Unionville men killed in crash

Two Unionville men died in a traffic accident Friday night in Vassar Township. The crash, Tuscola County's 16th involving fatalities this year and the third involving 2 deaths in one accident, was reported Friday at 6:55 p.m.

Tuscola County Sheriff's deputies reported a dump truck and trailer driven by Timothy R. Fall, 42, Vassar, was eastbound on Brown Road when it was struck at the Caine Road intersection by a northbound pickup truck that had failed to stop at the corner.

Fall told deputies he had just left his residence and did not see any traffic as he approached the intersection. He said the pickup truck did not have its headlights on and appeared so quickly, he was unable to avoid impact.

Fall, who was wearing a seat belt, was not injured. Please turn to page 4.

Approve revised budget Board ratifies 3-year pact

The Cass City School Board approved a new 3-year contract with the operating engineers, approved a revised school budget and discussed several pending changes in school operation at its regular monthly session Monday at the high school. A revised school budget was adopted that projects a sound fiscal year with $105,000 added to the fund the fund balance to $1.2 million, Supt. Ken Micklash said that he would like to increase the fund to 15 percent of the total budget, which would place it near $1.5 million. Courthouse expansion in the hands of voters

FIFTY CENTS

Tuscola County officials say a proposed courthouse addition would result in adequate security, muchneeded office and storage space, and the means to operate more efficiently.

Opponents say the county should settle for a less expensive option, such as leasing or purchasing existing buildings. Voters will decide the $6.5 million question at the polls in the Tuesday, Nov. 3, general election.

The proposed project is a combination renovation/expansion that would update the existing courthouse in Caro and add 32,000 square feet of space.

The plan calls for a standapart addition between the courthouse and the sheriff's department that would be joined to the courthouse by a vestibule. County officials say the addition has been designed to match the architectural design of the existing courthouse.

According to county Controller Michael Hoagland, the project would tackle 4 major goals: barrier-free access to the courthouse, an adequate level of security and protection to the public and county employees, creation of badly-needed office and storage space, and updated plumbing, electrical and other systems in the existing, 66-year-old courthouse

Hoagland said $2 million of the $6.5 million project would be paid for with funds the county has been able to

Some residents have suggested the price tag is too high, saying the county should not overlook existing buildings near the courtthe public. house to ease overcrowding Under the expansion/renovation plan, Hess said, secu-and security concerns. County officials, however, counter that available buildings do not offer adequate square footage to meet the need, would do nothing to make the courthouse barrierfree, and could add more expense in terms of providing adequate security.

As for making the existing courthouse barrier-free and beefing up security, county officials say the design of the building makes it virtually impossible to provide both without spending a great deal of money and ending up still cramped for space.

Aside from the need for more office area, Commissioner Norma Bates pointed out the county needs adequate space to store public records in a more safe and convenient way

County board Chairman Ken Hess said the renovation/expansion proposal was designed to enable the county to bring all departments under one roof, protected by one security system, resulting in a more efficient and safer county operation.

In recent years, the county has leased and purchased additional property in the Caro area and relocated departments out of the court-MSU Extension and friend

At the same time, Hess added, all of the county's courts and court-related offices would be in one location, eliminating wasted travel time for county employees, and making the system less confusing for the public.

The existing Micro EDM facility totals about 7,000 square feet. Company officials are looking to possibly build a 40-foot by 90-foot addition as well as bring in additional production equipment and machines.

Micro EDM currently employs 22 people, according to company President Robert Bredemeyer, who estimated the expansion will result in the addition of 10 new jobs. Micro EDM has been part

Last year we ran out and had to make a last minute run to the store for more goodies. It's hard to know how much is enough.

A lot depends on whether the treater likes the treat and also on the weather. Even the greediest little monster has limits when it comes to battling the elements for a Hershey Miniature.

Halloween was a lot different when we were kids growing up in the country.

Another difference is that back in the old days, only a dozen or so neighborhood kids came begging, and people could afford to give them something worthwhile. You'd get invited into neighbors' houses for donuts and cider, cupcakes and hot chocolate, or homemade fudge and popcorn balls. Parents didn't worry about abductions or poison or drugs in the kids' treats. It wasn't uncommon for even young kids to walk around the mile square, unaccompanied by an adult, to visit 6-8

The biggest fear was a bigger brother or sister hiding in the ditch and jumping out to scare the liver out of you. Halloween was pretty safe those days. Unless you happened to be in the outhouse.

