

Judge Glaspie helps subdue defendant

by Rebecca Messer Staff Writer

A Tuscola County District Court judge went beyond the call of duty Saturday morning as he helped 2 sheriff's deputies tackle a man who tried to escape.

Judge Kim David Glaspie, who lives in Cass City, was arraigning 2 defendants Saturday when "one defendant decided he was going to leave the proceedings," Glaspie explained.

The 2 deputies, Doug Leveille and Alva Hayes, chased the 40-year-old Vassar man into the hallway. "I didn't actually see what happened because they were out in the hallway," Glaspie said. After hearing glass shatter, he became alarmed and pushed the emergency call button to the sheriff's office and ran into the hallway.

"When I got there, one officer was bleeding and I just tried to help subdue him."

During the struggle, the defendant knocked Hayes' head through the glass part of a door.

Glaspie said he was more surprised about Officer Hayes being hurt than he was about the man trying to escape. "We have excitement once in awhile and that stuff happens every now and then," he said about defendants trying to leave the building.

Even though he helped restrain the man, Glaspie said it is the officers who deserve the credit.

"The officers did a good job. They are really prepared for that sort of thing. I just helped a little."

Glaspie added Officer Hayes received treatment for his injuries and was back to work Sunday morning.

The defendant was being arraigned Saturday for the assault of another inmate. The defendant will face additional charges for the incident but as of Tuesday morning the man had not yet been arraigned.

Rich effort successful

Moving Wall coming to area

Harley Rich worked in complete secrecy for 6 months in an effort to bring to the Thumb a Washington, D.C., monument that is very near and dear to his heart.

Rich, who works for the Sanilac County Division of Veterans Affairs, said he gathered all the information, filled out forms and made phone calls to get the Moving Wall, a half-scale replica of the Vietnam Veterans Memorial, to come to the Thumb without telling anyone, including his wife.

Explaining why he did this, Rich said he wanted to make sure it was possible to bring the wall here and that everything was right before telling anyone about it.

Rich's 6 months of work paid off. On May 8 he attended the board of commissioners meeting in Sanilac County and told them he'd "like to do a community project, a good deed for the Vietnam veterans, their friends, families and loved ones." The commissioners agreed it was a good idea and granted him permission to bring the wall to Sandusky. Besides wanting to do a good deed, there is a more personal reason Rich wanted to see the wall in the Thumb. "This has special significance for me. I served almost 3 years in Vietnam and my brother served 14 months. We were among those that came home, and many of our friends are inscribed on that wall."

FORMALITIES

With all the i's dotted and the t's crossed, Rich said all the paper work has been sent in and a formal request has been made for the wall to come to Sandusky between May 1997 and October 1997 for 2 weeks. If there are no dates available in that time period, then the wall will definitely come to Sandusky sometime in 1998.

When the wall makes its appearance in the area, it will be on display on the courthouse lawn in Sandusky. Although the wall will be on display in Sandusky, Rich stressed this is not just for the residents of Sandusky or Sanilac County — it is for everyone who lives in the Thumb.

The 23-year military veteran managed to enlist the services of 2 sponsors, Stephen Welch, owner of the Herrington Inn in Brown City, and Robert Gornowicz, co-owner of Copeland & Gornowicz Insurance Agency in Cass City.

Gornowicz, a member of the Vietnam Veterans Board along with Rich, said he got involved because Rich asked him to and he thought it sounded like a good project. "Harley came up with the idea and threw the idea to the rest of us. The more I thought about it, I decided it was a good idea."

In addition to helping out a friend, Gornowicz said there is an even bigger reason to bring the Moving Wall to this area.

"One of the main reasons to do this is to pay tribute to the families and parents who lost their sons over in Vietnam. It's for the ones that didn't come home."

A Vietnam veteran who was wounded during the war, Gornowicz explained his responsibilities as a sponsor included helping Rich with fund raising and getting support from local communities. "I'm working side by side with him."

In addition to the sponsors, Rich has enlisted the help of many of the Thumb's VFW Posts, including VFW Post 3644 in Cass City.

HISTORY AND COSTS

The cost of bringing the wall to Sandusky will be about $7,000. There is a display fee of $2,650 for 7 days, with each additional day costing $375.

The display fee, as well as the additional daily fee, are used as a way to defray the operating costs of transporting the wall. Some of the money will also be used to

School board vote set for area schools

Voters in the Cass City, Kingston, Owen-Gage and Ubyly School Districts will decide races for board of education seats in next week's annual school election.

The election is Monday, June 10. The polls will open at 7 a.m. and remain open until 8 p.m.

CASS CITY

Cass City voters will choose from among 5 candidates, including 2 incumbents, to fill a pair of 4-year terms. Incumbents Beverley Auten and Fred Matthews are vying for the seats, as are newcomers Marv Irrer, Dave Osentoski and Dave Knight.

OWEN-GAGE

In the Owen-Gage District, a pair of newcomers along with 3 incumbents are vying for 3 available school board seats.

Incumbents Ronald Good and Walter Swiastyn, and challenger Jim Albrecht are all seeking one of 2, 4-year terms, and incumbent Paul Hunter and newcomer Joan Koch are vying for a 2-year term.

The 2-year seat marks the remainder of a 4-year term won by former board trustee Lisa McIlvenna, who moved out of the district last year. The board appointed Hunter to serve in place of McIlvenna until the next regular election.

