Probation sentence in accidental shooting

A Cass City man convicted of reckless discharge of a firearm in the death of his younger brother was sentenced to 2 years probation Friday in Tuscola County Circuit Court.

James W. Finkbeiner, 20, 4137 Maple St., also was ordered to pay a $30 victim crime fee, a $100 fine and $100 in court costs plus attorneys fees.

Finkbeiner was charged after accidentally shooting his brother, Clark, 14, in their Elkland Township home Dec. 27, according to court records.

In other sentencing, Tuscola County Jail inmate Duane S. Wilcox, 22, was ordered to serve 18 months to 4 years in prison following his plea of guilty to obtaining telephone service valued at more than $100 with a false number.

The offense occurred between Jan. 4 and March 10, according to court records, which state the defendant also was ordered to pay restitution of $310.08.

Wilcox currently is serving a sentence for breaking and entering.

Charles E. Mester, 38, 5270 Shabbona Rd., Deford, was sentenced to 365 days in jail, with work release, for a jury verdict of guilty to operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, third offense.

Court records state the offense occurred July 28, 1990, in Almer Township.

He also was sentenced to 5 years probation and ordered to pay a $1,000 fine, $500 in court costs and a $30 victim crime fee. In addition, the court ordered Mester to take Antabuse, a drug that causes illness when alcohol is consumed.

Mt. Pleasant resident Robert J. Kralick, 24, was sentenced for his plea of guilty to breaking and entering an unoccupied dwelling.

He was ordered to serve 120 days in a Special Alternative Program and 5 years probation, and ordered to pay $15,000 in restitution and a $30 victim crime fee.

According to court records, Kralick, who also was ordered to undergo mental health counseling, broke into a home at 1051 W. Saginaw Rd. in Tuscola Township in October, November or December.

Benjamin T. Hoffman, 25, Caro, was sentenced to 365 days in jail, with work site program privileges and

Seize pot plants in Fremont Township

The Thumb Narcotics Unit and county law enforcement officers seized some 60 marijuana plants growing in Fremont Township Thursday.

A pound of processed marijuana, 4 long guns and a pistol also were confiscated from a nearby residence, TNU officials said.

The operation began after members of the Thumb drug unit, with the aid of a state police helicopter, spotted the plants near Bruisee Road. Officers, working under the H.E.M.P. (Help Eradicate Marijuana Plants) program, seized and destroyed the plants with assistance from the Tuscola County Sheriff's Department and the state police post in Caro.

A search warrant was then obtained for the residence, the location of which isn't being released pending further investigation.

The marijuana plants, some as high as 12 feet, have an estimated street value of at least $20,000, and the pound of processed marijuana is valued at $2,000.

TNU officials said they expect to make an arrest in the case.

Police poised to arrest meat thieves at Erla's

Cass City police are seeking arrest warrants for 2 individuals they believe took part in the theft and resale of several thousand dollars worth of meat from Erla's Food Center in Cass City over the past several months.

Police Chief Gene Wilson said the warrant requests were filed with the Tuscola County Prosecutor's Office after interviews with 4 suspects.

According to reports, police were called to Erla's Aug. 5 to investigate the theft of an unspecified amount of meat, the latest among 5 such complaints filed by store owners.

"We'd been receiving reports right along (since May) that they were missing meat from storage lockers," Wilson explained.

Wilson and Det. Ron Phillips of the Tuscola County Sheriff's Department then interviewed 4 suspects, including 3 store employees. Names are being withheld pending the issuance of warrants.

Wilson said those involved stole meat and then resold it to area residents.

"At this time, we don't know for sure how much

(was taken)," he said. "We do know that numerous people from around town have purchased the meat."

Contacted early this week at the store, Arnold Erla said theft has been a problem throughout the past year, "although the past 6 months was a big, big chunk of it."

He estimated at least $5,000 worth of meat has been stolen.

"It was nothing cheap; they took nothing but the best," he continued, adding steaks make up the bulk of the missing meat.

Erla said the individuals responsible carried meat from lockers and hid it in a dumpster at the store, then picked it up later.

He commented that at the height of the thefts, he himself found one box of meat and 2 individual pieces — worth a combined $350 — in the dumpster. He added one person told him that some of the steaks taken supplied a party attended by 80 people.

Erla indicated employees involved in the thefts have been disciplined, including 2 who no longer work there.

"They not only stole from me, but they also stole from other individuals they work with," he remarked. "It affects every individual in the building."

Zoning request denied

Bus service in Cass City tabled by village council

The Cass City Village Council formally approved participation in a county-wide computerized tax administration system, and voted to join the Saginaw River Basin Watershed Council during a routine monthly meeting Monday.

The county-wide tax administration system involves the development of computer programs, which will operate on affordable P.C. type computers, through a contract with Resource Information Associates.

Under the program, Tuscola County will produce tax bills and rolls for local governmental units, including Cass City, which will do their own tax receipting work on computers.

Previously, the county and local units of government contracted with a firm called Manatron Service Bureau to produce tax rolls.

County officials expect the new computerized tax system, scheduled to be in operation in 1992, to be more economically efficient for both the county and local governments.

Turning to the Saginaw River Basin Watershed Council, the council approved a resolution to join the organization and appointed village Manager Lou S. LaPonsie as Cass City's representative.

According to the resolution, the watershed council will enable local governments to cooperatively plan for economic development, tourism, recreation and protection of water resources.

It also will permit coordinated development of projects for land and water management, river access, fish and wildlife enhancement and improvement of the quality of life in Saginaw River Basin Communities.

In other business during the 50-minute session, the council:

*Tabled further discussion on the proposed expansion of bus service to the Cass City area.

The council's Public Service Committee was charged last month with making a recommendation on the proposal, but neither Nat Tuttle nor Elwyn Helwig, both members of the committee, were able to attend Monday's meeting.

*Briefly discussed the village Planning Commission's denial of a rezoning request.

Dan Hittler attended the zoning board's Aug. 20 meeting and requested that the former Higher Horizons building, 4869 N. Seeger St., be rezoned from Residential to Office. The request was denied, 5-0.

Council President L.E. Althaver commented that the request was denied because it represented "spot zoning, a practice village officials have strived to stay away from in order to maintain the integrity of village zoning. He referred to an opinion on the matter written by the village's attorney in 1979, when a similar request was submitted regarding a proposed restaurant near the village park.

*Noted 56.13 percent of Village taxes have been collected to-date, compared to 53.12 percent at the same time a year ago. Tax revenues are expected to total $606,450.86 this year. Some $340,421 had been collected as of Friday.

Costs to continue as landfill closes

Cass City's $334,000 landfill closure project is on schedule, with completion expected this fall.

Workers began preparations to cover the old Type II and Type III landfill sites in early July, according to village Manager Lou S. LaPonsie.

"We hope to be completed with everything around the end of September, middle of October," he said.

Cass City's landfill property, located about a mile south of the village, totals some 40 acres, but the closure effort involves only 11 acres that were actually used.

Of those 11 acres, 5 make up the Type II site, which holds garbage, while the remaining 6 acres make up the Type III site, used for dumping building materials such as concrete and wood.

The landfill, which opened in 1967, was closed Oct. 30, 1987, after the Department of Natural Resources refused to renew the village's licensing, and village officials determined it would be too costly to upgrade the facility to meet increasingly strict DNR guidelines.