There are those among us who have less innocent memories of Halloweens past.

Tipping over privies was a favorite prank for them. Sometimes they made off with them and deposited them on a "favorite" teacher's front porch. One more reason to be grateful for modern conveniences!

The tale is told of one local man whose outhouse was targeted every Halloween. He got sick and tired of it and came up with a scheme to get even. After dark, he went out and moved the building forward a couple feet.

When the neighborhood boys came around later and approached the rear of the privy in the darkness to tip it over, they fell into a very unpleasant surprise. If you don't understand, ask an older person to explain the intricacies of the outhouse structure. I don't think he had any further problems after that.

We all know that fall is one of the times of the year that lots of slow-moving farm equipment and wagons are on the highways and that beet dirt on the highways makes them slippery. We were reminded of the danger to drivers and farmers last week by Iva Hartwick.

She asked that we remind drivers about it again. We were in an accident on Cemetery Road last year while on the road with farm equipment, she points out, and narrowly escaped another accident this year.

While on this safety kick, don't forget that Saturday is Halloween and the trick and treaters will be out in force. Drivers should be extra careful and parents should see to it that they do their part.

Dress the young goblins in costumes that make it easy for kids to walk, see and be seen. Caution them about not eating their treats until they get home and can check them out. Trick-or-treat with friends or with an adult.

I know, I know, we don't like to think razor blades in apples or pins in candy can happen here and it's almost sure that it won't.

But it doesn't cost anything to take that extra ounce of caution.

New Chinese restaurants seem to pop up all over, like flowers in the spring. One of the latest is the Gold China Restaurant, 2945 Bay Road in Saginaw.

On Saturday, at least, when we visited, it featured a buffet. The variety was excellent. Lots of different Chinese dishes. If shrimp and crab legs are high on your list, this is the place for you.

The buffet included 4 kinds of shrimp, 3 with different coatings and the fourth still in the shell. I didn't count, but there must have been at least 25 different selections.

A negative for us was the uninviting entrance and the dining room, which was ample, but not distinctive. The price was right. The total cost was $20 for 2, including tax and tip. Give it a 6 on the 1-10 scale.

They finally made up their minds. Six psychiatrists from Massachusetts General Hospital have concluded Mike Tyson is mentally fit to return to boxing.

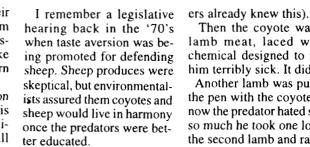

Tyson's mental evaluation was one requirement in his effort to regain his boxing license. Readers will recall Tyson was banned from boxing after biting off a chunk of Evander Holyfield's ear during a title match in 1997. I don't know whether Mike should be allowed in the ring or not, but the whole idea of requiring mental competence sets a bad precedent I think. What if hockey players were evaluated for mental stability?'Or golfers had to explain why they hit a little white ball with a stick? I have a clipping from a local newspaper that lists events of 100 years ago. An item that caught my eye states, "A man was found sleeping under the downtown bridge last week. He was thought to be mentally incompetent and taken to the county jail. The sheriff released him the next morning after his mind was judged good enough for ordinary purposes."

That's the way I see Tyson's situation: If his mind's good enough for ordinary purposes, it should be good enough for boxing.

Besides, boxing officials could prevent this sort of behavior if they really wanted to. Ear muffs aren't that expensive, and I see nothing wrong with taste aversion chemicals when needed.

Taste aversion is a recommended technique for protecting sheep from coyotes. It should work just as well on boxers. Just paint their ears with some disgusting substance and let them have a go sary to let the building hulk still stand to remember how it played a part in your life. There's no erasing my memories of riding the escalators in Hudson's or my introduction to township government in annual meetings at the Cultural Center.

There were several attempts to save Hudson's and Walbro Corporation purchased the Cultural Center building in an attempt to save it. But before he retired, Lambert Althaver, former Walbro CEO, was looking for a way to unload the building.

That's because, like Hudson's, it no longer filled a need in the community. It hosted a few meetings early on, but despite the free use, that soon abated.

