School to add 3 teachers to staff

Three additional teachers will be added at Cass City Schools next fall if current plans are followed, Supt. Ken Micklash informed the Cass City School Board at its regular meeting Monday at the high school.

Two will be added to the Middle School and will complete the reorganization that started several years ago. The need for an additional math and English teacher was known when the new teaching method was adopted, Micklash said, but there was not enough money in the budget for the teachers

Because there will be an increase of about 50 students in the high school next fall a new combination math and science teacher will be added. Next year the high school enrollment will increase enough to probably place Cass City in Class B in the Michigan High School Athletic ratings.

A special program for students who need special help or are at risk of becoming drop outs will be developed with Federal funding. Micklash said that the "at risk" money will be a minimum of $100,000 and could be as much as $200,000. Another Federal project, the remedial reading program, will be expanded because of the increase in the number of pupils that are eligible for help. The fifth grade band enrollment has not yet been determined. This year there are 113 pupils in the top 3 bands and 40 in the fifth grade band.

Caro teen dies in crash

A 3-vehicle accident Friday afternoon in Caro claimed the life of one Caro teen and left another seriously injured.

Christopher Reed, 16, of Caro, died as a result of injuries he suffered in the crash.

Details regarding the circumstances of the accident were not being released Monday afternoon.

The collision occurred at about 3:30 p.m. at the intersection of State and Washington streets, according to Police Department, who stated Reed, a Caro High School junior and the son of Tuscola County Prosecutor James R. Reed, was a passenger in a vehicle driven by Nathaniel Miller, 17, also of Caro.

According to Village Man-ager Lou S. LaPonsie, both quotes came in lower than those received last year. The asphalt bid translates into $20.85 per ton, compared to $21.50 in 1993, and the curb and gutter bid is $7.10 per foot, compared to $7.17 last year.

Property owners are assessed the cost for curb and gutter plus 10 percent (71 cents per foot) for engineering.

IN OTHER BUSINESS

In other business, the council approved a list of committee and board members for 1994.

Changes noted include the appointment of Trustee Catherine Kropewnicki as chairperson of the council's Budget and Finance Com-mittee. Trustee Mike Weaver, who previously was chairman, will continue to serve on the committee.

In addition, Geraldine Prieskorn's 6-year term on the Economic Development Corporation Board was renewed, as were the 3-year terms of Planning Commission members Kelly Smith and Roger Little, and Zoning Board of Appeals member Bob Stickle.

Jim Bolton was re-appointed to the Downtown Development Authority Board for a 4-year term, and Linda Gaymer was appointed to replace Jean Comment on the board. Also Monday, the council:

Spring turkey hunting prospects remain good in the Thumb, Department of Natural Resources officials hunts began Monday and will continue through May 1, followed by hunts May 2-11 and May 12-29. The bag limit is one bearded turkey. Over the past 3 years, turkey numbers in the Thumb have neither increased nor decreased significantly, according to Bud Jarvis, a wildlife biologist at the DNR's Cass City Field Of-

"We had a pretty good nesting season (last year), although I'm not real sure we have any more turkeys,' Jarvis said. He indicated any increase in turkey numbers over the past year probably would have been offset by a poor nesting season in 1992 due to a cold, wet summer.

Despite that setback, the DNR expanded hunting opportunities in the Thumb last year, nearly doubling the area open to hunters. Area T, previously bordered by M-53, M-46, M-81 and M-24, was expanded to include land south to Marlette Road and west to M-15. In addition, land south and east of Bad Axe in Huron County was opened to turkey hunting. This year, Jarvis said, "We've opened a little more area just to the east of Cass City and the northwestern part of Sanilac County. It's called Area T-A."

The expanded Area T-A totals some 300 to 400 square miles and is bordered by M-53 to the west, Ruth Road to the east, Deckerville Road to the south and Rapson Road to the north. Last spring, hunters harvested 75 birds in Area T and about 50 birds in Area T-A.

"I would suspect (hunters) will take 70 to 80 birds" out of Area T this year, Jarvis said, adding the harvest in Area T-A should total another 50 to 60 turkeys.

Jarvis said the number of permits issued this spring in Area T is the same as last year at 575. The number issued in Area T-A was increased by 25 percent to 270 permits.

