for government to help with our unfair trade policies; they are America's biggest problem. I'm convinced the only power the American people have is its spending power.

You can vote, get involved in some of these problems or even write a letter to the editor, but the final, most powerful thing you can do is buy American made products. Maybe my problem is that I think too simple. What do you think?

How can residents best support soldiers' families?

Editor:
As a family that does not have loved ones in the Persian Gulf, we would like to know how we ourselves and others in our community can best support those families who do.

Who are these courageous people and their families? What words or actions do these families find comforting? What do we as individuals do or say that may unwittingly increase frustration or cause concern for these families with participants in the war?

Are there families with material or financial needs? Are there families in need of child care or baby-sitting? Is there financial need for professional counseling for wives or children?

Would it be possible for your newspaper to pursue these and other issues, to alert the community to the needs of our families who have loved ones fighting for freedom of another country, and ultimately our own?

Commissioners okay 911 plan, slate hearing

Beginning next year, getting help in an emergency in Tuscola County is expected to be as easy as dialing 9-1-1.

Tuscola County Commissioners last week approved a tentative 911 plan.

Provided the proposal gets a positive response from a majority of local municipalities and from residents who attend a public hearing next spring, the emergency service will be implemented by late 1992.

According to Tuscola County Undersheriff James Fyvie, the next step in making the 911 phone service a reality is to notify all local municipalities, which will have 45 days to indicate they do not want to participate. Municipalities that want the 911 service don't have to respond, he said.

A public hearing on the plan has been scheduled for April 23 beginning at 10 a.m. at the county Annex Building in Caro.

Fyvie said Michigan Bell officials have targeted late 1992 as the start-up date for 911 service. However, he remarked, "Locally, we're pushing to have it on line sooner."

A $150,000 state grant will cover a majority of the expenses involved in implementing the proposed 911 system in Tuscola, Huron and Sanilac counties. Fyvie said each county will have to contribute an additional $15,000 to $20,000 in start-up costs.

For their part, Tuscola residents will see a maximum increase of 84 cents per month on their phone bills. That increase is expected to be reduced to 24 cents per month after 5 years.

In return, residents will have a more effective emergency dispatch system available should they find themselves in need of a police officer, ambulance or fire truck, according to Fyvie.

"There will definitely be a time savings," he said, adding that when the system is implemented, an emergency call made within the 3-county Thumb area will automatically be directed to the appropriate county's central dispatch.

From there, a computer—in a time of 3 seconds—will display the caller's name, phone number and address, and whether police, an ambulance or a fire department are needed.

Fyvie pointed out that the computer tells the dispatcher not only to send a fire department, for example, but specifies which fire department to send.

Currently, a dispatcher who receives a request for a fire department must look at a county map to determine which of the county's 13 departments should respond.

Officials can also feed other information into the 911 system that may alert an agency of possible hazards involved with a specific call.

For example, Fyvie said, fire fighters sent to a barn fire may be told that certain chemicals are stored in the structure, or in the case of a house fire, that a physically disabled person lives at the residence involved.

Bleak year ahead for dairy farmers, officials predict secretary-treasurer of the Deford Local, respectively. Elected as delegates were Severance, Keith Brown and Robert DeLong, with alternates Arthur Severance, Hessel Venema and Don Smith. Also, Paul Rye was added to the Nominating Committee, which also consists of Brown and Venema.

Keith and Jane Wood were elected as the local's Outstanding Young Dairy Couple representative.

Also Saturday, members were told by Gremmel to consider thinking of how they feel about a 2-tier pricing system, which is being looked at nationally.

Under such a system, farmers would be penalized for producing more milk in one year than they did the year before, with the excess milk being sold at a drastically reduced price.

Gremmel suggested a 2-tier pricing system might increase milk prices to 12 to 13.50 cwt, and would stabilize milk prices.

lize milk prices.

*Unanimously voted in favor of increasing annual dues from $3 to $5 per member.

*Reviewed the past year's financial statement, which showed a beginning balance of $643.54, and income of $583.60 and expenses of $823.60, leaving an ending balance of $403.54 (as of Dec. 1, 1990).

*Heard a brief report from the local's dairy communicator, Robert DeLong, who discussed his trip to Washington, D.C., last April with a group of MMPA dairy communicators that lobbied for dairy interests related to the 1990 Farm Bill. DeLong also outlined the local's promotional efforts over the past year.

*Learned the Deford Local's membership totals 36, an increase of 3 persons over 1990.

Decision to rebuild on hold--Kareem Khoury

Last week after the fire at his Blissfield Dairy Queen, Kareem Khoury was willing to be interviewed. His remarks are included in the lighter type of this story.

A day after the fire, Khoury reported that $1,600 had been stolen and his restaurant ransacked.

Because of the circumstances surrounding the theft, Khoury was asked to submit to a lie detector test. According to Blissfield Police officer Sam Pooley, he at first agreed to take the test, but now is refusing to do so.

Fire fighters responding to the alarm found the building locked and with no signs of forced entry.

The future is uncertain for Kareem Khoury, formerly of Cass City, whose Blissfield restaurant was destroyed last week by a fire that authorities have labeled arson.

Khoury, who still has business ties to Cass City, sounded stunned and depressed during a brief phone conversation last Wednesday.

"We're not making any decisions," he said quietly from his home in Blissfield, a small farming community located in southeastern Lenawee County. "Everything is on hold" until all the information is in and (we) can think clearly.

Khoury's Dairy Queen was set afire during the early morning hours of Jan. 22. Investigators have been quoted as saying a large quantity of incendiary materials was found inside the locked building.

