THE CAMPERS ARRIVED early and set up tents for the Saturday wedding of Alison Diamond and Bert Long and they brought their muskets to give the new couple a salute after the ceremony.

After the vows were exchanged, the newlyweds donned this bearskin rug and walked through an arch of musket bearing friends. Peeking from behind is one of Alison's twin daughters, both of whom took part in the wedding.

Recall frontier days in wedding at Evergreen Park

The men and women of early colonial days would have been right at home at the wedding of Bert Long and Alison Diamond Saturday afternoon at the Evergreen Township Park on M-53.

The only thing that early Americans would probably have found strange were the cars parked just outside the campground. Certainly the tents that were stretched in a line about 25 feet back of the bridal tent would have been just the way it was during these times.

That's not surprising, considering that the groom has been doing reenactments for 20 of his 28 years. Many of the friends attending Saturday's ceremony were met in the camps he attended.

They came the day before the ceremony, pitched a tent and polished their muskets for the next day's festivities. Among them were Glenn "no legs" Fredericks, short in stature, but long in camaraderie; Chuck Lamb from Sarnia, Ont., and Homer Melat from Goodells. All were dressed in frontier clothing.

Their garb blended beautifully with that of the bride and groom. Both wore clothing handmade of buckskin.

It took nearly 3 weeks to make Alison's, Long said, and about a week for my shirt.

The ceremony was conducted by Rev. Mike Duning and John Minor of Goodells, both dressed in appropriate colonial clothing. It was pointed out that the ancient rituals were performed to make a modern marriage work. In the days gone by, Minor said during the ceremony, there was a commitment to make marriage work and this commitment would be shared by the couple.

Flower girls participating were the 7-year-old twin daughters of the bride, Crystal and Julie.

After the ceremony the couple walked through an arch formed by a group of frontier-clothed friends with muskets held high.

The ceremony was concluded as the black powder muskets were fired in unison. The couple were introduced by mutual friends and had been dating for about a year. There will be a honeymoon, but not until next summer.

As you might expect, it will be in Alaska. About as close as it's possible to get these days to the frontier life depicted in the marriage.

Brewster Shaw announces retirement from NASA

Former astronaut Brewster Shaw Jr. recently announced his retirement. The Cass City native left his job as director of space shuttle operations in Houston last Wednesday, with plans to leave NASA in November.

"After that, I don't know what I'll be doing," Shaw said in a recent interview with the Detroit News, published Aug. 30. "But I've got 2 kids in college. I guess I'll be looking for work."

"You can only do this kind of work for so long. I'm the type of person who gets very emotionally and personally involved in my work. But it's put a lot of stress on my family — an incredible amount of stress."

Shaw, a former USAF fighter pilot who retired from the Air Force in 1990 as a colonel, closes out a distinguished career in the U.S. space program that has included 3 space shuttle flights and, later, a key administrative role as director of shuttle operations.

He was born and raised at his family's farm in Cass City. After graduating from Cass City High School, he earned his bachelor and master of science degrees in engineering mechanics from the University of Wisconsin in 1968 and 1969.

He joined the Air Force in 1969 after completing Officer Training School and attending undergraduate pilot training at Craig AFB, receiving his wings in 1970.

Shaw was assigned to the F-100 Replacement Training Unit at Luke AFB. A year later he was off to Vietnam as an F-100 combat pilot with the 352nd Tactical Fighter Squadron at Phan Rang AB. He also flew combat missions in F-4s with the 25th Tactical Fighter Squadron at Ubon, Thailand.

Shaw, who logged 644 hours in combat, went to George AFB in 1973 as an F-4 instructor and then attended USAF Test Pilot School at Edwards AFB from 1975 to 1976. He remained at Edwards as an operational test pilot, later serving as an instructor.

In 1978, Shaw was elected as a NASA astronaut, subsequently logging 534 hours in space on 3 space shuttle missions.

In 1986, he was a staff member of the Rogers Presidential Commission investigating the Challenger accident and then headed the orbiter return-to-flight team responsible for implementing safety modifications for the orbiter fleet.

Shaw has received a host of military and other honors during his career. In 1993, the Cape Canaveral Chapter of the Air Force Association honored him as the ninth recipient of its annual award recognizing individual achievement in the space program.

Before leaving NASA in November, Shaw plans to make a brief visit home, where he'll visit his parents, Brewster Sr. and Leone Shaw.

The senior Shaw said he plans to travel with his son to Kalamazoo next month, when Brewster Jr. will be inducted into the Michigan Aviation Hall of Fame in a ceremony scheduled for Oct. 14.

In the Detroit News story published last week, Shaw was quoted as saying he doesn't know what he'll be doing next.

"I've given this the best shot I can. I have had experiences in the early days and in management where I have a great feeling of accomplishment," he concluded.

"Now it's time for something else."

Bean crop excellent

Farms need rain to boost crop yields

Cooperative extension officials say a continued lack of rain will cut into yields of certain crops in the Thumb.

But for now, the prospects for a successful harvest remain good, with decent yields overall projected for the area's bean, corn and sugar beet crops.

Although some crops planted in southern Tuscola County suffered from rain damage earlier this summer, and yields throughout the county are likely to vary from one grower to the next, farmers are in good shape at this point, according to Cooperative Extension Agricultural Agent Karen Zuver.

"Generally, overall, I would say crops are going to run average to a little bit above average."

"The dry beans look like they're going to go 15-plus bags," said Zuver, who noted the soybean crop also looks good. "It's pretty safe to say they're going to be running 40 to 45 bushels an acre."

Corn yields, on the other hand, "vary across the county as far as production goes, so it's hard to estimate. It's been dry, but it looks like it's going to be a decent yield."

Zuver said moisture is a key now for crops such as sugar beets, particularly now that the crops are in assimilation, a phase in which plants draw nutrients from their leaves and stalks. If the plants are stressed, that process could be affected.

As it stands, the hot, dry weather that dominated the Thumb in August is already taking a toll on the sugar beet crop.

"We're finding a higher incidence of root aphids," said Robert Braem, vice president of agriculture at Michigan Sugar Co. Braem explained the pests, found in the soil, attach themselves to the root hairs of beets, killing the hairs and preventing the beets from taking up moisture.

Braem said a decent rain could take care of the aphid problem as well as insure the harvest of what he called a good looking crop, with yields projected at 18 to 19 tons in Tuscola County.

"We're dry, really across the whole beet growing area at this point and could use a good soaking rain," he said. "That's really the key to it right now."

As for what Mother Nature has in store this fall, forecasters say cool, wet weather could be the rule based on historical statistics.

"Officially, the long (range) outlook... is for cooler than normal weather in September, with about equal odds on precipitation," said Jeff Andresen, an MSU Extension agricultural meteorologist.

Andresen said the outlook for September, October and November calls for cooler and wetter conditions.

"That's the most negative scenario," he pointed out. "But right now, if it's any consolation, we don't see any signs of a jet stream pattern that would lead to below normal temperatures."

In fact, Andresen said it's likely Michigan will enjoy temperatures that are 10 to 12 degrees above normal through much of this week, "basically a continuation of a pattern that we have seen for some time."

The good news, according to Andresen, is the warmth experienced in August pushed the number of degree days — a temperature index used to monitor development of crops based on heat accumulation — near record levels.

The result is crops should be one to two weeks ahead of last year in terms of maturation.

That may be particularly important if statistics on the first frost dates follow historical patterns. On average, the area's first 32-degree reading falls on Sept. 23, and the first 28-degree reading typically occurs around Oct. 7.

Those are just averages, Andresen said. He added, however, there's a 90-percent chance the first frosts will occur within 2 weeks of those dates.

Traffic fatalities in Thumb claim 2 lives

Traffic accidents claimed the lives of a 13-year-old Vassar boy and a Yale woman over Labor Day weekend.

A Yale woman died in a 2-vehicle crash about 3 miles south of Argyle in Sanilac County's Argyle Township early Saturday afternoon.

Troopers at the Michigan State Police post in Sandusky identified the victim as Reatha P. Bonacci, 76, of Yale.

Troopers said Bonacci was eastbound on Deckerville at 1:50 p.m. when she pulled into the intersection of M-19 and was struck broadside by a southbound vehicle driven by Peggy A. Dorman, 59, of Snover. After impact, both vehicles came to rest at the southeast corner of the intersection, according to reports, which indicate both drivers were wearing seat belts.

Former Croft-Clara property is sold

Rumors surrounding the possible sale of the former Croft-Clara Lumber/Siding World property at the west end of Cass City have been confirmed.

