Volunteers still needed

Festival plans take shape

July 4 festival are taking shape, but members of the committee in charge of the annual celebration are still looking for volunteers to help out.

The committee was scheduled to meet Tuesday at 7 p.m. at the Charmont.

"One of the things we're trying to do is come up with more games and activities for kids" of all ages, said veteran committee co-chairman Geraldine Prieskorn.

"We've got lots of ideas, (but) at this point, we need people to help us do that."

This year's festival will feature a few events Thursday and Friday, July 2 and 3, but the bulk of the celebration is scheduled for Saturday, July 4. Activities will include new attractions as

New this year will be a golf tournament at Rolling Hills Golf Course. Prieskorn said proceeds from the event will be used to help pay for festival expenses, including the fireworks display, a popular tradition that marks the end of the celebration. Also Thursday, the Little Miss Pageant is expected to re-

Friday night will appeal to classic auto enthusiasts, who are invited to participate in Cruise Night as well as get a close look at classic cars on display at the village park. Both events are sponsored by the Thumb Area Antique Auto Club.

New to the festival this year will be a "street dance," also slated for Friday.

The annual parade will get underway Saturday at 11

New events will include a dog show sponsored by the Thumb of Michigan Dog Fanciers, and a Revolutionary War Unit set up in the park, with soldiers playing music from that era. No battle re-enactment is planned this year. Prieskorn noted committee members also have discussed allowing outside groups to operate food concessions this year. Also on tap Saturday are arts and crafts, swimming pool activities, a flea market, tennis and 3-man basketball tournaments, beach bingo, little league all-star games, a teen dance and entertainment by Windfall, the Sally Doerr Dancers and Moore's "Stars of Tomorrow." The weekend will be topped off with the fireworks display.

Fire razes barn

A Shabbona area barn was leveled by fire last Wednesday night.

Elkland Township fire fighters were called to the Matthew Heronemus residence, located about a mile and a half east of M-53 at 5780 Shabbona Rd., at about 9:30 p.m.

They arrived to find the 24foot by 40-foot structure already burned to the ground. The fire had burned for some time before the owner realized what was happening, according to Fire Chief Dick Root, who said Heronemus was alerted when the lights in his home began flickering.

Aside from the barn, Heronemus lost a pair of riding lawn mowers, a power cement trowel, some saddles and a quantity of feed for his horses, which escaped injury.

Root estimated the loss at $8,000 to $10,000. He said the property is insured. Cause of the blaze remains

We need more courses like this, Fred Matthews said, and less courses like third year French.

Micklash then said that he felt that Matthews was right in that schools have to change to present courses for the 35 percent that will not attend college and prepare them for getting a job. In today's market it is essential, he continued.

The school has already started this change with the new Middle School concept and on the horizon are practical courses in applied math and applied English. All schools will need to change, Micklash said, it's inevitable.

Several policy changes were adopted at the meeting that had been presented the previous month.

The Cass City School District officially adopted a plan so that students can attend the building of their choice within the district provided that there is room in the class for them.

The parents of any student in grades K-3 can ask for a transfer from the school area in which he or she now lives. If there is room in the grade, the transfer will be made. If more students ask for trans-

The state's school superintendents average $66,577 a year, reports MASB's Labor Relations Service. That figure puts them $13,000 beschool executives.

For high school principals, the gap is not so wide about $5,000 below the national average. They earn an average of $56,763 a year compared to $61,768 for their counterparts in other U.S. high schools.

At lower levels, the gap tends to narrow, said Susan

Hey! The trial of former police Chief Hart for stealing $2.6 million isn't even over yet and someone has already written a song about it? That's amazing. It was only Tuesday that Laura Hart testified her husband had thousands of dollars in cash to spend on his girlfriends because they were a frugal couple who managed to save stacks of cash in tin boxes hidden around the house. She even brought some tin boxes to court with her.

Here are some more astonishingly timely lyrics from "Little Tin Box".

How about that? Most people are still trying to figure out how Detroit was lucky enough to get a police chief so dumb he didn't put his money in the bank to earn interest. Most of us are still bewildered by the idea of a chief law officer who, according to sworn tes-timony of fellow law officers, regularly played poker for thousands of dollars. Which is of questionable legality.