Groups would much rather meet in up-to-date community centers such as those provided by Detroit Edison and Rawson Memorial Library

Old building zealots can point to Europe to make a case for preservation. Roger Marshall, Cass City, who recently returned from Brussels, announced at a recent Rotary Club meeting how well maintained and good looking the 250 years or older buildings appeared. How functional they are in these days of computers and electronics is another story. After all, we just razed a 70year-old school building in part because it didn't meet the needs of modern electronics.

It's the same way with the historic churches that attract European visitors in hordes. It was great to visit and mull how the giant edifices were the center of all activities when constructed

But for normal Sunday services, I'll take any one of the modern church buildings in Cass City, rather than the cold, drafty churches built hundreds of years ago.

It may be October, but winter is just ahead. In the upcoming months we can expect ice, snow, sleet and fog. Severe or adverse weather conditions will most likely require us to close our schools at one time or another during this school year.

Canceling school or not canceling is usually a no-win situation. Part of the problem is that our school district covers approximately 200 square miles. Our boundaries extend to Sebewaing Rd. to the north, Arnold Rd. to the east, Colling Rd. to the west (which is directly north of Caro) and Legg Rd. to the south (which is one mile south of Hemans). Each geographic area can, and often does, have a different ice, snow, rain or fog condition on the same day. There is no way we can satisfy everyone, nevertheless, we attempt to do the best we can with making a rational decision as early as possible regarding closings and delays.

On days in question, regarding the opening or possible early closing of schools, we suggest you listen to the listed radio or TV stations. Early morning decisions to close school will be made before busses are dispatched for the morning runs by 6:45 a.m., if possible. Please remember, on occasion, our Michigan weather changes rapidly, and things do not always go as planned. During these times we are asking for your patience and understanding.

CASS CITY CHRONICLE - WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1998

New books at the library

As Time Goes By by Michael Walsh: This book continues the story of Rick, Ilsa, Victor, Louis, Sam and even Sacha and Carl from the movie Casablanca. The novel not only tells you what happened after Ilsa and Victor Laszlo left Casablanca, but takes you on a journey into the past as it answers all the questions you ever wanted to ask Rick, Ilsa and Renault. From sun-baked Casablanca to wartime London, from the smoke-filled speakeasies of Prohibition New York to the tension-filled streets of Occupied Prague this book brings to life people you thought you would never meet again.

Incident at Twenty-Mile by Trevanian: A young, mysterious stranger has arrived at Twenty-Mile, a dying town in the middle of nowhere. The stranger gets involved with the life of the town, but reveals little about himself and his past. Then 3 more strangers arrive in Twenty-Mile, including one of the worst villains of the Wild West. The story builds until it culminates in one of the greatest showdowns in literature.

Bag of Bones by Stephen King: Although she has been gone for 4 years, novelist Mike Noonan cannot stop grieving about his wife Jo. Because of his grief he is also unable to write. He is having awful nightmares, so he decides that maybe spending time at Sarah Laughs, his isolated summer home, will help him to get away from the bad dreams. Millionaire Max Devore controls Mike's old home town and is trying to take his 3-year-old granddaughter from her widowed young mother using every means at his disposal. Mike is drawn into the struggle when he falls in love with the widow and her daughter. Sarah Laughs becomes the site of ghostly visitations, ever-escalating nightmares and the sudden recovery of his writing ability. The question becomes what are the forces that have been unleashed here and what do they want from Mike Noonan?

1999. During the course of her visit Pedersen will stay with 3 host families. She is also attending classes at Cass City High School. She is a senior, but still has 2 more years of high school ahead of her when she returns home.

CHOICES

In Denmark, Pedersen explained, students generally attend school through the ninth or tenth grade, then they have a choice of going on to 3 years of high school or pursuing other options, including attending a specialized business school or applying for an apprenticeship. Others choose to enter the work force.

Pedersen compared high school in Denmark to the community or junior college system in this country.

"It's harder," she said "I have 2 hours of school work a day at home.' The classwork is difficult,

Rotary Exchange student

Pedersen soaking up culture

When students enter high school, they choose between 2 study areas, the sciences and languages. Pedersen decided on the sciences, although she speaks English and German as well as Danish.

