Romain pleads no contest to charges

A Tuscola County woman last week pleaded no contest to negligent homicide in the July 25 traffic death of a 17-year-old Caro resident.

Traci D. Romain, 20, of Caro, also pleaded no contest to reckless driving in connection with the July 25 crash that claimed the life of Brian Michael Flintoft.

A pre-sentence investigation was ordered following Romain's plea, entered Friday in Tuscola County Circuit Court. Bond was continued at $4,000. Sentencing is to be scheduled.

Flintoft was a passenger in a vehicle driven by Romain, according to Tuscola County Sheriff's deputies, who reported Romain was westbound on Dutcher Road near Colling Road, about 6 miles north of Caro, when she failed to stop at the intersection and was struck broadside by a southbound vehicle.

New waste disposal law is near

It's been over 2 years since the Michigan legislature adopted a plan that prohibited placing lawn waste into the state's landfills, and the lead time allotted for communities like Cass City to get ready ends March 27.

Evidently the community and the firms engaged in lawn care are prepared and the new regulations will bring no appreciable difference to them or to their customers.

There may be an adjustment for home owners who take care of their own lawns.

Here's how 2 lawn care businesses have adapted. Jeannette LaPeer of LaPeer Lawn Service says that the company has an 11-acre site in rural Cass City on which lawn trimmings are deposited.

We purchased a trailer for the express purpose of hauling trimmings away and spread it on our sandy field and it decomposes without any trouble, LaPeer said.

Kingston school plans $3.725 million campaign

Kingston Community School officials are gearing up for a public education campaign focusing on the need for an up-to-date high school facility.

The Board of Education has voted to ask district residents to approve funding for a $3.725 million expansion/renovation project. A bond issue election has been scheduled for Saturday, March 4.

"A number of meetings are being scheduled" to explain the proposal, school Supt. Jerry H. Laycock said Monday. He noted officials plan to meet with district residents as well as small groups composed of employees, township officials and business representatives over the next few weeks.

Those meetings will focus on the school district's needs, both now and in the near future, according to Laycock. "We have to meet 2 or 3 basic needs, and one of them is increased enrollment," he explained, adding officials are projecting a 7 percent increase in the number of high school students over the next 3 years.

Other needs include adequate facilities and equipment to keep up with growing technology in the classroom, and replacement of an old, faltering heating system. If approved, the project will cost residents an additional 3 mills for the equivalent of 13 years. For the owner of a $40,000 home, the bond issue translates into a tax increase of $60 per year.

Westerby faces charges

Kingston rallies behind driver

The Kingston community is rallying around one of its own families through an effort being called "Project Good Faith."

Residents have spearheaded a letter-writing campaign and petition drive on behalf of Daniel Westerby, the truck driver charged in connection with a traffic accident that claimed the lives of 2 Saginaw adults and a 23-month-old boy on I-75 in Genesee County.

The community has also organized a host of fund raisers to help the family with living expenses.

The crash occurred Nov. 7, when Westerby's car-hauling tractor-trailer crashed into vehicles stopped for President Clinton's motorcade, causing a chain-reaction crash involving 8 vehicles. Prosecutors have since charged the 39-year-old Kingston man with negligent homicide.

But Westerby's supporters say they believe he wasn't at fault.

If he could have stopped, he would have, said Mary Brief, who has been active in organizing events that have raised a little more than $900 to date for the Westerby family. "We believe this was a total accident," she added.

Westerby is a long-time Kingston resident who has been active in the community, serving as a volunteer fireman, village council trustee and little league assistant, according to Brief, who said he and his wife, who have a 10-year-old son, have lived in the community for 15 years.

Brief said supporters hope

Under the proposal, the funding would cover the cost of renovation as well as new construction, including the addition of 8 new classrooms. Currently Laycock pointed out, the school has 6 or more 450-square-foot classrooms, compared to the recommended classroom size of 900 to 1,100 square feet.

The project would also include a new library-media center and a receiving and storage area for the hot lunch program.

In addition, officials plan to put in a new entry/exit area for school buses, and a covered entrance from the bus area to the building.

The renovation work will include replacement of the school's roof top furnaces with a new, $300,000 boiler system. Laycock said the present facility was built in 1968. At this point, he added, school officials are "limping along" at best with the existing heating system.

The plan also calls for renovation of the office complex, counseling service area and math department, with the addition of math and computer labs.

Laycock said the proposed expansion-renovation is the result of over a year of planning by the school board with input from a Building Facilities Study Committee.

He emphasized that all the Home support a big factor, say students

Amazing! 10 seniors to graduate with all As Leana Edwards can still remember writing a letter to Cass City teacher Jim Mastie on the last day of school as an eighth grader, telling him she was going to be valedictorian of her class.

It appears that prediction will become reality for the Cass City High School senior, but she won't be alone. Fellow seniors Michelle Brown and Lisa Deering also plan to be valedictorians, as do Ben Hobbs, Mandy Nizzola, Nathan Mastie, Lindi Parrott, Scott Iwankovitch, Andrea Speirs and Lisa Wallace.

In fact, all 10 local students have straight-A grade averages.

And school officials can't say enough good things about one of the most outstanding — if not the best ever — graduating classes Cass City has ever had.

One thing's for certain, 10 valedictorians would be a record for Cass City, although the district has had as many as 4 valedictorians in one class.

"They're good kids, every one of them," said school Supt. Ken Micklash.

He noted all 10 students have been in the Cass City Schools from the beginning, and all of them have maintained top grades throughout.

"We're really pleased," Micklash added. "All the way through, if you look at the grades — first, second, third, fourth — they've just been neck and neck with each other. They're all excellent kids and excellent students."

"They haven't been getting any breaks through the system, either. I can tell you that." High school counselors Wayne Dillon and Curtis Cleland agreed.

"They're all taking tough classes. They're all legitimate 4.0s," Dillon said of the group, which makes up a little over 10 percent of this year's graduating seniors.

"They're all winners." "These kids, almost without exception, are into their fifth year of math — they're taking physics, calculus, trig," Cleland said, adding each of the students is taking college prep classes. "They're all very prepared."

They've also put some serious thought into their futures. The students' career plans range from occupational therapy, medicine and social work to mechanical engineering, interior design and finance.

KEY INGREDIENTS

Asked to describe their secrets of success, the students say good grades are the result of consistent attention to homework and good organizational skills. They also agree support at home is a big factor.

"I think that a lot of us use our time more efficiently," commented Edwards. For example, she said, "I've already started studying for exams." The other students nodded in agreement, saying the same goes for homework assignments.

"It's not that we really study a lot, we just start earlier," Edwards added. "I think a lot of it's scheduling."

"You have to budget your time," Brown said.

"I think one of the reasons we do so well is we actually go along with what the teachers want. We don't argue a lot," Edwards continued.

"You have to want it, too," Parrott added.

Hobbs remarked good grades have meant some sacrifices for him. "I remember lots of times giving up (going to) games," he said. "I've had to study a lot."

Expectations also play a role, according to the students, who emphasized the drive to excel academically comes from within.

"For me, it's all the pressure I put on myself," Hobbs said.

"I think a lot of us get our standards from our parents," Brown commented. She explained little things, like her parents reading to her when she was young, have made a difference in her performance in school.

She, along with Edwards, Mastie, Hobbs and Iwankovitch, all share something in common — each has a parent or parents who are teachers. All agreed they've benefited because of it.

But Nizzola indicated parental involvement is a bigger factor. "I think it's just supportive parents," she said, adding her folks' attendance at school functions, sports events and other activities she's involved in has meant a lot.

Parrott agreed, adding, "I attribute a lot of it (success in school) to my faith in God and my parents, and a good home life."

BUSY LIVES

Despite the time and effort required to maintain their flawless GPAs, the students also manage to keep up with a hectic schedule of other activities — National Honor Society, Student Council, school clubs, band, Natural Helpers, Academic Games. Nizzola, for example, is active in a number of academic activities, works part time and participates in gymnastics, cross country and track. She also helps out in the wrestling and football programs.

Throughout their years in school together, the students said they've shared a friendly rivalry when it comes to grades.

Although they don't study together, Speirs indicated each of them knows a helping hand is always nearby. "We help each other out once in while," she said.

The students, who also help out other students when asked, acknowledged their peers occasionally tease them about their academic records.

But that doesn't deter them from giving their best effort. In fact, all of them say they plan to graduate at the top of

Mr. and Mrs. Jason Wysner

Ridge, Wysner exchange vows

Andrea Ridge, daughter of George and Phyllis Ridge of Cass City, and Jason Wysner, son of Mrs. Joe Sweeney, Westland, and Michael Wysner Sr., of Taylor, were married June 25 at the First Presbyterian Church in Cass City. The Rev. Smith officiated at the ceremony.

Maid of honor was Susan Ridge, of Toledo, Ohio, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Debra Cook-McGrath of Cass City and Kristy Christensen of Bay City.

Best man was Michael Wysner, of Taylor, brother of the groom. Groomsmen were Tony Lumetta of Westland, and John Ridge of Cass City.

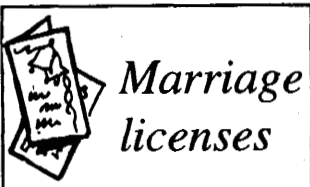

The bride's gown was made of candlelight ivory taffeta. The bodice was made entirely of lace, pearls, and iridescent sequins. An extended chapel train with lace, pearls and iridescent sequins adorned the gown. Her veil was beaded to a point on her forehead with an iridescent tulle puff on the back of the head. It was hand made by a friend in Atlanta, Ga.

