"Crank" seized in Sanilac County raid

Drug task force officials seized one ounce of the methamphetamine "crank," a half pound of marijuana and 5 firearms following a recent investigation in Sanilac County.

Completion of the operation was announced last week by Sanilac County Drug Task Force Director William Gray.

A Nov. 16 traffic stop in northern Sanilac County resulted in the arrest of a Sanilac County woman for operating a vehicle while under the influence of drugs, and the seizure of about one gram of "crank," Gray said.

"Crank" is a highly addictive methamphetamine, which is part of a chemical family that includes methcathinone/"CAT" (which has reached epidemic proportions of popularity within the Upper Peninsula drug community), dextroamphetamines, amphetamines and other drugs. Taken by oral or nasal ingestion, or injected intravenously, its effects include dilation of the bronchial passages, heart arrhythmia, stomach disorders, insomnia, stimulation of the central nervous system, relief of fatigue, appetite depression and paranoid psychosis.

Due to the nature of the drug found, drug task force officers were called in to investigate. An interview with the woman, combined with follow-up surveillances, resulted in search warrants being obtained for 2 Sanilac County residences.

Drug task force officers and county sheriff's road patrol units executed one of the warrants at the woman's home in the 400 block of Decker Road, Marlette, where investigators seized one ounce of "crank" with a street sales value of $3,780. Also found were a half pound of marijuana valued at $1,820, 5 firearms, packaging/sales paraphernalia and records.

A second search warrant was executed in the 2800 block of Frieberger Road, Snover. Officers seized a small amount of marijuana and evidence/records related to the distribution of "crank" and marijuana from the first residence.

According to Gray, this is the first time in memory that any methamphetamine has been seized in Sanilac County.

"A one ounce seizure is a significant amount for an illicit drug which is normally sold in gram or less amounts at the retail level," he said.

"This 'crank' had been shipped directly into Sanilac County from outside Michigan. Through interviews of the Sanilac County woman involved, the Sanilac County Drug Task Force and the Saginaw Office of the Drug Enforcement Administration have traced the source of the (drug) to the Los Angeles area."

Gray explained announcement of the investigation was delayed to allow for a follow-up investigation and the forwarding of investigative leads to the California Drug Enforcement Administration.

He noted several Sanilac residents were named by the woman involved as participating in the distribution network and they are being interviewed by drug task force officers.

Arrest warrants will be sought charging the Decker

Road woman and her husband with delivery of methamphetamine, possession with intent to deliver methamphetamine, manufacture of marijuana, possession with intent to deliver marijuana, and possession of firearms in the commission of a felony.

The Sanilac Drug Task Force was assisted in the investigation by the Sanilac County Sheriff's Road Patrol and K-9 Unit (Bess), the Marlette Police Department and the Saginaw Office of the Drug Enforcement Administration.

Persons with information on suspected drug activity can contact the drug task force toll-free at 1-800-544-DRUG.

WILLIAM PREUCIL JR. has been a regular each of the 15 years the Bach Festival has been held in Cass City. Sunday he performed "Romance for Violin" with the Festival orchestra. Among the Camerata Singers from the Midland Music Society was Wendy Wheeler, left front, of Cass City.

15th annual performance

Bach Festival attendance surges

Although formal records are not available, attendance at the 15th annual Village Bach Festival probably was greater than at any other time in history.

The Sunday performance played to a packed house at the First Presbyterian Church in Cass City. Lambert Althaver, one of the Festival coordinators, said that the attendance probably was boosted because the concert was held in the afternoon and the Camerata Singers from Midland performed.

The Tuesday concert in Caro also played to an appreciably larger audience than it did in 1992. The program featured the return of Dr. Marilyn Mason, organist. She was joined by Elizabeth Tomorsky, new to the program this year, playing the oboe.

Attendance at the Friday and Saturday evening performances in Cass City was also as good or better than previous years, but slightly less than that enjoyed Sunday.

Chamber of Commerce contest

$1,000 offered for home yule decorations

The Cass City Chamber of Commerce wants to see the community glowing with the Christmas season and to spur homeowners within the village limits to action is offering up to $1,000 in shopping dollars in a special "Decorating for Dollars" contest.

Two impartial judges will determine the top 10 winners and award prizes ranging from $50 to $150.

The homes need to be decorated and the form accompanying this article filled in and returned on or before Sunday, Dec. 12. Judging will be completed by Dec. 15 and winners notified no later than Dec. 20.

The prize vouchers will spend like cash at any Cass City Chamber member store and must be used by Jan. 15,

Co-chairpersons for the contest Kay Warner and Jeri Tordai say that it is hoped that people will join the fun and make Christmas decorations a family tradition.

It was a contest like this that helped spark Cass City as Christmas Town in the 1950's and the Chamber hopes that this will provide a step towards the return of the former Christmas decoration glory.

NAFTA good, but not ideal solution

On balance, Ron Healy feels that the North American Free Trade Agreement (NAFTA) is a good thing, although he sees problems ahead.

What it really is, Healy feels, is that the problem is political more than economic. We just can't afford to turn our backs on Mexico and Latin American.

Another plus is that NAFTA should go a long way in solving our immigration problem.

Whether or not NAFTA is in effect, the trend to a world economy will continue, he added. The standards will go up as trade is increased.

NAFTA is not an ideal solution to the employment problems we face, says Healy, but it had to be passed.

Healy lives in Lathrup Village, a Detroit suburb, but has Cass City connections. His wife is the former Heather Milligan of Cass City, the daughter of Jim Milligan of Cass City. His parents live in Caro.

He is a librarian at Oakland Community College and also works for the Social Security Department.

Nadine Hoppe completes Navy training

Navy Seaman Recruit Nadine A. Hoppe, daughter of Melvin J. and Alicia Hoppe, Cass City, recently completed basic training at Recruit Training Command, Orlando, Fla.