Eventually, she'll pursue additional education after graduation, with plans to possibly become a teacher. 'I also want to be a social worker, or maybe a dentist," she said.

"I don't want to study right away after high school. I want to earn some money and travel again - see the world.'

Pedersen has noticed a number of differences between school here and in Denmark, including the way students move from class to class in American high schools. "In a way it's nice. Up here I meet a lot of people," she said. On the other hand, she added, in Denmark, where the students remain in one classroom and the teachers travel from room to room, students become close friends.

Also new to Pedersen, a big soccer fan, are school sports. She noted there is no connection between athletics and schools in Denmark.

"Here they have sports and everybody supports the team. I think it's great with the cheerleaders and everybody," she said.

SO MANY RULES

Pedersen is less enthused about what she described as so many rules.

In Denmark, students can leave the school campus anytime if they wish. In town, the legal age to purchase alcohol is 15 years (a new law enacted a year ago), although the minimum drinking age is 18 years. "We don't have a (minimum) age for smoking," she said, adding despite the liberal laws, alcohol abuse "is not a big problem." Obtaining a driver's license isn't nearly as easy as buying a 6-pack in Denmark. "We have to be 18 to drive," Pedersen said. "We pay over $1,000 for a license, and that's cheap." As a people, Pedersen observed Americans are more religious than the Danes. "Everybody is a member of the national church (in Denmark), but we don't go to church like you do.' The people of Denmark are also more health conscious, she said. "I think you eat more fatty food. We don't through northern Michigan eat as much fast food, but we have it," she added. "We eat very healthy; salad, pasta."

Despite the differences, Pedersen said there are many similarities between Americans and Danes. Young people in both countries enjoy spending time together and having fun, she pointed

As for her year as an exchange student, Pedersen hopes to see more of this country. She has already visited Detroit, Traverse City and other areas, and recently enjoyed a fall color tour and the Upper Peninsula with other exchange students. 'We're going to Florida next month, so we'll do the Disney World thing," Downing noted. When it's all over, Pedersen hopes to take home a lot more than a souvenir or 2. Already, she said, the exchange student experience has forced her to become more independent.

"I'm on my own without my parents. I have to make some decisions on my own," she added. "It will help me personally. I think I'll be more mature."

Michigan's Statute, Act 53 of Public Acts 1974, requires anyone who engages in or is responsible for the planning or performance of any type of excavation such as auguring, grading, demolition, cultivating, blasting, or boring, to provide advance notice of at least three full working days to Miss Dig. Miss Dig must be called prior to excavation in order to comply with the state statute. Miss Dig is open 24-hours to take requests. Emergency and non-emergency calls will be accepted. If any of the following situations occur, the caller should contact the facility owner directly:

To report damage to any type of facility To resolve any type of damage billing problem To request any type of utility service To request any type of facility removal relocation

In addition, the Contractor Assistance Program is available to assist with any problems contractors are experiencing in complying with Public Act 53. Forms can be obtained by calling the Miss Dig Administration Office at (810)332-3422.

SEMCO ENERGY GAS COMPANY strongly encourages compliance and enforces its policy to bill for damage repairs if it is determined the excavator has not complied with Public Act 53. Call 1-888-427-1427 to report a suspected gas leak or damage to piping.

CASS CITY CHRONICLE - WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1998 Bulldog rally falls short at Atlanta

The Owen-Gage Bulldog gridiron playoff hopes vanished Friday when they were defeated 28-20 at Atlanta.

Trailing 20-6 at the break. Coach Joe Candela's team rallied and marched to the Huskies' 24 yard line for a possible game tying score that stalled when Atlanta's Jim Weaver intercepted a Derek Howard pass.

"The kids played hard for the entire game," said Candela, adding, "The fans thought it was over at the half, but the kids didn't give up.'

Owen-Gage, 3-5 overall. will wrap up their season Friday at Owendale when they entertain Au Gres.

"I think the kids will come back and play hard Friday. We want to see our seniors go out with a win," commented Candela.

The Huskies drew first blood in the opening quarter on a 16-yard pass play from quarterback Brian Guest to Mitch Valentine.

Owen-Gage answered their North Star League hosts' score with one of their own that came with 43 seconds left in the maiden period.