The bridesmaids wore 2-piece coral sheath gowns with off-the-shoulder collars. The groom is employed at Home Depot, and the bride is a supervisor at Ansley Golf Club in Atlanta, Ga.

The couple live in Jonesboro, Ga.

A delayed honeymoon will be a trip to Hawaii in February.

Russell Lawrence Underwood and Rhonda Joy Horning, both of Vassar. James Cleveland Michael Jr. and Leona Maxine Brown, both of Caro. Dennis Allen Middleton and Diane Kay Skinner, both of Mayville.

Daniel Clayburn Story and Tara Lee Barkowska, both of Millington.

David Lamont Bouck and Shawn Renae Gross, both of Millington.

Tim Lee Hutchenson and Terrie Ann Hutchenson, both of Caro.

Mark Earl Ward of Springfield, Ill., and Holli Renae McMullen of Fostoria.

Cass City retirees meet

Thirteen Cass City Retired Persons and one guest were present at the Jan. 12 meeting held at Hills and Dales Hospital.

President Edna Simcox opened the meeting by having the group say the pledge to the flag. Happy Birthday was sung to Evelyn Warmbier and Mrs. Simcox. Yvonne Burleson gave the secretary's report and Delores Fleming gave the treasurer's report. A get well card was signed for Dorothy Smith.

Mrs. Burleson read a poem, "The Wood Stove", and Lillian Hanby read a poem by Edgar Guest, "When Father Broke His Arm."

After lunch bingo was played with the first winner being guest Bernice Enger.

Walk for Warmth slated

The Human Development Commission (HDC) is seeking volunteers to participate in the fifth annual walk for warmth. This year's walk is scheduled Saturday, Feb. 25. The walk for warmth is comprised of county citizens who gather pledges and then walk a predetermined one-mile route. The money raised aids residents with fuel and utility emergencies. The funds are returned into the communities from which they were raised, assisting seniors, handicapped, and the "working poor."

Individuals and groups who are interested in participating in HDC's walk are invited to call (517) 673-4121. A pledge sheet and instructions will be mailed to the caller.

Registration begins at 9 a.m. and walking begins at 9:30 a.m. Refreshments will be served after the walk. "Designated walkers" will be provided to those who collect pledges but are unable to walk.

We received this next piece of trivia from Judy Woody, who with her husband, Tom, now lives in Cincinnati, Ohio. Tom was a teacher in Cass City before leaving to start a new career as a golf pro.

Many folks will remember Zip Rzeppa, channel 5 sports anchor, 1979-1981. If you wonder what happened and what he is doing now, Judy provided the answer.

Rzeppa is now sports director and anchor at the CBS affiliate, KMOV, in St. Louis, Mo.

Absentee ballots have been delivered to the superintendent's office at Cass City High School for the Feb. 18 school bonding issue. Persons qualified to secure an absent voters' ballot can pick them up at the school.

The 3 major valid reasons for eligibility for absentee ballots are age, 60 years or older; physical handicap, and absent from the community for the entire day the polls are open.

Quick quiz, and we bet you flunk. Name the driving hazard that results in more fatalities per automobile accident. Did you say drunk driving? Wrong.

According to a 1993 report by the National Commission on Sleep Disorders Research, it's going to sleep at the wheel. An estimated 200,000 traffic accidents per year are caused by driver fatigue. And, no, coffee doesn't help you stay awake.

Under the new regulations forced on all schools that belong to the Michigan High School Athletic Association, referees are taking the game from the kids while wielding their new power with arrogance. Not all the referees, just the ones that seem to lose control of the games.

One foul called in the Laker-Cass City game is a case in point. A technical foul called on a student sitting next to the players (not a team member or a coach) could have cost Cass City 7 points.

A Cass City player had been fouled by a Laker (possible 2 points). The technical gave the Lakers a pair of free throws and the ball for a possible 5 points more.

It would have been very easy to either warn the spectator or have him escorted from the gym if the offense was flagrant instead of arbitrarily making a decision that could have a significant bearing on the game.

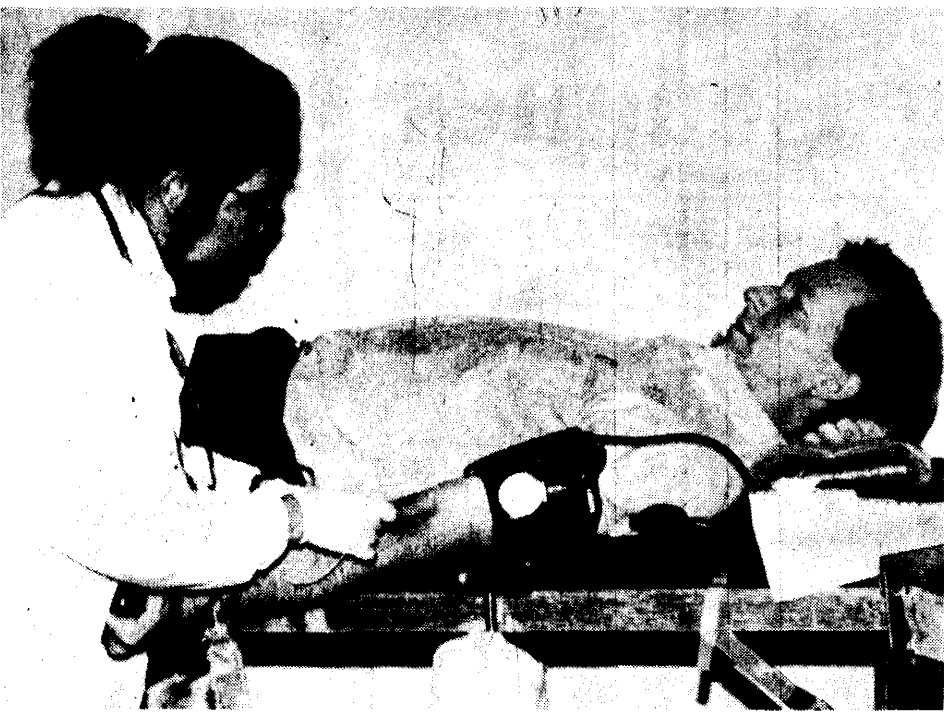

Referees should remember that they are not the focus of the game, it belongs to the kids.

Or at least it used to.

Minor injuries reported in crash

A Cass City motorist complained of minor injuries following a 2-vehicle accident in the village Saturday.

According to Cass City police, Betty J. Younglove, 42, 4372 Brooker St., was driving southbound on West Street when she failed to stop at the Church Street intersection and collided with a westbound vehicle driven by Shirley M. McComb, 71, 4829 Seeger St., Cass City.

A BLOOD DRIVE sponsored by the Hills and Dales General Hospital Auxiliary Thursday netted 64 donations, despite heavy fog. Among those giving the gift of life was Kevin Israelson, 38, of Gagetown (above).

64 give blood in Cass City

Heavy fog couldn't keep faithful blood donors from giving the gift of life Thursday in Cass City.

An American Red Cross blood drive, held at Hills and Dales General Hospital, netted 64 units of blood, according to Helen Jezewski, blood drive coordinator for the hospital auxiliary, which sponsored the event.

Among those who attended the blood drive were one-gallon donors Kim Dufresne and Oswald Baasch, 3-gallon donor Kelly Stevens and 5-gallon donor Dave Dyer. Also on hand was Owen Pierce, who has donated a whopping 9 gallons of blood.

The Haire Net

Early on, about a week after the O. J. Simpson story broke, I decided enough was enough and I tuned out any reference to the Simpson saga.

When the newspaper headline said Simpson, I quit reading and when it appeared on the tube, I grabbed the remote control and clicked to another station.

That procedure was followed religiously until one day last week when the headline proclaimed that the Simpson jury was to be sequestered for a trial that is expected to last 6 months.

During that time no radio or television will be allowed. Judge Lance Ito bigheartedly said that families could visit every Wednesday afternoon and weekends.

The felons at Jackson Prison have it better than that. I suspect that most readers would sympathize with the jurors, while shuddering to think what might happen if they were selected for duty.

My first thought was to think of ways that I might disqualify myself in a similar situation. You too?

The judge is worried about the worldwide publicity and the coverage saturation in the Los Angeles area the case has drawn. If it's that essential to secure a fair and equitable trial, my suggestion is that the judge join the jury as long as it is sequestered to assure complete isolation.

Would jury isolation be essential then? Doubtful.

Put aside the hardship to the jury members for a moment and consider how successful isolation will be.

Already the jurors have been bombarded with about every imaginable fact, every bit of trivia and statements, pro and con, from every conceivable source. Talk about locking the barn door after the horse has escaped.

Despite vigilant effort and the cooperation of every one of the 24 men and women locked away for the duration, if you believe there is a realistic chance that they will actually be cut off from the case, let me talk to you about a big deal for the Cass River Bridge.

At this late date it's doubtful if making the jurors put up with this radical change in lifestyle will have any effect at all on their decision.

Judge Ito is quoted as telling the panelists that it won't be a picnic. He's right there.

He's also quoted as saying that everything would be done to make their lives palatable.

