

DAMP BUT DETERMINED, striking UPS drivers in Cass City continued to picket along with thousands of other Teamsters members nationwide who walked off the job Aug. 3. Officials on both sides reported subsequent contract talks have yielded little progress.

UPS drivers support union

Armed with umbrellas and a roaring fire, UPS drivers continued their vigil in front of the Cass City Service Center Monday as a nationwide strike by Teamsters members entered its seventh day.

And, despite the prospect of trying to get by on a meager $55 weekly strike paycheck beginning this week, support for the union remains strong.

"We're going to support the Teamsters. I'm going to," commented Doug Tenbusch, a full-time "feeder" driver for UPS for the past 8 years.

"Some of us with children are going to have to get jobs, but there's no way I'm going to cross a Teamster (picket) line. I plan to work 8, 9 hours a day, then come here."

Tenbusch said his biggest regret is the inconvenience to the customers he has served day after day.

"I feel bad for the merchants who have supported us, and when we get back to work I hope they can look at us as solid professionals," he added.

Charles Wright, the senior Cass City UPS driver with 33 years on the job, agreed, saying he feels bad for the customers.

Wright said this is only the second UPS strike during his tenure. The last strike, a 2-day walkout in 1975, ended with a federal mandate ordering employees back to work.

Tenbusch expressed surprise over the length of this strike, saying he thought it would be over after 2 or 3 days.

It doesn't appear the walkout will end anytime soon, however, following another breakdown in talks with a federal mediator Saturday.

The recent negotiations ended with little progress on the issues, according to comments made by Teamster President Ron Carey and Federal Mediator John Calhoun Wells in an Associated Press story published Sunday.

James P. Kelly, UPS' chief executive officer, was quoted as saying the company is willing to do whatever it

Letter sent to parents

O-G board weighs student transfers

An Owendale couple's request to transfer their 2 children to the Cass City Schools remained on hold following a monthly Owen-Gage Board of Education meeting Monday night.

But it appeared the request will be denied, judging by recent board discussions regarding the district's transfer policy. And other students now living in the Owen-Gage district but attending Cass City Schools may be forced to return to Owen-Gage or move out of the district.

The board expects to meet in special session sometime within the next 2 weeks to make some final decisions.

As it stands right now, school Supt. Manuel Thies told the board Monday, Owen-Gage has 5 students who are living in the Cass City School District. At one time the number totaled 8, but 3 have since moved back into the Owen-Gage School District.

Thies said a total of 9 students have transferred to the Cass City School District and are still there.

Thies added another Cass City student would like to transfer to Owen-Gage, which would still leave Owen-Gage with 3 fewer transfer students than Cass City.

Although previous superintendents have authorized transfer students to attend the school of their choice until graduation, Thies said, "It has been my policy that when we have a transfer, we do it on a yearly basis."

Thies said allowing transfer students to attend their chosen school through graduation no longer adds up. "At one time that was a fine idea when you're talking about land being the major source of income" for school districts. Under Proposal A, however, land values have little effect on state aid, and each student translates into $5,000 in state aid annually.

In following his policy, Thies stated he has sent out letters to 3 families involving a combined 5 students now attending Cass City Schools. The letters inform the families that they must obtain permission for their students to continue attending Cass City Schools.

Discussion of the transfer issue was prompted by a recent request from Jim and Sue Albrecht, Owendale, who would like their children, in grades 9 and 11, to attend Cass City Schools.

The couple cited curriculum and transportation as the reasons for their request.

However, the board rejected the transfer on a 4-2 vote during a special meeting last month. Trustee Jack Brinkman, who was among the trustees to vote "no", said all student transfers should be on an equal basis; 2 students for 2 students, for example.

Students who want to transfer to another district may do so freely under Michigan's new schools of choice law provided both school districts are within the same intermediate school district. But the law doesn't apply to transfers between Owen-Gage and Cass City because the 2 districts are located in separate intermediate school districts.

Further action on the Albrechts' request, as well as the other transfer requests was tabled Monday pending another special meeting to be called within the next week or 2.

SALARIES REVISITED

Turning to other matters, the board met in executive session to discuss a section of the teachers' current contract that calls for a renegotiation of teachers' salaries if the district's fund equity exceeds $450,000.

Thies estimated the district's fund equity currently totals between $615,000 and $650,000.

No formal action was taken, but Thies stated he will be meeting with union representatives this week to discuss the matter. Under the current 2-year contract, teachers were granted raises of 3.75 percent each year.

In other business Monday, the board:

- Approved a motion to spend general fund monies if necessary to continue to fund the wages of 4 employees whose pay is partially covered by state "at-risk" dollars.

Thies explained all at-risk money was recently vetoed by Gov. John Engler. However, he said, it sounds as if chances are good the veto will be reversed and the funding restored.

In the meantime, Thies added, general funds will be used to fully pay the positions of school nurse, an elementary aide, counselor and library aide.

Thies said Owen-Gage typically receives about $76,000 in at-risk funding. "Learned Thies is exploring the possibility of requesting a special millage to ensure the district continues to receive the 18-mill allowance provided under proposal A."

Thies indicated the millage, if allowed by law, would be only enough to offset any losses due to future tax roll-backs. "If we don't need that millage, we won't use it," he said.

- Hired Jeanie Lutz of Oxford to fill a vacancy left by English teacher Deb Gleissner, who has accepted a position in the Caseville Public Schools.

- Approved spending about $3,300 for installation of a window in the elementary school office. The work will be done by Ray's Construction of Cass City.

Octagon Barn bash on tap

The fourth annual Octagon Barn Festival is set to be yet another success.

The Festival, slated for Aug. 16 in downtown Gagetown, will start out with opening ceremonies at 10 a.m. at the gazebo.

Norma Wallace, member of the Friends of the Octagon Barn, said opening ceremonies will consist of area boy scouts, a flag raising and a speech by John Brundage, grandson of one of the builders of the barn.

The opening ceremonies will be followed by a parade on Main Street at 11 a.m.

In addition, the Lions Club chicken barbecue will begin at 12 noon at the school.

Another highlight of the downtown festivities will be the official stamp cancellation of the Octagon Barn.

"It comes with the Octagon Barn on it," Wallace said. "Each year they're a little different. They are really becoming collectors' items nowadays."

They will be sold from a postal station in front of the Gagetown post office.

The barn, scheduled to have its own set of activities, will be open to the public at 9:30 a.m.

As in past years, an Amish bake sale will take place at the barn. Wallace said the bake sale will consist of breads, cookies, pies and other baked goods.

"She was out of food by 2 o'clock in the afternoon last year," she added.

An addition to the barn area activities will be the scarecrow contest. The decorated scarecrows will be on display throughout the day with judging taking place Saturday. All scarecrow entries are to be at the barn by Friday.

"The scarecrows give a real festival look to it," Wallace explained.

Wagon rides, antique displays and tours are also available for Festival goers, Wallace said.

Last year, Wallace reported, 5,000 attended the Festival.

"We expect to have as many as we did last year," she said.

Area women roll up their sleeves to help build church

By Angela Cook
Staff writer

When they left, people asked why they were going, when they got there some asked why they came.

By the end of the trip, the questions were answered. Six women, two of them in their teens, recently took part in a missionary trip that led them to the Dominican Republic, a third world country, south.

The group, comprised of 40 people in all, visited the island country for two weeks, their mission — to help build a church, teach vacation Bible school and visit the Dominicans in their homes.

Deborah Otulakowski, a member of the Evangelical Free Church of Cass City and leader of the missionary program at the church, said they went to do God's work — or more simply — to spread the message of their Christian faith.

The first step in doing this was building a church in Santiago, the second largest city in the country. In the process of building the church, they laid 15,000 cement blocks, and mixed 300, 100 pound bags of concrete to make concrete and mortar.

In an effort to lay the blocks more efficiently, lines were formed and bricks were passed from person to person and then laid in place.

The church, still under construction and waiting for windows and a second floor, is located in a middle class district.

When completed, it will be the largest missionary church in the country, according to Leann Otulakowski. Deborah's daughter and also a member of the missionary group from Cass City.