VERDICT NOT EVEN IN YET

But someone has remained cool enough to write a wise and witty song honoring the Harts' tin box before the verdict is even in? Not really. "Little Tin Box" was written more than 30 years ago by Sheldon Harnick and Jerry Bock for the Broadway musical "Fiorello!" based on the life of former New York Mayor Fiorello La Guardia.

Betty Bright remembers seeing "Fiorello!" at the Riviera in Detroit in 1960. She suggested it might be revived and renamed "Hart!" Yes, yes. It could be staged as a fund-raiser for Detroit taxpayers who are still paying William Hart's salary of around $100,000 a year.

Which he is putting into a little tin box, of course.

Each teen is expected to translate what he or she learned about issues in Lansing to local community action.

Regardless of whether it's used or not, I was happy to see that the Lake Michigan Carferry will be in back in operation again this summer from Ludington to Manitowoc, starting

It's a 4-hour trip across and one that I have taken several times. The new owners are plunging a half million dollars into the venture. Until June 26 there will be one trip a day, leaving at 7:30 a.m. from Ludington and 12:30 p.m. from Manitowoc. After June 26 another evening crossing will start. Charges are $40 for a car and $30 each for adult passengers.

Cooperation between the school and the Rotary Club was great recently. The Rotary Club planned its second annual returnable bottle and can pick up for May 2. Meanwhile a class at the school announced a similar drive prior to the one planned by Rotary.

After discussion, the school abandoned its drive and members of the track team will help with the pick up. Folks wishing to help can place cans and bottles they wish to donate in front of their homes. All the proceeds will help the club pay for its donation to the new track at the park.

Today (Wednesday) is girl scout leader day in Tuscola County and it's suggested that if you know a leader, take a moment to say thanks. There are 10 of them serving about 70 scouts in the troop that services Cass City, Deford, Owendale and Gagetown.

These are the leaders that make the program go. Karen Spencer, Gail Ryan, Faith Fahrner, Barb Adams, Kathy O'Dell, Carrie Dohn, Mary Bellow, Patsy Bulla, Mary McClosky and Susan Dyer.

TAKE THE TEST - KNOW THE SCORE

7 million people have diabetes and don't know it. Are you one of them? Take this simple test to find out if you are at risk for diabetes.

14 million people in the United Sates have diabetes. Because the symptoms are sometimes difficult to detect, half of the people with diabetes don't know they have it. Diabetes is a serious disease. Its complications kill 150,000 each year.

Here are the facts:

- Diabetes is the fourth-leading cause of death by disease in America.
- 750,000 Americans will be diagnosed with diabetes in this year alone.
- Diabetes is the leading cause of new blindness in people ages 25-74.
- Diabetes is the most common cause of kidney disease requiring transplantation or dialysis.
- People with diabetes are twice as likely to suffer from heart disease and two to six times more likely to suffer a stroke than people without diabetes.
- Some birth defects in newborns are more frequent for mothers with diabetes than for mothers without diabetes.

What to do about it:

Be sure you know the symptoms of diabetes. If you experience any of them, contact your doctor for further testing.

Write in the points next to each statement that is true for you.

If a statement is not true for you, put a zero. Then add up your total score.

1. I have been experiencing one or more of the following symptoms on a regular basis:

• excessive thirst. YES 3

• frequent urination YES 3

• extreme fatigue YES 1

• unexplained weight loss YES 3

• blurry vision from time to time YES 2

2. I am over 30 years old YES 1

3. My weight is equal to or above that listed on the chart below YES 2

4. I am a woman who has had more than one baby weighing over 9 lbs. at birth YES 2

5. I am of Native American Indian descent YES 1

6. I am of Latino or African-American descent YES 1

7. I have a parent with diabetes YES 2

8. I have a brother or sister with diabetes YES 2

The American Diabetes Association urges all pregnant women to be tested for diabetes between the 24th-28th weeks of pregnancy.

This test is meant to educate and make you aware of the serious risks of diabetes. Only a medical doctor can determine if you do have diabetes.

These charts show weights that are 20% heavier than what is recommended for both men and women with a medium frame. If your weight is above the amous shown for your height, you may be at risk for developing diabetes.

