DON ROBERSON, 71, said thank-you to the village of Kingston recently by building this covered bridge, which was installed Saturday at a small park on the west side of Kingston.

In Kingston

Roberson builds covered bridge to say thank-you

At 71, Don Roberson says he feels younger than he should on some days.

That feeling has been around quite a bit lately, judging by the large covered bridge sitting in his driveway last week.

The bridge, installed Saturday at a small village park just west of the light in Kingston, was built by Roberson, who says he's always enjoyed working with wood.

But the project was much more than an extension of Roberson's hobby; it was his way of saying thank-you to the community that welcomed him and his wife with open arms 43 years ago.

"We moved here and everybody was so good to us and helped us get to our feet. It seemed like everybody trusted us and helped us get settled — the lumberyard carried us and the hardware and just about every store," he remarked Thursday at his English Road home. "That was way back after World War II — 1948. You know, those were rough times, but we have a lot of good memories."

It was those memories, in part, that prompted Roberson to offer to build the bridge, which has replaced a broken cement path over Elder Creek.

"The bridge had been raised by the frost every year and they would have to repair it," he explained.

Roberson said he approached village President Arlo Ruggles, suggested that a new bridge be constructed and said he'd be willing to build it. "I was half serious," Roberson joked.

After the Village Council formally accepted his offer, Roberson, a former Air Force mechanic, went to work on a design.

The village spent $2,500 on materials, and in 3 weeks, Roberson transformed a stack of treated lumber into a bridge that spans 24 feet in length, is 6 feet wide and 10 1/2 feet high. The structure is trimmed with cedar and is covered with hand-split cedar shingles.

Roberson, who began the project in mid August, initially thought the project would pretty much be a surprise to the community. But it didn't work out that way.

"It seemed like everybody in the country stopped by," he recalled. "The closer I got to completing it, the more who would come. It was a big attraction every day."

Roberson said he knew maybe half of those who stopped by to admire his work. There were a lot of kids, who enjoyed running up and down the length of the bridge. Before the roof was finished, they would

Faced with tougher financial times in the coming months, Owen-Gage School officials held a Truth in Taxation hearing and then approved a tax hike of 2.1835 mills Monday night. The Board of Education also voted to borrow monies this year on anticipated tax revenues, something the district hasn't had to do in 3 years.

No citizens attended the brief hearing, during which school Supt. Harley Kirby recommended setting the 1991 operational millage levy at 39.3 mills and the 1976 debt retirement levy at 2 mills, for a total of 41.3 mills.

Based on a 1991 state equalized valuation of $31,120,550, the additional millage will increase operating revenues in the district by 5.88 percent, or $67,952.

Last year, Owen-Gage had an SEV of $29,685,564 and levied a total of 42.962 mills, including a 4.12-mill levy for the 1976 debt retirement.

Monday's Truth in Taxation hearing was held in compliance with the Headlee Amendment, which requires taxing units to hold a public hearing if they wish to collect additional tax revenue — up to but not exceeding the inflation rate — due to an increase in land values.

During the school board's regular monthly meeting Monday, Kirby predicted cash-flow problems will hit the district in November, and recommended that the board approve borrowing $250,000 on anticipated tax revenues.

The board approved a motion to borrow the money

Nov. 6 for a 100-day period. A special meeting was scheduled for 7 p.m. Oct. 28 at the high school to open bids from interested financial institutions.

According to Kirby, Owen-Gage will have a balance of $261,180 at the end of September. That figure is expected to dwindle to $93,989 by the end of October, and without a loan, the district will be more than $30,000 in the red in November, he said.

MONEY PROBLEMS

Although not a serious financial crisis, Kirby later commented that the district's money problems are the result of several factors. They include receiving less state aid last year than expected because the state overpaid the district the year before, he said. Less aid is expected this year as well, with Owen-Gage barely maintaining its "in-formula" status due, in part, to a continuing trend of declining enrollment.

At the same time, costs in general have continued to climb, and the district has incurred a number of one-time expenses, including more than $25,000 for roof repairs at the elementary school and $18,000 for the purchase of a school van.

In addition, Kirby continued, the Owen-Gage board

For Koylton supervisor

Recall election set Jan. 7

A special election has been tentatively set for Jan. 7 in a recall effort targeting long-time Koylton Township Supervisor Terry Boyne.

That's according to Tuscola County Clerk Erma Brown, who said organizers of the effort successfully collected more than the 92 signatures needed to place the issue before voters.

The signatures of 182 registered township voters were collected and submitted, Brown said. She added the county Election Commission, composed of herself, county Probate Judge W. Wallace Kent Jr. and county Treasurer Patricia Donovan, verified the minimum number of signatures required.

Boyne, who was notified early last week, has 30 days to challenge the signatures, Brown said.

The recall effort, spearheaded by Mark Eschtruth and Ronald Brief, stems from the township's zoning battle with Pioneer Work and Learn Center, a rehabilitation program for male juvenile delinquents operating at Kingston Hills Camp near Kingston.

Following a 3-year court battle, the program was ruled in violation of township zoning laws.

Township zoning officials moved to seek closure of the Pioneer program, but the Township Board voted in favor of an agreement in which Pioneer officials would be given a 6-month extension to work out possible changes in the township's zoning ordinance.

The recall petition charges that contrary to the board's motion and expressed wishes, Boyne along with township Zoning Board Chairman Russell Mayer and Zoning Board attorney J. Anthony Sykora, refused to advise Tuscola County Circuit Judge Patrick R. Joslyn of the board's proposal during an Aug. 30 court hearing.

Instead, the petition notes,

Sykora filed a motion asking the court to order Pioneer officials to immediately cease operations and vacate the property.

That motion was granted, although the camp program failed to close within a 10-day deadline imposed by the court.

The matter was finalized earlier this month, when Joslyn issued a second order directing the Pioneer program to close, and warned that failure to comply would result in "serious trouble." Pioneer officials have indicated they will leave Koylton Township by the Jan. 4 deadline, with plans to relocate to Vassar.

Area accidents

Crash injures Caro man

A Caro man was critically injured Friday when he lost control of his motorcycle in Juniata Township.

As of Tuesday morning, the motorist, Raymond C. Bragg, 40, remained in critical condition at St. Mary's Medical Center in Saginaw, a hospital spokeswoman said.

Bragg was traveling south at a high rate of speed on Ringle Road near Larbee Road when the 8:45 a.m. accident occurred, according to troopers from the state police post in Caro. They stated Bragg either heard a train whistle or saw a train coming westbound near the intersection, and locked up his brakes, losing control.

Bragg and his motorcycle overturned and traveled some distance before coming to rest near a graveled portion of the intersection, reports state.

Troopers emphasized that there was no collision or contact with the train.

The accident remains under investigation.

Also injured Friday was a Caro area man involved in a car-deer accident in Cass City.

According to Cass City police, Robert F. Coverdill, 64, was eastbound on East Cass City Road about a half-mile east of Seeger Street when a deer entered the roadway and jumped onto his windshield.

Coverdill was transported to Hills and Dales General Hospital, Cass City, where he was treated and released following the 7:48 a.m. Please turn to back page.

ABOUT 100 BENEFACTORS attended the benefit concert Sunday afternoon at First Presbyterian Church, Cass City. Two acclaimed musicians donated services to raise between $4,500 and $5,000 for the Bach Festival. William Preucil Jr., left, is first violinist of the famed Cleveland Quartet. Arthur Rowe, teacher at the University of Iowa, accompanied Preucil and also presented a piano solo. Works from Mozart, Saint-Saens and Kreisler were presented. The artists received standing ovations.

AFTER THE CONCERT most of the spectators attended a light lunch buffet at the home of the Lambert Althavers, Cass City. Althaver, right foreground, said that a big plus for the concert was that it attracted new music appreciation devotees from the Midland-Bay City-Saginaw area.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott Geiger

Scott Ronald Geiger and Brenda Lee Leppala were united in marriage June 1 in the Finnish Apostolic Lutheran Church in Negaunee, Mich. The ceremony was performed by minister Ralph Williams of Plymouth, Mich.

The bride graduated from Goegebic Community College with an associate of technology degree in commercial art and design. The groom graduated from Michigan Technological University with a master's degree in electrical engineering. He currently works for Motorola, Inc.

Geiger is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Geiger of Cass City. His bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Leppala of Watton, Mich. The bride was escorted to the altar by her father. Maid of honor was Nicole Leppala, sister of the bride, of Watton. The bridesmaid was Karen Hemmila, friend of the bride, of Negaunee.

Births announced

Officials at McKenzie Memorial Hospital, Sandusky, recently announced the births of baby girls to a pair of Cass City couples. Heather Lynn Depcinski was born to Albert and Ann Depcinski, Cass City, Sept. 27, and Megan Ruth Zawilinski was born to Phillip and Cheryl Zawilinski, Cass City, Oct. 2.

Copelands observe 50th anniversary

Harold and Helen Copeland celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary with a trip to Nashville, Tenn., given by their family, who joined them there. They were married in Sandusky Sept. 29, 1941.

Their attendants were Jerry and Helen Decker. The Copelands have a daughter, Sandra Atkins of Cary, N.C., and 2 grandchildren, Shawn and Suzanne Atkins. Another daughter, Judy, is deceased.

Engagement Told

Denise Osentoski Kevin Liebeskind

The mother of Denise I. Osentoski, Cass City, and the parents of Kevin L. Liebeskind, Harbor Beach, announce the engagement of their children. Denise is employed at Dr. Ray's office in Cass City, and Kevin is employed by K&B Carpentry. The couple plan to wed in July 1992.

Burns speaks to women's council

The St. Pancratius Women's Council met Oct. 7, with Mass at 6:30 in the chapel. Attorney John Burns spoke to the women on the subject of wills. A question and answer period followed. Plans were finalized for a bazaar held Oct. 12. Chris Erla reported that the East Region of Catholic Women will meet in Bad Axe at the Sacred Heart Parish Oct. 23. The meeting was adjourned and refreshments were served.

Rare gifts
by Melva E. Guinther

You realize, of course, that there are only 70 shopping days till Christmas.

The Christmas catalogs have been arriving since June, but along about the first of October, they really begin stacking up, as anyone at the post office will surely affirm.

Here are a few of the rare gifts we've come across so far.

If you're into wearing vegetables, sterling broccoli jewelry is bound to be the rage this season. For $38 each you can own a sterling broccoli brooch and earrings set. Just what I've always wanted!

The outdoorsman would surely enjoy the Game Fish Christmas ornaments. You can mix or match your favorites - northern pike, rainbow trout, coho salmon, walleye pike and largemouth bass, for $5.98 each. What every well decorated tree will be wearing!

You can add to the festive atmosphere of the season by wearing a musical Christmas hat. It plays "Jingle Bells" and lists for $10.98.

If you have to be on the road a lot during the holidays, you can capture the yuletide spirit with a car Christmas tree. It's $4.98 and attaches to any car window via suction cups. The string of mini lights plugs into the cigarette lighter.

Or how about wearing a string of Christmas lights around your neck? These don't light up, but the necklace is 22 inches long and costs $4.98. Couldn't you just hack 22 inches off a string that doesn't work anymore?

If you know someone who suffers from seasickness, there's the Sea Band. It's an elastic band, one for each wrist, with a small plastic marble sewn inside that "exerts acupressure on the P6 (Nei-Kuan) point of each wrist, interrupting motion induced sensory signals that disrupt your equilibrium." Price is $12.95 a pair.

My husband cast a fleeting glance at a pair of binoculars on the cover of one catalog and thought they looked pretty neat. And well they should! The price was $1,295! He'll get them when he buys me the $2000 Get-away chair.

He'd be lucky to get the new Swiss Army knife that features a Phillips screwdriver and pliers in addition to the usual scissors, toothpick, bottle opener, tweezers, etc. It's only $49.95.

Even more likely is the Dipstick Licker for $4.95. It's a magnetized dipstick sponge to keep under your car hood to make checking your oil more convenient. Let's not forget Fido and Fluffy. Doesn't your pet deserve a Love Belt?

According to the Michigan Department of Agriculture, 620,000 pounds of trout were raised by commercial trout operators for food at an average of $2.34 per pound, for a total of $1.45 million.

There's obviously a market for these trout, but none taste like those caught in the wild and for me that keeps me from ordering trout at a restaurant.

Until the television personalities started pronouncing harassment to rhyme with the name harris(ment), everyone I knew always pronounced it harASSment. I understand that both pronunciations are now used.

Here's a vote that harASSment is better. I have never heard on television or anywhere else someone use harass and pronounce it as harris.

Okay, okay. But this is a column of trivia.

One of my favorite farm correspondents, Charley Carpenter, dropped in with a corn stalk with 4 ears of corn. Two ears were full size, another well developed, about half size and the fourth about half size, half developed.

Those 2 little ears would pay the cost of the feed and fertilizer, Charley grinned.

There's a move on to revert to a sliding scale for contingent fees for attorneys. The larger the award, the lower the percentage for the lawyer, down to 10 percent for judgments of $500,000 or more.

Today, the fee can be one-third. The only thing that I can see wrong with this proposal is that there could be an incentive for lawyers to settle for a lesser amount than they do now because of the reduction in their share of the judgement. For instance, a lawyer would make more money settling for $400,000 at 20 percent than $500,000 at the 10 percent rate.

The only sure-fire way to cut the cost of litigation to the plaintiffs would be to lower the ceiling on all cases.

INGUINAL HERNIAS NEED REPAIR

Hernias are weak spots in the thin muscle and fascia of the abdominal wall which get stretched from exertion and pressure. Then the bowel may protrude into the bulge that is formed. These are most common in the groin and are called inguinal hernias. They occur mostly in men, although hernias are possible in women as well.

Many of these hernias develop suddenly from heavy lifting or straining such as severe coughing--the weak spot finally gives way and bulges out. Usually the bulge flattens out as the straining decreases. Even when the hernia remains protruding, it can easily be pushed back into place and surgical repair can be done on an elective basis.

At times, however, the bowel protruding into the hernia will become trapped so tightly that gentle pressure can not replace it. In these cases, surgery becomes an emergency since the blood supply to the bowel in these areas may become constricted or twisted so badly that the bowel will become gangrenous. This is very dangerous because of the infections that may occur.

Children often are born with hernias or develop them at an early age. Hernias in the navel will improve, but in the groin they never improve on their own so surgery should be done at a convenient time. All children should have their hernias repaired.

Some men try trusses, but for most people these are not effective and the hernia eventually needs to be repaired. Until a hernia is repaired, a person should limit lifting and straining.

Sorry, doctor, but you say just doesn't cut it, not with me and not with most ordinary folks I know.

Dr. Charles Moertel, a Mayo Clinic cancer specialist and a long-time consultant to the Food and Drug Administration, accused the agency of "abandoning the scientific basis for drug approval to yield to the shrill voices of the activist group du jour." (You and I would say activist group of the day, but that's beside the point.)

What the good doc was reportedly complaining about in the daily press was the FDA relaxed test standards for approval of an AIDS drug.

The reason for the protest is the fear that a precedent would be set and the market flooded with unproven and perhaps dangerous drugs for other diseases such as inoperable cancer and Alzheimer's disease.

It might happen. So what? We are not talking about making these remedies available at the corner store. The FDA has approved the drug called didanosine (DDI) for patients who have exhausted all other avenues.

Up front understand that the drug has not been tested against a strict scientific standard, not proven to be safe and effective.

There is a reasonable chance that it will be of help. The real question is what does the patient with an advanced case of AIDS have to lose? Or equally as tragic, one with Alzheimer's disease?

We are not talking here about scattering DDI willy-nilly to everyone that asks. What has been authorized is the drug for patients who can't be helped, or can't afford AZT, the only other new drug that has been approved for AIDS treatment. DDI will cost about $1,990 a year and AZT about $2,500 a year.

Both AIDS and Alzheimer's are debilitating diseases with the end certain and the road there filled with pain...for the patients and those who care for them.

There isn't even a chance for a miracle cure to come along for these persons. If one were discovered tomorrow, it would be years before it was approved even under the new relaxed standards of the FDA. If the old standards applied, it might be a decade or longer.

Given these facts, it seems to me that there should be no controversy at all. Hold out the lifeline for these people.

If it proves to be that the line is frayed, so be it. Without the line they are sure to sink anyway.

A long-shot chance is better than no chance at all. The FDA should be applauded for seeing that it is available.

A natural enzyme has been found that can transform sugar into non-fattening food ingredients. That enzyme could offer a sweet bonus to the Michigan sugar beet industry if the converted sugar can be produced cheaply enough to use as non-caloric fillers, binders and extenders for food products.

"If It Fitz..."

It's outrageous

By Jim Fitzgerald

Four teenage boys are charged with second-degree murder in the much-publicized stonping death of 16-year-old Alex Stachura in Macomb County last month. If found guilty, they could serve as little as 8 years in prison.

More than 3 years ago, 18-year-old Gary Fannon was locked up forever on a minor drug conspiracy charge. Forever, until he dies, with absolutely no chance of parole. At age 18. Think about it.

And think about what's worse: To kill a young man eager to live, or to plot to sell 650 grams (about 1 1/2 pounds) of cocaine to a person eager to buy it?

Fannon was set up by an undercover cop who was later fired from the Canton Township Police Department for admittedly using cocaine. The cop wasn't even arrested, let alone jailed.

Fannon wasn't even present during the drug sale that put him in prison forever; he was in another state. Fannon claimed he became frightened and ran away from the deal. The cops claimed he was lying. Either way, Fannon's sentence is astonishingly unjust.

But the judge had no alternative. According to Michigan law -- the toughest anti-drug law in the United States -- anyone convicted of having more than 650 grams of cocaine or heroin must be sentenced to life without parole. The judge may exercise no discretion, no matter how mitigating the circumstances.

THE RUBBER-STAMP SETUP

In July, when I first wrote about Fannon, I complained: "Under those conditions, what's the sense in having a judge? A rubber stamp would do the job just as well." I belabored the rubber-stamp analogy. There was considerable reader response, pro and con, and the most interesting letter came from a Lansing manufacturer of...rubber stamps.

Wendell W. Parsons of Stamp-rite Inc. made an argument similar to what I heard from several anti-drug zealots: "My wife is a volunteer labor support coach who works with single, pregnant adolescents, some of whom have drug babies. No one knows all of the permanent effects on these little ones...what we do know is horrible. We used to do emergency foster care with police or caseworkers bringing kids to us in the middle of the night...scared beyond belief...many times abandoned as the result of some form of drug abuse. Not a pretty sight, Jim."

But Parsons also wrote that before he and his wife were married in 1962, "we vowed that we would work hard at making this world a better place. Seven children, some adopted, 39 foster children, and 80-plus young mothers later, we are truly terrified for the youth, especially minorities, who must live in this society of drugs, justice and 'the system.'"

Parsons enclosed a rubber stamp. "Maybe this will help your cause," he said. The stamp says "FREE GARY FANNON."

THERE ARE WAYS TO HELP

There are about 150 people imprisoned forever under Michigan's unfair law. Maybe a few of them deserve worse punishment than often given to murderers, rapists and child abusers -- even though their crime isn't a lot different than the legal transactions made in booze stores. But most of them, like Gary Fannon, were minor dealers who lost their futures while big dealers remain free.

Rep. Bill Bryant, R-Grosse Pointe Farms, has introduced legislation that would amend the mandatory life law and give judges a chance to judge rather than rubber-stamp. Urge your legislator to support it.

Also, you could join the "Walk for Justice" at 9 a.m. Thursday in front of the Law Building, 525 W. Ottawa, Lansing. Inside, before the state Supreme Court, Detroit lawyer Dan Manville will argue the case of Kenneth Hasson, who is suffering the same sentence as Fannon. Manville will insist that, contrary to the federal and state constitutions, that sentence is cruel and/or unusual punishment.

It is.

It is outrageous that Gary Fannon might be better off if he'd stomped someone to death.

AIS home set to open next week in Cass City

A residential group home for developmentally disabled individuals is scheduled to officially open in Cass City next week.

The group home is called the Virginia Street Alternative Intermediate Services (AIS) Home, and 6 residents are expected to begin moving in early next week.

The residence, located at 6237 Virginia St., is being leased by the Caro Regional Mental Health Center, which has contracted with Meadowbrook Quality Care, St. Charles, to provide staffing and patient care.

According to Meadowbrook owners Ed and Debbie Garcia, the goal of the AIS program is to acclimate developmentally disabled patients who have resided in state facilities to a more home-like environment.

"We'd like to normalize them as much as possible," Debbie explained.

"They've been institutionalized all their lives—that's all they've known," Ed remarked, adding the AIS home setting and a trained staff encourages residents to develop skills for daily living.

Although this is a permanent living arrangement for the residents, the goal, he said, is to help them reach their full potential.

The couple talked about the AIS program during an open house in Cass City Monday.

While the village is already home to an AFC (Adult Foster Care) home, this is the first AIS facility in Cass City. The only other AIS home in the county is located in Caro.

The Garcias, who have operated an AFC home in St. Charles for the past 3 1/2 years, said this is their first AIS home. They noted the 2 types of group residences are different both in terms of the clients they serve and the care provided.

Residents of AIS homes, which are regulated by federal standards and are partially funded through the Medicaid system, are more limited, particularly physically, and require more supervision and care, Debbie explained.

The Cass City AIS home, she said, will be staffed by 6 full-time and 4 part-time employees who have been trained and certified through the Caro Regional Center. Residents of the home will be supervised at all times by at least 2 full-time staff members.

In addition to the direct-care staff, clients will be under the care of an interdisciplinary Caro Regional Center team composed of a nurse, physician, psychologist, social worker, therapists and dietician.

The Garcias noted residents of the Cass City home will be attending a community day activity center in Caro 5 days a week as well as be introduced to various activities in the community, including visits to the park, bowling, going out for movies and eating out.

Overall, Debbie commented, "We would like to be able to provide a good living environment."

The couple encourage area residents to see the Cass City group residence. They indicated they hope to eliminate any unwarranted fears about AIS homes.

"People need to be informed of the type of home we have," Ed remarked. He said there is no reason to fear the program or its residents, who are carefully screened before being placed.

"People have the tendency to believe these kinds of homes bring (property values) down, but they don't," he continued.

Ed said the residence, which has been renovated to meet federal guidelines and is fully accessible to wheelchairs, will be well maintained.

In addition, the couple noted, the facility will contribute to the community. "We'll be doing business in town" and utilizing local health care services and pharmacies, they said.

ED AND DEBBIE Garcia welcomed visitors to their Virginia Street AIS Home in Cass City during an open house Monday. The home will serve as a group residence for developmentally disabled clients placed by the Caro Regional Center.

Missionary church to host singers

Thumb Youth for Christ presents its high school music outreach team, Satisfaction, in concert Sunday night at the Cass City Missionary Church.

The concert will begin at 7 p.m. and the public is invited to attend this special time of music and praise.

The church is located at 4449 Koepfen Rd.

For nearly 2 decades, Satisfaction has been ministering through music and personal testimony to local congregations throughout the Thumb. This year's group is made up of 24 high school students representing several area school districts.

THE VIRGINIA Street AIS Home has been renovated to meet federal standards for such facilities and is completely accessible by wheelchair. Four of the 6 residents slated to begin moving in next week use wheelchairs, according to care providers Ed and Debbie Garcia.

Collecting Consort will visit Cass City pupils

The Collecting Consort, performers Anne and Gary Wakenhut, will share their music, story telling and drama with students in grades K-6 at Campbell Elementary School, Friday at 8:30 a.m., 9:30 a.m., 1:00 p.m. and 2:00 p.m.

Sponsored by the American Association of University Women and Cass City Schools, in conjunction with the Village Bach Festival and the Tuscola Intermediate Schools' Gifted and Talented Program, the Collecting Consort will acquaint the students with the Celtic harp, hammered dulcimer, wind and string instruments in arrangements of both classical and New Age music.

Original dramas and stories will be used to develop educational themes, historic occasions, and seasonal celebrations.

The Collecting Consort will participate with students in a Super Saturday set for Oct. 19 and sponsored by the Gifted and Talented Program of the Tuscola Intermediate School. Students will have a hands on experience with story telling, music, and drama.

Additional information about upcoming programs is available by contacting Marilyn Peters, Tuscola County Intermediate School District, Caro.

Christian concert set Sunday

The Rev. Richard Mearns, pastor of the Cass City Church of the Nazarene, announced that Brian Hanson, Christian concert pianist, will present a concert Sunday, Oct. 20, during the morning worship service at 11 a.m.

Hanson has been travelling coast to coast for more than 10 years and presents his program with warmth and humor, Mearns said.

The concert is free and the public invited.

Customer advises

Retailers: listen or lose

Dear Editor:
It seems there are an increasing number of retail personnel that treat customers in a rude and unprofessional manner. This problem is starting to occur more and more in Cass City. I have witnessed employees engaged in shouting matches, using profanity, and gossiping. Clerks have ignored my presence to continue their conversations with co-workers or friends. And when one proprietor ignored my written concerns, he lost a valuable customer.
During these trying economic times, Americans are loading on tightly to their hard earned dollars. When we decide to spend, we want to do it in an accommodating and friendly atmosphere. When employees turn customers away, profits are lost. Therefore, I strongly advise business owners to listen to customer comments.

As a member of this community, I am concerned with its growth. I try to do all my business in Cass City, thus bringing profit to our town. When I am constantly treated in a rude or unprofessional manner, and all my pleas to owners are ignored, they will lose my patronage. I know there are others who feel the same, and it is time we speak out.

Sincerely,
S. V. Ross

Appreciates newspaper support

Dear John,
I would like to thank you for your full page in the Chronicle, about the Band Boosters selling newspaper subscriptions. It is a very wonderful thing to always have the newspapers supporting the smaller towns. It seems there are so many of the small towns going downhill.

Thank you again for your support, and good luck.

Sincerely,
Joseph B. Hickey

UM women air Oct. 7 meeting

The Trinity United Methodist Women met Oct. 7. Dinner was served by Group number 5, with Joyce McConkey and Mickie Marshall serving as co-chairpersons.

Betty Murphy was presented with a special mission recognition award for her service to the unit and the church.

Thirteen members and the Rev. Rick Sheppard attended the district meeting in Elkton Oct. 2.

Secret pals were revealed and plans made for the Nov. 9 bazaar.

Among the 1992 officers elected are Virginia Hartwick, president; Maxine Profit and Pauline Hulbert, vice-presidents; Shirley Wagg, secretary; and Marjorie Dickinson, treasurer.

Joan Merchant presented the program, "Seasons of a Woman's Life."

Home ownership workshop slated

A 2-day workshop on home ownership will be held Oct. 29 and 30 from 7 to 9 p.m. in the Huron County Building, Bad Axe.

Sponsored by the Cooperative Extension Service, the Home Buyers Program will answer questions such as what percent of income should be spent on housing, how much does a buyer need to save for a down payment on a house to qualify for a home mortgage, and what is an escrow account.

There is no class fee, but registration is required by Oct. 22.

Additional information is available by calling the extension office at 269-9949.

To Aurey Frederick, your engraving of the "Private Drive" is another masterpiece of your work.

TO EDDY FAUST:

For your expertise in laying ceramic tile.

TO TERRY McDURMON, Our Plumbing & Heating Contractor:

Whose courtesy and patience is remarkable because everytime we would make a change it would make more work, more turns, more elbows & different avenues to take in order to reach all rooms of the building with sufficient heat and cooling. Bob Eremia worked many Saturdays to complete his work so that our plumbing and heating was finished on time, and to his helpers, Roger Eremia, Ron Gerre, Brian Denhoff, Dean Johnson, we say thanks.

TO WHALEN CONTRACTING,
Pat Whalen:

For your courtesy and promptness whenever we called for one load or several loads of gravel or fill dirt.

TO LEE'S LANDSCAPING,

THANKS TO OUR CONTRACTORS!

TO PEBELL, Contractor:

For his vision, his experience and foresight to suggest the design, which enabled us to complete the building to his crew, William Francis, Gordon Root, Heath Peters, and Louks, Kirk Tietzel,

Thank You.

TO GARY PUTNAM CABINETS:

For the customer counter in our lobby, a touch of class. For the built-in cabinets in the offices, a special place for golf clubs, the boardroom table and to his helper Ernie for his mannerism.

TO HANK JASTER, Our Mason Contractor:

Whose knowledge of square and level foundations are so important to a strong building, his expertise block and brick finish work, and to Robert Thayer, the brick layer, we call the MASTER. When our customers and friends come into the bank and see the hand sculptured brick nickel that's eight foot in diameter, that Robert laid up with Roy Jaster you'll understand why we call him the MASTER. And to the rest of the crew, Joseph Platzer, Michael Phipps, Armond Curtis III, Brian Howell.

Thank You.

TO SONSHINE STUDIO:

Stop in and see what they made us. Herb Thompson, Margie Steffek and Marilyn Iseler, thank you.

TO GUNSELLS, BILL and BARB and MIMMI:

Whose knowledge of top quality carpeting will save us hundreds of dollars in the years to come and for their patience and for ordering sample after sample of different carpeting for us to choose from, and to Bob Warju and Eric Hagen who installed it.

TO SAM SPANO:

Thank you for the use of your parking lot.

TO CARO BUILDING CENTER:

To Bob Hirn for your courtesy and to Brian Knoll for all his endless trips to the new building to remeasure and double check all the material in order to prevent over ordering because of the endless changes we made. To Emily and Cheryl for taking all of the phone messages and to Mr. Wacziehowski who was always there in a pinch. To Jack, Tom, Randy and the rest of the crew for your seeing that all the material was delivered on time.

TO KEN MARTIN, Our Electrical Contractor:

Whose courtesy is beyond reproach. We made a lot of changes with lights and switches throughout the building and when we asked to change something the only thing we heard was "No problem, we can do that." And thank you to Ken Martin Jr. and Scott Martin, his crew.

TO HAROLD ANDERSON:

Thank you for the beautiful clock--truly a work of art.

Bad Axe visits Friday

Ubly overpowers Hawks to take homecoming game

The Ubly Bearcats ruined Cass City's homecoming Friday as they ran roughshod over the Red Hawks, 32-12, in a non-league battle at Cass City Recreational Park.

The Ubly dominance was every bit as great as the final score indicates and the Hawks will need to re-group this week if they are to challenge Bad Axe in a Blue Bay League encounter. The Hawks lost to the Hatchets the first time the teams met this season, 24-0.

A turnover early in the first quarter set up a scoring opportunity for Ubly and the visitors were quick to cash in on it. Jeremy Faber intercepted a high floating prayer pass by quarterback Brad Gray and ran it from midfield to the Cass City 9. Jason Ruthig scooted around end for the marker from the 3. Mike Mullet ran in the 2-point conversion with 2:28 left in the first quarter. Another pass interception in the second period gave Ubly the ball at midfield and Garrett Romberg ran 42 yards through the center of the Hawk line to score. A pass from Ruthig to Devin Dekoski made it 16-0. The Bearcats were threatening again when John Gibson grabbed a ball jarred loose as Jed Hubbard hit the quarterback as he was attempting to pass. He snagged the ball in the Ubly backfield and went 97 yards. The try for extra points failed.

The Bearcats got that one back before the half ended. They mounted a drive from their own 49 and marched steadily down the field, all on the ground, picking up 3 first downs for a first on the 9. Two plays later Chuck Franzel rammed over from the one-foot line with 49 seconds left in the half. Mike Mullet took a pitch from Ruthig to score the extra points.

Ubly scored its final touchdown midway through the final period on a 2-yard run. The scoring for the night ended with 8:31 left in the game when Jeff Schember scored from the 3 to make the final score 32-12.

The Hawk Junior Varsity kept its record unblemished (6-0) on Thursday, defeating Ubly 32-10 who fell to 3-3 for the year.

Runners compete at Reese

One of the larger cross country track meets of the season, the Reese Invitation, attracted 21 boys' and 17 girls' teams Saturday and the Hawk boys finished 16th and the girls, 9th.

The winner of both races was Carson City Crystal. Among the boys, Barry Hornbacher was best for the Hawks, finishing 45th with a time of 18:10. Others on the team with placing and times were: 93, Jason Daniel, 19:37; 95, Ron Hudson, 19:41; 100, Noel Hornbacher, 19:53; 117, Ryan King, 20:36; 120, Ben Hobbs, 21:17.

Jennifer Romstad finished 11th to lead the Hawk girls with a sparkling time of 21:20. Other scores were: 61, Jeanie Clor, 25:10; 85, Tina Pallas, 28:10; 94, Amy Osantowski, 29:07; 96, Kristy Gnagey, 29:22; 97, Nicola Kuperus, 30:34.

CROWNING THIS YEAR'S Cass City High School homecoming queen, Stephanie Leiterman, is the 1990 queen, Jane Marker. Participating in the ceremony were last year's king, Al Dadacki, and this year's king, Brad Gray.

THE RED HAWKS, dominated by a tough Bearcat squad Friday night, found the going tough on the ground. Above, Mark Irrer picks up 10 yards on a kickoff return.

Hawks bust out in third quarter to top Bad Axe

A dormant Cass City offense came to life in the second half Thursday as the Cass City Red Hawk basketball team defeated winless-in-the-league Bad Axe, 48-24, at Cass City High School, to remain a game ahead of second place Marlette in Blue Bay League competition.

The last half offensive surge was helped by a marked increase in defensive intensity which sparked the offense. It was one of the keys to the game. Another was the outstanding shooting from the perimeter by Jodi Schember, who loosened up the packed-in zone defense that Bad Axe used with success in the first half. Schember scored 8 of her team-high 17 points in the third quarter, all on shots from the outside.

The shots keyed a rally that turned a game tied at the half, 15-15, into a rout. Cass City scored 17 straight unanswered points and with 1:42 left in the period had moved in front 32-15.

The Hawks will need 4 quarters of play like the last half against Bad Axe if they are to keep control in the league. Tuesday they were to have played Marlette and Thursday the Lakers, the only team to defeat Cass City this year, come to town.

The Hawks were having trouble getting the ball inside in the first half as the zone was anchored by the Hatchet twin towers, Heidi Reimann and Heidi Geiger, both 6-footers.

Coach Marty Daniel called attention to the play of Tracey Burns, who came off the bench in the first half to hit a basket that pulled Cass City into a tie at the intermission. The defense of Darcie Monroe and Jennifer Fruendt on Reimann was also noted by the coach.

Although Jodi Hillaker had a cold shooting night, she played her usual strong defense and ran the offense from the point. The Hawks shot 36 percent from the floor (21 for 58) and 42 percent from the foul line (5 of 12), both under their season's average of 45 and 51 percent, respectively.

CASS CITY - box score - Schember 6-1-2-2-17; Hillaker 4-0-0-0-8; Monroe 3-0-1-3-7; Storm 4-0-0-3-8; Burns 2-0-0-0-4; Leiterman 1-0-1-2-3; Fruendt 0-0-1-2-1. TOTALS: 20-15-12-48.

JV WINS

The Hawk junior varsity upped its record to 7-3 with a 44-39 decision over the Hatchets.

BAD AXE - box score - Moore 2-0-1-2-5; S. Reimann 1-0-2-2-4; Polega 0-0-2-2-2; H. Reimann 5-0-3-4-13.

Golfers qualify for finals

It wasn't a banner day for the Cass City High School golf team, but we did accomplish our objectives, Coach Dave Hoard said, by qualifying for the state finals this weekend.

Bad Axe, the Thumb League champion, playing on its home course, Verona Hills, won the regional title Friday from among 11 teams entered. Cass City finished second with a total of 359 while the Hatchets won with a sparkling 340. The top 3 teams qualify for the state finals.

Other results were: Frankenthum, third, 359; Capac, fourth, 382; Harbor Beach, fifth, 382 (decided by fifth man results to break tie); Memphis, sixth, 410; Lakers, seventh, 412; Sandusky, eighth, 417; Marlette, ninth, 422; Mayville, 10th, 488, and Flint Hamady, 11th, 516.

Bad Axe had the medalist, Todd Carter, 80, and runner-up, Mark Brining, 81. Garen Barker topped Cass City with an 88, seventh among the competitors. Other Hawk scores were: Jeff Hockey, 90; Kevin Franz, 90; Bart Hall, 94, and Troy Osentoski, 91.

4 plead, 5 sentenced in circuit court

Five persons were sentenced and 4 others entered pleas during a busy motion day Friday in Tuscola County Circuit Court.

Mark A. Johnson, 31, Caro, was ordered to serve 5 to 20 years in prison for his plea of guilty to a charge of delivering cocaine (less than 50 grams) in Almer Township March 21.

Johnson also is to make restitution in the case, court records state.

Inmate Toma Bojaj, 30, of Pontiac, was sentenced to one to 5 years in prison, to run consecutive with a sentence Bojaj is already serving.

He previously pleaded guilty to being a prisoner in possession of marijuana, according to court records, which state the offense occurred Aug. 27 at the Camp Tuscola Correctional Facility.

Charles A. Lane, 30, Cass City, was sentenced on a delayed sentence for his plea of guilty to 2 counts of breaking and entering.

He was sentenced to 2 years probation and one year in the county jail, with 6 months deferred to the end of probation. Lane, who must testify truthfully against Kevin Smith or serve another 6 months in jail, also was ordered to pay a $200 fine, $200 in court costs and a $30 victim crime fee. Restitution is to be determined.

According to court records, Lane's convictions stemmed from break-ins in Elkland Township. The first occurred Jan. 4, 1990, and involved a house at 6008 E. Cass City Rd., and the other took place April 12, 1990, at a bump shop located at 4068 Cemetery Rd.

Harold Schrader, 26, of Caro, was sentenced to 6 months in the county jail for his plea of guilty to unlawfully driving away an automobile.

Details related to the case were unavailable.

Walter L. Phelps Jr., 22, Kingston, was sentenced for his plea of guilty to carrying a concealed weapon (a double-edged non-folding stabbing instrument) Feb. 10, 1990, in Almer Township.

Phelps was sentenced to 2-years probation and 90 days in jail, which was suspended without a date. He also was ordered to complete his high school education, and pay a $300 fine, $300 in costs plus attorneys fees and a $30 victim crime fee.

PLEAS ENTERED

Antonio Bautista, 40, of Richville, pleaded guilty to one count of larceny in a building.

A pre-sentence investigation was ordered and bond was continued at $5,000. Sentencing is to be scheduled.

Bautista was accused of stealing pop and beer cans from a shed at 9410 W. Saginaw Road in Denmark Township, according to court records, which state the offense occurred Aug. 26.

Scott D. Braley, 25, St. Charles, pleaded guilty to prison escape in connection with an Aug. 16 incident at Camp Tuscola, Caro.

A pre-sentence investigation was ordered. Sentencing is to be scheduled.

Larry B. Payne, 30, of Vassar, entered a plea of innocent to a charge of manufacturing marijuana. Sept. 3 in Tuscola Township.

The case is to be set for a 2-day trial, according to court records, which note Payne's bond was continued at $2,000.

Also entering an innocent plea was Michael S. Patterson, 33, who was arraigned on a charge of probation violation.

Bond for the defendant was set at $10,000. A hearing was to have been held Tuesday.

Patterson is accused of violating his probation agreement by using cocaine on or about Sept. 13.

Catholic women's fall meeting set

The East Region Council of Catholic Women will hold its fall conference at Sacred Heart Church, Bad Axe, Wednesday, Oct. 23.

Registration will be from 9:00 to 9:30 a.m. Cost for the day is $4.00, which includes lunch. The program will end at approximately 2:30 p.m.

The morning program will be a report of the National Council of Catholic Women Convention plus a Right-to-Life film. The afternoon speaker will be Donna Moody talking about literacy programs.

Mass will be concelebrated by the spiritual moderator, Fr. Rick Bokinskie, of Ruth, and Fr. Jack Leipter, pastor of Sacred Heart, Bad Axe.

Reservations are to be made by Oct. 21 by calling Josephine Woschlager (269-7378) or Mary Blackstock (269-9494).

Akron resident charged

An Akron man faces charges of drunk driving, violating a restricted driver's license and possessing marijuana.

Alvin K. Vollmar, 34, was arraigned last week in Tuscola County District Court. Bond in the case was set at $5,000, and a preliminary examination was to have been held today (Wednesday).

Court records state Vollmar is charged with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, third offense; violation of a restricted license, and possessing a controlled substance, second offense, Oct. 9 in Caro.

Grief recovery support group sets 8-week series

Death of any family member is a very heart-wrenching, traumatic occurrence. Death of a spouse, your life-long partner and companion, leaves you not only with pain and loss, but also leaves a confusion of feelings such as great loneliness, hopelessness, depression, anger, guilt, resentment, and dread of the future. Life becomes out of focus and generally disorganized. This is the pattern of grief, and the grieving process must take place in order that healing may occur.

A grief recovery support group is again being offered free of charge to those who have lost their spouse through death. This will be an 8-week series that will present topics such as understanding the grief process, understanding your feelings, role changes in your new life, how to get through holidays and anniversaries, dealing with stress, and other helpful topics. The series will be held Tuesdays from 1:00 to 3:00 p.m. at Caro's Indianfields Library, 840 W. Frank Street, beginning Oct. 22.

Anyone interested in attending or who has any questions about the group, please call Rose Mary Charmley at 673-6191 Monday through Friday 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Registration for the group is encouraged.

'Nutrition Challenge' planned

The Nutrition Challenge Workshop Series will be held from 2 to 4 p.m. Thursdays beginning Oct. 31 in the Huron County Building. Registration is required by Oct. 24. A small fee will be charged for each workshop.

Today the nutrition challenge is to enjoy eating and at the same time control fat, cholesterol and calories. The Cooperative Extension Service is offering this series of workshops to show individuals how they can eat and enjoy it without loading up on fat, cholesterol and calories.

Barbara Neuman, Extension Home Economist, will demonstrate how a person can prepare tasty, fast meals that are "heart smart," as well as economical. She will also share tips on menu planning and low-fat grocery shopping.

The series of 4 workshops is slated for Oct. 31 - How to Fight Fats and Limit Cholesterol; Nov. 7 - Fill up on Fabulous Fibers; Nov. 14 - Slash Sugars by Reducing and Substituting, and Nov. 21 - Herbal Solutions to the Salt Habit.

Crash injures Caro man

 mishap. In other accidents, a Caro youth escaped injury in a one vehicle accident early Saturday morning on Decker Road east of Dodge Road in Novesta Township.

The youth, Timothy M. Flintoft, 16, told Tuscola County Sheriff's deputies that he was westbound at about 12:30 a.m. when he swerved to miss an animal. Flintoft's vehicle left the road, entered a ditch, re-entered the roadway and rolled onto its top, reports state.

A similar mishap involving another Caro resident was reported last Wednesday on Riley Road east of East Dayton Road in Wells Township.

According to deputies, William H. Stewart III, 26, stated he was eastbound at 11:05 p.m. when he swerved to miss an unknown animal in the road. His vehicle crossed the center line, left the north side of the road and entered a ditch.

Cass City police also reported 3 minor accidents involving no injuries. Vehicles driven by John Ryba Jr. and Kenneth R. Nye, both of Cass City, collided Sunday afternoon on Main Street at Scotty McCullough Drive.

Reports state both vehicles were eastbound when the 4:34 p.m. accident occurred; Ryba was in the inside lane, attempting to pass Nye, and Nye attempted to turn north from the outside lane. No citations were issued in the mishap.

Earlier in the week at the intersection of Main and Seeger streets, an eastbound vehicle driven by Doris J. Warack, Gagetown, collided with a westbound vehicle driven by Marsha K. Laming of Decker.

According to reports, Warack made an improper left turn, having failed to pull into the left turn lane, and was struck by the Laming vehicle. The mishap took place Oct. 8 at 4:17 p.m.

Village police also reported minor damage in a mishap Saturday on Brooker Street south of Pine Street. Andrew P. Donnelly, Cass City, backed from a private drive and struck a parked car owned by Donald E. Lorentzen of St. Charles, Ill., according to reports, which state the accident occurred at about 4 p.m.

Taxes increase at Owen-Gage

 allowed the district's millage rate to be rolled back by nearly 2 mills last year in an effort to give taxpayers a break.

The superintendent noted that in both 1990-91 and 1991-92, the district has been unable to levy the maximum operational millage allowed — 41 mills — because of a 50-mill tax limit in the district.

The combination of factors took a toll on the district's 1990-91 budget. According to figures presented to the board Monday by the district's auditing firm, expenditures exceeded revenues by some $143,000 last year.

AUDIT REPORT

During the annual audit report, Walt Moore of Laine, Appold & Co. P.C., Bay City, indicated no serious problems were found related to district finances and accounting procedures.

He did, however, note the district's hot lunch program continues to be a concern. The program has continued to incur losses year after year, ending some $10,000 in the red last year, despite school officials' efforts to cut expenses and increase revenues.

The problem isn't uncommon, particularly among smaller schools, according to Moore, who suggested that the district may have to simply "forgive" the program's debt to the general fund.

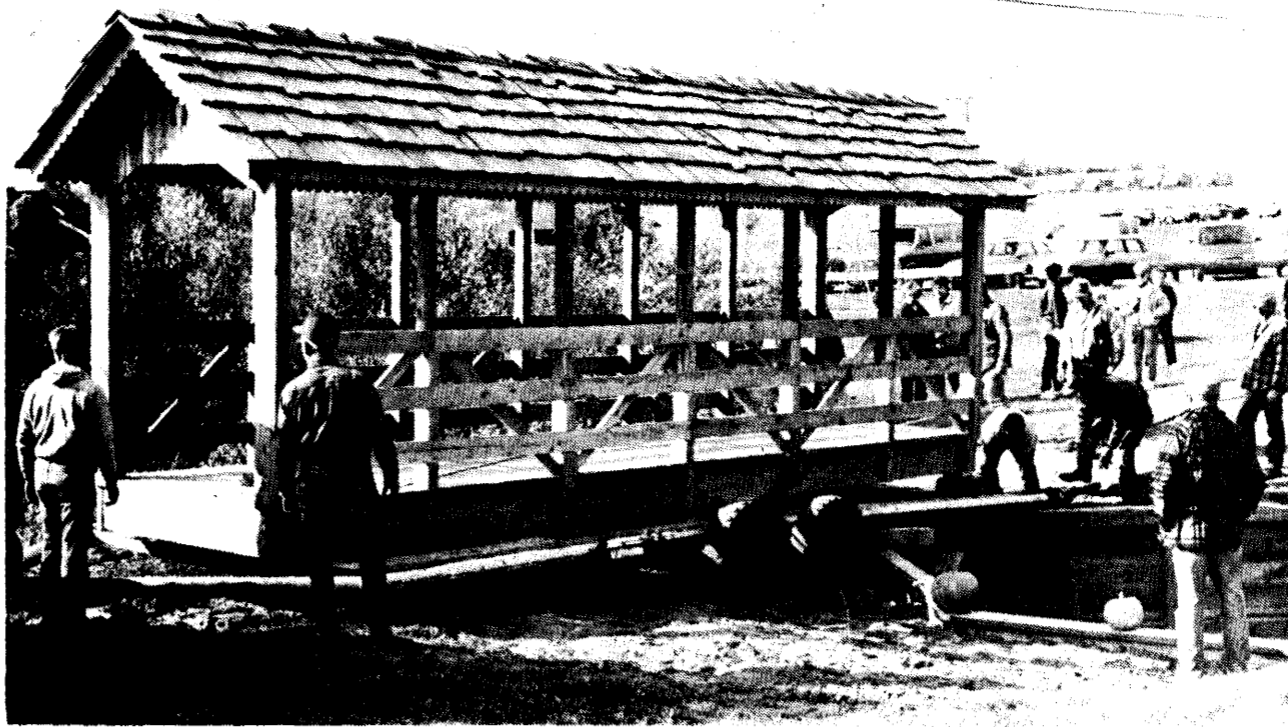

In other business Monday, the board:

*Approved several resolutions which will enable the district to collect special state aid monies for meeting guidelines pertaining to class size, curriculum and school improvement efforts.

*Voted in favor of writing a letter of commendation and purchasing a plaque for former longtime varsity softball coach Judy Campbell, who recently retired from the post. Campbell established the school's softball program in 1976.

*Approved a request from Thomas Hrycko to allow his son to complete his senior year at Cass City High School. Hrycko indicated his son may reside with him this year in the Owen-Gage District, but would like to finish his high school education in Cass City.

*Approved the selection of senior Debbie Timmons as "student of the month" for October.

THE INSTALLATION OF a bridge Saturday morning in a small park at the west end of Kingston drew close to 100 people. The bridge was designed and built by longtime Kingston area resident Don Roberson, 71.

Covered bridge

 hang from the rafters. "I think that pleased me more than anything," he added. Although Roberson ref to woodworking as a hobby, he's tackled bigger projects than the bridge — his house, for example. The retired Caro Regional Center employee also repairs and makes furniture.

Still, he said the bridge presented a real challenge. "Some days I feel younger than I should," he observed. He grinned and added, "Sometimes I'd get up on the roof putting those shingles on, and I thought I'd have to call for help to get down."

Humor aside, Roberson knows what it's like to get a helping hand, and by using his talents, he's been able to give something back.

"In the back of my mind, this is just a way to say thank-you," he said.

Entrance to the spook house is in the rear of the Cultural Center. Sign marking the way will be posted.

New books at the library

FLOWERS IN THE RAIN AND OTHER STORIES by Rosamunde Pilcher (fiction). In the story entitled "Last Morning," Laura and her soon-to-be married son Tom take an early morning walk along the seashore. After she has told him what a fine choice he has made in Virginia, his fiancée, Tom tells his mother, "basically, she's like you...beneath the capability and the brightness...she's gentle and wise." Throughout this collection of stories, the author maintains a pervasive gentility along with an abiding wisdom.

KOOP: THE MEMOIRS OF THE FORMER SURGEON GENERAL, by C. Everett Koop (non-fiction). The Reagan administration official who came out smelling like a rose is undoubtedly the former Surgeon General of the Public Health Service, C. Everett Koop. He shone like a beacon of individual and medical integrity throughout a term of service that saw those who fought his appointment become appreciative friends and many of those who out of pure politics promoted his appointment become his vicious, mendacious foes. His book does nothing to change or provoke the dichotomy of supporters and detractors, but it only makes sweeter his aura. His memoirs show that before he became a public figure, he was a vital, intelligent, energetic youth in an admirably nurturing family, and then a pioneering pediatric surgeon who strove to appropriately minister to the emotions as well as the ills of his patients and their families. As amusing and moving as the anecdotes of his earlier life and career are, it is the bulk of his book, recounting his surgeon-generalship and the major public health issues that arose during it - which he continues to address as an advocate for a fairer, more comprehensive U.S. public health system - that makes the most absorbing reading.

THE DUCHESS by Jude Deveraux (fiction). It's 1883, and young American heiress Claire Willoughby has pledged her troth to Scotsman Harry, the eleventh duke of MacArran. Alas, a preliminary visit to Harry's home at Bramley makes it clear to Claire that life as a duchess will be stifling emotionally, not to mention physically confining of her wilder, romantic nature and her desire to see the world. Harry's passionate adventurer-brother Trevelyan turns out to be the antidote to all of Claire's consternations, and just to keep it all in the family, Claire's sister, Sarah Ann, eventually marries Harry.

Former pastor to speak at Novesta

Dave Altman, former minister at Novesta Church of Christ, 2896 N. Cemetery Rd., Cass City, will be speaking at the church's 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. worship services Sunday. He will also be teaching a special class at the 10 a.m. Bible School hour titled, "Practical Tips for Surviving as a Christian Family in the 90's."

Altman and his wife, Becky, served the area congregation from 1966-69 before leaving to pursue graduate work at Lincoln Christian Seminary in Lincoln, Ill.

They are presently on furlough from their mission work in Zimbabwe, Africa, where Dave serves as a professor in the Zimbabwe Christian College.

The congregation will be having a potluck after the morning service for those wishing to reacquire themselves with the Altmans.

Jaycee spook house returning

A hauntingly good time is promised this Halloween by the Cass City Jaycees, who are again sponsoring a spook house in the basement of the Cass City Cultural Center. The spook house is scheduled to be open Oct. 25 and 26, from 8 to 11 p.m.; Oct. 30 from 8 to 10:30 p.m., and Oct. 31 (Halloween) from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. Special young children's hours will be held 6 to 8 p.m. Oct. 26. Admittance is $2 for persons ages 13 and over, and $1 for youths 12 and under.

Blood donors needed

Our region needs a minimum of 300 healthy blood donors per day to ensure that blood is available for every person who needs it. Val Weeks, blood bank chairman, said this week. Major surgery or an accident victim could use up to 10-20 pints of blood per patient, which puts a great strain on the community blood supply.

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will be in Cass City at Hills and Dales General Hospital Tuesday, Oct. 22. Hours are from 1:00 to 6:45 p.m. The blood bank is being sponsored by the hospital auxiliary.

Retirees meet at hospital

The Cass City Retired Persons met Thursday at Hills and Dales Hospital.

It was decided at the business meeting to give money to the auxiliary instead of sending a gift to members who might be hospitalized. Cards were sent to members who had recently been in the hospital.

Members told interesting stories of happenings in their early married life.

Winner of the game played was Alice McComb.

Jane Mitchell, hospital in-service director, explained "Designation of Patient Advocate Form" to the group.

All members had their blood pressure readings taken.

At the November meeting, members are to tell something they are thankful for.