Deborah Otulakowski said the idea was to build a church in a district where people were a bit more financially stable.

"The goal is not only to support their own church, but to support the poor churches as well," Otulakowski said.

Sally Britton of Cass City, also a member of the group, said the entire group worked together with no arguments or problems.

"It was teamwork like you've never seen," she said. "We went as far as we could (in building the church)."

HOME VISITS

When not aiding in the construction of the church, they visited the local homes, to spread their message of life through Jesus Christ. Deborah Otulakowski said.

"We were able to let them know God loves them the way they are now," she added.

And while the middle class did have a bit nicer homes than some of the less fortunate in the Republic, they live in small, rented apartments and few own cars. This made it important that churches are built within walking distance of the homes, Deborah Otulakowski said.

"A lot of people lived in what you would call grass huts," Britton added.

Britton thought the people there were very welcoming and very open to the message they had to bring.

"You got to talk with people on the street about the Lord and they wanted to ask you question upon question," she recalled.

Bader agreed and said people they visited with were very willing to listen.

"They could feel the pas-

Class of '52 hold reunion

The Cass City High School graduating class of 1952 held its 45th year reunion Saturday, Aug. 9, at Rolling Hills Golf Course, with 49 people attending, 26 being class members.

A social time was held from 5:00 till 6:30 when dinner was served. Joyce (Lounsbury) Schad of Lake City offered the blessing.

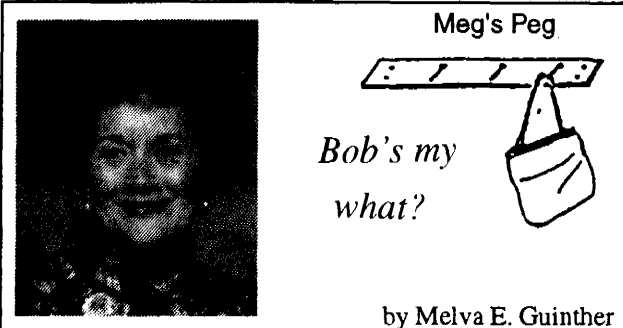

After the meal a program was held with John Agar as emcee. Mary Damm and Dick Wallace read letters from those who couldn't be present. Members told about what they were doing now, and also signed get-well cards for members who are ill.

Don't you wonder sometimes how trends and fads develop?

What made Cabbage Patch dolls, Tickle Me Elmo or Beanie Babies so popular?

And why do certain phrases catch on, like "Been there, done that," "Get a life!", or "Not", negating any statement it follows.

Many of the phrases we use in everyday conversation don't make a lot of sense when you stop and think about them, and probably cause a lot of confusion for the poor souls already struggling with English as a second language.

Americans aren't alone in using unusual phrases, however.

Our son, Mark, was puzzled when an Englishman remarked at a meeting that if the company did such and such, "Bob's your uncle."

When asked about the phrase, the fellow didn't really know where it came from, but said it's a common phrase in England.

Mark learned later that there's a shop that recently opened in Manhattan named "Bob's Your Uncle." It reportedly specializes in "unlikely stuff put together in unusual ways" — such as "shirts on lamps, steel mesh on pillows and pot scrubbers on picture frames."

Does that help define the expression?

Not really. Nor did the fact that 10 different Brits gave 10 different answers when asked what "Bob's your uncle" meant. Their answers included explanations like "Anything's possible" and "There you are."

A colleague finally came up with this authoritative explanation for "Bob's your uncle."

Americanized, it means "you're all set" or "you've got it made."

The phrase reportedly dates back to 1887, when British Prime Minister Robert Cecil (a.k.a. Lord Salisbury) decided to appoint Arthur Balfour to the prestigious post of Chief Secretary for Ireland.

Not lost on the British public was the fact that Lord Salisbury just happened to be better known to Balfour as "Uncle Bob."

In the resulting furor over what was seen as an act of blatant nepotism, "Bob's your uncle" became a popular sarcastic comment applied to any situation where the outcome was preordained by favoritism.

As the scandal faded in public memory, the phrase lost its edge and became just a synonym for "No problem."

So there you have it. I've often wished we knew how other phrases came about. Many of them probably have an equally interesting story behind them.

I got a book that promised enlightenment, but it actually provided only the meaning of colloquial phrases, which in most cases I already knew, not how they originated.

If I could find a reliable source explaining the origin of phrases, it would give me a lot of column material. Then Bob would surely be my uncle, instead of just my brother-in-law.

Associate director

Kevin Shaw promoted at Michigan State

Kevin Shaw

Kevin Shaw, a former Cass City resident, has been promoted to associate director of Michigan State University's Wharton Center for Performing Arts.

William Wright, Wharton Center's executive director, announced Shaw's new position was effective July 1.

"Kevin has been a major factor in Wharton Center's success over the past 5 years," he said. "We could not have accomplished all that we have if it were not for his efforts."

Since 1993, Wharton Center's attendance has risen over 60 percent, while ticket revenue has doubled.

Shaw's new responsibilities will include assisting the executive director in programming, contract administration, policy development, and fund-raising. He will continue to oversee all of Wharton Center's communications activities including marketing, publicity, group sales and the box office operation.

"It is Shaw's responsibility to make sure that Wharton Center productions are promoted and there is an audience in the seats," Wright said.

Formerly the assistant director/director of communications, Shaw started at Wharton Center as director of marketing and public relations in August 1992.

"Coming to work at Wharton Center has been the best career opportunity I've had," Shaw said. "I have had the chance to work with a tremendous group of people in a professional atmosphere that is second to none."

He had previously worked at the MSU Sports Information Office as its publications editor and assisted in the promotion of the university's intercollegiate athletics.

Shaw came to MSU after working for the University of Ohio.

Shaw continued with post graduate studies in communication arts at the University of Cincinnati before being hired full-time by the university.

He and his wife Shawna and children, Dylan, 6, Carly, 4, and Aubrey, 2, live in Lansing.

Shaw maintains professional memberships with the League of American Theatres and Producers, the International Society of Performing Arts, and the Michigan Presenters.

His volunteer work includes serving as secretary of the board of directors for Child and Family Services, Capital Area, and serving on the board of directors of the Lansing Advertising Club. He is also an active member of Lansing's South Baptist Church.

WANTED 3 GREAT FAMILIES FROM THE CASS CITY AREA

(This is an open letter to our community from the Cass City Rotary Club)

"What?"

The Cass City Rotary Club has an exciting opportunity for three families in the Cass City area. As we do every year, our club is sponsoring a foreign exchange student. In the past few years we have sponsored kids from Mexico, South Africa, England, and Finland. Most recently, we have sponsored Naomi Rosza from Hungary. Naomi's time with her current host family in Cass City is coming to a close. She will soon return to Budapest. With Naomi's departure, it means we are now in need of three families to host our next student for the upcoming school year.

"Who is the exchange student?"

Our next exchange student is Benjamin Ducoeur, a 17-year old from Belgium. Benjamin speaks English, Dutch and French. Benjamin will be attending Cass City High School as a senior. Benjamin, like any teenager, has a variety of interests including sports, the outdoors, and traveling. He comes from a family of four and has a 15-year old brother at home. After high school, Benjamin wants to study civil engineering.

"How does it work and why should my family consider hosting?"

Each family will host Benjamin for 3-4 months. Your family can choose to host Benjamin in the Fall, Winter or Spring. Being a host family for a foreign exchange student is a wonderful experience. Rotary's world-wide youth exchange program brings the brightest, most talented youth into our homes here in the United States. Think of the unique and enjoyable experiences your family will have in sharing your home with a youth who is excited to visit our country and share his own perspectives and culture with an American family.

"If we host, will we have help?"