Joel Bolzman scored the first of his 3 markers when he found pay dirt from 2 yards out. The Bulldog marker was set up on a 23yard halfback pass to wide receiver Joe Salcido.

The Huskies, however, moved out to a 28-6 advantage by recording the game's next 3 scores. Two of the scores came prior to the intermission.

Nick Spano gave the hosts a 12-6 margin when he hauled in a Guest pass and raced 80 yards for the marker. Guest accounted for the winners' final score in the half when he crossed the goal line from the 2-yard line with just 22 seconds remaining on the clock

Atlanta's final score was registered by tailback Rod Moss, who opened the scoring in the final half with a 34yard jaunt. Moss led the Husky rushing attack with 125 yards.

The Bulldogs' rally started with a pair of Howard touchdown tosses. Owen-Gage's first score came in the 3rd quarter when Howard connected with Bolzman on a 65-yard scoring strike. The pair connected again in the final period on a score that covered 25 yards. Owen-Gage then closed the gap to 28-20 when Howard teamed up with Nathan Kline for the 2-point conversion. Howard crashes. Motorists should take extra precautions this fall, especially while driving at night on 2-lane roadways, according to the Michigan Deer Crash Coalition, which reports 80 percent of the state's deer crashes occur on 2-lane roads with a speed limit of 55 miles per hour. Drivers need to be aware of deer at all times; however, studies indicate that car-deer crashes are most likely to occur during the months of October, November and December, with the highest incidents on Friday and Saturday nights," said Jerry Basch of AAA Michigan and chair of the coalition. "And, the majority of these crashes take place on unlit roads." To heighten motorists' awareness of deer "hot spots," for the first time, county sheriffs throughout the state will issue Car-Deer Crash Advisories beginning this fall. The advisories, similar to those distributed for weather and other hazardous conditions, will note roads which have the high-

Hawk runners gearing

for Saturday's regional

From the start of the season, first year Coach Sandi Smith has said the goal of her Cass City cross country team is to qualify for the state meet.

This Saturday at Harbor Beach during the running of the Class C regional, Smith will see if her squad can realize that goal.

"Our goal is to qualify as a team to go to state," Smith reaffirmed, adding, "(The) competition is going to be tough, but if everyone runs their best race, we should do well."

To qualify for the state meet, which will be run Nov. 7 in Brooklyn, Smith's team will need to finish among the top 3 spots. Smith feels that Sandusky and Unionville-Sebewaing will be the schools to beat in the regional.

In preparation for the weekend, the Hawks competed at the Thumb Area Cross Country Championship in Caro Saturday. Smith's squad put together a fine showing and finished 5th out of 21 schools with 152 points. Regional favorite Sandusky recorded top honors on the day with an impressive tally of 52 points. Rounding out the top 3 spots were Marlette (123) and Vassar (145).

A pair of Hawk runners brought home medals for their efforts at Caro. Craig Emmert recorded Cass City's best time, running the 3.1mile course in 17:25 that resulted in 5th place. Brad Ypma's time of 17:52 earned him 13th place and the squad's only other medal. Also running for the Hawk boys on the day with their times were: Kris Patera (18:50), Matt Derfiny (19:08) and Ben Adams (19:11). The trio finished in 39th, 47th, and 48th place, respectively.

Running for the Hawk girls were Rebecca Kruse and Melanie Nizzola, who placed 78th and 80th with times of 26:52 and 27:04.

CASS CITY CHRONICLE - WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1998

Cass City remains in GTC league title chase

Thursday the Cass City Red Hawks registered the first of what has to be a series of wins if they are to remain in contention for a share of the Greater Thumb West title this vear

The Hawks topped Bad Axe on the Hatchets' home floor, 57-52. The teams were tied for second place in the league before the game.

The Hawks were to have played USA Tuesday, one of the 2 league teams with wins over Cass City this season. Thursday Cass City entertains Reese and next Tuesday a key game at Bay City All Saints is on the docket. If the Hawks get by these games unscathed, they will be strong favorites to top Mayville and set up a seasonending clash with league leading Lakers Nov. 12 at home.