Seaman Recruit Nadine A. Hoppe

During the cycle, recruits are taught general military subjects designed to prepare them for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 occupational fields.

Studies include seamanship, close-order drill, naval history and first aid.

Although the Navy is getting smaller, the state-of-the-art ships, aircraft and high tech systems in today's fleet require bright, talented young men and women to operate them. The Navy has over 60,000 job openings this year, most of which include guaranteed training.

Hoppe, a 1993 graduate of Cass City High School, joined the Navy in July 1993.

Viruses can control pests

One alternative to chemical pesticides being studied at Michigan State University is the possibility of using viruses to control insect pests. The Agricultural Experiment Station is focusing on viruses that attack caterpillars of destructive bugs like the gypsy moth.

This is the latest intercepted report from the alien space traveler, Gernithu, who was sent to study earth and its inhabitants:

The distance between Earth and Sun appears to affect human behavior. I do not know whether it is caused by less light or less heat, or if it is merely a natural cycle that earthlings experience.

The male human appears to revert to a semblance of ancestral behavior. He arises from sleep and leaves his dwelling place at a very early hour. He takes crude weapons, such as a bent stick from which he launches pointed projectiles, or a metal tube in which he places an explosive that discharges a small projectile at considerable speed.

The object of these weapons is a 4-footed beast that lives in the forests and fields. A small percentage of the human males actually succeed in slaying the animal. However, the experience appears to be enjoyable whether or not he is successful.

The humans eat and share the flesh of the slain animals with their families and friends, but I do not think it is the chief reason for hunting the animal. There seems to be great pleasure in showing the prey to fellow hunters and relating details of the experience.

A small number of female earthlings take part in this activity. Most of the female humans seem to be affected differently during the days of less Sun.

The female uses much time and energy in going to the storehouses where goods are exchanged for the $ that humans use in trading. Sometimes the female does this singly and other times in groups.

Respectfully,
Gernithu

PREVENTING PAINFUL PERIODS

Each month women develop painful cramps with their menses. This common symptom causes significant trouble for up to 75% of women, often keeping them from attending school or work and enjoying their usual activities.

Fortunately, this is a perfectly normal symptom. Women should feel reassured that it is a sign that their bodies are ovulating and working normally. It also can be treated very effectively in most cases.

It usually begins about 6-18 months after menses begin and is most severe the first two days of the period. The cramping pain may be accompanied by nausea and vomiting, pain in the back and thighs, and even urinary symptoms.

The cramps are caused by a hormone called prostaglandin which causes uterine contractions. Many medicines are effective in blocking prostaglandin's effects. Some of these are available without prescriptions such as ibuprofen (Advil, Nuprin) or aspirin. Several prescription medicines are also very useful in preventing cramps with just one or two tablets a day.

An exam is important before starting the medicines to be sure that there are not other causes for the pain such as infection or anomalies. If the pain isn't greatly improved after 3-6 months of using the medicines, a recheck by your doctor is indicated.

Kitchens celebrate 60th anniversary at dinner

The Novesta Church of Christ was the site for a 2-family event Thanksgiving Day. The main event was the holiday dinner for the combined Kitchen-Peasley families with 35 people attending from Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Michigan.

A significant part of the activities was the early celebration of the 60th wedding anniversary of Merle and Sarah Kitchen of Cass City who were married Dec. 18, 1933. A gift from their family was a handmade quilt featuring reproduction of the signatures of their son, daughter-in-law, 7 grandchildren, their spouses, and 10 great-grandchildren.

Another highlight was the presentation to their grandchildren of Christmas presents which were hand crafted clocks shaped like Michigan. Each one was born in Michigan and each spouse has had some connection to the state.

A final part of the program was the honoring of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Hicks (Claudine Peasley) of Flushing who were celebrating their 56th wedding anniversary that day.

For a couple of years now, stories have been surfacing about unexplained lights in the sky that appear and disappear at regular intervals. I witnessed the lights Tuesday evening in the northern sky while driving about 2 miles west of Cass City on M-81.

Since that time a TV station investigated and reported that the lights were caused by flares sent by Air Force personnel. That's probably what they were, too, only they didn't look like any flares that I ever have seen.

Thank goodness it's rare, Gladys Anthes writes from Florida, to accompany a clipping she sent from a Florida newspaper.

Without going into detail, this is what happened. A 7-foot alligator smashed its way into the home of Howard and Gail Ennis in Delray Beach.

He broke through a window and went through the dining room all the way into the kitchen. The family and 2 dogs retreated to the bedroom. Ennis got out a handgun.

Ennis picked up a rocker and wedged it between him and the alligator and shot 3 times. The first 2 were misses. He then got a little closer and shot the reptile.

"I know why he came in the house," Ennis said. "He was after those dogs." (The family has 2.) The incident came at night and the Ennis family was awakened by "Louie", a bird, flopping around in his cage and ringing his bell. "Louie saved the day", Ennis feels.

Recently certified

Morawski rural chaplain

Philip Morawski of Decker has been certified as a Rural Chaplain, a form of Christian Ministry that focuses on the needs of rural and small town ministry.

He was in a group of 16 clergy and laity formally recognized by the Rural Chaplains Association, an organization linked to the United Methodist church, but open to persons of other denominations. There are now 66 rural chaplains across the nation.

Morawski is a farmer in the Decker area. He also runs a farm and rural outreach ministry called Farmcare. Farmcare teaches farmer borrowers their Borrowers' Rights.

The rural chaplaincy movement developed out of the farm crisis of recent years. While firmly rooted in the church, it seeks to minister to persons and groups who may be "beyond the gates" of usual church life.

Rural chaplains can be laymen, laywomen or clergy. They are concerned with all the problems of individuals, families and communities in rural areas and small towns.

A forum on church and land dealt with such issues as the consequences for rural communities of the global food system, the survival of rural communities and the role of the church in achieving that goal.

