

Union banks on 5-year Walbro pact for jobs

Labor peace at Walbro Corporation arrived last week with the signing of a 5-year pact between Walbro and Local 213 of the UAW.

The new contract was approved by a vote of 207 to 128, with one spoiled ballot. Although the details of the contract were not released, Robert Burleson, Walbro union chairman, said that there were raises of 2 and 3 percent in the contract.

The reason for the 2-level raises was to equalize wages in the plant. Those at a higher level received the lesser raise. The union also agreed to copays for the fourth and fifth year of the contract. Michael J. Leopold, Walbro's vicepresident human relations, declined to talk about details of the contract except to say that he was very pleased with the spirit of cooperation in the negotiations.

However, Leopold said, the contract does not guarantee that jobs will remain at Caro and Cass City, where 360 union members are employed.

Burleson agreed that there are no guarantees in the contract, but we have a verbal understanding that every attempt will be made to keep them in the community.

I have worked at Walbro for 23 years, Burleson pointed out, and it's been a good place to work.

Leopold explained that the 5-year contract will give the company stability in costs. Burleson said that we know that the company hasn't been doing well and we hope that the contract will enable the company to bid competitively on jobs that were lost when the company was underbid.

Workers received a jolt when it was recently revealed that the lawn and garden carburetor production was moving to Nogales, Mexico, and with it 100 factory jobs and 12 office positions.

All of the terms of the contract are retroactive to Nov. 9, when the former contract expired.

A TIME FOR SHARING IN CASS CITY You're invited to the Annual Community Dinner

There will be over 300 free Thanksgiving dinners served in Cass City to families and individuals in a community event that started 13 years ago. The traditional fellowship event will be held at the Cass City VFW Hall starting at 12 noon Thursday.

When the event was organized, there were about 80 meals served. That grew each year for several years and now appears to be stabilized. Two years ago, 280 meals with 75 take-out dinners were served. Last year the tally was 240 dinners with 75 take-outs.

While the dinner is at noon, take-outs to shut-ins will be distributed starting after 2 p.m.

The meal requires a community-wide commitment from volunteers, churches, businesses, schools and civic groups.

The turkeys are furnished by the Knights of Columbus and the churches contribute the rest of the food for the banquet.

Sponsors stress that the meal is not something for just the poor and the needy, but for persons who don't have other plans for the holiday. A time for sharing with others in the community.

Okay changes in 2 school policies

One of the quietest meetings of the year of the Cass City School Board Monday was highlighted by changes in 2 school policies and the decision not to change another.

In answer to a request at an earlier meeting to change the way non-certified staff members are hired, the board adopted a new procedure that mirrors the way the teaching staff is hired.

Now when a vacancy occurs, the vacancy, together with the job qualifications needed, will be posted in each building in the district, including the bus garage and the high school kitchen, for a period of 5 working days.

plained that previously these positions were filled from a list of qualified applicants that he had on file.

The second policy change concerned the precautions to limit athletic injury and to handle them when they do occur. Already held this year and to be required in the future is a first aid meeting for all coaches. Athletes will fill out a form showing medical data, including insurance coverage and any allergy to medication that may exist.

A proposal to limit the terms of board officers died for lack of support after board members' discussion. If it's not broke, don't fix it, one board member said.

He explained that 90 students are taking courses at the Technology Center in Caro and told the board that

Now there are about 120 students in the program who must work all but an hour a day after school hours. Dillon said that about 35 of them participate without taking the hour allowed by the state. Dillon supervises some 26 local scholarships available to Cass City students. He also is involved with the schoolto-work program and the career expo held each year.

•Permission was granted to hold the annual Christmas concert presented by the Cass City High School and Middle School choirs on Sunday, Dec. 20, at 2 p.m. It was the only date open on the school calendar, Micklash reported.

City merchants who vigorously protested an ordinance regulating signs in the business district has succeeded in securing major changes in the ordinance.

At a meeting of the Cass City Planning Commission Tuesday evening, Nov. 17, the commission bowed to most of the demands of the merchants.

The use of banners on the exterior of buildings in the business district was eased to allow them to be placed on any of the 4 walls of the building instead of just the front and back. The sign size was originally to be restricted to 100 square feet but the commission now will suggest that signs of any size be allowed providing that they do not occupy more than 10 percent of the total square feet of the building.

One particularly onerous regulation was a fee of $25 to erect a portable sign. That fee will be reduced to $5. In addition, portable signs will be allowed up to 4 times a year with a total of 80 days rather than 20 days. The fee is waived for non-profit firms.

In the open forum, the dispute over sign regulations led to a general discussion about business conditions.

Clarence "Bud" Schneeberger said that he thought the commission would be better off concentrating on bringing new business into town. Lambert Althaver asserted that very problem was one that has occupied the attention of the Downtown Development Association in every one of its meetings. The solution is hard to find.

Robert Papovich, a sign painter, said that once you allow government to get its head into business regulation, there is no stopping it. Gerald Prieskorn, Ben Franklin Store co-owner, said that government restric-

Her daughter, Suzy, also ran and completed the same race. No time or place of finish was recorded because someone in the team of which she was a member became ill and needed treatment.