The needed win over Bad Axe was a clash of top players on each squad with Shelly Ulfig, 28 points, and Kara Mellendorf, 15 points, battling with Aleatha Johnson, 18 points, and Erin Mooney, 16 points.

The Hawks' twin towers got just enough help from Tara McNeil, who sank a pair of treys in the first period, and Nicolette Zawilinski, with 2 hoops in the same quarter, to help the Hawks off to a fly-

Chemical declares dividend

Alan W. Ott, chairman of Chemical Financial Corporation, announced that on Oct. 19 the board of directors of the company declared a quarterly cash dividend of $0.24 per share of common stock payable Tuesday, Dec. 1, to shareholders of record on Nov. 13. The ex-dividend date is Nov. 11.

Chemical Financial Corporation is one of the 10 largest bank holding companies in Michigan, and the company's 10 subsidiary banks operate 86 "Chemical Bank" offices in 24 counties across the mid-section of Michigan's lower peninsula. CFC Data Corp, Midland, is the company's wholly owned data processing subsidiary.

It was a microcosm of the disappointing season. The Cass City Red Hawks lost to Bay City All Saints in the final home and Greater Thumb West league game of the season, 20-6. The Hawks lost decisively to the Cougars, but it could have been a different game with a different outcome if the team could have come up with big plays when needed. There were 3 decisive plays that went a long way towards deciding the outcome. The first came in the first series of plays when All Saints faced a fourth and 4 at mid-field Brian Martin, a bone-crushing back all night for All Saints, was tackled at the line of scrimmage only to carry a couple of defenders for the necessary first down yardage That kept the drive alive and the Saints marched down the field to score with 1:51 left in the quarter. The run for extra points was good. Four times during the game All Saints faced a fourth down and all 4 times converted to maintain control of the ball. The Hawks finally got the ball and started a scoring drive of their own and moved 56 yards to score. In the drive Dan Cuddie picked up 16 yards and Nick King went 10 yards up the middle to score. The second big play of the night netted the Cougars their second touchdown. The visitors drove down to the Cass City 10, when the Hawks stopped the first running play cold, only to have Nick Grange toss a pass in the end zone to Ben Gracey. The third and most damaging big play for the Hawks came when they failed to convert after Heath Zawilinski dashed 31 yards on a quarterback keep to the All Saints one-yard line. Four runs into the line were stiffed by the Cougar defense

a win went with it. The Cougars then went 99 yards to score again to remove any faint hopes the Hawks had of winning. While the lack of big plays on defense or offense killed Cass City's chances for an upset, All Saints deserved to win. We just got our butts beat, Coach Tom Oesch said grimly. All Saints controlled the ball for 36 of the 48 minutes of the game.

ADAM DORLAND found some running room on this play in

But among her admirers is someone who seems to know everything about her. Jessica's nightmare begins when the admirer turns into a stalker. The police and FBI try to find clues to the stalker's identity while waiting to find out what his final objective is, but no one predicts his surprising next move.

Bloodstream by Tess Gerritsen: The small resort town of Tranquility, Maine, seems the perfect place for Dr. Claire Elliot to protect her teenage son, Noah, from the problems of the big city and the memories of his father's death. She wants to gain the trust of the town and build a new practice. Everything begins to fall apart when a boy under her care commits a violent act and she is questioned because she stopped giving him a controversial drug before the incident. With the eruption of more violence in Tranquility, Claire is forced to perform more emergency procedures and more trouble follows until she begins to think there is something lethal about the town. While she tries to keep the town and her son out of harm's way, she discovers a conspiracy to manipulate nature and turn innocents into murderers.

Gagetown area residents work to make a difference

They came, they saw, they made a difference.

More than 4 dozen area residents, many of them youngsters, rolled up their sleeves Saturday and spent several hours making the park just west of Gagetown a better place to visit.

They painted playground equipment and bleachers, and worked on construction of dugouts.

And they did it all as volunteers in conjunction with Make A Difference Day, an annual national challenge to do something good. The Gagetown project, hosted by the Human Development Commission (HDC), was one of more than 200 similar efforts staged by various groups across Michigan.

"We counted over 50 people," Cindy Harju said, referring to the turnout of volunteers at the area park. The Gagetown resident, who spearheaded Saturday's project, said she had hoped to see more teens and adults, but the effort was a success just the same.

"Oh, definitely. To me, any attempt like this is a success,' she added. "We got everything done that we wanted to do. It turned out to be a really great thing."

Harju is a member of AmeriCorps, an HDC program geared to introduce volunteerism to youths by involving them in community-based projects.

Harju began organizing Saturday's activity weeks ago, when she set up a volunteer booth at the Octagon Barn Festival in hopes of drumming up interest among area youths.

Maxwell outstanding manager

Karen Maxwell of Cass City was recently presented the 1997 McDonald's Outstanding Assistant Manager Award at the annual Assistant Manager Conference, held at the Horizon Conference Center in Saginaw. This prestigious award was presented to only 42 assistant managers throughout the Grand Rapids district. Generally presented to the top 10 percent of assistant managers, the award criteria include operational excellence and superior customer satisfaction. Maxwell was recently promoted to the Cass City restaurant

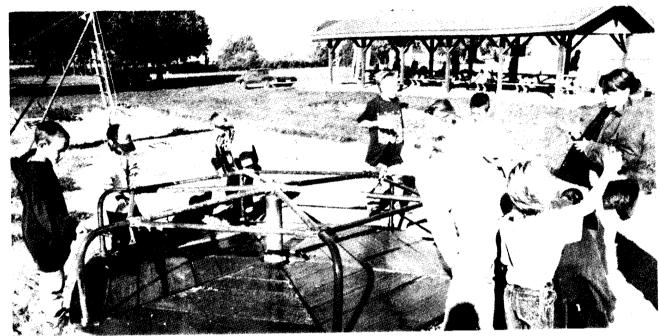

"I was really impressed because the kids were really into it," she recalled, adding Gagetown Village officials and businesses were also quick to offer their support. Some Cass City area businesses also pitched in, donating paint, paint brushes, buckets, food and balloons. "All of them were so willing. There was just great support," she said. "Everyone's been just really positive." Harju noted the volunteers gave their all Saturday, with some arriving at 10 a.m. and working through late afternoon. "It was definitely a full day.

Everybody was whipped," she said.

JENNY CZEWSKI, 12, Gagetown (left), and Wendy Errer, 12, Owendale, were among more than 50 volunteers who helped improve the Gagetown area park Saturday.

MANY HANDS MADE light work at the Gagetown park Saturday, where dozens of volunteers gathered Saturday to perk up the park with some paint and other fix-up projects in conjunction with Make a Difference Day.

Dear Editor: The Tuscola County voters are being asked to approve a millage Nov. 3 for improving, expanding, and preserving their courthouse. This vote is very important because public facilities such as schools and courthouses are a reflection of the peoples' attitudes toward themselves and their community, and evidence their commitment to providing for future generations. The seat of our local government is our courthouse. We citizens should take pride in our self-governance, because we have the best form of government in the world. We must provide for future generations if they too are going to enjoy the benefits of the best form of government in the world.

Tuscola County citizens at one time had ample pride and were committed to the future, as the courthouse was, when it was built, a facility to be proud of and worthy of being passed on to future generations. Today it needs to be improved, expanded, and preserved. Government has changed in sixty years and so too must the place future? Our courthouse has served us well for more than six decades. No one can honestly argue that we haven't received our moneys' worth

One of the biggest misconceptions about Mothers Against Drunk Driving (MADD) is that one must be a mother or close relative of someone killed or injured by a drunk driver in order to receive our services. ## Governor, Senate, House seats

Voters to decide races Nov. 3

Although local races will be few and far in between in the Tuesday, Nov. 3. general election, area residents will have a say in races for governor as well as seats in the state House and Senate, and Congress.

The top race pits incumbent Republican John Engler, 50, against attorney Geoffrey N. Fieger, 47.

Engler, who is seeking his third term as governor, has spent his entire career in public office. He was elected to the Michigan House in 1970, the Senate in 1978, and governor in 1990, each time unseating the incumbent in upset victories.

In a campaign stop earlier this year in Cass City, Engler said his record as governor speaks for itself. He cited 2 dozen tax cuts during his administration, including the Proposal A school finance campaign. Also cited were millions of dollars in federal highway aid brought into the state, and an economy that boasts record low unemployment.

