Orbital switches to 4-stroke engines

Orbital Engine Corp., which operated Orbital Fluid Technologies plant in Cass City before moving to Saginaw, will be merged with Siemens AG's Siemens Automotive unit to develop. manufacture, distribute and sell fuel rail assemblies incorporating Orbital's direct fuel injection technology.

While in Cass City, the firm worked to perfect technologies for a 2-stroke engine. With the merger, the company will be working to provide its direct injection technology for conventional 4-stroke engines in the 50-50 joint venture.

The company announced that the new company will target the United States and European non-automotive market and the growing Asian markets.

Orbital Fluid Technologies will be the product engineering headquarters for the 50-50 joint venture company and Siemens' existing facility in Newport News, Va., will be the fuel systems manufacturing facility.

Orbital in Saginaw is under the direction of Lou Horner, Cass City. who was unavailable for comment Monday.

Razed county road garage to be rebuilt

It's likely Deford will again serve as home to a road commission satellite garage, although specific construction plans are still weeks away. The Tuscola County Road Commission's Deford garage, 5832 Bruce St., went up in flames Jan. 29. The blaze claimed the 2,400-squarefoot structure along with a pair of trucks and other equipment.

The cause of the fire was not determined, and officials are still awaiting a firm estimate on the loss.

The road commission board has since discussed the future of the satellite garage, and the consensus is that Deford remains a good location to serve townships to the south, north and west, according to board Chairman Dick

"I would say we're 95 percent sure it's going to be rebuilt. We're not sure what or where yet, (but) it will be in Deford," he said Friday.

"We want to have something in place, hopefully, by the early part of next winter." The building that was destroyed had housed the road commission garage since the 1940s. The garage was one of 3 road commission satellite facilities. The others are located in Akron and Vassar, with the main offices in Caro. Road Commission reports

Repairing M-81 potholes endless, costly job

It hasn't been uncommon in recent weeks to see cars, trucks and vans weaving as they travel on M-81 between Caro and Cass City.

At first glance, one might think drinking and driving is the culprit. But it's potholes, not booze, that have motorists bobbing in an effort to avoid as many of the craters as possible.

It's a task easier said than done, with some sections of the state highway looking more like a mine field than a roadway.

"It's difficult to remember one year to the next, how to compare, but I would say this spring is one of the worst ones we have had in a while," Jim Miklovic, director of finance for the Tuscola County Road Commission, said of road damage caused by thawing and freezing.

The recent period of upand-down temperatures and precipitation follows flooding last summer that caused thousands of dollars in damage to roadways, drains and other property.

"M-81 gets bad every spring, and it's especially bad this year. It's really giving us a lot of trouble," he said. "We have a lot of patch work to do on the county roads,

How bad are some sections of highway? Bad enough for the state to authorize the county to patch on Saturdays and Sundays if need be, according to Miklovic, who noted the state pays for patching done on state roads in the county.

It's also been bad enough to take a toll on some vehicles. Miklovic said the road commission has received a few calls regarding tires being damaged.

Recent weather has been particularly hard on Thumb roads, with several periods of heavy rain, followed by freezing temperatures. The result is chunks of asphalt breaking up, leaving holes of various sizes in the road.

Patching the holes, many repeatedly, is an expensive proposition.

Miklovic hasn't tallied up the tab for 1996, but he said the county spent more than $340,000 patching blacktop roads in the county in 1995. The total tab in 1994 was

Chances are good the county will spend at least that amount in 1996 and 1997, judging by the activity of road crews in recent weeks.

Miklovic said Tuscola County road crews began using a different type of patching material, known as Sylvax, on Friday. It's a higher quality and more expensive material at about $53 a ton, compared to $30 to $32 a ton for the patch normally used.

"We bought 100 tons (of the patch) today," he said, noting the road commission generally tries to use the least expensive patch possible to keep costs down. But the less expensive material hasn't held up under the weather conditions this winter.

"This should stay in the holes a little better," he continued. "(But) it's still a patch. M-81 is really getting bad. It really needs reconstruction more than resurfac-

The same can be said of state highways, such as M-53, in Huron County, according to Russ Bowers, Huron Please turn to back page.