There's no doubt that artificial Christmas trees have cut into the real Christmas tree business, but the real trees are still big business. Michigan tree farms will produce 4 million trees this year. One million will be used in the state and 3 million will be exported across the United States and to several foreign countries.

It may well be that the time is not far distance when deer hunters in Cass City will be able to roll out of their easy chairs and fill their deer licenses. At least that is the way it must appear to Rita Lovejoy, who lives on Hillcrest Street. Wednesday afternoon last week she glanced out of her window and saw 3 deer peacefully grazing in her back yard. First we got faster computers, then call waiting and fax machines. Now it's voice mail, e-Mail, and the World Wide Web.

I can't complain about computers. I love computers, but some of this other stuff has been oversold it seems to me. Consider how folks would react if this technology were reversed. What if the internet was 50 years old, and the telephone was brand new? Wouldn't it be great to call people up, listen to their voices, talk as fast as you want, and get an answer immediately. What a great invention — the telephone.

Then, imagine having to type a note or letter, leave it on someone's machine, and wait for them to type a note or letter in response. That's what we do with e-Mail: Send folks a note and then call them up to make sure they got it.

It's better than a telegram. At least we don't have to learn Morse Code.

How about fax machines? The fax machine always reminds me of public relations agencies I used to write for. The PR agencies wanted everything by overnight mail. No matter what it was, it had to go overnight. So, we mailed their stuff overnight and charged them another $12. Then, when I hadn't heard anything for a couple of weeks, I would call them up.

Nine times out of 10, the person who received the overnight copy hadn't read it. He was on vacation, had his appendix removed, or his dog ate the mail.

That's where the fax machine comes in. The fax lets us transmit copy instantly --because we were too disorganized to mail it a couple of days sooner.

Owen-Gage students showed marked improvement in the Michigan Education Assessment Program (MEAP) tests from the previous year. However, it is probably impossible to draw solid conclusions about the improved scores since the test has been shortened and changed from the previous year.

Eleven of 14 last year's seniors took the test. Three passed all areas, 2 passed 3 areas, one passed 2 areas and 2 passed none.

Eighteen seniors took the test this year. Six passed all areas, 8 passed 3 areas and 4 passed 2 areas.

Cass City Public Schools PROGRESS IN EDUCATION from the desk of Ken Micklash, Superintendent BASIC EDUCATION

STILL THE PRIORITY IN CASS CITY

Though technology will play a major role in the future of all our lives, schools must provide a solid basic educational foundation for our children. The Cass City Public School District has, and still does emphasize the basics. Quality instruction in the areas of: Reading, mathematics, science and social studies is an essential ingredient of an excellent school district. The staff of the Cass City Schools understands this important concept and continually strives to provide the best basic educational opportunities they possibly can.

CASS CITY'S VISION includes the following:

*To provide all students with basic and expanded learning opportunities to be successful in a global society.

*To provide a SAFE and CARING learning environment for all students.

*To emphasize the five character building blocks, which include: Integrity, Honesty, Respect, Responsibility and Courtesy.

constitution bans using tax

I suppose that could all be worked out. Although in this electronic age when even small schools like Cass City have spent hundreds of thousands of dollars for hardware, it's hard to see how parochial or private schools can properly equip.

The school choice advocates answer, of course, if the public school has that much advantage, why would the students leave? One reason in many schools is the learning environment. Judging by the news of the day, that problem appears worse in the urban schools than it is in smaller communities.

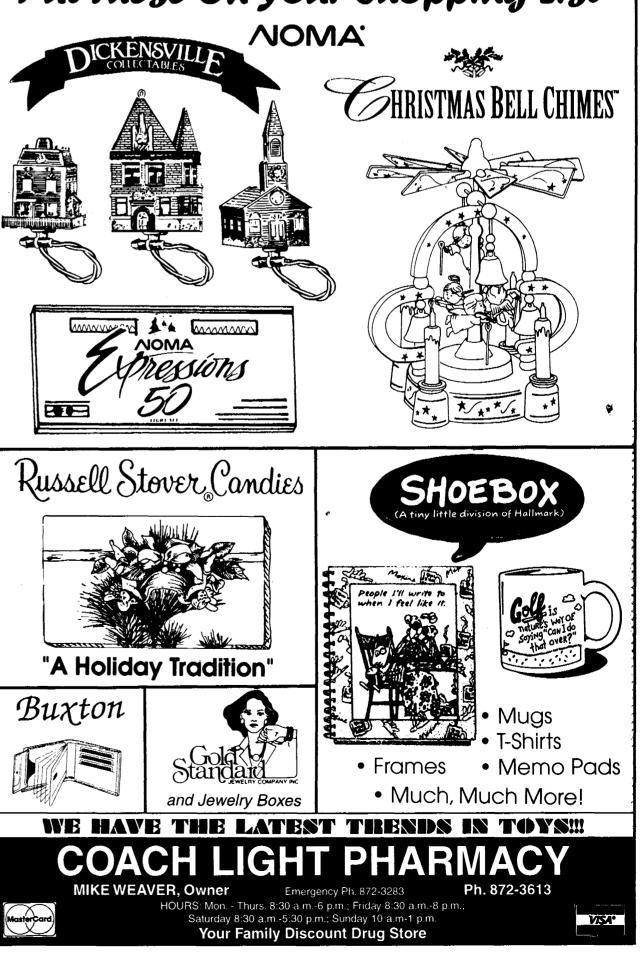

Generally, the better the students, the better the educational environment.