The Cass City Rotary Club's 33 members, as well as Rotary International, will fully support your family as you host Benjamin. Our club's Youth Exchange Officer, Cindy Joseph, handles all the paperwork associated with Benjamin's visit. Our club's Host Family Coordinator, Ben Varney, will assist you and Benjamin throughout the year with anything you might need. In fact, to kick off Benjamin's year in Cass City, we are having a welcoming picnic for him! The community, including host families, Rotarians, school teachers and administrators, and, of course, fellow students are all invited. This welcoming picnic will be held Saturday, August 23rd in the park. Throughout the year, members of the club will plan dinners, outings, etc. for Benjamin as well. As Benjamin will be one of many foreign exchange students sponsored by Rotary Clubs in the Thumb and Central Michigan, he will also be able to take part in many events planned by Rotary for all the exchange students. Such events include a Fall Color Tour to Northern Michigan and the U.P., a Christmas Party, Winter Fun Day, Youth Camp and a bus tour of the Western U.S.

"We may be interested; we do have some questions too- now what should we do?"

Only a select few families in our area will be able to take part in this unique opportunity to host Benjamin as he becomes part of our community for the next year. If you are a family who would welcome such a new experience for yourselves and your children (who don't have to be high school students, by the way), then we would like to talk with you about the possibility of hosting Benjamin. Perhaps you might be interested, but have questions? No problem. Either way, contact any of us below, and we'll be happy to discuss the program with you. Thanks for your consideration!

Cindy Joseph, Youth Exchange Officer: 872-4321 (W) or 872-3390 (H)
Ben Varney, Host Family Coordinator: 673-1666 (W) or 872-3651 (H)
Cary Grover, Club President: 872-2131 (W) or 872-5450 (H)

P.S. "What is Rotary anyway"?, you ask...

Rotary International, founded in 1905, is an international association of more than 1.2 million business and professional leaders who provide humanitarian service, promote high ethical standards, and help build good will and peace in the world. Rotary is perhaps best known for its PolioPlus Program. To date, the PolioPlus Program has resulted in over a billion children in 118 different countries being vaccinated against polio. The program's goal is to eradicate polio from the world by the year 2000. The Cass City Rotary Club, chartered in 1930, provides "service above self" to our community via community, vocational and international service projects.

Curtis serves on patrol near Haiti

Navy Petty Officer First Class Ronald Curtis Jr., son of Janet Curtis of Cass City, is one of more than 3,000 Navy men and women and 2,000 Marines who patrol the waters just miles off the coast of Haiti.

Curtis is a mess management specialist, or cook, on board USS Portland, a dock landing ship homeported in Norfolk, Va. The mission of the ship is to transport and launch amphibious craft and vehicles and their crews embarked during an amphibious assault.

Curtis and the rest of the crew, which includes a Marine contingent, have spent the last 4 weeks steaming the Caribbean waters off Haiti as part of a 4-ship amphibious ready group.

"I'm a food service manager," Curtis said. "I also train and instruct new sailors who work in the galley (kitchen). I specialize in menu writing, food preparation and food service sanitation. My specialty is seafood and sauces."

Curtis entered the Navy in August 1977. He graduated from Kingston High School.

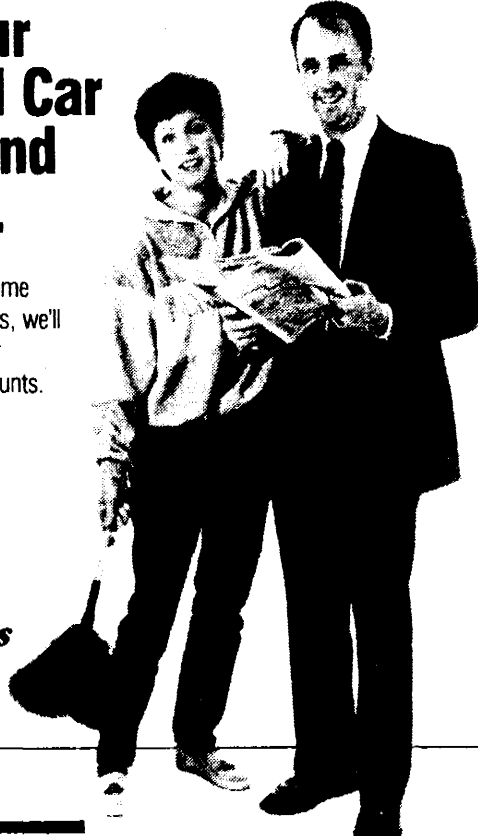

"I joined the Navy to learn a specific job."

Curtis, 37, said he's happy with his accomplishments in the Navy thus far.

"I've gained hotel and restaurant management experience."

This condition does not render the water unfit or harmful for consumption; however, clothing washed in this water will probably become discolored.

Check the color of your water before placing your clothing into it.

The village is not liable for damage caused by this condition.

Your cooperation will be greatly appreciated.

VILLAGE OF CASS CITY

It was typical of Mary MacIntyre. When I called the 99-year-old Cass City native about her induction as an honored member of the Maritime Museum (See story this issue), the first thing she said was I want to thank you for all the publicity you gave the kids on their senior trips.

She was referring to the many pictures she took of the various Cass City High School senior classes as they cruised the Great Lakes.

The truth is, of course, that she was an editor's dream. Action pictures of local residents complete with all the details. Great stories, not much work for the paper.

If you travel the expressways in Michigan, chances are good that you have noticed the flowers that grow along the side of the road, planted by the Michigan State Highway Department.

They stop erosion and add to the beauty of the drive. However, motorists should be aware that stopping to pick these flowers creates a traffic hazard, authorities said, and is illegal.

Here are a couple of trivia items that may surprise taken from the "Michigan Trivia" book.

"Due to Charles Kimberly's culture, refinement and objection to the usage of obscene language, what Saginaw County community was named in his honor?"

Answer: Saint Charles.

"Where in 1844 did the Free Will Baptists establish Michigan Central College, Michigan's first coeducational college?"

Answer: Spring Arbor.

Kostanko marine of the quarter

Lance Corporal Rebecca L. Kostanko, stationed at Camp Pendleton, San Diego, Calif., has been selected as the 3d Marine Aircraft Wing "Marine of the Quarter." Only one marine each quarter from the 3d Marine Aircraft Wing receives this honor, according to Fred McCorkle, Major General, U.S. Marine Corps Commanding General, 3d Marine Aircraft Wing.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kostanko of Kingston, formerly of Cass City.

Kostanko was selected based on her professional attitude, character, discipline, loyalty and devotion to duty. Competition for "Marine of the Quarter" is keen and Kostanko was selected for this honor from a field of 6,000 Marines.

SVSU workshops

REMC to host programs

Beginning in September, Saginaw Valley State University will make it easier to attend the university's continuing education workshops. Programs will be held at the REMC10 building in Cass City at 4415 S. Seeger.

State-of-the-art videoconferencing system will simultaneously offer workshops both on campus and in Cass City. The videoconferencing system allows SVSU to broadcast 2-way audio/video to distant sites. This system is more advanced than previous satellite broadcasts. While you sit in a classroom in Cass City and hear and see the instructor in Saginaw, the instructor can also see and hear you in Cass City.

Starting in September, SVSU will offer workshops from the center for manufacturing series, the supervisory certificate series, the entrepreneurship classes and selected workshops.

In addition to continuing professional education programs, 10 college courses are offered each semester in the evenings at Cass City High School. Fall classes begin Aug. 25 and the winter session begins in January.

4 arraigned in district court

The following people were recently arraigned on felony charges in Tuscola County District Court:

- Richard McZee, 39, Saginaw, was arraigned on charges of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, third offense, and driving while his license was suspended or revoked, second offense, Aug. 1 in Denmark Township. Bond was set at $15,000. A preliminary exam was to have been held Tuesday morning.

The announcement sent me scurrying back in memory. There was to be an excursion train to East Tawas Sept. 12-13-14, sponsored by the Saginaw Depot Preservation Corporation. It is the first in 47 years.

It was well before that last previous trip the 4 of us boarded in Pinconning the snow train headed for East Tawas.

This train was nothing like the one announced for September. It boasts comfortable coach seats in air conditioned cars with wide windows. The trip also includes a continental breakfast on Friday and a sandwich lunch on the return trip on Sunday.

The train we took was filled with old, worn coaches and plenty of winter air conditioning without any heat at all.