ROAD REPAIRS — The Tuscola County Road Commission had 3 trucks and several crew members patching potholes Friday morning on M-81, between the DNR field office west of Cass City, and Caro. PUBLIC HEARING BASIC PLAN ELEMENTS

ELKLAND TOWNSHIP

The Township of Elkland Planning Commission will hold a public hearing on its basic and land use plan map. The changes are on file at the Township of Elkland Town Hall at 6691 Church Street, Cass City, MI 48726.

The basic plan envisions primarily maintaining the rural character of Elkland Township. Accordingly, agricultural plans dominate the northwestern two-thirds of the township and floodplain conservation dominates the southeastern area. Cass City is not planned or zoned by the township, although Cass City remains the residential, commercial, industrial, economic, recreational and local governmental center of the general community.

Elkland Township land use plans includes, extension or Village residential areas west and south of the Village, business development north of the Village of Cass City along Cemetery Road to north of Milligan Road, extending business areas east of the Village along M-81 to one-half mile east of Schwegler Road, providing for business areas west of the Village to Crane Road, providing a business area south of Cass City and permitting industrial areas south of the village on Cemetery Road and east of the village at Greenland Road and M-81 State Highway.

Maps and detailed texts of these changes will be presented at the public hearing, which will be held as follows:

PROPOSED ZONING ORDINANCE REVISIONS

ELKLAND TOWNSHIP

The Township of Elkland Planning Commission will hold a public hearing on proposed revisions to its current zoning ordinance and changes to its zoning ordinance map. The changes are on file at the Township of Elkland Town Hall at 6691 Church

Minor revisions are proposed for the text of the zoning ordinance. The changes in the zoning ordinance are to, (1) remove inconsistent language for limitations on use or recreational mobile homes; (2) update controls on regulation of dish antennas; (3) add sign setback distances to sign controls; and (4) revise the uses in the B-1 Business

Changes in the zoning ordinance map are limited to the B-1 Business District and M-1

Manufacturing District. The changes are, (1) immediately north of the village of Cass

She picked the time when in her 20s as probably the best. The column sparked a review of my "best times." What about yours?

Instead of breaking it up in 10-year spans, I decided on 20-year periods and discarded the first 15 as too young to know what life was all about.

That leaves 3 different segments for consideration. After thinking about it, I can't honestly say that one stands out as head and shoulders better than any other.

Each was replete with highs and lows. The first 20 highs were many, marriage, the birth of 3 kids and first steps towards economic security. The lows, 3 treadmill years in service in World War II, no money, no car and envy of peers who took jobs instead of college and were coasting along in comparative financial wealth. The next 20, highs included the activities with the kids as they ascended into adults and pride in their achievements. Afternoons and nights spent on the golf course. Economic progress. The lows, a month and a half spent in the hospital. The loss of a parent and the deaths of friends.

The last 20 highs include an appreciation of good health. The arrival of grandchildren. Working how and when I want to. Times for trips and vacations. A marriage. The low, the death of my wife and the loss of friends of long standing.

There's an intangible that, when I think about it, tips the scales in favor of the first 20 years. It's not what was accomplished or not accomplished.

This is an exciting time for gardeners. Everyone has been cooped up all winter, seed catalogs are arriving in the mail, and nurseries are stocking their shelves. It just seems natural to get outside and plant something.

We must not be fooled, however. Experienced gardeners know it's too early for many gardening activities, too late for others, and maybe we should just lie down here and think about this for a month or two.

Everything I read about gardening reminds me how much this activity has changed over the years. Folks used buy a few seeds, plant them in a hotbed, and then nurse those seedlings for weeks.

Now, the majority of gardeners head straight for the nursery. Then, they grab a little, red wagon; fill it with bags of potting soil and some half-grown plants, and drop $60 at the cash register on the way out.

That's not gardening, that's shopping! Whatever happened to the days when gardens helped a family save money?

Whatever happened to the days when hotbeds were filled with loam and horse manure, rather than $40 worth of potting soil. I'm afraid our modern gardeners have forgotten all about economics — and horse manure

The best example of this lapse of memory is a woman from California who moved

The first stable she visited sive to feed, she could expect said they charged $80 per month to board a horse. 'Veterinary fees are extra, and we keep the manure," the horse wrangler told her. "Oh, but I want the manure for my garden," she said.

"I'm sorry, Ma'am, that's not the way we do business,' the horseman replied. When she arrived at the second stable the owner said. "We charge $75 a month, vet fees are extra, our farrier changes shoes every four months, and we get the ma-

"Oh, I hope the farrier changes the horse's shoes, too," she quipped, but no one laughed.