Every student that private schools siphon off from public schools makes it that much harder to provide a well-rounded education for the remainder.

On the face of it, that's what competition is all about, getting the biggest bang for your educational dollar.

Okay, but let's level the playing field. When private schools accept their first tax dollar, make it mandatory for them to accept, as public

5 YEARS AGO

Michigan's first fatal deer hunting accident of the season was recorded Saturday in Tuscola County's Indianfields Township. The victim was identified as Richard D. Rich, 38, of Warren. Dale McIntosh, president of the Cass City United Way executive board, reports that donations to the local United Way have easily topped the 1993 goal of $18,000, with several contributions yet to be received. So far, $19,500 has been contributed with a possibility of reaching $23,000.

Cass City placed 2 players on the Blue Bay League allconference team last week. Leading the selection list was Jodi Schember, who is the team captain. Also named was Jodi LaRoche. Both girls are seniors. Senior Darcie Monroe and sophomore district tournament Wednesday when they lost to Marlette, 31-26. It was all over for 4 Cass City seniors who in their junior high and high school careers posted a 93-19 record. They are Karla Zinnecker, Jodi LaRoche, Jodi Schember and Darcie Monroe.

The first hunter to report to the Chronicle with a deer Tuesday morning was Frank Harding, 14, of Cass City. He downed a 9-point, 225pound buck hunting east of Cass City.

CASS CITY CHRONICLE - WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 25, 1998

The Owen-Gage Bulldogs bowed from the state tourney when the host Warriors defeated Coach Dave Fritz's squad 48-36.

The youthful Bulldogs, who lose only one player in senior Kristie Radabaugh, end the season with a 5-16 record.

Owen-Gage stayed with the Warriors in the early going behind the offense of junior Erin Salcido, who recorded a pair of field goals in the early going. But the Warriors turned up their defensive pressure midway through the period and outscored the Bulldogs 29-2 for the remainder of the initial half that gave the hosts a 35-8 margin at the break. Warrior Coach Tammy

Hawks lose thriller

in District final

The Class C district championship cage tilt between Greater Thumb West Conference co-champs Cass City and Elkton-Pigeon-Bay Port proved worthy of its fanfare Friday night in Ubly.

The Lakers rallied from 8 points back with just over 6 minutes remaining to claim the district crown with a thrilling 50-46 victory.

The win puts EPBP into regional play this week in Sandusky. The Hawks enter the record books with a 16-5 mark.

Coach Jim Mastie's troops expanded a 35-32 margin into an 8-point bulge at the start of the final frame on Becky Dore's jump shot from behind the 3-point arc and a basket by forward Shelly Ulfig.

But the Lakers rallied behind their star guard, Kristen Gehrs. Gehrs, who was held to just 2 points through 3 quarters, connected on backto-back treys that narrowed the Hawks' advantage to 40--38

Red Hawk senior Tara McNeil answered Gehrs' triples with one of her own from deep in the corner, giving Cass City some breath-ing room at 43-38.

Staying with the long ball, the Lakers were able to knot the score at 43 when Jessica Weidman found all net from 18' for her only field goal on the night.

Cass City was able to keep their composure, however, as Kara Mellendorf converted an old-fashioned 3-point play for what would be the Hawks' final points.

Leading 46-43, Laker guard Robin Rathje hit her 4th triple on the night with 1:16 to play to even the score.

Rathje led all scorers with a season best 18 tallies. Rathje also passed for 5 assists.

Following a Hawk miss, Lakers' Laura Dubey recorded the game's winning basket when she converted from under the basket with just 17 seconds remaining. Dubey was fouled on the shot by Ulfig, which disqualified the Hawks' top gun on fouls. Dubey missed the ensuing charity toss, but Gehrs gathered the rebound and converted the basket to give district title.

RED HAWK SHELLY ULFIG eyes the basket during Friday's district final in Ubly. Ulfig's 4-year career ended with a heartbreaking 50-46 loss to the Lakers. Ulfig led Cass City scorers with 15 points.

Strawberry growing tips

Soggy soil and strawberries

don't mix --- but organic matter and raised beds may keep these plants from suffering. Strawberry and raspberry plants have similar growth requirements, and experiments are being done to protect the plants from too much water. By planting the crops on a raised bed system, more protection is provided and makes the plants less vulnerable to disease. Rootrot diseases, such as red stele, black root and phytophthora are common problems that affect strawberries and raspberries. When the plants are grown on raised beds, the entire system grows above standing water and it drains more quickly.

Hawks oust USA, 60-50

The 3rd time proved to be the charm for the Cass City cage team Wednesday night in Ubly as the Hawks ousted Unionville-Sebewaing from the Class C district with a 60-50 win.

After splitting games during the regular season, the Hawks used a balanced offensive attack to turn back the Patriots.

To open the contest, senior Tara McNeil scored consecutive treys to give the Hawks a 6-0 lead that the Hawks would not surrender.

McNeil continued her outside artistry and nailed her 3rd triple of the opening period near the 4 minute mark that extended the Greater Thumb West Conference cochamps' margin to 13-2.