For transportation, it was probably as rough as it gets even back in 1935, when chugging along behind a steam engine was still common. But for 12-year-olds that didn't matter at all.

Really it was a short trip, perhaps 3 1/2 hours each way when you figure the stops along the way. It was a one-day event.

Yet it stands out in memory almost as clear today as when it happened. It was the first venture for us without the guiding, restraining hand of an adult. The first real trial flight outside the home nest.

We watched out of the corner of our eyes as the adult merrymakers enjoyed the ride, and were totally surprised when one of the most tipsy on the train seemed okay when we spotted him skating later.

Things were more subdued on the way back, but it was exciting for me. I worked up enough courage to place my arm along the seat in back of where she sat and once in a while even touched that arm around her shoulders.

It was all part of the exciting new adventure. Every part of it new, every part a terrific experience.

It was the first peek into the world of adult activities and we couldn't wait to tell our friends about it.

For a day or 2 we were the envy of the neighborhood, the only ones who could tell about this exciting world of adults at play.

It can only happen once and it deserves its spot in those too few glitches of exciting moments in memory we all enjoy.

The back forty

It was a beautiful flight in a little 4-seater, but I could see that problems were brewing. My wife had never been in such a small plane, and her tendency toward motion sickness is well-documented.

"Better take your dramamine," I said. "Do you want to ride in the front?"

"No, I think I'll be O.K. in the back," Connie said.

"Sure, you'll be fine," the captain said.

"Dramamine makes you drowsy," the captain's wife said.

"There are worse things than being drowsy," I thought. "Lots worse. Like Ralph, the God of motion sickness, for one thing."

I've spent several fishing trips hanging over the rail because I didn't take my dramamine. Now, I don't get on the boat or in a small plane without it (unless I forget, of course).

We were airborne about an hour when I noticed Connie wasn't doing very well. "How ya feelin'?" I asked. "Did you see that waterfall down there?"

"Ra-a-al-ph!" she said.

"Want some dramamine?" I asked.

"Ra-a-al-ph, Ra-a-al-ph," she replied.

My mind jogged back to those deep-sea fishing trips when I was barely out of the harbor before I began chumming. I remembered the advice friends had given me.

"Look at the horizon."

"Don't look down."

"Eat a good breakfast."

"Don't eat breakfast."

"Go to bed early."

"Stay up all night."

"Eat something salty."

"Don't eat."

"Dramamine makes you drowsy."

One particular trip stands out in memory. I was with a group of co-workers, and we had the entire charter boat to ourselves.

The first thing we did was set up a pool with prizes for the first fish, biggest fish, and the first sick. I lost out on all three.

We had barely started fishing when I lost my breakfast. "I win! I win!" I shouted. "I'm the 'first sick'!"

"Too late," Bill said. "Craig got sick 10 minutes ago."

Then I noticed everyone on the boat had the same name. "Pass the crackers -- Ra-a-al-ph!" "Did you see that pelican? Ra-a-al-ph, Ra-a-al-ph." "Fish on! Ra-a-al-ph, Ra-a-al-ph, Ra-a-al-ph!"

Soon I was getting advice from everyone who wasn't sick yet. Friends, enemies, and fellow fish feeders advised, "Look at the horizon." "Don't look down." "Don't look up." "Eat some crackers." "Think pleasant thoughts."

I tried them all, but I ran out of pleasant thoughts quicker than anything. Looking back, I wish someone had said, "Take your dramamine."

That's the only thing that works for me. I'll bet it would work for Connie, too; if she ever gets in one of those little planes again.

Your neighbor says

Looking forward to school year

Though parents and especially kids may not realize it just yet, the 1997-98 school year is almost upon us, and one local middle schooler is looking forward to it.

Maegan Laurie, age 11, is going to be entering sixth grade at Cass City Middle School in the fall, and she said she definitely can't wait to get back into the groove of things.

In fact, she has already made plans for the upcoming year by requesting Mrs. Pasant as a teacher.

"I've heard she's a really good teacher and she's really nice," she added.

In addition to hopefully getting the teacher of her choice, Laurie also said she is looking forward to classes and studying.

"I had all A's through every grade, and I hope to keep it going," she said.

She said she really enjoys reading, which is one aspect of school she is really looking forward to. She is also looking forward to being with her friends again after being apart from them this summer.

Down Memory Lane

FROM THE FILES OF THE CHRONICLE

5 YEARS AGO

Elkland Township Fire Department officials lauded a Cass City man's action in a recent early morning fire at Walnut Tailer Park. The blaze destroyed a trailer house belonging to Lena Remsing, who was not home at the time. The fire was reported at about 4:05 a.m. July 27 by Tom Guinther, who spotted the flames while getting ready to go to work. Guinther, a General Telephone Co. employee, then went to the trailer park and awoke 2 people in a nearby trailer that was scorched in the fire.

The Owen-Gage School Board increased hot lunch prices for the second time in 3 years, and froze administrators' salaries for the third consecutive year during the 3-hour monthly meeting Monday.

Monday's sizzling weather brought swimmers to the Helen Stevens Memorial Pool at the park in droves. The hot weather lasted just for a day and projections are for more cool weather. The cold weather has reduced attendance by over 50 percent this year.

Jeri Tordai has been elected president of the Retail Division, Cass City Chamber of Commerce. She comes to the post for a third term after a few years' absence.

Bertha Shagena received a birthday card from President and Mrs. George Bush honoring her on her 80th birthday.

10 YEARS AGO

More than 300 persons attended afternoon ceremonies dedicating the Department of Natural Resource's new field office located about 5 miles west of Cass City.

More than half of the bars and party stores in Tuscola County checked by Caro State Police during the last 2 weeks were involved in the sale of beer and wine to minors.

"Christmas Town" Cass City is returning. That was the decision reached at a meeting held Tuesday by civic minded Cass City residents. Lloyd Vyse will help supervise the program and give instructions in papier mache techniques. The Chamber of Commerce will buy the materials.

The body of William R. Hahn, 46, of Essexville, was recovered by the Saginaw River Coast Guard in Bay County after a boating accident Saturday on Saginaw Bay. The search for his son, David Hahn, 28, Schewaing, continued Tuesday morning.

In the church softball league, Catholic hurler Gary Robinson pitched the first no-hitter of the year. He yielded a walk in the sixth. The Catholics defeated Missionary 10-1.

25 YEARS AGO

In a surprise announcement Monday William Philbin, 33, head football coach at Cass City High School for 2 years, resigned to accept a position in Newport Beach, Calif.

John Marshall of Cass City won a close race for Register of Deeds in Tuesday's primary with a 70 vote margin over Max Bradley of Caro.

The Sanilac County 4-H Fair will open Monday, Aug. 14. Among the numerous shows during the week will be a wild animal show which will feature ostrich and camel races, with local drivers Clair Auslander and Dr. Phil Sears of Decker, Sam Ritter of Sandusky, Jack Hager of Marlette, Lynn Lawrence and Rick Barker of Deckerville.

Lloyd Michael Gray Jr., 6, of Gagetown, who was critically injured June 4 when he was hit by a truck, has been released from the hospital and is playing with neighborhood kids again.

Eleven women members of Cass City Schools' graduating class of 1934 had a potluck luncheon Aug. 1 at the home of Mrs. Jack Esau. Other guests were Mrs. Dave Lovejoy and daughter Amy, Anne Esau and Mrs. Myrtle Walters Helwig.

35 YEARS AGO

Pvt. John Jezewski, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jezewski, Cass City, died Tuesday morning from injuries suffered during Air Force maneuvers near Bennettsville, S.C. Jezewski, a 1961 Cass City High School graduate, was the band drum major for 3 years before graduating.

Tests on a bat suspected of rabies proved negative, according to a report from the state laboratory, Lansing. The bat died a week after biting Franklin Holcomb, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Holcomb, Deford.

Caro and Elkland Township firemen fought a losing battle Monday against high winds that fanned flames in a fire which destroyed farm buildings, livestock, machinery and stored crops at the Frank Satchell farm, Ellington.