Owen-Gage voters will also be asked to approve 18 mills, as provided for under proposal A, for 10 years.

According to school Supt. Manuel Thies, 14.8 mills of the district's current tax levy will expire in December, and another 6.5 mills will expire in December 1997. Rather than have 2 separate elections, he explained, the board decided to make one millage request which will provide for the district's needs and meet the state requirement of 18 mills.

Approval of the millage would mean no change for homeowners, who will continue to be taxed at a rate of 18 mills. Non-homestead property will continue to be taxed at a rate of 24 mills.

Without voter approval, the district would not be eligible to receive its state foundation grant, which now accounts for more than 90 percent of the district's annual funding.

KINGSTON

Both incumbents and a challenger are battling for a pair of open board seats on the Kingston Board of Education. The candidates are Ben Boyl and Raymond Wolak, both incumbents, and Richard Filippek.

UBLY

Likewise, a trio of candidates are seeking 2 seats on the Ubyly Community School Board. They are incumbents Martin Kubacki and John Rutkowski, and newcomer Donald E. Koglin.

Mom gets jail for death of stepson

Amanda Ross, the Deford mother charged in connection with the death of her 2-year-old stepson a year and half ago, was sentenced Friday to one year in the Tuscola County Jail.

The sentence was handed down by Tuscola County Probate Judge W. Wallace Kent Jr., who also ordered Ross to serve 36 months probation and pay $1,000 in court costs and fines plus attorneys fees and $720 in oversight fees.

Kent is serving in the absence of circuit Judge Patrick R. Joslyn, who is recuperating from a heart attack.

The sentencing culminates a case stemming from the Dec. 5, 1994, death of Anthony Ross, 2. According to police, Ross, 26, accidentally killed the child after becoming angry with him because he wouldn't take a nap. Investigators said she threw the boy onto his bed and his head struck a bedpost, fracturing his skull.

The child was rushed to Hills and Dales General Hospital in Cass City, then transferred to St. Luke's Hospital in Saginaw, where he died 3 days later after being removed from life support.

Ross pleaded guilty to at-

Other circuit court proceedings, see page 5 tempted involuntary manslaughter March 22.

An earlier plea of no contest was taken under advisement and then rejected by Joslyn, who stated the facts in the case didn't show Ross had caused the child's death.

In response, prosecutors chose not to pursue the case, but reserved the right to charge Ross again at a future date. The decision to exercise the right was made last February as a result of new evidence, prosecutors said.

Ross and her husband, Dennis Ross, 39, have 7 other children, who have been separated from their parents and each other since Anthony's death, living with foster parents or a court-appointed guardian.

The court has yet to rule on whether the other children will be returned to the Ross home.

Expensive project

Closed Gagetown plant building razed

by Rebecca Messer Staff Writer

A long standing part of the Gagetown community is slowly being torn down this summer because of water and soil pollution problems over the years.

Bruce Gee of Cass City and Marjorie Rice of Florida, current owners of the building, which housed Rail Car Specialties - Engineered Products, 6581 Mill St., have hired a contractor to remove all the steel structures and anything else in the building that is salvageable or recyclable.

Once the steel is removed, the Department of Natural Resources Environmental Quality Division will move in and remove the slabs of concrete to get at the contaminated soil and groundwater.

Matt Hartman, project manager for the Department of Environmental Quality, said the soil, which is the biggest problem, will be removed and probably be placed in a landfill. He said he does not expect the soil to be classified as hazardous waste.

The water, he added, will be tested to see what the contamination levels are and a decision about what to do with the water will be made later. "The water might not be that much of a problem. It's not as serious. The soil is the biggest problem."

The DNR is currently in the process of finding a contractor to tear down the rest of the building. Hartman said he hopes they will be able to start work at the facility by mid- to late August.

In 1993, the DNR received $300,000 to investigate the extent of soil and groundwater contamination at the factory, formerly known as Evans Engineered Products.

Hartman said part of the original $300,000 will be used to tear down the remainder of the building, but the department is also asking for an additional $750,000 from the state to cover costs.

Although the department will request $750,000, Hartman said he doesn't anticipate the project cost will reach that amount. The owners' ability to take care of the steel themselves will save taxpayers money, he said.

DNR officials said the contamination occurred through normal plant operations, which consisted of repairing and refurbishing rail cars and involved welding, sandblasting, painting and the use of chemicals.

During the late 1980's the DNR found the groundwater at the plant was contaminated with paint solvents.

The chemicals were thought to have come from several 55-gallon drums, discovered by the DNR while executing a criminal search warrant in 1988.

In 1989, after no progress was made by Evans officials to clean up the environmental problems, the Tuscola County Prosecutor's Office issued warrants against Evans Engineered Products Co., Hallandale, Fla., and Evans Asset Holding Co., which was created to assume the assets of Evans when the firm filed for bankruptcy in 1985.

Each company faced 10 counts of failure to properly handle, dispose of and store hazardous wastes. The DNR sought more than $155 million in fines.

In the end, however, Evans officials pleaded to one count and were fined $25,000.

PARTS OF Rail Car Specialties Inc., in Gagetown, or as it is more commonly known, Evans Engineered Products, have been torn down during the last few weeks. The factory is being torn down because of pollution and vandalism over the years.

Will baccalaureate go the way of the senior parade? Both were among the highlights of the commencement ceremonies at the school. The parade fell by the wayside in part because of the change in students' attitude about it.