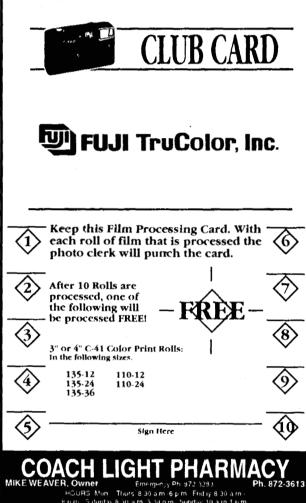

By the time she arrived at a third stable, the California woman was better prepared. She knew horses are expensome vet bills, and the manure is apparently quite valu-

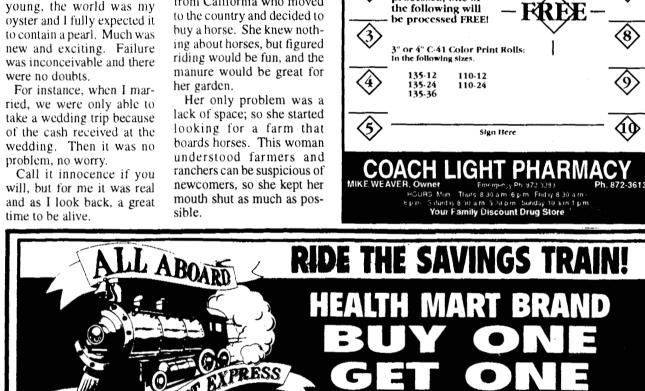

The third stable owner told her, "Our boarding fee is $30 a month, you pay the vet bills, and shoeing costs are extra." The woman was so pleased with the low price, she almost forgot about the manure. Suddenly she remembered, "Oh, who gets the manure?" she asked.

A Caro woman unwittingly helped a Mississippi prison inmate bilk more than $10.000 from 2 Caro banks. The woman's name has not been released. She became acquainted with the suspect via correspondence through a singles club. The suspect convinced her that he owned a business and was gong to move to Michigan. He sent the woman a number of U.S. Postal money orders, which he asked her to cash and return to him to pay for moving expenses. The money orders all came out of a prison in Mississippi.

Your Retirement Spending Plan

Early retirement or late, you now face the ultimate reality test. Your capital and life circumstances are pretty much known. What can be squeezed out of your resources? How much can you afford to spend each year, so that you won't run out of money?

These simple questions involve some extraordinary choices, which will affect your personal comfort for the rest of your life. You have to decide:

• What's the best way of taking money out of your various retirement plans - in annuity payments or in a lump sum?

When should you swallow the income taxes on your tax-deferred

How should your retirement savings be invested?

• Who should invest those savings for you?

Should you keep your present house or sell it?

What rate of inflation should you assume?

None of these questions has just one answer. You need to test one set of possibilities against another, to see how the alternatives play out. With only a couple of choices to make, you can probably reach the right decisions without help. But for multiple possibilities, I don't recommend it. God hasn't made enough erasers and yellow pads for you to work this out yourself.

You should not bring these questions to a financial planner who earns commissions by selling financial products. Salespeople may be biased toward lump-sum withdrawals from pension plans, because that gives you money to buy the investments they sell. But what if those investments fail? Can you afford to take the risk? Your best choice may be to leave your money right there in the pension plan, for the company to manage for you. Fortunately, there is help from a certified public accountant (CPAs), who practice in financial planning, who is PFS (Personal Financial Specialist). Ask for advice. He can lay out each and every choice: What net income you'd get from various types of pension-plan distributions.

Kingston rolls to easy win over O-G in district

As expected, host Kingston advanced into Thursday's semifinal Class D district contest against Akron-Fairgrove with an easy win over Owen-Gage Monday in the opening game of March Madness.

Senior John McLaughlin's 22 points led his North Central Thumb League champion Cardinals to a lopsided 87-40 win. Coach Mike Rea's squad wouldn't be challenged on the night.

Despite the whomping, Coach Jim Brinkman had to be pleased with the play of his young Bulldogs, who tasted victory only once this Owen-Gage, which features 4 sophomores, displayed several signs of a brighter future. The play of James Lemanski was one. Lemanski, the 'Dogs' best leaper, turned in a strong inside performance and tallied 6 of his team high 12 points in the early going.

