Road work, budgets annual meet topics

Officials and electors in 4 area townships reviewed the past year's expenditures and reviewed proposed budgets for 1992-93 during annual meetings Saturday.

Road improvements — typically the biggest expense for townships — also dominated discussion at the annual sessions.

NOVESTA

Potholes and other hazards on Elmwood Road east of Cemetery Road sparked discussion at an otherwise routine annual meeting in Novesta Township.

A number of the 9 residents in attendance indicated they're tired of being ignored by the road commission when it comes to road improvements.

"I don't know how many times I've called" asking that something be done, remarked Elmwood Road resident Tom Burns. "Right now, it's just tearing my vehicles up."

"When I moved in 12 years ago, my driveway was level with the road; now, it's higher than the road."

Burns indicated he understands it takes time for major road work to be completed, but said all he's asking for is some grading and graveling to fix the bad spots.

"It's bad when we get out with our own equipment to grade the road," he added.

Township Supervisor Maynard Stine said he'll plan to arrange for holes to be patched along Elmwood Road as well as others after his annual inspection of township roads this spring. He noted improvements to roads such as Elmwood are the responsibility of the township, but that money simply isn't available at this time to take on any major projects.

Clerk Nursie Kloc agreed, adding the township still owes money on last year's ditching project on the west side of Dodge Road, from White Creek south to Deckerville Road and beyond.

Turning to the township budget, Treasurer Ralph Zinnecker outlined 1991-92 revenues and expenditures as well as a reduced proposed 1992-93 spending plan.

The township began the last fiscal year with a balance of $17,081. Expenses totaled $110,046, while revenues came in at $121,162, leaving a balance of more than $11,000.

The proposed 1992-93 budget is set at nearly $106,000, about the same as the proposed 1991-92 spending plan, but a decrease of about $4,000, or 3.6 percent, over actual expenditures in 1991-92.

There were no requests for salary increases in the coming year.

In other business during the 45-minute session, the board outlined a planned millage request for library services in August.

Kingston okays school additions

Some $1.36 million worth of improvements will begin at Kingston Elementary School this summer following a special bond issue election Saturday.

Residents approved the measure by a 14-vote margin, 318-304. The special election saw a record turnout, with more than 40 percent of the district's registered voters casting ballots, Supt. Jerry H. Laycock reported.

It was an excellent turnout, he said, adding, "I think (holding the election on) Saturday made a difference, and it was a nice day."

The favorable vote means the school, boasting a crowded enrollment of 425 students, will receive badly needed additional space through a combination of new construction and renovation, according to school officials.

The project will add 4 new classrooms, lavatories and a new multipurpose room that will include a new kitchen and serve as a cafeteria, gymnasium and auditorium.

In addition, renovations will create a new library on the main floor, restructure some small classrooms to accommodate special needs, such as federal programs and special education services, and create science and computer labs, conference areas and storage facilities. Another goal is to make the main floor barrier-free.

The improvements will cost taxpayers an additional one mill for the first 4 years.

The district currently levies 2.65 to 2.85 mills for debt stemming from construction of the high school. The new 25-year bond issue will increase that levy to 3.8 mills.

After 4 years, however, the levy will drop to 2.5 mills and then continue to decrease over time as the district's debt is paid off.

Laycock noted bids on the project are scheduled to be let May 18, with construction set to begin in July. "We would anticipate being totally in by Christmas," he added.

"It's really something that was badly needed," he concluded. "It's going to be really great for the kids."

he's uncertain about what may have been stored in the shed or whether the building was insured.

Damage is estimated at about $1,000.

Root said the residence is owned by Janet Sherman of Flint and is currently occupied by Darrin Marquardt.

The blaze remains under investigation by the fire department, which received a tanker assist from the Kingston Fire Department.

Estimate $1,000 loss in fire

A burning trash pile is suspected in a fire that leveled a shed about 3 miles west of Shabbona late Monday afternoon.

The Elkland Township Fire Department was called to the corner of Shabbona and Lamton roads at about 4:46 p.m.

Fire fighters arrived to find the structure, located behind a residence at 3988 Lamton Rd., already burned to the ground, according to Fire Chief Dick Root. He said

Woody vs. Lovejoy and Sommers' Irish Bread vs. Cincinnati Chili

Tom Woody spent many years as a teacher at Cass City High School before resigning to take on a new career as a golf professional. He still retains his interest in the community from his home on the golf course he manages in Cincinnati, Ohio.

When he left he was a Michigan State fan, now he is a University of Cincinnati fan, where his children attend school.

He knows that one of the most avid University of Michigan fans is Dave Lovejoy, so he called the Chronicle and said he knows that he has a chance to make a big bet and clean up on Lovejoy, who is a pigeon when it comes to the Wolverines.

He asked the Chronicle to arrange a bet in the final 4 games between U of C and the Wolverines. We did. Woody is putting up a batch of famous Cincinnati Chili against a stock of Sommers Irish Bread.

This will be easy meat, Woody grinned wolfishly. You can make a bet like this for me anytime, Lovejoy responded. Michigan against Cincinnati who? It's a cinch.

School petition deadline near

Area residents interested in running for a seat on the board of education in their school district have only a few days left to file nomination petitions, available at superintendents' offices.

Petitions must be returned by 4 p.m. Monday.

Voters in the Cass City, Owen-Gage, Kingston and Ugly School districts will fill a combined 8 board seats in the annual school election set for Monday, June 8.

In Cass City, the 4-year terms of board members Beverley Auten and Fred Matthews are expiring. Both have indicated they intend to seek re-election.