Interest in baccalaureate services has diminished yearly since it was decreed that the school could have no part in this program because of the need to keep religion out of the schools.

The students have managed the event since that time and this year there were probably only about 40 parents or friends of the grads in attendance.

Volunteers across the state, including the Cass City Gun Club, conduct firearm safety classes annually.

The program was started 50 years ago by the DNR. The course was expanded over the years and includes training in equipment, wildlife management basics and ethical and responsible behavior by hunters.

How effective has it been? Fifty years after that first class, Michigan's accident rate is half the national rate and the safest place to hunt in the eastern half of the United States, with 3.5 accidents per 100,000 hunters.

Cass City High team 3rd at 1996 Envirothon

A group of Cass City High School students finished third overall at the 1996 Envirothon, held Saturday at the University of Michigan-Dearborn.

The students — Josh Lounsbury, Jenny Sugden, Nichol Becker, George Wright and Jason Wright — also placed first in the sustainable agriculture category.

"We're very pleased. The kids worked really hard. They prepared for it and I think they really enjoyed it," commented biology teacher Nancy Weippert, whose students competed against about 50 other teams representing Class A, B, C and D high schools from throughout the state.

The Envirothon is an environmental "Olympics" that pits teams of students in a day-long contest that tests their knowledge of natural and built environments.

The winning team will go to the national competition later this year, and also will earn a July trip aboard the U-M research vessel Laurentian to participate in Great Lakes research.

Each of the teams consists of 4 to 5 students and an advisor. Representing Cass City this year were Weippert and 2 student teams. Members of Cass City's other team were Brent Ruggles, Bath Bashur, Collier Bogart, Todd Milligan and Marcia Klaus.

The event was held at the U-M Dearborn Environmental Studies area, where students tested their knowledge of forestry, wildlife, aquatics and wetlands, sustainable agriculture, soils, energy and the environment in an outdoor, hands-on contest.

Sponsors of this year's Envirothon were the Michigan Department of Agriculture, Consumers Power Company, Detroit Edison Foundation, the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, the Michigan Association of Soil Conservation Districts, the Michigan Integrated Food and Farming Systems, and the Van Buren Soil Conservation District.

A little bit of this and that as seen from the corner of Main and Seeger Streets. How it is or how it should be.

We are in the midst of another brouhaha about parking on Main Street. It's almost as sure as the change in seasons that every decade or so the issue will resurface.

The problem is always the same. Cars are parked on Main Street for hours (sometimes all day) gobbling space that could be used by customers.

Enforcement in the early days was ineffective. After years of talk, talk, talk, parking meters were okayed.

It was not an overwhelmingly supported decision. They were installed on a "trial" basis.

The community was one of the last to go the meter route and one of the last to abandon them. Increased competition made it mandatory that customers weren't charged for spending their money in local stores.

The meters are gone. The problem remains. Customers won't pay to shop and they won't tolerate inconvenience either.

It's a fact that customers will walk a couple of blocks to get to shopping malls, but won't walk half that far to enter a local business.

Enforcement of a parking limit will help. Cooperation of all to see that any parking restrictions are complied with will help more.

Buying the yearly tabs for car licensing has developed into a routine. The application comes to the office, the fee is paid and the tabs returned, eliminating a visit to the branch office of the Secretary of State.

That works well unless a slip up occurs. My car was supposed to have new tabs for the year in place in February.

I was blissfully unaware that for 3 months I cruised all over Michigan with an expired license.

That came to an end Friday driving through Ubly when stopped by a sharp-eyed officer.

I couldn't believe that the fee wasn't paid (honest) but a check with headquarters proved that it wasn't.

Being stopped in Ubly was a bad news, good news incident. The bad news was that I was stopped. The good news was that the officer believed that there was no intent to defraud the state and I escaped without a ticket.

Do I need to add that my first stop that same day was at the branch Secretary of State's office in Caro?

The back forty

by Roger Pond

© 1994 Roger Pond

I finally did it. I broke down and bought a new tent. I've learned over the years that a person either breaks down and buys a tent, or he buys the tent and breaks down later.

Either way, I've never seen a tent camper who wasn't broken down in one way or another.

I've always been fascinated by tents. Ever since I became old enough to hide in the woods, I've always had 2 or 3 of these charming, little structures.

My first tent was an obstinate, little piece of canvas, referred to as a pup tent in those days. Mine was called a Mountain Pup Tent in the catalog.

The term "mountain pup tent" had a nice ring for my 12-year-old mind; but I soon learned this structure was named for a small breed of dog found in the mountains. My first outing confirmed mountain pups are tiny, water-loving creatures, well-suited to sleeping under a wet piece of canvas.

My first tent taught me everything a person needs to know about camping: 1. you can't believe anything they tell you in the catalog, and 2. There is no such thing as a waterproof tent.

The tent I bought this week is one of those modern, pop-up jobs. It's advertised as a "6 or 7 person family tent," with 4 zippered windows (including the door) for excellent ventilation.

The walls are "durable nylon taffeta," and the tent has 2 roof vents for added air movement. I think you get the picture: This tent is 80 percent ventilation.

I told my son, "This thing is so well-ventilated, you won't even know you're inside. If I wanted ventilation, I wouldn't need a tent!"