However, the Patriots clawed their way back into the game behind Shannon Schafer. Schafer scored the Patriots' final 7 points of the Leading 27-21, Becky Dore gave Cass City a double digit advantage with back-to-back hoops, including one from behind the 3-point arc. The Hawks enjoyed a 34-22 lead at the break.

During the final half, Hawk forward Shelly Ulfig went to work. Ulfig single-handedly outscored the Patriots during the 3rd period, pouring in 9 of her game high 19 tallies that helped put the Hawks in front 46-30 heading into the final period.

Besides Ulfig, Cass City had Mellendorf and McNeil with 14 points. Dore chipped in with 10 for the winners.

The Patriots, who played without their star guard Jamie Stahl - who is scheduled to undergo surgery - got 9 points apiece from Schafer and Jessica VanBevern.

Tractor operation classes offered in Sanilac County

4-H Safe Tractor Operation rently enrolled in the 7-week classes will be offered in Sanilac County beginning Monday, Feb. 1, 1999, from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. at the County Conference Room in Sandusky.

A class will be offered for youth 10-12 years old, "Introduction to Safe Tractor Operation". It will meet 2 hours per week for 3 weeks. It will provide basic information on farm and tractor safety issues. This is a safety education class geared for the younger student.

For youth over 12, there will be the regular 7-week 4-H Safe Tractor Operation Course, which will provide a "Certificate of Training' for those youth who successfully complete the requirements, which include weekly homework assignments, a written exam and a practical driving test. These courses are classroom instruction only. Tractor operation must occur at home under parental supervision. This class begins Monday, Feb. 1, from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. at the County Conference Room in Sandusky.

Also being offered will be a Farm Machinery Course for youth who are 14 years or older and have successfully completed, or are cur-

Tractor Safety Course. A minimum of 10 students must be pre-enrolled for a class to meet. Farm Machinery Courses and driving tests will be announced at a later date. There will be a $5 fee for each class. You must be preenrolled, and the fee must be pre-paid by Jan. 22. Enroll by calling Aletha Mahaffy at 810-648-2515. Parents are encouraged to attend the sessions with their youth. Several parents who have attended in the past have indicated that the course is a "good refresher" for any tractor operator.

If your child is working for a farmer (even if it is only "Granddad"), is under the age of 16, and drives tractor or does any of the other jobs that have been identified as "hazardous" by the Federal Department of Labor, he/she must have a "Certificate of Training".

For more complete information about Federal regulations regarding youth employment in agriculture, contact the MSU Extension Office and ask for bulletin AEIS #598 "Youth Employment in Hazardous Jobs in Agriculture".

In the midst of a terrible situation this week, many wonderful things happened. Fortunately the small community of Kingston had not been faced with the tragic death of two of their students before. But the recent auto accident which killed Josh Kratz and Jeff Randall left the principal, counselors, advisors and staff confused as to what to do.

After a great deal of discussion, a special time was set for Josh and Jeff's classmates to visit the funeral home. Some school staff members were understandably afraid they wouldn't know what to do with all those children and their grief. These students needed a place to focus their emotions and they needed to be able to do it with each other. Both boys' families encouraged this special time and wanted their sons' schoolmates there. They knew having them there would help them and the students. The special visitation was a success and helpful to the students. The next difficult decision the school made was to close

One Final "Point":

Tuscola County Community Mental Health Authority believes in the power and the benefits of collaboration. This is why we are involved in many programs and services which involve other agencies, businesses, government, churches, civic and fraternal organizations, and so on. We also need YOU...to support our programs and our Consumers' efforts, and to lend a hand or an ear when you are called upon. We are professionals in the field of serving the public good...we are accountable to the public...and we welcome YOUR input.

SPECIAL CHILDREN'S SERVICES

This program works with families whose children are experiencing emotional difficulties, seeking to minimize these difficulties and partner with the parents in designing services that foster safe and nurturing environments. Workers visit families in their homes in order to identify their strengths and their needs, and to begin to overcome barriers which obstruct the delivery of service. The teamwork concept is crucial here, as in many other TCCMHA programs, especially when treatment requires a coordination of both in-house and outbound services.

THUMB AREA BEHAVIORAL SERVICES CENTER

Substance Abuse treatment and prevention are provided in a professional setting by staff members of Thumb Area Behavioral Services Center (TABSC). Integrating themselves and Consumers into a team for delivery of services, these staff members attempt to provide the ultimate in access to preventionfocused groups dealing with drugs, alcohol, tobacco, anger, domestic violence and sexual abuse, and more. Also available are professional counseling in the one-to-one setting, crisis intervention, services to other humanservice agencies as well as correctional facilities, and more.

TABSC is located in the Tuscola County Health Department Building on Cleaver Road in Caro. Phone number to dial the program directly is (517) 673-7575.

Alan "Duke" Sward, Chairperson Robert E. Chadwick, II, CEO

Greetings! It is with great pleasure that we present our annual Report to the Community on behalf of the Staff, the Administration, and the Board of Directors of Tuscola County Community Mental Health Authority (hereafter referred to as TCCMHA). As is our custom, we will be sharing highlights with you from our programs during the most recently-completed fiscal year (1996-1997), as well as developments of significant impact that occurred during the current calendar year.

