17 attend Cass City Retired Persons meet

Seventeen members of the Cass City Retired Persons attended the meeting held Feb. 10 at Hills and Dales Hospital meeting room. Secretary Yvonne Burleson had the table decorated with valentines, with a little basket of valentine candy and a valentine at each place setting.

President Edna Simcox opened the meeting with the group reciting the pledge to the flag and singing one stanza of "My Country 'Tis of Thee." After the business meeting, poems relating to valentines were read by Yvonne Burleson, Deloris Fleming and Mrs. Simcox.

Mrs. Simcox gave a quiz on musical terms of endorsement taken from the Meg's Peg column of the Cass City Chronicle.

After lunch there was an exchange of valentines. Each member read a verse of a valentine. Some were funny and some sentimental. A scrambled word game was played, which was won by Rose Worstell. Bingo winners were Florence Mayhew, Lillian Hanby and Evelyn Warmber.

The March meeting will be held at the Charmont Restaurant.

In a recent article in one of the dailies, Alice Steinbach wrote about "regrets people have."

She told about the man sitting next to her on a plane returning home from Europe, where they'd both had a lengthy stay.

He seemed to be so filled with regrets about all the things he hadn't done, cities he hadn't visited, sights he hadn't seen, that you had to wonder if he'd enjoyed the trip at all.

Some people are like that, and many of them probably don't even realize it. To them, the glass is always half empty instead of half full.

These dwellers on the negative are basically ungrateful and never satisfied. No matter what you do for them, it's never right. No matter how much they get, it's never enough. Even when life seems good, it ought to be better.

Such people are to be pitied, I suppose, because nobody really likes to be around them, and unless there's a change in attitude, they'll never know any real happiness.

Steinbach also told of a new field of "regret study" in which researchers have tried to determine what people regret and why.

According to the reports, gender and age seem to play a part. Middle-aged men were more likely to regret not spending more time with their families, while middle-aged women tended to regret not having better careers.

The study says young people regret what they've done more than what they haven't. But as people age, the reverse is true. They regret the things they didn't get around to doing.

The top 3 regrets among those studied were: 1. Not getting enough education (which is easily remedied today via community education and college extension courses); 2. Staying with the wrong occupation or employer, and 3. Marrying or pursuing the wrong person.

We can't change the past. We can't alter our heredity or the environment we grew up in, and we're limited in our ability to undo things we've done. No amount of stewing over it or blaming someone or something in the past for our present situation will make it any better.

What we can do is confront regrets and deal with them once and for all, then put them behind us and get on with the business of living in the here and now.

We can decide not to nurture more regrets later on by determining to do what's right in the present and planning wisely for the future.

The happiest, most fulfilled people are those who spend little time looking back and constantly practice an "attitude of gratitude."

Scripture tells us "This is the day the Lord has made. Let us rejoice and be glad in it."

Being happy, productive, and thankful for today is a far better philosophy than sitting around regretting what we have or haven't done in the past.

REHAB BEGINS AT THE TIME OF INJURY

In today's busy world, there is often no time to rest, even after injuries. In athletes and non-athletes alike, staying active after an injury and getting back to sports and work early is very important.

But is there any way to speed recovery? The answer is yes, and there are also things you should avoid to keep from prolonging an injury.

After an injury such as a sprained ankle, the most important treatment is to cool it with ice. Frequent applications of ice packs for 10-15 minutes limits swelling and pain. While the pain is decreased with the ice packs or in an ice bucket, you should begin to work the ankle as much as you can without increasing the pain. This will help stimulate the nerves that feed the ankle and will help prevent the sensation of unsteadiness in the ankle once you start walking on it again.

It is very important not to use heat on a new injury such as a sprain. It may feel good, but it will cause much more swelling and stiffness later on.

Rest can be helpful for a few days, but that does not mean inactivity. You should still use the ankle up to the point that it starts to cause pain.

Swelling can also be limited by using an air cast or an ace wrap and elevating the ankle.

Even though it takes a sprain two months to heal completely, getting back to sports and activities can be much quicker by taking proper care of the injury early.

It is important to note that with any injury, especially with severe pain and/or swelling, you should consult your doctor for the injury may be more serious.

Rabbit Tracks

by John Haire
(And anyone else he can get to help.)

Area restaurants have been spotlighted by the Bay City media this winter. The Bay City Times ran a lengthy feature about George Wilson's Eagle Dancer in Gagetown, and Nel's Kitchen, Gagetown, will be featured over TV-5 March 9 at 5 p.m. and March 10 at 6:30 a.m.
Nel's house omelet will be the subject.
Cass City and Pizza Villa got a little publicity last Thursday when the restaurant was featured, also on TV-5.

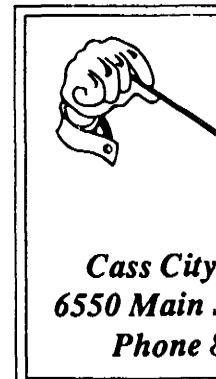

Made it to "Cheap Charlie's" on Bay Road between Saginaw and Bay City last week. It's in the building formerly occupied by "Holly By Golly" and, like its predecessor, starts you off with a free dish of popcorn.
I don't think the restaurant is cheap, just about average. The food I'd rate a 6 on the 1-10 scale. A Vienna corned beef sandwich with soup and coleslaw cost $5.00.
The place is drawing a crowd. At 6:30 on a weekday night we got the last table available.

Two corporations with ties to Cass City have made substantial gifts to the Michigan 4-H Foundation for Vision 2021. Chemical Financial Corporation, parent of Chemical Bank, which has a branch in Cass City, donated $50,000. Detroit Edison gave the foundation $70,000.
A total of $610,000 has now been raised for the renovation of Kettunen Center, a facility in Tustin operated by the Michigan 4-H Foundation.

Grant boosts meal program

The Human Development Commission (HDC) has received a grant from the Reynolds Metals Company and the National Association of Meal Programs, which will allow for the delivery of 740 home-delivered meals in Huron, Tuscola and Sanilac counties.

The award is part of a national effort to provide 75,000 home-delivered and congregate meals to geographically diverse areas of the country.

The HDC award is particularly timely, given that demand for senior meals has continued to rise without accompanying increases in funding.

HDC provides home-delivered meals to seniors in Huron, Sanilac and Tuscola counties on a year-round basis. In fiscal year 1992-1993, 189,000 such meals were delivered, in addition to those served from 19 senior dining centers in the 3-county area.

"Our Senior Meal Program is a valuable service that requires substantial funding. Every bit of extra support it receives is really appreciated, by this agency and by the clients we serve," said HDC Executive Director Mary Ann Vandemark.

