Council mulls returning TV station, airport authority

Chances are good Cass City's community television channel will be reactivated in the near future, providing local news, community events and other general interest information to village residents.

The owners of the A & B Media Group, Inc., Otter Lake, approached the Village Council last week with a proposal to do just that.

Under the plan, Bob Wilkinson said his company would reactivate and operate the channel, which is part of the "basic" cable television package and would be available only to cable subscribers in the village.

Programming would be geared to Cass City residents and could include announcements of community, school and church events, local news, community education programs, meeting minutes, videotaped high school sports events, weather, temperature and time.

The possibilities are endless, according to Wilkinson, who noted various community groups would be asked to submit items for airing by contacting the company.

He emphasized that the channel is strictly informational and would not include movies and shows. "It's not a station where people are going to sit down with popcorn and watch," he remarked.

During brief discussion, council members indicated the channel would prove valuable in terms of providing community information as well as an outlet for specific advertising promotions by local merchants.

Wilkinson, who noted his company would provide the equipment necessary to reactivate the channel, explained air time would be paid for through the sale of advertising to community businesses and organizations.

He had no specific estimates on the cost of advertising or how much revenue would be needed to make the project feasible.

Council members, concerned with the type of programming that might be allowed on the channel, asked what controls the village would have over the company. Wilkinson said the channel is subject to FCC standards, and that village officials could deactivate the channel at any time.

Village Manager Lou S. LaPonsie said the local TV station was previously operated by the village, but problems with the equipment used to air information prompted officials to deactivate the channel.

Following discussion, council members approved Wilkinson's request to be named coordinator of the local station. He was asked to submit to the village documentation about his company as well as a proposed contract.

AIRPORT PLANS

In other business during the 80-minute session, the council heard a brief presentation by village President L.E. Althaver regarding possible future improvements to Tuscola County's only airport.

Althaver provided some brief background, saying the airport technically belongs to the village of Caro, which operates and funds the facility.

Perhaps the biggest user of the airport is Walbro Corp., which utilizes the facility 15 to 20 times a month, he noted, adding UPS, which has a distribution center in Cass City, uses the airport 4 times a week.

Althaver told the council that among the Tuscola 2001 proposals for future economic development in the county is an initiative that deals with improvements in service and capacity at the airport.

One way of doing that is creation of an airport authority, a proposal currently being discussed, he said.

A minimum of 2 governmental units are needed to create such an organization, and up to one mill can be raised by the authority for operations.

Althaver said the amount of money involved isn't huge. He estimated annual operating costs at $50,000 to $60,000, close to half of which is reimbursed through hangar rent and fuel sales.

The real opportunity here, he pointed out, is that once the authority is established, grant monies that are 90 percent funded by the federal government and 5 percent funded by the state would be available for projects such as extending or adding runways, replacing outdated lighting or building a new terminal.

Althaver said he believes an authority will be established in the future and that it will be comprised of 2 or 3 villages, 2 or 3 townships and the county.

"It's clear that there are monies available," he continued, noting an improved airport facility will likely play a more important role in future economic development in the county.

Future meetings will be held to further discuss the possibility, according to Althaver, who indicated council members will be asked to consider the proposal at some future date.

Also last week, the council:

Meeting expectations

Cass City recycling pays off

It pays to recycle. Just ask Cass City officials, who are scheduled to receive a check for $732, representing proceeds from the sale of recyclables collected in the village over a recent 5-month period.

During that period (May through September), a total of 69 tons of recyclables were collected in Cass City. As of September, village residents had recycled some 117 tons of plastic, newspaper, glass bottles, jars and tin cans.

Cass City earned $480 during the first 4 months of the program, which is expected to net the village a total of about $1,500 by the end of the year.

In the process, Cass City has served as a pioneer of sorts as the first upper Thumb community to implement mandatory curbside recycling. And the effort has paid off, reducing the amount of waste going to landfills by more than 30 percent.

The local recycling program, established in January, is meeting the expectations of officials representing Waste Management of Michigan-Mideast Michigan, which provides waste pick-up and disposal, as well as recycling services to a host of communities.

The parent company, Waste Management Inc., headquartered in Oak Brook, Ill., collects waste from more than 8 million residential and industrial customers in the United States. The company's Recycle America program is the nation's largest and most successful curbside recycling program.

"Generally, it looks pretty good," Joseph C. Campbell, manager of the Cass City recycling project, remarked last week of the response to curbside recycling locally.

60 TO 70 PERCENT

Granted, participation in the first few weeks was estimated at only 25 percent, but that figure has since increased to 60 to 70 percent.

Campbell said 600 to 650 households are participating in the program to some degree, with some 300 households putting out their recycling bins every week, and 150 to 200 residents putting out their bins every second or third week.

The volume of recyclables set out each week seems to rise and fall in 3-week cycles, Campbell observed.

Typically, he explained, younger families will produce more waste and, subsequently, have a larger volume of recyclables each week. In contrast, an older couple may participate in the program, but collect only enough recyclables to set out once every 3 weeks.

As a whole, however, participation has been as good as expected, he indicated.

Campbell said the various markets for recyclables has remained relatively stable. Plastic currently brings about 3 cents per pound, while glass sells for $30 per ton and tin, $46 to $60 a ton. It costs about $2 per ton to get rid of newsprint, however.

Currently, there are only a handful of Thumb communities participating in curbside recycling — Cass City, Sandusky, Marlette and Almont.

BIG ADVANTAGE

"One big advantage that I think Cass City and the other 3 communities recognize is there is legislation coming down the pipe mandating (recycling)," Campbell said. "It basically comes down to, if you're going to provide garbage services, you're going to provide recycling services."

Campbell suggested that many communities have not joined the recycling bandwagon due to the higher cost involved.

CASS CITY'S CURBSIDE recycling program, now nearly a year old, is expected to net the village some $1,500 in its first year in proceeds from the sale of recyclables collected in the village.

SCOUTING FOR FOOD — Cass City Cub Scouts, including (left to right) Kyle Ross, Matt Ross and Scott Ruggles, are distributing empty grocery bags to local residences this week.

Annual effort

Cass City scouts seek food

Cass City Cub and Boy Scouts are "scouting for food" this week in an annual effort to benefit the Cass City Food Pantry.

Sponsored by The Lake Huron Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, the project began Monday with members of Cub Scout Pack 3594, Cass City, distributing plastic grocery bags and an instruction sheet to local residents.

Citizens are asked to place 2 or 3 non-perishable food items in the bags and then place them on their front door step before 9 a.m. Saturday. Members of Cass

City Boy Scout Troop 594 will pick up the donated food items, which will then be delivered to the local food pantry for distribution to needy persons in the area.

Food items needed most include canned meat and fish, vegetables, fruit, pasta and cereal.

A public hearing will be held later this month to consider re-zoning 2 lots which make up the proposed building site for a new athletic and rehabilitation center in Cass City.

The hearing is scheduled for Nov. 19 beginning at 7 p.m. at the village municipal building.

Hills and Dales General Hospital officials have requested that the property be re-zoned from single family to multiple family use. The land, located adjacent to the hospital, just north of where Hill Street dead ends into Dale Street, is contiguous with other property zoned multiple family, including the hospital and nearby medical offices.

Plans call for the construction of a one-story, 4,000 square foot building that would be centered on the 2 lots.