The Rural Chaplains Association is related to the National Division of the United Methodist General Board of Global Ministries.

All toys should be new and not wrapped. A toy box is located in each office for collection. Those wishing to make cash donations may do so also by stopping in or sending a check made payable to Toys for Tots.

Mutual Savings Bank's Cass City office is located at 6241 Main Street.

The Haire Net

There's no waiting until New Year's this year to make a resolution. Today, right now, the day after the Thanksgiving orgy...er, dinner, is the time.

The time to say point blank with no weaseling, no way will I meet the national average and gain about 7 pounds between now and Jan. 1. Okay, so things weren't off to a blazing start Thursday. It could have been worse. Sometimes we have fattening prime rib instead of that low-cal turkey that graced the table this year.

But after that good start it was all down hill. The family insisted that we start with cinnamon buns in addition to the nutritional breakfast that was planned.

And of course, we had to have it all for dinner. Starting with a little wine and going on from there. Dressing and mashed potatoes smothered in gravy, yams, cranberry sauce, Caesar's salad, buns, Jell-o topped with cool whip, a rice and broccoli dish, selection of candy, a couple of those apple pies created by Shabona ladies topped with ice cream, and pop, beer, milk or coffee.

Thursday evening another tradition was followed. The whole crew, starting with 2 1/2 year old, Jeff, to 71-year-old, John, went bowling. Fine way to work out the eating excesses earlier in the day, right? Wrong.

It was roll the ball down the alley and then devour a couple of dough balls smothered in calories (called dip) while waiting for the next shot.

All-in-all with minor variations it was a day similar to that enjoyed by the great majority of families across the land.

Another highlight of Thanksgiving Day in Cass

City was also repeated, with variations, everywhere. It was concern for others who may not have the same opportunity that most of us had to share a feast on this special day. In Cass City, the free Thanksgiving feast at the VFW Hall made it sure that anyone who wanted to would have good food and good fellowship. For many who attended, the fellowship was more important than the price.

Most of the year we are wrapped up in concerns about dope, AIDS, crime and criminals and the recurrent problems of everyday living.

Thanksgiving was originated to give thanks for what we have here. With all its shortcomings it's better today for most of us than it was for the settlers who originated the holiday.

We have much to be thankful for and being lucky enough to be able to share what we have in this country should top the list.

"If It Fitz...."

There's good news...

By Jim Fitzgerald

There's good news today ... Recently I listed my favorite saloon pianists/singers in the Detroit area as Ernie Swan at Big Fish in Dearborn, Michael Krieger at Boodles in Madison Heights and Bob Seeley at Charley's Crab in Troy.

"That's the men, and I agree, but what about the women?" my wife whispered. "Are you sexist or something?"

She whispered lowly because we were sitting at the piano bar in the Rhinoceros on the east edge of downtown Detroit, and she knows I hate people who talk loudly during the entertainment. If they want to have a conversation, they should sit somewhere else. I mean, if they wanted to eat, they wouldn't sit down at a ribbon counter.

But don't get me started. My foremost peeve is the thoughtless idiot who blathers loudly and continually while sitting in an audience that wants to hear the dialogue or lyrics. Usually I'm meek and mild, but an inappropriate talker can provoke me into snarling demands to shut up. My wife says some day some loudmouth will take umbrage and shoot me dead. I say I'll die righteously and won't mind being cremated without my umbrage on.

PATTERSON EVOKES MEMORIES OF LEGENDS

Anyway, the early-evening entertainment at the Rhinoceros is the marvelous pianist/vocalist Kris Lynn. I wrote about her years ago, when she performed at such now-defunct spots as All That Jazz (with the much-missed elevated seating near the piano), Club 101 and Bricktown Bar & Grill. And I was fascinated to learn that, in another life, she is high school English teacher

Thelma Dinwiddie.

Simply put, Lynn plays and sings the sort of soft jazz that reminds me of Dinah Washington and Ella Fitzgerald, and makes me never ever want to get up and go home.

And I get the same wonderful feeling upstairs at Detroit's grand Whitney, listening to Kate Patterson belt 'em like Sophie Tucker or croon 'em like Jo Stafford (If you don't recognize those names, you shouldn't read this column without parental guidance).

Patterson is so generously talented she even does good work on nights she doesn't show up. That's what happened last month at her sixth annual fundraiser for the Coalition on Temporary Shelter (COTS), hosted by Vicky and Dennis Kapp at their West Bloomfield home. Around 200 came, including entertainers from as far away as Las Vegas, and more than $11,000 was raised.

Even though Kate was forced to stay home with bronchitis.

But she's back at the Whitney now, and if you're going to pay any attention to my list of favorites, now multi-gendered, you must pay attention to Kate.

GOOD TREATMENT IN FLORIDA AND AT HOME

Continuing with the good news, let's hear something nice for a change about how Florida treats visitors. It happened to Fred Smith, well-known Detroit Tigers historian, and his wife in Lakeland when they purchased a TV that they discovered too late outside the store, wouldn't fit in their car. A couple in a pickup truck saw the problem and offered to transport the set to the Smiths' winter home, several miles away.

"They wouldn't let me pay them, and I said they were so kind they deserved to get their name in the paper, and I would send them a clipping," Smith said. OK, that's what I'm here for. Thank you, Martha and Mike Crowell, for improving Florida's image.

