

MONDAY'S SIZZLING WEATHER brought the swimmers to the Helen Stevens Memorial Pool at the park in droves. The hot weather lasted just for a day and projections are for more cool weather. The cold weather has reduced attendance by over 50 percent this year.

Cool summer cuts attendance

Monday's sizzler crowds pool

Monday was one of the busiest days of the year at the Cass City Pool and also one of the warmest. Pool use has declined sharply this year, reflecting the record cold weather in Cass City and in Michigan this summer.

While the number of swimmers and the revenues from the pool are down sharply, the arts and crafts program has been booming.

According to the pool records through July 22 this year and through July 19 last season, lessons and passes income was down 66 percent and admission fees were down 52 percent. Cold weather closed the pool on several days.

The figures are: lessons and passes, $4,052 in 1991 as compared to $1,374 in 1992. Admission fees brought in $1,670 last year and $815 this year.

While the number of swimmers plunged, the students receiving lessons remained constant. Last season there were 129 taking beginning to advanced swim classes and this year there were 127. Eight were in this year's life-guard class and 6 last year, while 14 families were in infant and preschool classes in 1992 and 8 in 1991.

The cold weather also put a damper on revenues earned in the June 28-29 swim-athon held to benefit the Muscular Dystrophy Association. Last year $850 was raised and this year, $390.

Not only was the weather colder this summer, but also the water temperature at the pool. It was lowered because of an algae growth problem. Director Bobbi Fischer reported that the colder temperature and the addition of more chemicals and more frequent cleaning have eliminated the problem.

ARTS AND CRAFTS

There are slightly more children registered this year (204 to 200) in the arts and crafts program, director Wendy Weaver reports. There have been large increases in the daily participation.

A July report to the village council showed an average of 47 in the program, compared to 39 the previous year.

Arts and crafts is especially popular with the preschoolers. There are 50 registered, 11 more than the previous season.

The program has been stretched to its limits. The maximum number that is allowed for the Thursday morning session is 15. The session has been filled every Thursday except one and an average of 3 have been turned away each Thursday.

There have been special days for the children in July. July 3 a scavenger hunt attracted 25. July 10 was Carnival Day and on this rainy day 30 participated.

An obstacle course was held July 13, with 45 participating. Last year the event drew just 16 entries.

A treasure hunt was held July 24. There were 60 attending to earn one of the many prizes. Last week was T-shirt tie-dyeing day. Started for the first time last year, the event has proved popular. Last year 51 dyed white T-shirts and this year 47 are wearing shirts with art work self-created.

Guinther praised

Elkland Township Fire Department officials lauded a Cass City man's action in an early morning fire recently at the Walnut Trailer Park.

The blaze, reported at about 4:05 a.m. July 27, destroyed a trailer house belonging to Lena Remsing, 4117 Kain St. Remsing was not home at the time.

According to Fire Chief Milt Connolly, the fire was reported by Tom Guinther, 6542 Elizabeth St., who spotted the flames while getting ready to go to work.

Guinther, a General Telephone Co. employee, then went to the trailer park and awoke 2 people in a nearby trailer, owned by Arthur Remsing, that was scorched in the fire, said Connolly, who added the area resident may have been responsible for saving 2 lives.

Freeze salaries at O-G; up lunch prices

Hot lunch program deficits continue to dog the Owen-Gage School District, prompting the Board of Education Monday to increase prices for the second time in 3 years.

The board also froze administrators' salaries for the third consecutive year during the 3-hour monthly meeting.

School Supt. Harley Kirby recommended increasing lunch prices by 10 cents for students and adults, saying red ink continues to be a problem at the elementary and high school levels.

"Both the cafeterias are falling behind," he remarked. Kirby indicated lagging state aid payments and dwindling federal surplus food supplies are partly to blame, and said school officials will have to look at other options, in addition to higher prices, to cut hot lunch expenses.

"We didn't raise prices last year because we were trying to hold back on the amount of the servings," he continued, adding, however, that the lunch programs ended in the red in 1991-92 anyway.

Two years ago, the board "forgave" several thousand dollars of accumulated debt from the district's hot lunch program, and increased prices by 10 cents.

Trustee Nick Warack Monday voiced some concern over the idea of raising prices again, saying the hot lunch program provides the only meal some students get all day.

Board President Ron Good acknowledged another price hike would be a burden, especially for families with several children, but pointed out the lunch program is still a bargain compared to a trip to the grocery store.

The board unanimously approved Good's motion to increase the lunch prices by 10 cents for students — to $1 at the elementary school and $1.35 at the high school — and by 25 cents for adults, who will now be charged $2.

FROZEN

Turning to administrators' salaries for the coming year, a committee composed of Warack, Tom Fritz and Jack Brinkman presented its recommendations following a 90-minute executive session that included discussion regarding teacher contract negotiations.

The committee recommended that Kirby's salary be frozen at $53,600.

The motion passed on a vote of 6-0, as did a motion to offer high school Principal Manuel Thies an additional personal day. His salary remains at $38,500.

A third motion, offering elementary school Principal William Britt a $500 pay hike and 2 additional personal days, however, was rejected on a 4-2 vote, with Fritz and Warack casting the "yes" votes.