The property, at 6141 W. Main St., has been purchased by Donald Bollstetter, owner of the Luke's Market in Sebewaing, and Bollstetter's son, Scott Bollstetter. Donald Bollstetter indicated Tuesday that plans for the property are still being finalized and will be announced at a later date.

The property has been vacant since fire roared through the Croft-Clara Lumber/Siding World building Jan. 31, 1993, gutting the business' showroom and offices.

Center offers expanded care

Hills and Dales General Hospital officials last week announced a new healthcare service to the community.

The Immediate Care Clinic that has operated through the hospital has expanded and is now called the Community Rural Health Center. The Community Rural Health Center is open 24 hours per day, 7 days per week.

Patients may now access both immediate (non-emergency) care and primary care by appointment or on a walk-in basis. The charge will continue at $50 per visit, with a 10 percent discount for payment at the time of service.

New patients seeking a primary care physician for themselves and their family members are welcome.

For additional information, please call Joy Wikoff, community relations coordinator, Hills and Dales General Hospital at (517) 872-2121, extension 238.

To schedule an appointment with a physician, call registration at (517) 872-2121, extension 227.

71 at annual Windy reunion

The 17th annual Windy family reunion was held Aug. 13 at the Raymond Windy farm with 71 attending.

New officers for the year elected were president, Lee Ann Pabst; secretary, Karen Windy; and treasurer, Sarah Windy. Kids games will be organized by Liz Keyes and Ruth Langlois, and refreshments by Mary Doerr and Barb Merchant.

During the year, one marriage took place, Joe and Lynn Windy, and one birth, Michael David Middleton, son of Bryan and Heather Middleton.

A potluck meal with barbecued chicken was served.

Games were played and visiting and looking at family albums was enjoyed by all.

Next year the reunion will be the second Sunday of August at the same place.

53 pints of blood donated

Fifty-three pints of blood were donated at the blood drive held at Hills and Dales General Hospital Aug. 29.

First time donors were: Debra Peruski, Jamie Lynn Cubett, Michael Ouellette and Kristy McClurey.

Ben Hobart has donated a total of one gallon. The next blood drive will be Nov. 7.

The complete works of Johann Sebastian Bach fill about 60 volumes, but only nine or ten of his compositions were published during his life-time.

Meg's Peg
Grandmas forget
by Melva E. Guinther

People sometimes ask where the ideas for columns come from.

The answer is wherever you can find them. Actually, they come from a variety of sources. Often something in a newspaper or magazine will prompt a topic. Sometimes friends offer suggestions or materials.

Long ago I took to heart the advice of a creative writing instructor to keep a journal. She told us to clip or jot down story ideas as they pop up. This becomes even more necessary when your memory's failing.

When your memory is really shot, it's important to make the jottings sufficiently detailed so there's some chance of recalling what the note was about when you get around to reviewing it.

As a result of all this clipping and jotting, I have file cabinets and drawers full of crumpled pieces of paper, and some day when there's nothing better to do, I fully intend to sort through them.

The following article was tucked away among some crossword puzzles. When I found it I vaguely remembered someone giving it to me, and eventually it occurred to me that it was my daughter-in-law, the mother of my grandsons.

Hopefully other grandmas will enjoy it, too.

What Grandmas Are Made Of

(Written by a 3rd grader)

A grandmother is a lady who has no children of her own. She likes other people's little girls.

A grandfather is a man grandmother. He goes for walks with the boys, and they talk about fishing and tractors and like that.

Grandmas don't have to do anything except be there. They're old, so they shouldn't play hard or run. It is enough if they drive us to the market where the pretend horse is and have lots of dimes ready.

Or if they take us for walks, they should slow down past things like pretty leaves or caterpillars. They should never say, "Hurry up!" Usually they are fat, but not too fat to tie your shoes. They wear glasses and funny underwear. They can take their teeth and gums off.

It is better if they don't typewrite, or play cards, except with us. They don't have to be smart, only answer questions like "Why don't dogs like cats?" and "How come God isn't married?"

They don't talk baby talk like visitors do, because it is too hard to understand. When they read to us, they don't skip, or mind if it is the same story again.

Everybody should try to have one, especially if you don't have television, because grandmas are the only grown-ups who have got time.

The Haire Net

With the exception of a 3-year stint in the Detroit suburb of Wyandotte, small towns have been where it's at for me.

I'll admit to prejudice, but a recent survey by Money magazine that ranked the livability of cities in Michigan is diametrically opposed to any ranking of mine and, I'm sure, that of others who choose the small town life style.

Perhaps it's the criteria used to judge the 300 major cities in the United States that skewers the results. They include crime rates, job climate, housing appreciation, high school graduation rates, weather, civic involvement and vulnerability to natural disasters.

Because of the state's economic upsurge, all Michigan cities improved over the previous year. Now for the ranking that rumbles. Detroit was pegged at 56 in the nation and the Bay City-Saginaw-Midland area at 161.

You'd be hard pressed to find many mid-Michigan residents who yearn to pick up stakes and move south.

For years Bay City topped my list of favorite places if required to move into the bigger cities. I suppose Midland would also qualify if I were more familiar with it.

In recent years Bay City has dropped a notch or 2 in livability. When the malls took over, it was always a source of satisfaction that downtown Bay City remained a viable, pleasant place to shop and visit.

It's still better than many communities of its size, but driving down Wilder Road today is not much different than any urban, traffic-snarled road in scores of metro communities.

City advocates point to the variety of entertainment, more sophisticated health services and ready access to skilled tradesmen as reasons for living in the city.

That's all true. But those same services are available to all of us small towners about an hour away.

That's a trade off for a quieter, safer life that folks in Cass City and similar towns enjoy.

I like living in a town where the school's sport teams are the community's teams. Where what happens to a resident is a concern, not merely a topic for idle conversation. Where neighbor helps neighbor and "everybody" knows your business.

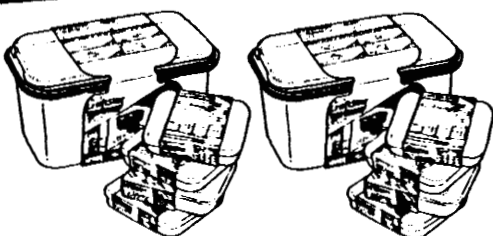

I'm happy to drive for an hour to get whatever is required from the city and get back to what we all have at home.

No cattle show on trip to Ohio

By Jim Fitzgerald

Mary Lou, one of my countless sisters, lives in a large, plush, fenced-off suburban housing complex that includes a private golf club, where members are not allowed to wear denim in the clubhouse or on the links. Seldom is heard a hee-haw.

Mary Lou always dresses the part, even when she's out of town. The so-stylish slacks outfit she recently wore has never been nearer than a freeway to a farm. So it was marvelous to hear the greeting she received from the room clerk when she walked into a motel office: "You here for the cattle show?"

Which reminds me that my 9-year-old granddaughter Tricia recently attended a horse camp in Croswell. When she returned, I greeted her with a pun that's so old it's apparently new again. At least, everyone within hearing distance said they'd never heard this one before:

"Tricia was very popular around the stables. All the horse manure."

But back to the motel, which is a Best Western, of course, in Lebanon, Ohio. It may utilize the most foreboding marketing technique in the history of hostilities. On the window sill of every room, in plain view from the outside, is a fly swatter.

Where's the mouse trap, or plunger?

SAME GAME, DIFFERENT DEADLINES

We stopped in Lebanon, on our way to Cincinnati, to eat where Charles Dickens, Mark Twain and Presidents Taft, Garfield, Grant, Harding and McKinley ate. It's the Golden Lamb, advertised as Ohio's oldest inn and restaurant, founded in 1803. The lamb is delicious, and there's no mention on the menu, silent or otherwise, of Hannibal Lecter.

Little Lebanon also has many antique shops that attract crowds of eager buyers. My brother-in-law Jack stayed in his room for fear of being purchased against his will.

Another thing I discovered about Lebanon is something I'm mentioning strictly in honor of the many Free Press readers who have futilely complained to me about home delivery problems since Detroit Newspapers took over printing and circulation functions for the Free Press and News.

At 7 a.m. Saturday in Lebanon, over 200 miles from Detroit, the Cincinnati Inquirer newspaper delivered to my motel room included a complete, detailed report on the Tigers game played in Detroit Friday night.

At 7 a.m. Saturday in Lapeer, only 65 miles from Detroit, the Free Press and News delivered to my front porch had nothing about the same Tigers game except that it was incomplete. The difference is caused by early edition deadlines in Detroit; the more papers you sell over a wide geographic area, the earlier you have to start the presses.

There's something wrong with that picture, but don't ask me to fix it. I may not be an independent contractor, but I don't work for Detroit Newspapers.