All of the permits have been taken. Jarvis didn't been growing steadily uphave an estimate on the number of area hunters who applied, but said the spring turkey hunts are continuing to grow in popularity.

"I don't see the applications, but the interest has ward," he added.

MIKE OTULAKOWSKI, Cass City (right), bagged a big tom Monday at about 3 p.m., opening day of the first of 3 spring turkey hunts. He was hunting southeast of Cass City with partner Ed Kotula of Madison Heights when he called in the nearly 20-pound bird, which had a beard measuring 10 1/4 inches.

For old-timers who can remember calling "central" and asking for "John Jones" house or when the Chronicle's phone number was 13, that's quite a change.

The good news is that for the ninth consecutive year, the number of motor thefts in Michigan has declined. Since 1984 it has declined 27 percent.

As compared to 1992, thefts fell from 24 to 17 in Huron County and from 51 to 47 in Tuscola County.

Now for the bad news. Thefts skyrocketed from 31 in 1992 to 67 in 1993 in Sanilac County. That's an increase of 116 percent.

After 2-day trial Moore found not guilty

A second trial on charges of breaking and entering and larceny in Gagetown resulted in a verdict of inno-

The 2-day trial ended last Wednesday. Jurors began deliberations at 11:40 a.m. and returned with the verdict at 2:50 p.m.

The case, which stemmed from the break-in of a home at 6708 Lincoln St. and the larceny of shotguns and a VCR Jan. 23, 1993, was originally tried last September. However, the 3-day trial ended with the jury's announcement that it couldn't reach a verdict.

Moore, 28, was charged in connection with several break-ins the Cass City and Gagetown areas in early 1993.

He has been found innocent on all counts with the exception of 2 charges in one remaining case that is scheduled to go to trial this summer. Moore also faced one count of breaking and How's that for equal justice?

Forty-nine-year-old Joseph Manenti recently pleaded guilty to transporting 12 kilograms of cocaine and was sentenced to 2 1/2 years in prison. Manenti was a Royal Oak police officer when he committed the crime.

"If It Fitz "

Gary Fannon was 18 when, more than 6 years ago, he was sentenced to life in prison with no chance of parole for delivering less than one kilogram of cocaine. And Fannon didn't actually deliver the dope. He backed out of the proposed transaction and was in another state when the deal went down.

How's that for equal justice? Do you have to be a cop to get away with mur-der?

It is interesting to note that Manenti was a cop in Oakland County, where Richard Thompson is prosecutor. Thompson is the tough-oncrime publicity hound who's always eager to appear on TV to defend the incredibly unjust only-in-Michigan "650-Lifer Law" that requires judges to give prisonuntil-death terms to anyone convicted of having more than 650 grams (about 1.4 pounds) of cocaine or heroin.

Last year Thompson said it was fine for murderers to serve less time than Fannon because "I view these people as worse than first-degree murderers. A murderer kills only one person. These people destroy generations."

Sure. An undercover cop says he wants to buy some cocaine and waves $32,000 cash in teenager Fannon's face. Fannon says OK, but later gets scared and runs away. He doesn't deliver one speck of dope.

That's how Gary Fannon destroyed generations? How stupidly unfair can one prosecutor get?

According to police, thenpoliceman Joseph Manenti was working for a large drug ring that distributed hundreds of pounds of the stuff in the Detroit area. Hundreds of pounds. And Manenti was locked up for 2 1/2 years. Fannon was barely involved in a 727-gram cocaine sale, and he's locked up until he dies.

By Jim Fitzgerald

OPENED DOOR STAYS SHUT

The difference is Manenti was sentenced in a federal court. The judge couldn't give him more than 5 years. Fannon was sentenced in a Michigan court. The judge couldn't give him less than forever.

Certainly there are drug dealers who deserve life without parole. Manenti might be one of them. Fannon certainly isn't. Who can reasonably argue otherwise?

On a TV show in 1992. Prosecutor Thompson cited "common sense" as proof that first offenders like Fannon really aren't; it's just the first time they've been caught. As I asked at the time, how's that for watertight, objection-resistant legalizing?

Last year, Westland resident Linda Fannon, Gary's never-give-up mother, tried to take advantage of Gov. Engler's "open door" policy that allows ordinary citizens to speak with him for a few minutes. Surely such a compassionate, intelligent man would recognize that Gary had been punished more than enough -6 1/2 years in a cell - - and should be pardoned. But Engler's door wasn't open to Linda Fannon. His office suggested she try the parole board.