The reasonable way to do that is to reexamine his decision to hide away the jurors and let the trial proceed naturally.

And let the 24 jurors get on with their lives when not in the courtroom.

McComb sought her own treatment for minor injuries. Younglove told police she lost her brakes, however, testing following the accident didn't reveal any problems, according to reports, which state she was cited for failure to stop.

"If It Fitz...."

It's costly teaching the IRS a lesson

By Jim Fitzgerald

There are a few things you should know....

A DOWNTOWN Detroit attorney was fined $300 recently by the IRS because, the IRS letter said: "According to our records, you paid your taxes to an unauthorized financial institution, directly to the IRS."

You read that right.

The attorney said it's happened more than once. IRS instructions are to pay his employees' withholding taxes quarterly to a local bank, which, for a fee, subsequently forwards the money to the IRS in Cincinnati. He admits that due to laziness or carelessness — maybe stubbornness? — he sometimes sends the withholding check straight to Cincinnati, along with other tax payments. And he regularly is fined 10 percent of the withholding amount.

"It has got to cost the government — us taxpayers — more to pay the bank for collection services than for the IRS to accept direct payments," the attorney complained.

Absolutely.

But is it worth a $300 fine to force the IRS to call itself unauthorized to accept tax payments to the IRS?

It is if you can afford it, I guess.

my wife and I saw a cliché we'd seen previously maybe only a million times in our long career of watching filmed entertainment in theaters and on television. It's the one where the camera slowly follows a path of strewn clothing — frilly blouse, bra, panties, boxer shorts, man's shirt and tie, etc. — leading from just inside the front door, through the living room, dining area, kitchen and into a bedroom.

In theaters and on television, this means a romantic relationship has reached a hurried, frenzied climax.

"In most homes it means the couple arrived home carrying suitcases held closed by ropes that broke," my wife said, obviously trying to control her frenzy.

WHILE ON this intellectual subject, it will be recalled that I sometimes brag that I'm so smart I notice the really important things on television that the average viewer fails to comprehend. One more example:

On the Dec. 14 episode of the ABC sitcom "Ellen," Ellen's best friend, portrayed by Joely Fisher, described the many troubles she was having with her mother. This is nothing new, incidentally. Dozens of sitcom characters, ages thirtysomething, regularly speak nastily of their parents, who are usually portrayed as aged stupid nags. This angers my wife, the mother of 3 thirtysomethings, almost. She always snarls something about being the victim of vicious, unfair stereotyping. She doesn't go into a frenzy, however.

Anyway, back on "Ellen," the mother of Fisher's character didn't appear on camera, but her irritating, nagging voice sounded from within a locked closet. And, in the closing tiny-type credits, it said the mother's part was played by Connie Stevens.

According to my investigation, I was the only one in the nation to spot that credit and say, "In real life, Connie Stevens is Joely Fisher's mother."

Now I'm waiting for an episode where Joely sings "O My Papa" and guest stars Debbie Reynolds and Elizabeth Taylor tell her to shut the hell up.

As always, if you don't understand any of this, ask your grandparents.

CELLULARONE GENERAL Manager Ben Varney presents Len Richards (right) of the Department of Social Services a check for $450.

Annual food drive nets $450

CellularOne recently wrapped up its 2nd annual holiday food drive, collecting 6 large grocery bags of food throughout Sanilac, Tuscola and Huron counties. In addition to the food, which was contributed to the Department of Social Services, Ben Varney, CellularOne general manager, presented Len Richards, volunteer services manager from the Department of Social Services, a company check for $450. The check from CellularOne will be distributed to the Department of Social Services of Sanilac, Tuscola and Huron counties. "CellularOne and its staff are proud to take an active part in the community by contributing to individuals and families who find themselves in need of a little extra assistance, particularly during the holiday season," states Varney. "In addition to other community supported activities, CellularOne's staff is very proud of our on-going commitment to providing food and financial support to the Department of Social Services at this time of the year."

CellularOne Lake Huron is the exclusive nonwireline cellular telephone service for Huron, Tuscola and Sanilac counties, and is located at 1536 W. Caro Road in Caro.

O-G spikers on fast track as season opens

The Owen-Gage Bulldogs opened their 1995 volleyball season last week in stately fashion.

Monday, Coach Judy Campbell's spikers defeated visiting Peck in straight games by the scores of 15-4, 17-15 and 15-4.

Thursday, the Bulldogs downed guest Caseville in consecutive games, winning 15-3, 15-3 and 16-14.

But it was the 'Dogs' performance Saturday that pleased veteran Coach Campbell the most. That's when Owen-Gage advanced from pool play at the Bad Axe tournament before bowing in the semifinals to the hosts, 15-10 (3-15), (10-15), who went on to capture the event.

"We finished second in our pool behind Millington, who beat us by one point in the differential," said Campbell proudly. "They've got a couple of giants over there."

The Bulldogs opened the tournament facing Harbor Beach. The 'Dogs' whipped the Thumb C American League Pirates 15-11 and 15-5.

Owen-Gage then split with Millington by the identical scores of 15-11 before having an easy time with Cass City, winning 15-8 and 15-4.

Senior Angie Wildman led Owen-Gage with 45 points Saturday, recording 27 on aces from the service line. Following Wildman at the service line was Melody Abfalter, who was credited with 25 points and 12 aces.

Kate Powers had a dandy day at the net, collecting 30 kills, while Jennifer Winchester had a team high 51 sets.

Campbell hoped Saturday's efforts would carry over to this week's contests with

Bulldogs collect second win; 71-67 over C-PS

Coach Jim Brinkman's Bulldog cagers collected their second win of the season Friday, upsetting visiting Carsonville-Port Sanilac 71-67 in North Central Thumb League play.

Brinkman hopes the win, the 'Dogs' first in conference play, will give his young cagers some much needed confidence heading into the middle stages of their campaign.

"After the Akron-Fairgrove game we sat down on Monday and evaluated (our play). I saw a different team on Tuesday (a loss to undefeated North Branch Wesleyan). Then on Friday we played as a team for the first time this season," says Brinkman.

Owen-Gage will try to make it 2 straight this Friday when they travel to face league leader Peck. The Pirates are coming off their first NCTL setback, a 46-45 decision Friday to Kingston, and should be tough at home for Owen-Gage, who hasn't posted a road game win this season.

Owen-Gage grabbed a 14-11 first quarter advantage Friday as captains Austin Brinkman and Mark Damm paced the hosts with 5 field goals in the opening frame.

Owen-Gage extended its margin to 34-29 at the break as a balanced offensive attack, led by junior Brinkman's 13 first half points, offset the long range shooting of C-PS.

The Tigers netted 4 hoops from behind the 3-point arc in the stanza. Andrew Sherman tossed in a pair of treys, while teammates Cori Upper and Chad Knight each nailed one from 3-point land.

David Kelly, who scored 16 points after the intermission, helped draw the Tigers within a basket, 50-48, heading into the final 8 minutes as he fired in 8 points from the floor in the opening period of the final half.

Damm, who finished with 14 points and a team high 13 rebounds, collected 8 of the Bulldogs' 16 third quarter points despite being plagued by foul trouble much of the second half. Damm also accounted for 4 C-PS turnovers.

Tkacz and Jason Anthes helped hold off the visitors for the final period, combining for 15 tallies. Tkacz hit all 4 of his charity tosses down the stretch and finished with a season high 18 points. C-PS had its difficulties at the stripe and converted on only 7 freebies in 14 attempts for the contest.

Brinkman led all scorers with 19 points. C-PS got 18 points from both Kelly and Sherman. Josh Isble and Upper split 20 markers.

A 29-11 second quarter spurt helped North Branch improve to 7-0 on the season. Wesleyan led 48-22 at the intermission as Dustin Jones and Andrew Swadling connected from behind the 3-point arc throughout the initial half.

Jones topped all scorers with 28 points. Swadling posted 18 points for the visitors.

Owen-Gage had 3 players finish in double digits. Brinkman tossed in 18 points. Tkacz and Damm ended the night with 14 and 12 points, respectively.

Bellew outlines program
Hockey growing sport

Hockey is a great and growing sport, Craig Bellew told members of the Cass City Rotary Club Tuesday noon as he outlined the program he and his son, Derek, 11, enjoy in Saginaw.

For the first time since he has been connected with the program, all of the youth leagues in Saginaw are full.

Bellew is a coach of the PeeWee Division team that his son is a member of. It's as well run as any program I've been associated with, Bellew told the Rotary Club, and we are attempting to get some of the management practices used in the league incorporated into the Cass City Little League.

It's very unlikely that one of the requirements of the hockey league in Saginaw would be adopted by Little League in Cass City. As a coach in the hockey league in Saginaw, Bellew had to be certified. To gain certification, 8 hours in the classroom and 4 hours of ice instruction are mandatory.

Right now there are 4 players who travel from Cass City to play. The season is a lengthy one, starting Sept. 1 and extending to Mar. 3, and that is followed by a spring league that covers from March to May.

Skaters are assigned ice time for 2 hours twice a week. There are restrictions in the way the game is played, depending on the age of the players. Full contact and checking isn't allowed until players graduate into the PeeWee League.

Drawbacks to a rapid increase in participation are the travel and the cost. If parents wanted to go first class, all new, good equipment, their total cost could be well over $1,000.

However, because kids outgrow equipment rapidly, there is a wide supply of perfectly good used equipment that will cut the cost substantially.