MAIN ATTRACTION IN CINCINNATI

For purely personal reasons, it should be mentioned that Ohio has at least one daily Free Press subscriber, and she was another reason for our trip. She is the former Detroit and Port Huron resident Annabell Kilsdonk, now living in Fairfield. We lunched with her at another fine, very old restaurant, the White House, where it was mentioned that at age 90, Annabell might be my oldest reader. More likely she is the nicest, and sharpest.

The main reason for the long Ohio weekend was the Cincinnati wedding of Kerry Secrist and Paul Hartnett. Paul is the son of another of my countless sisters, Nancy the Itch, and her husband, Herbert the Gabby, also often called the Cincinnati Sex Symbol, because that's what it says on his underwear.

At the reception, it was misty-eyed wonderful to see the several Hartnett granddaughters who look so much like Grandma Nancy did at the age she itched her brother the most.

It was such a good party, Mary Lou said she really didn't mind missing the cattle show.

PROGRESS IN EDUCATION
from the desk of Ken Micklash, Superintendent

The following questions relating to the upcoming September 18th election have recently been asked.

Question one - What are the major differences between this issue and the original one?

*No Campbell addition is planned. This cuts almost $2,000,000 from the original project.

*The years needed to pay off the new middle school have been reduced from 22 to 12.5 years. This eliminates over $6,000,000 of interest costs.

*The only building project will be for a new middle school

*The present east annex of the middle school will be developed into a preschool/kindergarten center for Campbell students. The 4th grades and special education program currently in the annex will move back to Campbell.

Question two - What educational and safety benefits will result?

*An up-to-date middle school building incorporating modern technology will be provided for our students.

*All fire code and handicap accessibility issues will be corrected.

Questions may be sent to me at 4868 North Seeger Street, Cass City, Michigan 48726. Thank you.

12 area women venture south for lake getaway

Editor's note: The following are the chronicles of a summer trip taken by 12 area women who ventured south to Lake Cumberland, Ky., to get away from it all aboard a 64-foot houseboat.

by Karen Haire
special writer

The group split into 2 vanloads to make the trip. Ann Wiess, mother of 3 from Clarkston and childhood friend of Cathy Howard, rove one of the vans. Her conversion van was equipped with CB radios, and thankfully on this 90-plus degree weekend, air conditioning!

Lisa Erla, mother of two in Cass City, drove the other air conditioned van-load of women, which was in possession of the other 'valkie-talkie. It was fun trying to carry on CB conversations, mostly using them to coordinate our route. We started out following the terrible storm into Vassar, hoping southern Kentucky wasn't experiencing the same 50 mile-an-hour winds and thunderstorms. We waited to let it pass, but once we were on the road again we eventually caught up to the treacherous weather. Our drivers did a great job navigating through the blinding rains.

We took I-75 south into Kentucky, came upon some road construction delays, then split off onto 461 south, angled over on 80 west, and finally drove 127 south where we gained an hour crossing into Central Daylight Savings Time.

After driving for 8 1/2 hours, the weary (yet cheerful) group stayed overnight at the Hilton Hotel in Florence, Ky. The 3 roomfuls of ladies were split on how to end the night; half were ready to fall asleep, the other half were ready to stay up another couple hours!

After picking at a complimentary continental breakfast, the group packed it up and headed for a nearby Cracker Barrel restaurant. Then another 2 1/2 hours on the road before arriving in Jamestown. Fortunately, the storm had continued on its way, and we had beautiful weather in Kentucky.

FINALLY MADE IT

After successfully splitting the grocery shopping six ways at a local Kroger grocery store, the women finally made it to Lake Cumberland State Dock.

State Dock is one of the houseboat rental operations on Lake Cumberland. Operating from April through October, the facility is a full-service marina with a "ship's store" and snack bar.

Marina staff members assist vacationers by offering help with parking, check-in, boarding, houseboat operation instructions, and boating safety. Lake maps are also provided, detailing the surrounding area. Fortunately, they even have air hoses to blow up your rafts!

In July, a 3-night/4 day weekend on a 64-foot Electra 450 houseboat that sleeps 12 people, cost $1,665.00 (about $46.50 per day/per person). Rates are lower in the earlier and later months of the houseboating season.

Also available for rental at State Dock are ski boats, pontoon boats, fishing boats, and jet skis.

Once we were all aboard the Electra 450, one of the marina's staff members took a few of us on the "responsibility tour," mainly showing Joyce Muz, Caro mother of 3, the many functions of the boat. "No problem," said Joyce, as she took over at the wheel. She did a fine job of getting us from one cove to the next.

The 12 of us had a chance to observe the houseboat's amenities, while unloading our belongings. Included on our "hotel on water," was a home away from home; two bathrooms - one with a shower - a TV/VCR, CD player with AM/FM and cassette player, outdoor/upstairs hot tub, 2 waterslides, an electric range and oven, a full-size refrigerator, microwave, toaster, coffee-maker, gas grill, a marine radio, enough lounge furniture for 6 or 7 people, and hot water (perfect for that last-day shower!).

Lake Cumberland came into existence once Wolf Creek Dam was completed in 1951, and part of the mountain range was flooded. Lake Cumberland State Dock is privately-owned and licensed by Kentucky's Department of Parks. The lake is 101 miles long, with 66,000 surface acres and 1,255 miles of shoreline. Beautiful, secluded coves dot each branch off the main part of the lake. The lake's average depth is 90 feet. The deepest part being 240 feet at the Wolf Creek Dam. Average temperatures are 78 degrees (air) and 84 degrees (water) in July.

SUNNY DAYS

Most of us spent the sunny days on our rafts in the bathlike water. Although Barb Karr had brought a raft along, the Cass City mother of 2 seemed not to need a break from swimming. She was like our own Ethel Merman, leading our attempt to learn advanced techniques of synchronized swimming. The Hokie-Pokie turned out to be more our level.

For those houseboaters with a little more ambition, water skiing and fishing may appeal.

Although Cathy Erla didn't bring her fishing rod this year, the Caro mother of 2 had fun remembering last year's attempt. Apparently she and/or fellow houseboater Amy Hartel of Cass City (absent from this year's trip due to the impending birth of her second child), had a little mishap while trying their version of fly fishing aboard the boat.

For those more serious about fishing, the most commonly found fish in Lake Cumberland are striped, blue gill and crappie. In addition, Lake Cumberland State Resort Park offers tennis, golf, horseback riding, hiking, swimming pools, and fine dining.

Our own weekend on the houseboat was filled with sunshine and swimming, of course, along with enjoying the company of friends.

Diving into the water well into the night, we were pleasantly surprised to feel the water pretty much the same; a warm 80 degrees. (We perfected our synchronized swimming routine by the light of the moon). The hot-tub was a bit warmer than that, and for those in the group who preferred a dip ON the boat, it was perfect.

One night we were laughing (playing games we'd brought along), and the next we were crying (watching a couple of tearjerker movies from Sally Howard's library of videotapes).

BABBLE ON

Sally Howard and Beth Howard, both mothers with 2 children each home in Cass City, and sisters-in-law, brought the game "Babble On," which had the whole gang in hysterics. It's like listening to people speaking in a foreign language, but they don't even know what they're saying.

Sally Zimba, a Deford mother of 2, even had the opportunity to trim Lynn Talaski's hair, which was driving her crazy. The mother of 2 in Argyle, Lynn was thankful to have a professional hair stylist aboard!

Our group was a fun one, staying up to talk, laugh and sing loud enough to wake the neighbors (if we had any!). Michael Bolton and The Big Chill soundtrack were favorites; we knew most of the words and could belt them out ourselves.

A few of the women could even carry a tune quite well. A mother of one and resident of Cass City, Paula LeValley led the group in a late-night, flybridge line dance, showing that even kindergarten teachers can Boot Scootin' Boogie with the best of them!

We're already talking about our next houseboat weekend on Lake Cumberland. Pam Brinkman, a mother of one in Cass City, felt it was a truly relaxing way to spend a long weekend.

To plan your own houseboat vacation on Lake Cumberland, call 1 (800) 234-DOCK for more information.

Math-science-technology

Roche completes MSU program

Brad Roche, who will enter eighth grade this fall at Cass City Middle School, completed 2 weeks participating in the Mathematics-Science-Technology at Michigan State University (MST at MSU) program July 23-Aug. 5, conducted on the university campus in East Lansing.

Brad is the son of Ron and Ann Roche of Cass City. 1995 marks the sixth successful year of the program, which is designed to serve 90 students who have completed grade 7 or 8.