More information about the HDC Senior Meal program, and other services available to those who are age 60 and over is available by calling 1-800-843-6394 (673-4121 in Caro).

Millage election date set

The Novesta Township Board has officially moved back the date for a planned special road millage election.

The request, 2.5 mills for 5 years, will be placed on the August ballot instead of the March 15 ballot, township Clerk Kathy Newell reported following the Township Board's Feb. 7 monthly meeting.

A mill in the township raises about $15,000. For the owner of a home with a market value of $50,000, the tax would cost an additional $62.50 per year.

A number of township roads are in desperate need of repair, according to township officials, who said revenues generated by the special millage, if approved, would be used exclusively for road improvements.

In other business last week, the board scheduled the annual township meeting for March 26 at 1 p.m. at the Township Hall in Deford.

Student missed

Ninth grade student Jennifer Winchester's name should have been included in the second 9-week period and semester honor rolls at Owen-Gage High School.

The Haire Net

Between now and mid-April will be a golden opportunity for persons in charge of programs for clubs and other organizations to present a program that is bound to be of interest to anyone in the area.

It's good and, best of all, it's free.
The speaker is Cass City School Superintendent Ken Micklash, who said that he will be happy to talk to any club, large or small.

His topic, of course, will be the proposed new middle school for the Cass City School District.

A select few heard his presentation last week. He can make it about any length. The one presented took about 20 minutes, with another 10 minutes or so for questions.

You can expect to hear the new school proposal presented in its most favorable light and the flaws in attempting renovation of the present building outlined.

Micklash has spent a lot of time marshalling his facts and his talk is accompanied by slides to illustrate the cost, the proposed building and the history of schools in the district.

If the vibrations that I feel from the corner of Oak and Main are correct, there are a lot of folks who are undecided about the school project.

The audience at the meeting last week was primarily attended by teachers and others connected with the school. They don't need to be convinced of the necessity for a building program. The emphasis was on why a new building rather than renovation of the present building should be the way to go.

Perhaps that will change when Micklash or any school board member speaks to persons not as attuned to the school.

Micklash said that he had

"If It Fitz...."

Golden memories of a shadowy past

By Jim Fitzgerald

Just in time for Valentine's Day, I received a note from May Whaling, nee Roggenbeck, who could have been my valentine a few years ago, except she couldn't see me in the shadows.

Did I say a few years ago? Mary's message said our St. Stephen High School class graduated 50 years ago, and there'll be a golden reunion July 16 at the Fogcutter Restaurant in Port Huron.

Fifty years ago? Time sure flies when you're having geriatric seizures.

It seems like just the other day, but it was in 1969 that a teenage daughter said I wouldn't look so old if I didn't have so many chins. "I guess I eat too much," I admitted.

"Don't you swallow it?" she asked.

In 1994, I'm wary of wobbling those chins before the Class of 1944. No one will recognize me. When I was a high schooler, I was so skinny my shadow was embarrassed and kept falling behind me, trying to act as if it were with someone else. As a result, my shadow didn't graduate until 1946.

Obviously, it wasn't my own shadow that prevented pretty Mary from seeing I wanted her for my valentine. I attended St. Stephen's in the shadow of my much older, much bigger sister, Terrible Jean. For that matter, so did many students. In those days of Great-Depression-stunted growth, Terrible Jean, by eating for two (I was the other one), achieved such comparatively giant stature as to block the sun from entire populations.

TOO FAR BEHIND TO BE NOTICED

But my shadowed position was more than physical. It was a mental depressant for a young boy to be constantly compared to his big sister and found lacking.

Terrible Jean was "a leader." She was always making speeches and leading scrap drives. I was a follower, so far behind that the scrap I collected for World War II was dropped on Iraq. The St. Stephen pastor, Father E.J. McCormick, always visited classrooms to distribute report cards. I still cringe at the memory of the day he finally wearied of handing me D's and E's. It was the same week I'd playfully tripped a classmate, Fred Ceglarek, crashing him through a school window.

The good priest looked at me over his glasses and declaimed a shattering value assessment that began: "You can't possibly be Jean Fitzgerald's brother. They must have made a mistake at the hospital...."

And it wasn't only brains. In the ninth grade, I took my 85-pound body out for football. The coach treated me warmly and I was flattered until I learned his motive. He wanted me to help him persuade Terrible Jean to play fullback.

THAT BOXED-IN FEELING

Terrible Jean's athletic jittersbugging also left me deep in the shadows, so I'm not thrilled that Mary Whaling's invitation said there will be dancing at the Class of 1944 reunion. What I remember most about dancing in Port Huron 50 years ago is that the dance parties were usually sponsored by the LRT and the girls asked the boys, but seldom me.

LRT was not a hallucinatory drug. It was a sorority at the public high school across the street from St. Stephen's. In fact, the LRT is probably still there, numbering among its members the granddaughters of the girls who used to curse their dates for writing my name on their dance cards.

Then, as now, I knew one dance step — the box. I still do it today. Forward, sideways, backward, sideways, backward, sideways, forward, do it again, hot diggity. This is pretty snappy for a few minutes, but gets a little wearisome after a few hours, not to mention 50 years.

Despite my shadowy background, I'll attend the golden reunion, if only to delight my wife. The first time I took her to a St. Stephen alumni party, I somehow checked her at the cloakroom and danced with a raincoat all night. And she thanked me.

There were only 60 students in our class, and I don't like to think of how few survivors will show up July 16. They'll probably look at me and ask each other "Who's that?"

Lakers too tough for Hawk spikers

Right from the start, things didn't go well for the Cass City volleyball team in Thursday's match with the Blue Bay League leading Lakers.

It was the start, of each game, that haunted the Red Hawks as they were defeated in 3 straight games by the scores of 15-11, 15-10 and 15-2.

"This was our first competition play in 2 weeks due to bad weather and it showed," said head Coach Sherry Bader. "We never really got in our rhythm or flow."

The Lakers, the #7 rated squad in Class C, jetted to a 10-3 advantage in the opener. Then in game 2, the hosts scored the contest's first 4 points and gained a 7-2 edge.

After the initial squirts by the defending league champs, however, Cass City played Sue Frederiksen's spikers tough.

Cass City came back in the initial game behind the serving of Jodi Schember, Darcie Monroe and Stacey Klinkman. The trio missed only 3 of 29 service attempts during the match.

Coach Bader also credited Jamie Caister for the visitors' comeback trial after the horrible beginning.

"Caister played a strong defensive game in the back row, coming up with 6 saves."