One cost that can't be watered down is the membership admission, which includes payment for ice rental. For the winter session the cost is $320 per person. If entering the spring league, add another $80 to that.

The players are not required to buy the team jerseys, which are purchased by team sponsors.

CRAIG BELLEW and son, Derek, display some of the necessary hockey equipment and Derek's team jersey

Tough Cros-Lex next

Hatchets upset Hawks in first league game of season, 64-57

The Cass City Red Hawks began their quest for a Thumb C National Division title on a sour note last Tuesday at Bad Axe with an upset loss to the Hatchets, 64-57, before bouncing back to defeat the visiting Elkton-Pigeon-Bay Port Lakers Friday, 52-38.

The opening league games showed that Cass City can't play an inferior, lackadaisical game and expect to win because of much superior talent. The team must play well to win. That will be especially true Friday, when Cass City will be on the road to meet tough Cros-Lex in a league game. Next Tuesday the Hawks are home to Marlette.

There is little doubt that the Hawks, with the exception of Jason Morgan, didn't play well against Bad Axe. Morgan did everything but carry the water bucket for the Hawks, but it wasn't enough.

The senior power forward swept the boards with 17 rebounds and scored 21 points to keep the game close.

Cass City started the game playing as if its presence on the court would be enough to assure a win. The Hatchets beat the Hawks down the floor for easy fast break baskets and Cass City made it easy for Bad Axe to score with a couple of unforced errors. Three minutes into the game the Hatchets were in front, 11-2.

Cass City bounced back from that dismal start to forge into the lead at the end of three quarters, 38-36. The Hawks, paced by Morgan with 8 points, outscored the Hatchets in the third quarter, 18-11.

It was a game of spurts. The Hawks had closed to within 3 points in the second period, only to fall behind again at the half, 25-20.

The Hatchets spurred again in the final period when it counted and it was Joe DeLong, 6-4 senior guard, who led the charge. He handled the ball and found the open man consistently while hitting a pair of field goals and 4 out of 4 shots from the free throw line.

Cass City was ahead, 45-42, at the 5:33 mark in the last quarter, after Chad Zawilinski hit a trey, when the Hatchets staged their game-winning rally. In the next 2 1/2 minutes Bad Axe outscored Cass City, 13 to 5, and Cass City never again got closer than 3 points.

Coach Jeff Hartel said his 2 technicals hurt the team's chances and he and the rest of the coaches must do a better job controlling emotions.

Cass City had a 34-24 edge on the boards, but it wasn't enough to compensate for extremely poor shooting.

The Hawks shot just 30 percent from the floor as compared to 49 percent for Bad Axe.

JV WINS

The Hawk junior varsity had little trouble defeating the Hatchet JV, 62-45.

BAD AXE - Blackstock 0-0 (2-3) 2; Errer 7-0 (0-2) 14; Shemka 0-0 (4-4) 4; MacGregor 3-0 (3-4) 9; Forbes 3-0 (0-1) 6; Boyton 1-0 (0-0) 2; Paul 4-0 (5-6) 13; DeLong 4-0 (6-6) 14.
TOTALS - 21-0 (20-26) 64.

CASS CITY - N. Mastie 2-1 (0-0) 7; D. Sherman 1-1 (1-1) 6; J. Little 2-0 (0-0) 4; J. Morgan 7-1 (4-7) 21; C. Ulfig 1-1 (3-5) 8; S. Iwankovitch 5-0 (1-3) 11.
TOTALS - 18-4 (9-16) 57.

Iwankovitsch steps up game

Cass City defeats Lakers

Cass City JV upped its season's record to 6-1 with a 41-31 win over the Laker JV.

CASS CITY - D. Sherman 3-0 (2-3) 8; J. Morgan 7-1 (5-5) 22; C. Ulfig 2-0 (2-2) 6; S. Iwankovitch 4-0 (0-0) 8; C. Zawilinski 0-2 (2-3) 8.
TOTALS - 16-3 (11-13) 52.

LAKERS - M. Pauly 0-1 (0-0) 3; S. Maust 2-2 (6-10) 16; E. Gardy 4-1 (0-0) 11; N. Gotts 0-0 (1-2) 1; H. Krohn 1-0 (3-4) 5; J. Brakenberg 1-0 (0-2) 2.
TOTALS - 8-4 (10-16) 38.

All season long Cass City Red Hawk fans have been waiting for Scott Iwankovitsch to step up and become a dominating force for the team and Friday for the first time, the lanky, 6-7 senior did just that against the Lakers.

He blocked 4 shots and intimidated several others to key the defense.

The Hawks also did a respectable job on Seth Maust, the Lakers all-everything guard. They opened with a box and one against the Laker star and Dan Sherman, assisted by Nathan Mastie, limited Maust to 4 points in the first 3 quarters. He scored 12 in the final quarter, shooting lower percentage shots in an effort to overcome the Hawks' lead as time was running out.

Cass City broke open a tight game in the opening minutes of the third quarter with 3 straight 3-point shots and the Lakers never seriously threatened again. Two of the treys were by Zawilinski and the third by Morgan.

In addition to the outside shooting in the quarter, Cass City was helped by some stone-cold Laker shooting. In the 8 minutes the Lakers scored only a basket by Eric Gardy and free throw by Heath Krohn.

Morgan led all scorers with 22 points and was the game's top rebounder with 8 boards.

Wrestlers bow to Cros-Lex

Cass City dropped to 2-1 in the Thumb "C" (6-4 overall) after losing a close 34-30 dual meet at Cros-Lex Wednesday. Winning matches for Cass City were: 126 pounds, Bob Davis pinned Steve Bihrd, 39 seconds.

134 pounds, Alfred Connolly pinned Eric Kinnee, 4:42.

172 pounds, Eric Hoelzle pinned Trevor Burch, 1:19.

215 pounds, Dale Heronemus won by forfeit.

275 pounds, Adam Wiles won by forfeit.

INVITATIONAL

Cass City placed 7th in the very tough Lake Fenton Invitational Saturday. Team scores were:

Leslie - 186

Hartland - 171

Lake Fenton - 138

Fenton - 124

Swartz Creek 116

Flat Rock - 67

Cass City - 60

Richmond - 38 1/2

Clarkston - 36

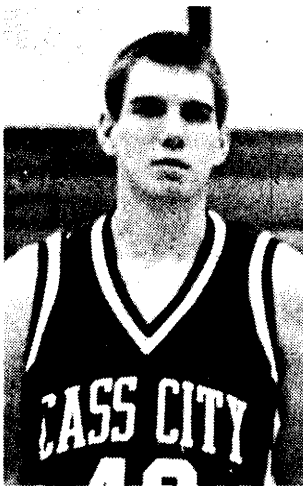

Flint Central - 23

Only 3 Hawks placed in the tournament:

106 pounds, John McNaughton, 2nd.

126 pounds, Bob Davis, 4th.

215 pounds, Dale Heronemus, 3rd.

Tuckey appointed administrator

The Elkland Township Board last week appointed Trustee Roy Tuckey to serve as temporary zoning administrator.

Tuckey will serve in the absence of Zoning Administrator Danny Gee, who has taken a leave of absence due to illness, township Clerk Norma Wallace reported.

In other business during the Jan. 9 monthly meeting, the board agreed to reimburse Wallace for time spent installing a new voter registration program in the township computer system. The amount of pay will be determined based on the number of hours required to complete the project.

Letters to the editor

Ask questions, Kieltyka urges

Foreign military invasion underway?

Dear Editor,

After stories and photos of Russian military vehicles in America began circulating, we as citizens began to wonder why there were so many foreign military vehicles in the nation.

Some patriots believe the conspirators for a one world government were actually preparing this military equipment to be used by foreign troops against U.S. citizens during possible future implementation of martial law. More than 1,700 military trucks, personnel carriers and small tanks have been seen in the De Sota National Forest in Saucier, Miss., belonging to Russia, some with chemical warfare equipment. Recently in Bay City, a train was photographed hauling car after car of Russian tanks. After citizens in the area questioned local police, the cars and their freight were immediately covered by large tarps. These photographs in my possession, are Russian tanks which have been identified by U.S. military personnel as BTR-60's and T-72's.

Sightings of black helicopters without markings are coming from many areas of America.

Why are foreign military bases being set up all around

America and flying the U.N. flag? Why are foreign troops coming into America while American servicemen are sent to foreign countries under the U.N. flag? Why is our National Guard being disarmed?

Write and/or call our congressional leaders. Air concerns, ask questions and demand answers. In the greatest nation in the world, our leaders took an oath to "support and defend" the Constitution, and it is our responsibility as citizens to join together in the defense of our liberties.

Sincerely,
The Frank Kieltyka family

Proposal includes badly needed school addition

Dear Mr. Haire,

Much of the discussion regarding the upcoming school bond proposal has focused on the construction of a new middle school to replace the current middle school building. I am very much in support of the proposal, but as a parent of young elementary age children, I am concerned that many people in our community are unaware that this proposal also includes the construction of a much needed addition to the Campbell Elementary School.

Many people do not realize that 2 fourth grade classrooms, one elementary special education room and the preschool classroom are currently located in the middle school building due to a lack of space at Campbell. This arrangement poses many problems. Among them are not being in compliance with federal laws regulating special education programs; children have to travel between the 2 buildings for recess, gym class, library, etc. which results in a significant loss of valuable learning time, and these children are physically separated from classmates in the same grade level at Campbell. They are also exposed to the older fifth through eighth grade students' ideas and trends that may not be appropriate for their age group.