This year's report is a little different, as you may have already noticed. We've decided that an effective way to show you what goes on around here would be to recreate a "typical" day in the life of TCCMHA. What follows is a diary, of sorts, logging the many activities in which our Staff, our Consumers, and our Board Members involve themselves. As you read it, we hope you will recognize the depth and the breadth of TCCMHA's programs and services. We also hope that you will be aware that they are here to serve YOU, and your fellow citizens, throughout Tuscola County.

Sincerely,

Robert E. Chadwick, II Chief Executive Officer

Alan Sward Chairperson

Our Mission is to assure the accessibility of effective community services that empower individuals and families to achieve an enhanced quality of life.

PROGRAMS AND SERVICES SUMMARY

ACCESS CENTER

The Access Center is the TCCMHA entry point for all services provided to those who are Developmentally Disabled or Mentally III. It is staffed by professionals experienced in both assessment and referral. They have formed themselves into a smoothly-functioning team and an integral part of the larger Agency team.

It is through the Access Center that the TCCMHA 24-Hour On-Call system is coordinated and overseen; other functions include assessment, as mentioned above, and authorization for psychiatric hospitalizations when they are needed.

The Access Center, which may be reached any time at 1-800-462-6814, is located within the Agency's Almer Street Offices.

AGING SERVICES

Help for the elderly in Tuscola County is available through the Aging Services Program provided by Tuscola County Community Mental Health Authority. Any person who is over 61 years of age and who is experiencing the symptoms of depression, severe anxiety, delusional thinking, or hallucinations, may be referred to the Aging program for assessment and evaluation. Regular services provided by this program include Nursing Home Monitoring, Counseling and Therapy, annual or pre-admission assessments (for nursinghome patients who have a diagnosable mental illness or developmental disability), and consultations with nursing-home staff.

12:00 PM

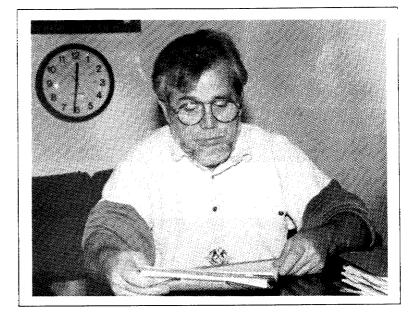

The third shift, which is familiar to many workers in Tuscola County, is a fact of life for some at TCCMHA as well. Here, Greg Riccardi, Residential Technician, checks in at the Ridge and checks progress notes and the medications book. He then performs regular tasks, including bed checks, cleaning, and monitoring, to assure the safety and well-being of the Consumers.

Naturally, there are many more activities which occur on a daily basis within the Tuscola County Community Mental Health Authority system. Professional staff members are on call 24 hours a day, so that visits to hospitals, nursing homes, correctional facilities, and other sites are not uncommon even in the wee hours of the morning.

Likewise, as suggested by the text above, there are TCCMHA staff members on-site 24 hours a day at both Crisis Residential Homes (The Ridge and Pineland). The needs of our Consumers are not regulated by any clock, so the services we offer them must be available when they are required.

Thus, during the hours of midnight and 6:00 AM on this "Day In Our Life", our staff members may be diligently seeing to Consumers' needs at the Residential Facilities, making a late-night (or earlymorning) emergency visit, or even doing something as mundane as meeting with security personnel to quiet an errant building alarm which was inadvertently activated.

The common theme among all activities, day or night, is DEDICATION.

"The Common theme among all activities [performed by TCCMHA Staff], day or night, is DEDICATION".

PINELAND

Pineland is an Adult Foster Care licensed home providing 24-hour residential services to those who are developmentally disabled. This facility is now owned by Tuscola County Community Mental Health Authority.

Services provided by TCCMHA staff to residents of Pineland include supports coordination, psychiatric consultation, psychological services, nutrition education, 24-hour nursing, physician services, and more. The team approach taken by staff is designed to maximize the benefits to Consumers while providing them with stimuli that lead to enhanced quality of life and satisfaction with their daily lives.

RECIPIENT RIGHTS

This is the department within the Agency whose main charge is to see that the rights and the individual dignity of Consumers are protected as they receive services here. Supervisor Cindy Chambers receives and reviews complaints, conducts investigations (when warranted), provides training to staff members and others, participates in regular meetings of the Consumer Advocacy Committee, and generally lends a listening ear to members of society who have all-toooften been ignored.

THE RIDGE

This is a crisis residential home which serves the needs of those who are mentally ill. It exists to provide a safe environment for Consumers, offering respite, medication monitoring, and as an alternative to hospitalization. Staff members provide 24-hour care that includes meal preparation, transport, interaction with case workers and doctors, and household chores. The Ridge, like Pineland, is now owned by TCCMHA.

6:00 AM

Between 6:00 and 6:30 AM each day, Cass Valley Enterprises staff members begin to arrive and prepare for the day. Lights and equipment must be turned on, getting ready for another shift of manufacturing and assembly operations. Staff member Betty Hecht accomplishes these daily tasks, as well as checking the security of buildings and greeting other staff and consumers.