The Hawks climbed to within a point of the Lakers, 12-11, before Jenny Murdoch was able to record 3 straight points for the winners.

The Hawks (14-6-3) will have to get off to a better start Thursday when they enter in Bad Axe in a battle for 2nd place in the Blue Bay Conference.

Cass City used a 6-0 run to gain its only lead of the night at 8-7 of the middle game. Four of those tallies came off ace serves by Schember and Monroe.

The Lakers were able to regain the lead with Shelly McCain at the service line, 11-9. The Hawks failed on several opportunities to recapture the lead before Lakers' Lora Picklo and Betsy Drury recorded the game's final points.

"We were struggling to set the ball up. We couldn't pass serve, which allowed the Lakers to take early leads in all 3 games," lamented Bader.

In the finale, Elkton-Pigeon-Bay Port was too tough for the Hawks.

"Lakers, as usual, came out playing their usual strong game. I was happy in the first 2 games that we hung with them. The girls never did give up. They kept fighting back," commented Bader.

The Hawks were led at the net by Schember and LaRoche, who split a dozen attacks, each registering one ace. Monroe was credited with 5 attacks that resulted in one kill and one ace.

Schember led Cass City in scoring with 6 points as she was perfect from the service line in 10 attempts. Klinkman also served well for the visitors, gaining 5 points, as did teammate Monroe.

Wesleyan powers past O-G; 'Dogs top Caseville, 62-55

Basketball is a strange game.

Coach Brian Wright's Owen-Gage cagers opened last week losing at North Branch Wesleyan Tuesday, 93-51. Earlier in the season, the Bulldogs downed the Wolverines, 70-62.

Friday the Akron-Fairgrove Vikings needed a Mark Becker free throw with no time on the clock to register a 52-51 North Central Thumb League win over the Bulldogs.

In January, Mark Cockerill's squad hammered the 'Dogs, 83-35.

Go figure. Although Wright has to be pleased with his team's latest outing, he has to be concerned with its consistency as they are scheduled to travel to North Huron Friday to tangle with the Warriors.

Senior Mike Tkacz helped stake the hosts to a 12-9 first quarter edge Friday with 2 short jumpers and a lay-in during the opening 8 minutes.

Owen-Gage then earned its biggest advantage of the night at 25-14 as they started the 2nd frame with a 13-5 spurt. Tkacz and sophomore Mark Damm capped the run with back-to-back old fashioned 3-point plays with just over 2 minutes to the intermission.

The Vikings, however, were able to slice the hosts' margin to a single basket, 27-25, at the break as John Streeter recorded 5 quick tallies.

Despite recording only one basket from the floor in the 3rd period, an Austin Brinkman jump shot from beyond the 3-point arc, Owen-Gage added 2 points

Hawk wrestlers 2nd in league meet

The Cass City wrestling team saved its best for last. Saturday the young Red Hawk grapplers wrapped up their regular season, nearly pulling off the upset of the year during the Blue Bay Conference league meet in Marlette.

Coach Don Markel's squad was narrowly edged by the perennial powerhouse Red Raiders, 174.5 to 167.5. Markel considers Saturday's performance one of his squad's best efforts on the campaign.

"We've won 8 of our last 10 outings. It reflects the steady improvement of the underclassmen on the team," says Markel.

Cass City will now direct its focus to the state tournament. On Wednesday the Hawks will compete in the team districts at Sandusky, while Saturday, Bad Axe, who finished a distant 3rd at the conference meet (122), will host the individual districts.

Rounding out the field at Saturday's league meet were Sandusky (111), Mayville (77) and Elkton-Pigeon-Bay Port (38).

All 12 of the Cass City wrestlers that competed in the conference showdown earned points for the Hawks.

Matt Hoppe and Dale Heronemus led the charge for Cass City, each earning league champion distinction. Hoppe ran his season record to a gaudy 31-1 by capturing the 130-lb. division. Heronemus turned back all challengers in the 189-lb. class and upped his season mark to 22-12.

Cass City had 5 wrestlers bow in the conference finals and register runner-up honors. They were, followed by season mark: Jeremy Markel (16-12), Bob Davis (22-9), Chris Revis (6-2), Steve Irvine (12-22), Tom Davis (22-9).

Cass City had a trio earn 3rd place accolades. They were Eric Hoelzle (9-17) in the 152-lb. class, Jason Daniel (13-11) in the 135-lb., and Ed Nizzola (24-10) in the 171-lb. class.

Don Pisha (7-13) and Don Golden (11-10) placed 4th for the Hawks and completed the scoring for Cass City.

Earlier in the week on Thursday, Cass City traveled to Vassar and recorded a 50-24 win in their final dual meeting of the year. The win puts the Hawks in the record books with an 8-6 record.

Cass City won the first 6 matches of the day to gain a hefty 33-0 advantage.

Of those 6, four came by way of pins. Don Pisha opened the meet by pinning Johnathan Stakalosa 54 seconds into the 103-lb. class.

Red Hawk Markel then pinned Jeremy Lesko with only 42 seconds remaining on the clock in the 112-lb. class.

Following a 5-0 decision by Chris Revis over Mike Sykes, Hoppe quickly recorded a takedown and pin over Scott Putnam in the initial period.

Daniel would record the final points before the hosts would get on the scoreboard when he pinned Dan Moncman after leading 8-2 heading into the final period.

Cass City recorded 2 other pins in the match. Tom Davis and Dale Heronemus each notched opening period pins.

Ed Nizzola completed the Hawk scoring on the day with a major decision over Marc Moncman.

to its lead entering the deciding period.

The closing period showcased the outside artistry of Owen-Gage's Brinkman and the Vikings' Streeter, who traded 6 baskets between them down the wire.

Brinkman, despite being disqualified on fouls, led his team with 18 tallies. Streeter recorded game scoring honors with 20 points.

Chad Wehrman and Robert Laethem also contributed to the visitors' 4th quarter rally by pouring in all 3 of the Vikings' trifectas on the night.

Oddly, Wehrman's 2 treys in the final period would be his only points of the night. Laethem also was held scoreless until the final frame and finished with just one basket.

Owen-Gage got 16 points from Tkacz as he was the only other player on the floor to finish in double digits. Damm added 8 points and collected 12 rebounds in vain.

Akron-Fairgrove received 9 markers from Jeremy Burkey.

CASEVILLE

Wednesday, the NCTL's 2 basement dwellers played each other even for 4 periods before Owen-Gage outscored Caseville 11-4 in overtime to record the victory, 62-55.