For more welcome news, there is this note from Lynn Walters of Davison, responding to a recent column criticizing a Detroit People Mover guard for being rude to a foreign visitor:

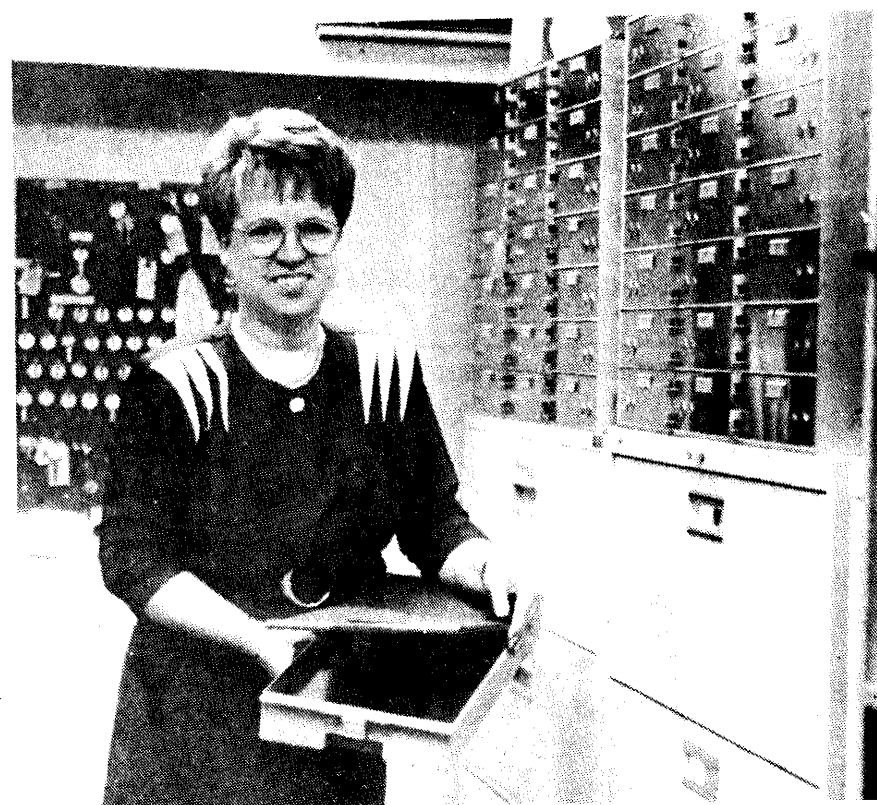

"I have multiple sclerosis and get around on a Bruno scooter. I have season's tickets to the Red Wings and use the People Mover to attend the games. I have found the People Mover police to be kind, courteous and eager to assist me as I board and disembark the trains .... Without their thoughtfulness and consideration, I would be unable to use the People Mover."

HDC sets housing workshop

The Human Development Commission (HDC) announces that its final housing workshop for 1993 will be held Wednesday, Dec. 8, from 7 p.m. until 9 p.m., at the agency's administrative office at 429 Montague Ave. in Caro.

This workshop is offered at no charge, and will feature guest speakers who are knowledgeable in the housing field, such as budget counselors, lenders and real estate salespersons. It is an ideal educational opportunity for first-time home buyers to learn many of the details about the home buying process.

Upon completion of the session, attendees will receive a certificate entitling them to apply for a thirty (30) year fixed-rate mortgage with five (5%) percent down payment. Funds for these loans are made available through the Federal Home Mortgage Association (Freddie Mac), in cooperation with the Michigan State Housing Development Authority (MSHDA) and the Michigan Initiative Program. In order to qualify, the household income of those applying for the loans may not exceed $47,955.

Reservations are required for this workshop, and can be made by calling HDC at 1-800-843-6394 or (673-4121) in Caro.

Ethel Collier, who died in Cass City last year at the age of 95, left a legacy of hope to area students. An estate worth nearly $4.5 million will be used to further the retired teacher's life-long dedication to education and caring for others. Family members will receive a total of $345,000. Sixty percent will go to the University of Michigan Medical Center; 37 1/2 percent will go to the new Collier Foundation, a scholarship fund for higher education-bound students in Tuscola and Sanilac counties, and the remaining 2 1/2 percent will go to a surviving sister. Her fortune was the result of a keen sense for stock market investments, and a frugal lifestyle.

Staying With Your Exercise Program

If you exercise on a regular basis, you may occasionally hit a stage where you have trouble making yourself continue with the program. Or, you may be wanting to start an exercise program, but just can't quite talk yourself into it. Here are some helpful tips:

Keep a record of your exercise. This helps you to see your progress.

Take charge of your excuses for not exercising and give yourself encouragement instead.

Set smaller, attainable goals. Sometimes, we tend to set our goals too high and we get discouraged when we don't reach them.

Reward yourself for making progress or reaching a goal.

Seek help and encouragement from your friends and family.

Find a partner to exercise with and work toward your goals together.

Town and Country Square Dance Club

Group celebrates 40 years of square dancing

The floor of the Cass City High School cafeteria was crowded with dancers from all over the Thumb Friday, Nov. 19, most of them defying the years that the grey hair and mature figures indicated.

It was the 40th anniversary of the Town and Country Square Dance Club and it attracted nearly 100 western style dancers from all over the Thumb, many decked out in western style and all obviously having a good time.

Among the dancers was Harriett Collins of Pigeon, a charter member, who recalled the early days of the club. She is one of 3 who were there when it all started. The others are Leonard and Helen Thompson, now wintering in Florida.

It all started, Collins recalled, when a small group started to meet in 1952 in the Got's Corner (north of Elkton) Town Hall. We square danced to live music, a big plus, and used outdoor plumbing, a big negative, she smiled. Bill Greggs was the caller.

The club grew and in 1955 the dancers switched to Elkton School, and in 1956 the switch from traditional square dancing to western style dancing was made. It gives everyone the opportunity to dance at once, Collins said.

The club switched locations again to Laker High in 1961 and in 1980 to its present location in Cass City, where dances are held the third Friday of each month.

Membership swelled to as high as 48 couples at the peak and today there are 10 couples. While there are fewer members, the dance always attracts many visitors, Jerry Auten, who is a regular with his wife, pointed out. Tonight we have guests from Frankemuth, Reese, Caro, North Branch, Imlay City and Vassar and perhaps others that I don't see.