This year's election marks the first-ever campaign for public office for Fieger, who is considered to be among the most successful trial attorneys in this country. He is best known for his role as counsel to assisted suicide advocate Jack Kevorkian.

5TH DISTRICT

Thumb area residents will also decide a race in the 5th District of the U.S. House of Representatives.

The 5th District covers Alcona, Arenac, Bay, Huron, Iosco, Sanilac, Tuscola and parts of Genesee, Lapeer and Saginaw counties.

The incumbent is James A. Barcia, 46, Bay City, who was first elected to the seat in 1992. He serves on the Transportation and Infrastructure Committee and the Science Committee.

Barcia previously served as state senator representing the 34th District from 1982 to 1992, and state representative in the 101st District from 1976 to 1982 Also vying for Barcia's seat in Congress is Donald W. Brewster, a Monitor Township Republican. Brewster, 68, is a quality engineer consultant.

Millage vote set on hall

Voters in Sanilac County's Evergreen Township will decide a special millage request in the Nov. 3 general election.

Township officials are asking residents to approve a levy of 2 mills for one year to help fund construction of a new township hall.

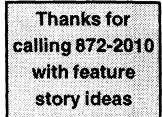

For the owner of a home with a market value of $60,000, the levy would cost an additional $60 in taxes.

The existing hall in Shabbona is old and in disrepair, township Clerk Arthur Severance explained. He noted the structure, believed to have been built in the early 1900s, needs a new roof and floor, and there is no water service or bathroom facilities.

The Evergreen Township Board voted to build a new hall after investigating the cost of repairs, which were estimated at $20,000 or more.

The millage is expected to raise about $30,000, according to Severance, who said the township has also earmarked $10,000 in this year's budget for the building project.

The new township hall will measure about 30 feet by 50 feet and will be located just east of the existing hall. The project cost is estimated at $60,000 to $75,000.

Salter told the nearly 1,300 of their companies.

Turning back the transportation clock netted 2 Saginaw Valley based railroads the American Short Line and Railroad Regional Association's Excellence in Marketing Award. Huron and Eastern Railway Company (HESR), a RailAmerica Inc. subsidiary, and Central Michigan Railway (CMR), a subsidiary of the Straits Corporation, were recently honored at the association's annual meeting in Atlanta, Ga.

Basis for the award was the long-term agreement between the 2 companies and Monitor Sugar Company of Bay City. Under that pact, 100 percent of the estimated 60,000 tons of sugar beets taken in at Monitor's Deckerville receiving station will be transferred to its beet processing facility entirely by rail. This will eliminate an estimated 1,500 double bottom beet trucks from the Thumb and Saginaw Valley rail spur at Bay City", Parker said. "This investment demonstrates Monitor's significant commitment to this somewhat daring decision to return sugar beet transportation to the railroad."

Both speakers referred to the team work involved on both railroads and recognized the people responsible for operations and crew management as being vital parts to the project's success.

Monitor and HESR paved the way for the all-rail transfer when Monitor acquired land from HESR and from an adjoining property owner at Deckerville and established a new receiving station in 1996. HESR then worked with Monitor to move 254 rail carloads of beets to Saginaw, where they were transferred to trucks for de-railroad industry representatives at the meeting that the 10-year transportation contract entered into with Monitor in July 1997 required a sizable investment in rail cars by the 2 railroads in order to insure car availability for the duration of the contract period. This was accomplished by each rail company purchasing a portion of the required cars. These were pooled into a holding company called Michigan Rail Partnership (MRP), which manages the 130-car fleet. Parker noted a unique factor critical to making the project work is the ability of MRP to keep more than 80 percent of the fleet earning revenue on other railroads during the majority of the time the cars are not needed for the 100-mile beet shuttle between Deckerville and livery to the plant. It was the first time in more than 30 years that raw sugar beets had traveled in railroad Bay City. cars in Michigan's Thumb "And let us not forget area highways. region. passing into God's hands.

Sister Joan Maher and Father

Paul Bala were important bearers of spiritual comfort for Walt during his remaining days with us. Ron and Jill

Drinkard and Jackie Goodell deserve our thanks for their special help when they saw we needed it. To all of Walt's nieces, nephews, brothers, brother-in-law, lifelong