Caseville leaped out to a 14-11 first quarter lead but lost its shooting eye in the 2nd period and managed only 6 points to find themselves trailing at the intermission, 22-20.

Behind the efforts of Ryan Lackie, who paced the Eagles with a game high 23 points, the hosts captured a 4 point spread heading into the final stanza at 39-35.

Austin Brinkman, who had been silent most of the night, roared in the final period to help force the overtime period. Brinkman tossed in 3 of his season high five 3-point baskets. Brinkman, who collected his final trifecta in the extra period, finished with a team high 22 points.

Eric Susalla collected a dozen points for the winners, while teammates Phil Fahrner and Tkacz scored 10 and 9 points, respectively. Damm received credit for 15 swipes off the glass.

Caseville had 2 other players besides Lackie score in double digits. Nick Bednerek and Jeremy Jensen split 20 points. Kevin Gettel added 8 in a losing cause.

JUST OUT OF REACH - Owen-Gage's Phil Fahrner and Viking John Streeter battle for a loose ball in Friday's NCTL contest. Streeter led all scorers with 20 tallies.

RED HAWK STACEY KLINKMAN has served well for Coach Sherry Bader all season. She had 5 service points at Pigeon.

GO RED HAWKS! Cass City cheerleaders had plenty of help leading cheers at the Cass City-Deckerville game Friday night. They were joined at half time by more than 100 junior cheerleaders, ages 4 to 11, who had taken part in a cheerleading clinic sponsored by the cheerleaders last week.

Hawks upset; Pirates steal all-win season

Cass City High School's basketball team tempted fate once too often last Tuesday at Harbor Beach and the Pirates ended the Hawks' chances of their first undefeated season, 51-50.

The loss capped a string of games in which Cass City failed to perform to the level achieved in earlier games. During the streak the Hawks slipped by Reese by a single point and were challenged seriously by Sandusky before they bowed.

Coach Jeff Hartel said that he feels it is his responsibility to motivate the team and get it ready to play and said that he was as much to blame as anyone for the loss.

However, the coach can't shoot foul shots for his players and it was inability to convert free shots that resulted in the loss. Much like the Reese game, in which Cass City lost a 6-point lead when foul shots were missed, Cass City blew a 5-point lead and the game against the Pirates.

In the final period the Hawks made just one of 6 shots from the foul line.

Cass City led most of the way except at the end when it counted. At the end of the first period the Hawks were in front, 14-10, led by Kevin Storm, who cashed a pair of treys, and Paul Ulfig, who counted 6 points on a pair of baskets and 2 of 7 free throws.

Paul Murphy, with a 2 and a 3-pointer, and Storm, with another trey and a pair of free throws, kept Cass City ahead at the intermission, 28-22. Brian Biroscak paced a balanced Harbor Beach attack with 9 points in the first 2 quarters.

Cass City's offense went stone cold in the third period and the Pirates chopped 3 points from the lead. Going into the final period it was anybody's ball game as the Hawks' lead was cut to 38-35.

Cass City dominated on the boards. The Hawks grabbed, 51-37, behind Ulfig, 13, Jason Morgan and Storm, 8 each. Ron Hessling snared 13 for the Beachers. Both teams shot 33 percent from 3-point land, but the Hawks converted 4 of 12 and the Pirates, 2 of 6. Overall, the host team shot 43 percent, Cass City 36 percent. Cass City shot 31 percent from the foul line, Harbor Beach, 64 percent.

From Courville Elementary

School to host choir

The Courville Concert Choir of Courville Elementary School, Detroit, will participate in a cultural and educational day Feb. 23, with Cass City students in grades K-6.

Campbell Elementary School will host the group. The 35-member choir will give a series of choral concerts at the middle school under the direction of Willard J. Hines, musical director and founder. The day is sponsored by the Cass City Schools and the Village Bach Festival.

The Courville Concert Choir consists of singers in grades 4-8, some of whom rehearse during their lunch hour daily at Courville Elementary School. Members from other schools rehearse after school twice a week.

The members are auditioned before being given an opportunity to join the choir.

In 1993, they performed in the Detroit Public Schools, local churches, Detroit City Council formal meetings, board of education meetings, the State Capitol in Lansing, and on the steps of the U.S. Capitol Building, Washington, D.C., while touring cities on the east coast.

Their concert repertoire includes music from classical to gospel, with special message songs appealing to young people.

Motorist arrested

A Cass City motorist was arrested on suspicion of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor following a one-vehicle personal injury accident Feb. 8 in Cass City.

Village police reported the driver, Tommy L. Powell, 34, was westbound on Garfield Avenue at about 6:15 p.m. when he failed to stop at the Doerr Road intersection, went over a curb and struck a tree.

He was treated for minor injuries at Hills and Dales General Hospital, then lodged at the Tuscola County Jail, police said.

Deckerville falls

Hawks clinch Blue Bay League title tie

The Cass City Red Hawks have assured themselves of at least a tie for the Blue Bay League title and a win at Uby Tuesday will bring them the title with 3 conference games left. The Hawks defeated visiting Deckerville, 81 to 59 Friday in a game that Coach Jeff Hartel described as not a great game for his charges. However, when our effort matched our execution, good things began to occur, he said.

Those good things didn't start until midway through the second quarter. Before that Hawk fans witnessed more of the type basketball that has plagued the team in recent games.

That first quarter was full of lapses for Cass City. The press was largely ineffective and the turnovers frequent. Deckerville was shooting well, or to be accurate, Chris Logan was shooting well, and Cass City wasn't rebounding well on either end of the court. Logan poured in 11 points in the first period, which was countered by Steve Muska with 6 and Paul Murphy with 5 points.

Neither team was able to gain a decided advantage until the last half of the second quarter. The score was tied at 21-all with 5:10 left in the half. Paul Ulfig was obviously suffering from a sore back and converted just 5 free throws in the first 2 quarters.

Scott Iwankovitsch came off the bench to spark the rally that put Cass City ahead to stay. He connected for 3 quick baskets, picked off some important rebounds and blocked a couple of shots to get Cass City rolling. In the third period, Ulfig ignored his back and started scoring and Paul Murphy lighted it up from 3 point range to put the game away.

Ulfig netted 4 field goals and Murphy added 3 treys, and going into the final 8 minutes Cass City led 61-42.

After that, Hartel was able to see that all of his 14-player squad saw action and 10 players scored.

Cass City won the battle of the boards, 47-32, with Jason Morgan picking off 12.

Murphy led Cass City with 19 points, while Logan was a one-man gang for Deckerville with 31 points.

Hartel said that Kevin Storm continued to play well and Murphy, with 7 for 10 with 5 treys, was also outstanding. Morgan and Iwankovitsch provided a strong inside game.