Brinkman remarked he has no problem giving Britt 2 more personal days, but is against a raise because the district can't afford it at this time.

A second vote offering only the extra personal days passed, 6-0. Britt's salary remains at $34,610.

REJECTED

In other business Monday, the board flatly rejected an Owendale man's request that school officials transfer a 35-foot by 80-foot district-owned parcel to him free of charge.

The property is part of the superintendent's yard in Owendale.

The request was made by Randy Howard, who explained he bought his 2 lots, minus the parcel in question, from the school in 1986 for $1,065. At the time, school officials refused to sell the 35-foot by 80-foot parcel because then-Supt. Ronald Erickson wanted the land for a garden.

Howard noted the property has since reverted to a rough lawn area, and indicated he wants the parcel in order to square up and fence his property.

During brief discussion of the matter last month, the board indicated it would be willing to consider a land trade with Howard if he would pay survey and legal expenses.

But Howard said Monday he isn't interested in a trade because the land he would have to trade includes a sandbox, ornamental tree and other items he doesn't want to give up.

The board voted unanimously against giving Howard the land, and tabled the matter for further study.

Arraign 2 on pot charge in district court

A Mayville couple accused of manufacturing marijuana are among 3 persons arraigned on separate felony charges Thursday in Tuscola County District Court.

James S. Duncan, 38, and Suzette L. Duncan, 36, Mayville, each face one count of manufacturing marijuana July 17 in Mayville, according to court records.

Bond was set at $4,000 for each suspect, and a preliminary examination was scheduled for 9 a.m. Friday. Also last week, Douglas D. Tafoya, 28, Saginaw, was arraigned on charges of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, third offense, and driving with a suspended or revoked license July 25 in Reese.

Bond was set at $200 for the defendant, whose preliminary exam also was slated for 9 a.m. Friday.

Past is preserved

Old school becomes home for Maitrotts

Walking into Gene and Jean Maitrott's home is like taking a trip into the past.

It's eerily quiet inside, but one can almost hear the shrill laughing of youngsters at play; the tapping of pencils printing words on slate pads; the echo of a teacher's voice explaining a math problem or history lesson.

If the walls could talk, the tales told would likely be fascinating.

"We've often thought of that," Jean recently remarked at the Old Laing School, which she and her husband purchased in 1976 and have since used as a home.

The school, located 2 3/4 miles south of Argyle on M-19, is one of more than 180 one room schoolhouses in Michigan that are being used as residences, according to the One Room Schoolhouse Survey Project, sponsored by the Eastern Michigan University Chapter of Phi Delta Kappa, the College of Education at EMU and the Historical Society of Michigan.

The effort "emerged from a desire to learn about how other communities in Michigan were using their one room schools," said EMU graduate assistant Jennifer Tucker, who has worked on the project.

Project surveys have revealed a total of 524 one room schools still standing in the state, including 6 in Sanilac County, 4 in Tuscola County and 11 in Huron County.

Tucker pointed out the list represents only the "tip of the iceberg."

Estimated reports from individuals completing survey forms indicated that there could be as many as 2,000 to 8,000 one room schools that existed at one time, she said.

DEMOLISHED

"At present we have learned that most of the schoolhouses are being used as residences and a large number (60) have also been demolished. A surprising 54 are being used as museums," she added.

According to Tucker, one of the goals of the project is to "help us learn about the history of education and increase awareness for an education experience and building form that is becoming extinct."

The effort has the full support of the Maitrotts, who have worked to restore the Old Laing School over the years.

"I kind of would like the public to become aware of one room schools," Jean commented. "It's too bad, when they are worth saving, (people) tear them up and turn them into garages, or just let them go."

The Maitrotts have put a lot of work into the Old Laing School, but their efforts have emphasized restoration — painting and repairs — rather than remodeling.

"We didn't want to change it that much," Jean said.

"We put in a hearth and we put in a stove," Gene remarked. "We've put on a new roof and put in a new well."

"If It Fitz...."

Personal aggravation

By Jim Fitzgerald

When I was 14 years old, I deeply dented the left front fender of my father's car while driving it out of an auto repair shop where a lesser dent had just been bumped out of the same fender. I figured that in the category of embarrassing car accidents, rapid repeat division, I'd just set a personal aggravation record that would stand unchallenged forever.

I figured wrong. Around 51 years later, on July 22, 1992, a low tire needed attention. I left my car at a repair shop half a block from my office in downtown Detroit. A few hours later I picked it up, exchanging $15 for the chief mechanic's assurance that my car was ready to roll.

About five seconds after I rolled out of the shop, the left front wheel left my car and the axle smashed into the pavement with a grinding, sickening sound. The wheel rolled across the busy street and onto the sidewalk where it hit a mailman.

He wasn't injured, and he kindly delivered the wheel to me, without a stamp.

THE BIG PAYBACK?

I leaned the wheel against the lurched car and angrily began striding toward the repair shop, while at the same time rehearsing profanity. But then I stopped and thought: What if someone steals the loose wheel while I'm gone? That would add outrage to anger.