In addition to more air movement than a wind-tunnel, my new tent has "no-sew mesh" in all the roof vents and windows. That's another thing I've never had in a tent.

Anybody who has been camping more than once knows there are things in the woods that would just love to get into your tent. From Ghoulies and Ghosties and long leggy Beasities, Good Lord deliver us.

Tent campers have enough problems already without worrying about things they can't even see! Folks who worry about "no-see-ums" had better stay in the house, as far as I'm concerned.

There's no such thing as a "6 or 7 person family tent", either. Just try putting 2 adults and 4 kids in a tent and see what kind of family you've got when it's over. (Anybody with that many kids didn't get them by sleeping in a tent, anyway.)

To make a long story short, I bought the tent. Then I tried to set the thing up. That's the main test for any tent: Can you set it up?

The directions for this one say, "With a person at each front corner of the tent, flex the fiberglass pole into an upward position."

Are they crazy?! A person at each front corner? Where am I going to find someone crazy enough to go camping with me in a tent?! That's insane. I'll just have to tie the tent to a tree and pull it up like I have all the others.

Hospital Facts..

The first ever report card on how well Michigan hospitals care for their patients shows that four out of five do a pretty good job. The grades were given by the Michigan Health and Hospital Association. The report looks at how well hospitals statewide did on several types of medical cases. Twelve Thumb area hospitals participated in the voluntary report. Based on 1994 figures, Hills and Dales General Hospital experienced shorter patient stays and mortality. The statewide report concludes that only 8% of the hospitals had more patients die than expected and that 73% of patients left the hospital within a reasonable time.

*Weight Watchers will discontinue their program at this time due to low attendance.

Your neighbor says Can't forget the Wings' '96 season

Maybe next year. That is the thought of Red Wings fans across Michigan, including Cass City's own Jim Guinther.

Guinther, a self-described huge hockey fan, said even though he is disappointed about the Red Wings' under-achieving ways once again in the play-offs, the team's regular season accomplishments can't be forgotten.

"They had high expectations, but if you're a good hockey fan, you don't forget the regular season. You can't push that aside."

Guinther, who has been a fan for at least 40 years, said the play-offs are a totally different season than the regular season and for a finesse team like the Red Wings that can mean trouble.

"Let's put it this way. They (the referees) didn't call things the way they did in the regular season and that hurt the Wings."

As for a specific reason why the Red Wings seem to come up short every year in the play-offs, Guinther, who watches all their games even though his wife doesn't like it, said he can't come up with a reason.

"Why? I can't say. I'm not an expert."

He did offer one suggestion as to why the team that set a National Hockey League record, winning 62 regular season games, won't be drinking out of Lord Stanley's cup this year. "Their scorers didn't score," Guinther said simply.

Another disadvantage the Wings faced, he explained, is all the other teams get psyched up to play the Wings because they are the best.

Guinther sums it up this way. "There is always hope. I thought they would do it...you're always disappointed, but you've got to put it in perspective. They had a great season. They have nothing to be ashamed of."

Tap VanVliet for student athlete award

Kelli VanVliet has been honored as the outstanding student-athlete at Cass City High School for listing in an honor roll of these students from Michigan high schools. The students are listed with their accomplishments annually in the Detroit Free Press. The nominations are by the administration, not the school coaches, Ken Micklash, superintendent, explained. VanVliet's achievements are listed in the Free Press. She is the daughter of Rick and Mary VanVliet. Her grade-point average is 3.977. She has a Central Michigan University scholarship and is a member of the National Honor Society. She is a 4-year honor roll and academic letter recipient.

She has outstanding student academic pins in science, English and advanced math, and school certificates of achievement in Spanish, accounting, social studies and biology. She was named to the all district softball team and was the softball and basketball team co-captain. She was named most valuable player of the softball team; 3-year honorable mention all-conference basketball team, and won 2 letters in volleyball.

Prices rise?

Food prices could rise 2.7 percent this year. However, the increase would fall short of the 2.9 percent increase seen in 1994 and 1995.

SENIOR KELLI VanVliet squares to bunt for the last time in a Red Hawk uniform during Saturday's district action at Reese. The Hawks bowed from the state tournament with a 6-1 loss against Mayville.

Hawks bow out of districts despite Peters' no-hitter

When Rachel Peters got the ball over the plate, the Hawk hurler was literally untouchable as she pitched a no-hitter in an opening round loss to Mayville in the Michigan High School district Class C softball tournament at Reese. The score was 6-1. Nine walks, combined with the Wildcats and pushed them into the finals, where they were defeated by Reese. Mayville scored enough runs in the third to win. Peters walked Bogman and McKenna to start the inning and both scored on infield outs and an error. Cass City's lone run came in the fourth inning. Kelli VanVliet singled, stole second and came home on an error. Nicole Patterson was credited with the win as she allowed 5 scattered hits and had letter-perfect control, not walking a batter.

SEASON'S RESULT

The Hawks got off to a very slow start this spring, but showed steady improvement as the season progressed. Overall the record was 8-14 with a 4-6 mark in Thumb C National League competition.

The league title was won by Bay City All Saints with a 10-0 record. Cros-Lex was second at 8-2, followed by Bad Axe, 6-4; Cass City, 4-6; Marlette, 2-8. and Lakers, 0-10.

Mayville ends Hawks' season in well-played game, 6-4

The baseball season ended for the Cass City Red Hawks Saturday when the team bowed to potent Mayville, 6-4, in the Class C district tournament opener Saturday at Reese.