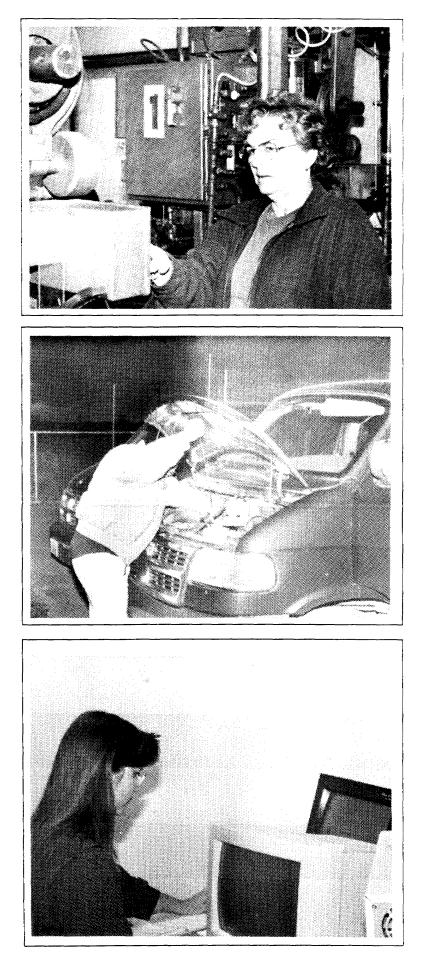

7:00 AM

It's early morning here at the Personal Independence Center (PIC), as drivers prepare for another day of transporting Consumers to and from the various programs offered here in Caro's Industrial Park and elsewhere in the Tuscola County Community Mental Health Authority (TCCMHA) system.

8:00 AM

Each day, a computer shutdown of the ECHO system must be accomplished in order to prepare for another day's heavy volume of entries. Before 8:00 AM, the shutdown is complete and the system is backed up and ready for staff usage. Cathy Kratz, Reimbursement Specialist, is shown here completing this task.

ASSERTIVE COMMUNITY TREATMENT (ACT)

The Assertive Communty Treatment team is designed to work with persons who have a serious and persistent mental illness, and who may be at high risk for psychiatric hospitalization. ACT staff perform a number of important duties, including: assuring that Consumers receive needed medications and have other basic needs met; providing or coordinating access to other service providers and collaborating with staffs from these other agencies to maximize benefits available to Consumers; attending numerous professional development activities. The ACT team especially wishes to acknowledge the support of St. Pancratius Church of Cass City for material goods needed by Consumers.

CASS VALLEY ENTERPRISES

CVE is a Community Rehabilitation Organization which offers work training and a manufacturing setting, both designed to enhance Consumer skills. Located in Caro's Industrial Park, Cass Valley provides opportunities to nearly 150 individuals in the areas of production, supported employment, and school-to-work transition. Current assignments in these areas include: assembly contracts with Walbro Corporation and Vassar Industries; several production and assembly contracts with the US Government; worker placement in several local businesses, including fast-food establishments, grocery stores, and more; janitorial services provided to TCCMHA and other commercial customers; and contacts between schools and employers to develop work opportunities.

9:00 PM

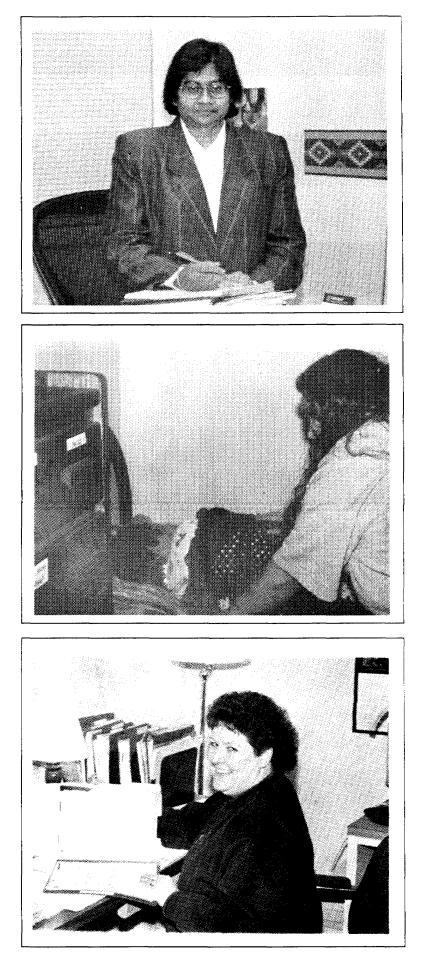

Dr. Usha Movva provides Psychiatric services to the Agency, an important function in the overall plan of treatment for those who are Mentally III. On this evening, she is holding office hours for Consumers to review their progress and their list of current medications. Staff members from the crisis residential home accompany the Consumers on this visit.

10:00 PM

Because Tuscola County Community Mental Health Authority provides services on a round-the-clock basis at some of its locations (and a Consumer can always contact the Agency after hours), there is 24-hour activity within the system. Here at Pineland, it is 10:00 PM and time for bed as staff members see to the Consumers' final needs of the day.

