A CASS CITY man was killed and 3 other area residents were injured in a weekend traffic accident. The vehicle involved (above) went airborne twice and struck a tree and utility pole, throwing the victim onto the roof of a house.

Catapulted to house roof, Limberger dies in crash

Weekend traffic accidents claimed the lives of 2 Thumb motorists, including a Cass City man who was thrown from his car and landed on the roof of a house.

Kevin Lee Limberger

Police say speed and alcohol contributed to the late Saturday night crash, about 3 miles west of Bad Axe, that claimed the life of Kevin Lee Limberger, 21, 8579 Phillan Rd., Cass City, and left 3 others injured.

The accident occurred at 11:57 p.m. about .3 of a mile east of McMillan Road, according to troopers from the Michigan State Police post in Bad Axe, who said Limberger lost control of his westbound vehicle after running off the right shoulder of the road, then coming back onto the roadway.

The car slid sideways across the road, struck a ditch embankment and went airborne, rotating as it flew some 65 feet in the air. Troopers said the vehicle landed and went airborne again, striking an apple tree and snapping a utility pole in half.

Limberger, a 1991 Cass City High School graduate, was ejected from the car. Troopers said his body was recovered on the roof of a nearby 2-story house.

Limberger's passengers,

James E. Russell, 21, 8558 Hoadley Rd., Cass City; Roger G. Brady, 23, 8537 Hoadley Rd., Cass City, and Sarah L. Russell, 15, 4008 Elkton Rd., Cass City, were all injured and transported to Huron Memorial Hospital in Bad Axe.

A hospital spokesman said Brady and Sarah Russell were treated and released. James Russell was transferred to St. Mary's Medical Center, Saginaw, where he was listed in good condition Monday morning.

None of the occupants was wearing a seat belt, according to reports.

The accident remains under investigation.

EARLY SUNDAY

A Millington man was fatally injured early Sunday morning when his car was struck broadside by another vehicle at the intersection of Fostoria and Barnes roads in southeastern Watertown Township, Tuscola County.

According to Tuscola County Sheriff's deputies, the victim, Paul Darwin Byrd, 40, was pronounced dead at St. Mary's Medical Center about 10 hours after the 2:20 a.m. collision.

Deputies said Byrd was westbound on Barnes Road when he failed to stop at Fostoria Road and was struck by a northbound car driven by Ray A. Claud Jr., 35, of Vassar.

Claud and Byrd's passenger, Marcine L. Byrd, 39, both suffered injuries. Both were transported to Lapeer Regional Hospital for treatment.

Reports indicate Marcine Byrd was the only occupant not wearing a seat belt.

Deputies were assisted at the scene by fire departments from Fostoria and Mayville, Mayville and Vassar Area Ambulance personnel, and FlightCare Helicopter.

PERSONNEL MATTERS

Turning to personnel matters, the board accepted 2 resignations "with regret" and discussed changes implemented to utilize the existing school staff more efficiently.

Retiring at the end of this school year were 29-year employee Janet Retford, Chapter I reading teacher, and physical education/health teacher John Osterland, who has been with the district for 25 years.

Thies said the vacancies are being filled by means of some staff shuffling, with teacher Brian Wright taking on some additional classes, and other hours being picked up by Counselor Ron D'Aoust. Wright had been laid off earlier in the school year due to financial problems in the district.

The school will still have to hire a band teacher, according to Thies, who pointed out the school's full program has now been restored with the exception of one art class and sports medicine, which has been dropped due to low enrollment.

The board also discussed a letter from Chapter I teachers aide Peggy Vargo, stating she intends to return to work following a one-year medical leave of absence.

It was decided she will be allowed to return provided the school receives notification from a physician stating she has the approval to do so.

Judy Winchester, who has since been hired to fill Vargo's position, will retain her job, Thies said. He added Chapter I monies will fund the positions. Please turn to back page.

Severance wins; schools elect board members

Shabbona area dairy farmer Randy Severance emerged the winner in the race for a single, 4-year term on the Cass City School Board in Monday's annual school election.

Severance received 329 votes, while former long-time board trustee Ben Hobart received 161 votes. Dr. Paul Chappel, whose name also appeared on the ballot despite having withdrawn from the race, garnered 31 votes.

There were 4 spoiled ballots.

Incumbent Trustee Dan Uffig opted not to seek reelection after completing his first term.

In all, 525 residents, or about 13 percent of the district's registered voters, cast ballots.

In other area elections:

A pair of 4-year terms in the Owen-Gage School District were won by incumbent and current school board President Jack Brinkman, who received 77 votes, and newcomer Rev. Lisa McIlvenna, who garnered 85 votes.

School Supt. Manuel Thies said there were also a few write-in candidates who each received one or 2 votes.

Incumbent William Kretzschmer, who has served 8 years on the board, did not seek reelection.

A total of 104 residents cast ballots in the district.

In the Kingstons School District, one incumbent was unseated in a race involving 4 candidates and a pair of 4-year terms on the school board.

The winners were incumbent Richard Zyrowski and newcomer Sherri Diegel, both of whom received 206 votes. Incumbent Wesley Scott garnered 107 votes, and challenger William Herron, 91 votes.

Nearly 400 residents cast ballots, representing about 25 percent of the registered voters in the district.

Ugly voters returned a pair of incumbents to the school board for 4 years, and approved a millage request of 18 mills on non-homestead property for 10 years.

Reelected were trustees Kenneth Dekoski, with 455 votes, and A. James Philp, with 431 votes. In addition, a handful of write-in votes were cast for 7 other persons.

The millage question passed by a margin of nearly 180 votes, 365-186. Ugly was among a host of Michigan districts whose tax levies expired this year, requiring them to request the 18-mill tax on businesses and second homes.

The levy won't raise taxes for most homeowners, but was necessary in order for the local district to collect revenue as provided for under Proposal A.

Mark Tenbusch, business manager for the Ugly Schools, reported 554 residents went to the polls Monday, representing 17 percent of the district's registered voters.

JOHN RYBA hands off his ballot in the Cass City School Board elections to Kay Rutkoski Monday at Cass City High School.

Father Paul Bala says:

Clowning around is fun

He's a clown, but he doesn't ride a unicycle or juggle; the man with a white collar just wants people to have fun.

The Rev. Paul Bala started clowning around more than a decade ago. He says he was kidnaped and forced to wear make-up and weird clothes. Eventually, however, Bala tells a more believable story.

About 12 years ago, Bala went with some clown-enthusiast friends to bring cheer to some residents of a nursing home. Soon afterward, the priest attended a 4-week clown school in Mt. Clemens, and he hasn't put away his round, red nose since.