The Hawks entered the game as decided underdogs, but rose to the challenge to treat fans to a tight, well-played game.

Mayville's Fisher and Cass City's Chris Hahn were locked in a tight pitching duel through the first 4 innings. Mayville scored a run in the opening inning and the Hawks evened the score in the fourth.

Corey Ulfig walked, Hahn doubled and Ulfig scored on a single by Dave Murphy.

The Wildcats broke open the game in the bottom of the fifth with a 5-run rally. The Wildcats combined a hit batter, a walk and 2 errors in the offensive outburst, driving Hahn from the mound with one out.

Cass City bounced back with 3 runs in the last inning on hits by Chad Diegel, Joseph Khoury, Chad Zawilinski and Matt Oesch. The tying run was at the plate when the game ended.

Fisher went the distance for Mayville. He was touched for 8 hits while striking out 12.

Hahn went the first 4 1/3 innings and allowed 4 hits and the 6 runs. Zawilinski relieved with one out in the fifth, allowed no hits and struck out 4 of the 5 batters he faced.

REESE WINS

In the championship game Saturday afternoon, Mayville was defeated by Reese in a pitchers' battle, 3-2. Jeremy Teddy netted the win over Mayville's Chad Brant. Both Brant and Teddy allowed 3 hits and 3 walks. Teddy struck out 11 and Brant whiffed 8.

MARLETTE GAMES

In the last regular season game of the year, the Hawks split Thumb C National League games with Marlette Wednesday.

The Hawks lost the first game, 9-5. Oesch took the loss. He was touched for 10 hits and walked 3. Sowa allowed 8 hits to get the win. Diegel and Murphy, with 2 hits each, led the Cass City attack.

The Hawks bounded back in the nightcap with an 8-4 win. Hahn started and allowed 2 runs and one hit. Zawilinski finished the game, allowing 6 hits and 2 runs to get credit for the victory.

The Hawks sewed up the game in the second inning with a 6-run rally. In the big second, Cass City collected 6 of their 8 hits. Ulfig and Daniel led the attack with 2 hits. Daniel drove in 2 runs with his single in the second.

THE OWEN-GAGE softball team and fans were jubilant and rushed to congratulate Melissa Albrecht on her game-winning hit in the extra inning game.

Owen-Gage baseball, softball teams bow to Ubly in finals

Owen-Gage softball and baseball teams bowed out of the Class D Michigan High School district baseball and softball tournaments in Port Hope Saturday in great baseball weather.

Both teams won their semi-final games before losing in the finals.

The boys had an easy time in the semis, using a 5-run fourth inning to key an 8-4 win over North Huron.

The win was racked up by Jason Anthes. The game was decided for all practical purposes in the fourth, when the Bulldogs rapped out 4 hits and used 3 walks to score 5 times.

Anthes allowed just 5 hits and recorded 10 strikeouts on his way to the win. He also collected 3 hits. Anthes was ably supported at the plate by Joe Tkacz with 4 hits and Austin Brinkman with 3 hits, one of which drove in a pair of runs.

In the championship game the Ubly Bearcats combined a potent offense with strong pitching to coast to a 15-1 decision. The loss was pinned on Joe Tkacz, who was relieved in the fourth inning by Brinkman. In the fatal fourth, the Bearcats scored 10 runs. Among the key Bearcat hits was a 3-run triple by Ryan Maurer and a 2-RBI single by Cook.

The Bulldogs' lone offensive threat against Fred Ligrow came in the bottom of the third after Eric Dietzel walked and came home on a double by Anthes.

After that Ligrow pitched shutout ball the rest of the way.

SOFTBALL GAMES

Fans who saw the semi-final game between Owen-Gage and North Huron were treated to a close, well played game that went into an extra inning before the Bulldogs prevailed, 4-3.

Melissa Albrecht won it with a clean single that scored Susie Roemer with the deciding run.

Before that it was a nip and tuck game all the way, a pitching duel between Kate Powers of Owen-Gage and North Huron's Heidi Brown. Brown uses control to get by, pitching without a windmill style. Powers pitched a 3-hitter. Two of the hits came in the first inning when North Huron scored its first run. The third was recorded in the fifth, when North Huron combined three walks and a hit by Pettit to score twice and take the lead, 3-2. Powers struck out Mausolf with the bases loaded to set the stage for the Bulldog rally that won the game. Owen-Gage tied it in the sixth to send the game into overtime.

In the finals, Ubly scored early and often to record an easy 20-9 decision over the Bulldogs. Powers attempted to pitch both games of the doubleheader and was touched for 7 hits while walking 10.

Krissy Wyrick scattered seven hits and walked 5. Rachel Morell banged out 3 doubles for Ubly. Beth Nickerson had a pair of hits for Owen-Gage.

PRE-DISTRICT

Owen-Gage advanced to the finals by scoring an unusual win over Caseville in the pre-district. The score was 13-0 when the game was forfeited after 3 innings.

The Caseville catcher was ejected from the game for not sliding at a play at the plate. The substitute catcher refused to catch anymore after one inning and Caseville then forfeited.

With the loss to Ubly, a successful Bulldog season came to an end. The girls' record for the year was a gaudy 14 wins, 5 losses.

KATE POWERS HURLED Owen-Gage to victory over North Huron, but tired in the second game in a loss to Ubly.

