U.S. veterans will receive recognition Monday for their service to their country luring area Memorial Day activities.

Cass City's parade is slated to commence at 10 a.m. near the Chemical Bank Service Center at 6363 W. Main St.. Cass City Councilman Les Karr said.

"It's a salute to the veterans," Karr added.

Many groups are planning to take part in the parade, including members of the girls and boys little league baseball teams, representatives of the local Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Cub Scouts and Brownie troops and the Cass City Fire Department and Ambulance Service. The Cass City High School Marching Band will supply the music.

The parade will feature lots of bicyclists, and any children who desire to ride their bikes in the parade may do so, Karr said.

And, of course, there will be veterans of all sorts in the parade, including representatives of Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 3644, local historian Jack Esau said. Esau, who is VFW member and World War II veteran of the U.S. Marine Corps, expects more than 30 veterans to don their military uniforms and participate in the parade, either marching or riding in a vehicle.

All veterans, regardless of whether they are VFW members, are welcome to march or ride in the parade, he said.

After the parade kicks off, it will continue east on Main Street through the village until it reaches the Elkland Township Cemetery, where a memorial service will take place around 10:45 a.m.

Esau, who has been master of ceremonies for the event since it began 33 years ago, will introduce this year's speaker, R.W. Mearns, pastor of the Cass City Church of the Nazarene. Some VFW members plan to head to the cemetery around 7

a.m. that day to set up more than 100 American flags honoring deceased area veterans.

Esau said he hopes nature is on Cass City's side for this year's Memorial Day exer-

OTHER PROGRAMS

In Novesta Township a short memorial service with a flag display is slated for 1 p.m. at the Novesta Township Cemetery.

The 53rd annual Memorial Day service at the Grant Township Cemetery will take place May 24 at 2 p.m. The speaker will be Rev. Robert Lewis of the Gagetown Church of the Nazarene. The Owendale-Gagetown Band will provide music, in addition to the combined choir. Veteran and scout groups also will participate.

Union members approve Cable contract, 55-39

Staff Writer

Union members at the General Cable plant in Cass City approved a new contract Friday, but details of the agreement left something to be desired as far as many union members are concerned.

"We were very disappointed with the contract,' said Debi Elliott, president of United Steel Workers of America Local 6222. "The contract didn't show how much they appreciated us."

The some 100-member union voted 55-39 in favor of the proposed 3-year pact, which includes an annual wage increase of 35 cents an hour and higher out-ofpocket insurance costs, according to Elliott, chairwoman of the union's 4member bargaining team.

Bargaining teams started negotiating in April. Thursday the teams met with a mediator in an attempt to reach an agreement. The bargaining team did not recommend the proposal to union members.

Under provisions of the new contract, employees now must pay 80 percent of certain insurance costs where in the past they received full coverage.

Employees also must start covering insurance costs through payroll deduction.

Although union officials expected to receive only a small wage increase, they did not expect such costly insurance changes, especially at a time when General Cable seems to be prospering, Elliott said.

'We have some really bad things happening to us in our insurance.'

Although some employees might not approve of the contract, Jesus Valdez, plant manager, believes overall that its provisions were reasonable.

"The insurance was cut rate directive," Valdez said. This is a national trend that the industry has taken."

"Other than the insurance. the package was very reasonable. Although teamwork and equipment upgrades have helped the Cass City plant prosper recently, that success is not typical of all General Cable factory locations, Valdez said.

"As a matter of fact, as far as I'm concerned, the company is still struggling." In the last few years emhave worked well together and have had a good relationship, but that is likely to change now, Elliott said. Company officials won't see the same levels of cooperation from employees

"They are definitely going to see an impact in the next 3 years," she said.

they have seen in the past.

But Valdez is confident the relationship will not change significantly.

"I think the long-term relationship is still going to be good," he concluded.

Mayville girl dies in tractor accident, Vassar man in car crash

A tractor accident claimed the life of a Mayville girl and seriously injured 2 other people Sunday in Kingston Township.

A Vassar man also died and another was hurt over the weekend in a one-vehicle crash that remains under investigation.