The father at St. Pancratius Catholic Church in Cass City introduced himself to the village 2 years ago, during the annual July 4 Festival. No one knew who he was, and he would only introduce himself as Helpful the Clown. It took the Chamber of Commerce nearly 4 months to figure out who the unknown entertainer was so it could send a thank-you note, he laughed.

Bala doesn't perform to get thanks though. "Some (of the children) get real wide-eyed when they see me. That's what I like. It's just fun," he added.

He generally performs 4 or 5 times per year, trying to make people laugh and enjoy life as much as he does, Bala said. The leader of the 300-family congregation revealed the multi-costumed clown can next be seen wandering through the crowd at Cass City's July 4 Festival parade on July 2.

Bala performs at a variety of events, but parades are his favorite. He gets to the streets early, to warm up the crowd and set the stage for fun. The white-faced, bearded or 4-eyed clown also likes to call people by name. A strong ear for listening and a way with faces helps Bala catch the names of spectators, which adds surprise and excitement for the whole crowd.

And, Bala enjoys clowning at least as much as his audience. "Sometimes I trip, fall, whatever. You can do anything you want to," he smiled. "We don't have to be so serious all the time."

Admission fees also increased

Owen-Gage ups charges for use of school buildings

Financial and personnel matters dominated the Owen-Gage Board of Education's monthly meeting Monday night in the Owendale High School library.

The board approved a pair of motions increasing the fees to rent school facilities and the price of athletic event tickets purchased at the gate.

School Supt. Manuel Thies recommended charging $20, up from $15, for rental of the high school cafeteria; $30, up from $25, to rent the gym, and $10, up from $8, to rent a classroom.

But some board members questioned whether the proposed fees were high enough and included costs such as heat and lights. Trustee Walt Swiastyn recommended all 3 fees be set at $30.

Trustee Ron Good, however, indicated he isn't comfortable with significant rate hikes, saying he feels taxpayers own the facilities and should have the right to use them. "It may cost us something, but everybody pays for it," he said. "I'd like to see the building open for the public's use."

Board member William Kretzschmer countered that the school must operate like a business; neither can afford to operate in the red.

Swiastyn's motion to raise all fees to $30 was approved on a vote of 5-2, with Good and Kretzschmer voting "no".

The vote was unanimous on a motion to raise the price of athletic tickets purchased at the gate from $2 to $3 for everyone. Thies said a number of schools are already charging $3, and it's expected other districts will follow suit.

In other financial matters, the board set a uniform tuition rate of $1,300 per year for out-of-district students. The figure represents the maximum amount allowed by the state.

Thies requested some direction on the issue, saying he learned one student has been charged far more in tuition than the others.

"Exploring Space" program slated at Rawson Library

Monday, June 20, the Living Science Foundation will present the program, "Exploring Space", for children who are starting kindergarten this year through grade six. Videos of the planets and stars, and hands on experience with planet models are used by Living Science interpreters to make astronomy come alive to children. The highlight of the program is a visit inside STARLAB, a mini-planetaryarium that simulates the night sky. It lasts for one hour, with sessions geared for different ages.

This is the same group that brought the popular "Ocean's Edge" and other natural science programs in past years. The cost of this program is underwritten by Rawson Memorial Library and Campbell Elementary School. There is no cost to those attending, but it is necessary to register and get a ticket, as attendance at each session is limited to 30 people. A parent or guardian should pick up the ticket. Registration will begin June 10, the same as the reading program.

Ode To A Pill

by Melva E. Guinther

These days there's a pill for just about anything that ails a person.

There are pills to pep you up and pills to calm you down, pills to make you go and pills to make you stop, pills to help you sleep and pills to keep you awake.

About the only one we haven't come up with is a pill to help you remember whether or not you took your pills.

With all that in mind, it's not surprising that an anonymous someone, who speaks for many of us, came up with an "Ode To A Pill."

It came to me by way of Isabelle Whittenburg.

Little pill here in my hand I wonder how you understand Just what to do, or where to go To stop the ache that hurts me so.

Within your covering lies relief. You work alone in disbelief. You sink to regions there below As down my throat you quickly go.

But what I wonder, little pill, How do you know where I am ill? And just how do you really know Just where you are supposed to go?

I have a headache, that is true.

My arthritis needs attention, too. So how can anyone so small End my ache in no time at all?

Do you work alone, or hire a crew To do the good things that you do? I'm counting on you mighty strong To get in there where you belong!

Don't let me down, and please don't shirk, But do your undercover work. So, down my throat - - be on your way And end my aches for another day.

Just please don't off in judgment be Is my fervent pill-consuming plea. 'Cause I can't take another Till a quarter after three!

"If It Fitz...."

True stories of domestic bliss

By Jim Fitzgerald

I was naked and poised to attack. I leaped toward the also-nude intruder in my dark bedroom, but he suddenly disappeared. I tripped over a chair and fell on the wooden stand over which a useless blanket is forever folded at the foot of our bed. One leg broke cleanly off the stand as I sprawled on the floor.

My wife rushed to my sprawled topside. Tenderly stroking the blanket stand, she said, "You are ruining the furniture; I don't think I can glue that leg back on," and added, "You really should wear pajamas."

This is the true story of domestic bliss. It is not a bunch of lies written by my lawyer in honor of Roseanne Arnold.

Struggling to my feet, I turned on a light and, naturally, said, "Talk about ruining furniture, our entire home could break into little pieces" as I showed her a frightening item clipped from the current Leaders magazine. It said:

"A condo near Kitchener, Ontario, collapsed after a second-story floor gave way because of 800,000 supermarket coupons stored in Esther Deligio's bedroom. She had clipped and kept them for over 20 years but never redeemed them. They weighed almost two-and-a-half tons."

That is another true story of domestic bliss, otherwise it couldn't be printed in a magazine, right? I certainly believe it. In my home we have the same problem as in the Deligio home. My wife clips every coupon printed, just in case she might someday need it. But whenever such an unlikely day comes, she invariably looks sadly at the person behind the cash register and says: "Darn, I forgot my coupon."

I mean, the constant keening sound emanating from our home is my wife mourning coupons that expired. I mean, her constant coupon-clipping has no redeeming value. I mean, what else can I say without apologizing to Bob Hope?

As for my sleeping in the nude, pajamas are the clothes that bind, and so does underwear. My favorite newspaper, in an inspired burst of investigative journalism, recently devoted around 2 pages to the important question of whether President Bill Clinton and other men wear boxer shorts or briefs. My answer is if you're asleep, it doesn't make any difference. When you roll over, either boxers or briefs will awaken you while catching up to the roll.