Rich has also gone to local communities to get permission to put donation canisters in stores, and hopes to raise the $7,000 needed by Dec. 1. So far, Rich said he has received a lot of support, more than he expected.

The Moving Wall is the brainchild of Vietnam vet John Devitt. It took Devitt 2 years to build the 252.4 foot long structure. At the center, the wall stands 6 feet tall and tapers to 3 feet at each end. As of Jan. 1 the Moving Wall contained 58,196 names, the same as the Wall in Washington, D.C.

The Moving Wall began touring the country in 1984, 2 years after the original monument was revealed to the public in Washington, D.C. To date, it has been to more than 500 cities throughout the country, including 14 in Michigan. It will be in Adrian, Mich., this summer.

Raise $800

Detroit pupils visit barn

In an effort to incorporate Michigan history into her curriculum, a Detroit area school teacher came up with the idea of raising money to help save a local barn by running a news room out of her classroom.

Kelly Loniewski, an elementary school teacher in the Farmington Hills school district, grew up in Gageton. After the plight of the Octagon Barn came to her attention, she suggested to her class that they raise money to help save the unique, 8-sided barn in her old hometown.

Loniewski, who teaches a fourth and fifth grade split class this year, said she let her students decide if they wanted to do it or not. Her students decided it was a good idea and made it their philanthropy for the year. The students were able to visit the barn Thursday afternoon.

"The kids have really taken ownership (of the project)," she said. "They have been looking forward to the trip all year."

"ROOM 9 PRESS"

As a way to raise money for the barn, the kids started their own newspaper called the "Room 9 Press." "We went through the whole process of starting and running a newspaper," Loniewski explained.

The "Room 9 Press" is a weekly paper that the youngsters sold to fellow students at Beechview Elementary, parents and teachers throughout the year for 25 cents a copy. The paper covered school news, current events and local news. It also had features such as a math quiz, crossword puzzles and artistic drawings.

One of the first editions of the paper explained what the students were doing and why they were doing it. A later edition was dedicated to the history of the barn. Loniewski said the students had Internet access for information and pictures and the paper was computer generated.

Each student was able to sign up for any number of jobs that would be found at a regular newspaper such as Beechview reporter, general reporter, editor, nutrition writer, or artist.

In addition to using the paper as a way to raise money and teach history, she was able to incorporate English, math and computer skills as well.

The students made about $18 a week selling the paper.

They organized other fund raisers as well, such as bake sales and can drives. All totaled, the students presented $800 to the Friends of the Thumb Octagon Barn.

AT THE BARN

While visiting the barn Thursday, the students had the opportunity to visit different stations set up in the barn, such as wool spinning, washing clothes on a washboard and tub, beating rugs with a stick, and riding saddles.

The barn also featured a small petting zoo with a baby goat, baby ducks, rabbits and sheep. Each student was also given the opportunity to plant a sunflower outside the barn.

The Octagon Barn was originally owned by James and Cora Purdy. The barn, which is 4 stories tall and totals some 8,600 square feet, was built in 1923-24 by George and John Munro. The historical structure features an overhead tram system that was used to move hay and feed throughout the barn.

The volunteer Friends of the Octagon Barn group is spearheading a campaign to restore the barn as well as the

Biefer honored

Kingston High School teacher Marilyn Biefer was named "Teacher of the Year" during the school's recent annual academic awards assembly.

The student body was surveyed and asked to choose the best teacher. This is the first year the award has been given.

Biefer, who was presented with the award by high school Principal Wayne Wright, has taught art and English at Kingston High School for 23 years. She received her Bachelor of Arts degree in 1971 and her Master of Arts degree in 1985, both from Central Michigan University.

Correction

A village council story published in last week's edition of the Chronicle incorrectly stated a resident of the Northwood Lake Condominiums reported raw sewage backed up onto Beechwood Drive during heavy rains. The report was made by Robert Bliss, who is not a condo resident.

School board candidates speak out

School board candidates in the Cass City and Owen-Gage districts were recently asked to respond to separate questions regarding their candidacies and issues in their respective school systems.

The following is a listing of the questions and each candidate's responses:

CASS CITY

1. The new system for school financing where the funds come from a state sales tax has made it possible to generate healthy surpluses in general funds because of Cass City's low cost-per-pupil for education. There is a plan to use some $200,000 for an addition of 2 classrooms to the Campbell Elementary building. Do you feel the money should be used for this construction or for additions to the curriculum or applied to the debt for the new middle school?

2. Because of the recently established alternative education class, "at risk" students will not have a sub- dized class available this summer. The class will only be offered if enough students are willing to pay the cost of the program. Is this new policy in the best interest of the students?

3. Tell what area you believe the school needs to focus its attention.

Beverley Auten

1. If the school is fortunate enough to have a $200,000 surplus it will be over a 2 year period for school year "95-96" and "96-97." The surplus is partially due to the new funding brought about by Proposal A with sales tax a major portion of the funding for public schools. The current school year we had to build into our budget retirement funds that Proposal A left unclear as to whether it would be the local school districts or the state that picked up these costs. A lawsuit resulted and when it was settled the school didn't have to pay that portion of the retirement fund. This helped our School District generate a fund balance proposed at $100,000.00. If we are fortunate enough to generate a surplus next school year of $100,000.00 then we would have the $200,000.00 mentioned for an addition to Campbell Elementary.