To be eligible for participation in MST at MSU, Brad had to have participated in the Midwest Talent Search sponsored by Northwestern University in Evanston, Ill.; have qualifying scores from either the Scholastic Assessment Test (SAT) or American College Testing Program (ACT); an above average grade point average (GPA); a recommendation from a teacher of science, mathematics, or computer technology, and parental permission. Students also had to submit handwritten essays

From July 23 to Aug. 5, he lived on campus in Wilson Hall with 89 other students participating in the program. The 1995 students were selected from a pool of 205 applicants and represented 60 different cities and 6 states.

Brad received instruction in 2 academic areas: physics and spectroscopy. He also took part in a special drama clinic.

Highlights of his studies included interesting experiments involving light and sound, the opportunity to publish on the Internet a report of work done in physics, a visit to the National Superconducting Cyclotron laboratory, and the hands on opportunity to bend molten glass into a spiral straw.

During the evenings, the students enjoyed activities such as career night, swimming, roller skating, movies, and an after dinner speaker who focused on leadership development and self esteem building. Students also performed in the program's talent show.

The program included one complete weekend on campus. Activities for that weekend were a Saturday trip to Camp Highfield in Onondaga, where students went through the Breakthrough Leadership Training Initiatives. Sunday, they visited the Impression 5 Science Museum and had an afternoon picnic.

The program ended with a closing luncheon for the participants and their parents. Brad was selected to give a speech at the banquet highlighting the work done in physics during the 2 weeks. The students had an opportunity to share information about their many experiences and to say farewell to new friends.

Persons wanting information about MST at MSU for Summer 1996 can contact Dorothy Lawshe, director of Gifted and Talented Programs, a Division of The Honors College - 184 Bessey Hall, Michigan State University, East Lansing, MI 48824-1033, at (517) 432-2129.

Holy Trinity Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus Assembly 2013 at its recent membership meeting unanimously passed a resolution prohibiting the desecration of individuals of the American flag.

According to Faithful Navigator Wilfred L. Alvord, the American flag symbolizes more than just a geographical and political entity. It represents human rights, one of which is the freedom to worship.

Alvord, as head of the assembly representing 7 Thumb area councils, is asking Michigan United States Senators Spencer Abraham and Carl Levin to support legislation that will make it illegal to desecrate the American flag.

O-G captures hoop tourney at Caseville

The Owen-Gage Bulldog hoop squad was off to a flying start last week with a pair of victories to capture the early bird tournament at Caseville.

The girls topped Port Hope in the opener, 43-28, and then took the title with a 54-33 decision over Caseville.

With the wins tucked away, the Bulldogs were to meet Au Gres Tuesday and then delve into North Central Thumb D competition at home Thursday against Kingston.

Coach Dean Roller was pleased with the team's defense against Port Hope, led by Kate Powers with 5 blocked shots.

Owen-Gage overcame a slow first quarter after trailing the Blue Stars 10-8 at the end of the first 8 minutes.

Port Hope went stone cold in the second period and the Bulldogs applied the defensive pressure to take a 20-13 lead at the intermission.

The teams played on even terms in the third period and then the 'Dog defense took over again in the final period to post a 12-4 advantage and win going away.

Owen-Gage made the most of its free throw attempts in the last quarter, converting 8 of 12, including 7 of 8 by Powers.

OWEN-GAGE - Susie Roemer 1 (3-4) 5; Tonya Smith 6 (8-11) 20; Kate Powers 3 (2-6) 8; Jennifer Winchester 1 (5-6) 7; Beth Nickerson 1 (0-2) 2; Lisa Warack 0 (1-2) 1.
TOTALS - 12 (19-33) 43.

PORT HOPE - Beth Finkel 1 (0-0) 2; Melinda Dadey 1 (0-0) 2; Lindsey McTaggart 1 (0-0) 2; Dana Pawlitz 2 (2-4) 6; Jessica Miller 3 (2-5) 8; Crystal Mausolf 3 (0-1) 6; Lisa Schulte 1 (0-0) 2.
TOTALS - 12 (4-10) 28.

The Bulldogs used balanced scoring with 4 players in double figures to defeat Caseville, 54-33.

Owen-Gage jumped off to an early lead in the first quarter and stayed ahead the rest of the way. But it was not until the last half when the defense asserted itself that the game was tucked into the win column.

Leading that defense was Susie Roemer with 8 rebounds and 8 steals.

At the end of the first quarter the Bulldogs, paced by Smith's 7 points, were in front, 13-7. The teams played on nearly even terms in the second quarter and the game was still up for grabs with O-G leading, 25-20.

In the last half it was all Owen-Gage as they outscored the losers, 14-3 in the third period and 15-8 in the fourth, to turn a close game into a decisive victory.

Smith scored 16 points and Roemer added 15 for the Bulldogs while Karla Pittenger, with 10 points, was high for Caseville.

Despite the comparatively easy win, Roller said that his team missed too many easy shots and would need to improve when conference games are played.

OWEN-GAGE - Susie Roemer 7 (1-2) 15; Tonya Smith 6 (4-5) 16; Kate Powers 4 (2-2) 10; Jennifer Winchester 4 (2-2) 10; Amanda Salcido 1 (1-2) 3.
TOTALS - 22 (10-15) 54.

CASEVILLE - Nicole Campbell 3 (1-3) 7; Amy Stahl 1 (0-0) 2; Michelle Mohr 1 (1-2) 3; Mary Roth 2 (4-6) 8; Melissa Leach 0 (1-2) 1; Karla Pittenger 5 (0-0) 10.
TOTALS - 13 (7-13) 33.

Daniel sees encouraging signs despite losses to H.B., Reese

Ordinarily when a team starts the season with a pair of losses like the Cass City Hawks did last week, it might well signify the start of a long, losing season.

Although the team and Coach Marty Daniel were not happy in losses to Reese, 32-31, and to Harbor Beach, 49-44, the results were encouraging.

We are playing 2 freshmen and sophomores who should improve with experience and by mid-season we look to be greatly improved, Daniel pointed out.

The 2 losses were non-conference affairs and despite the record, the Hawks will be slight favorites when they open Thumb C National competition at Bad Axe Thursday.

But to register the win against the Hatchets, the Hawks will have to eliminate a long, cold shooting streak such as the one they experienced against Reese.

Paced by a pair of buckets by freshman Shelly Ulfig, the Hawks jumped off to a 10-2 lead over the Rockets in the first 4 minutes. The team added a free throw moment later and then went a full quarter and a half without netting a point.

Meanwhile Reese caused several turnovers with a full-court press and some pretty fast breaks led by Kris Grabowski, quick Rocket guard.

By the time the cold spell ended, Reese erased the early Hawk lead and moved in front 25-11 at the end of the first half.

The Hawks found the range again in the last half and nearly were able to pull out the win. A shot at the rim bounced out and the visitors walked off with the one-point victory.

Ulfig led Cass City scorers with 8 points. Leah Trombley scored 8 for Reese.

Cass City junior varsity won a tight game over the Rocket JV, 43-40.

CASS CITY - Lindsay Maharg 0 (1-2) 1; Kelli VanVliet 0 (3-3) 3; Katie Anthony 2 (0-0) 4; Jill Wright 2 (2-4) 6; Amy Schelke 0 (2-2) 2; Peyton Daniel 1 (0-0) 2; Shelly Ulfig 4 (0-2) 8; Kara Mellendorf 1 (0-0) 2; Andrea Rea 1 (1-2) 3.
TOTALS - 11 (9-13) 31.

REESE - Janell Weber 1 (1-2) 3; Kris Grabowski 2 (0-0) 4; Jen Hein 2 (0-0) 4; Leah Trombley 2 (4-6) 8; Mindy Castle 2 (1-2) 5; Lindsey Rodammer 2 (0-0) 4; Jamie Schuckbier 2 (0-0) 4.
TOTALS 13 (6-12) 32.

HARBOR BEACH

Harbor Beach has one of the stronger teams in the Thumb C American League and the Hawks battled the Pirates to the wire before bowing in the final moments.

Both teams were off to a slow start in the opening quarter with 7 points each. The pace picked up in the next quarter as the Pirates, behind Courtney Kleinknecht's 6 points, posted a 21-18 lead at the intermission.

Ulfig then took charge of the offense with 9 points in the period and Cass City edged in front 29-27 at the end of the third quarter. Outside shooting by our guards opened up the middle for Ulfig, Daniel said.

Harbor Beach was equal to the challenge during crunch time and used balanced scoring to take the win, 49-44. The Hawks were forced to foul in the last minutes and the Beachers converted 8 of 13 from the charity stripe, 4 of them by Michelle Wolschleger.

Ulfig led all scorers with 18 points.