Besides, speaking of divine inspiration, Pope John Paul II would undoubtedly approve of my sleeping non-apparel. According to my favorite newspaper, a recent restoration of Michelangelo's Sistine Chapel painting eliminated 17 loincloths added by prudish 18th-Century clerics. And the pope explained: "The human body can remain nude and uncovered and preserve intact its splendor and its beauty."

When, in all my splendor and beauty, I told my wife what the pope said, she dug up the news article and pointed out that he also said such pro-nudity reasoning isn't valid if the divine dimension is "detached" from the body.

I wouldn't touch a straight line like that with a 10-foot pruning pole, or bobbing.

Finally, you'll be overjoyed to learn the naked intruder in my bedroom was actually part of a nightmare. Honest. My wife said the bad dream was probably brought on by the suppressed guilt I'd felt earlier that day when our vacation snapshots came back from the developers. One taken at Weeki Wachee Spring revealed that, for the third straight year, I'd befooled a picture of granddaughters posing with a nude statue of a mermaid by cupping my hand over a mermaid breast.

Onward and Upward. Even though I may be younger, I'm as funny as Bob Hope.

HDC receives shelter grant

Congressman James A. Barcia (D Bay City) recently announced an $88,400 grant to the Human Development Commission in Caro from the Michigan State Housing Development Authority (MSHDA), which originally received funding from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

"I'm impressed with this shelter and the good work it does in combatting homelessness," said Barcia. "It's a problem that can occur anywhere and it takes local organizations employing committed people to help the homeless find jobs and permanent homes. I'm glad this grant will help the Human Development Commission achieve these goals and continue its work in providing beds for people in need."

The Human Development Commission, in collaboration with other agencies geared towards helping the homeless, operates a domestic assault center and a homeless shelter consisting of 32 beds and several family units. The Commission serves people living in Lapeer, Huron, Sanilac or Tuscola counties.

The grant will be used to develop a case management service and assist individuals in finding employment and permanent housing.

In Cass City

Report break-in, assault

Cass City police investigated complaints involving breaking and entering, assault and vandalism over the past 9 days.

The break-in was reported June 6 at Cass City Middle School. Custodian Randall Schuette told police he caught a suspect in the school cafeteria attempting to take 2 boxes of empty pop cans at about 9:15 p.m.

The suspect, Kenneth R. Dubai, 17, of Cass City allegedly entered the building through a door that had been left unlocked by mistake. Dubai, who was questioned by police, denied any wrongdoing.

Also last week, Dorothy Mulrath, 6729 Third St., Cass City, reported being assaulted by her 16-year-old grandson Friday.

Mulrath, who was treated at Hills and Dales General Hospital for bruises and a twisted ankle, stated she was arguing with the youth when he grabbed her by the forearms. She said she struck him in the lower jaw/neck area.

Karl Weippert, 6351 Pine St., Cass City, also filed a complaint, saying someone threw some sort of liquid on the hood of his car, causing the paint to bubble. The incident took place sometime Saturday or Sunday, he reported.

Phone threats reported

Cass City police and a detective from the Michigan State Police post in Caro investigated a series of phone calls threatening some area church buildings.

According to reports, the Trinity and Salem United Methodist churches, the Evangelical Free Church and Novesta Church of Christ all received phone calls from someone threatening a bomb or that "something would happen." Most of the calls were recorded on answering machines last Wednesday and Thursday.

Police, who have no suspects, said the voice appears to be that of a youth or youths.

The Chronicle editorial staff is taking turns filling in for the boss and his column while he's on vacation.

by Tom Montgomery News Editor

If a parent doesn't give the support necessary to both the child and the school... it lessens the effectiveness of any policy.

The comment was made by Cass City School Board candidate Randy Severance in response to questions asked by the Chronicle in an election advance story published last week.

Severance was talking about the importance of the parents' role in relation to school discipline, and I couldn't help but think about how our generation (somewhere between baby boomers and generation x, maybe x-boomers?) will be viewed as parents.

So far, it doesn't look good. There are a lot of parents who spend time with their kids, love them and guide them. But it seems far too many others can't or won't.

I don't think it's a question of broken marriages; a child with a single mother or father who takes the time to be a real parent is much better off than a youngster who has both parents, but doesn't interact with them on a regular, daily basis because mom and dad have neither the time nor the initiative.

Perhaps it's laziness, pure and simple. After all, it takes a lot of effort — yes, work — to parent.

The upshot is that a lot of kids are crying for attention with destructive behavior, or finding their place in a gang "family", or trying to forget about their feelings of worthlessness through drugs.

And then we send these same kids to school and expect a miracle.

It isn't working. No matter how much we expect school officials to be parents, social workers, therapists — even dietitians — as well as educators, the fact remains they have our children for only hours a day.

I don't believe throwing more dollars at education, by itself, is really going to make our children better students. It's kind of like trying to improve a leaky boat by bailing faster, instead of patching the hole.

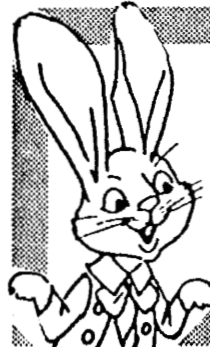

Talk about curriculum and new teaching methods all you want. But think about it — why would a youngster who doesn't feel loved or important care about math or geography, or whether he or she gets an A instead of a D? Speaking as someone who came from a broken family, the fondest memories I have as a child are of a mother who sacrificed everything, including her dignity, to make certain I knew I was worthwhile and could do something with my life.

And of a grandfather who taught me a lot about life, not to mention how to lure a brook trout out from beneath a stump in some of the prettiest streams in northern Michigan.

Their investment in me was priceless.

Perhaps this generation could go a long ways towards improving education, and maybe society as a whole, by just taking on the responsibility of being parents, and making the time to nurture the young lives we've created.

It will only cost a few hours, and the payback could be a much better tomorrow.

(And anyone else he can get to help.)

The recent 50-year anniversary observance of D-Day sparked many memories among veterans who may be wishing they could get in touch with old military buddies they haven't seen or talked to in years.

Well, their wishes could come true with the help of a book entitled "How to Locate Anyone Who is or Has Been in the Military: Armed Forces Locator Directory".

The book is available at book stores, military exchanges and from MIE Publishing, P.O. Box 5143N, Burlington, N.C. 27216 (1-800-937-2133).

The school candidate election is a no-lose situation for superintendent Ken Micklash, but not so red hot for the rest of the district.

That's because the voters were forced to choose between 2 outstanding candidates (3 if you count Dr. Paul Chappel, who withdrew).

Too many times over the years seats on the school board have been filled by residents with an axe to grind and when that issue is settled, so is their true interest in school affairs.