If we have a $200,000.00 surplus then I am in favor of putting additional rooms on to Campbell Elementary. The original proposal we as a Board presented was for a major addition to Campbell Elementary. The need was and still remains for additional classrooms for that building and those students. We are relieving the need by utilizing the annex at the middle school for the early childhood programs when we get the new Middle School built.

2. I believe that the Alternative Education class is for "At Risk" students. Some students in the Middle School who have the ability and weren't applying themselves were verbalizing that they could use the summer school as a means to advance if they didn't make it academically. Parents and teachers wanted something other than the regular classroom for the students who were disrupting the classrooms last fall. We developed the Alternative Education Class and intentionally looked for a site off campus. I visited Chad Daniels and his students in the class at Baker College and am proud of their progress. Chad is an enthusiastic person and has a strong desire to help these students change and be successful. I feel this policy is in the best interest of all our students and went into effect early enough so students and their parents knew the program wouldn't be available this summer.

3. There is a Chinese Proverb that says, "It takes a whole village to raise a child." I think we need our total community involved in our school systems. We need the involvement of people from all walks of life to provide input, assistance, mentoring, volunteering, etc., to help give our students the best education and support system necessary to make their educational experience beneficial and them successful as students and citizens. The community is a resource for the students and an expansion of the school which aids in and promotes the learning process. I feel the school's focus should be on community involvement and input for the benefit of all our students. Our classrooms extend into the community as a learning center. Together we can make a difference for our most valuable resource - our students.

Marv Irzer

I have resided in the Cass City area all my life. I have been employed at Cole Carbide Industries for the past 30 years. I have a son in high school at this time and 3 other children that have graduated from the Cass City School System.

1. My feeling is they should build the classrooms on the middle school at this time because it would be more cost effective because we will already have hired contractors and builders for the new construction. By using the surplus of money we would not have to increase the millage. We have to expand the elementary school to make more room available for our children in the elementary school rather than having these rooms in the intermediate addition. By making these improvements I feel we can provide a better educational environment for our children.

2. I do believe the new policy for the "at risk" students is in the best interest of the students. It is a good idea to have this program through the summer but I also feel this should not be a cost to the district because of the low number of students.

3. I feel the school system needs better communication with the public on school issues and policies. Our school system and community need to work together to build a better educational program and by doing this we will all be rewarded by being a better community.

David Knight

1. It is my opinion that the surplus general fund exists today as a result of foresight and prudent spending of previous members of the board of education, as well as the contribution from the combined effect of the state sales tax and Cass City's low cost per pupil. If the new class rooms will improve the educational environment for our elementary children, then I believe it follows in the tradition of prudent spending and the money will be well spent. The question of "additions to the curriculum" should be considered separately and should stand on their own merit. I am not in favor of applying general fund money to the debt for the new Middle School. The money from the sale of bonds, that was approved by the people of our community, will cover the costs for the new school building.

2. I am not aware that anyone has approached the School District with a concern about paying for the summer supplementary classes for "at risk" students. I have been present at the last 3 Board of Education meetings and there were no objections raised by the public in attendance. I am confident that the members of the Board of Education will consider any comments on this subject at future Board meetings.

3. I am interested in improving the academic performance of the students in our school district. Education in our country is not being given the priority that I think it deserves. I firmly believe that providing the highest quality primary education for our children will enable them to excel in either the job market or at college, where they will be competing against other well qualified young adults.

Fred Matthews

1. There has been discussion around the board table about future room additions at the Campbell school. It would be wise to take whatever necessary from the school's fund equity, "reserve" to construct a 2 room addition. Through careful management Cass City Schools have accumulated sizeable fund equity. This money is invested in banks drawing the highest interest possible. This money is our rainy day reserve. Any chance of passing a bond issue for major construction to the Campbell school would be remote. Until a major part of the new Middle School bond is paid off.

Additions to curriculum come only after careful study of what you want and if it is necessary.

2. The board has had the experience of offering summer programs for at risk students. Teachers were hired. Programs were set up to help at risk students. Many students didn't grasp the opportunity or were not serious about their attendance. Some students would come only 2 or 3 days. Our new program under the direction of Mr. Daniels gives students a much better program. It also teaches RESPONSIBILITY. Either students put forth effort or no diploma.

3. Education is changing. New things, new developments, new technology, new methods are all changing the way we live. Kids are getting smarter. Mainly because they are being challenged to excel. To reach new goals. Employers are demanding young people come to them well equipped with the skills of today's challenging futures. We as school board members must be able to communicate to the public, which only 24% have children in school, that changes are a necessary part of improved education for an improved society.

Dave Osentoski

1. If indeed there is a need for 2 additional class rooms, then initially add the cost to the debt for the new middle school. But in return, apply the est. "healthy" surplus from the general fund to the debt of the middle school to help get our property taxes back in reason. There is also a question of how "2" class rooms could cost $200,000 to build.

2. There has been an "alternative" arranged for these "at risk" students in lieu of the summer education which allows equal opportunity for all students. Granted not all students learn at the same rate and may need the extra summer classes. It is possible that if these summer classes had to be paid for out of pocket, then maybe the parent would follow through and make sure the student was truly applying himself.

Although if the parent could not pay this fee and the student thoroughly applied himself, arrangements should be made to allow this student the opportunity.