"I did that months ago," she recently told me. "I gave all the information required to obtain the papers needed for pardoning Gary — it has to be left on a recording machine — and I still haven't heard one word from the parole board. Perhaps the governor has another suggestion?"

It appears Gary Fannon's best hope for justice - however agonizingly slow — is proposed legislation, state Senate Bill 910, that would allow parole for first offenders convicted under the 650lifer law. It's before the Senate Judiciary Committee, headed by Jenison Republiсап William Van Regenmorter, Michigan State Senate, Room 405, Lansing, MI 48913. Phone 1-517-373-6920 anytime. You might want to tell the senator how you feel abut Fannon's sentence. Free Gary Fannon.

CASS CITY CHRONICLE - WEDNESDAY, APRIL 27, 1994

Area high school students are doing their part to help the Saginaw Bay Watershed Council keep tabs on the quality of water in the Cass River.

Students in the Cass City and Kingston school districts were out Thursday taking water samples in conjunction with the School River Monitoring Project.

The local schools are among more than 40 participating within the Saginaw Bay Watershed, making it the largest, watershed-based school monitoring program in the country.

About 55 junior and seniors in Nancy Weippert's Biology II classes toured the Cass City Wastewater Treatment Plant, then took samples at the river.

Weippert, who successfully wrote a grant that provided testing kits and other mate-Bank income rials, explained the Cass City students were testing the water for temperature, nitrates, phosphates, pH, biological oxygen demand, total solids, turbidity (clarity of the water) and fecal coliform.

The first location is near state land and is relatively undisturbed, Safranek said, adding the Caro site was chosen because of its proximity to industry. "We chose this site (Evergreen Township) because of the agricultural influence.'

Aside from chemical tests, the students collected macro invertebrates, such as Caddis Fly larvae, which are another indicator of water quality.

Safranek's students will repeat the tests in the fall. The project is funded by Saginaw Valley State University, which provided equipment, and a $600-$700 grant from the DNR. This is the second year of testing for both area schools. "It's really a good experience," Safranek commented. "The kids are able to see the data and collection techniques are important because they're going to be used by an agency — the DNR.

Students usually do a report for a teacher and a grade," she added. "This they know is important because the materials are going to be used."

Weippert agreed. "This is hands-on and that's what a lot of students think science is, and it is," she said. "They (wastewater treatment plant operators) do the same tests we do, so the students see that it's relative."

"They've enjoyed, I think, preparing for it, and I think they're looking forward to putting it all together now," Weippert added.

Students returned to the classroom Friday to examine the water samples collected, and to continue testing. Next will be compilation of the results, which will be submitted along with others to the watershed council, Participants will later discuss their efforts at River Congress '94. The event, which brings together students and teachers involved in the School River Monitoring Project, will be held May 13 at Delta College.

CASS CITY CHRONICLE - WEDNESDAY, APRIL 27, 1994 Team loses 3 of 4

Control problems plague Bulldogs in opening games

The Owen-Gage softball team is off to a wild start. At least as far as the Bulldog pitching staff is concerned.

Coach Dean Roller's squad displayed little control on the rubber last week while opening their 1994 campaign with 3 losses in 4 tries. After dropping both ends of their season opening twin bill against visiting North Branch Wesleyan, the 'Dogs managed a split at Caseville Thursday in the initial North Central Thumb League tilt for both schools.

In 4 contests the Bulldog hurlers have walked a grand total of 69 opponents. "I knew our pitching staff win.

was suspect, it will get better as the season goes on," says Roller.

Chemical net declines

Gilbert A. Currie, chairman of Chemical Financial Corporation, announced net operating income $4.054,000 for the first quarter of 1994, a decrease of 5.5 percent from first quarter 1993 operating earnings of $4,292,000. Total net income in the first quarter of 1993 was $6,292,000, which included a nonrecurring net gain of $2 million for the adoption of financial accounting standards statements. First quarter 1994 operating earnings per share were $0.66, a 5.7 percent decrease from operating earnings per share of $0.70 in the first quarter of 1993. Total earnings per share in the first quarter of 1993, including the $2 million nonrecurring net gain, were

Monroe hurls no-hitter CASS CITY, MICHIGAN Hawks win 3 of 4; wide open Blue Bay race seen

It's early in the season but the early results indicate that the race for the Blue Bay League softball title is wide open. With the exception of Bad Axe, which has played 6 games and is 3-3. the other 3 teams in the conference have played just 2 games and already there is not an undefeated team.