Among the guests was the club's first caller of western style dancing, John Jarema, and his wife, Marie, of Zilwaukee.

New members of the club keep joining and that trend will probably continue as classes are offered under the direction of Cass City's Finn Burk.

The members took time out Friday for a picture, but they were obviously anxious to get back to the dance floor.

When the strains of "You Must Have Been A Beautiful Baby" wafted over the loudspeaker and Clyde Cullons of Frankemuth started calling, the reason that the club was able to celebrate 40 years became apparent.

Everyone was having a great time.

New books at the library

HOW TO SELL YOUR HOUSE, CONDO, OR CO-OP by Amy Sprecher Bly and Robert Bly (non-fiction). Selling a home can be painful, filled with frustration, inconvenience and anxiety. Or real estate transactions can be a breeze, if you've done your homework - which is why this latest Consumer Reports offering is particularly welcome, since the market has been up and down for the past 2 years. From the decision to sell to various roles and functions at the closing, all real estate moves are carefully explained and terms defined in an easy-to-understand manner. The Blys point out possible pitfalls, such as FSBO's (selling on your own), and examine such alternative marketing strategies as auctions and house swapping. Clear, comprehensive, and to the point.

ASSUMED IDENTITY by David Morrell (fiction). Brendan Buchanan is an American spy who specializes in changing his identity. No, there's no plastic surgery; rather, Buchanan is a government "method" actor, actually becoming the characters he's assigned to portray. Unfortunately, failing to alter his features causes him to be recognized by someone from a previous assignment, and the chain of events that follows makes him a target not only of the bad guys but maybe the American government as well. Aided only by his wits and a pesky reporter who eventually becomes his love interest, Buchanan uses his various identities to infiltrate a truly dastardly plan by the bad guy, Professor Alistair Drummond. While battling evildoers, Buchanan also fights the ghosts of his past, a past he's tried to escape by constantly changing his identity.

A MARRIAGE MADE IN HEAVEN; OR TOO TIRED FOR AN AFFAIR by Erma Bombeck (non-fiction). Though it's Bombeck's stock-in-trade to twist the frustrations of our quotidian lives into full-blown absurdity, she usually does it with an underlying layer of good cheer. We laugh at our absurdities, but we love them all the same. Here, however, the good cheer seems largely missing. It isn't as if husbands watching sports on TV, not paying enough attention, isn't funny anymore. It's just that it doesn't seem as funny to Bombeck. She says, "The man definitely needed work, but I had years to mold him into the husband I know he could be." By the last chapter she hasn't done much molding, and she describes marriage as only rarely a day at the beach. Bombeck only seems to emerge from her funk when she's discussing her own evolution.

3 charged in district court

The following people were recently arraigned on felony charges in Tuscola County District Court:

•Glenn A. Gilmore, 43, Millington, faces a charge of third degree child abuse. Court records state he allegedly physically harmed a 15-year-old Nov. 22 in Arabela Township.

Bond in the case was set at $10,000. A preliminary examination was scheduled for 9 a.m. Friday.

•Michael T. Tewksbury, 21, Vassar, was arraigned on a charge of larceny in a building, allegedly involving a stolen purse, Nov. 1 in Columbia Township.

Bond was set at $10,000, and a preliminary exam was slated for 11 a.m. Friday.

•Steven M. Pfeifer, 27, is charged with malicious destruction of an animal (pet dog), and reckless use of a firearm Aug. 29 in Vassar Township.

Bond was set at $5,000 for the defendant, who faces a preliminary exam Friday at 9 a.m.

Letters to the editor

Locals have no place to hunt

Dear Sir,
I do not like the way outsiders are being informed about how good Cass City area hunting is. Many farmers are renting their land to make money off deer hunting. Outsiders rent most of the land and local people have no place left to hunt.

The outsiders tend to shoot anything that moves. They don't care how many deer they shoot either. We should have more rights than outsiders because we live here, we grow the food the deer eat and we own the land. And pay taxes on it.

Soon if this keeps up there will not be any deer to be seen.

Sincerely,
Frank Horning

Warning appreciated

Dear Mr. Haire,

Thank you for mentioning the "New Jersey Toys For Tots" fund raising letter so promptly in last week's "Rabbit Tracks" column.

We hope that your warning will help prevent a loss of funds to our campaign due to what seems to be deceptive advertising. We intend to register a complaint with the Marine Corps about the letter, and find out if whoever sent it is legitimately representing the Marine Corps. I'll let you know what we find out.

Thanks again.

Sincerely,
Sue S. Werschky

Chain saw a useful, but dangerous tool

Chain saws are an important tool for the many people that burn wood, clear fence rows or trim trees after summer storms. A common and useful tool, it is also responsible for almost 50,000 emergency room visits every year, according to the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission.

Chain saws, like other tools, have rules that govern safe use.

1. Read the owner's manual!
2. Stand to one side when cutting so that if the saw slips it does not slice into a leg. Always stand above what is being cut when on a hill or slope.
3. Grip the saw with BOTH hands. A firm grip will help prevent and control kick-back.
4. Do NOT operate the saw over your head!
5. Operate the saw only when alert. Never under the influence of drugs or certain medications. Take breaks when needed.
6. Keep the chain clean, sharp and properly adjusted. Refuel away from where you are working, and don't start the saw where you have refueled.
7. Use personal protective equipment. Trim fitting clothes will help prevent accidents as well as non-slip, steel-toed boots. Tuck

8. Work in pairs when possible, but don't stand too close to where someone is cutting.
9. Be extra careful when trimming. Branches can snap or fall in an unplanned direction.
10. Use a proper size saw. A chain brake can reduce vibration and a guide bar or tip bar can help reduce kick-back.
11. Keep the saw away from children.
12. Carry your chain saw safely. Make sure the engine is stopped, the muffler is away from the body, the guide bar is sheathed and pointed back.