Thirty-five years of dairy business with one of the largest Jersey herds in the area will end this Saturday when 57 head of registered Jersey cows owned by Mrs. Alfred Fort, Cass City, are sold at auction. Alfred Fort started the farm 35 years ago, using the milk from 5 Jersey cows to make ice cream, which he sold at his store. The overflow of milk led to the founding of Fort's Dairy, complete with milk routes.

Mushrooms

useful purpose

Mushrooms can pop up overnight! They're a fungus and, like all forms of fungi, mushrooms produce what scientists call fruiting bodies and what we know as caps - to spread their spores from one food source to another. Mushrooms feed on dead organic matter. In your lawn, that food is most commonly thatch, a matted layer of partially decayed stems and roots growing between the soil and the base of the grass. Mushrooms, while unattractive in your lawn, serve a valuable purpose of decomposing this dead material.

Kingston record setter

John McLaughlin ready to test college competition at SVSU

At a young age they could see the potential was endless for 1997 Kingston graduate John McLaughlin.

So much so, that when the Kingston household name was entering the second grade, coaches decided to have him compete on the 5th grade basketball team.

After all, the McLaughlin bloodline was no stranger to Cardinal backers. His oldest brother, Mike, was a standout on both the gridiron field and hardwood floor.

He established the school's high jump mark at 6'2". After graduation, Mike was a member of Albion College's football and basketball teams before transferring to Saginaw Valley State University, where he continued his college hoop career.

Jim McLaughlin, Mike and Debbie McLaughlin's second oldest, pursued a promising role at SVSU in the pole vault. He cleared over 15' before being sidelined by a broken wrist. Jim still holds the Kingston school mark at 13'3". Like Mike, Jim also starred in the football and basketball arenas.

Similar to his brothers, John possessed all the skills, according to retired Kingston Coach Leon Westover, who directed all 3 brothers.

"There is something to say for each member of the family. Talent runs in that family. John was very coachable, very team oriented. I used to watch him in awe. He thrived on pressure and he enjoyed winning."

By his senior year, John's potential had helped gain the Class D power several championship banners.

McLaughlin's varsity career started in November of 1992 as a freshman on the basketball squad. Elected to the North Central Thumb League's second all-conference team, McLaughlin helped the Cardinals to a 17-4 mark and his first conference title.

Over the next 3 years, McLaughlin would lead his team to 3 more league titles and 2 district togas. During that time, he was a unanimous selection yearly to the league's all-conference team. He was also voted to several all-area and all-state rosters. His team's record during the 3-year period was a lofty 64-

There are no individual school records on register at Kingston. But if there were, McLaughlin's career marks of over 1,500 points, 740+ rebounds, and 500+ steals and assists would certainly rank near the top of the list. John's football antics nearly mirror his basketball exploits.

A 3-year starter at quarterback and safety, McLaughlin had a career win/loss record of 30-3. Along the way, he helped his school collect 2 league titles and led his team into the Class D semi-finals in his final year. Again, McLaughlin was a unanimous NCTL selection on both offense and defense during his final 2 seasons.

McLaughlin's high school heroics didn't come without hard work. As a child he played every sport every day. "I was lucky to be a team manager for almost every sport when I was younger," said the 6', 170 pound leader.

Growing up, John's first love was basketball. Around his junior year, McLaughlin's fancy turned towards the gridiron.

"I think my basketball game caught up to me," said the soft spoken McLaughlin.

McLaughlin has had a busy summer preparing for a football career at Saginaw Valley State University. Besides playing semi-pro football in Bay City, McLaughlin recently competed in the Michigan High School Football Coaches Association East-West All Star game. The 2 teams consisted of the top 88 high school seniors in the state.

"I hope to be red-shirted this year," says John. "SVSU has 2 senior quarterbacks this year, then hopefully I'll get my shot."

McLaughlin has created a lifetime of athletic memories during his high school tenure. Reluctantly, he recounted 2 of his favorites. Both came during his junior year.

His most gratifying achievement came during the Class D regional track meet. Although he had captured the 200-meter dash crown and was part of the winning 400-meter relay team (He also qualified for the state

Better diet

The "Five-A-Day for Better Health" challenge was issued by the National Cancer Institute in 1992 after a scientific survey indicated the average adult ate just 3.2 servings of fruits and vegetables a day. The latest figures show that we're improving by eating 4.4 servings a day.

meet in the 100-meter dash), his proudest moment came when he broke his brother's high jump mark, clearing 6'3" and setting a school mark that still stands.

"What made that so special was my brother was there to cheer me on," said McLaughlin.

Another special moment came during the district basketball finals of the same year when he scored 29 points to help his team advance into the regional.

"That was our first district title," recalled McLaughlin.

No surprise, John was also a standout on the baseball diamond. As in basketball and football, he was voted a unanimous first team selection in his junior and senior years.

A 4-year starter, John anchored the pitching duties and shortstop position.

"Baseball is not a very serious sport at Kingston," said McLaughlin, trying to downplay his accomplishment.

Finally, asked if he would like to add anything else to this story, McLaughlin said, "I'd just like to thank my family, friends and the whole Kingston community. They have been just great to me."

We think the feeling is mutual.

JOHN McLAUGHLIN hopes to continue his outstanding athletic achievements in a Cardinal uniform. The Kingston graduate will don a Saginaw Valley State University uniform in the fall.

"Come dance with us!"

Cass City students touched by work of Cass City inductee to Lore Maritime Museum Saturday

When Mary MacIntyre was inducted into the Great Lakes Lore Maritime Museum in Sebawaing Saturday, joining 42 men already honored, a host of Cass City residents applauded the choice as richly deserved.

MacIntyre, now 99 years old, is a Cass City native who spent 30 years as head social director on Georgian Bay Line passenger ships.

In that capacity, she touched the lives of countless students at Cass City High School.

A total of 22 senior classes boarded the boats for the annual school trip after graduation.

Perhaps one reason for the longevity of the trips was that MacIntyre made them memorable for the students. One of those students was Roger Little, who took the trip in 1951.

It was during my birthday and she arranged a surprise birthday party including dinner with the captain and telegrams from my parents. It was great. I learned later, he laughed, that she arranged the whole thing, including the telegrams that my folks knew nothing about.

The school class trips went varying distances, but always included Mackinac Island. The class of 1959 went by bus to Detroit, by boat to Mackinac Island and Chicago, returning home by train.

One of the graduates on that trip, Janet Severance, reported that there were 108 graduates and every one took the trip.

MacIntyre joined the ship company when she was in her 20s, accepting a position for a one-week trial. She became captivated and spent her entire career on the Great Lakes.

In the winter season, MacIntyre presided on tours all over the world. She worked for a travel agent in Mexico and on the Grace Line touring to South America from New York.

Another highlight of her career was sailing on the Queen Mary on the start of a grand tour of Europe.

MacIntyre's primary duty was to keep passengers happy and entertained. She planned shows and set up the bands.

