Charge 2 in Vassar burglaries

Two men were recently arraigned in Tuscola County District Court in connection with 3 burglaries in Vassar Township.

Courtney E. Bedell, 26, Lapeer, and Brian D. Bedell Sr., 28, each face 3 counts of second degree home invasion, 3 counts of conspiracy to commit home invasion, 3 counts of larceny in a building and 3 counts of possession of stolen property valued at more than $100.

The charges stem from burglaries Sept. 1 and Sept. 4, according to court records, which state the pair are accused of stealing compound bows, arrows and a bow case, rifles, compact discs and a compact disc player, a spotlight, fish finder, hockey cards, cameras and camera accessories.

Bond was set at a combined $60,000 for Courtney Bedell and $30,000 for Brian Bedell. Both face preliminary examinations Oct. 3 at 1:30 p.m.

In other recent district court proceedings, Joshua L. Brown, 17, Vassar, was arraigned on a charge of unlawful use of a motor vehicle Aug. 30 in Fremont Township.

Bond was set at $1,000 and a preliminary exam was scheduled for Oct. 6 at 9 a.m.

Future uncertain

Board seeks middle school fire inspection

The special meeting of the Cass City School Board was held to set the tax rate for the next fiscal year, but the focus of the meeting last Wednesday was what to do about the middle school building.

The tax rate renewal was 6 mills for most taxpayers and 18 mills for industry, non-homestead property owners and businesses.

After a lengthy discussion, the board asked that Supt. Ken Micklash make a formal request for a fire inspection of the building.

That may result in any number of options for the school, none of them pleasant.

There is no doubt that the middle school building will not meet today's fire code requirements. The question is how much money will be required to keep the building open?

It could cost millions of dollars to bring the building up to code and make it handicapped accessible.

If minimum requirements to keep the school open would cost $150,000 or less, the school could probably meet that cost (from its healthy contingency fund), Micklash said.

If the cost were greater than that, we would have no choice but to go back to the voters with a bond issue.

Another concern is the age of the boiler in the building. It's 30 years old and will probably need replacing in the near future.

In addition to deciding what to do about the building's safety, the audience and the board debated what could be done to have voters realize how serious the situation is.

One suggestion was a video to show to the public at various meetings. Another was to apprise the township boards of the issue before the vote.

Sandra Papovich, a school critic, was asked what she felt should be done. You might go out and ask the no voters why they voted as they did, she said.

OTHER BUSINESS

•Citing an accident that happened to a cross-country runner training on public roads in Sandusky, trustee Fred Matthews noted that runners from Cass City were seen on the road also.

Micklash said that it was a legitimate concern and made a note to have the school stop the practice.

•Diane Tuckey was named to be the early childhood teacher.

•A request was made to have children's enrichment courses right after school for children with parents who are working. The staff will investigate and try to establish a program.

Plan for recreation

Demolition set for "Wesley" building

The former Wesley's Milk Plant in Cass City apparently will be demolished, 6 years after the business closed.

After repeated contacts over the past several months with officials at Farmer Jack, the building owner, bids are being sought for a contractor to tear the structure down, Village President L.E. Althaver and Village Manager Lou S. LaPonsie told Village Council trustees Monday night.

Wesley's, located at the southeast corner of Main and Maple streets, opened for business Jan. 2, 1947, according to Gerald Stilson of Cass City, who was there the first day the plant started taking in milk to manufacture butter and condensed milk.

Prior to that, Stilson said, McLellan's Creamery operated in a small building at the same site for a number of years.

Stilson was plant manager at Wesley's when the business closed in September 1989, putting nearly a dozen people out of work.

In recent years the structure has been the target of vandals who have broken into the building repeatedly, painting graffiti both inside and outside and smashing windows.

The building's state of disrepair has also been a point of concern.

PLAN UPDATE

Turning to other matters during the monthly meeting, the council approved spending $5,500 to update the village's 5-year recreation plan.

The work will be done by Vilican-Leman & Associates Inc., Southfield.

Vilican-Leman's bid was $500 more than the lowest bid submitted. However, Althaver recommended awarding the contract to the firm because of its familiarity with the community, having drafted the village's current recreation plan.

Other bids were submitted by Gove Associates Inc., Lansing, $5,026; Rowe Engineering, Caro, $5,980, and Toshach, Sobczak, Spence, Forsythe, Saginaw, $10,000-$12,000.

The long-term recreation plan includes information regarding the community, its recreational facilities and their use, as well as a prioritized list of future improvement projects.

Althaver pointed out the plan is a must if the village plans to apply for DNR grants in the future.

Having such a plan on file with the DNR doesn't guarantee an application will be approved, but it does help, he said, adding the village would never have received grant funds for the new walking trail had a recreation plan not been in place. In all, the grants used to complete the trail totaled some $60,000.

IN OTHER BUSINESS

In other business Monday, the council:

•Received some good news in the form of a $5,166 check from Ford Motor Co., covering several transmission repair bills for a village-owned police car.

LaPonsie explained repeated attempts to have the car fixed since it was purchased in 1991 resulted in some $5,000 in repair bills and a transmission that still didn't work properly.

Eventually, LaPonsie said, the car and repair receipts were taken to a Huron County Ford dealership, which arranged for the reimbursement plus a new transmission for the car, which will be sold on bids in the near future.

Plan open house for Mary Wald's 100th birthday

Mary Wald has lived through much of what today's youngsters can only read about in their history classes.

With 99 birthdays behind her and the next one less than a week away, the Gagetown area native has seen countless historical events unfold during her lifetime.

When she was born, Oct. 2, 1895, Grover Cleveland, the nation's 24th (and 22nd) president was in office; William Roentgen used x-rays to photograph bones and internal organs of living patients for the first time; and the first professional football game was played in Latrobe, Pa.

Women couldn't vote, and wouldn't be extended that right for another 25 years.

Closer to home, Cass City had 2 newspapers at the time — the Enterprise and the Tri-County Chronicle. There were no paved streets or a sewage system, and the sidewalks were constructed out of wooden boards.

Wald was born just 4 years after automobiles were first introduced to the area. She was just 3 when the first telephone line was strung in town.

Ask the area resident about the secret to longevity and she's likely to chuckle and tell you she doesn't know of any.

"I had this aunt who used to say, 'when your work was done, why, that was it,'" she commented Thursday morning at the Dale Road home she shares with her sister-in-law, Alma Wald. "So, I don't know, I guess I must still have some work to do. Maybe that's it."

NEVER IDLE

"I never was idle," she recalled. "When I was young, the days were never long enough and the yard wasn't full of toys."

Wald is one of 6 children born to George and Theresa (Mall) Wald less than a mile from her present home. The homestead was settled by her grandparents, German immigrants who came to the area from Canada nearly 130 years ago.

Although the years have taken a toll on her eyesight and hearing, she has little problem remembering her childhood and the family farm.

"Of course, we had cattle — they had a few cows — and they always raised a few pigs," said Wald, who recalled attending the nearby Bingham School. "I went for 9 years, I guess," she added.

Wald indicated she didn't have a lot of free time, what with chores on the farm, and "there was always a lot of work to do because my dad died when we were just young."

But she recalls having plenty of fun as child. It was a much simpler time, when kids didn't have dozens of high-tech toys to choose from.

"We had dolls and a cradle, and their small chairs," she said. "But there wasn't all that fancy stuff. We made our own fun."

She recalled her mother fashioning a baseball out of a stocking and cord, and the children turning an old board into a bat. Wald also remembers a rope swing hanging from a tree in the yard, and the hours of fun had by chasing canaries and catching bees in a bottle.

Listening and watching for a passing car also was exciting, she pointed out. "Ninety years ago, you know, you didn't see too many automobiles."

ACTIVE LIFESTYLE

As she grew up, Wald embraced an active lifestyle. "I worked at home and I've worked for people who would want something done," she said. "I've done a lot of baby sitting and I used to sew a lot."