Cass City opened conference competition Monday, April 18, at Bad Axe and split with the Hatchets, losing a well played game in the opener, 3-2, before crushing Bad Axe in the nightcap, 13-2.

Darcie Monroe and the Hatchets' Peruski hooked up in a pitching duel in the opener. Each allowed 6 hits and walked 3.

The game was scoreless until the sixth when Cass City scored twice on singles by Monroe, Jodi LaRoche and Stacey Klinkman. Bad Axe got those runs back in their half of the inning with a pair of hits and an error. The Hatchets pushed the winning run across in the seventh on a walk and a pair of base hits.

The Hatchets sent with one win and one loss.

Peruski to the mound in the second game but she was obviously tired and the Hawks pounded her hard in the third when they scored 7 times to put the game away. In the inning the Hawks pounded out 6 singles and a triple by Marlene Shimer. Klinkman's single drove in 2 runs. Cass City scored 4 more in the fifth, but that was merely icing on the cake as the game was long since decided.

Lisa Burns went the distance for Cass City allowing 3 hits, 4 walks while striking out 7. The Hatchets scored twice in the fourth inning, their only offensive outburst in the game.

Peruski who was so effective in the first game lasted just 3 innings in the second and was hammered for 10 hits and 8 runs. Schornack pitched the final 2 innings and allowed 5 runs on 4 hits and 6 walks.

As of Monday morning the league standings were: Bad Axe, 3-3; Cass City, Lakers and Marlette, each

The Rawson Memorial Library is planning another exhibit of paintings by local artists during Michigan Week, May 9-14. This is the fifth year that the library has sponsored this special event. CASS CITY CHRONICLE - WEDNESDAY, APRIL 27, 1994

RED HAWK SHORTSTOP Marlene Shimer (pictured) and the Cass City infield helped Darcie Monroe record her first no hitter of the season, Wednesday, against Vassar.

It was a week that the supporters of the Cass City Red Hawks would like to forget. The Hawks lost 4 of 5 baseball games played.

It all started Monday, April 18, when the Hawks travelled to Bad Axe for a doubleheader with the Hatchets and were soundly defeated in both games.

In the opener, Bad Axe combed Jason Morgan for 10 runs on 7 hits in 2 innings and Paul Ulfig for 2 runs and 2 hits in 2 innings for a 12-2 decision. The game was called by the mercy rule after 4 1/2 innings.

The only bright spot for Cass City was Jim Hempton's hitting as he collected the only 2 hits of the pitched the last inning.

Curtis. It was more of the same in the nightcap as the Hatchets breezed to an 8-3 decision. Johnson and Blackstock shared the mound duties for the Hatchets and they allowed just 4 hits, 2 by Ulfig who also drove in a run. Mark Kubacki went the route for the Hawks, allowing 9 hits, walking 3 and striking out 4. Curtis and Ventline each collected 2 hits for the winners.

The only win of the week was registered in a make-up game at Laker High. The Hawks won the Blue Bay League game, 9-6, behind Ulfig who got the win going 5 innings and Morgan who

The Bulldog baseball team opened their North Central Thumb League campaign at Caseville Thursday where they split with the host Eagles.

First year coach Arnie Besonen's squad won the opener in a slugfest 21-20. In the night cap, the Bulldog bats went silent as Caseville's Nick Bednorek tossed a 2-hitter to register a 6-4 win in a game called after 5 1/2 innings due to darkness.

Owen-Gage (1-2) will host Carsonville-Port Sanilac Monday.

In the opener by the bay, the visitors scored twice in the 6th inning to break a 20-20 deadlock.

Mike Tkacz bested Ryan Lackie for the decision. Tkacz pitched just 1 2/3 innings allowing 8 hits and striking out 2. He issued 3 free passes.

At the plate the winners were led by Eric Dietzel and Jason Anthes who had 7 hits between them. Dietzel tripled in the Bulldog 2nd at bats and that accounted for 2 of the visitor's 7 tallies in the frame.

The winners got 4 hits each from Lackie and Tyler Williams.