Currently, in the Campbell Elementary building, the art teacher and the music teacher conduct their classes from mobile carts. This arrangement limits the activities they are able to do with the children. The library facility not only lacks adequate space for books and materials, but also lacks space to accommodate more than one group of students at a time. This limits the opportunities to further develop the reading skills essential for life long learning. The ventilation and acoustics in the gym/cafe-teria are in desperate need of improvement. Have you ever attended a program or activity held in the gym? The echo and resulting noise level is almost unbearable!

There are citizens in our community who comment that their children won't benefit from this proposal because they already are or will be in high school by the time the construction is completed. There are others who comment that they no longer have children in school so why should they vote in support of it. We need to put these thoughts and comments behind us and look to the future. We all will benefit in some way from this proposal because today's children are tomorrow's leaders. Providing quality education in safe and up-to-date school buildings will enable us to educate our children to be the leaders of tomorrow.

Please vote YES on Feb. 18 because our kids really do count!

Sincerely,
Michelle Hanby

Catskill student asks for help with school project

Dear Editor,

Will you help me by printing this in your paper? I need your help. My fifth grade class is studying the United States and its geography. Will you send me post cards, pictures, posters, magazines or anything that will help me learn about your state, our country, and its people?

You may be interested in knowing that this project has been very successful. So far the class has received a phone call from as far away as Wyoming, mounds of personal photos, letters, books, personal videos, prepared videos, hundreds of post cards, Tobasco Sauce from Louisiana, information from the U.S. Senator, a necklace from a Mardi Gras parade, minerals, and much more.

I have learned much about our country and its people this way.

Send to:
Christine Senatore

Obituaries

Lora Geggie

Lora E. Geggie, 72, Gaylord, formerly of Birmingham, died Jan. 3 at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak.

She was born May 24, 1922 in Gaylord to Rainey and Mary Melzer.

She graduated from Cass City High School in 1940 and worked in an office for General Motors for many years, retiring about 9 years ago.

She married Fenwick Geggie in 1972; he preceded her in death April 1993.

Mrs. Geggie is survived by 2 step-sons, John and Paul of California; 6 sisters, twin sister Ora Malak (Barney), Gaylord, Helen Copeland (Harold), Cass City, Jean Foster, Waterford, Doris Lipiec (Harry), Gaylord, Isabel Richmond (Harry) Lapeer, Naome Millen, Oxford; one brother, A.D. Melzer (Marie), Lapeer; 4 grandchildren and many nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held Saturday, Jan. 7, with interment in Greenwood Cemetery, Birmingham.

Arrangements were handled by Vasu, Rodgers & Connell Chapel, Birmingham.

Orville Kramer

Orville E. Kramer, 77, of Palms, died Monday, Jan. 9, at Mercy Hospital in Port Huron.

He was born Aug. 13, 1917 in Palms, the son of Bernard and Sophia (Morell) Kramer.

Mr. Kramer was an 8th grade graduate of Snay Country School. He was a brick and stone mason for many years throughout Michigan, Ohio and Indiana. He was a life long parishioner of St. Patrick's Catholic Church in Palms and helped in the construction of the original Palms Hall in 1951.

Kramer is survived by 2 sisters, Kathryn Cleland of Smith Creek and Mrs. Dougle (June) Creguer of Forestville; 2 brothers, Alden Kramer of Ruth and Wilfred "Fritz" Kramer of Palms, and many nieces and nephews.

A Parish Wake Service was held at the funeral home Wednesday.

Funeral services were held Thursday at St. Patrick's Catholic Church of Palms. Sister Theresa Carlow, pastoral administrator, and Rev. Ronald Wagner, pastor Sts.

5 recently charged in district court

The following people were recently arraigned on felony charges in Tuscola County District Court:

•Daryl L. Periso, 30, Deford, was charged with discharging a firearm in or at a building, and possession of a firearm in the commission of a felony Dec. 22 in Kingston Township. Bond in the case was set at $20,000.

•Inmate Alexander J. Hall, 19, was charged with escape from the Camp Tuscola Correctional Facility, Caro, Sept. 22.

Bond was set at $50,000 and a preliminary exam was slated for Friday morning.

•Roger L. McKnight, 36, Cass City, faces a charge of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, third offense, Jan. 1 in Caro.

Bond was set at $1,000. A preliminary exam is to be held Friday morning.

•Thomas O. Sorger, 29, Cass City, was arraigned on a charge of no-account check allegedly involving a $33.51 check drawn on Thumb National Bank.

He faces a preliminary exam Friday morning. Bond in the case was set at $20,000.

•Inmate Alexander J. Hall, 19, was charged with escape from the Camp Tuscola Correctional Facility, Caro, Sept. 22.

Bond was set at $50,000 and a preliminary exam was slated for Friday morning.

Housing funds available

Rural Economic and Community Development Services (RECD) Acting State Director Donald Hare has announced the availability of Housing Preservation Grant (HPG) funds.

Housing preservation programs provide funds for very low and low income rural residents. Hare said program funds cover part or all of the grantee's cost of providing loans, grants, interest reduction payments or other assistance to eligible homeowners, owners of single or multiple unit rental properties or cooperative housing projects. Michigan has $531,670 in funds available this year.

The pre-application period is open until Feb. 21. Information and pre-application packages may be obtained from the Multi-Family Housing Division, State Office, located at 3001 Coolidge Road, East Lansing, MI 48823, telephone (517) 337-6635, extension 1609.

Your neighbor says

Review each case on its own merits

An incident involving a student who carried a gun into school after school hours poses the question of what is the proper way to handle an affair of this type.

Dick LeValley, Cass City, says that each case should be reviewed on its merits. The automatic expulsion that such a case brings can be severe, he feels, but to be fair to all, it's probably the only way it can be handled.

Anyway, he points out, it's not a big problem in our area like it is in some big city schools.

In conjunction with the gun case that involves a minor, he feels that the media's unwritten rule not to expose the name of minors involved in criminal acts is a good one.

If the infraction is severe enough so that the youth is turned over to circuit court to be tried as an adult, then it's okay for the media to treat him as an adult also, LeValley added. LeValley works for Herron Construction in Cass City. His wife, Paula, is a kindergarten teacher at Cass City Schools. The couple has a son, Thomas, who will be 2 years old in February.

trimmings are deposited on a site used by the village on Doerr Road.

LEAF REMOVAL

Worth noting is that the popular fall removal of leaves placed on the street will not be affected. The leaves, together with brush and limbs, will continue to be picked up by village crews. This refuse is then hauled to the former Cass City landfill location, where it is burned once a year, Lou LaPonsie, village superintendent, explained.

While the village will take care of leaves in the fall, taking care of lawn trimmings will be the responsibility of home owners.

For several years now, of course, burning has been prohibited within the village.

That leaves home owners a pair of options. Perhaps the easiest is using a mulching mower. Mulching is healthy for grass if used properly.

Experts say that the grass should be cut high. Leave at least 2 to 3 inches of grass after cutting. Tall grass stems stimulate deep root growth.

It's important to have a sharp blade that cuts and doesn't tear the grass.

COMPOSTING

The second option for taking care of clippings is to compost. Composting reduces the need for fertilizer and assists plants in building a sound root structure.

Persons wanting to learn more about composting can attend any one of 3 special instructional meetings scheduled just prior to the grass-mowing season. The first is scheduled Mar. 23 from 6 to 8:30 p.m. at Cass City High School. Pre-registration is required and more information can be learned by calling the Community Education Department, 872-4151.

Two programs will be conducted at Rawson Memorial Library, both on April 24, at 4:30 p.m. and 6:30 p.m., Sunday.

proposed improvements focus on the district's academic programs.

"We're not doing anything in the area of athletics — interior or exterior — this is strictly a curricular need," he said. "What we have now is inadequate to meet today's standards."

san Briggs, coordinator for Multi-County Recycling in the Thumb, said.

Briggs explained that there are no specific state laws covering how, when or where compost piles are located or handled.

However, home owners should be aware, she continued, that although no permits are needed to compost, they have to comply with clean air and clean water requirements.

They also can be declared a nuisance if not properly handled and there have already been court cases over the way composting is accomplished.

For persons wanting to get a head start on the proper way to compost, Multi-County Recycling has a limited number of informational sheets available. Call toll-free 1-800-972-9012. There are also several at the Cass City Municipal Building.

their class, although their reasons for wanting to be the best vary somewhat.

"You kind of feel if you don't excel in other areas, like sports, you have an edge," Parrott commented. "For me, it's scholarships," Hobbs said.

"One of the reasons I wanted to get a 4.0 was so I could go to any college I want to," added Speirs. Edwards said she could be happy with lower grades, but wants to do the best she can because she knows it pleases her mother. "I want to see her happy and I want her to be proud of me."

All of the students agree on one point: they're tired of hearing people blame teachers for poor student performance. And they say their combined records are proof that Cass City offers a sound education for students willing to put some effort into their studies.

It's also a matter of pride. "We want to show them we're the best," Speirs said. Make no mistake, however. The group pointed out being an all-A student isn't a walk in the park and it doesn't mean a life of never-ending bliss at home and in school.