How to score your test:

Scoring 3-5 points:

If you scored 3-5 points, you probably are at low risk for diabetes. But don't just forget about it. Especially if you have a family history of diabetes, are over 30, overweight, or of Latino, African-American, or Native American Indian descent.

Scoring over 5 points:

If you scored over 5 points, you may be at high risk for diabetes. You even may already have diabetes.

What to do about it:

See your doctor promptly. Find out if you have diabetes. Even if you don't have diabetes, know the symptoms. If you experience any of them in the future, you should see your doctor immediately.

Cass City couple gearing up for year in Africa grich had planned all along to remain active in their retirement years, but spending a year working in Africa wasn't exactly what they had in mind.

Yet, the Cass City area couple have eagerly accepted the challenge and are busily planning and packing. Their plane leaves May

"This is quite an adventure for us," Veron remarked Friday. "We've never done anything like it, or even thought we'd do anything like it.'

The Gingriches, who are members of the First Baptist Church in Cass City, explained they'll be serving as Lenora said she expects to Africa. At the time, Veron Togo, West Africa, through the Association of Baptists for World Evangelism organization.

Interestingly, they will be swapping jobs and homes with another area couple, Dave and Janet Moody, who will return to Cass City on a year-long furlough following completion of their second 3-year term as missionaries in Togo.

Veron noted that, like the Moodys, he and his wife will be working at a hospital compound. "We're going to be helpers, really," he added. "I'll be doing maintenance.'

short term missionaries in take on any number of jobs ranging from housekeeping to filling prescriptions. "I could even end up in the operating room, or the school or library (for missionary children)" she commented.

The Gingriches feel prepared for their duties; Lenora worked in housekeeping for a number of years, while Veron was employed by the Cass City Schools for 34 years, serving as a custodian, bus supervisor and head of mainte-

In retirement, the couple had planned to put their skills to work during the winter months at Spurgeon Baptist Bible College in Mulberry, Fla.

The invitation was repeated last August, after Moody had returned to the area to attend his mother's funeral.

"He says, 'Well, you coming over?'," Veron recalled, adding, "I said, yes, if the Lord's willing.'

The answer to that question has since been made crystal clear, according to the Gingriches.

"We felt it was the Lord's will because there was no hindrance," Veron remarked. He pointed out there haven't been any problems with getting shots and passports, and completing the required interviews.

"Everything we started went through," Lenora agreed.

SUPPORT

The couple, who will have to support themselves while in the field, have packed a large container filled with food and paper and soap products to be shipped to their destination.

"We anticipate that de-

Preparation also has come in the form of learning about the culture in Togo. The Moodys' son shot a video of the area, hospital and the Moodys' home, and that helped, Veron indicated.

"It gave us a good insight into the style of living there. The culture's going to be completely different.'

For example, the couple said, handing something to someone with the left hand denotes evil, so only the right hand is used; women don't cross their legs in the male dominated society because that would make them equal with men, and only prostitutes wear slacks.

The Gingriches, whose first 2 weeks will be an orientation period spent with the Moodys, will have to get used to taking malaria medication every week, and wash all their vegetables in bleach due to the unsanitary condi-

With their journey only 10 days away, the couple said they're constantly on the go, attending weddings and gatherings with friends and family, as well as packing clothing and taking care of loose ends at home.

"The hardest thing is leaving family, because we're very close," Lenora remarked.

"We've prayed about it as much as we can, and we have an army of people praying for us," Veron said. "If the Lord's in it, then we know it will work out."

"We just feel the Lord can use us in a small capacity, in our small way.'

6th inning fatal for Bulldogs in 10-9 loss

Things were going along smoothly at Gagetown Monday, April 13, as the Bulldogs were comfortably ahead of visiting North Branch Weslevan, and then in the sixth inning the roof fell in and the Bulldogs bowed, 10-9.

Jill Salcido was sailing along with a 9-2 lead in the first 5 innings before the fateful sixth. Owen-Gage opened with a pair of runs in the first on walks to Becky Harder and Lori Ondrajka, followed by singles by Michelle Tkacz and Aimee Merchant.

In the second it looked as if the Bulldogs were going to coast to a win as they chalked up 5 big runs on 3 hits, 2 walks and a pair of Wesleyan got 2 of the runs back in the fourth on a couple of walks and a hit.