Years ago, closing a landfill was about as simple as closing the entrance gate, but increasingly tougher environmental regulations have made the project a major, and expensive, undertaking.

According to LaPonsie, the project began with shaping and contouring the sites and placing a 6-inch layer of gravelly soil on top. In accordance with DNR guidelines, workers installed a 2-foot clay cover on the sites. In addition, 4 gas vents were installed on the Type II site.

Cass City Area Social and Personal Items

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Rich

Tracey Lynn Pallas of Ubyly and Dale Michael Rich of Sandusky were married June 15 at St. Joseph's Church, Argyle. Father Michael Bell officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Fred and Alice Pallas of Ubyly and the groom is the son of William Rich of Sandusky and the late Annabelle Rich.

Music selections included "The Wedding Song", "Wherever You Go", "A Blessing", "With This Ring, I Thee Wed" and "Theme From Ice Castles."

Suzanne Krotch of Snover was organist, and the soloist was Sandy Vogel of Ubyly.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of taffeta and reembodyered alencon lace, styled with a Queen Anne neckline that extended over the puffed shoulders into a point sleeve. The full skirt fell from a basque waistline that continued around to a chapel train made of veiling and strands of lily of the valley. Her headpiece was a half band of pearls and iridescents, layered with a rolled pouf of waist length.

She carried a bouquet of roses, carnations, gardenias and trailing arbutus of red and white, accented with lace and lily of the valley surrounded by iridescent leaves and beads.

Tammy Doerr of Snover, friend of the bride, was maid of honor.

Bridesmaids were Michelle Zurek, Ubyly, and Anita Chapel, Filion, friends of the bride, Elaine Kish, Farmington Hills, Carmen Grifka, Ubyly, and Jeni Franzel, Ubyly, all cousins.

They wore rainbow-colored, floor-length, off-the-shoulder dresses with dropped waistlines and elbow-length sleeves. They carried bouquets of a rainbow color of roses and carnations, accented with beads and ribbon.

Junior bridesmaid was Jessica McCarty, Davison, cousin of the bride, and flower girl was Jessica Krist, Argyle, also a cousin.

Bill Rich, Sandusky, brother of the groom, was best man.

Groomsmen were Kevin Nicholas, Cass City, friend of the groom, Rod Tenbusch, Deckerville, friend of the groom, Fred Pallas, Ubyly, brother of the bride, Dennis Rich, Sandusky, brother of the groom, Dan Pallas, Ubyly, brother of the bride, and Brian Hacker, Cass City, friend of the groom.

Junior groomsmen were Nick Reffey, North Branch, a nephew, and ringbearer was Zachary Kulish, Ubyly.

Ushers were Mark Reffey of North Branch, a nephew, Kevin Grifka and Bryan Guagar, both of Ubyly.

The bride's mother wore a peach tea-length dress with a pleated skirt and a brocaded top with puffed sleeves. She wore a corsage of peach and white roses and carnations.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the Ubyly Fox Hunters Club for 750 guests.

After a 7-day honeymoon to the Upper Peninsula and Canada, the couple are living in Ubyly.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Lindsay of AuGres, Mrs. Kendall Jacobs and Mrs. Harmond Nichols, both of Decker, met Dr. Gerald A. Foster of Wilmington, Del., at Wildwood Farms Tuesday, Aug. 20. Dr. Foster, who is president of Global Missions Inc. and of the Leprosy Foundation, has been a friend of the ladies' family, the Gibsons, since the '30s. He was scheduled to speak Sunday at Brown City.

Mr. and Mrs. Darren Bushey

Theresa A. Sugden, Bad Axe, and Darren J. Bushey, Pinnebog, were married Saturday, June 8, at Huron City Chapel, Huron City.

The Rev. Don McDonald officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Art and Bernice Caswell, Deckerville, and the groom is the son of Howard and Rose Bushey of Bad Axe.

Music selections included "Wind Beneath My Wings", "We've Only Just Begun", "I.O.U." and "You Light Up My Life."

The pianist was Alan Majeska and vocalist was Jerry Curan, both of Bad Axe.

Given in marriage by her stepfather, the bride wore a formal gown of white satin and beaded reembodyered lace. The straight bodice offered a V neckline and long slim fitted sleeves. The skirt fell from the dropped waistline to an inverted bustle which accented the semi-cathedral train. Her bouffant headpiece of bridal illusion was held by a crescent band of seeded pearl sprays and rose buds. She carried a cathedral arrangement of miniature carnations, white roses and English ivy mixed with eucalyptus, baby's breath and ribbons.

Elaine Fase, Union Lake, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Helen Wozniczka and Jeanette O'Connor, both sisters of the bride from Caro, Dawn Langley of Elkton, sister of the groom, and Sandi Auvil of Bay City, friend of the bride.

They wore fitted long gowns of royal blue chantung taffeta silk, styled with deep open backs, with fitted basque bodices and full shirred sleeves. The gowns featured a straight skirt topped with a peplum, which was accented at the waist with a bow. Their tear drop hats were topped with royal blue net and a fabric flower. They carried bouquets of mini carnations, baby's breath and ribbons.

The junior bridesmaids were Marie L. Sugden and Anne E. Sugden, daughters of the bride. Their gowns were identical to the attendants' except in a royal blue flower print.

David Bushey, Pinnebog, brother of the groom, was best man. The groomsmen were Dennis Bushey of Bad Axe, brother of the groom, Edward Kloc of New York brother of the bride, Jin. Wozniczka of Caro, brother-in-law of the bride, and Ray VanValkenburg of Elkton, friend of the groom.

The ushers were Ronald Rutkoski, Decker, and Scott Fase, Union Lake, brothers-in-law of the bride.

The bride's mother wore a tea-length gown of deep rose silk on silk print featuring tulip sleeves, a straight dropped waist bodice and a flared skirt. Her corsage was white sweetheart roses and baby's breath with tufts of rose netting and ribbons.

The groom's mother wore an aqua and cream lace dress with a chiffon soft draped skirt topped with a lace overlay bodice and long sleeves. Her corsage was white sweetheart roses and baby's breath with tufts of aqua net and ribbons.

After the ceremony, a reception was conducted at The Franklin Inn, Bad Axe, for 250 guests attending from various cities in Michigan, New York, Indiana, Ohio and Texas.

The bride is co-owner of the Country Goose, Bad Axe, and the groom is employed at Huron Castings in Pigeon.

After a week-long camping honeymoon around Michigan, the couple is residing in Bad Axe.

Meg's Peg

Return to Shipshe

by Melva E. Guinther

If you've never been to Shipshewana, Ind., you really ought to go. In the heart of Amish country, it's a mecca for shopping enthusiasts.

Every Tuesday and Wednesday during the summer months, Shipshe stages a flea market that challenges the endurance of even black belt shoppers.

In addition, the indoor antique auction every Wednesday creates an indescribable din as 8-12 auctioneers simultaneously hawk their merchandise.

A few of the houses in Shipshe display "PRIVATE" signs in the windows, understandable since most of the homes have been converted into shops, specializing in handmade Amish and country items, quilts, furniture, antiques, etc.

Ever since I first visited Shipshewana 2 years ago, I've wanted to go back.

The problem was finding a compatible companion who loved to shop and was willing to drive, since I'm paranoid about driving over 3 miles from home.