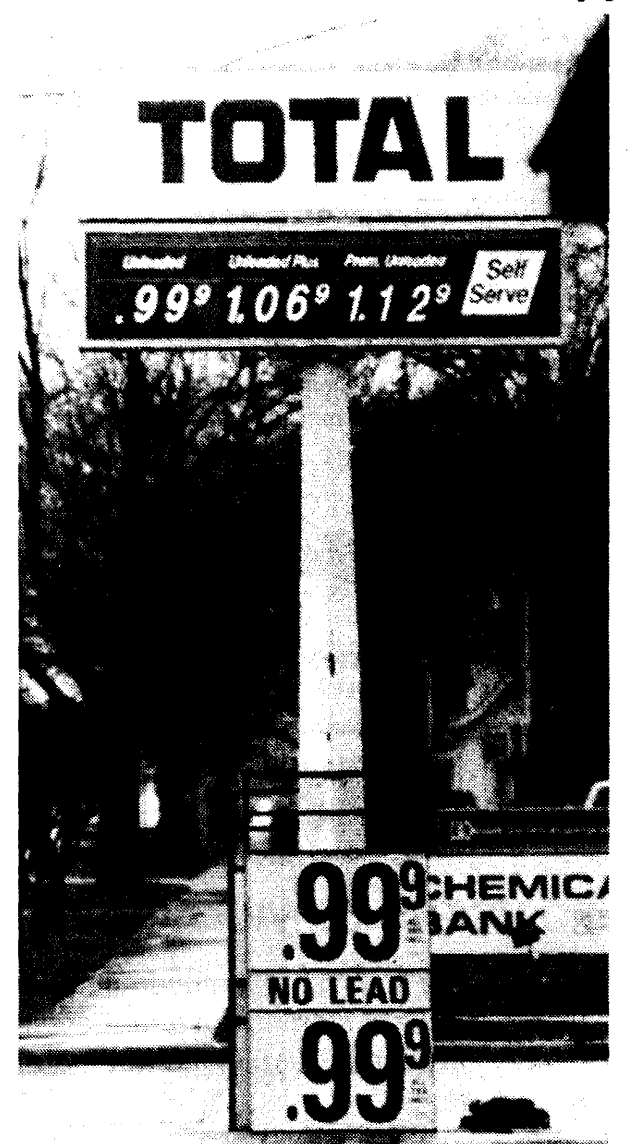

According to hospital President Ken E. Jensen, the building would house the Michigan Athletic and Rehabilitation Center, a subsidiary of Hills and Dales Health Care Corporation.

Jensen described the facility as a rehabilitation/fitness center where clients would be evaluated for muscle injury, work with fitness equipment on a daily basis and receive specific treatments.

He said the center would serve industries as well as individuals in the Thumb.

Rezoning hearing set for rehabilitation center

FOR MANY YEARS the price for gasoline in Cass City was higher than in many neighboring communities. That hasn't been the case in recent years, and last week it was lower than offered in the Thumb and nearly, if not all, stations in Michigan. In addition to the gas for less than a buck, one station also offered a premium with 8 gallons or more. Alas, the dip in prices ended Monday when costs for no-lead were increased to $1.069, still good but not below everyone else in the Thumb.

A dinner was held at the Charmont Restaurant, Cass City, for the immediate

MAMMOGRAMS ARE USEFUL

Breast cancer is one of the most common cancers—one in eleven women will get it. The cures of this cancer depend largely on finding it at an early stage. When it is found at a very early stage 97% of women will live at least ten years and many will be cured.

Yearly breast exams by the doctor and self breast exams monthly are a very good way to detect early changes, but an additional test called a mammogram can pick up some cancers that are too small to be felt yet.

A mammogram is an x-ray of the breast, although very small amounts of radiation are used. The indications for having a mammogram depend on a woman's age and the risk factors, such as having close relatives with breast cancer.

The guidelines are: 1) A baseline exam at age 35-40 which can be used for later comparison, 2) Every 1-2 years between age 40-50, 3) Each year after age 50, 4) Each year after age 40 if there is a family history of breast cancer, 5) Each year after 35 for any person who has had breast cancer herself (there is a five-fold increase in risk if a person has already had one breast cancer).

If a suspicious lump is found on a mammogram, your doctor can decide if it needs to be removed or if it can be followed. Some lumps are filled with fluid and can be treated by withdrawing the fluid with a syringe.

Women should discuss their need for a mammogram with their doctor at their annual exam.

My friend Maude is launching a campaign to make handbags for men not only socially acceptable but desirable.

Sounds reasonable to me. Maude's determination was fortified after a recent airplane trip with her husband, Hiram.

Maude had carefully packed the usual twice-as-much-as-you-could-possibly-need, and had assembled her extremely lightweight needlework and crossword puzzle in a cute little plastic bag to carry on the plane. (After a 2-1/2 hour sit on the runway, she was mighty glad she did.)

Her purse was crammed to capacity with everything that might possibly be needed in flight, as well as all the last minute stuff she had forgotten to put in the suitcase, plus the airline tickets, itinerary, et al.

Then Hi handed her the checkbook with the usual "Put this in your purse, will you?" A little later it was the house keys and car keys, which she reluctantly crammed in.

The last straw was when she reached for her smiley faced plastic bag on the plane and found the bottom ripped out, her crossword

(And anyone else he can get to help.)

Ah, Michigan. Sunday the temperature reached 26 degrees and, according to one radio report, a year ago to the day it was 75 degrees.

It was almost like old times. A week into the season a beautiful cock pheasant flew across M-81, about a mile west of Cass City. In the distance coming across a field was a group of hunters.

The day after the season ended a rooster preened itself on the edge of the road and never moved as I drove by. Now that is like old times.

Cass City hasn't been too successful in cross country in recent years. However, one of the runners has been. Jennifer Romstad ran in the state finals for the third straight year last week. She finished 51st with a time of 22:05. The good news is that she is just a junior and will be the odds-on favorite to make it to the elite group all 4 years that she will have competed.

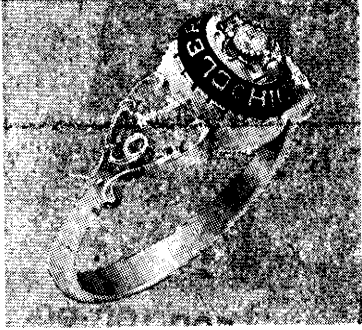

Although it's not official yet, it's regarded as a sure thing by those in the know that the Cass City High School Band will have new uniforms next year and some new, needed instruments, too. The campaign for donations spearheaded by Roger Board, added to the help of gasoline dealers and other band projects, including selling the Chronicle, has raised about $10,000. New uniforms are expected to cost about $17,000.

The rest of the money will come from the school's operating budget.

McNaughton selected to play with jazz band

A Cass City High School band student has been chosen to join the Blue Lake International Jazz Band, which will tour Europe next summer.

Jude McNaughton, son of Dave and Connie McNaughton, Cass City, was recently notified of his selection to join the band.

The Cass City High School junior, who has been playing the trombone since the fifth grade, was chosen based on his performance during a band camp at Blue Lake Fine Arts Camp, July 23-Aug. 4. He was among more than 100 band students who played with 5 separate jazz bands during the 2-week session.

A total of 18 musicians were chosen from among those groups to form the international jazz band.

"I was shocked, very shocked," McNaughton, 16, said of his selection. Before the camp, he remarked, "I've never played jazz before. (But) 2 or 3 days into it, I got into it, so that probably helped."

McNaughton is now busy working to raise the $2,400 he'll need to participate in next summer's 21-day tour, which will include stops in Germany, France, Holland and Belgium.

Donations will be accepted "and greatly appreciated," he said, adding interested individuals can contact him at 872-4061, or Cass City High School Band Director Mindy Nash at 872-2148.