The tractor accident occurred at about 5:30 p.m. in the area of Phillips and Bevens roads, according to troopers at the state police post in Caro, who identified the victim as Sarah E. Mock,

10, of Mayville. Reports state troopers and Kingston police along with area fire and ambulance personnel were dispatched to the scene after receiving a report that a Case 730 tractor ridden by several people had overturned in a gravel pit, pinning 3 subjects under-

Gregory L. Hudie, 30, of Vassar, was killed in the one-vehicle crash, which occurred Saturday in the northwest corner of Koylton Township.

The vehicle involved was northbound on Phillips Road near Denhoff Road at about 6:30 p.m. when the driver lost control, according to reports, which state the vehicle crossed the road center line and left the roadway, striking a bank and going airborne. The car hit a telephone pole and flipped before coming to rest.

A second Vassar resident, Steven J. Radik, 32, was injured in the accident. He was taken by Marlette Ambulance to St. Mary's, where he was listed in fair condition.

No seat belt information was available. The case remains under investigation.

Deputies also reported one person injured in a one-vehicle accident Friday in Kingston Township.

William J. Slinglend, 64, Kingston, was driving westbound on Silvernail Road east of English Road when his vehicle ran off the roadway, according to reports. Deputies said the driver overcorrected, re-entered the roadway, then left the road again, hitting a fence and guide wire. A passenger in the vehicle, Rosealine Slinglend, 61, sustained injuries. Reports indicate she sought her own treatment.

William Slinglend was cited for driving at a speed too fast for conditions in the 9:50 a.m. mishap.

It was inevitable. There out. Never mind, was the answer. If Cuba can produce sugar cheaper than we can, we should buy it from them, he asserted.

> Now, really, I believe that farm subsidies have gotten out of hand in many incidences. The set-aside program and the tobacco price support are 2 that come quickly to mind.

> But if I agreed with David wholeheartedly, would we argue about? And he likes to debate the issues almost as much as I do. Never mind that it doesn't make much sense. I'll bet a cookie there are some idiosyncrasies in your family, > Wishing to score points for my side, I brought up the issue of social security payments. You say we need to eliminate farm support. How about a reduction in your social security benefits to help balance the budget?, I asked with an evil leer.

> He thought he had me when he answered. When I started working and planning for the future, I was told that social security payments would be available. If they want to change it, it should be done so that the worker can plan it. Then I wouldn't care if the eligibility was extended to 70 or 75 years, he said.

Sure, it's someone else's ox that is being gored and that makes it okay, I responded, and then came up with what I felt was a telling point. What about the farmer who has gambled everything on his business with the assumption that he would have the benefit of price support on his pro-

You don't have to be told, do you, that the issue was not resolved.

It does illustrate the problem we face, doesn't it? While the national debt continues to soar and soar everyone cries out that we should cut expenses, cut expenses.

What they really mean is cut the other guy's expenses so that their own individual gravy train will continue to steam along at taxpayer expense.

Our little argument was enjoyed by all as we sat at a table in the middle of a pretty lawn on a beautiful May day.

Really, we both know that social security and farm subsidies are here to stay and, as a nation, we are not even close to coming to grips with any of the economic ills that plague the country.

And, after only a short scream, she surprised me by saying I must have missed a later news report about Jaye and women's rest rooms.

It quoted Jaye as saying that, at the urging of his girlfriend, he'd changed his mind and would support more toilets for women.

Washington. Lincoln. Jefferson. The names of these great American heroes live on in our history books, always to be remembered. Yet on this Memorial Day we'd like to pay tribute to thousands of American heroes whose names we may not know, but whose efforts have made it possible for all of us to enjoy the many freedoms we have today. To all those brave soldiers, who paid with their bodies and souls, we pay our respects and offer our gratitude. Their contributions have not been forgotten.

Candidates file; races set in Novesta, Koylton townships races for township posts as well as the District 2 Tuscola County Board of Commissioners seat, among others offices, in the November General Election.