It's rare indeed to find a man, including my husband, who can truly appreciate the shopping experience that Shipshe is. In order to con him into going, I knew I'd have to come up with some alternate objective - like golf! And that, of course, would entail finding a second golfer to keep him company while I shopped.

For some reason golfing, unlike shopping, needs to be a shared experience.

Our daughter-in-law, Shelley, who is a mother-in-law's dream when it comes to shopping, came up with the successful master plan. As a crackerjack travel agent, she had won free airline tickets, so she and our son, Mark, flew to South Bend on Saturday, toured the Amish countryside and enjoyed a cozy, relaxing few days alone together. We drove down to meet them Tuesday morning.

Shelley arranged accommodations at a strategically located bed and breakfast, from which we were able to walk to all the shops and the giant flea market, while the guys drove off to various and sundry golf courses.

The only problem with the plan was that it necessitated making room for 2 golf bags in the trunk of the car, which took up valuable space that might have been put to better advantage, from a shopper's viewpoint.

Although Shipshewana is a bee hive of activity during the day Tuesday, it manages to maintain an amazingly peaceful atmosphere, unlike so many places to which tourists throng.

The shops and the flea market close at 5 p.m. (and are not open on Sundays) It's hard even to find a place to eat after 7:00. So the town empties out quickly, and soon there's nothing to do but sit on the porch swing and listen to the clip-clop of the horses pulling the ubiquitous black Amish buggies down the street.

And that's undoubtedly a big part of Shipshe's appeal. While we love the activity, the shopping, golfing, etc., there's something deep down inside that's drawn to the quiet, simple life that the Amish represent.

We don't necessarily want to go back to it, but it's good to take a breather from the hectic pace we often find ourselves caught up in and think about the things that are really important.

"If It Fitz..."

Real hostility

By Jim Fitzgerald

People die from overdoses of cocaine. Therefore a teenager convicted of possessing more than about 1 1/2 pounds of crack should be locked up until he dies. That's what several readers told me.

And my answer is a question: What about the most deadly drug of all, booze?

What about the crime committed against 5 Pontiac children? In Tuesday's Free press, reporter Jack Kresnak described them: "They ranged from 8 months to almost 6 years old, but you couldn't tell from looking. They appeared to be about the same size. They all wore diapers. They barely moved."

They were "like Zombies," a Child Protective Services worker said.

The 25-year-old father of these kids is apparently an alcoholic and won't seek help, said authorities. Around 500 empty beer bottles were found in the roach-infested house where he and his wife cruelly neglected their children.

A pediatrician said the kids were victims of psychosocial dwarfism, a medical condition caused by verbal, psychological or physical abuse that causes profound depression in children. "This sort of depression comes from more than simple neglect....There's not just an apathy where the mother or caretaker is concerned, but a real hostility." A real hostility. I want to scream. How long will these parents be imprisoned?

Not one day. They pleaded no contest to child neglect and sought to regain custody of their children. Fortunately, a Juvenile Court referee said no way. The children are in foster care and are eligible for adoption. That's the encouraging news.

The dismaying news is that the father is free to get a refund for those 500 empty bottles and buy more beer. And no one will say the alcohol dealer who sells him the beer should be sentenced to life with no parole.

Crack doesn't cause nearly as much death and misery as alcohol. But alcohol dealers operate openly, extensively advertising in print and electronic media. And Michigan law mandates life imprisonment for anyone caught holding around 1 1/2 pounds of cocaine or heroin.

Prohibition of alcohol didn't work, and was wisely revoked and replaced by government control. There are still foolish people who drink too much, and addicted people who should never drink one drop. The social costs are still high. But innocent people aren't caught in the crossfire of bullets fired by competing liquor lords. Taxpayers aren't burdened with the cost of chasing bootleggers and raiding speakeasies. And the money saved can be spent on teaching the dangers of booze and how to avoid them.

Drugs like cocaine also should be decriminalized. There would be no more children killed in drug-related drive-by shootings. No more $3-million settlements of lawsuits resulting from bungled drug raids. No more crime-fighting money spent on arresting and jailing addicts for being sick. No more zillionaire drug lords using pocket change to corrupt cops and officials.

There still would be pitiful drug addicts, but not necessarily more of them. And there would be more public money available to cure addicts while controlling their source and educating everyone toward the day when government cocaine counters would have no customers.

Meanwhile, in a society that condones glamorous beer ads on TV, it surely would be a compassionate step in the right direction for Michigan to realize it is grossly unfair to forbid a judge to give a teenager less than life for having a handful of crack.

The Haire Net

When you read the headlines, the news seemed good. It said "State judge tells Blues to upgrade coverage."

The story says that the ruling asks Michigan Blue Cross-Blue Shield to come up with a plan that pays for at least some of the new or experimental procedures and gives doctors greater say over their use.

Also required in the plan will be an increased payment rate for doctors. That, say doctors, should provide better care because more physicians, particularly specialists, would take Blues' patients.

The story quotes Dr. Steven Olchowski, a St. Clair Shores surgeon, speaking for the Wayne County Medical Society, "This is a big breakthrough for physicians and patients." Doctors were evidently unhappy with a proposed 9-percent raise offer last August. Just about half signed contracts.

It also could break Blues' subscribers, who already are wrestling with skyrocketing costs. One couple we know of received their Blues insurance bill for the quarter. Covered are 2 adults, children have left the home, and they are not yet eligible for Medicare. Their insurance bill INCREASED about $1,000 over the previous year.

So the better care that the physicians are lauding may be restricted to patients who can afford the care.

In another issue of the News, columnist Pete Waldmeir outlines the trouble with the universal health care available in Canada. In it he cites chapter and verse of Canadians who died because the health care wasn't available in time as they battled too long a waiting list. He also pointed out that many come to the United States for special services because of their ready availability.

Isn't it a downer that Elkton-Pigeon-Bay Port, which has traditionally been a football powerhouse, is expected to have one of its strongest teams this fall and Cass City has to play them twice?

After this year the Lakers are expected to taper off, as a host of outstanding players will graduate.

Off and on over the last year or so we have been publishing predictions printed in the GTE booklet, "2001 Imagine the Possibilities."

This one we offer without comment except to say it will be great if the fearless forecasters prove correct.

"The U.S. will be experiencing one of its strongest periods of real economic expansion. Some reasons: a mature and better trained work force; automation; expanded R&D investment. Unparalleled growth in information-based industries will result from the technical convergence of the country's primary communication industries: printing and publishing; public mail services; motion pictures; broadcasting; cable TV, and tele-communications. Advance computers and uniform interface standards will provide the key."

Mittlestat-Nowland family reunion aired

The Mittlestat-Nowland family reunion was held in Lapeer with 95 family members present. The oldest member of the Mittlestat family was Vera Cook from Flat Rock, and the youngest member was Samantha Auten from Cass City. Mose Nowland brought a box of old family pictures from the very early 1900s which everyone enjoyed.

The guests who traveled the greatest distance were Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Mittlestat, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Mittlestat and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hossler, all from Tucson, Ariz.

Other guests were present from Las Vegas, Oak Ridge, Tenn., Ohio and from Flat Rock, New Boston, Woodhaven, Dearborn, Cass City, Waltz, Lapeer and Brown City.

Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Mittlestat also attended the 50th class reunion for Marlette High School. This reunion was organized by Yvonne Burleson and Mary Gault.