CASS CITY - Lindsay Maharg 3 (0-0) 6; Kelli VanVliet 1 (0-0) 2; Jill Wright 1 (0-2) 2; Peyton Daniel 2-1 (3-4) 10; Shelly Ulfig 5 (8-12) 18; Kara Mellendorf 1 (1-2) 3; Andrea Rea 1 (1-2) 3.
TOTALS - 14-1 (13-22) 44.

HARBOR BEACH - Rachel VanDeusse 2 (1-3) 5; Tami Nowiski 1 (3-3) 5; Steph Shedd 1 (3-3) 5; Mich. Wolschleger 1 (4-6) 6; Melissa Wolschleger 3 (2-2) 8; Lean Booms 3 (4-8) 10; Cort Kleinknecht 4 (0-0) 8; Stacey Suider 1 (0-0) 2.
TOTALS - 17 (15-25) 49.

Approve $15,000 grant

Doug Rothwell, chief executive officer of the Michigan Jobs Commission, announced the award of an Emergency Basic Readjustment Grant in the amount of $15,000 to serve approximately 150 employees affected by a mass layoff at the Active Industries Incorporated in Elkton.

The award will facilitate immediate assistance and basic readjustment services to affected workers and their families by providing such services as pre-layoff assistance, job search and development, orientation and assessment.

Funding is made available to the Thumb Area Employment and Training Consortium.

Owen-Gage bows to Arenac-Eastern

It had to happen sometime and Friday was unfortunately that time for the Owen-Gage Bulldogs. For the first time in the long history between the schools, Arenac Eastern defeated the 'Dogs, 21-6.

Coach Arnie Besonen said that a program the Eagles started is starting to pay off. They have little league football, he pointed out, and these juniors and seniors have been playing together for a long time.

Probably equally as fatal to Owen-Gage's chances for another win over their foes from the north was the loss for the season of quarterback Dion Dronsella with injury.

We had to move Austin Brinkman into the spot with just 4 days of practice. We don't like to play our quarterback on defense because of a possible injury but we have no choice, Besonen said.

The Bulldogs will need to jell in a hurry if they are to handle North Huron in the opening North Central Thumb D game. North Huron likes to throw the ball around and we will need to stop that if we are to have a chance for a win, Besonen feels.

Arenac Eastern scored the first touchdown of the game by taking advantage of a break. After a punt had set the Bulldogs inside the five, a fumble on third down with short yardage for a vital first down turned the ball over and from there the visitors scored when Kasey Bentley took a 9-yard pass from Ryan Huber.

The Bulldogs came charging back on their next possession and moved 60 yards in 9 plays to score and tie the game. Brinkman pushed over from a yard out.

Arenac went ahead to stay later in the second quarter on a 5-yard run by Rob Mitchell.

Arenac scored the clincher in the fourth quarter when Mitchell scored from the 2 yard line.

Wade Tetil had a fine game on defense. He was credited with 13 tackles, including a sack that stalled an Arenac drive. He also gained 57 yards rushing. Brinkman also starred, playing both ways. He turned in a creditable job at quarterback and had 11 tackles and one sack.

Kids' tourney set Sept. 16

Cass City will host its own punt, pass and kick contest for boys and girls ages 8 to 15 Sept. 16 at the Cass City Recreation Park football field.

A learning clinic will be held Saturday at the football field from 10 a.m. to noon.

The Sept. 16 competition, sponsored by Gatorade and slated to begin at 10 a.m., will feature 8 classifications based on age. Awards will be given to the top 3 finishers in each class.

Interested youth in grades 7 and 8 can sign up for the competition with their teacher. High school students can sign up at the high school office.

An all-area competition is scheduled for Sept. 24 at the Bad Axe High School football field starting at 2 p.m. Participants who qualify may go on to the sectional level Oct. 15 at 3 p.m. at Saginaw's Hoyt Park.

Winners from that competition will be eligible to take part in team championships at the Pontiac Silverdome during the Detroit-Tampa Bay game Nov. 12.

Get ready for Ubly, coach says after loss to Caro

It was a dismal start for the Cass City Red Hawks Friday as host Caro dominated the game in the first half to register an easy 36-6 win in the opening game for both teams.

Despite the loss, Coach Shane Robbins promised that Cass City fans will see a different team when the Hawks meet Ubly at home this Friday.

Ubly will be coming to town fresh from a 36-8 win over North Huron in which the Bearcats churned out 370 yards without attempting a pass all game.

It was a strong ground game that propelled the Tigers to the win. Caro opened the scoring with 7:23 left in the first period when Mark Curtis scored his first of 3 touchdowns in the first half on a 30-yard scamper around left end. Quarterback Mike Finkbeiner ran for the extra points.

The Tigers were able to gain consistent yardage around the end all of the first half. In his first varsity start, Curtis gained 147 yards as Caro dominated the line of scrimmage.

There was still a little over 4 minutes left in the quarter when the Tigers struck again, scoring from 20 yards out. Again the paydirt run was around the Hawk left side. This time Curtis rambled for 20 yards. The extra points pass was incomplete.

The Hawks were unable to rack up a first down after taking the kickoff and the Tigers started another drive from midfield, marching steadily down the field and overcoming a 15-yard penalty on the way to the score.

Again it was Curtis who chalked up the touchdown, this time from 9 yards out. Finkbeiner ran for the extra points.

Trailing 22-0, the Hawks staged a mini drive of their own with the next possession. Aron Romstad broke loose for 18 yards and a 15-yard penalty moved the ball to the Tiger 30. But that was as deep as Cass City was to penetrate in the first half and a desperation fourth down pass was intercepted by Caro.

Moving from their own 37, the Tigers scored again with 3:59 left in the half, moving steadily down the field. Garrett Keller plunged over from a yard out.

In the dying moments of the half, another Tiger drive was halted when Sam Spencer broke through and smeared Finkbeiner for a 13-yard loss.

Although the game was decided in the first half, Cass City players did not throw in the towel in the last half. The defense stiffened and the team traded touchdowns in the last 2 quarters.

The Hawk TD came in the last 10 seconds of the game on a 33-yard run by quarterback Chad Diegel.

Although disappointed by the results, Robbins was not dismayed. This team will get better every week, he feels, and our work ethic and attitude has been a plus in practice. We need to put the Caro game behind us and get ready for Ubly.

Romstad, with 6 carries for 45 yards, led Hawk runners, who had a total of 107 yards on the ground. One pass was completed for 10 yards to Spencer. Andy Gray, with 13 tackles, 3 unassisted, and Matt Oesch, with 12 tackles, 6 unassisted, led the Hawk defense.

JV WINS

The Hawk junior varsity got off to a flying start with a 20-6 decision over the Tiger JV.

All Saints win first league meet

When a defending Class C state golf champion finishes second in the Thumb C National League meet, you know that there are unusually strong players competing.

In the first league meet of the season at Marlette, Joe Clarkson of Cros-Lex shot a 36 to edge Brian Shark, who posted a 37. Another stroke back with a 38 was Cass City's Chad Tate, another member of the all-state team.

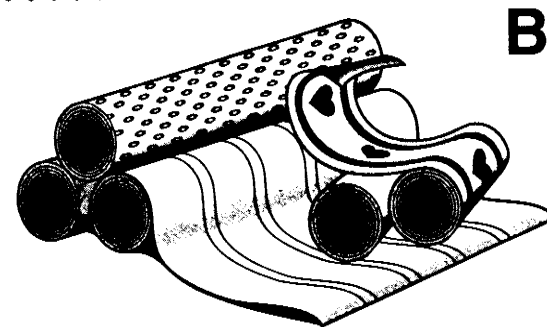

While Shark failed to win individual honors, his teammates at Bay City All Saints helped the Cougars win as expected. The final team standings and scores were: All Saints, 163; Bad Axe, 166; Cros-Lex, 171; Marlette, 175; Cass City 178; Lakers, 179.

Cass City golfers registered the following totals: Chad Zawilinski, 46; Josh Male, 47; Shawn Henn, 45.

CASEVILLE MEET

Led by Tate's 2 under par 35, Cass City had little trouble defeating Caseville, 173-196. For the Hawks Sam Hobbs shot 46, Chad Zawilinski, 49, and Josh Male, 43.

Cass City scouts benefit
Kulinski takes on second troop

A good scoutmaster is hard to find.

Just ask Nancy Wolschlag, who along with other Cass City Boy Scout officials have spent the past few weeks searching for a replacement for Scoutmaster Russ Hillaker, who had to leave Troop 594 due to a job transfer.

"We've done a lot of searching and asking," said Nancy, who serves as chairman of the Cass City Boy Scout Troop Committee. "I have found out that it is not easy to find a new scoutmaster." Despite the unsuccessful search, however, the local troop's 8 members won't be left high and dry, thanks to another area scoutmaster, Rick Kulinski, who has agreed to take on the Cass City troop along with his own, Troop 593, Deford.