The coach also said that overall the effort was better and that the stress in the final games would be to work on defense, free throws and team play. We need to get healthy before the districts, he added, pointing to Ulfig's back and ankle injuries to Steve Muska and Storm.

The Hawk JV scored an easy win over the Deckerville JV, 84-37.

Beef eaters

Per capita consumption of beef is expected to equal 94 pounds this year. That's higher than the 78 pounds of chicken we eat per person, or the 68 pounds of pork. But poultry consumption has nearly tripled in the past 25 years, while consumption of beef peaked in 1976.

MARK AND BRENDA Stover relax at home, 6 weeks after Mark underwent major surgery to remove a rare form of cancer from his abdomen. The outlook is good, according to the Cass City resident, who is scheduled to begin chemotherapy treatments this week.

Mental health officials to dedicate new facilities

After years of planning and preparation, Tuscola County Community Mental Health (CMH) will fulfill a dream Friday, Feb. 25, when it dedicates its 2 new Caro facilities at an open house starting at 1 p.m. Located in the Caro Industrial Park and downtown on Almer Street, the structures house a number of the agency's most active and expanding programs. The open house will be preceded by a ribbon-cutting ceremony at the Industrial Park site with guests expected to include James Haveman, director of the Michigan Department of Mental Health, State Senator Joel Gougeon, State Representative Dick Allen and a host of local officials. The ribbon-cutting ceremony begins at 12:00 noon.

exercise a third choice, that of renovating a building more suitable to our purposes and located more centrally for the benefit of our consumers. Then, the structure commonly known as the "Spec Building" in the Caro Industrial Park, was chosen to achieve the same ends for our work services programs. Working in cooperation with the Village of Caro, we were able to design and construct a custom building for nearly 2 years. We think everyone wins in both instances."

Currently, Cass Valley Enterprises, which is a subsidiary of Tuscola County Community Mental Health, provides contractual assembly and manufacturing services to local businesses, supervisory, job coaching and technical positions. The 1:00 Open House festivities will run concurrently at both locations (141 S. Almer St. at Joy St. and 1342 Prospect Drive in the Caro Industrial Park), with shuttle service provided. The public is invited.

Integrated crop management

New farm program planned

Four local agencies are working together to offer Tuscola County farm producers the opportunity to participate in an integrated crop management program for the 1994 crop season.

The primary purpose of integrated crop management is to reduce water pollution from agricultural operations. The management plan will include application of nutrients and pesticides in an efficient and environmentally sound manner, including use of soil testing, following Michigan State University fertilizer recommendations and using certified pest scouts to check fields.

The agencies involved are the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS), Michigan State University Extension (MSUE), Soil Conservation Service (SCS) and the Tuscola Soil Conservation District. Incentive payments of up

A Missouri company is selling windshield washer fluid containing non-toxic ethanol made from corn grown here in the U.S.

According to CMH executive director, Robert E. Chadwick II, the agency simply began to outgrow its own physical boundaries for many of its programs. "We found ourselves in the enviable position of achieving growth in our consumer services and our work services programs, to the point where we either had to build from scratch to house these programs, or renovate our existing structures here on the grounds of the Regional Center. Confident

Stover fighting cancer with faith, positive attitude

Cancer. The word alone is enough to shake anyone up, especially when it comes from a physician.

Mark Stover knows the feeling.

The 29-year-old Cass City resident was told he has cancer a few weeks ago. He's since undergone major surgery to remove a large tumor in his abdomen, and is scheduled this week to begin a regimen of chemotherapy treatments.

Afterwards, doctors say, he should be cancer free, with a 90-plus percent chance of a complete cure.

Through it all, Stover has remained confident he'll beat the dreaded disease.

"The word (cancer) is scarier than anything. When I found out, it was a shocker," he said Thursday. "It's scary, but cancer can be cured. You just have to put your mind to it that the Lord's going to take care of it."

Stover attributes his progress to a firm faith in God and a positive attitude. He also credits the skilled doctors and nurses involved in his case, and the ever present support of family and friends.

Stover's ordeal began last Thanksgiving, when he noticed his body was retaining an abnormal amount of fluids.

A doctor's appointment in Cass City led to his referral to a urology specialist in Caro, who ordered an ultrasound test that revealed a solid mass in Stover's abdomen.

MALIGNANT

Then it was on to Lapeer Regional Hospital for 4 biopsies, and Crittenton Hospital in Rochester Hills for 9 more, all within a week and a half. The tests revealed the mass was malignant.

Stover was scheduled for surgery Jan. 10 at Crittenton. He indicated his positive attitude pleased his doctors. "I told the doctors, I said,

"You know, whatever you guys don't get, the Lord is going to take care of it." And he took care of it."

The surgery proved extensive, lasting 3 hours. Despite a large battery of tests, the tumor's bulk — the size of a basketball — surprised surgeons. It weighed more than 2 1/2 pounds, according to Stover, who said nearly all of the growth along with a small portion of bowel was removed.

Stover's recovery also has surprised doctors.

"They told me I'd be in critical intensive care for 4 days, and I was out of intensive care after a day and a half," he said. Stover left the hospital 9 days later. "He (doctor) can't believe how fast I recovered from this surgery."

Stover's tumor was sent to the University of Michigan Medical Center for analysis.

"They knew it was a rare form of cancer, but they didn't really know what kind," he noted, adding he and wife Brenda have since learned his cancer is a rare form of sarcoma that strikes young males ages 25 to 35.

Doctors told the couple there are only 50 to 60 other cases known involving this type of sarcoma. "It's very curable, but it grows real quick," Mark explained.

SUPPORT

The Stovers are quick to point out they have enjoyed an outpouring of support from friends and the community.

Close friends Jeff and Darlene Parsell have been with the couple every step of the way. Brenda said, adding people have been praying for Mark throughout the area as well as Arizona, Kentucky, Florida, Pennsylvania and Colorado.

"You can feel those prayers," Mark said. "Brenda and I had probably over 130 get-well cards. I got letters and postcards from people I don't even know. It really lifts your spirits up."

Brenda agreed, saying trips into town often draw inquiries from people interested in knowing how Mark is doing. "You don't realize how much people care," she added.

Friends have organized a benefit fish fry for the Stovers. The event is scheduled for Feb. 26 starting at 4 p.m. at the White Creek Club, located about a half-mile north of Deckerville Road on Dodge Road. Ticket information is available by calling 872-5105.

Stover's cancer fight isn't over — he'll be spending one to 3 days in the hospital during each chemotherapy treatment, which he'll undergo every 3 weeks for the next 6 months.

He isn't thrilled with the thought of some of the possible side effects of the treatment. However, he said, "It's great to at least get over the surgery."

Cancer isn't the first obstacle Stover has faced in his life. He lost a brother in a farm accident several years ago, and in October 1992, Mark and Brenda had their first child, a baby girl, Monica Sue, whose left hand never developed.

But the couple haven't dwelled on the challenge. Instead, they became pioneers of sorts by allowing Monica to become the youngest patient in U-M Medical Center history to be fitted for a special crawling mitt and, more recently, a specialized claw that will help her to adjust to more sophisticated prostheses as she grows.

Likewise, the Stovers plan to overcome cancer, but Mark pointed out he won't do it alone.

"If you don't have Christ in your heart, you're not going to pull through stuff like this," he explained. "If it hadn't been for him, I wouldn't have been able to go through what I've gone through."

Your neighbor says

My Valentine's a super man

Mary Feebish of Cass City has to be happy that Valentine Day comes around each year. For her it's a time for some fine gifts from her husband, Leo. This year it was a beautiful chocolate heart and a fine card that read in part "from your Valentine husband." Besides the candy, she received a new coat.

The couple has been married for 13 years and "My husband has never forgotten to bring a gift on Valentine's Day," Mrs. Feebish said. "He's a super man and a super husband."

The Feebishes have lived in Cass City for about a year, but she is no stranger to the Cass City area. She is a native of Gagetown and graduated from Cass City High School. She returned "home" after 38 years.

The couple has 10 children from previous marriages, 6 for him and 4 for her, plus 18 grandchildren. You should see us around Christmas time, she laughed.

Her husband is a city boy from Pennsylvania, but he loves the peace and quiet of the life in this community, his wife said.

Since returning, Mrs. Feebish has taken an active interest in community projects. When she was interviewed she was selling romance novels and handing out cookies and refreshments as a member of the Friends of the Library.

Customers come first at Coach Light Pharmacy

The most important thing we do is not new, says Mike Weaver, owner of Coach Light Pharmacy on Cass City's Main Street. It's been the cornerstone of the business from the beginning. It's catering to the needs of customers.
We are out to prove every day that "we care", Weaver added.

In addition to discount prices, Coach Light offers extra services. Free blood pressure checks are available at any time and free blood glucose checks are also offered. (Coach Light has the unit for sale, if it proves to be needed for continuous diabetes treatment.

Unique items at Craft House

After just one year in business in The Craft House, 196 North State, Caro, owner Lora Harrel reports that she is pleased with the reception that her new business has been given.
The Craft House specializes in porcelain dolls, crabs and oil painting classes are also offered at the store. The store continues to expand the stock of unique gifts that it specializes in.

Now shoppers can choose from a selection of North American Bears, Muffy Vandebear and Family porcelain dolls and dried and silk floral arrangements. Plans are under way to offer doll houses and miniatures.
Harrel says that she welcomes shoppers to the store to browse around while looking for that special gift for that special person.

Lenda's IGA 38 years in Cass City

Over the years Harry and Mable Lenda, owners and operators of the Cass City IGA Store, have proven again that service to customers together with money-saving prices are the key to success.
That's the way the store has operated for 38 years in Cass City and that's the way it operates today. Typical of the extra step that the Lendas take is the easy meal program that is conducted in conjunction with the Area Agency on Aging.
The menu is given to the customer and it is brought to the store and we furnish what is needed and then bill the agency, Lenda explained. Another extra service is the handling of veterans' orders.
All of the services offered by a modern supermarket are available at Lenda's IGA in Cass City. There is a modern expansive deli department. A popular feature is the deep fried chicken in quantities small enough for one person or large enough for a banquet. The quality has brought customers back time and again.
To maintain quality and service, the original store in downtown Cass City was moved to its present location and a series of expansions and modernizations have taken place.
At its location at the west village limits on M-81 (Main Street) a 4,000-foot addition was added and in 1956 another 2,000 feet were added to bring the store to 12,400 square feet.
Store hours are 8:30 a.m. to 7 p.m. Monday through Wednesday; to 8 p.m. Thursday and Friday to 9 p.m., to assist working households. Saturday hours are 8:30 a.m. to 6 p.m.

New owners renovate store

One of the newest businesses in Cass City is the Seeger Street Market, 10 south village limits.
The store is owned by Jim and Laurel Breckenridges, who took over the store 3 months ago. Their daughter, Jennifer, is the store manager.
The Breckenridges invited everyone to come in and say hello to give it a new look. It is a small grocery market with miscellaneous general store items.
Plans include adding fresh meat, vegetables and a deli.
The Breckenridges moved to Cass City from Otisville, where they lived most of their lives. Another daughter, Cherree, attends Cass City High School. They also have 2 sons and 5 grandchildren.
A feature of the drive-in is the availability of pizza for the piece. It makes an economical lunch or dinner and

Cass City's only drive-in Friendly service at Parkway

When Parkway opened 11 years ago, the aim was to provide fast, courteous service for area shoppers. The goal is the same today, says owners Richard and Robbie Turner.
Parkway's drive-in shopping window and pizza take-out has found ready acceptance from Cass City area shoppers.
Parkway is the only store in the community that offers drive-in service. Folks like the convenience of service without leaving their cars, says Turner.
Making shopping of all types easier is the store's policy. We welcome telephone orders, Turner says. Folks can phone their grocery and beverage orders to us and we will be happy to have the order filled and ready to be picked up, usually by the time it takes to get to the drive-in.
The drive-in window is open from 6 a.m. to 11:30 p.m. daily except Friday and Saturday, when it is open until 1:00 a.m.
A feature of the drive-in is the availability of pizza for the piece. It makes an economical lunch or dinner and

Best in recent memory

New construction booms in Cass City

New construction in Cass City totaled nearly $2 million in 1993, making the year among the village's best in recent memory.

Construction in Cass City 1993
New Residential (houses)	$595,000
New Residential (condos)	1,100,000
Residential Additions	144,230
Commercial Additions	43,225
Industrial Additions	31,900
	$1,914,355
Total for past 5 years
1992	$4,552,332
1991	1,291,764
1990	1,135,557
1989	1,495,486
1988	1,780,608

figures were presented to the Village Council recently in conjunction with Village Manager Lou S. LaPonsie's annual report.

The 1993 total pales in comparison to the record $4.55 million in new construction posted in 1992, but that year's figure included Detroit Edison's $3 million North Area Energy Center complex built in the Cass City Industrial Park.