3. How do you pick one specific issue? The school system as a whole needs attention focused to all matters. When you fix one issue, it is going to affect another area, and so on and so forth, but of course this year the issues will probably be the construction of the new middle school even though the millage has passed.

O-G candidates discuss policies, qualifications

1. A new policy closing the junior/senior high school campus has generated much controversy this year. Do you feel the policy is a good one? Why or why not?

2. In what areas do you feel the Owen-Gage School District could improve?

3. Please describe your qualifications and experiences as a potential school board trustee and in what ways you could contribute to the school district.

special board meeting for parents and students to air any concerns. The outcome of this meeting was that Mr. Thies agreed to explore areas of compromise with the student council. When these parties agreed to open the west lawn at noon and install picnic tables I felt a second vote was completely unnecessary.

2. My observation after serving one year on the board is that we have a very progressive student oriented administration, staff and board, but we seem to lack effective communication with the parents as to what we're doing and why. I would like to encourage the voters to call me with any questions between meetings and to make attending meetings a regular habit. Also please vote in this and all school elections.

3. Having served 5 years as an elected U.A.W. Representative, 2 years as a village trustee and one year on the Owendale-Gagetown School Board, I am accustomed to dealing effectively with a variety of people and problems. My U.A.W. service has also given me much experience and knowledge in contractual language and interpretation. Being a product of this school system myself, I hope to continue to serve and assist this school system in operating in an efficient, student focused manner.

James Albrecht

1. I don't agree with closed campus. The students were not causing problems. They were not cutting classes. The board based their decision on false information. They went into executive session to discuss closed campus, why didn't they get public input? I feel parental permission slips should be allowed. Did the board consider the petitions by the voters and students?

2. Areas I feel Owen-Gage School District could improve would be better communication between everyone in the district. Getting school policy in writing when it is voted into effect. Returning to a normal check and balance system among board and administration. Stop talking about improving everything in the school. Instead, take one step at a time, identify, discuss, apply, evaluate.

3. Qualifications as a potential school board trustee? I don't have any special qualifications, but I am concerned about what is going on in our school which affects your children and mine. I have decided to run for the board after a number of events and issues have happened in our school. I became involved to find out what the facts were by researching them. I feel we need more parental involvement. The administration and school board should quit ignoring the parents and their input.

Joan Koch

1. I feel unlocking our students and allowing them to go outside was a good idea. But the closed campus issue was only the tip of the iceberg, whether you agree or not it has become an outlet to bring out a lot of issues that are bothering the public and that the current board was unaware of.

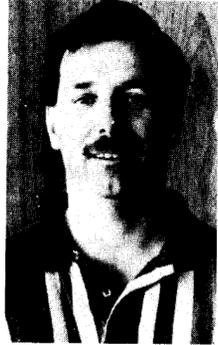

2. I feel O-G could improve by getting back to the basics, we are a farm community without a shop or home ec. program. I feel the teachers also have to teach with the understanding not every student is or will be college material.

O-G definitely needs to have a change in its administration - to one of honesty, trust, and common sense. We need a unified school system between the elementary and high school. I personally feel that we need to get some strong male role model teachers.

3. I feel I can contribute a voice of the public and students in a calm realistic manner. I will not be afraid to question the administration. I am an O-G grad as are my sons, my dedication to O-G runs deep. I am president of the O-G Booster Club, Friend of the Youth, involved in the summer rec. program, church, and octagon preservation committee. I have an accounting degree, 20 years' clerical experience, and I currently work for Harvard Industries in Deckerville.

The really sad part is that all 5 of this year's candidates are good for the school board, each in their own way, and the ones that need to be removed are not up for re-election.

Walter W. Swaistyn

1. The closed campus policy has its pros and cons, but the main concern right now is "school of choice" that is about to take place. Also with closed campus, the students feel that they can't be trusted. I don't think there is as much trouble (with the students) at Owen-Gage as what the people are hearing.

2. The areas, I feel, in which the Owen-Gage School District could improve on are trust and honesty. It should be a place where parents and the administration can work together and listen to each other. I also feel that the administration and the school board should learn to work together as in the past. The students need to gain the feeling that they're not all bad students.

3. The following are my qualifications and experiences as a potential school board trustee that I have to offer. I feel that these qualifications, along with the contributions that I am currently making to the school district and community, will show that I am a strong supporter of the school district.

-Resident of the Owen-Gage School District all my life

-Owen-Gage High School graduate

-Member of the Unionville Moravian Church and currently serving as a trustee on the board

-Served 8 years on the Owen-Gage Board of Education (6 years as treasurer)

-State certified school board member

-Owen-Gage's representative to the Huron County School Board Association (2 years as secretary)

-Was an active member of the Owen-Gage Boosters

-Member of the Owendale Lions Club

-Current treasurer for the Owen-Gage Recreation Committee

-Volunteer coach of 5th and 6th grade basketball

-Do my best to attend as many school functions as possible

-Married and have 2 children (ages 8 & 12) who attend Owen-Gage Schools

Recital Sunday

Jan Moore of Cass City will present her piano, voice and saxophone recital Sunday, June 9, at 1:30 p.m. at Novesta Church of Christ, Cass City. Baker Community Choir will also perform. Students from Caro, Uby, Bad Axe, Sandusky, Deckerville and Cass City will participate.

Punch and cookies will be served after the program. The public is invited to attend.