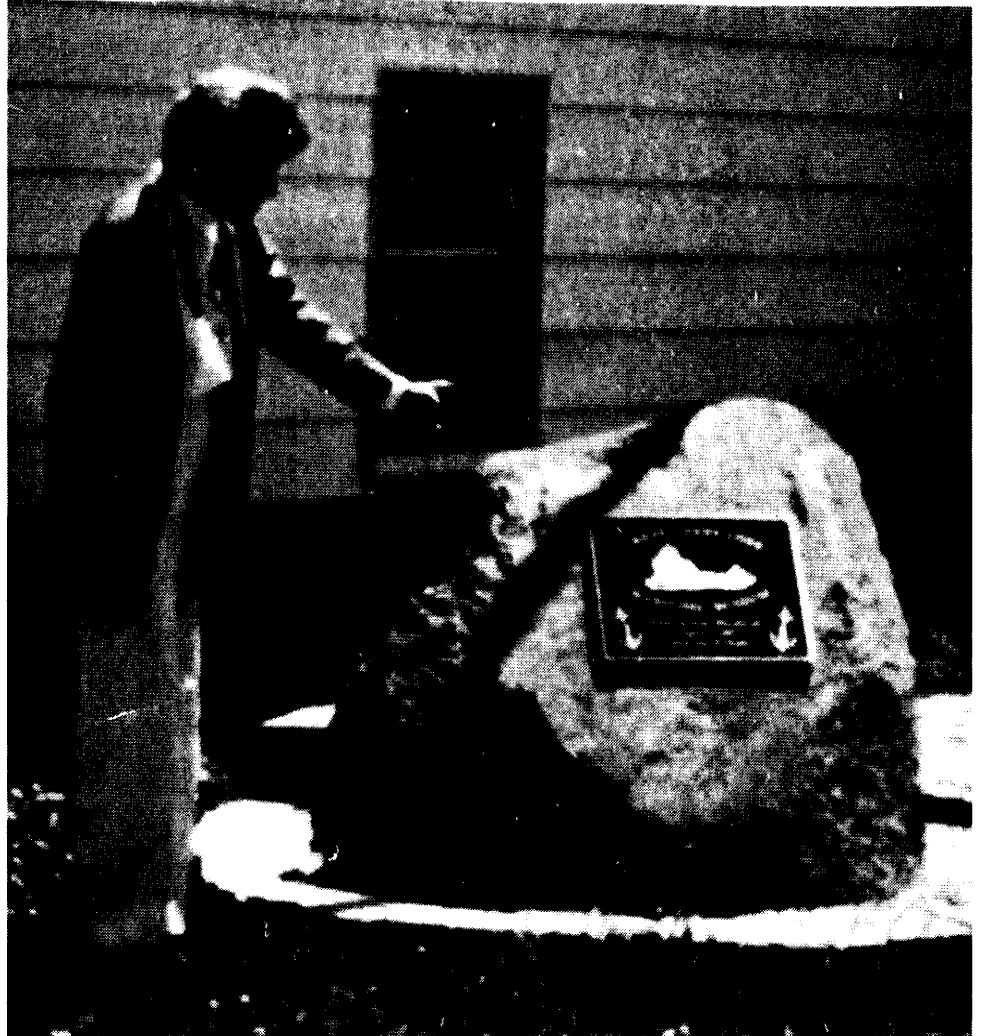

Attendants and waitresses on board were college students who had singing and dancing talent. Several Cass City residents had summer jobs on the boats.

At the dedication Saturday,

14 were honored in induction ceremonies. Inductees came from all over Michigan, including another Thumb area resident, Robert Engelman of Caseville.

The Sebawaing museum is open from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Thursdays through Sundays.

HONORED SATURDAY WAS Mary MacIntyre with induction into the Maritime Museum, Sebawaing. MacIntyre points to the plaque in front of the museum which was unveiled during the dedication ceremonies. MacIntyre was the first woman to be honored.

Immunizations

Act 299, Public Acts of 1975, authorized the Director of the Michigan Department of Public Health to specify, by regulation, the immunizations and tests required of all children enrolling in Michigan schools for the first time. This year the following immunizations are required: Diphtheria, Tetanus, Rubella, Pertussis, Measles and Poliomyelitis. In addition, each new school entry must have had a vision screening test. The parent or guardian who, because of religious or other convictions, does not want his child protected from these diseases must submit a signed statement to that effect. As part of our school admission procedure for your child, we must enforce the law stated above. We must have the health record or a similar statement in order to admit your child officially to school. If you have questions about this, please contact your local school, your doctor, or the Thumb District Health Department.

Discrimination Prohibition and Student Information

It is the policy of the Cass City Public Schools to not discriminate on the basis of sex, race, religion, or other prohibited matters in employment, or in educational programs. Student Accident Insurance Policy

Student accident insurance is available for parents to purchase through the Guarantee Trust Life Insurance Company. This low cost insurance plan can provide coverage for students at both school and home. Forms for participation will be given to all students to take home during the first week of school. Please review this information carefully and contact your child's principal if you have any questions.

Guidance and Counseling

The school guidance program is designed to assist students who have personal and social concerns, and to help students design academic programs to meet their individual needs and abilities. College admission and financial aid assistance is provided for students interested in continuing their schooling after graduation. One of the programs designed to benefit both the student and the community is the cooperative education program. Under this program, some students are placed in on-the-job-work situations for part of each school day. Students and parents desiring more information are encouraged to contact the guidance offices.

Children from households whose income is at or below the levels shown are eligible for free and reduced price meals or free milk.

Application forms are being sent to all homes with a letter to parents or guardians. To apply for free or reduced price meals, households should fill out the form and return it to the school. Additional copies of the application form are available at the principal's office in each school. Households should answer all questions on the form.

NON-FOOD STAMP HOUSEHOLDS: An application which does not contain all of the following information cannot be processed by the school: (1) the total income by source for each household member (such as wages, child support, etc.); (2) names of all household members; (3) social security number of the adult household member who signs the application; and (4) the signature of an adult household member.

FOOD STAMP/HIP HOUSEHOLDS: If you currently receive Food Stamps or Family Independence Program (FIP) for your child, you only have to list your child's name and Food Stamp or FIP case number and sign the application.

The information provided by the household is confidential and will not be released to anyone other than the school for determining eligibility and verifying data, or qualifying children for other federal and state programs, as authorized by the United States Department of Agriculture. Applications may be verified by the school or other officials at any time during the school year.

If children are approved for free or reduced price meal benefits, the household must report to the school increases in household income over $50 per month ($600 per year) and decreases in household size.

Households may apply for benefits at any time during the school year. If a household is not currently eligible but has a decrease in household income, an increase in household size or if a household member becomes unemployed, the household should fill out an application at that time.

In most cases foster children are eligible for these benefits regardless of the household's income. If a household has foster children living with them and they wish to apply for free or reduced price meals for them, the household should contact the school for more information.

Under the provisions of the policy the building principal will review applications and determine eligibility.

Parents or guardians dissatisfied with the ruling of the official may wish to discuss the decision with the determining official on an informal basis. The household also has the right to a fair hearing. This can be done by calling or writing the following official: Kenneth J. Micklash, Superintendent, 4868 N. Seeger St., Cass City, MI 48726. Driver sentenced to 10 to 15 years in prison

A Caro man charged in connection with the Memorial Day traffic death of a Livonia resident was sentenced Friday to 10 to 15 years in prison.

David L. Hall, 38, was also ordered to pay $700 in restitution during his sentencing in Tuscola County Circuit Court on a charge of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor — causing death. Hall previously pleaded guilty to the charge.

According to Michigan State Police troopers from the Caro post, the accident occurred at about 6 p.m. at the intersection of Colling and Dutcher roads in Almer Township.

Reports state Hall was westbound on Dutcher Road when he ran a stop sign at the intersection and collided with a vehicle driven by George C. Christie, 36, of Livonia. Hall's vehicle then spun around and struck an eastbound vehicle driven by Naomi Kastraba, 42, of Caro, causing all 3 vehicles to slide into the southwestbound corner of the intersection.

Christie died of injuries he suffered in the crash. Hall and 4 others, including 2 children, were treated for various injuries at area hospitals.

In other circuit court proceedings last week:

•James D. Strickler, 21, Fostoria, stood mute to a charge of third degree criminal sexual conduct involving a victim at least 13 years of age but under 16 years May 15 in Watertown Township.

A plea of innocent was entered on Strickler's behalf. He was remanded to the custody of the sheriff's department, and the court granted a motion to reduce bond from $500 to $200 cash provided the defendant has no contact with the alleged victim. A pre-trial hearing was ordered scheduled in the case.

•Michael O. Morrison, 19, Caro, was sentenced to 24 months probation and 120 days in the county jail, with worksite privileges, for his plea of guilty to attempted breaking and entering with intent to commit larceny May 31 in Caro.

Morrison was also ordered to undergo substance abuse counseling and pay $400 in court costs and fines plus $180.33 in restitution, $240 in oversight fees, $458 in attorneys fees and a $60 victim crime fee.

•Michelle L. Wark, 21, pleaded innocent to a charge of probation violation. Bond was continued and a pre-trial hearing was ordered scheduled.