11:00 PM

Meanwhile, at the Ridge, second-shift staff members are making final entries in their paperwork requirements. Here, Residential Technician Kathy Jaster charts in progress notes for the Consumers under her care. Because the treatment of persons who are Mentally III or Developmentally Disabled is a complicated process, meticulous record-keeping is crucial.

15

PERSONAL INDEPENDENCE CENTER

The Personal Independence Center provides a daytime program of immersement in living skills and other challenging endeavors for persons who are developmentally disabled. Currently serving approximately 150 individuals, PIC has experienced growth and expansion in the past year, and many of its Consumers are enjoying new successes in paid work environments.Daily living skills such as cooking, budgeting, social interaction, exercise, use of public transportation, and more. Classes are held daily in the PIC Building in Caro's Industrial Park, with TCCMHA's Transportation Department providing Consumers rides to and from their places of residence.This Agency program transports about 150 individuals daily, always keeping in mind the dual objectives of Consumer safety and Consumer convenience.

The DD Residential Program, which serves approximately 200 adults who are developmentally disabled, works cooperatively with some 40 homes to maximize the benefits of independence and enhanced quality of life for all Consumers involved.

The PIC Support Staff works together with all other staff members to enhance professional services, assure smooth flow of daily office and programmatic tasks, interact positively with the public, meet the demands of heavy schedules, and, ultimately, serve the needs of the Consumers.

9:00 AM

It's just about time for another day of classes to begin here at the Personal Independence Center. Consumers who are Developmentally Disabled receive instruction in the many skills needed to excel in daily living as independently as possible. Consumers Mike Sattler and Cindy Opanasenko prepare pizzas for cooking in the microwave.

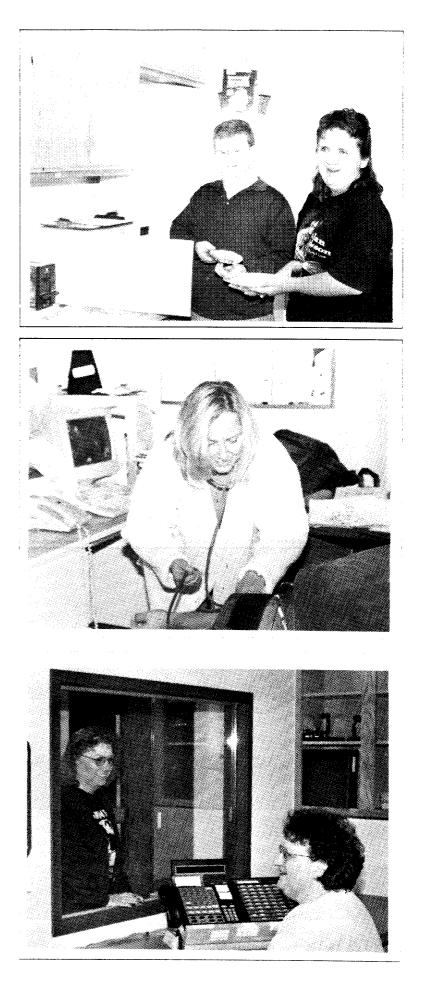

10:00 AM

The morning is progressing smoothly at the Ridge, a crisis residential home for individuals who are experiencing mental health problems.Here, Jody Hauxwell, who is a Licensed Practical Nurse and Assistant Home Supervisor, checks the blood pressure of a Consumer as part of her regular duties.

Meanwhile, back at the Lincoln Street Administrative offices of TCCMHA, Secretary/Receptionist Marie Pfaff greets one of the many guests who grace this location each day. Visitors will find here a pleasant, professional environment that houses the Agency's Administrative and Finance staff, Boardroom, and meeting rooms (some used by the public).

CONSUMER SERVICES DEP'T.

Consumer Services is dedicated to one very simple proposition: assuring access for all who need the services of an often-complex mental health system. In this role, Consumer Services assists with the orientation of Consumers who are new to the Agency, and supports the efforts of TCCMHA's Marketing Department in promoting the Agency's programs and services to the general public. Consumer Services Coordinator Sue McElroy has also become an advocate for Consumers, through her first-hand knowledge of their circumstance, and through her involvement in the Agency's newly-formed Consumer Advocacy Committee (which is a collaborative effort with the Recipient Rights Department).

DEVELOPMENTAL DISABILITY SERVICES

These services are designed to help develop, plan, support, and supervise life-management for persons with developmental disabilities using the "Person-Centered" approach. This program includes Case Management (Supports Coordinator), Residential, and Family Services for adults and children who are developmentally disabled. Services are provided in several settings, including: AIS, Home and Community-Based Waiver, OBRA, extended home placements, Children's Foster Care, Adult Foster Care, and more. DD Residential 's focus is to provide training and to foster a sense of independence for the Consumers it serves.