That's not the case this year and we agree with Micklash that the winner will make a positive contribution to our schools.

Grinch of the month, perhaps the year, are the cheapies who steal flowers from cemetery graves.

For 4 years in a row, flowers have been taken from a grave or graves decorated in remembrance by Esther McCullough. Her complaint is echoed by many others who also have lost flowers and in some cases, the urns that hold them.

Good news, bad news department. The Auto Club of Michigan reports that for the first time in 5 years auto vacation costs have dropped.

The cost per day for lodging, meals and auto expenses will be 30 cents less than last year.

Now the bad news. An average family of 4 should expect to dish out $215.30 per day for vacation fun.

Library slates senior citizens movie time

The Senior Citizens movie to be shown at Rawson Memorial Library Friday, June 17, at 1:30 p.m. is:

"Abbott and Costello Meet the Mummy": When Pete and Freddie (Abbott and Costello), a couple of Americans stranded in Cairo, overhear an archaeologist chatter about discovering a legendary mummy, they decide to apply as chaplains for the corpse back to the United States. But when they arrive at the archaeologist's home, strange happenings are afoot. First of all, the archaeologist has been murdered. Then, the mummy seems to have disappeared. And on top of that, the boys become owners of a sacred medallion that holds the key to the location of an ancient buried treasure - one that many would kill for!

When various scoundrels, all bent on getting the treasure, the mummy, or both, try to pilfer the medallion, Pete and Freddie take drastic action. Learning the medallion is cursed, Pete hides it in a most appetizing place and Freddie bites the bait. Then it's up to the bumbling Americans to preserve the legend of the mummy and keep the treasure from falling into the wrong hands.

"Abbott and Costello Meet the Mummy" is loaded with surprises. One of the most interesting is Lou Costello's daughter Carole appearing as a cigarette girl who pours water all over her dad! This gem of a film is filled with laughs for every member of the family - especially mummy! (1 hour 30 minutes).

Refreshments will be served at intermission. This older adult program is offered free of charge.

Everyone is invited to attend and look at events nearly 3 decades ago.

Single business tax relief

Business owners welcome tax plan

Local business owners are among those that would share in some $90 million in tax relief under an agreement negotiated between Michigan House Democratic and Republican leadership.

Under the compromise, both small and just starting businesses, with gross receipts of less than $250,000, will have no single business tax liability. Larger businesses would see tax relief in the form of a reduction in the single business tax from 2.35 to 2.3 percent effective Oct. 1.

In addition, the alternative profits tax rate would be cut from 3 to 2 percent.

The plan also includes a pledge to equalize the tax liability between public and private pensions.

The total pension relief would total $70 million. Andi Brancato, press secretary for the House Democrats, said details worked out by the Taxation Committee meeting Thursday call for an increase in the pension exemption from $7,500 for single and $10,000 for married persons to $30,000 single and $60,000 for married for both public and private pensions.

Both the single business tax and pension relief plans would be paid for under the requirement to return to taxpayers tax revenues in excess of the Headlee limitation.

The proposal was welcomed by Cass City businessman Tom Proctor, owner of Old Wood Drug, Inc.

"That's exciting. That tax, in my opinion, has been the most unfair tax the state has ever come up with because it's not based on profit," he said. "It's a tax just to be in business; it's not based on a business' ability to make money."

"This will encourage people to stay in business in Michigan or open a business in Michigan," Proctor added.

Bill Kritzman, owner of Kritzman's Inc. Clothing Store, offered similar comments.

"The single business tax is a very unfair tax for small businesses," he said. "There should be relief. . . but there should be a fairer tax."

"I don't think anybody loves it," remarked Geraldine Prieskorn, who along with her husband, Gerald, owns and operates the Ben Franklin Store.

Prieskorn said it's hard to know whether the single business tax, adopted in 1975, is worse than the 7 different taxes Michigan levied on businesses from 1968 up to 1975.

However, she agreed it is a negative tax in that businesses pay regardless of whether they earn a profit or not.

The Michigan Retailers Association praised the single business tax cut proposal and urged the full House to approve the plan intact.

"We support single business tax relief that is both fair and provides an across-the-board incentive to business investment in Michigan," said Larry Meyer, Michigan Retailers Association CEO and former director of the Michigan Department of Commerce.

The plan is the result of a bipartisan agreement hammered out by Speaker Curtis Hertel (D-Detroit), Speaker Paul Hillemonds (R-Holland), and House Taxation chairs Lynn Jondahl (D-Okemos) and Bill Bullard (R-Milford).

According to Hertel, single business tax relief was identified as a top priority.

The goals of any such relief, he said, were fairness and competitiveness in the small business arena, as well as greater competitiveness for larger Michigan businesses.

"We're sending a message that if you want to start a new business in Michigan or keep your small business here, don't worry about the tax man until you get on your feet and are in a position to pay Michigan taxes," Hertel added.

Your neighbor says

No more local election votes

One Cass City resident has said enough is enough to local elections.

Janis Seeley used to be a voter, but she wasn't at the polls Monday. And she doesn't plan on going in the future.

After years of casting her voice, Seeley came to feel like her vote didn't matter. No one listened. "It never turned out the way I wanted it," she remarked.

A good example of ignoring the public's wishes rests in the controversy surrounding the renewed possibility of a new Cass City Middle School. Seeley stands against the building issue, as do the majority of village residents, she noted.

But, both candidates for the school election seat supported the action. "(The school officials) are going to get it eventually," she said.

Seeley does believe it matters who holds governmental positions, and as for the worthiness of the new school board member, "Only time will tell," she commented.

Seeley has several aunts and uncles located in the local area, and a sister, Sherryl, who works in Cass City.

In last week's issue, Leah Shagene was incorrectly identified as Lindsay Maharg in the photograph from the Cass City Middle School Science Fair.

Precautions Prevent Drownings

Having fun can be more dangerous than you think. Swimming, fishing and cooling off in pools is great relaxation, but drowning is the fourth most common cause of accidental deaths, and in children under 5 the third most common.

Many drownings can be prevented--90% occur within 10 yards of safety. Most occur in swimming pools, but in younger children, drownings can occur in bath tubs, hot tubs and even children's wading pools.

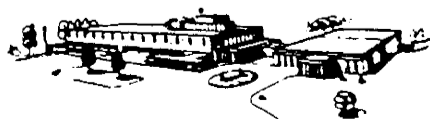

A few factors can contribute to drownings. In younger children, lack of supervision is a major problem. Such minor distractions as phone calls, checking on meals, or visiting with neighbors provide a long enough time for a young child to get in trouble.

In older children and adolescents, lack of judgment is a primary factor. Many are overconfident of their abilities or endurance, dive carelessly, and attempt to do more than they are able to do. Peer pressure often plays a roll.