Honor local UPS drivers for safety

A pair of United Parcel Service drivers from Cass City were recently honored for safe driving records.

They are Francis Withey and Al Wallace, both of whom work out of the UPS facility located at 6254 Division St., Cass City.

Withey, a tractor-trailer driver, was recognized by the company for completing 25 years of driving without an accident. He and his wife, Mary, reside in Cass City. They have 2 children, Pat, 25, and Mike, 23.

Wallace, a delivery driver who provides service in the Port Sanilac area, was honored for completing 15 years of driving without an accident. He and his wife, Charlyne, also live in Cass City. They have 3 children, Darren, 16, Scott, 13, and Brent, 9.

CASS CITY High School junior Jude McNaughton was recently chosen to join the Blue Lake International Jazz Band, which is planning a 21-day European tour next summer.

The Haire Net

A candid view of this and that of no particular importance and maybe of not too much interest either.

There's an unwritten rule in the column-writing business. You forget the bad calls, remember the good ones. When right, tell them you told them so.

Well, I told you so a couple of months ago when President Bush was at the height of his popularity and considered by Democrats and Republicans alike as virtually impregnable when he seeks re-election.

What I wrote was that regardless of his stunning success in foreign affairs if the economy went into the dumpster he would be vulnerable. Did you notice his precipitous drop in the polls last week?

If that keeps up it may turn out that a Democrat with a chance to swing a few votes will toss his hat in the ring. No matter how Bush's popularity dips it's hard to see how all those John Does running now could be elected. Sure, anything's possible. I remember Jimmy Carter.

You can sympathize with the those who are homeless as a result of Gov. Engler's crackdown on welfare benefits, while realizing that the system isn't working and acknowledging that something must be done to try to jerk us out of the quagmire that is sucking up more and more of our tax dollars.

You may or may not like the governor's solution. I don't. But there is a rationale for it all.

You can't say that for the public housing program in Detroit. Now there are 5,000 folks who were kicked out of their low rent apartments because of the welfare cuts with no place to go. There is public housing in Detroit that is 43 percent vacant. One public apartment building has 13 of 112 units occupied, according to a metro daily story. A few of these new homeless people moved in, the police were called and they were broomed back onto the streets.

Why? It's a question of liability. These apartments have electrical or plumbing problems and there is a fear of damage suits if something goes wrong.

Let's not get into why they are sub-standard in the first place. It just seems to make a lot of sense to have them sign a waiver and move in.

They may not be as safe as anyone would like, but the chances of injury or death in one would have to be considerably less than spending the winter under a bridge.

The same paper also told about all those minimum wage jobs that were supposed to be available. Minimum wage employers now are saying that they have been swamped with applications. A pizza outlet said they had 100 applications for 3 jobs.

Just think how many would apply if it were for a job with a living wage.

"If It Fitz...."

Sharing my outrage

By Jim Fitzgerald

It isn't only misery that loves company; so does outrage.

When I abruptly explode over something that strikes me as grossly wrongheaded and/or hard-hearted, I immediately wonder if anyone else gives a damn. Such was the case with a breakfast-ruining item in last Saturday's newspaper. It concerned Gov. John Engler's shrugging disregard for the rights of indigent sick people.

Engler is worried that Medicaid patients might sue doctors for malpractice. Mind you, he isn't concerned that the patients might occasionally be the victims of sloppy medical care. The governor is fretting over the frightful possibility that some ragged welfare mother might have the gall to do what a wealthy woman would do if her leg were cut off by mistake — sue the careless doctor for damages.

"Engler told a gathering of Michigan newspaper editors and reporters that indigent people with state-paid health coverage do not deserve the same legal rights as those with insurance paid by themselves or employers," the newspaper said.

Engler proposed that doctors and other health care workers be granted governmental immunity from being sued by people too poor to pay their own medical bills. And what if that's a problem for Medicaid patients who think they should have the legal right to protect their leg from inadvertent chopping?

They should "seek out and prepare to go to work for an employer who's got the full kind of coverage with a full set of legal rights," Engler said.

He really said that. If you are one of the thousands of people who don't have employer-funded medical insurance, and can't afford to buy your own, get off your lazy duff. Go get a job offering full benefits, the governor says. Right now. Hurry up.

What are you waiting for?

'SOMETHING IS TERRIBLY WRONG'

After spending much of the weekend sputtering about Engler's incredible insensitivity, it was satisfying to go to work Monday and discover I wasn't his only outraged constituent. There was a letter from Rita M. Houlehan of Royal Oak, who said it better than I could. Listen:

"My morning paper reduced me to tears of rage, fear and frustration with a brief page two article on John Engler, tucked under Michigan Dateline. I still haven't collected myself....

"When the Governor of the State of Michigan stands in front of a flock of journalists, tells them the poor should be deprived of the same equal treatment under the law that is afforded the affluent, and that comment gets stuffed into a short blurb on page two, something is terribly wrong.

"It's one thing to tell people to get off their rear and get a job. It's a whole other thing altogether to start tinkering with the constitutional rights of any individuals simply because they are poor, and then cloak oppression under the guise of balancing the budget. But the fact that, in a room full of reporters, not one person realized that remark belonged in headlines on page one is what really terrifies me.

"I'm white, not rich, not poor. I live in the suburbs. I have a nice little house and I have health insurance. I'm as tired as anyone else of paying outrageous taxes that could eventually drive me out of my home. I think able-bodied people should find work, even if they have to take a menial job. I had a lot of them before I got a good one, sometimes two at a time. And I know what it is to be hungry and live in a shoebox apartment.

SOMEDAY, IT COULD BE YOU

"Now, I've never been on welfare, and I've worked my tail off for everything I have. But I am not stupid enough to believe that I couldn't just as easily lose it all overnight and become one of those people whose rights are currently being threatened.

"So could you.

"If nobody speaks for them now, who will speak for us? "Please. Help."

End of letter from Rita Houlehan. I have nothing to add, except to thank her for sharing my outrage.

4 sentenced, 4 enter pleas in Tuscola County Circuit Court

Four persons entered pleas and 4 others were sentenced during a regular motion day Friday in Tuscola County Circuit Court.

Gary A. Graves, 30, of Caro, pleaded guilty during his arraignment on a charge of using cocaine (less than 25 grams) July 27 in Caro. A pre-sentence investigation was ordered and Graves' bond was continued at $3,000. Sentencing is to be scheduled.

Inmate Frederick A. Taylor, 29, entered a plea of guilty to prison escape.

The defendant, who escaped from the Camp Tuscola Correctional Facility, Caro, Oct. 20, was re-sentenced to the custody of the sheriff.

A pre-sentence investigation was ordered, according to court records, which state sentencing is to be scheduled.

Robert E. Kienitz, 40, pleaded guilty to operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, third offense, Aug. 14 in Koylton Township.

A pre-sentence investigation was ordered for the defendant, whose bond was continued. Sentencing is to be set.

Jeffrey Pomeroy, 22, Cass City, entered a plea of guilty to probation violation.

The court immediately imposed a sentence of 90 days in jail, with work release or participation in the worksite program. Court records state Pomeroy's probation was reinstated and that the defendant was ordered to undergo counseling for substance abuse.

Pomeroy, who was placed on 60 months probation following his July 13, 1990, plea of guilty to larceny in a building, violated probation when he terminated court ordered counseling without the permission of his probation officer.

Among those sentenced Friday was Douglas W. Morse, 31, of Flint, who was ordered to serve 365 days in jail, with permission to participate in the worksite program, for his plea of no contest to attempted felonious assault. He was given credit for 112 days already served.