6:00 PM

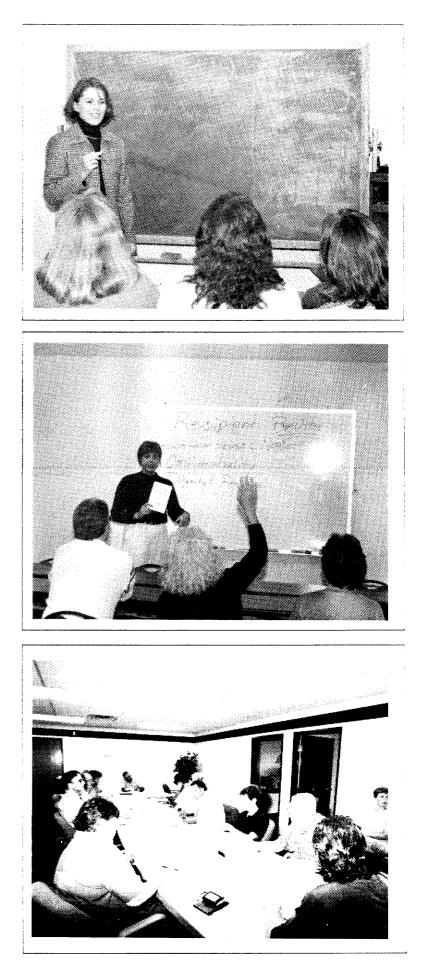

Another service offered by Thumb Area Behavioral Services Center (TABSC) is a group dedicated to issues that are of special interest to women. Staff member Mande Franzel is shown here as she facilitates this weekly group. Other such groups provided by TABSC include Adolescent Education, Adolescent Anger Management, and a Family Life Parenting Class.

7:00 PM

TCCMHA staff undergo an extensive amount of training themselves, and they provide a fair amount for others, too. Such is the case here, as Recipient Rights Coordinator Cindy Chambers prepares to present an informational session on Recipient Rights for Consumers, Guardians, and Family Members. Other trainings are offered to staff, to colleagues, and to the general public.

8:00 PM

The TCCMHA Board of Directors meets on the fourth Thursday of each month at the Lincoln Street Administrative Services division. Following a regular agenda of tinancial and administrative business, members set overall policy by which the Agency conducts itself. By eight o'clock on this evening, they are well into the heart of the evening's business.

MANAGEMENT INFORMATION SYSTEMS

As technology has advanced, and the need for voluminous record-keeping and reporting has increased, TCCMHA has responded by creating a Management Information Systems Department. The coordinator of this department, Krystal Crosby, is responsible for the overall Agency network of computers, and engages in a variety of statistical reporting, including Department of Community Health reporting requirements per the Agency's contract with this organization.

MEDICAL RECORDS

With the onset of managed care looming ever more closely during this fiscal year, the importance of quality medical record-keeping has increased even further. Fortunately, Coordinator Norma Fredericks is equal to the task. Possessing the highest credentials one might have in this field, she brings both professionalism and utmost capability to her job of ensuring prompt response to staff requests for information, paperwork processing, and maintenance of systems that allow quality service on behalf of TCCMHA Consumers.

12:00 PM

Inter-Office mail delivery is just one of several ways that TCCMHA staff members keep in touch with each other (as well as e-mail, telephone, voice mail, and personal visits). Here, Vehicle Operator Billie Jo Davies distributes letters, memos, and packages in the Lincoln Street mail and copy room. Material circulates among all TCCMHA locations on a daily basis.

1:00 PM

One of the newer professional functions performed by TCCMHA staff is that of Management Information Systems (MIS). Essentially, this task, under the direction of Coordinator Krystal Crosby, involves the linking of TCCMHA's 79 PC's into an integrated unit for reporting and recordkeeping purposes. Here, the MIS Monitoring Committee meets to review current activities and discuss future plans.

2:00 PM

Consumer Services Coordinator Sue McElroy is responsible for assuring consumer access to an often complex mental health system, and advocating for those consumers as they make their way through the system. Here, she prepares for another meeting at which she will discuss services and treatment options available to Consumers.

This program is designed to provide support to parents who have a child with developmental disabilities living at home. Through the use of casemanagement, recreational activities, consultation, and respite care, staff members seek to promote healthy family functioning. As in all TCCMHA programs, Family Support Services seeks to promote the independence of Consumers while helping them achieve an enhanced quality of life.

FINANCE DEPARTMENT

The main objective of the Finance Department is to provide support to all TCCMHA programs, so that professional staff may concentrate on providing services to Consumers. This support includes revenue collection, billing, reimbursement, insurance processing, accounts receivable and payable, payroll, banking business, and a variety of other tasks designed to assure the smooth flow of TCCMHA financial and business operations. FY 1996/1997 Revenues and Expenditures were as follows:

INCREASE IN FUND BALANCE......425,428 After their day of work, study, and social interaction, TCCMHA consumers return to their current residence at Pineland. Located in a wooded setting in the rural Caro area, Pineland offers adults who are Developmentally Disabled a home-like setting, dependable routine, professional monitoring, and access to medical care. The home is now owned by TCCMHA.

4:00 PM

A daily infusion of funds is needed to support the many programs and services offered by TCCMHA. This income, derived from a combination of local, state, federal, and private funds, supports quality employment for some 200 individuals and reinforces TCCMHA's importance to the local economy. Here, Delana Rowbotham, Reimbursement Clerk, makes a daily deposit at a local bank.

5:00 PM

Many unique services are offered by TCCMHA. Among them are the programs available through Thumb Area Behavioral Services Center, which provides substance abuse treatment, prevention, and special mental health services. Here, staff member Heather Hammett interacts with area youths who are members of the Adolescent Education series offered by this program.