He will be supported by Wolschlag as well as her husband, Robert, who is assistant scoutmaster for the Cass City troop.

Kulinski indicated it wasn't a difficult decision. "I just like helping out. I'm in it for the boys," he commented Thursday.

"If they don't have a scoutmaster, they lose interest, and once you lose the boys, you usually don't get them back."

Kulinski has been involved in Boy Scouting as a leader for about 5 years. He started out as an assistant Webelos leader, then, in 1993, formed the Deford troop, which has 6 active members.

"My wife and (son) Cory got involved in it at first, and I got started in it eventually myself," he said, noting his wife, Lora, is a cubmaster and outdoor activities director for the Thumb District. She is also in charge of the scouts' annual day camp held at Cass City Recreation Park.

ACTIVE

The couple's sons are both active in scouting; Cory, 14, is a Life Rank Scout — only one step away from the highest distinction of Eagle Scout — and Kevin, 10, is a Webelos Scout.

"My whole family is a camping family," Kulinski said, adding outdoor activities come naturally for him and are a big part of his family's life. It's also an important part of being a Boy Scout.

"Boy Scouting, to me, is good for the boys," he said. "I look at it as, a boy is achieving something, he's learning something, he's gaining something that he might not have had otherwise."

As for the demands on his time as scoutmaster, Kulinski pointed out it takes a lot of commitment.

"If you've got an 8-hour (a day) job, the rest of your time is involved in scouting," he said. "We've always got something going on. It's something we enjoy; that's why we're doing it."

Kulinski noted communication with the boys is a big part of his philosophy as a scoutmaster. "I give them a chance to give their opinions. I like the boys to know they have a say," he said.

A GM employee who works second shift, Kulinski has had to do some shuffling with his schedule, such as holding troop meetings on Saturday mornings, but he indicated his job hasn't kept him from enjoying back packing trips and other scouting activities.

COMMITTED

"He is very committed, very dedicated; they both are," Wolschlag said of Rick and Lora Kulinski, who have proven a willingness to give of themselves and their time to the Boy Scout program.

"There's a lot of time and devotion (involved)," she continued. "And time away from your family."

Scott Redman, Thumb District executive for the Lake Huron Area Council, said anyone considering volunteering as a scoutmaster should possess a strong desire to be involved in Boy

Scouting. "You'd like to have somebody who has had some scouting experience," he said. "You'd like it to be somebody who enjoys being with the kids, somebody who's going to be a good role model."

Local Boy Scout officials hope they will find such a person willing to become the new permanent scoutmaster of Cass City Troop 594.

In the meantime, the local boys will continue to benefit from Kulinski's leadership and love of scouting. And he's made it clear they can count on him for as long as it takes.

"I'm in it to stay," Kulinski concluded. "If they (Cass City troop) don't have a scoutmaster for the next 5 years, I'm here for them."

DEFORD SCOUTMASTER Rick Kulinski, who recently took on the added responsibility of serving as scoutmaster for Troop 594, Cass City, shares lunch with the scouts during a Labor Day weekend camping excursion at Pine Acres Camp near Caro.

Down Memory Lane

From the files of the Chronicle

5 YEARS AGO

Several young men from the area have been shipped to the Persian Gulf or expect to be on their way soon. They include Kevin Hartwick, 20, Jeff Krol, 19, Aaron LaPonsie, 20, Matt Peasley, 19, Chris Pawloski, 20, and Mike Hoppe, 20.

Rhoda M. (Fleming) Mengert and Mabel Fleming, twin daughters of John and Carolyn Fleming of Snover, have been appointed sergeants in the U.S. Air Force.

Several changes have occurred at the Caro and Cass City branch offices of Chemical Bank Bay Area. Douglas Herringshaw, senior vice-president, was placed in charge of the Caro office. He had been in charge of the Cass City office. Jim Bolton, senior vice-president, moved from the Caro office to the Cass City office. Beverly Perry was promoted to assistant vice-president of the Cass City office.

Lambert E. Althaver, chairman, president and chief executive officer of Walbro Corporation in Cass City, has been re-elected to the board of directors of the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce.

10 YEARS AGO

Police officials believe a 45-year-old Emmett man who has been arrested for the Oct. 24, 1984, robbery of the Capac State Savings Bank, Allenton, is the same robber who held up the Kingston State Bank less than one month later.

Hudson Crossties and Salvage Inc. was in the Deford

100 attend Bailey reunion

100 guests attended the Bailey reunion held at the home of G.I. Kippen in North Street Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 26 and 27.

The oldest person attending was Leila Muir Seidel of Port Huron. The youngest was Amy Jo Chockly of Algonac. The family with the largest group attending was the Kippen family.

Guests attended from Cass City, Uby, Dearborn, Taylor, Chesaning, St. Clair, Kalkaska, South Boardman, Marysville, Port Huron, Ruby, Jenison, Wales Township, Laingsburg, Port Hope, Belleville, Garden City, Yale, Riverview, Clarkston, Sterling, Jonesville, Algonac and Toledo, Ohio.

area, north of Deckerville Road, last week removing ties from the old Grand Trunk railbed. About 250 railroad ties have been stolen from the railbeds south of Cass City. A $50 reward is being offered for any information on the thefts.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Reid returned home recently from a month's stay in Europe.

Krista Iseler of Cass City was awarded second place in fitting and showmanship at the 4-H Horse Show Aug. 20 at Michigan State University.

Don Schelke and Ron Nurnberger were presented rings last week from McConkey Jewelry for "years of dedication in education and athletics."

Plans for the first harvest festival in Cass City are about complete. One of the big events will be a "pajama party" from 7 to 10 p.m. Merchants and clerks will work in pajamas and customers that wear pajamas that evening will be given special discounts at many stores Thursday.

25 YEARS AGO

Seven cattle owned by Erla Packing Co. of Cass City are missing after a herd of 25 animals was mysteriously let loose last week from the pens at the company's slaughtering house, a quarter mile south of Cass City on Cemetery Road.

Bruce Hendrick, 29, was treated at Hills and Dales General Hospital after he accidentally shot himself in the foot Friday morning while squirrel hunting.

Cass Cityans have a rare opportunity to learn first hand about South Africa and meet 6 of its outstanding citizens Friday in an open meeting at the Cultural Center. Tom Proctor, Rotary governor-elect from Cass City, is the chairman of the Rotary program that brought the 6 men into District 631.

An all night bargaining session Tuesday failed to bring agreement between the Vassar Education Association and the Vassar Board of Education, and school there failed to open on schedule.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Cody and Sandy, Mrs. Amor Richardson and family and Mrs. Carmen Alcantara spent the weekend up north and walked across the Mackinac Bridge on Labor Day.

35 YEARS AGO

Miss Mary Ann Hobart, 18, of Gagetown was crowned Michigan Bean Queen in Fairgrove Monday at the 14th annual Michigan Bean Festival.

State Police troopers Noel

Rowe and Joel Gorzen of the Bad Axe post are still investigating a fire on the Henry LaFave farm near Gagetown, which burned an acre of wheat and oat stubble Sept. 1. LaFave said 2 fires were also discovered on his property Aug. 31.

William Yorko of Cass City spent 2 months in the Ukraine, visiting a son he had not seen in 48 years. Yorko was born in the Ukraine. He came to the United States in 1913, hoping to make his fortune and return home to his wife and son, but because of the series of wars that followed, he never was able to get back. His wife later remarried.

Mrs. Clare Carpenter, Cass City, topped the field in the first annual Michigan bean recipe contest held in conjunction with the Michigan Bean Festival at Fairgrove Monday. Her winning entry was a bean cake. Mrs. Edward Golding of Cass City won third place with her Greek bean salad.

Training set to begin

Seek volunteer advocates

Tuscola County Sheriff Thomas Kern recently announced that training for volunteer advocates in the Sheriff's Office Victim Advocacy program will begin Sept. 13.

The victim advocacy program is being put into place by the department to help victims of serious crimes as well as victims of accidents, fires, etc., in Tuscola County. The program is staffed by volunteers who will work with sheriff's deputies at the crime scene. The volunteer advocates will see to the needs and comfort of a victim of crime - literally at the scene.

The role of the advocate does not end at the crime scene, however. The advocate will guide the victim through the criminal justice process to the point where their case goes to trial, when the victim assistance unit of the prosecuting attorney takes over.

Volunteer advocates go through an intense 40 hour training conducted by Lori LaCross, a victim advocate coordinator working for the Michigan Sheriffs' Association. The training is a program of the Michigan Sheriffs' Association Educational Services, a non-profit organization that provides training and education to sheriffs and their departments statewide.