In the fatal sixth, the visitors sent 14 players to the plate, knocking Salcido from the box and treating reliever Tkacz equally harshly. In the inning Wesleyan scored 8 times. The winners hammered out 6 hits, 5 walks and were helped by a costly error. We made a lot of mental mistakes, Coach Dean Roller said, and we need to get more hitting.

Beth Case chalked up the win for Wesleyan and after the fourth inning, shut down the Bulldogs without a hit. Tkacz was charged with the

In 5 1/3 innings Salcido was charged with 2 runs, 2 hits, struck out 6 and walked 7. Tkacz in an inning and two-thirds allowed 5 hits, 8 runs, 4 walks and struck out 2. Case allowed 8 hits, 9 runs, walked 6 and struck out 7.

Tkacz and Salcido were the leading Bulldog hitters, each with a double and a single.

Library millage would improve financial outlook, equity--officials

Approval of a library millage by residents in Novesta Township would go a long way towards improving Rawson Memorial Library's overall financial outlook as well as equity among those using and paying for library services. That's according to library officials, who say they've had to dip into fund balance to meet budget deficits in 3 of the past 4 years.

"We're going to think positive that this (millage) will pass. If it doesn't, we're going to have to go back to the drawing board," said Barbara Hutchinson, library $10,450 in taxes for the lidirector.

Hutchinson pointed out the township is going to have to pay its fair share whether or not the millage passes. However, she added, "I don't think there's any way for them to pay their fair share without approving the Novesta voters will be asked in August to approve .75 of a mill for library services, the same amount now paid by residents of Cass City, Elkland Township and Elmwood Township.

brary, and membership in the library district and representation on the library board for the township.

The additional funding is needed, Hutchinson said, adding recent budget deficits have shrunk the library's fund balance from $29,731 in 1989 to $17,580 at the end of 1991. The fund, which should total about $25,000, is expected to drop to less than $12,000 by the end of this year. The library operates on a budget totalling $159,350 Approval would mean this year. The spending plan is about 6 percent higher than in 1991.

BIGGEST PROBLEM

Hutchinson indicated the biggest problem is a common one: general expenses have continued to climb faster than income.

One exception is $12,000 spent last year, in addition to grant funding, to implement an automated circulation system. However, Hutchinson noted, the system was an investment that has already begun to save money in the form of hiring less part-time help.

As for funding equity, Hutchinson said Novesta residents account for about 17 percent of library usage, but provide only 2.6 percent of local tax money in the form of a $1 per-capita payment totaling $1,462.

Local tax support comprises about 40 percent of the library's income. Penal fines make up another 28.5 percent, state aid totals 4 percent and "other" sources of income, including gifts and fees, makes up the remaining 27.5 percent.

Elkland Township, which makes up about 55 percent of library usage, contributes more than 66 percent of local taxes received by the library. That figure would be reduced to 57 percent if Novesta voters approve the millage.

USE, TAX DOLLARS

Other municipalities that contribute are:

> Want Help Finding What You Want? Try The Want-Ads

> > Today!

*Elmwood Township, 10 percent of library usage and 22.8 percent of local taxes (20 percent if Novesta joined the district).

*Ellington Township, 3 percent of library usage and .5 percent of local tax money.

*Grant Township, 3 percent of library usage and .5 percent of local tax money.

*Evergreen Township, 6 percent of library usage and 4.26 percent of local taxes,

*Greenleaf Township, 5 percent of library usage and 2.9 percent of local taxes.

Hutchinson noted the library serves only 25 percent of Ellington Township and about one third of Grant Township, and that contributions from both reflect those service areas. The contributions from Evergreen and Greenleaf townships, meanwhile, come from a county-wide library millage totaling .2 of a mill.

Novesta residents previously rejected the proposed library millage, but Hutchinson indicated she hopes voters will approve the question this time.

She said the new millage, along with anticipated increases in penal fines and other income sources, would allow the library to continue offering its full range of services.

"We're not looking at increasing our programs. However, we're hoping to hang on to what we have," she added.

In Cass City Schools, the middle school principal also one elementary principal is such as Chapter I, and the also serves as special education coordinator.