So I returned and locked the wheel in the backseat. Later, when I described my horrible experience to my wife, anguished detail by anguished detail, she expressed her sympathy by asking:

"Why did you put the wheel in the backseat? It probably damaged the leather. Why didn't you put it in the trunk?"

I told her I didn't know why I put the wheel in the backseat. I also told her I didn't know why I got married.

Anyway, when I reached the shop, the chief mechanic said another mechanic must have forgotten to tighten the lug nuts after putting the wheel back on my car. That was a big surprise.

I thought my wheel came off because, up in heaven, my father had persuaded God to help him get even with me for denting his just-repaired fender in the bump shop parking lot in 1941.

The head mechanic said the lug nuts came off with the wheel, of course. Had I searched for and found them in the street, in heavy traffic, and put them in the backseat with the wheel? No, for shame, I hadn't.

I wondered if I should apologize.

My fender, suddenly left with no wheel, was damaged to the tune of $846. The head mechanic said his shop doesn't cure bumps, only creates them. But his insurance would cover the repair costs at whatever bump shop I chose. With customary wisdom, I chose a shop that had to send to Mars for parts. It was 2 weeks before I got my car back.

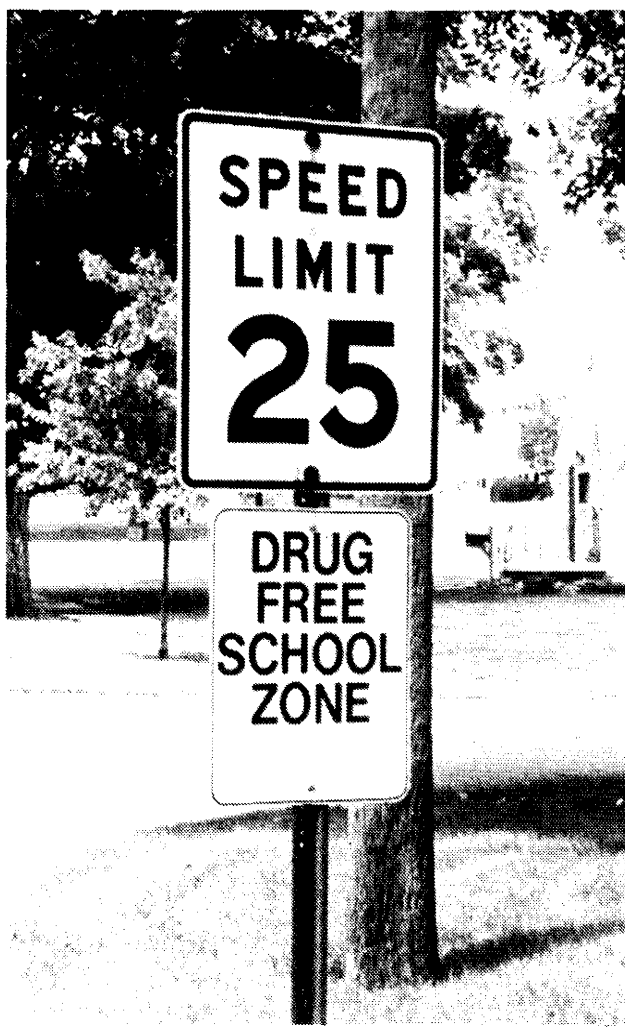

ALL DOWNHILL

It should be added that I got my hands dirty putting the wheel in the backseat instead of the trunk. And when I finally got home that day, I was embarrassed to look in the mirror and discover I'd transferred the dirt to my face. I looked like I'd been mud wrestling and lost. I badly needed a shower.

Except the water in my apartment building was turned off for repairs.

This is being written Aug. 5 on someone else's computer because mine is broken. My phone doesn't work. I went to the office bathroom and couldn't flush. No water again. No wash, no drink. The IRS is auditing my 1990 income tax return. Aug. 5 is my birthday.

Don't bother to send condolences; they'll arrive too late. As soon as my phone is fixed, I'm making an appointment with Dr. Jack Kevorkian.

The Haire Net

A while ago in this column, outlined for you were the trials and tribulations incurred when I became the chief cook and bottle washer at my home.

Well, I've fairly well solved the mysteries of the washing machine, although when to bleach and when not to bleach sometimes causes problems.

But my troubles are far from over and it's not because I have assumed more jobs that normally are regarded as duties of housewives. Stuff around the house that men usually get the call for sends me to the phone for help.

Last week I decided to do something about the water pressure in my home, which had steadily declined until you didn't dare run the washer and shower at the same time.

A new water line connecting to the main was installed. It did no good, no good at all. A call to the plumber solved the problem. The water softener was plugged.

We battled a leak at the office for about a year, installed a new roof, only to find that a little tar over the roof air conditioner solved the problem. But that's another story.

What we are talking about are home duties and repairs. Long ago (after my first attempt) my wife laid down the law. No more painting.

Now don't think that for every little repair it's necessary to call the service man.

Just this past month there were 2 incidences that prove my resourcefulness. My favorite lamp suddenly went kaput and a tile loosened in the bathroom and had to be replaced.