Fritz, Zinger win awards

A pair of students from Great Lakes Junior College's Bad Axe campus were presented monetary awards following the college's Project Pride program.

Project Pride, launched during fall term 1989, is an incentive program for students who excel academically and who place a high value on attendance that would parallel a work environment - the same qualities that employers seek within their employees.

To qualify for the monetary award, students have to make the dean's (3.50-3.99) grade-point-average or president's list (4.0 grade-point-average) or achieve perfect attendance over 6 straight terms.

Award winners were Michael Zinger (dean's list) of Bad Axe and Lloyd Fritz (perfect attendance) of Owendale.

Holbrook Helpers 4-H Club enjoyed a day in Sarnia, Canada, Monday. They played miniature golf, went swimming and stopped at a park for a picnic. The outing was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Jim Doerr.

After 44 years

Merediths continue treks to Detroit's Eastern Market

Although their backs are bent with age and their strides are reduced to shuffles, Grant and Pearl Meredith perform the same Saturday-morning tasks they have done for 44 years. What makes their weekend unique is that it starts before dawn with 84-year-old Grant and 81-year-old Pearl loading fresh produce into their car to sell at the Eastern Market in Detroit. "We get up at only 4 a.m. anymore, but there used to be a time when we were up a lot earlier," Pearl said of the schedule needed to complete chores before beginning their 2-hour drive to Detroit.

ous occupation, aside from building the growing family's shelter. "It was 1947 when we first started taking things downstate to sell," Grant recalled. "We were selling eggs to a buyer down there - we had so many eggs, we didn't know what to do with them. But then he cut the prices ridiculously low. "We figured, why should we do all of the hard work when he would make all the money? So we took our goods down ourselves and have been doing so ever since," he added.

HARD WORK

Married in 1934, both Pearl and Grant were raised in area farm families. A handy-man at heart, Grant started building their "$10" house on Argyle Road a few months after the wedding. "It was strictly a $10 house - $10 spent on it here, $10 spent on it there," he laughed. But farming was the obvious occupation, aside from building the growing family's shelter. "It was 1947 when we first started taking things downstate to sell," Grant recalled. "We figured, why should we do all of the hard work when he would make all the money? So we took our goods down ourselves and have been doing so ever since," he added.

"We figured, why should we do all of the hard work when he would make all the money? So we took our goods down ourselves and have been doing so ever since," he added.

potential customers bought other people's merchandise. "We used to fill a 14 foot stock box to the brim with corn, dried beans, everything....," Grant said. "But that's when we used to have help from the kids." Pearl was in an accident with another family member while traveling to the market several years ago. "I had 100 stitches in my head and a broken knee cap, but nothing serious," she said. One thing has remained constant over the last 35 years: the Merediths' stall location in the center of shed 3.

Pearl said she enjoys being located in the same stall because it encourages returning customers and builds friendships.

"We have people come back to us for many, many years," she said. "You get acquainted with them and people with other stalls." "I think we have done business with people from every nationality on the face of this earth, with the exception of Eskimos," Grant added. "Most of the people are good and appreciate anything you can do for them."

Preparing to sell and selling in the marketplace is competitive, with work days during the couple's "prime years" lasting 22 hours.

"It's loud - there can be 3,000 people move through the buildings on an average Saturday and go as high as 10,000," Grant said.

"Sometimes we've got buyers waiting for us to unpack our boxes. I've drunk more cold cups of coffee that were poured hot and pushed aside than I would ever want," Grant said.

"I remember one time we were flooded with buyers as soon as we came and I didn't get to eat my breakfast until 5 p.m."

Two of the Merediths' daughters, Ruth Klee and Loraine Hill, also sell produce at Eastern Market. "Loraine's stall is right next to ours, and Ruth has 3 greenhouses and a huge garden that her family makes a living from, doing this."

PASSING YEARS

Selling eggs has long-since gone by the wayside, as well as the crop farming and dairy cattle the couple used to own.

"I quit with cows when I was 72," Grant laughed. "I'd been under a cow for 60 years and I figured that was about long enough."

The garden, which once spanned 10-12 acres, has shrunk to a small plot next to the barn yard. The growers had to opt for this hard-clay area when they were no longer able to walk one-half mile several times daily to their former garden area.

Nonetheless, the garden is neat, with the transplanted vegetation in perfectly straight rows. Indian corn, sunflowers, summer squash, white and green zucchini, tomatoes, peppers, cucumbers...all are searched 3 times a week for the small but tender produce.

"We picked only 4 pecks of squash this morning," Pearl said. "We need more rain, this hot weather is slowing down the plants' production."

The Merediths said they will quit working with the first killing frost, but continue to keep themselves busy. Pearl said she likes to sew and read while Grant does woodworking.

"I started building the house where we now live in 1953. I still have one room to finish," Grant said. "I'll make the time."

80 attend Finkbeiner reunion

Eighty members of the family of the late Fred and Lavina Schweitzer-Finkbeiner met at the Cass City Recreation Park for a potluck dinner Sunday.

This was the 100th anniversary celebration of this reunion. To date there are 201 descendants.

The oldest members present were Charles Finkbeiner of Sebawaing and Henrietta Finkbeiner of Farmington, both 85.

The youngest members were Tyler Scharich, 13 months, son of Scott and Lori, and Nathan Hollis, 12 months, son of Tim and Sherri.

Officers re-elected were Mac McKee, president, Don Finkbeiner, vice-president, and Wilma Finkbeiner, secretary/treasurer. Program co-chairmen are Art and Ila Fiebig and Al and Althea Kabak.

During the afternoon the young folks enjoyed a ball game and the park facilities. Ice cream was served and group pictures were taken by Larry Finkbeiner.

Plans were made to meet again at the park in August 1992.

PEARL MEREDITH PICKS vegetables from her garden 3 times a week. "You have to get them when they're small, that's what the buyers want," she said.

Micklash on dean's list

University of Michigan officials recently announced that Kenneth J. Micklash II, son of Ken and Theresa Micklash, Cass City, has been placed on the dean's list for the second term 1991.

The Cass City High School graduate attends U-M's College of Engineering. In order to be named to the dean's list, students must complete 12 hours or more of credit and achieve a grade point average of 3.5 or better for the term.

Your neighbor says

We're in favor of tougher legislation

Don't assume that just because they are not old enough to legally drink that Jim Vorvay, 20, now of Cass City, and Michelle Hummel, 16, of Cass City don't have an opinion about the new, tough drunk driving law that is scheduled to go into effect Jan. 1. They do. They favor it.

It's not that the young couple are teetotalers who are against all drinking. They aren't.

They feel that drinking should be in moderation. People should not drink and drive. So if the law takes away the driving license for drunk or impaired driving for 30 days, it's okay, they add.

Other parts of the new law include elimination of "hardship" appeals whereby a circuit court judge can restore, on a restricted basis, a license that had been revoked in district court.

The couple are new to the community. They previously lived in Kalamazoo. Michelle moved to Cass City to be with her mother.

Vorvay followed her to the community. His plans now are to enter the adult education program in Cass City to secure his high school diploma.

Tillage demonstration tour set

The Saginaw Bay Water Quality Demonstration Project and the Bay and Tuscola County Soil Conservation Districts will present a Conservation Tillage Demonstration and Plot Tour Thursday, Aug. 29, from 2 until 4:00 p.m.