A host of candidates seeking township, county board and county-wide offices met the May 12 deadline to file nominating petitions.

In Novesta Township, Deford residents Kathleen Newell, a Democrat, and Pennie L. Rienas, a Republican, are vying for the office of clerk, a post being vacated by Nursie Kloc, who is retiring.

Three candidates are seeking 2 trustee posts, meanwhile. They are incumbent Timothy Knoblet, Cass City, and Arlene Paladi, Deford, both Republicans, and Democrat Ronald Patera of Deford. Incumbent Donna Monroe did not Seeking re-election unopposed are Supervisor Maynard Stine, a Democrat from Deford, and Treasurer Ralph A. Zinnecker, also a Deford Democrat.

Races are set for township clerk and trustee in Koylton Township.

Incumbent Clerk James R. Borek, a Clifford Republican, is being challenged by Lynne L. Keeler, Clifford, who filed as an independent candidate. Seeking the 2 trustee seats are incumbents Donald F. Ashton and Douglas R. Kramer, both Republicans from Kingston; independent candidate Thomas M. Beltz, Marlette, and Republican challengers Faye Stoll, Silverwood, and Richard A. Borek, Clifford. Running unopposed are

In Ellington Township, the candidates are Supervisor Jack Kappen, Democrat, Cass City; Treasurer Dora A. Rushlo, Republican, Cass City; Clerk Frederick J. Bardwell Jr., Republican, Caro, and Republican trustees, Robert L. Wood, Cass City, and Frederick H. Janks, Caro.

Seeking re-election in Elmwood Township are Republicans James Turner of Cass City, supervisor; Elaine N. Seibel of Gagetown, clerk, and trustees Kenneth Blue and Joan A. Sattelberg, Cass City. No one filed for the office of treasurer, according to Sattelberg, who said incumbent Richard Patnaude is not running.

COUNTY CANDIDATES

Among those filing for county board seats were former longtime county clerk Elsie Hicks of Deford and retired Cass City businessman Richard (Dick) Erla.

Hicks, a Republican, and Erla, a Democrat, will vie for the seat representing Elkland, Elmwood, Kingston and Novesta Townships. Hicks is the incumbent, having been appointed earlier this year after Mary Lou Burns, Cass City, resigned to accept the job of Friend of the Court.

Other candidates running for county board seats are: District 1 — Incumbent Terry L. Houthoofd, Akron, and James D. Schafer, Unionville, both Republi-

School board hears electronic education update

Supt. Ken Micklash and teacher George Bushong reported to the Cass City School Board at its regular meeting Monday night at the school, the steps the school is taking to move into electronic education.

Micklash reported the reasons why he felt it was important to move into more computer-related education and Bushong told of the steps underway to progress towards that goal.

An invitation was sent to educational, industrial and professional leaders in the community to serve on a Cass City Educational Technology Planning Committee and 21 have accepted, Bushong said.

The group will hold its first meeting at 7 p.m. Thursday, May 28, in the high school library. The board appointed Marilyn Peters as the permanent board representative on the committee.

Bushong said that the with committee's help, would like to change the way computers are used in the school. It was revealed that CNN has a free program that can be taped daily without advertising and used in the classroom. It has the further advantage of program selectivity in that it does not have to be shown like the one that many schools have adopted. In other districts, Micklash said, it has been a problem for teachers who are required to show news programs because of the contract with the firm that installed equipment.

Already wired for cable are the Campbell and Middle schools and the high school will be cable-equipped before school next fall.

There are many, many programs out there, Bushong continued. For instance, for a few hundred dollars an entire set of encyclopedias could be purchased on a single disk, installed in the library and be accessed via computer all through the system.

Programs like those are among the topics to be reviewed at the meeting Thursday.

"We have a very, very supportive community of businessmen," he said. "We are very fortunate to have employers who are willing to take these kids in."

Co-op matches students with local employers in an effort to provide some work experience. At the same time, the students, who earn an average of $2,000, are required to keep up with their studies in 5 classes.