A tool kit that is taken to work with the saw can help keep it operating properly. A tool kit should contain chain oil, wrenches, screwdrivers, round and flat files for sharpening, a small brush to clean the chain, extra sparkplugs and cleaning rags. The tool kit is also an appropriate place to store the owner's manual.

The safe operation of a chain saw is determined by many factors. The weather, the work to be done, the size of the saw and the operator all affect the job at hand. Even the direction of the wind can affect how a tree or limb will fall when cut.

It is up to the operator to have the proper size saw, to read the owner's manual and to work safely. For more information on safe operation of chain saws, contact Geraldine R. Smith at Huron County Health Department (800-833-8550 or 517-269-9721).

3 lettermen to lead Owen-Gage in hoop wars

The only thing certain about the 1992-1993 Owen-Gage varsity basketball team is its uncertainties.

That's because Coach Brian Wright opens his 4th year at the helm of the Bulldog program with only 3 returning letter winners.

Gone from last year's squad, that finished 9-13, are 2-year starters Joe Garza, Matt Mandich and Brent Fritz.

Of the 3, Mandich's golden touch will be sorely missed. He, like Garza, was a 2nd team selection on the North Central Thumb League's all conference squad. Fritz was recognized on the league's honorable mention dream list, mostly for his defensive and ball handling skills.

Also lost via graduation are Shane Martindale and Bryan Metzger. According to Wright, "Things just seemed to go right when Metzger was in the game." Martindale was a solid worker under the glass.

Two of Wright's 3 returning letter winners are this year's co-captains, Ryan Radabaugh and Philip Fahaner.

Radabaugh will anchor the point guard position this season and quarterback the offense as the junior did on the Bulldog football squad. Fahaner, Radabaugh's classmate, at 6' 2", is expected to help Susalla under the boards.

Susalla was the team's leading rebounder, hauling in just over 10 rebounds per game in 1993. Susalla will have to become more of a scorer in his final season as a Bulldog if the team hopes to finish above the .500 mark.

Wright has called on the service of 2 sophomores, Mark Damm and Austin Brinkman.

Brinkman is expected to offset the loss of Mandich's outside artistry. Damm, at 6'

Season opener Tuesday

Cass City hoop team tall, strong this year

The 1993 basketball season for Coach Jeff Hartel's Cass City Red Hawk basketball team begins Tuesday when the team entertains Memphis in a non-league game. If form is followed, Hawk fans should enjoy a very fine year as Cass City will be the defending Blue Bay League champion and a favorite to repeat this season. The Hawks were 9-3 in league play.

One of the strengths of this year's squad may also be one of the problems. That's how to find minutes for all the players on the squad. We have great depth, Hartel explains, and right now I plan to rotate about 9 or 10 players on the 16-man squad.

Hartel is very optimistic about this year's team despite the loss of 4 starters from last year's team and 3 others, including Maurice Evans, first off the bench. The starters lost via graduation are Greg LeValley, Ron Bouck, John Gibson and Richard Lloyd. Also gone are Ben Schott and Al Prosowski.

The reason for the optimism is the return of other members of last year's varsity and players up from a very strong junior varsity squad.

Start with Paul Ulfing, 6-7 senior, all-conference last Fans who wish to get an early line on this year's squad can do so Thursday, starting at 6 p.m. A scrimmage with 3 other quality teams, Frankenthuth, Goodrich and Michigan Lutheran Seminary, will be held.

year and the top scorer on the team and in the league. Steve Muska worked his way into the starting guard post as a junior and showed steady improvement. Paul Murphy, 6-3 senior, is perhaps the best outside shooter on the team and, if he improves his defense and rebounding, could be a force to be reckoned with. John Phillips, 6-1 senior, provided quality minutes off the bench last season.

Other seniors on the squad are Tavis Osentoski, Darren Wallace, Aaron Hewitt and Mike Sherman.

This group will be seriously challenged by the players up from last year's JV squad and it's certain that several of them will play key roles.

Jason Morgan, 6-3 forward, will provide muscle on the boards. Scott Iwankovitch, 6-6 junior center, showed last season that he can rebound and score in the paint. Kevin Storm, 6-1 junior guard, had JV games last year where he was dominant on the floor. Hartel would like nothing better than to have him do it on the varsity.

Dan Sherman, 5-7 sophomore, brings quickness and ball handling to the guard post. Other juniors on the team are Ben Hobbs, Brad McNeil, Nathan Mastie and John Rea.

Hartel says the size and strength of the team, and good free throw and field goal shooting, are plus factors for the team. We will be relatively inexperienced, he adds, but this team seems determined to handle the challenge.

NERVE ENTRAPMENT/ MORTON'S NEUROMA

Frequently I hear complaints regarding sudden, sharp, stabbing pain in the toes. This condition, known as "Morton's Neuroma," is an inflammation of a nerve usually between the third and fourth metatarsal bones which produces agonizing pain into the webspace or toward the tips of the toes.

Continuous compression of a small nerve between two metatarsal bones is the culprit. Inflammation occurs when the head of one displaced bone presses against another and catches the nerve between them. With each step, the nerve is irritated. Consequently, the nerve enlarges with a sheath of scar tissue that forms to protect it. Shoes that are too tight will aggravate the condition. The underlying problem however, is a structural deficiency related to imbalance in walking.

Treatment involves removing pressure from the affected nerve and includes special padding and strapping. Injection into the area usually relieves symptoms immediately and reduces the inflammation. Physical therapy is also used.

When irritation has been present a long time, the scar tissue around the nerve may develop into a tumor. This non-invasive growth should be removed surgically. Before surgery is attempted, we utilize every available method of relief. Complete cooperation between you and your doctor concerning this condition is essential for a satisfactory result. For treatment of any of your foot conditions, call the physicians at:

GOING, GOING. . . The sight of Sunday night's total lunar eclipse was impressive, although a heavy cloud cover obstructed the view for a period of time.