Morse, whose offense allegedly occurred July 23, 1990, in Almer Township, also was sentenced to 3 years probation and ordered to pay a $500 fine, $300 in court costs plus attorneys fees, a $30 victim crime fee and restitution, which is to be determined.

Terry L. Bowen, 40, Mayville, was sentenced to 2 years probation and 60 days in jail, with work release, for his plea of guilty to attempted manufacturing of marijuana March 18 in Dayton Township.

Court records state Bowen also was ordered to pay a $1,000 fine, $500 in court costs and a $30 victim crime fee.

Clemens R. Koepf II, 18, Cass City, also was sentenced to 2 years probation and 60 days in jail, with school and work release.

Koepf, who previously pleaded guilty to attempted uttering and publishing, also was ordered to pay $200 in court costs, a $300 fine, $30 victim crime fee and restitution.

According to court records, his offense occurred Feb. 10 in Cass City and involved a $40 check written to the Charmont and drawn on Thumb Region Chemical Bank.

Also Friday, Angela L. Kimbrue, 20, North Branch, was ordered to remain on probation and sentenced to 90 days in jail (deferred to the end of probation) for her plea of guilty to probation violation.

Kimbrue was initially sentenced to 36 months probation after pleading guilty May 18, 1990, to a charge of attempted forgery. Court records state she violated her probation agreement last August by leaving the state without the court's consent.

According to court records, McDonald is accused of engaging in sexual penetration with a child under the age of 13 years Jan. 18 in Millington Township.

In other recent arraignments:

*Cheryl L. Giddings, 27, Fairgrove, is charged with felonious driving, operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor and failing to stop at the scene of a serious personal injury accident.

The charges stem from a July 23 incident in Almer Township, court records state.

Bond for Giddings was set at $1,000. A preliminary exam was to have been held today.

*Donald G. Lambert, 22, Caro, faces charges of unlawfully driving away an automobile, operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor and failing to stop after a collision.

A preliminary exam in the case was to have been held today. Lambert's bond was set at $8,000.

Court records state the offense allegedly occurred Oct. 26 in Vassar and involved a 1985 Ford Tempo belonging to Marcus S. Swims.

*Richard J. Witck, 37, Birch Run, is charged with malicious destruction of property over $100 and larceny over $100.

He is accused of damaging cable belonging to Cable Properties Inc., and stealing an amplifier and/or pedestal cover belonging to Cable Properties Inc. The offenses allegedly occurred Sept. 23 in Kingston Township.

Bond in the case has been set at $5,000. A preliminary exam was to have been held today.

*Kenneth V. Queen, 18, Kingston, is charged with breaking and entering a building with intent to commit larceny and larceny in a building.

His bond has been set at $5,000, and a preliminary exam was scheduled for today.

Court records state Queen is accused of breaking into Thumb Pawn and Loan, 815 S. Hooper St., Caro, and stealing an electronic keyboard April 20.

*Dennis L. Butch, 24, Harbor Beach, faces one count of receiving and concealing stolen property valued at more than $100.

Bond in the case was set at $8,000. A preliminary exam was to have been held today. Butch, who is currently incarcerated in Lapeer on an unrelated charge, allegedly received and concealed a stolen 1988 Ford pickup truck May 2 in Vassar, according to court records.

*Steven M. Pomeroy, 22, Caro, is charged with unlawfully driving away an automobile. The offense allegedly occurred Oct. 25 in Juniata Township and involved a 1981 Oldsmobile belonging to Sadie Pelton.

Pomeroy's bond was set at $7,000. His preliminary exam was to have been held today.

Nov. 26, 29, 30; Dec. 1 Village Bach Festival tradition to continue

The Village Bach Festival of Cass City has become a tradition of music making of the highest order since 1979. It may be the only festival in America to make Bach a Thanksgiving tradition and to offer Bach lovers an opportunity to add a musical feast to the traditional turkey dinner.

The festival orchestra and soloists are all top caliber professionals who come from Michigan and many other states for little more than travel expenses and the pleasure of performing in this particular ensemble.

Don Jaeger, conductor and artistic director, started a chamber music festival in the First Presbyterian Church of Cass City in 1978, when the small, historic tracker organ was restored.

Doris Ornstein, a nationally acclaimed harpsichordist and a veteran performer at major Bach festivals, has been unable to come in recent years, but continues to support the Festival. She said, "Bach is so much bigger than any of us, (it) is a sustaining part of your life if you're a musician, a reason to get out of bed in the morning. But this Festival is different," she explained.

"The playing is for people who are hungry to hear great music, who care about Bach and each other...and us. Musicians are dying to be appreciated. What we get in Cass City is more important than playing in a big concert hall for a society audience, a big fee and good reviews from the critics. It's not just another job, it's a spiritual experience - no other festival does this for you."

Nov. 26, at 8:15 p.m., Marilyn Mason, chairman of the organ department at the University of Michigan, will perform a benefit concert of Bach's organ works at the First Presbyterian Church, Caro. Ms. Mason is performing without fee to assist the Bach Festival in raising funds. The evening's program will include Bach works from throughout the composer's life including Toccata and Fugue in D minor, from the Weimar period.

Tickets for Tuesday evening are $20.00 for adults and $10.00 for senior citizens and students. They may be obtained in advance or at the door.

The Cass City concerts

start Friday, Nov. 29, at the First Presbyterian Church. A free pre-concert lecture given by Dr. Harold Peterson, will begin at 7:00 p.m. in the church basement. Concerts are at 8:15 p.m. in the church auditorium Nov. 29 and 30. The Sunday program, Dec. 1, will begin with a free pre-concert lecture at 2:00 p.m. and the concert at 3:15 p.m.

Highlights of the season will be the Peasant Cantata by Bach, Britten's Simple Symphony, Haydn's Concerto for Horn in D Major and, as a finale on Sunday afternoon, Selected Recitatives and Arias from the Messiah - a fitting ending to the festival.

Ticket information may be obtained by calling (517) 872-5400 from 1-5 p.m., beginning Nov. 4.

Proposed zoning changes rejected

The Koylton Township Zoning Board last week rejected proposed zoning ordinance amendments that would have allowed Pioneer Work and Learn Center to continue operating at Kingston Hills Camp.

Officials representing the rehabilitation program for male juvenile delinquents had requested 2 changes.

The first would have repealed a 1988 amendment that prohibits camps, adult and/or juvenile detention or correctional facilities in the township. The second would be an amendment that would allow, by special use permit, foster and juvenile care camp residential and educational facilities of the type currently being operated by Pioneer, as well as other forms of year-round camping activities.

The amendments were rejected on a vote of 3-1, with zoning board member Mary Brief casting the lone dissenting vote.

"To accept the amendments as presented would allow any kind of camp anywhere in the community, subject to a land for special use (permit)," zoning board Chairman Russ Mayer remarked of the board's decision.

"The next step is to go to the county Planning Commission...for their review," he explained, adding the zoning board could have another meeting if the county planning board makes any recommendations.

Next, the recommendation will be presented to the Township Board, which can accept it or refer the matter back to zoning officials with suggested changes. If the board rejects the recommendation, Mayer said the issue will be reviewed again by zoning board members and returned to the township board, which will make the final decision.

Slow growth

Throughout the postwar era, U.S. manufacturing productivity has been growing more slowly than that of its chief trading competitors, according to the U.S. Labor Department publication, "Workforce 2000." Between 1950 and 1983, output per hour of U.S. workers increased by 129 percent. Canadian workers' productivity rose by 215 percent during the same period; France and West Germany output increased by 458 and 508 percent, while Japanese workers increased their output per hour by 1,624 percent.

ments of up to 50 percent for a long as 12 years to manufacturing firms interested in purchasing industrial property.