•Gene L. Wilson, 33, Vassar, was sentenced to 90 days in jail for his plea of guilty to probation violation. Wilson was remanded to the custody of the sheriff's department. His probation was extended for one year, and he was ordered to pay $200 in costs and fines.

•David Mata, 53, Bay City, pleaded guilty to operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, third offense, July 22 in Reese, and being an habitual offender (2 previous felony convictions).

Mata was remanded to the custody of the sheriff's department without bond, and his license was revoked. A pre-sentence investigation was ordered. Sentencing was scheduled for Sept. 5.

•Charles M. Boyle Jr., 33, Akron, pleaded guilty to attempted carrying a concealed weapon and possession of a controlled substance (marijuana) July 12 in Vassar.

Bond was continued at $3,500 and a pre-sentence investigation was ordered for the defendant, who was remanded to the custody of the sheriff's department.

•Caelin E. Hervert, 18, Vassar, pleaded guilty to attempted carrying a concealed weapon April 23 in Vassar. Bond was continued at $5,000 and a pre-sentence investigation was ordered.

Sentencing is to be scheduled.

•James J. Karakas II, 33, Deford, pleaded guilty to operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, third offense, May 30 in Kingstown Township.

Karakas' license was revoked. Bond was continued at $5,000 and a pre-sentence investigation was ordered. Sentencing is to be set.

•Michael D. Filkins, 17, Caro, pleaded no contest to fleeing and eluding a police officer, third degree, June 17 in Caro.

Amateur motorcycle races

Woodward first in national scrambles

By Angela Cook
Staff writer

An area man recently raced his way to number one.

Brian Woodward of Snover recently placed first at the Indiana Amateur National Motorcycle Races at the Indiana State Fairgrounds in Indianapolis in the 500 and 400 scrambles.

Riders came from all over the United States, from California to New York, to compete with 10 riders in the 400 and 16 in the 500.

The races consisted of 8 laps amounting to approximately 8 miles of race track. Winning is nothing new to Woodward, who came in first at last year's amateur nationals in the 400 scramble and eighth in the 500 scramble.

On top of that, he has placed first in the district 14 scramble four times.

In addition, he placed second last year in the Michigan state finals.

Woodward said he has been racing competitively since age 8, currently owning a 500 Yamaha and 400 ATK, and was quick to point out the thrill of competition, and not in any way for the stardom. "It makes you feel happy when you win," he said.

Besides the competition that keeps him in racing, the camaraderie with the other motorcyclists also adds to the fun of racing.

"I race for the competition and I like to see the same old guys every week," he said.

Woodward, who is self-employed at Thumb Logging, devotes much of his time to racing, with 10 races total this season taking him all over the state to places such as Midland and Deford to compete.

Racing season starts in May and ends with the state finals in September.

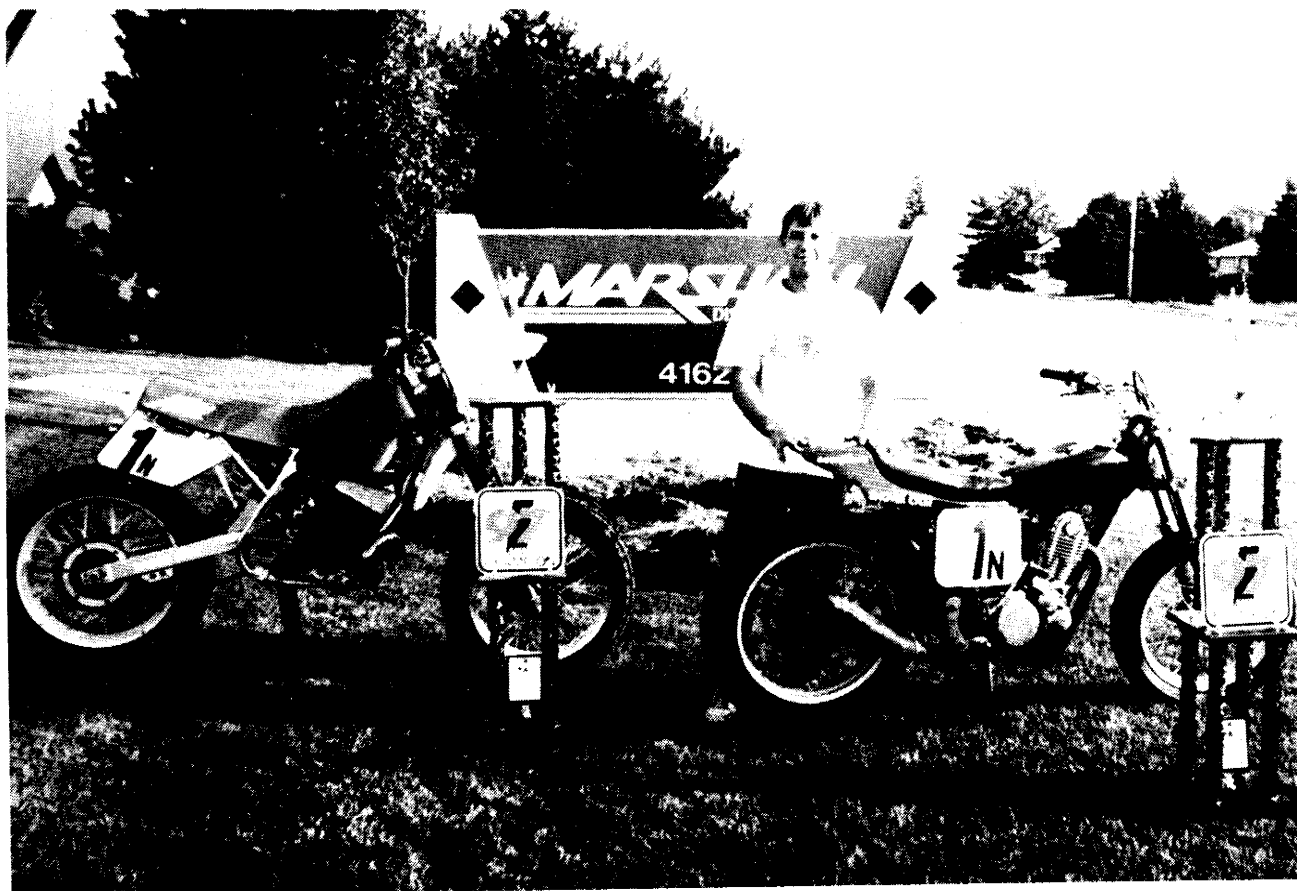

Shirley, his wife, said she and their two daughters Traci, age 10, and Dana, 5, travel with him from race to race. Often, Shirley said, they go to the race site the night before.

"We usually go the night before and camp and race all day and then go home," she explained.

Woodward said after about 25 years of racing, with the exception of a broken collar bone caused by an accident on a motorcycle, he is nothing worse for the wear and said there is nothing that would keep him from racing.

Woodward also said if it weren't for his dad, who also at one time raced, he probably wouldn't be racing today, or enjoying the success racing has brought him.

"I want to thank my dad for getting me into it," he said.

CONSTRUCTION WORKERS began removing the asphalt on Seeger Street Wednesday. A one mile stretch of the street is to be torn up and re-asphalted. Additional curbs and handicap ramps for sidewalks are also planned.

Deputies probe robbery in area

Tuscola County Sheriff's deputies are continuing their probe into the recent robbery of an Elkland Township woman.

Elsie L. Blades, Cass City, told deputies she had trouble sleeping on the night of Aug. 2, and she decided to sit in a rocker in her living room. She later awoke to find a light shining in her face and a man standing to her right.

Blades, who is 82 years old and legally blind, told deputies the man asked her where she kept her purse and jewelry. She responded that she didn't know where the purse was and didn't have any valuable jewelry.

The suspect then searched the home, found the purse and left the residence with Blade's telephone receiver in his hand. The purse and its contents are valued at $300.

Blades told deputies the man didn't harm her or threaten her. She wasn't able to give deputies a clear description of the suspect, but said he is a white male, possibly in his late 20s, and stands 5 feet 9 inches or 5 feet 10 inches tall.

Investigators said the suspect entered the home by cutting a window screen. They theorized the man was familiar with Blades and knew she was unable to see well.

New books at the library

Rawson Memorial Library continually purchases new books. Best sellers, both fiction and non-fiction, are always on the list and other books with good reviews are also chosen. Here are reviews of some recent arrivals at the library.

Brain Dead by Eileen Dryer: Forensic nurse Timmie Leary is the newest member of the emergency room staff at Memorial Medical Center in Puckett, Mo. Timmie may look like an outsider in this small town, but she's actually come home again after a bad marriage and an exhausting stint at a Los Angeles hospital. Timmie is far away from the dangerous streets of L.A. but something just as deadly is festering nearby beneath the glossy surface of Restcrest, the hospital's highly regarded senior citizen care-and-research facility where Timmie's father is the latest patient. Restcrest patients are suddenly piling up in the hospital morgue, and old age isn't reason enough to explain these tragedies or the rash of other mysterious deaths Timmie encounters in her new job. Timmie's the only one in the hospital who is fighting to find out the truth.

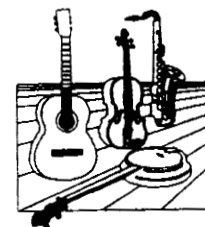

Obstruction of Justice by Perri O'Shaughnessy: Two people have died in strange accidents, one struck down by lightning on Tahoe's highest mountain and one mowed down by a hit-and-run driver. In the middle of a controversial procedure to exhume one of the bodies, powerful businessman Quentin deBeers is murdered. Charged with murder, Quentin's angry grandson Jason won't talk even to Nina, his defense attorney. To save her client, Nina must expose the truth about his troubled family and untangle the hidden connection that links all 3 deaths. As the trial comes to an end, both the D.A. and Nina are forced to make a harrowing decision to protect the innocent...at the risk of letting the guilty go free.

Theresa's ability to reach out to anyone in need, especially those battling cancer, will be deeply missed by many. Family and friends were the greatest treasures of her life. She would want us all to remember her with a smile, laughter and love. For anyone who knew her, that isn't hard to do. Thank you and God bless you all! Family of Theresa Burnette. 13-8-13-1 takes to keep the business strong and provide security for its people. "But we can't do any more than that. That would only destroy our business."

UPS drivers say they support union's stand

The union says the company's contract proposal isn't addressing the issues of part-time work, subcontracting, wages and benefits.

UPS' final 5-year offer included annual 1.5 percent wage increases for full-time workers as well as a $3,060 bonus. It also proposed withdrawing from Teamster multiemployer funds and increasing health and pension benefits.

But the union, which depends on UPS to help fund the health and pension programs, has rejected the proposed pension change.

"They want control of the pension — that's scary," said Tenbusch, who noted a driver who leaves UPS now can maintain his pension benefits if he gets a job with another company with Teamsters representation. Under the proposed change, he added, a UPS driver who loses his job loses his benefits.

Subcontracting work is another important issue for Tenbusch, who said additional subcontracting could mean the end of his job. "Anything they can do to soften the full-time work force, they're going to do."

Perhaps the biggest issue is full-time jobs, according to Teamster members, who say nearly 60 percent of UPS workers are part-time employees, and that the company wants to expand that section of the work force.

A majority of the Cass City UPS center's 54 employees are full-time workers. There are a total of 31 drivers who deliver an estimated 3,000 parcels a day.

Darren Ross, a part-time driver for the past 5 1/2 years, said he wants to work full-time, but he doesn't see much chance of that happening under the company's contract proposal.

Ross said he was working a second part-time job in Bad Axe, but left that job because he was getting a lot of hours in with UPS. He averages 25 hours a week, but has worked more than that on some occasions, and at part-time pay, which is about half of what the full-time drivers earn.

Otis Wright, a UPS driver for 21 1/2 years, commented the strike shouldn't have happened, but he isn't surprised that it did.

"We're in support of (the union), but this strike is crazy. A lot of people are going to get hurt," he said.

"If it weren't for the kind of relations UPS has with its employees, this sort of stuff wouldn't happen," he added. "I think you could talk to any UPS driver across the nation, and they would tell you the focus of management is to terminate their employment. There are constant threats of termination."

"We work hard. We give them a good day's work for a good day's wage, and it's never enough," Wright continued, noting the drivers enjoy a high service rating from the customers they serve. "We're where the rubber meets the road, and UPS has never appreciated that fact."

A number of drivers pointed out they have every reason to want the company to do well financially because they (employees) are all stockholders in UPS.

And some have hopes that union and company negotiators will find a way to reach a settlement soon.

Despite their differences, Tenbusch concluded, "I still think both sides can find some common ground."

54 attend Crawford reunion

The family of the late Clayton Crawford met for a reunion with 52 members and 2 guests present Aug. 3 at the Cass City Park.

Marion McClorey was the oldest and Aaron McClorey, son of Brian and Deb McClorey, was the youngest.

There were no deaths the past year, but 5 births: Kyle Nathaniel, son of Rob and Deb McClorey; Whitney Jo and Kayla Marie, twin daughters of Jon and Kelly Crawford; Breanna Nicole, daughter of Kevin and Deb Frank, and Aaron Morgan, son of Brian and Deb McClorey.

The reunion will be held next year the first Sunday in August.

86 attend Lowe reunion

Descendants, sisters and brother of James and Norma (McAllister) Lowe held their annual reunion Saturday, July 19, at the Cass City Park Pavilion.

Grilled bratwurst and hot dogs were enjoyed at the bountiful potluck by 86 members and friends.

Coming the farthest were Brian and Lori Helwig and family of Brownsburg, Ind. The oldest member was Marge Rankin of Sandusky, sister of Norma Lowe. The youngest member was Mattie Helwig, daughter of Brian and Lori Helwig.

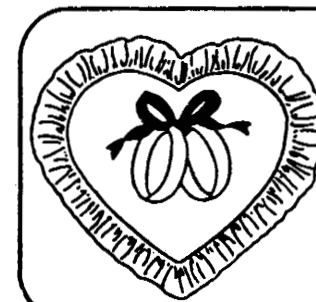

The afternoon was spent visiting and many games were organized by Karen (Hillaker) Ouvry.

Seventy-two relatives, eldest sister Marge Rankin and husband Wallace of Sandusky, sister, Marie Boyd, her son and family of Crosswell, youngest brother Bruce McAllister and wife Lois of Indian River and 2 guests came from Brownsburg, Ind., Indian River, Bay City, Hemlock, Mason, Crosswell, Snover, Deford, Caro, Ubly, Pigeon and the Cass City area.

The 1998 reunion will again be conducted the third Saturday of July at the Cass City Park Pavilion.

sion and know our hearts," she said.

In fact, they ended up sharing their message of having a personal relationship with Jesus on their day off, Deborah Otulakowski said.

On a day the group took a day off at the beach, they were making sand sculptures, which was making quite a stir.

Plus, Otulakowski said, they stuck out due to their lighter skin, and when asked what they were doing there, that was all the prompting the group needed to share with them why they had come.

"We were witnessing to them on the beach and people got saved," she said.

VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL

The group from the Thumb area also took charge of the vacation Bible school comprised of 163 children.

During the Bible school, the kids did crafts, learned Bible verses and played many games. Some had to be changed such as duck, duck goose, to fit the country's customs.

"They didn't know what ducks were, so we played banana, banana, mango," Leann Otulakowski said.

The trip went well with few problems, Deborah Otulakowski said, but the language barrier was something the group struggled with.

And while the Dominicans spoke Spanish, Bader said the Americans and Dominicans spoke to each other in non-verbal ways.

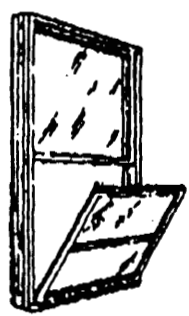

"They're all hugs," she said. Otulakowski said they went down there with the goal of building a church, and in the process got more out of the trip than they expected.

"We went down there to serve and we ended up being served," she said. "It taught us what servitude was."