Over the past 20 years, the program has served more than 1,100 Cass City area

Dillon said there were 15 employers and 25 student employees in co-op the first year. The program peaked in 1976, employing 175 of the school's then-700 students. The enrollment has since dropped to some 450, with 75 kids working today.

Aside from a taste of the working world, Dillon said co-op provides young people with a good work reference, experience in managing their earnings and motivation to seek higher education. It also helps them sort out what they like and don't like.

The students get experience, the employer gets good, dependable part-time help and the school system gets to show off its "fine product," he concluded.

Awards program set today

The Cass City seventh and eighth grade annual awards program will be held today (Wednesday) at 7:30 p.m. in the middle school gym.

The program will recognize a number of students who have earned various awards and honors, including the annual Principal's Most Outstanding Student of the Year award.

The public is invited to attend.

Also coming up is the fifth and sixth awards program, slated for May 27 at 2 p.m. in the gym.

In Tuscola County

Trooper eyes sheriff's seat

A 25-year veteran of law enforcement last week announced his plans to seek the office of sheriff in Tuscola County.

He is Michigan State Police Trooper William N. Mac Nicol Jr., 49.

MacNicol began his career as a trooper in East Lansing, then moved to Bridgeport before being assigned to the Caro post in 1974.

The Bay City native, by choice a road officer throughout his career, has since remained at the Tuscola County post, with plans to retire in September.

MacNicol said he's considered running for sheriff over the past several years. Although his career as a trooper is coming to an end, he commented he's too young to retire.

"I feel I have a lot to offer," he said, noting his experience includes 20 years as a labor representative with the Trooper Association. "I think I can change law enforcement and unite the departments into one cooperative unit.'

MacNicol said he believes there's a lot of ill will among departments in the county, caused by an attitude of "we do more work than you do.'

"There's a tremendous amount of real good, profespolice officers in (department)," he "When you work together with everybody, I think you get a lot done. I'm frustrated because (that) doesn't happen and I don't know why.

"I think I can make a difference."

If elected, MacNicol said his choice for undersheriff is State Police Lt. Ben Page, 49, former commander of both the Cadillac and Caro posts and currently commander of the Bridgeport

"Between the 2 of us, you're looking at over 50 years of experience in law enforcement," MacNicol

As for the upcoming election, MacNicol said he's planning on running a clean campaign, one that will focus on offering voters a choice for change.

"I like Tom Kern. I can't say anything bad about him," he added. "I just have a different approach, a different philosophy."

Police issue 223 citations in first month of project

Tuscola County law enforcement agencies handed out more than 200 citations during the first month of a county-wide traffic enforcement effort aimed at reducing injury accidents.

The effort is called P.A.U.S.E. — Police Agencies United for Selected Enforcement.

Police began beefing up traffic patrols in April, dedicating 421 patrol hours to cracking down on speeders as well as seat belt and intersection violations, said Project Director Sgt. Pat Woidan of the sheriff's department. In all, 425 traffic stops were made. Police issued 139 citations for speeding, 70 more for seat belt violations and 14 for intersection violations. The P.A.U.S.E. project runs through September, with the bulk of patrol activity still to come.

County-wide, police expect to devote nearly 4,000 hours of patrols during the 6month effort, which is being financed with nearly $48,000 in federal funding administered by the Michigan Office of Highway Safety Planning.

According to Woidan, authorities implementing P.A.U.S.E. have dedicated 20 percent of the P.A.U.S.E. project to safety belt and child restraint use.

All 13 participating agencies will be taking part in a special law enforcement effort to increase safety belt use in cooperation with the statewide Blitz II program. The effort began this month and will continue through September, with special emphasis around summer holiday traffic.

The latest survey of safety belt use in Tuscola County indicates 50.5 percent of front seat occupants buckle up. The goal of the national campaign is to increase usage to 70 percent by the end

Father Spleet preparing to bid local parish farewell

Staff Writer

Parishioners of the St. Pancratius Catholic Church of Cass City are about to lose someone who has been an integral part of the congregation for 9 years.