*Rescheduled the next regular meeting from Nov. 25 to Dec. 3.

*Learned 94.83 percent of village taxes had been collected when the county treasurer called for delinquent taxes Oct. 11. Last year, 94.08 percent of taxes had been collected by the same time, village Treasurer Joyce LaRoche noted.

*Noted police Chief Gene Wilson has completed a hazardous materials awareness course.

"Tuesday Meetings" set to begin

Area residents are invited to take advantage of a special prayer time each week at the Cass City Church of the Nazarene.

The Rev. R.W. Mearns, pastor, recently announced the church is reviving "Tuesday Meetings", which will be held at the church building on the corner of Third and Oak streets starting Nov. 12 from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

Mearns explained: "In the summer of 1835, a Christian lady by the name of Sarah Lankford began a prayer meeting in her home in New York City which later became known as the 'Tuesday Meetings for the Promotion of Holiness,' or simply, 'Tuesday Meetings'. The work was carried on by her sister, Mrs. Phoebe Palmer, and is considered the single most influential event of the great spiritual revival that swept the nation at the close of the last century."

Everyone is welcome, Mearns said, adding, "Come when you are able and stay as long as you are able... just come."

The pastor pointed out the "Tuesday Meetings" are neither a church service nor a social time.

"We are interested in one objective and only one — prayer," he concluded. "Prayer with a purpose. Prayer whose purpose is to bring about a spirit of revival in all of our churches, in our homes, in our community and in our world."

Your neighbor says

I don't mind the cold and snow

Karen Walther is one Cass City resident that doesn't mind the cold weather and the snow flurries that the area experienced this week.

Winter is not my favorite time of the year, she says. Fall is the best, but I like winter. I like the change of the seasons in Michigan, she explained.

Winter activities enjoyed by Karen and the family include fishing through the ice in winter. We have a snowmobile, too, she adds, but I don't ride too much anymore.

Finding time has to be one of the primary reasons. Karen and her husband, Leonard, an area potato farmer, have 5 boys, Jason, 15, Anthony, 13, Jeremy, 11, Greg, 9, and Nicholas, 5.

In addition, Karen has a Christmas decoration and tree sale that takes about a month and a half each year, and she cares for and sells berries in the summer.

O-G turns tables on Kingston, wins, 60-58

After 2 games this season one thing seems abundantly clear. If the 2 powerhouses in the North Central Thumb D League meet again, fans will be treated to a close, well-played game.

Last Tuesday the Bulldogs turned the tables on the Kingston Cardinals with a last second, 60-58, win. In the first meeting between the teams, Kingston won in overtime, 79-70. It can't get any closer than this and still have a winner.

Gagetown was in front by a single point in the see-saw game with 12 seconds left on the clock. The Cardinals missed a free throw, but Penny Caverly got her only basket of the night when she put in the rebound to put her team in the lead with 9 seconds left. And for a moment it looked like a big one.

But Michelle Tkacz then took the ball and raced the clock as she dribbled the length of the floor, and pumped up a shot from 22 feet out good for 3 points and the win.

The 2 teams traded shots in the first quarter as Karen Plane, who led all scorers with 27 points, and Bobbi Roberson each hit 3 times from the field. Countering that offensive thrust were Tkacz, who whipped in 2 3-pointers and Alissa Draschil, who made a bucket and 2 of 2 free throws. It was free throw shooting that enabled Owen-Gage to win. The Bulldogs were a sparkling 11 of 13 and one of the misses came on a lane violation. Kingston was a horrendous 4 out of 16.

The second period belonged to Owen-Gage and the third to Kingston, who refused to give up. Carli Salcido and Tkacz paced the Owen-Gage rally, with 6 points each, and the Bulldogs were ahead 31-24 at the intermission.

Plane almost single-handedly kept Kingston in the game in the middle quarters. She notched 6 of her team's 10 points in the second quarter and 10 of her team's 20 points in the Cardinals' big third period surge.

That was enough to give Kingston a narrow, 44-41 lead and set the stage for the frenzied last quarter action and Tkacz' game winner at the end.

In addition to the free throw shooting, Coach Dean Roller pointed to the 15 rebounds picked off by Jill Susalla as one of the keys to the win.

An oddity of the scoring was that Tkacz, who finished with 21 points, had as many 3-point baskets as she did 2 pointers, 3 each. Susalla, with 12, was in double figures for Owen-Gage and Bobbi Roberson backed up Plane's 27 points with 16 of her own. Rachelle Dereszynski had 10.

OWEN-GAGE - box scores: Draschil 0-2-2-2-6; Ondrajka 0-2-0-0-4; Tkacz 3-3-6-6-21; Salcido 0-4-0-0-8; Cummins 0-1-1-2-3; Dorsch 0-3-0-0-6; Susalla 0-5-2-3-12. TOTALS: 3-20-11-13-60.

KINGSTON - box scores: Dereszynski 5-0-3-10; Caverly 1-0-2-2; Campbell 1-1-3-3; Plane 13-1-3-27; Roberson 7-2-5-16. TOTALS: 27-4-16-58.

Income down

Farm income prospects have improved since early summer, but 1991 farm income is still below last year's figures. The U.S. Department of Agriculture forecasts net farm income down 5 percent from the 1990 record of nearly $60 billion, while net farm income is down about one-tenth from last year's $50 billion level. Falling cash grain production and lower dairy prices are the main culprits.

BULLDOG MICHELLE TKACZ scores 2 of her team high 21 points on this driving lay-in against Kingston. Tkacz hit a 3-point jumper at the buzzer to lead the 'Dogs to a 60-58 win.

Successful season

7th and 8th grades show improvement

The Cass City 7th and 8th grade girls' basketball teams recently completed successful seasons, finishing 10-2 and 9-3, respectively.

SEVENTH GRADE

Under the direction of Coach Paul Chappel, the Cass City 7th grade started practicing with only 4 girls out for the team. By the first game, Chappel was working with 12 girls, only 3 of whom played at the 5th and 6th grade level.

After losing to Marlette (18-25) in the second game of the season, the young Hawks rolled to 9 consecutive wins before falling in their season finale to Lakers in overtime, 34-39.

"The girls showed marked improvement as the season progressed. We only worked on fundamentals and defense," said Chappel.

The team's most valuable player awards went to Peyton Daniel, Ashlie Chappel and Mandy Deering. Most improved player awards were handed to Katie Anthony and Pam Leiterman.

The squad was rounded out by Lee Dillon, Candice Cherniawski, Becky Laming, Gia Mellendorf, Jessica Fredericks, Marcia Klaus and Beth Wood, all of whom helped contribute to the team success.

"The girls represented Cass City well in appearance and sportsmanship. I was proud to coach them," commented Chappel.

EIGHTH GRADE

John Maharg's 8th grade girls were defeated in 3 games on the year, losing twice to Marlette and once to Lakers. The highlight of their season came in their last game, when they avenged a mid-season overtime setback to Lakers with an impressive 30-22 victory. The Laker defeat was their first ever.

"All the girls improved tremendously. They learned that hard work and team play are essential," says Maharg. The team's most improved player awards went to Jill Wright and LeAnn Foster. The team's best rebounder

Benefit concert slated

The local music group, "Son Shines," will present a Thanksgiving benefit concert Sunday at 7 p.m. at the Good Shepherd Lutheran Church in Cass City.

The Son Shines perform a variety of musical tunes, ranging from the old spirituals to audience participation songs.

This concert is being held to help the Arnold Broecker family with recent medical costs. There will be a free will offering, which will be matched by AAL Branch 7607.

Correction

In the Wednesday, Oct. 30, issue of the Chronicle there was a mistake in the report of an automobile accident.

The story incorrectly said: "Friday at 11:33 p.m. Cass City Police reported that Sarah L. Lovejoy, 16, 4207 Maple, Cass City, driving west on Main Street, stopped to turn left onto Doerr Road.

"A car driven by Janice L. Miller, 48, of 6173 Cedar Drive, Cass City, was unable to stop because of the wet pavement and collided with the rear of the Lovejoy vehicle."

The story should have read that the car driven by Janice L. Miller was the one stopped on Main Street to make the turn and was hit by the Lovejoy vehicle.

The Chronicle regrets the error.

Wesleyan in playoffs after win over O-G

The Owen-Gage football team ended its season Saturday with a 20-0 drubbing at North Branch Wesleyan. The loss put the Bulldogs in the record books at 4-5 for the 1991 campaign.

The Eagles' season, however, will continue for at least one more week.

Wesleyan (6-3) will face Flint Holy Rosary (7-1) Friday night at 7:30 in Kearsley Field to open the state class D playoffs.

The Eagles used 2 big first quarter runs to jump out in front 14-0 by the end of the opening stanza.

Their first score, a 60-yard gallop by Adam Norton, came after the Bulldogs had marched to a first down on the Eagles' own 18-yard line.

But 3 consecutive muffed exchanges between the Bulldogs' center and quarterback stalled the drive. Seven plays later Norton raced to pay dirt.

"Those fumbles really hurt us," said Besonen. "But for a team that wasn't supposed to win a game, we had a good season. They (the school) were talking about getting us soccer uniforms at the beginning of the season, but I guess they will hold off on that for another year."

Eagle Andy Tuttle accounted for the hosts' other first period score when he capped a 5-play drive with a nifty 45-yard gallop. It came with 2:38 showing on the clock.

The game's only other score came in the second period.

Set up by another Bulldog fumble, Norton scored his second touchdown of the afternoon when he got behind the visitors' secondary and hauled in a Tom Meredith pass. The play covered 15 yards of a 38-yard drive and sealed the win for the hosts.

Bulldog Mickey Parks ended a fine senior year with 76 yards on 16 carries. Parks also collected a team high 17 tackles.

Also turning in solid performances, and expected to become leaders for the Buldogs next year, were sophomore Gary Emmons, who recorded 14 stops, and junior Matt Mandich, who was credited with 7 tackles.

Okay recycling experiment

Novesta Township residents will have the opportunity to give recycling a try some time in the near future.

The Township Board Monday approved an offer by Waste Management of Michigan officials to provide a recycling truck to the township free of charge on one Saturday morning, according to Clerk Nurse Kloc.

Residents will be able to drop off tin, newsprint, plastic and glass in the one-time recycling effort, Kloc said, adding no date has been set yet.

In other business during the monthly meeting, the board learned that township Treasurer Ralph Zinnecker and Deputy Treasurer Pat Zinnecker will attend an upcoming computer workshop dealing with taxes.

Kloc said Monday's session was cut short because a guest speaker, who was scheduled to explain a pension retirement plan to township officials, was unable to attend.

Win over Marlette does it

Hawks wrap up first hoop league title since 1980

Put the Coke on ice and get ready for the celebration. The Cass City Red Hawks are champions of the Blue Bay League and need only one victory in the final 2 league games to take the undisputed crown.

It will be only the third league championship won by the girls. The last titles came in the Thumb B Association in 1979 and 1980. In 1979 the girls won the district title.

The Hawks are 2 games ahead of the field following a win Thursday over the strong Marlette team at Cass City High School, 47-42. It was the second of 2 tough games during the week for Cass City. Tuesday, Oct. 29, the Hawks staged a tremendous last half rally to edge Ubyly, 35-34.

One of the league games ahead is at Lakers, the only team to defeat Cass City this season, and they have done it twice. While another loss Friday to the Green and White wouldn't be fatal in the team's bid for a title, a win would be highly satisfying to Coach Marty Daniel's charges with the tournaments ahead. After the Laker game, the Hawks host Reese Tuesday and end the regular season at home against Bad Axe Friday.

The win against the Red Raiders was typical of the previous 3 games between the schools. It was a hard fought game with first one team and then the other taking narrow leads.

Cass City's bench strength was one of the keys to the win. Jenny "Thunder" Storm got in early foul trouble and was benched in the second quarter, came back in the third quarter, committed a poorly advised reach-in foul midway through the period and was benched again until there was 4:41 left in the game.

While she was out, Jennifer Freundt and Barb Kelley, off the bench, helped keep the game close. When she left in the third period the Hawks led by a point. When she returned Cass City trailed by a point.

It was that kind of game all night. Both teams were off to a slow start and midway through the period, the score was 4-0, Cass City ahead.

After that the tempo picked up with first one team, then the other staging mini-streaks to stay in contention.

As in previous games, it was Cass City's quickness against Marlette's size, and quickness prevailed. The Red Raiders out-rebounded the Hawks on the offensive boards to account for many of their points and Cass City countered with its pressing defense to cause numerous turnovers.

Beth Dudek and Carrie Ross combined for 12 points in the second period to keep the visitors close by intermission. The Hawks answered that challenge with some fine outside shooting by Jodi Schember, who netted 6 points in the quarter, and Storm's 5-point effort before she was benched by fouls. Jodi Hillaker played her accustomed role in the period and in the game with a tenacious defensive effort and pinpoint passing to open teammates.

The action was frenzied in the last half and the lead changed hands 11 times between the last 2:53 minutes of the third quarter and the first 3:19 of the final period.

Marlette stuffed in a rebound to take the lead 40-39 at the 4:48 mark and then Cass City took control. Darcie Monroe hit a bucket and Storm sank both ends of a one and one foul shot. Stephanie Leiterman hit the first of 2 free throws and Cass City was ahead, 44-40. Marlette hit a bucket and then Hillaker hit 2 more free throws with 45 seconds left in the game to put Cass City ahead by 4 and tie up the game.

Daniel credited the fine defense Leiterman played, holding Crystal Dudek to 2 points, and Monroe's work on Misti Anderson, 6 points, as keys to the win.

The Hawks enjoyed balanced scoring as Hillaker, Schember and Storm scored 11 points and Monroe, 10. Dudek led Marlette with 11.

UBLY GAME

In the first meeting between the teams, Cass City had little trouble topping the Ubyly Bearcats, 39-19, and evidently the Bearcats didn't forget, for this time they gave Cass City a tremendous game before bowing by a single point.

Monroe stars at Oakland

Darlene Monroe helped the Oakland University Pioneers split a pair of GLIAC matches last weekend. Monroe had 13 kills and 2 blocks in a tough 4-game loss to Saginaw Valley State, and had 18 kills and 5 blocks as Oakland beat Lake Superior State on the road, also in 4 games.

Monroe is second in the league in blocking and eighth in kills per game. She is a Cass City High School graduate.

Ubyly went out to an early lead and didn't give it up until there were 16 seconds left in the game.

A combination of tight Ubyly defense and poor shooting by Cass City enabled Ubyly to gain a 24-10 first half lead. In the second quarter the Hawks failed to score a field goal and converted 4 of 6 free throws.

Cass City came to life in the third quarter behind some fine shooting by Schember, whose 3 baskets and 2 of 2 free throws included a 3 pointer, and a pressing defense that has been a mainstay of the team all year.

Starting the fourth quarter Cass City trailed by 4 points. With 16 seconds left, the Hawks were behind by one. Ubyly missed the crucial foul shot and Barb Kelley rebounded and gave the ball to Hillaker, who led the fast break, dishing off to Kelley for the 2 points. It was Kelley's lone field goal and it couldn't have been more vital...it won the game.

Schember was the only Hawk in double figures, with 11. No one was in double figures for Ubyly.

JUNIOR VARSITY

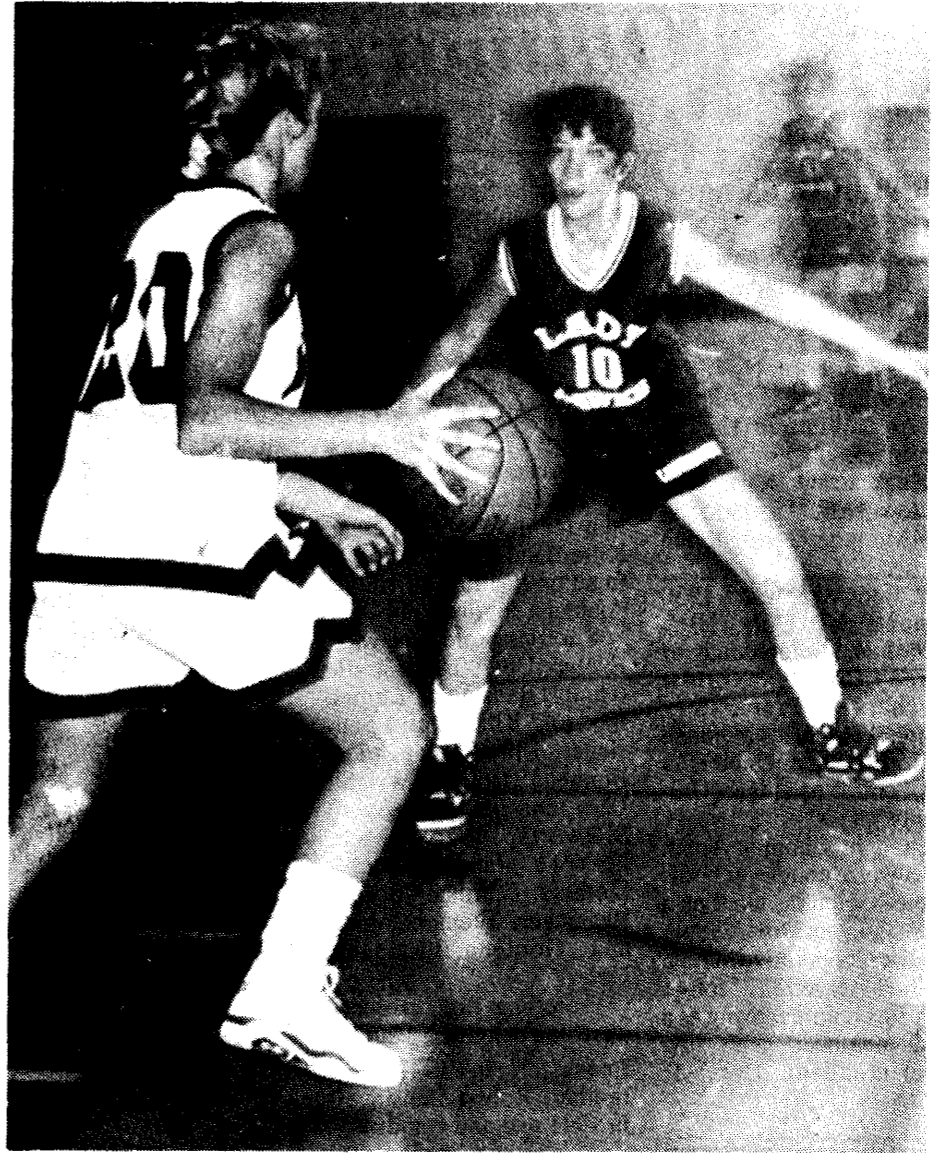

In JV action the Hawks topped Marlette, 40-36, and Ubyly overpowered Cass City, 43-12.

CASS CITY - Schember - 2-1-4-6-11; Hillaker - 4-0-0-0-8; Monroe - 0-0-1-4-1; Storm - 3-0-2-5-8; Leiterman - 1-0-2-8-4; Freundt - 0-0-1-2-1; Kelley - 1-0-0-0-2. TOTALS: 11-1-10-25-35.

UBLY - B. Smalley - 1-1-1-1-6; Oberski - 1-0-1-4-3; Sweeney - 2-0-0-0-4; Cook - 4-0-0-1-8; Peruski - 2-0-3-5-7; Mazure - 0-0-2-2-2; Stefan - 1-0-2-2-4. TOTALS: 11-1-9-15-34.

CASS CITY - Hillaker - 3-0-5-8-11; Schember - 4-1-0-0-11; Monroe - 5-0-0-1-10; Storm - 3-0-5-6-11; Leiterman - 1-0-2-4-4. TOTALS: 16-1-12-20-47.

MARLETTE - Dudek - 5-0-1-2-11; Schubach - 4-0-0-1-8; Prusinski - 1-0-0-0-2; Dukek - 1-0-0-0-2; Anderson - 3-0-0-1-6; Ross - 6-0-1-2-13. TOTALS: 20-0-2-6-42.

ONE OF THE KEYS to the Cass City basketball team's success this year has been a pressure defense. Applying pressure full court against Marlette's Tami Schubach is Jodi Schember.

Disappointing grid year ends with loss to tough Brown City

A long disappointing season came to an end for the Cass City Red Hawks Friday as a fine Brown City team easily defeated Cass City, 40-6, at Cass City Recreational Park.

Although outmanned by the visitors, Hawk supporters can point with pride to the effort of the team. Hopelessly beaten, behind by 40 points, the players scored a touchdown with 28 seconds left in the game to avoid a shutout.

The Hawk score came on a pass from Ben Schott to John Gibson and covered 15 yards. Both will be back next season.

That was the lone bright spot for the home town fans. The Green Devils showed early that they were going to control the game. After taking the kickoff to midfield, they chalked up 2 first downs for a first on the 20, from where Matt Sowa found a big hole over his right side to run for the touchdown. Cass City took the Devils' kick-off to their own 44 and racked up a first down before one of Brad Gray's passes was intercepted on the Brown City 45. The visitors stayed on the ground to punch out 3 first downs and then were helped by a penalty that moved the ball to the Hawk 6. Two plays later Jason Kosal ran it over from the 2. There was still 3:46 left in the first quarter.

The next Brown City score came early in the second period. Ricky Jones took a Cass City punt on his own 25 and returned it for the marker. He avoided the first Hawk defender and after that no one had a shot at him as he ran behind an escort of Green Devil blockers.

About the only flaw that the visitors exhibited was failed extra point tries and they remedied that after the next touchdown, scored on a 58-yard gallop by Sowa with 6:45 left in the third quarter. A pass from Eric Smiley to Todd Mitchell scored the extra points.

Another long run by Jones, this one for 36 yards late in the last period, ended the scoring for the night for Brown City.

It was the final game for 13 seniors on the team. Ending their careers were Gray, Mark Irrer, Jeff Schember, Troy Benitez, Pete Matson, Ronnie Woodward, Kevin Mika, Greg Woodruff, Tom Czekai, Dana DeLong, Jeremy Bogart, Tim Jewett and Jed Hubbard.

JV posts perfect football record

Although it has been a long season for the Cass City High School varsity team, there are brighter days ahead, judging by the results of the junior varsity and eighth grade teams this year. Both are undefeated.

Larry Robinson and Dave Bitzer, coaches, credit team unity, cooperation and a positive attitude for the junior varsity success this season.

Although awards for individual achievements are not given out, several players were cited for effort during the year. The team selected Jason Walthers, Ed Nizzola, John Phillips and Jason Morgan as honorary co-captains. Honored for outstanding hits were Tom Davis, Mac Connolly, Jeremy Hubbard and Morgan.

Cited for dedication as indicated by missing not over one practice were Nizzola, Paul Murphy, Morgan, Gary Truemmer, John Rea and Steve Irvine.

There were 15 sophomores on this year's team. The coaches say that next year's JV squad has a chance to equal the outstanding record of this year's team if the members are willing to work in the off season to achieve excellence.

The season's results:
 Cass City 20, Caro 6
 Cass City 24, Lakers 8
 Cass City 29, Bad Axe 22
 Cass City 33, Marlette 0
 Cass City 22, Lakers 14
 Cass City 32, Ubyly 10

CASS CITY'S JOHN GIBSON made a sizeable gain on this play as he made the Brown City tackler miss on the play.

3 receive elk licenses

DNR officials recently announced that 155 Michigan residents, including 3 from Tuscola County, have been randomly chosen to participate in the Dec. 10-17 Elk hunt.

The county residents are Leo Wildman of Gageton, John Petiprin of Caro and Lavon Webb of Vassar. The successful applicants were computer drawn from 38,432 persons who applied for the licenses. Certified letters were mailed to successful applicants Oct. 10. Unsuccessful applicants were not notified.

Of the 155 hunters, 57 will be allowed to take either an antlered or antlerless elk, while 98 may take only an elk without antlers.

This year's hunting area includes all of Emmet, Charlevoix, Cheboygan, Otsego, Montmorency, Presque Isle and Alpena counties.

By winter 1992, the DNR would like to maintain a post-hunt population of 800 to 900 elk. Currently, the elk herd is estimated at 1,050.

Tuscola 2001 enters phase II

Tuscola 2001 Task Force members met with state lawmakers and officials representing the Department of Commerce and DNR Monday in Lansing to discuss Phase II of the Tuscola 2001 project.

The luncheon meeting, sponsored by Sen. Jim Barcia, was the first meeting of its kind at the capitol to discuss funding alternatives for the county-wide effort. The first lady of Michigan, Michelle Engler, and the governor's chief legislative liaison, Jeff McAlvey, were also in attendance.

Betty Pattullo, executive director of the Tuscola 2001 Task Force, presented slides highlighting the program objectives for Tuscola County.

To date, the task force has raised more than $22,000 toward its $50,000 goal. The funding will be used for matching grants for the Tuscola 2001 project.

"This is just the beginning," Pattullo said. "We've been very fortunate to have such tremendous support for the project."

Tuscola 2001 is the most comprehensive planning effort ever undertaken in the county.

The task force recently unveiled the strategic plan for the county-wide project, which includes expanding employment skills among the county's labor force; land use planning, water management and water and sewer infrastructure development; increased support of the county's business community; tourism promotion, and improved educational opportunities.

Rodney Stokes, chief of the DNR's Recreation Grants Management Division, remarked, "I would like to work with the Tuscola 2001 Task Force to develop Tuscola County's natural resources and make them accessible to the citizens of this state."

Department of Commerce Deputy Director Bill Lontz also expressed a desire to work closely with the task force.

"One of the key objectives for the Department of Commerce will be to develop partnerships with local groups like Tuscola 2001 to help them achieve their goals," he said.

Barcia praised the effort and task force members for their commitment and strategic plan.

"I believe Tuscola County offers unlimited potential for industrial and recreational development," he commented. "There is no doubt that Tuscola 2001 will shape Tuscola County's economic future."

ROSEY GILL, 10, of Kingston, recently joined Gov. John Engler in holding up a proclamation declaring November as Epilepsy Month in Michigan. Rosey, a student at Kingston Elementary School, is a patient of the Epilepsy Center of Michigan in Detroit. Following 11 months of treatment, her condition has improved dramatically, according to her mother, Janet.

Epilepsy Center helps Rosey Gill

Ten-year-old Rosey Gill of Kingston is just one of the many success stories that come out of the Epilepsy Center of Michigan, Detroit, each year.

When she was in kindergarten, Rosey's teacher informed her parents, Robert and Janet Gill, of her occasional unresponsiveness and blank stares. Her first grade teacher, who had taken a course on seizure disorders, also mentioned blinking and staring spells, suggesting that Rosey may have epilepsy.

The Gills took their daughter to various doctors over the next 4 years — with disappointing results. The Tuscola County Health Department finally referred Rosey to the Epilepsy Center of Michigan.

After 11 months of treatment at the Center, Rosey's parents are elated about the changes in their daughter. At the center, Rosey received medical and psychological treatment, including a revised prescription for a milder seizure controlling drug.

She and her parents were given the chance to discuss epilepsy and its consequences with the center's psychologists and social workers.

Since starting treatment, Rosey has not had any blinking or staring spells, and her grades at Kingston Elementary School are showing major signs of improvement. She's now getting "A" and "B" grades in subjects she received "E" grades in last year, according to her mother.

"She's a totally different girl now," Janet Gill remarked. "It (the center) was a real godsend, an answer to our prayers."

Gill and her family were on hand during a recent ceremony in which Gov. John Engler signed a declaration proclaiming November as Epilepsy Month in Michigan.

Engler is the first Michigan chief executive to take such action.

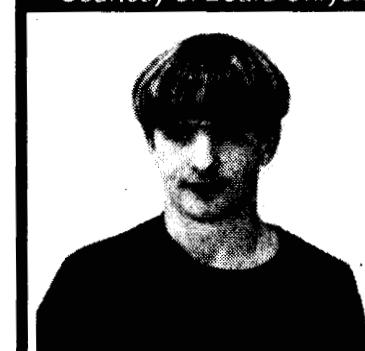

U.S. presidents since 1968, including George Bush, have declared November as National Epilepsy Month, an opportunity to focus more positive attention on the disorder in response to long-time prejudices and misunderstandings.

"We are glad that the governor has taken this action," said Artene Gorelick, executive director of the Epilepsy Center of Michigan.

Recycling pays off

Manager Lou LaPonsie questioned that reasoning. "Compared to some communities," he said, "we're getting recycling for (the same price as) what others are getting for just garbage removal."

The Cass City Village Council approved the village's current 3-year recycling/waste pick-up and disposal contract with Waste Management about a year ago.

The contract set the price for both services at $9.50 per household per month in the first year, $10.26 in the second year and $11.08 the third year. At the time, village residents were already paying $7.50 per household per month for waste removal only. Less than 2 years earlier, the cost — driven up by shrinking landfill space — was only $3.50 per household.

The combined recycling/waste removal contract cost residents $2 more in this first year. But even if the village council had turned down the recycling proposal, Campbell suggested, residents could have expected to see an increase in the cost of waste removal due to rising landfill rates.

In addition, he pointed out the monies that have come back to the village via sale of recyclables averages out to a rebate of about 16 cents per household per month.

Dollars and cents aside, LaPonsie indicated the community appears to have adjusted well to curbside recycling.

"It seems to be going well," he said. "It's been a good thing for the village."