Uncharacteristically, the Cardinals opened the game with 2 consecutive turnovers. However, the Cardinals then ran off 10 unanswered points to gain a 13-2 margin.

Leading 28-11 entering the second period, the hosts took a 40-20 advantage on Chris Michalski's triple midway through the frame. Balanced scoring till the intermission helped give Kingston a 46-28 margin at the break.

Back-to-back steals by McLaughlin to open the second half extended the hosts' lead to 54-30. McLaughlin grabbed a defensive rebound and drove the length of the floor on the next series of plays, and 2 jumpers from Carev Bastian and Lane Walker sent Coach Rea deep into his bench with a demanding 60-31 lead.

Besides McLaughlin, the winners had Michalski in double digits with 14 points. Leon Kaniszewski added 8, and Derek Flikkie 7. Walker, Tim Lyons and Ron Adamczyk each added 6 while Chad Spencer and Bastian split 10 markers for the Cards. Dan Rayl, Dan Curry, Kent Kramer and Jeff Chappel each scored 2 points for the winners.

For Owen-Gage, sophomores Joel Bolzman, Chad Mellendorf and Justin Anthes scored 7, 6 and 6, respectively. Joel Rochefort accounted for 6 and John Richmond 3 for the Bulldogs.

The district finals are slated for 7:00 p.m. Saturday. The winners will advance to regional competition at Bad

No problem! O-G spikers roll to district title

Owen-Gage spikers reverted to their old form Saturday and captured their 4th straight Class D district title. The Bulldogs (34-5-3) had little problem halting North Central Thumb League

DAVE MURPHY'S STEADY play at the point position helped Cass City defeat Deckerville 55-53 in an overtime thriller to open the Class C district.

Cass City falls to Pirates, All Saints

Cass City Red Hawks found different ways to lose the final 2 games of the regular season last week, falling to Harbor Beach Tuesday, 43-36, with a fast start and a slow finish, and to Bay City All Saints Friday with a slow start and a mediocre finish,

What has plagued the Hawks this season is the lack of a consistent inside scoring game. When The Hawks have a sub-average shooting night from 3-point range, it's nearly impossible for the team to win.

The perimeter shooters were paced by Scott Wallace, who this season led the team in scoring 9 times and shared honors in another game, each time scoring in double figures.

The inside players were led by Chad Diegel, who led the team in scoring 4 times and shared the lead another, but his game-best was 20 points, a total reached just once.

There wasn't much other help inside other than an occasional lift given by Matt Oesch.

The lack of inside punch was never more apparent than in the final 2 games. Against the Pirates, the forward wall accounted for 19 points in the low scoring

Despite the lack of punch, the Cass City defense helped the team to an early lead with a 9-7 advantage at the end of the first quarter.

The Hawks added to the margin in the second period with some outstanding accuracy from the charity stripe. In the quarter Scott Wallace scored 6 for 6 on his way to a team-high 15 points and for the night the Hawks converted 11 of 12.

Cass City led at the half, 21-16, but the offense went into the dumpster in the second half while the Pirates improved slightly, just enough for the visitors to rack up the win.

Harbor Beach used balanced scoring to tie the game at 30-all going into the final 8 minutes and then posted a 13-6 margin to chalk up the victory.

ALL SAINTS

Over the years the Hawks enter the Cougars' den in Bay City, losing to All Saints when they were favored to win. The Hawks haven't played well there in the past and the trend was continued in the final regular season game of the year. The game was just about decided in the first quarter when, for the first time this year, Cass City was held without a field goal in the first period. The total Hawk output was 2 free throws each by Wallace and Josh Brinkman. At the end of the period the Cougars were ahead, 16-4. The Cass City offense was respectable the rest of the way, but the Hawks couldn't find a way to stop the All Saints' offense. The teams played on even terms with 20 points each in the second quarter, but in the third the Cougars went on a scoring blitz and the 28 points registered were the most against a Hawk team in a quarter this season. The Cougars also scored the most total points of any team against the Hawks this season and did it with balanced scoring. Four players have had trouble when they were in double figures, led by Pat Rybak with 19 points. For Cass City Wallace scored 14.

Kramer 1-1 (0-0) 5; Ford 0-4 (6-10) 14; O'Neil 0-4 (3-7) 11; Zang-Bodis 1-1 (0-0) 5; Wruble 0-2 (0-0) 4; Callendar 0-2 (0-0) 4.