The demonstration will be at the Louis Wehrman farm, located at the corner of M-138 and Bradford Road in Gilford Township, 4 miles north and 3 miles east of Reese.

Actual, live, field tillage equipment will be on display, and demonstrations will be conducted at the site and will include the following: John Deere no till drill and cultivator, Roebuster, Gruzzone till, zone tillage with the Yetter Coulter system and other conservation tillage demonstrations.

Dennis Stein, Tuscola County Extension Director, will be on hand to discuss area corn variety and phosphorus plots.

For further information, contact Chuck Lightfoot or Terri Novak at 673-5999, Ext. 228.

Familiar problem at Cass City

Red Hawks talented, but short

The Cass City Red Hawks start the new season at Mayville Tuesday, Sept. 3, and the following Thursday open league play against strong Marlette. It will be a new season in a new league (Blue Bay Conference) and one thing is sure, there won't be any fluke champions crowned. That's because there are only 4 teams in the new league, Cass City, Bad Axe, Marlette and Lakers, and in basketball each team in the league will face each other 4 times.

There is talent on this year's team for Coach Marty Daniel to work with with 3 starters back and some talented players who have yet to experience varsity competition.

There are also a couple of big holes to fill created by the graduation of Jandi Hillaker, an all conference player who sparked Cass City for 4 years, and Jennifer Nye, a talented, experienced player.

Last year's squad finished 5th in the Thumb B Association with a 10-12, 6-8 in the conference, record. Daniel has been at Cass City for 3 years and has a 31-33 record. For his 12-year career his teams have 166 wins and 104 losses.

If this year's team is to better that record it will be with over-all quickness and a strong man-to-man defense.

We appear to be aggressive on both offense and defense this year, Daniel says.

Anchoring the team will be 3 veterans. Jodi Hillaker was third team all-conference last year. Daniel says that she sees the floor well and is a fine floor general, seeing that her teammates get the ball when they should. She is a competitor and her coach is depending on her to pick up some of the scoring lost when her sister graduated.

Jenny Storm had some big games last season, while averaging 7 points a game for the Hawks, and Cass City will need more of the same every night to be successful. She is a strong rebounder who does the little things that produce wins. She has great potential, Daniel feels. Jodi Schember is one of the natural athletes that come along every so often. She worked her way into the starting line-up after moving up from the junior varsity as a freshman. She is a good shooter who should benefit from her experience as she starts her sophomore year.

Another girl who was in the starting line-up last season is Jennifer Freundt, a junior. She plays the post and needs to better last year's 3 points a game average.

The remainder of the girls on the 8-person squad have earned one letter each. The squad is young with only 2 seniors to go with 4 juniors and a pair of sophomores.

A common trouble that Cass City teams have experienced in both boys' and girls' basketball will continue to be a problem. That is a lack of height. The tallest girl on the team is Barb Kelley who has had limited experience and is just 5-9.

Daniels sees Marlette as the team to beat with a strong challenge coming from Lakers, followed by Cass City and Bad Axe.

Red Hawk boys lose heavily via graduation, girls improved

It looks like a rebuilding year for the boys' Cass City High School cross country team and a year of improvement for the girls, Coach Dennis Meck reports on the eve of the first meet of the year, an invitational at Akron-Fairgrove Friday.

Last year the boys were about a 500-average team, one of the best records in recent years. The Hawks will be hard-pressed to equal that mark, due to the loss of 4 veterans. They include captain Rick Krueger, Jamie Jones, Chris Freundt and Randy Peasley. A couple of freshmen, Ben Hobbs and Jason Daniel, have shown promise in early workouts. A couple of runners who didn't compete last year should help the team. They are Jeff Mathewson and Ron Hudson. Barry Hornbacher is the team captain.

The good news about the girls is that Jennifer Romstad is back. She was a state finalist last year and has a chance to be a finalist all 4 years, Meck says. She is the team captain.

There are 2 new faces on the team, Marsha Mathewson and Jeanie Clor, who should help.

Sure to be missed is Misty Pallas. Pallas is helping out when home from college, as a manager.

Rabideau and Reagh win tournament

The Rolling Hills Ladies Invitational Golf Tournament, held Saturday, Aug. 17, was dominated by both bad weather and Cass City linksters.

The 6th annual 18-hole handicapped best ball tournament was shortened to 16 holes as hazardous weather conditions halted play.

The shortened format, however, didn't bother the 2-woman team of Cass City's Mary Rabideau and Esther Reagh, who topped the 40-team field with an -11 under par score while winning the 1st flight division.

Other winners included Marilyn Biefer of Cass City and former Cass City resident Michelle Tiseo, who captured the 3rd flight honors by posting a -9 under par total.

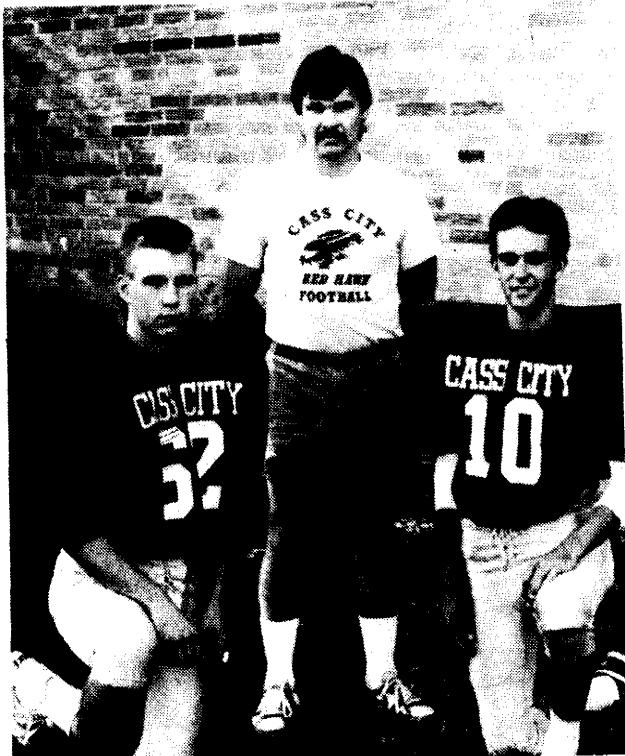

The tournaments' 2nd flight was won by Lil Jaroch (Ubyly) and Millie Madison (Elkton), who finished at -10 under par.

THE ROLLING HILLS Ladies' Invitational Golf winners are: 1st Flight - Mary Rabideau and Esther Reagh - 11. 2nd Flight - Lil Jaroch and Millie Madison - 10. 3rd Flight - Michelle Tiseo and Marilyn Biefer - 9.

Coach has deep bench

Roller has talent at O-G

Dean Roller will face a dilemma with his '1991 Owen-Gage basketball team, but don't expect much sympathy from the other coaches in the North Central Thumb League. "Deciding on who will start will be difficult," says Roller, entering his 6th year at the helm of the Bulldog program.

Roller has a slew of talent to choose from that includes 4 returning starters from last year's squad that finished 9-13, along with several hopefuls from the junior varsity team that boasted an impressive 17-3 mark.

"They (last year's junior varsity girls) will definitely be challenging for playing time," says Roller.

Besides experience, Roller will also field a strong rebounding crew.