A veteran member of the Elmwood Quilters, Wald has created dozens of quilts in her lifetime and still enjoys working on them at home.

Season opens Sunday

DNR issues more Thumb deer permits

Bow hunters will get the first crack this weekend at what looks to be a decent-sized deer herd in the Thumb.

The archery deer season gets underway Sunday and continues through Nov. 14.

The traditional firearm season is set for Nov. 15-30, and the muzzleloading season is Dec. 1-10 in the Upper Peninsula and Dec. 8-17 in the Lower Peninsula. Bow hunters can return to the field Dec. 1 and hunt through Jan. 1.

There are few rule changes this year. An exception is permanent hunting blinds, which are no longer allowed on public lands.

In addition, in the Upper Peninsula, hunters won't be allowed to use a second buck license to take a buck in areas that are open to hunting antlerless deer.

Archers and gun hunters alike can expect to see more deer this fall than they did last year, according to the DNR, which has increased the number of antlerless deer permits, partly in response to a rise in crop damage complaints.

Car-deer accident numbers also indicate the whitetail population is growing.

"They (accidents) seem to be up all over the state, but certainly in the 3 Thumb counties, they're up," commented Bud Jarvis, a wildlife biologist at the DNR's Cass City field office. "We're taking nearly 1,000 deer a year (per county)."

Statewide, the number of antlerless permits available this year totals 195,524, almost twice the number issued in 1994.

In the Thumb, DNR officials plan to issue roughly 25 percent more antlerless permits this year.

According to Jarvis, hunters bagged 478 antlerless deer in the Cass City area last year.

The deer were taken in Deer Management Unit 223, a 355-square-mile area bordered by M-24 to the west, Bay City-Forestville Road to the north, M-53 to the east and Mayville Road to the south.

Another 264 antlerless deer were shot in Unit 224, which is comprised of 427 square miles in western Huron County. In eastern Huron County and northern Sanilac County, a 732-square-mile area known as Unit 124, hunters bagged 1,434 antlerless deer last year. The antlerless kill totaled 161 Please turn to back page.

THE DEER SEASON gets underway Sunday, and bow hunters will get the first crack at the Thumb's growing whitetail herd. Gun hunters can also look forward to a good season with the prospects of an early corn harvest this fall.

Meg's Peg Bears

by Melva E. Guinther

Looking through my files recently, I discovered that I officially began collecting teddy bears back in 1986. That was when I came out of the closet and admitted that I love teddy bears.

Prior to that, I always rationalized by buying them for other people.

I'm a modest collector compared to some. Marilyn Stec told me recently that she had hundreds of bears before giving them up when they moved. At last count mine numbered a mere 16, not counting the 6 or 8 Christmas bears who come out of hibernation only for the holidays.

First it was only the cuddliest, cutest bears in the shops. Then it became a souvenir thing — teddy bears from places we visited to which we might never return.

Now I have to admit that I sometimes race small children to snatch up any old garage sale orphan bear.

There's just something about a stuffed bear. It's hard to define their appeal.

But they don't all have it. A brand new pair of "kissing bears" that had magnets on their noses and made kissing sounds when squeezed, didn't have it. I ended up donating them to a white elephant auction.

A couple of well worn garage sale castoffs costing 25 cents and a dollar, respectively, did.

I try to limit myself to bears that are different in some way, so as not to have a cloned collection. Most of them are soft, cuddly and lovable. Then there's Banger. He's a beat-up old timer picked up at an antique shop. His main appeal was his navel. Most teddy bears don't have one, you know.

The bears' names indicate where they came from. You might think it's an effort to maintain their heritage or some such lofty goal.

The truth is that it's designed to help me remember where I got them, in case anybody ever asks. As we age and inevitably acquire more bears, it gets harder and harder to keep them straight.

Hence, Collins is the rascally bear my daughter bought me in Colorado. Cal came from the student union bookstore at the University of California - Berkeley, BB from the Basic Brown Bear Factory in San Francisco, where you pick out the "fur" and stuff your own bear, and Ed from Edziks' garage sale.

So far my husband hasn't complained. The bears are more or less confined to a room we don't use all that much. And after all, I could be collecting something much bigger or more expensive — like golf clubs.

Rabbit Tracks

by John Haire

(And anyone else he can get to help.)

Keeping busy has been a way of life for area resident Mary Wald, who is getting ready to celebrate her 100th birthday Oct. 2.

In fact, it took some doing for her to fit news editor Tom Montgomery into her busy schedule for an interview. She's the absolute envy of all of us in the grey hair set.

A free inspection of cars indicated that the top deficiency in cars occurred in one of 5 inspected. Can you guess? It was a dirty air filter.

That may be the most common, but far the most aggravating deficiency is a battery that has gone sour. Nothing is more annoying than a car that won't start.

Sad note. I'm a Cass City High School and Michigan State University football fan. Enough said.

A little item from the Michigan Trivia book. The question: During the 1830s and 1840s, what was the approximate price paid in Detroit land offices for the timber-rich Saginaw Valley lands?

Alger man arraigned

An Alger man was arraigned last week in Tuscola County Circuit Court on a charge of probation violation — failure to report to his supervising agent anytime after June 19, 1995.

Gary W. Woolman, 46, pleaded guilty to the charge. His pre-sentence investigation was ordered updated and bond was continued at $500. Sentencing is to be scheduled.

Investigate burglary, theft

Cass City police are investigating a reported burglary at the Homestead at the Northwood Lake construction site just west of Northwood Shores Golf Course.

According to reports, developer Harold Deering reported a person or persons broke off the door handle to the front door of a building, then kicked the door in, breaking the door jamb. A garage door was also forced open, but apparently no property was taken.

Damage to the door was estimated at $100.

Also last week, Michael Rule, Decker, reported Sept. 19 that someone entered his pickup truck and removed a 7-band equalizer valued at $150. The vehicle was parked at Orbital Fluid Technologies, 4260 Doerr Rd., when the theft occurred, reports indicate.

Patricia Boldizar, 6452 Lakeside Dr., reported someone struck the hood of her car with a hammer or other hard object Sept. 17 at about 9:30 p.m. No damage estimate was available.

"If It Fitz...."

This is truly a lawless society

By Jim Fitzgerald

On I-75, as the blinking police car in my rear view mirror signaled for me to pull over, my wife said: "I've warned you a hundred times that Tennessee police are strict about speeding."

"We are in Kentucky," I said.

"Them too," she said.

What this nation needs is clearly stated, uniformly enforced speed limits on interstate freeways. We could also use fewer spouses who believe there are no limits, geographical or otherwise, on the instant conversion of hindsight into foresight.

Everyone knows the posted 55 and 65 mph limits are a joke. But how big a joke? For many years, when the road ahead is clear enough, I've set the cruise control on 65 for 55, and 80 for 65. This way I can pretty much keep up with traffic, except for tractor-trailers thundering downhill, which are why rest stops were invented.

For many thousands of miles, in Kentucky and everywhere else, this policy brought me not one speeding ticket. Until last month, when suddenly this Kentucky state cop charges me with going 15 miles over the 65 limit. Was he going through a change of life, an unearthly spiritual conversion, or what?

We were in Florida, driving north from Naples to Ft. Myers Beach on a narrow two-lane coastal road, the only access to our destination, where we were to pick up two women and take them out to dinner. We got caught in a never-explained traffic jam that repeatedly slowed to complete long stops. It was soon apparent that we'd be at least one hour late for our date.

Except my wife couldn't stand the thought of her good friends waiting so long at a curb. Noting that the road intermittently expanded to include a long middle lane for turning only, she commanded me to use it, swiftly, although I had no intention of turning, and then force snarling, law-abiding motorists to let me back in the regular lane or I would dent their fenders.

OF COURSE, THERE ARE EXCEPTIONS

When I pointed out that we were breaking the law, my wife said it was OK because this was an emergency. As we neared our goal, only a few minutes late, she even ordered me to briefly drive the wrong way on a one-way street. From the look in her eyes, I suspected she was becoming a serial traffic law violate.