Another dangerous practice is to hyperventilate to allow longer breath-holding under water. This can cause a person to pass out before there is an urge to breathe again.

In adults, alcohol can play a major role. About a third of drownings involve alcohol. Alcohol and water sports do not mix.

Storm, Morgan region all-stars

Two Cass City baseball players were named to the 14-member all-region team as selected by area coaches. Jason Morgan was named fourth among the top 5 players on the team. Morgan batted .485 and led the all-stars in RBIs (34) and home runs (5). Kevin Storm batted .371. The top player, according to the coaches, is Brian Curtis of Bad Axe. He batted .506 and drove in 32 runs while being credited with 14 assists from his outfield post. Nutrition Part 1: Carbohydrates

Your body needs carbohydrates, protein and fat every day to provide your body with energy to maintain body functions at rest and during exercise. This article's focus will be carbohydrates. Carbohydrates should provide most of your calories during the day as their main function is to supply energy fuel for the body. They are our best source of energy because they burn faster and more efficiently than protein or fat. Your daily diet should be made up of 50-60% carbohydrates. Carbohydrates are divided into 2 groups - complex and simple carbohydrates. Complex carbohydrates, or starches, should make up the majority of carbohydrates you eat during the day. They include all grain products, such as breads, cereals and pastas, and vegetables. Foods high in complex carbohydrates also contain protein and often some fat. Simple carbohydrates, or sugars, should make up no more than 10-15% of the carbohydrates you eat each day. They include refined sugars, syrups and naturally occurring sugars found in fresh and dried fruits and juices. Obviously, you should eat a variety of carbohydrate-rich foods each day, but a diet high in complex carbohydrates is best. Next time- Proteins.

Coach Roller: prospects bright

Young O-G team falls in regionals

Deep down he knew and it didn't matter.

Coach Dean Roller's young Owen-Gage softball team's season ended Saturday with an 18-3 loss at Carsonville-Port Sanilac to Dryden in a class D regional semifinal tilt.

Roller knew his Bulldogs simply didn't have enough weapons, or experience, for any real chance to advance against the likes of Waterford Our Lady of the Lakes, who captured the regional crown by defeating Dryden 11-6 and will play Cardinal Mooney tonight (Tuesday) in a quarterfinal matchup.

Not this year anyway. But with his entire roster returning next year, 4 freshman starters, and a talented freshman class coming up, Roller feels that his opportunity to advance beyond the regional round could be soon. "We did not play very well, but I'm pleased with the progress we made and winning our districts. It will be great to have everyone back next year," commented Roller after the loss.

Freshman Kate Powers handled the mound duties for Owen-Gage and suffered the loss. For the multi-talented freshman, it would be an outing that she would rather forget.

Powers struggled to find the plate and issued 10 walks before being relieved late in the game by Amanda Salcido.

Powers walked the first 3 batters she faced, all of whom rode home on a Jessica Webb single that helped stake Dryden to a 5-0 lead.

Owen-Gage got 2 of those tallies back in their half of the frame on runs by Melody Abfalter and Angie Wildman, who scored without the aid of a hit. Owen-Gage wouldn't draw any closer on the afternoon.

Control problems plagued Powers again in the 2nd frame as free passes to Kelli Schenber, Christy Stemer and Webbs led to 3 more markers.

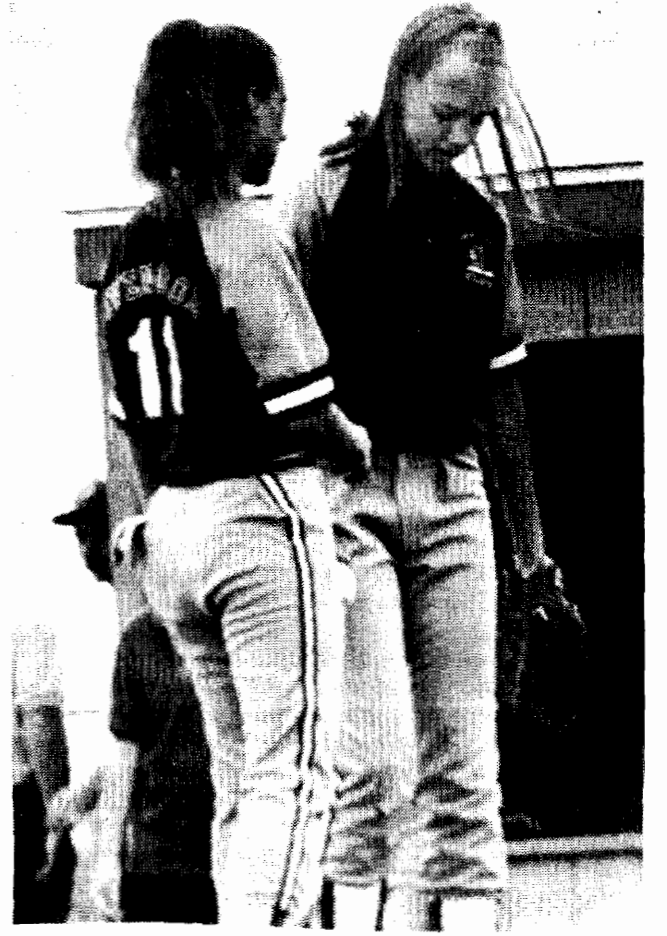

The Dryden trio repeated their efforts in the 3rd frame, where the winners plated 10 runs helped by 6 walks, 3 Bulldog errors and a 3-run triple by Kim Wasyluk.

Jennifer Winchester accounted for the hosts' final run in the 4th when she walked, advanced on a wild pitch and came home on a fielder's choice.

Southpaw Lisa Miller was the pitcher of record for Dryden, striking out 5 and allowing just one hit - a Powers single in the 3rd. Miller walked 4.

DOUBLE PLAY DENIED - Angie Wildman applies a tag in vain to Dryden's Lisa Miller after snagging a line drive in the opening inning of the Bulldogs' 18-3 regional defeat. Backing up the the play is Michelle Pisarek.

BULLDOG SHORTSTOP Angie Wildman (left) tries to settle down freshman hurler Kate Powers after she walked the first 3 batters of Saturday's regional tilt at CPS.

5 Hawks on all-star team

Unionville-Sebewaing, with 4 selections, and Cass City, with 5 members, dominated the district 91 Class C all-star softball squad.

Cass City placed Karla Zinnecker, senior, in the outfield. Jodi LaRoche, senior, is the catcher. Other Cass City players named are Kristy Messing, senior, first base; Stacey Klinkman, senior, second base, and Darcie Monroe, senior, pitcher.