Lisa Dorsch, a 3-year varsity performer, led the 'Dogs in rebounding last year (9 rebounds a game) and will provide the Bulldogs with a craggy inside player.

Another proven rebounder for Owen-Gage is Renee Murawski. Murawski, a quick leaper, showed great promise at the end of last year, when she hauled in 8 rebounds per game.

The team's tallest players are Jill Susalla and Tanya Muntz. Untested, but standing 5' 10", they should get plenty of playing time in the early campaign, according to Roller.

Owen-Gage's back court will be anchored by Michelle Tkacz and Aimee Merchant, both 3-year players. Tkacz led the 'Dogs in scoring with a 14.3 average. Merchant is a skilled ball handler.

A couple of juniors, Carli Salcido and Lori Ondrajka, will be called upon to lessen the load from the graduation loss of Vicki Ricker, a 4-year starter and all-conference performer.

"Ricker's shoes will be hard to fill," confesses Roller, but he feels Salcido could help relieve some of the scoring void left by Ricker if she can develop more consistency. Ondrajka is a hard-nosed defender, a Ricker trademark.

Both players gained valuable experience when called up during tournament time last season from the JV team.

Another back court player who Roller says, "I won't be afraid to use," is Alissa Draschil. Draschil will provide the Bulldogs, along with Tkacz, with a 3 point threat.

The team is rounded out by Angie Gruber, Lynn Cummins, Lisa Peters and Lynett Smith, all capable of making contributions as the season progresses, but they will have to earn playing time with impressive showings during Bulldog practices.

Roller sees Kingston and Akron-Fairgrove fighting for the NCTL crown, with the position of the rest of the league, with the exception of Caseville, up for grabs.

Form new 7-team league for Thumb golf competition

How can a school that is committed to playing in a 4-school league, called Blue Bay, suddenly find itself in a league with 7 teams? Easy. You draft teams from a neighboring league and for one sport, golf, and one sport only, it all counts towards determining a league champion.

Joining the 4 teams that play in the Blue Bay League, will have a chance to show what they can do under pressure, because the new league has a new format. Instead of taking the best 4 scores from among 5 golfers, the league will take the best 4 scores from 6 golfers.

There will be junior varsity competition in the league with schools which have JV teams.

Bad Axe, Cass City, Marlette and Lakers, will be 3 class C teams from the Thumb C League. They are Mayville, Harbor Beach and Sandusky.

It's sure that Cass City would love to have these same teams in a league for all sports, but if that happens it will be a few years down the road.

Although Coach Dave Hoard doesn't know a lot about the teams from the Thumb C, he figures that Bad Axe will be the team to beat.

Cass City promises to be one of the stronger teams. Only Chris Herringshaw, from last year's team that finished 5-2 in the regular season in the old Thumb B Association, is gone.

What Hoard hopes is that the returning veterans will benefit from last year's experience and be strong. The Hawks wilted under the pressure of tournament play and dropped to 5th place in the final league standings.

The returning veterans expected to pace the team are Jeff Hockey, Garen Barker, Bart Hall and Troy Osen-toski. There are some underclassmen who show promise, including Matt Rutkoski and Chris Chappel.

Mr. Alger Freiburger, 73, of Cass City died Monday, Aug. 19, at Tendercare, after a lengthy illness.

He was born March 24, 1918, in Argyle, MI, the son of Sigmund and Everene (Morell) Freiburger.

He was united in marriage to Miss Genevieve Downing June 27, 1942, in Gagetown. Following their marriage they made their home in Ferndale, coming to Cass City in 1945, where he became co-owner with his brother of Kinney's Creamery and Grocery.

Mr. Freiburger was a member of St. Pancratius Catholic Church of Cass City; an active member and past president of the Cass City Lions Club; an active member of the Leader Dog program and was also a past member of the Knights of Columbus.

He is survived by his wife, Genevieve; 3 sons, Robert Freiburger of Matthews, N.C., James Freiburger of Cass City, and Paul Freiburger of Sebawaing; 2 daughters, Mrs. Terry (Diane) Rosinski of Granger, Ind., and Mrs. Richard (Joan) Sattelberg of Gagetown; 6 grandchildren; one brother, Bernard Freiburger of Cass City, and 6 sisters, Mrs. Mable Babcock of Tawas, Mrs. Merwina Vollmer of Ferndale, Mrs. Irene Freeman of Cass City, Mrs. Reva Byrne of Riverside, Calif., Mrs. Chester Szarapski of Mt. Clemens, and Mrs. Patricia Reinelt of Pontiac.

One daughter, Joy Walker, preceded him in death. A Knights of Columbus Rosary was held Wednesday evening at 8 p.m. from Little's Funeral Home, Cass City.

Funeral services for Mr. Freiburger were conducted Thursday at St. Pancratius Catholic Church of Cass City with Father Julius Spleet, pastor, officiating.

Interment was in Elkland Cemetery, Cass City. Memorials may be made to Leader Dog or Cass City Hospice.

Lottie Pinney

Mrs. Lottie Mae Pinney, 87, of Cass City died Tuesday, Aug. 20, at the Mid-Michigan Regional Medical Center in Midland after a lengthy illness.

She was born March 7, 1904, in Rodney, Ontario, Canada, the daughter of George and Isabell (Gillies) West.

Miss West was united in marriage to Frederick Pinney Sept. 14, 1931, in Harbor Beach, making their home in Cass City. Mr. Pinney died Aug. 26, 1988.

Mrs. Pinney, a school teacher, taught in Pontiac, Owosso and Cass City. She was a member of the Hobby Club and attended the First Presbyterian Church of Cass City where she had been an active member of the Woman's Association.

She is survived by one daughter, Miss Annette Pinney of Cass City; one sister-in-law, Mrs. Alta West of St. Clair and one nephew, Dr. Robert West of Irvine, Calif. Two brothers, John and G. Alfred West preceded her in death.

A memorial service for Mrs. Pinney will be conducted Wednesday, Aug. 28, at 11 a.m. from the First Presbyterian Church of Cass City, with Reverend Peter Russell, pastor, officiating.

Interment will be in Elkland Cemetery, Cass City.

Arrangements were made by Little's Funeral Home, Cass City.

Memorials may be given to the First Presbyterian Church, the Parkinsons Disease Assn. or Rawson Memorial Library, Cass City.

Hool elected to alumni sports 'hall of fame'

Jack Hool, co-owner and vice-president of C.R. Hunt Construction Company, Cass City, has been elected to the University of Windsor Alumni Sports Hall of Fame.

Hool was an outstanding high school athlete at Assumption High School in Windsor, receiving all city recognition in football and basketball. He then starred on the Assumption University (later the University of Windsor) Lancer basketball team and was named all conference all star in both his junior and senior years. After graduation, he returned to Assumption High School as a history teacher and coach of the senior basketball team. As the basketball coach, he became quickly recognized as one of Ontario's outstanding coaches. Hool's team won 7 city championships, 3 Ontario championships and over 500 games.

Recently, Willie Greenwood retired as a senior basketball referee in Windsor, Ontario, and, in a newspaper article, stated:

The one coach I have admired the most is Jack Hool when he was at Assumption High School. His teams were so well disciplined. It was a real honor and pleasure to work his games.