The numbers in 1993 showed continued growth at Northwood Lake Condominiums, where 7 condos were built last year with a combined construction cost of $1.1 million.

In addition, 7 new homes were built at a combined cost of nearly $600,000.

Construction in 1993 also included $144,230 in residential additions, $43,225 in commercial additions and $31,900 in industrial additions.

In all, new construction totaled $1,914,355, which translates into $957,177 in new State Equalized Valuation (SEV), or about $15,600 in added tax revenue based on the current tax rate of about 16.3 mills.

Schneeberger's sets new sales record

Thirty-two years ago in the back of a small building on the corner of Main and

Maple Streets Russ and Clarence "Bud" Schneeberger started an appliance and television sales and repair shop.

And each year since that time the business has expanded. The trend continues today. Last year was a record year for our business, Bud Schneeberger said, and this year sales have exceeded a corresponding period of the previous year.

Along with the increase in sales has come an increase in stock and building. Now the popular store stretches over much of the block, absorbed a gas station and now is the largest store in the Thumb.

A few years after the business opened, furniture was added and carpeting became a staple of the business. We have our own installers so we can keep the Schneeberger quality on every job. Naturally, every job is guaranteed to the customer's satisfaction.

When video became popular Schneeberger's was quick to offer rentals and today has thousands of movies available, including the latest releases. The videos are also available for sale.

More recently the company started offering baseball and basketball cards for collectors and fans.

While the increased stock and selection of nationally-known brands are important reasons for the company's growth, equally important is the low prices that have been a company trademark since it started.

We keep prices low by keeping overhead low, says Bud, we don't have fancy fixtures and cost of operation is less than in the cities. We pass those savings on to the customer.

Best year in history Board's sets records

1993 showed continued improvement for Cass City's only car dealer. For the first time in Board's 6-year history, new vehicles outsold used. Spearheaded by the all new Dodge "T-300 Series" pickup (the first new full size truck from Dodge in 30 years) and helped by an all new New Yorker and a full line of "Cab Forward" models, Board Chrysler/Plymouth/Dodge/Jeep/Eagle set all time sales records!

Business was so brisk that "total computerization" is in the cards for Board in 1994. The big news from Chrysler is the all new Neon. The Neon is Chrysler's first subcompact entry since the Omni/Horizon. But this car is different. Based on the Cab Forward LH premise, it combines superior handling, excellent fuel economy and zippy performance. In fact, from 0 to 50 mph, only the Dodge Viper (a hand built hot-rod) can outperform the Neon!

And speaking of Viper, 1993 saw Cass City's Chrysler dealer receive one of the coveted hand-built race cars. For 3 days before its owner was able to pick up his new ride, Cass Cityans came out in droves to view the bright red hot rod on Board's showroom floor.

When it was announced that Board Chrysler/Plymouth/Dodge/Jeep/Eagle would become a Viper dealer, a Detroit attorney, Sheldon Miller, was hot on the phone wanting to place his order for the vehicle. Miller, who often represents Chrysler Corporation and is a "foetermitent problems. The customer carries the on-board pilot with him or her in the car. When the problem occurs again, the customer pushes a button on the on-board pilot allowing the electronic code to be recorded so that Board's technicians can then be directed to the hot spot!

Board's "sales prowess" continues to be almost legendary. Despite the restraints of being the only car dealer in town and not located in a county seat, his registrations of new and used automobiles continue to rise. 1993 posted a full 10 percent increase over '92 and the sixth straight year of improvement.

Expanding business

Don's Water Service available here

Don's Water Service of Harbor Beach, owned by Don Brown and son-in-law, James R. Scott, is a growing business. The business was once a small sideline operation for Brown, but over the years it has prospered.

Brown began handling home and commercial distillers for stores and water softener installation in the air base in Port Austin closed and only a skeleton crew remained. Brown was asked to submit a bid for bottled water. His bid was accepted and distilled water there. Gradually he gained more customers.

"It got to the point that I couldn't produce the amount that was required, so I started getting (water) from Stay Water Supply in Saginaw," Brown said. It is a practice that continues.

"They clean and sterilize the bottles and then refill them for us," Scott said. Recently Brown quit his full-time job and he and Scott, who had become interested in the business after a lay off from another job, incorporated. The operation was spread beyond the boundaries of Huron County.

"There's just a tremendous need for pure water in the county, and now we've expanded into Tuscola and Sanilac," Brown said.

teddy bears from customers' old quilts, and also fill containers or baskets brought in by customers. The firm offers delivery within Cass City.

Pine Cone Shop is a true family business. There have been 6 daughters who have at one time or another helped in the business. Currently, Yvonne Nye, the youngest, is working at the store.

Mrs. Hahn presently attends 4 to 5 craft shows a year and plans to expand her schedule this year. The store is open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 10 a.m. to one p.m. Saturday.

The Pine Cone Shop, owned and operated by Elsie Hahn, is one of Cass City's older businesses. This year marks the 35th for the firm at 6240 Main Street.

It started in 1959 selling Christmas trees, wreaths and grave blankets. The trees came from the Hahn tree farm, which was sold about 15 years ago, and the business became a craft store.

Crafts, dried and silk flower arrangements and lots of weed arrangements, picked by store personnel, are staples of the business. Recently the Pine Cone Shop has started making

Cass City Muffler

Tow service offered

Blaine and Shelley deBeaubien have nearly 5 years in business on Cass City's Main Street, where their Cass City Muffler and Brake Shop is located. This year has been one of expansion and the addition of Dayton fire sales. The major expansion was the addition of wrecker service. "Adding the wrecker was a huge risk," Shelley reports. "But we felt Cass City could use one and Blaine had the driving experience behind

More expansion coming McMahans enlarge store

There have been changes at McMahan Auto Supply and more are on the way, say owners Brian and Linda McMahan. Right now the company is in the process of remodeling its customer area. Included will be a new ceiling, wall gondolas and 4 new counters. The store now has 20,000 part numbers in stock and more than 300,000 part numbers available overnight. Plans have been completed for remodeling the outside of the building this summer. The east entrance that fronts on Seeger Street will become the front of the store. McMahan points out that most of the customers use the side entrance already. There will be a new awning and sign together with new siding, to provide an attractive store for the many shoppers that have found McMahan's a place to solve auto parts problems. The company takes all types of insurance and knows which reimburses the customer or pays when billed. In addition to the wrecker service, Cass City Muffler and Brake Shop specializes in exhaust system work, brake service and general repair.

American Mattress grows

American Mattress and Furniture has been a family owned concern in the business of manufacturing mattresses for 44 years and today also offers a full line of furniture from its location in downtown Caro at 362 North State Street.