Father Julius Spleet will depart the parish and head to Gladwin to become pastor of the Sacred Heart parish. He will conduct his last service at the Cass City church July 5. Father Paul Baly of the Mount Saint Joseph parish in St. Louis will replace him. Spleet must leave because the fondest memories."

Although he'll miss the people of his parish, Spleet's looking forward to the challenges that await him at the Sacred Heart Parish, which has 570 families. In addition, the parish has its own school serving preschool through eighth grade and an outreach program.

"I've never been the pastor of a parish that has a school," he noted.

Spleet, 58, hopes this is his last relocation because he wants to retire when he is 65 years old.

Members of the St. Pancratius parish say they're sorry to see him go.

Cass City residents Linda Herron and her husband, Tom, have been members of the church for more than 25 years. She said she's seen pastors come and go, and it's just part of life for members of the parish.

"Well, I guess it was rather expected sooner or later," Herron said. "I know he'll be missed. He's a very, warm person.'

She added she hopes the new pastor is as openminded as Spleet. hoping he's fairly liberal in his thinking."

People are sad to see him go, remarked Christine Erla of Cass City.

"We're very sad that we're going to be losing our pas-tor," she said. "He's taken good care of us.

Erla, who along with husband Richard have been members of the parish since 1953, added, "He's going to be missed by very many people."

Holidays close Secretary of State offices

All 180 Secretary of State branch offices will be closed for the 3 traditional summer holidays.

The offices will be closed Monday, May 25, for Memorial Day; Friday, July 3, to observe Independence Day, and Monday, Sept. 7, in observance of Labor Day.

Secretary of State Richard H. Austin urges motorists to begin the summer with a renewed commitment to safety belt use, especially during "Buckle-Up America! Week," which culminates on Memorial Day.

"In Michigan, State Police estimate 4 people die every 24 hours in traffic crashes on average, many of whom would have survived the crash if they had worn safety belts." Austin said. "By law, safety belts must be worn by drivers, front seat passengers and everyone 16 years old and younger no matter where they are seated in the vehicle, even in vehicles equipped with air bags." Secretary Austin also urged motorists to obey posted speed limits, and avoid alcohol and other drugs while driving this summer.

Motorists whose driver licenses or plates expire Memorial Day weekend, or during the other holiday weekends, are encouraged to renew early. Branch office lines are usually shortest on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays. Evening hours are offered by 25 offices, which are open from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. Wednes-

Sanilac Petroglyphs Park opens June 1

The Sanilac Petroglyphs, operated by the Michigan Department of State's Bureau of History, will open for the season June 1.

Located about 8 miles northeast of Cass City in Sanilac County, the Sanilac Petroglyphs are one of the most important prehistoric sites in Michigan.

Around a sandstone outcropping along the North Branch of the Cass River are prehistoric carvings of a water panther, a bow hunter and oddly shaped stick-figures. The petroglyphs (rock carvings) are estimated by archaeologists to have been created 300 to 1,000 years

The site contains other rock carvings made during the last century by loggers who worked the nearby timber. Visitors may take a 45minute hiking trail to see the site of a late 19th century lumber camp. Hikers will also see a beaver lodge and an expansive dam created by

PRE SPORTS EXAMS

Athletic physical exams sometimes seem unnecessary. "Teenagers are always in good shape" it seems.

The exam is designed to make participation in sports more safe and enjoyable. Some injuries can be prevented and certain problems should be resolved before participation in vigorous sports.

Hernias should be repaired before sports, and heart murmurs should be evaluated. Visual acuity is important--poor eyesight can contribute to injuries.

Sometimes exercise-induced asthma is discovered and treating that can allow much better performance in sports. A simple inhaler can be used before training and competi-

Most of the exam is focused on the back and limbs. Have there been any fractures or serious sprains in the past? Some dislocations may recur if motions aren't limited.

Is there any pain? Pain can be caused from injuries or from overuse such as runner's knee and stress fractures. Are the muscles equal on both sides? Asymmetry of muscles may indicate an underlying problem such as an old knee injury, leg length discrepancy, or scoliosis.