I followed my wife's criminal demands — after she put them in writing on the back of a road map — only in the hope of being caught by the law. I yearned to hear her tell a police officer about her two abandoned friends, prostrate on a curb, striving to death within sight of 15 restaurants.

But you can never find a cop when you really need one.

My only possible recourse was provided later, by a posted restriction violated even more often than freeway speed limits. I mean those pool signs that order, "Shower Before Swimming."

There was such a sign where we frequently swam for a month. While my wife dog-paddled, I told everyone I could find that she hadn't showered in several days. But no one cared.

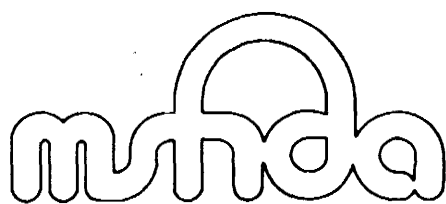

This is truly a lawless society.

It's been over 4 years now since my grocery shopping career started and I still don't have the hang of it.

The way that I tend to do it is wait until the supply runs out and then go and buy whatever it is I need.

Most times the purchase is made in a hurry. Grab what's needed and get on with it.

That's not the way to do it, I'm constantly advised. Spending money needlessly. There's no argument about that and to tell the truth, I have a guilty feeling when I go into Erla's on Thursday instead of Wednesday to get the 5 percent discount offered senior citizens.

Of course, I don't believe that senior citizens should get preferential treatment just because they happen to be long-lived. But make no mistake, as long as it is offered, I'm happy to take it. But that's another story.

The topic is shopping. When I first started filling my shelves with grocery items, I often got the right stuff but the wrong variety. Coffee was coffee to me and only when I got it home did I realize that I had to take it back because coffee has special grinds for different coffee makers.

The years have cured me of that, except once in a while I still forget to look at the date on the milk jug and wind up with milk that has to be drunk pronto or turn sour.

The battle with the coupons hasn't improved so you would notice it. Folks keep trying. There's a stack of coupons that they have clipped out that adorns my kitchen cupboard.

One of them was for Liquid Plumber, something that was needed just as the coupon was offered.

Not only that, the coupon was for a buck. One whole dollar. That's something worthwhile. Yes, I know that quarters add up, too. I feel mildly guilty when the items in my shopping bag match some of the coupons at home, never used.

But a buck is a buck, is a buck. So I carefully clutched that dollar coupon with my shopping list which listed Drano, even though Liquid Plumber was the drain opener of choice.

No need to tell you what happened. When I scooted through the shopping aisles and got to the check-out my drain cleaner was Drano, which I took home along with my $1 coupon.

True story.

Cass City Public Schools
PROGRESS IN EDUCATION
from the desk of Ken Micklash, Superintendent

In view of the recent defeat of the middle school bond election, many people have asked, "What is going to happen now?" The answer to this question is difficult to say because we just do not positively know at this point, what will happen.

We do know that the following situations still exist.

1. Middle school educational facility upgrades are needed.
2. Handicap accessibility problems exist.
3. Fire code regulation concerns are present.

Because of these concerns, the Board of Education has directed school officials to request a fire review from the State Fire Marshal. This was done with the safety of our children in the forefront.

Additionally, a survey will be developed which asks for people's input about what possible future direction to take. This will be randomly sent to citizens within our community.

Questions can be sent to me at 4868 N. Seeger St., Cass City, MI 48726.

Thank you.

Decimated O-G grid squad bows to Peck

Saturday was a dismal day for the Owen-Gage Bulldogs as the team was overpowered by the Peck Pirates, 45-6, and prospects for a win at C-PS this Saturday aren't particularly bright.

We are down to 16 players, Coach Arnie Besonen lamented. Just last week 6 players were declared ineligible and injuries depleted the squad that had 29 players when the season started. The Bulldogs were forced to play 3 rookie freshmen with predictable results.

The Pirates scored early and often, settling the outcome with a big 3-touchdown splurge in the second quarter to take a 27-6 half-time lead.

The Pirates' Jim Welch scored 3 of the team's touchdowns in the first half with runs of a yard, 61 yards and 12 yards.

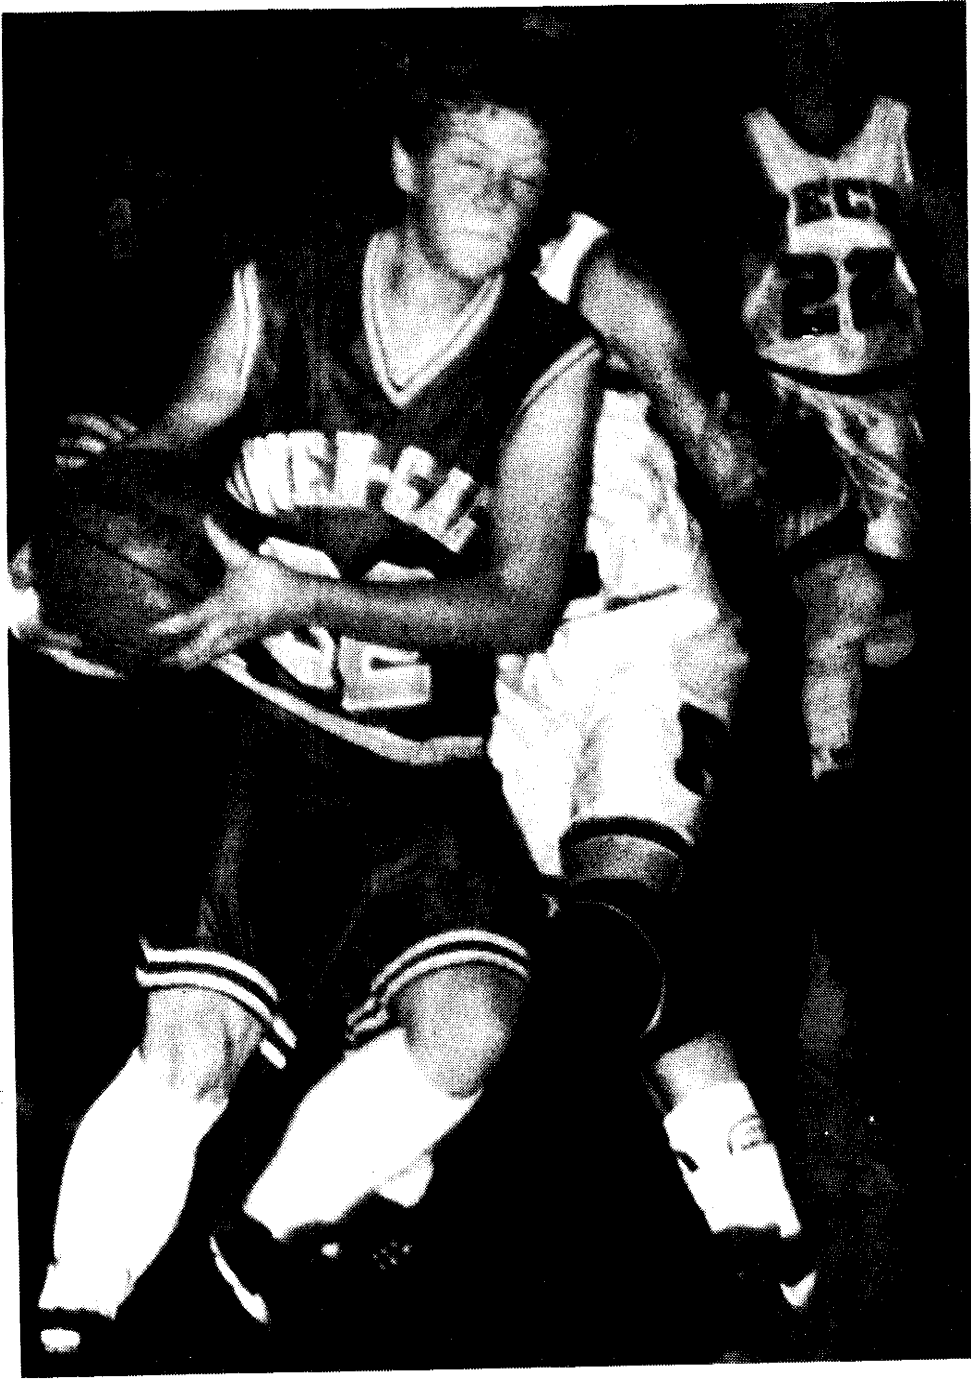

The Bulldogs' lone touchdown came after one of the Pirate markers when Mark Damm ran the kick-off back 83 yards to score.