In game 2, Bednorek held Owen-Gage to 2 doubles and fanned 8 to pick up the win. Jason Anthes was the victim of little support and suffered the lost for the 'Dogs. Anthes struck out 10 and walked 3. He allowed only 3 safeties.

Gypsy moths

Gypsy moth eggs will usually start hatching in May, so now is the time to scout landscape trees for those egg masses and to get rid of them before they hatch. The eggs are too tough to simply crush. Scrape them into a coffee can filled with soapy water or bury them at least 6 inches deep.

RED HAWK KEVIN Storm can't elude the tag of Vassar's 3rd baseman during the 2nd inning of Wednesday's home twin bill. Storm collected a single in his only official at bat in the opener, won by the Vulcans 13-5.

Decreasing Asthma Triggers

Asthma is still a serious disease. The number of deaths is increasing in spite of better medicines. In fact, the trust in these effective medicines may be the cause of delays in seeking treatment of some severe attacks.

But preventing attacks is as important as treating them, and often easier. A person can frequently control some of the triggers which cause asthma.

Animals are a controllable source of asthma attacks. Cats are the traditional cause, with "cat asthma" being wellknown. If a person is allergic to cats, keeping one in the house can be very troublesome. Other animals which can cause problems are horses, dogs, and birds. Feather pillows should be avoided.

The more serious problems occur with dust and molds. These are constantly present, although the quantity may vary. Starting the furnace will stir up dust and molds that have accumulated during the summer. Dust and molds can be limited by keeping the house cooler and dryer during the summer months.

Pollens can be limited by using air conditioners and spending less time outdoors, especially on windy and high pollen count davs.

Chemical irritants can usually be avoided. These include cigarette smoke, industrial chemicals, and even foods. Infections can also trigger asthma attacks. While infections can not always be avoided, some can be prevented by avoiding unnecessary exposure to viruses, and getting a pneumonia vaccine and yearly flu shots.

$68,700 recycling grant approved for county date, more than $101 million

$68,700 grant for a proposed recycling project that would expand the current level of recycling services in Tuscola County.

The project is among 20 that have been recommended for funding under the state's Solid Waste Alternatives Program (SWAP). funded by the Protecting Michigan's Future Bond.

The list of recommended projects will now be submitted to the Legislature for fund appropriation approval. Grant awards are expected to be made sometime after October 1994.

The grant for Tuscola County requires a local match of $22,900 for a total project cost of $91,600.

The local match will be shared by the county and village of Caro, according to Tuscola County Recycling Coordinator Sharon Mika, who said a majority of the grant funding will be used to build a small materials recovery facility and related equipment needed to establish 9 drop-off sites throughout the county.

"It will greatly improve what's being done now," Mika commented.

Several communities -Caro, Reese, Vassar and Mayville included — have drop-off centers for materials to be recycled. These programs have been successful, she explained, however, there is no one central location. "It's kind of a hodge-podge of drop-offs right now. It's not consistent.'

Under the county project, a 50-foot by 60-foot material recovery center will be constructed at a central location, and collection trailers will be purchased and placed at various sites throughout the county.

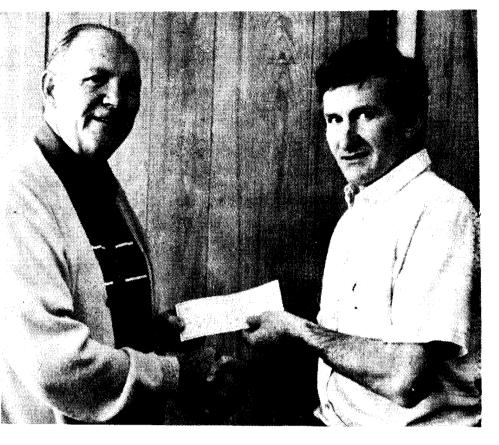

The specific locations of those sites have not been determined yet, Mika said.

Aside from those materials already being collected in the county, she noted, plans call for the new material recovery center to accept cor-

Project scrapped

Maybe it's just as well that Michigan did not land the Superconducting Supercollider a few years ago. Congress scrapped funding for the project 5 months ago, leaving the Energy Department with a partially completed, 5-milelong tunnel in Texas. A Colorado company wants to purchase the tunnel to use for growing mushrooms.