The induction ceremonies for the Alumni Sports Hall of Fame will take place at the University of Windsor, Windsor, Ontario, Canada, Sunday, Oct. 27. The other inductee is Bruce Walker, who played on one of Hool's Ontario championship teams and later starred on the university's football team. Walker had an outstanding professional football career with the Ottawa Tiger Cats.

Cass City pool, arts and crafts program enjoy good attendance

Another successful and busy summer was reported by the Cass City pool and arts and crafts staffs following completion of both programs for the 1991 season.

The pool was closed Friday, and the arts and crafts program was wrapped up Aug. 15, according to reports reviewed during a monthly Village Council meeting Monday night.

Village officials indicated pool attendance was up this summer compared to past years due to consistently warm weather.

Pool Director Bobbi Fischer reported that the number of swimmers gradually decreased towards the end of the season, but noted there were 2,509 open swimmers from July 20 to Aug. 20.

The summer attendance was 10,653 (as of Aug. 19), or an average of 91 swimmers per day.

In addition, the pool staff conducted beginner through advanced swimming classes for 80 kids, and had 5 families in the infant and preschool aquatics programs.

Arts and crafts program directors Kathy Leino and Dawn Edzik reported a particularly busy August, when the program averaged 31 children per day during the month, compared to an average of 20 children in past years.

The program's morning preschool sessions averaged 13 children per day.

The highest attendance of the season occurred June 29, when 28 children attended in the morning and 60 attended in the afternoon.

Overall, 211 children, including 45 preschoolers, were registered in the program this summer, which is about average compared to the past few years, the pair stated.

Posse conducting phone sales

The Tuscola County Sheriff's Posse is currently conducting telephone sales to businesses in Tuscola County for advertising to be placed in a program book to be given out free at the door of a show set for Oct. 27 at the Caro High School.

Appearing will be Hank Williams' Drifting Cowboy Band, starring Jett Williams. Jett is Hank Williams Sr.'s daughter. "In a few weeks we will also be calling residents on ticket sales," Sheriff Tom Kern said, adding telephone callers will identify themselves as representing the Tuscola County Sheriff's Posse.

Proceeds from the performances will go to programs such as Safetyville, Explorers and drug law enforcement.

Questions regarding the solicitation may be addressed to the sheriff's department at 673-8161, or the show office at 673-5149.

Letter to the editor

Offers alternative

Cass City Preschool open

Dear Mr. Haire,

We are writing in regards to the recent article in the Chronicle concerning the tuition based preschool program to be offered by the Cass City School system.

Upon reading the article, one came away feeling that one of the purposes for offering the program has to do with the recent closing of, as stated by Supt. Ken Micklash, "a privately owned preschool facility." We are sure that Mr. Micklash was referring to the recent closure of Higher Horizons Day Care Center and not our facility, the Cass City Preschool Nursery. We want the community to be aware of the fact that we are very much in operation, have not closed and have been going strong for the past 20 years.

We continue to offer a sound, developmentally appropriate preschool experience for children 3 and 4 years of age. Our preschool program, being a cooperative one, offers parents a hands on opportunity to witness and be a part of their preschooler's first educational experiences.

While we are positive that the Cass City School Board continues to recognize our existence, we want the community to be aware that we are very much alive and will continue to offer an alternative program for those parents who want to take an active part in their preschooler's education.

Sincerely,

Connie Klinkman, Teacher
Julie Havens, President
Cass City Preschool Nursery

$5 per hour fee set

Deeds copy machine suit settled

Tuscola County Register Deeds Virginia McLaren must allow the county's abstract companies to maintain copy machines in her office and charge them no more than $5 per hour for the privilege. That was the ruling handed down recently by Huron County Circuit Judge M. Richard Knoblock in a lawsuit filed by the Tuscola County Abstract Company,

Inc., against McLaren. Abstract companies are private businesses that use register of deeds documents to record real estate transactions. Abstract rates are regulated by the state, with the companies receiving a set profit percentage. Tuscola Abstract owner Paul Ransford filed suit after McLaren announced in January plans to begin charging the county's 2 abstract firms a state-approved fee of $1 per copied page, or $300 per month fee to maintain and use copy machines in her office.

Prior to the announcement, the abstract companies were allowed to keep machines in the office free of charge. Prior to issuing a final decision, Knoblock appointed veteran register of deeds official Valerie Martinek to review the case and submit a recommendation. She suggested that the abstract companies pay $450 a month to maintain machines in the office, or $400 a month to use the Register of Deeds' copier.

However, both sides and the judge rejected the recommendation.

Knoblock ruled that McLaren must provide abstract companies with "sufficient space and facilities, including electrical power, to permit plaintiff to maintain its own photocopy equipment" in her office. "Defendant may establish such reasonable rules as are necessary concerning the use of said equipment so as to minimize congestion and interference in the normal function of her office," the judge added.

He set a fee of $25 per week for space rental and use of electricity to operate the machine for up to one hour per business day, with additional use being billed at $5 per hour.

Knoblock, who took over the case when Tuscola Circuit Judge Patrick R. Joslyn disqualified himself, also ordered each side to pay Martinek $137.50 for her services.

Approximately 45 people attended the fourth Greenwood Country School Reunion Aug. 11.

Greenwood School is located on Moore Road in Grant Township. It was established in 1872 and consolidated in 1964.

A potluck lunch was served at the Masonic Hall in Cass City. Walter Dubs of Owendale was master of ceremonies. Teachers present were Helen McGrath, 1955-1962; Hazel Jurgens, 1964, and Grace Bannick, 1919. DeLores Gardner, Elkton, sang songs and played the guitar. Stories and memories were shared.

Prizes were awarded to the following: one who came farthest, Ardis (Cliff) Allen, St. Louis; oldest car, Jane Saliard, Bad Axe; largest family in attendance, Lona Rockefeller, Owendale; youngest person attending, Connie Bannick, Bay City; youngest teacher, Hazel Jurgens, Bad Axe; oldest teacher, Grace Bannick (91), Bad Axe; most buttons, Mrs. Bannick; tallest person, Harold McGrath, Cass City; most change in pocket, Bob Dubs, Pigeon; most grandchildren, Lona Rockefeller - 23 grandchildren, 42 great-grandchildren and 5 great-great-grandchildren; shortest person, Jo Rockefeller, Owendale.

The next reunion will be held the last Sunday in August, 1993, with the committee consisting of Colin Connell, Lapeer, Eva Sherman, Essexville, and Earline Powell, Elkton.

Milligan reunion at Brown farm

The 12th annual Milligan family reunion was held Aug. 18 at the Grant Brown farm. There were 56 people present.

After a potluck meal was served, Dale Karr presided over the business meeting. Mary Karr acted as secretary.

The afternoon was spent playing baseball and volleyball, visiting and sharing pictures.

Officers elected for the 1992 reunion were Brian Oatley, president, and Judy Brown, secretary. The next reunion will be held Aug. 16, 1992, at the same location.

Accidental shooting brings probation credit for 285 days already served, for his conviction on charges of probation violation.

Hoffman, whose probation was revoked, was convicted June 1, 1990, on a charge of larceny in a building.

Records state he violated the agreement when he failed to report to his probation officer, and by not residing in a residence approved by his probation agent.

Also sentenced for probation violation was David M. Langley, 19, Caro, who was ordered to serve 120 days in jail with work release. His probation was continued.

Langley violated probation when he possessed alcoholic beverages and associated with Ben Taylor, both July 21 in Caro, according to court records, which state the defendant was previously convicted on a charge of larceny in a building.