In days past that meant 2 service calls, one for the plumber and another for the electrician.

No more. I just waited a couple of weeks until my sons-in-law visited and they quickly repaired the lamp by installing a new $2.50 socket. While there, they also put a new pane in the storm door.

It's too bad that they don't live a little closer. Maybe I could do something about the lawn.

The tile was repaired by my daughter, who knew what I didn't. There was some extra tile left over when it was installed and stored in the basement.

How she learned how to install it I don't know. Maybe I should have had her look at the water softener.

There are parts of retired U of M coach and present president of the Detroit Tigers Bo Schembechler's story about his contract with the baseball team and Tom Monaghan that I find hard to believe.

There are parts of Monaghan's version that are in the same category. There's no doubt at all in my mind that the sure winners in the case will be the lawyers for both sides.

Big Brothers-Big Sisters will be the beneficiaries of a summer Sun-N-Fun Festival at Caro Fairgrounds Saturday, Aug. 22, noon to 7 p.m. There will be activities at the pool, a puppet show, tournaments, dunk tank and other attractions, according to Susan Woern, volunteer services manager for the Tuscola County Department of Social Services.

Small world department. Returning on a Sunday afternoon from Bay City on Dickerson Road I stopped on the side of the road because I found myself in danger of dozing off. I was only there a very few minutes when a car stopped and Dick Hendrick, Cass City, hopped out to see if I was alright.

We've never had a Cass City school bus accident where a student was seriously injured. That's a fine record and one to be proud of.

We shouldn't become complacent about it. Consider this. An estimated 7,000 children are injured and 40 die each year in school bus accidents.

The mystery is solved. The person who submitted the item that resulted in the paragraph about the 1944 Cass City basketball team was Stan Kirn.

Approve millage renewals Voters upset incumbents

Incumbents dropped like flies in last week's primary election, but Thumb area voters proved generous when it came to millage questions.

Among the upper Thumb's 3 counties, Huron registered the biggest turnout, with 40 percent of voters going to the polls, while 33 percent of Sanilac voters cast ballots. The turnout in Tuscola County was 26 percent.

In Tuscola County, voters approved renewal of 4 levies — .9 of a mill for 6 years for the sheriff's road patrol and dispatch, .2 of a mill for 6 years for senior citizens services, one mill for primary roads for 2 years and .5 of a mill for bridges for 4 years.

In addition, Novesta Township voters said "yes" to a levy of .75 of a mill for services provided by Rawson Memorial Library in Cass City. The millage, rejected on a previous attempt, was approved on a vote of 138-96.

Voters were less generous with a pair of veteran county commissioners.

Board Chairman Terry Houthoofd and Finance Committee Chairman Michael Green were both ousted by challengers; Houthoofd by newcomer James Schafer, 653-489, in District 1, and Green by Don McLane, 527-428, in District 5.

The election also featured a pair of hotly contested races for county clerk and drain commissioner.

Deputy Clerk Delores Gangler got the nod over circuit court employee Donna LaFave for clerk and will face Democrat Margie White in the fall. For drain commissioner, Deputy Drain Commissioner Sarah Pistro emerged victorious over Republican rivals Tom Romain and Gordon Smith.

In the race for sheriff, state Trooper William MacNicol defeated Terry Maiers on the Republican ticket and will take on Democratic incumbent Tom Kern in the fall.

Among area townships, Koylton Township incumbent trustees Don Ashton and Douglas Kramer won reelection over challengers Faye Stoll and Richard Borek. Kramer received 110 votes, Ashton, 106, Stoll, 77, and Borek, 71.

HURON COUNTY

Unlike their neighbors, Huron County voters retained most incumbents seeking reelection.

Robert Witherspoon was the only incumbent county commissioner to experience defeat. He was outpolled by Glen Townley in District 6. Of the remaining 4 incumbents, only one, Martha Thuemmel of District 7, faced opposition. She defeated Stanley Fisher in the Republican primary.

In addition, Al Long was named the winner in a 3-way race in District 4, beating fellow Republicans Edward Draves Jr. and Fred Duggan, and Republican Gary Krug and Democrat David Jaroch advanced to the general election in District 2, which includes Bingham and Grant townships.

Other winners were incumbents, Sheriff Michael Gage, Prosecutor Leslie Hagen and Treasurer Roberta Moctelli.

Among area Huron County townships, 2 of 3 millage renewal requests were approved.

Sheridan Township voters approved one mill for 2 years for fire and ambulance service, 120-31, and 2 mills for 2 years for roads, 108-44. Less fortunate was a request for renewal of 3 mills for 4 years for road maintenance and dust control in Grant Township, which was defeated on a tie vote, 48-48.

SANILAC COUNTY

Sanilac County voters booted 3 out of 5 incumbent commissioners out of office, as well as incumbent Drain Commissioner Harold Donaghy and Road Commissioner Stanley Alexander.

Incumbent Prosecutor James Young narrowly escaped defeat. Other winners were incumbents, Sheriff Virgil Strickler and Treasurer Carol Dale.