School Supt. Kenneth Micklash said individuals planning to run for the school board must obtain a minimum of 20 signatures on their nominating petitions, "but we always recommend getting a half dozen more."

Micklash said there will be no millage question on this year's ballot.

Voters in the Owen-Gage School District will be asked to fill 2, 4-year school board seats now held by Ron Good and Walter Swiastyn. Both incumbents plan to seek re-election.

Residents will also be asked to approve renewal of 14.8 mills for 5 years for operations.

Likewise, Kingston School District residents will fill 2, 4-year terms on the board of education and decide a millage renewal question.

The board seats currently are held by Ben Boyl and Ray Wolak, who was appointed following the resignation of Albert Ruggles. Ruggles, a veteran of the school board, left to accept appointment as Koylton Township supervisor.

Kingston voters will also be asked to approve renewal of 16.5 mills.

In the Ugly School District, incumbents Martin Kubacki and John Rutkowski are seeking re-election to 4-year terms.

Clerk Kloc to retire after 14 years serving Novesta Twp.

Most of the folks who attended Saturday's annual meeting in Novesta Township probably walked away without a thought about the challenges surrounding the office of township clerk.

But that's understandable. Nursie Kloc, the township's clerk for the past 14 years, makes it look easy.

She handles with ease questions on topics ranging from the procedure involved in getting a road improved to various areas of township law, all the while recording the meeting's minutes and making sure votes on agenda items are conducted properly.

If she doesn't have the answer to a question, chances are good she knows where to find it.

The job of clerk is an enjoyable one, although the work has become increasingly complicated over the years, according to Kloc, who has decided to step down after her current term expires this year.

"I don't think anybody needs to hold office any more than 14 years," she recently remarked, chuckling.

Surrounded by file cabinets and hundreds of documents and notes in her office — a small room at the Severance Road farm house she shares with husband Stanley — Kloc grinned and added, "I'm not going to miss it too long."

"I've enjoyed meeting people and getting out among the people. (But) it's time to get out."

Kloc's quiet departure from office contrasts sharply with the fanfare that accompanied her and then-treasurer Everett Field's election to office in November 1978.

FIRST DEMOCRATS

"We were the first Democrats ever elected in Novesta Township," she recalled. "It was a Republican stronghold back then; we were told, 'No way will you ever win'. You should have seen the headlines."

In the most recent election in the township, 54 votes were cast each by Republicans and Democrats, Kloc pointed out. "So, the Democrats have gained some in the township."

Kloc said she had been approached about running for office some time before the 1978 election, but "I didn't have the time. I had 11 kids at home."

"When the kids were all grown and the last one was in high school, I decided to run."

Kloc hasn't missed a meeting since that first victory.

Back then, she recalled, it was on the job training for the clerk, whose duties include keeping all township records, maintaining voter registration files and handling elections, as well as overseeing the township cemetery.

PAPERWORK

Although the job itself hasn't changed drastically over the years, Kloc indicated the ever increasing amount of paperwork accompanying new rules and regulations has become overwhelming.

"You don't even have time to read it all, much less know it," she said. "It's just become more complicated."

Kloc shuffled through a pile of information sheets on a host of upcoming seminars on various topics related to township government. "Whoever gets in here now (as clerk) is going to have to go to some of these," she said, "because there's so much that they have to keep up with."

Meg's Peg

Scapegoats

by Melva E. Guinther

When we were visiting in Concord, Calif., recently, an article in the local paper told the sad tale of Jose "Chepito" Areas.

As drummer for Santana, which was one of the hottest rock bands in the U.S., 20 years ago Chepito "cruised the streets of San Francisco in a glittering 1949 Rolls-Royce Silver Wraith. People wanted his autograph. He partied hard, surrounded by beautiful women", according to the story.

A few days before the article appeared, he was evicted from a 3-room apartment in Concord, his fortune having dwindled to a weekly allowance doled out by a court-appointed conservator, the article said.

It's probably not an unusual story in the glitzy world of entertainment personalities.

What caught my attention was the fact that he blames his family for his situation. He was quoted as saying, "I lost everything I had because of my family."

He claimed that his family took advantage of him and depleted his assets. I had never heard of Chepito before and admittedly don't know the circumstances involved in his situation. Maybe he was a victim.

However, it struck me as just one more case of an individual looking for someone else to blame for his misfortune or failure.

It's not unique. In one of the dailies last year, long before his rape trial, boxer Mike Tyson was quoted as blaming his manager for his problems.

In the same issue, a young man blasted his friends in a letter to Ann Landers, for letting him drive drunk.

Certainly it's wrong for any individual to take advantage of another, and of course, friends shouldn't let friends drive drunk, but doesn't there come a time when a person has to accept some responsibility for himself, his own life and behavior and its consequences?

Scapegoating has become a national pastime that seems to escalate during an election year.

The people blame the president. The president blames congress, and congress blames anyone and anything they can think of, for the mess we're in.

Labor blames management, management blames labor, and everybody blames the Japanese.

Teachers blame parents, parents blame TV, kids blame their potty training, and so it goes.

It takes a degree of maturity to assume personal responsibility, and unfortunately a lot of people never get beyond looking for a scapegoat.

If we were to return to the all but forgotten concept of personal integrity, of doing our individual best at whatever we do, of playing fair and showing consideration for others in the process, it would go a long way toward solving a host of problems, both personal and national.

Is that too much to hope for?

High school band invited to appear in Clare parade

The Cass City High School Marching Band has been invited to represent the Thumb in an old fashioned circus parade through downtown Clare in August.

The band is among only 3, including the Clare High School Band, to receive invitations, Cass City band Director Mindy Nash said.

The parade will be part of a weekend celebration featuring the Carson & Barnes Circus. Patty White, a Clare native and former star animal trainer for the circus, will be honored on her retirement from the business. Clowns will be coming from all parts of the country to join in the festivities.

The Circus Hall of Fame in Peru, Ind., has committed its 10 new wooden circus wagons, built especially for Knott's Berry Farm, to participate in the parade. In addition, the hall of fame's massive steam calliope, that trademark of the old-fashioned circus, will be a star attraction.

The parade, scheduled for 10 a.m. Saturday, Aug. 22, will be the climax of an almost week-long celebration honoring the tradition of families and family reunions.

REVIEW YOUR WATER PILLS

If you started taking water pills ten or twenty years ago, or even longer, it certainly is time to review their use.

They may have been quite effective in lowering the blood pressure, but there are also some drawbacks to their use. Changing dosages or even switching to newer medicines may be appropriate for some people.

The best known problem is that most water pills lower the potassium. The potassium level should be checked each year. Too low a potassium can cause fatigue, irritability of the heart and even damage to the muscles.

The doses of many water pills have been lowered drastically with fewer side effects and still good results. Doses are only a quarter or an eighth as much as a few years ago.

Most water pills have a few undesirable side effects which cause no symptoms. One is that they can raise the cholesterol. Some doctors believe that this is why the decline in the heart attacks with controlling the blood pressure was less than expected.

Other changes that concern doctors are that the water pills can raise the blood sugar and make diabetes more difficult to control. Water pills can also raise the uric acid level which can lead to gout.

If you are taking a water pill, perhaps it can be lowered or changed to a newer and safer medicine. It may also be perfectly appropriate and all that needs to be done is to check a few simple blood tests.

"If It Fitz...."Relaxed enforcement

By Jim Fitzgerald

Cars were illegally double-parked longer than usual at the Detroit Club last Tuesday afternoon because — this will kill you — Mayor Coleman Young's 21st Century Committee was inside deciding that one way Detroit might avoid bankruptcy would be to increase parking ticket fines by 10 percent.

Members of the exclusive private club now escape paying the $20 fines slapped on ordinary mortals. If the committee recommendation is implemented, members will escape paying $22! Don't you love it?

DISCRIMINATING FACT OF LIFE

My extensive investigative reporting has established a clear pattern of illegal 2-hour-lunch parking at the Detroit Club, which is downtown, tight behind the Free Press building. Let's you think my reporting effort isn't Pulitzer-worthy, please realize I have to stand up and walk several feet to the window offering the best view of the club, and the window often needs washing, forcing me to squint.

What I usually see is a dozen or more double-parked cars blocking one lane of traffic the length of the block. Also parked cars blocking entrance to an alley and, on busy days, cars parked on the sidewalk. I've seen buses unable to make the turn off Fort Street because of the double-parking.

Another common sight is meter officers ticketing cars parked too long at the curb. These cars belong to non-club members. The club valet parker makes sure the officers don't ticket a member's car. Sometimes it looks as if the officers work for the valet parker.

A city sign limits double-parking to in front of the club, not the entire block, and for only "15 minutes for loading." No less a club member than Mayor Young, old Mr. Anti-Discrimination himself, has said it's OK for club members to ignore the sign and enjoy privileges denied ordinary mortals because the valet is available to move the cars if needed. That means, in case a fire truck is blocked, one valet can move 15 cars quicker than 15 ordinary mortals can.

ANOTHER DISGRUNTLED CITIZEN

The Detroit Club isn't the only place offering what the Municipal Parking Department describes as "relaxed enforcement." It can also be enjoyed at the Detroit Athletic Club, Dumouchelle Art Galleries and a few other typical blue-collar, hot-dog-and-chili hangouts. The latest is at the Ford Building on Griswold, where a private parking service is using red cone markers to appropriate several public parking spaces. Lawyer William Dance, with offices in the Penobscot Building, was prompted to write city authorities:

"While I have no quarrel with the business venture itself, what I do question is the right of the venturers to intimidate the public from parking where it has a right to park on streets provided for by the taxpayers."

Over a month later, Dance is still waiting for a response. "What else is new?" he asked me.

Anyway, Detroit Club cars were still illegally parked at 3:30 p.m. last Tuesday because it took longer than the ordinary 2-hour lunch for the 36 members of the 21st Century Committee to determine the best ways for the city to achieve a balanced budget. If anyone had come next door to ask me, I would have said a 10-percent increase in parking fines falls short.

It isn't enough to simply discriminate against ordinary mortals who don't belong to private clubs. Sure, it's marvelous that they feed the meters, patronize the parking lots and pay the tickets that important rich people don't have time to bother with. But there should be some way for ordinary mortals to reimburse the city for money not collected from extraordinary mortals too busy to observe ordinary ordinances.

A surcharge should be added to the cost of parking meters, parking lots and garages, and parking tickets. The extra money should be designated to worthwhile civic improvements, such as boarding up the window through which I observe the Detroit Club.

Onward and Upward

OWEN-GAGE HIGH School students grieved the mock deaths of 24 classmates Monday in a project sponsored by the school's chapter of Students Against Drunk Driving. Every hour of the day, another 4 "dead" students, dressed in black and wearing white make-up, began walking the halls, representing the average of 4 teens that die every hour in drug and alcohol-related accidents.

The Haire Net

The word from Dr. H. T. Donahue when he called to announce that he was retiring after 59 years of serving the Cass City area was that he wanted no publicity, no pictures, no nothing.

I thought about that for perhaps an hour before deciding on a course of action. It's sort of a compromise on what should be done and what Dr. Donahue requested.

So you won't find the big front page spread complete with pictures of the good doctor along with the highlights of his career that his work deserves. Surely his service to the community should be noted with more, much more than just a passing nod.

Because he requested it, we won't list the doctor's achievements now. But I just can't let his retirement pass without a few personal observations.

Dr. Donahue became our family doctor when my mother became ill. She required home calls and it was not unusual for him to call in the middle of the night in an emergency.

That's the way it started in our family and over the years emergency calls were frequent for me and for the rest of the family. You could depend on it, he always responded.

My family story could be repeated by family after family in the Cass City area. When the community paid tribute to him in 1982, one family said that the doctor had treated 6 generations of his family.

It was a constant source of amazement to us and to those who knew him (and that included most everyone in the area) how he had the stamina to continue the working schedule that he did. He could have worked less, much less, and charged more if he had wanted to. But he kept health care within reach of all and worked, worked, worked.

You were nearly as apt to find him in the hospital at 12 midnight as at 12 noon.

That's in addition to supervising several farms that he owned. It was a standing joke among old-timers that if you really wanted to get Dr. Donahue's attention, forget about talking about medicine, talk about farming.

Back in 1982 it was estimated that more than 4,000 babies had been delivered by the doctor and that included 2 of the 3 Haire children.

In recent years the frenetic schedule of Dr. Donahue abated somewhat, perhaps down to the hours that most of his colleagues practice.

Given his good health, I know that it is with mixed emotions that the decision to retire was reached. Caring for his family was one of the principal reasons.

I know that I speak for an astonishing number of families when I say to the doctor, thanks for what you have done for me and for the community.

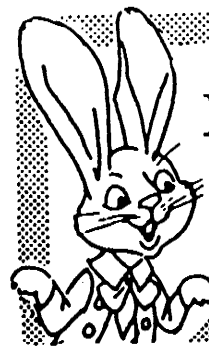

There will never be another like you.

Investigate axle theft

Tuscola County Sheriff's deputies are investigating the recent theft of 2 trailer axles belonging to a Cass City area resident.

Gene Outakowski, 7155 E. Kelly Rd., Cass City, reported last week that someone stole the axles from his property at 6143 Kelly Rd.

The axles, which were lying outside a shed on the property, were last seen March 18, according to reports.

(And anyone else he can get to help.)

Just back from the 41st annual trek to the basketball semi-finals and finals. This year the attendance was down, maybe as much as 25 percent over last year. There were plenty of seats available at the Palace Saturday.

One reason I'm sure is that there were no marquee-type performers this year. A year ago everyone was asking where Chris Webber and Jalen Rose were going to attend college and the interest was intense.

Not so this year. I'd gamble that not one basketball fan in 10 can tell the name of this year's Mr. Basketball, symbolic of the state's best player.

It is Kenyon Murray from Battle Creek Central.

Your neighbor says Pot admission not enough to sway vote

There has been a series of revelations about Arkansas Gov. Bill Clinton that have turned away many potential supporters in his drive to secure the nomination for president of the United States.

The most recent is his admission that while a student at Oxford, England, he did smoke a very limited amount of pot. He also says that he never smoked it in the United States and never broke any of his country's laws.

Ida Jewett, Cass City widow, feels that is not enough to sway the vote for or against Clinton. Jewett declined to say whom she voted for in the presidential primary, but said she did vote Democratic this year. I'm not a Democrat or a Republican, Jewett said, and resented having to declare a party affiliation when she voted.

Talking with Jewett, it is evident that she is discouraged with all the current office holders and would like to see a change.

Jewett has been a resident of Cass City for 21 years, coming to the community from Cheboygan. She has 3 children, Tim Jewett of Cass City, Linda Ackerman in Ohio and Rita Murphy in Illinois.

Mutual Savings airs plan of conversion

Mutual Savings Bank of Bay City has announced plans to convert from a federally chartered mutual savings bank to a federally chartered capital stock savings bank, according to Wendell L. Evans Jr., the firm's chairman and president.

The bank expects to file by mid-April an application for conversion with the Office of Thrift Supervision. The bank's plan of conversion is also subject to approval by its members. After regulatory approval is received, a special meeting will be scheduled for that purpose.

Mutual Savings Bank will offer shares of its common stock for sale to members of Mutual Savings Bank and to members of the general public in a Subscription and Community Offering.

If all shares of Mutual Savings Bank's common stock are not subscribed for in the subscription and community offering, a syndicated community offering will follow. Adams Cohen Securities Inc. of Great Neck, N.Y., will manage both the subscription and community offering and the syndicated community offering for the association.

The conversion will not alter the customers' relationships with Mutual Savings Bank, Evans pointed out. The terms of mortgage loans and payment schedules will remain unchanged, and all savings plans will continue to offer the same interest rates and maturities. Deposits will continue to be insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

Mutual Savings has assets of $708 million and 25 branch offices located throughout Michigan. The bank was founded in 1887.

Erla's joins "Food Aid for Michigan"

Erla's Foodcenter will join more than 500 other supermarkets and grocery stores across the state to support "Food Aid for Michigan" during the month of April. Sponsored by the Michigan Grocers Association, Food Aid raises money for 12 regional food bank distribution centers. Together, the 12 food banks supply 1,100 shelters, church food pantries, child nutrition programs, senior centers, and other agencies located throughout Michigan.

Food Aid contributions are generated by consumer purchases in April of manufacturer-designated food products. In all, more than 75 items are part of the program. "We have made it easy for our customers to help in this effort" said Char Krueger of Erla's Foodcenter. "The Food Aid products represent a great variety of name brand, every-day items; many at special prices."

Tuscola voters face 4 millage renewal questions

Tuscola County residents will be asked to renew 4 expiring county-wide millages this summer.

County commissioners last week voted to place the millage questions before voters in the Aug. 4 primary.

The proposals are:

- *.5 of a mill for bridge repairs for 4 years, 1992-95 (raises about $329,000 a year).
- *One mill for primary road improvements for 2 years, 1992-93 (raises about $657,000 a year).
- *.2 of a mill for senior citizen services for 6 years, 1992-97 (raises $131,000 a year), and
- *.9 of a mill for the sheriff's road patrol for 6 years (raises about $592,000 a year).

Among the commissioners' aims is to prevent all the millages from expiring at the same time again, county Controller Michael Hoagland said. "They're purposely staggering them so that no more than 2 come due at one time in the future."

Hoagland remarked the special millages, including .25 of a mill for Medical Care operations which is locked in through 1996, are "vital to the county's operations."

The combined millages raise some $1.87 million a year for the various services.

Circuit court proceedings

Escape nets more prison time

Six people were sentenced and 3 others entered pleas during a busy motion day Friday in Tuscola County Circuit Court.

Those sentenced were:

- *Inmate Richard L. Henry, 47, was ordered to serve 5 years to 10 years in prison for a jury verdict of guilty to prison escape and his plea of guilty to being an habitual offender. The prison term is to run consecutive with other sentencing already imposed on the defendant.

- Henry escaped from the Camp Tuscola Correctional Facility, Caro, Oct. 24, 1990, according to court records, which state he has been convicted on 5 previous felony offenses, including armed robbery and second degree murder.

- *Inmate Dennis L. Butch, 24, was sentenced to 20 months to 30 months in prison for his plea of guilty to receiving and concealing a stolen 1988 Ford pickup truck May 2 in Vassar.

Butch, who is currently serving a prison term for uttering and publishing, also was ordered to pay $13,000 in restitution.

- *Thomas A. Wood, 27, of Gagetown, was sentenced for his plea of no contest to felonious driving and operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, second offense.

On the first count, Wood was ordered to serve 3 years probation and 270 days in the county jail, with permission to take part in the work site program after 30 days. He also was ordered to pay a $30 victim crime fee, $500 fine and court costs of $500 plus attorneys fees.

Wood was sentenced to 180 days in jail and ordered to pay $250 in restitution on the second charge.

Both offenses stem from a May 19 traffic accident in Novesta Township in which a pickup truck driven by Wood crossed a road center line and struck a car head-on, resulting in injuries to both drivers and one passenger.

- *Thomas L. Fuller, 28, Vassar, was sentenced to 48 months probation and 365 days in jail for his plea of guilty to delivering marijuana Nov. 6 in Kingston Township.

Fuller also was ordered to pay a $30 victim crime fee, restitution of $300, a $1,000 fine and $1,000 in costs plus attorneys fees.

- *Paul M. Miller, 19, Vassar, was sentenced to 24 months probation and 30 days in jail, and ordered to pay a $30 victim crime fee, restitution of $200, a $200 fine and $200 in court costs for his plea of guilty to larceny in a building.

According to court records, Miller stole Budweiser Party Balls, a Handy Snacks display and food from a store in Reese July 8.

- *Kevin L. Haley, 23, of Caro, was sentenced to one year probation and 15 days in jail for his plea of guilty to attempted alteration of a license plate Jan. 25 in Almer Township.

He also was ordered to pay a $30 victim crime fee, a $300 fine and $300 in costs plus attorneys fees.

Among those entering pleas Friday were:

- *Dennis A. Binder, 18, of Unionville, pleaded no contest to malicious destruction of property under $100 and resisting and obstructing a police officer.

Bond in the case was continued at $5,000 and a pre-sentence investigation was ordered. Sentencing is to be scheduled.

Court records state the charges stem from a March 6 incident in Unionville involving Unionville police and a Unionville Police Department patrol vehicle.

- *Kirk W. Davis, 37, Davison, entered a plea of guilty to operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, third offense, March 6 in Millington Township.

4 arraigned on felony charges in district court

A Millington man was arraigned Thursday in Tuscola County District Court on several charges, including drunk driving and resisting a police officer.

Lane M. Schmitzer, 32, faces charges of resisting and obstructing a police officer, altering a license plate, possession of an open intoxicant in a motor vehicle, possession of marijuana and operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, subsequent offense, March 25 in Millington Township.

Schmitzer was to have faced a preliminary examination on the charges today (Wednesday). His bond has been set at $5,000.

Others arraigned recently on felony charges in district court are:

*Gordon D. Peters, 51, Kingston, is charged with driving with a revoked license, unlawful use of a license plate and operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, third offense, March 22 in Cass City.

Bond for the defendant was set at $50,000. His preliminary exam was to have been held today.

Peters was arraigned Friday in Tuscola County Circuit Court on a charge of probation violation in connection with the March 22 arrest.

A $1,000 cash bond was set in that case. Peters pleaded innocent, according to court records, which state he was initially placed on probation following an April 6, 1990, conviction on a charge of drunk driving.

*Derek M. Fackler, 19, Lapeer, and Darin M. Fack-ler, 29, Caro, each face one count of receiving and concealing stolen property valued at more than $100.

The pair are accused of receiving and concealing a stolen snowmobile Dec. 14 in Indianfields Township, court records state.

Bond for each of the defendants was set at $2,000. Preliminary exams in the case are scheduled for 9 a.m. April 8.

Police investigate theft, break-in in Cass City

Complaints involving breaking and entering and theft were filed recently with the Cass City Police Department.

Police were dispatched to the Herbert and Marion Head residence, 6337 Pine St., Sunday after someone broke into the dwelling.

The person or persons responsible entered through a rear door and, once inside, forced open another door to gain entry, according to reports, which indicate it isn't certain whether any property was taken.

Police noted there have been 3 previous incidents of forced entry and malicious destruction of property at the residence.

The theft was reported by Jeff Penrod, who told police someone stole a cellular telephone from his vehicle some time between 6:30 and 6:45 a.m. Thursday at the Charmont Motel, 6138 E. Cass City Rd.

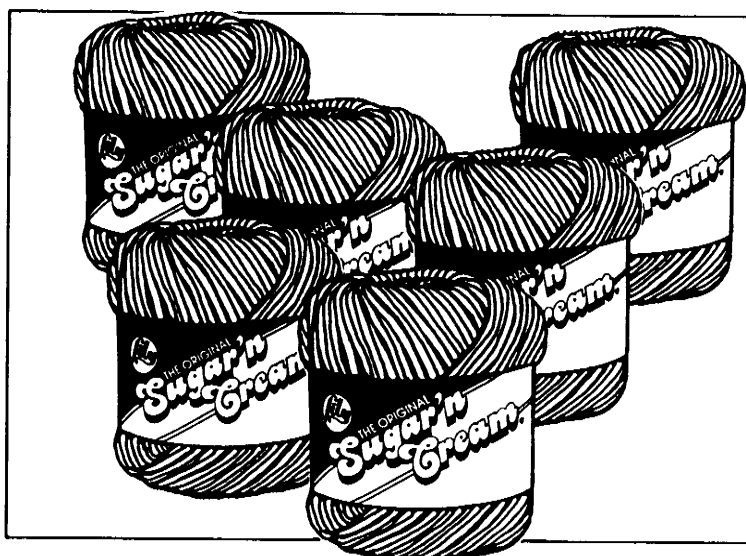

The phone, which is owned by the AT&T Company, is valued at $300.

Screening program offered

A cancer screening program is available for women living in Huron, Sanilac and Tuscola counties. Clinics for breast and cervical screening for women age 40 and older are being held at the Thumb area health departments.

Appointments are made at the health departments in Bad Axe, Sandusky and Caro. The program is coordinated by Judy Asher, R.N., who will review each woman's medical history and teach self-breast exam techniques. The program also includes a clinical breast exam, a pelvic exam, a Pap test by a nurse practitioner. The women will be scheduled for a mammogram at a local hospital. Results of all tests will also be sent to the women's private physicians.

These services are being targeted toward low income women or ones who have limited or no health insurance. A sliding scale fee is available for others and insurance companies will be billed if a woman has insurance coverage.

One in every 9 women will develop breast cancer. Each year over 40,000 women in the United States, including 1,500 in Michigan, die of breast cancer. Very early detection is the most important factor in preventing these deaths. Ninety percent of the cases of breast cancer are in women over age 50. Self-breast exams (SBE) are taught to women and should be done every month, although a mammogram can identify a much smaller lump. Mammographies are able to detect a lump in the breast as small as the head of a pin.

In 1989 there were 515 women in Michigan who were diagnosed with cervical cancer. One of every 4 new cases of cervical cancer was in women 65 years and older. Many younger women receive a regular Pap test along with family planning services. However, it is equally important for women beyond menopause to have the same test each year. An annual Pap test can detect very early cervical cancer.

The American Cancer Society offers these mammography guidelines for asymptomatic women:

- * Begin mammography by age 40
- * Age 40-49: mammogram every 1-2 years
- * Over age 50: annual mammogram

The good news is that the 5-year survival rate for localized breast cancer has risen from 78% in the 1940s to 92% today. If the cancer is not invasive, the survival rate approaches 100%.

Women who are 40 years of age and older may schedule an appointment at the Huron, Sanilac or Tuscola County Health Departments for a breast and cervical cancer screening. Call 1-800-833-8550 for more information and to schedule an appointment.

Activities slated for National Library Week

Rawson Memorial Library, Cass City, will celebrate National Library Week, April 6-11, with a host of activities.

"Night of a Thousand Stars" will kick off the week long celebration. Community "stars" will read their favorite selections aloud Monday starting at 7 p.m. Participants this year will be the Rev. Cliff Jordan, Cass City School Supt. Kenneth Micklash, Tuscola County District Judge Kim D. Glaspie, Sister Nancy Ayotte and Tuscola County Commissioner Elsie Hicks.

In addition, young "stars" Jill Wright, Leah Shagene, Lindsey Maharg, Rachel Hoard and Janis Mastie will perform their sixth grade

Academic Track competition pieces.

As a special thank-you to library patrons, various events are planned each day during the week, including a free video day, no fines day and free copies day. Patrons may sign up any time during the week for a drawing to be held Saturday. Prizes will be awarded to both adults and children.

Also scheduled for Saturday is a Travelogue to England and Scotland, which will be presented at 7 p.m. by Sally Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edsel Connell of Shabbona.

Allen, a professional photographer from Bay City, will present slides taken during her month long trip in 1989.

New books at the library

THE MEDICAID PLANNING HANDBOOK: A GUIDE TO PROTECTING YOUR FAMILY'S ASSETS FROM CATASTROPHIC NURSING HOME COSTS by Alexander A. Bove (non-fiction). To Bove, protecting one's savings, investments, and retirement funds from bankruptcies through Medicaid planning is a moral obligation. How Medicaid works, various states' eligibility rules, and how marriage affects benefits occupy Bove's opening chapters, while understanding such planning issues as asset transfer, exempt assets, jointly held assets, and the role children can play in sheltering assets are all critically reviewed later. The book is at its best when detailing strategies for effectively protecting assets through trusts, property gifts, and life estates as well as when pointing out the pitfalls of divorce and prenuptial agreements. Supplemental policy considerations, power-of-attorney issues, mental incompetence, probate court, and the predicament of the healthy spouse who must deal with spousal responsibilities are all well-covered.

CROSSING ANTARCTICA by Will Steger and Jon Bowermaster (non-fiction). In the era of couch potatoes, rest assured that the spirit of adventure still reigns for the 6 members of the Trans-Antarctica team who were willing and able to venture out against all odds. The international group was fueled by a desire to increase awareness worldwide of the need to protect and preserve this magnificent land from harmful development. Risking their lives, they challenged preconceived notions of what the human body can endure - experiencing "summer" temperatures of -65 degrees F with windchills practically beyond comprehension. Steger recounts the excitement of the ordeal. His journal describes a terrifyingly beautiful continent, the men of the team, their trusted dogs, and the awesome challenges of the journey: the successful traversing (nearly 4,000 miles) of the breadth of Antarctica.

YOU MEAN I DON'T HAVE TO FEEL THIS WAY? NEW HELP FOR DEPRESSION, ANXIETY, AND ADDICTION by Colette Dowling (non-fiction). The author challenges the popular belief that depression, panic disorder, addictions and a host of other psychiatric problems result from events in childhood or moral weakness. Witness to both her daughter's and husband's severe depression, she became convinced that biochemical - not psychological - difficulties were the cause. She presents the latest research in brain chemistry and argues that a lack of serotonin - a natural "feel-good" chemical - is responsible for an array of mental and mood disorders. Alcoholics, for example, are attempting to replace the missing chemical and maybe better helped through drug therapy than by 12-step and other nonmedical treatment programs. Similarly, people who suffer from chronic depression or anxiety attacks may be cured by taking antidepressants. (Although well-written and carefully researched, the book oversimplifies a serious issue and, in effect, claims that all problems can be eradicated by taking a "magic pill," while dismissing the role of traditional psychotherapy.)

Trip Club sponsors "Spring Fling '92"

The Owendale-Gagetown
Trip Club sponsored its first "Spring Fling '92" March 21
at Owendale High School.

The event was deemed a big success and consisted of a style show, bake sale, craft sale and games for young children.

Over 300 people viewed the 80 fashions modeled by trip club members, parents, teachers and children from the community.

The show began with the preschool children modeling their homemade Easter bonnets, which was a home project with their parents.
Each girl was escorted by a classmate who was dressed in Easter attire as well. The rest of the models showed clothing from several different stores.

Fashions ranged from swimwear to sportswear to dressy attire, including prom dresses. The finale was the modeling of a wedding dress.

Townships hold annual meets

Township residents will be asked to approve .75 of a mill for library services. For the owner of a $40,000 home, the tax would cost an additional $15 a year.

Approval of the millage — the same amount being paid by residents of Cass City, Elkland and Elmwood townships — would give Novesta Township membership in the Rawson Memorial Library District and representation on the library board.

The millage would raise about $10,450. Currently, Novesta Township pays an annual fee of $1,462 for library services.

Library officials say that amount represents about 2.6 percent of tax revenues received by the library, while Novesta residents account for about 19 percent of library use.

Township residents rejected the same millage question in November 1990, 214-150.

Kloc indicated residents can expect to pay more for library services in the future. If voters reject the millage question, it's likely the cost will be increased through a service contract or other means, she said.

ELLINGTON

A majority of 25 residents in attendance at the Ellington Township annual meeting also had road work on their mind, according to township Clerk Fred Bardwell.

The residents, who reside along a 3 mile stretch of Shabbona Road, from Hurds Corner Road to Dodge Road, asked for a commitment from the township to improve the road, he said.

Bardwell said officials indicated they would try to make some improvements, but the work would have to be limited to one mile this year.

The consensus of residents was that the township should start at the west end, from Hurds Corner Road to Duprey Road, and the Township Board agreed to ask for estimates on grading, ditching and gravel for the one-mile section.

If approved, Bardwell said the work will be paid for with road funds not already earmarked for specific projects in the coming year. In all, the township plans to spend about $111,000 on roads in 1992-93, he said, adding $50,000 of that amount hasn't been spoken for yet.

The large expenditure for road work has been typical in the township in recent years thanks to a special 10-year, 3-mill road millage, which raises about $40,000 a year.

Bardwell said 1992-93 road improvements, which will be paid for out of both the township's General Fund and Road Fund, include $62,200 for 4 projects:

- *A half-mile of ditching and grading on Hurds Corner Road, from M-81 to Akron Road ($27,000).
- *Final seal coat on 3 miles of Akron Road, from Hurds Corner Road to Dodge Road ($22,200).
- *Blacktop on one mile of Dutcher Road, from Hurds Corner Road to Jacob Road ($10,000).
- *Ditching and base gravel on .4 of a mile of Dutcher Road, from Hurds Corner Road east ($3,000).

Also scheduled to be completed is one mile of blacktop on Hurds Corner Road, from Deckerville to Shabbona Road. The township has already paid for the $12,250 improvement.

Bardwell pointed out that each of the projects has been approved in accordance with a 10-year road plan drafted by the township.

In other business during the 2-hour annual meeting, Bardwell outlined planned 1992-93 expenditures, which are expected to be slightly lower than actual expenditures the year before.

The proposed 1992-93 General Fund totals

$130,229, according to Bardwell, who said expenditures are set at $105,000. The fund totaled $143,000 in 1991-92, and spending totaled $107,000.

The township's Fire Fund is set at $15,612 in the coming year. Expenditures are set at about $9,000, compared to $11,812 in 1991-92.

The 1992-93 Road Fund totals $56,785, with planned spending set at $51,785, compared to $36,500 in 1991-92.

Bardwell said no changes were made in township officials' salaries.

EVERGREEN

Fourteen residents attended the Evergreen Township annual meeting, which lasted about 90 minutes, township Clerk Arthur Severance reported.

Those in attendance reviewed a proposed 1992-93 budget totalling $81,401, which includes $25,732 carried over from the year before, Severance said. He added that projected expenditures are set at $74,000, including $20,000 for roads.

Also reviewed was the 1991-92 spending plan, which totaled $158,000, including $81,000 carried over from the year before.

Severance pointed out that the 1991-92 budget included more than $80,000 spent on roads. The projects, funded by a special one-mill road millage that raises about $11,000 a year, included paving 2 miles each of Decker and Germania Roads.

DETROIT MAN INJURED AS CAR SLIPS INTO DITCH

A Detroit man was treated at Hills and Dales General Hospital, Cass City, then released following a one-vehicle accident about 5 miles southwest of Kingston last Wednesday.

Tuscola County Sheriff's deputies reported that Merle A. Miles, 59, Detroit, was driving north on Plain Road south of Phelps Lake Road at about 6:45 p.m. when he lost control of his vehicle, which slid sideways, hit a tree and flipped onto its top in a ditch. Reports indicate Miles was wearing a seat belt at the time of the crash.

If approved, Bardwell said the work will be paid for with road funds not already earmarked for specific projects in the coming year. In all, the township plans to spend about $111,000 on roads in 1992-93, he said, adding $50,000 of that amount hasn't been spoken for yet.

In other business during the 2-hour annual meeting, Bardwell outlined planned 1992-93 expenditures, which are expected to be slightly lower than actual expenditures the year before.

The proposed 1992-93 General Fund totals

$130,229, according to Bardwell, who said expenditures are set at $105,000. The fund totaled $143,000 in 1991-92, and spending totaled $107,000.

The township's Fire Fund is set at $15,612 in the coming year. Expenditures are set at about $9,000, compared to $11,812 in 1991-92.

The 1992-93 Road Fund totals $56,785, with planned spending set at $51,785, compared to $36,500 in 1991-92.

Bardwell said no changes were made in township officials' salaries.

EVERGREEN

Fourteen residents attended the Evergreen Township annual meeting, which lasted about 90 minutes, township Clerk Arthur Severance reported.

Those in attendance reviewed a proposed 1992-93 budget totalling $81,401, which includes $25,732 carried over from the year before, Severance said. He added that projected expenditures are set at $74,000, including $20,000 for roads.

Also reviewed was the 1991-92 spending plan, which totaled $158,000, including $81,000 carried over from the year before.

Severance pointed out that the 1991-92 budget included more than $80,000 spent on roads. The projects, funded by a special one-mill road millage that raises about $11,000 a year, included paving 2 miles each of Decker and Germania Roads.

DETROIT MAN INJURED AS CAR SLIPS INTO DITCH

A Detroit man was treated at Hills and Dales General Hospital, Cass City, then released following a one-vehicle accident about 5 miles southwest of Kingston last Wednesday.

Tuscola County Sheriff's deputies reported that Merle A. Miles, 59, Detroit, was driving north on Plain Road south of Phelps Lake Road at about 6:45 p.m. when he lost control of his vehicle, which slid sideways, hit a tree and flipped onto its top in a ditch. Reports indicate Miles was wearing a seat belt at the time of the crash.

If approved, Bardwell said the work will be paid for with road funds not already earmarked for specific projects in the coming year. In all, the township plans to spend about $111,000 on roads in 1992-93, he said, adding $50,000 of that amount hasn't been spoken for yet.

The large expenditure for road work has been typical in the township in recent years thanks to a special 10-year, 3-mill road millage, which raises about $40,000 a year.

Bardwell said 1992-93 road improvements, which will be paid for out of both the township's General Fund and Road Fund, include $62,200 for 4 projects:

- *A half-mile of ditching and grading on Hurds Corner Road, from M-81 to Akron Road ($27,000).
- *Final seal coat on 3 miles of Akron Road, from Hurds Corner Road to Dodge Road ($22,200).
- *Blacktop on one mile of Dutcher Road, from Hurds Corner Road to Jacob Road ($10,000).
- *Ditching and base gravel on .4 of a mile of Dutcher Road, from Hurds Corner Road east ($3,000).

Also scheduled to be completed is one mile of blacktop on Hurds Corner Road, from Deckerville to Shabbona Road. The township has already paid for the $12,250 improvement.

Bardwell pointed out that each of the projects has been approved in accordance with a 10-year road plan drafted by the township.

SPRING AND GOLF go hand in hand, and probably few area residents are as anxious to hit the links as Cass City's Dick Erla, who'll be golfing in style with his custom Mercedes golf cart. Erla, who golfs throughout the winter and summer months, recently purchased the unique cart from the owner of a Holly-based golf cart distributor.

Welch appeal denied

The State Court of Appeals recently issued an opinion in which it affirmed the sentence of 5 to 14 years in prison in the case of the People vs. Gary David Welch.

Welch pleaded guilty to uttering and publishing before Tuscola County Circuit Judge Patrick R. Joslyn in December 1989. He was represented at the trial court level by Terry Houthoofd of Caro.

The defendant appealed his conviction and sentence to the Court of Appeals. He claimed that Joslyn did not allow his attorney enough time to explain what sentence would be fair, but the Court of Appeals ruled this was not the case.

The panel of Judges for the Court of Appeals were Robert Danhof, Chief Justice; John Shepherd and Marilyn Kelly.