Edward A. Gilin, 18, Mayville, was sentenced on a delayed sentence, handed down following his July 13, 1990, plea of guilty to malicious destruction of personal property over $100.

He was sentenced Friday to 2 years probation and 7 days in jail (deferred to the end of probation), and ordered to complete 90 hours of community service and pay a $30 victim crime fee and court costs of $200 plus attorneys fees.

In other proceedings, Walter Phelps Jr., 22, 3257 Kingston Rd., Kingston, entered a plea of guilty to attempting to carry a concealed weapon Feb. 10, 1990, in Almer Township.

A pre-sentence investigation was ordered. Sentencing for the defendant, who is to pay $50 a week in attorneys fees, is to be scheduled.

Salads added to seniors' meal site menu

Human Development Commission officials have added a chef salad entree to daily choices available to senior citizens at 22 Thumb area senior dining centers.

Consisting of lettuce, cucumber, tomato, egg, ham, cheese and turkey, the new salad is perfect for those seniors aged 60 and over whose diets or personal preferences prevent them from eating the daily selection that is otherwise available.

Senior diners who wish to select the chef salad for their meal are requested to call their HDC meal site in Huron, Sanilac or Tuscola County 24 hours in advance. The regular side dishes (vegetables, breads, desserts) will be included, as usual, for the $1.50 donation.

A full monthly menu for all meal sites may be found in the current issue of the "Thumb Area Senior News."

For more information about this new entree or other HDC dining opportunities, call a local dining center or Human Development Commission field office.

52nd Collins reunion held

Five generations of the George and Anna Collins family were represented by the 77 descendants who attended the 52nd reunion Aug. 17-18 at Evergreen park.

The oldest in attendance was Eva Collins; the youngest was Tyler Randal Perry. Next year's reunion will be held at the same place on the 3rd Saturday and Sunday of August. Officers are Tom Curtis, president; Robert Collins, vice-president, and Helen Rayl, secretary/treasurer.

CASS CITY TEACHERS gathered Monday at the high school for their first meetings of the 1991-92 school year. Among them were 4 instructors added to this year's staff: (above, left to right) Dottie Scollon, home economics; Martha Butcher, elementary art; Mindy Nash, instrumental music and intermediate English, and Jeff Hartel, business, physical education and science.

75-degree temperature cuts milk production

When the temperature approaches 75 degrees F, milk production can drop up to 10 percent per cow.

Herbert Bucholtz, Michigan State University Extension dairy specialist, says that milk production decreases in hot weather because cows are uncomfortable and eat less. Reduced feed intake results in decreased nutrient intake, which lowers milk production, reduces fetal growth and alters cows' hormonal status.

Bucholtz recommends the following to help reduce dairy cow heat stress:

- Get as much ventilation through the barn as possible. Consider removing the barn sidewalls. Contact the county Extension office for more information.

- Provide shade over the feed bunk to encourage eating.

- If evaporative cooling is being used, be sure that the cows are being thoroughly soaked to the skin. A light mist covering the cows will insulate them, making them hotter than they would have been without the misting system.

- Provide plenty of water in a shaded area.

- Feed cows more than twice a day and at times of greatest activity, such as during or after milking, to increase feed intake.

- Feed high rather than low quality feeds to increase the amounts of nutrients the animals consume.

- Avoid feeding too much grain. Digestive upset may result that will reduce feed intake.

- Consider feeding 1 to 1 1/2 pounds of fat per day. Fat digestion produces less body heat than digestion of other feedstuffs. Sources of fat include whole soybeans, cotton seed, liquid animal fats and commercial rumen-protected fats.

- Do not increase potassium levels to offset potassium lost during heat stress. Most dairy rations in Michigan already contain more potassium than cows need.

- Feed 1/4 pound of sodium bicarbonate per cow per day to increase feed intake.

Food prices climb

The U.S. Department of Agriculture says that retail food prices have climbed an average of 6.5 percent a year since 1972. But they only went up 5.8 percent in 1989 and 1990.

Landfill closing

Next, another 6 inches of cover dirt will be placed on the sites, which will then be seeded and fenced.

Fortunately, village officials were able to locate and use clay at the landfill property.

"It was in pockets, but we were able to find enough to cover the sites," LaPonsie said, adding that made a big difference in terms of staying within budget. He noted 40,000 yards of clay and another 10,000 yards of top dirt — also taken from the landfill property — were needed for the project.

Ninety percent of the cost involved in closing the landfill will be paid for with a Solid Waste Alternative Program grant, funded by the state's Quality of Life Bond program. Cass City is responsible for the remaining 10 percent.

Funding approval came after village officials submitted their third application for a state grant to help cover the cost.

Unfortunately, expenses tied to the landfill won't end when the sites are officially closed in a month or 2.

The village has spent some $6,000 a year testing observation wells installed around the landfill in the early 1980s, and that requirement is expected to remain in effect for some time.

Initially, LaPonsie explained, officials were told they would have to continue testing the wells 5 years after the landfill was closed. "They changed that, and it went to 10 years," he added. "We expect it to be a never-ending thing," LaPonsie concluded.

Deer permits available

Farmers and landowners with 40 or more acres are eligible to obtain as many private land antlerless deer permits for their property as they desire.

A landowner's family, relatives, renters, friends and guests can apply for a private land antlerless deer license if they are given permission. These licenses are only valid on the property of the landowner to whom they were granted. Hunting on private land adjacent to the landowner must be cleared by the neighboring owners.

K of C golf winners told Sunday, Aug. 18, the Cass City-Gagetown Knights of Columbus Council 8892 hosted the 4th annual family golf-picnic.

Nineteen played a golf scramble at Rolling Hills Golf Course, with Ed and Carol Pasant and daughters and Jon and Diedra Zdrojewski and son winning.

Following the golf scramble, there was a potluck picnic at the Dan Hitler residence, with about 50 attending.

New this year is a rule stating that each person has a 2 buck limit during the combination of archery, firearm and muzzleloading seasons.

This year's antlerless deer season dates are as follows: regular firearm (Zones 1, 2 and 3) Nov. 15 to 30, muzzleloading (Zone 1) Dec. 6 to 15, muzzleloading (Zones 2 and 3) Dec. 13 to 22, and archery (Zones 1, 2 and 3) Oct. 1 to Nov. 14, and Dec. 1 to Jan. 1.

The deadline for applications is Sept. 24. Send applications to the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, Wildlife Division, Box 30028, Lansing, MI 48909. Successful applicants will be notified by Nov. 1.

For Health Insurance That's A Cut Above The Rest . . .

Consider the 24 Karat Major Medical Plan from Time Insurance. Time's plan outshines the competition because more value has been built into every benefit you receive. Values such as:

- Conditionally renewable for life
- Freedom to choose your doctor and hospital
- Non-smoker's discount
- Prescription drugs, ambulance, and x-ray coverage
- $2,000,000 lifetime benefit
- Security. Time has been a stable, secure provider of health insurance for more than 90 years.

In addition, the 24 Karat plan combines a system of managed health care benefits with a network of preferred hospitals to make sure you get the best care available for your situation. So don't settle for second-rate health insurance coverage. Choose Time's 24 Karat plan and enjoy benefits that are clearly a cut above the rest. For more information, please contact:
