DETROIT EDISON'S new North Area Energy Center is right on schedule and is expected to be at least partially open by Dec. 18.

To open Dec. 18

Edison complex on schedule

The new Detroit Edison complex rising rapidly on the 18-acre site purchased from the village of Cass City is on schedule and the company expects to move in December 18, Mike Lewis, division project coordinator for Edison, said this week. Even before the target date, some of the equipment and poles will be stored at the site, Lewis continued. However, it will be the middle of January before the new North Area Energy Center is in full and complete operation.

Plans call for 42 or 43 administration people to be housed in the new building, together with a maintenance crew of about 60 persons, Lewis said.

The contractor, Campbell-Manex, is doing a great job, Lewis said, and we haven't had any problems.

The new building will feature an energy information center and will offer full service for bill paying in addition to the present payment centers.

The building requires 250 tons of steel, 3,000 cubic yards of cement and will have a 3-acre parking area covered with asphalt.

Ground breaking for the new building was held Friday, July 17.

Village pays $105,000 to add 35 acres for industry

Cass City officials looked to future expansion of the village's industrial base last week, approving the purchase of 35 acres southwest of the village.

The action, okayed during a 50-minute monthly Village Council meeting Sept. 29, nearly doubles the amount of industrial park property Cass City can offer industries looking for a new home.

The land is owned by Duane and Janice Chippi and Richard and Betty Sykes, and is located west of Doerr Road. The parcel is bordered on the south by Elmwood Road and on the north by a 30.5-acre parcel bought by the village 3 years ago.

The Chippi-Sykes property is to be sold on a land contract at $3,000 an acre for a total of $105,000. Village President L.E. Althaver said Chemical Bank has agreed to buy the land contract from the owners and then re-sell the property to the village.

Terms of the contract are 20 percent down with the remainder to be paid over 10 years, or sooner if desired, at an interest rate of 6.05 percent.

The purchase will make it possible to meet the needs of larger industries, and the location of this parcel will allow the village to loop sewer and water service across Elmwood Road to the wastewater treatment plant without having to install a lift station, Althaver pointed out.

"We would have very good utilities available" to an industry considering a move to the area, he added.

"Economic development, industrial development — and we've talked about this before — is partly... being at the right place at the right time and having the right facilities in place at the time," he said.

"I think it fits real nice with what we've already got down there," Trustee Les Karr commented.

Last week's purchase gives the village a total of some 75 acres of unoccupied industrial park property, including about 10 acres west of Cemetery Road at the south end of the village.

the village's community access channel, Channel 31.

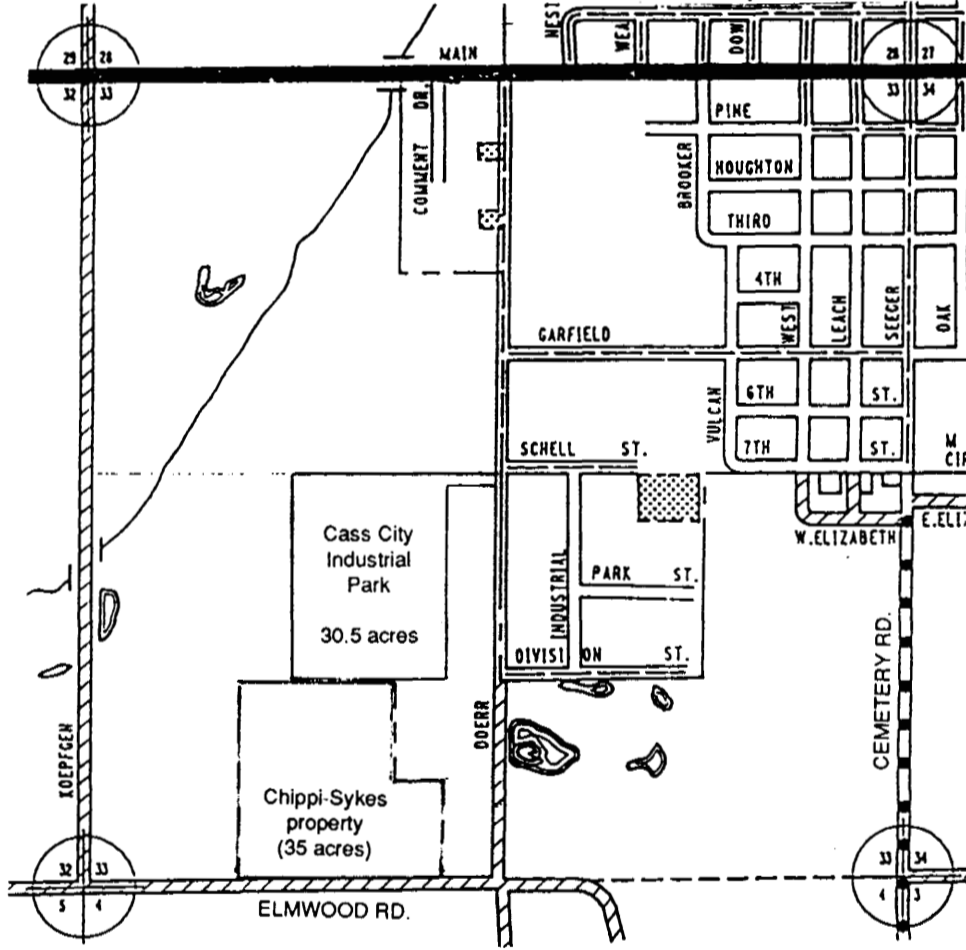

In a letter to the council, company officials cited a lack of community support for their decision.

A & B Media Corp approached the village in November 1991 with a proposal to broadcast weather, news, community event announcements and other items on Channel 31. The broadcasts were funded through advertisements sold to local businesses.

Also last week, the council established trick-or-treating hours from 5:30 to 7 p.m. Halloween night, the same as last year.

Owen-Gage mulls insurance change

The Owen-Gage School District could save more than $5,000 in property and casualty insurance coverage by switching to a state "pool" insurance program, the Board of Education learned last Wednesday.

Dan Gerger outlined what the Michigan Association of School Boards SET/SEG Insurance program has to offer during an hour-long special meeting.

MASB SET/SEG Insurance is a non-profit, self-insured "pool" program that covers only school districts, according to Gerger, who told the board the program is different from the others in that surplus funds in the pool are returned each year to established member districts based on a formula.

Based on a comparison between the district's existing coverage, Gerger indicated Owen-Gage could buy comparable coverage through the pool program at less cost.

Property and liability coverage would run about $1,200 less and errors and omissions, $4,000 less, he said.

Gerger noted, however, that the deductible on the superintendent's house would be increased from $100 to $1,000, and the school's fleet insurance deductible would go up from $250 to $500 or $1,000.

Total cost of the package, which includes the boiler and umbrella coverage, is about $11,606.

But there would be additional savings because the district would be receiving a share of the surplus funds that are distributed to member schools, Kirby pointed out.

Action on the matter was tabled until the next regular meeting because 3 board members were unable to attend last week's special session.

In other business, the board voted in favor of spending $4,540 to update and computerize the district's financial accounting system.

The move is necessary, according to Kirby, who said the present ledger system is very cumbersome and leads to errors. He added the school's auditors have recommended computerizing the system, something many other districts have already done.

Kirby presented cost estimates on computer programs for budgeting financial processing ($1,800), accounts payable processing ($1,750) and payroll processing ($1,000). Please turn to back page.

Norman Heronemus dies in 2-car crash

A 79-year-old Decker man was killed in a 2-car collision Thursday night in Sanilac County's Evergreen Township.

Sanilac County Sheriff's deputies identified the victim as Norman Heronemus, 5670 Downing Rd.

Heronemus was a passenger in a vehicle driven by his wife, Virginia Heronemus, 72. Deputies said she was westbound on Decker Road about a half-mile east of M-53 when she attempted to make a left turn into a driveway and was struck broadside by an eastbound car driven by Bonnie Woodward, 22, 5517 Pringle Rd., Decker. Woodward was unable to avoid the Heronemus vehicle, deputies said.

Norman Heronemus was pronounced dead at the scene. Virginia Heronemus was taken to Marlette Community Hospital, where she was treated for minor injuries and then released. Woodward sought her own treatment for minor injuries. Alcohol was not a factor in the 5:40 p.m. accident, according to reports, which state the victim was not wearing a seat belt. Deputies were assisted at the scene by Marlette EMS and Cass City-Mercy Ambulance personnel.

He was born May 3, 1913, in Lamotte Township, Sanilac County, the son of Peter and Annie (Douglas) Heronemus.

He married Virginia Marsh July 3, 1939, in Snover.

Mr. Heronemus was a lifelong area farmer, a blacksmith for approximately 8 years, and retired after 28 years at Pontiac Motors. He was a member of Shabbona United Methodist Church.

He is survived by his wife, Virginia; one son, Gerald and Jacqueline Heronemus, Decker; one daughter, Sharon and Richard Ziellesch, North Branch; 8 grandchildren; 9 great-grandchildren; 3 sisters, Elsie Lindsay of New Mexico, Iris Bulgrien and Inez Bulgrien, both of Snover.

Funeral services were held Monday, Oct. 5, at the Shabbona United Methodist Church, with the Rev. Jan Bearerstadt and the Rev. W. Peter Crawford officiating.

Burial was in Moshier Cemetery at Hemans.

Memorials may be given to the Shabbona United Methodist Church building fund.

Most area schools report student enrollment increase

The good news is that, with one notable exception, the number of students attending area schools is slightly higher than it was in 1991. The bad news is that under the new state aid formula the increase in students won't mean more state aid money this year.

The reason is that under this year's provisions, schools will receive reimbursement based on the number of students attending school last year. Of course, if the formula isn't changed again, the schools will benefit by the increase in the 1993-4 school year.

CASS CITY

The number of students attending Cass City High School has remained constant in recent years, Supt. Ken Micklash pointed out. This year our enrollment is up 7 pupils to a total of 1,652 from the 1,645 in the "fourth Friday" count in 1991.

Sometimes we gain a few, sometimes we lose, Micklash said, pointing out that in 1985 there were 1,658 students in school.

While there was only modest change in school population, there was change in where the students are. In the high school, the count was 448 this year as compared to 440 last year. Deford's census dropped to 98 from 122 last year. Showing slight increases were Campbell Elementary, with 545 as compared to 538, and the middle school, from 538 to 545. Adult students increased from 36 to 39.

OWEN-GAGE

There was good news at Owen-Gage, which reported a healthy boost in attendance, reversing a 25-student decline in 1991. Total enrollment jumped from 301 last year to 332.

The 31-student increase is not the only good news at Owen-Gage. Supt. Harley Kirby said that with the enrollment increase, the school will return as an in-formula district after being out of formula last year. That means some $38,000 more for operation, Kirby said.

Kirby said that there are 191 students in kindergarten through 6th grade this year as compared to 160 last year. The high school count was the same both years, at 141 students.

The increase in students is especially noteworthy in that it reversed the trend of declining enrollment in recent years. The 1986 census showed 362 students.

KINGSTON

Although Kingston's school population showed a healthy increase, because of the loss of 50 students from the Pioneer Work and Learn Camp, the school is being forced to cope with a severe financial crunch.

The 50 students that were transferred to Vassar when the camp closed provided about $200,000 in extra state aid after teacher expenses were deducted, about 3 mills of local property taxes.

While there is no way to absorb that loss, the numbers are encouraging. Last year there were 740 students in the school without counting the students from the camp. This year there are 762, an increase of 22.

The numbers show 412 in the elementary, compared to 390 last year, and 350 both years in the high school.

UBLY

Ubyly High School continued to add to its school population. There are 9 more pupils enrolled now than there were in 1991 and this increase comes on the heels of an 88-student increase in 1991.

The total student count at Ubyly is 901. In grades kindergarten through 8 there are 6 more students, from 635 to 641. In the high school the count is 268 this year and 266 last year.

Fire razes trailer

Two years almost to the day after a fire destroyed a trailer home of Richard Childres of rural Cass City, fire destroyed the new trailer purchased to replace it.

The trailer home is at 6465 Severance Road, just off M-53. In the Friday evening blaze, Childres suffered burns on the knee and was taken to Hills and Dales

General Hospital for treatment.

When the Elkland Township Fire Department arrived on the scene, the trailer was engulfed in flames, Chief Milt Connolly reported. The department was assisted by Argyle and Kingston fire departments, which furnished tanker trucks.

Kristy Wood still in critical condition

Kristy Wood, Deford, 15-year-old Cass City High School student injured in a 2-vehicle accident Saturday morning, Sept. 26, remains in critical condition in St. Mary's Hospital in Saginaw.

Hospital authorities said that she is in the intensive care unit at the hospital.

Among the injuries she sustained are a spleen injury, bruised lung and broken pelvis.

TUSCOLA COUNTY HEALTH Department RNs Elaine Ewald and Kelly German administer flu vaccine to Cass City residents Clara Bond (right, center) and Virginia Thomas. They were among 192 area residents receiving shots Monday at the Good Shepherd Lutheran Church in Cass City. Total shots administered last year were 123. Health officials noted that information on future dates and sites for immunization is available by calling the health department. The shots are free to seniors.

CAN YOU REDUCE WRINKLES?

People have always wanted to get rid of wrinkles--they announce to the world that you are aging. But doctors have always said that wrinkles are forever--the sun-induced damage to the skin cannot be reversed.

Now, an acne medicine is changing the story. Retinoic acid applied to the skin daily can decrease wrinkles. The question remains, however, if these improvements are permanent or if they are just temporary changes from the irritation and swelling of the skin caused by this lotion.

Sunlight damages the collagen fibers of the skin and makes them less pliable and resilient. Sunscreens can help prevent the problems, but until recently, nothing has been found that could undo the changes that occurred earlier in life.

Studies are underway to see if retinoic acid actually can rejuvenate the collagen. The early findings are promising. It appears to help make damaged collagen healthier again. But retinoic acid will probably be more useful in preventing problems. When started at an early age--the 20's and 30's--a combination of skin care products including retinoic acid, sunscreens and moisturizers can prevent much of the wrinkling and pre-cancerous changes from sun exposure.

It is too early to know the full role of retinoic acid in decreasing wrinkles, but it now appears quite useful when used in the proper way. A person must follow his doctor's recommendations and have realistic expectations. A moisturizer should be used to counteract the dryness and a sunscreen is needed to prevent sun sensitivity from the retinoic acid.

Now that Ross Perot is back in the presidential race, it might be a good idea if we all brushed up on our Texan.

Fortis Benefits Insurance Co. (issuer of FFG's insurance products)

Amounts exchanged, withdrawn or annuitized from the fixed account will be increased or decreased by a market value adjustment, unless held to the full length of the guarantee period. A decrease may affect principal. Withdrawals during the first seven years following purchase payment may be subject to a charge; withdrawals before age 59-1/2 subject to certain tax penalties.

This investment approach does not assure a profit and will not protect against loss in a declining market. Because investment return and share value fluctuate, an investor's shares, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original cost.

Rabbit Tracks

(And anyone else he can get to help.)

About as certain as death and taxes is that Jane Hitler will be involved in one project or another and call me up to tell me about it. It's as natural as water running down stream. That's not a complaint. The Chronicle depends on persons like Hitler to keep us abreast of what's cooking in the village and the area.

Her latest message to the paper concerns a Wednesday, at 7 p.m., meeting at Rawson Memorial Library. It will feature women in the community representing their clubs, including the Lioness, Zonta, Business and Professional Women and AAUW.

The purpose is to acquaint women in the community with the clubs so that they will be aware of what's available. It also could mark the organization of a new Garden Club in Cass City, Hitler said.

Be sure you bring your camera, Hitler sternly admonished. I surrender, Jane, someone will be there.

Oh, the hazards of a reporter. Traveling to Marlette recently to cover the basketball game between Cass City and the Red Raiders, thieves took the hood ornament from my car as it was parked in the school lot.

Need I tell you that the replacement costs about $25 and my insurance deductible is $50?

Funding for the Bach Festival is more difficult these days due to a reduction in funding from the Michigan Council for the Arts and Cultural Affairs. Picking up the slack have been fine music lovers at benefits.

Another is scheduled Sunday, Nov. 1, when William Preucil, accompanied by Arthur Rowe, will be featured in a recital.

The recital at the First Presbyterian Church costs $30 and the recital followed by a reception at the Lambert Althaver home costs $50.

ROGER BOARD, left, displays the plaque that this restored 1958 Dodge Coronet earned at the recent Mopar Nationals at Columbus, Ohio. The show is for Chrysler products nationwide. The Dodge earned third place in the Antique Class, originals, which includes all Chrysler cars 25 years or older and drew 3,371 entries. The car earned 73 points from a possible perfect score of 100 to win the honors.

Board said that the car was completely restored at his Cass City dealership by Dave Martin, right, who handled the mechanical requirements, and Doug Caister, who handled the clean-up of the vehicle.

College night slated Thursday

The Tuscola County Counselors' Association announced it will host a college night program Thursday from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. at the Tuscola Area Skill Center, one mile north of M-81 on Cleaver Road in Caro.

Representatives from the large public universities in Michigan, area community colleges, many private colleges and vocational schools, and branches of the military will be on hand with information about the opportunities they offer for people of all ages to continue their education.

A representative of the Michigan Department of Education will provide information on financial aid available to students who cannot afford a post-secondary education.

Students considering college and their parents are encouraged to attend. There will be no better opportunity to get so much information on so many schools at one time.

The Tuscola County College Night is one of the largest held in the state of Michigan.

"If It Fitz...."

Society gone bonkers

By Jim Fitzgerald

Last week the Detroit Pistons signed Terry Mills, a comparatively so-so professional basketball player, to a contract worth nearly $10 million. And, speaking of absurdly warped values, I was reminded of my favorite Michigan example of a so-called civilized society gone bonkers over children's games.

Picture this 1985 scene in the Pontiac Silverdome: Bill Frieder, then the University of Michigan basketball coach, sat on the floor next to the high school student of his dreams — Terry Mills — but didn't talk to him. Not one word in more than an hour.

Frieder desperately wanted Mills to further his education at U-M but couldn't tell him that. Beyond a simple hello, Frieder couldn't speak directly to Mills without breaking recruiting regulations of the national Collegiate Athletic Association.

But Frieder sat in the aisle near Mills' seat anyway, for half a Pistons game, because Mills was accompanied by his Romulus High School coach, Al Wilkerson, and there was no rule against Frieder talking to Wilkerson.

What do you suppose they talked about? It's not likely their conversation was over Mills' head; he's 6-foot-10. Frieder probably told Wilkerson that U-M had a law curriculum especially suited for students who can touch courtroom ceilings without a ladder.

DIGNITY TAKES A BACKSEAT

As far as I know, there is no rule against a college coach being overheard by a high school student while the coach just happens to be sitting near the student at a basketball game, talking to the student's coach through the student's ears. So it's not surprising that one day while walking to the library, Mills paused at Crisler Arena long enough to help U-M win a lot of basketball games.

Mills, 17 at the time, earlier had called a news conference to announce his decision to attend U-M. It reminded me of that memorable day I decided to study journalism at Michigan State University. The first person I told was Edward R. Murrow, and Walter Cronkite has been mad at me ever since.

In a Free Press article describing his Silverdome conversation with Frieder, Wilkerson said he later told Frieder: "I thought you'd have a lot more dignity than to sit in the aisle on your ass for some high school kid."

Certainly, Frieder was only one of hundreds of college recruiters who bombarded Mills with thousands of letters, phone calls and visits. Frieder even arranged for former President Gerald Ford to write Mills a recruiting letter.

Bizarre? Not really. One definition of bizarre is "strikingly out of the ordinary." Frieder's conduct wasn't out of the ordinary for a big-time university coach. It was just part of his job requirement to outlick the opposition, sell game tickets and keep the alumni proud.

MANY SHARE BLAME

Mills' $10-million contract with the Pistons isn't bizarre, either. Big-league team owners regularly compete to see who can pay young men the most mind-boggling salaries for having long legs.

This is a nation that regularly shortchanges its youngsters on education while paying top dollar for stadium seats. While Detroit classrooms were closed by a teachers strike, the school football teams continued to practice and play every scheduled game.

But it isn't accurate to blame this toy-department tragedy on people like Frieder and Mills. They're only grabbing what most of us would also grab, if we could. The blame belongs to the people who buy the tickets — and beer, hot dogs and souvenirs — that allow the team owners and universities to put all that money and jockstrap glory up for grabs. The fannies seated in the stadium and in front of the TV sets belong to many of the same people who vote no on local school tax millage. As most always, we get what we earn, and that includes our absurdly warped value system.

The Haire Net

Look through any issue of a golf magazine and read the ads for the various stroke-saving products hucksters are promoting. If each accomplished what was claimed, it would be possible for duffers like me to post lower scores than the best of the pros.

Perhaps the outrageous claims come because the advertiser knows that any claim is automatically discounted by the customer. It's self-fulfilling. The customer discounts the claim and the advertiser hypes the claim to make up for the discount.

While it won't make a pro out of the weekend golfer, there's little doubt that over the years equipment has become much better and does make it easier to shoot lower scores.

Every golfer knows, really, that there is no magic elixir, but is there a serious golfer anywhere that doesn't have a putter stuck away in the closet that was going to eliminate forever the 3-putt green?

There's more than a casual relationship between the golf hucksters and the political hucksters. Both are predicated on the hope springs eternal factor.

The difference, when the hype becomes reality, is that in golf only ego is wounded. In politics, your pocketbook or maybe even lifestyle is at risk.

Most folks know down deep that the idea that we can reduce taxes and increase benefits is as impossible as the putter that eliminates 3-putt greens. They know it, but they also know that what we have today isn't the best, so they vote to change.

Not only do the political parties play that game, so does business. This November we will be asked to approve Proposal D, which its backer, AAA, is spending millions to promote.

It calls for a 20 percent cut in rates which, like the new putter, has an appeal almost impossible to resist. But the benefits could be as illusory as the magic in the putter.

Opponents point to the reduction in no-fault benefits from unlimited to $250,000 and limits on fees paid to health care providers. It also limits the rights of an injured person to sue by setting a higher standard than that presently in effect. One of the major insurance expenses now is paying for the Michigan Catastrophic Claims Association fee that amounts to $64 every 6 months. The money is used to pay claims over $250,000 that are covered in basic car policies by the insurer. Quick to point out the limit in the proposal are the lawyers who are beneficiaries of huge out-of-reason judgments that are upping the cost of insurance for all of us.

A law that could address that problem would benefit all of us but the decrease in proposal D could be very temporary. The law requires the rates to drop, but many insurance companies are claiming that the AAA claim of 20 percent may be inflated and 15 percent is closer to the real amount.

A very real consideration in all of this is that after 6 months any insurance company would be able to up the rates they charge. There are claims by opponents that AAA would reap a financial harvest of millions with the new law, as much as $17 million the first year.

Who knows if that's correct, but the fact that AAA is spending big bucks is really suspicious. You don't advertise without expecting to get results and make money. So considering all of this, should we be for or against proposal D? The jury's still out here.

I suspect that either way we'll still be looking for something that will ease our pocketbooks and still protect the victims.

Sort of like looking for that magic putter that eliminates 3-putt greens.

Thumb, Blue Water Youth for Christ groups merge

The Board of Directors for Bluewater Youth for Christ and Thumb Youth for Christ unanimously approved a merger at BYFC's governing board meeting recently. Bluewater YFC covers Huron County, with Thumb YFC covering Tuscola, Sanilac and northern Lapeer County. Bluewater and Thumb Youth for Christ have changed their name to Bluewater Thumb Youth for Christ. The merger will be a process that begins now and is expected to be completed by July 1, 1993. "Both Bluewater and Thumb Youth for Christ have a rich history of meeting the needs of young people in the counties they serve," says Bluewater Thumb YFC Executive Director Ken Smeader. Thumb YFC began in 1952 and Bluewater YFC in 1960, providing over 72 years of ministry in the Thumb. Ron Stier, outgoing Thumb YFC director, will move to a full-time staff position in Mayville and Millington Schools. Staff positions are presently open in the Harbor Beach and Port Hope school districts. "I am excited about the 'joining of hands' that has begun," continues Smeader. "Together we will reach more young people than ever before in our history. There are a lot of negative influences fighting for teens today and I feel we are one of the positive influences that will make a difference in kids' lives." YFC is a world-wide organization registered in 1944, with evangelist Billy Graham one of the first staff members in Wheaton, Ill., serving the needs of junior and senior high youth. YFC's motto is "Geared to the times and anchored to the rock."

$15,000 grant for Huron County

State Representative Dick Allen (R-Caro) and State Senator James Barcia (D-Bay City) announced today that the Michigan Department of Commerce awarded Huron County a $15,000 Michigan Community Block Development Grant (CDBG) program grant.

The CDBG grant will be utilized to conduct a market feasibility study for the development of information parks in Huron County. This study will analyze the market potential of using advanced telecommunications for economic development, to help attract new, high technology companies to the area.

"This project will be used to develop and diversify the local economy, and will result in bringing more jobs to Huron County. I am very pleased to see long range plans to attract new business to Huron County, and applaud this effort to expand the tax base and improve the overall quality of life in the area," stated Allen.

The Michigan Department of Commerce is currently processing the CDBG grant, and Huron County can begin implementing the information park feasibility study in the coming weeks.

Tkacz leads Owen-Gage cagers past Vikings and Warriors

Coach Dean Roller's Owen-Gage Bulldogs improved their record to 8-1 last week, picking up wins at North Huron and Akron-Fairgrove.

Although the 'Dogs won easily Thursday against the Vikings, 57-43, Roller aired concern on a recurring problem plaguing his team.

"This is the 2nd game in a row that we got into foul trouble. Early foul trouble has caused us lots of problems."

Some of Roller's woes are due to his team's constant full court pressure. That pressure was the difference in the Vikings contest.

Behind Michelle Tkacz's 13 first quarter points, the visitors raced out to a 17-0 lead before the hosts' Stefanie Miklovic put the Vikings on the scoreboard with only 4 minutes left in the quarter.

Tkacz recorded game scoring honors with a season high 30 points. But that tells only part of the super senior's performance.

A step quicker than the Viking defenders, Tkacz recorded 6 steals and passed for as many assists. From the floor she shot a gaudy 62%, including 2-2 from 3 point land.

The Bulldogs are slated to complete the first half of their schedule Thursday, when they entertain Carsonville-Port Sanilac. Early foul trouble against the Tigers could spell trouble for the Bulldogs, as both schools are only one game back of league leader Peck in the NCTL.

Ahead 32-19 at the intermission, the visitors put the game away in the 3rd stanza with a 14-7 run. Tkacz had 8 points, including her first triple on the night.

For the Vikings, Chris LeValley's 12 points were high. Teammate Summer Enos was the only other player to finish the game in double digits, scoring 10.

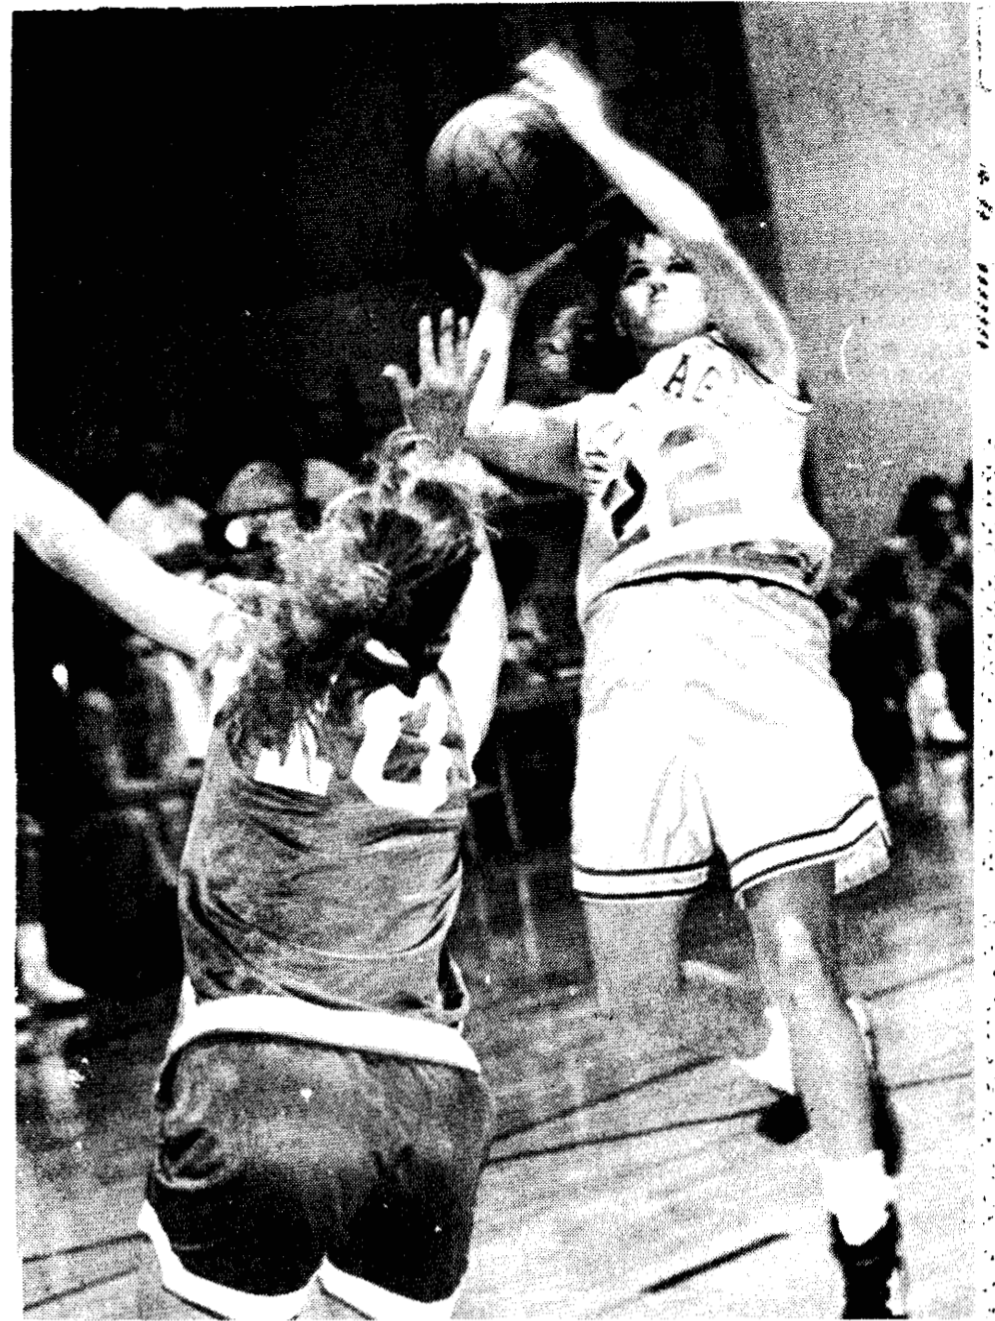

Earlier in the week, Owen-Gage traveled to North Huron and sneaked out with a 49-43 victory.

"We're lucky to get out of there with a win," stated Roller, whose team converted on only 4 of 15 shots from the charity stripe.

Again it was Tkacz leading the way with 24 tallies, 19 in the first half that ended with Roller's cagers enjoying a 28-25 edge.

The Bulldog defense tightened up in the 2nd half and held the hosts to just 3 field goals in the 3rd frame, including 2 by Kim Knoblock, who led the losers with 16 points.

Despite playing much of the contest with foul trouble, Lori Ondrajka recorded 11 points for the winners.

DESPITE GOOD DEFENSE by Akron-Fairgrove's Chris LeValley, Owen-Gage's Michelle Tkacz scored 2 of her game high 30 points on this shot in the first quarter of the Bulldogs' NCTL victory.

Akron-Fairgrove runs past Bulldogs in NCTL 20-6

The Owen-Gage Bulldogs dropped their second gridiron game of the season Friday, losing at Akron-Fairgrove, 20-6.

The Vikings, led by John Streeter's 138 yards in 23 carries, piled up 249 rushing yards to up their NCTL record to 2-1, while the Bulldogs fell to 1-2.

"We were totally outmanned," said Coach Arnie Besonen afterward. "You can't win when you're playing defense all night long."

If the Bulldogs hope to return to the win column this Friday, they will have to do a better job controlling the line of scrimmage at North Huron, who boast one of the NCTL's best backfield combinations in Jay Schwedler and Trent Rice.

Despite playing most of the first half backed up deep in their own territory, Owen-Gage managed to stay within a score at the intermission, 7-0.

Streeter accounted for the hosts' first score when he capped a 43 yard, 8 play drive at 1:16 in the opening quarter with a one yard plunge.

The Vikings blotched a key scoring opportunity in the closing minutes of the first half when a holding penalty and subsequent fumble spoiled a Trevor Thompson punt return that spotted the ball only 10 yards from pay dirt.

The Bulldogs caught the Viking defense sleeping in the 3rd period and Bryan Baker made the hosts pay when he hauled in a Bryan Radabaugh pass and raced 38 yards untouched for the Bulldogs' only score.

That play seemed to ignite the home team, who put the contest away with 2 4th quarter scores.

The first score came at 8:13 when Thompson skirted 8 yards to give the Vikings a 13-6 cushion. Teammate Dave Czelada recorded the game's final points on the winners' next series when he scampered 15 yards to secure the victory.

Defensively Owen-Gage was led by Mike Merchant, with 11 stops and 2 fumble recoveries. Tkacz was credited with 7 stops, while teammates Wade Teitel and Gary Emmons split 10 tackles.

JUST OFF THE fingertips was this pass to Owen-Gage's Mike Tkacz in the closing seconds of the first half Friday during the Bulldogs' NCTL loss at Akron.

Mistakes costly as Cass City loses to Lakers

You can't make mistakes and a mental error that spot a good football team 2 touchdowns and expect to win, and that was the story of Cass City's homecoming loss to Elkton-Pigeon-Bay Port last Friday, 26-16, in a game that was actually closer than the final score indicates.

Now the Hawks will need to regroup to play at Ubyl Friday in a non-league encounter which will be a stern test. Ubyl is undefeated in the Thumb C Conference.

The fans had just nicely settled in their seats when the visiting Lakers scored. The marker came on the first series of downs. After the Hawks took the kickoff and were back to punt on fourth down, the pass from center sailed over the kicker's head and the Lakers had a first down on the Cass City 18. They scored in just 4 plays. Chris Schember got the score on a 7-yard run. Josh Santos kicked the extra point.

The Lakers made it 14-0 with just 37 seconds left in the quarter. The drive started on the Laker 31. The Green and White marched for 3 first downs to the Hawk 34. It looked as if the defense was going to hold on the next series. It was 4th and 9 to go when Cass City was penalized for roughing the passer, to keep the drive alive. From there the Lakers moved in to score, with Kendall Truemmer scoring on a 15-yard dash. Santos again kicked the extra point.

The Hawks got back in the game with a sustained drive in the second quarter. Key play in the march was a half-back pass from Greg LeValley that moved the ball deep into Laker territory when the drive was threatened to stall on 4th and 9.

Jason Morgan powered over from a yard out. When Ben Schott's pass to John Phillips was good for the extra points, the Hawks were back in the game, 14-8, at the intermission.

The Lakers added to their margin in the third period, scoring from 50 yards out on a screen pass to Schember from Jason Krohn. The play came with the Lakers facing a third down and 22 yards to go for a first down. The extra point run try was stopped.

Cass City wasn't through, despite the score. Early in the fourth quarter, the Hawks capped a sustained drive with a score by Morgan on a 5-yard run. The run for points by Brandon Toner was good and Cass City was again just one touchdown away from a victory.

The Hawks had one drive aborted by an overeager Hawk defender. The team was moving down the field at about the Laker 36 when a first down run was ruined when Cass City was called for a dead ball personal foul.

The Lakers ruined whatever hopes Cass City had of an upset in the closing minutes of the game when they used a control ball offense to eat up the clock and finally score with 1:12 left in the game. Truemmer got the score from one-yard out.

The game was played in perfect weather and there were no fumbles by either side.

Gibson led the defense with 14 tackles, 4 unassisted. Toner was the leading Hawk ground gainer, with 77 yards in 15 attempts for a 5.1-yard average.

Hawk golf team bows to Marlette, Bad Axe

The Cass City Red Hawks lost a pair of matches in Blue Bay League competition last week, dropping 4 points to both Marlette and Bad Axe.

Scoring this year in the league gives a team 2 points for winning the most holes and 2 points for winning the match.

Monday, Sept. 28, Cass City played at Verona Hills in Bad Axe and lost to the host team, 185-219. The Hatchets also won the hole portion of the competition, with a 32-12 advantage.

Mark Brinning of Bad Axe, with a 43, was the medalist. Chris Chappel's 50 was best for Cass City. Other scores were: Matt Rutkoski, 51; Mark Wallace, 59, and Shawn Zawilinski, 59.

Team scores are taken from the best 4 scores from 6-man teams. Also competing was Bay City All Saints, which posted a 186.

Wednesday Cass City hosted Marlette and was defeated, 181-187, and the Red Raiders also had a 23-12 hole advantage.

Chappel was the medalist with a 41, edging Marlette's Troy Forbes by a stroke. Other Cass City scores were Rutkoski, 44; Chad Zawilinski, 52, and Shawn Zawilinski, 50.

Cass City is now 2-4 in the league and 3-8 overall. Leading the Blue Bay League is Sandusky. Bad Axe is 5 points behind and Marlette trails by 7 points. Cass City and the Lakers are tied for fourth, followed by Mayville and Deckerville.

Hawks win pair

Marlette rematch key to hoop season

The stage is set to determine this week if the Cass City Red Hawks will be able to successfully defend their Blue Bay League championship or if the team will have to settle for a runner-up position.

The Hawks were to have played at Bad Axe Tuesday and then meet Marlette, the current league leader, Thursday. The Red Raiders were one-point winners in the first meeting between the 2 teams.

Coach Marty Daniel is hoping that his club is rounding into shape for the first crucial game of the season and the club's performance against the Lakers last Thursday gives him reason for optimism. Cass City broke a close game open in the last half to win easily, 55-38. The victory came on the heels of an expected win over Mayville Tuesday, Sept. 29, 56-32.

The games marked the end of the scoring slump for Jodi Schember, who scored 22 against Marlette and 15 against the Lakers. The junior guard was hitting from outside the way she did last year to keep the defense from packing the middle.

In the first half it was a game of streaks. After a slow start, Cass City rallied from a 4-2 Laker lead to run off 9 straight points in the next minute and a half to jump in front, 11-4. Kelly McLellan broke the string with a free throw and that's the way the quarter ended.

The second period was all Lakers. Paced by some outstanding 9 out of 10 free throw shooting, the visitors stormed back to take the lead temporarily midway through the quarter. The rally was paced by Carolyn Bollenbacher, the diminutive Laker guard, who handled the ball, played aggressive defense and hit a key basket.

Stung by the rally, the Hawks bounced back to go in front again by a basket at the intermission. Cass City received some much needed help off the bench in the rally from Amie White, who scored and rebounded well as the team forged back in front.

Cass City salted away the game in the closing minutes of the third and all of the 4th quarter. It was Schember, with a pair of 3-pointers and 2 free shots, and Jenny "Thunder" Storm, with 12 of her team-high 16 points in the last half, that carried the Hawks.

Coach Marty Daniel said that strong defensive efforts by Darcie Monroe on Bollenbacher, Jennifer Fruendt on Kelly McLellan and Jodi LaRoche on Kim Sturm were keys to the win. It was our best offensive and defensive performance of the year, Daniel said.

MAYVILLE GAME

The non-conference game with the Wildcats marked the debut of freshman Kelli VanVliet to the varsity and her ball handling at the point provided the opportunity for Schember to do what she does best, score from outside.

It wasn't much of a game, although the Hawks didn't put the Wildcats away until the third period, when the defense tightened to hold Mayville to a single free throw and run up a 40-23 lead.

The defense slacked off in the second period as the home team scored 16 points, half of its toll for the night.

In Frankenmuth

Michelle Anscomb to sponsor doll show

Michelle Anscomb, Cass City Middle School teacher, will sponsor a doll show Oct. 11 at the Heritage Park craft building, Frankenmuth, from 10:00-4:00. Dealers from all over the state of Michigan will display their merchandise, ranging from antique to modern collectibles. Proceeds will go to benefit the Saginaw Chapter of the National Kidney Foundation.

Having watched students, friends and family members lie victim to juvenile diabetes gave Anscomb the idea of putting together her favorite pastime (doll collecting) to help those in need.

The suffering associated with hair and tooth loss are relatively minor compared to amputated limbs, coma, renal failure or death. To watch those on dialysis, relying on a machine to purify the blood, is touching. To see one receive a donor kidney is miraculous, says Anscomb.

Donations will be sent to the Saginaw Chapter of the National Kidney Foundation, who have helped many in their struggle for life.

Down Memory Lane

From the files of the Chronicle

5 YEARS AGO

Ken Micklash, 37, was named the new superintendent of Cass City Schools. He replaces Donald Crouse, who will resign effective Dec. 31, after 23 1/2 years as superintendent in Cass City. Tuckey Concrete, a familiar name in the Cass City business community for 43 years, has sold the business to the Victor Wisner family, owners of Sebewaing Concrete Products in Sebewaing.

The Cass City Red Hawks netted their first win this year over the North Branch Broncos. Brent Beecher was the key interceptor, Jeff Dillon, lead defense, and Chuck Merchant, top tackler.

Miss Terri Moore, daughter of Duane and Marsha Moore of Cass City, fell off her bicycle Sunday night, breaking her right arm.

Gina Irrer was selected 1987 Owen-Gage homecoming queen at last Friday's game.

10 YEARS AGO

Chemical Financial Corp. of Midland completed the acquisition of Pinney State Bank of Cass City last Thursday.

Enrollment drops in area school districts. The Cass City schools have 1,825 students enrolled, a drop of 60 from last year. Dave Osentoski carried the ball 17 times and picked up 85 yards against the Lakers Friday night. The Lakers rolled over the Hawks, 50-14.

Betty Hurst, Ruth Grassmann, Janet Frances and Edith Little attended the Zonta Club International Conference held in Alpena from Friday to Sunday. Mary Albee of Cass City is the new head librarian at Indianfields Public Library in Caro.

25 YEARS AGO

Ground was broken this week for a new 9-hole golf course on an 80-acre site just north of the Cass City village limits. The owner-builder is Grant Hutchinson of Cass City. Four posthumous awards were presented to Mrs. Karl Weippert of Cass City by Lieut. Commander C.M. Charneco Jr. of Bay City at a Rotary meeting, for service performed by her son, Stanley J. Himmel, in overseas assignments. Himmel died this spring while on duty with the Navy in Washington, D.C.

Anne Marie Lorentzen of Cass City visited the 21st International Festival as part of a 21-day tour of Europe in September.

SP/4 Clemens R. Koepf was to fly to Fort Lewis, Wash., Oct. 4, where he will be processed for a year's duty in Viet Nam.

R.M. Hunter has an Easter lily in his back yard that barely managed to survive during the early part of the summer...and then it started to grow. Now it is more than 4 feet tall and has 5 good-sized buds on it. Hunter is hoping to have Easter lilies for Halloween, or would you believe Thanksgiving?

35 YEARS AGO

Cass City grid teams have recorded an outstanding start in football this year as the 3 teams representing the school are undefeated. In junior varsity's Monday game, leading attacker was Bob Wright and Tim Anthes went 8 yards on an option play.

A tractor owned by Lynn Spencer of Tyre was badly damaged by fire Thursday. Mr. Spencer averted what could have been a more serious blaze when he jumped on the tractor and drove it out of the barn. He headed the tractor for an open field and jumped off. It ran against a fence and stopped.

Harry Crandell of Cass City was elected to the Tuscola County Fair Board at an election in Caro Tuesday night.

Showing at the Cass Theater Sunday and Monday is 3:10 to Yuma, starring Glenn Ford, Van Heflin and Felicia Farr.

Quick Energy?

Many people mistakenly believe that eating a candy bar will provide them with "quick energy". Even though a candy bar may taste good and provide carbohydrates, the energy received is not sustained.

The sugar in the candy bar is absorbed into your bloodstream and may give you a quick burst of energy, but this doesn't last long at all. The increased sugar triggers your body to release insulin to remove the sugar from your bloodstream quickly. This may drop your blood glucose (sugar) level even lower than it was to start. This leaves you feeling tired and sluggish; completely opposite of what you wanted!!

In contrast, complex carbohydrates, found in foods such as whole grain breads and pasta, are slowly absorbed by the body and have a steadier effect on blood sugar.

Elect student council for Middle School

Cass City Middle School Student Council members Jennifer Haynes, Lindsay Maharg and Emily Hopper, accompanied by council advisor Dick Partlo, attended student leadership training Sept. 24 at the Tuscola Area Skill Center. The training session began with a general session welcome by Marilyn Peters, followed by 3 mini-sessions taught by Jennifer Gillette, Gary Cass and Sherry Tomask.

According to Partlo, the training provided students with an opportunity to learn how to develop an effective student body government.

Tuscola County

Extra road patrols help curb crashes

Speeders, drunk drivers and other motorists who break the rules of the road have gotten plenty of extra attention from police in Tuscola County over the past 6 months, thanks to extra road patrols funded by a federal grant.

Drivers can expect more of the same in the coming year, according to Sheriff Tom Kern, who announced Thursday the grant has been renewed for 1993.

In its first 6 months, the effort, known as project P.A.U.S.E. (Preventing Accidents through Unified Selective Enforcement), accounted for 130 arrests, including 39 for drunk driving. Officers also handed out more than 3,000 speeding tickets and more than 1,500 seat belt violation citations.

The federal dollars also paid for a pair of 8-hour drug interdiction training sessions arranged by Kern. The session, taught by instructors from Monroe County, taught area police effective techniques in searching for drugs such as cocaine and marijuana.

Kern said the P.A.U.S.E. grant renewal means another $40,000 in federal funds, administered through the Office of Highway and Safety Planning.

The funding, which will be administered locally through the sheriff's department, will translate into 3,600 hours of extra road patrols put in by the sheriff's department and a dozen local departments.

Another 442 hours, half of which will be funded by a separate P.A.U.S.E. grant totaling some $8,000, will be put in by Michigan State Police troopers at the Caro post.

As was the case with the first award, the 1993 funding calls for a 50-50 match. The sheriff's department and 12 participating local police agencies will be required to match each patrol hour funded by the grant with an hour of patrol directed at the same activity.

The Cass City Police Department, for example, will receive funding for 100 patrol hours (about $2,300) and must provide a match of 100 hours of patrol (at a cost of about $1,581).

REDUCE ACCIDENTS

Road patrol officers participating in P.A.U.S.E. focus on speeding, intersection traffic, drunk driving and seat belt use, all in an effort to reduce the number of injury accidents in the county.

The first 6-month effort appears to have had an impact.

The latest survey indicates seat belt usage has increased to 73 percent from 50 percent at the start of the project, said Sgt. Pat Woidan, project director. He noted the survey is based on observations of 100 motorists by each department.

According to statistics compiled by the sheriff's department, the number of fatal traffic accidents in the county is down so far this year. There were 5 fatalities through the end of August, compared to 9 at the same time last year.

Likewise, there were fewer injury accidents, 134 compared to 179 a year ago, and the total number of accidents is down, from 710 to 542.

The additional patrols have had a direct impact on seat belt usage, but it's difficult to know whether the effort alone is responsible for fewer fatal accidents, Kern indicated.

Still, "We're excited about (the numbers)," he said. "I think it definitely has an impact when you put those extra patrols out there."

Woidan agreed. "I think that's why our injuries are down."

"We've noticed that you go out and you can still get the stops, but you don't get the 70 and 80 (mile an hour) speeders like we used to," he said.

Woidan also pointed out drunk driving arrests are up this year. The goal of a 10 percent increase, for a total of about 450 arrests, was surpassed late last month, he said.

As for the coming year, Woidan indicated he would like to see an intensified effort.

"We want to make more traffic stops. Our goal was 2 an hour and through August we (averaged) 1.5 stops," he added. "And we want to continue the seat belt enforcement."

Your neighbor says

She is lukewarm for Gov. Clinton

Kim Sampica, 26, of Deford is a typical voter in the 1992 presidential election. She is for Bill Clinton for president. She's typical in that although she leans to the Democratic candidate, she's not all that excited about it and it wouldn't take much to change her mind.

She's typical in that she voted Republican in previous elections and she's typical in that she wants something different in the White House.

I was a strong supporter of Ross Perot, she confided. I figured he was a businessman and might be able to get the country back on track.

It was a blow when he bowed out, she continued, and if he jumps back in the race, I don't know that I could support him.

I'll still take a long look at his program, she says, but his cut of the senior citizens benefits is something that I don't like. My parents are in their 70's, she explained.

That's why Sampica moved back to Deford 3 months ago to take care of them. Before that she worked in the eastern part of the country as an accountant.

Her parents have been Deford residents for 10 years, moving here from the suburban Detroit area.

DID YOU KNOW...
If America lowered its heating temperature by 6°F during one whole day, we'd save 500,000 barrels of oil that day?

FACT:
If you turn your thermostat down 1 degree, you will save 2% in cost.

DID YOU KNOW...
If we have our furnaces tuned-up, we can increase their efficiency by 5%?

FACT:
That increase leads to a savings of 8,000 cubic feet of gas and 60 gallons of oil.

It is recommended that gas furnaces be tuned-up every other year and oil furnaces every year. The cost of the whole job runs from $40 to $60. It is also important to change filters once a month and insulate forced air ducts in unheated places.

Simply placing aluminum foil on cardboard behind radiators will reflect back valuable heat.

If we all played our part we could help reduce the 350 million tons of carbon being spewed into the atmosphere. Besides, if you are running an inefficient heating system, 30-50% of the energy is being wasted.

processing ($1,750).

By purchasing the programs from Specialized Data System of Holland, Mich./Wheaton, Ill., the school would save a combined $760 for a final total price of $4,540, Kirby explained.

The superintendent said he would pay for the programs with $2,598 in interest paid on delinquent taxes, $60 in savings on a school maintenance agreement and $1,300 due Owen-Gage Schools from the Tuscola County Treasurer's Office, with the remaining cost coming out of the general fund.

"Even though this is a time when we want to cut (expenses), this is actually going to cut (them) in the long run," Kirby said.

Also last week, the board approved an annual state aid resolution that will allow the district to collect $12,500 in aid for 54-year-olds who are eligible for the at-risk program.