The USA Patriots on the squad are: Rachel Dinsmore, senior, third base; Kris Betson, sophomore, shortstop; Dawn Diebel, junior, pitcher, and Jenny Schwartz, senior, at large. Two Lakers were named to outfield posts, both juniors. They are Carolyn Bollenbacher and Jenny Murdock.

Carol Sattler, USA, was named coach of the year.

Receiving honorable mention were Denelle DeLong, senior, Cass City, and Kim Betson, senior, and Jamie Collon, junior, from USA.

Hawk J.V. softball team cops third straight Blue Bay League title

The Cass City Girls' Junior Varsity softball team completed another outstanding season. For the third year in a row, the Hawks came out on top of the Blue Bay Conference.

This year the league format called for teams to play both home and away doubleheaders. This meant each school would play 12 league games. The Hawks were 11-1 in league play. Their only loss was to Bad Axe in the last game of the season.

The competition for the remainder of the season was provided by Thumb C schools, Akron-Fairgrove and Caro. Against these schools the Hawks compiled a 12-4 record. This brought their overall record to 23-5 for the entire season.

Hitting was again a strength for the Hawks this year. Fourteen of the 19 players on the roster sported batting averages of .300 or better.

Leading the hitting corps were Karla Kidney (.478), Jill Wright (.420), Kelli VanVliet (.403), Leann Deering (.394), Joie Humes (.383), Katie Anthony (.375), Cori Britt (.369), Karissa McIntosh (.355), Mandy Deering (.333), and Shawna Long (.300). Other players with strong batting averages but not a lot of at bats were Jodie Hurd (.600), Gia Mellendorf (.500), Jenny Sugden (.333) and Beth Bashur (.333).

Jodie Hurd was the Hawks' number one pitcher. She led the squad in innings pitched, started more games than all the other pitchers combined and could always be counted on to throw strikes when the team needed them. Rachel Peters improved steadily over the season and provided some excellent power pitching at times. Also contributing their pitching skills and possession potential were Leann Deering and Katie Anthony.

Last year the Hawks were extremely fortunate to have 3 talented catchers. This year they were blessed with 4 catchers, all of whom possess strong throwing arms and excellent catching skills. Leann Deering led the group and received the majority of playing time. She was followed by Shawna Long, who showed much improvement as the year progressed. Jill Wright and Kelli VanVliet also provided some strong catching but their talents were needed more at other positions.

As in most team sports, a good defense is necessary for success in softball. This was an area where the Hawks excelled. The team was fortunate to have a lot of talented players who could play several positions. In the infield, Cori Britt, Jill Wright, Leann Deering, Joie Humes, Kelli VanVliet and Katie Anthony provided some of the best talent in the Thumb.

The outfield was anchored by Kelli VanVliet in centerfield. Karla Kidney, Karissa McIntosh and Mandy Deering handled most of the duties in the other outfield positions. Rachel Peters also provided some strong play occasionally as well.

Several players provided their talents wherever and whenever they were needed. This included playing anywhere on defense and base running, pinch hitting and designated hitting on offense. This also included helping keep track of important statistics, leading cheers, helping other players warm up, coaching first base, providing support and anything else they felt the team needed. These players were one of the main reasons why the Hawks had an outstanding season instead of just a good one. These players are: Jenny Sugden, Jackie Diebel, Melissa Epskamp, Gia Mellendorf, Courtney Turner, Kristy McClorey and Beth Bashur.

Buck-passing continues

Elmwood Road condition deplorable, gut-wrenching

Dear Mr. Editor:

Do the officials of Tuscola County, Elkland Township or Novesta Township realize that civilization exists on Elmwood Road, east of Cemetery Road, in Cass City? Or, is this area considered "No Man's Land", or "The Place That Time Forgot"?

Our taxes are paid to Elkland Township and, under some type of mutual agreement, road work and upkeep is to be done by Novesta Township. Unfortunately, the conditions are simply deplorable and gut-wrenching.

The Tuscola County Road Commission has Board approval since Oct. 22, 1992 for local Road Bridge Heavy Maintenance, Project LR-2064, proposed for 1993, with tentative plans for the bridge on Elmwood Road to be re-built in 1994. This project was to be done in conjunction with the road work by Novesta Township. Bids have been taken on the road on several occasions and marked stakes remain imbedded along the way, but the usual lament continues. "We have no money, maybe next year." Bidders have remarked of being made fools of and wasting their time. These promises are like butter in the sun.

In the meantime, Maynard A. Stine Sr., Supervisor of Novesta Township, has been approached and petitioned by the residents about the conditions at numerous times, but why bother? Elmwood Road is not in his township. He is too busy enjoying long-winded vacations to be bothered by such minor things. As of this date the majority of dirt roads in the county have been "brined", and I was informed by Township Clerk Kathy Newell that all the roads that had to be brined by Novesta Township were done and that she would advise her supervisor, Mr. Stine, that our section of Elmwood Road was not done. But, alas, Mr. Stine is away for 3 weeks. Numerous calls were made to local officials to no avail. The everlasting buck-passing continues.

In the meantime, we continue to eat dust all day, and pray that our travel on this abandoned horse and buggy road does not ruin our cars. HELP!

Sincerely,
Fernando L. Magras
Resident

Farmers welcome Monday's showers

by Marjory Raymer
Staff Writer

Abnormal weather conditions put a damper on crops this season, but with moisture this week yields should shape up quickly.

As farmers harvested about 50-65 percent of the first hay crop in Tuscola, Sanilac and Huron counties last week, concern mounted about the degree of dryness. "As dry as it is, regrowth is going to be real slow . . . or maybe not at all — until we get some showers," said Tuscola County agricultural agent Dennis Stein Friday.

But, Monday farmers got some desperately needed rain. According to statistics from the Cass City Waste Water Treatment Plant, less than .2 inch of moisture dropped previously in June adding to an overly dry season, which saw only 2.54 inches in May and 2.85 inches in April.

Michigan State University Extension Agricultural meteorologist Jeff Andresen said most crops could use at least 4 inches of rain during April and May coupled with one inch during the first week of June.

Martin Nagelkirk, Sanilac County ag agent, observed that although the dry conditions and cold nights have affected growth, crops can rebound from these conditions quickly if they don't continue for an extended period of time.

Andresen said the dryness approached the record breaking mark and "the rain really couldn't have come any later. We should start to see things perk up."

As farming experts learned in 1992, cold nights like the near 30-degree evenings during May adversely affect the crops' ability to flourish during the day-time warmth, he explained. Some of the day's energy is wasted, because it is used as a "jump-start" to the crops. Andresen predicted Monday that crop growth is lagging about 2 weeks behind.