USA next Wednesday Hawks' big rally nets victory over Eagles in overtime

There may have been better games played than the one between the Cass City Red Hawks and the Deckerville Eagles Monday night in the opening round of the district Class C tournament at Cass City, but none more exciting. Especially for Hawk fans.

Cass City came from 8 points behind with 2:35 left in the game to win in overtime, 55-53.

The Eagles led most of the night, although the score was knotted several times and Cass City had a narrow 2point lead in the middle of the third quarter.

Every time Cass City threatened, Deckerville had an answer and most times the answer was Schumacher, who rained treys all night, including 3 in a row in the third quarter that kept the Hawks from taking control of the game.

It wasn't until Coach Jeff Hartel put his team into a full-court press that the Hawks were able to close the gap in those final minutes.

In the drive to tie Scott Wallace, Mr. Automatic from the charity circle, cashed a pair (for the night he was 10 of 11) and Heath Zawilinski hit a hoop to close within 4 points. Mike Gough hit a free throw for the Eagles and Dave Murphy countered with a pair of free throws. Chad Diegel hit a 2-pointer and Matt Ocsch's hoop tied the game at 47-all with a minute left in regulation.

Deckerville held the ball until there were 12 seconds left and worked the ball for a good shot that missed, as did a rebound. Oesch then grabbed a rebound to send the game into overtime.

Wallace opened the scoring in overtime with a 3-pointer, countered by Schumacher's pointer and free throw by Erik Estrada. Wallace scored on a drive to tie the score at 52-all and after the Eagles went ahead on Mike Gough's free throw, he converted 2 more from the stripe to put the Hawks ahead 54-

53 with 43 seconds left. The Eagles then turned the ball over without scoring and with 6 seconds left Wallace was fouled, converted the first one and had his only miss of the night from the foul circle on the second. But by then it didn't matter.

The USDA recently published new regulations governing the CRP, under which only the most environmentally sensitive land may be enrolled. The purpose of the change is to maximize environmental benefits and keep the most productive land working.

Acreage currently under CRP contracts that are due to expire can be re-offered for participation.

"In Sanilac County we have 24,684.8 acres enrolled in the program, and the contracts on 9,983.7 acres will expire this fall," said Gallagher. "Much of that acreage will be eligible for re-enrollment under the new rules, and operators will have to apply during this sign-up period if they want to participate for a new 10-year con-

Support meetings slated

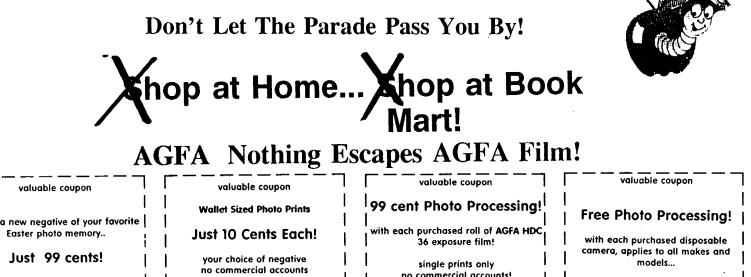

Huron Memorial Hospice "Friends for Life" will offer a free 6-week grief support group for spouses or others who have lost loved ones.

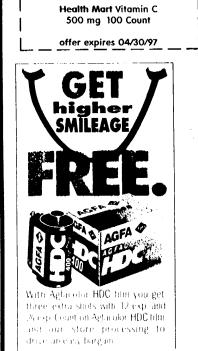

It will give individuals an opportunity to express feelings related to their loss and share experiences with others who have similar losses. The grief recovery workshop is a step toward working through one's grief and starting a healing process.

Some topics to be discussed will be the stages of grief, coping with holidays, anniversaries, special days and linking individuals with support systems in the community.

The meetings will be offered Monday afternoons from 2 to 3:30 p.m. and Monday evenings from 6:30 to 8 p.m. starting March 10 at Huron Memorial Hospital, Bad Axe.

For information or to register, call the "Friends for Life" office at 517-269-8608 or toll-free, 1-800-789-9521.

Officials: display address numbers on mailbox, home

It won't be long before area residents start getting the itch to get busy with spring cleaning chores.

And it's a good time to include one small chore that most people don't think about, but could prove to be very important, even lifesav-

The task is simple: make sure the numerals in your address are clearly displayed on your residence or mailbox. Numbers at least 2 inches high are recommended, and the peel-andstick variety are cheap and easy to apply.