In addition Damm, who plays on the line, had 4 tackles and blocked an extra point attempt.

Wade Tetil again led the Bulldog defense with 13 tackles. I don't know where we would be without him, Besonen said.

C-PS in record round

Golfers split 4 matches

In games played last week the Cass City High School golf team split a triangular meet Monday at Mayville, defeated Deckerville Wednesday and ran into a buzz saw at Huron Shores Country Club Friday.

The Hawks bowed to Mayville, 171-181, and defeated Vassar, 181-185. Mayville's Jarred Vrable, with a 38, was the medalist, followed by his teammate, Randy Walker, 39.

Cass City's Chad Tate had an off day, with a 42. Other Hawk scores were Drew Kelly, 45; Chad Zawilinski, 47, and Dave Hobbs, 47. Kelly's 45 was a good round for him.

Deckerville was the victim of the team's low round of the season and lost 166-200 at Rolling Hills Golf Course. Helping post the low team score was Dave Murphy's 41, 8 strokes better than his year's average. Tate produced a solid round with a 37. Zawilinski and Hobbs each shot 44.

It was cold, rainy and windy, but that didn't slow down C-PS, which posted the lowest round in the last 3 years against Cass City to win, 155-199.

Cass City played poorly, Coach Jeff Hartel said, and the players are having trouble adjusting to courses away from home.

Woodlot seminar set for Oct. 7

The Tuscola Soil Conservation District will host its annual woodlot seminar Saturday, Oct. 7, at the James Long farm, 8276 Center Road, Millington. The tour will be held from 9:00 a.m. until noon.

"This is a chance for people with questions about their woodlots to get some help," said District Administrator Mary Lou Earl. "Hilton Muntz, a Department of Natural Resources forester, will be there to answer questions," she added.

Topics will only be limited by the questions that arise during the seminar. Scheduled topics include marketing, managing small woodlots, tree identification and tree planting, according to district officials.

The seminar and tour will require about a mile hike through a hardwood forest on groomed trail. Attendees are advised to come with questions and hiking boots. There will not be a rain date so the seminar will be held even in inclement weather.

The district has been hosting the seminar for the past 12 years. For directions to the seminar or to get more information, contact the Tuscola Soil Conservation District at 517-673-8174.

Undefeated Peck rolls over O-G

Peck showed Owen-Gage basketball fans just why they are ranked number 8 in the state's class D ratings with a very easy 69-28 win on the road Tuesday, Sept. 19.

The Bulldogs will have a full week to recover from the one-sided loss. They visit C-PS Thursday. Coach Dean Roller's charges will be out to even the season's North Central D League record, and it's likely that the team that has a hot night will be the winner.

It's hard to imagine any set of circumstances that would enable the Bulldogs to upset the Peck Pirates this year. Roller summed the game up succinctly when he said we were totally outclassed.

The Pirates controlled the boards and their pressing defense caused turnover after turnover, enabling Kristy Quardt to score 3 easy baskets in the first quarter alone as her team bounced off to a 14-5 lead.

In addition to playing an aggressive defense, Peck was deadly from the foul line. In the first half the team, led by Cheri Quardt's 4 out of 4, missed just twice in 10 attempts. For the night the Peck girls were 12 out of 15.

Big gun for Peck in the second half was Julia Burns, who scored 14 of her game-high 19 points after the intermission. She also was the key Peck rebounder.

Tonya Smith was the only Bulldog in double figures. She scored 10 and was closely followed by Kate Powers, with 9. Owen-Gage was able to convert just 6 of 17 free throws.

Loses to Sandusky

Hawks hoop team defeats Cros-Lex

The Cass City Red Hawk hoop squad broke a 3-game losing streak Thursday with a 44-37 decision over visiting Cros-Lex and the win came at an opportune time.

There is no Tuesday night game next week and then the Hawks must face potent Marlette on the road on Thursday, followed by Imlay City Tuesday, Oct. 3, at home.

The win over the Pioneers followed a 44-25 loss to Sandusky Tuesday even though the visitors played without all-star Lamara LeGault.

It looked as if the Hawks might be able to provide a stiff test for the Redskins when the team jumped off to an 8-4 lead in the first quarter.

But that was the only bright spot for Cass City. We just didn't play well after the first quarter. Coach Marty Daniel said. It was very disappointing because I felt we had improved enough to play with Sandusky. We have to run our offense, the coach continued, and discipline ourselves on both offense and defense.

The Redskins erased the Hawk lead by the intermission with a 14-6 second quarter advantage and then added to the lead the rest of the way.

The game was decided in the third quarter when Cass City was limited to a pair of field goals by Ashlie Chappel and Kara Mellendorf.

The scoring was well divided for both teams. Top scorer for Sandusky was Jennifer Green, with 11. Mellendorf scored 6 for Cass City.

CROS-LEX GAME

The win over Cros-Lex was a nip and tuck affair all the way. Daniel said that his charges played well in spurts and luckily for Hawk fans, one of the spurts came at the end of the game and enabled the Hawks to rack up the win.

It was a game in which the Pioneers were ahead by a point at the end of the first quarter, a point at the end of the first half and tied at the end of the third quarter.

Pacing the last quarter rally were 3 Hawks. Lindsay Maharg contributed a pair of field goals and a free throw. Kelli VanVliet produced a basket and 2 free throws and Shelly Ulfig hit 3 of 4 from the charity stripe.

Daniel said that he was unhappy with the team's defense. We are also sometimes out of control on offense and that has led to too many turnovers.

Peyten Daniel played well defensively against Karen Farley the last 2 quarters and VanVliet did a good job running the offense, Daniel said. The Hawks' 2 post players, Mellendorf and Ulfig, played within the offense and were able to spot open players and improved their positioning to receive the ball. Ulfig led all scorers with 14 points.

All Saints next

Hawks play well—still bow to potent Lakers

A gamble by first year Coach Shane Robbins backfired and Cass City High School's first chance for a win over league football powerhouse Lakers went down the drain and the Hawks went down to their fourth straight defeat in as many tries. The score was 14-7.

The Hawks now will play on the road at Bay City All Saints, who came down to earth last week with their first loss in 4 games, a 35-14 pasting by Bad Axe.

The loss should give hope to the Hawks, who played what most observers felt was their best performance of the season.

The Hawks, for the first time this year, were able to generate a solid offense and it paid off in a score at the 11:54 mark in the first period.

A long sustained drive paid off for Cass City. Starting on their own 18, the drive was highlighted by runs of 21 and 11 yards by Sherman, who then added the touchdown with a 24-yard run, breaking a tackle on the way.

Sam Spencer's kick for the extra point was good.

The Lakers answered that drive in their next possession. Taking the kick-off at midfield, the Lakers moved steadily down the field to score. Matt Voss capped the drive, scoring from the 4-yard line.

A pass for 2 points was incomplete.

After an exchange of punts, the Lakers drove to the 9-yard line, where the Hawks stiffened and took over on downs. Starting on their own 9-yard line, the Hawks moved to the 39, from where the gamble backfired. It was a fake punt on fourth and 4 and when it didn't pick up the first down, the Lakers had 2:15 left in the quarter to score. They used all but 20 seconds of it to get what proved to be the winning touchdown.