Three days earlier, vandals painted war slogans on the restaurant and threw balloons full of paint against the building. Some 60 town residents promptly rallied around Khoury and helped him clean up the mess through an effort spearheaded by 2 churches in the community.

According to accounts published in Detroit newspapers, some Blissfield residents speculated Khoury's business was a target for attacks because of his views on the war in the Persian Gulf. An anti-Arab bias also has been suggested.

A Palestinian and U.S. citizen, Khoury, 35, emigrated to the United States from Bethlehem 18 years ago. The U.S. Army veteran moved from Cass City to Blissfield 2 years ago with his wife, Tahani, and their 4 young sons.

Khoury acknowledged he opposed the U.S. government's decision to use force in the Persian Gulf so quickly, but commented he doesn't know what motivated the persons responsible for the vandalism and destruction of his business. There were no threats, he said.

Despite the incidents, Khoury said he still feels safe in Blissfield. He praised the efforts and support of local police.

Still, the whole episode has been "very, very difficult" for the family.

After the vandalism over the weekend, Khoury said, "We thought it was all behind us, but apparently not."

The first mailboxes were erected in Paris in 1653. However, messengers, fearful for their livelihood, put mice in the boxes to destroy the mail.

Separate tourneys sought

Committee undaunted by MHSAA head's remarks

John Roberts, executive director for the Michigan High School Athletic Association, speaking at a meeting of representatives from 6 area schools at Cass City High School Wednesday, offered little hope that the MHSAA board would approve separate tournaments for private and public schools.

"It's my gut feeling that this isn't the solution," he told representatives from Thumb schools and an estimated 75 others interested in the program at the meeting.

Despite Roberts' pessimistic appraisal, the committee sparking the proposed change forged ahead. Meeting after the public meeting, the group voted to test the reaction to separate tournaments.

Cass City Athletic Director Don Schelke and student councillor Wayne Dillon will see that letters and return post cards are sent to all 1,300 schools in the state to find out what the state at large feels about the proposal.

The letter will also announce another meeting to be held in Cass City Wednesday, Feb. 6, at 6:30 p.m. Although 6 schools attended the first meeting, Dillon said that several Thumb school representatives called to say that the miserable weather kept them away.

Roberts told the group that his job was to meet the needs of the members, but voiced concerns that he felt would kill the proposal when it came before the MHSAA council.

He said that the proposition as presented was too vague. You should anticipate questions and provide answers to them, he explained.

If there is a division, it would hamper relations among taxpayers in the affected districts, Roberts feels, and make local millages harder to pass.

If current plans materialize to make all schools in Michigan "schools of choice", the problem of district boundaries would be eliminated.

District boundaries are the crux of the problem. Persons advocating a change say that private schools can recruit or play a student from anywhere and that is unfair because public schools cannot. Several schools in the Thumb have lost outstanding athletes to private schools.

Roberts said that a split tournament could mean that there would be 2 associations instead of one. Ron Nurnberger said that a 2-association system was successful in Wisconsin.

Roberts said that it had problems and at one time was nearly abandoned.

The problem, Roberts said, is with about 20 schools. You have to realize that there are 109 private schools in Michigan and many of them have never won anything. Fairness has 2 sides to it.

The MHSAA council has 18 members from public schools and one from a private school. Frankly, Roberts said, the council is out of ideas about ways to solve this problem.

Even if the survey proves that change is wanted by a majority of schools, there would be no change in the system until at least the fall of 1992. Roberts said that the quickest that a proposal could come before the council would be December. The amendment would not become effective until March 1992, too late for any change before the fall football season.

Roberts was introduced by Gary Webber from Deckerville and Cass City Superintendent Ken Micklash moderated the meeting.

Members of the committee asked Roberts questions.

when he lost control on a snow-covered spot. His vehicle slid sideways, rolled over several times and came to rest on its wheels.

Killinger, who refused an ambulance, was wearing a seat belt at the time of crash. He was cited by deputies for driving too fast for road conditions.

No injuries and only minor damage was reported in a number of other recent mishaps.

Deputies reported a vehicle driven by Tom Montgomery, Cass City, collided with a Tuscola Intermediate School van driven by Joseph C. McCrear, Akron, Friday afternoon on Koepfgen Road south of M-81.

Montgomery, who backed from a private drive into the path of the van at about 3 p.m., was cited for failing to yield the right of way.

Minor damage also was reported in a mishap Jan. 22 on Main Street east of West Street. Cass City police stated a vehicle driven by Ronald E. Voss II, Cass City, backed out of a parking space into a parked vehicle owned by Susan and Steven Wynn, Cass City, at about 7:15 p.m.

The next day, a vehicle driven by Richard J. Ziehm, Gageton, backed from a driveway at the Cass City Post Office into a parked vehicle owned by John Guc, Cass City. That mishap occurred at about 11:30 a.m.

Brian S. Schember, Cass City, reported hitting a deer Sunday evening while driving south on Cemetery Road north of Elmwood Road. Schember's vehicle left the road and entered a ditch, but damage was minor.

Deputies also reported car-deer accidents involving Ronald F. Brill Jr., Caro, who hit a deer Saturday evening in the northbound lane of Dodge Road south of Severance Road, and Arden R. Lapp, Deford, who struck 2 deer Friday evening while driving east on Cass City Road west of Schwegler Road.

Also over the weekend, Cass City police arrested a Lapeer man on suspicion of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor.

Reports state a vehicle driven by Daniel S. Borgacz, 24, was stopped near the intersection of Oak and Pine streets at about 1:35 a.m.