In return, residents improve their odds of avoiding delayed mail delivery, not to mention getting a cold pizza delivered to their home. More importantly, a clearly displayed address could save minutes in a medical emer-

Ron Pawloski, a veteran Cass City fire fighter and emergency medical technician specialist with nearly 24 years on the job, said he's seen countless situations

Trees valuable

Environmental experts are trying to make people realize the true value of trees to the environment. For example, an acre of trees can absorb the carbon monoxide generated by a car driven 26,000 miles. Michigan farmers plant thousands of trees each year and maintain millions of mature trees in 2-12-5 private woodlots.

where the lack of a clearly marked address has delayed emergency response personnel from finding a specific

"We run into that kind of situation more than I care to remember," he commented.

"Without any numbers, we have a hard time finding some places. It really makes our job tough," added Pawloski, who was recently appointed Elkland Township fire chief. "And it's not just in the country. You would be surprised at how many people in town don't have numbers on their homes."

Although dispatchers provide as much information as they can regarding the location of a fire or medical emergency, there are times when the lack of a clearly displayed address can delay a run by 10 to 15 minutes, Pawloski said, adding those are critical minutes when someone is suffering a heart

"It could make a difference, life or death."

Tuscola County Sheriff Tom Kern agreed. "It's a big problem, a very big problem, especially at night.

Kern cited a crackdown in fail to number their home or mailbox, and said he would be in favor of similar enforcement in Tuscola

Like ambulance personnel, deputies could be delayed in responding to a call, which could end in tragedy if the situation involves weapons, Kern said.

The problem is less serious for letter carriers, but no less of a headache, according to Cass City Postmaster Gary Drabek.

"It's hard on us, but it's harder on 9-1-1. We notify people all the time, but it doesn't do any good," he said, noting the postal service puts stickers on mail telling people they need to display their address numbers. "But not many read that."

Drabek said the numbers are a requirement for new mailboxes.

"It it's a new mailbox, we don't deliver until it meets our specifications," he explained, adding carriers do deliver to existing mailboxes even without numbers because carriers have a responsibility to deliver to residences they are familiar with.

However, he pointed out, when I put new people on a route, I instruct them not to deliver" if the mailbox doesn't have numbers on it.

"People don't realize it, but we have almost 2,700 deliv-Saginaw on residents who deries and it's very difficult to figure out sometimes,' Drabek concluded.

"All you have to do is put a few numbers on the mailbox and you're fixed for life."

Shoplifter foiled, flees Cass City Floral shop

A would-be shoplifter was foiled in her attempt to walk out of a local floral shop with a tree last week, but the suspect got away.

According to Cass City police reports, a white female in her early 20s, wearing a red T-shirt and blue shorts, was in the Cass City Floral shop, 6450 Main St., Friday afternoon when she was observed walking out of the store with a eucalyptis topainy tree valued at $79. A store employee followed the suspect outside and constated she wanted to charge the tree, but when she was told that she couldn't, she accompanied the employee back into the store. Moments later, she fled. In other police reports: •Officers arrested Ronald R. Gibson, 49, Deford, on suspicion of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor. A vehicle driven by Gibson was stopped Saturday at 1 a.m. near the intersection of West Street and Garfield Avenue. •Rory Osentoski, Cass City, told police Sunday that sometime within the last 2 weeks, someone removed his car from West Street, between Pine and Houghton Streets. He stated the vehicle had broken down.

Green named to task force

The American Legislative Exchange Council recently appointed state Rep. Mike Green, R-Mayville, to its Task Force on Education.

As a task force member, Green joins 100 state lawmakers from across the country dedicated to addressing the pressing issues facing education today.

The task force works in partnership with the private sector to develop education policies, commission research, publish papers and sponsor seminars. It also provides a forum for lawmakers to write model legis-

"Working to improve education remains one of my top priorities as a parent and legislator. Our children must receive quality instruction and training if they are to succeed in college or the work place," Green said.

The American Legislative Exchange Council is the nation's largest bipartisan, individual membership association of state legislators, with 3,000 members. The council sponsors 9 task forces covering a variety of issues ranging from agriculture to labor.

Assessment not justified

No value in a condo that does not sell

This letter was sent to the township and county assessors on 2/27/97.