Lunar eclipse picture perfect, despite clouds

The total lunar eclipse Sunday night was picture perfect, although heavy cloud cover obstructed the view for a time shortly after midnight.

A lunar eclipse occurs when the orbits of the earth and moon align so that the earth is between the sun and the moon. The light from the sun causes the earth to cast a shadow in space.

The eclipse became noticeable at about 11:40 p.m. as the moon began to enter the darker center of the shadow.

Skies were clear for the first several minutes, but by midnight, clouds were moving in, and by 12:15 a.m., the display was all but obstructed as a light snow began to fall. However, the skies later cleared, providing night owls with a clear view as the moon continued to pass through the shadow. The eclipse ended at about 4:25 a.m. Monday.

Although a lunar eclipse is visible from somewhere in the world almost every year, they are not always seen in the United States.

The next lunar eclipse is scheduled to occur Sept. 27, 1996, but area residents may not get a good view of that one, according to experts, who say the next eclipse clearly seen from mid-Michigan will occur Jan. 20, 2000.

8 indicted for perjury, secrecy rule violations

The Huron-Lapeer-Tuscola Multi-County Citizens' Grand Jury has handed down 8 indictments, 3 in Lapeer County and 5 in Tuscola County, in conjunction with its criminal investigation in the Thumb area.

The indictments remain sealed, and the identity of the person indicted remains secret until the named person is arrested and makes his/her initial appearance in court. All arrests are considered imminent.

The indictments charge perjury and violations of secrecy rules stemming from testifying falsely before the grand jury and divulging grand jury information.

Perjury is a felony carrying a maximum of 15 years in a state prison. Violating the rules of grand jury secrecy is a misdemeanor punishable by up to one year in the county jail and/or a fine of $1000.

The citizens' grand jury investigation is continuing, and further indictments are expected.

Appeals court upholds Hutcherson conviction

The Michigan Court of Appeals has upheld the 7-count felony conviction of Ricky Lee Hutcherson from a jury trial which was held before Tuscola County Circuit Court Judge Patrick R. Joslyn in January 1991.

The charges arose from Hutcherson's breaking and entering the home of a Caro woman, assaulting her with a gun, raping her and stealing her automobile. The defendant was found guilty on all charges and was later convicted by Joslyn of being a habitual offender, fourth offense.

Joslyn sentenced the defendant to 3 life sentences on 3 of the counts, 40 to 100 years on one of the counts and 5 years on each count for the 3 remaining counts. Hutcherson appealed both the convictions and the sentencing.

In a 3-page opinion, the appeals court reviewed and affirmed all the convictions and further stated that Joslyn did not abuse his discretion in imposing the defendant's sentences because they were proportionate to both the offender and the offenses committed.

The induction program, planned by Karen Wallace and Cheryl Kilbourn, Honor Society advisors, was held in the high school cafeteria.

Newly-elected members are seniors Becky Britt, Noel Hornbacher, Dave Hutchinson, Stephanie Mohr, Tracy Moore, Ed Nizzola, Kelli Opal, Heather Shagena, Sarah Wright, Marc Wallace and Karla Zinnecker and juniors Elizabeth Acker, Michelle Brown, Amy Burns, Lisa Deering, Leana Edwards, Erica Frederick, Carol Guza, Scott Iwankovitch, Nathan Mastie, Brad McNeil, Jason R. Morgan, Mandy Nizzola, Lindi Parrott, Andrea Speirs, Kevin Storm and Lisa Wallace.

Current members in the Cass City High School Honor Society are Melanie Fritz, Barry Hornbacher, Stacey Klinkman, Ryan King, Kristy Messing, Darcie Monroe, Mike Sherman, Jami Sting and Lindy VanVliet, all seniors.

National Honor Society membership certificates were presented to the new members by Counselor

Wayne Dillon.

High School Principal Russell Biefer presented Stacey Klinkman and Lindy VanVliet with an honor award recognizing their 4.0 grade point averages compiled over the past 4 years.

This average represents perfect academic achievement in their high school career.

The purpose of National Honor Society is to recognize outstanding students who are very much involved in the life of the school and community. Additions to the Society's membership are made each spring by a faculty council from a list of students who meet the scholarship requirement.

To be eligible for membership consideration, sophomores, juniors and seniors must have at least a 3.0 grade point average. Potential members must also meet high standards in leadership, service and character.

Leadership is based on the student's participation in 2 or more community or school activities or election to an office. To meet the service requirement, the student must be active in 3 or more service projects to the school or community. Character is measured in terms of integrity, behavior, ethics and cooperation with both students and faculty.

The National Honor Society ranks as one of the oldest and prestigious national organizations for high school students.

Chapters exist in 3/4 of the nation's schools, and since 1921 more than 12,000,000 students have been selected for membership. Millions of dollars in scholarships have been awarded to senior members since 1972 by the sponsoring organization, the National Association of Secondary School Principals.

Rotary exchange student

Ikeda enjoying Cass City, but misses bustling Tokyo

The Rotary Exchange Program has opened up a whole new world for Aya Ikeda.

The petite, Japanese teen knew there were other religions, races and cultures beyond her home near Tokyo. But learning about them firsthand — by living in a small Michigan town and getting to know other exchange students from some 40 countries — has changed her outlook on life and her future.

"Before, I just wanted to study business management. I just wanted to get promotions. I didn't think of what I could do for Japan or the world," she commented. "I don't want to spend a life earning money for eating. I want to do something, make a difference," she said.

Ikeda, a senior at Cass City High School, began her year as an exchange student last March. She currently is living with Mike and Marie Byron and their daughter, Paula, the second of 3 host families she'll have during her stay.

In a recent interview, the personable 16-year-old talked about a host of subjects ranging from school to differences in culture to her new-found love of Mexican food.