The maturity of the musculoskeletal system is also important--a tall or heavy 14-year-old may still lack the maturity needed for certain sports or positions. He should not be placed against an older, more mature athlete.

The Owen-Gage Bulldogs won and lost doubleheaders during the week, defeating Port Hope twice and losing the twin bill to C-PS.

Monday, May 11, host Port Hope fell in the first game, 13-8. It was a close game for the first 4 innings. With the score tied at 6-all, the Bulldogs exploded in the fifth inning for 4 runs and then another pair in the sixth to salt away the game. Michelle Tkacz went the distance to get the win over Wendy Koglin. Tkacz was touched for 7 hits, as was Koglin. However, Coglin walked 17 to make it easy for Owen-Gage. Aimee Merchant let the attack with 2 hits.

Tkacz pulled an iron-man stunt by going the distance in the second game to register a 16-7 decision.

She allowed 7 hits and two-thirds of an inning, allowing 4 runs. Carrie Johnson came on and pitched through the sixth inning, allowing 10 runs and 5 hits. Gaffke pitched a scoreless ninth for Port Hope.

Lori Ondrajka and Angie Wildman each banged out 2 hits for Owen-Gage.

C-PS GAMES

When the Bulldogs got the hitting, the pitching slumped. When the hurling was good, the hitters slacked off and as a result Owen-Gage lost both ends of the doubleheader with C-PS.

Owen-Gage started strong with 3 runs in the first in the opening game only to have C-PS come back to register an 8-6 decision. C-PS led by a run going into the last inning and the Bulldogs rallied to go ahead with a pair of tallies only to lose when the visitors scored 2 in their last bats. Tkacz took the loss, allowing 7 hits. Shannon Cavee was the winner, even though she was touched for 8 hits. Michelle Pisarek, Deb Powers and Jill Susalla each collected 2 hits. Leading C-PS were T. Willis and J. Backus, each with a pair of

The winners then scored 5 runs in the next 2 innings to take command. Karla Stacer was the winning pitcher. She allowed 9 hits and walked 6.

Village to re-bid project

Cass City officials will rebid the village's walking trail project after receiving only one bid, which exceeded project estimates by some $17,000.

During a special meeting Monday morning, the Village Council voted to reject a bid of $57,100 submitted by Simpson Excavating of Cass City, and to again accept bids with a new deadline of May 28 at 2 p.m.

Village Clerk Joyce LaRoche said the Simpson bid was too high, but it was also determined that some of the wording in the project specifications needed to be changed.

The project cost has been set at $40,000, with $30,000 coming from a state grant and the remainder from village coffers.

Correction

A story in the May 6 issue of the Chronicle on a planned Farm Safety Day Camp June 9, 10 and 11 at Bay Shore Camp, Sebewaing, incorrectly reported that youth will arrive at the campgrounds at 8 p.m. The story should have stated youth will arrive at 8 a.m. The Chronicle regrets the error.

Ubly 4-Hers net honors

A number of Ubly youths were among several 4-Hers who netted honors at 4-H Spring Achievement, held recently at Ubly Community School.

The annual event recognizes 4-H members who have completed projects in clothing, clothes buymanship, crocheting, sewing for fun, wearable creative art and crafts.

Those with personal appearance projects took part in an evaluation session to discuss their projects' progress and concerns with 4-H leaders.

Following the evaluation, members took part in a fashion show in which Style Revue winners and Honor Roll winners were chosen on the basis of appropriateness of the garment, style, modeling ability and general appearance of the garment and member.

Ubly area 4-H winners were: *Clothing, Young Teen -Katie Vogel, Kevin Laming, Katie Eilers and Scott Smalley; Honor Roll — Megan Ruthko, Deborah Smalley and Crystal Smalley. Junior Teen — Paula Sweeney; Honor Roll — Daniel Smalley.

Police chase touches Cass City area

Which is what led authorities to the Cass City area, according to Warren Police Sgt. Ed Tomlinson.

Tomlinson said Trombley's family has some property and a trailer possibly used as a summer cottage — in the area, and that individuals who know Trombley have told police the suspect has been known to visit the trailer.