RE: 1997 Assessment of property value ELK-28, Sec. 28, T14N R11E, Unit 34, Northwood Lake Condo, Cass City. Since I will not be in town for the March 10, 11 tax Board of Review, I'm voicing my opinion thru this correspondence.

My first assessment on this property in 1991 was

In 1992 you raised it by a whopping 19%. The next 2 years by 4% each and the last 2 years by 8% each year. This amounts to 43% increase over the last 5 years. All this without any explanation of justification. It can't be because the value of these condos increased. There is no value in a condo or any property that does not sell, and the resale of these units is zilch. Mine has been for sale for 8 months with no potential buyers in sight. 8 or 9 other units are also for sale, some as long as 2 years, with no luck.

One unit sold last fall for a several thousand dollar loss from the original purchase price, despite many improvements.

So, where is the value increase?

I need some questions answered.

What is the basis for your appraisal?

Have all residential, commercial, and industrial property received the same increases, or have you just singled out the condo community?

this high increase, we would have defeated the millage to spend at your stores.

proposals for the new schools, which cost me $200 per year. We will not vote for any more millages. As most of us in the condos are retired, we cannot afford these high tax increases, especially when they exceed the inflation rate by 3 times.

I'm leaving Cass City for commitments in Metro Detroit. This means I'll probably sell for a loss, if I can sell at all.

I'll leave also with a bitter taste in my mouth due to the insatiable tax appetite of the village and township.

Dick Teno

Those in the prolife movement know how the right to have an abortion has been guaranteed by the Supreme Court decision of Roe vs. Wade. Yet the constitutional right of free speech has been guaranteed since the beginning of our nation! Funny that a group of people such as our founding fathers would believe that this right to be so important, to have put it in such high regard.

But with a federal judge imposing what he thinks is right (floating buffer zone), and was eventually found to be wrong in a 8-3 decision, this the truth, report the facts. Instead we now get opinions of those that report the news from across the world. News services such as Associated Press are no better. Even these services report from their perspective, their opinion, yet we read these news "blurbs" as facts. With a newspaper printing a story on Kenneth Star losing 4 mock trials against President Clinton. Upon investigation, it was determined this was not true. This story took front-page space when it ment are winning the battle broke, but the "error" and correction took middle of the paper. Why?

Those in the prolife movement know the truth. Since our nation's highest court gave a woman the right to end her pregnancy (the nation's highest court also said slavery was a right as well) whenever she wants, and only "wanted children" would be born, child abuse has risen over 2,000 percent! Children kill children on playgrounds over what use to be an argument! True, abortion can not be blamed for everything, but when life loses just a little bit of its respect (sanctity), how can the affects be measured?

The prolife movement and America won a major victory. When this New York federal judge's personal decision on limiting free speech was overruled, a small amount of truth has been allowed to escape into our great nation.

This statement made by an abortion industry spokesman speaks volumes on the real issue. The issue made to limit a real constitutional right, not one made using lies and deception (the woman involved in Roe vs. Wade made statements proving this, when she left her job at an abortion clinic and began working in the prolife movement). The right to free speech has been upheld.

5th Texas Co. E members drill in Sanilac County

More than a dozen Michigan residents, including some Thumb residents, took a trip into the past over the weekend.

Members of the 5th Texas Company E — one of the tate's oldest Civil War reenactment organizations — took to the field in Sanilac County's Greenleaf Township Saturday and Sunday to polish their marching skills, practice skirmish drills and refamiliarize themselves with the feel of shooting black powder firearms.

Saturday's weather made ne gathering seem all the more real, with cloudy skies overhead and fog-like mist hanging in the air.

The sounds of drilling, a steady drum cadence and gunfire echoed at the Glynn Wright Farm, 7570 Gilbert Rd., where the unit, complete with a small drum and fife corps, marched in a 'arge, open field.

The farm belongs to the parents of Shelly Windsor of Deford, who along with her husband, Jeff, and the couple's sons, Joshua, 11, and Robert Lee, 7, are active members of the 5th Texas Company E.

Texas Company E.

The 2-day winter drill gives members an opportuity to practice what they've learned about being a soldier in the Civil War, explained Captain Charles Humphrey of Marlette. It also gives new members the chance to learn how to march, he added.

Humphrey noted members of the 5th Texas are gearing up to participate in the upcoming reenactment of the attle of Shiloh in southwestern Tennessee. The event, held during the first weekend of April, is expected to draw some 10,000 people.