Key plays were a 22-yard run by Brian Gola and a pair of short passes. The second in the left flat just inside the out-of-bounds stripe went to Zac King from Nate Gotts. An identical play was good for the extra points.

Both team threatened, but neither scored in the second half. The Lakers had a drive stopped on the Cass City 22 when Jeff Little recovered a fumble.

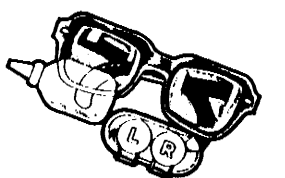

Cass City's best chance to pull the game out of the fire came early in the fourth quarter when the team moved inside the Laker 20 before losing the ball on downs.

$60,000 grant approval

Thumb part of cancer risk education project

Michigan State University is joining forces with the American Cancer Society (ACS) in an effort to get cancer prevention information into the hands of those who quite often need it the most: low-income populations.

Using a grant of nearly $60,000 from the Michigan Department of Public Health (MDPH), the Cancer Center at MSU, MSU Extension, and the Michigan Division of ACS are kicking off a project that will provide cancer risk reduction education to low-income residents in 7 Michigan counties - Ingham, Huron, Kalamazoo, Macomb, Muskegon, Sanilac and Tuscola.

Information will be distributed through MSU's statewide Extension Service.

The plan is quite simple, said Barbara Mutch, extension program leader and project co-director. Extension educators, who already provide low-income residents with diet, nutrition and other health-related information, come armed with cancer information as well.

"We will build on our traditional one-to-one approach which has been successful in helping families acquire nutritionally sound diets and other healthful behaviors," Mutch said. "Our educators are in a strategic position to reach populations in need of cancer prevention skills."

Under the program, the Cancer Center at MSU will provide the training and expertise for the Extension educators.

"Part of this study is to learn what these people already know about cancer risk," said Marie Swanson, Cancer Center director. "But we are not after the simple transfer of information; we are after behavior change."

There are not many definitive studies indicating that low-income populations are more susceptible to cancers than other populations. However, Swanson said, low-income populations are at a higher risk of all smoking-related cancers because they are more likely to smoke. Cervical cancer also occurs more often in low-income populations.

The project will address 6 areas of cancer prevention and risk reduction: tobacco use, high fat diets, low fruit and vegetable intakes, physical activity, breast self examination, and exposure to the sun.

"We view this as an opportunity to build partnerships among the state and local providers of cancer programs and services," said Amy Slonim, Extension food and nutrition specialist and one of the project co-directors. "This initiative will provide data to develop materials with the long-term goal of developing and distributing effective cancer risk reduction programs throughout the state."

In addition to the MDPH funding, the Cancer Center at MSU and the Office of University Outreach each contributed $5,000 to the project.

For more information, contact Mutch at (517) 353-9102 or Slonim at 432-0157.

ELKLAND TOWNSHIP fire fighters investigate the cause of a fire that caused an estimated $500 damage Monday morning to a station wagon owned by Denise Janssen, 4292 Oak St.

Fire Prevention Week

Firemen plan activities

The Elkland Township Fire Department is planning a host of activities for area students in conjunction with Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 8-14.

Among the events slated is a visit by fire fighters to the kindergarten classes, and a trip by first grade students to the fire hall Oct. 10 at 9 a.m.

Picture and poster contests are planned for all grades, with the art work focusing on fire prevention themes.

The winning entries submitted by youngsters in developmental kindergarten through the fourth grade will be displayed at Subway in Cass City.

Fifth graders, meanwhile, may enter a poster contest with a chance to claim a traveling trophy that will remain in the winning student's room for one year. The winner will also compete at the county level, Oct. 12 in Caro.

Poster contests are also set for students in grades 7 and 8, and in grades 9-12.

The winning 7-8 grade entries will be displayed at Hardee's, with prizes going to the first, second and third place winners. Cash prizes will be awarded to the top 3 entries submitted by students in grades 9-12. Their work will be displayed at Rawson Memorial Library.

Shagena serving in gulf

Navy Petty Officer 2nd Class Patrick L. Shagena, son of William and Suzanne L. Humpert of Cass City, is currently halfway through a 6-month overseas deployment to the Persian Gulf aboard the guided missile cruiser USS Vella Gulf.

Shagena is one of 415 sailors aboard the ship who departed Norfolk, Va., in June for the trip to the Middle East. So far, Shagena has traveled approximately 15,000 miles and has been helping enforce the no-fly zone over southern Iraq.

While spending most of the deployment at sea, Shagena and fellow sailors have also visited Bahrain, Israel, Spain and the United Arab Emirates. While in Dubai, United Arab Emirates, sailors from Shagena's ship volunteered their free time to repaint classrooms at a local school. In Haifa, Israel, Shagena and fellow sailors delivered medical and health supplies to a local orphanage.

The 1990 graduate of Cass City High School joined the navy in March 1991.

One car destroyed, one damaged by fire

Elkland Township fire fighters extinguished a pair of vehicle fires over the past week.

Firemen were called Monday morning to a residence at 4292 Oak St., where a 1982 Mercury station wagon owned by Denise Janssen was smoking. The alarm sounded at about 8 a.m.

Fire Chief Milt Connolly said the vehicle backfired, blowing the muffler apart and scorching a portion of the interior under the back seat. Damage was estimated at $500.

Late last week, fire fighters put out a fire that destroyed a pickup truck owned by Kevin Langley. The department was called to 4290 Hartsell Rd. at 11:27 a.m. Friday.

Cause of the blaze, which began in the engine compartment, was undetermined. Connolly reported.

Honor 25 past matrons, past patrons

Twenty-five past matrons and past patrons were honored for their service over the years at a regular meeting of the Order of the Eastern Stars last Wednesday at the Masonic Temple in Cass City.

Worthy Matron Maxine Profit thanked them all for their great achievements and services, and presented each with a yellow carnation.

Refreshments followed in the dining room.

NOTICE TO LUCKY

AKA The Silent Majority Who Believe Criminals Should Pay For Their Crimes. In response to your semi-threatening letter referring to an article in Newsweek where I was quoted as saying "I'll bet my life that James and Terry Nichols aren't knowingly involved."

We did not accept your generous offering of phony money which, I'm certain, reflects your character or lack thereof. The FBI also found it very interesting. In light of the recent total dismissal of all charges against James Nichols and in light of the confession by Attorney General Janet Reno on Aug. 10 that there was no evidence against James (if there wasn't any on Aug. 10 there was never any evidence) it would appear as if this is one instance in which having no backbone whatsoever was a definite advantage for you considering the fact that you neither had the courage to sign your letter nor the courage to call me on my bet. You are so-o-o-o-o-o LUCKY! You would've lost! If you had any common sense you would realize that I would've never bet my life if there was any risk whatsoever. For your information, you are not alone in your act of cowardice. None of the government prosecutors have had the guts to call my bet either. In their rush to judgement they've been quick to put Terry's neck in the noose but apparently aren't confident enough to risk their own neck. Of course, the window of opportunity is still half open. My bet still stands on Terry Nichols' innocence. I can only wonder if Mr./Ms. T-S-M-W-B-C-S-P-F-T-C will call my "offer" this time.

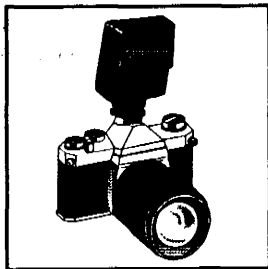

P.S. The FBI says even though the letter wasn't signed it was "printed."

WARTS: WHY THEY SHOULD NOT BE IGNORED...

Many of my patients are surprised to hear that these benign skin tumors are contagious and are caused by a virus!

Since these wart-causing viruses must live inside a cell in order to survive, they are usually picked up where people shed tiny skin cells which are infected with the virus. Public bathing facilities for example are commonly contaminated with this pesky virus.