Among the ousted incumbent commissioners was Eugene Foote in District 1,

Offer free hearing, vision screening

The Tuscola County Health Department will be offering free hearing and vision screening for any child who may have missed Kindergarten Round-Up and will be entering school in the fall.

Screening will be Aug. 13 and 20, at the Tuscola County Health Department, 1309 Cleaver Rd., Caro, from 8:00 a.m. - 12:00 noon, and 1:00 p.m. - 3:30 p.m. Please call the Tuscola County Health Department at 673-8114 to schedule an appointment.

The purpose of this screening is for early identification of possible hearing or vision problems. These problems can be subtle and difficult to detect, but they can affect your child's performance in school and other activities.

Your neighbor says

August school start good idea

If it's possible to have a neighbor who lives in distant California, Janice McDaniel of Redondo Beach fills the bill. The blonde, shapely divorced mother of a 24-year-old son is a frequent visitor to the community.

She is visiting her mother, Mabel McComb, and has numerous friends and relatives in the community.

The Chronicle found McDaniel in the library, which she feels is really a "fine facility."

Informed that school in Cass City is scheduled to start Tuesday, Aug. 25, she said that it's a good thing to do. I used to feel that starting before Labor Day was foolish in that the kids just get started and then it's vacation time again.

But I've changed my mind, she explained. When the kids get in before Labor Day, they can use those first few days to get back in the educational groove. You know, tell all their friends and classmates what they did during the summer vacation.

Community hymn sing set Sunday

The Cass City Summer Community Hymn Sing will be held Sunday at the Novesta Church of Christ, 2896 N. Cemetery Rd., beginning at 7 p.m.

There will be specials from various churches in the community as well as congregational singing. Following the service, there will be an afterglow of refreshments in the church's fellowship hall.

Everyone is welcome.

Family seminar slated

The Novesta Church of Christ, 2896 N. Cemetery Rd., will host a "Strong Family Seminar" Aug. 28 and 29.

The seminar will be led by Dr. Dennis Lynn of Midland. The 8-hour event is designed to enhance, strengthen and encourage the development of healthy families. Instead of showing what's wrong with the family, Dr. Lynn will point out what's right and ways to strengthen it. Participants will receive help for their specific family situations.

Subjects to be discussed include appreciation, commitment, time together, spiritual training and communication.

The seminar is free of charge; however, a love offering will be taken for Dr. Lynn's ministry. More information is available by calling the church at 872-3658.

Air support group meeting

The Thumb Area Parkinsons Support Group will meet Tuesday, Aug. 18, at 1:00 p.m. at Hills and Dales General Hospital.

Price support loans available to producers

Huron County ASCS officials announced that price support loans are available for wheat producers who participated in the 1992 programs.

The loan rate is $2.16 per bushel for Huron County. The rate reflects relative county market prices.

Under the price support loan program, the Commodity Credit Corporation makes loans to eligible producers, using the commodity as collateral. Stocks may be stored on the farm in approved structures or off the farm in approved commercial warehouses.

Loans can provide immediate cash for Huron County farmers and allow them time to make marketing decisions, or to hold the grain for later sale.

Wheat loans are available through March 31, 1993. The interest rate currently is 3.75%.

Interested farmers are asked to contact the Huron ASCS Office for more information.

SYMPTOMS AND EFFECTS OF HEARING LOSS

Hearing loss is a painless, gradual thing. By the time you notice it, you may have lost a great deal of hearing. Unfortunately, the hearing often cannot be restored, but it can usually be helped with the use of aids and protective devices.

The result of hearing loss can be very troublesome. People who are unable to hear well may withdraw from crowds, avoid enjoyable pastimes because they are unable to hear well enough, and generally lose touch with life. It is important to prevent these problems by early correction when the problems are smaller. By treating at a younger age, the results are generally quite good compared to waiting until a profound hearing loss occurs and changes in one's life-style take place.

There are a few things you should watch for as signs of damage to your hearing. Any ringing or difficulty hearing after being around loud noises is a warning sign. Also, any pain that occurs from loud noises can be harmful--your ears are not tolerating the intensity of the noise. A high-pitched ringing may be noticeable in a quiet room or when you are trying to sleep; this may be an early sign of hearing loss.

The loss of hearing in the higher frequencies is usually the result of too much noise exposure, and it will be apt to cause distortion of the sound of voices. Words may sound garbled and certain sounds such as S, F, SH, CH, and H may be difficult to discern.

Your doctor can help diagnose problems you may have with hearing, and prescribe proper treatment, hearing aids and protective devices.

COLLECTORS

The Maitrotts, both avid antique collectors, have a number of old class photos

Set outdoor worship service

Good Shepherd Lutheran Church will hold its annual outdoor worship service at 11:00 a.m. on the church grounds Sunday. The Son Shines, a musical group made up of members of the congregation, will provide music and lead the congregation in singing.

Following the service there will be a potluck picnic with meat and beverages provided by the elders. After the picnic the Board of Education is sponsoring a carnival with kids' games, volleyball, horseshoes, face painting and many other activities.

Proceeds from the carnival will be used for the Christian Education Grant Aid Fund (CEGAF), which awards $500 a year to students from the congregation attending a Lutheran college or seminary.

as well as authentic school-related items on display at the old schoolhouse, including textbooks and supply catalogs, an antique water cooler, a globe, an old paste jar and slate pencils and pads.

"We try to collect anything that relates to the school," Jean said. Several people have simply stopped by and given the couple various items, she added.

The couple have also done their homework.

Jean said the school, built about 99 years ago, was named after a town of the same name that used to be located at the corner of Deckerville Road and M-19.

"This was the second school for this area. The first was a log school at Shabbona Road and M-19," Gene explained.

The Old Laing School was built in August 1893. "It cost $1,000 and was made to hold 100 students," he said, adding the school has 3 floors — a maple floor over 2 one-inch layers of white pine.

25 INCHES THICK

"The walls are 25 inches thick — all fieldstone. The ceilings are 12 feet high and then the upstairs is another 12 feet. It's all rough sawed white pine lumber."

The school remained open until 1967 or 68, and later was used as an antique shop before the Maitrotts bought the structure from the late Keith Woodward.

Since then, the couple have entertained a host of visitors, many of them former students and teachers.

Among them is a neighbor, Arlee Freiburger, 81, who attended the school, as did his father and his daughter.

Thanks to Freiburger, the Maitrotts have scores of Old

Laing School records. Freiburger happened upon them while looking for family photos at his aunt's home in Cumber, Gene explained, adding Freiburger's uncle had been a member of the school board.

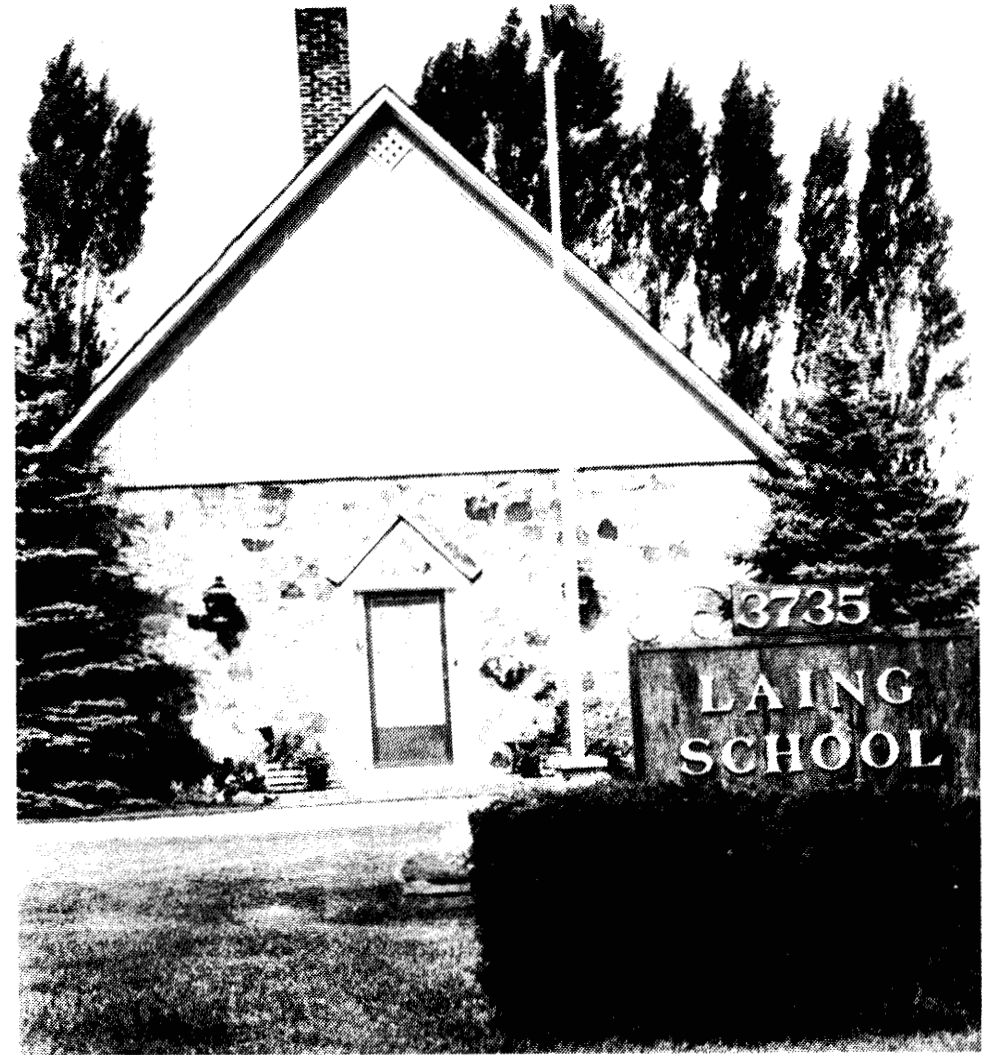

"We've heard a lot of schoolhouse stories over the years," Gene remarked, smiling. His wife nodded in agreement.

Considering the interest in one room schoolhouses voiced by the Maitrotts and many others throughout Michigan, Tucker suggested that information collected in the One Room Schoolhouse Survey Project could be used to start a state-wide association made up of individuals who study, research, live in or simply appreciate one room schools.