"I couldn't imagine a small town," she recalled of her first thoughts when she learned she would be staying in the Thumb. She became a bit hesitant after another student who had spent a year in the Thumb told her Cass City's population was 2,500 and that the town had only 4 shops.

"In Japan, we don't have open space. Buildings are everywhere, and the sky is, like, square," she said.

Ikeda has grown to love Michigan's trees and wildlife, but there are times when she misses the hustle and bustle of Tokyo, and the ease of getting around by bicycle, train and bus.

BOOKSTORES

Among her favorite destinations are bookstores.

"I used to read 40 books a month back in Japan. I repeat many books," she remarked, adding she likes topics ranging from literature to fantasy.

Although she has a good command of English, Ikeda confided, "It's hard for me to read English books. It takes, for me, one week."

Like many other teens, she enjoys bicycling, music and socializing with her friends. She doesn't watch a lot of television — news, an occasional documentary, and auto racing and other sports programs are her favorites.

"I prefer to read magazines and books, and talk to my friends on the phone," she added.

In Japan, Ikeda doesn't have a lot of free time during the school week. The private Catholic girls school she attends is 2 hours from her home, and she attends other specialized schools that require additional travel during the week. She attends school 7 hours each day, Monday through Friday, and 4 hours on Saturday.

Depending on the day of the week, she returns home between 6 and 9:30 p.m.

In contrast, school days in Cass City are less tiring, but Ikeda said it can be monotonous.

"Here, we have the same schedule everyday," she said. Ikeda explained that at home, students take a mixed class load involving many subjects that are spread out over the week, much like a university.

On the other hand, she pointed out, "We don't have prom or homecoming in Japan. I enjoyed it very much."

LITERACY

Students in Japan are not required to attend school beyond junior high, but nearly 90 percent do, according to the exchange student, who pointed out illiteracy is almost non-existent in her country.

Ikeda said she will spend her last year of high school concentrating on preparing for a university entrance exam. Getting into a university is difficult, but being hired by a good company is dependent on earning that degree, she noted.

Asked about cultural differences between Japan and the United States, Ikeda said Japan is quite Americanized in many areas, including music, movies and fast food. She grinned and added there is no Mexican food, and "I love tacos and nachos."

But there remain some big differences.

"Japanese society is really closed. For Japanese people, being united is easy; there is one ethnic group, one history, one language," she explained. "We are proud of our long history, but sometimes I think tradition makes it hard to change things. Many people are conservative."

In letters from her homeland, Ikeda's friends tell her she's less shy and more easy going since she came to the United States.

She agreed with that assessment, adding, "I hope (I've) become a little independent."

As for the future, she is considering a career in the area of international relations. "I want to do something to promote relationships between countries."

Ikeda admitted, however, that choosing a specific job is proving to be a challenge.

"I want to study too many things," she remarked, grinning.

"I want to study international relations, but I'm interested in business management and law, too. And I want to study foreign languages," she added. Ikeda is currently taking French and Spanish classes, but is also interested in learning Russian or Chinese.

Regardless of the specific job she chooses, Ikeda indicated she plans to try to give something back in appreciation for her experience as an exchange student. And in the process, make a difference.

"I want to," she said. "I hope I can."

Sweet smell

A natural compound that protects strawberries from mold is being used to extend the shelf life of fresh picked strawberries. The compound has commercial appeal because it has a fruity floral aroma, does not break down quickly into other compounds and is inexpensive.

THE WEATHER WAS frightful, but that didn't keep Santa Claus and his elves from making their scheduled appearance Friday at the Chemical Bank parking lot in Cass City. Rain forced the jolly old elf to arrive by fire truck instead of his sleigh, but the young ones waiting didn't appear to mind.

Stamp to list toll-free AIDS info number

The Thumb Area Volunteer Center, in association with the U.S. Postal Service and The Points of Light Foundation, will begin receiving calls through an 800-number from people responding to an AIDS awareness 29-cent stamp issued by the Postal Service Dec. 1.

The 800-number, part of an existing public service advertising campaign operated by the Washington, D.C.-based Points of Light Foundation, is the only system in place nationwide which matches callers with volunteer opportunities. The Thumb Area Volunteer Center is one of over 450 organizations which receives referrals regularly through this unique network.

The 800-number will appear in the 25 million AIDS stamp booklets being printed. The stamp features a red ribbon symbolizing the importance of AIDS awareness and a black border designed to serve as a reminder of the seriousness of the disease.

"Our community's need for volunteers willing to work the AIDS issue continues to grow. It takes a very special individual to address this serious problem, and the 800 referral service will allow us to better care for those with the disease in our community," said volunteer center Director Lori Offenbecher.

The stamp is being issued in conjunction with World AIDS Day Dec. 1. Started in 1988, this internationally recognized day was created to raise awareness about AIDS and promote prevention programs nationwide.

The National AIDS Hotline, Centers for Disease Control and the American Association for World Health (AAWH) will also be featured in the stamp booklet.

The Centers for Disease Control can provide information about HIV/AIDS by calling 800-342-AIDS. The AAWH develops and distributes resource materials for World AIDS Day which will be available to the public by contacting AAWH at 1129 20th Street, NW, Suite 400, Washington, D.C., 20036-3403, or call (202) 466-5883.

The Thumb Area Volunteer Center, a companion to Information and Referral, is a program of the Human Development Commission serving Huron, Sanilac and Tuscola counties. It acts as a central referral agency to the upper Thumb area, providing a single source of volunteers for agencies and organizations of all types. More information is available by dialing 1-800-292-3666.

SURROUNDED BY elves, Ean Elliott, 3, son of Debi Elliott of Cass City, seemed to enjoy his visit with Santa Claus Friday in Cass City.

Damm enlists in U.S. Army

Gagetown, enlisted in the U.S. Army for a 5-year tour of duty in the military police.

Scheduled to report for active duty in January 1994, she is slated to receive both basic and advanced training at Fort McClellan, Ala.