Plantar warts are usually brown, soft and spongy with little black spots in the center. These spots are tiny blood vessels which act as the wart's feeding network. One may mistake it for a corn or callus. The surest way to determine a wart is to pinch it: the excruciating pain that follows after indicates it is a plantar wart.

Treatment varies from use of powerful acids, laser surgery or dry ice. The successful and safe treatments I have mentioned are available if you take your problem to a doctor. There is little chance you can treat yourself safely and effectively with over-the-counter remedies. They are usually too weak and may actually stimulate and cause spreading of these embarrassing skin growths.

For treatment of warts on your feet or hands, call the physicians at Northeastern Foot Clinic.

Letter to the editor

Cass City has brought deserved shame on itself

Dear Editor:

I am greatly disappointed with the results of the recent middle school vote and with the residents of Cass City in general. For shame! Three times the residents turned down the opportunity to improve the education of their children. Three times the residents selfishly thought of their present selves instead of their descendants' future. Three times they voted to reduce the educational competence of the future employees of their own businesses.

I have been an educator for twelve years, mostly in Washington State. Although I disagree with many issues there, I greatly enjoyed the privilege of living in a state that treasures the education of its youth.

I know for a fact that as the facilities for learning improve, so does the bottom line—a better educated kid. The teacher can only do so much, no matter what his or her talent, without proper, modern resources to teach with.

I have a son attending the middle school so I am familiar with that building's resources. It is truly the oldest active school building that I have ever been in. The classrooms are cramped, the space for projects and their antiquated equipment simply doesn't exist, and it is a tragedy waiting to happen if a catastrophe should strike.

By denying the levy, we will all have to pay anyway. We must now pay nearly as much in facility upgrades, without getting a new building in the process, or we must somehow shoe-horn two schools' students into the high school. That ought to lead to an exodus of students away from the school district, with resulting losses of revenue, residents, and reputation.

By failing to treasure our beloved children's education and future, Cass City has brought much-deserved shame upon itself.

Jim Veneziano

Pumpkin Fest Oct. 5-8

The Tuscola County Pumpkin Festival celebrates 15 years of pumpkins, family and fun with the 1995 festival, slated for Oct. 5-8 in Caro.

The celebration offers something for everyone with scores of special events ranging from pumpkin pie eating contests to a classic car show to a Saturday night dinner dance to a fall color tour by plane to a huge parade.

Some 3,000 free pumpkins will be distributed, and the task of decorating and setting fencing and bleachers in downtown Caro all gets underway Sunday.

Between Oct. 4 and Oct. 8, volunteers will bake an estimated 4,800 pumpkin pies.

New to this year's festival will be an autumn antique fair, fingerprinting of children by AAA, a cookbook commemorating the 15th annual Pumpkin Festival, a sky diving demonstration, live lunchtime entertainment downtown Thursday and Friday, and the decorating of pumpkins by children from throughout the county for display on the courthouse lawn.

Copies of the 1995 Pumpkin Festival schedule of events, including maps identifying where various events will be held, are available free at area businesses.

Additional information is available by calling the festival hotline at (517) 673-2511.

A survey by the National Turkey Federation said that although turkey sales have doubled since 1985, many consumers still think of turkey only at Thanksgiving and Christmas. Nearly one-quarter of all turkey consumed in the United States is bought during the holiday season.

Installed Sunday at Good Shepherd

Meyer new Lutheran pastor

The congregation at the Good Shepherd Lutheran Church in Cass City welcomed the Rev. Gerald Meyer as its new pastor Sunday.

But the church is getting much more than a clergyman. Meyer, who was born and raised in the suburbs of Cleveland, Ohio, is also a teacher and musician, not to mention an experienced emergency medical technician.

Meyer was installed as pastor of the local church during a special worship service Sunday afternoon.

Timothy Loewe, pastor of the St. Paul Lutheran Church, Linkville, and vacancy pastor at Good Shepherd for the past 9 months, preached the sermon. The Rev. Jeffery Walsh, Thumb West Circuit counselor and pastor of St. John Lutheran Church, Kilmanagh, performed the rite of installation.

Meyer and his wife, Sue, and their youngest son, Joseph, 18, were officially welcomed during a reception that followed the service.

The couple have 4 children: David, 31, an officer on the nuclear submarine "Boise"; Rebecca, 30, the mother of their only grandchildren; Christine, 24, a licensed social worker in the state of Ohio, and Joseph, who moved with them to Cass City to seek employment in the emergency medical field.

Meyer has been a pastor for 11 years, but he has served various Lutheran congregations in one capacity or another for 31 years.

A graduate of Concordia Teachers College (now Concordia University) in River Forest, Ill., he started out teaching in September 1963 at St. Peter's Lutheran Church and School in Schaumburg, Ill. After 3 years, he moved to Roseville, Mich., where he taught for 10 years, then taught in Saginaw for another 7 years.

Aside from teaching, he also served as music director, organist and choir director at both Roseville and Saginaw.

"I've always been interested in music as a hobby. I have both formal and informal training," said Meyer, who began taking piano lessons in the second grade. "I enjoy it thoroughly."

Meyer explained his decision to join the ministry came as a result of an injury; he ruptured a disc while shoveling snow in his driveway. "The bottom line... was that my organ playing days were over, so then I had to make some kind of move," he said, noting that in Lutheran schools, a teacher typically also handles other responsibilities such as principal or youth director.

But those options didn't appeal to Meyer, and after much thought, he decided to enter Concordia Theological Seminary in Fort Wayne, Ind. "It seemed like the ministry was the best place to go," he recalled. "I did a lot of praying and talking to friends. A lot of other doors seemed to be shut and this door seemed to be open."

Sue Meyer has shared her husband's work in the ministry. She has been active in a variety of congregational activities, especially in areas of Christian education, visiting the sick, grief support and process planning.

She has also taught in Lutheran schools and served as the chaplain's assistant at the Lutheran Home in Fort Wayne.

Sue was employed as the administrator of the Community Health Foundation in Antigo, Wis., and for the Department of Social Services as a family preservation worker.

Despite Meyer's injury, music continues to be an important part of his life. In recent years he has been involved in putting together school musicals, participation in a community band and even playing as a substitute pianist for a professional band that specializes in big band and polka numbers.

He has also found other ways to serve the communities in which he has lived.

In 1987, he earned his cer-tification as a nationally registered emergency medical technician (EMT) and joined the Pickerel Rescue Squad. For the past year and a half, he was chief of the squad's

EMTs.