"People are beginning to look anew at the one room schoolhouses of our past," Tucker said. She noted the generations that attended or taught in one room schools, as well as the buildings themselves, are starting to disappear.

That's a shame, Gene acknowledged. "It's a part of American history that will never be again."

Editor's note: Area residents interested in learning more about the One Room Schoolhouse Survey Project can call the Historical Society of Michigan, Ann Arbor, at (313) 769-1828.

THE OLD LAING School, located close to 3 miles south of Argyle, is one of at least 181 one-room schoolhouses in Michigan that are now being used as private residences.

O-G Senior Citizens meet

The Owen-Gage Senior Citizens met Thursday, Aug. 6, at the Gagetown Municipal Building at noon for a potluck dinner. There were 40 members present. Les Beach said grace before the meal.

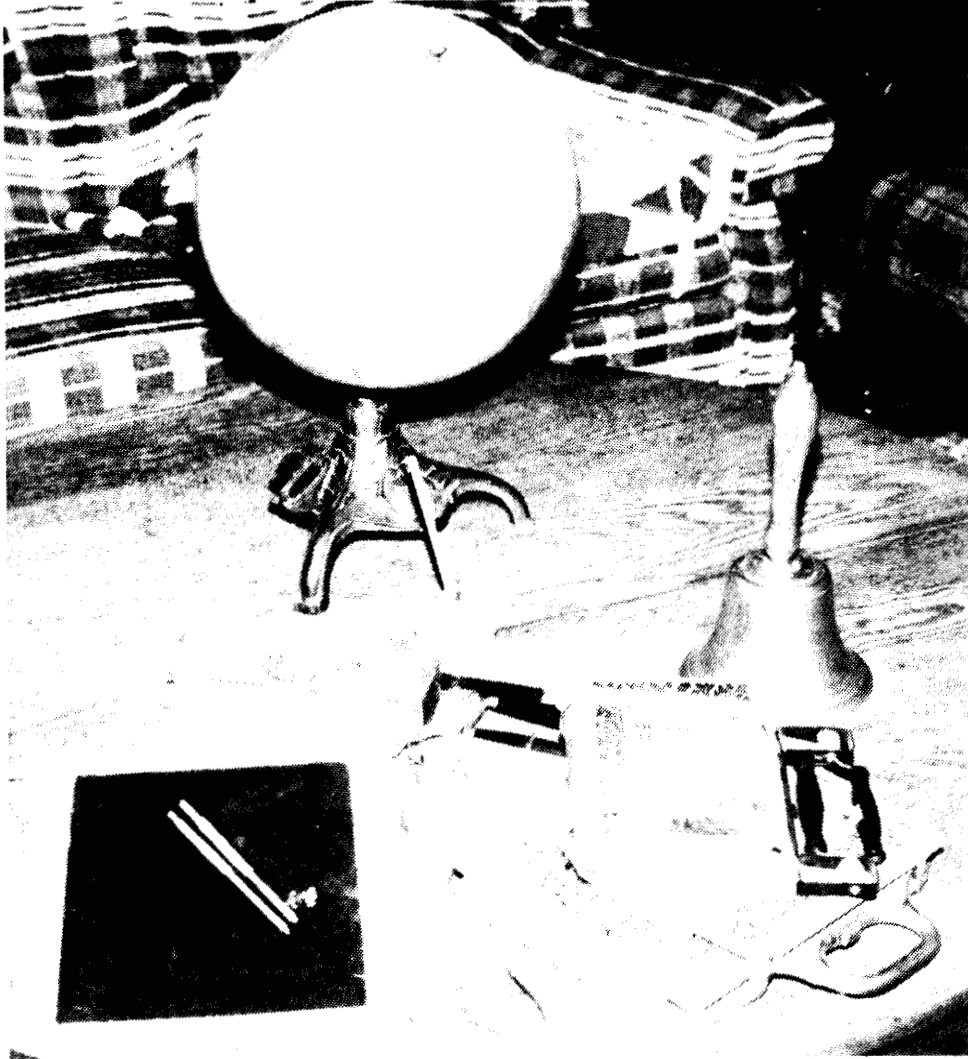

President Orville Mallory brought the meeting to order with the group reciting The Lord's Prayer and pledge to the flag.

Mike Pisarek was honored on his 90th birthday with a birthday cake from his wife.

Happy Birthday was sung to him and Amasa Anthes.

Florence Schell read a poem, "What A Hug Can Do."

Door prizes were won by Mildred Beach and Orville Mallory.

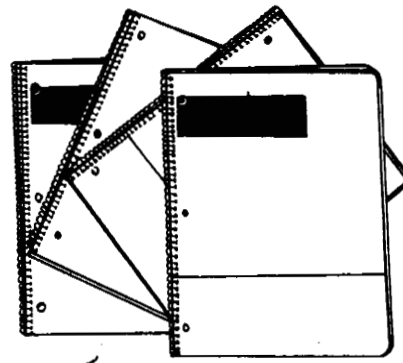

A GLOBE, BOOK carriers and slate pencils and pads are among the antiques the Maitrotts have collected and have on display at the Old Laing School in Argyle Township.

NOTICE TO CASS CITY RESIDENTS

The Clean Air Act (CAA) Amendments of 1990 include provisions for the disposal of items containing ozone depleting substances. Specifically, Section 608 requires that chlorofluorocarbon (CFC) and certain hydrochlorofluorocarbon (HCFC) substances contained in white goods (i.e., refrigerators, freezers) and bulk goods (i.e., air conditioners, dehumidifiers) must be removed prior to disposal. Effective July 1, 1992, the CAA requires that the CFC's and HCFC's contained in white goods and bulk goods must be captured prior to disposal to prevent discharge of these substances to the atmosphere/environment. Therefore, effective July 1, 1992, our refuse hauler will not be accepting white goods/bulk goods that contain refrigerant unless it has been professionally removed by a refrigerant recovery service company and a Certified sticker attached.

In an effort to do more recycling, Waste Management is going to pick up the bulky goods that once contained CFC's and HCFC's with a separate truck along with other bulky metal goods. Examples of items that will be collected are as follows:

- Freezers (refrigerant removed and stickered)
- Refrigerators (refrigerant removed and stickered)
- Dehumidifiers (refrigerant removed and stickered)
- Air Conditioners (refrigerant removed and stickered)
- Washers
- Dryers
- Hot water heaters
- Stoves
- Furnaces
- Dishwashers

Other large items, such as:

- Chairs
- Televisions
- Couches
- Tables
- Box springs
- Mattresses, etc.

will be picked up with the regular trash truck as it is currently.

The bulky metal goods truck will need to be scheduled. The Village Office will create a list of addresses as residents call in for pick up of bulky metal goods and then once per week contact the waste haulers with the addresses. The scheduled pick up day for our community is Thursday. The office will need to be notified two (2) work days in advance of the regular pick up day. Call 872-2911 between the hours of 8:00 a.m. till 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

SIMPLE THINGS YOU CAN DO TO SAVE OUR PLANET

DID YOU KNOW...

The biggest culprit of CFC (chlorofluorocarbon) emissions to our atmosphere is "leaky" air conditioners in automobiles?

FACT: This pollutant is STILL widely used in cars, residential air conditioners and refrigerators.

DID YOU KNOW...

The CFC's are released into the atmosphere during production of styrofoams and when they crumble and break.

FACT: Non-CFC foam insulation & polystyrene foam (styrofoam) is available as an alternative. Avoid polystyrene foams such as the form fitting packaging materials found with appliances equipment, coolers, and foam peanuts. Retailers can pass on information.

Don't buy aerosol products containing CFCs. Substitute gases such as propane and butane also lead to smog.

Check out the labels. Avoid buying products that list these types of CFCs: CFC-11 (Trichlorofluoromethane), CFC-12 (Dichlorodifluoromethane), CFC-113 (Trichlorotrifluoroethane), CFC-114 (Dichlorotetrafluoroethane), CFC-115 (Monochloropentafluoroethane).

It is wise to buy appliances that are labeled "energy efficient" models.

Fullers praise God for miracle cure

A praise to God from a thankful family. Through the months of May and June 1992, our family was put through a test of faith. We would like to thank the Lord and all those that prayed for Laura Fuller of Port Sanilac. Near the beginning of May, our 7-year-old daughter, Laura, was complaining of a sore ankle. We thought a possible sprain or pulled muscle. We took Laura to our family doctor for an X-ray. The X-ray showed a dark area in her left tibia, about 3 to 4 inches. We were referred to another specialist. In the meantime we took Laura to our church in Madison Heights and had her prayed for according to James 5:14. The first diagnosis was a bone tumor that looked benign according to the X-ray. We were referred to another specialist from Hutzel Hospital in Detroit who is one of 2 doctors in Michigan who specializes in this type of bone tumor.

Laura was scheduled for surgery at Children's Hospital May 28. That day they were going to remove the tumor and repair the bone. A biopsy would be performed first to verify that it was benign. The surgery was to take about 1 1/2 hours and Laura would be on her way to recovery. In about a half hour the doctor returned only to take us into a small room to tell us the bad news, the tumor was malignant. He told us Laura would need an amputation and chemotherapy. After treatment she would have a 60% chance to live. They sent the tumor to pathology to confirm the diagnoses of Telangiectatic Osteosarcoma, a fast spreading cancer of the bone. We were devastated! At that point knowing what God had done for us in the past, we believed God for a miracle, stating to the doctors they would see one in Laura. We took Laura home that evening and called many friends and family members to pray. Prayers had gone up to God from hundreds of people of all different faiths, from Michigan to New York to Texas. God heard! The next day we received a call from our doctor telling us a miracle had taken place. He said the tumor was now benign. Many family members were there when the call came through. There was a lot of rejoicing that day. Praise Jesus!

Laura was rescheduled for surgery and the second operation was successful, confirming that the tumor was benign! Laura is on her way to a normal and blessed life. Thanks again to all that have prayed and supported our family through this time. Most of all we thank the Lord for this MIRACLE!