The training will take place at the Tuscola County

Sheriff's Office Sept. 13, 14, 15, from 6 to 10 p.m.; Sept. 16 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.; Sept. 21 and 22 from 6 p.m. to 10 p.m., and Sept. 23 from 9 a.m. with graduation in the afternoon.

Anyone interested in participating in the Victims Advocacy Program is asked to contact the sheriff's office as soon as possible at 673-8169.

McLarty reunion held

Approximately 60 guests attended the annual McLarty reunion Sunday, Aug. 27, in Canatara Park, Pt. Edward, Ontario, Canada.

Traveling the greatest distance were Mr. and Mrs. Brian "Red" McLarty and family from Smithville, Ontario. The oldest guests were Clarence Rossman, 89, and his wife Mildred, 83, of Owosso. They have been married 64 years.

The youngest was Brett, 10 months, the son of Jim and Kim Foss, Mt. Clemens.

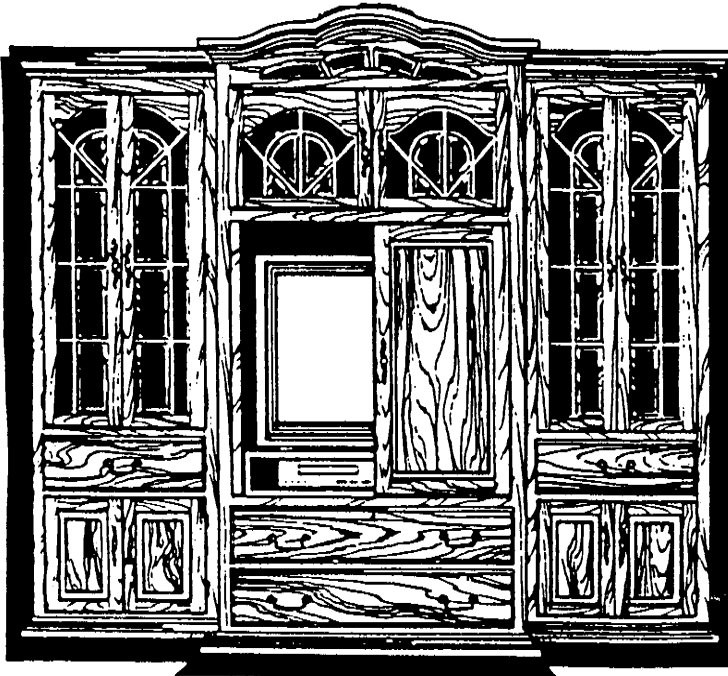

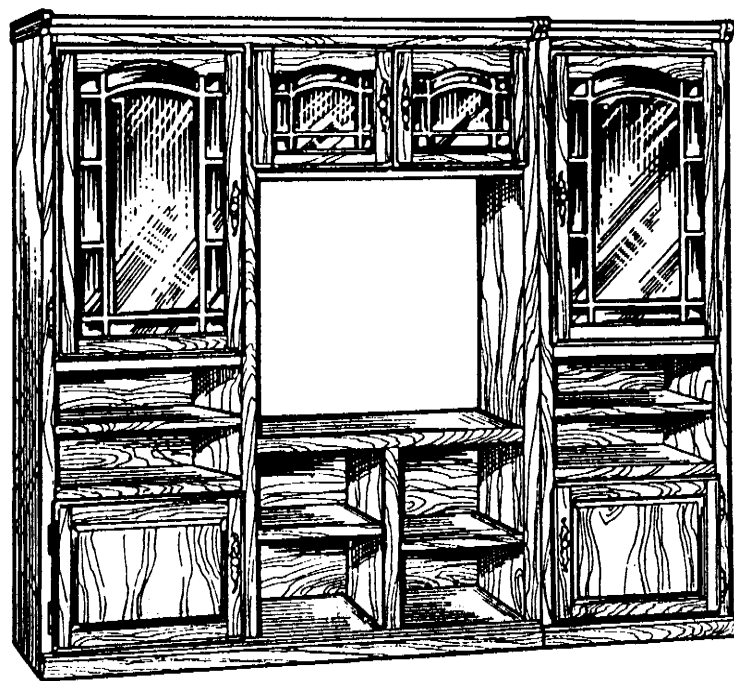

Brett's great-grandmother, Arvilla Jobse, had 14 members of her family present.

Dale Ostrander, Mt. Morris, acted as auctioneer for the white elephant sale.

Officers for 1996 are president, William McLarty, Dorchester, Ontario; vice-president, Evelyn McLarty, Dryden; game committee, Arlene and Jessica Furden, Mt. Morris, and secretary, Deloris Willerton, Midland.

The 1996 reunion will be held at the same location the fourth Sunday in August.

"BUNIONS"

One of the most common questions from my patients is, "What causes bunions?" There is no simple answer since so many factors play a role in this progressive deformity.

The foot that is strained or structurally weak can produce an abnormal bony enlargement of the joint near the big toe. The foot widens at the front; the big toe leans to the side resulting in loss of balance and power in the foot muscles.

This abnormal function may cause osteoarthritis early in life. I must add that heredity and fashionable shoes cannot escape blame and may be why women are more commonly afflicted.

The treatment varies depending on the severity. Surgery usually relieves pain associated with bunions. The procedure may involve removal of the bony enlargement, lengthening or shortening of tendons or removal of a wedge of bone from the metatarsal.

In non-surgical cases, we have found physical therapy along with orthotic devices which offer some functional control may offer sufficient relief.

In any event, there is no need to suffer. Modern medical technology offers alternate treatments for this distressing foot condition.

Carl Andrew Vasbinder, 92, of Marlette, formerly of Applegate, died Monday, Aug. 28, in Marlette. He was born May 15, 1903 in Mayville, to Charles and Alice Mae (Boucher) Vasbinder.

He married Olive Lennon Sept. 4, 1944 in Port Huron. She died Nov. 11, 1992.

He lived and farmed in the Applegate area for 20 years. He was a member of Croswell Community Baptist Church.

Mr. Vasbinder is survived by one son, David and Barb Vasbinder of Kingston; one daughter, Carol and Mark Tuckey of Cass City, and 5 grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Wednesday, Aug. 30, at the Marsh Funeral Chapel, Marlette, with the Rev. John R. Allan officiating.

Burial was at Rich Township Cemetery in Mayville. Memorials may be given to the Gideons.

Patricia Wagner

Patricia Jane Wagner, 64, of Cass City, died Sunday, Aug. 27, at University of Michigan Hospital, Ann Arbor.

She was born Jan. 12, 1931 in Decker, the daughter of Lloyd and Laura (Chase) Hyde. She married Frederick E. Wagner Sept. 7, 1950 in Caro.

Mrs. Wagner graduated from Marlette High School in 1948. She received her Associates Degree from Saginaw Valley. She worked for Pinney Bank for 18 years, for Mutual Savings & Loan for 3 years and for Genesee County Department of Social Services as a payments worker for 12 1/2 years. Pat was the organist for the Novesta Church of Christ for many years. She was past president and member of the Cass City BPW, member of White Pine Chapter of Embroiders Guild of America, American Needlepoint Guild, Swartz Creek Smockers Guild, and Grand Blanc Embroiders Guild. Along with her husband she belonged to the Rocking 8's square dancing group. They were also members of the Corkpine Campers of Vassar.

Mrs. Wagner is survived by her husband, Fred; a daughter, Brenda Sue (Val) Fezatte of Lansing; her mother, Laura Hyde of Lapeer; grandchildren, Aaron Frederick and Kimberly Sue Fezatte, both of Lansing; sisters, Norma (Wilford) Hook of Walled Lake and Janice Paul of Shelby Township; a sister-in-law, Pat (Ervin) Wilson of Fairgrove; several aunts, uncles, nieces, nephews and cousins. She was preceded in death by her father, Lloyd.

Funeral services were held Friday, Sept. 1, in Novesta Church of Christ with Chuck Emmert officiating.

Memorials may be made to the Leader Dogs for the Blind or the Humane Society of Michigan.

Interment is in Elkland Township Cemetery.

Arrangements were by Little & Kranz Funeral Home, Cass City.

Beware of silo gas danger

Farmers who will be handling corn for silage need to be mindful about the danger of nitrogen dioxide -- silo gas -- which can accumulate rapidly in the silo.

Exposure to silo gas can cause permanent injury or death.

"The highest concentrations of nitrogen oxides usually occur 48 hours after the silo is filled, but no one should go into a silo for 4 to 6 weeks after filling," says Howard Doss, Michigan State University Extension agricultural safety specialist.