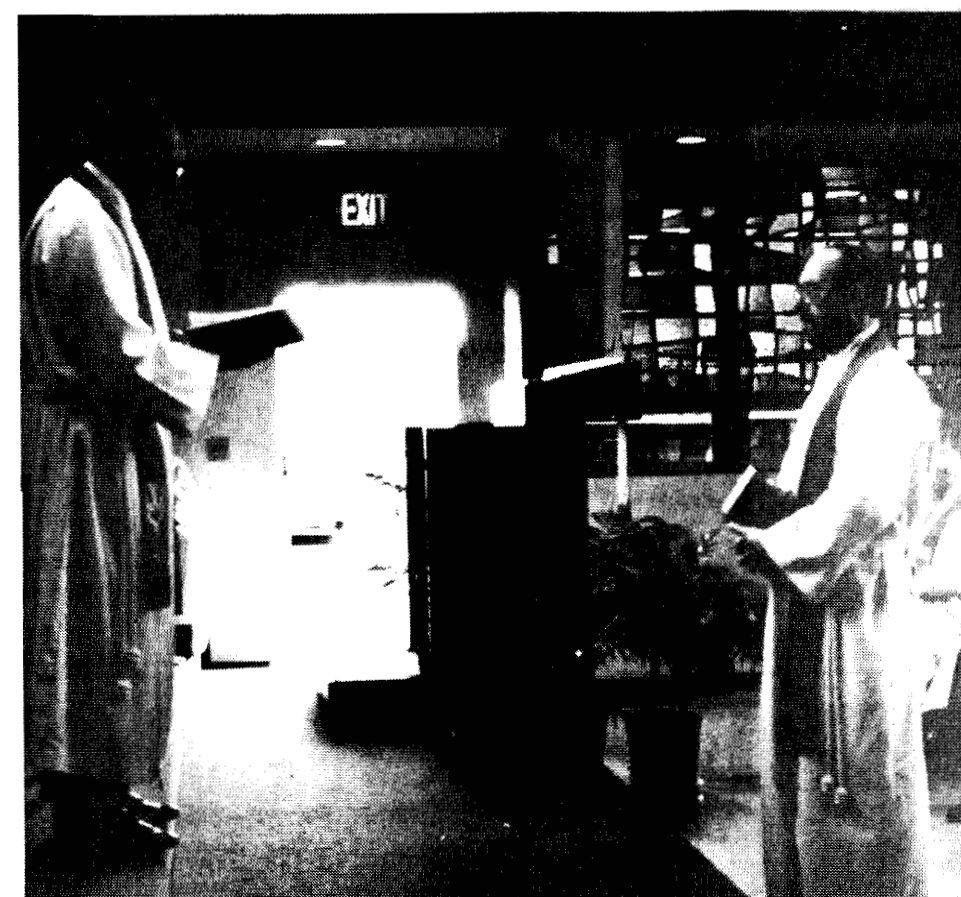

"I felt that it was a valuable thing that I could add to the community," he commented, adding many people in Pickerel worked in other areas, making it difficult to find volunteer EMTs who could be available at all hours.

"There was a need in the community and I was there," he said.

THE REV. GERALD A. Meyer was installed Sunday as pastor of the Good Shepherd Lutheran Church in Cass City. Meyer comes to the area from Pickerel, Wis., where he served as pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church for the past 11 years.

THE REV. JEFFREY WALSH, left, pastor at St. John Lutheran Church, Kilmanagh, installed the Rev. Gerald Meyer as pastor of the Good Shepherd Lutheran Church in Cass City Sunday. Clergy from the Thumb's east and west circuits participated in the service and the "laying of hands" on the new pastor. The sermon was presented by Rev. Timothy Loewe, pastor at St. Paul Lutheran Church, Linkville, who also served as vacancy pastor in Cass City.

$25,000 netted Sucessful auction at Bay Shore Camp

Perfect early autumn weather and a crowd of more than 500 bargain hunters combined to make Bay Shore Camp's 16th annual benefit auction a success equal to those of previous years, according to Camp Director Lew Tibbits.

"All of the bills are not yet in," reported Tibbits, "but once they're paid, we should have a net figure of about $25,000. That will buy a lot of new things for the coming camp year."

Bay Shore Camp Women's Auxiliary sponsors the annual event, and Great Lakes Auction provides the all-day auction service. Donations of goods and services come from virtually every community in the Upper Thumb and beyond.

Highlighting this year's auction were a Honda 360 CL motorcycle that sold for $375 and a 29-foot travel trailer that took a top bid of $5,750. Other bidding wars focused on handmade quilts, comforters, crocheted doilies and a pair of quarter-carat diamond earrings.

Top money earner in the quilt category was a floral applique pattern on ivory made by Elkton United Methodist Church. Winning bid for this queen-size coverlet was $1,050.

The annual pie baking contest provided one of the day's bigger surprises when top awards went to a man. John Elsesser of Reese walked away with a first-place plaque, earned with an apple pie baked according to a recipe handed down by his grandmother, the late Mrs. Margaret Crumback of Bad Axe. When asked for the recipe, Elsesser replied that a family agreement prevented him from sharing his secret. An area businessman purchased the first-place pie with a top bid of $500.

Second-place pie honors went to Jean Squires of Sebawaing, while Dianne Schulz of Unionville and Joan Bush of Caseville tied for third place. Total income from all winning pies sold both whole and by the slice was $1,170.

Proceeds from the auction will be used to purchase equipment needs for the camp's 1996 season. This year's shopping list will include bunk beds, mattresses, computer equipment, a table saw, and other building and maintenance tools.

Bay Shore Camp of Sebawaing is a non-profit Christian camping ministry serving children, youth and families in the Upper Thumb and greater Michigan. A total of 1,347 youngsters participated in Bay Shore's 1995 programs. For more information, call the camp office at (517) 883-2501 or write Bay Shore Camp at 450 N. Miller Street, Sebawaing, MI 48759.

  - D. The said grantee, before entering upon any street, highway, alley or other public place for the purpose of erecting and constructing any poles, wires, pipes, mains, conduits, or other apparatus, shall notify, in writing, the Township or its representatives of the proposed construction, and shall if the Township so requires, file with them a sufficient plan and specification, showing the nature and extent of the proposed erection and construction.
  - E. No street, highway, alley or public place shall be allowed to remain open or encumbered by the construction work of the said grantee for a longer period than shall be necessary to execute the said work, and the grantee shall at all times conform to all ordinances of the Township now or hereafter in force, relative to the loading and lighting of obstructions and excavations.

Hills & Dales General Hospital

Annual Report 1994-95

From Hospital to Health Care...

"After seventeen years of hard work and effort, Cass City proudly opens its 57-bed hospital to the public for inspection this week."
(Cass City Chronicle, August 11, 1960).

Thirty-five years later, Hills & Dales General Hospital, now licensed as a 65-bed facility, continues to provide high quality medical care to residents of Cass City and the surrounding communities.

Traditionally, hospitals have primarily served as a place where the sickly would go for extended stays. Today, technology, prevention efforts, and out-patient care are reshaping the overall mission of hospitals toward health care systems.

Hospitals are redefining themselves as facilities that care for only the sickest on an inpatient basis. Through outpatient and in-home services, hospitals are now delivering health care in a variety of ways to assure accessibility with an emphasis on quality care and cost-containment.

1994-95 HIGHLIGHTS

Ambulatory Clinics at Hills & Dales have expanded to provide local and convenient access to specialized medical care. Hills & Dales offers clinics in the following specialties: Allergy; Cardiology; Ear, Nose & Throat; Gynecology; Neurology; Oncology/Hematology; and, Rheumatology.

Emergency Room services have been expanded to provide round-the-clock coverage. Through Emergency Consultants Incorporated (ECI), the emergency room is now staffed with physicians on-site, 24-hours per day.

In 1994, the Immediate Care Clinic (ICC) provided non-emergency medical care to walk-in patients from 9:00 a.m. until 10:00 p.m., seven days per week, including holidays. In early 1995, the ICC services expanded, and non-emergency medical care is now available 24-hours per day.

The hospital lobby was renovated through generous donation from the Hospital Auxiliary, and fund-raising events. The new carpet, furniture and design provide a contemporary feel to the main entrance, while maintaining the comfort and familiarity of a community facility.

Education and training were provided in early 1995 to the Board of Trustees as well as supervisory and management staff from the hospital. Training efforts focused on leadership, management and Continuous Quality Improvement.

A new Spect Camera was purchased for the Nuclear Medicine Department in 1995. This camera allows three dimensional imaging of soft body tissues, providing another medically specialized procedure that is now available locally. The Spect Camera allows cardiac imaging, which was previously unavailable at Hills & Dales General Hospital.

In 1995, the CAT Scan (Computer Axial Tomography or CT Scan) was updated and became available on a full-time basis at Hills & Dales. Prior to 1995, the CAT Scan traveled between Hills & Dales and another local hospital. Hills & Dales is seeking a permanent exemption from the Michigan Department of Public Health to maintain the CAT Scan in Cass City on a full-time basis.

Through strenuous hospital recruitment efforts, Families First opened in early 1995 to provide the community with primary care. With the support and backing of the hospital and Families First, Dr. Hall was convinced to return to practice medicine in Cass City.