"We were just getting so many calls that we had to check it out," he said, adding investigators found nothing.

The property is reportedly located near M-53, about 2 miles south of M-81.

Tomlinson noted police are pursuing similar leads throughout southern Michi-

Interestingly, another key player in the case, Donald Crickon, had a run-in with Cass City Police several years ago.

Crickon, 41, is Trombley's uncle and the former boyfriend of the woman from whose home Deanna was abducted.

Currently in jail on a parole violation. Crickon was arrested in 1974-75 in the village for burglary, according to Cass City Police Chief Gene Wilson, who said Crickon and 2 other men from Detroit broke into Old Wood Drugs in search of narcotics. Crickon was armed with a gun, he noted.

Firemen battle car fires

Car fires kept fire fighters with the Elkland Township Fire Department busy over the last few days.

Thursday a car fire was reported at 10:45 a.m. in Cass City at 4642 N. Seeger St. The cause of the fire is unknown.

Another car fire reported at 5 p.m. Friday gutted a 1980 Cutlass owned by Deloris Richardson of Cass City, Fire Chief Dick Root said. The fire, at 8537 Hadley Road, started in the car's engine compartment from unknown causes. Damage is estimated at $1,500.

In both cases the fires started when the cars were parked after reportedly having been driven shortly before, he said.

Investigators are still looking into a car fire that happened at 9:40 p.m. Saturday on Railroad Street north of

Bruce Street in Deford, Root said. The front seat of the 1984 Chrysler Cordoba owned by Charlotte Kitchen of Deford was destroyed. Damage is estimated at

McIntosh top scholar

Brent McIntosh is one of 141 students nationwide to be named winners in the 1992 U.S. Presidential Scholars program, which recognizes high-achieving, well-rounded high school seniors. A Williamston High School senior, he is the son of Shirley and Carl McIntosh, Williamston, and the grandson of Grant Brown of Cass City and Mr. and Mrs. Lorn McIntosh of Snover.

McIntosh, along with the other winners, will spend a week in Washington, D.C., in June. The all-expenses paid trip will include a visit with President Bush, a lecture with a Supreme Court justice and sightseeing.

McIntosh, who was se-lected to the Class C Academic All-State Team, received perfect scores on his college entrance exams.

In addition to excelling academically — he will graduate high school with a 3.99 grade point average — McIntosh lettered in football, basketball and track, is student council president and participates in 9 other school clubs.

He was accepted at Harvard University, the University of Michigan and Duke University before deciding to study political science at U-M, where he has won a full scholarship.

Donna LaFave seeking county clerk's position

Donna LaFave recently announced her candidacy for the office of Tuscola County Clerk.

LaFave has been employed with circuit court for the past 20 years, working on county, state and federal government programs and procedures.

"It has been an interesting process with continual changes and challenges,' LaFave said.

Running on the Republi-canticket, LaFave is a repre-Tuscola County Republican sentative to the state com-Executive Committee. She mittee and on the state also serves on the CAN budget committee and the Council (Child Abuse and Neglect), the advisory board of Catholic Family Services and is currently involved on the government committee of Tuscola 2001, Inc. She is currently attending Delta College working on her associates degree in business management.

"I have the qualifications and knowledge to efficiently and effectively manage the clerk's office,' LaFave stated. "My years of experience will be an asset to the position.

LaFave and her husband Paul have lived in Tuscola County since their marriage 39 years ago. They have 5 married children and 11 grandchildren.

Pfc. Hulburt in exercises

Pvt. 1st Class Grant J. Hulburt has participated in exercise North Wind '92, that was held in Japan. The exercise involved movement techniques, survival and small unit tactics, and command and control coordination between U.S. and Japanese forces. It also consisted of trading information on the use of cold weather equipment.

Hulburt is a heavy antiarmor weapons infantryman stationed in Alaska. He is the son of Gene and Joanne Hulburt of 7409

Daus Road, Cass City. His wife, Amy, is the daughter of Howard and Neda Hoffman of 3345 Ball Road, Caro.