"I think we've all sweated a little bit," Edwards confided. "I feel like a marathon runner," Hobbs concluded. "I'm on my last mile now."

to convince authorities to reduce or drop the charges against Westerby. They are asking people who know him to write letters attesting to his character and involvement in the community.

"Danny is the nicest person. He would help anyone," she said. "We all believe (he) is innocent in his own right; it was an accident, given the circumstances."

So far, more than 50 letters have been received, and they will be passed on to Genesee County Prosecutor Arthur Busch, state representatives and President Clinton, she said.

Also planned are 3 more fund raisers — a benefit Jan. 28 at the VFW hall in Kingston, featuring the hometown band "Jealous"; a Project Good Faith heart drive Feb. 1-3 (paper hearts will be sold in the Kingston Schools); and a bowling benefit Feb. 18 at Boney's Alleys in Marlette.

Brief said anyone interested in making a contribution may do so at Independent Bank in Kingston, where a fund has been set up on behalf of the Westerby family.

Additional information is available by contacting Brief at (517) 683-2733 or Joy Long at 683-2812.

Insuring crops topic of meet

"This year all farmers and growers who participate in federal farm support programs are required to carry basic catastrophic coverage for crop losses," said Richard Starkey, Tuscola County Farm Bureau President. "Even landowners receiving CRP payments must purchase crop insurance."

Tuscola County Farm Bureau will be sponsoring informational meetings to answer questions about crop insurance and disaster payments. The meetings, open to all farmers, will be held Friday, Jan. 20, at 9:00 a.m. and 1:00 p.m. both meetings will be held at the Tuscola County Farm Bureau office, 1023 E. Caro Rd., Caro.

Cass City police report traffic-related arrests

Cass City police made 3 traffic-related arrests last week.

According to reports, Charles W. Nemeth III, 52, Cass City, was arrested early Friday morning on suspicion of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor.

Reports state a vehicle driven by Nemeth was stopped by police on Seeger Street near Pine Street at about 2:35 a.m.

Twenty-four hours later, a vehicle driven by Duane S. Wilcox, 25, Cass City, was stopped on Weaver Street north of Main Street and police arrested Wilcox and his passenger, Todd E. Green, 25, of Unionville.

Wilcox was arrested for driving while license was suspended and 3 traffic warrants, according to reports, which state Green was wanted on a felony traffic warrant.

Eloping '90s style

"Destination" weddings popular

Chances are you're invited to at least one wedding this year and, according to Modern Bride magazine, it will be in the summer or fall — the busiest times for weddings. You can probably expect a customary ceremony to begin with a bride, in a beautiful white dress, gliding down the aisle. In fact, of the nearly 2.5 million couples who will marry this year, many will opt for the traditional hometown wedding.

However, more and more couples are forsaking the traditional wedding and whisking off to an exotic location to "tie the knot." Call it eloping '90s style, but the bridal industry calls the trend "desination weddings."

"A number of factors have contributed to an increase in destination weddings," says Cele Lalli, editor-in-chief, Modern Bride. "Couples are choosing to marry later in life, some are renewing vows or marrying for the second or third time.

"For other couples, the geographic location of family members makes it difficult to coordinate wedding arrangements. These couples tend to view the destination wedding as a romantic, hassle-free alternative to the traditional wedding."

But the bride's and groom's expectations for a memorable wedding day haven't changed.

"Couples expect a wedding day they can cherish for a lifetime, particularly when they marry away from home," says Marcy Blum, wedding planner and publisher of The Bridal Business Report. "Choosing the right destination or hotel is the most important decision one can make — other than your mate, of course."

One Caribbean-based, couples-only resort chain, Sandals Resorts, recently introduced "WeddingMoons" — variety of wedding options that allow couples to marry and honeymoon at any of its 9 ultra all-inclusive resorts in Jamaica, Antigua or St. Lucia.

"WeddingMoons are the hottest things to happen to romance since the honeymoon," says Blum. "This changes our traditional view of weddings and honeymoons by literally marrying the 2 concepts."

Sandals' idea is that the honeymoon begins the moment a couple says, "I do." WeddingMoons can be as intimate as a ceremony for 2 under a gazebo or as elaborate as an extravaganza at private villas. The trademarked concept makes it easy for couples to wed under a palm tree then splash into the Caribbean Sea. Sandals even has on-site wedding coordinators who provide couples with personalized attention and arrange the details, from flowers to music.

All WeddingMoons include a justice of the peace or clergyman and special touches such as tropical flowers, Caribbean wedding cake, champagne celebration dinner and wedding-day video. Other options include treats such as morning or sunset island cruises, massages, manicures/pedicures, gift baskets and personalized candlelight dinners.

However, for the bride and groom who desire more, certain WeddingMoons include private cocktail parties and the opportunity to marry on one island then honeymoon at other Sandals locations. Couples may also choose deluxe accommodations in Sandals' suits or villas and a second honeymoon trip to any of the company's resorts. And, since WeddingMoon options are a la carte, the bride and groom can invite other couples to witness their special day.

"Many resorts are now getting into the wedding business, but we felt we had to offer couples a range of truly special and romantic wedding programs that last long after the ceremony has ended," says John Lynch, executive vice president, Sandals Resorts. "WeddingMoons are a natural for us, given the trend we've seen over the last few years."

WeddingMoon prices are determined by the couple's choice of wedding, room category and length of stay. Weddings start from $500 in Jamaica and $750 in Antigua and St. Lucia.

Wedding PLANNER

Electronic gifts wedding favorites

More than 2.4 million couples will marry this year. With the bridal market a $32 billion industry, that could conceivably mean 700,000 toasters, 450,000 electric can openers, 375,000 fitted sheets and 142,000 blenders. Great gifts if the couple doesn't already have them, but who wants 3 toasters, 4 electric can openers or 2 blenders?

Nothing is more frustrating or time-consuming than lugging unwanted gifts back to the store or, worse yet, storing them in your closet to spare Aunt Edna's feelings. When it comes to choosing a wedding gift for newlyweds, the experts say to let practicality be your guide. As in any new joint venture, think about what the newlywed couple will need to make married life easier and how you might be able to choose a gift that will relieve any of the typical challenges they may encounter.

Most newlyweds agree that one of the keys to a healthy marriage is open communication. Given that it's not necessarily practical to hire a butler, an answering machine can serve as both your secretary and communications director, making the transition to married life a smoother one.

For busy, dual-career newlyweds, an answering machine can be the lifeline to a couple's social life," says Jim Oblak, vice president of marketing for a manufacturer of telephone answering devices. "When a wife leaves a message to say she'll be working late, for example, her husband can retrieve the message from the office and pick up dinner on his way home."

The most recent survey conducted by Elegant Bride magazine revealed that 25 percent of its readers are interested in acquiring a telephone answering machine as a wedding gift, just below the 32 percent who would request a color TV.

Many couples will eliminate the guessing game of gift-giving by registering at a department or specialty store, which reduces duplicate gifts and allows friends and families to purchase items the bride and groom will need and appreciate.

What's more, wedding guests of the '90s have more leeway than their counterparts of generations past, who were limited to furnishing china cabinets and linen closets. Today's practical gift-givers have been known to bestow on the newlyweds their very own garden tools, smoke detectors, luggage, camcorders and personal computers.

So, whether you opt for a pizza-making supply kit, a state-of-the-art all-digital answering machine, a sterling silver gravy ladle or matching napkin rings as your wedding gift choice, you can rest assured your practicality is an important contribution to your favorite couple living happily ever after.

How to make the groom look good

After months of planning, the big march has begun, the bride is being bustled, the guests are settled and all eyes are on...the groom!

While there are many wedding day rituals to ensure a beautiful bride, it is just as important for a groom to be well-groomed. But men know that a little preparation can go a long way. On average, they spend 23 minutes grooming themselves each day; on special occasions, 31 minutes.

Following are some wedding-day tips to ensure the groom looks and feels his best. After all, it's his special day, too!

HAIR CARE

The best hair style for a groom? Something classic and neat that won't look dated in wedding-day pictures. And because men's hair tends to grow fast, have your hair cut during the week before your wedding for the freshest look.

STARTING SMART

Eat a light, healthy breakfast to boost your energy for the day. Try a bowl of oatmeal or natural cereal with fruit or nuts and nonfat milk, a grapefruit, a glass of juice and a cup of decaffeinated coffee or tea.

NO-NICK SHAVING

Shower or bathe before you shave, and wash the face and neck with warm water. It takes about 2 minutes of soaking to achieve optimal beard softening for a comfortable shave. Apply plenty of shaving cream or gel to keep beard hair moist during the shave; try a sensitive skin or aloe-enriched shaving cream or gel.

DON'T SWEAT IT

The pressure of getting married is no sweat to handle with a strong anti-perspirant. New technology makes it even easier to get better protection from odor and wetness with active ingredients that penetrate underarm hair and go directly to the skin.

SCENTSATIONAL ACCESSORIES

When walking down the aisle, it's important to put one's best face forward. To replenish moisture and soften skin, aftershave skin conditioners are ideal. Many aftershave skin conditioners feature great fragrances, such as the citrus and herbal fragrances. These masculine fragrances are also available as aftershave splashes, appropriate for all occasions, including a wedding.

NAIL NEWS

Men everywhere are handing their hands over to manicurists. Nails are cut, cleaned and buffed. Cuticles are trimmed or pushed back. Hands are soaked and massaged. A great look for the groom? Short nails that just exceed fingertips, with square or round tips.