He said, however, with the forecasted high humidity, 90-degree temperatures and possibilities for showers throughout the week, farmers can feel much better about the future of their crops. "We may actually pull out of this thing okay," he commented.

In Huron County, agricultural agent Jim LeCureux, said with the swift change in weather conditions, the season could outperform previous years.

More danger could be on the horizon, however. Some farmers' yields already have been devastated, though, Nagelkirk noted. Isolated cases of extreme frost and insects have eliminated patches of crops around the area.

Because many pre-emergence herbicides rely on water to be activated, weeds could become a big problem for some farmers, Andresen said. "The weed pressure is going to be pretty serious."

$888,217 job training grant goes to Thumb

Gov. John Engler recently announced the award of $888,217 to the Thumb Area Employment and Training Consortium to provide job training and readjustment services to dislocated workers.

The grant is part of more than $22.6 million in statewide dislocated worker grants funded by the Job Training Partnership Act.

Engler said, "Experience has shown that the earlier workers are assisted in a lay-off or plant closing, the earlier they are re-employed. Services in addition to training and retraining may include career counseling, skill assessment, basic skills training, labor market information, job development and job referrals, and placement assistance.

The grant will be administered by the Michigan Jobs Commission. The commission, which was established last year by the governor, helps existing businesses expand and create jobs, and has consolidated more than $400 million in job training programs.

Accident claims woman

A Tuscola County woman was killed in a head-on crash in Akron Township last week.

The victim was identified as Glenda Broadworth, 36, of Fairgrove.

According to troopers at the Michigan State Police post in Caro, Broadworth was driving west on M-25 near Old State Road, about a half mile west of Quanicasse, June 6 when she crossed the road center line and collided with an eastbound pickup truck driven by Alan Draper, 20, of Bay Port.

Troopers were assisted by Akron and Fairgrove fire fighters, who used emergency equipment to free Broadworth from the wreckage. She was dead at the scene.

Draper was taken to Bay Medical Center in Bay City, where he was treated and released.

Reports indicate neither driver was wearing a seat belt at the time of the 9:45 p.m. accident.

Gregory L. Campbell, 40, Camden, Tenn., was found guilty of breaking and entering and larceny in a building following a 3-day trial that ended Wednesday. He later pleaded guilty to having 3 prior felony convictions.

The jury deliberated 32 minutes before rendering its verdict, according to court records, which state Campbell was accused of breaking into The Medicine Shop, 6098 Fulton St., Mayville, and stealing money and drugs April 5, 1993.

A pre-sentence investigation was ordered in the case, bond was continued at $50,000 and Campbell was remanded to the custody of the sheriff's department. Sentencing is to be set.

Construction of the new Jordan College building in Cass City was officially underway Wednesday with the ceremonial turning of the first shovel of dirt.

Last year's hot and dry weather caused problems among farmers in surrounding counties. This year's cooler and rainy weather is the opposite, but now there might be too much rain.

Cass City Lion of the Year is Ken Maharg. He was presented a plaque by President Ralph Retherford at the annual installation of officers.

The Cass City Red Hawks placed 3 players on the all-conference first team. They were Jeff Dillon, catcher; Scott Dillon, infield, and Jason Robertson, at first base. Paul Tuckey earned second team honors in the infield, and Steve Wright, outfield, and Jeff Krol, pitcher, earned honorable mention.

Charlene Mellendorf, daughter of Dale and Charlotte Mellendorf, recently returned home from a year in the Philippines as a Rotary Exchange Student.

The Cass City Board of Education voted to officially recognize Arthur Holmberg's long service to the school system Monday night by voting to hang a memorial to him in the new high school building.

and their mothers were honored.

Rotary Anns were feted Tuesday night at the Pigeon Country Club when local talent provided a full evening of entertainment. The program was arranged by M.B. Auten and Cliff Ryan for the annual ladies night of the club.

Ricky Zawilinski, 3 1/2, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Zawilinski of Cass City, wandered away from a picnic at Oak Beach and had wandered a mile and a half down the beach at Saginaw Bay before he was recognized by Elmer E. Brehm of Bay City, who had heard a radio description of the youth. He was missing about 2 hours and a search that included some 75 persons had been organized.

A new house is being built on Church Street for Rev. and Mrs. M.R. Vender on a lot they purchased from Fred Wright.

The annual tea sponsored by the Zonta Club of Cass City for graduating senior girls of Cass City High School and their mothers was held at the James Bauer home Sunday. Some 60 girls Cass City resident Zachary Glaspie is attending hockey camp at the Michigan Technological University Hockey Development Center to improve and enhance his hockey skills.

At the camp, which runs June 12-17, he'll work on perfecting his stick handling, passing, shooting, skating and checking skills through rigorous drills and challenging scrimmages.

In addition to his on-ice activities, he'll train in the off-ice development center. During the week, each participant not only is involved in classroom instruction, which includes video critique, but also receives a full written evaluation at the conclusion of the camp.

Michigan Technological University, home of 3 NCAA Championship hockey teams, started the hockey development center 22 years ago under its legendary hockey coach, John MacInnes. Instructors, including high school and college coaches, along with current professional and former Tech players, provide individual coaching for young hockey players ages 7 through 17.

Novesta Church sets Bible school

Novesta Church of Christ, 2896 N. Cemetery Road, will hold a Vacation Bible School June 20-24, from 9 a.m. till noon for ages 2 through 8th grade.

The theme of this year's program is "Son Country Farm." Besides daily classes, crafts, music, recreation and snacks, a representative from the Woodburn Christian Children's Home of Woodburn, Ind., will be present sharing the special ministry their homes provide for dozens of needy children.

A love offering will be taken daily for the Home but specially needed canned goods will also be gathered and collected during the week.

Friday, there will be a closing program of the children sharing the songs they learned during the week, at 7:00 p.m.

Following the program there will be an afterglow of refreshments in the church fellowship hall, where the students' craft projects and study materials will be displayed.

The public is invited at no charge. For more information, call the church at 872-3658. Pre-registration for the week is encouraged (see the ad elsewhere in this issue of the Chronicle).

Joe Langenburg was presented the Paul Smarks trophy from last year's winner, Rick Pobanz, at the annual awards ceremony. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Langenburg.

Mary Rockefeller, Cheryl Janssen and Deanne Bruce recently received cash awards for their ideas to cut health care costs at Hills and Dales General Hospital.

25 YEARS AGO

Young files for probate court seat

James V. Young, Sanilac County prosecuting attorney, became the first candidate to file a petition for judge of probate court in Sanilac County.

Young has been with the prosecutor's office since 1979 and as elected prosecuting attorney since 1984.