Nitrogen dioxide is heavier than air, so it may form yellowish layers of mist above the silage or drop down the silo chute. The strong silage odor can mask nitrogen dioxide's bleachlike odor. However, it may be present even if it can't be seen or smelled.

When silo gas is highly concentrated, it can kill a person in a matter of seconds, along with anyone who attempts a rescue, Doss says.

In low concentrations, silo gas damages the respiratory system when nitrogen dioxide combines with moisture in the lungs to form nitric acid. This acid can severely and permanently damage respiratory tract tissue.

The effects include severe irritation that may lead to inflammation of the lungs, though the victim may feel little pain or discomfort. Exposure symptoms -- shortness of breath, a faint feeling and flu-like illness -- can frequently be delayed for several days.

"A person may inhale silo gas for a short time and notice no effects," Doss says. "But he or she may go to bed several hours later and die while sleeping because of the fluid that has collected in the lungs."

Frequently, a relapse with symptoms similar to those of flu or pneumonia occurs one to two weeks after initial recovery from the exposure.

"The majority of people who develop initial silo gas exposure symptoms could also develop secondary ailments, according to medical experts," Doss says. "For this reason, it is extremely important that anyone exposed to silo gas immediately seek medical attention, regardless of the degree of these symptoms."

Silo gas begins to form almost as soon as silo filling begins.

"It is most likely to develop one to three days after the silage has been made," Doss says. "If a mechanical breakdown occurs or the filler pipe clogs, the problem should be corrected immediately. Waiting overnight to do the task adds the risk of silo gas buildup in the silo."

Doss strongly advises using self-contained breathing equipment if someone needs to enter a silo soon after it was filled.

"Wearing anything less could be deadly to anyone inside the silo during the first 4 to 6 weeks after silo filling," he says.

Farmers who absolutely must enter a silo during or just after filling should follow these general procedures:

-- Enter the silo right after a load has been blown in.

-- Open the silo doors to the level of the silage to allow any silo gas present to drain out of the silo.

-- Run the blower at the base of the silo 15 to 30 minutes before entering to force fresh air in above the silage, and leave it running all the time you are in the silo. Ventilate the silo chute to the outside with fans.

-- If at all possible, wear self-contained breathing apparatus when entering the silo within 4 to 6 weeks after it was filled.

-- No one should ever work alone in a silo. Always work in pairs so someone can go for help in an emergency.

Under state law, all farm employees must follow the Michigan Department of Public Health regulations for entering a confined space.

Ventilate the silo room adequately for 2 weeks after filling is completed by keeping windows and doors open, but make sure the door between the silo room and the barn is kept closed to prevent silo gas from killing livestock.

Weekend accidents

Two die in separate crashes

Troopers said Dorman was transported by Sanilac Ambulance to Deckerville Community Hospital for treatment.

Bonacci was taken to McKenzie Memorial Hospital, Sandusky, for emergency treatment, then transferred by FlightCare Helicopter to St. Mary's Medical Center, Saginaw, where she died at 6:25 p.m.

Later the same day in Tuscola County, Christopher W. McInnis, 13, of Vassar, died from injuries he suffered when he was struck by a vehicle shortly after 4 p.m. near M-15 and Rupprecht Road, about a mile south of Vassar.

Tuscola County Sheriff's deputies said Christopher came out from a driveway at Vet's Park and walked into the path of a southbound vehicle driven by David R. White, 22, of Millington.

The boy was taken to St. Mary's Medical Center by FlightCare Helicopter. He was pronounced dead at 2:06 a.m. Sunday.

Deputies were assisted at the scene by the Vassar Police and Fire departments, Vassar Area Ambulance, Echo 351 and troopers from the state police post in Caro.

2 RESCUED

Earlier in the week, a pair of witnesses are credited with possibly saving the lives of 2 men whose vehicle struck a ditch and caught fire in Sanilac County's Evergreen Township.

The accident occurred Thursday at about 7:45 p.m. on Germania Road, about a half-mile north of Shabbona Road.

Troopers reported James E. Partaka, 23, of Minden City, was driving north on Germania Road when he lost control of his vehicle. The car slid off the roadway, rolled over into a ditch on the west side and started to burn. Witnesses told troopers the vehicle was traveling at a high rate of speed just prior to the crash.

Troopers said 2 men who live near the accident scene, Robert L. Fader and Billi J. Hawley, extinguished the fire and assisted Partaka and his passenger, James R. Guigar, 31, of Ubyly, out of the vehicle.

Both occupants were transported to Hills and Dales General Hospital in Cass City for emergency treatment. Guigar was treated and released, and Partaka was taken by FlightCare Helicopter to St. Mary's Medical Center, where he was admitted and later released.

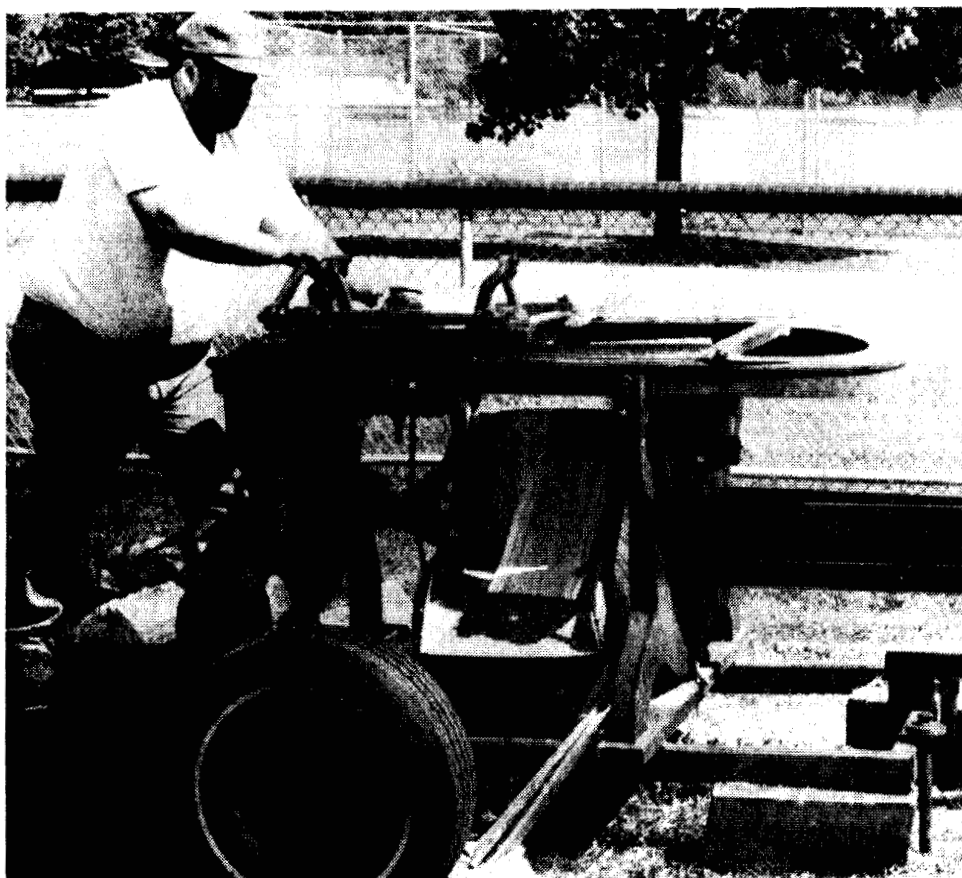

Neither man was wearing a seat belt at the time of the crash. Alcohol was a factor in the accident, according to troopers, who are continuing their investigation.

THE OLD FASHIONED way — Area residents, Dave and Oscar Wilder and Duane Rushlo, all members of the Thumb Area Old Engine and Tractor Association, demonstrated an old fashioned shingle mill to Campbell Elementary students Friday. Above, Dave Wilder explains the operation.

SOMEBODY'S GOT to do it. Cass City DPW employees Jason Mohr (left) and Al Prosowski recently had the unenviable task of cleaning out the village's more than 400 storm sewer catch basins. The annual maintenance chore takes about 2 weeks to complete, according to Village Manager Lou S. LaPonsie.

DAVE WILDER shows Cass City students how wood shingles were cut in the old days, using a mill powered by his own 1948 McCormick Farmall H Tractor.

MSU on internet

Farmers, researchers and government officials from across the United States gathered in Florida recently for the Farm Animal Computer Technologies '95 Conference. The meeting provided an opportunity to learn more about agriculture on the "information superhighway." Among the many Internet sites that can be found on the graphic interface known as the Worldwide Web is one for the Michigan State University School of Agriculture and Natural Resources.

During pregnancy, a woman's heart increases its output of oxygen by half to three-fourths more than normal to provide for the needs of the unborn baby.