WEDDING DAY DUDS

Formalwear is determined by time of day and formality of wedding. Even if yours is a black-tie affair, make sure your tuxedo is comfortable. The key to looking comfortable and confident is feeling comfortable and confident. Clothes that are too tight or mismatched for your body type will make you look ill-at-ease and feel awkward and uncomfortable.

Premium men's grooming products, such as shaving preparations, anti-perspirants and deodorants, and aftershave skin conditioners, are available at drug stores, mass market and supermarket outlets everywhere.

Before and during ceremony

Answers given to wedding problems

Question: My youngest sister is too old to be a flower girl, but too young to perform bridesmaid duties. How can I include her in the wedding party?

Answer: You may have junior bridesmaids, ages 9 to 14. They precede attendants down the aisle, with or without parents.

Question: Who chooses her dress for the wedding first, the bride's mother or the groom's mother?

Answer: The bride's mother may discuss what she plans to wear with the groom's mother, and she chooses her dress first.

Questions, questions and more questions. Getting engaged and planning a wedding opens up an entirely new world—a most confusing world of constant decision-making and emotionally-charged situations.

THE ENGAGEMENT

* After the question is

"popped," arrange for parents to get together to visit (or meet one another) for brunch, drinks or dinner. The groom's mother should call the bride's mother first.

* Begin shopping for a gown 9 months before the wedding. Because wedding dresses are custom-made, most take at least 4 months to arrive, once they've been ordered.

* The bride's immediate family should not host the shower. If they do, it appears as if they are asking for more gifts for the bride.

* Bridesmaids and groomsmen traditionally pay for their own wedding apparel and travel expenses.

THE INVITATION

* Order 50 extra invitations for keepsakes and late additions to the guest list; 100 extra envelopes in case of addressing errors. Anticipate a 25-percent refusal rate.

THE CEREMONY AND RECEPTION

* Ceremony seating depends on religious preference. In a Christian wedding, as you face the altar, the left side is reserved for the bride's family and friends, the right side for the groom's. The reverse is true for Jewish weddings.

* The maid or matron of honor may be your mother, aunt, grandmother or other special person in your life—even a close male relative or friend!

* In the case of divorced parents, seat each parent with his or her own family and friends at the reception. Seat the groom's parents with the parent who raised the bride.

Etiquette is about the subtle kindnesses that ease relationships between families and friends. Becoming aware of others' feelings will lead to better communication with family members throughout married life.

Choose right shape diamond

You've decided to get married. Now, you want to find the perfect diamond engagement ring. You've done your research. You know all about the clarity, color and carat weight of your diamond. But which diamond shape is really right for your taste? Should you choose a round brilliant, a pear or an oval?

"Determining the shape of the diamond for your engagement ring is a very personal decision," says Michael Roman, chairman of Jewelers of America (JA), the national association dedicated to providing consumer information and education about fine jewelry. "The shape of your diamond says a lot about your personal style and individuality."

And there are many shapes from which to choose. According to the most recent annual research from the Diamond Information Center's National Family Opinion Poll (NFOP), the round brilliant cut is the most popular shape for a diamond engagement ring. Sixty-eight percent of the 1.6 million diamond engagement rings sold annually are round brilliants.

But fancy cut diamonds — a diamond cut other than round — are rapidly becoming popular. The most common fancy cut diamonds are marquise, pear, emerald, oval and heart. The NFOP found that marquise was the second favorite, representing 20 percent of diamond engagements sold.

DIAMOND ENGAGEMENT RINGS are available in all shapes. Pictured here are some of the shapes from which couples can choose.

Pear-shaped diamonds, emerald/square shapes and oval diamonds all vie for third place on the popularity scale, with 3 percent each. And heart-shaped diamonds are fourth, with 1 percent.

Ultimately, these options in the shape of diamonds all mean more selection for couples looking to find something unique.

JA suggests going to your local JA member jeweler, who will show you a variety of rings. You can also write to JA for a free brochure, What You Should Know About Buying A Diamond, at 1185 Sixth Avenue, New York, NY 10036.

A lot to think about

Planning for the wedding

The wedding day: that divine time signaling the start of a new life together, heralded in with vows, the kiss, dancing, music, flowers, food, fun and laughter. Planning her wedding may be the single most stressful, but most joyous, undertaking a woman will ever face. It's the final realization that dreams do come true — after all, she is marrying the mate of her dreams.

Once the decision to marry is made, the prospective bride and groom — and their families — have a lot to think about and many details to attend to in preparation for the wedding. Careful and timely planning — airing preferences, listing choices and making decisions on schedule — can help eliminate much of the natural tension and anxiety from this emotional occasion.

Timing is of the essence, and every detail must be assigned a priority. Ask any bride-who's-been: Planning a dream wedding can turn into a nightmare of impossible deadlines and unforeseen costs.

Making a foolproof, detailed wedding checklist, emphasizing exactly what to do and when to do it, will help eliminate most of the pre-wedding stress. The bride's checklist should be all-inclusive and should be geared toward the bride and groom's and both of their families' needs, desires and special considerations.

Therefore, it's a good idea to divide your list into 6 separate lists: 6 months to one year before the wedding, 3 to 4 months before, 2 months, one month, 2 weeks and one week.

See wedding guide, pages 7-8, in this issue.

Also, you may want to obtain an essential, comprehensive handbook for busy brides-to-be, secrets of Successful Brides (St. Martin's Press), by Suzanne Kresse, is a recently released guide that covers every aspect of the wedding experience, from the engagement announcement and parties, ceremony and reception to picking a caterer, choosing the wedding party, and shopping for and choosing a gown. Kresse, who is considered one of America's foremost authorities on weddings, also includes information on the guest list, invitations, flowers, church floral and candle decorations, music and entertainment, arranging the rehearsal dinner and more.

In addition to the bride's list and a guidebook, it's important for the bride-to-be to not overlook what could be her most valuable planning asset, the advice and suggestions of the real wedding experts — women who have been "through it" and who can offer precious guidance and inside information that could prove invaluable. Women, family and friends, who have been through the wedding experience are often the bride's biggest resource for planning suggestions and tips. But be careful; some relatives may be prone to meddling. And it's important that the bride keep all their opinions in perspective — after all, it's her day!

As engagement ring

Picking a colored gemstone

What do Princess Di, Iman, Jane Fonda and Kirstie Alley have in common? Beauty, fame and a colored gemstone engagement ring. Colored gemstones have a long, romantic history that can bring another level of meaning to the gift of a ring.

In the language of gemstones, the sapphire engagement rings worn by Princess Di and Kirstie Alley symbolize sincerity, faithfulness and truth. The ruby that David Bowie gave Iman means passion. The opal that Ted Turner gave Jane Fonda represents hope and purity.

The lush, green color of the emerald represents love and rebirth. Topaz symbolizes the sun. Amethyst brings peace and tranquility. Aquamarine adds a soothing influence to marital discord and has the power to ensure a long and happy marriage.

"Colored gemstones often have an attraction for couples looking for something more unusual than a diamond to express their own personal symbolism. They choose a gem based on its mystical ties, a birthstone or even a favorite color," says Cheryl Kremkow, the director of the International Colored Gemstone Association's information service in New York.

More and more women around the world are expressing a unique style by wearing an engagement ring featuring a colored gemstone. If you are a trail-blazer and like to do things your own way, a colored gemstone ring may also be the right choice for you.

The wide selection of gemstones available means every couple can find a gem to suit their tastes and budget. But choosing a colored gemstone can be more difficult than picking out a conventional diamond solitaire. The International Colored Gemstone Association offers some tips for selecting the right gemstone for your ring.

First, choose a gemstone variety from the dozens available: find a store that can show you a broad selection. The most popular choices for gemstone engagement and wedding rings are the most well-known colored gemstones: sapphire, ruby and emerald. Other more exotic, but equally beautiful and rare gemstones can be surprisingly affordable: consider gems such as spinel, garnet, tourmaline and aquamarine.

COLORED GEMSTONES add extra symbolism to an engagement ring. Ruby ring courtesy International Colored Gemstone Association, necklace courtesy Cultured Pearl Association.

Within each gemstone variety, quality, of course, dramatically affects price. In general, smaller gemstones of higher quality appreciate more over time than larger stones of lower quality. Quality and value are evaluated according to the "four Cs": color, clarity, cut and carat weight.

Color is the most important factor for determining quality. Within each variety, a clear, medium-tone, very intense and saturated primary color is usually the most preferred. Muted colors and colors between hues are generally less expensive.

When selecting the color that is right for you, don't forget to try on the rings! You may find that some colors are particularly flattering to your skin tone.

The next most important factor affecting value is clarity, with gemstones with no visible flaws being the most valued.

A good cut is something that may not cost more, but may enhance a gemstone's beauty. A well-cut faceted gemstone reflects light evenly across its surface area when held face up. If the stone is too deep and narrow, areas will be dark. If it is too shallow and wide, areas will be washed out and lifeless. The carat weight also affects the price: large gemstones are more rare, so the price per carat is higher.

In general, gemstone pricing within each variety follows common sense: the more beautiful the gemstone, with the final visual effect of all the quality factors, the more valuable it is. Trust your instincts and choose the gemstone that speaks to you!