The store is owned and operated by Tim, Sue and Amy Tidwell, who say that the personal service and the value-packed prices are the cornerstones of the business.

American Mattress has added reclining sofas and sectionals by Catnapper and Jackson Furniture in the last year. The company has been chosen to represent the Philip Reinisch Co., exclusive manufacturer of quality wood curio cabinets.

American Mattress and Furniture is now the largest privately-owned mattress manufacturer in America.

The Tidwells play close attention to changes in style and colors and continue to look for better ways to display merchandise. We want to include the best methods and big city type displays, they point out, and still retain the small town, friendly atmosphere which emphasizes concern for the customers and their needs.

Stilsons return to start expanding Bigelow Hardware

Betty and Gerald Stilson know what it takes to provide the service and the stock to bring customers into Bigelow Hardware. The couple took over the business for the second time last year.

The situation today is the same as it was when the couple became the owners for the first time. The store needed more stock and a management willing to work the hours needed to be successful in today's competitive business climate.

Now they are busy restocking the store and new items are arriving daily. We will have the store bulging with stock just as we did when we sold it 3 years ago, the Stilsons pointed out.

Gerald Stilson, who has spent a lifetime working and figured that retirement was the ticket when he sold the business, found that idleness wasn't all that great for him. I came back to run the store and enjoy my "retirement", he laughed.

Bigelow's is a true family operation. Helping out on a part-time basis are a daughter and granddaughter, Jill and Kristie Parrish.

Hands-on exhibits at Detroit Edison Energy Center

Detroit Edison consolidated its service installation, restoration activities and business services of 6 separate facilities (Caro, Bad Axe and Sandusky customer offices and service centers) into the North Area Energy Center. The 66,000-square-foot center is on an 18-acre site, making it one of the largest facilities in Tuscola County.

The 26,000-square-foot office area offers a full-service customer office, an energy information center to exhibit the latest energy-efficient products and technology, a community room for use by local organizations and the lines, service planning, field operations, line clearance, substations and director's staff offices.

It is heated and cooled by a geo-thermal closed-loop system made up of 22,000 feet of piping, 50 6-inch wells, each 200 feet deep, containing a total of 3,300 gallons of methanol.

Customers can pay their bills at the energy center, but its goal is also to give information on the use of electricity. You can give people all the brochures and talk about it all you want, but here a customer can feel it, touch it and see it.

Adding more stock Surplus store expanding

The Cass City Surplus store on Main Street has been in business for a year now and has plans to add to the stock in answer to its acceptance by area shoppers.

The business, family owned and operated by Sharon and Jim Wilson, is a discount variety store. It offers vinyl windows, garage doors, discount furniture, hardware, paint, paint supplies and tools.

We have the lowest prices on greeting cards, furniture, windows, and Stanley hardware, the owners said.

A tractor plowing a field grinds to a halt. The farmer picks up his cellular phone and calls a neighbor for a push. Within a few minutes, help has arrived and the tractor is back up and running.

The service described above is provided by CellularONE Lake Huron. They serve the entire area of Huron, Tuscola and Sanilac counties. CellularONE Lake Huron is located at 1536 W. Caro Road, in Caro, with agents in Bad Axe, Sandusky, Caro and Uby. Experienced sales staff are also available to meet with you. Old Wood Pharmacy Meeting needs of community Changing to meet the needs of the community has always been the deciding factor at Old Wood Pharmacy at the corner of Seeger and Main Streets in Cass City.

This year the jewelry department was expanded to fill the gap left when McConkey Jewelry left the community.

The new Carlton card shop with twice the selection was added. From the mall shops to Cass City, included are humorous MarketPlace cards. Fresh Apple (to say what you are thinking), Gladys and Friends and a great selection of special occasion cards.

We still emphasize and live up to our motto, "Guardians of Your Health." Tom Proctor, owner, says, "It's been that way in the over 31 years we have been in business. Old Wood has increased its selection of vitamins and nutritional supplements with free candy and treats for dieters and diabetics.

As always, Old Wood offers the finest prescription coverage with insurances and cash customers treated with professionalism by the full staff.

We are always careful to tell the patient about the medicine needed and the recommended dosages. We are ready to help answer questions about an off-the-shelf medicine and its effect, and most importantly, its possible side effects.

The store has become known as the toll center of the Thumb. There are over 100 Russ troll creations, the brand recognized for top quality, ready for selection. Old Wood has an expanded

'A Little Pizazz' a dream come true

When "A Little Pizazz" opened on Main Street in Cass City Aug. 16, it marked the realization of a dream for owner Dana Wentworth.

The tanning and nail service store is owned and operated by two ladies who have a long connection with Cass City and the Thumb.

Dana was born and raised in Caro and moved to Cass City 4 years ago. She has been a business woman for 11 years. She is pleased with the reputation that Cool Rays Lynn Spencer, who is the nail technician, was raised in Cass City and is a 1984 graduate of Cass City High School. She has several years experience in her profession.

It's nice to be working in my home town and seeing all of the familiar faces, she says.

Both ladies like working with local people. We want everyone to feel welcome and comfortable in the warm atmosphere of the business, they pointed out. We hope to be here for many years, Wentworth said, serving the Cass City community.

Erla's invites comments from its customers

Erla's Food Center, Cass City, enjoys hearing from customers about things they would like to see the store have or with suggestions about how they can improve.

Paying attention to customers needs and desires has been one of the keys to the steady growth of the business in the 40 years that it has operated in the community.

The company is locally owned by Arnold, Dan, Chuck and Clark Erla, who are all active in the store and in the community. The Erla family has long been active in civic affairs and boosters of projects designed to promote Cass City as a desirable place to live and do business.

Store expansion and modernization has been a continuing thing at Erla's. In the last year a new, expanded bakery began offering fresh breads, rolls, cakes and donuts made daily. The deli

Mexican food at Pizza Villa

Pizza Villa, 6637 Main Street, is a full service restaurant with a family atmosphere, owner Carol Furness says, and we are here to serve and do our best to please our customers.

Over the past year the restaurant has expanded its menu with a full line of Mexican foods including burritos, wet burritos, dry burritos and nacho supremes.

Pizzas remain a staple of the company and are available for carry-out or in the restaurant. Pizza Villa regularly has pizza specials that reduce the cost. Only the price is cut, says Furness, never the quality.

This year Pizza Villa hopes to expand its catering business and invites organizations and individuals to call about the service.

The business and the employees mean a lot to me, Furness explained, and we are always trying new things and making homemade specials to please our customers.