James Young

"I believe that my years of work with the legal community in Sanilac County make me well aware of the problems that need to be faced in the area of probate law," Young said.

"My top priorities would be in the area of youth issues, and developing effective communications between the probate court, social service agencies, our schools, and the law enforcement community."

As prosecutor, Young created the first Victims Rights Program in the Thumb area, assisted in the creation of the Sanilac County Drug Task Force, was co-founder of the Sanilac County Child Abuse and Neglect Council, and most recently served as chairman of the Sanilac County Building Committee, which oversaw construction of the courthouse office annex and made the entire courthouse handicap accessible.

Young's community activities include membership in the Carsonville Lions Club, Sandusky Kiwanis Club, Sanilac Shrine Club, Marion Lodge #392 in Deckerville, and Commandery Knights Templar #27 in Lexington.

Young is a graduate of Carsonville High School, Northern Michigan University, and Thomas M. Cooley Law School. He resides in Carsonville with Kathy, his wife of 25 years, and their 2 children, Zack and Abby.

Hospital auxiliary Present awards for long service

The spring season has blessed Hills and Dales General Hospital with many fun and rewarding activities, including the Annual Auxiliary Awards Luncheon and the National Hospital Week Celebration.

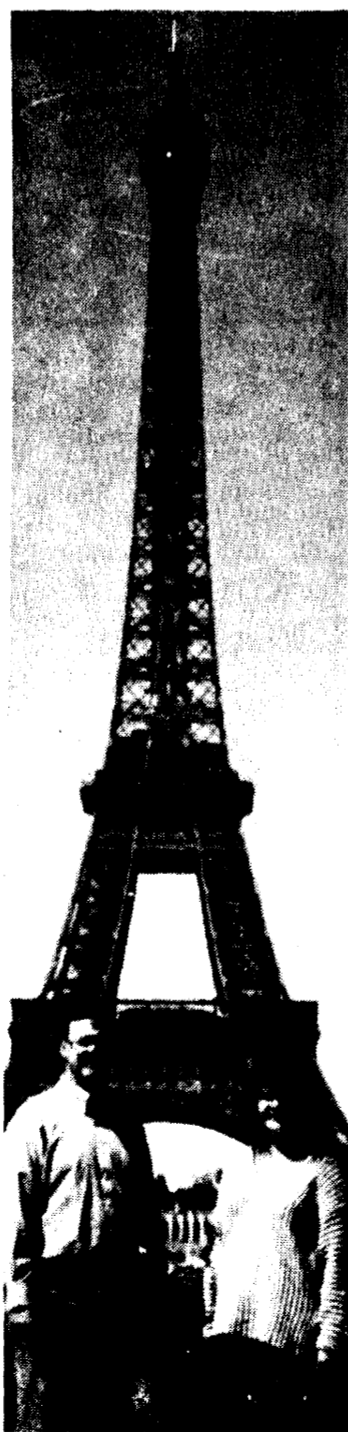

The Hills and Dales General Hospital Auxiliary served over 8,000 voluntary hours in 1993, equivalent to the work of almost 4 full-time employees. In April, the hospital thanked and awarded them for their hours of service over the years.

Awards were given to the following auxiliary members: 25 hours - Marcie Wallace, Isabel Wright, Shirley Wolfe; 100 hours - Richard Seski, Rose Marie Teno; 200 hours - Connie McNaughton, Jackie Seski, Valerie Ussery, Charlotte LaPeer; 300 hours - Gail Hutchinson; 400 hours - Virginia Crawford, Janis Seecley; 500 hours - Shirley Strickland; 800 hours - Theda Seeger; 1000 hours - Jeannine Hobart; 1100 hours - Laura Ball, Betty Hurst, Verna Kilbourn; 1200 hours - Evelyn MacRae, Alice McComb; 1300 hours - Marilyn Alexander, Helen Bartle, Verna Dobbs, Pauline Hulbert; 1500 hours - Georgine Jensen; 1600 hours - Pat Teichman; 1900 hours - Jessie Goodall, Beverly Hilbig; 2000 hours - Lillian Hanby; 2100 hours - Midge Thompson, Phyllis Ridge; 2200 hours - Audrey Katzenberger, Joanne Sattelberg; 2300 hours - Elsie Blades, Maxine Clara, Audrey Cummins, Janet Francis; 2400 hours - Thelma Graham; 2600 hours - Carolyn Martin, Agnes Milligan; 4200 hours - Helen Jezewski; 4400 hours - Helen Lorentzen.

Auxiliary members volunteering over 300 hours last year included: Jessie Goodall, Pauline Hulbert, Audrey Katzenberger, Helen Lorentzen.

Michigan ranked 5th

Michigan last year ranked number 5 in the nation in wholesale sales of floriculture products. Only California, Florida, Texas and Ohio reported larger sales than Michigan.

MIXING BUSINESS with pleasure recently were Scott Hartel and his daughter, Rachel. Hartel was working for Walbro Corporation at the company's testing site in Chalons, France. Visited was the Eiffel Tower in Paris.

IN OTHER BUSINESS

In other business Monday, the board:

- Scheduled a special meeting for June 27 at 7 p.m. in the high school library to review the district's proposed 1994-95 budget.

- Heard a brief financial report from the superintendent, who indicated school finances are looking up.

- The district is $20,581 further in the black compared to a year ago, he said, adding the district is continuing to chip away at the hot lunch program deficit, and at the same time is sitting on a fund balance of about $121,000.

- Voted not to commit to paying 2 law firms to investigate cases involving bus and milk product price fixing. Thies stated he feels the legal expenses would far outweigh any court settlement the district might receive.

- Voted in favor of adding an extra week of school for seniors beginning with the 1994-95 school year in order to match scheduling at the skill center. Next year's graduation will be held May 25, instead of May 18.

- Approved an offer of $200 from Randy Howard for a 35-foot strip of school-owned property. Howard requested the land in order to square up his own property.

- Approved a motion to continue to fund transportation costs for an annual Cedar Point trip for honor students.

- Thanked Kretzschmer for his 8 years of service as a board member. He did not seek reelection in Monday's annual school election.

- Recognized several students for various achievements. They include Brandy Parks, Michigan Scholar Athlete award winner; the varsity girls softball team, 1994 Class D District champs; Denys Robinson and Brandy Harmon, Lions Club Speech Contest winners, and North Central Thumb League Academic Team members Brandy Parks, Patti Timmons and Jodi Wood.

Correction

Due to incorrect information provided to the Chronicle, it was reported last month that the Novesta Township Board had approved paving a half-mile of Dodge Road, from White Creek Road north to Shabbona. In fact, the motion was to ditch and grade that section of road.