Reserve space in state parks for summer

If you think it is too early to plan a camping trip for next summer in a Michigan State Park, think again!

Campsite reservations for the 1996 season in Michigan State Parks will be accepted starting Oct. 1. Interested campers can call 1-800-5432-YES between 8 a.m. and 11 p.m. on weekdays and 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on weekends.

"We are continuing our efforts to make planning a camping trip to a state park as convenient and simple as possible," Department of Natural Resources Parks and Recreation Division Chief O.J. Scherschligt said.

To assure that the telephone reservation process goes quickly and smoothly, callers should be ready to provide the following information for each reservation: name, address, camping equipment type and size, Visa or Mastercard number and telephone number of a contact person.

Callers are encouraged to be patient during the first few days that reservations are accepted for the 1996 season. During this time, callers may encounter busy signals and periods of time on hold due to the initial heavy demand for campsite reservations.

Mail-in reservations postmarked Sept. 30, 1995, or later will be processed concurrently with telephone reservations. Requests arriving prior to Oct. 1 will be returned. To receive a reservation form, contact any state park or call the toll-free number (1-800-5432-YES).

Demolition set for building

•Learned no changes are needed in the village ordinances regarding safety inspections of rental property. The rules and provisions for enforcement are already in place at the county level, according to Trustee Sandy Haley, who chairs the council's Rules Committee. She stated local safety violations may be directed to the county building administrator.

•Learned the basketball court improvement project has been completed $500 under the $20,000 budget.

The project was partially funded by the Cass City Lions and Rotary clubs, which each paid 25 percent of the cost. The Pinney Foundation kicked in the remaining 50 percent, Trustee Matt Priesskorn said.

He noted the village recently received the final installment of a $24,000 grant from the Pinney Foundation to upgrade ball diamonds at Cass City Recreation Park.

Council members agreed a letter of thanks will be sent to the foundation and service clubs for their contributions and work.

•Noted 95.1 percent of village taxes had been collected as of Monday, compared to 94.8 percent a year ago. In all, $777,869.37 of the $817,884.12 in taxes owed has been paid.

Beat the flu with vaccine

The season for flu is nearly here and the vaccine is available through the Sanilac County Health Department. The influenza vaccine can reduce the chance of contracting a severe respiratory illness causing fever, sore throat, nonproductive cough, and muscle soreness. Unlike other common respiratory illnesses, influenza can cause severe fatigue lasting several days.

The 1995-96 vaccine is different from last year and because immunity declines throughout the year following vaccination, yearly re-vaccination is required for ideal protection.

Recommendations for who should receive the vaccine are as follows:

1. All persons 65 years of age and older.
2. Other persons with chronic health problems, such as heart disease, lung disease, diabetes, neuromuscular diseases, anemia, and other chronic problems.
3. Persons with immune system problems.
4. Health care, fire, and police personnel who have frequent contact with high risk persons or who perform essential community services.
5. Children and teenagers on long-term aspirin therapy.
6. Employees and residents of nursing homes and other chronic care facilities.
7. Household members (including children) of persons in high risk groups with chronic diseases.
8. Any other persons wishing to reduce their chances of catching the flu.

Flu vaccine is available to anyone. A $5.00 donation from each person will help cover the costs of this program. Sanilac County Health Department will not be billing Medicare or Medicaid for flu vaccine. Tetanus Diphtheria (TD) will be available. If you have any questions, please contact the health department at 810-448-4098.

Simple, easy steps help ensure safe harvest season

Before harvest starts, there are many simple and easy ways to ensure your family remains safe and healthy throughout the season, reports Geraldine R. Smith, Ag. Safety Specialist of Huron County Health Department. Begin by doing a farm hazard survey - look for anything that could result in an injury on farm machinery, around the buildings and even due to people's behaviors.

Take care of the most obvious first, recommends Smith, those things that can be easily updated or replaced by an individual. Do all tractors and other farm machinery that will be traveling on roadways have SMV's? Are they bright, clean and still reflective? Are there first aid/trauma kits and fire extinguishers on the combines and tractors?

Remind all workers to wear seatbelts when operating trucks, tractors with cabs or ROPS (Rollover Protective Structures) and other self-propelled equipment. Supply everyone with personal protective equipment such as earplugs/muffs, dust masks, goggles, and gloves to use when appropriate. It may help to place these items in the area in which they will be needed. Thumb-tacking or nailing a plastic bag with earplugs or dust masks near the door of the livestock building may encourage the use of the personal protective equipment.

Encourage your spouse or children to help prepare for a safer harvest. Work together to replace missing shields and guards on machinery. Organize a "farm clean-up day". Pick up trash, put all waste oil in the same area and organize tools in the tool box or near the workbench. Not only could this reduce the possibility of injury, but it could save time when tools are needed during "harvest rush". When working with children, talk to them about safe use of sharp saws, chisels and other tools. Teach them to use shop tools correctly. Remind them that pieces of machinery, even those parked for the season, are not toys and should not be played around because they can be dangerous.

There are many pre-harvest season jobs that can be done in the house. Remove hammer loops on coveralls, strings from sweatshirts, and repair clothing with "raggy" edges or tears, or dispose of them. These are things that can catch in moving machinery parts and cause serious injuries or death.

The long hours and hard work of harvest take a toll on health and the ability to concentrate. Nutritious meals and snacks are important. If dinner may be delayed or cancelled due to harvesting, prepare portable meals earlier in the day. Soup, sandwiches and fruit will go further in keeping a person alert than a candy bar. A family picnic can also create a much needed break. Encourage all workers to take breaks every couple of hours. Attention span is greater and concentration skills improve after a break - even a short one.

There are many ways to make harvest safer. If your entire family is involved with harvest, plan ahead. Make sure everyone knows what they are responsible for and is able to handle the job assigned. Make sure nutritious meals and snacks are available and that short breaks are taken regularly. Ensure that machinery is "safety ready" as well as "field ready". Your efforts can help make harvest easier and safer for the entire family and work crew.

For more information on doing a farm hazard survey or other safe harvest tips, contact Geraldine R. Smith or Sandra Koglin at Huron County Health Department, 1-800-833-8550.

Mary Wald nearly 100

of good days and there were some days that weren't so good."

Wald has especially enjoyed traveling. She has been to a number of states, including Texas, Maryland, Arkansas and Colorado, as well as Canada and Europe.

SLOWING DOWN

Wald is quick to say her age is forcing her to slow down and that anymore, she "doesn't do a heck of a lot." But she still rises every day at 7 a.m.

"That ain't so early. When you're slow it takes longer to get things done," she commented. "By the time you wash and iron and do a little scrubbing..."

Still, Wald continues to get out regularly, whether it's just to feed her cats or pick up the mail, or to attend a gathering of area senior citizens.

Asked about her upcoming birthday, she said she's looking forward to seeing family members, who will be coming from all over to see her.

"Well, they're having a party, but it's just another birthday. They come every year," she added.

"That never bothered me — how old you got. I don't know. I feel just as young as I did when I was 90, but I'm getting old and slowing down. I don't get as much done as I used to."

"It isn't so bad when you're able to get around and have your own mind, although it's not as good as it used to be," Wald concluded. "I couldn't complain."

Editor's note: The family of Mary Wald will host an open house in honor of her 100th birthday. The celebration is slated for Saturday beginning at 1 p.m. at the home of Mike and Nel Wald, 5215 Cedar Run Rd.

Area deer numbers up; opener set animals in Unit 123, an area totaling 648 square miles in western Tuscola County.

"We expect it (antlerless harvest) could be up 15 percent with the number of permits issued" in the Thumb this year, Jarvis said.

The number of bucks taken in the Thumb area in 1994 was not available. However, Jarvis pointed out, "In general, I'd say the buck kill's been about twice the antlerless kill."

FOR ABOUT AN HOUR members of the Cass City Gun Club sharpened their aim at the Cass City Gun Club while the deer in the foreground calmly grazed, Don Dohn reported.