Stay within budget

Design your own wedding gown

Last year, women spent more than $1.8 billion on bridal gowns. With the ever-rising cost of planning a wedding, many brides find it extremely difficult to stay within their budgets, especially when it comes to purchasing a wedding gown. One way to take control of the situation without having to make any creative sacrifices is to hire a dressmaker.

Unlike buying at retail, a dressmaker is able to sew the bride's dream dress using materials that stay within the bride's budget. A dressmaker also has the necessary sewing skills and experience needed to create the bride's fantasy dress, allowing her to concentrate on other aspects of the wedding. Additionally, a skilled seamstress will be able to combine the bride's ideas with the perfect fabric and silhouette, guaranteeing her the fit, color and fabric that she desires.

Before hiring a dressmaker, you should determine what style of gown best flatters your shape. To do this, try on several different styles of dresses at a bridal retail store. This also will give you a better idea as to what the different fabrics look like and how they drape on your body.

The Sewing Fashion Council offers the following tips:

- * Make sure that the dressmaker is recommended by several reliable sources, such as a fine fabric store, tailor, dry cleaner and, best of all, a satisfied customer.

- * Before hiring a dressmaker, make an appointment to meet with him. Ask to see samples of his work and for client references and phone numbers.

- * Ask the dressmaker if he has experience in sewing wedding gowns. Wedding gowns use special fabrics in special ways.

- * Ask yourself if this is someone you can communicate with. Your rapport with the dressmaker is just as important as the quality of the work. Can he envision exactly what you want? Remember, you'll be spending a lot of time together on this project.

- * Ask if the dressmaker will suggest patterns and fabric. Will he shop with you for the materials? A good dressmaker will do all of the above, although he may require an additional fee for the shopping service.

- * Choosing a dressmaker strictly by price is a mistake. A fine dressmaker is a skilled professional and his price reflects experience, design and sewing skills, a sophisticated fashion sense and an enormous investment of time.

- * Make sure that the price estimate is based upon the pattern and fabric you've selected and includes all of your fittings. The price will vary depending on the number of fittings needed and the difficulty of the dress.

Remember, even though you are hiring a dressmaker to sew your dream gown, you are still the designer. And your reward for hiring a dressmaker? The dress of your dreams created especially for you.

Different daytime wedding choices for grooms and their ushers are offered by leading manufacturers. Left, the black cutaway with matching double-breasted vest, Greystone trousers, wing-collar shirt and grid-patterned ascot. Right, the charcoal grey peak lapel cutaway worn with hickory-striped trousers, double-breasted doekin vest, wing-collar shirt and swirl-patterned ascot.

Start early, be descriptive

Bridal registry takes out guesswork

Josie, a newlywed from New York City, was disappointed with her wedding gifts. Although she had carefully registered for the china, crystal and flatware patterns she wanted, most of her guests neglected to find out where. Instead, Josie received 8 vases, 5 picture frames, 3 sugar-and-creamers sets and only one-and-a-half place settings.

She had hoped to begin entertaining friends at home right away, but all her free time after the wedding was spent returning unwanted gifts and haggling with salespeople.

The bridal registry will take the guesswork out of wedding gifts, but only if it's used correctly by the couple and their guests. Here are the golden rules for smooth, successful registering:

- * Register 3 to 6 months before the wedding. If you register earlier, some seasonal patterns and promotional items may be out of season by your wedding day.

- * Visit the store during off-hours, so you can examine patterns and consider your choices in a relaxed and tranquil environment.

- * Give yourselves plenty of time. These are important decisions, and you should think them over. Many brides-to-be first come in alone to narrow down their selections, then return with their finances to make final decisions.

- * Take advantage of registry consultants. These experts are invaluable sources of advice about everything from wedding etiquette to bone china.

- * Be descriptive. Don't write down just any number on the registry form — it may not be the style number. Include as much description as possible.

- * Register in a price range. Include high-priced gifts for guests who can afford them, less expensive gifts for shower guests and guests on limited budgets.

- * Use your imagination. China, crystal, silver, linen and housewares are classic wedding gifts — and perennial favorites with brides and grooms — but consider registering for furniture, sports and camping equipment, gardening tools, computers and stereos. Several specialty stores and mail-order catalogues now offer registries for gifts from antiques to CDs.

- * Don't overlap. Register for each item in one store only. Otherwise, you will go crazy keeping track of gifts that have and haven't been purchased.

- * Never announce your registration in wedding invitations — this implies that gifts are as important to you as guests. Friends and family can make sure word gets out.

- * Save mailing labels from the packages you receive. If you decide to return the gift, the label may be your only proof-of-purchase.

- * Keep a running gift list. Make a note of each item you receive, who sent it and any thoughts that come to mind when you unwrap it. This will make writing thank-you notes easier. Once gifts start piling up, cards are easily misplaced, and your memory becomes unreliable.

- * Follow up with your bridal registrar. Contact her after the shower to compare notes; pay a visit after the wedding to fill in any purchases that weren't received from guests.

— Wedding planning guide - what to do and when to do it —

4 MONTHS BEFORE THE WEDDING

- ☐ Engage your minister, rabbi or priest. Discuss customs of his sanctuary. If your wedding is to be held in a hotel or club, make reservations.
- ☐ Start preparing your lists for the ceremony, the reception, announcements. Ask your fiancé to start his.
- ☐ Make your arrangements with the caterer.
- ☐ Make arrangements with musicians, florist, photographer.
- ☐ Order your invitations and announcements. Have envelopes delivered first.
- ☐ Shop for your wedding gown, veil and headpiece.
- ☐ Register in gift and department stores as to china, silver, glassware patterns.

3 MONTHS BEFORE THE WEDDING

- ☐ With the aid of your family and your fiancé, select your attendants, and invite them to serve. Freely discuss with your bridesmaids the approximate cost of their gowns and accessories.

- ☐ Determine the cost of your trousseau. Include linens and clothes. $_____.
- ☐ Begin the wonderful experience of hunting for your new house or apartment, with your fiancé.
- ☐ Discuss your honeymoon with your fiancé.
- ☐ Begin to plan for your new home.
- ☐ Re-check your invitation lists and ask your fiancé to do the same with his.
- ☐ Help your maid of honour and your bridesmaids select their gowns. By now, your mother and your fiancé's mother should decide on their gowns, bearing in mind that their attire should not only complement each others but yours too.

20 WEEKS BEFORE THE WEDDING

- ☐ Begin addressing and stamping your invitations and announcements. These should be hand addressed in dark ink only. Invitations should be mailed four weeks before the wedding.
- ☐ Remind your fiancé to purchase the wedding band. If you're having a double ring ceremony, purchase his.

- ☐ Shop for your going-away outfit.

6 WEEKS BEFORE THE WEDDING

- ☐ Have fittings for your wedding gown. Check your accessories. Inquire also about gowns and accessories for your attendants.
- ☐ Purchase luggage.
- ☐ Select gifts for your attendants.
- ☐ Check with your florist about the color scheme both for the ceremony and the reception.
- ☐ Remind your fiancé about his wardrobe requirements.
- ☐ With your musicians, decide on number of people to be hired, types of numbers to be played, the selection of the wedding march, etc.
- ☐ Firm up your sitting with the photographer.
- ☐ Decide on date and other details of the bridesmaids' luncheon, and remind your fiancé about reservations for the bachelor dinner, if any.

3 TO 4 WEEKS BEFORE THE WEDDING

- ☐ Send out wedding invitations.
- ☐ Check florist, photographer, and caterer for all final arrangements.
- ☐ Remind your fiancé to order your bridal bouquet, your going-away corsage, corsages for his mother and yours, and all necessary boutonnieres.
- ☐ If you intend to buy a gift for your future husband, now is the time to do it.
- ☐ Check bridal costumes for yourself and attendants, making sure all will be ready a week before the wedding.
- ☐ Another bridal fitting.
- ☐ Arrange lodging for out-of-town guests.
- ☐ As gifts come in, acknowledge them immediately.
- ☐ Order the bridal cake.
- ☐ Finish shopping.

2 WEEKS BEFORE THE WEDDING

- ☐ Before you give the caterer the final count, have your mother contact people who have not responded to your invitations.
- ☐ Give caterer the final count.
- ☐ Send notices and glossy photos of yourself to newspapers in your city and in the groom's if he is from out of town. Be sure to include date of your wedding.
- ☐ Check deliveries in your new home.
- ☐ Write thank you notes for gifts received.
- ☐ Have the final fitting of your gown.
- ☐ Make appointment with hairdresser for a day before the wedding.
- ☐ Check and re-check every item.

1 WEEK BEFORE THE WEDDING

- ☐ Invite close friends and relatives to see your trousseau and gifts.

- ☐ Review all duties with participants of the wedding party.
- ☐ Entertain your bridesmaids at a luncheon, tea or dinner.
- ☐ Keep writing thank-you notes.
- ☐ Arrange to spend the night before the wedding with your family.
- ☐ Have your portrait taken.

suddenly the
BIG DAY
arrives

- ☐ Indulge yourself on the Big Day, even to the extent of having your breakfast in bed!
- ☐ Do everything leisurely, allowing yourself plenty of time for the important details.
- ☐ One hour before the ceremony be completely dressed, except for veil and gloves.
- ☐ Rest and relax for at least a half hour beforehand.
- ☐ Now, go off to Your Man and live happily as One!