Also this spring, Humphrey said the 5th Texas will be hosting a reenactment at the Holly State Recreation Area. The event is slated for May 3, 10 and 11, and area residents are welcome to attend,

The 5th Texas Company E strives to reenact as the actual Hoods Texas Brigade in the Army of Northern Virginia, which was mustered into service in 1861. The company started out with 1,311 officers and enlisted en, and participated in a number of key battles.

In the end, the unit's remaining 13 officers and 145 men were the last among the Cass City Chronicle confederate units to surrender with General Robert E. Lee at Appomattox Court House, Virginia, in the spring of 1865.

Today, the 5th Texas reenactment group has 95 to 100 members from throughout Michigan as well as Ohio and Canada.

The company is composed of an active military roster of 40 to 45 men, as well as several women and children who participate as civilians.

Deficiencies

Nutritional deficiencies affect behavior. A shortage of copper or magnesium in the diet may affect human behavior, according to scientists with USDA's Agricultural Research Service. Scientists say laboratory rats that didn't eat enough of these essential minerals were hyperactive and either had learning disabilities or memory deficiencies. Magnesium is found in a wide range of plant and animal foods, including nuts, whole grains, green leafy vegetables, meat, fish, poultry and dried fruit. The richest source of copper is ovsters

12-2-26-9 Card of Thanks

THANK YOU to all my friends and family for the lovely 79th birthday party. Although I was not able to speak to each of you, I know you were there and it meant so much to me. I felt surrounded by your warm friendship and love. Venetta Montei.

I WISH TO thank all my family and friends for all the help I have received, for the flowers, cards and visits during my hospital stay, and for the continuous prayers. God has truly been good to me, to have given me such a wonderful family and friends. I also wish to thank Bad Axe Memorial Hospital and Dr. Pankratz for the great care I received, and to Pastor and Mrs. Harden for their visit. It meant a lot. God bless all of you. Lois Papp. 13-3-5-1

WE WOULD like to thank our family, friends and neighbors for food, cards, flowers, plants and memorials to the Heart, Cancer and Emphysema Foundations at the time of our dear wife and mother's death. Special thanks to Rev. Sheppard and Rev. Garrett for prayers and inspirational service, the United Methodist Church of Cass City for a lovely luncheon. Special thanks to Dr. Rayez, Mike Shutek, P.A. and staff of Hills and Dales Hospital. Thanks to Collon's Funeral Home for comfort and kind service God bless you all. · I Lainar School state aid brings financial boost to Cass City

According to a proposal by Gov. Engler, education funds for Cass City Public Schools in 1997-8 will be $5,273 per student, an increase of 29.5 percent since funding under Proposal A went into effect.

In the current school year the school receives $5,009.99 per student. In 1994 total revenue was $4,081.06 per student.

The increase in dollars received per student is the greatest of any school in Tuscola County. The reason is that when Proposition A went into effect, Cass City's cost per pupil was the lowest among the 9 county public schools.

Under the law, schools with a low operating cost are given a bonus until the amount received equals the amount allocated to all schools in the state.

Despite the bonus received each year since the act went in force, Cass City will still receive the lowest amount per pupil of any school in the County Road Commission assistant manager and superintendent.

Bowers said it's been an average year as far as pothole problems on county roads. "My biggest problem is with the state highways," he said. "They're (state) so far behind, the roads are getting to where they are not fixable.

"It's not, go out and fix one pothole. It's, go out and fix a hundred potholes, and then tomorrow go back out and fix some more. It's a neverending job.

"A decent road doesn't just become full of potholes," Bowers continued, adding the problem is a good indijust pothole maintenance, is needed.

Towards that end, improvements are planned on M-81 this summer, including resurfacing of 6 miles from the west end of Cass City to Green Road. Also slated for resurfacing are 6 miles of M-81, from the west end of Caro (Walk Road) to Vassar. The cost of each project is State Rep. Mike Green said he has received confirmation that both projects will be funded. Bids are expected to be let in March.

estimated at $1 million.

"It's not everything we want, but it's a start," Green said. "There's just not enough money to go

Green estimated it will cost somewhere in the neighborhood of $5 million to improve the 10-mile section of M-81 between the DNR field station and Caro.

At this time, the project isn't even on the state's drawing board, but Green said he hopes to change that in time.

"I'm trying to get it on the (5-year) list," he added. "If I can get it on the list in Saginaw, there's a chance I could get funding for it."
